Pet ordinance changes on agenda for city council Tuesday

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

Pet owners may want to pay attention to Tuesday's Big Spring City Council meeting. The council will be considering amendments to city ordinances which affect the required vaccinations and licensure of dogs and cats in Big Spring.

The council will meet in their chambers, 307 E. Fourth St., at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday.

The proposed ordinance changes include increasing the time between required rabies vaccinations from every year to every three years; and repealing the general requirement for animals to be licensed (although dangerous dogs must still be licensed).

The proposed changes also include increasing the impoundment fee for rabies vaccination from $15 to $20; although "certified animal rescuers" will still pay the $15 as a "discounted rate."

In other business, the council will consider granting permission to go out for bids on equipment and projects.

Among the projects up for consideration are repaving three city-owned parking lots: The east parking lot at City

Special to the Herald

Following an impressive year for the Coahoma FFA Chapter, three members are heading to the 91st National Convention and Expo to represent the program in three very different roles.

Julia Cox, Micah Worley, and Bailey Wells will all be flying out to Indianapolis this week to attend one of the largest student conventions in the world. More than 67,000 people are expected to participate in the four-day event.

Cox will be competing against 47 other students from around the nation in the Greenhand Creed recitation contest. She qualified for the national competition by earning the Texas state championship in 2017 as a freshman.

At nationals, Cox will be required to recite by memory the FFA Creed, which outlines the organization's belief on the agriculture industry, and then

Local high school debate teams to host public Town Hall meeting tomorrow

Special to the Herald

The debate teams of Big Spring High School and Forsan High School will host and moderate a Town Hall event with Miguel Levario, a candidate for U.S. Congress, on Tuesday, October 23 at 6pm in the Big Spring High School library.

This town hall meeting is a unique opportunity for high school students to participate in our American democratic process. The public is invited to watch our local students present questions that they have prepared themselves to a candidate for U.S. Congress.

"It is exciting to see the interest of our local high school debate teams in the political process. The questions they ask may offer a window into the interests of America's future electorate," said Edward Moughon.

"This town hall is a great teaching moment for the students and a learning experience for all voters," said Reina Cisneros.

Hall; as well as lots at two McMahan-Wrinkle Airpark locations, the Moventas building and the GEO office building. According to "Opinion of Probable Cost" documents provided by Jacob and Martin Engineering, the estimated cost of the City Hall lot is $153,033, the estimated cost of the Moventas lot is $101,444, and the estimated cost of the GEO lot is $233,118.

Another project being considered is purchase and installation of security cameras. The proposal is to make the purchase in the amount of $190,000 through the city's current security system provider, using the Buy Board purchasing co-op, which means bids on the work will not be required if the council approves the measure. The item is included in the city's budget, and will provide security coverage for new T-Hanger and Bunker buildings at the airpark.

Equipment being considered for purchase includes computers for the Information Technology Department. The purchase, for nine laptop computers and 38 office desktop computers, will cost $58,866 from Dell, and will be handled through the state's DIR purchasing co-op if approved by the council.

The total budgeted outlay for the items is about $2.4 million.

The council will also:

- Present a Rotary International proclamation declaring October 24, 2018 as "World Polio Day" in Big Spring;
- Consider amending the budget to pay for re-roofing City Hall, the City Hall Annex, and the Dora Roberts Community Center. If approved, the measure would increase the General Fund Budget by $70,494.30, the Utility Fund Budget by $177,668.12, and the Hotel/Motel Fund Budget by $118,835.36;

DPS Bolsters Efforts to Increase School Bus Safety

AUSTIN - In conjunction with National School Bus Safety Week (Oct. 22-26), the Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is urging Texans to comply with laws prohibiting drivers from passing stopped school buses. DPS Troopers across the state will be riding and/or following school buses to ensure that drivers are obeying school bus laws.

"DPS urges all motorists to make the safety of our schoolchildren a top priority year round, and to practice safe driving habits when traveling near school buses, in school zones and wherever children are present," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "Drivers who disregard the law needlessly put children in danger, and that type of reckless behavior will not be tolerated by law enforcement."

According to the Texas Education Agency, more than 43,000 school buses transport approximately 1.6 million Texas children every school day.

"A strong public education system starts with assuring our students safely travel to and from school," said Texas Commissioner of Education Mike Morath. "The Texas Education Agency joins with the Texas Department of Public Safety, local law enforcement and staff members at public schools across our state in this shared commitment to keep our students safe during National School Bus Safety Week and throughout the school year."

The moments when a student is entering or exiting the bus can be one of the most dangerous times of a child's trip on the school bus. It is illegal to pass a school bus that is stopped and operating a visual signal — either flashing red lights or a stop sign — and those who violate the law could face fines of up to $1,250. In an effort to increase the safety of student passengers, Troopers will also be patrolling areas where school buses are picking up or dropping off passengers.

In 2017 and year-to-date in 2018, Texas Highway Patrol Troopers have issued 1,394 citations and 685 warnings for passing a stopped school bus.

According to Texas statute, a driver — traveling in either direction on a roadway — must stop when approaching a school bus that is stopped and operating a visual signal. The driver may not proceed until one of the following occurs: the school bus resumes motion; the operator is signaled by the bus driver to proceed; or the visual signal is no longer activated.

If a road is divided only by a left-turning lane, drivers on both sides of the roadway must stop for school buses with alternating red flashing lights activated. However, if the lanes are separated by an intervening space or physical barrier, only motorists traveling in the same direction as the bus are required to stop.

(As a reminder, school buses, by law, must stop at all railroad crossings.)

Here are several safety measures drivers can take to help keep children safe: Be mindful of posted speed limits when driving in school zones and near buses.

Slow down and watch for children congregating near bus stops.

Be aware of student pedestrians and watch for children who may unexpectedly dart into the street without checking for traffic.

Know and obey the traffic laws regarding school buses in Texas.

FFA

answer questions directly related to the creed by the judges.

Her FFA Advisor Aaron Custer describes the sophomore Coahoma High School student as a strongly self-motivated person who is naturally competitive.

"One of the best tools we are using right now is Julia is working a lot with the freshman this year that are going to be competing in the district Greenhand Creed contest on Nov. 8," Custer said.

Her reversal from competitor to coach has helped Cox to gain new insights into the meaning of the FFA Creed, Custer said.

"I think she is so much better today than when she won the state championship because she understands more of it," he explained. "When you ask her the questions, it's not so much, I just got asked a question. What is the answer Mr. Custer wanted me to say? Now her answers are starting to evolve into how she sees things and feels."

Cox is the first FFA Coahoma member to attend a national competition and the first state championship in FFA Leadership Development (LD) events under Custer's 17-year advisorship role, however, it's not the only first for the program this year.

That honor also goes to Bailey Wells who was selected to the FFA National Band. Wells was chosen through a video audition process and will be joining musicians from around the nation to perform during the convention. She plays trumpet in the high school band and is a co-section leader.

"I bet I've had 10 to 15 kids through the years do the audition," Custer said. "I've never had a kid make it."

Wells was encouraged by her father, also a trumpet player, to try out. In high school, her father, Cody, was selected to the FFA National Band. The junior CHS student also said she wanted to lead by example to encourage her fellow peers to take chances.

The road to nationals as one of 75 Texas delegates was a lengthy one for Worley.

"Micah earned her spot last year when she won an area office," Custer said. "It's a long process. She interviewed with the nominating committee. She took a quiz showing her FFA knowledge, and she gave a speech in front of something like 450 to 500 kids."

"It would kill someone to go through that who didn't have the training they've had but by the time they are a junior in high school and the end of their junior year, it's just natural," Custer added.

During the convention, Worley will serve on a committee and conference with the other Texas voting delegates.

"Texas is the largest state association at Nationals," Custer said. "How we vote is a big thing. They will do tons of research. They will form alliances with other states to try to get things done the way the Texas feels it should go. It's a good lesson in politics."

A fourth Coahoma FFA member will be featured at nationals.

Emilee Custer will be the only FFA member from Texas who will be featured at We are FFA booth at the national convention. Emilee Custer's photo and biography will be shown with students across the nation to show off FFA's model members.

This is the largest representation of Coahoma FFA members to attend the national convention under Aaron Custer's advisorship. Since Aaron Custer joined Coahoma ISD, the FFA program has grown tremendously. Currently, 120 students are members of the Coahoma Chapter. Last year that membership was 100.

"The program is continually changing with different participants who have different talents and interest," Custer said. "We promote diversity, the more more diverse we can be the better our chapter is."

Besides boasting a state champion in the 2017 LD events, the Coahoma Chapter had two teams place in the top 10 in the state their division Month. Except for skin cancer, breast cancer is the most common cancer in American women," she said.

Brownfield went more in to detail about breast cancer and how much it effects so many people, stating that currently, the average risk of a woman in the United States developing breast cancer sometime in her life is about 12%. This means that there is a one in eight chance she will develop breast cancer. But, this also means there is a seven in eight chance one will never have the disease.

"Breast cancer is the second leading cause of cancer death in women. In 2018 (the remainder of), about 266,120 new cases of invasive breast cancer will be diagnosed in women, and about 63,960 new cases of non-invasive will be diagnosed," said Brownfield. "This is a serious cause, and this event helps raise awareness for it. All the proceeds go back to the American Cancer Society Relay for Life Senior Rockets. Also to help give just a little more incentive, we will have prizes for the winners."

The first place winner of the Bling your Bra will get four tickets to Six Flags. Other prizes will be awarded for the runner ups.

"We encourage everyone to come out. We will be auctioning off last years awesome blinged bras just as a way to raise a little extra money where it is really needed," said Brownfield.

Funds raised will benefit the Relay For Life Senior Rockets Team. For more information regarding the event or the Senior Rockets Team, please call Christy Brownfield at 432-816-2977.

Radio Broadcasting and Ag Advocacy.

Aaron Custer gives his students all the the credit for the chapter's success.

"It's the kids more than anything," Custer said. "They buy in and work hard. You get a really good foundation group. We just had a large group of kids at one time and they just pushed."

FFA - Future Farmers of America - is a national, student-run program designed to bring about personal growth, leadership skills, and community mindedness in young people through agricultural education.

"FFA is the praxium. It's putting agriculture knowledge to use," Custer explained. "We teach them how to sell themselves. I tell them no what matters what happens, no matter what job you are going to do, the most important thing you will ever do in your life is to sell yourself."

Custer said the program teaches a number of value-based lessons including responsibility, service and character along with providing an insight into the fundamental importance agriculture is to our society.

"It's about agriculture and agriculture education," Custer said. "There is a huge place for it in these lives. It's amazing to see a lot of these kids don't know where their clothes come from, and they don't know that we rely on agriculture all day, every day."

"It's neat to see the lights come on and see them start to develop a passion not only for the FFA but for the agriculture that goes with it," he continued. "We are making a more informed consumer out there and the kind of kid that society needs."

Dallas Cowboys kicker Brett Maher (2) reacts after missing a field goal in the closing seconds of an NFL football game against the Washington Redskins, Sunday, Oct. 21, 2018 in Landover, Md.

LANDOVER, Md. — NO ONE over the winning Washington Redskins or the losing Dallas Cowboys seemed entirely sure about the rule that led to a penalty for "snap infraction." That flag turned a 47-yard field-goal try into a 52-yarder that slammed off the left upright as time expired. "I don't know what happened there," said Redskins coach Jay Gruden, after his club avoided overtime and edged the Cowboys 20-17 Sunday to remain alone atop the NFC East when Dallas' Brett Maher missed the potential tying kick. The call, in a nutshell: A Redskins lineman moved early, but the flag went against Cowboys long snapper L.P. Ladoceur, because he moved the football illegally. That last part was news to Ladoceur, the longest-tenured member of Dallas' roster. "Exactly same thing I've been doing for 14 years," he said. Asked how often he's seen that call in the NFL, Cowboys coach Jason Garrett said: "I don't know. Once? Twice? Not very often." Maher's take? "I've never seen anything like that before," he said, "but it's my job to kick it, wherever it was." His miss foiled a spirited comeback attempt after Redskins linebacker Ryan Kerrigan's strip-sack of Cowboys quarterback Dak Prescott was recovered for a touchdown by Preston Smith with just under five minutes left in the fourth quarter. "Scoop and score," said Smith. "Yeah, that was one of the easiest touchdowns I ever had." That made it 20-10 and was Washington's fourth sack of Prescott, who used smelling salts and was checked for a concussion in the first quarter after taking a shoulder to his helmet at the end of a run. The QB didn't miss a play, returning for the Cowboys' next possession. Prescott lost two fumbles in the game, including one on an earlier fourth-and-1 keeper. The Redskins (4-2) won consecutive games for the first time this season. The Cowboys dropped to 0-4 on the road, 3-4 overall, as they head into their bye week. Washington won this one thanks to its staunch defense and 99 yards on 24 carries from Adrian Peterson, who helped mask the latest so-so performance from quarterback Alex Smith and a generally iffy offense that was missing three injured playmakers. The Redskins twice had to settle for short field goals in the second half despite having first-and-goal opportunities. On each of those possessions, Alex Smith missed an open receiver in the end zone from down close. Washington's QB finished 14 for 25 for 178 yards, including a 23-yard TD on a swing pass to Kapri Bibbs in the first quarter. But there were some questionable decisions, including running out of bounds on third down with 78 seconds left, stopping the clock before a punt gave the ball back to Dallas. The Redskins limited Ezekiel Elliott, the NFL's No. 2 rusher entering the week, to 34 yards on 15 carries, the second-lowest total of his pro career. "He's a great, great player," Gruden said. Bortles benched, Jaguars implode after 20-7 loss to Texans

Jacksonville Jaguars quarterback Blake Bortles, bottom, fumbles the ball as Houston Texans linebacker Whitney Mercilus (59) dives to make the recovery during the first half of an NFL football game, Sunday, Oct. 21, 2018, in Jacksonville, Fla.

By MARK LONG
AP Sports Writer
JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — Blake Bortles is no longer Jacksonville's starting quarterback. Whether he regains the job in the next week is anybody's guess. Bortles fumbled on the team's third play of each half, leading to 10 points and his benching in a 20-7 loss to AFC South rival Houston on Sunday. Coach Doug Marrone yanked Bortles after the second turnover — his eighth in three games — and gave former Cleveland starter Cody Kessler a shot. Marrone gave no indication afterward if Bortles or Kessler would be under center when the reeling Jaguars (3-4) play a "home game" against Philadelphia (3-4) in London next week. "It's open," Marrone said. "Who's the starter at right tackle? Who's the starter at center? Who's the starter at receiver? Everything is open. We've lost three straight games and we can't stop shooting ourselves in the foot for lack of a better expression. ... We've got to do something, but the first thing we've got to do is stop turning the damn ball over. Period. That would be the positive of how we can build." Jacksonville's third consecutive lopsided loss triggered quarterback indecision and heated commotion. When the locker room doors opened for media members, Calais Campbell could be seen holding back fellow defensive end Yannick Ngakoue. It was carry-over from an emotional postgame that included screaming, shouting and finger pointing. "You all walk in here, you all see how it is in here, you all see how we vibe with each other, you all see how we vibe toward the coaches, you all see how it is," cornerback Jalen Ramsey said. "It is no secret what's going on here right now. Ain't nobody going to say it because we can't. But it ain't no secret what's going on and it ain't right right now." Ngakoue declined comment, as did safety Tashaun Gipson and cornerback A.J. Bouye. Their silence spoke volumes for a team that appears to be in upheaval — a huge fall after starting the season with Super Bowl expectations. "I don't speak on locker room business," linebacker Telvin Smith said. "Don't ask me locker room questions." Not everyone ducked the obvious. "Be frustrated. Be frustrated all week. Change something," defensive tackle Malik Jackson said. "Change something you need to do. We need to look ourselves in the mirror and just fix it. I can't sit here and tell you what we need to do, what we need to be done. I don't know. I just know that we need to be where we're supposed to be and just something needs to change." The Texans (4-3) don't need to change anything after a fourth consecutive victory gave them a one-game lead in the division. Deshaun Watson threw a touchdown after making the 800-mile trip to Jacksonville on a private bus to avoid potential problems that flying and cabin pressure might pose to his bruised lung and injured ribs. There was nothing much to the play. The ace of spades was led, and Forquet took the rest of the tricks to score 620 points.

At the second table, where the North-South cards were held by Americans Ron Von der Porten and Lew Mathe, the bidding started in a highly unusual fashion when all four players in turn bid spades!

Redble
The two-spade opening by Walter Avarelli, playing the Roman Club system with Giorgio Belladonna, indicated a hand containing at least five spades and at least four clubs.
Mathe then showed a powerful hand by cuebidding spades directly.
Belladonna raised his partner to four spades, and Von der Porten bid five spades, asking Mathe to bid a slam in his best suit.
Mathe obliged by bidding six diamonds, which Belladonna doubled.
Von der Porten, showing complete faith and confidence in his partner, redoubled.
Belladonna, knowing his partner had some values in clubs, decided to lead that suit. As a result, Mathe made all 13 tricks to score 2,180 points, producing the largest single gain of the 144-board match.

Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku

savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Libra Sun Final Words

Things change. Moods, circumstances, beliefs, people... it all changes. The diplomatic Libra sun leaves us with final words on conflict resolution. Be flexible. An ultimatum is rarely the way to go; that's the power play for those too immature to understand nuanced agreement and create fluid arrangement that stand the test of time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Start with you. Don't even give it a second thought. If you're not compassionate and kindhearted toward yourself, you'll resent whatever generosity you give others.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Every communication requires interpretation, and there's always a little something lost in the translation. However, today you'll get as close to pure communication as is humanly possible.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). There are many ways to see it. The first one that comes to mind may put you in a down position, as if something was happening to you instead of for you. Step back. How many other ways can you see it?

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Variety will serve you well in all things, especially variety of thought. One way of thinking gets as boring as eating only one food or hearing the same song over and over. Welcome those who challenge your mindset.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Your compassion and sensitivity will be put to the test. Keep in mind that people often try to hide their discomfort, and those who don't feel well are using a lot of energy to just to do the baseline normal things.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). The advice you get today will be like something you buy at a high-end store. The quality may be there, but if you try it on and it doesn't fit, the quality is beside the point. Return it and try something else.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). What do you think about your own behavior? You haven't stopped to consider this in a little while, but it matters. Time for a check-in. Give yourself the room to reflect and re-group.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Everyone is toting a pocket full of personal prejudice. Their thought processes have little to do with you, and a lot to do with what's in that pocket. So there's no use worrying what they think of you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Today, it's not absolutely clear what is true and what isn't, so maybe ponder other things, for instance, who you want to be in the world and what you would need to believe to get there.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Maybe those who are supposed to be supporting you do not, in fact, have what you need. These things happen, and you can't let it stop you. Hold onto hope and look elsewhere.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Some say love makes the world go 'round; others credit misunderstanding with the rotation. As for you, it's still unclear which you're chasing after today, love or a misunderstanding about love.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). People took from you. What they took they gave. You're stronger for dealing with weakness, richer for learning how to support yourself when they didn't, and you love truer because you know the difference.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 22). That a thrill! This year brings exceptional circumstances far beyond the magnitude of what typically occurs in your world. Highlights will include love that sets you off balance and has your heart leaping, some professional validation to revel in and a truly glorious meeting of the minds. Taurus and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 22, 18, 4, 9 and 32.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTION: "My husband and I have been estranged for about a year. Now he wants to get back together and for the most part I don't think it's a good idea. How can I trust him after he ran off to Japan and had an affair? I want to be strong and move on. But instead of asking for a divorce, I call him in the middle of the night. It's like I can only stay away for so long until my lower instincts take over. Will I ever find true love? He's a Capricorn, and I'm a Scorpio."

As the sign of transformation, you are usually a fan of change, or at least you're not as afraid of it as most people tend to be. You typically like to cut your losses quickly and get on with the business of creating your new life. The theme of "cutting" is a strong one with Scorpio. Yours is the sign of surgery and the metaphor shows up often in your life. As much as you'd like to sever your marriage connection, the bonds of love aren't so easily snipped. Your soul is sewn to your husband's in many dimensions. So allow yourself the grieving process and be patient as this will take time and could develop in ways that you can't see yet from this vantage.

CELEBRITY PROFILES: Physician and mind-body-spirit guru Deepak Chopra is on a mission to help people learn how to heal themselves through meditation and Ayurvedic practice. Whether debating with scientists, talking afterlife with spiritual leaders or hanging out with Lady Gaga, the lighthearted Libra (born under a Libra moon, too) brings an intelligence and levity to even the most serious endeavors.

Today is Monday, Oct. 22, the 295th day of 2018. There are 70 days left in the year.

On Oct. 22, 1979, the U.S. government allowed the deposed Shah of Iran to travel to New York for medical treatment — a decision that precipitated the Iran hostage crisis.

On this date: In 1746, Princeton University was first chartered as the College of New Jersey.

In 1797, French balloonist Andre-Jacques Garnerin (gahr-nayr-AN') made the first parachute descent, landing safely from a height of about 3,000 feet over Paris.

In 1811, composer and piano virtuoso Franz Liszt was born in the Hungarian town of Raiding (RY-ding) in present-day Austria.

In 1928, Republican presidential nominee Herbert Hoover spoke of the "American system of rugged individualism" in a speech at New York's Madison Square Garden.

In 1934, bank robber Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd was shot to death by federal agents and local police at a farm near East Liverpool, Ohio.

In 1962, in a nationally broadcast address, President John F. Kennedy revealed the presence of Soviet-built missile bases under construction in Cuba and announced a quarantine of all offensive military equipment being shipped to the Communist island nation.

In 1981, the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization was decertified by the federal government for its strike the previous August.

In 1986, President Reagan signed into law sweeping tax-overhaul legislation.

In 1991, the European Community and the European Free Trade Association concluded a landmark accord to create a free trade zone of 19 nations by 1993.

In 2001, a second Washington, D.C., postal worker, Joseph P. Curseen, died of inhalation anthrax.

In 2002, bus driver Conrad Johnson was shot to death in Aspen Hill, Md., in the final attack carried out by the "Beltway Snipers."

In 2014, a gunman shot and killed a soldier standing guard at a war memorial in Ottawa, then stormed the Canadian Parliament before he was shot and killed by the usually ceremonial sergeant-at-arms.

Ten years ago: Wall Street tumbled again as investors worried that the global economy was poised to weaken. The major indexes fell more than 4 percent, including the Dow Jones industrial average, which finished with a loss of 514 points. The fishing vessel Katmai sank in the Bering Sea off Alaska's Aleutian Islands, killing seven crewmen; four survived. India launched its first mission to the moon to redraw maps of the lunar surface. (India lost contact with its lunar satellite Chandrayaan-1 last August.) The Philadelphia Phillies won Game 1 of the World Series, defeating the Tampa Bay Rays 3-2.

Five years ago: The United States defended drone strikes targeting al-Qaida operatives and others, rejecting reports by Human Rights Watch and Amnesty International questioning the legality of attacks that the groups asserted had killed or wounded scores of civilians in Yemen and Pakistan.

One year ago: The latest allegations of sexual harassment or assault in Hollywood targeted writer and director James Toback; the Los Angeles Times reported that he had been accused of sexual harassment by 38 women. U.S.-backed fighters in Syria captured the country's largest oil field from the Islamic State group, marking a major advance against the extremists. Japanese Prime Minister Shinzo Abe scored a major victory in national elections that decisively returned his ruling coalition to power.

Mahomes torches Bengals for 4 TDs as Chiefs roll, 45-10

Kansas City Chiefs quarterback Patrick Mahomes (15) throws away the ball with his left hand as he is tackled by Cincinnati Bengals defensive tackle Andrew Billings, rear, in the second half of an NFL football game in Kansas City, Mo., Sunday, Oct. 21, 2018.

KANSAS CITY, Mo. —The Chiefs' record-setting quarterback wound up throwing for 358 yards and four touchdowns Sunday in New England by throttling the Cincinnati Bengals 45-10 before a boisterous crowd at Arrowhead Stadium.

Lamar Miller ran for 100 yards and a score. And the defense did the rest, forcing three turnovers and sacking Kessler four times.

Houston hosts Miami (4-3) on Thursday night.

"We were down and out and everybody was counting us out," Texans linebacker Whitney Mercilus said. "The thing is, we have guys on this team who understand that early on it doesn't matter. We just put our heads down and kept working and now we have to continue to do the same thing."

Here are some other things we learned about the Texans and Jaguars:

HAL STARTS

Texans safety Andre Hal, who returned to practice this week following treatment for Hodgkin's lymphoma, was in the starting lineup. Hal was diagnosed with the disease in May and immediately began treatment. He received the news of his remission last month. The game was emotional because his father, Andre Hal Sr., died Tuesday, a few days suffering a heart attack.

"This was good for my dad," Hal said. "He wanted me back on the field and I know he was watching me there today. ... People didn't really think I'd come back, but I knew I would come back. It was cool seeing everyone kind of show some love to me."

ONE-HANDED CATCH

DeAndre Hopkins won several one-on-one matchups against Ramsey. His best was a one-handed catch for 31 yards along the sideline in the first quarter.

"That catch at the beginning of the game really got us going," Texans coach Bill O'Brien said. "He made some big plays for us. That's Hop."

ANOTHER SHUTOUT

The Jaguars failed to score in the first half for the third straight week, the first time they've done that in franchise history. They have been outscored 57-0 in the opening two quarters in losses to Kansas City, Dallas and Houston.

"It takes all 11 men on defense to get him stopped, and our defensive line played outstanding."

Prescott was 22 for 35 for 273 yards, with one TD pass and one TD run. He connected with rookie receiver Michael Gallup on a 49-yard score a minute before halftime that made the score 7-all, then — after Kerrigan's key play made it 20-10 — scored on a 1-yard quarterback draw to cut Dallas' deficit to three points with 1½ minutes remaining.

The Cowboys got the ball back and drove into Redskins territory thanks, in part, to three consecutive completions from Prescott to Beasley that ate up a total of 33 yards.

But in the final seconds, Dallas seemed content to try to get to OT rather than pushing for a go-ahead TD.

And, well, the field goal did not go according to plan.

"It didn't come down to the kick," Dallas right guard Zack Martin said. "It came down to the first three quarters leading up to that."

PASSING THE SMELL TEST

Prescott was nonchalant about the being captured by a TV camera using smelling salts, saying, "I do that every game." Redskins LB Mason Foster agreed that it's commonplace in the NFL. "I feel like everybody uses them, just to wake up or whatever. It's almost like a habit."

INJURIES

Cowboys: Martin sprained his knee but remained in the game. ... CB C.J. Goodwin broke his forearm. ... TE Geoff Swaim left with a knee injury.

Redskins: Both Kerrigan (chest) and Preston Smith (ankle) briefly left the game with injuries but returned. ... CB Fabian Moreau hurt his ankle in the last minute of the fourth quarter.

UP NEXT

Cowboys: Bye week. Return to host Titans on Nov. 5.

Redskins: At New York Giants next Sunday.
