Festivities To Begin At 7 P.M. With 200 Persons Expected

Reese AFB long-awaited Military Ball will be held tonight at the NCO Open Mess, to be climaxed with the naming of the base's "Outstanding NCO of 1968" by the Air Force Association. More than 200 are expected to attend.

The formal ball will get under way at 7 p.m. with a cocktail party at which Open Mess steward SMSgt. Emanuel Helmick will offer patrons a special price of 20 cents per drink.

The ball will continue with dinner at 8 p.m. Price for the dinner will be $2.50 each. The dinner will include wine and an entree of prime rib. Dress will be formal, blue uniforms with white shirts and black ties for military personnel, formal dresses for ladies and suits for civilians.

President of the mess will be SMSgt. Tolbert E. Fowler, and vice-president will be SSgt. Robert Douglas. Alternate is SMSgt. Sam Madison.

Gavel To Open Festivities

At 7:55 p.m. the president of the Mess will formally open the festivities with a rap of the gavel, and Chaplain (Lieutenant Colonel) Isaac M. Copeland Jr., base chaplain, will give the invocation.

Precisely at 8 p.m. the president of the mess will propose the traditional toast to the Commander in Chief, followed by toasts to the Chief of Staff, USAF, proposed by Mr. Vice. After guests are introduced, toasts will be proposed to them. Members will then be invited to eat.

At approximately 8:40 p.m., the president of the mess will call for (See Ball — Page 8)

Five Nominated As Outstanding NCO For 1969

One of five NCOs nominated for Outstanding NCO of 1968 at Reese AFB will be named tonight climaxing the Formal Military Ball at the NCO Open Mess.

The five men nominated by their respective organizations are: TSgt. James W. Sullivan, III, NCOIC, military public health and occupational medicine, nominated by the 3500th USAF Hospital; SMSgt. Samuel F. Madison, NCOIC, fuels management branch, nominated by Deputy Commander for Materiel.

Also, TSgt. Samuel A. Smith, NCOIC, Security Police Training Section, nominated by Headquarters squadron; MSgt. James Stallings, NCOIC, flight facilities section, nominated by 2053 Communications Squadron; and TSgt. Dewey A. Kilpatrick, maintenance superintendent, nominated by Detachment 13, Western Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Center (MAC.)

Reese PTA's Festival Proves Huge Success

The Reese Elementary School PTA Festival was held Saturday at the school, and immediately following PTA officials pronounced the affair a tremendous success. An estimated 700 persons attended.

PTA president Maj. John Elliff said the combined efforts of the many people who worked on the project resulted in a net profit of $1,250 for the PTA, which will be used to fulfill the organization's annual operating budget, set between $500 and $600, and the remainder for other PTA projects through the coming school year. The amount taken in exceeded last year's profit, and may have been a record net profit for a fall festival.

Major Elliff was high in his praise of those who "worked so hard to make the Festival a success." Major Elliff was especially high in his praise of SMSgt. Emanuel Helmick, chairman of the Fall Festival, and to those workers who put in as many as 14 hours of work Saturday to make the affair a success.

Almost every room at the school had a game or event under way, and all reported a high profit. These included dart games, cake walks, balloon sales, and many others. A spaghetti dinner, complete with salad, was served to more than 500 persons at 75 cents per adult and 50 cents per child with a $2.50 maximum per family. A dance followed the dinner in the school cafeteria with music provided by the Purple Mirage, a musical group made up of Reese dependents.

Major prizes were given away. They included a television set to

Mrs. Mable Rogers, a gun to Edward L. Homan, a bicycle to Walter Eccard, a rocking chair John R. Harvey and a set of lamps to Jimmy C. Gray.

Reese Detachment Participating In Unique Competition Monday

A Reese AFB unit will participate in an unique competition beginning Monday.

The Reese Weather Detachment, a unit of the 24th Weather Squadron, will join its counterparts throughout that squadron for the second annual Forecaster Jamboree competition.

The competition, a weather forecasting contest among detachments of the 24th Weather

Squadron, began in 1967 with a shakedown, or trial run. Officials of the squadron would like to see the idea adopted for use within the entire Air Weather Service, and perhaps become as well known as Strategic Air Command's annual bomb competition and Air Defense Command's William Tell contest.

In last year's first annual contest, Craig AFB, Ala., emerged as squadron champion after edging out Hill AFB, Utah, the Western League titleist, on the last day of forecasting.

The detachment which earns the smallest error point score on forecasts covering surface winds and temperature, winds at 20,000 feet, freezing level, ceiling and visibility will be crowned champion.

This year, the elimination round will cover a two-week period and the top three detachments in each league will advance to the playoff round, which will last one week. The two league champions will then compete against each other in December, with the winner being named Dec. 22.

Reese's Weather Detachment is in the Western League with Hill, Sheppard, Williams, Webb, Vance, Mather and McClellan AFBs.

Cub Scouts Slate Training Sessions

About 40 adult Cub Scout leaders are expected at Reese AFB tonight and tomorrow night for two training sessions in Cub Scout activities.

The sessions are due to begin at 7 p.m. in the base chapel annex. Those in attendance will be learning such things as how to qualify Cub Scouts for merit badges and other supervised activities of Cub Scouting.

Reese's United Fund Campaign Lagging As End Draws Near

Reese AFB is lagging behind in its United Fund Campaign.

Col. Howard J. Pierson, Reese campaign director, said that as of Tuesday only $9,066.92 had been collected toward the goal of $16,500 set for the base. This amounts to about 55 per cent of the goal.

The campaign officially ended Oct. 31, but has now been extended to Tuesday to coincide with the extension called by United Fund officials in Lubbock.

Colonel Pierson said: "We in no way suggest pressure nor establish a minimum amount that each person must give. As you know, we at Reese are part of the Lubbock community campaign. Let us evaluate our individual capabilities and assure that we are unselfish in contributing toward this very worthy cause.

"The air bases near large cities such as Lubbock receive ample returns from their contributions through the many agencies which make up the United Fund. It is a form of investment to make our communities, our Air Force and our country a better place in which to live." The colonel added, "Please contact your unit's key worker and give as generously as you can."

POPPY SALE—LaVada Petty, civilian employee at Reese AFB, pins a poppy in the lapel of M. T. Kuykendall, MSgt., USA Retired, in front of the base exchange Nov. 1, day of the Veterans of Foreign Wars poppy sale on the base. Mrs. Petty was chairman of the event at Reese, while Mr. Kuykendall is believed to be the sole surviving member of the American Legion Post Number 1 in Paris. He is a veteran of both World Wars. Mistakes Cost Money, Possibly People

By Capt. James V. Mardis
Zero Defects is a program to praise people for perfection in their work. It is not in any way punishment or blame for mistakes. It is merely doing the job right the first time.

Impossible? At Martin-Marietta plants (they started the ZD idea) a woman soldered 336,000 circuit board connections without a defect. Two men welded 36,000 inches of seams without a defect. A man processed over 30,000 cost-and-payroll records without an error. A man made 18,000 entries in a production logbook without an error. You can add your name to this list of excellence.

In space and defense work, in medicine and in human lives there is no "tolerable" level of error. Mistakes cost not only money but people. Zero Defects is a program of encouragement, enthusiasm and motivation; not threats, goals, norms, or punishment for errors. Anyone who exerts pressure on subordinates through the ZD program is guilty of extremely poor management and is really defeating the entire ZD program.

Zero Defects is not quality control. If applied as designed, a program of positive encouragement and reward for perfection, the results are highly satisfying for all concerned.

Over 1,000 U.S. companies and Department of Defense are successfully using ZD. Rolls Royce is introducing it in Britain and even the Soviet Union is implementing this capitalistic idea.

It is interesting that the 60 major industries in the United States, except possibly the automobile companies, have aggressive ZD programs.

In 1966-67 period, T-37s at Reese flew 87,196 hours in 74,009 sorties and logged 185,145 landings without an accident. This is seldom excelled.

Zero Defects can help you if you help it.

FOR THE COMMANDER

Nine Steps To Orientate New Worker

Col. Clyde J. Morganti
Wing Commander

By Capt. John J. Marchino Management and Procedures Officer

The induction period is the supervisor's greatest opportunity to win the new worker's loyalty, to stimulate his interest and insure his satisfactory performance from the very beginning.

The following are nine steps to effective job induction:

1. Get ready to receive the new worker. Review his work experience, education and training. Have an up-to-date description of his job or a list of his duties and responsibilities available for discussion with him.

2. Welcome the new worker. Put him at ease. Indicate the new worker's relationship with others and assign him a workplace and proper working equipment.

Capt. Marchino

3. Show genuine interest in the worker. Discuss his background and interests. Inquire about his housing and transportation situation. Inquire about any possible financial difficulties he might have.

4. Explain the work of the unit. Describe the function and his position within the overall organization. Explain the relation of his work to that of other workers and tell him to whom he reports and who reports to him.

5. Introduce him to the chief of the unit and to his co-workers. Indicate to each the new worker's duties and explain the duties of each person to whom introduced.

6. Show him the layout of the office and available base facilities. 7. Explain rules and regulations; such as, hours of work, punctuality and good attendance, lunch and rest periods, use of the telephone, leave and any other shop or office practices and procedures.

8. Instruct him in his job or assign him to a qualified instructor. Give him step-by-step instructions. Explain the quality and quantity work standards. Provide learning aids; such as, samples of work, manuals, job instruction, procedures and list of special or technical terms. Explain the use and care of tools and equipment. Stress safe working habits and the security aspects of his job.

9. Follow up. Check frequently on his progress, encourage questions and make corrections and give encouragement.

Let's Face It

Cancer Surely Cures Smoking

(ATCPS Editorial)

(Reprinted with permission from the Sept. 1968 issue of GP magazine, published by American Academy of General Practice.)

Let's face it! The facts are in—cigarette smoking is a vicious, crippling, dirty, deadly habit. The evidence is overwhelming regarding the association between cigarette smoking and lung cancer, chronic bronchitis and emphysema. Furthermore, coronary artery disease is seen much more often in the smoker than in the nonsmoker. Twist and turn the figures, manipulate the statistics, distort the conclusions, you will still come up with hard data showing that death rates (1) are far greater in cigarette smokers than in nonsmokers, (2) increase with the number of cigarettes smoked and (3) are lower in ex-cigarette smokers.

The lethal effects of this vehicle of mass murder are only part of the story. Cigarettes also cause a tremendous amount of illness short of death. They increase absenteeism from work and loss of wages. This health hazard rises with the duration of the smoking habit. Yet there are approximately 70 million smokers in the United States alone, most of whom smoke cigarettes.

Tobacco smoke is loaded with deadly poisons—nicotine, carbon monoxide, arsenic, hydrogen sulfide, hydrogen cyanide and polycyclic hydrocarbons. What a delightful mixture that the smoker inhales for that deep-down, satisfying feeling that gives extra coolness and flavor for which he would rather fight than switch.

Most adults know of the dangers of cigarette smoking. Still, they smoke and face the horrifying statistics heroically with what Dr. Howard Sprague calls "The Next Guy Theory" which states: "Those mortal diseases won't catch up with me. Look, not everyone who smokes dies of cancer, heart disease, emphysema or bronchitis. I'm willing to gamble it won't happen to me. But pity the next guy."

However, doctors are convinced. In 1954, 51 per cent of physicians smoked and now the figure is 22 per cent! Although we're losing the battle with adults, every physician should continue the campaign and he can do it more sincerely if he doesn't smoke.

Teenagers must be reached and educated. Although about 19 million people have stopped smoking since the Surgeon General's 1964 report, 4,500 youngsters start smoking every day!

The problem of changing smoking habits is tremendous. Since the 15th century, when tobacco was discovered in the New World, there have been efforts (all unsuccessful) to eliminate smoking by legislation, education and decree. In 1604, James I called smoking "a custom loathsome to the eye, hateful to the nose, harmful to the brain, dangerous to the lungs, and in the black, stinking fumes thereof, nearest resembling the horrible Stygian smoke of the pit that is bottomless." But how to quit? This is a fine problem that faces the habitual smoker who is convinced and would like to "kick" the habit. One thing is certain—cancer cures smoking!

Displaying Retiring Behavior Is Not Necessarily Humility

By Chaplain (Lieutenant Colonel) Isaac M. Copeland Jr.
Base Chaplain

Humility is a beautiful and necessary virtue, but humility and self-effacement are not the same thing. A person may say, "I cannot lead a meeting or speak to a group or teach or write." But how does he know? If he has the ability but refuses, is this not shameful? It may be that he cannot do these things, but is not the greater wrong not in the lack of ability but in the lack of faith it takes to try?

Every artist, composer, author, etc., had to try the first time, the second, and the hundredth. What would have happened if every talented person had refused to try that very first time; if Schweitzer had said, "I am not good enough," and had never touched the organ; or if Lincoln

Rates Compiled By Statisticians

Automobile insurance premiums are computed and published by underwriting and rating organizations, such as the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters, where premiums and losses of all member companies are tabulated by classes of risks and locations.

Since the companies affiliated with these organizations write a large portion of U. S. automobile insurance, there are sufficient data available for the computation of reliable premiums.

Monday

Time For Recollection

(An AFPS Editorial)

On Nov. 11, 1918 at 5 a.m. Paris time, representatives of the government of Germany, the most powerful of the Central Powers engaged in World War I, signed an armistice of 35 clauses, the most severe and drastic ever demanded from a major power.

At 11 a.m. the same day, the battlefields fell silent, hostilities ended, and for the first time in four years, the world was at peace. World War I was over!

Historians of the time dubbed World War I as "the war to end all wars." Those of us now in uniform know only too well that such was not the case. First came World War II, then Korea and now Vietnam.

The strife, conflict and tension the world has endured in the intervening 50 years may have dimmed the significance of World War I for many of us.

But Nov. 11, is still a day to be remembered.

Until 1954, Americans celebrated Nov. 11 as an observance of the end of World War I. But then the Congress of the United States amplified the meaning of the holiday, designating it Veterans Day—a day to honor all men and women who have served in the armed forces of the United States.

Veterans Day is a day when all Americans should pause a moment in recollection and prayer.

By making just this simple observance before going on with our normal holiday activities, we will have paid proper homage to the millions of Americans, past and present, living and dead, who have courageously served their country.

It is also a day for those of us who now serve—the veterans of tomorrow—to rededicate ourselves to the principles of freedom and human dignity for which our comrades-in-arms throughout America's history have fought and died.

New Film Classification Policy To Control Youth Admittance

Base theater will implement a new film classification system sometime this month. As soon as film distributors initiate the system, Reese children under 16 years of age will be restricted from some movies.

The films will be classified into four categories:

Films suggested for general audiences, without consideration of age will be designated by the letter "G." "M" will designate movies suggested for mature audiences. Parents should exercise their own discretion in this category since motion pictures may require more mature judgment by viewers.

If a movie is specified as restricted ("R"), persons under 16 year old must be accompanied by a parent or responsible adult over 21.

Because of their treatment of sex, violence, crime or profanity, motion pictures designated "X" are not considered suitable for presentation to persons under 16 and their admittance will be prohibited.

The Roundup, Daily Bulletin and base theater circulars will adopt the new system in their advertising when classifications are made available.

DO NOT pass on curves, hills, at intersections or in no passing zones.

CE Cost Accountant Selected For Airman Of Month Honors

Cost accounting and real property specialist assigned to 3500 Air Base Group has been selected as Airman of the Month for November.

A1C Kelly D. Haley "has readily adapted himself to the new Integrated Prime / Modified BEAMS System and now has an excellent working knowledge and understanding of the new cost accounting products and procedures," reports Capt. John B. Peterson, Headquarters squadron commander.

"Even though he has had no prior training in his career field, Airman Haley has performed an extensive analysis of the new manhour accounting procedure.

"Airman Haley is a 'self-starter' whose initiative and analytical thinking ranks him far above his contemporaries. His dynamic personality and ability to get along with others is accented by his military bearing and neat appearance," Captain Peterson states.

Airman Haley, a 25-year old native of Paris, Ky., arrived at Reese after graduating from the accounting and finance course at Sheppard AFB in July 1968. Upon arrival at Reese, his career field was changed to Civil Engineering and he was awarded a three level as a cost accounting and real property specialist.

The airman was graduated from Western Kentucky University with a degree in marketing in 1967. He entered the Air Force in August 1967. Airman Haley resides with his wife Marilyn at 4206 18th Street, Apt. 31 in Lubbock.

Everything from kitchen accessories to white elephants will flood the base community house during the Officers' Wives Club Holiday Bazaar scheduled for Thursday.

Representing months of work by OWC members, the one-day festival will last from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. All Reese personnel are invited and the gate will be open for civilian friends in the surrounding area.

Each of the 12 base organizations represented in the OWC are responsible for a different booth. Included in the booths will be a cloak room and shopping bags, candles, kitchen accessories, baked goods and candy, white elephants, an oriental tearoom, Christmas ornaments, table and door decorations, a boutique, children's toys and a miscellaneous booth. The wives of Class 70-02, who arrived recently, have been invited to contribute to the various booths.

The bazaar will be the only money-raising project of the club this year. Proceeds from the one-day sale will be channeled to various Air Force and civilian charities.

Chairmen for the bazaar are Mrs. Albert Martin and Mrs. Forrest Fenn.

Movies Feature Varied Fare; 'The Vengeance Of She' Set

The week's movie fare at the base theater will begin with "The Vengeance of She." Showing tonight, the mystery adventure features John Richardson and Olinka Berova and is rated for mature-young people.

Saturday's 11 a.m. special matinee is "Everyday Is A Holiday." The comedy-drama stars Marisol and Angel Peralta. Set in Madrid, the Saturday feature is rated for a family audience.

Dean Martin, Stella Stevens and Eli Wallach are featured in the Saturday evening showings of "How To Save A Marriage." The color presentation is billed as a romantic comedy for mature audiences.

"Never A Dull Moment," starring Dick Van Dyke, Edward G. Robinson, and Dorothy Provine is scheduled to entertain family audiences Sunday. The Walt Disney production is listed as a fast and funny gangster spoof.

The family fare is continued Tuesday with the musical comedy "Ski Fever." Set in Austria, the film stars Marty Milner and Claudia Martin.

A mature adventure-comedy starring James Coburn, James Mason and Susannah York, will be shown at the theater Wednesday and Thursday. "Duffy" takes place in Tangiers and features theme music by Lou Rawls.

Today's Open House At Family Services

Reesites are reminded that Family Services is holding open house this afternoon (Nov. 8) to show off its newly remodeled building. The open house is slated from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Family Service Center located across from the main gate at the entrance to Reese Village.

Refreshments will be served.

NCOWC To Meet

The NCO Wives Club will hold its business meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Redwood Room, NCO Open Mess. Hostesses will be Mrs. Sue Elam and Mrs. Judy Campbell. All NCO wives are invited to attend the meeting.

Reese Children Can Get Letter From St. Nick

Military and civilian personnel at Reese AFB can make sure their children get a real letter from Santa Claus, postmarked "Santa Claus House, North Pole."

Following success of the past 13 years, in which nearly 93,000 letters have been remailed to service kids in many lands, members of USAF Air Weather Service's Detachment 5, 9th Weather Reconnaissance Wing, Eielson AFB, Alaska, have volunteered to help make this Christmas a memorable one for kids around the world. These far-north AWS weathermen will use their free time to forward Santa Claus letters to children everywhere.

Those desiring to use the service should write the letter to the child, signing it Santa Claus. Address the letter to your youngster and affix the proper return air mail postage from Alaska. Place the letter or letters in a larger envelope and address it to: Santa's Mail Bag, care of Detachment 5, 9th Weather Reconnaissance Wing, APO Seattle 98737. Add proper air mail postage and drop in a mailbox.

A few miles from Eielson AFB is a post office officially called Santa Claus House, North Pole, Alaska. When the volunteer AWS mailmen get your letter, they will remail the Santa letter from this post office.

A few days later, your child will receive his or her letter from Santa Claus complete with authentic postmark.

Reese Riders Reap Rewards

Reesites again showed well in a locally-sponsored horse show over the past weekend.

The event was the Southside Horse Show, held Saturday at 82nd and Indiana Ave. in Lubbock.

Reesites placing in the events were Capt. Ken Benson, fourth place, hunt seat equitation; MSgt. John Jolly, third in Western pleasure; his son, Clyde Jolly won third place in Western equitation.

Also, 1st Lt. Pat Demarath, first in saddle seat equitation and third in Western equitation. Mrs. Pamela McMullen, wife of 1st Lt. Tom McMullen, won 6th in English pleasure. Pamela Witchurch, whose father works at the base commissary, won fourth in Western pleasure and fifth in Western equitation.

As usual, the family of MSgt. Michael J. De Rosa all scored in the judging. Sergeant De Rosa took sixth in hunt seat equitation, his wife, Dorli won fourths in saddle seat equitation, horsemanship over fences, and sixths in Western pleasure and Western equitation.

Sergeant De Rosa's son, Mike, took third in novice horsemanship over fences, and fifth in hunt seat equitation. Daughter Scarlet took fifths in hunt seat equitation, novice hunters and Western equitation. Daughter Debbie won fifth in saddle seat equitation and sixth in Western equitation.

The announcer for the show was MSgt. Dick Hyde and the ringmaster was Sgt. Terry N. Tyler. Both are of Reese AFB.

Randolph Man Effects Savings

RANDOLPH, AFB, Tex. (ATCPS)—Relocation, replacement of older equipment and a change of maintenance procedure on computers produced a cost reduction savings here of more than $10,300 during Fiscal Year 1968 and is estimated to save more than $53,000 during Fiscal Years 1968-70.

The action was originated by Edward E. Featherstone, chief of programs and procedures branch, data automation. Mr. Featherstone is equipment control officer for six computers and 95 pieces of punch card accounting equipment.

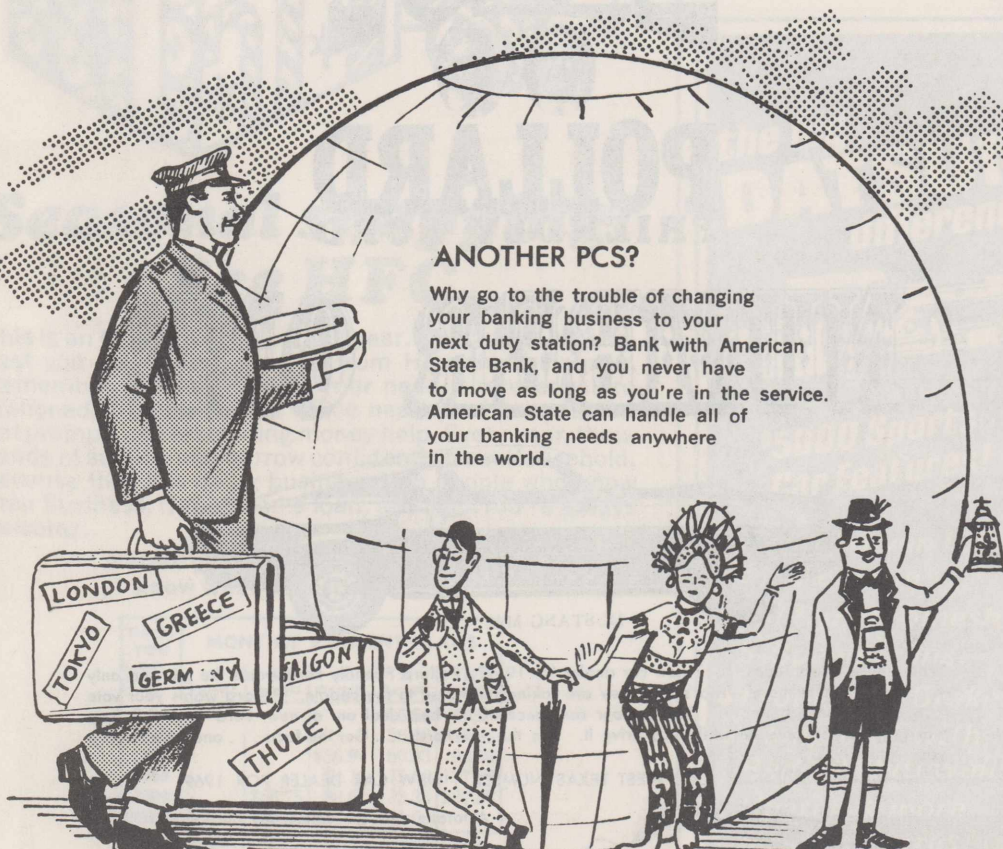

Tea To Honor Reese People

Representatives from Reese AFB will be among the honored guests at a tea from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday that will officially launch World Fellowship Week in Lubbock. The tea will be held at the YWCA, 1641 Broadway, Lubbock. The week stresses the work the Young Women's Christian Association does in 76 countries throughout the world.

Y-Teen clubs and other groups will have programs reflecting the theme and observing World Fellowship Week.

Lackland Marksman Winner Of Silver Medal In Olympics

MEXICO CITY (AFNS) — Sgt. Tom Garrigus, one of seven active Air Force participants in the United States team in the Summer Olympic Games, won a second-place Silver Medal in the clay pigeon shooting event. Sergeant Garrigus was forced into a shootoff for second place after ending in a three-way tie with Kurt Czekalla of East Germany and Russia's Pavell Senickev behind Gold Medal winner John R. Braithwaite of Great Britain. Braithwaite scored 198 hits out of 200 birds. Sergeant Garrigus scored 196 and then hit 50 of 50 in the shootoff. The bronze medal went to Czekalla. Sergeant Garrigus is a member of the Air Force competitive trap team with the Marksmanship School at Lackland AFB, Tex. He joined the Air Force in 1964 and was stationed at Hamilton AFB, Calif., when he was selected for the trap team in 1967.

First Lt. Micki King appeared destined for a Gold Medal in the three-meter diving competition. However, on her next-to-last dive, her forearm struck the diving board, dropping her into second place. Despite the painful injury, which later proved to be a simple fracture, she completed her last dive in a sub-par manner, which left her in a fourth place finish.

Lieutenant King is the administrative officer for the Reserve Officers Training Corps detachment at the University of Michigan.

Capt. Wayne Baughman, Air Force Academy, Colo., was eliminated in the Greco-Roman wrestling competition. TSgt. Anton Van Drop, Oxnard AFB, Calif., and the U.S. water polo team, won several matches, but finished out of the running as did Amn. John Stanley, March AFB, Calif., and the volleyball team. SSgt. Arnold Vitarbo and SMSgt. Earl Herring, teammates of Sergeant Garrigus from Lackland AFB, Tex., failed to place in other shooting events.

Archers To Meet Tuesday For Clinic

Lubbock Archer's Association is sponsoring an Archer's Clinic 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Maxey Community Center, 30th and Oxford. Both hunting and target "shooters" are invited to attend the clinic co-sponsored by Lubbock's Parks and Recreation Department. Bill Whitener will do the instructing. He is certified by the National Field Archers Association. Reesites are invited to attend.

Academy Quint Prepares For Season Opener

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AFNS)— The new field house is the scene of energetic workouts as Air Force basketball coach Bob Spear works with eight lettermen and four of last season's top freshmen to form a nucleus for this year's team. Air Force opens the season at home against Colorado, Nov. 30.

The Falcons were 9-15 last year but with the return of the first five after a rebuilding year, prospects for an improved season are bright.

Cliff Parsons, 6-10 center who averaged 22.5 last season, and is ranked as the second highest scorer in Air Force history, heads the list of returnees.

Joining Parsons in the probable starting five are juniors Mark Bean, 6-3, and Bert Spear, 5-10, and seniors Mike Klindt, 6-3, and Mike Thiessen, 6-6. Klindt and Thiessen were voted co-captains by their teammates.

Team 3 Leads Distaff Bowlers

Team #3, one of two unsponsored teams in the Reese Renegade Bowling League, holds a four-game edge over Ming Tree after eight weeks of bowling by Reese women bowlers.

Standings in the league as of Monday were as follows:

Reese Rattlers Seeking Initial Win Of Season

By Jim Comeaux
The 1968 version of the Reese Rattler basketball team is still seeking its first win of the infant season. So far, the Rattlers have lost scrimmage games to Lubbock Christian College, and four games — two to Cannon AFB at home and two to Sheppard AFB away last weekend.

out of the window of the base gym, he's generally looking for some tall fellow to walk by. If he ever does, he'll probably be drafted on the spot.

Air Force Hockey Team Set To Play

AIR FORCE ACADEMY, Colo. (AFNS)— The Air Force ice hockey team opens an ambitious 26-game varsity schedule at home, Nov. 29, against the Colorado All-Stars.

On paper, the Reese squad doesn't look that bad. They have three players currently averaging in double figures. These are Wally Williams with a more-than-respectable 26 points per game, Harold Shutter with a 20.5 average and Bill Temple with a 15 point average. Furthermore, from the free-throw line, Shutter is 13 for 19 for a 68.5 average, Joe Nester is two for two for 100 per cent, Temple is six for 10 for 60 per cent and Williams and Orlander Millner are both at 50 per cent at the free throw line.

Another thing that would help is attendance. Tomorrow and Sunday, the Rattlers will play Carswell AFB in the base gym. Gametime tomorrow is 8 p.m. and on Sunday at 2 p.m. A good turnout of fans would undoubtedly go a long way toward helping the morale of these lads who are devoting a goodly portion of their free time to represent Reese AFB in basketball this season.

Coach Vic Heyliger has seven veterans including sophomores Kim Newman, goaltender; Steve Hall, co-captain and center; Bob Fleury, rightwing; Bob Waugh, rifhtwing; Tom Perrot, leftwing; co-captain junior Bob Stewart, rightwing; and Lou Tetlow, senior defenseman.

Chance at Revenge

Reese AFB golfers will have a shot at revenge Nov. 17 (Sunday) at the base golf course when they play a return challenge match against Webb AFB.

Head coach Brad Jaworski points out that his squad suffers from lack of height — a thing of necessity on basketball teams these days. Specifically, Jaworski points to the Sheppard team, to which the Rattlers gave away from two to eight inches in height. Whenever Jaworski looks

The taste of defeat still lingers in the mouths of those who made the trip three weeks ago to Webb and came up empty-handed. And the Reesites will be out to even the score with a win on its own home course.

Reese Golfers Play For Birds

Reese AFB golfers will be playing for turkeys Monday in a special tournament being held at the base course.

Reese golf pro Ken McGuire said the Veterans Day holiday golf fare will feature the annual turkey shoot at which golfers may win a Thanksgiving turkey. Entry fee will be $1 and handicaps used to determine the low net winners, each of which will receive turkeys. The number of turkeys will depend, of course, on the number of entries.

Those desiring to enter may do so Monday by paying the entry fee at the time of signing in.

Civil Engineers Gives Tips On Care Of Lawns

Reese AFB Civil Engineering officials have passed on a few tips to base building custodians and residents of Reese Village for the care of grounds during November.

They warn that the early part of November will probably bring our first killing frost. Therefore, they recommend watering grass, shrubs and plants and spray for insects. Also, continue to mow the grass with recommended cutting height for bermuda at two inches.

After the frost, the annuals and tops of perennials will be dead. Remove this dead growth. Chrysanthemums should be cut to the ground. Hill soil around them and water every two weeks. Careful removal of all weeds and seeds will eliminate many weeds that will appear next spring.

If you have shrubs in the beds or are planting bulbs in them, it is wise to cultivate and water thoroughly after cleaning out the dead annuals.

Spring-flowering bulbs can be planted now as can shrubs and trees. Keep the soil around your trees and shrubs moist, especially the new plants. Remember, a moist plant will not be damaged by a freeze as quickly as a dry plant will, so keep trees, evergreens and shrubs watered. Dormant lawns should be watered monthly.

Airman Band Tours 7 States

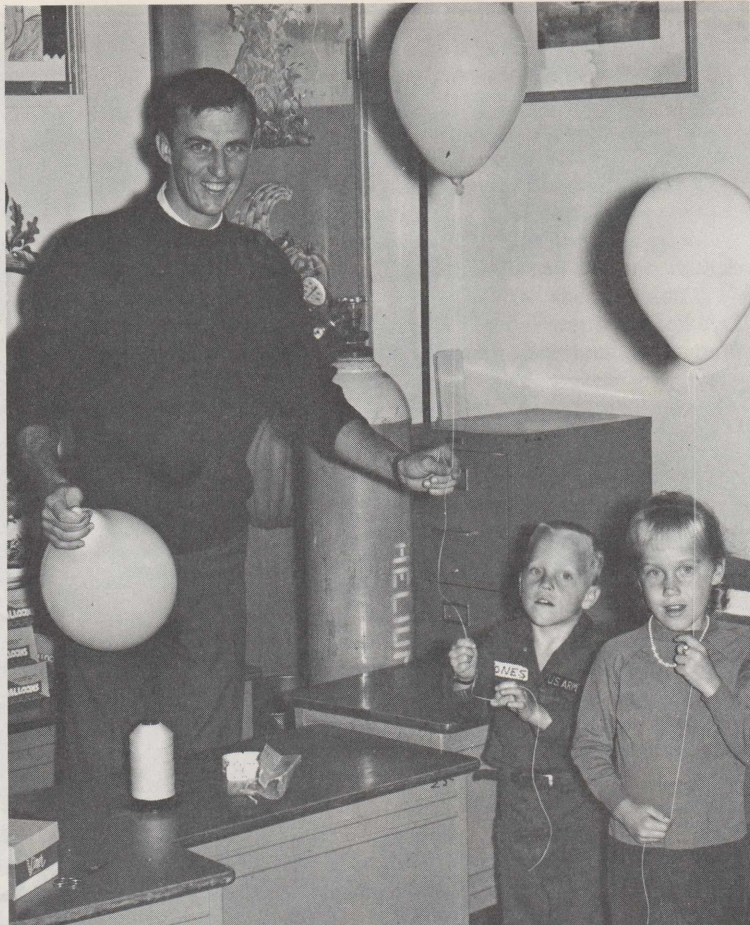

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Audiences in seven states will have the opportunity to hear the Airmen of Note, the Air Force dance orchestra, this month. The fall tour includes 38 concerts in 19 days to an estimated audience of more than 70,000. The orchestra is directed by CWO Bob Bunton.

After two concerts in Detroit, Nov. 4, the Airmen of Note continue their 2,292-mile journey through Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio and West Virginia.

Concerts are sponsored by the Air Force as a public service with assistance from local newspapers, television and radio stations, civic and educational institutions, and other civic-minded organizations. No admission fee is charged.

The Airmen of Note is a unit of the Air Force Band, assigned to Bolling AFB, D.C.

order and the traditional awards and recognition ceremony held. At this point, the Lubbock Chapter of the Air Force Association will make known its selection of Reese AFB's Outstanding NCO for 1968. This will be followed by a patriotic program featuring M. T. "Trigger" Kuykendall, World War I veteran, on the colors of the flag.

At about 9 p.m. the president of the mess will introduce the guest speaker, Dr. James Granberry, Mayor Pro Tem, City of Lubbock. His speech will be followed by the toasts to the guest speaker.

At approximately 9:30 p.m. the president of the mess will make his closing remarks and adjourn the ball by two raps of the gavel. Entertainment and dancing will follow for the remainder of the evening.

Special invited guests, aside from Chaplain Copeland, will include Col. and Mrs. Clyde J. Morganti and Harlan A. Hodges, Col. USAF Retired, the regional director, Northwest Texas, AFA, who will present the Outstanding NCO award.

The ball shapes up as the top social event of the year for enlisted personnel at Reese. Sergeant Helmick emphasized that the ball is open to all who wish to attend.
