HITLER FACING CRISIS; NEW BLOW HINTED

By The Associated Press. Adolf Hitler's "intuitive" firing of his Army chief of staff, Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, with the Fuehrer himself taking personal command, invoked a flood of speculation today on what Germany might do next.

The least will be a straining effort to check the heading retreat in Russia and the most may be a new German stab in another sector of battle-torn Europe.

A privately circulated Spanish news item reaching London said that Hitler is not to be defeated in North Africa. Spain must come into the war. It asserted that "plans are now mature and all that remains is for the battle to be opened."

The letter added that German military and air units were being moved to the Mediterranean coast. A bridgehead in Spanish and French North Africa via Gibraltar might save the collapsing Axis fight in Libya or carry the war to a new zone, such as Dakar, French West Africa, or the South American base.

The Libyan theater was that British mechanized patrols had penetrated 150 miles into Tripoli, the western section of Libya which lies next to French Tunisia. Armored patrols, however, were pressing westward into Tripoli, already more than 450 miles into Libya from the Egyptian border. Complete destruction of the German-Italian foe was the ultimate objective.

Hitler's "Six Week's War" Against Russia Reaches End Of Its First Six Months Reds Stalk Over Nazi Dead Amidst Frozen Wastes

By The United Press. WITH THE RED ARMY ON THE CENTRAL MOSCOW FRONT, Dec. 22 — Adolf Hitler's "six weeks' war" on Russia reached the end of its first six months today.

The Russians are advancing at from 10 to 25 miles a day over a vast, horrible jumble of German bodies, German tanks, German transport vehicles, German guns, stretching back for 90 miles to Moscow. Massed Russian forces are rolling forward irresistibly along the entire battle line. Russian tank and cavalry forces are slashing into the German flanks, stealing in silently from the woods to surround and wipe out German strongholds, gliding in suddenly to cut off highways.

And it is possible now to say that far in the German rear the Russian parachute corps, long held in reserve, is now in action.

For the second time within a week American and British correspondents have been brought to the battle line, to find the front widening and the Germans being pushed back at accelerated pace.

Half buried in the snow lie 70-ton German tanks, great motor transports, field guns of all calibers. They clutter the roads and ditches and line the fringes of the woods. In one small village, Pavelstovo, east of Klin, I counted 123 vehicles.

Lieut. Gen. Vassily Kuznetsov told me at his staff headquarters that within the last few days the Russians have taken or destroyed in this area 299 tanks, 3,000 motor vehicles, hundreds of guns.

Keep The Banners Flying This Christmas With All The Holiday Traditions

Toast Season With Gay Food

BY MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE
Associated Press Feature Service Writer

This is not the year to let any of our holiday traditions slide. Although entertainment may be simple, our old habit of greeting old friends and new ones on New Year's should be carried on.

Keep the banners flying and include some of the service men from nearby camps.

FRUIT PUNCH: Boil 2 cups sugar and 2 cups water 5 minutes, cool and add 4 cups strong-hot tea, 2 cups of orange juice, 2 cups each of pineapple juice, 2 cups each of grapefruit juice. Chill until needed, and equal portions iced water and gingerale.

A TART DRINK: Boil 2 cups sugar with 3 cups water 5 minutes. Cool, add 2 cups each grapefruit, apricot juices, 2 1/2 cups each orange, lemon juices, 1 cup cider. Chill and dilute with iced water in equal portions.

To keep beverages chilled set the bowl in a larger bowl of chopped ice.

PARADISE ISLAND PUNCH: 5-1-3 cups canned unsweetened pineapple juice, 2 cups (chunks of diced) pineapple, 1 tablespoon raspberry sirup, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 2 cups sparkling water. All ingredients should be very cold. Combine everything but water. Pour over block of ice in punch bowl, add sparkling water.

Hot tea and coffee or just one will also be enjoyed on the refreshment table.

Trays of simple sandwiches, canapes, crisp crackers and cheese make fine partners for these New Year's beverages. You can make up ham relish, tuna salad and cream cheese blended with minced olives and pickles, sandwiches ahead. Wrap in waxed paper and damp cloth and keep in refrigerator.

Spread canapes with minced sardines, chopped pickle salad and chopped broiled bacon mixed into yellow cheese. Reheat small plain, whole wheat and rye crackers to serve with your best cheese assortment.

Crisp relishes make good, feasting eating. Stuff celery with chicken salad, cream yellow cheese, diced pimientos and anchovy paste. Arrange crisp strips of carrots, cauliflower flowerettes and chilled cooked shrimps around relish dressing or cocktail sauce, supply wood picks nearby and let the guests go to work.

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

The immediate job facing us women is clear. It's up to us to help our country in every small, unobtrusive way we can. The big jobs, the exciting jobs, the dangerous jobs aren't for us—not yet anyway.

We must work at such tasks as backing the high cost of living, encouraging our men to take on any tough assignment that is necessary—whether it is going into one of the country's armed forces or working long, hard hours at some necessary job—and being practical rather than sentimental in our attitudes toward the fight we are now in. Of course, there's also knitting for us, and bandage-rolling—and a hundred other small, but necessary tasks that women can squeeze into their days.

But as women, we won't really get into this war to the extent to which our men get in it, unless it lasts so long that man power has to be strengthened by women power.

Men's whole lives will be devoted to the actual winning of the war. Only part of our efforts will be directed toward that end.

With the rest of our time let's turn our thoughts toward the future. How are we going to make sure that this world war is the last that the children playing around us will inherit a world in which good sense and decency make war a fantastic rather than logical solution of the disagreements between nations?

After the last war all we did to insure peace was to talk about it in our own little groups. A talk on peace and then tea and those delicious cookies that matched the table decorations.

Well, you don't get peace by talking about it at tea parties. That one thing we've learned. So let's spend whatever time is ours now in educating ourselves in the matter of national and world affairs.

And then let's throw off with one united shove the old notion that women who get into public life are sure to make fools of themselves. Let's roll up our sleeves and pitch in to help run the affairs that are bigger than we are—and that change the whole course of our lives. We're educated and we're smart. We've just been lazy and irresponsible in the past. But we don't have to be in the future.

WOMAN MUST TAKE INTEREST IN PEACE

If we take a responsible part in the affairs of our country while it is at war and our men have less time than we for clear-headed, unemotional thinking—we'll be in a good position to have a say when a world peace is drawn up, and in all the years after, when peace has to be maintained.

If we don't try to help solve the problems of the world, we deserve whatever we and our children get. And it may not be to our liking.

Fire Hazards During Week Will Be Faced

A reminder that fire hazards during the present week are considered the worst of the entire year was given this morning by Guy Casey, city fire marshal.

The hazards natural to the season are increased this year by the fact that the dangers from dried woods and grass are worse than usual, he said.

However, the biggest danger results from Christmas lighting. He urged that open flames be kept from Christmas trees and that special care be taken against the use of electrical decorations which may be defective.

During 1938, 488 hunting accidents, with 78 fatalities, occurred in Pennsylvania.

Philippine Defenders Are Believed Facing Their Supreme Test

Bloody Battles Developing

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World Analyst

Our defenders in the Philippines appear to be in the throes of the supreme test in the bloody fighting which has developed as the result of Japanese landings in force from eight transports in the Cagayan gulf area, a bit more than 100 miles northwest of Manila on Luzon island—a strategic heart of these struggling possessions.

The Japs, already delayed in their schedule by the strong defense of General MacArthur's forces, have struck heavily with the purpose of gaining possession before the arrival of American reinforcements across the Pacific.

Details Are Meager
Details of this great engagement are meager, and this is no time for speculation. Obviously, the position is serious for the Philippines.

The news thus far is a mixture of good and bad. It is a matter of concern that the Japanese should have sufficient control of the waters about Luzon to effect such a mass landing. It is grand to hear from General MacArthur in an early report of the fighting that "our troops are behaving well."

Next to this invasion of the Philippines, the great sensation of the day is Hitler's assumption of supreme command of his armies, displacing the famous Field Marshal von Brauchitsch.

Meaning Is Obscure

The precise meaning of this extraordinary move remains obscure, but I think we are safe in saying that it was inspired by a great emergency of some sort. One doesn't overlook, of course, that the fuhrer himself has declared he is divinely ordained to carry out his program for the fatherland. Still, it is hard to believe that this is the explanation. Admitting Hitler's genius for leadership, he might be expected to be the last to claim that his training fitted him for a position demanding the highest type of military skill, and to feel that there is no one else capable of leading his armies.

Father, it seems to me, he is faced with a great crisis in which either (1) he is forced to depend upon the personal hold which he has on his people or (2) he and von Brauchitsch have disagreed on a vital military matter.

Must Use All His Power

It may be that Herr Hitler is compelled to use all his power of leadership in order to meet the reaction of his people to the great defeat suffered by German arms in Russia. That operation, which is still developing dangerously for the Nazis, certainly takes some

Extra Precautions Against Fire Hazards During Christmas Season Are Being Urged

AUSTIN, Dec. 22 (AP)—Extra precautions against fire hazards created by Christmas decorations were urged today by State Fire Insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall.

He warned especially to be careful of evergreen trees, asserting that when dried out they became a serious hazard.

Recommendations concerning trees included:

- Buy only a fresh one.
- Saw trunk diagonally an inch or more above the end, then stand in water, keeping level above cut.

It is equally possible that the fuhrer wants to undertake something that his commander in chief felt suicidal. There are several guesses along that line. About the wildest thing one could think of would be an attempt to invade England.

Germany high command undoubtedly would balk at such a rash adventure, but Hitler says he is working by intuition and maybe his intuition tells him that now is the appointed hour for a desperate blow.

Hitler Badly Worried

Perhaps the crisis involves a military dispute regarding Russia. It might relate to a challenge to Turkey's two million bayonets in an effort to break into the Middle East. It might have to do with a drive through Spain to bring that country into the war and to open up new bases for Germany in North Africa.

Be that as may, it's my hope that Hitler is a badly worried man. There is further evidence that all is not well with Germany in language employed by the Nazi chief and Propaganda Minister Goebbels in their urgent week-end appeal to the public for warm clothing for German soldiers caught in the tolls of the killing Russian winter.

Ostensibly these statements were intended to relieve suffering. Any doubt as to the grim position of the Nazis on the frozen steppes of Russia must be removed by Goebbels' blunt edict that "as long as a single object of winter clothing remains still in the fatherland, it must go to the front."

Things are desperate when you strip a nation like that in winter.

But the appeals also were calculated to prepare the public for bad news of the terrible reverses inflicted on German arms in Russia and Libya. At long last Hitler has admitted that he is facing "an enemy who is superior in numbers and in material on the front." And Goebbels has impressed the public with the prospect of a long and bitter war, in which Germany cannot avoid "certain reverses."

Sprinkle the branches frequently.

Leave it out of doors until actually needed.

Keep in a room where it is as cool and moist as possible.

"Christmas being a season of unusually heavy use of electricity, extra care should be used when service fuses begin to fail," he said.

"Do not substitute fuses or attempt to bridge the fuse box. But remove some of the load from the electric outlets in the house."

"Play safe with all extension cords; decorative tree lights and other lights and appliances. Be sure they are of the approved type and in good condition."

Still other suggestions were:

- Do not permit small children to handle or shoot fireworks, or play with matches.

- Do not allow paper, trash or rubbish to accumulate in the house or elsewhere.

- Black-out all matches, cigarettes and cigars before throwing them away.

- Use only non-combustible materials for tree decorations, which may be made fire resisting by dipping in a 10 per cent solution of ammonium sulphate.

- As an added safeguard, keep a fire extinguisher handy, a garden hose connected to a convenient hydrant, or buckets of water where they can be reached quickly.

Bringing the Defense Program Home! AVALANCHE-JOURNAL CARRIERS HAVE VOLUNTEERED AS OFFICIAL U. S. DEFENSE AGENTS TO SUPPLY YOU AT HOME WITH 10c DEFENSE SAVINGS STAMPS

Their regular job is delivering this newspaper to thousands of homes daily. But now these loyal young Americans have volunteered to take on an extra job . . . that of taking your order for 10c Defense Savings Stamps and delivering the number specified to your home regularly each week. You pay the carrier when he delivers the stamps to you, making it easy for you to do your part in national defense.

To those who ask, "What can I do to help in the present emergency?" the Government answers,—"Make the continued purchase of Defense Savings Stamps a regular part of your budget. Start now to invest in the future safety of your country." Thus, acting as Official U. S. Defense Agent in the sale of 10c Defense Stamps, your carrier is cooperating with the Government—without profit or remuneration.

HOW THE PLAN WORKS

This is the 10c Defense Savings Stamp for which your carrier is authorized to take orders, supplying you with an order blank for the purpose.

This is the Official Album your carrier gives you free with your first stamp. In it you can paste the 10c Defense Stamps he brings you each week—as many as you order. The album will hold 187 Defense Stamps and, when filled, can be exchanged (with 5c) for a $25 Defense Bond.

The $25 Defense Savings Bond you receive in exchange for your filled album (and 5c) is always worth what you paid for it. The United States Treasury guarantees this. It can be redeemed after 60 days, but if you hold it for 10 years, the bond for which you paid $18.75 will be worth $25—an increase of 33 1/2 percent, or 2.9 percent interest compounded semiannually on your original investment.

Two Americas Now Look To Hemisphere Unity On Practical Basis

Parley Is Set For January

BY LAWRENCE S. HAAS
United Press Latin American Editor

Momentous decisions, affecting the relations of the western hemisphere republics and their military and economic security, are expected to result from the third conference of foreign ministers which has been summoned to meet in Rio de Janeiro early in January.

Manifestations of continental solidarity resulted from Japan's aggression upon the United States, justifying the labors to erect a practical and spiritual structure of hemispheric cooperation and interdependence, undertaken through the development of the "good neighbor policy" and at the Lima, Panama and Havana conferences.

The reaction of the Latin American republics to the war between the United States and Japan was swift and spontaneous. Within three days after the Japanese bombed Hawaii, nine Latin American republics declared war on Japap, two broke off diplomatic relations, all declared their solidarity with the United States, and severed from Japanese funds.

Act Without Hesitation
It will be remembered that this action was taken at a time when the military news was dark for the United States, when initial Japanese successes were announced and before any indication was furnished that the United States forces were striking back at the Far Eastern aggressor.

The entrance of Germany and Italy into the war against the United States, occurring the day following the call of Secretary of State Cordell Hull for the Rio de Janeiro conference, adds to the importance of the meeting.

Actions Prove Policy
The present status of relations between the United States and the 20 other American republics can be traced by the following steps:
1—President Roosevelt, in his 1933 inaugural address gave voice for the first time to the "good neighbor policy" as a guide for inter-American relations.

2—Secretary Hull, with the use of homely, disarming diplomacy, established the beginning of a confidence in the new policy among the Latin American leaders when he headed the American delegation to the Pan-American conference at Montevideo, Uruguay, in 1933.

3—The United States withdrew marines from Haiti, refused to intervene in the Cuban revolutions of 1933-4-5 and abrogated the Platt Amendment.

4—President Roosevelt went to the 1936 peace conference in Buenos Aires, which was called by President Agustin P. Justo, of Argentina, to cement amity and draw up pacts aimed at the avoidance of wars among countries of the hemisphere.

Hull Did Spade Work
5—Secretary Hull, at the 1938 Pan-American conference at Lima, largely was instrumental in the accomplishment of the conference in drawing up inter-American non-aggression pacts and in laying the groundwork for accords subsequently adopted at the conferences of foreign ministers at Panama and Havana.

6—The Panama foreign ministers conference forged the early bonds of practical inter-American solidarity, gave early recognition to common western hemisphere interests affected by the war, and established machinery for future consultative conferences.

7—The Havana conference of foreign ministers resulted in the adoption of an accord recognizing that aggression against an American nation by a non-American nation constituted aggression against all American countries. It also adopted a formula to prevent transfer of American territory from one non-American nation to another non-American nation. The first move made under that accord was the dispatch of United States troops to Dutch Guiana and the reinforcement of Brazilian military forces on the Dutch Guiana border.

America's Second Line of Defense

Today America's destiny rests in the hands of two defense lines — our armed forces and those of us working in essential industries.

One of our Nation's most important essentials is oil — not only for our defense requirements, but for all related civilian activities.

Texas supplies over one-third of America's oil and we Texans who work in this vital industry—250,000 of us — are proud of our part in providing it. We know how necessary it is to National Defense.

There can be no interruption in the flow of these materials so vital to our Nation's safety. The task calls for the all-out skill, experience and loyalty of every American.

The Texas oil industry to a man is on the job.

Hogan Burns Up Harlingen Course To Press Picard For Lead In Valley Open

Several Other Aces Threaten Nelson Is Second As Finals Start

(By The Associated Press) HARLINGEN, Dec. 22.—Stretch-runner Benny Hogan—the little man who's always there at the finish—was back in the thick of the battle for the $5,000 Valley Open title today.

The Hershey, Pa., mighty mite takes the hard way but it only makes him the most talked-about guy in town—whether he wins or not.

Len-Henry Picard held to the leadership as the field swung into the stretch but Hogan's blazing 65—six under par—in yesterday's 18 holes warned the Oklahoma City professional he had a fight on his hands to the last putt.

Several Others Near Top

It pushed Hogan into a tie for third place with four others, all five strokes back of Picard who had a 64-67-131.

In second place was a stroke off Hogan and his comrades, was apple-cheeked Byron Nelson of Toledo, who slipped to a 70 yesterday but still managed a 198 total.

Fifty-nine top pros and eight top amateurs will be in the thirty-six hole finals today.

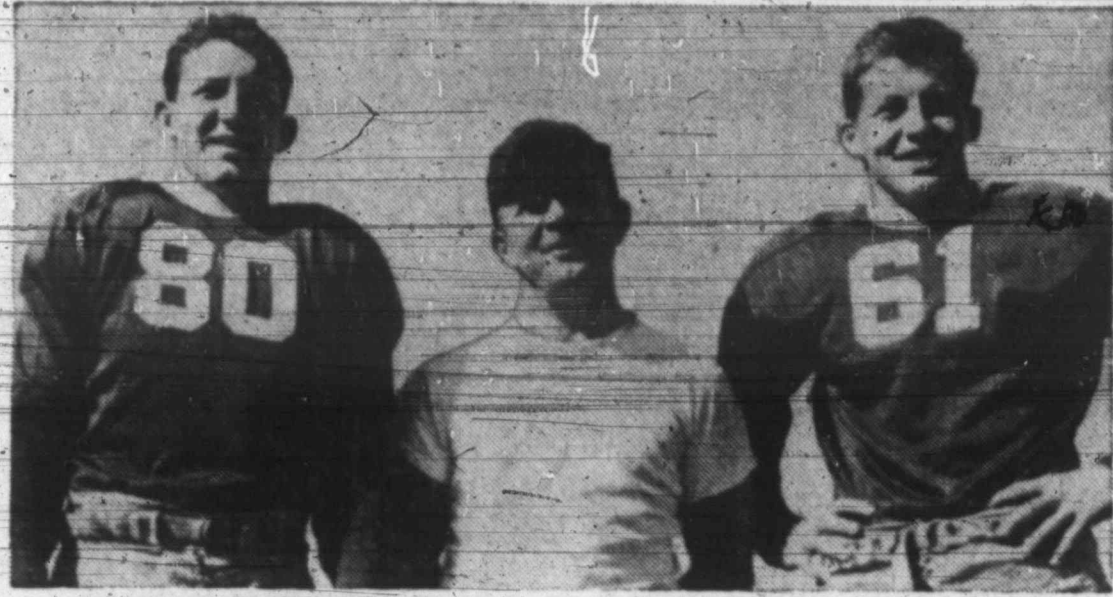

The 60 low scorers from 36 holes will wind up the tournament with 36 more today.

Won Top Of Grapefruit

Deadlocked with Hogan for third place were Jimmy Demaree of Detroit, E. J. "Dutch" Harrison of Little Rock, Eddie Kennedy of Lynn, Mass., and Tony Penna of Dayton, Ohio, while four were tied at 137—Jack Groat of West Pittsburg, Pa., Herman Barron of White Plains, N. Y., Claude Harmon of Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Henry Ransom of Fort Worth.

Hogan was the man of the hour, not only shooting the low score yesterday—and also one of the three lowest 18-hole totals of the tournament—but winning himself a ton of grapefruit.

He posed for pictures teeing off with grapefruit for a golf ball, then donated the whole business to the Valley Baptist hospital here. Benny kept a $50 cash prize.

T. C. U. GRID LEADERS HAPPY—Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian seems to be happy about the whole thing as he poses between the two Horned Frog captains, Phil Roach (left) and Bill Crawford (right) a guard. Both are seniors and will wind up their competition for the Purple and White in the Orange Bowl New Year's Day, with the University of Georgia Bulldogs as the opposition. Both Roach and Crawford were picked on various all-conference selections this year.

Fort Worth Gets Title Game Wichita Falls, Temple 'Even'

Wichita Falls, Temple 'Even' Here 'N There Grid Rules To Be Discussed

BY TOM W. MILLER
United Press Sports Writer

It's Temple and Wichita Falls knocking on the door to the state schoolboy championship, the portal the Wildcats and Coyotes reached once before, but which can only open to one of them.

Four years ago Wichita Falls reached the finals only to be pushed aside by Longview by a single touchdown margin.

Last year Temple made its first trip to the championship game and was shoved out of the way by Amarillo, a two touchdown winner.

Both teams now are determined to do the most shoving and pushing, and today it seems a fairly even bet as to which is going to be brushed out of the way and which is going to do the brushing.

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—At long range it looks as if the New York pro football Giants had no move change against the Bears than the Dodgers had in the World series.

That Chicago "crowd" makes it look bad for the Dough bowl here Jan. 4. Still, New York fans have been holed all season because they weren't able to see the Bears.

War regulations are tough on the football broadcasters. They can't fill in the dull spots with poems about the weather.

Instead of having a fling at the light-heavyweight title, Billy Soose goes into the Navy tomorrow.

He'll have the rank of chief boatswain's mate. Tickets for the American hockey league's All-Star game at Cleveland Feb. one game longer, also won 12 consecutive games after the season opening loss.

Wichita Falls is far in the higher scorer—295 points to Temple's 233. Each is a rugged defensive team—Temple having permitted 40 points, Wichita Falls only 32.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

DETROIT, Dec. 22.—The nation's football coaches will gather around the hearth here Dec. 29 with at least seven rule proposals to mull over.

Coach H. O. Fritz Crisler of the University of Michigan, president of the National Football Coaches association, said today the rules committee meeting would open the annual three-day convention of the association.

Substitution Rule Tops

The coaches may recommend changes to the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic association at a later meeting.

The coaches' own year-old baby—the unlimited substitutions rule—is listed as topic No. 1. There has been scarcely any agitation for its repeal, but the coaches are seeking means of preventing a defense team from holding up the play by substitutions at vital moments.

The perennial question of moving the goal posts up to the end of the playing field, where they once were, will be back.

Others In Spotlight

Another proposal would widen the goal posts and lower the bar.

It will carry a "tax" of a pack of cigarettes, a can of tobacco or cigars, which will be sent to Army camps.

New tennis rule to come up at the U. S. L. T. A. meeting would allow players to be connected with firms selling tennis goods—but only if they're over 35 years old and have been in the firm 10 years.

20,000 May See Game

The game will be at Fort Worth Saturday afternoon in that city's near-million-dollar Farrington field high school stadium and some predictions were that with good weather all 20,000 of its seats would be filled.

Fort Worth has not been the site of the state championship game since 1931 when Abilene blanked Beaumont 13 to 0.

When the season started neither of the finalists was among those teams guessed to have the best chance of succeeding. Amarillo as state champion, Masonic Home was the No. 1 choice, and it was the Masons who dealt Wichita Falls its only defeat.

Both Developed Fast

Coach Ted Jeffries had just two lettermen around which to build a successor to his district winning team of the previous season. At Temple, Coach Les Cranflin saw all but a handful of his 1940 squad leave school and Waco was boomed as the next central Texas district champion.

But high school teams are unpredictable; they often develop rapidly. That was the case with both Temple and Wichita Falls, and now as they step up in the final round to slug it out with each other for the title neither even has won both the Wildcats and the Coyotes appear fitting championship caliber; no matter which wins, the titlist will be a team befitting the prestige championship prizes.

Individual Stars Shine

There are some great individual performers on each side—although a study of the playoff games from the bi-district on shows game-long teamwork spelled the difference.

Hill and his favorite receiver, another little fellow, Robbie De Smith, shine in the Wichita Falls backfield and up front there's wily Joe Messinger, a star in a crowd of exceptional high school line.

Both teams have fine ends—Troy Stewart of the Coyotes and Barney Ham of the Wildcats.

In the Temple backfield for the second successive year, tall, posed Wayland Hill has starred—a triple threat man. Much of Temple's defensive strength centers around Ed Heap, a husky tackle.

Temple Undefeated

Temple is unbeaten, Wichita Falls lost only to Masonic Home. The Wildcats won 12 straight and the Coyotes, playing a schedule

Frnka's Team Bearing Down Golden Hurricane Line Star Ready

(Special To The Journal)

TULSA, Dec. 22.—Tulsa university football players are getting up at daybreak daily to prepare for their Sun bowl encounter against Texas Tech New Year's Day.

They arise at 5 a. m. and drill at 8 o'clock because many of the squadmen have jobs in the afternoon during the holidays.

Coach Henry Frnka said today that his team would entrain for El Paso the morning of Dec. 30 and would arrive at the bowl game site the next day.

The Hurricane squad was a changed Friday when C. M. Greene, the big All-Missouri Valley tackle, who had decided against competing in post-season clashes announced he would forego the North-South tilt to which he was invited for the Sun bowl contest.

Two key players hampered practice drills all last week. Quarterback Joe Gibson, who operates on the first string, and big L. D. Moore, the crashing fullback, were off more than a week but did leave their beds.

Coach Frnka said he would work the last two drill days.

The gridgers will take a three-day vacation the last of this week, staying away from the practice field Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. They will resume their training schedule on Saturday, with head-knocking sessions scheduled, plus a complete brushing-up on both ground and aerial—offensive and defensive tactics, until time for breaking camp and boarding the train for El Paso.

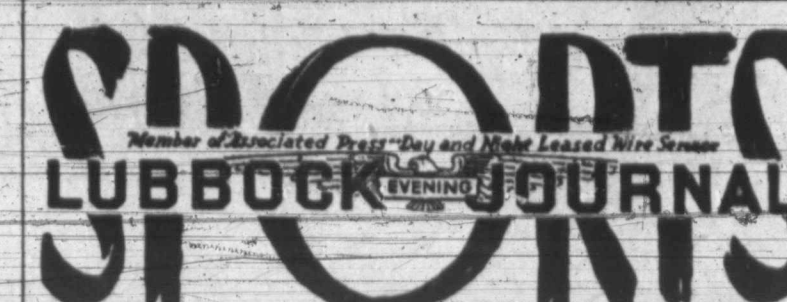

Coach Frnka hasn't fully decided to make the field goal easier.

Success of the professional passing game again has brought up the question of whether colleges should allow the passer to throw from any place behind the line of scrimmage.

A major alteration which some coaches favor would allow the team scored upon to select the defensive line.

The present rule against ineligible receivers downfield on a pass play will come up for discussion.

A major alteration which some coaches favor would allow the team scored upon to select the goal it wished to defend in addition to having its present choice of kicking off or receiving.

"Grand Old Man" Still Going Strong "Watch The Yanks" In War And On Diamond, Is Warning Connie Mack Has On Birthday

(By The United Press)

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—Connie Mack finished another inning with Father-Time by celebrating his 79th birthday today.

And the "grand old man" of baseball came up with a double-barrelled prophecy: "Watch the Yanks."

His words, he said, hold good both for the nation at war and for the 1942 baseball year.

"I have faith in my country and trust in our people, and I know we'll be all right again," exclaimed the silver-haired pilot of the Philadelphia Athletics. "Watch the Yanks."

Game To Help Morale

And he predicted that once again the New York American league club was the team to watch next season. "Watch the Yanks," he repeated.

Starting his 42nd year at the head of the Philadelphia club, Mack believes that baseball will be one of the principal morale builders during the national emergency. He came here in 1901 and his teams have won the American league title nine times and the world's championship five times.

"With the nation facing turbulent days, sports, and baseball in particular, are going to help relieve the pressure," he said.

Still Has Hopes Of Pennant

"I don't believe that there will be any attempt to curtail major league ball such as there was in the last war," he continued. "I think they realize its value in building public morale."

Mack was born Cornelius McGillicuddy, at East Brookfield, Mass., on Dec. 22, 1862.

Now, at 79, he is looking forward not only to next spring's training trip to California but also to 1942.

"Wait until the next year," he grinned, stealing a Dodger dodge. "I'm anxious to know how it feels to be the first 80-year-old manager to win a pennant."

Bears Measure Giants, 37-9 Chicago Captures Pro Grid Crown

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Quarterbacks "The Bears" had "em"—it wasn't Sid Luckman passing, it was Bob Snyder kicking field goals. That's the success story of the two-year-champion Chicago Bears—that plus a couple of backs named George McAfee and Norm Standlee.

The New York Giants thought the key to victory in the National football league title game was stopping Luckman. But they didn't stop him. Sid laid his passes on the line to set up the touchdowns that counted, and the Giants simply couldn't weather the storm.

Late Rally Pays Off

While the 37-9 final score indicates the 1940 champions had an easy time repeating in yesterday's titular tilt, it wasn't quite a breeze. There was, for instance, the time when the clock read 7:30 minutes gone in the third period and the score was tied at nine apiece.

The main reason the Bears were in the running at that stage was Snyder, Luckman's replacement. Bob booted three field goals—a feat no player has performed in this play after space handlers of the Bears did it in 1937.

Giants Put Up Battle

Two of Snyder's field goals balanced George Frnka's first period touchdown run for New York, after Tuffy Leemans had passed to him from the 31-yard line. Snyder's third three-point drive gave the Bears a 9-6 halftime lead, an edge that didn't last long.

For Ward Cuff, acclaimed for many years as a field-goal booting champion, laid one between the uprights early in the third quarter to tie the score, and the 13,341 spectators saw, no one referee.

Pin Ups Of Rams Surprise Of 1941

NEW YORK, Dec. 22. (U.P.)—Fordham's Rams were rolling along on the wave of five straight football victories. The Pittsburgh Panthers had received as many consecutive setbacks. Then came Nov. 8, a gloomy day indeed for the Rams, for the scoreboard read: Pittsburgh 13, Fordham 0.

Fordham snapped back to win its two remaining games and receive a bid to the Sugar bowl while Pittsburgh went on to take two of its three other games. But the result of that Nov. 8 game goes down in the books as the biggest surprise of 1941.

Only the Texas football Longhorns offered the Panthers any serious opposition in the opinion of the 84 sports writers participating in the Associated Press poll.

The Panthers rolled up 144 votes, 114 of which came from 38 first place tallies on the basis of three place tallies for second and one for third.

The Longhorns, a surprise winning, tying or losing, received 16 first place votes and a total of 94 points. Some of the writers just called Texas the surprise of the year, other mentioned the Longhorns 7-7 tie with Baylor, their 14-7 defeat at the hands of Texas Christian and the 71-7 victory over Oregon in the final game of the season. One writer said Texas' failure to play in any bowl was the biggest surprise.

United States Navy Sinks Or Damages 14 Enemy Subs In Atlantic

Japanese Also Are Victims

(By The United Press)
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 — Announcement of the sinking or damaging of at least 14 enemy submarines in the Atlantic and several Japanese submarines in the Pacific was "good news" today to a capital that had just received Navy department reports of enemy submarine activity off both the Atlantic and Pacific coasts.

The bag of an estimated total of 14 submarines in the Atlantic—undoubtedly German or Italian—may have shattered an "impending" Axis undersea offensive aimed at slicing the United States' vital supply and convoy routes, Secretary of Navy Frank Knox intimated.

Covers Time Since Sept. 11
 He also said the Navy had "effectively dealt with several Japanese submarines."

His statement outlined a new policy on reports of action against submarines. Heretofore, there have been no announcements of retaliatory moves by the U. S. Navy since President Roosevelt ordered it to "shoot-on-sight" the Axis "rattlesnakes." Henceforth, Knox said, he would give "general" summaries of the losses inflicted on the enemy.

The enemy losses revealed by Knox covered the "shoot-on-sight" orders issued on Sept. 11.

Japs Have Large Fleet
 Earlier the Navy department's communique No. 14 revealed that there were indications of "enemy submarine activity off the east coast" and reported details of the sinking of S. S. Emidio and the shelling of the S. S. Agaworld near the California coast.

Knox's announcement did not identify the 14 submarines believed to have been sunk or damaged in the Atlantic. Most of them presumably were German undersea raiders, although Italy has boasted that her submarines are in action in the North Atlantic, operating from channel coast bases.

Naval analysts believed the Japanese submarines which Knox said had been "effectively dealt with" in the Pacific may have been several of the 40 or 40 long-range subs which the Japanese are believed to have in their fleet of 80 to 100 undersea craft.

The Navy has been aware from some time that enemy submarine activity in the near American waters was "impending," Knox said.

The release of information of attacks on our shipping, unaccompanied by information as to what we are doing to protect it, must not be construed by the public as an indication that the Navy has done nothing about it," he explained.

"I can assure the public that the Navy has already adequately dealt with more than one submarine which has sought to make attacks on our naval and merchant ships. Immediate announcement of the strength and disposition of the U. S. naval forces which are combating enemy submarines, the methods that we have used and the place and time of our attacks upon them would provide the enemy with military information which he would dearly love to obtain."

Nine Days Left For Hitler To Make His Victory Boast Good

(By The United Press)
 Adolf Hitler has nine days in which to make good his boast that he would end the war in 1941.

He said last Jan. 11 "Soldiers, the year 1941 will bring consummation of the greatest victory of our history."

Field Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch, dismissed as commander in chief of the army by Hitler, said in his Christmas message last year: "Today we face England, who will be protected by the sea only as long as it suits us. We have one more task to perform — to force to the ground the last most bitter enemy. We are convinced that the war is already won."

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson made their home at 2102 Avenue K, until about two years ago. Since then they have spent most of their time traveling for her health.

Surviving are the husband; a son, Sam Johnson, of Long Beach, Calif.; a sister, Evelyn Lindsey of Lubbock; and three brothers, L. C. McNeil of Lubbock, John McNeil of Bay City, Mich., and Floyd McNeil of Flint, Mich.

Unity Sought By Axis Foes

(By The Associated Press)
 WASHINGTON, Dec. 22 — In conferences with the Russian, Chinese, and Netherlands envoys to the United States, President Roosevelt today took preliminary steps in "joint planning for unity of action," by the countries combating the Axis.

The chief executive scheduled talks separately with Maxim Litvinov, the Russian ambassador; Dr. Hu Shih, the Chinese ambassador, and A. Loudon, the Netherlands minister.

He saw Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, yesterday.

The White House said that all these conferences were in line with an announcement Saturday night that Britain and the United States already had taken steps toward coordination of the war effort and that the joint planning for unity of action would be extended to Russia, China, the Netherlands and other governments engaged in the common cause of defeating the Axis.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, remarked of today's conferences, however, that they were of a "very preliminary" nature.

Armed Soldiers Stand Watch Over Strike-Torn Shipyard

(By The United Press)
 SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22 — Soldiers with bayonets fixed and rifles loaded patrolled one shipyard today and stood ready to march into three others to prevent a jurisdictional labor dispute from halting $1,000,000 worth of vital construction.

They were stationed there to escort workers through picket lines established by the United Brotherhood of Welders, Cutters and Helpers of America, an unaffiliated union, which called a strike of welders at all major California shipyards to enforce its demands for autonomy from the American Federation of Labor.

Union officials said that more than 300 men had left their posts and more were coming out hourly. Government officials said less than 100 were out and company executives had assured them that the yards were operating normally.

The welders voted to picket the yards of Todd-California, Richmond Shipbuilding, Pacific Bridge company and Western Pipe and Steel Co., where they claimed their members had been "locked out" because of AFL pressure. AFL unions hold closed shop contracts at the yards.

Police asked Rear Admiral John Willis Greenblade, commandant of the Twelfth naval district, to provide troops to prevent picket lines from

That Girl on Broadway says many a person who has a reputation for being brilliant is merely like a mirror; he reflects light instead of absorbing it.

CHEER UP! There's nothing wrong with the world that a collision with the sun wouldn't cure.

THE Chicago Sun has run across a "Letter to Santa Claus," which it swears is the "real McCoy." The letter, says the Sun, was written by a Chicago school kid, and if it is nothing else, it is the most unusual "Santa letter" ever penned!

STRANGE PROPOSAL

Diana sat up straighter. Stephen Curt was going to offer her a job as she had hoped, but he was going about it oddly. As her eyes searched his face he began to speak very slowly as if choosing his words carefully so as not to be misunderstood.

"My father died several years ago, leaving me a very respectable though eccentric stepmother who loves me and whom I love very much. My own mother couldn't have taken better care of my sister, Adela, and me. But she's willful and domineering—a regular tergamant—she grows worse as she grows older—and unhappily my father left his entire fortune for her to administer. My father's will had several extraordinary clauses.

"But what," Diana was thinking, "has all this to do with me?"

Business must go on as best it can wherever our "all out" effort is not handicapped by it. We must have some relaxation in our off hours, so we'll be better equipped to do our job on the "on hours."

Maybe the reason why there's no fool like an old fool is because the young ones haven't had enough experience!

ONE of our Washington correspondents tells this story to emphasize the keying on the quixote now that war envelops the land:

"Every government department is now closely guarded by a tin-hatted fully-embattled soldier these days. Machine guns bristle on the roofs of public and commercial buildings adjacent to the government structures. Reporters must show a pass even to see a District of Columbia commissioner about a dog. Every precaution has been taken to guard against sabotage.

ALTHOUGH the war is more than two weeks old now, and the first flash of excitement has worn away, a great many of us still are having trouble carrying on our daily affairs in anything like regular stride.

THE Plainman knows as well as anyone—and better than most—that it's pretty hard to carry on usual affairs with a war going on.

WHILE our Navy and our Army and their various departments are busy fighting the foe, those of us who remain at home

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

WARNING TO HOLIDAY "TRIPPERS" Notification that there probably will be no special trains to "bow" football games on New Year's Day should cause no surprise. Nor will there be thought of protest.

People are aware that national defense requirements must interfere with usual train schedules and will take most of the available rolling stock of railroads.

The inevitable result will be a very considerable aggravation of the highway traffic problem which always is serious during the holidays. More accidents will happen. More people will be killed or injured.

These are facts that should be taken into consideration by every person who may plan a motor trip during the holidays, to a "bow" game or elsewhere. There will be added dangers which will call for extra care.

At best, the problem will be serious and the danger will be far greater than usual. The best and surest safeguard is to recognize the danger for what it is, and to treat it accordingly.

I'm the one who's seeking a job—I should be giving the references. How strange that Stephen Curt should think I ought to know this!

Stephen Curt went on. "Knowing my proclivity to bachelorhood my father made his will to read that I have not married by the time I am 35, his entire fortune, except for a bequest to Adela, will go to certain charities instead of to me. My stepmother's one purpose in life is to see that I don't try to break that clause. She has the devil's own stubbornness and she drew a deep breath. There's really nothing alarming about it. A purely business proposition. No sense, because a man and a woman will be involved intimately, in thinking it need be anything else. We're both civilized people, aren't we? I've never liked each other on sight. He smiled. "Or didn't you?"

"If I had offered you a job as my secretary, you'd have accepted eagerly, wouldn't you?"

"I mean that there is at the moment no one whom I care to marry. I relish the idea of losing approximately two million dollars, though I shall certainly earn enough during my lifetime."

He paused and Diana waited, unable to speak.

"I was impressed by you as a girl of spirit," he went on. "When I came down in the elevator, I was hoping I might overtake you."

He reached in his pocket and drew out a small jeweled box, told the magic story of Hawaii, several papers stuck out from his overcoat pocket. He was halted and ordered to turn over the documents for inspection and deposit in a vault pending his exit from the building.

He protested—and proved it by showing them that the offered papers consisted of the Lend-Lease and Japanese messages which the President had sent to Congress a few hours before. But it made no difference to the guard. FDR's state papers had to be surrendered, signed for and locked up in a vault. The President—and a reporter—are just a couple of other chaps to a conscientious Marine when he's on duty.

Why doesn't some smart clothing manufacturer make kids' clothes the same color as the surface of the vacant lot?

A TRAMP applied at the back door of a farmhouse, hoping for a hand-out. "Ma'am," he said to the farmer's wife, "I wonder if you'd help a poor man out of his troubles?" "Certainly," said the farm wife. "Would you rather be shot—or hit in the head with an ax?"

PRINCESS Stefania Hohenlohe interned last week in the FBI roundup, probably is wondering why her "protector" failed her. Almost on the verge of deportation earlier this year, this intimate of Hitler, Goering and Fritz Wiedemann, managed to promote her freedom via her new "heart," who is now expected to resign his big federal job soon.

Peggy Joyce tells her chums that she will marry again. She won't tell his name. He is said to be an executive of Lloyd's Low Price.

There is talk that Margaret Leech, who wrote "Reveille in Washington" (the Reg. Book-of-the-Month) is the most worthy candidate for the Pulitzer Prize award—but that she won't get it.

Because she is the widow of the late Ralph Pulitzer . . . The Pulitzers are almost fanatical when it comes to avoiding family publicity, or in any way exploiting the tribal name. Thus, the Award administrators probably feel they would be carrying out the intent of the Award's founder, Joseph Pulitzer, who was her father-in-law.

BURTON HETH, who won a Pulitzer Prize for his expose which sent Federal Judge Manton to prison, will perform another great service starting Dec. 31st. His next expose will deal with the head of a newspaper syndicate now wrapping himself in the flag named often in this column.

The rumor persists in Florida that the Fred Snie, Jr. (the Iron Lung man) anticipate another image sometime in 1941. The FBI is now accepting applications from lawyers and expert accountants (between the ages of 23 and 35) to enlarge its field of G-men.

"Week-End Industrial Blackouts" Hamper U. S. War Drive There's No Trick To Starting 168-Hour Week

BY PETER EDSON Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22—If there is any question as to how the country goes on the seven-day week, any holding back on the part of anyone having an idea that some new law must be passed or a couple of old laws must be repealed before all-out production for war can get going, let such hesitations vanish.

contracts and the act of working wages and hours for industry in general, but a ceiling over the 40-hour week. Nothing could be further from the fact. Administrators of both acts have issued blanket regulations which went into effect with the new year, specifying that unlimited overtime can be worked and unlimited shifts, too. No one has to write to Washington to get permission to put a 24-hour-day operation in any plant.

There have been some critics of the administration's labor policy who have erroneously believed that both the Walsh-Healy act governing minimum working conditions and the act of government workers' hours and hours for industry in general, but a ceiling over the 40-hour week.

Only real barrier to longer work days and weeks and multiple shifts is physical and psychological, not legal. As England found out last week, there is a fatigue point beyond which working efficiency is so impaired that it is unprofitable to keep him on the job.

Other difficulties encountered in fitting 40-hour shifts into the 168-hour week for continuous production have been premiums demanded by labor in some industries for Saturday and Sunday work, the unwillingness to work on night shifts and the consequent unequal rates between day and night work.

IN the United States, with a basic 40-hour week, there have been various suggestions for schedules to put the 24-hour day, seven-day week into practice. Steel companies, chemical industries, and other industries have adopted the 24-hour day, seven-day week.

The family thought they would like to take a last look and had the coffin opened. Instead of seeing Auntie, they saw an old general in full uniform. Frantically, they telephoned the War Dept.

After much delay they were informed there had been a mistake and that the general's body would be picked up. Auntie, it seems, had been buried at Arlington with full military honors.

hours worked in excess of 40, regardless of when the overtime falls.

L. Metcalfe Walling, administrator of the Division of Public Contracts in the Department of Labor, which handles the Walsh-Healy act, goes so far as to say that the overtime provisions of existing labor legislation are really an incentive to multi-shift operation in that they should tend to make employers put on more shifts just to avoid having to pay overtime wages.

All such problems, however, may get a going over at the forthcoming presidential conference of labor "management" and public, which might be given the task of formulating a general policy on labor matters for the duration of the war.

SOLVED THE BLACKOUT In discussion of practical plans to solve the Saturday-Sunday blackout and put labor on a 168-hour week in all war industries, one scheme attracting attention in Washington is that evolved by the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton, O.

The schedule calls for three 8-hour shifts operated by four crews so as to rotate the working time for each crew. . . . By ingenious scheduling, each crew works five extra 88-hour shifts every 20 weeks, and these five extra shifts take care of the eight hours remaining in each week when four crews work you like. Don't you see, I had to be very sure about you before I asked you? Don't you see I'm risking something, too?"

"Yes, I can see that," she faced him squarely. "When would you want your stepmother to—to pass judgment on me?"

"Why not now—tonight?"

"Tonight? Again she had that brilliant-faceted-of-running-to-keep-up-with-him. Life was certainly rushing her today. To lose one job and one's temper, to meet a fascinatingly brilliant man and have him propose marriage—to be offered a contract calling for payment of $10,000—any one of these events would have made an exciting day. But to have them all crowded into one! Having the eccentric old woman who controlled the Curt fortune pass judgment on her would perhaps provide the climax of a series of "Very well," she said steadily. "Let's go."

He looked ruefully at her untouched food. "You were so anxious to dine at the Savoy and here I've made you lose your appetite. I was chump not to wait until you'd finished." Never-mind, we'll come again."

Dining at places like the Savoy would be a part of the life he was offering her. Diana felt a little shiver of nervous excitement grip her spine.

They waited in the foyer while Stephen's car was brought around. Then they were on their way to Ellen Curt's apartment.
