Judges of the show will be Roy McClung, county agent of Baylor County at Seymour and George Blackburn, Throckmorton County Agent.

Head Coach Ray Overton, Jr. and assistants Jimmy Browning and Dick Gaines have been putting the squad through a rigorous training grind which included two-a-day sessions last week and the regular one-a-day workouts this week.

Also, the squad traveled to Merkel Friday night where they scrimmaged the Badgers, with the Tribe leading their opponents two touchdowns after two scrimmage sessions.

The Indians, advancing to the higher AA bracket this season, will be hampered by lack of experience. However, Coach Overton has a corps of conference veterans in the dozen Seniors on the squad, along with others who have shown up well in pre-season practice.

Reports from Jacksboro indicate that the Indians will face rugged opposition from the visitors in Friday night's encounter. The Tigers are veterans in AA competition and have plenty of weight and speed.

A near-capacity turn-out of fans is in prospect for the season opener, with a good sale of advance tickets reported. As in previous years, a play-by-play account of the game will be broadcast over the PA system in the press box. Thos. B. Robertson and Rex Felker will alternate as announcers.

'Law and Lawyers' Theme of Talk by Rotary Speaker

The law affects every individual, from birth to death, Judge Dennis F. Ratliff pointed out in an interesting and informative talk to the Rotary Club at the regular luncheon meeting Thursday at noon. Theme of his talk was "Law and Lawyers."

In addition to local members, visiting Rotarians present, included Rev. Davis Edens and Jimmy Turpin of Rochester; Jack Watson, Bernard Buie, L. L. Webb and Jimmy West, of Stamford. Club President Robt. R. King, presiding, reminded members of the Cemetery Working at 6 p. m. Thursday, after which he suggested they help with the painting project at Indian Field.

Judge Ratliff, veteran Haskell attorney and former District Judge, was introduced by Thos. B. Robertson, program chairman for the day.

Defining the law as a profession and not a trade, Judge Ratliff interspersed his talk with several anecdotes and cited excerpts from the book, "Prairie Dog Lawyer," by the late Judge Chas. Coombs of Stamford. The speaker also mentioned and paid tribute to early day lawyers of Haskell and West Texas.

"In simplest definition, our laws are the rules by which society restrains and controls the conduct of the individual," the speaker explained. His closing remarks dealt with court and attorney relations, the speaker explaining it was the duty of both to see that justice was administered impartially.

Help for the Taxpayer

The suggestion by a group of Negro citizens that the proposed new elementary school building for Negro students to be located in the City Park in North Haskell is under joint consideration by city and school officials.

Whatever decision is made is entirely a matter for the trustees, based on the site they believe will best meet the needs of the pupils and patrons to be served.

Site near the present Central Ward School would not require purchase of land and consequent additional expense.

If the park site is chosen, the City has asked that it be reimbursed for its investment in the park. This is not unreasonable, since much of the park equipment could be utilized as school playground equipment.

However, since the expenditures involved would come from the same source—the taxpayers' pocket—we believe the city could well afford to modify its request for full reimbursement of what has been spent on the park. Provided, of course, that the premises not required for the school plant would still be considered and used as a park, with no demands being made on the city by Negro residents for additional park facilities.

This action on the part of the city would save the taxpayers several thousand dollars, and at a time when they are being asked to dig deeper than ever before to meet their tax bills.

A Welcome to Our New Citizens

Stationing of members of the State Highway Patrol in Haskell is welcomed by our entire citizenship. Their coming means new families in the community, new personalities in our churches, clubs and civic groups.

Presence of these officers in Haskell and this area will be a factor in more effective traffic control in the territory they cover. With the continuing increase in highway traffic through Haskell and neighboring counties, enforcement of traffic regulations has become an ever-growing problem for local and area officers who also welcome the assignment of Highway Patrol members to the Haskell area.

Cooperation Does a Job

The clean, attractive appearance of Willow Cemetery is a tribute to the spirit of civic cooperation which exists in Haskell. To ric the cemetery premises of weeds, rank grass, and other undesirable growth which flourished after the Spring rains, required the work of a large number of persons.

The willingness of our citizens to volunteer their time and efforts when needed has been proven time after time. But to carry out a project such as cleaning up our cemetery called for more than willingness on the part of workers.

Organization and planning of the work to be done was the first step, and this was capably done by representatives of the variou civic clubs and organizations in the community. It would be impossib to single out any individual or organization for specific praise—each group and each person who worked in the project is to be commended.

The success with which the campaign was carried out is a splendid illustration that through unselfish cooperation, Haskell people can attain any objective desired.

Grid Season Opens This Week

Opening of the football season this week will afford Haskell fans their first opportunity to see a contest between high school conference teams on the local gridiron in two years. That, and the fact that the Indians are playing in AA bracket this year for the first time, has resulted in a brisk sale of season tickets, school officials report.
Season ticket books are still available as long as they last, and may be secured by calling the Chamber of Commerce office.

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

Without questioning the football prognosticating ability of our friend Fred Banner, we can't go along with him in the pre-season ratings of District 4-AA as he rated in the Abilene Reporter-News Sunday. As of today, we're placing the Indians in the No. 1 spot. This is in line with Fred's judgment that Haskell will finish ahead of Stamford, Hamlin, Anson, and our added opinion that the Indians will be wearing Panther robes after Oct. 18.

Thirteen years have passed but Cecil Bradley, former Haskellite who was here from Pampa for the weekend, still wonders who the two servicemen from Haskell were that he barely missed meeting in New York back in 1944.

A short time before going overseas, Cecil, an Army corporal, was glancing over the offerings in a large New York newsstand. "Looking for your hometown paper?" the news vendor asked. "Yeah, the Haskell Hay Press" Bradley answered. "Texas?" queried the vendor. "Right. Why?" Bradley asked in turn. "Must be a lotta guys from Haskell in service," the news dealer replied. "Two fellows in here a few minutes ago asked about a Haskell paper they called The Free Press."

Cpl. Bradley went on to spend almost a year in the European combat zone, and on various occasions ran across other servicemen from Haskell. He told of the newsstand incident several times, hoping to learn who the two fellows were he missed seeing in New York, but without success.

In a talk before a local civic club recently, Judge Dennis P.
Ratliff, a long-time attorney in Haskell, told the story of the young lawyer and his first client, a man who had a falling out with his neighbor, a cantankerous old character who had threatened to sue.

The young lawyer accompanied his prospective client to see the "ranky old man in an effort to settle the dispute amicably. Arbitration proved impossible, with the old man declaring firmly,

"I'm going to sue you in Justice Court." Whereupon the neighbor replied "Go ahead, I'll be there with my lawyer and we'll win the case."

Enraged, the old man stormed, "If you beat me in Justice Court, I'll sue you in County Court," and got the same reply, "I'll be there with my lawyer."
Then, in succession, the old man angrily declared he'd sue in District Court, in Appeals Court, in Supreme Court. Each time his neighbor calmly answered, "I'll be there with my lawyer."

In a final angry outburst the old man raged, "If you beat me in Supreme Court I'll sue you in H---!" Unperturbed, his neighbor cheerfully answered, "My lawyer'll be there." Dennis didn't admit he was the young lawyer, but he indicated that some people have a similar opinion as to the ultimate destination of lawyers.

Although he makes no claims as a champion roper, a man now living in Breckenridge has the distinction of being the only Haskell cowboy who ever roped a kangaroo—at least in this part of the world.
He is J. A. (Albert) Llam, and the incident happened some 40-odd years ago. Albert recalled Saturday while here on a visit with old friends.

Albert was working for the late W. T. Hudson at the time and one of his chores was to see after livestock in a small pasture south of town.
A combination wild animal show and carnival had set up in Haskell and its menagerie included a full-grown kangaroo. In some manner the kangaroo escaped the first night the show was here, and headed for open country.

Albert, unaware that the show had a kangaroo, and that the animal had escaped, was dumb-founded the next morning when he saw what looked like the "grand-daddy of all jackrabbits," hopping across the prairie, a short distance from where he was feeding cattle.
Taking after the critter on horseback, the young cowboy had trouble getting his skittish horse within roping range of the strange animal. Finally however, he roped the kangaroo and managed to tie up the critter. "It was hard to tell which was the most excited, the horse, the kangaroo or me," Albert declares. Sequel to the yarn is that when Albert came to town for help to load and bring in his catch he learned of the escaped kangaroo and the show people retrieved the animal.

Generals Lee and Grant fought on the same side in the Mexican War.

Farm Labor Panel Studies Need for Farm Workers

The Haskell County Farm Labor Committee which includes Joe Harper, Rex Feiker, W. M. Reed, Roy Johnson and Jetty V. Clare, held their initial meeting at 2 p. m. at the Chamber of Commerce in Haskell on Aug. 28. At that time Ben Fowler, office manager of the Wichita Falls office of the Texas Employment Commission stated the committee had been organized in compliance with the provisions of Public Law 78 requiring consultation with agricultural employers and employees and public representatives regarding the facts pertinent to citizen worker supply and wages paid such workers.

Fowler explained the general operation of the TEC with special emphasis on the farm activities, and the position and policy of the TEC in the Wage Survey procedure. Assistant Fort Worth District Director Joe K. Manahan, joined Fowler in the discussion.

Fowler reviewed Public Law 78, 82nd Congress, as amended in July, 1951, which permits the importation of Mexican Nationals into those areas in which sufficient citizen workers are not available to meet the needs of farmers or ranchers. The method employed by the TEC in determining local labor demands and crop conditions, and the procedure followed in contracting Mexican National workers were discussed. Fowler explained how the TEC determines the supply of available citizen workers, if any. This estimate of labor shortage anticipated in the area, the number of workers needed to off-set the shortage, and the time when additional workers will be needed is submitted to the Secretary of Labor. The TEC gathers the information, but the responsibility of Certification of shortage rests with the secretary of labor who also establishes the ceiling.

Fowler points out that Public Law 78 requires a bi-weekly survey in each county in which Mexican Nationals are employed. Again the TEC serves only to collect the information in behalf of the Secretary of Labor. The TEC representative contacts the farmers, crew leaders, and workers for information on wages actually paid citizen labor in specific areas and crop activities in which Mexican Nationals are employed. The TEC does not attempt to determine what wages should be. This agency merely collects the data and sends it to the Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., where the determination is made. Under law, the Secretary of Labor is responsible for determining the prevailing wage rate. When this determination is made, the findings are wired to the TEC offices serving the area. Copies of such reports will be posted in the post offices, the county courthouse, PMA office and chambers of commerce in each county. Local newspapers will also be furnished the information.

People who can easily pay any price say:

"Pay more... what for? Ford's the buy!"

Why? Because this 1957 Ford gives you the advanced features, the solid ride, the effortless handling that you once expected to find only in expensive cars. And when it comes to looks, where can you find fresher styling than in the sculptured-in-steel lines of this new Ford?

Ford's superiority is evident in many places. In the vital rear axle, the pinion gear that turns the rear wheels is straddle-mounted . . . supported between two anti-friction bearings instead of being "overhung" from a single bearing. This makes operation quieter, smoother and longer-lasting. It's a feature that Ford shares with only one other car maker in the world—Rolls Royce.

Or consider Ford's famous V-8 engine. No other manufacturer in the industry today electronically balances every V-8 engine, while operating under its own power, the way that Ford does. This means you get a smoother-running engine—the finest V-8 in Ford's 25 years of V-8 leadership.

These are only a few of the important hidden values that are yours in Ford. But they indicate why, so many people who can pay almost any price for a car—people who have driven expensive cars for years—are buying Ford today. Action Test this great performing car at your Ford Dealer's just once and you, too, will ask, "Pay more . . . what for?"

YOU CAN SPEND HUNDREDS MORE . . . BUT YOU CAN'T BUY BETTER THAN THE NEW KIND OF FORD

Ten Lettermen on Bulldog Squad

(Special)
The Weinert Bulldogs opened fall football practice Aug. 26 with Jerry King, Tiffen Mayfield, David Boykin, Royce Bowman, Luther Rainey, Bob Raynes Jr., W. J. Swanner, David Phemister and Elmer Adams. The lettermen will form the nucleus of the team this year. Ready to spell these 10 are Bobby Jenkins, Truitt Wren, Rex Herrick, Charles Therwanger, Keith Hobbs, Jimmy White, Jimmy Alexander, David Earle, Chelsey Forehand and Bill Rainey.
Kenneth Sanders fractured an ankle bone on the first day of practice and will be out of action for at least six weeks. The only boy lost from last year's squad was Bill Guess. This year's team lists only two seniors, a gain of one over last year; 10 juniors, six sophomores and three freshmen. The platoon system will be used as much as possible with a complete new team of offense and defense.
The boys have shown lots of spirit and drive and hope to have a good year. Following is a schedule of games to be played. Kickoff time will be 8:00 for September games and 7:30 for the October and November games.
Sept. 6—Roaring Springs at Weinert.
Sept. 13—Guthrie, there.
Sept. 20—Ackerly, there.
Sept. 26—Vera at Weinert.

TO THE SCHOOL TAX PAYER

You have seen the letter in The Haskell Free Press of last week explaining why it was necessary to raise your assessed Tax valuations.
You have the letter from the Equalization Board this week. These letters give you some specific facts about why there must be immediate action to protect the best interest of our schools.
Our School Board, a group of most patriotic citizens, who have volunteered their names for election by the people to an office without compensation; an office that requires regular meetings throughout the year, with many "call meetings" and many long hours spent by these men whose only purpose is to better-serve their community.
When they have prepared their budget they must compute the total by the rate to determine the funds available. In this they have found it necessary to raise our assessed valuations twenty-five per cent for the current year.

It is not the function of the Board of Equalization to raise or lower Taxes, except to equalize your rendition values with other property of the district. This we have made an earnest and diligent effort to do.
Your property renditions and tax valuations have been scrutinized and passed by equalization boards continuously for the past half century. It is perhaps very nearly right, yet we find there must be some adjustments each year.
If you have cause to believe that your property is not fairly appraised in comparison with other assessed tax values of the district, you are welcomed to meet with the equalization board and discuss your particular problem.
Sept. 11 9 a. m. at the High School building.

Officers Elected By Junior Class At First Meeting

Members of the Junior Class of Haskell High School met Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Library Room of high school in their first meeting of the school year. Mrs. R. C. Couch Jr., and Coach Richard Gaines, Junior Class sponsors, met with the group.
