Reese Military, Civilians Share July Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—President Johnson has signed executive orders authorizing pay increases for military and federal civilian personnel, effective July 1. His order assures about 3.5 million members of the armed forces and more than two million civilian workers of an estimated $1.6 billion annually in higher salaries.

The additional increase will appear in July 15 military pay checks and Aug. 2 civilian checks.

The average increase for military personnel is 6.9 per cent in basic military pay. Quarters and subsistence allowances are not affected. The civilian pay increases range from three to nine per cent, effective the first pay period beginning after July 1. (An inquiry by The Roundup to civilian pay section of Accounting and Finance Division revealed no details on the exact amounts entailed for civilians at Reese AFB as of press time.)

Income tax deductions for military will not be adjusted to reflect the increment.

The salary increases are the second of three boosts provided in the Uniformed Services Pay Act of 1967. A third-stage raise is to be effective July 1, 1969.

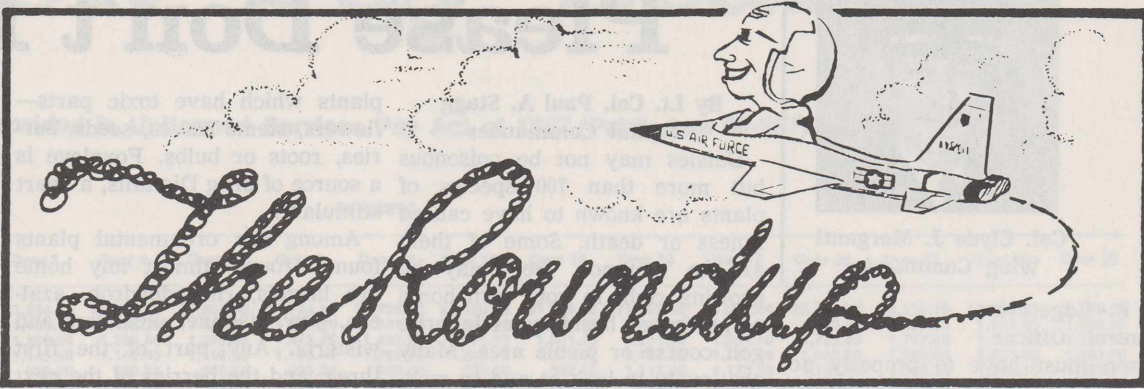

Air Force Comptroller officials reported preparations are underway to implement the new salary figures. The military increase provides boosts from $6.60 for basic airmen to $160.80 for the chief of staff.

Oklahoma City Firm Awarded Contracts

The procurement office at Reese AFB has awarded two civilian contracts totaling more than $22,000 for repair work on the base.

A contract in the amount of $14,085 was awarded the Townsco Contracting Company of Oklahoma City, Okla., for the repair of arterial streets and drives. The other, in the amount of $8,400 was awarded the same company for the repair of parallel runway "B".

The Roundup

The Roundup is an unofficial newspaper published weekly in the interest of personnel at Reese AFB of Air Training Command. It is published by Boone Publications, Inc., a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Air Force. Opinions expressed by publishers and writers are their own and are not to be considered an official expression of the Department of the Air Force. ## Lieutenant Riley Base Nominee In Class 68-08

"An intelligent, highly dedicated and deeply responsible individual" has won the right to compete for the Orville Wright Achievement Award. These were the words of Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, when he selected 2nd Lt. James Patrick Riley as Reese's nominee for the command-wide award.

Lieutenant Riley was born in Fremont, Ohio where he attended St. Joseph's High School. He was a member of the Key Club (Junior Kiwanis) and the National Honor Society. He was elected treasurer of his freshman class, secretary of his sophomore class and was president of the Catholic Youth Organization during his senior year. The lieutenant was also a National Merit Scholarship finalist and graduated second in his class.

U. of Detroit Graduate

Lieutenant Riley majored in aero-mechanical engineering at the University of Detroit. He was on the Dean's List for eight semesters and was graduated magna cum laude with a grade point average of 3.52 of a possible 4.00 point system. The lieutenant became an active member of the University of Detroit Flying Club, and led a campaign to purchase new aircraft. He earned his commercial pilot's license during his free time.

While in Air Force ROTC he held the positions of flight commander his junior year and ad-

Clothing Sales To Drop Prices

Reese AFB enlisted members will benefit from this year's second five per cent reduction in military clothing prices at base sales stores, if they hold off certain purchases until after July 1.

A similar five per cent reduction was effective Jan. 1.

Notable changes in the men's clothing list include a savings of $1.75 on the tropical worsted trousers and $1.65 on combat boots. Another change is the addition of the three blue cotton polyester shirts at $2.25 each, $1.10 higher than the deleted three blue cotton shirts. The cotton shirts may be worn until Oct. 1, 1971.

Commissary Patrons Benefit By Survey

Management improvement action at Reese AFB has resulted in better service to commissary patrons and a saving estimated at nearly $70,000 for the base through Fiscal Year 1970.

Previously the commissary sales store was open 39 1/4 hours per week, operating with 26 employees. The sales store was closed from 2:30 p.m. Saturday to 9:30 a.m. Tuesday.

A survey was conducted to determine the most convenient hours for patrons. As a result, the hours for patron usage was increased from 39 1/4 hours to 60 hours per week. The sales store is now open each day of the week except Sunday, and gives patrons two family nights for shopping.

The dollar savings were estimated at $17,383.68 for FY '68 and $26,075.52 each for FY's '69 and '70.

53 Slated To Receive Wings During Class 68-08 Graduation

Fifty-three pilots, members of class 68-08, will pin on the silver wings of an Air Force pilot tomorrow.

Among the new pilots is the first Marine to graduate from the base and one of the first to graduate from the Air Force pilot training program. Brigadier General Alan J. Armstrong, director, Development Center and deputy of Development, Marine Corps Development and Education Command, Marine Corps Base, Quantico, Va., will be guest speaker for the graduation ceremonies in the base theater 10 a.m. tomorrow. General Armstrong's presence is in honor of the first Marine graduate. He will be the reviewing officer for the wing review tomorrow morning at 9 a.m. on the flight line.

Reorganization Brings Savings

A recent reorganization of maintenance personnel has resulted in a huge saving at Reese AFB, nearly $77,000 for Fiscal Year 1968.

The reorganization, which will become effective July 1, involves realigning work elements in the maintenance shops and family housing maintenance thereby eliminating 13 manpower spaces without impairment of the in-service maintenance mission. The spaces made available by the management action were used in the manning of new functions called for under the provisions of AFR 85-5.

The estimated saving at Reese for the current next fiscal year will be $76,900.

Five Distinguished Flying Cross Medals will be presented during the wing review. Recipients are: Capt. Dennis R. Bartlett, Capt. John L. Belina, Capt. Thomas S. Waller, 1st Lt. James J. Demilita and MSgt. Roland H. Lutz. Re-

Cleaning Contract Has Price Effect

Blue Bonnet Laundry and Dry Cleaners of Lubbock has signed a two-year contract with the base to provide dry cleaning and laundering services for Reese personnel, effective June 6.

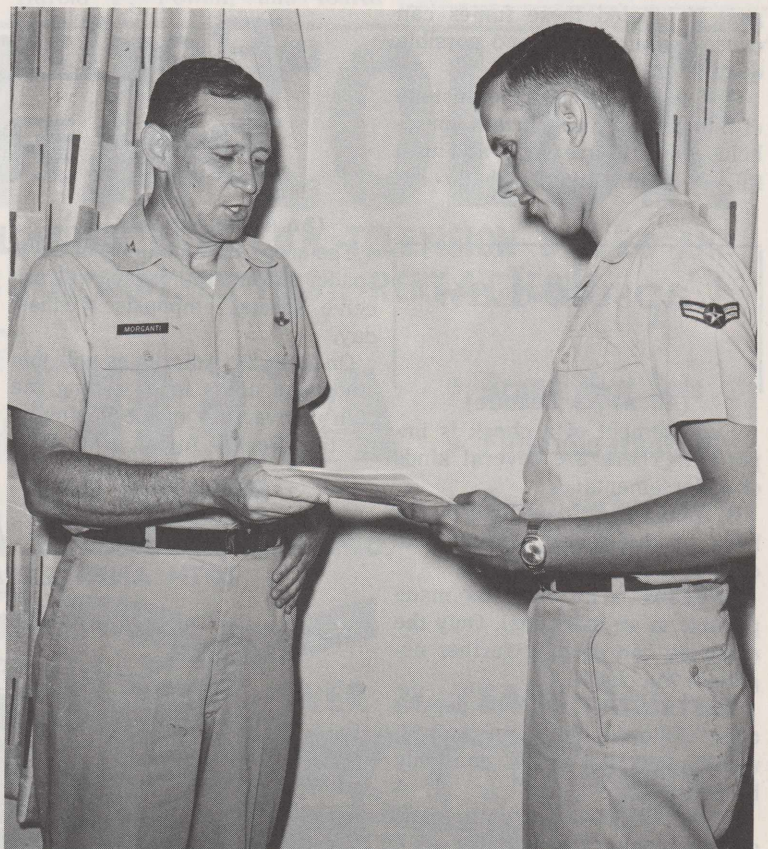

Six local firms submitted bids solicited by the Air Base Services Division with Blue Bonnet offering the lowest bid.

Primary effect in the management changeover has been in dry cleaning prices. As an example, the dry cleaning of the blue uniform, 1505/505s, and civilian suits have increased 20 cents per garment. Shirt laundering decreased 3 cents. Some prices remained the same.

COMMANDER'S COMMENTS...

Integrity—Most Important Trait

By Capt. Conrad B. Edgett Jr.
Maintenance Control Officer

Of all the qualifications a person must have to properly accomplish his job, whether it be for the Air Force or working for a small business, I think integrity is the most important.

Today's highly technical, intricate society places much emphasis on long years of formal training. Much of the training we undergo in the Air Force is designed for practical application to a specific job on a daily basis. To each job, whether it be flying, fixing, paying, or healing, a man must add his personal integrity.

Regardless of the years of training, technical competence, and familiarity with a specific job, only personal integrity can insure the final product is safe and accurate.

The integrity bit must come from within an individual. We can talk about it at Commander's Call, The Roundup, and classrooms; but, unless we feel it, think about it, and weigh each and every one of our tasks honestly, integrity was not part of that job.

We must keep our supervisors and subordinates informed, whether the news is good or bad. As we work at our different jobs and recognize errors or a lack of quality, we must be prepared to say (and do), "It's not right," then back off and do it right. In my mind, this is the essence of integrity.

Our skill level may be low, we may be grossly under-manned, or over worked; but, with integrity, we will continue to support the mission of the Air Force and the free world.

They Don't Mix

By Capt. Rex A. Amonette
Chief, Military Public Health

Recently a peculiar type of accident struck a housewife who was undertaking the household chore of cleaning a bathroom. The housewife, dissatisfied with the way stains were being removed, decided to try a mixture of common Clorox and cleaning ammonia. As a result, she was overcome by toxic fumes.

What occurred in this case was the generation of a poisonous gas when the user decided to combine two or more cleaning agents commonly found in almost every household.

The addition of the old familiar chlorine bleach (a sodium hypochlorite solution) to an acid or acid producing substance, such as ammonia or just plain vinegar, will suddenly release a quantity of toxic chlorine gas.

Similarly, when it is mixed with an alkaline matter, the chemical action liberates a highly irritating gas. If inhaled these fumes can cause serious injury and possible death.

One shouldn't make the mistake of thinking because certain household products are good and useful, a combination will do the job better. On the contrary this may be only a waste of time and effort by producing poorer results through neutralizing or diluting one another.

Stick to the safe rule:

Read the label carefully and follow the manufacturer's directions exactly. Keep in mind that modern scouring powders often contain chlorine bleach.

Quote Of Note

(An AFNS Feature)

"We all need an occasional reminder that the future strength of our Air Force will depend on how well we do now in expanding our fund of basic knowledge. We must at all times keep on hand a generous stockpile of science and technology in order to continually update our defense weapon systems. We are engaged in a vigorous and dynamic research program for national security and we must continually expand this program in all areas of science for our future survival." (Brig. Gen. Leo A. Kiley, commander, Office of Aerospace Research, San Francisco, May 23, 1968.)

Berlin Airlift Played Big Role In History

(An AFNS EDITORIAL)

The scope and meaning of aerospace power for peace will receive special emphasis Wednesday.

On June 26, Americans will join European allies in observing the 20th anniversary of the beginning of the Berlin Airlift, the joint U.S.-British operation which countered a major threat to the free world in the critical months of 1948-49.

For the U.S. Air Force, the observance will commemorate the leading role it played in one of history's greatest humanitarian actions. It also will provide an opportunity to look back over a period which aerospace power for peace can be viewed in terms of compassionate service to mankind as well as deterrence to aggression.

During its brief history, in fact, the Air Force has extended a helping hand to virtually every corner of the world. It has flown more than 50,000 mercy missions and logged more than a half million flying hours for the sole purpose of aiding humanity.

Generally, those emergency responses have demonstrated our determination to use airpower not only to help repel aggression but also to bring aid and comfort to people in distress.

In the words of Air Force Chief of Staff Gen. John P. McConnell: "They show our allies, as well as our enemies, the value we place on human life, on the relief of suffering, and on the welfare of man."

Daisies

Please Don't Eat...

By Lt. Col. Paul A. Stagg
Hospital Commander

Daisies may not be poisonous but more than 700 species of plants are known to have caused illness or death. Some of them are so common they may be growing right in your own home or garden or beside your favorite golf course or picnic area. Many are lovely to look at and so well-known it is hard to believe they are dangerous.

There is no reason to stop growing beautiful flowers and plants because they contain poison, but we must keep them away from human mouths. We can train children not to chew on anything other than known foods, no matter how familiar it appears. We must keep a close watch on the little ones in the hand-to-mouth stage while remembering that adults, too, are not immune to unconscious nibbling.

In your home, you may have hyacinths, narcissus, or daffodils. Poison from the bulbs cause nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea, and can be fatal.

Attractively striped "dumb cane" and the familiar "elephant ears" both contain crystals of calcium oxalate which cause painful swelling of the mouth and tongue severe enough to close off the air passages of the throat. One leaf of the flamboyant poinsettia can kill a child.

There is enough poison in a ten cent packet of castor bean seeds to kill five children. One rosary pea seed can be lethal. Christmas greens may look good enough to eat, but mistletoe, holly, yew and Jerusalem cherry can cause serious discomfort.

In your garden, larkspur, lily-of-the-valley, iris, sweetpeas, monkshood, autumn crocus, and bleeding heart are a few familiar plants which have toxic parts—flowers, stems leaves, seeds, berries, roots or bulbs. Foxglove is a source of drug Digitalis, a heart stimulant.

Among the ornamental plants found around almost any home are laurels, rhododendron, azaleas, yew, daphne, oleander, and wisteria. Any part of the first three, and the berries of the next two can cause death.

Growing wild we find our old "friends" poison ivy, poison oak, and poison sumac. Learning to recognize them and not touching or chewing the leaves of these noxious plants will prevent their known discomforts and dangers.

Wild mushrooms should be left for the experts. Attractive berries may be found almost anywhere. Little children, and often unwary adults, are tempted to taste them. Some may cause from mild to severe digestive upset while others like daphne, nightshade and moonseed (which resembles wild grapes) kill.

Recognize these villains? Remember, too, that even if a plant is as harmless as milk, it may have been exposed to weedkillers or pesticides which leave a residue. These are poisons and were never meant for human consumption.

On The Line

Front Line Communique

By Chaplain
(Maj.) Asa A. Hunt III
Wing Chaplain

A plea for volunteers to assist in the spiritual warfare being waged by the Sunday School Squadron has been sent out by the chaplain's office. Be it known to all that the enemy force is commanded by one of the most cunning and notorious strategists of all time, "General Indifference."

"General Indifference" is one of the most aggressive and offensive soldiers in the enemy ranks. He never retreats and is able to keep up constant pressure on all fronts. His reinforcements and supplies seem unlimited and he has often been called the "Grey Ghost" because no weather or terrain seems to slow his movements.

The general has a seasoned and able staff who are well known to the chaplains. Another old campaigner in the enemy ranks is "Colonel Company" who can invariably be counted on to mount an offensive every weekend. His raiders attack supply dumps and kitchens, harrasing our cooks and carrying away vast stores of goodies. They leave a trail of frayed nerves and confusion.

"Lt. Col. Laziness", the enemy's chemical warfare specialist, in violation of all convention, has engaged in germ warfare which has spread the dread disease of Morbus Sabaticus, (common name: Sunday Sickness). This is a strange chronic disease which immobilizes the victim early Sunday morning. "SMSgt. Sleepy Head" is NCOIC and has his own special gas of the chemical warfare section which produces Morbus Soporifus (common name: Sleeping Sickness).

The enemy's most able flight leader, and one that has dealt the Sunday School squad untold misery, is "Sergeant Ches Cold". Time and again he has succeeded in getting behind our lines and knocking out large numbers of our combat troops with the dread disease "Caprockities".

Our division medic, "Doctor Drops," has been a big help to the chaplains in their efforts to defeat this sneaky raider.

If you can volunteer to assist the chaplains in their summer campaign, just call the office at ext. 538 to enlist.

Capsule Law

(An AFNS Feature)

Endorsement of a check is important. There are several kinds of endorsements:

BLANK—The payee signs on the back of the check. Anyone can cash it if it is lost or stolen.

SPECIAL—The check is made payable to an individual. Only the endorsee can cash or further negotiate the check.

RESTRICTIVE — "For deposit only," followed by your signature, means that the check can only be deposited.

QUALIFIED — A check made out personally to treasurer of a neighborhood club or charity. It is endorsed "without recourse" followed by the endorsee's signature. As a rule, the endorsee can not be held responsible.

Open Messes Making Plans For July 4th

At least one element at Reese AFB is making massive plans to make the upcoming July 4th the biggest ever—for those who remain at the base.

The Officers' Open Mess and the NCO Open Mess are joining together to sponsor one of the most gala July 4th celebrations ever observed at the base. The picnic grounds will be the scene of the celebration, and it includes entertainment designed for young and old.

Tentative plans call for mechanical rides, games of skill and the ever-popular Shetland pony rides for the kids. Also available will be such popular goodies as cotton candy, sno-cones, hot dogs, hamburgers, soft drinks and other beverages.

Reese Women's Group Sees Ditty Bag Project Bear Fruit

A project undertaken by a group of Reese AFB women last month reached fruition recently when the first increment of ditty bags were delivered to the Red Cross.

Reese Women of the Chapel had undertaken the project, requesting aid from other women organizations on the base. The response was gratifying, and now after about one month of intensive sewing by the ladies the first batch of bags have been delivered. The goal of the group through the summer is 200 bags.

The ditty bags will be filled with a variety of items and sent to servicemen overseas in military hospitals. The timetable calls for the empty ditty bags to be completed by the end of June. The Red Cross will then stuff the bags with completion of that stage of the project slated for completion by Oct. 1.

The women have been meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the Mathis Service Club to cut, sew and string the bags. Their end of the project is nearly completed.

Individuals or groups desiring to donate content material to the project may do so through the Red Cross, building T-39, or call ext. 215 for information. Items needed to fill the bags are: ball-point pens, writing paper with self-seal envelopes, address books, plastic toothbrush holders, soap case, cigarettes cases, wash cloths, nail clippers, combs, pocket games, audio tapes, tins of nuts and candies, windproof cigarette lighters, snapshot holders, sandwich-size plastic bags, wipe-and-shine shoe polish and pre-sweetened Koolade.

ATC Vice Commander Named To Replace Gen. Ohman Aug. 1

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Maj. Gen. Leo F. Dusard Jr., director of Personnel Training and Education, office of the deputy chief of staff, Personnel, Headquarters U.S. Air Force, will replace Maj. Gen. Nils O. Ohman as vice commander, Headquarters Air Training Command, effective Aug. 1.

General Dusard was originally scheduled to become ATC's chief of staff.

The change in assignments was announced by Lt. Gen. Sam Mad-dux Jr., ATC commander.

General Ohman will become commander of Headquarters Command, U.S. Air Force, Bolling AFB, Washington, D.C., effective July 5.

A native of Sweden, General Ohman received his commission from West Point in 1937, ranking 18th in his class of 298. He was starting guard on the Army football team and was named to the all-time Army football squad.

General Dusard was deputy chief of staff for Technical Training at Headquarters ATC, during 1960-1964, then served as commander of ATC's technical training center at Chanute AFB, Ill., before reassignment to his current position in 1966.

The general received his commission after completion of flying training at Randolph and Kelly Fields, Tex., in 1939. He is credited with 76 combat missions as a P-38 fighter group commander during World War II.

Capt. Passey Takes Interservice Discus Title To Gain Berth In 1968 Olympic Pre-Trials

Capt. Glenn T. Passey, Reese AFB helicopter pilot, has won the discus event in the Interservice Track and Field Championships and will try-out for the U.S. Olympic Team in the Los Angeles Coliseum next weekend.

The winning of the event, with a toss of 185 feet, climaxed a long road for the former NCAA record holder. Captain Passey had spent months training under less than ideal conditions before going to Sheppard AFB to win first the ATC meet and then the Air Force meet. His win in the Interservice automatically qualified him for the Olympic pre-trials, June 28-29.

Currently, Captain Passey is participating in the National AAU Outdoor Championships at Sacramento, Calif., (June 20-22). In this meet, there is nothing at stake for the captain. However, he felt that the experience in competition would be beneficial before moving on to Los Angeles next weekend.

It was unofficially reported that Captain Passey was throwing the discus 190 feet and beyond in his practice throws at the Interservice. But he reported a seizure of nervousness when it came time to throw the discus for record. Therefore, he felt he should participate in the AAU meet to gain a competitive edge.

Security Police To Start Firing In Competition

HQ. ATC (ATCPS)—Reese AFB security police sharpshooters will begin competitive shooting in July vying for the right to represent Air Training Command at the Air Force-wide Security Police Marksmanship Competition in September.

Purpose of the competition is to encourage and improve proficiency among all security police and to identify and further develop outstanding individual marksmen using weapons with which they are armed in the daily performance of their duties.

According to Maj. John E. Stacey, ATC project officer, each command base is holding a firing competition. The team scores will be forwarded to ATC headquarters, with the top six teams being invited to a command shoot-off at Camp Bullis, Tex., Aug. 12-16. The shoot-off will determine the ATC representative in the USAF competition at Tyndall AFB, Fla.

Weapons fired are the .38 cal. pistol and the M-16 rifle.

New Selections Now Available In Base Library

Several new books have been received in the base library for the review of Reese personnel.

Included among the new selections is "The Importance of Living" by Lin Yu-tang, in which a wise and witty modern Chinese, well aware of both East and West, offers Americans a way of life distilled out of what he and the Chinese sages of thirty centuries have learned about the salt and flavor of daily living. Vivid passages deal with the art of loafing, of conversation, of travel, of enjoying food, of reading and appreciating nature, with the creative impulse, and above all, the importance of all our daily habits.

"Iberia: Spanish Travels and Reflections" by James Michener contains a vivid account of the author's as well as other people's adventures of Spain, a country in which he traveled extensively.

The deepest lake in the world is Great Bear in Canada, 5,712 feet deep.

Junior Bowlers Given Awards

Members of the Reese AFB American Junior Bowling League were rewarded Saturday at the Reese Lanes.

The ceremony saw Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, present numerous trophies and awards, topped by the first-place team award to the team of Sheila Crowl, Curt Orsick, Ron Hinson and Greg Thompson for winning the Bantam League, and to the team of Ken Garrett, Key Harmon and Jim Etherdige for winning the Junior League. A special presentation of the only two junior patches awarded from the Lubbock County American Junior Bowling Association went to Ken Garrett, one for a 250 high game and the other for a 600 scratch series. The ceremony concluded the Reese AFB American Junior Bowling program for the summer.

Reese, Webb Slate Challenge Bowling Match Tomorrow

Another friendly interbase rivalry will begin tomorrow when bowlers from Reese and Webb Air Force Bases face each other in a challenge match. The matches are set for 10:30 a.m. and 2 p.m. at the Reese Lanes.

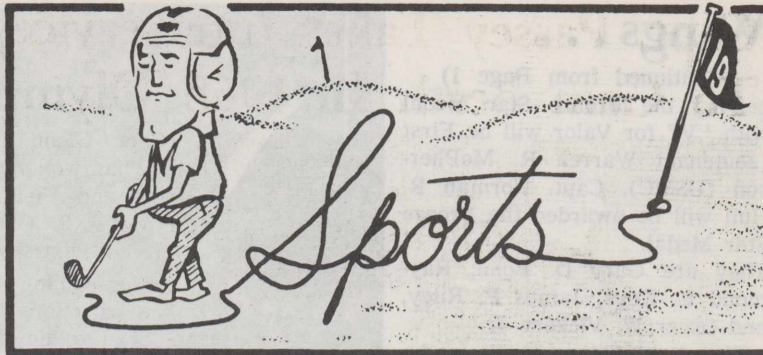

The challenge was issued by Col. William C. McGlothlin Jr., wing commander at Webb AFB, and former deputy commander for Operations at Reese, to Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander at Reese. Colonel Morganti was quick to accept the challenge and he has named the team which will represent the base in the match.

The lead-off man will be Don Crowl, followed by Bert Soule, then Jack McAdams and George Holtgrewe. Robert Brandt will bring up the rear as anchor man.

The combined average for the team is 941, averaging out to 188 per man.

Spectators are cordially invited to turn out for the matches, and to root for the team of their choice.

By JIM COMEAUX

Everyone likes a bargain, and golfers are certainly no exception. As a matter of fact, those amateur golfers who play in tournaments are probably "the greatest" at seeking out bargains. They should have a field day next week.

The Reese Invitational Golf Tournament, slated over the base links Thursday through Sunday, is fast gaining the reputation of being the best bargain on the South Plains. Subsequently, though only in its fifth year, the tournament is a perennial favorite, which can be attributed to the fact that it offers more to the golfers than any other staged.

Golfers have watched a steady encroachment on their pocket books in the past few years. First, the United States Golf Association (USGA) ruled that prize money given in amateur tournaments must not exceed $100 in merchandise. Those who sponsor such tournaments were quick to seize this opportunity to fatten the take at their respective clubs. As if this blow was not enough, entry fees have risen like the mercury in May to stake out a further claim on the golfer's wallet.

Resent Encroachment

If you think golfers aren't aware of this, then talk to them about it. They are not a "chinzy" bunch, indeed, not even frugal as witnessed by the betting that takes place on a golf course. But they do resent the encroachment, viewing it as much out of place as Tiny Tim in the Green Bay backfield.

That's why they eye the Reese Invitational Golf Tournament with such loving care. The $15 entry fee has remained the same as the year it began—1963. And while the prize money has gone down somewhat (because of the USGA ruling), an added incentive is offered. That incentive is the party hosted by Ken McGuire, Reese golf pro, on Saturday night of the tournament. It includes a dinner party (including free refreshments) for the golfer and his lady that has brought forth the comment more than once, that the party itself is worth the price of the entry fee.

Add it up. A golfer from town would pay a total of $7 in green fees to play the four rounds ($1.50 each for Thursday and Friday and $2 each for Saturday and Sunday). At the least, he would pay $5, for everyone plays at least two rounds in competition and one qualifying (if necessary). In addition, he gets a meal, refreshments and a party (for two) worth at least eight "bucks" in anybody's book. When you add to this the opportunity for prizes, the experience gained and other intangible benefits it has to be the best bargain in golf on the South Plains.

It's lucrative to say the least, and if you are considering playing in the tournament you are hereby advised to make haste and enter at the earliest opportunity. Because of the nine-hole lay-out, the field is limited. Golfers will be clamoring to enter, so don't get shutout on your own golf course for its biggest tournament of the year. Run, do not walk, to the pro shop and pay your entry fee.

Match Play In Effect

For those of you who are not familiar with this tournament, match play is in effect. That is, you play within the flight assigned—which is by handicap—but scratch (without giving or taking strokes from your opponent). You play by holes, meaning if you score a five on number one and he scores a six, you are the winner of that hole and are one-up. The one winning the most holes in 18 played is the winner of the match. First-day losers in all flights move to the consolation brackets. Any loss after the first round of play eliminates you through the finals.

USGA rules along with local ground rules will be in effect, and it would pay you to acquaint yourself with these before playing. An opponent in this tournament will call an infraction on you faster than a Meadowbrook green. So bone up on your homework, and I'll see you at the tournament.

Softball Action Picks Up Pace

The base softball team leaves for Lamesa today for the three-day Invitational Softball Tournament that gets under way this evening in Lamesa.

The base team is currently in second place in the Western Independent League, playing in the city of Lubbock softball program. The team has won four games while losing three.

Meanwhile, intramural softball continues its torrid pace at Reese with a surprise development. The two pilot training squadrons, the 3500th and the 3501st both occupy the top spot with identical records of six wins against two losses. Furthermore, three teams are tied for second place and very much in contention for the top spot all with 5-3 records. They are Supply, Hospital and Field Maintenance. The 3501st Students are at 4-4, Com. Squadron is at 3-5 and OMS and ABG are sharing the cellar with 1-7 records.

OMS Holds Lead In Intramural Play

Play is reported extremely close in intramural golf at Reese AFB with only one game separating the top three teams.

Organizational Maintenance holds the lead, but it is a slim one. A half game back is Air Base Group with Supply only one game off the pace. Hospital is 1½ games out of the lead and the '00th a mere two games out. DCO is 3½ games out of the lead and Field Maintenance 5½. Air Force Communications brings up the rear six games off the pace.

The standings do not reflect the play of yesterday.

Lieutenant Riley was employed as a co-op engineer by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, Landley Research Center, while he was completing his degree requirements during his last three years at the University of Detroit.

His research projects included an evaluation of the effect of wing tip end plates on aircraft stability and performance in the transonic speed ranges. As a member of a three-man research team, he conducted a study of various combinations of longitudinal static stability parameters on handling qualities for V/STOL operation and the consequences of aircraft instability on flight safety.

Wing Commander Addresses New NCO Association Banquet

The fledging Reese AFB NCO Association, Chapter 129, held its first social meeting June 13 at the NCO Open Mess with Col. Clyde J. Morganti, wing commander, delivering the principal address.

Some 60 members of the organization met in the Red Room to hear the colonel speak on patriotism, one of the association's four avowed aims in promoting. He was introduced by CMSgt. O.D. Gilmore, founder of the chapter.

Earlier, a historic moment was recorded when Colonel Morganti presented Sergeant Gilmore with the charter of the new organization. The colonel commented that the charter had only arrived that morning. In turn, Sergeant Gilmore presented the charter to the new officers of the association, MSgt. Roy H. Jump, chairman, and Sgt. Laurence D. Diehl, vice chairman.

Then it became the turn of Colonel Morganti to be on the receiving end of a presentation. He was presented with honorary membership in the association by Sergeant Gilmore.

There was no business conducted at the banquet except to set the next meeting for July 15, also a dinner-meeting, at the same location and time. However, plans were informally discussed for promoting a patriotic effort in connection with other activities planned on the base for the July 4th holiday.

Scouts Plan Picnic

Pack 548 will hold a family picnic beginning 5 p.m., June 29 on the base picnic grounds.

Parents are requested to bring picnic lunches for their families.

Awards will be given at 7:30 p.m.

For further information, personnel may call Sgt. Erwin P. Woodworth, ext. 733 or TSgt. Alvin O. MacNaughton, 885-2642.

New Banking Hours

New hours have been announced for the base banking facility. In the future, the bank will be open on those paydays which fall on Friday from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Commissary Closed Monday Afternoon

The commissary sales store will be open Monday from 8 a.m. to noon. It will be closed the remainder of the day for inventory.
