TOP AIRMAN ENTERS ACADEMY

A2C Edward J. Flanagan, instrument trainer technician, 3501st Student Squadron, who left Reese Tuesday for the Air Force Academy Preparatory School, was selected as Airman of the Month for August at Reese.

Airman Flanagan is one of the 82 Air Force regulars who reported to the Colorado Springs, Colo. school as a potential candidate for the Academy.

Airman Flanagan was selected as Airman of the Month on the basis of "his sustained superior performance," said his squadron commander, Maj. Forrest E. Kissinger. "His outstanding ability to assimilate new information has enabled him to become a highly qualified instructor in a very short period of time."

Good Decision

Airman Flanagan, 20, has been thinking about the Academy since he graduated from Archbishop Hoban High School, Akron, Ohio in 1965.

After consulting with Jerry Willett, base education officer, Capt. Michael Ferguson, base Academy liaison officer, and Capt. John Peterson, his squadron's administrative officer, the airman decided to give the Academy a try.

"My parents think this is a good decision," said Airman Flanagan. Chanute AFB, Ill. was the site of the airman's technical training in the synthetic trainer.

Active In Club

Airman Flanagan has 15 months in the service and is an active member in the Reese Aero Club. While in high school, he was active in drama, the forensic society and worked on the school newspaper.

Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, presented Airman Flanagan Monday with a certificate naming him airman of the month in ceremonies at Student Squadron headquarters. The citation was read by Major Kissinger.

Airman Flanagan's prep school instructions will consist of 400 hours of military and physical training and 351 hours of English and mathematics.

If all goes well, Airman Flanagan will be graduated from the prep school May 29, 1968, and then will enter the Air Force Academy for four years training as a cadet.

A honorary member of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce award and a honorary citizen of Lubbock award usually presented to the Airman of the Month will be mailed to Airman Flanagan.

Thunderbirds Seek Enlisted Personnel

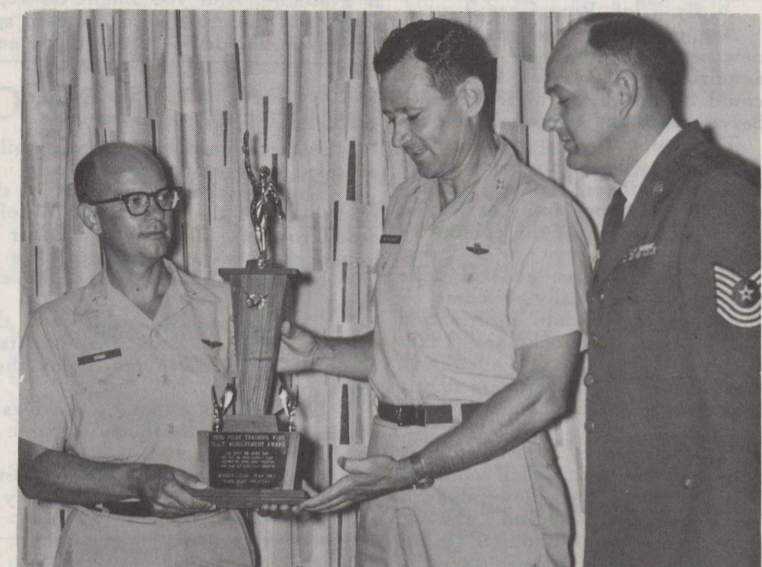

NELLIS AFB, Nev. (AFNS)—The Air Force's official aerial demonstration team, the Thunderbirds, is accepting applications for enlisted team members. Specialists in grades airman first class or staff sergeant should submit applications prior to Sept. 1 in specialties 43151C, 43171C, 42251, 42271, 42172 and 92250B.

OJT 95 Percentile Club Gains New Airman Members

The Reese OJT 95 Percentile Club is getting 18 new members as the result of recent Speciality Knowledge Tests. Each of the new members is receiving an engraved desk pen set, with the squadron commander making the presentation.

The 18 Reese men qualified by making the maximum score possible, 95 percentile, in the tests which concluded their on-the-job training in their particular step of advancement and field activity.

A2C Dennis G. Vintland of the Information Office scored 95 percentile for his "5" level in the BEST OJT PROGRAM—The Commander's Trophy for the best on-the-job training program for fiscal year 1967 is presented to the Reese Hospital at Tuesday's wing staff meeting. Lt. Col. Paul A. Stagg (left), Hospital commander, accepts the trophy, presented by Col. Clyde J. Morganti (center), wing commander. Looking on is MSgt. James D. Bibbs, Hospital OJT supervisor. The Hospital won two of the four quarters to gain permanent possession of the trophy.

Administrator Of Hospital Earns National Recognition

Maj. Ronald V. Slagel Jr., administrator of the Reese Hospital, will be admitted to nominee status in the American College of Hospital Administrators the afternoon of Aug. 20 in Chicago. Newly admitted administrators remain in nominee status for two years prior to gaining voting status in the college.

Announcement of Major Slagel's admission was made by Peter B. Terenzio, American College of Hospital Administrators president and executive vice president of the Roosevelt Hospital in New York.

Mr. Terenzio will preside at the professional society's 33rd convocation ceremony in Chicago's Orchestra Hall. The convocation precedes by a day the annual meeting of the ACHA, held in conjunction with the convention of the American Hospital Association.

The American College of Hospital Administrators has nearly 7,000 members, primarily top administrative personnel of hospitals in the United States and Canada.

Affiliation with the college means persons admitted are doing distinguished service in the field of hospital administration and have attained specific stature in their professional field, Mr. Terenzio stated. College members contribute directly to the advancement of the field of hospital administration, he added.

Major Slagel will leave for Chicago next Friday.

Seven ATC Units Receive Awards

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Seven Air Training Command organizations — three at Craig AFB, Ala. — have been named as recipients of Air Force Outstanding Unit Awards for exceptionally meritorious service, according to Brig. Gen. L. F. Miller, deputy chief of staff, ATC Personnel.

Cited for their distinguished records are: 3380th Maintenance and Supply Group, Keesler Technical Training Center, Keesler AFB, Miss.; 3700th Personnel Processing Squadron, Lackland AFB, Tex.; 3750th Civil Engineering Group, Sheppard Technical Training Center, Sheppard AFB, Tex.; 3510th Flying Training Wing, Randolph AFB, Tex.; and the 3615th Field Maintenance Squadron, 3615th Organizational Maintenance Squadron and the 3615th Supply Squadron, Craig AFB, Ala.

STARLIFTER ARRIVES

McGUIRE AFB, N.J. (AFNS)—First of the 16 Air Force C-141 Starlifters scheduled for assignment to the 30th Military Airlift Squadron here arrived Aug. 8. Maj. Raymond V. Weigle, with more than 7,000 flying hours — 1,400 in the C-141 — was the aircraft commander on the "Garden State Starlifter's" maiden flight to McGuire.

HOSPITAL CAPTURES 1967 OJT TROPHY; KEEPS POSSESSION

The 3500th USAF Hospital retains permanent possession of the 1967 fiscal year OJT Trophy, winning the last two quarters of the fiscal year and scoring the maximum 100 points in the final quarter.

The trophy was presented by Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, at the Tuesday wing staff meeting, with Lt. Col. Paul A. Stagg, Hospital commander, accepting.

Finishing in second place the last quarter was the Supply Squadron with 96 points, while Organizational Maintenance, with 93 points, was third.

Points are given for several phases of on-the-job training, including the number of men in training, number who pass tests, number moving up in each classification and overall scoring. Points are lost for men who fail to pass tests within the required time.

Commanders Praised

Commanders, supervisors and trainers of the three best squadrons for the April-May-June period have given outstanding support to the wing OJT program, said wing OJT supervisors. During the year, it was said, the Hospital trained and qualified 35 men, Supply 117 and OMS 216.

The wing during the year absorbed a new input of 817 men and trained and qualified 675.

Ex-Collegians Make Up Class

College graduates and young officers commissioned through the Air Force Reserve Officers Corps in college make up the majority of Class 69-01 just entering undergraduate pilot training at Reese.

In the class are 72 young United States officers, with only one not a college graduate. The one left college in his junior year to enter the Air Force and is a navigator.

Thirty-five officers were commissioned through AFOTC and 22 through Officer Training School. The navigator won his commission on completing navigator training.

Eleven officers are graduates of the Air Force Academy and were commissioned on graduation. One received his commission from the Air National Guard.

Two students are members of the United States Marines and were made officers in that organization. Class 69-01 is the second class to have Marines assigned in all of the Air Force history.

Students come from 31 states and 48 colleges and universities. Eight are Texans. California has six students in the class, Illinois six and Ohio five. Kansas State University has four alumni in the class and Texas A&M University and Oregon State University three each.

Class 69-01 contained two second lieutenants who are members of the Jordan Air Force.

F-111 Flies High Total Of Hours

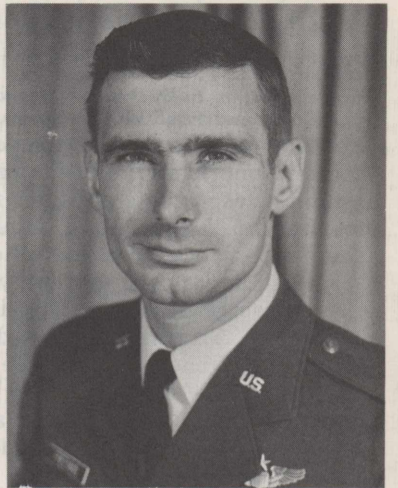

WRIGHT-PATTERSON AFB, Ohio (AFNS) — More than 4,000 hours in the air — equivalent to 166 days and nights — have been flown by F-111 supersonic jets built for the Air Force and Navy. The 4,000 hour mark was passed slightly more than two years and seven months after the first F-111 flight, Dec. 21, 1964.

Twenty-three Air Force F-111s and four Navy F-111Bs are flying regularly, and the assembly line at General Dynamics Corp., Fort Worth, Tex. has begun production of 493 aircraft. First tactical F-111As are scheduled for delivery in September.

Squadron, Flights Capture Wing Flying Safety Awards

The Wing Commander's Flying Safety Award has gone to nine Reese units, with presentations made July 28 by Brig. Gen. Ernest T. Cragg, shortly before he relinquished command of the base.

The 3501st Pilot Training Squadron won for the year Feb. 26, 1966, to Feb. 25, 1967, during which time it flew 47,900 hours and made 93,900 landings without accident. Severe weather and personnel turnover failed to halt the squadron, it was noted, which won the trophy for the second consecutive year. The general

LT. VERSTRETE

Young Officer Earns Honors

First Lt. James P. Verstrete has been selected as the instructor pilot of the month for July in the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron.

He was praised by his squadron commander, Lt. Col. Jimmy L. Schneider, for bringing his students to above ratings and for giving extra instruction, as needed. He also was lauded for self-appraisal which led to outstanding briefings and for analyzing student difficulties early, thus making it possible for him to head-off possible major problems.

Colonel Schneider also cited that Lieutenant Verstrete performed well in extra duties, particularly in managing the snack-bar, where profits climbed sharply.

101 Critical Days In ATC

ATC reports on 101 Critical Days: Total fatalities through 72nd day were 10, of which three resulted from drownings and seven from private motor vehicle accidents. Air Force fatalities for the period amounted to 107, with 77 the result of private motor vehicle accidents.

USAF's Airman No. 1 Reenlists; Chief Gives Oath

WASHINGTON (AFNS) —The Air Force's No. 1 enlisted man reenlisted and appropriately enough the oath of enlistment was provided by the Air Force's ranking officer.

Chief Master Sergeant of the Air Force Paul W. Airey agrees that his sixth reenlistment topped even his last one — and that one was at 10,000 feet. After all, few airmen have the opportunity of having the oath administered by Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John P. McConnell.

Three years ago, Sergeant Airey's oath of enlistment was taken at 10,000 feet while he was making his first jet flight in the rear of an F-101B. At the time he was first sergeant of the 18th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, Grand Forks AFB, N.D.

An addition to the brief Pentagon ceremony was presentation of the first oak leaf cluster to the Air Force Commendation Medal to Sergeant Airey.

Similar awards went in the squadron to Flight A, July 1, 1965 — June 30, 1966; Flight B, Oct. 1, 1965 — Sept. 30, 1966; Flight C, Jan. 1 — Dec. 31, 1966; Flight F, same period; Flight G, March 1, 1966 — Feb. 28, 1967; and Flight H, Jan. 1 — Dec. 31, 1966. Winning the trophy in the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron were Flight I, Dec. 2, 1965 — Dec. 31, 1966, and Flight J, Jan. 1 — Dec. 31, 1966.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Young Men Display They Can Carry On

Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

By Capt. Conrad B. Edgett Jr.,
Commander, 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron

With the demands placed upon everyone because of Vietnam, more and more junior airmen and officers are assuming responsible positions far exceeding what is normally expected of their rank. I think it is gratifying to see such acceptance, whether in the office, flight line or the cockpit.

It can only prove that the younger generation does have a sense of responsibility and is willing to display such traits. You have heard the saying that the younger generation will be the leaders of tomorrow. It is not only going to be true, but is now becoming a reality. Because of a shortage in NCO grades, we now have young airmen assuming the duties of the NCO and doing an excellent job with their limited knowledge and background. The same is true in the officer corps, without such acceptance from the younger corps, it would almost be impossible to operate efficiently.

The 3500th Pilot Training Wing has an outstanding record in all areas. But, without the acceptance of responsibility by the younger men, I would hesitate to say we would have been able to maintain such a record. Because we are unable to express our appreciation to each and everyone, I would like to take the opportunity to say "WELL DONE" on your job and state that I feel the younger generation has fulfilled our hopes and aspirations.

Capt. Edgett

Welcoming Unit Greets Newcomers

Are you interested in meeting new people, seeing new faces and acquiring new friends? If so, you could be interested in the Family Services welcoming committee.

This committee is comprised of Air Force wives who enjoy doing things for others. As soon as possible after a new family arrives at Reese, a member of the committee calls at the home.

Her only desire is to make the family feel really welcome by furnishing up-to-date information on the base, Lubbock, and Texas in general. She also will answer all questions or obtain answers to any questions that she cannot readily answer.

She will leave with the family a welcoming kit, which contains a copy of the base newspaper, a booklet about Reese and Lubbock, and several other booklets. Information concerning base facilities and housing, as well as community activities is also furnished.

As all good things must finally do, this meeting must come to an end, but not until an invitation has been extended to the wife to join one of several Family Services committees.

A committee member may not be sitting with you as you read this, but don't let it worry you, as every committee member right now is saying, with one accord, "Pick up your telephone and call Ext. 306 or drop into the office and volunteer for service with Family Services."

Support Earns Embassy Praise

KINSHASA, The Congo (AFNS) — The United States Embassy here has commended the Air Force for extensive logistic support to the Congolese people. Airlift support, in the form of three Air Force Lockheed C-130 Hercules transports, was requested by President Joseph Mobutu. Ambassador Robert H. McBride said the aircraft "are here to provide airlift support for the Congolese government." He reiterated that "the American men and aircraft will not be used in combat operations or in areas where actual fighting may take place."

KEEPS SUPREMACY

The Air Force supplies the nation's primary capabilities to maintain general aerospace supremacy and thus support the U.S. policy of deterring every intensity of conflict.

SEA Veterans Entitled To Star

Persons who served in Vietnam from Jan. 31 to June 28, 1966, now are authorized to wear a bronze service star on their Vietnam Service Ribbon. The six-month period has been designated the Vietnam Air Campaign.

The Vietnam Service Medal is awarded to persons who have served tours in Vietnam since July 4, 1965. Those who served before that period are entitled to the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. However, they may apply for award of the Vietnam Service Medal instead of the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal.

Since Nov. 15, 1961, three Vietnam campaigns have been declared for which bronze service stars may be worn.

First was the Vietnam Advisory Campaign from Nov. 15, 1961, to March 1, 1965. It was followed by the Vietnam Defense Campaign—March 2, 1965 to Jan. 30, 1966—and the Vietnam Air Campaign.

A fourth campaign period, not yet ended or named, began June 29, 1966.

Get That Clearance!!

With so many "hot spots" in the world today, it is highly important to national safety and proper management that people in high position in government not all be permitted to quote government policy.

In the Air Force, every man in uniform is in a high position. His friends in the civilian community look to him as speaking for the service. To protect him—and the nation—the Air Force has set up by regulation that only the information officer or his representative may speak for the Air Forces in any situation.

At Reese no man—officer or airman—may say anything in a speech or in writing which has not been cleared by the information officer. No one may send a letter to the editor of a civilian newspaper which has not been cleared.

In the past few weeks some letters from Reese people have appeared in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal. Some have been cleared for publication by the information officer, some have not. Some letters submitted may have been altered before mailing to protect the writer. Writers of letters not cleared throw themselves open to penalties for failing to get clearance.

The information officer has no desire to ban any proper statement by anyone. It is his job, however, to protect the Air Force and its people from saying something they should not.

If you want to speak your piece publicly about any situation, talk it over with the information officer. You'll find good cooperation is available. And you might be kept out of trouble. You are in uniform, and therefore a government spokesman. Make sure you say only what you should — Clear the speech or letter!

Care For Credit Card

A credit card from a major oil company is a big convenience. Its use also imposes responsibility.

The message on the back of the credit card is, in effect, a contract between the holder and the oil company. The company provides credit for gas, oil, tires and other services on the condition that the holder accepts that contract.

Probably the most important clause in the fine print reads something like this:

"By acceptance of this card, the customer assumes responsibility for all purchases made through its use prior to its surrender to the company or prior to receipt by the company of written notice of its theft or loss."

Until the oil company receives notification, in writing, of the loss of the card, the customer is liable for all services anyone using that card may charge.

Best advice when a card is lost is don't wait to write — send the oil company a telegram. Don't pay for the other fellow's drive across the country.

All of us want to live a long time, but nobody wants to get old.

Little League Activities End

Reese Little League activities for the year officially closed Aug. 3 with the annual banquet in the NCO Club.

Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., deputy commander for Operations, was speaker, stressing the importance of good sportsmanship the players had learned and the league training would help them the remainder of their lives.

The colonel presented trophies to members of all six Reese teams. Special trophies went to the All-Stars, managers and coaches. Autographed balls were presented the most valuable players on each team.

Maj. Forrest Kissinger, Little League president, presented a plaque to TSgt. Joseph Turenne, praising him for his outstanding dedication and work for the league during his four years at Reese. The sergeant is leaving the base soon for a new assignment.

RESERVISTS—Two South Plains nurses, 2nd Lt. Paula L. Winegeart of Farwell (center) and 2nd Lt. Verna J. Brandt of Littlefield (right) take their oath of office as officers in the 477th Medical Service Flight, Air Force Reserves, as they start two weeks of active duty in the Reese Hospital. Both nurses are graduates of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing, Lubbock, and are employed in the hospital. Their enlistment in the Reserve unit completed the authorized nurses' strength in the unit. Maj. Agnes Kellam, Reese chief nurse, gives the oath.

Civilian Given Duty In Saigon

Richard T. Slater, personnel management specialist at Reese, Tuesday received assignment to similar duty in Saigon, Vietnam. He has been directed to report to the west coast for shipment overseas on Sept. 5.

Mr. Slater has been at Reese since Aug. 21, 1966, coming from Cannon AFB, Clovis, N.M., where he had been in personnel work. He is a retired Air Force lieutenant colonel.

New NASA Display Comes To Fair

Visitors to the 50th annual Panhandle South Plains Fair may take an imaginary trip to the moon with the aid of a new display provided by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Coming from the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston, the Apollo mission profile exhibit includes a "Menu for Space" and pressure suit demonstrations for the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo projects.

The primary unit is a theater with a series of slides that show the complete mission profile and which is linked to an animated light portraying the sequences of events from liftoff to orbiting the earth, lunar landing and the return trip to earth.

Telephone units for spectator use are incorporated in the educational feature.

Special foods to be shown include those used by Gemini astronauts. The "menu" includes beef bites, bacon and egg bites, chocolate pudding, gravy and others, all in individual containers.

The displays weigh more than 1½ tons and are valued at more than $11,600.

They will be an added feature to the military area of the 1967 fair, scheduled Sept. 25-30. The golden anniversary edition of the exposition also will salute longtime general manager, A. B. Davis.

Corrective Medical Program Established

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — A medically remedial enlisted program has been established by the Department of Defense to help men meet medical standards for enlistments in the armed service of their choice.

The new program is limited to men with certain disqualifying medical conditions that can be corrected at military facilities within six weeks following enlistments. Medical conditions acceptable under the program include a number of conditions requiring minor surgery and specified degrees of overweight and under weight which can be corrected by physical conditioning and diet.

Watching the scenery instead of the car ahead is a good way to become part of both of them.

Blood Needed

A renewed request for blood donations for Delbert Dew, eight-year-old Lubbock hemophilia victim, was made this week by the Lubbock Legal Secretaries Association, which is sponsoring a drive in the lad's behalf.

Donations have been rather good, it was stated, but have fallen short of efforts to keep Delbert's account up to date and with a reserve.

Delbert, when he was four months old, was found to have the disease which prohibits his blood from clotting after a small cut or bruise and which causes him to bleed, apparently without cause. He has been hospitalized much of his life.

The secretaries ask all healthy Reese people to contribute pints of blood to the account of Delbert Dew at the Lubbock Blood Center, 415 Avenue R. The center is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. weekdays. Thursday the hours are noon to 7 p.m.

New Civilian Position Classification Specialist Starting Duties At Reese

A. A. (Nat) Kizer will assume base position classification specialist duties in the civilian personnel office Monday. Mr. Kizer will replace Harvey Greesen who is being transferred and promoted to a similar position at Randolph AFB, Tex.

Kizer is presently serving as personnel officer at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Big Springs, Tex. Previously, he was assistant manager, management analyst, personnel officer, and position classifier at the VA Regional Office in Lubbock for 20 years.

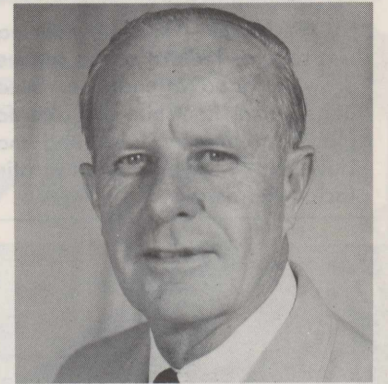

Mr. Kizer served briefly as an enlisted man in the Army Air Corps before entering officer candidate school in 1942. He served in Japan as a captain before being released from active duty in 1946. During the Korean conflict, he was recalled to active duty as a captain and served at McConnell AFB, Kans., as personnel officer. National Guard, active duty, and Reserve duty enabled him to retire as a lieutenant colonel from the U.S. Air Force in 1962.

Mr. Kizer graduated from high school in Durant, Okla., and holds a bachelor of science degree from South Eastern State College at Durant.

He has served as chairman, Greater Lubbock Club of the Chamber of Commerce and holds a life membership in that organization. He has served on the advisory board of the Salvation Army and is a member of Phi Sigma Epsilon, Pi Omega, American Legion, and Masonic orders.

He and his wife, Casey, reside with their daughters, Kristee and Karla, at 3106 32nd Street, Lubbock.

STORY-TELLER—The story hour each Tuesday in the Youth Center is a regular feature of the summer youth program and has been drawing good attendance. Second Lt. Sherriel Mattingly and SSgt. Victor R. White are alternating as story-teller, using some old favorite fairy tales and modern popular selections. Here Lieutenant Mattingly is illustrating a dramatic moment with a facial expression.

IMPORTANT FILM—Air Force SSgt. Gerald Richey (1) and TSgt. Harold Cockrum unload the film from an Air Force RF-4C Phantom at Udorn, Republic of Thailand Air Base. Reconnaissance aircraft from the 432nd Tactical Reconnaissance Wing fly day and night missions deep into North Vietnam to obtain vital photographs.

ROUND ABOUT REESE

By SSgt. Vic White

If you're writing a speech—preparing a briefing—or sending a letter to a newspaper or an article to a magazine—it's our job (Information Office) to help you—if you need it—and to "clear" the material before it's given off-base—just give us a call (ext. 324 or 325) or stop by at Bldg. 121—upstairs—anytime—

Call Mrs. Richard Fraser—at 885-2660—for info on the Girl Scout program at Reese—or (OWC ladies)—if you'd like to help at the Thrift Shop—At the movies: Tony Quinn in "The Happening"—Sunday—"The Way West"—Thursday and Friday—and Deborah Kerr, David Niven in "Eye of the Devil"—Aug. 19—

Splash!—for the teen club—and a dance—tomorrow for base kids 13 to 18—the combo (a surprise) begins at 8 p.m.—at the pool next to the gym—Like to read?—try "The Outcasts"—or—"The Face of the Enemy"—new books at the library—Hail and farewell at the O'Club for OWC members will be held Thursday at 9:30 a.m.—student squadron wives are hostesses—no reservations required—The NCOWC said goodbye to Mrs. Lois Molck Sunday—Sergeant Molck and the missus plan a retirement vacation to Acapulco and then home to Florida—

Catholic Mass will be held at noon—5 p.m.—and 7 p.m. Tuesday—Day of Assumption—and a holy day of obligation—Spookagram: the spooks are congratulating Capt. Mike Farra—he pinned on new trax and has moved into a new job in the check section—Didja hear?—one sweet young thing at Reese claims to be an average girl: she's "the shortest of the tall kids, thinnest of the chubby ones, and smartest of the not-so-brights"—(okay!)—

It was bound to happen—at the NCO Club: tonight—"The Raiders"—tomorrow—"The Raiders"—Sunday—"The Raiders" so go on out and swing!—At the O'Club: "The Saints" are on tonight—and the students have their dining-in Aug. 19—

The service club plans a week full of fun and games highlighted by a dance Thursday nite with "The (you guessed it right) Raiders" playing at 8:30 p.m.—Heard over the back fence in the Village: a group of ladies are planning to form a Reese chapter of the TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Club—more info on this as we get it—

Don't Forget: if you go on leave for longer than seven days at a time—please notify the base post office—if you have a box there—they can't hold accumulated mail longer than seven days—unless you notify them and make arrangements for it while you are gone—

Emphasis: during these "101 Critical Days"—two-wheel vehicle safe driving practices are of utmost concern—so say base safety officials—And a reminder from Family Services: if you are through using those items you borrowed from FS when you arrived—please be prompt in returning—so that others may use—

Thought for the week: "one way to ease the post office overload would be to put up signs saying post no bills!"—That's life!

USAFE Reduces Operating Costs

LINDSEY AS, Germany (AFNS)—The United States Air Forces in Europe (USAFE) cut operating costs by $18.3 million during fiscal year 1967, doubling a command goal set by the Defense Department.

This reduction in costs through ideas for economy are expected to save the American taxpayer an estimated $31 million over the next three years.

CONTROLS AREAS

The Air Force supplies the nation's primary capabilities to control vital aerospace areas.

Insurance Buyers Should Study Policy

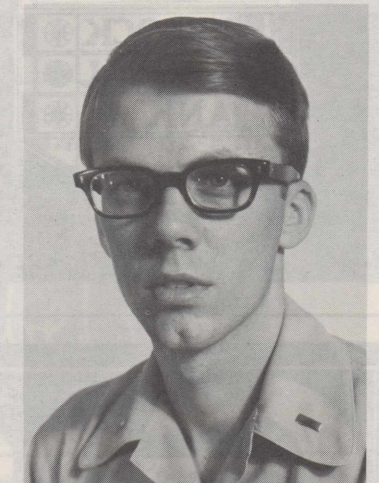

Airmen who plan to buy commercial life insurance should check their policies carefully, according to personal affairs people.

More and more companies, they say, are including "war clauses" in policies for men alerted for shipment to Southeast Asia. Generally, these policies do not provide coverage for combat deaths.

Personnel people advise airmen who are uncertain about terms of their policies to check with personal affairs or legal assistance officers.

HALTS ATTACK

The Air Force supplies the nation's primary capabilities to defend the United States against aerospace attack.

NEW ARRIVAL—Second Lt. Ray D. Harrison, recent graduate of the Communication Electronics Course at Keesler AFB, Miss., has assumed duty as chief of maintenance of the 2053 Communications Squadron at Reese. He is a native of Athens, Ill., where he was a graduate of high school and a 1966 graduate of Duke University at Des Moines, Iowa. He was commissioned through ROTC in June 1966.

Vietnam

Battle Report

First Lt. Karl W. Richter, 24, of Holly, Mich., flying his 198th mission over North Vietnam, died of injuries when his aircraft was shot down over the southern panhandle. He held the distinction of having flown more strike missions over North Vietnam than any other Air Force pilot.

Lieutenant Richter was picked up by an Air Force rescue helicopter but died en route to medical facilities from injuries suffered after he had ejected from his crippled Republic F-105 Thunderchief.

STRIKES CONTINUE

In other North Vietnam action during the week, Air Force fighter-bomber pilots flew 496 armed reconnaissance and strike missions despite cloudy weather. Enemy railroad facilities and truck convoys continued to be the main targets.

F-105 Thunderchief pilots from the 388th Tactical Fighter Wing hit a military barracks and storage area, 81 miles west of Hanoi. Pilots reported their 750 and 3,000-pound bombs destroyed four barracks buildings.

McDonnell F-4 Phantom crews assigned to the 8th TFW destroyed or damaged eight boxcars caught on a rail line, 20 miles northeast of Mu Gia Pass. One mile up the line, the same flight of Phantoms tore up 150 feet of railroad track.

In night strikes, F-4s from the 366th TFW at Da Nang AB, Vietnam, Martin B-57 Canberra crews from the 35th TFW at Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, and 8th TFW "Wolfpack" Phantom crews played havoc with enemy truck convoys traveling in the southern panhandle region. Sixteen trucks were wrecked and six others damaged during the attacks.

COMMANDOS REGISTER

Air Force AC-47 Dragon-ships from Flight E, 4th Air Commando Squadron at Nha Trang AB, Vietnam, have come to the defense of 1,000 outposts in Vietnam since January 1966.

Three AC-47s from Binh Thuy AB, Vietnam, teamed up in the defense of outpost number 1,000 at Tra Ech in Phong Dinh province. Employing their usual tactics, the Dragon-ships dropped flares and fired 7.62mm mini-gun ammunition into enemy positions.

LOG 1,000TH SAVE

The 1,000th rescue save recorded by Air Force aircrews since the start of the Vietnam war was turned in by a four-man crew from Detachment 7, 3rd Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Group.

Number 1,000—one of the 21 wounded men airlifted to medical facilities—passed from the rescue crew to the medics without fanfare or identification.

A rescue save is credited when an individual might have died from injuries or probably been captured if he had not been recovered.

OJT Monitor Wins 60 College Hours In Year Of Study On-Base, By Mail

The job of SSgt. William C. Colwell at Reese is to see that airmen study and are taught while on the job.

The sergeant is practicing what he "preaches." During the past year he has completed study for 60 college semester hours, which is equivalent to four semesters of campus work for most college or university students.

At Reese, Sergeant Colwell is on-the-job training monitor for the Air Base Group and Hospital. The latter unit has just been awarded permanent possession of the OJT Trophy awarded quarterly to Reese units. It won two quarters, thus qualifying for permanent possession.

The sergeant by correspondence since Sept. 1, 1966, has earned 13 semester hours from the United States Armed Forces Institute. He earned 32 hours in the last fall semester of the University of Southern Mississippi residence school at Keesler AFB, Miss., while he was stationed there.

He has gained 15 hours from Texas Tech in the residence instruction at Reese.

Sergeant Colwell presently is working on a degree in history and personnel management. His average so far is B in all his college work and he has started processing for admission into the Airman Commissioning and Education Program in which the Air Force will defray expenses of the last two years of college work and award an officer's commission after a degree is earned and Officer Training School is completed.

The sergeant's college studies include sociology, psychology, English, mathematics, history, electronic data processing, accounting and structural engineering.

Door Hinge Fix Brings $86,800 Savings To Base

Local repair of T-38 aircraft landing gear doors has produced a total $86,800 Cost Reduction Program saving at Reese for a three fiscal year period.

Previously, landing gear doors were discarded when the in-service tolerance on a worn hinge was exceeded. No repair procedure was contained in the technical order manual.

Reese personnel, following an incentive awards suggestion, worked out means of repairing the hinge pin hole.

From November 1966 to June 1967, 21 left main landing gear doors costing $901 each were repaired and seven right main landing gear doors costing $726 each were repaired for a total saving of $24,003. Off-setting costs of $6.14 per door included material and labor. Total cost was $171.92, leaving a net savings of $23,831.08.

Savings of $31,500 for fiscal year 1968 were estimated and the same amount for fiscal year 1969.

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Henry C. Fischer Jr., Directorate of Civilian Personnel, Headquarters, Air Training Command, has received the Air Force Award for Meritorious Civilian Service. Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux Jr., ATC commander, presented the award, consisting of a medal, lapel pin, rosette and citation, to Fischer in ceremonies recently conducted at ATC headquarters.

OTS Graduates 7,746 During Year

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — The largest number of graduates in its seven years of existence—7,746 active duty officers—were graduated by the U.S. Air Force Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Tex., during fiscal year 1967.

Included among the new officers were 7,250 men, 133 women and 363 airmen who were graduates of the Airman Education Commissioning Program.

Additionally, 148 officers were trained for Air Force Reserve duty at the school.

Of the total number of graduates of the concentrated course designed to train college graduates to become commissioned officers, 1,328 were distinguished graduates.

Of the 1967 graduates, 1,393 went on to pilot training and 328 to navigator training.

In 1960, the year OTS was initiated at Lackland, classes totaled 323 graduates.
