Police seeking suspect in Thursday shooting

One man hospitalized in Lubbock with gunshot wound Special to the Herald After further investigation, BSPD detectives

The Big Spring Police department is seeking a man in connection with a shooting Thursday which left a man hospitalized. In a press release issued Friday, the Big Spring

Police Department reported that Big Spring police officers responded about 10:34 p.m. Thursday to the 1700 block of S. Scurry in reference to Arriving at the scene, officers found a 34-year-old man shot in the upper torso. The victim was taken to Scenic Mountain Medical Center for treatment, and was later transported to University Medical Center in Lubbock. The victim is expected to survive his injuries.

submitted a Probable Cause Affidavit to a magistrate, and an arrest warrant was issued for Quincy Lamar Henry, a 30-year-old black male, for the offense of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon, a second-degree felony offense.

According to the press release, the investigation is ongoing, and no further information is available at this time.

Anyone with information on the whereabouts of Mr. Henry, or any information regarding the incident should call CrimeStoppers at 432-263-TIPS (8477). You can also leave an anonymous tip using the "P3 Tips"" mobile application, or by visiting www.p3tips.com/1277.

Water outages, online bill pay, street repairs and more, are now available at your fingertips with text alerts from the City of Big Spring.

"In an effort to make information about upcoming outages, repairs, and other changes that could impact the residents, we have been encouraging citizens of Big Spring to sign up for the text and email alerts," Stacie King, City of Big Spring Benefits Coordinator, said.

The City of Big Spring, 2017, at the same time as the Convention and Visitors Bureau, launched a new website. According to King, the CVB's website focuses on the entertainment and attractions happening in Big Spring, while the City website offers easier access to bill pay, updates/alerts, and contact information.

"Through our website we offer a lot of services that the community just isn't aware of yet," King said. "Residents are able to pay their utility bills online, find contact information for city offices, and the most important is that they can sign up to receive public service announcement notifications."

She continued, "We want to make sure that all residents are receiving notifications about any upcoming work or changes that could directly impact them, with as much notice as possible. The alerts are one of the fastest and best ways to accomplish this."

To receive text or email alerts, residents just need to opt in and sign up to receive the notifications. This registraThe City of Big Spring's website at www.mybigspring. com, has been around since 2017, and offers alerts about outages, street repairs, and other events; as well as online bill pay and information about city services.

tion can be done online through the City of Big Spring website, www.mybigspring.com. According to King, residents can choose which alerts they receive so that they are not bombarded by messages.

"The good thing about our site is the interactive feature. Not only can the City push out information, but it is another connection for the residents to report pot holes, stray animals, water leaks and more," she said.

For those who are hosting community events, those events can be added to the calendar and those looking for events can search the calendar. Job applications, for those seeking employment, can also be completed online.

"The list of job vacancies is always current and posted on the website and you can apply for positions right from the site without making a trip to City Hall," King said.

positive change for the betterment of communities, including Big Spring," Melanie Gambrell, local chapter organizer, said.

The Texas Humane Legislation Network's goal is to eliminate animal cruelty in Texas by working to educate residents, build a coalition of advocates, and pass legislation requiring the humane treatment of animals. Founded in 1975 by a handful of concerned Texans. There are now six chapters and more than 20,000 supporters strong.

"A few years back we had an active chapter and we helped support the cruelty law, passed in 2001; the puppy mill law passed in 2011, and a few others," Gambrell

A few of the other laws passed include the mandatory canine encounter training for law enforcement, and the gassing law. For 2019, the focus is on SB 295/ HB 940 improve and clarify existing Texas health and safety code "unlawful restraint of dogs" to include adequate shelter to protect against extreme temps and standing water, require access to water, eliminate 24 hour waiting period and allow law enforcement to act immediately and prohibit use of a chain.

"During our meeting we discussed upcoming meetings, fundraising opportunities, and efforts for the upcoming year," she said.

She continued, "Any law that we can help support and put into place for the betterment of animals will provide a positive impact for our community and those surrounding us."

New members are being accepted at this time, and those wanting to get involved can contact Gambrell by email at r4thepets@aol. com or call 432-270-7384. Those wanting to sign up for active alerts can join the Facebook page of THLN.

bonnets started showing in January. The ocotillo was bright red. The prickly pear came later but showed off its yellows, pinks and purples. I was there in mid-April, just past the height of the bloom, but pale bluebonnets almost the color of lilac lined the highway from Fort Stockton to Marathon. I spent Tuesday night in the historic Gage Before dinner I toured the Gage Gardens, a botanical masterpiece in a dry country.

Wednesday morning I saw the whimsical Eve's Garden, a bed and breakfast. Next I visited with Danny Self, who has the Marathon Motel. A resident astronomer lives there and gives star parties every night, weather permitting. A building on the premises holds 6 sophisticated telescopes. The owners might be in Tennessee or Florida, but when the stars are out, the building's roof opens and they can see the Texas stars on their computers.

at La Kiva, I spent the night in Bill Ivey's Teacher's House, one of his many properties where guests can spend the night. He told me about restoring the Perry Mansion, where the mine owner lived. We talked in a room that once held a Gatling gun, for protection against raids from Pancho Villa. That night the Terlingua moon provided a gigantic light in the sky and softened the little ghost town. Thursday morning I interviewed Mimi Webb Miller, who among other things is a casting and a ranch in Mexico. I also interviewed Ring Huggins, who has a rock shop called Many Stones. The big treat was getting to meet Carolyn Ohl at her bird sanctuary on the Terlingua Ranch.

From Terlingua I went to the Lajitas resort, most famous for its golf course, which has driving tees on top of mesas. Golfers hit balls onto the fairways and greens 200 feet below. The resort also offers zip lining, shooting several types of weapons, horseback riding, paddle boarding on the Rio Grande, fishing, hunting, shopping and relaxing. The Palo Verde trees were in full blossom and yellow leaves shimmered in the breeze. I spent a restful night in one of the well-appointed rooms, which had a saddle and a rope in it.

Friday morning I visited with Nate Gold, superintendent of the Big Bend Ranch State Park, the largest in the state park system. All other state parks could fit inside the BBRSP. It is rugged country.

RVs are discouraged. My trip was from Tuesday afternoon until Friday noon. You can do a lot in a few days in the mountains.

It all started at the rodeo

e've heard about the chances of being hit by lightning, winning the lottery or scoring a hole-in-one on the golf course, but nothing about the probability of two distinguished educators meeting up at a rodeo.

Dr. Ronny Collins, former school superintendent at Wellington, Jacksboro, Snyder and Mineral Wells, was a rodeo clown to help finance his college education, and his wife, Terri, a career fifth grade teacher, rode bulls.

Their first "hello" was in a dusty rodeo arena.

part about The Terri's bull-riding is not a misprint. She was the youngest sibling, and she tried to "copy" her big brother, who rode bulls.

In her family, it seemed that bull-riding was for everyone, so she hopped on. She was good, winning numerous buckles, trophies and other awards for staying aboard bulls for at least eight seconds. He was good at clowning, mastering his most unlikely rodeo act after he retired as Mineral Wells ISD superintendent seven years ago. At age 60, he unveiled his new act--juggling chainsaws. Before you ask, yes, they were running, and keeping the three saws in the air at the same time was daunting. He gave up early trying to juggle a single chainsaw while blindfolded. "When I was successful just once in three tries, Terri had had enough. We drove across Arkansas and much of Texas before she spoke to me," he laughed.

So, he mastered juggling three chainsaws, all with motors whir-

"It helped to get my mind off prostate cancer," he said, now cancer-free. Collins doesn't perform often, but when he does, it's with eyes wide open....

Initially, clowning was a "means to an end." He subbed for a friend at a rodeo when college dorm rent came due, and he was off and running. He "clowned" throughout college years at rodeos around Denton, Fort Worth and Abilene en route to a bachelor's degree from Tarleton State University, where he later earned a master's degree. (He also holds Oklahoma State Uni-

 $\mathbf{D}_{\mathbf{O}\mathbf{N}}$ a Ph.D. degree from Newbury versity.)

Collins taught agriculture briefly, but soon was attracted to administration, first in vocational services, then as principal and superintendent. He and Terri have tons of memories, including a parent who showed up at school where his son had gotten swats for misbehaving. "I didn't see it, so I don't know if you got the swat thing down right, so would you please do it again." Yep, the couple is "old school."

Clearly, Ronny and Terri parented with the best of them. Sons Brad and Todd are now doctors, the former a chiropractor in Midlothian and the latter a dentist in Mabank.

Both sons are graduates of Howard Payne University, where they played a total of seven years in the Division III football pro-

"I'm glad both boys entered professions that help others," Ronny said. He and Terri bought rural property near Grandview, only a few yards away from Brad and wife Kandace, as well as grandchildren Carter, 13; Codi, 11, and Kenna, 9. (Kandace has a dental practice in Grandview.) Grandparents should be so lucky to live close to children and grands. The couple now lives only 90 minutes or so from Todd and wife Amy, and their children

Tred, 8; Cy, 6, and Adelyn, 4. "We've come full circle," Ronny said. "I was born in Johnson County, and now we're back to finish up."

Besides "grandparenting," the couple enjoys get-togethers with retired rodeo clowns every two Terri hasn't ridden any bulls lately, and Ronny only rarely fires up the chainsaws. (Current rodeo clowns haven't copied his act---at least none that he knows Domingo Ortega's poem seems to "fit" Ronny, who has thrived in at least two high-risk professions. "Bullfight critics, It reads:

ranked in rows, crowd the enormous plaza full. But he's the only one who knows—and he's the man who fights the bull." Dr. Newbury is a former educator who "commits speeches" round about. Comments or inquiries to: newbury@speakerdoc.com. Ph.: 817-447-3872. Web: www.speakerdoc.com. Twitter: @donnewbury. Facebook: don newbury.

Pastor Sam Segundo opened the National Day of Prayer ceremony, followed by prayers provided by local leaders including County Judge Kathryn Wiseman, Police Chief Chad Williams, Scenic Mountain Medical Center CEO Emma Krabill, and several others who prayed for different areas of our community. Prayers were provided for every sector of the community from media, to finances, to local officials, law enforcement, and more. This is a national celebration and the local ceremony has taken place for several years.

News Briefs

South Texas tornadoes leave damage but no injuries

LA GRANGE, Texas (AP) — Several tornadoes were reported across south central Texas, leaving damage in their wake but no reports of injuries as severe thunderstorms rumbled across the region.

The National Weather Service says two tornadoes were reported about 9 a.m. Friday morning in the La Grange area, about 100 miles (160 kilometers) west of Houston.

Fayette County Emergency Medical Services posted photos on its Facebook page documenting severe damage to buildings along Texas Route 71 west of La Grange. The Mount Zion Church lost its roof and most of its exterior walls. A heavy equipment rental warehouse was blown down, crushing cars outside.

Severe thunderstorms continued to rage throughout the day in western and south central Texas.

Autopsy: Man killed in drug raid had 9 gunshot wounds

HOUSTON (AP) — An autopsy report for a man who along with his wife was fatally shot by Houston police during a drug raid of their home says he suffered nine gunshot wounds.

The autopsy report said metabolites of marijuana were found in 59-year-old Dennis Tuttle's bloodstream.

The autopsy report was released Friday. It came a day after the autopsy report for his wife, 58-yearold Rhogena Nicholas, was released.

Her report showed she suffered four gunshot wounds, and benzoylecgonine, a metabolite of cocaine, was found in her bloodstream.

The couple died during the Jan. 28 raid. Five officers were injured.

Authorities continue investigating the shooting following allegations an officer lied in order to obtain the search warrant authorizing the raid.

Friends of the couple have pushed back against claims the two were criminals.

Spouse of slain Texas firefighter accused of capital murder

ROYSE CITY, Texas (AP) — The widow of a Dallas-area firefighter faces a capital murder charge after prosecutors say new evidence led to the upgraded count in his 2016 fatal shooting.

Chacey Tyler Poynter of Royse City was originally charged with conspiracy to commit murder, then charged with murder, following the off-duty death of Robert Poynter. He was a University Park Fire Department captain.

The Greenville Herald-Banner reports a Hunt County grand jury April 26 indicted Chacey Poynter on the capital murder charge. Prosecutors allege the woman and Michael Glen Garza had an affair and killed her husband for his money.

Garza last summer was convicted of murder and sentenced to 99 years.

Poynter, if convicted, could face up to life in prison. An attorney for her didn't immediately return a message Friday seeking comment.

"Solitary" (B WOO A) by Albert Woodfox is the unforgettable life story of a man who served more than four decades in solitary confinement, in a 6-foot by 9-foot cell, 23 hours a day, in notorious Angola prison in Louisiana, all for a crime he did not commit.

Albert's survival was, in itself a feat of extraordinary endurance against the violence and deprivation he faced daily. That he was able to emerge whole from his odyssey within America's prison and judicial systems is a triumph of the human spirit, and makes his book a call to reform the inhumanity of solitary confinement in the U.S. and around the world. Arrested often as a teenager in New Orleans, confinement. My story

inspired behind bars in his early 20s to join the Black Panther Party because of its social commitment and code of living, Albert was serving a 50-year sentence in Angola for armed robbery when on April 17, 1972, a white guard was killed. Albert and another member of the Panthers were accused of the crime and immediately put in solitary confinement by the warden. Without a shred of actual evidence against them, they were given life sentences in solitary. Decades passed before Albert gained a lawyer of consequence; 16 years and multiple appeals later, he was finally released in February 2016. Remarkably self-aware that anger or bitterness would have destroyed him in solitary confinement, sustained by the shared solidarity of two fellow Panthers, Albert turned his anger into activism and resistance. The Angola 3, as they became known, resolved never to be broken by the grinding inhumanity and corruption that effectively held them for decades as political prisoners. He survived to give us a chronicle of rare power and humanity that proves the better spirits of our nature can thrive against any odds.

lawyers and his accuser as he's sent to prison. Not long after, there's another rape and the DNA test shows that the same person committed both rapes, which is seemingly impossible since the man convicted of the first rape was in prison at the time of the second one. Now, the convicted athlete, joined by a new lawyer, is granted a new trial and bail. Shortly thereafter, his original lawyer disappears and his law partner is murdered. Robin Lockwood is a young lawyer with a prestigious small law firm and a former MMA fighter who helped pay for Yale Law School with her bouts. She is representing the victim of the first rape for her civil lawsuit against her rapist, who is now convinced the rapist is stalking her and trying to intimidate her. At the same time, another client is up on a murder charge- one that should be dismissed as self-defense-but the D.A. trying the case is determined to bring it to trial. Now she has to mastermind two impossible cases, trying to find the hidden truth that links the two of them

As the Great War continues to take its toll in "The Victory Garden" (LP F BOW R) by Rhys Bowen, headstrong twenty-one-year-old Emily Bryce is determined to contribute to the war effort. She is convinced by a cheeky and handsome Australian pilot that she can do more, and it is not long before she falls in love with him and accepts his proposal of marriage. When he is sent back to the front, Emily volunteers as a "land girl," tending to the neglected grounds of a large Devonshire estate. It's here that Emily discovers the long-forgotten journals of a medicine woman who devoted her life to her herbal garden. The journals inspire Emily, and in the wake of devastating news, they are her saving grace. Emily's lover has not only died a hero but has left her terrified and with child. Since no one knows that Emily was never married, she adopts the charade of a war widow. As Emily learns more about the volatile power of healing with herbs, the found journals will bring her to the brink of disaster, but may open a path to her destiny. Marriage, is a double-edged sword for Nikki Heat, New York police captain in "Crashing Heat" (M CAS R) by Richard Castle. Her husband, Pulitzer Prizewinning journalist Jameson Rook infuriates her in a way that no one else does but most of all she loves her husband and would do anything to protect him, which is just what she had done not so long ago. It almost cost them everything. Now Rook is given the honor to be a visiting professor at his alma mater, and he can't pass up the opportunity to mentor writers at his award-winning college newspaper. But shortly after his arrival on campus, a female reporter is found dead naked in Rook's bed. Dealing with betrayal from any man is not Nikki's style. She and Jameson have had plenty of conflicts during their complicated relationship, but not like this. Is her husband keeping secrets, or can she really trust him? In order to find out, Nikki gives Jameson the benefit of the doubt and digs into his theory of a secret society within a secret society. What she finds puts her investigation skills, and her marriage to the test.

Forsan sweeps double header against Christoval to win Bi-district series

Sports Editor

FORSAN - The Buffs won back-to-back games on Fridav in a double header with Christoval to win the bi-district title in convincing fashion. The Cougars outhit Forsan 24 to 21 in the two games, but the Buffs played solid defense throughout, committing only two errors in the two games in comparison to the 10 errors committed by Christoval.

Forsan dominated in the first game with a 13-2 win to give them a one game advantage in the series then won game two in an offensive slug fest 16-11 to win the bidistrict series and the score. Christoval answered in the top of the third with a solo run of their own to square the game at 1-1 heading into the bottom of the inning. In the bottom of the third, Forsan found their rhythm at the plate and put together a three run inning. The Buffs' three big runs came off one swing of the bat when Brandon Valdez hit a bases clearing three RBI triple to left field to give Forsan the 4-1 lead heading into the fourth.

Neither team could muster any runs in the fourth inning, but the Cougars did manage to manufacture one more run in the top of the fifth before the Buffs closed the door on them for good. In the bottom of the fifth, Forsan came back with two more runs to add to their lead. Jordan Enriquez drove in Kobe Rich> ardson for the first run in the inning then scored himself on a wild pitch iust two batters later to give the Buffs a commanding 6-2 lead heading into the sixth inning.

In the top of the sixth, Forsan continued to play great defense and held Christoval scoreless again. In the bottom of the inning the Buffs put the game on ice in commanding fashion with a huge seven run inning to make the game a complete blowout. Kligora and Bradlee Saucedo both led the way in the big inning with extrabase RBIs to put the game away for good and give the Buffs a 1-0 series advantage heading into the second game of the double header.

Brandon Valdez took the win for Forsan. He went five innings, allowing two runs on six hits and striking out four. Kobe Richardson threw one inning in relief out of the bullpen.

Richardson recorded the last three outs to earn the save for the Buffs as they got ready for game two.

In the second game of the series, Forsan and Christoval had a shoot out with both teams collecting more than 15 hits a piece and each team scoring double digit runs in the 16-11 series clinching win for the Buffs. The Cougars outhit the Buffs 18 to 15, in the game but committed six costly errors in the game that Forsan capitalized on to win the bi-district

The Buffs came out on fire in the top of the first inning with a huge seven run inning to open up the contest. With their bats doing work, Forsan slacked off a bit on defense and allowed the Cougars to get right back in the game and take the lead in the bottom of the second with a six run inning of their own after scoring two to give the Cougars a 8-7 advantage heading into the third.

In the top of the third, found their stroke again and put up another four run inning to retake the lead and give themselves some cushion with an 11-8 lead. In the bottom of the inning Christoval cut into the lead again with a solo run and kept their hopes alive trailing 11-9 after three.

In the top of the fourth, the Buffs put the game away for good with another offensive explosion at the plate. Forsan scored five more runs in the inning to increase their lead to 16-9 and put the game out of reach. The Buffs didn't score anymore runs in the game, but they did step up their defense and only allowed two more runs over the next three innings to take the game and the series with an impressive 16-11 win.

The Buffs won the game with a pitching by committee approach. Russell Welch, Kobe Richardson, Sawyer Stallings and Major Stockton all pitched in the game for Forsan and collectively gave up 10 earned runs on 18 hits and struck out eight. Dylon Kligora led the way for the Buffs offensively with three hits in four at bats and three RBIs. Richardson, Stockton, Valdez, Yanez and Morgan all collected multiple hits in the game as well showing their plate presence as a team.

With the win, the Buffs add yet another piece of hardware to their trophy case this year and will match up against Haskell in the area round next week with dates and times TBA.

Blue Jays get unearned run in 12th for 1-0 win at Rangers

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

ARLINGTON, Texas — The Toronto Blue Jays outlasted the Rangers to win after an overnight trip to Texas, two outstanding starting performances, some rain and an errant throw in the 12th inning.

Brandon Drury led off the 12th inning with a single and eventually scored the game's only run on pitcher Ariel Jurado's throwing error with a slick ball for a 1-0 win Friday night, handing the Rangers their first extrainnings shutout loss at home in nearly

The lefty was coming off a career-high 13 strikeouts in a win last Saturday at Seattle, and had thrown a three-hitter for his first career shutout in his previous home start April 15 against the Los Angeles Angels.

Blazers go up 2-1 after 140-137 win in 4 OTs over Denver

By ANNE M. PETERSON

AP Sports Writer

PORTLAND, Ore. — Rodney Hood checked back into the game, a fresh body among the weary ones all over the court.

Eager for postseason redemption after struggling in the playoffs last year, Hood got his chance Friday night.

All he had to do was wait until an NBA postseason record-tying fourth overtime.

Hood hit the key 3-pointer with 18.6 seconds left and the Portland Trail Blazers beat the Denver Nuggets 140-137 to take a 2-1 lead in the Western Conference semifinals.

Hood was a starter for Cleveland last season when the playoffs opened, but fell out of favor and refused to check into the final minutes of a blowout win over Toronto in the second round. He was acquired by the Blazers in a February trade.

"I didn't give up. I didn't give up on myself, just kept playing, kept working," he said. "I had no idea that I'd end up in Portland in this type of situation. But to be here, to have my family in the crowd when I saw a lot of sad faces last go-round, to be here is very emotional for me, to be quite frank.

"A lot more basketball to go, though. A lot more basketball."

The Blazers and Nuggets played a lot already.

It was just the second quadruple-overtime playoff game in NBA history, joining a 1953 game between the Boston Celtics and the Syracuse Nationals.

CJ McCollum matched his career playoff high with 41 points and Damian Lillard added 28 for Portland, which stretched its winning streak at home to 12 games dating back to the regular season.

Hood scored seven points in the final OT and helped the Blazers remain unbeaten at home this postseason.

Nikola Jokic had his third triple-double of the playoffs with 33 points, 18 rebounds and 14 assists, but missed a crucial free throw with 5.6 seconds to go. The 7-foot center played 65 minutes, two shy of the postseason record.

Jamal Murray had a playoff-high 34 points for the Nuggets. Game 4 is Sunday.

"We fought, we fought, we fought. That's all you can ask for. Too many second-chance points too many turnovers, that was the difference in the game," Nuggets coach Michael Malone said. "But that was a hell of a basketball game by two very good basketball teams."

Hood's jumper tied the game at 133 with just over a minute left in the final overtime. Will Barton missed the first of two free throws for Denver before Hood added a baseline jumper. Paul Millsap's hook shot with 27 seconds left gave the Nuggets the

But Hood's 26-foot 3-pointer gave Portland a 138-136 lead as time wound down. Jokic missed the first of two free throws for Denver and Seth Curry made free throws for the Blazers to close it out.

Hood finished with 19 points.

"Rodney Hood a huge impact on the game, and they went to him," Malone said.

109 with 8.7 seconds left and Jokic missed an off-

In the first overtime, McCollum's layup tied it at balance 3-pointer at the buzzer. With the game knotted at 118 in the second overtime, Jokic missed a 3-pointer and a jump ball with 5.7 seconds left was grabbed by McCollum. Portland called a timeout with 4.1 seconds on the clock but Lillard missed a 3-point attempt as time ran out. Millsap's jumper with 32 seconds left gave the Nuggets a 129-125 lead in the third overtime, but

Lillard's bank shot closed the gap and he added a layup that re-tied it again with 8.4 seconds left. McCollum played 60 minutes.

The Blazers, in the conference semifinals since 2016, have won the last two games after secondseeded Denver's victory in Game 1.

Maurice Harkless started for the Blazers after rolling his ankle in the second quarter of Game 2 and sitting out the rest of the way.

Torrey Craig was also day-to-day but started for Denver, wearing a clear mask after his nose was bloodied in Wednesday's game.

Portland led by as many as 10 points in the opening half but the Nuggets pulled in front 38-37 on Murray's running 3-pointer. Portland went into the break with just a 48-47 edge.

TIP-INS

Nuggets: Denver was 3-1 over the Blazers in the regular season. ... Gary Harris fouled out with just over a minute left in the third overtime. Red Rocha and Paul Seymour of Syracuse set the NBA record by playing 67 minutes in the March 21, 1953, quadruple-OT game in Boston.

Trail Blazers: The Blazers showed Lillard's 37-foot shot that clinched the first-round series against the Oklahoma City Thunder before the game and the crowd at the Moda Center against cheered. ... Portland was 32-9 at home in the regular season.

MAN IN THE MASK

The Nuggets called Craig's injury a nasal contusion. The clear mask he donned was from a previous injury.

"Obviously I don't think it's comfortable. I don't think it's something that he prefers," Malone said. "But with the injury that he sustained and the bleeding, and the fact that this is similar to another injury that he incurred, it's being really preventative and making sure it doesn't get any worse. Torrey's one of those guys, he makes no excuses. He's a tough kid."

KANTER'S SHOULDER Enes Kanter finished with 18 points and 15 rebounds, but said afterward he re-injured his left shoulder — originally hurt in Game 5 against the Thunder.

"I will just go home and get some rest. I don't know if I can play the next game but I will do my best to be out there with my teammates," he said.

Portland Trail Blazers guard Damian Lillard, center, shoots over Denver Nuggets forward Torrey Craig during the first half of Game 3 of an NBA basketball second-round playoff series Friday, May 3, in Portland, Ore.

Rockets look to avoid falling in 0-3 hole against Warriors

By KRISTIE RIEKEN

AP Sports Writer HOUSTON James Harden knows the success or failure of the Houston Rockets falls on him regardless of what the rest of the team does in the Western Conference semifinals against the Golden Warriors.

That burden, he says, is one that most people can't understand but that makes him better, something he'll need to be if the Rockets hope to avoid falling into a 0-3 hole Saturday night when they host Game 3.

"How can I explain it," he asked. "If you've never been in that situation before or don't know what it feels like I can't give you the (feeling)."

Last year's MVP and a front-runner this season thrives on that pressure and is ready for the challenge facing him as the Rockets try to close the gap in the series.

"It makes me who I am and I wouldn't expect anyone who hasn't been in this position or doesn't got the world on their shoulders to get it," he said.

Harden is recovering after both of his eyes were injured in the first quarter of Game 2 when he was hit by Golden State's Draymond Green as the two fought for a rebound. He returned in the second quarter of that game and went on to score 29 points, but said afterward that he could barely see and was suffering from blurry vision from the blow.

His eyes still had large bloody areas this week in practice but he said he was feeling better and didn't expect his eyes to be a problem on Saturday.

The Rockets will look for Harden to be back to full strength to lead the team and gain momentum in the series. Both teams are aware that Houston will be desperate to win on Saturday since no team has ever come back after losing the first three games to win a playoff series.

Warriors coach Steve Kerr was descriptive in his prediction for what the Warriors should expect from the Rockets in Game 3.

"Fire and fury," Kerr said. "It sounds like the title of a 'Game of Thrones' episode. They're coming after us, we know that. Great team, they're competitive, they're tough. It's just 2-0. We've done a good job of protecting our home court and now it's their chance to respond."

The Warriors are well-versed on how difficult it is to play in Houston, but they've also had success on the Rockets home court, having won two games there in last year's Western Conference finals including Game 7.

"The job is far from over," Golden State guard Klay Thompson said. "We know that the toughest part of the series will be in Houston. We did what we were supposed to do defending home court, we've just got to protect it by getting one down there."

WARRIORS AT ROCKETS Warriors lead 2-0. Game 3, 8:30 p.m.

EDT, ABC

NEED TO KNOW: The Rockets are focused on getting off to a better start on Saturday after being done in by poor first quarters in the first two games. Golden State has outscored Houston 57-39 combined in the first quarters of Games 1 and 2. Of the other six quarter, the Warriors have scored more than the Rockets in just one of them with Houston holding a 170-162 advantage in the final three quarters of the first two games.

Houston's defensive stopper P.J. Tucker had a simple answer for how the Rockets can have a better first quarter on Saturday.

"Playing harder," he said.

INJURY WATCH: Stephen Curry's dislocated left, non-shooting middle finger has been taped in recent days since he injured it in the first quarter of Game 2, when both he and Harden spent time in the locker room after being injured.

Kerr was happy to have the rest for Curry. He and Thompson also are playing on tender right ankles they sprained in Game 6 of the first round against the Clippers and Golden State had a quick turnaround to Game 1 against afternoon.

the Rockets last Saturday Having more time off before Game 3 helped. "I think it's come at a good time," Kerr said. KEEP AN EYE ON: Andre Iguodala. At 35 years old, the 2015 NBA Finals MVP is playing some of his best basketball and setting a defensive tone against Harden. Kerr went with Iguodala back in the starting lineup for the first two games of the series — saying "it's our best lineup." Iguodala has been known to pace himself in the regular season to be fresh for the big playoff stage. Kerr thought he had one of his better regular seasons, too. "We want playoff Andre to be playoff Andre, not January Andre," Kerr Golden State is 6-1 all-when using the starting lineup of Curry, Kevin Durant, Green, Iguodala and Thomp-

"I think he's better right now in this postseason than he's been in years, regular season or postseason," Green said. "It's a special thing, as bouncy as he is and the defense that he's playing, the confidence he's exuded on the offensive end. He's just been an all-around great player for us." PRESSURE IS ON: The Rockets have their backs against the wall after losing the first two games. Houston's Chris Paul believes they all need to play better to turn things around, but the veteran is putting it on himself to help other players like center Clint Capela get going.

"I've got to be more aggressive, both offensively and defensively and hopefully that will open up the game even more for Clint," he said. "But defensively is where we've got to impose our will. When we get stops and get out in transition we're one of the best teams in the league."

How do you explain 70 years of happy marriage? One word – commitment; just ask Willis and Bob-

"For someone to be together for 70 years, love and commitment have to be above everything else. Their love for each other and their commitment to each other," Vanessa Burchett, daughter-in-law of Willis and Bobbie Burchett, said. "In addition to that is their love for God and placing God at the center of all of it."

For Willis Burchett, one trip to the grocery store changed his life forever and brought the happily ever after he never imagined.

"Mom (Bobbie) was a cashier at the grocery store and Dad (Willis) went in to get something and saw her. Not long after, they were both with a group of friends out at a movie, and well, not long after they were dating," Vicki Broadrick, daughter of Willis and Bobbie, said. "They never went with anyone else after that. They dated for about four or five months and then they were married."

Vanessa added, "Willis always says his life would not have been complete without her. Everything was about her; his life was always about her."

The couple wed on May 1, 1949 in Stanton, while Bobbie was still 17. Their children recalled hearing the story of how they had to chase Bobbie's mom all over town before they could get married, in order for her to sign the papers.

"We don't know why they didn't just to wait one more day. Mom turned 18 the next day. Her birthday is May 2," Vicki said. "Daddy wanted to get married then though, and so they got married." Building a life together was the focus of Willis and Bobbie and demonstrating what love is for their children. According to their children, family was, and still is, an important thing for them.

"One thing about them is they were always at their grandchildren's events. They have five grandchildren and six great grandchildren and they didn't miss an event," Vicki said. "Whether it was in their families. Willis moved into Parkview in July 2016 and Bobbie wans't far behind moving in

"I honestly don't recall a time where we (Bill and I) or our parents fought. No they didn't always agree on everything, but they never fought.," Vicki said.

Vanessa added, "Bill always told me, when it came to neighborhood games, she (Vicki) was always his first choice."

"Of course, she was better than the boys." Bill said.

The support and love for their grandchildren is a given, when looking back at the childhood experienced by their children, Vicki and Bill. Little league events were a family affair, which is where Vicki claims to have learned to play so well; she watched her brother.

"Everything was a team effort, even the household chores. Mom always had meals ready for us to go, whether it was breakfast for us when we were headed off to school or dinner when we were all coming home," Vicki said. "When dad retired though and mom was working, the tables turned and he did the cooking.'

Vicki continued, "She really was the mother everyone dreamed of. She waited up for us when we were out, there was lots of pride there - from both of them really - and she was humble. Oh, and she never spoke an unkind word of anyone."

Recalling several moments, Bill, Vicki and Vanessa couldn't express

"We made friends with a lot of the families in our enough how kind Bobbie truly is.

> "She loved children and she always gave them the benefit of the doubt," Vicki said.

> No doubt about it, this lifelong love story has left a lasting impact, but when asked what the biggest lessons learned are, both Bill and Vicki would agree - respect and hard work can pretty much sum it all up.

> "They taught us you need to have a good work ethic, always have respect for others, and what a home is," Bill said.

> > Vicki added, "When we say she never spoke an unkind word, we mean not one. She truly believed while you may not agree with everything that others think, you need to respect them and where they come from."

> > While Vanessa didn't get to experience the childhood provided by Bobbie and Willis, she has been able to experience the lasting effects and has even made her own memories, in the almost 35 years of being in the family.

"Bobbie is one of the cleanest people I have ever met. One of the first hand encounters I had was when I was pregnant with our first child and they came over to do 'deep cleaning'. I am talking deep cleaning, she was removing outlet plates and we were vaccuming them. When it came to cleaning her stove, she would remove everything and clean it."

Vicki added, "She (Bobbie) would have dad dust her off before she would go into the kitchen to cook. She wanted to make sure that if a hair had fallen off of her head it wasn't going to end up in the food. She took pride in everything she did."

Pride in family, keeping God at the center of everything, love and commitment seem to be the perfect mixture when it comes to the secret of 70 years. As with any marriage, there are ups and downs, but being able to withstand the test of time, is definitely a learned art - and it seems that Willis and Bobbie have found the secret.

"In every area they were committed to each other and to their children. To be together for 70 years, it takes not only being committed to each other, but to your children," Vanessa said.

Vicki added, "There were times they wanted to throw in the towl, things got hard, but divorce wasn't an option. They were committed and nothing was going to change that."

The love story these two share has not faded in the physical world, but pieces of their history is fading as Bobbie battles dementia. However, in those moments, Willis is right next to his bride to help her remember, answer questions, and above all, love her. "He is so good to answer the questions she has.

Dealing with dementia isn't easy and it can be tough, but he sticks by her side. He is right there for her. He is always watching over her," Vicki said.

Vanessa added as the group chuckled, "You can tell when he has had enough though because he will call one of us and say 'Bobbie wants to talk to you.' But, you can see his love for her, everyday."

Willis, one of seven children, and Bobbie, one of nine children, are the only survivors in their families, and both are the second youngest in their families. Both are lifetime members of Church of Christ. Their story could go on forever, and no doubt it will carry on for many years to come, through the love and the memories that they are still making with their family.

Pet Talk:

Every-Bunny Watch Out For GI Stasis

5710 W. I-20

Big Spring, TX

Exit 174 Off I-20

By The Texas A&M University College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences COLLEGE STATION, May 3, 2019 - If you have a pet rabbit, you know how much they love to eat. The quality of a rabbit's diet plays a huge role in its health, and an improper diet can lead to potentially serious diseases, including gastrointestinal (GI) stasis.

Dr. J. Jill Heatley, an associate professor at the Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine & Biomedical Sciences, has advice for avoiding this disease and keeping your rabbit healthy.

GI stasis occurs when the stomach and intestines slow down, or stop completely, in the digestive process. "Rabbits are vegetarians, herbivores, and lovers of fiber," Heatley said. "As such, their gastrointestinal tract should always be moving." She said GI stasis can be caused by many things but is often from a lack of fiber, bad teeth, insufficient exercise, toxins, or even some antibiotics. It could also be a result of bad bacteria colonizing the gastrointestinal tract and causing gas, pain, and fever. Since GI stasis has many possible causes, rabbit owners should always watch out for any symptoms of the disease.

Heatley said rabbits with GI stasis may feel a lot of gut pain, which would cause a hunched posture. They may also be less active, eat less, or have small, dark droppings. Some may even drool because of teeth or nose problems.

If any symptoms of GI stasis are noticed, the rabbit should be taken to a veterinarian who has experience working with exotic pets as soon as possible.

Treatments for GI stasis include fluids to hydrate, medications to control pain, and special diets and probiotics to help the gastrointestinal tract return to normal function. The veterinarian may also do X-rays or other tests to rule out more serious causes of GI stasis, such as kidney or heart failure. "With an early diagnosis and appropriate treatment, the likelihood of complete recovery is good," Heatley said. Luckily, there are many things rabbit owners can do to reduce the chance that GI stasis will occur.

"Providing a good diet of mainly fiber from hay and vegetables, avoiding sugary treats, providing plenty of fresh water, and offering only one tablespoon of pellets per pound of rabbit are good choices," Heatley said. She recommends making sure rabbits stay active and have access to fresh air and sunlight. Regular trips to the veterinarian can also help keep a rabbit's teeth, feet, and diet in good condition.

GI stasis can have very serious health implications, but it can usually be avoided with careful monitoring and preventative steps. If you have a pet rabbit, make sure you are always watching out for any changes in behavior or other symptoms of this disease.

Roger's Reviews: Ugly Dolls

Roger

believe I mentioned in my review of the cinematic epic "Christopher Robin" last year that I had, in my childhood, an Eeyore doll. That doll was ugly; it had, in typical Eeyore fashion, lost its tail (albeit a bit more permanently than the real Eeyore) and was bedraggled and stained. Despite all that, it was a beloved part of my young life. Thursday I saw the new movie which delves into the lives of ugly dolls, and in doing so, tries to explore themes of expectations, individuality versus conformity, and perseverance in the face of adversity, all to a poppy musical beat.

I say "tries," because "UglyDolls" doesn't quite get there, partly (as I just found out)

"UglyDolls" is based on an actual line of "UglyDoll" plush toys. I'll talk about why that's relevant below.

As the movie opens, we see pink, snaggle-toothed Moxy (Kelly Clarkson) waking up to another day in Uglyville. Joined by the other dolls of the town - Uglydog (Pitbull), Peggy (Ice-T), Mayor Ox (Blake Shelton), Lucky Bat (Leehom Wang), Wage (Wanda Sykes), Babo (Gabriel Iglesias), and Wedgehead (Emma Roberts) – she sings a song about how today could be the day that she finds the way to the Big World, where she'll meet her child. It's not the day, but maybe tomorrow. During the day's festivities, we see what is apparently a common occurrence - new arrivals being ejected from a hole in the cliff face, where a giant, slow turtle doll tries to catch them, but is too slow, so they crash into the ground.

The next day, inspired by a fortune cookie message from Lucky Bat, Moxy decides to climb into the hole to find out where it leads. After convincing Uglydog, Lucky Bat, Wage, and Babo to go with her, Moxy climbs into the hole, and the group discovers a tunnel leading to Perfection, a town where perfect dolls are trained and processed for their lives in the Big World.

In Perfection, the group is introduced to the town's "perfect" leader Lou (Nick Jonas) and his gaggle of "perfect" followers, including Mandy (Janelle Monae), and a trio of sneaky Spy Girls – Tuesday (Bebe Rexha), Kitty (Charli XCX), and Lydia (Lizzo), who introduce them to the Gauntlet – a challenge for dolls wishing to travel to the Big

I'll stop the summary there. The best part about "UglyDolls" is the catchy – if rather forgettable - songs. Some of them were toe-tappers, but they certainly weren't enough to make this movie worth the watch.

Above, I mentioned that the movie is based on a line of plush "UglyDoll" toys. There's also been a video game based on the characters. This is a problem because all of the "UglyDoll" toys are similarly concepted. They're all monochrome, blobby plush toys with googly eyes and various protuberances. That's a perfectly fine toy format - I mean, Eeyore was kind of that way. But that's certainly not the only format of ugly dolls. By restricting ugly dolls to the UglyDolls toy line, this movie misses out on a world of creativity with ugly dolls in general. Worse, it subverts the movie's message of individuality, because the UglyDolls aren't different enough. They all have a similar look. They

There's nothing original or fresh about "UglyDolls" - all the tropes in this movie are old and worn, treading ground pioneered by better movies like "Toy Story" and "The Lego Movie." I'm going to give "UglyDolls" three and a half stars out of 10. Young kids might enjoy it, but there's certainly better stuff out there to feed their young minds.

Peter Mayhew, the towering actor who donned a huge, furry costume to give life to the ruggedand-beloved character of Chewbacca in the original "Star Wars" trilogy and two other films, has died, his family said Thursday.

Mayhew died at his home in north Texas on Tuesday, according to a family statement. He was 74. No cause was given. As Chewbacca, known to his the 7-foot-3 Mayhew was a fierce warrior with a soft heart, loyal sidekick to Harrison Ford's Han Solo, and co-pilot of the Millennium Falcon.

Mayhew went on to appear as the Wookiee in the 2005 prequel "Revenge of the Sith" and shared the part in 2015's "The Force Awakens" with actor Joonas Suotamo. who took over the role in subsequent films.

"Peter Mayhew was a kind and gentle man, possessed of great "These aspects of his own personality, plus his wit and grace, he brought to Chewbacca. We were partners in film and friends in life for over 30 years and I loved him... My thoughts are with his dear wife Angie and his children. Rest easy, my dear friend."

Mayhew defined the incredibly well-known Wookiee and became a world-famous actor for most of his life without speaking a word or even making a sound — Chewbacca's famous roar was the creation of sound designers. "He put his heart and soul into the role of Chewbacca and films," the family statement said. "But, to him, the 'Star Wars' family meant so much more to him than a role in a film." Mark Hamill, who played Luke Skywalker alongside Mayhew, wrote on Twitter that he was "the gentlest of giants — A big man with an even bigger heart who never failed to make me smile & a loyal friend who I loved dearly. I'm grateful for the memories we shared & I'm a better man for just having known him."

Born and raised in England, Mayhew had appeared in just one film and was working as a hospital orderly in London when George Lucas, who shot the first film in England, found him and cast him in 1977's "Star Wars."

Lucas chose quickly when he saw Mayhew, who liked to say all he had to do to land the role was stand up.

"Peter was a wonderful man," Lucas said in a statement Thursday. "He was the closest any human being could be to a Wookiee: big heart, gentle nature ... and I learned to always let him win. He was a good friend and I'm saddened by his passing."

Mayhew's family said he was active with various nonprofit groups and established the Peter Mayhew Foundation, which is devoted to alleviating disease, pain, suffering and the financial toll from traumatic events. The family asked that in lieu of flowers, friends and fans donate to the foundation.

Mayhew is survived by his wife, Angie, and three children. A private service will be held June 29, followed by a public memorial in early December at a Los Angeles "Star Wars" convention.

COLLEGE STATION – Sorghum acres are expected to decrease amid excellent growing conditions because of an ongoing trade dispute, said a Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service expert.

Dr. Calvin Trostle, AgriLife Extension agronomist, Lubbock, said the U.S. Department of Agriculture prospective plantings report estimated 1.35 million grain sorghum acres to be planted in Texas in 2019. Texas sorghum producers planted 1.55 million acres in 2018 following a USDA projection of 1.6 million acres for the state.

Trostle said the 13 percent projected decrease is related to the ongoing trade dispute with China. Texas has typically produced around 25 percent of U.S. sorghum exported to China, about $209 million annually.

"Many Texas producers are concerned that the trade dispute could cut up to $1 per bushel off of domestic prices," he said. "We send so much sorghum to China, the sooner the dispute is resolved the better."

Trostle said the fact that nearly all the state, including parts of the High Plains that were experiencing drought conditions, have a good, deep soil moisture profile bodes well for growers. He doesn't want to jinx the 2019 growing season, but said conditions look excellent so far.

Some producers are still hesitant to plant sorghum because of disastrous sugarcane aphid infestations in 2014 and 2015, Trostle said. But he said plant hybrids introduced to combat the pest, earlier planting dates, proper crop monitoring, treatments and beneficial insects have mitigated much of the pest's impact since.

"Their impact has been sporadic the last few years," he said. "Around 25 percent of Texas sorghum acres are planted with sugarcane aphid-tolerant varieties and growers are more vigilant in their monitoring. That has reduced their impact to the point some producers believe we have them whipped. But producers still need to be wary because Mother Nature can humble you."

Trostle said sorghum plants in South Texas have reached at least the six-to-seven leaf stage with some fields flowering. Sugarcane aphids were noted in those fields with a few adults and newborns at low levels.

"That's a dramatic change," he said. "Probably over half the acres in South Texas were recommended for spraying at this point in 2014."

Along the Coastal Bend, Trostle said sugarcane aphids have been scouted in Johnsongrass but no reports of the pest in sorghum fields. Most sorghum in Central Texas has emerged, and High Plains sorghum plantings were expected to begin in earnest soon.

"This is one of those one in eight years or one in 10 years that makes farmers eager to get their summer crop in the ground," he said.

AgriLife Extension district reporters compiled the following summaries:

CENTRAL: Rainfall totals were

CENTRAL: Rainfall totals were 3-7 inches in many areas. Some flooding in bottoms and fields was reported. Most corn and vegetable crops continued to struggle. Producers were unable to plant cotton and soybeans. Livestock were in good condition. Corn was growing rapidly due to timely showers. Nearly all counties reported good soil moisture.

The vast majority of counties re-

land and pasture conditions. ROLLING PLAINS: Conditions were favorable for producers. Beneficial rainfall covered most of the district with totals ranging from 1-4 inches. Rains helped boost pastures and rangeland as grasses continued to emerge. Some area producers reported rust in wheat fields and were deciding on the benefits of spraying fungicide to protect yields. Overall winter wheat conditions were good to fair. Livestock were also in good condition, and supplemental feeding had just about come to a halt. Farmers were beginning to prepare fields for the upcoming planting. Soil moisture levels were adequate. COASTAL BEND: Rain showers delivered needed topsoil moisture. Corn and sorghum looked good and were progressing well. Most cotton looked good, but a lot of replanting occurred due to wind damage. Some wheat was near harvest. Some rice was still being planted. Producers were controlling weeds in all crops. Forage conditions in rangelands and pastures continued to improve rapidly with good moisture and warmer weather. Coolseason annuals were beginning to dry down, and warm-season grasses were beginning to grow. Fertilizer applications were being made on hay fields. Livestock were in great shape.

EAST: Thunderstorms continued to provide almost optimal pasture and hay field conditions in several counties. Rainfall varied from a quarter of an inch in Polk County to 5 inches in Cherokee County. Pasture and rangeland conditions were fair to good, with Marion and Panola counties reporting mostly excellent conditions and Anderson and Tyler counties reporting poor conditions. Panola County producers worked to make an early harvest of hay. Ponds were full, and some flooding was reported in Marion County. Subsoil and topsoil conditions were mostly adequate. Anderson County reported about 70 percent of cotton fields were underwater. Straight line winds downed some timber. Tornado recovery in Cherokee County continued. Cattle were in good condition. The cattle market improved. Fly numbers continued to rise. Wild pigs were very active, and damage reports increased.

SOUTH PLAINS: Subsoil and topsoil moisture levels continued to be less than adequate due to minimal moisture fall, dry and windy conditions. Some counties received half an inch to 2 inches of rainfall. Pastures, rangelands and winter wheat needed additional moisture. Producers continued with spring planting. Wheat was looking good. Cotton planting was expected to start soon, and corn planting continued. Cattle were in good condition. PANHANDLE: Producers received rainfall. Moisture allowed pivots to shut off for a few days. Winter wheat fields improved, and many fields reached flag-leaf stage. Corn planting has begun in some counties. Cattle conditions improved as green-up con-NORTH: Counties reported receiving 2-7 inches of rain. Soil moisture was adequate for most counties with a few reporting surplus moisture. More precipitation was in the forecast. Pastures were full of weeds, and producers were unable to get equipment into fields to spray due to wet soils. Wheat maturation was about 10 days behind normal. Cool-seasonal temperatures kept warm-season grasses from growing. Pastures were full of green winter forages, but producers were having issues getting ryegrass and wheat cut and cured. Corn and sorghum started well, and producers hoped to limit insect and disease damage. Cotton and soybeans should be planted soon. Cattle looked better each day with abundant winter grasses to graze on. Calves were scouring a little. Flies were beginning to stress livestock. Feral hogs were active and damaging to many pastures and hay meadows.

FAR WEST: Temperatures were in the low 90s with lows in the upper 40s. Precipitation amounts ranged from 1-4 inches. Severe hail caused damage to trees and buildings. Recent rains improved topsoil and subsoil moisture levels. Soil temperatures were barely warm enough and dropped considerably with inclement weather. Corn and sorghum emerged and looked good. Pecan tree leaves were fully developed and will be putting on catkins soon. Pecan nut casebearer pheromone traps were set. Watermelons were planted. Pastures greened up considerably, but weed management was expected to be necessary in some areas. Producers began to work lambs and ship them to market. WEST CENTRAL: Rainfall ranged from 1-6 inches. Stock tanks were full. Some parts of the district received hail damage. Spring planting continued. Most oat and wheat pastures were grazed out or baled for hay. Weeds continued to be abundant, requiring control in most cases. Livestock body conditions continued to improve. Cattle demand continued to be strong with steady prices on stocker steers, while stocker and feeder heifers, packer cows and feeder steers were $3 higher per hundred-

SOUTHEAST: Areas received half an inch to more than 3 inches of rain. Plant growth was good. Some pastures were wet while others were relatively dry. Rangeland and pasture ratings varied widely -- from excellent to poor -- with good being most common.

SOUTHWEST: Rain was hit or miss with some counties getting zero rainfall and other areas receiving 2 inches of rain. Areas with rainfall and warmer nighttime temperatures were improving row crop and pasture conditions. Livestock were in fair SOUTH: Northern and eastern parts of the district reported mild weather conditions with adequate soil moisture levels. Southern areas reported mild weather and short soil moisture levels. Western parts of the district reported up to 1 inch of rain, wet weather conditions and adequate moisture levels. Cotton planting continued. Wheat fields were maturing and turning color. Harvest was expected to begin soon. Corn fields continued to develop. Ranchers were planting haygrazer. Pasture and rangeland conditions continued to improve following recent rains. Native rangeland and pastures were providing plenty of forage for livestock. Very little supplemental feeding of cattle was reported, and some producers started to haul water. Cattle were doing well. Some farmers replanted cotton, and others were waiting to replant. Irrigated Coastal Bermuda grass was producing hay bales. Most of the vegetable crops were planted. Pecan trees were green with fully developed leaves. Corn, sorghum and onions made good progress. Cotton ginning was complete.

Solid jobs report, earnings push stocks broadly higher

By DAMIAN J. TROISE

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. stocks moved broadly higher in early trading on Wall Street Friday and are on track to bounce back after a two-day slide. Major indexes, including the S&P 500, are still heading for weekly losses. First quarter company earnings have come in mixed so far, but they have been good enough to ease worries that company profits would slump overall. Banks and consumer-related stocks lead the gains. Newell Brands, which makes Sharpie and Elmer's products, surged on a solid earnings report. Amazon rose following reports that Warren Buffet's Berkshire Hathaway was buying the stock.

Utilities and real estate companies lagged the market, a sign that investors are less interested in safer holdings and more comfortable taking on risk as they feel more confident in the economy. That confidence was given another healthy shot from the Labor Department on Friday when it reported job growth in April that surged well past economists' forecasts. It also reported that unemployment in April fell to a five-decade low.

The solid job figures helped push bond prices slightly higher. The yield on the 10 year Treasury fell to 2.53%.

The week is ending with another round of company earnings news. United States Steel, Weight Watchers and Monster Beverage are among the latest companies to give investors surprisingly good

KEEPING SCORE: THE S&P 500 index rose 0.5% as of 10 a.m. The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 0.5%, or 135 points, to 26,445. The Nasdaq com-

SOLID QUARTER: United States Steel surged 11% after a sharp increase in sales helped push profit far beyond Wall Street forecasts. The sharp gains come amid a weak year for the company. Its stock is down 12.5% so far in 2019 while the S&P 500 index is up nearly 17%.

ENERGIZED EARNINGS: Monster Beverage rose 7% after the energy drinks company powered past Wall Street's first quarter profit forecast. The company reported a solid increase in sales of its namesake energy drink that helped drive a surge 18% after reporting losses for the first quarter that were much slimmer than expected. The company also raised its profit forecast for the year.

Matters of Health and

HR Dear Annie: I've been working at the same company for the last 10 years. It's a small office that trains temps, so we have new people all the time. I train them on office work. Though I'm friendly with each new employee, it's rare for me to get to know people on a deep level when they only stay for a few months or so. So, we normally talk about TV or what we're eating for lunch or light gossip around the office. We recently hired a new girl for the temp program, and I've never seen her eat more than a few veggie sticks for lunch. I jokingly asked about it the first day. She said she'd forgotten to buy groceries. But this has been going on for a few weeks now, and she's already thin as a rail. I don't feel very comfortable approaching her health are incredibly sensitive and, in the context of the workplace, best handled by the human resources department. Express your concerns to HR and not to any other colleagues. Also, see the National Eating Disorders Association's Workplace Toolkit at https://www.nationaleatingdisorders.org/learn/ help/workplace, and call the NEDA's hotline at (800) 931-2237 if you'd like further guidance.

Dear Concerned Co-worker: Matters of

er once in a while. We invited a few couples over to our house for dinner. One of the couples just asked if they could bring their neighbors. We have NEVER our neighbors to one of their events. We feel the request is inappropriate. How do we politely decline? -- Puzzled

Dear Puzzled:

To have brought their neighbors without asking would have been inappropriate, but I don't think it's rude for them to have simply asked. Try to give them the benefit of the doubt: Perhaps their neighbors are lonely and have been trying to make more friends. That doesn't mean you have to agree to let them come over; I'm just sharing that to try to offer some understanding. In any case, all you have to say is, "We'd like to keep it to just us, but we appreciate your asking."

Dear Annie: You answer a lot of questions about infidelity, jealousy and therapy. This is a different way to look at it: Sex is 80 percent fantasy and 20 percent physical. The physical part is the same whoever your partner is. It's the fantasy part that creates the excitement. That's how they sell magazines and love stories. No one buys Playboy for the news articles.

Remember the excitement and fantasy of your honeymoon? It might have gotten a little routine and unexciting over the years. The key is to recreate the fantasies for your partner. Then you can make love to anyone in the world and never leave home. Just have fun. It's cheaper than therapy, and it stops the arguing and complaining about each other. -- Happy

Dear Happy: Thank you for your amusing and insightful letter. I love the idea of looking at what you can create with your partner and having happiness and excitement as goals.

heart finesse and, if it fails, to hope to lose only one spade trick. As the cards lie, this approach fails because the heart finesse loses, after which South cannot avoid two spade losers against proper defense. Attempting the heart finesse is incorrect, as South cannot be defeated if he plays the hand correctly. At trick three, he cashes the diamond king and then leads a heart to the ace, ignoring the finesse. The queen of hearts is next played and, regardless of which defender wins the trick, only one spade can be lost. Suppose East has the king of hearts. He can't afford to yield a ruff-and-discard, so he returns a low spade. Declarer simply plays low, and the contract is made. If West turns up with the heart heart holding. South's proper rebid is three diamonds, paving the way to a king, he will also have to lead a spade. Dummy plays low, and again notrump game if North is agreeable to the suggestion. Once diamonds are South loses only one spade trick. Tomorrow: Famous Hand.

Fun By The

Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). As you do what's right for you, you'll probably be fully aware that it's not what some people would have you do. And while their rules may be perfectly on-trend, one size almost never fits all. Trust yourself.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Invest in yourself and don't waste a minute feeling guilty about it. You'd give so much more to a friend in a similar position if you could. There is no good reason for being stingy with you-on-you support.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). If a situation does not fit your standards, how could it possibly bring you what you want? By some mysterious magic, it just will. So, work with what you have even if it's less than ideal.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Within the context of a large group, staggered actions keep it smooth.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). As people learn what you do, their demands get specific. This will be great if you like what you do. If not, such demands will become bothersome, but at least they make you think about planning a change.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). People respond to you with encouragement and support. But what about your own response? Internal support is harder to conjure, though it's essential. Self-talk and self-care are definitely something to work on now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You're not paid as well as you could be. This isn't about asking for a raise or a promotion, rather it has to do with embodying a new role -- acting as though it's already wise to take that in reservedly. Poke around to get to the story behind the story, as jumping to conclusions will surely lead to error.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You're responsible and cautious enough to know when the situation requires a completely different approach. You'll retreat and then come back with a sense of playfulness and rebellion.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The help will come from somewhere -- maybe not the place that promised to give it. But it's coming. Keep working with the diligence of someone taking sole responsibility, and you'll eventually be joined by your team.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). It's pretty rare for you to feel totally free to do what you want. Perhaps you keep thinking that someone is going to need you or that somehow you'll get in TODAY'S BIRTH-DAY (May 5). At first, it will seem like someone is making you feel awesome. Then you'll realize you were already awesome, and it's finally getting noticed -- a sign that you're spending time with people who are a good fit. Financial luck picks up in August. Attending a gala or festival will enliven your social and professional world. Leo and Virgo adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 30, 4, 22, 18 and 10.

FORECAST FOR THE WEEK AHEAD:

Destiny takes no pleasure in tripping us up, though her path is rich with rocky terrain that seems made for stumbling. Those treacherous stretches are opportunities that can lead to our most brilliant and interesting character traits and adventures. Even so, we must still try to stay upright and moving forward. The secret to aims is sturdy shoes and steady company. This time of the Taurus sun is all in favor of helping us find firm footing in our lives.

Mercury moves into Taurus this week, and Mars forms a rather difficult angle to Saturn, two aspects that bring out a certain stubborn feistiness in people. In many situations, it's possible to figure out early on that a compromise may not be possible and a conflict will only lead to pain for both people. In these cases, space, time and distance are elements of a winning strategy.

The moon moves into Leo for a playful weekend. Plan something showy for Mother's Day because the stars will favor big, theatrical presentations. So supersize the bow, add more people to the event, and turn up the music!

Music scholarship pays tribute to longtime Big Spring piano teacher

Special to the Herald

BIG SPRING - The 'Marie Louise Barnes Music Scholarship' has been established at Howard College in honor of Marie Louise Barnes who taught piano lessons in Big Spring for over 50 years. The scholarship was given to the Howard College Foundation by her son, Chester F. "Buddy" Barnes, II, and grandchildren, Jennifer Marie Edmiston and Jason H. Barnes, in remembrance of her love for music and her students.

"We are so proud to receive this scholarship donation in memory of Mrs. Barnes," said Dr. Cheryl T. Sparks, Howard College President. "It is a privilege to be a part of her legacy as well as the future of so many music students that will be touched by her love of music."

Marie Louise Castille grew up in an upper-class family in Opelousas, Louisiana. She attended Sacred Heart Academy for two years and then transferred to Tulane University. She was chosen to be a pianist for the New Orleans Symphony for one

Marie married Chester Franklin Barnes, Sr., who was a geologist with Humble Oil & Gas and an independent geologist in Big Spring, in 1936 and moved to Taylor, Texas, and then relocated to Big Spring,

Prior to her tragic death in 2001, Barnes stayed in contact with hundreds of her former students. She held her recitals each year at Howard College to showcase the achievements of her many students.

"I took piano lessons from Mrs. Barnes as a young girl. She was the perfect mix of strict and absolute sweetness," stated a former student. "She would not put up with excuses for being unprepared due to a lack of practice but at the same time she would listen with interest about your day and your life. I understood that she really wanted me to enjoy playing the piano."

Mike and Sheila Abusaab establish teaching scholarships at Howard

Special to the Herald

BIG SPRING - The 'Mike and Sheila Abusaab Teaching Scholarship' has been established at Howard College thanks to the generosity of Mike and Sheila Abusaab who are long-time supporters of students and education. Each year, the endowed scholarship will provide a $500 scholarship to three deserving graduates – one each from Big Spring ISD, Coahoma ISD, and Forsan ISD – as they begin their teacher education process as Howard

"We definitely have a teacher shortage in our area and we want to do our part to help encourage students to enter the education field," said Sheila Abusaab. "By starting this scholarship, we are hoping that others might want to donate to it as well. The more students we can encourage to enter the teaching field, the stronger our education system will become.'

Mike and Sheila Abusaab are strong supporters of Howard College as well as the local school districts as they continue to set an example of commitment to education, encouraging students to use education as their road map to success.

The scholarship will be available for 2019 graduating seniors and the application can be found online at www.howardcollege.edu. If students have already submitted their scholarship application for the 2019-2020 academic year, they can contact financial aid and ask to have their application

"This Institution Is An Equal Opportunity Provider"

HBO's 'Chernobyl' paints a picture of nuclear devastation and heroism

Those who support nuclear power may have second thoughts after watching "Chernobyl."

Premiering Monday, May 6, on HBO, the five-part dramatic miniseries recalls the events surrounding the April 26, 1986, explosion at the Chernobyl Nuclear Power Plant in the Ukraine that resulted in 28 immediate deaths (and an unknown number in the ensuing years) as well as the release of radioactive material across the Soviet Union and as far as Scandinavia and Western Europe.

But as bad as it was it could have been much worse were it not for the actions of scientists, government officials, plant workers and others who risked their own careers, lives and health to prevent the fallout from spreading further west.

Among them are nuclear physicist Valery Legasov (Jared Harris, "The Terror," "Mad Men"), who is the first to grasp the gravity of the situation; Boris Shcherbina (Stellan Skarsgard, "Thor," "Mamma Mia!"), the Soviet deputy prime minister who becomes Legasov's closest collaborator; and Ulana Khomyuk (Emily Watson, "Hillary and Jackie," "Breaking the Waves"), a Soviet physicist committed to determining the cause of the accident.

The series paints a nightmarish portrait of what happens in a nuclear accident such as this, with scores of burned bodies, people vomitting blood from radiation poisoning and large swaths of otherwise green forest scorched brown.

Initially, Soviet officials were in denial about the accident's seriousness and resolved to keep the public in the dark about it until Legasov, to much derision, stood up and explained that underestimating this kind of danger would be to everyone's peril.

"He understands the dangers inherent in the technology and the science and what could be happening is the worst scenario possible," Harris says. "And on one level, he has an interest in protecting the reputation and the science and the industry itself because he sees that it could be a benefit. And on the other hand, once Pandora's box is opened, it's the worst possible scenario of all and these idiots have no clue what they're dealing with and somebody has to stand up. Because if the people (in Moscow) are making as bad decisions as these people are,

work to prevent what could be a second accident that could wind up poisoning Western Europe and devastating a large portion of the planet.

"In some sense, it is a cautionary tale," Harris says. "It's sort of an object lesson in you can make a scientific discovery and ... we really don't understand what the consequences are going to be. And there's that sort of typical human response, of, 'Well you know, it hasn't happened until it's happened and it's not real until it's actually we're truly f...ed." After some initial resistance, Shcherbina comes on board with Legasov and the two happened.' So in this case, the thing blowing up and saying, 'We haven't wrecked the planet until we wrecked the planet.' And by then, it's too late to do anything about it."

Misin Cavalari checks Thich 'Paradise Hotel'

Kristin Cavallari has led something of a charmed life anyway, but for the next several weeks, she'll be in "Paradise."

As Season 2 of her E! Entertainment Television series "Very Cavallari" winds down, the reality-show veteran plays host on Fox's revival of "Paradise Hotel," premiering Thursday, May 10 (and also airing Mondays and Wednesdays in subsequent weeks). The program has game elements evicted from a tropical resort, though one is sent packing each week and a social-media aspect, since viewers can help steer the competition and decide who stays in it.

"Laguna Beach: The Real Orange County" and "The Hills" alum Cavallari won't sit on the sidelines in "Paradise Hotel," since she says her job also is to "stir the pot a little bit. Because it's a game, the contestants are going to try to present themselves in the best way possible to the other contestants and also to the audience, and that's a very tough thing to do on a show like this.

"This is an exciting opportunity for me," adds Cavallari, "because not only is this a big network show, but I remember 'Paradise Hotel' from back in the day (2003 and 2008). It's sexy and fun, so I'm really looking forward to being a part of it."

Explaining she's not involved in MTV's upcoming sequel series to "The Hills" because of her schedule, the Nashville-based Cavallari - also an author and lifestyle-brand owner - appreciates that more about her is known thanks to "Very Cavallari," which encompasses her marriage to former NFL quarterback Jay Cutler (with whom she has Hewitt's roots in show business date back to the age of three, when she performed "The Greatest Love of All" at a livestock show. She continued to entertain through her younger years, also as a dancer, and she eventually won a Texas talent-show title and moved to Los Angeles with her mother to pursue her career.

Work in commercials and the television show "Kids Incorporated" (on which she was billed as "Love Hewitt") led the actress into an eventually unsold Pierce Brosnan pilot, then into roles on such short-lived series as "Shaky Ground" and "The Byrds of Paradise."

Hewitt's fortunes took a big turn for the better with her casting as Sarah on "Party of Five." Her character later was spun off into "Time of Your Life," on which the co-stars included Jennifer Garner and Pauley Perrette. During her "Party" run, Hewitt began starring in movies including "I Know What You Did Last Summer" and "Can't Hardly Wait."

In 2000, Hewitt had the title role in the TV movie "The Audrey Hepburn Story." Soon after, she appeared in the feature films "Heartbreakers" and "The Tuxedo." She then returned to TV in the series "Ghost Whisperer," which saw her double as the director of several episodes during that show's five Hewitt made an image change for the Lifetime movie "The Client List," which proved a big-enough hit to yield a spinoff series. The show also yielded a husband for her: co-star Brian Hallisay, with whom she has a daughter and a son.

Appearing in two movies inspired by the comic-strip cat Garfield, Hewitt also was a regular cast member on "Criminal Minds" for its 10th year. This season, she has joined the Fox drama "9-1-1" as Maddie, the sister of firefighter Buck (Oliver Stark).

Hewitt's career also encompasses music. She has recorded four studio albums, the most recent of which - 2002's "BareNaked" - included a relatively successful title song.

Cher enough, the superstar had her own TV show

Q: I know Cher did a variety show with her former husband Sonny Bono, but didn't she also star in one of her own? - John Thompson, Norman, Okla.

A: The couple actually did two series together ... "The Sonny & Cher Comedy Hour" while they were married, and "The Sonny and Cher Show" after their divorce. In-between those, Cher starred in the simply titled "Cher" (which was for CBS, as were the other two

Meanwhile, Sonny moved over to ABC during the same period for the short-lived "Sonny Comedy Revue." Though it fared well, Cher let "Cher" go after roughly one year, saying then that headlining a weekly series on her own was "more than I could handle."

Q: Is Cote de Pablo returning to "NCIS"? - Kathy Geitz, Belleville, Ill.

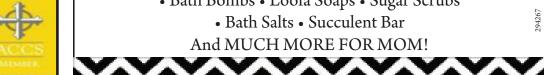

A: As of this writing, that's still uncertain – though with the CBS series' recent invoking of her character Ziva David again, it's been pointed out by some that it would be odd to reference her just casually at this point (and more than once) without the show's makers having a longer game in mind. With "NCIS" already renewed for a 17th season, there will be time to make good on that supposed promise. De Pablo has been acting in other projects – most recently, a movie called "Seneca" – and she apparently doesn't have any long-term performing commitments. Therefore, as we often say here, never say "never" ... especially since the actress herself has noted, "As long as a character doesn't die, the character can always come back."

Elizabeth Henstridge

OF 'MARVEL'S AGENTS OF S.H.I.E.L.D.' ON ABC

With "Marvel's Agents of S.H.I.E.L.D." starting its sixth season on Friday, May 10, after a fairly long absence - with an episode directed by Člark Gregg - what can you say about where the series picks

Obviously, Season 5 was very traumatic in a lot of ways. We lost our leader, Phil Coulson (played by Gregg), so we start Season 6 with everybody having had a year to process everything that happened.

Coulson is still at the forefront of everybody's actions, but for (Henstridge's character) Simmons, she's really just purposeful and determined to find Fitz (Simmons' husband portrayed by Iain De Caestecker). She's completely convinced that she will, but she understands that it's going to take some work.

What has Simmons been doing during the time since Fitz vanished?

We find her having spent the last year on a mission with a team that's been going throughout the universe trying to find Fitz. She's gone from grieving and being a complete worrier into determination mode, and it's very fun to play.

An outcry from "S.H.I.E.L.D." fans, which probably was expected, resulted from the apparent killing-off of Coulson. What would you say to those fans as the new season begins?

I would just say, "Trust us with Season 6. We understand your pain, We feel it, too." We've made some great, really inventive and kind of brave episodes – and we think that if you've liked what we've done so far, you'll love Season

Actress Marie Wilson on her journey to a plant-based diet

Anyone considering trying a plant-based diet might want to heed the words of Marie Wilson, a veteran actress who swore off animal proteins in her teens and hasn't looked back.

"You feel amazing," she says. "It's interesting how when you take a week, you just try it for a week and then you go back, it's amazing the difference you feel between the two. ... I have more energy. I have more alertness. You just feel better and your body can process it better, too."

Wilson, who stars in "Ladies of the Lake" and its follow-up "Ladies of the Lake: Return to Avalon," both of which are currently streaming on Amazon, has a long history with plant-based diets, longer in fact than her acting credits, which include stints on the daytime dramas "General Hospital" (1999-2003), "Port Charles" (1999-2003), "As the World Turns" (2005-10) and "Days of our Lives" (2014-16), as well as roles in the movies "Say You Will" (2017) and "To the Beat!" (2018).

She originally went vegetarian at 17 because that's what her friends were doing and then later when she tried a hamburger, she found it difficult to digest and painful. So out of necessity, animal fats were out and plants were in. For good.

These days, she's a lover of salads and quinoa, which she says is delicious and a great source of

"Quinoa has more protein than even meat protein," she notes, "so that's been very enlightening. And also my stomach and my body appreciate it more because I can't really break down meat protein. ... So I've just been using quinoa with a lot of dishes and salads, and instead of rice you do a quinoa dish. There are so many choices, especially nowadays. It's not like we're living in the '50s, where it was a raw carrot and you're done."

As for advice she'd give to prospective vegans or vegetarians, Wilson is succinct.

"Be open-minded," she asserts, "because a lot of people have this judgment on what it's like and what the food tastes like and I think when we start judging anything in life, we kind of put limits up and it kind of cuts off great opportunities that might be available to you. So I think just being openminded and trying something. And there's stuff I've tried and didn't like.

"You won't love everything," she adds, "but that's the fun of experimenting and trying new things nd just seeing what happens."

BINGO — Solution

Checking in with

She may have studied Spanish at Oxford, but that didn't mean British actress Charlotte Hope didn't need to brush up on her accent for her role as the title character in Starz's historical drama "The Spanish Princess."

So she and co-star Stephanie Levi-John practiced.

"Steph and I first met for a coffee when we'd just got cast," Hope ("The Theory of Everything," "Game of Thrones") explains, "and I arrived at her house, and I was like, 'OK, so we're only going to speak in our Spanish accents.' And Steph was like, 'All right, babe.' It came much Hope also emulated others.

"I listened to a lot of YouTube videos of Tamara Rojo, the Spanish dancer," she says, "and (she) had a really beautiful accent. So, I'd just be in the makeup trailer with her in my ear being like, 'I can be Tamara Rojo. I can be Tamara Rojo.' And that's really how - we tried.'

In the eight-episode series, which premieres Sunday, May 5, Hope stars as Catherine of Aragon, the 16th century princess of Spain who had been promised the English throne all her life. But when her husband suddenly dies, she sets her sights on the new heir, the future King Henry VIII (played here by Elliot Cowan, "The Golden Compass").

History tells us that didn't end happily, as their marriage was annulled in 1533 when she couldn't bear him children.

"He was genuinely in love with her, though," Hope says, 'That's a really exciting story for us to tell. A lot of people only know the kind of the end version that he had six wives. And they were married for 24 years, and it was a real love

May 5 - 11, 2019 Name: Charlotte Hope

SUNDAY DAYTIME

Birth date: Oct. 15, 1991 Birthplace: Salisbury, England Current residence: South London

Marital status: Single

Education: Studied French and Spanish at Oxford TV credits include: "Waking the Dead," "Law & Order: UK," "Whitechapel," "The Musketeers," "Vera," "Death in Paradise," "Houdini and Dovle," "Game of Thrones," "Endeavour"

Movie credits include: "Les Miserables" (2012), "The Theory of Everything" (2014), "North v. South" (2015), "Miss You Álready" (2015), "A United Kingdom" (2016), "Allied" (2016), "Diana and I" (2017, TV), "Three Christs" (2017), "The Nun" (2018)

Favorite book: "I just saw Billie Piper be totally incredible in Simon Stone's production of 'Yerma' and it re-ignited my love for Spanish poetry - especially (Federico Garcia) Lorca and (Pablo) Neruda. Love poems sound much sexier in Spanish. At (university), I read 'Madame Bovary' about four times, partly because my tutor said she re-read it every summer and I thought that was cool.

Favorite movie: "I wasn't really allowed to watch TV growing up, except for one submarine movie called 'Das Boot' that my dad loved. I watched that a lot of times and he'd probably be pretty happy if I put that. I watched 'Legally Blonde' a few times in school and it always inspired me to study harder, so I'm quite grateful that existed when I was younger."

(This column represents on air summaries for the week of April 29 - May 3, 2019.)

THE BOLD AND THE BEAUTIFUL

Ridge told Brooke he thinks he gave Bill the right answer. Flo decided the time was right to tell Hope the truth. Hope made Flo an offer. When the lights went out at Forrester, Hope was haunted by memories of losing Beth. Wyatt became suspicious when he walked in on Thomas and Sally. Zoe and Shauna hid in the bedroom when Wyatt arrived to speak with Flo. Amelia told Liam he belongs with Steffy, Kelly and Phoebe. Without going into detail, Zoe admitted to Xander she was thrown by a recent curve. Brooke introduced Shauna and Flo to Ridge. Thomas left a message for Steffy requesting an item he will use in his ploy to get Hope back. Brooke and Ridge wondered about Hope's relationship with Douglas.

DAYS OF OUR LIVES

Sarah interrupted Eric and Nicole's reunion with terrible news. Rafe and Lani grew closer as they bonded over baby Daniel. Sheila and Abe tested out their feelings for each other. Ted's true intentions became apparent. Nicole lashed out at Chloe over Holly's kidnapping. Valerie surprised Abe by showing up at his mayoral debate with Jack, who pulled a shocking stunt. Eli was thrown by Lani's request, JJ let slip damaging information about Jack in front of the media. Abe and Sheila found themselves on the hot seat. Claire lashed out at Tripp. Rafe and Hope tried to find Holly, unaware of Ted's involvement. Maggie had an emotional reunion with Nicole, Marlena comforted a heartbroken Sarah. Gabi continued her plot against Stefan.

GENERAL HOSPITAL

Shiloh demanded answers. Sonny was alarmed. Margaux made a confession. Curtis got a lead. Lucy was appalled. Alexis met with Neil. Sam grew more determined to finish the task. Ava received a suspicious phone call. Finn had a theory Franco visited Drew. Liz checked in with Terry. Trina offered to help Cameron. Kim was happy to hear from Julian. Olivia reminisced. Ned checked on Monica. Sam was distracted. Shiloh dropped in on Willow. Chase confronted Michael. Carly shared her appreciation with Elizabeth. Franco and Cameron made amends. Sam told Jason about Shiloh's visit. Kristina shared a laugh with an old friend. Alexis managed to slip past Valerie. Drew offered his help. Julian ran into Willow.

THE YOUNG AND THE RESTLESS

Family and friends gathered to mourn the loss of Neil. Cane broke the news to Jill about Lily asking for divorce. As Jill and Traci tried to comfort him, he pulled away, went to the park and left a final message for Lily. Kyle moved forward with ending his marriage, despite Summer's reluctance. Devon asked Elena on a date and they bonded over their shared losses and trials. Jack was upset by Dina's continued decline, and Lauren offered her support. Nikki encouraged Victoria to make the most of the time she has and move forward with Billy. Victor's secrecy over his mysterious trips
