Estelle Howard and fellow artists celebrate her first 100 years

By AMANDA DUFORAT

An artist's life that has spanned a century was the focus of the monthly Big Spring Art Association's February meeting. However, instead of studying the life of an artist from a book, members who were in attendance received first hand interaction with an artist of such caliber. Estelle Howard celebrated her 100th birthday amongst other local artists, this past weekend.

"The best advice I can give is to just have fun when you paint," Howard said. "It is a pleasure for me to paint and to be able to continue to do so. When you paint strive to do something different; we learn something from every painting, even if it's simply not to do 'that' again ... I still haven't learned that one yet. I try to fix it."

As Howard spoke to the group about her inspiration for painting, her passion for Power Hour!

SMMC and ACS team up for cancer-fighting action

By AMANDA DUFORAT
 Managing Editor

Scenic Mountain Medical Center and the American Cancer Society have teamed up for Power Hour, on Feb. 28 from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m.

"This is an opportunity to find out how the American Cancer Society, like so many other organizations, can work with the local community and the local hospital to be proactive on the health journey," Sherri Wigington, Our Healthy Circle Advisor, said.

Power Hour is scheduled from 3 p.m. to 4 p.m. at Scenic Mountain Medical Center, and will include inspirational stories, food, fellowship, an opportunity for prizes and more, according to Wigington. The main speaker will be Candice Escamilla, American Cancer Society Community Development Manager.

"We are talking about attacking cancer from every angle. It is going to be educational, fun and a great way to prepare as we enter into the Relay (For Life) season," she said.

The Our Healthy Circle program is part of Scenic Mountain Medical Center's educational outreach and community involvement. In addition to educational forums, the OHC also offers other activities for socialization and community connection.

For more information or to reserve your spot for the Power Hour, call Sherri Wigington at 432-268-4902.

Traffic fatalities, injuries edge higher in energy-producing areas of Texas

Special to the Herald

Booming energy production has brought jobs and economic gains to communities throughout Texas, but also an unintended consequence with a rise in traffic fatalities and injuries. In 2017, more than 194,000 crashes – an average of 532 per day in the state's five main oil and gas production regions – resulted in 1,614 deaths and 7,422 serious injuries, a slight increase over the previous year.

Texas Department of Transportation officials point to failure to control speed and driver inattention as the main reasons we are seeing a rise in traffic crashes in areas such as the Barnett Shale, Eagle Ford Shale, Granite Wash, Haynesville/Bossier Shale and Permian Basin. Driving under the influence of alcohol is also a primary factor in these fatal crashes.

"Increased traffic and larger, heavier vehicles are changing driving conditions in many parts of Texas," said Texas Transportation Commissioner Alvin New. "We're working with state, federal, local and industry partners to address safety and congestion, and we're also reminding motorists to be safe and drive smart by following all traffic laws, giving their full attention to the road, and being cautious around the many water, sand and heavy equipment trucks traveling through energy-producing areas."

Motorists can expect to see a variety of reminders in the coming weeks as TxDOT kicks off its annual "Be Safe. Drive Smart." safety campaign that urges drivers to take precautions when sharing the road with heavy trucks and work crews in energy-producing regions that cover more than half of the state's 254 counties. The campaign's TV and radio spots, billboards, gas pump messages and digital advertising encourage drivers to follow basic common sense safety tips:

- Always buckle up - drivers and all passengers, day and night.
- Drive a safe speed that takes traffic, road

CASA issues call for volunteers

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

CASA of West Texas will be hosting an informational Lunch and Learn on what it takes to become a CASA volunteer Monday, March 4, at 12 p.m. at the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce, 215 W. 3rd St. Lunch will be provided and everyone is welcome.

"We invite everyone to come join us for lunch," says Kathy Harmon, CASA of West Texas Marketing Specialist. "With the increase of population, we have had an increase of kids, and it has been hard keeping up with the demand for volunteers."

CASA (Court Appointed Special Advocates) of West Texas recruits, trains and supports volunteers from our community who stand up and give a "voice" to children in foster care. CASA volunteers served 474 abused and neglected children in 2018, from newborn to 18 years of age, in seven west Texas counties including Midland, Martin, Howard, Dawson, Gaines, Glasscock and Andrews. There were 116 children in foster care in Howard County in 2018, and these children deserve a chance of having a better life. Harmon said, they need an advocate.

"The saddest thing is to have to turn away a case because we do not have enough available volunteers," Harmon said. "When we have to turn a case away, that means we are leaving a child without someone in their corner, and we

Charles Francis Camp

Charles Francis Camp, 81, of the Midway Community, died Saturday, Feb. 16, 2019, at Medical City Plano hospital surrounded by his wife and daughters. Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 21, 2019, at the Midway Baptist Church with his nephew, Rev. Rick Holeman and his grandson, David C. Shaw, officiating. Interment will follow at Trinity Memorial Park with Dr. Michael Seay officiating.

The family will receive friends from 4-6 p.m. Wednesday at the funeral home.

Charles was born June 12, 1937, in Big Spring to Grover and Ruby Weatherby Camp. He married Melba Boroughs July 8, 1960, in Big Spring.

Charles was a lifelong resident of Howard County. He started his career as a bulldozer operator for Jack Taylor. Then he worked as a welder at Cosden Refinery, retiring with 23 years of service. All the while working, he maintained a large garden, which he sold to the public. After his daughters

Scott Underwood

Scott Underwood was born on Feb. 24, 1965 in Howard County. He is the son of Loyd and Pat Underwood. Scott graduated from Big Spring High School in 1983. He was on the golf team, performed with the Meistersingers and participated in several musicals with the Big Spring High School Choral Department. In his high school years he traveled and sang with Joe Whitten Prison

Ministries. Scott graduated from Texas Tech University May 1989 with a BS in Agricultural Economics. He lived and worked in Lubbock, Tex., after graduating and later moved to Big Spring where he lived for the remainder of his life. Scott had been

Evelyn Ella Carter

Evelyn Ella Carter, sometimes referred to as, Evelyn Homolka Carter, a retired Morehouse Parish, LA school teacher and Louisiana real estate broker, died at the age of 100 on Feb. 15, 2019, from complications following a fall. Evelyn's most beloved job was that of a wife, mother and grandmother.

Evelyn Carter is the daughter of John and Anna Homolka from Wilbur, NE. She had a beloved deceased sister, Susie Lee Allen of Torrance, CA and loved brother, Roland Homolka, of NC.

Evelyn is attended to by Myers & Smith Funeral Home in Big Spring, TX. Final funeral services will be held on Feb. 23, at Green Hill's Memorial Park Cemetery, Rancho Palos Verdes, CA. at 12 p.m.. Mrs. Carter will be interred in a family mausoleum.

Evelyn Carter was born Aug. 9, 1918, in the Czech town of Wilbur, NE where everyone spoke Czech. Evelyn started her teaching career at the age of 17 in Nebraska. In those days, teachers could teach elementary school with a high school degree. She saved her money and attended Peru State College in Peru, Nebraska. Evelyn, after her move to Louisiana, obtained her teacher's master degree from the University of Louisiana at Monroe.

Gale Carter met Evelyn at Peru State College when both were chosen for the homecoming court. They were married in 1941. The marriage had to be a secret because in the early 1940's, female teachers could not be wed. Evelyn's quote on this matter was, "When my husband and I got married, the only people who knew about it were our parents and closest friends. Many of the rural school boards would not tolerate having married female teachers, even though it was okay to have married male teachers."

World War II started and Gale enlisted in the army becoming a decorated Army Captain at 25 years of age. Gale served in the Battles of Leyte and Okinawa in the Pacific. During Gale's absence, Evelyn worked for the U.S. Department of Defense in California, where she was assigned to a team that calculated the resources needed to build American war planes. Evelyn recalled, "When the war broke out the country needed women to fill the jobs of all our men serving overseas. I knew it was my duty to do what I could at home, so I signed up to do my part."

When the war ended, Gale followed his army buddy, Warren White, to Mer Rouge, LA where the couple settled. Gale and Evelyn bought a drug store in the town. After three children were born, the store was sold and Evelyn became a dress shop owner and then became a kindergarten and third grade teacher in Mer Rouge. Gale became a realtor and land broker. After Evelyn's retirement from teaching, she became a realtor and partnered with her husband until his death in 1993. Evelyn continued her working career, which ended when she was 92 years of age.

For the past five years, Evelyn has resided in Big Spring, TX, minutes from her daughter, Susan. After Evelyn's fall, she resided at Parkview Nursing Home in Big Spring, where she was treated wonderfully.

Evelyn is survived by her brother, Roland Homolka and his son, Greg Homolka of Asheville, NC, Evelyn's son, John William Carter of Torrance, CA, married to Val Horlacher Carter, daughters, Penny Ruffin of Highlands Ranch, CO, married to Russell Ruffin and Gale "Susan" Durham of Big Spring, TX, married to Hill Durham. Evelyn is also survived by a first cousin, Joey Vosoba of Wilbur, NE. Evelyn has seven grandchildren; Penny Anne and Cindy (Penny's), John and Megan (John's) and Wendy, Christina and Kimberly (Susan's). Evelyn also has 12 great grandchildren.

Honorary pallbearers are Dan McCue of Roseburg, Or, Johnny McAdams, Dickie Blackwell, Daniel Harris, Bob Erle Clark and Dickie Heusel, all of Mer Rouge, LA. Prentice Norred, of Eros, LA, Joe White Jr. of Shreveport, LA and Andy Barham of Oak Ridge, LA.

Posthumously as honorary pallbearers are Dan McDuff of Monroe, LA, Rex Green and T J Parker, Sr, of Mer Rouge, LA, Jackie Yeldell of Bastrop, LA, Dr. Bernard Soto of Orlando, FL and Dr. John Coats of Bastrop, LA.

During her 100th birthday party in Big Spring, TX, Evelyn told her guests, "I've had a wonderful life. Big Spring friends have been lovely and Mer Rouge friends are family to me. Mer Rouge, LA, was the perfect place to raise a family. God has been good to me. I have been blessed with a wonderful and loving family."

Evelyn left her children with a lesson to have love for all, forgiveness and "don't sweat the small stuff!" Arrangements are by Myers & Smith Funeral Home. Pay your respects online at www.myersand-smith.com.

creativity flowed out in her words. Her sense of humor, her admiration for her friends and family and her faith was obvious in her speech.

"God's mercy is new every morning and to all generations. That is one thing that I am still endeavoring to show (in my paintings) is His grace. I want to show the wonderfulness of God in my paintings," Howard said.

Before she began her painting for the day, she discussed the imporance of finding an idea for the creation. She even giggled as she told the group how her paintings are a result of her feelings;

"Lately, when it comes to painting, I go by my feelings," Howard said. "Some days I feel tired, and I just put the paintbrush down and prop my feet up, and take a nap."

conditions and weather into account.

- Focus 100 percent on driving and put the phone away.

- Give large trucks plenty of space. Be careful and only pass vehicles when it is safe to do so.

- Obey all stop signs and traffic signals.
- Never drive under the influence of alcohol or other drugs.

TxDOT will host community events this month in the Permian Basin and Eagle

Ford Shale featuring a new interactive public engagement exhibit outfitted with a variety of games and video displays that educate visitors about the importance of safe and smart driving in high-traffic oil and gas production areas.

In addition to raising public awareness about crash prevention steps, TxDOT also is committed to repairing and improving roads in the state's energy-production areas. The Texas Transportation Commission has directed $3.4 billion to make repairs and improve roads in the booming Permian Basin over the next decade. While only 2 percent of Texans live in the Permian Basin region, 11 percent of all traffic fatalities in the state took place there in 2017.

"Be Safe. Drive Smart." is a key component of #EndTheStreakTX, a larger grassroots effort that empowers drivers to make safer choices while on the road. Since Nov. 7, 2000, at least one person has died on Texas roadways every single day and that's why #EndTheStreakTX asks all Texans to commit to helping end the streak of daily deaths on our roadways. TxDOT utilizes other driver education initiatives such as "Be Safe. Drive Smart." to help in this endeavor.

Permian Basin Cotton Conference, auxin training set Feb. 28 in Stanton

Special to the Herald

STANTON — The Permian Basin Cotton Conference will be held Feb. 28 at the Martin County Community Center, 301 St. Theresa St. in Stanton.

The conference is hosted by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service offices in Howard, Martin, Midland, Reagan and Upton counties.

"All of our cotton producers should plan on attending," said Tommy Yeater, AgriLife Extension agent for Howard County. "This is an opportunity to get farm bill updates, meet our two new agronomists and get your auxin training for the year completed."

The cost is $10 if registering by Feb. 25 or $20 at the door. To preregister, contact the AgriLife Extension office in Howard County at 432-264-2236.

On-site registration starts at 7:30 a.m., and the conference begins at 8 a.m. At the conclusion of the conference, there will be a complimentary lunch at noon. An auxin training session will follow.

Featured AgriLife Extension speakers are economist Bill Thompson, San Angelo; state cotton specialist Dr. Gaylon Morgan, College Station; retired entomologist Dr. Charles Allen, San Angelo; and agronomists Dr. Reagan Noland, San Angelo, and Dr. Murilo Maeda, Lubbock.

Topics to be discussed include nutrient management for cotton, new technologies in cotton production and weed management, farm bill updates, integrated pest management updates and cotton variety trials.

There will be three Texas Department of Agriculture continuing education units available for the conference and two CEUs in laws and regulations available for auxin training.

don't want that."

CASA volunteers are everyday members of the community doing extraordinary work - according to Harmon - by choosing to speak up for abused and neglected children in their communities.

"Often, the CASA volunteer is the one constant in a child's life while he or she goes through the over-burdened foster care system. CASA volunteers work to move the children through the foster care system and into safe, permanent housing as soon as possible," Harmon said.

CASA is not foster care, and volunteers do not provide care for the children. A CASA volunteer advocates for the best interest of the child while they are in foster care.

"The average commitment is about five to seven hours a month and for a long-term commitment of about a year," says Harmon. "We ask for a year because the typical case takes about a year to move through the system until a resolution is reached."

According to Harmon, CASA's vision is to have a CASA volunteer for every child who needs one.

"Come out and join us for lunch, and learn how you can become a CASA volunteer," Harmon said.

For more information about the lunch and learn, or on how to become a CASA volunteer, please

Fatal brain disease found in a wild deer in Crow Wing County

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Wildlife managers have confirmed chronic wasting disease in a wild deer in Crow Wing County of east-central Minnesota, marking the first discovery of the fatal brain disease among the state's wild deer outside the southeastern corner of Minnesota.

Lou Cornicelli, wildlife research manager for the Department of Natural Resources, said Friday the deer was found dead a half-mile from a farm near Merrifield where captive deer have tested positive for CWD. He says it doesn't appear the deer escaped, but he believes the farm is the likely source of the infection.

The disease previously had been found in Minnesota wild deer only in Fillmore, Houston and Winona Counties.

Gov. Tim Walz will ask the Legislature for $4.57 million over the next two years and $1.1 million annually thereafter to combat the disease.

2 fatally shot at Texas complex, suspect caught in Louisiana

HENDERSON, Texas (AP) — Police say two people have been fatally shot and two wounded at an East Texas apartment complex and a suspect has been captured in Louisiana.

A Henderson police statement says 62-year-old Randy Buford Winn of Henderson was arrested Sunday night in Bienville (bee-EN-vil) Parish, Louisiana, a few hours after the gunfire. Jail records didn't list an attorney to speak for Winn, who was being held without bond Tuesday on a Texas murder warrant.

Police didn't immediately provide a possible motive for the shootings or any relationship between Winn and those who died — 31-year-old Justin Smith and 37-year-old Holly Jones.

Two wounded adults were hospitalized in stable condition. Police say three children weren't injured during the gunfire and are with relatives.

Henderson is 130 miles (209.21 kilometers) southeast of Dallas

Chief: Houston police will end use of no-knock warrants

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston's police chief has announced officers will no longer use no-knock warrants, just weeks after a drug raid on a home in which two suspects were fatally shot and five undercover officers were injured.

Chief Art Acevedo announced on Monday that the Houston Police Department will no longer use the warrants without a special exemption from his office to conduct a no-knock raid.

The decision comes as the city faces fallout from the deadly Jan. 28 raid. Acevedo revealed last week that a 30-year veteran of the force lied in an affidavit to justify the drug raid.

Acevedo also announced a new policy for undercover officers to wear body cameras during raids.

No-knock warrants have also been challenged in Little Rock, Arkansas.

Head position during sleep has potential implications for neurodegenerative disease

CARLSBAD, Calif. (AP) — Could sleeping on your back increase your brain's risk of developing neurodegenerative disease? That possibility is revealed in a new study published in the Journal of Alzheimer's Disease.

"We compared the in-home sleep patterns of patients with memory impairment resulting from neurodegenerative diseases to a large group of elderly with normal cognition," stated Daniel J. Levendowski, the study's first author and President of Advanced Brain Monitoring. "Sleeping more than 2 hours with one's head lying face upward (i.e., supine) was a significant nocturnal marker that characterized those with memory impairment, after controlling for factors such as age, sex, snoring, obstructive sleep apnea, and movements during the night."

These results corroborate in humans a finding observed in rats by researchers at Stony Brook University and published in the Journal of Neuroscience. Using dynamic contrast MRI, they found that the clearance of neurotoxic proteins from the brain by glymphatic transport was less efficient when the rats' heads were in the supine sleep position. "Our results clearly support their conclusions," added Dr. Philip Westbrook, Chief Medical Officer of Advanced Brain Monitoring. "We also suggest how the interaction between supine sleep and the natural changes that come with age could impact the clearance of amyloid, tau, alpha-synuclein, and other neurotoxins from the brain during sleep."

Because imaging of the glymphatic system in humans is not yet possible, additional research is needed to establish a causal relationship between neurodegenerative disease and supine sleep. "The strength of the association, however, points to a potentially modifiable risk factor for neurodegenerative disease, similar to diet and exercise," suggested Dr. Charlene Gamaldo, a co-author and Associate Professor of Neurology at Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

The study results were obtained as part of a $2.5 million multi-site longitudinal study funded by the National Institute of Aging and awarded to Advanced Brain Monitoring. The aim of this ongoing research is to characterize the brain's function during wake and sleep to provide early identification and differentiation between mild cognitive impairment, Alzheimer's, Parkinson's, and other dementias. "This is one of many neurodegenerative disease markers we've identified to predict the likelihood of a dementia subtype, quantifying the progression of the disease, and evaluating efficacy of new treatments," said Chris Berka, principal investigator for the project and CEO of Advanced Brain Monitoring.

Advanced Brain Monitoring, Inc. is a privately-held neuro-diagnostics device company, specializing in the acquisition and analysis of EEG during wake and sleep. The Company's products are used in clinical trials and in clinical practice to interpret brain function as it relates to early stage neurodegeneration and chronic diseases, and to improve sleep quality and enhance performance. Since 2013, the Company has been awarded 15 patents, which includes seven FDA-cleared and CE-marked products. From its inception in 1999, the Company has been awarded over $35 million in government R&D funding.

$2.1 Million in TEA Grants Bolsters College of Education's Principal Fellows Program

Special to the Herald

The funds will allow schools in seven independent school districts in Texas to develop currently employed teachers into principals through the Texas Tech Principal Fellows Program.

The Texas Education Agency (TEA) has awarded more than $2.1 million in grant funds to a group of school districts to partner with the Texas Tech University College of Education on an innovative principal preparation program.

The funds will allow schools in seven independent school districts (ISDs) to develop currently employed teachers into principals through the Texas Tech Principal Fellows Program — a nationally recognized, job-embedded graduate program created by faculty in the Educational Leadership program at Texas Tech.

The funding is through TEA's 2019-2020 Principal Preparation grant program, which seeks to build strong campus leaders and support internal leadership pipelines through full-time, yearlong principal residencies.

Of the seven districts, three are in the Dallas area: Duncanville, Greenville and Grand Prairie. The remaining four partners are in the South Plains region: Lubbock, Brownfield, Plainview and Springlake-Earth. In all, the grant funding will help produce 30 principals or assistant principals.

"School principals are second only to teachers in terms of the direct impact they have on our children's education," said Fernando Valle, associate professor of educational leadership at Texas Tech. "The on-the-job training experience offered through the Texas Tech Principal Fellows Program has already proven to be transformative for high-need districts that struggle to recruit and retain high-quality principals. We're pleased to continue helping partner school districts grow and develop effective leaders who understand the unique needs of — and reflect the diversity of — their communities."

Selected teachers will undergo an intensive, 15-month administrator residency at their school districts, learning from mentor principals and Texas Tech faculty coaches. The residency involves state-of-the-art video capture technology to review performances on-site.

During the residency, candidates complete a tuition-free master's degree in educational leadership online through Texas Tech and earn a principal certification — all while continuing to earn their teaching salary.

"Partnering with Texas Tech University is an integral part of our leadership pipeline," said Pat Lewis, deputy superintendent of innovation and school improvement at Grand Prairie ISD. "This grant allows us to continue providing job-embedded, intensive school leadership training with instructional coaching from the campus, district leaders and Texas Tech University College of Education faculty. The major idea is to grow the people who are responsible for growing instruction."

The Principal Fellows Program model was developed in partnership with the National Institute of Excellence in Teaching (NIET) and TEA, utilizing competency-based instruction to ensure graduates can promote effective teaching, deliver high-quality professional development and build communities across diverse school stakeholders such as parents and business leaders.

Valle and Irma Almager, an assistant professor in the Educational Leadership program, first piloted the program in 2014 at Lubbock ISD. The U.S. Department of Education later awarded Texas Tech a $7.2 million grant through its Supporting Effective Educator Development Grant Program (SEED) to expand the program in Texas, Louisiana and Indiana. The addition of state funding has allowed even greater expansion.

In all, the Principal Fellows Program has produced 48 principals. Graduates have a 100 percent job placement rate.

Lady Buffs keep on rolling with big win over Roughettes

By JORDAN PARR

Sports Editor

LUBBOCK – The Lady Buffs took on the Sundown Roughettes Tuesday night at LCU's Rip Griffin Center in the Regional Quarterfinals. Forsan once again rode their dominating defense to another big time victory, holding the Roughettes to just 25 points in the game. Staggeringly, the Lady Buffs held Sundown to just 9 points in the entire second half and did just enough offensively to get the 30-25 win. With another gold ball in their trophy case, Forsan will move on to face off against the #4 Wellington Skyrockets this Friday for the Regional Semifinals.

In the first quarter, Sundown had their best quarter of the game. The Roughettes were able to get some second chance opportunities to match the quick scoring of the Lady Buffs Rylee Evans and Emily Garcia and tie the game at 5-5 with 5 minutes left in the quarter. With Sundown's Lee sisters coming on strong and getting multiple offensive rebounds early. The Roughettes took the lead 7-5, with just 1:45 left in the first. Both teams traded three pointers in the closing minute of the quarter to put the score at 10-8 at the end of one. Turnovers and allowing Sundown to be productive on the offensive glass put the Lady Buffs down early in the game. Thankfully, the great three point shooting of Rylee Evans kept Forsan right there in it.

In the second quarter, the Lady Buffs made the corrections Coach Vedder wanted and Forsan held the Roughettes to just 6 points in the period. Points were hard to come by for both teams at the beginning of the second. Finally Emily Garcia broke the stalemate with a nice shot from the paint to give the Lady Buffs a 12-10 lead. After a made free throw by Sundown, Macey Evans found Katelin Colvin for a wide open three to bring the Forsan lead to 15-11 with 2:25 left in the half. The Roughettes made a small run at the end of the second to cut the lead back to 18-16, but Macey Evans hit a shot at the buzzer to give the Lady Buffs a 4 point cushion heading into the break leading 20-16. Emily Garcia had 9 points and 5 rebounds to lead Forsan in the first half. Rylee Evans had 6 points and 2 assists while Macey Evans had just 2 points but led the team with 4 assists and 3 steals in the half.

The Lady Buffs pose with their Regional Quarterfinal trophy after beating the Sundown Roughettes 30-25 Tuesday night at LCU's Rip Griffin Center.

Coming out of the break, neither team scored for the first three minutes of play. With both defenses digging in, points were going to come at a premium in the second half. Garcia finally scored again for Forsan to break the deadlock and to extend the Lady Buffs' lead to 22-16 with 4:50 left in the third. Lee made a free throw for the Roughettes to cut the Forsan lead to 22-17. Mikahaela Willard answered to make it a 24-17 game with 1:24 left in the period. Cortez found a way to get a bucket for Sundown in the closing seconds to once again cut the lead to 5 at 24-19 heading into the final quarter. The Lady Buffs' defense came up big in the quarter, holding Sundown to just 3 points in the period. Unfortunately, Forsan was only able to manage 4 points of their own putting them in a close battle headed into the fourth quarter.

In the final period, Sundown really rebounded the ball well and did their best to get some offense going. But again, both defenses really played well and scoring the ball was not an easy task for either team. No points were scored in the fourth quarter till Garcia once again ended the drought to increase the Lady Buffs lead to 26-19 with 4:18 left in the game. The Roughettes answered with a basket of their own to cut the lead to 26-21 with 3:23 left in the game. Not to be outdone, Garcia scored back to back buckets for the Lady Buffs to push the Forsan lead up to 9 at 30-21 with 51 seconds left in the game. The Roughettes fought hard down the stretch to cut the lead back to 5, but it was too little too late as Forsan held on for a 30-25 win.

With the win the Lady Buffs earned their fourth gold ball of the season, and will move on with a chance for their fifth with the #4 Wellington Skyrockets in the Regional Semifinals. Emily Garcia was a force on both ends of the court for Forsan. Garcia finished the game with 17 points, 9 rebounds and 2 blocks, just one rebound shy of a double-double. Rylee Evans finished with 6 point, 6 rebounds, 3 assists and 3 steals. Macey Evans had 2 points, 5 rebounds, 7 assists and 5 steals. Mikahaela Willard had 2 points, 7 rebounds and 1 steal in the game and Katelin Colvin had 3 points to fill out the Lady Buffs stat line. Congratulations to the Lady Buffs on another great win!

Coahoma ends playoff run with loss against Cisco

Special to the Herald

ABILENE – The Coahoma Bulldogs ended their season Tuesday night with a 39-68 loss in the bi-district championship game against the Cisco Loboes.

The evening was bittersweet for Coahoma Head Basketball Coach Joe Mireles who took over the struggling basketball team three years ago and brought them to their first playoff game in a number of years.

"I am really proud of the whole team, but it's going to really hurt to let go of the seniors," Mireles said. "Those are the guys that when I first got here we went through the 40 point loses, the 50 point loses, and I told them to stick with it, trust me and things would turn around. They trusted in the process and three years later we are in the playoffs."

The game took place in Abilene Christian University's Moody Coliseum where both teams got to experience the atmosphere and luxury of a Division I basketball court. Mireles said his players were a bit starstruck when they first saw the court.

"It's something new, and it's an experience they will never forget," he said.

The Bulldogs faced a tough Cisco team who were effective on defense and deadly accurate at the hoop all night long.

In the first quarter, Zack Schneider buried a jumper to pull within two points of the Cisco's lead then Gage Clark-Burdell was fouled while shooting behind the arc. He nailed all three charity shots and the Bulldogs pushed ahead 7-6. A field goal by Gage Hill bumped up the score 9-6 in the Bulldogs favor, but Cisco was quick to retake the lead by one after Cisco's Israel Adame was fouled while successfully nailing a jumper. He converted the free throw to pull the Loboes ahead by one point.

A basket by Bryson Cline from a jumper put the Bulldogs back in the lead, but it was for the last time. The Loboes took control for the rest of the game.

Coahoma loses four seniors this year — Clark-Burdell, Cline, Joe Manning, and Brice Martin — all of whom have been instrumental in the Bulldogs successful run for the playoffs.

"We've got some young ones coming up that will fill their shoes but growing with these seniors I've had since I first got here, it's going to be a hard loss," Mireles said.

Supermoon Goes Driverless

ARIES (March 21-April 19). There are dynamics at play that raise the stakes for key interactions. Do a practice run in the mirror, in your head, on paper... whatever it takes to work it out and get you ready and confident for the real thing.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Pick a target you can stick with then aim and shoot. Success does not depend on getting it right the first time (or ever, actually). Success depends on repeated efforts toward the same goal.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You're a different person than you were last week. That's why, when you revisit work you did then, you can see the problems. And it's also why you should put today's results in a drawer and come back to it a week from now.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Your friends just want to let loose, and prefer your brand of fun. But just because they call on you doesn't mean your own agenda becomes suddenly less important. Keep original plans, especially if they involve only you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). You know what it feels like to be a little too afraid, or too proud, to go with the flow, and this isn't that. The flow is wrong. Resistance may be difficult or even futile but it's your only option. What matters to you most is doing the right thing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Pay attention to how you use that powerful tool called your voice. Also, there's much to learn in the the voices of others (though much of it is animal-level information that can't be put into words.)

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). As a rule, you see incuriousness as a fault, as it signals self-centeredness and possible intellectual stunting. However, today brings an occasion in which you'll be happy not to be bothered by curious minds poking around in your direction.

Tomorrow's Horoscope
BY HOLIDAY MATHIS

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The importance of your position makes you the object of a sort of attention that you shouldn't take personally. Recognize that it's the nature of the position and not your own nature that engenders certain scenarios.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). There is no objective way to prove the value of today's interaction. It's all what you make of it. Even if it doesn't lead to the outcome you were going for, you could be better off for the miss.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). People who are contributing to something often show up differently than people who are asking for something. That's a gap that the smoothest operators close. Show up the same either way.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You have been known to take part in such antics as presenting a cheerful mood for no reason and supporting small achievements with high enthusiasm. Today will be a case in point.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Squabbling children cry "no fair," believing in a just world. Adults cry "no fair," knowing that justice is human construct that has to be conceived, fought for and enforced. Justice is rare but worth the fight.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Feb. 20). Over the next 10 weeks, you bring greater imagination to your problems and solve them quickly and with pleasure. June's personal breakthrough leads to new sources of income and a change in your financial style. This affects key relationships. The beauty and new perspective you seek will be found in a far off Shangri-La. Libra and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 8, 19, 38, 6 and 50.

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Advanced

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Opening lead — ten of diamonds.
Assume you reach four hearts on the bidding shown and West leads a diamond. A glance at dummy reveals that your only losers appear to be a trump, a diamond and a club, so this looks like an easy assignment. However, bridge can sometimes produce the unexpected, and it certainly does in this case where, at the conclusion of play, you find yourself down one.

Your troubles begin when East overtakes the ten of diamonds with the jack and continues with the king. You ruff with the king, and West wisely discards a spade instead of overruffing with the ace.

When you next enter dummy with a spade and lead a trump to your queen, West again refuses to take the trick, playing the three instead. You then lead the ten of trumps from your remaining J-10-8-7-5, but this time West wins with the ace, on which East signals with the eight of clubs. West thereupon leads a club to partner's ace, and East returns still another diamond. Regardless of what you do now, West is sure to score his nine of trumps to sink the contract.

If you're inclined to be philosophical about such matters, you realize it wasn't anything you did that cost the contract, but rather West's stonewall refusal to overruff the king of trumps at trick two. Had he taken his ace then and there, you would have made 10 tricks very easily.

The principle that emerges is that when you're a defender, you usually take a trick when you can — unless there's a good reason not to. In the present case, West is in a good position to judge that if he discards at trick two, his nine is certain to win a second trump trick if East has any trump honor, or if East can later regain the lead to play another diamond. That is an excellent reason for West's not taking the ace at his first opportunity.

Husband Prioritizes Grown Kids Over Wife

Dear Annie: My husband and I both have adult kids from our prior lives. Thank goodness my loving and independent children were raised and taught in a manner emphasizing that you honor your spouse first and everyone else is in line (depending upon the situation, of course).

Recently, his youngest daughter, who is 25, asked her dad whether her friend and fiance could have their wedding in our backyard. It's my husband's house, but I live there, too. In the middle of a tiff between him and me, he replied to her text without discussing it with me. So there are 65 wedding guests arriving, people we don't know. And I am sure they'll need to use restrooms. All my personal belongings are throughout the house, as I've tried to make this a beautiful and comfortable place to live. This is so hurtful and mean and inconsiderate of him. He will not say "no" to his girls, at all costs to our relationship. The girls know this and milk it every chance they get.

It's ridiculous, and I'm fed up! I deserve a loving and caring relationship with a man who is ready for a new life chapter, cherishes his woman, as well as his children, and has the you-know-whats to stand up to his adult daughters. -- Hurt, Frustrated and Appalled in Florida

Dear Hurt, Frustrated and Appalled: When you're battling your partner's children for his attention, there's no winning. Even if you ostensibly succeed, your partner might always resent your having (apparently) put a wedge between him and his kids. So reframe this problem in your mind, because it's really not about competition between you and his daughters; it's about communication (or a lack thereof) between you and your husband. Conspicuously absent from your letter is any mention of your having told him how you feel. That's a good place to start. Try not to enter the conversation with fingers pointed. Let him know that you appreciate his caring nature as a father but that his prioritization of his daughters can sometimes leave you feeling left out. Tell him that in the future, you'd like to be consulted about hosting major gatherings at your home -- explaining that though it is his house, both of you call it home.

If the problem persists, consider marriage counseling together. A therapist could help you both to see where the other is coming from and find a healthy middle ground upon which your relationship could thrive.

Today in History By The Associated Press Today in History Today is Wednesday, Feb. 20, the 51st day of 2019. There are 314 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History: On Feb. 20, 2003, a fire sparked by pyrotechnics broke out during a concert by the group Great White at The Station nightclub in West Warwick, Rhode Island, killing 100 people and injuring about 200 others. On this date: In 1792, President George Washington signed an act creating the United States Post Office Department. In 1862, William Wallace Lincoln, the 11-year-old son of President Abraham Lincoln and first lady Mary Todd Lincoln, died at the White House, apparently of typhoid fever. In 1905, the U.S. Supreme Court, in Jacobson v. Massachusetts, upheld, 7-2, compulsory vaccination laws intended to protect the public's health. In 1907, President Theodore Roosevelt signed an immigration act which excluded "idiots, imbeciles, feeble-minded persons, epileptics, insane persons" from being admitted to the United States. In 1938, Anthony Eden resigned as British foreign secretary following Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's decision to negotiate with Italian dictator Benito Mussolini. In 1942, Lt. Edward "Butch" O'Hare became the U.S. Navy's first flying ace of World War II by shooting down five Japanese bombers while defending the aircraft carrier USS Lexington in the South Pacific. In 1950, the U.S. Supreme Court, in United States v. Rabinowitz, ruled 5-3 that authorities making a lawful arrest did not need a warrant to search and seize evidence in an area that was in the "immediate and complete control" of the suspect. In 1962, astronaut John Glenn became the first American to orbit the Earth as he flew aboard Project Mercury's Friendship 7 spacecraft, which circled the globe three times in a flight lasting 4 hours, 55 minutes and 23 seconds before splashing down safely in the Atlantic Ocean 800 miles southeast of Bermuda. In 1965, America's Ranger 8 spacecraft crashed on the moon, as planned, after sending back thousands of pictures of the lunar surface. In 1971, the National Emergency Warning Center in Colorado erroneously ordered U.S. radio and TV stations off the air; some stations heeded the alert, which was not lifted for about

By LUKE MEREDITH

AP Sports Writer
 AMES, Iowa — Iowa State might have blown its shot at the Big 12 title because it suddenly and somewhat inexplicably can't win in Ames.
 Jared Butler scored 17 points, Freddie Gillespie had 14 and Baylor upset No. 19 Iowa State 73-69 on Tuesday night.
 Makia Mason scored 14 points on 18 shots in his return from a toe injury for the Bears (17-9, 8-5 Big 12). They outrebounded Iowa State 44-28 and grabbed 18 offensive boards over the smaller Cyclones, who've dropped back-to-back games at Hilton Coliseum — dubbed "Hilton Magic" because of how well the Cyclones typically play there.
 "They came in here and kicked our butts," Iowa State coach Steve Prohm said. "We've got to find a way to be tougher. That's the bottom line."
 Iowa State's 6-3 road record is the best in the Big 12.
 But for the third time this season, the Cyclones lost a home game they were favored to win.
 After trailing by 10 points midway through the first half, Iowa State went ahead 52-50 on Marial Shayok's three-point play with 11:45 left. Baylor swapped the lead with the Cyclones (19-7, 8-5) seven times in the next eight minutes, but Butler followed a layup with a 3 to put the Bears ahead 69-65 with two minutes left.

 "We just made a couple more shots down the stretch. I'm just really proud of the way our guys responded in a tough place to play down the stretch," Baylor coach Scott Drew said.
 Iowa State's Cameron Lard then fumbled an entry pass from Shayok, and Mason hit two free throws to make it 71-65 with 35.3 seconds to go.
 Shayok had 20 points for Iowa State, which went nearly six minutes without a field goal down the stretch.
 "This is embarrassing," said Iowa State's Nick Weiler-Babb, who had 10 points. "They made a run early and we just laid down and took it."
THE BIG PICTURE
 Iowa State: Iowa State, which also lost to TCU and Kansas State in Ames, fell two games behind the league-leading Wildcats. "It's really mind boggling, to be honest with you," Prohm said of his team, which beat K-State, Texas Tech and Mississippi on the road. "If you play the right way and you get beat, you get beat. We've got good teams in this league. We didn't play the right way."

 Baylor: The Bears moved into a tie for third in the Big 12 with the Cyclones, just two games back of K-State. But they still have the Wildcats and Kansas on the road, so it's hard to see Baylor as a true threat just yet. But the Bears won in Ames for just the third time in 17 tries.
THE NUMBERS
 One bright spot for Iowa State was freshman Tyrese Haliburton. After passing up too many open looks recently, he buried 3 of 4 3s. ...Eight different players grabbed offensive boards for Baylor. ...The Cyclones had just five turnovers. ...The Bears had 18 second-chance points and led for nearly 31 minutes.
HE SAID IT
 "I'm just trying to win. That's it," Butler said about his crucial 3 with two minutes left. Butler saw his defender slip under the arc, allowing just enough space for him to get a contested shot up.

Chatting on the bases is good-natured, a learning experience

By JANIE McCAULEY

AP Baseball Writer
 MESA, Ariz. — While playing for Texas, Jurickson Profar always learned something from new teammate Khris Davis when the Oakland slugger stopped at Profar's second base spot.
 Majors home run leader Davis appreciates any chance he gets to talk baseball and life with Albert Pujols while spending a few moments on first alongside the Angels star.
 Mike Trout gets a chuckle out of any good-natured prank pulled by Detroit's Miguel Cabrera at first — and there's usually something.
 "He's always messing with me," Trout said. "It doesn't necessarily have to be baseball. We have a good time. He'll pull my jersey out, he'll do everything. He's crazy. But he's one of the best."
 Opponents getting friendly during games hasn't always been such a thing. But with so many players now switching teams, sharing agents or staying in touch via social media, there are more opportunities to get to know someone you might see only a handful of times throughout a regular season — perhaps a few more times if in the same state for spring training.
 "It was not that long ago, well quite a few years ago, I take that back, where opposing teams, they really didn't talk that much," Giants manager Bruce Bochy said. "You look at the structure of the game, the free agency, the movement of players, even winter ball, things like that, these guys know each other well. That's why they spend a little bit more time talking about the game with each other even though they're on opposing teams, or maybe even trying to help each other."

In Pujols' case, he's not chatty with just anyone, especially considering some young players seem shy about approaching him, he said.
 "I've known Khris for a long time playing against him," Pujols said. "He's a great guy that does a lot of things in the community. We talk about family and the things that we do and how can we improve (in our faith), but then we always talk about our approach. If he has questions, I don't care. He's one of my peers. Even though we're wearing different uniforms, still he's one of my peers. I always want the best for everybody."
 Giants catcher Stephen Vogt, too, has talked hitting with Pujols when on first and a couple of years back chatted with Joey Votto about plate discipline, "so you can definitely learn from guys if you're willing and open and they're willing and open," Vogt said.
 "There's a competitive edge and there's obviously you want to beat them, you don't want to help them, but at the same time this is a brotherhood," Vogt said. "And if you can gain a little bit of an edge or maybe learn from some of the best things that they do to make them great and you can take a little piece of that, then why wouldn't you be trying to do that?"
 It is a big change for managers to see, especially those who used to play.
 Oakland's Bob Melvin, who like Bochy is a former big league catcher, certainly recalls an era when talking about baseball stayed within your own team.

"I think that's changed some. In years past, you didn't see players when they're running sprints before the game talking to each other and so forth. It was more us against them, 'I'm not going to talk to them,'" Melvin said. "I think you do learn something from some guys and guys aren't afraid to give guys that they have respect for their opinions and help each other."
 Some players might have fun like Cabrera does, while others ask about family or just check in on an opponent out of care.
