The Heritage Museum of Big Spring was packed Thursday afternoon as people gathered to welcome a new exhibit called "The Stars Shine Bright - West Texas in the Movies," featuring the newly-created "The Iron Orchard," which opened later Thursday evening at Big Spring's Cinemark Cinema 4.

Lane Garrison, who stars as Jim McNeely in the Big Spring-set movie, was also on hand to greet those present, sign autographs, and pose for pictures. Other stars of the film who were not present at the exhibit opening include Ali Cobrin as Lee Montgomery and Austin Nichols as Dent Paxton.

Museum Director and Curator Tammy Schrecengost talked about a few of the exhibit's details before Garrison arrived at the museum.

"We're having the opening of the Iron Orchard exhibit. We're waiting on the arrival of Lane Garrison, the star of the movie," she said. "We are wanting everyone to just come in and enjoy some props that were in the movie, a recreation of Dent's office, and lots of posters. The posters—and the whole exhibit—depicts movies made in West Texas, and it features The Iron Orchard. There were a lot of movies made in West Texas."

When he arrived at the exhibit, Garrison - a Texas native - spoke about some of his experiences getting to know and love West Texas during the movie's filming.

"The funny thing is, we just drove in from Dallas, and I fell

Two candidates seeking Big Spring District 5 city council job

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

In the only Big Spring City Council seat being contested in the May 4 election, two candidates have filed to run for office.

In Thursday's paper, the Herald introduced readers to the four candidates who will vie for the post of Big Spring mayor; today's story will discuss Daniel Moreno and Camilla Strande, who are both running for the District 5 City Council post. Upcoming stories will discuss filers for Coahoma and Forsan city positions, and filers for local school board seats.

Moreno, 25, is running to show that younger people have a voice and care about the city, he said.

"If I either win or lose, I just want to show the younger generation that we have a voice too, and I want to show the older generation that there's actually people my age, the millennial generation, that do care about the city and that try to make a difference," he said. "You don't see a lot of people my age running for, really anything around this town that I've seen."

Moreno grew up in Big Spring. "I've lived here since I was four years old, and I went to all the public schools here in Big Spring. I graduated from Howard College, and then I transferred to UTPB in Odessa," he said. "I'm excited to graduate in the summer with my bachelor's in business management. I'm currently employed at the West Texas VA, I'm in human resources. I feel qualified. I'm pretty young compared to the other candidates, but I just want to try and bring businesses to Big Spring. You see Midland and Odessa growing, and I think it's time for Big Spring to grow too."

Moreno said he doesn't feel his age will be a problem, should he be elected. Infrastructure, cleaning up the city, and bringing new business to town are his main goals.

"I've never held a position before, like local government. A lot of people told me my age, because I'm younger (might be an issue), but I know I can bring new vision and a newer voice to the city, just because I've lived here most of my life," he said. "I have family all around town who lives in different areas of Big Spring. When I drive around town, I see areas that need improvement. The roads need to be fixed, and, you know, just make the town a little bit cleaner. When you drive through, we have a lot of weeds and stuff. We could just clean up the city and make it a little bit more appealing when people drive through the town."

Moreno's opponent, Camilla Strande, is co-owner of the Train Car Cigar Bar in downtown Big Spring. She talked about her background and qualifications:

"I have a degree in English literature from UTPB. I taught four years for BSISD...I was employed by BSISD for eight years - I was a substitute for a long time before I taught," Strande said. "My husband and I own the Train Car Cigar Bar downtown. I have been a member of the Hangar 25 board for two years."

Bake Sale to support Music Ministry program at FUMC

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

The music ministry at First United Methodist Church (FUMC), located at 400 Scurry St., will be holding a fundraiser bake sale Sunday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. before, during and after both services.

"We just started a children's music ministry," Nadia Kiley, FUMC scholarship singer, said. "We had the big performance of 'Our Savior' back in December, and I felt I wanted to do more with the kids and get them more involved."

The bake sale is to help get the children's music ministry started, but the funds will be used for both the traditional and contemporary music ministries, according to Kiley. Funds will be used to purchase music, a projector for slide shows, and supplies needed for the ministry.

"We hope to do more fundraisers in asleep in the car. When I woke up I saw the Settles Hotel sign. I will forever remember that – it just felt like I was actually coming back home," he said. "At the time we shot this, I was still living out in California. Thanks to the good Lord and my wife and this movie, it really helped bring me back, and now I live in Hutto, Texas. But it was really Big Spring and the people of Big Spring that really helped drive me back to Texas and helped inspire that and influence that."

Garrison said many people said "The Iron Orchard" would never be released.

"We were able to pull off a movie where Hollywood said it couldn't be done on that budget, and it couldn't be done in 24 days, which is what we shot it in; and that it would never see the light of day, and that it would never see a release. I think the biggest thing is, because of this town and Midland and Gail and surrounding... all of West Texas, really, y'all gave us the land we shot on. Brint Ryan gave us the Hotel Settles to stay at, gave us food, they gave us the oil rigs to shoot at. Ronnie Rains out in Odessa gave us most of our cars. Because of that, we were able to complete our mission, and the film looks like it's a $30 million movie, and I've never been more proud of a movie in my life."

It was important to bring "The Iron Orchard" back to West Texas for its theatrical debut, Garrison said.

"You'll see me and the other actors on screen, but really it's the entire crew that busted their tails in 115-degree weather in the middle of summer out here," he said. "It's this entire town. It's all the local shops, and the cafes and the trucks and the drivers and the oil workers. Everyone was a part of making this movie, and that's why it's so important to bring it back here and start our release out in West Texas."

The Iron Orchard opened Thursday evening at 7 p.m. at the Cinemark Cinema 4, 1801 E. FM 700 inside the Spring Town Plaza mall, and Sunday's Herald will have pictures and a story from the premiere.

The film will also run Saturday at 1 p.m., 4 p.m., 7 p.m. (although the 7 p.m. show is already sold out) and 10 p.m. On Sunday, the movie will run at those times as well as 10 a.m. "The Iron Orchard" will show at 1 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. Monday through at least Wednesday. Showtimes after Wednesday have not yet been released.

"The Stars Shine Bright - West Texas in the Movies" will be up at the Heritage Museum of Big Spring, 510 S. Scurry St., through April 30.

For more information about the exhibit call the museum at 432-267-8255. For more information about "The Iron Orchard" show times, visit www.cinemark.com and enter the ZIP code 79720.

Bringing in new and diverse business is Strande's main goal.

"One thing that I think the city needs to be doing is, I would like the city to be doing everything they can to help bring in more business...to encourage business besides just the oilfield," she said. "I think we need to be making sure that we're doing things outside the oilfield to prepare for an eventual bust, because I think that we all know that that's a boom-or-bust economy."

One initial impetus to run was simply to increase the number of options for voters, Strande said.

"One reason I decided to run was because I think it's more democratic to have options," she said. "Because no one else was running against Daniel (Moreno) I thought it would make it a better race if somebody else was running. I think that I'm really good at serving others. I'm really good at listening to feedback. I've had a lot of experience with that through the Train Car and through teaching, and I think that I'm really good at listening to what people want and being able to turn that into actual action. So that's really what I want to do, potentially as a City Council member. My kind of catchphrase is 'Here to serve.'"

First Baptist Church

"Glory in His holy name; Let the hearts of those rejoice who seek the Lord!" Psalm 105:3

Come and join with the family of First Baptist Church as they lift high the name above all names, Jesus Christ, Sunday at 10:50 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. Music Minister Alan Schantz will lead worshippers in a blend of contemporary praise and worship songs and foundational hymns of the faith.

Pastor Mark Lindsey begins a new sermon series "The Power of Prayer", and the morning message is titled "Effective Prayer". Drawn from 1 Kings 18:41-46, listeners will thoughtfully contemplate that power in prayer is not found in the loudness or lengthiness of such, but in faith that clings to the one true God, Jehovah-Yahweh, with a fixed and persisting expectancy of His reply.

FBC now offers Deaf Interpretation in the morning service.

If you need assistance accessing the sanctuary due to mobility issues, use the west circle drive, and someone will be glad to assist you inside and park your vehicle.

If unable to attend, you may join the service through the live stream on the church website at fcbigspring.org. (Click on 'MORE' tab, then 'SERMONS')

At 9:30 Sunday School groups meet throughout the building with children gathering in the Good News Garage on the first floor, and teens, college students, and adults meeting in second floor classrooms. Greeters are available to help you find your class.

At 5 p.m. in the chapel is the church-wide time of prayer; please come and join other believers in this occasion of intimate communion with our LORD.

Evening worship service starts at 5:30 and is a wonderful way to prepare one's heart for the upcoming week. Pastor Mark continues the series on The Beatitudes. Drawn from Matthew 5:5, the evening's message is titled "Fully Submit", and believers will reflect on the blessing of placing the whole strength of one's being under His control, through the power of the Holy Spirit.

Mother's Day Out is open each Tuesday and Thursday from 9-3. Contact Tracy Boeker at 267-8223 to inquire about available openings for your little ones.

Accepting Acceptance

"To the praise of the glory of his grace, wherein he hath made us accepted in the beloved." Ephesians 1:6

Too little is said about the grace of God. Some say that too much grace (God's free, unmerited favor) is dangerous. They say that we must balance the easy yoke of grace with the heavy burden of the Law.

TOM Well, I say – hogwash!

SLOAN The Law of Moses was the ministry of death. But God has given us life by grace through faith in Christ alone. So, if we say that the Law makes grace safe, then we are saying that life must be balanced with death because grace is life while the Law brings death.

There is only one place that grace can find its perfect balance, and that is in the Lord Jesus Christ, because He is the end of the Law for righteousness to all who believe.

Why, if we have believed on the Lord Jesus for our justification, do we have such a hard time accepting that fact that God has accepted us in Him? Why is it so hard to accept acceptance? Because we haven't made grace good enough. When we sin, we don't need to add a few granules of Law to our lives to make us walk the line. We need to make grace better by purging out the old leaven of the Law. The Law doesn't make us more acceptable before God, only Christ can do this.

When we sin, we must praise the glory of God's grace because in it, He has made us accepted in the beloved. When we sin, we don't revert back to the harshness of the Law, we kneel, praise and worship the awesome glory of God's grace.

God does not reject us when we sin, nor does He accept us because we don't. He accepts us for Christ's sake. And because of this, we can accept acceptance.

Reflections: Spice of Life

BILL
TINSLEY

My wife loves cooking. When we take road trips she passes the time by reading cookbooks. When browsing the television, she usually settles on a cooking show. Any cooking show, it seems to me. When we watch Jeopardy and they introduce a food category, she usually knows the answer. When I get stumped on a crossword clue that includes spices or food, she helps me fill it in. I am pretty well limited to breakfast: bacon, eggs and biscuits, or grilling steak, hamburger or salmon on the grill out back. It all seems to come down to the spices. How you use them, which spices you put in, at what time, in what amount. She has a pantry full of spices. When it gets beyond salt, pepper, and a little garlic, I am pretty well lost.

Last year we visited the Dr. Pepper Museum in Waco, Texas. In 1885, at a corner drug store in Waco, Texas, a young pharmacist named Charles Alderton was experimenting with various flavors for a new soda he could serve. He came up with a blend of 23 flavors people loved. Customers called it the "Waco" until the owner of the drug store came up with the name Dr. Pepper, after his good friend. They had trouble making enough to meet demand. Today Dr. Pepper is distributed in the U.S., Canada, Asia, Europe, Mexico, South America, Japan, Australia, New Zealand and South Africa. They still use the same 23 flavors that remain a secret.

Harland Sanders learned to cook from his mother when he was seven. In 1934, he started selling fried chicken from his roadside filling station in Corbin, Ky. It took a few years to perfect his secret 11 herbs and spices. But when he did, people liked it. They liked it so much that the governor made him an honorary colonel. Today, KFC is served in 119 countries and territories worldwide. When we were in Prague and I got hungry for a taste of home, I walked to a nearby KFC. They seem to be everywhere.

It is amazing what the right blend of flavors and spices can accomplish.

What is true for food is also true for the way we live and the way we speak. Life is more fun, satisfying and meaningful when we find the right "spices".

Jesus recognized this when he told his disciples, "You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt has lost its taste, it is good for nothing but to be thrown out and trampled underfoot." (Matthew 5:13)

The Apostle Paul wrote, "Let your speech always be with grace, as though seasoned with salt, so that you will know how you should respond to each person." (Colossians 4:6)

Unlike Dr. Pepper and KFC, the ingredients are no secret. The spices and flavors that make every Christian life desirable are listed in Galatians. "But the fruit of the spirit is love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, self-control." (Galatians 5:22-23). When these "spices" are cooked into our souls, it changes our families, friendships, communities and the world.

Bill Tinsley reflects on current events and life experience from a faith perspective. Visit www.tinsleycenter.com. Email bill@tinsleycenter.com.

Hodgepodge

I grew up in a small town in Northern Nevada with a legacy that was all mixed up. I am a hodgepodge of cultures. My ancestry dates back to Adam and Eve, but my national cultures are English, Irish, German, and French. Knowing this background, I took French in college. I took Spanish in High School before that and really know neither language now. Just a few phrases that can really get me in trouble if I try to speak either. I am the product of hodgepodge.

My mother was a homemaker for six children. She was a Baptist and kept us in church. I was a Methodist until I was nine. The Baptists started a mission church then and we were part of that startup. My daddy was a Reorganized LDS. The doctrines of all these churches made my upbringing a hodgepodge of beliefs in how to get to Heaven.

Momma became a librarian when Dad had to retire from the railroad early due to sickness. So not only did I gain a love for reading, but for travel as well. Again, a hodgepodge.

Growing up we knew poverty and wealth. We hunted, fished, grew a garden, and canned everything edible. Mother even sewed all our clothes, even my wedding dress. I guess we were a typical American family, a hodgepodge.

But what a great legacy I had. Now as I am older, much older, I have a different kind of legacy. My Savior, Jesus Christ, set me free from hodgepodge doctrinal issues and saved my confused soul and put me on a different path.

I still enjoy looking back on childhood memories, but mainly now I look forward to what Heaven holds for us who believe. I hope they have a garden up there. I loved to sit in ours back home and eat a supper right off the corn stalks, tomato, and pea vines.

I hope also we get to fish in the River of Life that flows from God's throne. Maybe Jesus will feed us manna and fish on the Riverbank.

I am very grateful for the hodgepodge heritage I had growing up, but I am so much more grateful for the heritage I have looking forward. He's coming soon. Better get ready!

Hawks celebrate Sophomore Night with huge 89-50 blowout of NMMI

By JORDAN PARR
Sports Editor

BIG SPRING – The Hawks hosted the New Mexico Institute of Technology at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum Thursday night for their last home game of the season. With their sophomores playing for the last time in the Coliseum, Howard College used that motivation to pull away early and never look back in the 89-50 thrashing of the Broncos. Sophomores Garrick Green, Matt Johnson, Malcolm Green, Mike Hardin Jr. and Gonzalo Munoz all stepped up big in the game and made sure their last performance at Dorothy Garrett was one to remember.

In the first half, Garrick Green got things rolling, putting in the first 7 points of the game for the Hawks to take an early 7-2 lead. Not to be out done, Matt Johnson scored 5 straight after a Broncos' field goal as well to push the lead to 12-4. Garrick then scored again to give Howard College a 14-4 lead just 4 minutes into the first half. Matt and Garrick continued to go back and forth, taking turns punishing the NMMI defense in the last home game for the pair. Just 6 minutes into the game Garrick had 11 points and Johnson had 7 to give the Hawks a commanding 18-5 lead. Garrick continued his offensive dominance on a 1 play to take his scoring total to 14 and to give Howard College a huge 24-8 lead with just 11:24 left in the half.

The Hawks continued to dominate the Broncos on both ends of the floor as the first half ticked by. Howard College was ahead 29-11 with 8:30 left in the half, before the Broncos made a run to cut the lead to 29-16. With NMMI trying to claw back into the mix, Malcolm Green hit a deep shot from behind the arc to put the Hawks up 32-16 and stop the run with 7 minutes left in the half. On the next Howard College possession, Mike Hardin found Johnson with a nice bounce pass as he cut down the baseline and finished with a two hand slam to bring the Hawks lead to 34-16 with 5:45 left in the half. Howard College continued to dominate the Broncos in every aspect of the game and had a 41-20 lead with just 3 minutes remaining before the break. But the onslaught wasn't over, and as the game came to the half the Hawks led by 22 at 48-26.

Even more impressively they only missed three shots combined in the first half. Garrick added 6 rebounds in the half as well while Mike Hardin Jr. added 3 assists and Gonzalo Munoz added 6 points and 4 rebounds. The Hawks shot the ball really well in the first half going 17 for 27 from the field and 6-13 from behind the arc. Howard College out rebounded the Broncos 16-12 in the half and outscored NMMI in the paint 20-4. It was an outstanding performance by the Hawks in the first half in all respects and they weren't done yet.

Coming out of the break for the second half, both teams traded deep three's to bring the score to 51-29. Both teams really locked down on defense after a high scoring first half and with 4 minutes gone in the second half the score was just 53-31. As both defenses continue to play better and forced more bad shots the game slowed down and both teams had to really work to get a basket. With 7 minutes into the half the score was 58-34, and the Hawks and Broncos were both pressing on offense trying to create scoring opportunities.

Jake Heese hit a big three off the bench for Howard College to kick start their offense and increase their lead to 63-36 with 12 minutes left in the game. Munoz then hit another three from deep to take the lead to 66-38 with 10 minutes on the clock. With just 7 minutes left in the game the Hawks had pushed the lead all the way to 29 with a commanding 69-40 advantage. With the game all but over Garrick punished the rim with a powerful tomahawk jam on a fast break to give Howard College their largest advantage of the night at 74-43 with just 4:45 left in the game. Garrick was completely off the charts in his last game at Dorothy Garrett, and Matt Johnson wasn't going to let him have all the fun alone as he hit another three to make his presence known as well to the Hawk faithful. Johnson scored again to take the Hawks lead to 79-49 with 2:30 remaining.

With the game way out of reach for the Broncos to make a comeback, Coach Raines put in the freshmen and gave his sophomores each a chance to be recognized for their performance and time with the Hawks. The freshmen didn't only hold the lead they built it. With the freshmen running the game for Howard College, they extended the lead to 86-49 behind the stellar play of Justin Tene. Tene had 4 points and 2 rebounds in just 3 minutes of play. With the freshmen playing great, the Hawks pulled off the lopsided 89-50 win and sent their sophomores off in style.

Garrick Green finished the game with 23 points on 8 for 10 shooting and had 8 rebounds, 3 assists and 1 block in his last game at Dorothy Garrett. Matt Johnson scored 20 points on 8 for 11 shooting and had 7 rebounds, 2 assists and 1 steal to finish his career in the Coliseum. Malcolm Green led the team with 5 assists and had 4 rebounds with 3 points while playing lock down defense in his last home game. Mike Hardin Jr. had 4 assists, 3 points and 1 steal while being the man who makes the offense run for the Hawks in his final appearance at Dorothy Garrett. Gonzalo Munoz played one of his best games all season to close out his career at the Coliseum. Munoz had 12 points, 5 rebounds and made 3 of 4 from behind the arc to put a cap on a great game and a great career for all these fine Hawks sophomores. A big thanks to the Sophomores for the way they have played and have continued the legacy of great basketball program here at Howard College.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Aspects of Destiny

First, there's the Mercury and Jupiter square, which calls for discretion, diplomacy and, in most cases, silence. While the meaning of words can be spun in many directions, silence is much harder to manipulate. Next, a conjunction of Venus and Pluto fatefully touches relationships. We mix into one another's lives in ways that can't be undone.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). OK, it's not ideal, and yet there's something for you in this minor disaster -- a quiet need being fulfilled inside the undesirable scenario. Figure out what the need is and address it another way.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Wisdom, strength, knowledge and courage: These are the everlasting qualities of greatness. Never do you feel more alive than when you are in the thrust of knowing what you do and doing what you know.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). How seriously should you take the issue at hand? With the amount of seriousness that will allow you the greatest agility, as you'll need to move freely around this issue to make the most of it.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Travel opens the mind, but it's not automatic. The mind has to be slightly ajar to begin with to let the foreign oxygen work its magic. There are those who travel mentally vacuum sealed. Pity, but there's little worth doing about it.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). In an ideal world, you would ready yourself before you dared to wish, as it would be a shame to see your wish granted before you know what to do with it. Whatever the order, today is for getting ready.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Again, it would be a mistake to assume they totally understand you. They really only get a small part of what you're doing right now. They follow along anyway out of loyalty and respect. Keep explaining. Keep showing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). So much thinking takes place in your mind that you share with no one. Politically, it's a good play, although emotionally, some airing out would do you good. A private diary would provide as much sounding board as you need.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). A large part of compatibility has to do with logistics, such as schedules and proximity. Then there's chemistry, which tends to be a game changer. People will change their schedules and travel distances for great chemistry.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Whatever your disadvantage is, it is also your advantage, but only if you see, claim and use it. Don't see the advantage? Ask others for another perspective. This is money left on the table, waiting to be noticed and pocketed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Some people around you are like bad journalists, listening for the soundbite they need to make a sensational story, context notwithstanding. For this reason, silence is a good option.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). While there's not a single thing in the world that is inherently boring, you can't be blamed for experiencing it as such, as finding something new in the same old things takes a conscious effort.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Everyone has filters and limits to what they can comfortably take in. If they are not hearing the breadth of what you have to express, it's because there's a filter in place, one that you likely have nothing to do with.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Feb. 22). Nothing you've done to educate yourself has been a waste. Your excellent efforts will be appreciated, but so will your nonchalant efforts because you've earned "cool points" on your way to becoming a more evolved person. Promises and/or contracts get signed in May. Enjoy a lifestyle upgrade in July. Leo and Scorpio adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 20, 2, 13, 33 and 38.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Advanced

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ANSWER:

Contract Bridge

By Steve Becker

Bidding quiz

You are South, and the bidding has gone:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	1 ♥	Pass
3 ♥	Pass	?

What would you bid now with each of the following four hands?

- ♠ 10 ♥ J8542 ♦ KQ632 ♣ 93
- ♠ 4 ♥ K98632 ♦ 7 ♣ KQ765
- ♠ 952 ♥ A975 ♦ Q83 ♣ 874
- ♠ A96 ♥ KQ743 ♦ 72 ♣ K92

- Four hearts. The value of a hand rises or falls as the bidding progresses. Thus, when you initially responded one heart in this case, game chances looked rather poor. But after partner raises to three hearts, the outlook changes dramatically. Your anemic hearts take on a brand-new value when partner jump-raises the suit, promising four-card support as well as 16 to 18 points, and the chances of making 10 — or even 11 — tricks become very, very good.
- Four notrump. Here the number of tricks you can make depends primarily on how many aces partner has, and the Blackwood Convention is therefore invoked. If partner responds five hearts, showing two aces, you will quit then and there. If he bids five spades, showing three aces, you will carry on to six hearts. Point count is not an accurate criterion when you hold a highly distributional hand. Once partner guarantees four trumps by jumping to three hearts, the number of aces he shows in response to Blackwood will definitively indicate how many tricks can ultimately be made.

3. Pass. Partner's jump-raise is not forcing and merely invites you to go on. Passing should prove to be the winning action since you have no values in either high cards or distribution beyond those previously guaranteed by your one-heart response. Had partner felt sure of 10 tricks after hearing your initial response, he would have bid four hearts, not three.

4. Three spades. Game is certain, of course, but you can't afford to ignore the possibility of a slam. Partner may have as little as: ♠ 43 ♥ AJ92 ♦ A8 ♣ AQ1064 — certainly not an enormous hand, but one which would make slam a virtual certainty. The spade cuebid — indicating first-round control of the suit and interest in slam — will help get you there.

Tomorrow: It's so easy when you know how.

LeBron rallies Lakers to 111-106 victory over Rockets

Los Angeles Lakers' LeBron James, front, drives to the basket as Houston Rockets' Clint Capela defends during the first half of an NBA basketball game Thursday, Feb. 21, 2019, in Los Angeles.

By JOE REEDY

AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES — LeBron James knows that he needs to turn up his intensity if the Los Angeles Lakers are going to make the playoffs. He certainly did that on Thursday night against the Houston Rockets when his team needed it the most.

James scored 16 of his 29 points in the second half as the Lakers rallied from a 19-point deficit midway through the third quarter to defeat the Rockets 111-106.

It was Los Angeles' largest comeback win of the season and its sixth when trailing by 15 or more at any point. The previous biggest comeback came on Feb. 7 at Boston when it was down 18 in the second quarter.

"I need to be in that level right now. Knowing the circumstances we are in and kick starting something," said James, who also had 11 rebounds and six assists. "I like where I am at and will continue to get better. Tonight was a step in the right direction."

The Lakers were down 95-88 with 7:49 remaining when they went on a 17-4 run over a six-minute span to take control. James, who scored eight points during the run, gave Los Angeles a 99-97 lead with 4:15 remaining. They would lead by as many as eight in the final minute.

After struggling from the field the first three quarters, the Lakers were 8 of 13 from the field and 10 of 11 from the foul line in the final 12 minutes. Houston, which made close to half its shots the first 36 minutes, was just 7 of 19 from the field and 2 of 12 on 3-pointers. It also didn't get to the foul line the final 20 minutes.

"It looked like we got our defensive mojo, our defensive confidence, back as the game went along," Lakers coach Luke Walton said. "We had to get to different match-ups but we kept scrapping a found a way to give ourselves a chance."

Brandon Ingram had 27 points — including 11 of 14 from the foul line — and 13 rebounds. Kyle Kuzma added 18 points.

James Harden led Houston with 30 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists before fouling out with 1:24 remaining.

It is his 32nd consecutive game where he has scored 30 or more points, overtaking Wilt Chamberlain for the second-longest streak in NBA history. Chamberlain also holds the record at 65 games.

"It's a few things like it has been throughout the entire season," said Harden on not sustaining a large lead. "Sooner or later, you have to be able to correct them."

Paul, who had 23 points and 10 rebounds before also fouling out, was an assist shy of a triple double.

"It comes down to where LeBron makes big shots and we didn't," Houston coach Mike D'Antoni said. "We probably ran a little bit out of gas. It was a lot of little factors."

Houston led 32-22 at the end of the first quarter when it ended the period with eight straight points, including back-to-back 3-pointers by Fariied and Austin Rivers.

Harden's jumper gave the Rockets a 52-39 advantage with 4:20 remaining before the Lakers went on an 9-0 run. The Rockets would lead 58-52 at half-time.

PLAYOFF CHASE

The Lakers evened their record at 28-28 but remain in 10th place in the Western Conference and 2½ games behind the Clippers for the final playoff spot. Their next three games are against teams with losing records and they face the Clippers twice down the stretch.

Walton said he has seen a more intense James since the Lakers returned from the All-Star break.

"He's had a more serious look to his face," Walton said. "He recognizes where we are at and the sense of urgency. He was huge tonight but he's always great."

CAPELA RETURNS

Houston center Clint Capela returned to the lineup for the first time since Jan. 13 and had a double-double. Capela — who had 12 points and 10 rebounds — suffered a right thumb injury against Orlando and missed 15 games.

TIP-INS

Rockets: Eric Gordon scored 14 points and Kenneth Faried 13. ... It is only the fifth loss for Houston in 33 games when it has led after three quarters.

Lakers: Reggie Bullock scored 14 points. ... G Mike Muscala missed the game due to a sprained right ankle.

UP NEXT

Rockets: Travel to the Golden State Warriors on Saturday night.

Lakers: Visit the New Orleans Pelicans on Saturday night.

Minor now likely Rangers opening starter after cautious 2017

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

AP Baseball Writer

SURPRISE, Ariz. — There were times in Mike Minor's return to a starting role last season that the left-hander got frustrated when the Texas Rangers were being cautious with him.

"In the end it's probably always best," Minor said. "But when you're in the heat of the moment and trying to compete every however many days, I feel like the ball was being taken early and they were skipping me."

Minor is at the top of the Texas rotation this spring training and likely will be on the mound for the opener March 28 at home against the Chicago Cubs. It would be his first opening-day start.

"It's always been a goal," the 31-year-old said.

"I love that he wants to fulfill that and take on that," new manager Chris Woodward said. "We are going to keep our eye on him, but if he shows he's healthy and his stuff is good through 70-80-90 pitches, I would love to do that."

Minor led the Rangers last year with 12 wins and 157 innings, more than doubling his 2017 workload as a full-time reliever in Kansas City. He missed two seasons following surgery

Texas Rangers pitcher Mike Minor throws during spring training baseball practice in Surprise, Ariz. The Rangers were cautious with Minor last season in his Texas debut and his return to starting. He missed two years recovering from shoulder surgery and was a full-time reliever for Kansas City in 2017. Now the lefty is likely the Rangers' opening day starter.

Twenty-two of his team-high 28 games starts came on extended rest. He didn't make a start on regular four days of rest until May 8, and didn't have any fifth-day appearances after July with the innings adding up and the Rangers out of playoff contention.

"My impression is that I'm built up from last year," Minor said. "The year before being in the bullpen, last year starting and doubling the innings, and this year should be full-go I believe."

After so much time away from the starting routine, Minor said last year "was kind of a learning experience" to get back into the rhythm of that role. He said he was feeling a lot better the second half of the season.

"In the beginning I was leaning on general scouting reports, and later on started going toward my strengths rather than their weaknesses," he said.

Minor was the seventh overall pick by the Braves in the 2009 amateur draft and made his big league debut a year later. He went 38-36 in 110 starts and one relief appearance for Atlanta from 2010-14, then had shoulder surgery.

After he signed as a free agent with the Royals in 2016, his shoulder started hurting again during injury rehabilitation starts in the minors, and he had more issues when he tried again later that season.

After going 6-6 with a 2.55 ERA over 77 2/3 innings in 65 relief appearances for the Royals in 2017, Minor turned down a $10 million player option to stay in Kansas City. He instead signed a $28 million, three-year deal with Texas for the chance to start again.
