Big Spring High School class of 2020 is asking the public of Howard County to help them create memories by signing up for your chance to win big, and just in time for Christmas.

"We are only selling 1,000 tickets, we have about 100 left! The money will be used for Prom 2019 and Project Graduation for Class of 2020," said Honey Joy, who is a local Mom trying to help the Sponsors and Class of 2020. "We have narrowed it down to four different prom themes, then the class will vote."

Rules or restrictions for your chance to win are:

• Participants must be 18 years of age.

• Purchases are cash only no other form of payment may be received.

• On your ticket it's important that you print legibly. If the ticket drawn can't be read, another ticket will be

"These fundraisers help so much to allow the juniors to put on a very nice prom for the outgoing Senior Class," said Joy. "And for us to have funds for the senior year activities so parents can focus on making memories instead of fundraisers."

The prize for first place will include two tickets, at the 50 yard line, for the Dec. 23, 2018 Dallas Cowboys home football game versus the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, $200 Visa Gift Card, and Cowboy fan gear. There will also be a $2,000 cash prize for second place, and an Orion cooler, and a donated gift basket item for 3rd Place. Drawing is Friday, Dec. 14, at the basketball games at Steer Gym.

If they want a ticket they can contact Honey Joy at 432-213-3263 or Porsha Bryant at 432-268-3879.

Marco Antonio De la Garza Jr. has pleaded not guilty to charges of making false statements to authorities.

Authorities say De la Garza claimed he was born in Texas, when he was actually born in Mexico.

He is accused of lying about his citizenship during a background-check update tied to his iob.

De la Garza also is accused of making false statements about his birth country last year when he sought a U.S. passport.

Over the years, the federal government has been criticized for not performing adequate background checks on people seeking jobs as border agents.

French police fire tear gas in Paris to halt angry protests Crowds of yellow-vested protesters angry at President Emmanuel Macron and France's high taxes tried to converge on the presidential palace Saturday, some scuffling with police firing tear gas, amid exceptional security measures aimed at preventing a repeat of last week's rioting.

Associated Press

PARIS (AP) — French riot police fired tear gas and water cannon in Paris on Saturday, trying to stop thousands of yellow-vested protesters from converging on the presidential palace to express their anger at high taxes and French President Emmanuel Macron.

Security officials imposed a lockdown on parts of central Paris, determined to prevent a repeat of the rioting a week ago that damaged a major monument, injured 130 people and tarnished the country's global image.

Blue armored vehicles rumbled across cobblestone streets from the Arc de Triomphe across toward eastern Paris as scattered demonstrations spread around the city. Police were mounted on horses and surrounded protesters with trained dogs. A ring of steel surrounded the Elysee Palace itself, as police stationed trucks and reinforced steel barriers in streets throughout the entire neighborhood.

Associated Press reporters witnessed multiple protesters hurt in Saturday's clashes with police. Paris police said 30 people were injured, including three police officers. An AP video journalist was wounded in the leg as police fired tear gas and rubber bullets on the Champs-Elysees.

Some stores along the Champs-Elysee had boarded up their windows with plywood, making the neighborhood appear like it was bracing for a

There are a lot of children out there who may not get the same benefits as other children, and Christmas is such an important time in the life a child. It's imperative that the community come together to help every child experience the love and generosity of true Christmas spirit. There have been several business and individuals who have donated either money or toys to the Chamber's cause.

> "We want to thank everyone who has donated, to all the businesses who have donated to every single stranger. It helps more than you know" said Valverde.

was formed after three bikers were killed by a drunk driver in April 2018 on State Highway 158. Big Spring State Park is an ideal place for the group's first major project, she said. "From a perspective of what we have in West Texas, number one. the elevation is key. It's ideal to put in any type of trail. It's beautiful out there. It's just a treasure that Big Spring has. It's so surprising that more hasn't been more done with Big Spring State Park. There's so much potential there," she said. "Then, number two, with it being a state park, we don't have to worry about that land ever being reassessed for oil and gas or whatever. It's going to stay there."

urday tried to rip the boards off.

Protesters threw flares and other projectiles and set fires but were repeatedly pushed back by tear gas and water cannon. By mid-afternoon, more than 700 people had been stopped and questioned, and more than 400 were being held in custody, according to a Paris police spokeswoman.

Despite the repeated skirmishes, Saturday's anti-government protests appeared less chaotic and violent than a week ago, when crowds defaced the Arc de Triomphe, set vehicles ablaze and looted high-end stores in the city's worst rioting since 1968.

Prized Paris monuments and normally bustling shopping meccas were locked down Saturday at the height of the holiday shopping season. The Eiffel Tower and Louvre Museum were among the many tourist attractions that closed for the day, fearing damages amid a new round of protests. Subway stations in the center of town were shut down.

The vellow vest movement named after the fluorescent outerwear French drivers must keep in their vehicles — started as a protest against higher taxes for diesel and gas, but quickly expanded to encompass wide frustration at stagnant incomes, the rising cost of living and other grievances.

Macron on Wednesday agreed to abandon the fuel tax hike, which aimed to wean France off fossil fuels and uphold the Paris climate agreement, but that hasn't defused the anger.

After two weekends of violence in Paris that made the authorities look powerless, police went into overdrive Saturday to keep a lid on unrest. Police frisked people or searched bags throughout central Paris, and confiscated gas masks and protective goggles from AP journalists.

Protesters who came to Paris from Normandy described seeing officers block yellow-vested passengers from boarding public transportation at stops along their route. The national gendarme service posted a video on Twitter of police tackling a protester and confiscating his dangerous material, which appeared to be primarily a tennis racket.

Macron's government had warned that the yellow vest protests had crehurricane. Angry protesters on Sat- tried to march down the Champs-Elysees Avenue toward the presidential palace.

> Rows of helmeted, thickly protected riot police blocked their passage down the Champs-Elysees toward the heart of presidential power. So the protesters tried other routes, marching through the prime shopping district that includes the high-end stores of Galeries Lafayette and Printemps and the Palais Garnier opera house.

> National police estimated the number of protesters in Paris on Saturday at 8,000, among 31,000 protesters nationwide. They appeared to be outnumbered by police, with 8,000 officers deployed in the capital alone and 89,000 fanned out around the country.

> The yellow vests include people with views that range from the far right to the far left. The group has no leaders but is united in its feeling that Macron and his government are out of touch with the concerns of ordinary French families.

> "We are here to tell (Macron) our discontent. Me, I'm not here to break things because I have four children so I am going to try to be safe for them, because they are afraid," protester Myriam Diaz told the AP. "But I still want to be here to say 'Stop, that's enough, this has to stop."

> Cyril, a garbage truck driver in Normandy who earns 1,430 euros ($1,625) a month, said Macron's mistake was trying to reform France too quickly.

> "I don't want to have kids because I have trouble feeding myself, let alone another mouth," the 25-year-old told the AP, saying he came to Paris to demonstrate and "defend myself."

> Interior Minister Christophe Castaner urged calm.

> "I ask the yellow vests that want to bring about a peaceful message to not go with the violent people. We know that the violent people are only strong because they hide them. s e l v e s within the yela career traveling coast to coast in the Maintenance and software development industries. Thirteen years ago she bought 30 acres of land south of Pittsburg, Texas, hired a contractor to build some guest cottages, hired a forester to plant dozens of pine trees, opened a bed and breakfast facility and named it the Lavender Mermaid.

"We had a lake house on Lake Cypress Springs east of here for 18 years. We bought a statue of a mermaid for the lake house. Then we bought another. Friends who came to see us would bring us mermaid memorabilia and we have plenty of it now, hundreds of items in fact. We love the smell of lavender, the healing aspect of it and I cook with it."

The Lavender Mermaid can sleep 10 comfortably in 3 individual cottages and one duplex. All have private porches that look out on the piney woods. The place ichelle Smith had has received some good publicity from East Texas publications. County Line Magazine calls it the best B&B. Piney Woods Life calls it the most romantic B&B. It has been featured on television, radio and in Texas Highways magazine. Guest books in the cottages are full of praises from satisfied customers. The majority of the guests come from Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas. Some come from as far away as Alaska and England. The usual stay is 2 or 3 nights, although some guests stay a week or more.

Michelle has adapted to SMITH life in the woods. "When I came out here I left Dallas and big corporate America and became a country girl.

I found a whole new way of life and I love it."

Her bed and breakfast is just up the road from Los Pinos Winery. "We're right in the middle of the Piney Woods wine trail," says Michelle. "There are 10 wineries within an hour from here."

Nobody ever leaves hungry.

She delivers breakfast to your door every morning. "It's typical to get brown crusted quiche, fresh fruit salad swirled in lavender syrup, home made granola, home made blueberry lime jam made from blueberries that grow here, fresh blueberry scones, and honey made from beehives on the property. I make chocolate lavender truffles that have just a hint of lavender. I put those by your bed at night so you'll have sweet dreams."

The B&B is remote. It's easy to miss the sign giving directions to it, even though you're going slow because of the narrow rough road. It has a quiet, relaxing atmosphere. And the smell of lavender growing along the walkways is intoxicating. There is a pastoral reverence about the place. "People come here to get away from the hustle and bustle of the big city. They sit on the porch and smell the pines, hear the birds and other country sounds. It's a real relief from everyday life."

DAILY PRAYER

LORD, we seek your face and long to find you. Amen

Room for one more?

anyone on the planet engage us to the degree that a 20th century icon did? More specifically, can anyone "grab" us visually the way he did--that prolific author, painter and illustrator who reached Americans' innermost cockles with a paint brush and canvas?

That icon re-defined sentimentality with engaging covers on The Saturday Evening Post 321 times during the publication's 66 years of weekly magazines. His name was Norman Rockwell. Some wellknown critics refused to take his works seriously, even failing to call him an artist. Rockwell agreed, but still turned out more than 4,000 original works, capturing the hearts of a grateful nation, up to and including U.S. presidents....

"Have you seen Rockwell's Post cover this week?" was a question heard often from border to border and from shore to shore. His covers sparked convivial conversation across backyard fences, in barber and beauty shops and thousands of other places across the land.

He painted happiness--claiming that his own delight came from putting paint to canvas--producing works that tugged on the heartstrings of us all. Yep, warm "fuzzies" were his specialty. I doubt if there'll ever be another person who will match his artistic touch.

With new technology, however, graphics on TV and computer screens perhaps have similar s a puzzlement. Can impact, but only for a second, or ing done by individuals, churcheven a split second....

> I saw such a graphic this very day, thanks to Google. The computer image ushered in the year's final month, showing two mountain goats, each on tiny ledges poking out from a gargantuan mountainside.

It appeared that the two live, identifiable creatures--perched on just enough rock to accommodate four feet--were happy enough. And somehow, we assume those goats will find ways to move on. In many ways, we share these goats' plight. As culture closes in, the tiny space each of Don us occupies grows smaller.

Christmas--that day annually observed to acknowledge the birth of Our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ--can't come soon enough this year. We pray that our ledges will somehow be expanded--comforted with the assurance that the same God who has intervened in the affairs of man throughout history--is still in charge....

If "all the world's a stage"--as Shakespeare claimed in his play As You Like It--we are players moving far too fast on whirling stages where tiny mountain ledges seem far apart-it remains our challenge to seek out "positives."

Even while tossed about in a world where too much is wedged into the living of each day, there still are many folks who are constantly in the "doing good" mode.

These "brother's keepers," however, continue to expand ledges and offer hope on life's mountains. Tons of the good bees, organizations and agencies never make it to the scales for weighing. Thankfully, though, some unselfish deeds come to light, and many of them deserve spotlights and unending applause....

Let's focus on one individual whose generous heart must have might near burst out of his overalls. How else would one explain his decision to help almost 1,100 folks, none of whom he knows by name or are involved in any way in his business enterprises?

His name is Bob Wilson, who, upon learning of the devastation of Camp Fire at Paradise, CA, High School, decided to write personal $1,000 checks to each of the 980 students and 105 faculty/ staff members. He lives 500 miles from the victims. Yet, he decided within minutes to respond positively to the call of his heart.

Mr. Wilson wanted to help restore a sense of hopefulness to youngsters who seemed suddenly robbed of happy, high school years. He remembers his own so fondly. He personifies whoever said, "Don't give 'til it hurts, give 'til it feels good." Through such generosity, this wonderful philanthropist has magnified the size and number of ledges on life's mountain....

Mary Higgins Clark and Alafair Burke are back with their fourth book in the Under Suspicion series; "Every Breath You Take," (AUCD F CLA M) read by Heather Lind. Laurie Moran's professional life is a success, her television show Under Suspicion is a hit, both in the ratings and its record of solving cold cases. Her romantic break from former host Alex Buckley has left her with on-air talent she can't stand--Ryan Nichols. Now Ryan has suggested a new case, the Met Gala Murder. Three years ago, Virginia Wakeling, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, was found dead in the snow after being thrown from the museum's roof on the night of its most celebrated fundraiser, the Met Gala. The leading suspect then and now is her much younger boyfriend and personal trainer, Ivan Gray. Ivan runs a trendy, successful boutique gym called Punch, a business funded largely by the late Virginia. Laurie's skepticism about the case is upended by a tip from her father's NYPD connection, and soon she realizes there are a group of suspects, including members of Virginia's trusted inner circle. As the Under Suspicion crew pries into the lives of a super wealthy real estate family with secrets to hide, danger mounts for several witnesses and for Laurie.

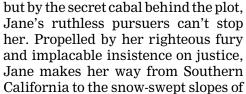

The search for a legendary automobile threatens the careers and lives of husband-and-wife team Sam and but by the secret cabal behind the plot, Remi Fargo in this thrilling adventure in Clive Cussler's "The Gray Ghost" (AUCD F CUS C) read by Scott Brick. In 1906, a groundbreaking Rolls-Royce prototype known as the Gray Ghost vanishes from the streets of Manchester, England. It is only the lucky intervention of an American detective named Isaac Bell that prevents it from being lost forever. Not even he can save the good name of Jonathan Payton, however, the man wrongly blamed for the theft. More than a hundred years later, it is his grandson who turns to Sam and Remi Fargo to help prove his grandfather's innocence. But there is even more at stake than any of them know. For the Grey Ghost has vanished again, and in it is an object so rare that it has the capacity to change lives. Men with everything to gain and a great deal to lose have a desperate plan to find it--and if anybody gets in their way? They have a plan for that, too.

Jane Hawk knows she may be living on borrowed time. In "The Crooked Staircase" (AUCD F KOO D) by Dean Koontz, read by Elisabeth Rodgers, Jane continues her one-woman war against the terrifying conspiracy that threatens the freedom and free will of millions. Battling the strange epidemic of murder-suicides that claimed Jane's husband and is escalating across the country has made the rogue FBI agent a wanted fugitive. Using every resource their malign nexus of power and technology commands, Jane's enemies are determined to see her dead. Relentlessly hunted not only by the government

Lake Tahoe to confront head on the lethal forces arrayed against her. But nothing can prepare her for the chilling truth that awaits when se descends the crooked staircase to the dark and dreadful place where her long nightmare was born.

Danielle Steel's, "Past Perfect" (AUCD F STE D) read by Jim Frangione, is a story of two families living a hundred years apart who come together in a startling moment. Sybil and Blake Gregory have established a predictable, well-ordered Manhattan life, raising their teenagers Andrew and Caroline and six-year-old Charlie. Sybil is a cutting-edge designer and museum consultant, and Blake is in high-tech investment. Everything changes when Blake is offered a dream job he can't resist as CEO of a start-up in San Francisco. Accepting the job without consulting his wife, Blake buys a magnificent historic Pacific Heights mansion as their new home. The past and present suddenly collide in the elegant mansion filled with memories and haunting portraits when an earthquake shocks them the night they arrive. The original inhabitants appear for a few brief minutes. In the ensuing days, the Gregorys meet the large and lively family who lived there a century ago: distinguished Bertrand Butterfield and his gracious wife Gwyneth, their sons Josiah and little Magnus, daughters Bettina and Lucy, formidable Scottish matriarch Augusta and her eccentric brother Angus. All long since dead but very much alive in spirit and visible to the Gregorys and no one else. Within these enchanted rooms, it is at once 1917 and a century later, where the Gregorys gratefully realize they have been given a perfect gift; beloved friends and the wisdom to shape their own future with grace from a fascinating past.

Class reunions are a time for memories--good, bad, and deadly, as Virgil Flowers finds out in "Deep Freeze" (AUCD F SAN J) by John Sandford. read by Eric Conger. Virgil knows the town of Trippton, Minnesota, a little too well. A few years back, he investigated the corrupt and homicidal-local school board. Now the town is back in view with more alarming news: A woman's been found dead. frozen in a block of ice. As things develop, there's a possibility the woman's death might be connected to a high school class of twenty-five years ago that has a reunion coming up. Wrapping his coat a little tight er, Virgil gets the opportunity to dig into twenty-five years' worth of traumas, feuds, and bad blood and in the process, comes very close to spilling some blood of his own.

Lawsuit settled in 2016 death of Texas student in school van

TRINITY, Texas (AP) - A couple who alleged an East Texas school district's failure to modify a school van to meet federal safety standards lead to the death of their 7-year-old daughter has settled a lawsuit with the district.

Kim Magness, the mother of Journey Magness, said Thursday that a settlement was reached this month with the Trinity Independent School District over the December 2016 death of her daughter.

Magness says the van, used to transport specialneeds children, was stopped to pick up a student when it was rear-ended by a pickup.

Air Force failed 6 times to report Texas church gunman

Associated Press

HOUSTON (AP) — The Air Force failed six times to report information that could have prevented the ex-airman who killed more than two dozen people in a Texas church from purchasing a gun, according to a government report released Friday. The Department of Defense inspector general's report details Devin Patrick Kelley's decadelong history of violence, interest in guns and menacing of women. That history culminated in Kelley's November 2017 attack on the First Baptist Church in Sutherland Springs, the church his wife and mother-inlaw attended. The dead included several children, a pregnant woman and a 77-year-old grandfather. Kelley served almost five years in the Air Force, during which he was court-martialed and sentenced to one year's confinement for assaulting his wife and stepson. He was able to purchase four firearms after being discharged in 2014, three of which he carried into the church. The Air Force was

By NOMAAN MERCHANT blamed immediately after the shooting for not reporting the assault to the FBI. The conviction would have been a red flag in the mandatory background check when Kelley tried to purchase a gun.

Friday's report says Air Force nvestigators who spoke to KelForce squadron that investigated the assault "used on-the-job training as its primary method of instruction for fingerprint collection and submission," the report says. "However, this training was insufficient and was not based on any established curriculum or policy requirements."

Sandra Verdin

She says the van, purchased a year earlier by the district, hadn't been modified to meet safety standards, including reinforced, high seat backs. She says Journey suffered a broken neck.

Terms of the settlement are confidential.

Trinity school Superintendent John Kaufman didn't respond Friday to a message seeking comment.

Heavy rain, flooding, tornadoes forecast for Houston region

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston authorities have activated their emergency operations center and the National Weather Service has issued a flash flood watch as a storm system could bring up to 10 inches (25 centimeters) of rain in some areas.

The weather service says flooding is likely for a broad region extending down to the Gulf Coast, with the heaviest rainfall occurring late Friday night into early Saturday.

Most areas will receive upward of 5 inches (13 centimeters) of rain and the coastal region could see damaging winds and isolated tornadoes.

Heavy rain and flash flooding is a concern for other parts of Texas as well, such as the Austin and San Antonio areas.

To the north, meanwhile, snow and freezing rain is forecast for eastern New Mexico and the Oklahoma-Texas panhandles.

Texas board rejects Confederate group's latest license plate

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Department of Motor Vehicles has denied a Confederate group's latest attempt to create a specialty license plate celebrating Confederate soldiers.

The department's board voted 5-3 Thursday to reject the license plate design proposed by the Sons of Confederate Veterans, which features a rebel soldier carrying a Texas regiment's special flag at a Civil War battle. The plate was backed by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Sid Miller, who said "there's no profit in hiding our history."

ley failed four separate times to fingerprint him and turn those prints over to the FBI. The report also says the Air Force failed twice to submit its final report of the case to the FBI.

Air Force investigators were not trained to submit fingerprints or the final report to the FBI, the inspector general found. The Air

The Air Force said in a statement Friday that "corrective action has already been taken." It has reviewed all case files since 1998, and "all criminal history reporting requirements that would preclude someone from purchasing a firearm have been updated."

Leaping lemur surprises Florida trooper during DUI arrest

SANFORD, Fla. (AP) – A lemur surprised a Florida Highway Patrol trooper when it crawled from a trailer being pulled by a pickup truck that had been stopped for driving erratically and hitting other cars.

Dashcam video shows the lemur peeking out of the trailer before hopping to the ground and leaping around the trooper who was talking to the driver along Interstate 4 in Sanford on Saturday night.

The video shows the trooper doing a double-take as the lemur runs around and stands on its hind legs.

Twenty-seven-year-old driver Shane Taylor warned troopers that the lemur named Miko 'bites." Taylor was arrested on several charges including DUI.

State wildlife officers took custody of the lemur and other exotic animals including a tortoise, a goat, a parrot and a wallaby.

Jail records don't list a lawyer for Taylor.

New NASA lander captures 1st sounds of Martian wind

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) - NASA's new Mars lander has captured the first sounds of the Martian wind.

The Jet Propulsion Laboratory released audio clips of the alien wind Friday. The low-frequency rumblings were collected by the InSight lander during its first week- and-a-half of operations at Mars.

Scientists agree the sound has an otherworldly quality to it, and they feel as though they're sitting on the spacecraft, enjoying the Martian breeze.

The noise is of the wind blowing against InSight's solar panels and the resulting vibration of the entire spacecraft. The sounds were recorded by an air pressure sensor inside the lander that's part of a weather station, as well as the seismometer on the deck of the spacecraft.

InSight landed on Mars on Nov. 26.

Foie gras off Amazon's offerings in California in settlement

LOS ANGELES (AP) - California prosecutors say Amazon has agreed not to sell foie gras in the state from birds that have been force-fed.

State lawmakers banned that form of the fatty duck and goose liver delicacy nearly 15 years ago.

Los Angeles County District Attorney Jackie Lacey said Friday a state judge approved a settlement between the online retailer, her office and district attorneys in Monterey and Santa Clara counties.

A spokeswoman for Amazon said the company was not commenting.

The prosecutors accused Amazon in a lawsuit of illegally selling foie gras in California on its website.

Animal rights activists say the process is painful and cruel. A U.S. appeals court upheld the law in 2017.

Man yells 'there's no Santa' at Florida holiday event

CAPE CORAL, Fla. (AP) — It wasn't the Grinch who stole Christmas. It was a man who screamed "there's no Santa Claus" over and over during a recent holiday festival in Florida. A southwest Florida woman shared cellphone footage with Fort Myers television station NBC-2 of the man yelling during the Cape Coral Festival of Lights on Saturday night. Cape Coral police told the station that officers were at the event but couldn't do anything because the man was exercising his freedom of speech. They added they could have intervened had he used a voice enhancer such as a megaphone, or started a riot.

By CALEB JONES

Associated Press

HONOLULU (AP) — Retired U.S. Navy Cmdr. Don Long was alone on an anchored military seaplane in the middle of a bay across the island from Pearl Harbor when Japanese warplanes started striking Hawaii on December 7, 1941, watching from afar as the bombs and bullets killed and wounded thousands.

The waves of attacking planes reached his military installation on Kaneohe Bay soon after Pearl Harbor was struck, and the young sailor saw buildings and planes start to explode all around him.

When the gunfire finally reached him, setting the aircraft ablaze, he jumped into the water and found himself swimming through fire to safety.

Now 97, Long will remember the 77th anniversary of the attack from his home in Napa, California.

He shared some of his memories this week with The AssociPearl Harbor where we had landed." Long recalled.

It was a different experience when he flew to Hawaii for the 75th anniversary in 2016, a trip that was paid for by a survivor's group.

"We came in on a first class United chartered jet . all the girls with the leis were there with the Hawaiian music," he remembered. "We ended up not in a bunk in the barracks, but in a very nice ocean room at the Hawaiian Hilton."

He attended a dinner where survivors were seated at random with dignitaries. At his table were Japan's Honolulu-based consul general and his wife.

"He and his wife were there in full regalia," Long said. He asked if they might be able to help him identify the pilot who attacked his plane 77 years ago.

"They did some searching I guess, or told somebody to do it, but within a month or so I got a message from them and the proof is not positive but they sent the information on three Japanese pilots. It was probably one of those three," Long said. All three have died, but Long was impressed the consul general had taken the time to find out. Long no longer harbors ill will against Japan or its people. "I don't know when that feeling left me. But as you are probably well aware, we were taught to hate those people with all our hearts, and when you're looking at one down a gun sight, you can't really feel much love for anyone — that's for darn sure," he said.

wavs marked the anniversary like he does now.

"For about 50, 60 years or so, it was a day that rang a little bell to me, but I did not do much, he said. "In the past 20 or so (years), I take part in some kind of activity that I'll say is appropriate for the day."

This year, Long plans to visit school children to talk about Pearl Harbor , then will light a beacon atop Mount Diablo in Concord, California. The beacon, known as the Eye of Diablo, was put out shortly after the attack in 1941. In 1964, Fleet Adm. Chester Nimitz, commander of U.S. Pacific forces during World War II, relit

On Friday morning at about the time of the attack, Long spoke with the AP at his home as it as this day but as the day that started the war for our country that caused so, so much havoc. And I do recall the friends who never came back with, oh, much sadness."

A ROUTINE WEEKEND

Long remembers that weekend of the attack as routine, "or so it started out," he wrote in a 1992 essay that he provided to The Associated Press.

The 20-year-old seaman from Minnesota enrolled in boot camp in March 1941, a "snotty nose kid, fresh off the farm." That Sunday morning was his first day of operational duty with the squadron he had been assigned to about a month earlier.

He was tasked with standing watch aboard a seaplane in the bay across the island from Pearl Harbor.

He arrived early and took a small boat toward the awaiting Catalina flying boat, cruising across the turquoise waters of windward Oahu with Hawaii's 73-degree air splashing across his face. "I recall it was a beautiful sunny day in Hawaii that morning," Long said. He relieved a comrade who had stood watch overnight, and began preparing for a day of signal drills and regular maintenance checks. He settled into the pilot's compartment to wait for contact from the beach signaling station to begin his drills. A few minutes later, he heard the roar of airplanes overhead and then the sound of explosions. He assumed it was U.S. military making practice runs, but quickly realized he was wrong. In the distance, Long saw planes flying over hangars and buildings exploding. Another plane that was anchored nearby was hit and burst into flames.

GUNMAN

Gunmen in many American mass shootings have repeatedly been able to exploit loopholes or lapses in background checks.

Friday's report also details some of the many warning signs against Kelley.

His first wife, Tessa Kelley, accused him of choking her multiple times and once holding her head under a showerhead and saying, "I'm going to waterboard you." Waterboarding is an interrogation technique that the United Nations says is considered torture.

After Air Force authorities opened an assault investigation against him, Kelley was ordered to be detained before trial because his commander believed he was "dangerous and likely to harm someone if released." Kelley had searched online for body armor and weapons, according to the report.

COAHOMA — Three Coahoma High School student athletes have been recognized for their outstanding academic achievement by the Texas High School Coaches Association.

Joe Manning, Cassie Gutierrez, and Emily Krabill were named to the THSCA's Academic All State Football second team. "I am very proud of these three kids," said CHS Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Chris Joslin. "They take care of their business in class and on the field. This is a well deserved honor for Joe, Cassie and Emily."

Manning played wide receiver and defensive back for the Bulldogs. He racked up 32 tackles this past season and assisted in seven more. Both Gutierrez and Krabill were trainers on the field during the season.

To be nominated, the students must be a senior, have a 92 overall grade point average, be in good standing with the team, and be of good moral character. The state organization also takes in consideration class rank and SAT/ACT scores.

LOS ANGELES — Alex Robinson stood smiling at center court with the MVP plaque. Then he turned around and repeatedly urged his teammates over.

After all, it was hardly a one-man show when TCU drubbed Southern California 96-61 for its fourth straight victory at the Basketball Hall of Fame Classic tripleheader on Friday night.

"I feel like it was a team effort so I didn't feel like I should be out there celebrating by myself," said Robinson, who scored 15 points to lead six players in double figures.

The Horned Frogs (7-1) dominated throughout in front of a slew of NBA executives and scouts at Staples Center.

"We're playing good basketball right now and we're getting better," TCU coach Jamie Dixon said.

USC (5-4) never made a sustained run in dropping its second in a row.

Bennie Boatwright scored 14 points and Nick Rakocevic added 13, making 9 of 10 free throws.

"This is an embarrassing loss for us," coach Andy Enfield said.

TCU hit a season-high 12 3-pointers, led by Jaylen Fisher with five, which equaled his career high set at SMU two nights earlier. Fisher finished with 15 points.

"He's huge for us," Robinson said of Fisher. "He spreads the floor, he creates for others and he's a good presence on defense."

Robinson, the nation's assist leader, had eight. Kouat Noi and JD Miller had 14 points each.

The Horned Frogs breezed to a 20-point halftime lead on their way to piling up a season-best 96 points.

They went up by 30 midway through the second half when Desmond Bane, Robinson, Noi and Miller combined to score TCU's first 30 points. 20 Contraction of the second s

AUSTIN, Texas — Texas has troubles. A lot of them.

The Longhorns can't shoot, are struggling to rebound even against smaller teams and have lost three in a row to drop out of the Top 25 as quickly as they got in just two weeks ago.

What happened to the team that looked so good in beating then-No. 7 North Carolina on Thanksgiving? Coach Shaka Smart would like to know.

"Less than two weeks ago we were 5-0 and beat the No. 7 team in the country with the same five guys," Smart said after Texas lost to VCU, his former team, on Wednesday. "Our last two and a half games we haven't played with the same confidence. We haven't played with the same swagger. And when the games have been close, we haven't made the big plays we need to make." The common denominator in all three losses has been woeful shooting.

Texas (5-3) is 311th out of 351 major college teams in shooting percentage (40.4). They are even worse shooting 3-pointers (28.9 percent, 313th nationally).

"I do sense when the ball's not going in, some players, their confidence goes down, start seeing head drops," guard Jase Febres said Friday.

The day after beating North Carolina, Texas led Michigan State by 19 midway through the first half before the Spartans came storming back. Texas shot 22 percent in the second half and lost by 10.

Against Radford, the Longhorns went 4 of 14 over the final 10 minutes. They led VCU 49-45 before committing eight turnovers over the next five minutes and lost 54-53 despite holding VCU under 30 percent shooting in the second half.

DeRozan's 36 points fuels Spurs past Lakers 133-120

By RAIJI DOMINGUEZ

Associated Press SAN ANTONIO – Jakob Poeltl and Davis Bertans walked off the court to huge cheers and the embrace of San Antonio Spurs veterans Pau Gasol and LaMarcus Aldridge.

In a game filled with All-Stars like Aldridge, DeMar DeRozan and LeBron James, the Spurs relied on a gritty effort from Poeltl, Bertans and their bench to salvage a victory.

DeRozan finished with 36 points and nine assists and the Spurs had eight players score in double figures in a 133-120 comefrom-behind victory over the Los Angeles Lakers on Friday night.

James finished with 35 points, 11 assists and eight rebounds for Los Angeles, but was held to four points and no rebounds in the fourth anyone expected would beat the Lakers.

"Why not," James said. "Why wouldn't you think they could beat you? They're NBA players. They made big shots. Bertans made big shots. He made four 3s in the fourth quarter."

The Spurs' young posts combined to score 23 points in the final quarter, with Poeltl finishing with 14 and Bertans 13.

"We really clicked with our second unit," Poeltl said. "We had so much fun together out there playing. I sure found my spots there."

The Spurs' bench outscored the Lakers' 52-26, including 14 from Patty Mills, in winning the season series 3-1.

> "We can't give our foot off the gas," Lakers forward Kyle Kuzma said. "I think we did that a little bit in the fourth slowing down a little bit. Defensively, we obviously need to do better."

Kuzma finished with 27 points and Lonzo Ball had 13 points and 11 assists for the Lakers.

DeRozan had 11 points in the fourth guarter and San Antonio was 4 for 7 from beyond the arc in its comeback.

The run turned Aldridge into a spectator as Poeltl played all but one minute in the fourth and Bertans played 10 minutes. Aldridge didn't seem to mind, actively cheering from the bench and joining the injured Gasol in greeting Poeltl and Bertans with a smile and high-fives after they exited the game in the final minute.

"That group was playing well, so we left them out there and they were wonderful," Spurs coach Gregg Popovich said.

The Spurs opened the fourth quarter on an 18-6 run and pulled within 108-107 with 7:43 remaining. Mills punctuated the run with a layup after drawing a foul on James near the Spurs' bench that led to his teammates encircling and celebrating with him on the sidelines.

"I think that was the key to tonight's cluding the fans. Everyone was involved emotionally (more) than any game this season." MY MAN Poeltl's big night did not surprise DeRozan, who has played with the 7-footer for his entire ca-

Lakers: James was listed as rookie in the game notes. . Rajon Rondo missed his 10th straight game following right hand surgery, but is nearing a return. Rondo worked out on the court prior to the game with teammates Isaac Bonga, Sviatoslav Mykhailiuk and Ivica Zubac.

Spurs: Belinelli became the first player in league history with at least 50 3-pointers for nine different teams.

Pau Gasol, who missed his 17th straight game with left foot soreness, was walking without a boot. There is no timetable for his return. . Bertans has made 200 career 3-pointers.

In those home losses to Radford and VCU, Texas missed open 3-pointers in the final seconds that would have won or tied the game. VCU players celebrated with "horns down" hand signals on Texas' homecourt while their fans chanted "V-C-U" loud enough to echo through the hallways in the bowels of the arena.

against North Carolina, Roach's game and shooting touch have disappeared.

He was 2 of 12 against Radford and on defense gave up the go-ahead layup and a foul for a 3-point play with less than 30 second left. He was 1 of 11 against VCU.

"You can call me out for some poor shots. But every night I'm here from 9:30 to 12 shooting ball. Eventually it will click," Roach said after the VCU loss.

His teammates won't blame him.

"He's a good player. He's going to figure it out. We're going to be there with him," guard Elija Mitrou-Long said. "Nobody is going to ever tell him not to do what he's doing. If it wasn't for him in the North Carolina game, we wouldn't have won. We're with him."

Del Conte has given no hint that Smart's job in on the line but there will be pressure to turn things around. Texas missed the 2017 NCAA Tournament after a disastrous season. The Longhorns returned last season but were bounced in the first round in overtime by Nevada.

Smart now has a roster full of players he recruited. At some point, Texas will start asking when the Longhorns will be a Big 12 power again and why Smart has not been able to duplicate his 2011 Final Four run with VCU. $$

McNair praised for philanthropy and bringing NFL to Houston

Associated Press

HOUSTON – With a stirring rendition of "I'll Fly Away" marking the conclusion of a memorial service for former Houston Texans founder and owner Bob McNair, Dallas Cowboys owner Jerry Jones wiped tears from his eyes Friday afternoon.

"It's ironic that I'm getting emotional because the only other time I ever teared up was right on this field when the Texans and Bob kicked our butt in the first game that was ever played in this stadium," Jones said, recalling Houston's 19-10 win over the Cowboys in their inaugural game in 2002. "The Texans put it on the Cowboys and it was a glorious night to begin the Texans. Bob was so special."

More than 1,000 of Mc-Nov. 30 at 81. Nair's friends, members of the Houston and NFL community, players and coaches past and present, gathered to pay respects and say goodbye to McNair, who brought the NFL back to Houston for its inaugural season in 2002 after the Oilers moved to Tennessee.

Former Secretary of State James A. Baker, a close friend of McNair's, opened up tributes by saying the gathering was in the "House that Bob Built." Baker said he and McNair enjoyed a love of politics, football and quail hunting, and said it was former President George H.W. Bush who converted both of them from Democrats to Republicans.

Baker talked about McNair's determination and told a story of how he only saw McNair give up on a quest once in his life, when the two were quail hunting in sweltering south Texas heat. After a long and miserable day, McNair finally said in his Southern drawl, "Calf rope," an expression similar to "Uncle" or "I give

The Rev. Eric Manning provided a welcome and an opening invocation. Manning is the senior pastor at Mother Emanuel A.M.E. Church in Charleston, South Carolina, the site of a July 2015 race-inspired mass shooting.

NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell also spoke, calling McNair one of America's finest sportsmen and business leaders. Goodell talked about that expansion process and how Houston was a long shot early on, but McNair never wavered.

"Bob was not in it for himself. He wanted to return the NFL to Houston because of his tremendous loyalty to the community," Goodell said. "He knew that bringing the NFL back would help show the world what an extraordinary place Houston is."

Goodell praised McNair for his faith, integrity, patience, honesty and thoughtfulness.

"Not to put any more pressure on you and the team, but you know how much Bob wanted to win a Super Bowl," Goodell said, looking to Texans coach Bill O'Brien.

Texans defensive end J.J. Watt praised McNair for his philanthropy and generosity in the community. Watt recalled a charity event at NRG Stadium when, at the end of the event after "tons of money" had been raised, it was announced that McNair committed to matching everyone's combined donations.

"That's what Mr. McNair did. He would do the kindest things at random moments, and he would do it many times when people had no idea that he was doing it," Watt said. "I consider myself lucky to have known him, lucky to have learned from him, and I can only hope that I'm making him proud in the way that we represent his organization."

Dr. Harris Pastides, president of the University of South Carolina, mentioned a commencement speech McNair did at his alma mater in 1999 and how McNair talked about meeting his wife, Janice, and telling her parents they were moving to Texas for a few years to build some capital before returning home.

"He then reminded the graduates to never make promises they could not keep," Pastides said.

Dr. Dave Peterson, pastor emeritus at Memorial Drive Presbyterian Church, talked about McNair's drive, which he said he believed was instilled in McNair from an early age. Peterson told a story of a young McNair in his small hometown of Forest City, North Carolina who wanted his country dirt road to be paved so badly that he would repeatedly stomp on a strip provided by the state's transportation department to determine how busy the road was and whether or not it needed to be paved.

Peterson said he visited

McNair at the hospital on Thanksgiving and said he was saddened to see him suffering. Peterson noted the last few months of McNair's life were painful, adding that in seeing the pictures and videos paying tribute to McNair, "It's good to see him smiling again."

McNair died on Nov. 23 at the age of 81. He had battled both leukemia and squamous cell carcinoma in recent years. He died peacefully with wife Janice and his family by his side, the Texans said.

Following the tributes, a short video montage highlighted McNair's life, with a focus on his time as Texans owner.

"I'd like to think that I'll be remembered as an honorable man, as a good Christian man, and that I always did things in a first-class manner and treated people honestly," McNair said on the video. "I think that would be a good legacy."

Weighty move: dropping pounds helps Miller excel for Texans

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON – Lamar Miller was searching for ways to improve this offseason after what he calls a disappointing 2017.

It was then that the Houston Texans running back decided to take the advice of two former Miami Hurricanes running backs with a combined 25 years of NFL experience. Edgerrin James, a four-time Pro Bowler who spent 11 years in the NFL, and Frank Gore, a 35-year-old who made the Pro Bowl five times and is in his 14th season shared their secret for NFL longevity: weight loss. "They were just telling me that every year they tried to play lighter and lighter because as you get older they say you lose a step ... and all that weight is not good," Miller said.

and he shared the same thing as Gore and suggested Miller should slim down, too, he decided to give it a try.

"I thought: 'They had success doing it so why can't you,'" Miller said.

It's a change he believes has made a big difference.

"I can feel it," he said. "I feel lighter when I'm running and stuff and overall my body feels good. I think it's helped me. So far, I've been doing good. I don't really see how it hasn't (helped)." The numbers back it up. Miller had 103 vards rushing last week for his fourth 100-yard game this season, and with five regular-season games left he needs just 13 yards to eclipse last year's rushing total.

score in Houston's win over Tennessee on Nov. 26. That run made him the only player in NFL history to have two TD runs of 95 yards or longer after he also had a 97-yard touchdown run in 2014 while with the Dolphins.

Houston defensive end Jadeveon Clowney said that Miller looked like a rookie on that run and

"So just having guys like that to give you some knowledge on some of the things that helped them throughout their career, I just felt like it would help me. So that's something I tried to focus on this offseason was to lose some weight."

Gore called Miller his "little brother" and said he's a big believer in running backs getting lighter as they age.

"I used to play at 217, 218 when I was younger," he said. "Now I try to play lighter than that."

That led the 5-foot-10 Miller to shed about 7 pounds, dropping from 225 last year to 218 this season.

Though he didn't make the change until this season, his transformation was about three years in the making.

Gore, who Miller has long looked to for advice, first brought up that he started playing a bit lighter every year as he aged before Miller's first season in Houston in 2016. But Miller was just 25 at the time and thought he was too young to worry about something that helped older players.

So, he went the other way and gained a few pounds before that season because he thought it would help him carry a bigger rushing load.

He had a good year, rushing for 1,073 yards with five touchdowns, before a 2017 season where he finished with 888 yards rushing and never ran for more than 75 yards in a game all season.

And when he spoke with James this offseason

Coach Bill O'Brien has been impressed with Miller's improvement this season.

"He really wanted to come in this year and have a good year for us and that's what he's done," O'Brien said. "I think we've managed him pretty well and he's done a great job of, in the offseason, training and then having a good training camp. He's always been a consistent performer for us."

The thing that disappointed Miller most about his numbers last year was that he averaged a career-low 3.7 yards a carry.

"That was bad," he said. "My whole career I was averaging 4 yards or better, so that was a big dropoff for me."

This season he's boosted his average to 5 yards a carry, which is second only to the 5.1 yards he averaged in 2014 when he ran for a career-best 1,099 yards in Miami. Miller ranks sixth in the NFL in yards rushing and has the longest TD run in the league this season after he rumbled 97 yards for a

Miller, who was a sprinter on Miami's track team along with playing football, said he heard similar things from many old friends after that touchdown

"People were saying: "oh you still have your speed and stuff," Miller said. "So just hearing it from a lot of people that I grew up with was good."

Gore was among those who delighted in seeing Miller break that long run and he raved about his work this season.

"He's balling," Gore said. "He's taking advantage of his opportunity. I hope he gets in the Pro Bowl."

Miller knows the solid play of Houston's offensive line and his focus on being more decisive have also contributed to his success this season. But he's sure the weight loss gave him a boost and that's why he's going to follow in the footsteps of his fellow former Hurricane friends for the rest of his career.

"I'm back in a rhythm," he said. "I'm doing some positive things to help this team win and that's always a good thing. So, I'm going to keep that formula to try to keep losing weight as I get older."

Saint Nick, St. Nicholas, Kris Kringle. Santa Claus, Father Christmas, St. Nick—no matter the name, everyone knows the story of this plump, jolly bringer of gifts. Or do they? Where did that guy in the red suit come from?

The man we know as Santa Claus has a history all his own. Today, he is thought of mainly as the jolly man in red, but his story stretches all the way back to the 3rd century.

The Beginning

The legend of Santa Claus, is actually based on a real person, and can be traced back hundreds of years to a monk named St. Nicholas. According to The History Channel online, it is believed that Nicholas was born sometime around 280 A.D. in Patara, near Myra in modern-day Turkey. He was adored and admired for his piety and kindness, St. Nicholas became the subject of many legends that we know today. It is said that he gave away all of his inherited wealth and traveled the countryside helping the poor and sick.

One of the best known of the St. Nicholas stories is that he saved three poor sisters from being sold into slavery or prostitution by their father by providing them with a dowry so that they could be married. Over the course of many years, Nicholas's popularity spread and so he became known as the protector of children and sailors. By the Renaissance, St. Nicholas was the most popular saint in Europe. Even after the Protestant Reformation, when the veneration of saints began to be discouraged, St. Nicholas maintained a positive reputation, especially in Holland, before making his way to America.

Santa Claus in America

At the end of the 18th century, St. Nicholas made his first inroads into American popular culture. In December 1773, and again in 1774, a New York Newspaper reported that groups of Dutch families had gathered to honor the anniversary of his death which is Dec. 6.

The name Santa Claus evolved from Nick's Dutch nickname, Sinter Klaas, a shortened form of Sint Nikolaas (Dutch for Saint Nicholas). In 1804, John Pintard, a member of the New York Historical Society, distributed woodcuts of St. Nicholas at the society's annual meeting. The background of the engraving contains now-familiar Santa images including stockings filled with toys and fruit hung over a fireplace. In 1809, Washington Irving helped to popularize the Sinter Klaas stories when he referred to St. Nicholas as the patron saint of New York in his book, "The History of New York." As his prominence grew, Sinter Klaas was described as everything from a "rascal" with a blue three-cornered hat, red waistcoat, and yellow stockings to a man wearing a broad-brimmed hat and a "huge pair of Flemish trunk hose." It was because of a few American authors who adopted a new way of looking at Santa Claus and how we celebrate, all thanks to a series of poets and writers who strove to make Christmas a family celebration—by reviving and remaking St. Nicholas.

Before Christmas

In 1822, Clement Clarke Moore, an Episcopal minister, wrote a long Christmas poem for his three daughters entitled "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas." Moore's poem, which he was initially hesitant to publish due to the frivolous nature of its subject, is largely responsible for our modern image of Santa Claus as a "right jolly old elf" with a portly figure and the supernatural ability to ascend a chimney with a mere nod of his head! Although some of Moore's imagery was probably borrowed from other sources, his poem helped popularize the now-familiar image of a Santa Claus who flew from house to house on Christmas Eve-in "a miniature sleigh" led by eight flying reindeer-leaving presents for deserving children. "An Account of a Visit from St. Nicholas" created a new and immediately popular American icon. In 1881, political cartoonist Thomas Nast drew on Moore's poem to create the first likeness that matches our modern image of Santa Claus. His cartoon, which appeared in Harper's Weekly, depicted Santa as a rotund, cheerful man with a full, white beard, holding a sack laden with toys for lucky children.

It is Nast who gave Santa his bright red suit trimmed with white fur, North Pole workshop, elves, and his wife, Mrs. Claus.

In conclusion, for many Santa Claus has become a specail figure during Christmas.

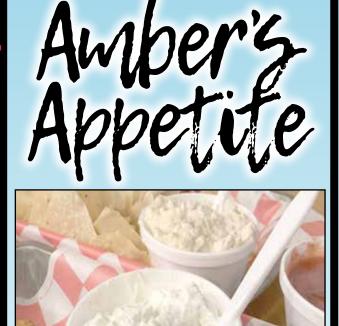

"They erer who think Santa Claus enters through the chimney. He enters through the heart." -Clement Clarke Moore

Spirited Holiday Tale Reveals Why Santa Is Never Seen

Marble Falls, Texas

 Soon, bells will be ringing and children will be singing, and they'll be plotting their plans for staying up late and catching Santa Claus as he eats the cookies off the plate. But as long as their eyes are open, no Santa will they see. How can this possibly be? Kids would like to know before the snow!

In Christmas Holiday Cheer Tattletale Titter Tizzy Tale, author Stephen Cherokee Drury pens an amusing story that reveals the surprising answer to one of the world's best kept secrets: How has Santa managed to go undetected by prying eyes for centuries? Is ole Santa's secret truly that "he knows when you are sleeping, and he knows that readers of all ages will enjoy. It's when you're awake?" Could the elves be behind Santa's ability to remain hidden from anxious, curious eyes, or could it be his magic deer - Holiday Cheer?

Drury uses amusing sing-song rhymes coupled with clever alliteration to weave fast-paced passages the perfect tale to tell around your warm holiday fire with the family all around. It is especially fun to read to the kiddos just before dreamland.

Did we really need another Grinch learn a bit movie?

In 1957, Dr. Seuss published the children's book, "How the Grinch Stole Christmas." In 1966, the book was made into a 26-minute animated television special. It would remain in this simple, perfect state (not counting the stage musical, which I haven't seen) for 34 glorious years, until Jim Carrey got ahold of it in 2000 and did mean, monstrous and foul things to the story in his live-action adaptation. Now, a mere 18 years later, we have another adaptation for the silver screen, a feature-length animated version with the eponymous green grouch voiced by Benedict Cumberbatch. My question going in was..."Why?"

more on the lives of the Whos in Whoville, who are deep in preparation for Christmas when the movie starts. They're decorating their Who homes, singing their Who songs, and doing other distinctly Who things. Donna Lou Who (Rashida Jones), mother of Cindy Lou Who (Cameron Seely), is an overworked nurse and devoted to her kids. Cindy Lou is an independent little girl. It's hard to judge Whos' ages, but she might be six or seven years old. She wants to ask Santa to do something nice for her mom, but it's too late to write a letter, and it would take too long to walk to the North Pole. She settles on a plan to meet St. Nick when he visits their home on Christmas Eve and ask him in person then.

Old Grinchy-poo (Cumberbatch) is in his cave in his mountain, being grouchy, with his dog Max (Frank Welker). We get to see more of his lifestyle in the movie than in the TV special. Apparently the Grinch is a great inventor, an adherent of the Rube Goldberg school of design. Every morning faithful Max toasts his toast, makes his coffee, and serves it to him in bed. And, of course, the Grinch hates Christmas with a passion. We more about why that is.

One day, the Grinch finds himself out of food, so he is faced with the dilemma of going hungry or going into Whoville in the middle of the Christmas season for supplies. His empty

So yeah. "The Grinch" focuses its attention belly and Max's sad face convince him to make the trek. On his journey, he does his best to make life miserable for a few Whos. Unfortunately for him, he bumps into the jolly Bricklebaum (Kenan Thompson), a Whovilleian who is convinced the Grinch is his friend.

Upon returning to his mountain that evening, the Grinch is jarred out of his lonely funk by the noise of helicopters, carrying the biggest Christmas tree ever to Whoville. The Grinch plans to use a catapult to destroy the tree during the tree-lighting ceremony, but that plan (in Wile E. Coyote fashion) goes horribly awry.

And it's then that the Grinch devises his greatest plan of all – to steal the Whos' Christmas dressed as none other than...well, you know.

Oh yeah, there's a fat reindeer in it too

Other voice actors of note include Angela Lansbury as Mayor McGerkle; Brad O'Hare, Ramone Hamilton, Sam Lavagnino, and Scarlett Estevez as Groopert, Axl, Ozzy, and Izzy, Cindy Lou's friends; and Pharrell Williams as the Narrator.

"The Grinch" isn't a bad film. It's certainly a lot better than the 2000 Car-involved in the familiar story, and adds a bit of "What happens next?" at the end.

Also, the voices are well-done, and the animation is superb.

I just have to wonder...is this really what we want in a Grinch movie? The original – book and TV special - are perfect. We have the mean old Grinch. We don't know why exactly he's mean...if we care, we fill in the "why" with our own imagination. We can see that he lives away from other people. He's green. He's different from the Whos. And his heart is two sizes too small. That is enough to make anyone cranky. In the TV special, we get the wonderful Thurl Ravenscroft "You're a Mean One, Mr. Grinch." And the Grinch is transformed by the Whos' continued joy at Christmas even without all the trappings. Perfect.

Now, with the new movie, we get a lot more stuff. We get the reasons explained. We get to see the trials and tribulations of the Whos. We know without a doubt why the Grinch is grumpy. And it makes him not quite as foul, not quite as monstrous as he is in the book or TV special. Which makes his transformation not quite as drastic.

/rin

It's fun, it's interesting, but I could have done without it. I'm going to give "The Grinch" seven stars out of 10, not because it's so bad, but because it goes too far.

All clear after bomb threat forces Aniston: Netflix 'Friends' deal a testament to show's value evacuation of CNN offices BV RYAN PEARSON The New York Times reported earlier this week,

NEW YORK (AP) — Police have given the all-clear after a phoned in bomb threat forced the evacuation of CNN's offices in New York.

Police said a man with a southern accent called CNN just after 10 p.m. Thursday and said five bombs had been placed throughout the facility inside the Time Warner building at Columbus Circle.

Police said the building was evacuated and building security did a preliminary search. Police units then swept the building with the NYPD bomb squad on standby.

Outside the building, CNN's Brian Stelter and Don Lemon continued to broadcast. Lemon said fire alarms rang and a loudspeaker told them they needed to evacuate during his live show.

In October, the building was partially evacuated after a suspicious package containing a crude pipe bomb was delivered to the company.

'Avengers 4' gets a title, trailer and new release date

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The fourth "Avengers" movie finally has a title. Marvel Studios and the Walt Disney Co. said Friday that the highly anticipated, and closely guarded, conclusion to the "Infinity War" saga will be called "Avengers: Endgame."

The studios also released the first trailer for the film, in which Scarlett Johansson's Black Widow character explains that Thanos really did erase half the population. "Avengers: Infinity War" ended on that cliffhanger as many of Marvel's superheroes dissolved into the air. It went on to become the highest grossing film in the Marvel Cinematic Universe with over $2 billion in ticket sales.

Directed by Anthony Russo and Joe Russo "Avengers: Endgame" will also now debut in North American theaters a week earlier on April 26, 2019.

61st annual Grammy Awards nom*inations to be announced Friday*

NEW YORK (AP) — Nominations for the 61st annual Grammy Awards will be announced Fridav morning.

The Recording Academy delayed unveiling the nominees by 2 days because former President George H.W. Bush's funeral and public viewing this week in Washington. The Grammys announcement comes a day after the Golden Globe nominations. Several music superstars, including Lady Gaga, Dolly Parton and Kendrick Lamar, were all nominated for Globe awards in the best original song for a motion picture category.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jennifer Aniston calls it "amazing" that "Friends" still has an audience big enough to prompt multi-million dollar business deals to keep it from disappearing on Netflix.

"I find it amazing that it's continued to have such love and such an audience and such an appetite for it," Aniston told The Associated Press Thursday at the premiere of her Netflix film "Dumplin'."

After an outcry from fans, Netflix announced earlier in the week that it was keeping the adventures of Ross, Rachel, Phoebe and Joey available to subscribers through 2019 — at a reported $100 million price tag to the streaming service.

"I think it says a lot about the show. Especially since it takes place at a time where it's so different from now. You know, people actually spoke to each other and hung out with each other and talked," Aniston said.

WarnerMedia owns the show, which aired on NBC for ten years ending in 2004. It won six Emmy Awards, including a best comedy actress Emmy for Aniston. Netflix paid more than triple the $30 million a year it had been paying for "Friends,"

Technology companies lead another sharp drop in US stocks

By ALEX VEIGA

AP Business Writer

U.S. stocks fell sharply Friday, erasing an early gain, as the market closed in on its third weekly decline in four weeks.

The latest wave of selling sent the Dow Jones Industrial Average down more than 500 points. The blue chip average is now down more than 1,000 points this week.

Losses in technology and health care stocks accounted for much of the market's slide. Retailers and other consumer-focused companies, banks and industrial stocks also took heavy losses. Utilities, which investors favor when they're fearful, eked out a slight gain. Crude oil prices rose on news that OPEC members agreed to cut production next year.

The government said job growth in November fell short of economists' expectations.

The S&P 500 index fell 61 points, or 2.3 percent, to 2,634 as of 2:44 p.m. Eastern Time. The Dow dropped 567 points, or 2.3

The Nasdaq composite slid 198 points, or 2.8 percent, to 6,989. The Russell 2000 index of smallcompany stocks gave up 26 points, or 1.8 percent, to 1,450.

The S&P 500 and Dow are now in the red for the year. The Nasdaq was holding on to a modest gain. "We're in a market where investors just want to sell any upside that they see," said Lindsey Bell, investment strategist at CFRA. "The volatility we've seen the last couple of weeks has been pretty extreme in both directions."

Oil producers join forces and cut production again day for six months from Khalid Al-Falih Minister of Energy, Industry and Mineral Resources of Saudi Arabia speaks prior to the start of a meeting of the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries, OPEC, at their headquarters in Vienna, Austria, Thursday, Dec. 6, 2018.

By ANTHONY MILLS, KIYOKO METZLER and DAVID RISING Associated Press

VIENNA (AP) — Oil prices spiked sharply higher Friday as major oil producers, including the OPEC cartel, agreed to cut global oil production by 1.2 million barrels a day to reduce oversupply.

Following two days of meetings, the Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries that includes the likes of Saudi Arabia and Iraq said they would cut 800,000 barrels per January, though some countries such as Iran, which is facing wideranging sanctions from the United States, have been given an exemption.

The balance will come from Russia and other non-OPEC countries. The United States, one of the world's biggest producers, is not part of the deal.

"This is a major step forward," said United Arab Emirates' Energy Minister Suhail Mohamed al-Mazrouei, who chairs the regular meetings in Vienna in his capacity as President of the OPEC Conference.

Oil producers have been under pressure to reduce production following a sharp fall in oil prices over the past couple of months. The price of oil has fallen about 25 percent recently

US backers of Paris accord set up camp at climate talks

By FRANK JORDANS

Associated Press

KATOWICE, Poland (AP) - Hundreds of U.S. states, cities, businesses and churches planted the American flag at the U.N. climate talks Friday in an effort to show that many people in the United States remain committed to curbing global warming despite the stance of their president.

The opening of the U.S. Climate Action Center alongside pavilions from Britain, Poland and New Zealand contrasts with the low-key presence of the official U.S. government delegation at the two weeks of talks in Poland.

Envoys from the administration of U.S. President Donald Trump, who has announced a U.S. withdrawal from the landmark 2015 Paris climate change accord, are holed up in a cubicle away from the main concourse. They currently have one public event planned Monday promoting U.S. technological innovations.

The Climate Action Center is backed by a group called We Are Still In that wants to maintain the Paris climate deal's aim of keeping global warming well below 2 degrees Celsius (3.6 degrees Fahrenheit).

California billionaire Tom Steyer, who is considered a possible 2020 Democratic presidential candidate, said the United States has to return to leading the world in tackling climate change.

5C

He urged environmental activists not to lose sight of the wider concerns of American voters in the coming years if they want political change.

"The way that we're going to win on climate is not by talking exclusively about climate but by being in coalition with people across the board on justice," he said.

Negotiators from almost 200 countries have little time left to bridge their differences before ministers arrive at the U.N. talks in Katowice next week for a final frantic round of diplomacy.

The environmental group Climate Action Network on Friday awarded its tongue-in-cheek Fossil of the Day award to Germany for abandoning its 2020 target on reducing greenhouse gas emissions and for failing to support more ambitious European Union-wide targets for 2030.

It also noted that Germany is doing little to curb emissions in its transport sector and has yet to set a fixed date for ending its reliance on coal.

German officials declined to comment on the award.

on track to cap a turbulent week of trading with its third weekly drop in four weeks. That would represent a big swing from just last week, when the index had its best weekly gain in nearly seven years.

Volatility has gripped the market since early October, reflecting investors' worries that the Federal Reserve might overshoot with its campaign of rate increases and put the brakes on the U.S. economy.

Traders also fear that a prolonged trade dispute between the U.S. and China could slow the global economy and crimp corporate profits. Uncertainty over both those issues helped drive the market's sell-off this week.

"The Fed has taken the punch bowl away in getting back to rates where they are today," said Doug Cote, chief market strategist for Voya Investment Management. "We're also going to get back to more normal volatility.'

Oil prices rose after OPEC countries agreed to reduce global oil production by 1.2 million barrels a day for six months, beginning in January. The move would include a reduction of 800,000 barrels per day from OPEC countries and 400,000 barrels per day from Russia and other non-OPEC nations.

The news, which had been widely anticipated, pushed crude oil prices higher. U.S. benchmark crude jumped 4.3 percent to $53.69 a barrel in New York. Brent crude, used to price international oils, gained 4.7 percent to $62.87 a barrel in London.

The pickup in oil prices sent some energy stocks higher. EOG Resources gained 2.7 percent to $104.87.

A sell-off in technology stocks weighed on the market. Hewlett Packard Enterprise slumped 7.7 percent to $14.78

Health care sector stocks, the biggest gainer in the S&P 500 this year, took some of the heaviest losses. Medical device company Cooper lost 10.8 percent to $247.10

Ulta Beauty slid 11.2 percent to $260 after the cosmetics retailer's latest quarterly report card exceeded analysts' expectations, but its earnings outlook disappointed traders.

Tobacco company Altria Group, which makes Marlboro cigarettes, announced a $2.4 billion investment in Cronos Group, a Canadian medical and recreational marijuana company. Altria' shares got a boost from the announcement, but the gain faded by late afternoon. The stock fell 0.2 percent to $54.28.

The Labor Department said U.S. employers added 155,000 jobs in November, a slowdown from recent months but enough to suggest that the economy is expanding at a solid pace despite sharp gyrations in the stock market. The unemployment rate remained at 3.7 percent, nearly a five-decade low, for the third straight month. Average hourly pay rose 3.1%from a year ago, matching the previous month's figure, which was the best since 2009. The jobs figure was less than many economists forecast, but few saw the report as a sign of a broader slowdown.

Bond prices rose, sending yields slightly lower. The yield on the 10year Treasury fell to 2.86 percent from 2.87 percent late Thursday.

The decline in bond yields, which affect interest rates on mortgages and other consumer loans, weighed on banks, which make more money when rates are rising. Morgan Stanley slid 3.2 percent to $41.26.

The dollar rose to 112.66 yen from 112.65 yen late Thursday. The euro strengthened to $1.1418 from $1.1373.

Gold gained 0.7 percent to $1,252.60 an ounce. Silver climbed 1.3 percent to $14.70 an ounce. Copper added 0.6 percent to $2.76 a pound.

In Europe, Germany's DAX dipped 0.2 percent while the CAC 40 in France rose 0.7 percent. Britain's FTSE 100 jumped 1.1 percent. Major indexes in Asia finished mostly higher.

Japan's benchmark Nikkei 225 added 0.8 percent and Australia's S&P/ ASX 200 gained 0.4 percent. South Korea's Kospi rose 0.3 percent. Hong Kong's Hang Seng gave up 0.3 percent.

The trump coup is a seemingly magical device by which declarer can take a finesse in the trump suit without leading the suit! To those unfamiliar with the trump coup, this might seem impossible, but it can be accomplished nevertheless.

Take this case where West leads a diamond and East cashes the K-A before returning the suit for West to ruff. West exits with a club, won by declarer with the queen. South then leads a low trump to the king, and when West shows out, it appears declarer must eventually lose a trump trick to East's queen and go down one

But if South is familiar with the trump coup, he realizes he may still be able to make the contract. He starts by leading a heart to the ten and then begins to shorten his trump length in order to reduce his holding to the same length as East, who now holds the Q-9.

to the king, ruffs the deuce of spades, then leads a club to the king and ruffs the ace of spades! At this point, declarer's hand consists of the ten of clubs and A-J of hearts, dummy has the ace of clubs and 10-8 of diamonds, and East the nine of clubs and O-9 of hearts.

South now leads the club ten to the ace and returns a diamond, and poor East's Q-9 of trumps succumb to South's A-J - even though declarer was unable to lead a trump ###### Dec. #,2018

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Mother Needs to Butt Out

Dear Annie: Two years ago, I met a homeless man and took him in. "Steve" has a mental illness and a drug problem. He told me he had no family and was all alone. It was Christmastime, and I couldn't walk away. Come to find out he had been living with his mom, who threw him out over his drug problem. My family and I stood by Steve when he went to prison for a year, and we let him come back to our home, even though his mother didn't want him to. The problem is she is trying to control everything. She wants him every weekend, but he is a grown man. When they fight, she brings him back. Annie, how can I tell her that this is too much? We know about how bad his problems are, and we try to help him. We don't want to be rude, but she is more the problem than he is. -- New Family in Kentucky

Dear New Family: The real problem is addiction and the unhealthy dynamics that it has helped to create here. Though I applaud your good intentions in taking Steve information concerning any aspect of the application in and I understand your wanting to protect him from his mother, it sounds as though you're treating him more like a child than a grown man. All this will do is perpetuate a state of codependency, a disservice to Steve in the long run. Instead of simply acting as his caregivers, encourage him to build a more robust support system, consisting of counselors and recovery groups. And set boundaries to ensure your own mental and emotional health, perhaps with the help of Nar-Anon, LifeRing or another support group for the loved ones of people with addiction.

Dear Annie: Recently, some friends and I were coming back from a camping trip, when a tire blew out. We were on the interstate, and it was pretty scary. Luckily, we were able to easily pull to the shoulder. It was my friend's car, and he didn't have a spare; plus, it was such a busy interstate that even if he'd had one, I wouldn't have liked the idea of one of us crouched on the side of the road trying to put it on. Anyway, fortunately, I have AAA, so we called for roadside assistance. As the technician finished up changing the tire and was walking back to the car, my friend ran to tip him. I was mortified in that moment, realizing I hadn't tipped the previous two times I got roadside help -- once to jump my battery, the other because I had locked my keys in my car. I am not the type of person to skimp on tips in general, but I guess that in those moments, I was so preoccupied and stressed that I forgot tipping was even a thing. My question: How rude was it of me not to tip in those two instances, and what are the general expectations for tipping when it comes to roadside assistance? -- Driver in Distress

Dear Driver in Distress: AAA states that it's not necessary to tip for roadside assistance. However, "not necessary" doesn't mean "not appreciated." The general consensus among drivers is that between $5 and $10 would be sufficient for standard services, more if it's an especially demanding or risky job. And of course, if you're feeling especially generous, more is always welcome, no matter the circumstances.

Planetary Pleasantness

Chiron forms an angle to Mercury to amp up the pleasantness of small exchanges, which may seem to have a disproportionate effect on our moods. There's no question that the feeling we get from interacting positively with a cashier, barista, fellow traveler or the like has a buoying effect different from the effect we get from an interaction inside a close relationship.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans boosted their borrowing by 7.73% in October from a year ago, the largest increase in nearly a year as consumer spending has helped fuel U.S. economic growth.

The Federal Reserve said Friday that consumer borrowing rose by a seasonally adjusted $25.3 billion in October to a total of $3.96 trillion. The October increase was the most since November 2017 and more than double the gain in the prior month.

Much of the increase was due a 10.75% jump in revolving credit, a category that includes credit which includes auto loans and student debt — rose 6.67%. Economists and investors because major producers — including the U.S. — are pumping oil at high rates.

The reduction has certainly met with the response hoped for by ministers as it was at the upper end of most predictions. Following the announcement, Brent crude, the international standard, was up $2.79 a barrel, or 4.7 percent, at $62.85. Benchmark New York crude was $2.11, or 4.1 percent, higher at $53.60 a barrel.

Ann-Louise Hittle, a vice president at oil industry expert Wood Mackenzie, said the production cut "would tighten" the oil market by the third quarter next year and help lift Brent prices back above $70 per barrel.

"For most nations, self-interest ultimately prevails," she said. "Saudi Arabia has a long-term goal of managing the oil market to avoid the sharp falls and spikes which hurt demand and the ability of the industry to develop supply. On top of this, Saudi Arabia also needs higher oil revenues to fund domestic Saudi spending."

Russian Energy Minister Alexander Novak called the negotiations with the OPEC nations "fairly challenging" but said the decision "should help the market reach a balanced state."

"I think this is a strong signal to anybody who has doubted it that our cooperation is continuing and we can react to any challenge the market throws at us," he said in Russian through a translator.

OPEC's reliance on non-members like Russia highlights the cartel's waning influence in oil markets, which it had dominated for decades. The OPEC-Russia alliance was made necessary in 2016 to compete with the United States' vastly increased production of oil in recent years. By some estimates, the U.S. this year became the world's top crude producer.

The cut is unlikely to be greeted warmly by U.S. President Donald Trump, who has been pressuring the cartel publicly to maintain production. On Wednesday, he tweeted: "Hopefully OPEC will be keeping oil flows as is, not restricted. The World does not want to see, or need, higher oil prices!"

One stumbling block to an agreement had been Iran, Saudi Arabia's regional rival and fellow OPEC member, which had been arguing for an exemption to any cuts because its crude exports are already being pinched already by U.S. sanctions.

Al-Mazrouei said that in the end Iran had been given an exemption, as well as Venezuela and Libya.

That "means that the percentage we will contribute among us is going to be a bit higher," he said.

"We within OPEC are committed to distribute the 800 (thousand bpd) among us and deliver on it.'

Kevin Hart quits as Oscars host over his anti-gay tweets

everybody."

Hart's attitudes about homosexuality were also a well-known part of his stand-up act. In the 2010 special "Seriously Funny," he said "one of my biggest fears is my son growing up and being gay."

"Keep in mind, I'm not homophobic, I have nothing against gay people, do what you want to do, but me, being a heterosexual male, if I can prevent my son from being gay, I will," Hart said.

GLAAD, the advocacy group for LGBTQ rights, said Thursday that it reached out to Oscars broadcaster ABC, the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences, and Hart's management to "discuss Kevin's anti-LGBTQ rhetoric and record."

Comedian and actor Billy Eichner said "a simple, authentic apology showing any bit of understanding or remorse would have been so simple."

It's not the first time an Oscars host has been derailed by anti-gay remarks. Ahead of the 2012 Academy Awards, producer Brett Ratner, who had been paired with host Eddie Murphy, resigned days after using a gay slur at a film screening. Murphy soon after exited, as well.

That year, a tried-and-true Oscars veteran — Billy Crystal — jumped in to save the show, hosting for his eighth time. This time, speculation has already been rampant that few in Hollywood want the gig, for which few win glowing reviews.

The film academy moved up this year's ceremony to Feb. 24, giving producers little time to find a replacement.

At a Hollywood event Thursday night, comedian Kathy Griffin, whose career suffered last year when she posted a photo on social media that looked like a beheaded President Donald Trump, said Hart messed up, yet had empathy for the situation.

"He wrote that tweet eight years ago when gay marriage wasn't even legal yet, so we all do things. God knows in my 23 specials I've said heinously inappropriate things," she said.

Griffin hoped Hart's departure would open the door for a woman comedian to host the show.

"I want more women to host the Oscars and in the entire history of the Oscars, they've only been hosted by three women, three times and so we haven't leveled the playing field yet," she said.

Terry Crews, who described Hart as a "brother," said he respected Hart's decision to walk away from the show.

"I'm thankful that he acknowledged things that maybe weren't right, and he'll come back from this," Crews said. "We do have to admit our guilt and say, 'Hey I messed up and let's fix this thing.' I think that he will do that, and he has always done that."

Hart will host the 2019 Academy Awards, fulfilling a lifelong dream for the actor-comedian. Hart announced Tuesday, Dec. 4, 2018, his selection in an Instagram statement and the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences followed up with a tweet that welcomed him "to the family."

NEW YORK (AP) - Just two days after being named host of the Academy Awards, Kevin Hart stepped down following an outcry over past homophobic tweets by the comedian.

Capping a swift and dramatic fallout, Hart wrote on Twitter just after midnight Thursday that he was withdrawing as Oscars host because he didn't want to be a distraction. "I sincerely apologize to the LGBTQ community for my insensitive words from my past," wrote Hart.

Hart, who is in Australia for a comedy tour, also tweeted Friday morning: "The ultimate measure of a man is not where he stands in moments of comfort and convenience, but where he stands at times of challenge and controversy. Martin Luther King, Jr.'

Earlier Thursday evening, the comedian had refused to apologize for tweets that resurfaced after he was announced as Oscars host on Tuesday. In a video on Instagram, Hart said the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences gave him an ultimatum: apologize or "we're going to have to move on and find another host."

"I chose to pass on the apology," Hart said. "The reason why I passed is because I've addressed this several times."

The film academy didn't respond to messages Thursday evening.

Hart has since deleted some of the anti-gay tweets. mostly dated from 2009-2011. But they had already been screen-captured and been shared online. In 2011, he wrote in a since-deleted tweet: "Yo if my son comes home & try's 2 play with my daughters doll house I'm going 2 break it over his head & say n my voice 'stop that's gay."

In an earlier post Thursday, Hart wrote on Instagram that critics should "stop being negative" about his earlier anti-gay remarks.

"I'm almost 40 years old. If you don't believe that people change, grow, evolve? I don't know what to tell you," said Hart, who added, in all-caps: "I love

December 9 - 15, 2018

If December isn't Lori Loughlin Month on television, it's hard to prove.

With a new Hallmark Channel movie – "Homegrown Christmas," also featuring her eldest daughter, Bella Giannulli – playing through the holidays, the home-screen staple's fourth season of Netflix's "Fuller House" debuts Friday, Dec. 14. Then, Loughlin reappears in Hallmark in what has become an annual tradition: a Christmas edition of "When Calls the Heart" (on the most appropriate date, Dec. 25) that precedes that series' next season.

The return of "Fuller House" comes soon after an occasion that reaffirmed the family feeling among the sitcom's cast members: the wedding of Bob Saget, alias the show's Danny Tanner. "Oh, my gosh, it was so special," the pleasant Loughlin says. "It was nice to see Bob in this very happy, safe place and really in love. The wedding was elegant, and (his new wife) Kelly looked beautiful.

"Bob is great friends with John Mayer," adds Loughlin, "and John got up with his guitar and sang a couple of songs, which was such a treat. It was just lovely." The ceremony was officiated by actor Jonathan Silverman ("Weekend at Bernie's"), whim Loughlin reports is "another longtime friend of Bob's. It just had really nice touches like that, and it was a really special celebration."

Attendees also included Loughlin's "husband" on "Fuller House," John Stamos, who became a first-time father this year. "I couldn't be more in love with that child," Loughlin enthuses. "Honestly, I would move in with them if they'd let me! That baby is so precious; he's just the happiest little guy. I think that his whole life, (Stamos) has waited for the woman of his dreams, and he's waited for this little boy to enter his world. I just don't think he can even believe his entire fantasy and dream has come true."
