Election Day results in two runoffs

Runoff election is set for June 8, early voting starts May 28

By ROGER CLINE
Staff Writer

When the votes were tallied following Saturday's Election Day in Howard County, Big Spring has one new city council member and has retained an incumbent school board member, but the seats of mayor and city councilperson for District 4 are still undecided.

Altogether, 2,053 people marked their ballots in the election, including 1,064 in early voting, 680 on Election Day, 207 ballots by mail, and 2 provisional ballots.

"The turnout was higher in this election, but we also had every entity on the ballot, so we were expecting a larger turnout, but it's still not very well when we have 15,000 registered," said Howard County Election Administrator Jodi Duck. In the mayoral race, candidate Debbie Wegman received the most votes with 750, or 47.98 percent, while Shannon Thomason received 555 (35.51 percent), Anna Scott garnered 139 (8.89 percent), and David Mathis received 117 (7.49 percent). Since no candidate received at least 50 percent of the votes cast, there will be a runoff between the top two vote-getters – Wegman and Thomason – on June 8. Early voting is set to begin May 28.

Let's play some Bingo

By AMANDA DUFORAT
Managing Editor

B4 ... I20 ... N35 ... G57 ... 075 .... BINGO!
Community bingo is back, May 9 from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at Marcy Place.

"Each month we like to open up our facility to the community and allow them to come and experience our community," Sherrean Jones, Community Relations Manager, said.

During monthly bingo, residents and those from the Big Spring community join together for an hour of bingo and light refreshments.

"Socialization is a big focus in our community. We want to make sure our residents stay active, which is one of the reasons we constantly have activities planned," Jones said. "Hosting community events is a good way for those looking into assisted living to come visit and see how the environment is here (Marcy Place)."

Even though bingo is taking place at Marcy Place, it is open to the community.

Museum lecture series: Events that changed history

Tuesdays at noon; Next topic: The Black Death, May 14

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
Staff Writer

These past few weeks, the lectures held at the Heritage Museum Tuesdays at noon have been very interesting. Two recent topics covered Jesus and Muhammad. Whether or not you're a religious person, there is no denying their teachings changed the world.

Judea was strategically positioned but notoriously difficult to govern. Although it had been under Roman domination, it was not annexed until Augustus agreed in 6 A.D. when a group from Judea went before him to request to be formally admitted into the Roman Empire. At that time, Augustus ordered a census to be carried out. All citizens of Judea were required to return to their towns of birth to register for the census. That is where the story of Joseph and Mary begins ... one with which we are all familiar.

In the Spring of 36 A.D. is when Jesus was brought to trial before Pontius Pilate, the governor of Judea. Jesus was being charged with blasphemy by his own people of Jerusalem. Pilate initially refused to execute Jesus for blasphemy, but relented when the Sanhedrin of rabbis, and the mob, called for Jesus to be put to death. A Roman soldier who witnessed the courage of Jesus on the cross was the first to proclaim Jesus as the Son of God.

Muhammad was born centuries later, in the year 570 into a well-known family. He became involved in the caravan trade and was fairly successful. During his travels, he learned of monotheistic religions and was attracted to the idea of devotion to one true God.

Muhammad had a vision of the angel Gabriel, who told Muhammad he had been chosen by God to be a prophet and would have the final truth revealed to him. Muhammad was to spread this message and began to speak of what Gabriel had revealed to him.

Muhammad had to leave Mecca in 622 due to the hostility that had spread. This journey became known as the Hajar. He was welcomed in Medina and

Wilson Connell "Connie" Edwards

Lifelong resident of West Texas, Wilson Connell "Connie" Edwards passed away on May 3, 2019. He was born on April 25, 1934 in Big Spring, Texas. Upon conclusion of schooling in Big Spring and San Angelo, he began military service in the Army National Guard, where he served from 1951-1960. Having earned a private pilot's license in 1951, and commercial and airline ratings soon after, he flew extensively throughout Central America, the Caribbean, and the United States during his service. Upon completion of his military flying career, he formed Edwards Petroleum Company with his late brother, W.P. "Budo" Edwards, Jr. in 1954. In 1959, Connie and his brother assumed ownership and operation of the family farming, ranching and oil and gas leasing operations on the family land located in Howard and Glasscock counties. Between 1968-69, Connie was chief stunt pilot for the "Battle of Britain" movie, during which he logged extensive flight time piloting Me109's, Spitfires, Hurricanes, Heinkel HE III's, Junkers Ju 52's and B-25 Camera planes. During production in Bedford, England, in 1968, a Spitfire piloted by Connie had to be belly landed, engulfed in flames and with total loss of power. Connie was able to accomplish this with no injuries, an act that earned him a Royal Commendation and honorary Royal Air Force wings. In addition to this on-screen appearance, Connie also flew his own TBM Avenger in "Close Encounters of the Third Kind" and "Bermuda Triangle", among others.

As owner and Flight CMDR-Pilot of a PBY N-4-NC, he and son, "Tex", flew to Europe in May and June 1986, recreating and commemorating the very first Atlantic crossing by aircraft. During so, Connie and the flight crew participated in the fly-over of the Statue of Liberty on July 4th done in conjunction with the Navy's celebration of the 75th Anniversary of Naval Aviation, receiving numerous commendations, among them a special Commendation Medal from the Royal Navy and Lord Mayor of Plymouth, England. As owner of an HU-16 Albatross N226CG, he furnished the aircraft, crews and expenses for the celebration of the 200th Anniversary of the United States Coast Guard in 1989. He did so again in 1990 for the 75th Anniversary of USCG Aviation.

Connie accumulated numerous awards and commendations through his flying career, including being awarded the first set of Honorary USCG wings, presented by the Secretary of Transportation in 1992. He was awarded the Meritorious Service Award, the highest civilian award given by the Navy, presented by Admiral F. B. Selso, II, Chief of Naval Operations, in 1992. He was awarded an FAA Special Recognition Award, presented by Donald Engen, Administrator, in 1986. He was awarded the President's Pilot Award in 1988. He received the John Henry Towers Award from the Naval Aviation Commandery, one of the most prestigious flying awards given in the U.S.A. He was awarded one of the few Navy League life memberships to be given. He was awarded "Sea Plane Pilot of the Year" by the Sea Plane Pilots Association, and the People's Choice award by the Experimental Aircraft Association in 1986. He was awarded a membership in the USCG's Order of the Pterodactyls and is a life member of the EAA, NRA, Air Force Historical Foundation, member of the Defense Orientation Conference Association, and member of the Royal Aero Club of Spain. He also served as Director of the Naval Aviation Museum Foundation. Honorary wings earned by Connie include: Royal Air Force, Spanish Air Force, Canadian Air Force, Portuguese Air Force and United States Coast Guard, the first ever awarded by the USCG. Connie, his late brother, Budo, and his late son, Tex, were inducted into the Lone Star Flight Museum's "Texas Aviation Hall of Fame" in 2016. In September of 2018, Connie returned once again to Duxford, England, to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the "Battle of Britain" movie filming.

An early member of the AOPA and president of the Air Force Association's Big Spring chapter, Connie remained active in base and community affairs. He also served as accident prevention counselor for the Lubbock, Texas district of the FAA and DOT. Connie's endeavors extend beyond the air having served as director of State National Bank, and director and major shareholder of various oilfield and farming and ranching companies. One of his more recent endeavors include his is co-founding of TexaStone Quarries, a limestone company that quarries and fabricates limestone for commercial and residential projects worldwide.

lived there for six years spreading the word of Islam and practicing his teachings.

War broke out between Medina and Mecca, and they traded battle victories. In the year 628, Muhammad entered Mecca with 1000 men and was acknowledged the leader. This marks the beginning of Islam's expansion towards Syria and Persia.

When Muhammad died two years later, the whole Arabian Peninsula had accepted the faith of Islam and found political and military unity.

Many wars have been fought by men in spreading religion around the world. This battle still exists today with extremists on both sides. Both Jesus and Muhammad taught the importance of kindness and charity, and both emphasized that worldly possessions are temporary. And both valued peace. That is the message that we should spread, regardless of religion or political affiliation.

"You really can't get any more west Texas than Big Spring, Texas," Heath Stewart, Spur 327 band member, said. "It has the perfect terrain and represents everything about west Texas that we were looking for."

The music video for Must've Lost My Mind on the soon to be released album Dodging Armadillos, is being filmed on a local ranch in Howard County, and has scenes from the historic Borden County jail, and the Paidorosa Ranch in Tahoka.

"This is a song about a guy who shoots a guy in Monahans," Stewart said. "For those who like western movies, this will be a good music video to watch. It's going to be like a short, old-time western movie that showcases west Texas."

Spur 327 is Texas band, with roots in Big Spring, Lamesa, Post and Brownfield. The group has performed at numerous events in Big Spring and is scheduled to perform at Funtastic Fourth on June 28.

According to Stewart, a CD release party is set for May 17 in Lubbock.

ELECTION

that came out. We had a really great turnout, and we'll just be working the next few weeks and see if we can't get this thing done," said Wegman following the release of the results. "I'm ready to go to work for the citizens of Big Spring."

Thomason also offered his thoughts after the votes were in.

"I like the turnout that we had. It's better than we have in most elections. I'm encouraged to see that, though I'd like to see a lot better than 11 percent turnout," he said. "As far as my runoff, I'm excited about it. I'm looking forward to continuing this race and finishing it out. Getting down to work and trying to help the citizens of Big Spring."

In the City Council District 4 race, Gloria Byrd McDonald received the most votes, with 168, or 41.79 percent; while Shonda Folsom garnered 89 ballots, or 22.14 percent. McDonald and Folsom will face each other in the June 8 runoff election. David A. Scott received 60, or 14.93 percent; Adriel Saldivar got 52 (12.94 percent); and Dylan Archer-Pauchet received 16 votes (3.98 percent).

Camilla Strande is the new city council member for District 5 with 240 votes (54.42 percent), while Daniel Moreno received 173 votes or 39.23 percent.

"I'm ready to get to work and I'm very excited. I appreciate all the support I've gotten," Strande said. "It's been really wonderful. I just appreciate everybody that got out and voted."

Big Spring School Board incumbent for District 7, Fabian Serrano, retains his seat with 116 votes, or 50.88 percent; while challenger Nadine Reyes earned 99 votes or 43.42 percent. There were 13 undervotes in the race. An undervote occurs when a voter is eligible to vote in a given race, but marks no choice for that race on their ballot.

Each of Coahoma and Forsan's races elected at least two at-large candidates, so no runoffs are required.

In the Coahoma City Council race, two at-large seats were up for grabs. Top vote-getters were Brandy Manning, with 102 (40.48 percent); and Jay Holt with 95 (37.70 percent). Candidate Eric Her-era received 22 votes (8.73 percent) while Robert Martinez garnered 18 votes or 7.14 percent.

Two jobs were also decided in the Coahoma School Board race. Brandon Atkins and Scott Tuttle received the most votes, with 145 (22.17 percent) and 136 (20.80 percent) respectively. Jarod Wells received 102 (15.60 percent), Gregg Moore got 100 (15.29 percent) and Stormy Bradley got 95 votes (14.53 percent).

The Forsan City Council race decided three council seats. Ramon Holguin and Benny Pickett each received 34 votes (21.38 percent), while Mary Gressett got 26 votes (16.35 percent). Those three will be the council members. Ryan Foust garnered 19 votes (11.95 percent) and Tracy Johnson got 13 votes (8.18 percent).

In the Forsan School Board election, two seats were decided by the race. Beckie Wash got 106 votes or 28.04 percent and Chris Evans got 103 votes or 27.25 percent. Misty Matthies earned 71 votes (18.78 percent) while Jennifer Valdez got 43 (11.38 percent).

Duck said some of the new election equipment and procedures were big hits in this election. New voting machines and countywide Voting Centers open to all voters were part of the mix this year.

"I think the new machines did excellent. They were outstanding. The voters really liked them," said Duck. "The vote centers also have turned our phones to 'off.' Nobody is calling down to find out where their precinct is, so that's a huge success."

Steers sweep Burkburnett in the bi-district round for their first playoff series win since 1996!

By JORDAN PARR

Sports Editor

LUBBOCK – The Steers put it all together and swept the Burkburnett Bulldogs in their bi-district playoff series win this past weekend. Big Spring fought their way through adversity in game one and played a really solid game in game two to get the series sweep. The Steers snapped a 23 year drought without a playoff series win with the sweep of the Bulldogs this past weekend and have really made the baseball program at BSHS one of the best programs around. Big Spring was around in the Series 14 to 13 but played much better in the field and took advantage with runners in scoring position to get the two game sweep of Burkburnett.

In the first game of the series, both teams came out playing like they had some nerves and committed a lot of throwing and fielding errors throughout the sloppy game. Of the 11 runs scored by the two teams combined only three of those runs were earned runs and there were seven combined throwing errors in the game. That said it was the Steers who found a way to pull it together and scratch out a 6-5 victory in the ugly game.

Offensively, Brett Berringer led the way in game one for the Steers with two hits and an RBI single. Kobe Guiterrez and Anthony Sarmiento both added an RBI of their own to contribute to the win as well. Chris Ibanez and Jason Miramontes did great work from the mound in game one as well. Combined, they only gave up 1 earned run on 6 hits in the win and pitched well throughout the game despite some very questionable calls at the plate.

With everyone working together and nobody letting the mistakes they made compound, Big Spring was able to hold on and take game one on a walk off error made by the Bulldogs third baseman on a hard grounder by Brett Berringer to score the game winning run.

In game two of the series, Big Spring came out looking like a team ready to end their playoff drought. Kyle Seymour got his first postseason start on the rubber and pitched really well to start the game. The Steers fell behind early in the game when Burkburnett scored two runs in the bottom of the first, but the Bulldogs' lead didn't last long as the Steers were quick to respond with a big time 4 run inning of their own in the top of the second to take a 4-2 lead they would never relinquish in the close out game.

In the top of the third, with a two run lead, Big Spring extended that lead with another solo run to make it a 5-2 game heading into the bottom of the inning. Big Spring held the Bulldogs scoreless in the third and fourth innings and once again increased their lead in the fourth by one run to make it a 6-2 game heading into the fifth inning.

In the top of the fifth, the Steers scored 1 run on two hits in the inning and made it a 7-2 game and really looked in control as they went into the bottom of the inning. In the bottom of the inning, Seymour finally started to show signs of fatigue on the mound for Big Spring and the Bulldogs took advantage and tried to make a late rally. Burkburnett scored three runs on two hits in the inning and closed the gap to 7-5 and made a once very one sided game into a real nail biter.

Fortunately, Big Spring still had the Big Spring scored two more runs in the top of the sixth to take their lead to 9-5 and give themselves a little cushion to work with. Chris Ibanez closed out the game in relief and made it look easy holding the Bulldogs hitless and scoreless over the last two innings to get the save and give the Steers the well deserved 9-5 win. With the win and the series sweep, this team reset the clock for playoff wins and reshaped the standard for Big Spring baseball moving forward. Congratulations from all of Steer Nation on the huge playoff series win and good luck in the next round.

The Steers will be taking on Decatur this weekend at Wayland Baptist University for the Area series starting on Friday.

Lady Steers hold off the Glen Rose Lady Tigers to win the Area title two games to one

By JORDAN PARR

Sports Editor

ABILENE – After weathering a late game rally in game one for the 5-3 victory last Thursday, Big Spring fell in game two despite a huge rally by the Lady Steers late to make it a close 6-5 loss and tie the series at one game each. In the third and final game of the series Maddie Daniels was dominant on the mound and the defense was outstanding behind her as they closed out the series 4-1 in game three and grabbed yet another piece of hardware to add to their collection. Big Spring outthit the Lady Tigers 24 to 19 in the series and committed far fewer errors, as well, in route to the area crown.

In the first inning, both Glen Rose and Big Spring came up with solo runs to keep it all square heading into the second. In the second and third innings both pitchers had control of the game and neither teams offenses could produce any runs.

Finally, in the top of the third the Lady Steers found their rhythm at the dish and put together a nice three run inning to put the pressure back on the Lady Tigers who struggled to hit Daniels all day. It was Daniels who drove in all three runs in the third on a three run RBI single with the bases loaded to give the Lady Steers a 4-1 lead heading into the bottom of the inning.

The rest of the game was a classic pitchers' duel with neither team able to produce any offense through the latter innings. Daniels was fantastic in the circle. Daniels pitched a complete seven innings and allowed just one run on four hits while sitting down five Lady Tigers on strikes. Taylor McKenzie came in relief for Glen Rose and really pitched well to give the Lady Tigers a chance late. McKenzie pitched three and a third innings and allowed zero runs on two hits and struck out 1.

Jocelyn Gonzales and Maddie Daniels led the way for the Lady Steers offensively in the game. Gonzales racked up multiple hits going 2 for 3 at the plate while Daniels drove in 3 runs in the close 4-1 game three close out win. All the ladies played great defense in the game and they Lady Steers took the area crown as a team.

The Lady Steers will square off against Burkburnett this weekend with times and congratulations to be determined. Congratulations to our Lady Steers on yet another outstanding performance. Steer Nation is behind you all the way!

Senior Lexi Montelongo, right, congratulates freshman Madison Rodgers after Rodgers cut off a ground ball and got the third out to stop a Henrietta rally, during the Coahoma Bulldogettes/Henrietta Lady Bearcats game held Saturday, May 4 in Abilene.

Special to the Herald

ABILENE – The Coahoma Bulldogettes ended their season Saturday night with a 13-12 heartbreaking loss to the Henrietta Lady Bearcats in the Region I-3A area series.

The Bulldogettes entered into the contest knowing they needed a win to keep their postseason drive alive after their 10-0 loss to Henrietta in Game One of the series held Friday night. Coahoma's big bats got to work earlier, but so did the Lady Bearcats.

As the night progressed the game came down to the batting line up because pitchers for both teams were working with a narrow strike zone all night long. In fact, a total of three strikeouts were made in the game from 86 at bats. Bulldogette pitcher Cassie Grant got one strikeout while Henrietta earned two the entire game. The match was intense from the start and the lead changed six times. The Bulldogettes looked like they put away the game with a big six-run, seventh inning as they headed back to the outfield looking for just three outs to force a third game. Unfortunately, Henrietta roared back with an eight run rally to capture the win.

Freshman Madison Rodgers was on fire for the Bulldogettes. She went 3-for-4 at bat with two runs scored, three RBIs, a double, and three steals. Last year's Texas All-Star Caisco signee Jaydan Mann ended her last game for Coahoma going 3-for-5 with one run scored, two RBIs, a double, and a steal.

Left field outfielder Macee Grant went 3-for-5 with a double, and one run scored. Kalor Green went 3-for-4 with two runs score, one RBI, and a steal.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Mercury Gets Hungry

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Creativity is part of who you are. Honor this part of yourself wherever it shows up. It will likely spark while you're driving, showering, walking or doing menial and/or repetitive tasks.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Any negativity you might experience today will melt away just as quickly as it came on with mental channel-changing techniques such as a cup of tea, a hot bath or a brisk walk.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Courage is a thing you can't really plan or speculate about. It comes up in the moment or doesn't. If you want something badly enough, or if you care about or stand for something strongly enough, courage shows up.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You know that thing you wish were in the world? You're the one who could put it there. Why shouldn't it be you? At the very least you can get the thing started by working and playing with your idea.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). What was supposed to be a cut-and-dried equation is turning into a piecemeal puzzle. It turns out the exact measurements won't work. This is a feel-it-out situation, and you've excellent feelers.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You should have many people in your life with whom you feel comfortable telling an unpolished version of a story. The person who lets you talk and listens even when you're not making much sense is a true friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Overstatement and drama isn't exactly rude, but it requires more energy of people than it gives back. Today favors equally balanced interactions: temperate, respectful and simple.

By HOLIDAY MATHIS

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). It's a do-it-yourself kind of day on every level. It's more fun this way! So sing the song you want to hear. Write the words you want to read. And make the foods you want to taste.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). People can define you, put you in a role, treat you this way or that, but it only counts if you agree. "It ain't what they call you; it's what you answer to." -- W.C. Fields

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Knowing facts and having skills are very important, but they are not the same as being smart. Being smart will help you to seek information and knowledge about the right things -- the things that will make you happier.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You're competitive with people doing things that are like what you're doing, as you should be. Your sportsmanship will set the tone for a game that brings out the best in everyone.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Anything that tells you to "act fast" is sketchy. The best things will be there without a time restriction. In general, this is a good day to let things marinate, process and mature.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (May 6). This solar return starts off with a burst of industrious energy. Your boldness makes things happen over the next five weeks. Then it's diplomacy that takes you to the next goal. Don't worry about impressing anyone. As you continue to do what's right for you, you gain powers including the power of attraction. Pisces and Aries adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 2, 28, 10, 48 and 32.

Annie's Mailbox

Wrecking a Home and a Career Opportunity

Dear Annie: Recently, I met "Todd" through a friend of a friend. I went back to school to study graphic design a couple years ago and will be graduating this fall. Todd is also a graphic designer, so our mutual friend introduced us so that Todd could give me career advice and maybe even get me a job or apprenticeship at the company where he works.

When I met Todd, instantly, sparks flew. We met at a coffee shop and it was only supposed to be a half-hour chat about graphic design, but we ended up talking for more than two hours about our favorite artists, our backgrounds -- pretty much everything. He has the most beautiful eyes and made a lot of prolonged eye contact as we talked. Though it was supposed to just be a professional advice-giving session, it felt to me more like a first date.

I really want to pursue something with Todd, but the only problem is he's married. I met his wife, "Margaret," a few weeks ago at our mutual friend's (the one who introduced us) birthday party. Margaret was very frosty toward me. She does not seem nearly as fun as me; she was really just a dour person. She's also about 10 years older than me and not as pretty. (I'm 32 and have never had trouble getting attention from men.)

I can tell Todd and I have chemistry and just get the feeling that he'd rather be spending time with me than his plain wife. He's invited me to a mixer with graphic design industry folks to ostensibly "help my career," but I know that's just a guise. I want to make a move after we leave. I talked to a friend about this and she told me that home-wrecking is a sin. Well, in my view, you can't wreck a home that isn't already on shaky ground. If Todd strays with me, I won't be the cause of their breakup. I'll just be the straw that broke the camel's back. Do you agree?

For what it's worth, they don't have any kids and have only been married a few years. -- Ready to Pounce

Dear Ready to Pounce: Keep your paws to yourself. Yes, good relationships should be able to withstand adversity, but that doesn't mean it's your job to deliberately dole it out. On top of that, I think you're setting yourself up for embarrassment. "Prolonged eye contact" is a thing that people sometimes do in conversation. Todd's only interactions with you so far have been in the context of career help -- help you'll lose if you lust after him.

Limit your communication with Todd to strictly professional inquiries, and if you can't manage that, then discontinue contact altogether. Lastly, take a good long look in the mirror and do some serious reflecting, because your comments about his wife's appearance only make you look ugly.

Dear Annie: On the subject of people resisting change -- whether it's bad or good -- I would like to offer the following statement: The end of the world as we know is also the beginning of the world as we don't know it. It might be better. It seems a simple enough idea, but whenever I mention it to another person, that person says something along the idea of: "You're RIGHT! I never thought of THAT!" I'm not sure why, but trying to figure out what will probably happen next is sometimes not intuitive. -- Sara P.

Dear Sara P.: Thank you for this beautiful sentiment and salient reminder to embrace uncertainty rather than shy away from it. As Deepak Chopra said, "All great changes are preceded by chaos."

Opening lead — ace of clubs.

One of the most effective false-cards ever seen in a major event occurred in this deal played in the 1945 Vanderbilt Teams final. The perpetrator was Helen Sobel, perhaps the top woman player of all time. She led the ace and another club against four hearts, declarer winning with dummy's king and discarding a spade.

Howard Schenken, South, then led a spade to the ace and ruffed a spade in dummy. Schenken, who could not see the extremely favorable lie of the opposing hearts, now wanted to return to his hand to trump another spade, and had to choose between ruffing a club or a diamond.

He realized that Mrs. Sobel might have started with the doubleton ace of clubs and might overruff if he tried to ruff a club. So he cashed the A-K of diamonds, planning to trump a diamond next. But on the second round of diamonds, Mrs. Sobel played the queen! Schenken now had to decide whether the Q-3 of diamonds or the A-2 of clubs was more likely to be a doubleton.

After considerable thought, he decided to ruff a club, taking the added precaution of ruffing with the seven. Mrs. Sobel overruffed with the eight and returned a trump, and Schenken still had to lose a spade and a heart to go down one.

Of course, the contract could have been made. And undoubtedly it would have been made but for Mrs. Sobel's brilliant falsecard. Four hearts was bid and made at the other table without any fireworks.

Mrs. Sobel had demonstrated a cardinal principle of defensive play — to make things as tough as possible for declarer. Instead of playing mechanically, as almost anyone else would, she did everything she could to give Schenken a problem, and she succeeded.

Tomorrow: The step-by-step approach.

SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Today in History
Today is Monday, May 6, the 126th day of 2019. There are 239 days left in the year.
Today's Highlight in History:
On May 6, 1954, medical student Roger Bannister broke the four-minute mile during a track meet in Oxford, England, in 3:59.4.
On this date:
In 1863, the Civil War Battle of Chancellorsville in Virginia ended with a Confederate victory over Union forces.
In 1889, the Paris Exposition formally opened, featuring the just-completed Eiffel Tower.
In 1910, Britain's Edwardian era ended with the death of King Edward VII; he was succeeded by George V.
In 1915, Babe Ruth hit his first major-league home run as a player for the Boston Red Sox. Actor-writer-director Orson Welles was born in Kenosha, Wisconsin.
In 1935, the Works Progress Administration began operating under an executive order signed by President Franklin D. Roosevelt.
In 1937, the hydrogen-filled German airship Hindenburg caught fire and crashed while attempting to dock at Lakehurst, New Jersey; 35 of the 97 people on board were killed along with a crewman on the ground.
In 1941, Josef Stalin assumed the Soviet premiership, replacing Vyacheslav M. Molotov. Comedian Bob Hope did his first USO show before an audience of servicemen as he broadcast his radio program from March Field in Riverside, California.
In 1942, during World War II, some 15,000 American and Filipino troops on Corregidor surrendered to Japanese forces.
In 1974, West German Chancellor Willy Brandt resigned after one of his aides was exposed as an East German spy.
In 1992, former Soviet leader Mikhail S. Gorbachev delivered a speech at Westminster College in Fulton, Missouri, where Winston Churchill had spoken of the "Iron Curtain"; Gorbachev said the world was still divided, between North and South, rich and poor. Actress Marlene Dietrich died at her Paris home at age 90.
In 1994, former Arkansas state worker Paula Jones

filed suit against President Bill Clinton, alleging he'd sexually harassed her in 1991.
(Jones reached a settlement with Clinton in November 1998.) Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and French President Francois Mitterrand (frahn-SWAH' mee-teh-RAHN') formally opened the Channel Tunnel between their countries.
In 2013, kidnap-rape victims
Amanda Berry, Gina DeJesus and Michelle Knight, who went missing separately about a decade earlier while in their teens or early 20s, were rescued from a house just south of downtown Cleveland.
(Their captor, Ariel Castro, hanged himself in prison in September 2013 at the beginning of a life sentence plus 1,000 years.)
Ten years ago: After a day of meetings at the White House, President Barack Obama declared he'd received the commitments he wanted from the leaders of Pakistan and Afghanistan to more aggressively fight Taliban and al-Qaida militants. Gov. John Baldacci (bahl-DAH'-chee) signed a bill making Maine the fifth state to legalize same-sex marriage (however, the law was later overturned by a public vote).
Five years ago: A federal report said that global warming was rapidly affecting the United States in both visible and invisible ways; shortly after the report came out, President Barack Obama used several television weathermen to call for action to curb carbon pollution before it was too late. The Vatican disclosed that over the past decade, it had defrocked 848 priests who raped or molested children and sanctioned another 2,572 with lesser penalties.
Oklahoma City forward Kevin Durant won his first NBA MVP award.
One year ago: The number of

Bregman's grand slam powers Astros past Angels in Mexico

By CARLOS RODRÍGUEZ

Associated Press

MONTERREY, Mexico — Alex Bregman played so well in Mexico that he's already looking forward to a return trip.

Bregman hit a grand slam and the Houston Astros blew out the Los Angeles Angels for the second straight day, 10-4 on Sunday. The Astros third baseman had three home runs and eight RBIs in the two-game series at Estadio de Beisbol de Monterrey.

"My swing felt good this weekend. It was so much fun to play here. We had a blast," Bregman said. "It's a fun place to play with all the fans. It's a great environment."

The Astros, who won 14-2 on Saturday, hit eight home runs in the two games in front of pro-Houston crowds. On Sunday, Carlos Correa had a two-run homer in the second inning and Michael Brantley hit a two-run shot in the ninth.

"We have a good offense and the ballpark rewards good contact," Astros manager AJ Hinch said. "It got contagious."

The Astros totaled four runs in losing their previous two games to Minnesota, but everything changed in Monterrey.

"Bregman has quickly become one of the must clutch hitters in the majors," Hinch said. "He lives for the pressure that comes with big moments. It's impressive to watch him flip the pressure, and in this ballpark he felt comfortable and hit the ball hard."

Bregman greeted Cam Bedrosian, who relieved starter Matt Harvey with two outs and the bases loaded in the fifth inning, by blasting a 2-0 fastball to the batter's eye in center field. Harvey (1-3) was charged with five runs on five hits.

Justin Verlander (5-1) allowed homers in each of the first two innings but rebounded with four scoreless frames. He was lifted with one out in the seventh after Jonathan Lucroy took him deep for the second time.

Lucroy also had a two-run homer in the second. It was his ninth career multi-homer game, his first since 2016.

Verlander allowed four runs and struck out seven, giving up three homers in a game for the first time since last August.

"As good as this ballpark is for the hitters, it's the opposite for a pitcher, and JV came into the game with anxiety, but he got a little bit better as he finished his outing," Hinch said. "I'm happy for him considering the anxiety that he felt coming into the game."

David Fletcher also homered for the Angels, who had won six of seven before everything went wrong in Mexico.

Third baseman Lexi Montelongo went 2-for-5 with two runs scored, one RBI, one steal and two successful bunts. Catcher Kenzi Canales was 2-for-3 with three runs scored and a double. Alex Bailey went 1-for-4 with one run scored, and two RBIs for the evening.

With the conclusion of the season, the Bulldogettes will say goodbye to four seniors — Mann, Grant, Montelongo, and Julia Cortez. Head softball coach Alex Orosco gave credit to his team's successful season to the leadership of these four players.

Coahoma ends the year 7-3 in district, 17-7 for the season, a Bi-District Championship trophy and a 25th consecutive trip to the playoffs.

1. To qualify for this offer, you must have a new or existing Platinum Savings account and enroll the account in this offer between 03/25/2019 and 05/31/2019. This offer is subject to change at any time, without notice. This offer is available only to Platinum Savings customers in the following states: AR, CT, DC, FL, GA, MD, MS, NC, NJ, NY, SC, TX and VA. In order to earn the Special Interest Rate of 2.08% (Special Rate), you must deposit $25,000 in new money (from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank, N.A., or its affiliates) to the enrolled savings account and maintain a minimum daily account balance of $25,000 throughout the term of this offer. The corresponding Annual Percentage Yield (APY) for this offer is 2.10%. The Special Rate will be applied to the enrolled savings account for a period of 12 months, starting on the date the account is enrolled in the offer. However, for any day during that 12 month period that the daily account balance is less than the $25,000 minimum, the Special Rate will not apply, and the interest rate will revert to the standard interest rate applicable to your Platinum Savings account. As of 02/15/2019, the standard interest rate and APY for a Platinum Savings account in AR, CT, DC, FL, GA, MD, MS, NC, NJ, NY, SC, TX and VA with an account balance of $0.01 and above is 0.05% (0.05% APY). Each tier shown reflects the current minimum daily collected balance required to obtain the applicable APY. Interest is compounded daily and paid monthly. The amount of interest earned is based on the daily collected balances in the account. Upon the expiration of the 12 month promotional period, standard interest rates apply. Minimum to open a Platinum Savings account is $25. A monthly service fee of $12 applies in any month the account falls below a $3,500 minimum daily balance. Fees may reduce earnings. Interest rates are variable and subject to change without notice. Wells Fargo may limit the amount you deposit to a Platinum Savings account to an aggregate of $1 million. Offer not available to Private Banking or Wealth customers. 2. Annual Percentage Yield (APY) is effective for accounts opened between 03/25/2019 to 05/31/2019. The 11-month New Dollar CD special requires a minimum of $25,000 brought to Wells Fargo from sources outside of Wells Fargo Bank N.A., or its affiliates to earn the advertised APY. Public Funds and Wholesale accounts are not eligible for this offer. APY assumes interest remains on deposit until maturity. Interest is compounded daily. Payment of interest on CDs is based on term: For terms less than 12 months (365 days), interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or at maturity (the end of the term). For terms of 12 months or more, interest may be paid monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually. A fee for early withdrawal will be imposed and could reduce earnings on this account. Special Rates are applicable to the initial term of the CD only. At maturity, the Special Rate CD will automatically renew for a term of 6 months, at the interest rate and APY in effect for CDs on renewal date not subject to a Special Rate, unless the Bank has notified you otherwise. 1.2. Due to the new money requirement, accounts may only be opened at your local branch. Wells Fargo reserves the right to modify or discontinue the offer at any time without notice. Minimum new money deposit requirement of at least $25,000 is for this offer only and cannot be transferred to another account to qualify for any other consumer deposit offer. If you wish to take advantage of another consumer deposit offer requiring a minimum new money deposit, you will be required to do so with another new money deposit as stated in the offer requirements and qualifications. Offer cannot be combined with any other consumer deposit offer, except the Portfolio by Wells Fargo $500 offer, available from March 25, 2019 until May 31, 2019. Offer cannot be reproduced, purchased, sold, transferred, or traded. 3. The Portfolio by Wells Fargo program has a $30 monthly service fee, which can be avoided when you have one of the following qualifying balances: $25,000 or more in qualifying linked bank deposit accounts (checking, savings, CDs, FDIC-insured IRAs) or $50,000 or more in any combination of qualifying linked banking, brokerage (available through Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC) and credit balances (including 10% of mortgage balances, certain mortgages not eligible). If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the bonus interest rate on all eligible savings accounts, and discounts or fee waivers on other products and services, will discontinue and revert to the Bank's then-current applicable rate or fee. For bonus interest rates on time accounts, this change will occur upon renewal. If the Portfolio by Wells Fargo relationship is terminated, the remaining unlinked Wells Fargo Portfolio Checking or Wells Fargo Prime Checking account will be converted to another checking product or closed.
