ROTC, OTS Grads Major Part Of 68-E

Graduates of Air Force ROTC and the Officers Training School are the overwhelming majority in Class 68-E, latest class to start undergraduate pilot training at Reese. Students have started flying training at the Lubbock Municipal Airport.

OTS graduates total 39 and AFROTC graduates 27. All were commissioned on graduation. Three members of the class were commissioned in the Air National Guard, one on graduation from West Point, three through aviation cadet training and one received a direct commission. Second Lt. James A. Hockridge was the top student in his class in OTS.

Students live in 28 states, with nine from Texas, nine from California, seven from New York and six from Ohio. Five are captains and three first lieutenants. The remainder of the 75 class members are second lieutenants.

All but two are college graduates, with one holding a master's degree. One attended college but entered the Air Force before graduation.

Summer Here?

Some 1505 Air Force uniforms appeared at Reese Wednesday as the optional period for the clothing became effective. Either the 1505 summer uniform or blues may be worn for the time being, as the weather is warm or cold.

SAFE RECORD—Five years of accident-free flying by the Reese rescue detachment was recognized this week as Capt. Harold A. Solberg (right), commander, was presented the Military Airlift Command trophy. Making the presentation for MAC was Col. Ernest T. Cragg, wing commander.

Rescue Detachment Safety Record Earns MAC Award

Five years of accident-free flying by the rescue unit at Reese was recognized Tuesday at the wing staff.

The Military Airlift Command five year Flying Safety Award was presented to Capt. Harold A. Solberg, commander of Detach 13, Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center. Presentation was by Col. Ernest T. Cragg, Reese wing commander, in behalf of MAC.

The award was "in recognition of the outstanding professional effort of all assigned and attached personnel, past and present, in maintaining a zero accident rate for the years 1962 through 1966."

Reese also was praised in the letter from Col. Tracy J. Peterson, Western Center commander, who said that the award "reflects directly upon the outstanding operational control direction and base support you have provided to the Detachment."

The air rescue unit performs in the flying area. It also provides rescue operations for civilians, when requested by proper authorities.

Lt. Alan Kirby Starts Training

Second Lt. Alan B. Kirby, who spent much of his youth at Reese, was commissioned through the Air Force ROTC at Texas Tech and was graduated recently with a degree in psychology.

He reports Monday to the 3539th Navigator Training Squadron at Mather AFB, Calif., for 10 months of training.

The lieutenant is the son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Elwin C. Kirby, Lubbock. His father was commander of the Reese Organizational Maintenance Squadron prior to going to Udorn AFB, Thailand. He will return to Lubbock June 1 on conclusion of his year's isolated tour.

CONFERENCE HELD

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Recent changes and innovations in the manpower-management specialty were topics of a command-wide conference held at Randolph AFB, Tex., recently. Approximately 80 manpower and management engineering personnel attended the event.

EX-NAVIGATOR WINS SELECTION IN 67-F FOR WRIGHT TROPHY

Capt. Winslow E. Reither, who entered undergraduate pilot training (UPT) from navigator duty with a Strategic Air Command bomb squadron, has been nominated by Reese to compete for the Orville Wright Achievement Trophy going to a member of Class 67-F on graduation March 18.

Captain Reither, from Westbury, N.Y., will compete with nominees of other UPT bases for the trophy awarded by the Order of Daedalian to the 67-F class members considered the most outstanding.

The captain attended Long Island Arts and Technology Institute, majoring in electrical engineering, prior to starting navigator training in 1959. A year later he was commissioned through aviation cadet training.

Interested in scuba diving, he helped organize several scuba diving clubs and has upward of 200 hours of private flying time as co-owner of a small airplane prior to starting pilot training.

Captain Reither was upgraded to electronics warfare officer after three months of crew duty with a bomb wing, later being upgraded to a standardization evaluation crew where he was awarded a promotion to "spot" captain in November 1964. He was augmented into the regular Air Force in 1964.

Captain Reither is a graduate of Squadron Officer School and has completed nearly all work toward a bachelor of science degree. He has more than 2,000 flying hours as a navigator in B-52 aircraft and more than 100 hours in KC-135 refueling aircraft for the Strategic Air Command.

As class leader to Reese, he is credited with maintaining high esprit de corps, with directing the class in sponsorship of a soapbox derby entrant and with leading the class to 100 per cent participation in all financial drives to aid the needy.

He also has been praised for performance of extra duty.

"Captain Reither entered this program with one goal — to be the top performer in every phase," said Col. Ernest T. Cragg, Reese wing commander, in his letter of nomination. "That determination has never faltered. His excellence and devotion to duty have been an inspiration, not only to his classmates, but to all who have known him."

CAPTAIN REITHER

Students Hear Of SEA Action

Members of the Reese Student Squadron this week have a far better understanding of Southeast Asia activities, following the dining-in Saturday night in the Officers' Open Mess.

Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., deputy commander for operations, was guest speaker, showing a motion picture on the F-4C which is widely used in Vietnam.

The colonel, who spent a year in Vietnam as vice commander of the 12th Tactical Fighter Wing, told the students and their guests that the F-4C is one of the strongest weapons in Southeast Asia because of its versatility. He also stressed that its pilots must have a high level of training to carry out their duties.

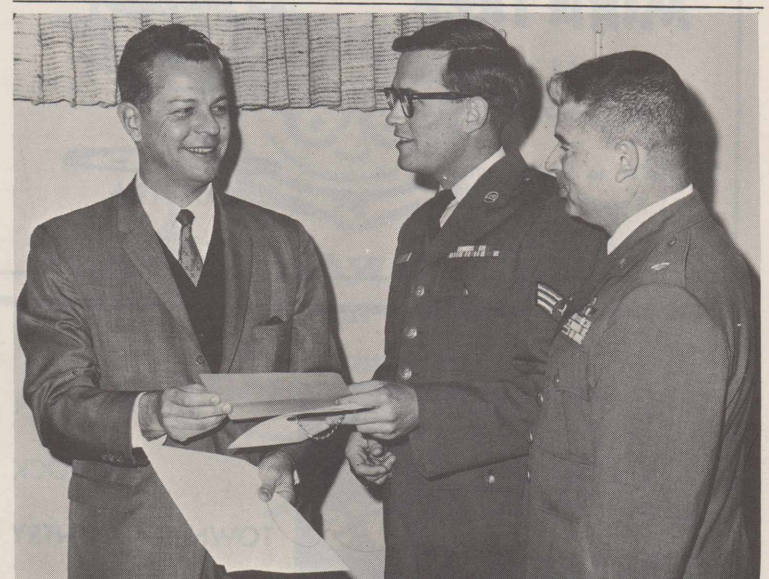

Colonel McGlothlin also emphasized necessity for weapons system exactness, stating that a fraction of a second error in timing will cause targets to be missed.

Flying and academic awards were made to members of the four most advanced classes in undergraduate pilot training here.

Toasts were offered to numerous individuals, including the President, Air Force chief of staff, the honored guests and the speaker.

RETIREES—A total of 140 years of service ended this week at Reese as seven airmen, each with 20 years in uniform, retired in ceremonies in the office of Col. Ernest T. Cragg, wing commander. Left to right are MSgt. Robert Z. Drury, TSgt. Eugene A. Mather, A1C Richard S. Allen Jr., TSgt. William P. Lynch, TSgt. Leon W. Chaney and MSgt. Billy R. Bolin. TSgt. Donald L. Crawley retired in a separate ceremony on disability.

RECEIVES CITY HONORS—A1C Charles H. Thompson (center), Reese airman of the month, is made an honorary member of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Presenting the membership is Harold Spears, former Reese airman and member of the chamber's Armed Forces Committee. Looking on is Maj. Ralph Weisman, Field Maintenance Squadron commander.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Opportunity Open To All

BY TOM IRELAND
Civilian Personnel Officer

There is continuing emphasis from higher commands for employment, training, and upgrading personnel on the basis of merit without any consideration on the basis of race, color, religion, or national origin.

The U.S. Civil Service Commission insists on a positive approach to the Equal Employment Opportunity Program. It is not sufficient for Reese AFB personnel to be open-minded and non-discriminatory in personnel actions related to race, color, religion, or national origin, Reese personnel must make all possible efforts to employ, develop, and promote members of minority groups to the utmost limits of their skills and knowledge.

The base has an enviable record in non-discrimination toward minority groups, but its civilian work force is far short in ratio to the percentage of minorities in the local community. In view of the SEA crisis, it is imperative to employ and develop all man-power potential throughout this community and our nation.

It has long been the policy of Reese commanders that all Air Force people receive equitable treatment, and that all personnel understand and accomplish their responsibilities for the Equal Employment Opportunity Program. As members of the base team, each of us can tell people, on and off base, of the need for employing members of minority groups in jobs requiring their maximum potential; of the need for equal opportunity in training and self-development; and of the need for equal opportunity in upgrading and promotion.

This program is of vital interest to our Commander and he has requested assistance from all personnel in carrying out the full intent of this program.

Chief Master Sergeant Selected

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — CMSgt. Paul W. Airey, 43, will be sworn in April 3 as Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force. His selection for the new position was announced this week by Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John P. McConnell.

Sergeant Airey was the personal choice of General McConnell after records of 2,200 eligible chief master sergeants had been narrowed to three men. Other finalists were CMSgt. Conrad F. Stevens, Scott AFB, Ill., and CMSgt. Jefferson F. March, Clark AB, P.I.

Currently first sergeant of Air Defense Command's 4756th Civil Engineering Squadron at Tyndall AFB, Fla., Sergeant Airey will join General McConnell's staff for a two-year term. His primary responsibility will be to advise the Air Force chief on matters concerning the welfare, effective utilization and progress of an enlisted corps that numbers more than 750,000 airmen.

His new position will increase his monthly paycheck by $150 proficiency pay authorized by the Department of Defense for the senior enlisted man in each of the armed forces. The bonus is paid in recognition of the additional responsibilities and personal expense involved in the position.

On The Line

(By the USAF Chaplain Board)

The young bachelor airman is in the process of maturing. He is trying to "find himself" in life. Although he may not know exactly what his long-range purposes and goals are, he is on the move.

Will Rogers used to tell the story of a man who was walking down the street one afternoon and bumped his head against a hornets' nest which was hanging from the branch of a tree. He began to run with the hornets after him. He passed the house of a friend who was sitting on the porch. His friend called to him as he went by, "Where you going, Jim?" Jim called back, "Man, I ain't going nowhere! I'm just getting away from where I'm at!"

A young man in the process of maturing may not be sure of where he is going, but he is "getting away from where he is at." He is on the move. He is going somewhere. And while he resents being pushed, he can be led. He welcomes leadership from men who can provide the kind of leadership which will help him find himself and his place in life.

His supervisors and his officers, both noncommissioned and commissioned, who are more mature and experienced, are obligated to keep in mind this characteristic of the young bachelor airman and give him the practical, intelligent guidance he needs. This is one reason the Air Force places such great emphasis upon the importance and responsibilities of leadership.

The young airman is on the move, and he welcomes the guidance of mature, experienced leaders whom he can both respect and admire.

SERGEANT COSTELLO

Sergeant Major Veteran Of Long Active Service

A 21-year veteran of active service, SMSgt. Owen J. Costello, has assumed duty as wing sergeant major of Reese, succeeding CMSgt. C. T. Darnelle, who left Saturday for new duty in California.

Sergeant Costello has worked in Strategic Air Command, Continental Air Command and Air Training Command and has served three and a half years as chief clerk for the deputy chief of staff, plans, in Norway, 15 months in France and three years on Jamaica, West Indies. He came to ATC in July 1964 and served a year at Williams AFB, Ariz., prior to assignment to Reese in August 1965. He was administrative supervisor for the chief of maintenance until he began his present duty.

The sergeant has an Air Force Commendation Medal for outstanding service in Norway.

He says he finds his new job "a real challenge; it keeps me busy." But he finds time for bowling, golf and reading.

The sergeant and his wife, Anna Grace, live in Reese Village with their children, Owen Jr. 17, Patricia Ann 16, Elizabeth Ann 14 and John B. 10.

U.S. Not Alone As Helpers

Think we're the only nation with a heart — the only one to send aid to people in Vietnam? Think again.

Under the Free World Assistance (FWA) program 30 nations are helping. They build and equip hospitals and schools. Food and medical supplies for refugees also come from FWA.

FWA civilians — teachers, doctors, agricultural advisors and engineers — work daily to help Vietnamese people help themselves.

Not all aid to Vietnam comes from FWA, though. More than 13,000 civilians from 27 countries other than the U.S. also help. They work there for U.S. and Vietnamese government agencies.

U.N. technical experts in soil survey, labor administration and telecommunications are in Vietnam now to work on 37 technical assistance programs.

We do a lot, it's true — maybe more than our share as some claim. But other are doing more each year — people from Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, China, Denmark, Ecuador, Germany, Greece, Guatemala, Honduras, Iran, Italy, Korea, Laos, Liberia, Luxembourg, Malaysia, Netherlands, New Zealand, Philippines, Spain, Thailand, Tunisia, Turkey, United Kingdom, Uruguay and Venezuela.

We shouldn't overlook their contributions.

QUOTE OF NOTE

"It would be extremely shortsighted to begrudge the several hundreds of millions of dollars needed for military assistance when, at the same time, we are willing to spend tens of billions of dollars on our own general purpose forces whose primary mission is to defend these same allies against the same threat. That is why I have always considered military assistance an integral part of our own defense program." — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Vocal Unit Wins Top Honors In 1967 Reese Talent Show

"The Alcoholics," a vocal group captured overall honors in the 1967 Reese Talent Show attended by a 400 plus audience Monday in the base theater.

Winning the Best Performance trophy were Marlowe D. Crawford, Walter K. Cunningham II, Kenneth A. Reid, and Edward Richardson of the "Alcoholic" quartet.

Bobby C. Baker, with a rendition of "King of the Road" captured country and western solo honors. Singing to the tune of "Moon River", he won the first place trophy in the popular vocalist category.

Col. Ernest T. Cragg, wing commander, was scheduled to make awards at the Monday night talent show. Urgent business in connection with the flying training program forced him to miss the show. The colonel has asked The Roundup to express his regrets for inability to attend the talent contest and make awards.

Folk group honors went to a trio, The Innkeepers, composed of Michatel R. Allen, Calvin L. Ballington, and Arthur C. Poppe.

Noel S. Hickam was awarded first place trophies in the dance solo and master of ceremonies categories.

Philip W. Walter won the piano solo event.

John W. Brewster took semi-classical vocalist honors.

"We Three" (Edward Glover, Kenneth A. Reid, Edward O. Richardson) won in the novelty act category with a parody on Noah's Ark.

"The Roberts" provided the musical accompaniment for the show.

Award presentations were made by Lt. Col. W. A. Atterbury, chief, personnel division, assisted by Larry Young and Lee Barrett of the Mathis Service Club.

Judges were Mrs. W. E. Garets, Herb Harding and Virgil Johnson. The timer was 2nd Lt. Thomas E. Vincent.

Chief Cites Pay, Promotion Efforts

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Pay and promotion opportunities are important in Air Force efforts to improve retention of first-term airmen, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John P. McConnell told Congressmen here.

Retention aids that have already proved their worth are effective use of proficiency pay, and the variable reenlistment bonus, he said.

Testifying before the Senate Armed Services Committee, General McConnell said that although the Air Force was impressed by the high quality of young airmen in the last several years, the retention rate has been declining in the past year.

Although 159,581 non prior service airmen were enlisted in fiscal year 1966, manning is still below desired levels in many career fields, he said.

Reasons airmen most frequently indicate for leaving the Air Force are: Insufficient promotion opportunities; unfavorable living conditions (primarily housing); family separations; a desire to pursue further civilian education under the G.I. bill; and the higher pay scales in comparable civilian jobs.

Retention of people, "our most precious resource," is essential, General McConnell indicated.

March Airman Offers Varied Fare

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Stories of heroism, latent power, education and career opportunities are all included in the March issue of The Airman magazine.

Maj. Bernard F. Fisher, the first man to receive the Air Force Medal of Honor in Vietnam, is featured on the cover. During a mission over A Shau last March he risked his life flying "Into the Valley of Death" to rescue a downed fellow pilot.

Another type of hero is described in "High Road to Rapid Recovery," the story of the flight nurses and medics who make the aeromedical evacuation flights out of Vietnam aboard Lockheed C-141 Starlifters.

The relatively unexplored world of the laser provides an intriguing background for "On The Beam." The article covers the development of this unusual light force and how the Air Force plans to use it.

"Flight of the Falcons" is a narrative describing the work of the Falcon Foundation, a nonprofit organization that helps potential airmen along the road to an Air Force career as an Air Force Academy graduate.

Criteria Changed For Terminal Base

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Criteria for veteran airmen requesting terminal assignments will undergo minor alterations March 1.

The total active-service requirement for such assignments will be increased from 26 to 27 years and no applications will be considered until attainment of the required service. Presently, applications may be submitted after 25½ years' active service.

Another change will limit terminal assignments to bases within the United States, Alaska or Hawaii. However, airmen who do not reside in the continental United States may also elect their home of record.

Telephone Costs Cut At Williams

WILLIAMS AFB, ARIZ. (ATCPS) — Management studies of local telephone toll call costs and traffic systems have resulted in saving $2,564 in the Cost Reduction Program here during the second quarter of fiscal year 1967.

Switching base telephones to trunk lines which allow toll free dialing to the metropolitan Phoenix area resulted in an estimated average monthly saving of $25 in toll calls, as well as actual savings of $7.95 per trunk line per month.

Additionally, 12 trunk lines installed at a cost of $53.50 per month replaced 14 trunks previously used at a cost of $61.45 per month. Since traffic studies revealed the 12 trunks are adequate, no plans exist to install another two.

AFA Membership Campaign Opened

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The Air Force Association's 20th Anniversary membership campaign is underway.

Gen. John P. McConnell, Air Force chief of staff, endorsed support of this year's membership campaign on a voluntary basis. Membership is open to military personnel and civilians. Military members do not assume the policy obligations of membership and do not vote.

Military memberships, however, constitutes a valuable asset to the professional endeavors of AFA. The AFA was established in 1946.

President Opens Savings Note Drive

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—President Lyndon B. Johnson has launched a campaign to sell a new kind of Treasury savings note — "freedom shares" — which pays a new high interest rate of 4.74 per cent annually when held for 4½ years.

Speaking on closed circuit television to savings bond volunteers meeting in 33 cities on Washington's Birthday, Mr. Johnson said purchases of savings bonds and the new freedom shares are necessary to support U.S. forces fighting in Vietnam.

"Freedom must be at all times defended because it is at all times besieged," the Chief Executive said.

"Not all of us are called to fight on the battlefield," Mr. Johnson said. But all Americans must quietly and firmly do what they can and all that they must here at home, he stated.

The new freedom shares go on sale May 1.

The new security will be available only to those who buy savings bonds through payroll deductions or bond-a-month plans at their banks.

Additional '100 Per Centers' Report In Annual Campaign

Three Reese units this week joined the "select" 100 per cent class in the annual National Health Agencies and Federal Joint Crusade campaigns and other units moved toward the goal.

Reporting that all personnel had joined in both drives were the Student Squadron, Weather Detachment and OSI. Seven units previously had moved to the 100 per cent participation goal.

The 3501st Pilot Training Squadron had 83 per cent participation to start this week and expected to hit the goal before today. Air Base Group reported 71 per cent for the health agencies and 68 per cent for the joint crusade. Reports were lacking from several units.

Funds collected received a boost this week when a collection was taken among personnel of the deputy for operations and $15 was donated to the March of Dimes, a Health Agency unit, in memory of the late John W. Schneider, father of Lt. Col. Jimmy L. Schneider.

Maj. Paul E. Kreter, project officer, said he was hopeful contributions from personnel who had not joined the drive would be forthcoming soon and that the campaign could be ended before the March 15 deadline.

"The work of the National Health Agencies offers hope to millions of Americans who are the victims of disease and disability," he commented. "You can support this great humane cause by making a generous contribution to the campaign of the National Health Agencies. Please give for Better Health."

Turning to the Federal Joint Crusade he said: "For 16 years, Radio Free Europe has served as primary channel for communications between the West and 83 million people of Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland, Bulgaria and Romania. RFE is effective especially because it speaks as the East European's voice about their problems, nourishing their demands for a better life with greater opportunity and closer ties with the community of free nations."

Volleyball Team Practices Held

Ten Reese male athletes are currently trying out for the base volleyball team which is slated to be a 12-man squad.

Practice for the team is held at 9:30 a.m. every Saturday in the base gym.

"Anyone interested in competitive volleyball should call me or come to the next Saturday practice," says Sgt. Rex Jordan, team coach (276).

Games with Sheppard and Cannon AFBs are tentatively on the March schedule.

Golf Notes . . .

Two members of Reese's personnel division won top honors in Reese's George Washington partnership tournament on the Reese Golf course.

TSgt. Don Shirley and A2C John Carey captured first place with a 63.

Don Shaver and Melvin Best followed with 66.

First Lt. James McIntyre and Capt. Robert Walton teamed up to share third place with 2nd Lt. James Newendorf and 2nd Lt. Walter Ford. Both teams had identical scores of 67.

Pollard Continues League Leadership

Pollard Friendly Ford, with 16½ wins and 7½ losses, continues to lead the Reese Renegades bowling league, three games ahead of its nearest rival, Team 5 with a 13½-10½ record.

Jo Hoover captured high series the week with a 181 followed by Ruth Worrell with a 176 and Cindy Westenhaver, 167.

Safety Leaders Turn Attention To Parking Lots

Near accidents on parking lots is being given more attention at Reese and drivers and pedestrians are being warned to be extra alert. Capt. Gene L. Sundeen, chief of the safety division, said the week.

"It's difficult to determine who's the worst menace on a parking lot, the driver or the absent-minded pedestrian," the captain said. "But the combination may be a tragic one."

Captain Sundeen urged that drivers entering parking lots give proper hand signals, slow down, enter the proper lane, discharge passengers after parking, park so other vehicles may move freely, not back into a parking space and "at the end of the day, do not move the vehicle until all passengers are aboard so you don't stop in a traffic lane to block traffic later."

The captain also urged pedestrians to be alert while walking on parking lots.

"Remember this about a parking lot, it's a place where people and autos are all over the place, where autos are turning and people coming out from between autos," he added. "At the end of the day it's a place where people are thinking more about going home than what's happening around them. Courtesy—caution—common sense all help prevent accidents."

Sergeant Takes Command Of Unit Stationed Here

A new arrival to Reese AFB and the 4295th Fuel Training Detachment is SMSgt. Willie C. Johnson.

The 35-year-old Mississippi native is detachment commander.

Prior to coming to Reese, Sergeant Johnson was assigned to the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing, Korat Royal Thai AB, Thailand. During his one year tour there he served as NCOIC, Standardization and Training.

The 17½ year veteran has spent 16 years in Air Training Command.

While assigned to ATC, Sergeant Johnson has traveled all over the United States, one trip to Alaska, Goose Bay, Labrador and Harmon, Newfoundland, and two trips to South America as an instructor and detachment NCOIC in Field and Mobile Training.

Sergeant Johnson's wife, Geraldine, and two children, James and Jan, who presently reside in Keokuk, Iowa, will arrive in the near future.

CAMPAIGN ENDORSED—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, Army, chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff, endorses the first Defense Department combined federal campaign. He emphasized the benefits federal and armed forces personnel could derive from efforts of participating organizations.

Service Number Phase-Out Starts

WASHINGTON (AFNS) —The Air Force Comptroller has asked major commands for their "time-phasing plans" to implement first steps in what ultimately will lead to Social Security numbers replacing service numbers as the primary medium for identification of officers and airmen.

Most affected are those agencies that use the identification number in data systems work. Time schedules and any anticipated problem areas are to be submitted by April 14.

The request stems from a Department of Defense announcement directing that all persons entering military service after July 1 will be required to have a Social Security number. Local recruiters will insure that all newcomers have them before enlistment.

★★USAF VIETNAM BATTLE REPORT★★

President Lyndon B. Johnson has awarded the Presidential Unit Citation to the 21st Tactical Air Support Squadron, Nha Trang AB, South Vietnam.

The announcement from the White House stated the citation was for extraordinary heroism in action against hostile forces in the Republic of Vietnam from Aug. 1, 1965 to Feb. 1, 1966.

The 21st TASS is the third Air Force squadron to be awarded a Presidential Unit Citation for action in Southeast Asia.

Earlier recipients were the 1st Air Commando Squadron (Composite) for action from Aug. 1, 1964 to April 15, 1965, and the 38th Air Rescue Squadron, from Aug. 1, 1964 to July 31, 1965.

The 21st TASS is equipped with Cessna O-1 Bird Dog aircraft. The small unarmed aircraft are used for directing friendly air strikes and providing air cover for tactical resupply and medical evacuation operations.

The support squadron participated in more than 50 major engagements against hostile forces during the period of its citation.

CHIEF PRAISES AIRMEN

Returning from an eight-day visit with Air Force commanders in Southeast Asia, Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John P. McConnell had high praise for American servicemen in Vietnam.

"They're doing a terrific job under extremely difficult circumstances," he said. "Everyone in America should be proud of those men out there and I mean the Marines, Navy, Army, Air Force, the whole lot of them."

WEEK OF ACTIVITY

Air Force sorties over North Vietnam were limited during the week ending Feb. 17, when strikes were discontinued in observance of the Tet holidays truce.

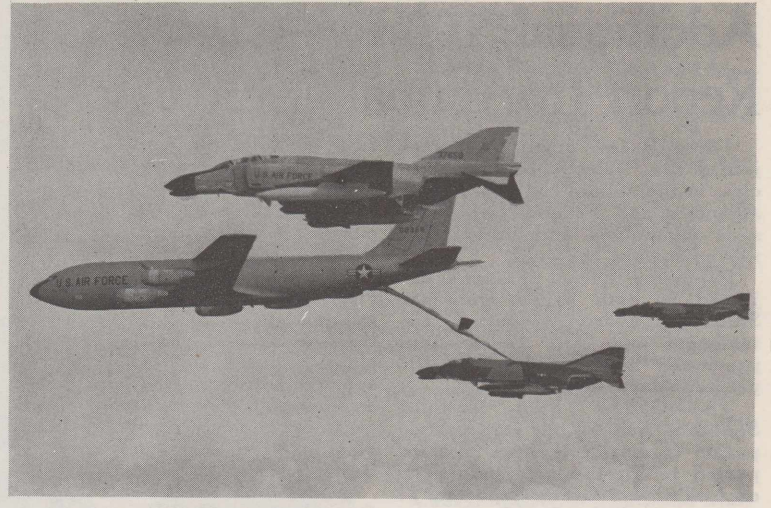

Strikes were resumed on Feb. 14, but poor weather conditions held flights to a minimum during the remainder of the week. Radar bombing tactics were used on most targets hit.

Targets include rail yards, radar sites, resupply routes, convoy staging areas and supply dumps.

In South Vietnam, Air Force tactical fighter pilots and Boeing Stratofortress crews set two Seventh Air Force records while attacking and bombing enemy troop concentrations and fortifications.

The Stratofortress crews established a new record Feb. 16, when they struck enemy targets on seven bombing raids in a single day. Earlier, fighter-bomber pilots flew a record 378 missions against enemy positions on Feb. 13. Throughout the week B-52 crews flew 21 bombing missions while strike pilots blazed the enemy with 1,895 combat support sorties. Three-hundred-ten Viet Cong were killed by Air Force fighter pilots and U.S. Vietnamese Army units in two large air-ground battles Feb. 15.

The two battles took place in the Operation Sam Houston area in II Corps and Dan Chi 279 in IV Corps.

PHANTOMS REFUEL—Air Force McDonnell F-4C Phantom fighters refuel from a Boeing KC-135 Stratotanker before continuing on a bombing mission over North Vietnam. Civilian Health Benefits Offered

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—Certain fee exceptions exist for dependents of active-duty, retired and deceased servicemen along with retired military members who use civilian health benefits.

Generally, most services furnished on an outpatient basis result in the patient paying deductible fees of $50 or $100 and a portion of the charges in excess of the deductible fees.

However, if a maternity patient is hospitalized for delivery or is otherwise hospitalized for the proper management of the pregnancy, all care related to that pregnancy is considered as inpatient care for the purpose of computing the patient's share of the charges.

Likewise, when a patient is hospitalized for surgery, the following services will be considered as inpatient care for the purpose of computing the patient's share of the charges:

- Services required of a physician within 30 days before and 120 days after hospitalization which are directly related to the surgery; and
- Diagnostic tests and procedures performed or authorized by the attending physician (or other professional person) within 30 days before and 120 days after hospitalization and directly related to the surgical procedure.

When a patient receives both inpatient and outpatient care for treatment of a bodily injury, all services and supplies provided for treatment of the injury within 30 days before and 120 days after hospitalization will be considered as inpatient care for the purpose of computing the patient's share of the charges.

Reese Youth's Scholarship Gains National Recognition

William E. (Pepper) Shelton Jr. is piling up honors for himself, his parents, school and Reese.

He has been named semi-finalist in competition for an Air Force Merit Scholarship and a National Merit Scholarship Corporation medal and he has been nominated for the Young Texan Foundation Award sponsored by the Optimist Clubs of Texas.

Son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. William E. Shelton of Reese, he is one of 15 Lubbock high school students to gain the semi-finals for the national corporation scholarship.

He is a student of Lubbock High School, where four students were selected for the semi-finals. He qualified through tests administered nationwide to about 2.6 million youths in 17,500 schools. About 2,000 will be selected for scholarships.

The Air Force award is given to children of active duty Air Force members.

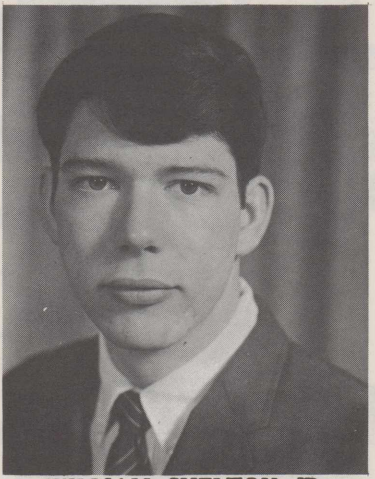

Young Shelton was nominated by the Sunrise Optimist Club for the February Young Texan honor, which pointed out he has won numerous scholastic honors and had a 3.89 average through the 10th and 11th grades and at mid-term in the 12th grade.

The club also cited that he has won numerous athletic honors, earning a varsity football letter at Lubbock High School and played on Reese youth teams in basketball and softball.

It also was pointed out that he has won honors throughout his schooling as a debater, speaker, bridge player, student council member, National Honor Society leader and president of his senior class.

Shelton also is credited with leadership in chapel activities where he has been, with serving as student coordinator for the Student March of Dimes which earned $1,300 and with securing several barrels of toys as chairman of the Toys for Tots Drive.

He is credited with originating the youth jury program in Lubbock which brought him the 1966 Responsible Citizen's Award, presented by Mayor W. D. Rogers. He also was praised in the nominating letter for other outstanding activities.
