Howard County to implement Vote Centers

New voting concept will increase convenience and reduce confusion for voters

By AMANDA DUFORAT

Managing Editor

And the verdict is in ... Howard County gained status as a vote center county. The new status took effect March 11 and makes Howard County one of 40 plus counties in Texas to switch to the program.

"Voting centers offer the voters more places to go on election day to casts their ballot that might be closer to work, school or running errands, without having to be tied to their home precinct location," Jodi Duck, said.

"Keeping the same locations for every elections will help minimize confusion. Voting methods have never been easier to make your vote count," Duck said. "I am so very excited that Howard County has decided to make the switch to vote centers."

Duck went on to say that this switch did not come without lots of planning and examining from all those involved. The result will benefit the voters by providing more access to voting locations.

If you are not yet registered to vote, there is still time according to Duck. The final day to file registration to vote is April 4 to be able to take part in the May 4 election. The two fastest ways to register is to stop by the Elections Office, inside the Howard County Courthouse or to apply online at votetexas.gov and follow instructions provided.

Simply put, according to Duck, vote centers are the same polling locations we currently use for county-wide elections, but will allow any eligible voter in the county to vote their designated ballot at any of the county locations.

"Your vote is your voice and it has never been easier, with these new methods to make that voice heard. Vote centers eliminate the need to know which polling places are specified for certain precincts. This allows the voters in the county more flexibility regarding where they cast their ballots," Duck said.

Vote centers throughout the county are linked by secure internet connections with an electronic poll book that is instantaneously updated as voters are checked in and verified. Duck reassured that the election voting equipment, as always, will not be connected in any fashion to the internet and will be completely secure. In addition, three more locations will be added during the city and school board elections in May.

The Election Office will hold a come and go open house for the public. During the open house, the community will have a chance to not only see the new equipment, but demo the new equipment, May 25th from 4:30 until 7:00.

The City and School Joint Elections will be held on May 4, 2019 with early voting beginning April 22 at the courthouse. The Election Day vote center locations:

Klinksiek: 'The entire situation has evaporated'

Cox Paving opts to take a loss to honor erroneous bid

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

A company that submitted an erroneous bid to Howard County for roadwork has opted to honor that bid, even though it will cost them money.

Cox Paving of Blanco, Texas, has opted to honor a bid submitted to the county for inverted prime road base material and the roadwork to rehabilitate approximately eight miles of county roadway, even though the bid price of $1.90 per square yard – instead of the $2.90 per square yard the company meant to submit – will put them at a loss on the project.

"Well, the good news is, judge and commissioners, that the entire situation has evaporated," Howard County Road Administrator Brian Klinksiek said at a special Howard County Commissioners' meeting held at 10 a.m. Monday. "The contractor who had the inverted prime low bid has opted to perform it, even though he will lose money."

BID

The total price tag of the $1.90 per square yard bid is $294,680.50, significantly less than the $449,775.50 that would have been the total with the $2.90 per square yard figure.

County Judge Kathryn Wiseman raised a question about whether the low price might affect Cox's performance on the job.

"Do you feel like that will be a sub-standard outcome?" Wiseman asked Klinksiek.

"No, I do not," Klinksiek responded. "The owner of the company said two things to me. One is, he said 'I was raised that if I give my word, it's given; so we signed it, we'll honor it.' Then the other one is, that he believes 'What goes around, comes around.'"

The county commissioners didn't need to address the issue with a vote.

"So we are just going to proceed with his bid, with no change," Wiseman said. The entire special meeting lasted about 15 minutes.

Following the meeting, Klinksiek answered some questions about the decision.

"I had expressed some concern (at the March 6 commissioners' meeting) that, when you force somebody into a situation where they're losing money, they're going to have to try to mitigate their loss by any means possible," Klinksiek said. "I still have some concerns, obviously, so I have an inspector that will be watching the project. I probably will spend a portion of the time they're doing it on the site myself, just to make sure that I can get the best quality we can. However, it's not necessarily that we forced him. We didn't back him into a corner and threaten him with legal action or any kind of thing like that. We gave him some options, and this was their choice. They chose to honor their work."

PECOS — The Coahoma Bulldogettes lost a close non-district match against the Pecos Lady Eagles 10-11 Monday afternoon.

The Bulldogettes got a jump on the lead in the first inning after Jaydan Mann singled on a grounder to left field to bring in Madison Rodgers. Mann later scored the second run by stealing home.

The Lady Eagles caught up at their first turn at bat bringing in two runs to even the score at 2-2. Then Coahoma's big bats had a big five-run, third inning that included a home run by Rodgers.

Pecos eventually caught up again to Coahoma in the fifth and six innings and a two RBI single by Lady Eagle Jaylyn Navarette put her team over the top. The Bulldogettes couldn't get their offense going in the seventh inning and ended the game going three up, and three down.

Rodgers led the Bulldogettes at bat going 3-for-5 with three runs, three RBI, two triples and one home run. Mann went 3-for-4 with three RBI, one run, and a triple. Kaylor Green and Sydney Rinard had multiple hits.

Houston extends streak to 9 games with win over Hornets

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer

HOUSTON — James Harden was forced to carry an almost-impossible load on offense for big stretches of this season while many of the Houston Rockets were out with injuries.

Now that the Rockets are at full strength, Harden is enjoying seeing his teammates shine on offense and help Houston make a late push for the top spot in the Western Conference.

Harden scored 28 points and Eric Gordon added 22 as the Rockets cruised to their season-high ninth straight win, 118-106 over the Charlotte Hornets on Monday night.

"It was a total team effort," Harden said.

The Rockets, whose 11-14 start had them in the basement of the conference standings, now sit in third place, just 3 1/2 games behind the Warriors, who they meet next.

A night after Gordon ended a streak of 43 straight games where Harden led the team in scoring, the Beard was Houston's top scorer again. But Gordon had another strong outing, making five 3-pointers for the third straight game and the fourth in five games.

Harden, who leads the NBA with 36.2 points a game, was asked if it's a relief to not have to carry the offense every night now that stars such as Clint Capela and Chris Paul have returned from extended absences.

"Yeah," he said. "I just take what the defense gives me. Making shots or missing shots, I'll take the same shots every single game ... and I got off the ball and multiple guys got open shots. I don't really try to press anything. I just try to take what they give me and be effective."

The Rockets won despite a big performance by Kemba Walker, who finished with 40 points, 10 rebounds and seven assists as the Hornets lost their second in a row.

"For him to come in here and compete at this stage without a lot of his guys out there on the floor says a lot about his character and who he is as a person and as a leader," Charlotte coach James Borrego said.

Houston led by as many as 28 in the third quarter but a big run by the Hornets cut the lead to 13 to start the fourth.

Coach Mike D'Antoni was a bit disappointed that his team let Charlotte get back in it after building such a huge lead.

"Maybe it's a new reality and maybe players need to get used to that — that you can't take your foot off the pedal," D'Antoni said.

A three-point play by Walker cut the lead to 10 with about 3 1/2 minutes left. But a 7-2 spurt by Houston, highlighted by a dunk from Kenneth Faried, made it 116-101 with about 90 seconds left and Houston's starters went to the bench.

Walker was encouraged that the Hornets kept fighting despite the early hole.

"I'm not a big fan of moral victories, but hopefully we can build off this, especially as far as our energy and our passion," he said.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 2 ♥ Pass Pass
Dble Pass 3 ♦ Pass
3 ♠ Pass 4 ♣

Opening lead — king of hearts.
Some plays that may appear strange on the surface can be shown, upon closer analysis, to be clearly correct. This deal, where South failed to make four spades, provides a case in point.
West started with three top hearts, declarer ruffing the third one. South then cashed the A-K-Q of trump. East discarding a diamond on the third round.
Declarer could not afford to lead his last trump, which would allow West to win and cash two hearts, so he had to hope West held at least three diamonds. If so, declarer could get rid of his club loser on dummy's fourth diamond. But when West trumped the third diamond and returned a heart, South had to go down one, losing a club at the end.

All the plays made by declarer seem normal, and the outcome appears due to the misfortune that West was dealt the J-x-x-x of spades. Nevertheless, the fact is that South overlooked a line of play that would have assured the contract if either opponent held the J-x-x-x of trump.
The proper play for South, after ruffing the third heart, is to lead the ten of spades! This is virtually certain to yield 10 tricks whether the trumps are divided 3-3 or 4-2.
In the actual case, West can win the ten with the jack, but is then stymied. A heart return can be ruffed with dummy's nine, after which declarer crosses to his hand, draws trump and claims the rest. Any other return produces the same result.
The lead of the ten of spades by South at trick four may look peculiar, but it is nonetheless the right play. Declarer should reason that if he cashes the A-K-Q of spades and the trumps break 3-3 or the jack falls doubleton, 10 tricks are in the bag. But this does not make provision for West's holding the J-x-x-x. The play of the spade ten covers that contingency neatly while risking only the loss of a possible overtrick.

Moon of Duality

The rose family of flowering plants includes pears, apples, almonds, peaches, apricots, plums, cherries and so many more things we don't think of as roses. By the way, you're not one thing either. The moon in the sign of duality is a reminder that there are many lovely and surprising varieties that come under the umbrella of "you."

ARIES (March 21-April 19)

A foreign place intrigues you. What's so appealing? Which element of your personality is hooked into this fantasy? The answer to these questions will help you make yourself happy in the here and now.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)

Powerful internal forces can be resistant to progress. Put another way, in the zoo of your mind you are both the elephant and the animal trainer. Use treats. All moves, however slow, should be taken as progress.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21)

Remember when you felt in sync with the world and excited by the challenge before you? That had something to do with the people around you offering the same kind of camaraderie and encouragement you'll receive today.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)

Think carefully about how you're positioning your ideas. The first thing you present to people will put a thought in their mind by which all subsequent references will be compared.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21)

Because you sense that people will act illogically and unpredictably, you'll stand back and watch what's going on for a while. This information-gathering moment will be your ticket to success -- or at least your way of avoiding trouble.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21)

Do not doubt that practice will make you better. The slow, deliberate, consistent kind will, in fact, take you beyond where you ever thought you'd be.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Apply that massive creativity that's running through your veins today to your own scene. If you can somehow align your more serious goals to what you're doing for fun, two areas of your life will improve at once.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18)

It's not that you're overly afraid what people think of you; it's that you really want to do what's most respectful and appropriate to the situation. There's something beyond just you that

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20)

Habits get established without regard to health or effectiveness in solving a problem. Instead, they are created because the logistics have aligned in such a way to make them the easiest sequence to follow.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (March 12)

Some of your closest loved ones come from a worldview very different from your own, a dynamic that creates good fortune, amusement, adventure, education and pleasure. In the spirit of tolerance, together you'll do something important for the world. A financial boon comes in the next 10 weeks. Virgo and Aquarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 50, 5, 18 and 41.

CELEBRITY PROFILES:

One might say that Liza Minnelli was born into her life's work. As the daughter of actress Judy Garland and director Vincente Minnelli, the iconic Academy Award winner is like so many Pisces -- an old soul who was savvy about the professional world at a young age. Minnelli wields the high electrical energy charge of Mercury and Venus in powerhouse Aries.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
