BSISD mulls meal charging policy change

TMSCA state qualifiers honored at meeting

By ROGER CLINE

Big Spring ISD trustees discussed a potential change to the district's meal charging policy at their monthly meeting Thursday evening.

The proposed change - which would affect students paying for their school meals, not those under the free lunch program - would limit the number of meals each student is allowed to charge (i.e. purchase on credit). Currently students are allowed one full-meal charge, and unlimited "Blue Plate Special" charges. The Blue Plate Special consists of a peanut butter and jelly sandwich, fruit and milk, and costs $1.75 for students not on free/reduced meals instead of the $2.95 for a regular meal.

Students reach for the STAARs

By ANNA GUTIERREZ

Third grade students from Washington Elementary and fourth graders from Goliad Elementary will be participating in the First Pre-STAAR Celebration Pep Rally Friday, May 10 at 2:30

"We've got the Steer Band performing, along with cheerleaders from both the high school and junior high," says BSISD Elementary Counselor Richard Cypert. "Joe Bright Basketball will entertain and be speaking to the kids. Ms. Sanchez, principal at Big Spring Intermediate, is also scheduled to speak. Mr. McWilliams will attend if he doesn't have any scheduling conflicts, but we're hoping to get someone else, a local celebrity if you will, to also come speak to and encourage the students."

Some very special guests just announced that will be performing are Debra Garcia, who is a nurse, and Edward Vasquez, who is a music teacher. They are better known as Eddie Austin and the Texas Silhouettes. This is the first time an event such as this is being held. Mr. Cypert hopes this will allow the students to release some steam and get pumped-up for the math and reading portions of the STAAR tests. Busses will transport the students to the high school gym. Parents are in-

Big Spring Intermediate had a "Reach for the STAARs" balloon launch on Monday, prior to beginning STAAR exams. All the students gathered on the East side of the building, listened to "You're a Shining Star" by earth, Wind and Fire, and released balloons. Parents were encouraged to attend and wish all the students "good luck" on their test.

If you would like to volunteer to be a speaker at this pep rally, please contact either Rosie Lain, principal of Goliad Elementary, at 264-4111, or Ms. Kaitlyn Jeffrey, principal of Washington Elementary, at 264-4126.

Big Spring High to host candidate forum

By COLONEL ALLEN M. MORRIS

Big Spring High Communications Director

All of the candidates in the upcoming local election are invited to participate in a Candidate Forum at Big Spring High School in the library. Each Candidate will be given two minutes to state his or her platform and anything else that they would like to say. Then each candidate will be asked to respond to questions that have been provided in advance so that well developed responses can be pushed out in several ways. Not only will the responses be pushed out live via several different media platforms, but the videotaped responses will be available on the high school's YouTube channel as well. Candidates will also have the opportunity to give a 90 second capstone comment at the conclusion of the forum.

Currently, the students are working through questions that have been gathered to get the questions out to the candidates well before the Candidate Forum on April 18 at 7 p.m. at the high school library.

Forget-Me-Not fundraiser set for weekend

HERALD file photo This weekend - Saturday and Sunday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. - representatives from the local DAV will be at Wal-Mart for the annual Forget-Me-Not fundraiser.

balances," said BSISD Food Service Liaison Judi Rodriguez. "What happens at the end of the year is, that money has to be funded back into the Child Nutrition Program. So we don't want that to get to be a high balance and we're having to take that money out of the Activity Fund or wherever we have to take that money from. We want to try to put a cap on it so we'll have a little bit of leverage with parents that don't want to pay for their kids to eat. They've kind of figured out that we're not going to take a tray away from them or anything, so we've got some parents that are not very good about pay-

The proposal would allow students to charge regular full meals up to a cap of $15.

"After charging $15, then we're going to start sending kids to the office to try to get money from their parents," Rodriguez said. "So that's where we're at."

"Currently, just in case you're wondering about how much outstanding debt there is out there, it's over $3,000," added BSISD Superintendent Jay Mc-Williams. "That's as of today." McWilliams added that $1,300 of the outstanding debt is from students at Big Spring High School, with the remainder spread throughout the district.

Rodriguez said last year's total debt at the end of the school year was $3,700.

Trustees agreed to table the issue until the May school board meeting to give them time to consider the implications of the decision.

Do You Care?

Том

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord." Romans 6:23

Have you read what God says about sin and how we should cease from it? Are you aware of the fact that our sin is so exceedingly sinful that Christ had to die on the cross? Do you care about your sin? Do you care if you die? Does the cripple care that he is crippled? Does he like the fact that he cannot walk? Would that cripple be happy to walk, even with a

What about you? Would you reject God's forgiveness and consider it incomplete without the ability to be sinless? Would you accept that forgiveness even if it meant that you would walk with a limp for the rest of your life?

Do you care about your sin? Would you be a more loving, caring, forgiving, compassionate person? Would you live your life a little bit more according to the fruit of the Spirit? Do you desire to walk closer to God and be more obedient?

Do you care? Well, the power to do and become these things cannot be found in religious rules, laws, regulations, traditions or disciplines. They can only be found in the absence of condemnation, and no-condemnation can only be found in Christ and His scandalous grace.

Grace is not the power to carelessly say, oh, sin and death are no big deal. Grace is for sinners who care. Grace is for sinners who care about sin and death. Grace is for sinners who know that sin and death are just that, sin and death.

I do care about my sin, but sinning less is not the answer. Christ is, and only He can help me walk with this limp.

What's the Use?

When I was a youngster, I would be trying to learn something new, like tying my shoes, or cleaning my room to Mom's satisfaction, and invariably saying, "What's the use?"

I remember having to play a piece on my Clarinet for eighth grade band and couldn't seem to get it down. I gave up and said, "What's the use?"

When I was learning to spell, or to do algebra, or chemistry, wow, hard stuff growing up, I often thought, "What's the use?" But I got through it all with perseverance and patience. Then I asked the Lord to help me.

He did, and I was able to win first chair with it.

It happened like that all through this life. Trying and trying, and almost giving up with, "What's the use?"

When I think of Jesus dying on the cross for me, I wonder if He ever thought, "What's the use?" I wonder if He thought, "It won't do any good."

Well. He may have thought it, but He followed God's plan of redemption to the letter and the spirit of the law. Pilate told the soldiers to break the legs according to a request of the Jewish leaders. The soldiers didn't do it because Jesus was already dead. The soldiers thought, "What's the use?" That was God Who had already said. "No." The Gospel of John records the prophecy was fulfilled.

When I read about His being placed in the tomb, my thought was, "What's the use? He is just going to rise again." And He did!

Well, the use of everything attempted for God is useful in His Kingdom. So don't give up! There is a use for everything we attempt in this life. There is a use for prayer, and Bible study, and prayer, and going to church, and prayer, and even eating or not. And prayer. Because God knows what the use is. Trust Him, and He will show you why you need to bother.

Reflections: When Life Overwhelms

My cousin calls it "clumping," those times when demands upon our life converge in a perfect storm. We face demands from ements and supervisors. We face demands from our family: marriages that need nurture; children who struggle with growth issues from the cradle to college; aging BILL parents with failing Tinsley health. Illness strikes us when we least ex-

"Clumping" times steal away our breath and rob us of our energy. Sleep is illusive, and when it comes is often filled with restless nightmares of unfulfilled obligations.

Even Jesus experienced "clumping." As his fame spread, the demands made upon him multiplied. The Gospels say that he did not even have time to eat. At one point, he was so exhausted that a life-threatening storm could not wake him. Thousands pressed in upon him from dawn to dusk seeking help. His own family rejected him. His closest followers disagreed with him. His enemies hounded him.

But in the midst of these demands, Jesus always demonstrated a calm confidence and a quiet center. He refused to be hurried or harried. He never snapped back, never became irritable, and, in the end, he changed the world. No life has impacted the world more profoundly than Jesus.

What are the clues from Jesus that can help us when "clumping" strikes? "Clumping" is temporary. The time when demands and crises seem overwhelming will ultimately pass. Jesus could face the overwhelming demands that fell upon him because he knew it was temporary.

Hebrews says, "For the joy that was set before him he endured the cross.'

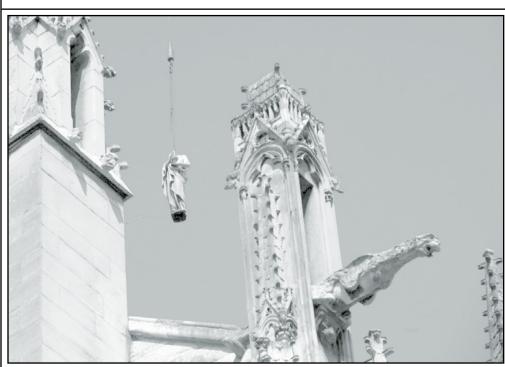

Having learned this truth from Jesus, Peter wrote, "In this you greatly rejoice, even though now for a little while, if necessary, you have been distressed by various trials."(1 Peter 1:6-7)

Sooner or later, life will "clump." Prepare for the "clumping" stages of life before they come. Jesus told the story of two men who built their houses, one upon sand and the other upon rock. When the storm came, which is inevitable, the house built on sand collapsed. If we continually practice honesty, goodness, generosity, forgiveness and faith when times are easy, we will be able to overcome when times get tough.

Build quiet space for prayer in the midst of life's demands. Even though the demands upon Jesus were intense and unrelenting, he always found time to get alone with God. Mark writes, "In the early morning, while it was still dark, Jesus got up, left the house, and went away to a secluded place, and was praying there. Simon and his companions searched for Him; they found Him, and said to Him, "Everyone is looking for You." (Mark 1:35-36).

Constantly look to God. Perhaps this more than anything else was the secret of Jesus' success. He said, "Truly, truly, I say to you, the Son can do nothing of Himself, unless it is something He sees the Father doing; for whatever the Father does, these things the Son also does in like manner." (John 5:19).

Cleaning offers rare glimpse of Notre Dame statues in Paris

PARIS (AP) — Religious statues set atop Notre Dame Cathedral have come down for the first time in over a century as part of a restoration of the monumental Paris church's towering spire.

A 100-meter-high (105-yard) crane lowered the copper statues representing the 12 apostles and four evangelists onto a truck, giving the public a ground-level look for the first time on Thursday. The figures regular posts look over the Paris from Notre Dame's 96-meterhigh peak.

The 3-meter-tall statues are being sent to southwestern France for work that is part of a 6 million-euro ($6.8 million) renovation project on the cathedral spire and its 250 tons of lead.

Palm Sunday

What's all the excitement about? Have you ever walked in on a crowd, a celebration, an unexpected gathering of people and wondered, "What's going on?" That was the experience of several people in Jerusalem that day. They watched as the whole city was stirred over a man riding on a donkey and wondered, "Who is this?" As the excitement turned to frustration throughout the week, those cheers turned to cries, "Crucify Him!" How quickly things can change. But the question remains the same, 'Who Is This?''

 Coins for Camp Our teens are collecting coins for camp. Help out our youth by letting go of any loose change you have as they raise funds to get to summer camp. Drop offs for the coins can be made on Sundays or Wednesdays in the foyer or with our youth leaders. Journey to the Cross "For God so loved the world that he gave his one and only Son, that whoever believes in him shall not perish but have eternal life." (John 3:16) Join us at the NazFamily Church on Wednesday and Thursday, April 17 and 18, from 6-8 p.m. for an interactive prayer walk as we reflect on God's great love for us.

Good Friday

"Amazing love, how can it be, that You, My King, would die for me!" We will have a special Good Friday service on April 19 at 6:30 p.m. All are invited to join us for this meaningful time of reflection, worship, and prayer.

We will also have an Easter Egg Hunt for the children following service. We appreciate the egg donations and kindly request no melting chocolate filling. There will be no Sunday evening adult Bible

Who is this Jesus? Some say the Son of God, some say a prophet, and others say a good man teaching great moral values. But in all actuality, there are only three possibilities. Jesus was either a liar, a lunatic, or He is Lord God. Jesus can't just be a prophet or a good man because He claimed to be God. He represented Himself as God in the flesh, and that He and God the Father are one. So, was he a liar? In other words, He knew He was not the Son of God, so He lied about it. Or, He was crazy and just thought He was the Son of God, a deluded lunatic. If either of these is true, then He went through enormous, indescribable suffering and pain, and a cruel death on a roman cross for a lie.

This leads to the best and most logical choice: Jesus Christ really is the Son of God. YES! The ultimate proof: Jesus was raised from the dead and lives today in Heaven preparing a place for all who accept Him as Lord and God. I invite you to come this Sunday, Palm Sunday, April 14, at 10:50 am, to find out more about this Jesus. Stay with us afterwards for a fellowship meal.

What a deal! Maundy Thursday Communion: Thursday, April

Easter Sunday: April 21, we celebrate the Lord Jesus Christ's resurrection!

So Jesus answered them and said: "My teaching is not Mine, but His who sent Me. If anyone is willing to do His will, he will know of the teaching, whether it is of God or whether I speak from Myself." John 7: 16-17

First Baptist Church "But thanks be to God, who gives us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ!" I Corinthians 15:57 Saturday April 13 at 8 a.m., all area men are invited to the Men's Breakfast. Bring some friends, and come have some delicious food while enjoying a time of fellowship and encouraging one another in the LORD. Enter through the east kitchen doors.

Rejoice with the people of First Baptist Church Sunday at 10:50 a.m. and 5:30 p.m. as Jehovah God is exalted and praised for His love, mercy, and faithfulness. Worshippers will honor God in song as Music Minister Alan Schantz leads a mix of both contemporary and classic songs of the faith. Pastor Mark Lindsey continues the sermon series leading up to Easter "The Word of The Cross", and each Sunday's message focuses on a different word describing the final words of Jesus spoken from the cross; this week's sermon is titled "Victory". Drawn from Luke 23:44-47 and John 19:28-30, listeners will ponder how, through the extraordinary measure of God's love, Jesus endured the cross and called His Father God, that we might forever call God (our) Father, and '...come boldly to the throne of grace'. FBC now offers Deaf Interpretation in the morning service. If you need assistance accessing the sanctuary due to mobility issues, use the west circle drive, and someone will be glad to assist you inside and park your vehicle. If unable to attend, you may join the service through the live stream on the church website at fbcbigspring.org. (Click on 'MORE' tab, then 'SERMONS'). Also, be sure to pick up one of the prayer/devotional booklets located in the north and west foyers; "The Easter Code" is a 40 day journey to the cross written by O.S. Hawkins. What a chaotic scene it must have been as the temple was jam packed with pilgrims, during the Passover. It was full of noise, activity, busy-ness. This holy time and holy space which was meant to draw people near to God – to direct their attention and their lives toward Him – had become a matter of business, a distraction, and a den of robbers.

As we approach Holy Week, we are reminded that Jesus "cleansed" the temple. He got rid of all the distraction and noise to refocus us on our center - God. Scripture also tells us that we are the "tem-

Spurs' Derrick White takes leadership role into playoffs

By RAUL DOMINGUEZ

Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO — Derrick White's ascension into the starting lineup and the pivotal role he has played in helping San Antonio earn its 22nd straight postseason appearance was a greater surprise to him than anyone else.

To hear his teammates and coach Gregg Popovich tell it, the soft-spoken kid not only belongs in the spotlight, he commands it.

"He has been spectacular," Popovich said. "Everything he's done has been off the charts and I couldn't be more thrilled for him.'

The second-year point guard who did not receive a single scholarship offer from a four-year institution coming out of high school is about to step onto an even bigger stage: His first postseason start comes Saturday in his native Colorado as the seventhseeded Spurs take on the second-seeded Nuggets in Denver, not far from where he played high school ball in suburban Parker. He averaged 8.2 points, 3.2 rebounds, 4.2 assists, 2.2 steals and only one turnover as the Spurs split their four-game season series against the Nuggets.

A year ago, White had wrapped up a successful season with the Spurs' G League affiliate in Austin and would remain on the bench for most of San Antonio's first-round loss to Golden State. White watched as Dejounte Murray closed an impressive first season as the Spurs' starting point guard after replacing Tony Parker, who was still having an impact off the bench for San Antonio. White was hoping to earn more minutes this season after averaging 23 points and seven assists for the Spurs' summer league team in Las Vegas. It was the same drive he demonstrated in transferring to Colorado after spending his first three seasons playing for Division II Colorado-Colorado Springs to improve his draft stock.

Then came July: San Antonio traded Kawhi Leonard and Danny Green to Toronto for DeMar DeRozan and Jakob Poeltl, shifting the team's look on the wing. Parker left in free agency — and then Murray suffered a season-ending knee injury Oct. 7 in a preseason game.

Suddenly the point was wide open for the taking. "You never want to lose a player, but the silver lining is who steps up in his stead," Denver coach Michael Malone said. "Derrick White, what a great story. (He started out as a) Division II player, goes to Colorado and now he is in San Antonio and playing well for

He has done more than help. White has become a vital part of the team, averaging 9.9 points, 3.3 rebounds, 3.2 assists and only 1.4 turnovers in 25.8 minutes per game.

DeRozan called White "awesome" and All-Star LaMarcus Aldridge has enjoyed his finest overall season with the Spurs, including the first 50-point game of his 13-year career, in part because of how quickly he and White bonded on the court.

"The intangibles, the things that you can't really teach for a point guard to understand," Aldridge said of White's strengths. "How to read the pick-androll, how to read the guy coming off. You can try to teach guys that, but some guys just get it."

The Spurs like his work on the other end of the court, too. At 6-foot-

San Antonio Spurs' Derrick White, left, drives past Atlanta Hawks' Trae Young during the second half of an NBA basketball game, in San Antonio. White's ascension into the Spurs' starting lineup and the pivotal role he has played in helping San Antonio earn its 22nd straight postseason appearance was a greater surprise to him than anyone else.

4 with long arms and a wiry frame, White has drawn comparisons to Murray and Green on defense. He had a career-high six blocks against Atlanta on March 6 and a career-high six steals against Denver on Dec. 28.

"I think Derrick White is an elite defender," Hawks coach Lloyd Pierce

White may have begun the season as an unknown, but he has now become a victim of his own success. Teams are focusing more on him now, which led to him scoring a combined 20 points over the final four games in March. He broke out of that with a 23-point game in a win over Atlanta and averaged 12.0 points as the Spurs went 4-1 in April. "Once he got confident, he was playing great," Spurs forward Davis Bertans said. "I think the other teams started paying more attention to him, so, it's always going to be like that for a while. It's going to be a little bit tougher, until he gets used to that physicality and the defense being focused on him a little bit more. The more experience he gets, the better

Euro swap for Mavs: Porzingis joins Doncic as Dirk moves on Dallas Mavericks' Luka Doncic responds to questions during an NBA basketball news conference in Dallas, Thursday.

By SCHUYLER DIXON

AP Sports Writer

DALLAS - Luka Doncic and Kristaps Porzingis are the Euro stars of the future for the Dallas Mavericks now that Dirk Nowitzki has retired after a record 21 seasons with the same franchise.

The rookie sensation from Slovenia and the 7-foot-3 Latvian didn't get to play together in the two months after Dallas acquired Porzingis in a blockbuster trade with the New York

The decision to push the recovery past the one-year mark on Porzingis' knee injury was essentially an admission by the Mavericks that their focus was on 2019-20. And now that an emotional two-day send-off for the NBA's most decorated European player is over, Dallas can concentrate on ending a playoff drought that covered Nowitzki's final three seasons — the longest of the big German's career.

The Mavericks didn't win a playoff series in eight seasons with Nowitzki after he led them to their only championship. "I cannot tell you what to expect," said Doncic, the overwhelming favorite for rookie of the year despite the second 33-49 record in three seasons for Dallas, with a 24-58 clunker in be-

"All I can tell you is we're gonna fight, we're going to work hard, we're gonna try to get into the playoffs. I'm not promising that, but we'll try everything to do it."

Annie's Mailbox ®

Too Late for a House?

Dear Annie: Usually active and energetic, I will be turning 80 in the spring. How I dread that birthday! Once my favorite season, spring now haunts me.

A fine artist, a painter, I still have dreams of finding a house to buy -- one where I could hang my paintings and invite people in to see them. I've been looking for several years. I'm finding that houses are either in undesirable locations or too expensive.

I never married and have rented and lived in apartments for many years. But I want to have a garden and be more involved and attend more activities.

I feel younger than I am, and people have told me that I look younger. Is it too late, I wonder, to have such goals? --Young at Heart

Dear Young at Heart:

Go for it and buy your first home. Why dread spring? You feel and look like a spring chicken. You may have to make some compromises when it comes to the location of the home, but at least it will be your own house. You really are only as old as you feel, and you sound youthful and excited about new adventures, such as cultivating your own garden. People are living much longer these days, so passing 100 years old is not out of the question. You could enjoy your house for 20-plus more years! Why the dread on your birthday? What a huge milestone 80 is. Congratulations and happy birthday. What ages people -and causes unhappiness -- is seeing the glass as half-empty instead of halffull. You already made it to 80 and are in good health and have what sounds like a great career as a fine artist. Go show off your art to your friends and shine bright!

Dear Annie: I'm writing to you because of a disturbing fact that my dentist revealed to me. I'm about to have some major work done in my mouth. I am a person who lives as close to an organic life as possible, so I wanted to be reassured that nothing harmful is going to be left behind in my mouth. I asked my dentist, "So, there won't be any plastics with BPA in them put into my mouth, right?" Bisphenol A has been taken out of all plastic bottles and toys because of government regulations. Imagine my shock when the dentist said, "We still use plastics with BPA in them." On a follow-up visit with a periodontist, I asked him the same question, to which he replied: "Your dentist was right. We are allowed to use plastics with BPA in them. It's a discussion that more people should be having with their dentists," because not as much money is spent on researching dental patients as is being spent on other types of research. How could this be?! Isn't it illegal to put BPA into plastic consumer products? How is it OK for a dentist to leave a plastic product in your mouth that will leach BPA slowly into your bloodstream 24/7? Please tell people to confirm with their dentists that they do not want

behind in their mouths.

My dentist, fortunately, respects my opinion and has promised me that he can build the prosthetics for my mouth without using any BPA plastics in them. Please tell everyone to ask the question. Maybe we can make a change happen. -- Pass on the BPA, Please

Dear Pass on the BPA: Thank you for bringing this fact to my attention. If any dentists out there have experience with this, I would love to hear from them.

Send your questions for Annie Lane to dearannie@creators.com.

「omorrow's Horoscope

Cosmic Conflict Continues

ARIES (March 21-April 19). To get where you want to go within an organization, you'll need the gatekeepers of various departments to open up their doors to you. Strategize. Start by mapping out the levels and working parts of the social structure.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You'll have success with today's venture. That's not the hard part. The hard part is staying modest in those moments when it's all going your way. The answer is to take it in, celebrate, but do so privately.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The difference between you and the others is that you're not playing. You'll do as you say immediately, and then the others will snap to, realizing the stiff competition they have in you.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You can get clarity in your life by clearing things out of it. Thoughts, behaviors, physical items... it all counts. Start with what's easy for you and the purge will cleanse every part of your life. It's all somehow linked together.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). People of all ages need to feel powerful, an instinct we share with other animals. So it's hard to blame the one who's not so secretly thrilled to be in charge. It usually wears off when the realities of leadership set in.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Ideally, you'll be in relationships with people as big-hearted as you are. When this isn't the case, look for the other gifts -- for instance, an analytical mind, or a comfortable dependability. They count, too.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Everyone shows appreciation differently, which is something to consider before you decide that a certain person isn't showing it at all. If that really does turn out to be the case, perhaps your efforts are better placed elsewhere.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). It's impossible to accept people for who they really are if you don't know who they really are. When it comes to learning people, the learning curve is so steep that the getto-know-you process is $B_{Y}\;Holiday\;Mathis \\ \text{while the}$ never really complete.

SAGIT-TARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The ability to project an outcome can work for or against us, depending on how much fear we mix into the exercise. Stay stoic and scientific and you'll prepare yourself instead of scare yourself.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). One thing stopping you from becoming a top performer is your fear that once you excel, you'll be expected to do so repeatedly. It's a valid concern, but don't worry. Once you excel, you'll (SET ITAL) want (END ITAL) to do it repeatedly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You weren't the one who burdened yourself. You were just nice (or innocent) enough to

was heaped on your back. Now is your chance shake it PI-SCES (Feb. 19-March 20). The amount of natural talent you need to succeed at the enterprise you have your eye on is surprisingly little. You have a hundred times more than you need. Now the question is, how many hours are you willing to put in?

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (April 12). You have deep respect for the trailblazers who made it possible for you to do what you do and focus where you wish. Putting this admiration into words and gestures will be part of your success key this year. Your stellar attitude and willingness to learn will lead to promotion, travel and exciting relationships Sagittarius and Capricorn adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 4, 40, 8, 19 and 47.

WEEKEND LOVE FORECAST: ARIES: To raise your attraction quotient, make it your quest to stay observant and receptive. TAURUS: At this critical juncture, there are two options: Lower your expectation, or improve the relationship. GEMINI: Give someone a different role in your life and that person will behave completely differently around you. CANCER: Ultimately, the most important quality you're looking for in a partner is kindness. LEO: Someone who has the same values as you will have a similar attitude toward work. VIRGO: You'll go out and make memories and experiences instead of waiting for them to fall into your lap. LIBRA: Knowing that stubbornness can ruin a good time, you're careful not to say anything that would make the other person defensive, or be too defensive yourself. SCORPIO: You'll let go of who you want people to be to see who they are. SAGITTARIUS: Don't worry too much about bringing a date, because wherever you go, you'll find or make friends. CAPRICORN: You'll reflect on the patterns your relationships have followed in order to avoid reenacting past experiences with current prospects. AQUARIUS: You have moments of feeling really fulfilled with another person, which is totally different from feeling like you compensate for each other's weaknesses. PISCES: Emotionally healthy people treat one another with as much respect in private as they do in public.

COUPLE OF THE WEEKEND: The Aries sun and Leo moon highlight the relationship between these two fire signs. One might expect two such passionate people to occasionally get into epic conflict, but they rarely go head to head. Aries is the warrior, and Leo is the ruler of the land. If they do battle, it's not with each other but as allies against the world. The weekend features a commitment, declared or deepened.

2. You are declarer with the West hand at Four Spades, and North leads the ace of hearts. How would you play the hand? WEST EAST ♠ K 10 9 2

♠ A Q J 8 7 5 4 3 ♦83 ♣K 8 6

♦ A Q J 10 ♣7542 1. The slam is a sure thing regardless of how the cards are divided.

Ruff the club, draw trumps, then play the ace and another spade. If North follows low, finesse the ten, thus assuring the contract whether the ten wins or loses. If North produces the jack or queen instead, you win with the king and again can be sure of losing only one spade trick whether South follows or not. If North shows out on the first or second spade lead, the slam remains certain even though there seems to be two spade losers. After cashing both top spades, you next play the A-O-5 of hearts.

First, let's suppose South shows out on the second or third round of hearts. In that case, you take the king and return the ten, discarding a spade from dummy. North wins with the jack, but whatever he returns, you discard dummy's last spade as you ruff in your hand. All you lose is a heart trick.

Now let's say South follows low when you lead dummy's third heart. This time you finesse the ten. If it wins, you have 12 tricks; if it loses, you also have 12 tricks, because North must return a club, which you ruff in your hand after discarding a spade from dummy. You then cash the heart king, discarding dummy's last spade to make the slam.

2. The only danger is that South has the king of diamonds and North the ace of clubs. In that case, if you ruff the heart, cash a trump and take a diamond finesse, you could go down one with a club return from South. To guard against this, the best play is to discard a diamond on the ace of hearts! This ensures the contract against any lie of the cards. Let's say North shifts to a trump at trick two. You win and play the A-Q of diamonds. If South produces the king, you ruff and have 11 tricks. If South follows low, you discard a club, assuring 10 tricks even if North wins the trick with the king. The diamond discard at trick one allows you to take a diamond finesse that can lose only to North, the nondangerous opponent.

Today in History

Today is Friday, April 12, the 102nd day of 2019. There are 263 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History:

On April 12, 1945, President Franklin D. Roosevelt died of a cerebral hemorrhage in Warm Springs, Georgia, at age 63; he was succeeded by Vice President Harry S. Truman. On this date:

In 1776, North Carolina's Fourth Provincial Congress authorized the colony's delegates to the Continental Congress to support independence from Britain.

In 1861, the Civil War began as Confederate forces opened fire on Fort Sumter in South Carolina.

In 1862, Union volunteers stole a Confederate locomotive near Marietta, Georgia, and headed toward Chattanooga, Tennessee, on a mission to sabotage as much of the rail line as they could; the raiders were caught. In 1877, the catcher's mask was first used in a baseball game by James Tyng of Harvard in a game against the Lynn Live

In 1934, "Tender Is the Night," by F. Scott Fitzgerald, was first published in book form after being serialized in Scribner's Magazine.

In 1955, the Salk vaccine against polio was declared safe and effective.

In 1961, Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin became the first man to fly in space, orbiting the earth once before making a safe landing.

In 1963, civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. was arrested and jailed in Birmingham, Alabama, charged with contempt of court and parading without a permit. (During his time behind bars, King wrote his "Letter from Birmingham Jail.")

In 1988, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office issued a patent to Harvard University for a genetically engineered mouse, the first time a patent was granted for an animal life form.

In 1989, former boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson died in Culver City, California, at age 67; radical activist Abbie Hoffman was found dead at his home in New Hope, Pennsylvania, at age 52.

In 1990, in its first meeting, East Germany's first democratically elected parliament acknowledged responsibility for the Nazi Holocaust, and asked the forgiveness of Jews and others who had suffered. In 2006, jurors in the Zacarias

Moussaoui (zak-uh-REE'-uhs moo-SOW'-ee) trial listened to a recording of shouts and cries in the cockpit as desperate passengers twice charged hijackers during the final half hour of doomed United Flight 93 on 9/11.

Ten years ago: American cargo ship captain Richard Phillips was rescued from Somali pirates by U.S. Navy snipers who shot and killed three of the hostage-takers. Angel Cabrera became the first Argentine to win the Masters. Actress Marilyn Chambers, who'd starred in the 1972 adult film "Behind the Green Door," was found dead at her home in Canyon Country, California, 10 days before her 57th birthday.

Five years ago: The policysetting panel of the 188-nation International Monetary Fund concluded a meeting in Washington by expressing confidence that the global economy finally had turned the corner to stronger growth. Devastating wildfires erupted in the hills of Valparaiso, Chile, killing 15 people and destroying nearly 3,000 homes.

One year ago: Police in Philadelphia arrested two black men at a Starbucks; the men had been asked to leave after one of them was denied access to the restroom. (Starbucks apologized and, weeks later, closed thousands of stores for part of the day to conduct antibias training.) Carl Ferrer, the chief executive of Backpage. com, which authorities described as an "online brothel," pleaded guilty to California and federal charges including conspiracy and money laundering, and agreed to testify against others at the website. Schoolteachers in Oklahoma ended two weeks of walkouts, shifting their focus to electing pro-education candidates. The Screen Actors Guild issued new guidelines calling for an end to auditions and professional meetings in private hotel rooms and residences in the wake of the Harvey Weinstein scandal.

TCU has time to heal after spring without many key players

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

AP Sports Writer

FORT WORTH, Texas — TCU speedy playmaking receiver Jalen Reagor was sidelined when the Horned Frogs ended spring practice, along with one of their top running backs and two of their quarterback candidates. Several key defenders were there with them.

"Everything's about preparing for August," coach Gary Patterson said.

Reagor, a 1,000-yard receiver who caught a touchdown in seven consecutive games as a sophomore, had what was described as a "minor cleanup" of a nagging ankle issue. The Frogs prefer having him ready to go for the regular season than going through all those spring drills, the same as for running back Darius Anderson after he missed the final two games last season.

There is now plenty of time for everybody to heal before the Aug. 31 opener against Arkansas-Pine Bluff that will open Patterson's 19th season.

practice with only about half of an 85-player scholarship roster. About 20 of those spots will be filled when the rest of the 2019 recruiting class and some graduate transfers arrive in the summer.

"We've got a long way to go to win a championship, and that's what your whole goal is. We've got to get healthy and guys that are out here have got to grow up," Patterson said. "The guys that practiced, are we better? We are. But there were a lot of younger guys and we've got a long ways to go. We showed a lot of promise, but we've got a lot of good players who are going to come back."

The Frogs dealt with significant injuries all of last season — starting with standout defensive tackle Ross Blacklock's season-ending Achilles injury even before the first game. Since-transferred quarterback Shawn Robinson, breakout safety Innis Gaines and Anderson were among many others who got hurt during the season.

Even with all the injured players, including No. 2 quarterback Mike Collins down the stretch that led to a fifth-year senior making his first career start in his final home game, TCU won its last two games in the regular season to get to .500 and in a bowl game. The Frogs then beat California 10-7 in overtime at the Cheez-It Bowl.

Instead of a traditional spring game — Patterson has never really liked those anyway — the Frogs wrapped up spring drills with a couple of hundred fans watching an hour-long controlled scrimmage missing many of the standout players.

Sewo Olonilua, the offensive MVP in the bowl when his first career 100-yard rushing game was a TCU bowl-record 194 yards against Cal, was limited in spring drills, like Anderson.

Collins missed all of spring while recovering from the foot injury he suffered at Baylor. Grad transfer quarterback Alex Delton from Kansas State was there and practiced until having a scheduled procedure the day of the scrimmage. "He did fine, it's something he's had," Patterson said. "It hasn't bothered him. He's practiced, he's done everything."

Dual-threat quarterbacks Justin Rogers and Max Duggan took most of the snaps with the first group in the spring-ending scrimmage.

Rogers, a redshirt freshman, got only a few snaps in the bowl game after dealing with a foot issue that developed when coming back from a knee injury that took away the top recruit's senior season in high school. Duggan graduated high school early and was able to take part in spring drills.

With so many experienced players missing time in the spring, there were more reps for some young-terson said sophomore LaKendrick Van Zandt took part in about 190 plays when the team was in shorts. Van Zandt took every snap with the No. 1 defense at strong safety, then was at linebacker for every snap with the No. 2 defense. The Horned Frogs, who made the Big 12 championship game two seasons ago, just hope to keep building on the momentum of how last year ended after a 3-5 start.

"I think what it told you was what kind of foundation we have here," Patterson said. "We're going to get all of these other guys back. ... I've got the guys who were here that fought their tails off.'

MAVS

There is some business to take care of before the pairing of Porzingis with Doncic can become official. The 2018 All-Star is a restricted free agent with a $4.5 million qualifying offer.

Owner Mark Cuban said during Porzingis' introductory news conference that the club wanted to sign him to a long-term deal. Rape allegations against Porzingis in New York and a counterclaim of extortion have surfaced since then, and the Mavericks aren't saying how that case affects their plans for signing him.

"Based on the nature of that, I can't comment on it," president of basketball operations Donnie Nelson said Thursday. "But Kristaps is our No. 1 priority in the offseason.'

The second priority is a notable free agent, and Dallas cleared about $30 million in salary cap space by sending Harrison Barnes to Sacramento. The other three starters alongside Doncic when the season started went to the Knicks in the Porzingis deal. The Mavericks also have a large trade exception.

"If everybody keeps working hard and improves over the summer, have a healthy (Porzingis) next vear. I think they should be fun to watch hopefully for Mavs fans a long, long time," Nowitzki said in his final chat with reporters a day after playing his final game in San Antonio.

"Stay together like that, stay injury-free, add a few veterans here, I think we're on the right track."

While Doncic is viewed as the next potential face of the franchise, the more immediate Nowitzi replacement could be diminutive guard J.J. Barea. He's an unrestricted free agent, still recovering from an Achilles injury and might not be ready when the season starts. But Barea also was the only player besides Nowitzki remaining from the titlewinning team. Dallas wants him back.

"This year I did more talking," the native of Puerto Rico said. "Next year, I think even more now. Dirk led by example. Me, I gotta talk a little bit more."

OTHER PORZINGIS PIECE

The other potential starter to come with Porzingis was guard Tim Hardaway Jr. He was shut down the final 11 games because of a stress reaction in his left leg that will require surgery.

Hardaway has a big contract (two years left on $71 million, four-year deal) so he's more likely to be around at least another year. He expects to be healthy when the season starts. For him and Porzingis, that would be the first time together since early February 2018.

"Those guys that were sitting out the last couple of games of this season, we just kept talking about that, just saying to ourselves, 'What if, what if, what if," Hardaway said.

With success in free agency (Dallas is unlikely to have its first-round pick in the June draft because of trading up to get Doncic), the Mavericks could have their loftiest expectations in years.

Dallas wasn't considered a title contender before winning it all in 2010-11, the third season under coach Rick Carlisle. Because the Mavericks didn't keep all the important players from that championship, they've been scrambling with their roster almost every year since.

"This is a full-fledged rebuild," Carlisle said. "We cannot sit here and feel like this is going to be turnkey operation. There's a lot of work to
