Heritage Museum Brown-Bag Lecture Series: Events that Changed the World: Michelangelo Accepts a Commission

By ANNA GUTIERREZ

Portrait of Michelangelo by Daniele de Volterra

The most recent brown-bag lecture at the Heritage Museum was about Michelangelo. By the time Michelangelo was commissioned to paint the Sistine Chapel, he had already made a name for himself. He was born in Florence and apprenticed at a young age. He was deeply religious, but, unfortunately, very unhappy. Michelangelo is quoted as saying, "My life is nothing but sin. My life is nothing but a living dream." He first gained fame with the sculpture David. That led to the commission for the tomb of Pope Julius II, but the pope wanted Michelangelo to paint the Sistine Chapel, so that commission was rescinded. Michelangelo painted in reverse chronological order. The ceiling has nine paintings; three of those paintings depict creation, three for Adam and Eve and the fall of mankind, and the other three the story of Noah and the salvation of mankind. Michelangelo created many more works and filled commissions for later popes. He also painted The Last Judgement and the dome in St. Peter. In his lifetime, he was often called The Divine One. He lived until he was almost 89-years-old. His final commission, St. Peter Basilica, was not completed until after his death. Join us every Tuesday at noon at the Heritage Museum for the lecture series, Events that Changed the World. The next lecture will be Erasmus-A Book Sets Europe Ablaze. Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce representatives register participants in the annual Sticks and Tricks Golf Tournament, held at Big Spring Country Club Saturday.

Correction: In Sunday's edition of the Herald, the story "Mayoral runoff early voting turnout higher than usual," the placeholder text "xxx" was inadvertently left in place of the total number of early votes through the end of voting on Friday. The correct number is 738. The Herald apologizes for any confusion caused by this error. Early voting continues today and Tuesday with extended hours, 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., at the Howard County Courthouse, 300 S. Main St.

BSISD student registration planned July 22 - Aug. 16

HERALD Staff Report

As the 2018-2019 semester comes to a close and one class exits, teachers are getting ready to welcome the new classes. Registration for the upcoming school year, for students kindergarten through Seniors, is scheduled for July 22 through Aug. 16. at the Records and Registration Office, located at 12th and Benton Street.

For students who are new to the Big Spring ISD campuses the following documentation will need to be presented at registration time:

- Birth Certificate -this needs to be an official document from the courthouse, not a hospital copy;
- Social Security Card - must be an original. A US citizen passport will also be accepted in place of a social security card. The legal guardian will need to present a driver's license or state issued picture identification card;
- proof of guardianship, which the parent's name on the birth certificate would suffice or court documents giving guardianship will be accepted. Students should be up to date on shots and an immunization record is requested at the time of registration. For those needing to find out if your child is up to date on immunizations a list can be found on the CDC website. A proof of residence is also required. A utility bill, mortgage or rental agreement is acceptable as long as the address is in the guardian's name.

REGISTRATION

"Students who were enrolled last year at any of the BSISD campuses will not need to attend new student registration, but will need to bring proof of residence for verification purposes between Aug. 5-9," Dana Rodriguez, District Registrar, said.

According to Rodriguez, parents or guardian's of Kindergarten through Second graders, need to take proof of residency to the campus the student will be attending for the upcoming school year. In addition to proof of residency, they will also need a photo identification card or driver's license. At this time, they will also sign the 800 report verifying the information on record is still correct. For student's in Third through 12th grade, parents need to present a valid photo ID at the student campus and sign the 800 report, in order to verify the information.

For more information or to ensure you are registering your student at the correct campus, call the Records and Registration Office at 432-264-3622.

Soldiers, families recall 2016 Fort Hood training accident

By DAVID A. BRYANT

Killeen Daily Herald

KILLEEN, Texas (AP) — It was a hot, sunny day on Saturday — a perfect day for a barbecue at Killeen's Long Branch Park.

The Killeen Daily Herald reports slowly, the guests began to arrive. As each person showed up, some bringing their families, smiles split faces and hugs were given as if they had not seen each other in years.

They were all "family," after all — former members of 3rd Battalion, 16th Field Artillery Regiment, 2nd Armored Brigade Combat Team, 1st Cavalry Division. Most were part of the unit three years ago. One is an active-duty soldier who was a part of the training when a military vehicle overturned in a Fort Hood low-water crossing, killing eight soldiers and one West Point cadet.

One attendee at Saturday's barbecue is one of the three survivors of the 12 soldiers originally on the light, medium tactical vehicle, or LMTV — an Army truck — involved in the June 2, 2016, accident. The father of another of the survivors also attended.

All had gathered to honor and remember the fallen — most still live in the Killeen area, so they gather to ensure the military brothers and sisters they lost that day will never be forgotten.

It was a day that changed the life of then Spc. Tyrail Friend forever, a day when an angel saved his life, he said.

Flash flood warnings had been going off on soldiers' phones all morning, Friend said, and everyone was rather uneasy about going out into the field.

"Nobody wanted to go out there, you know what I mean?" Friend said. "It wasn't something that needed to be done. (Staff Sgt. Miguel Angel Colonvazquez) went to go talk to our platoon leader. I'm not sure what the conversation was, but ... we had no choice, we had to go. We did what we were told to do, like every other day."

So Colonvazquez, along with Friend, Spc. Christine Faith Armstrong, Spc. Rogelio Morales Jr., Spc. Kameron Robinson, Pfc. Brandon Austin Banner, Pfc. Zachery Nathaniel Fuller, Pvt. Isaac Lee DeLeon, Pvt. Eddy Raelaurin Gates, Pvt. Tysheena Lynette James, Spc. Yingming Sun and U.S. Military Academy at West Point Cadet Mitchell Alexander Winey loaded into the LMTV and headed out for training.

The ride out wasn't really anything special, Friend said, and he didn't really know anything was going wrong until the LMTV seemed to hit a bump and then start weaving, as if they were on a boat.

"It was like you could feel yourself floating. I was like, this don't feel right," he said. "Water started coming in and everybody froze. I pushed the tarp up and it looked like I was on the ocean. I looked to the front of the truck and I could see it was starting to turn."

Friend said he jumped over the back gate of the LMTV, thinking he could swim to safety. The current was so strong, however, he was immediately in a fight for his life.

"I kept trying to hold on to something, but everything kept breaking — everything ... would break, that's how fast I was going," he said. "The current kept sending me under, and for some reason I kept thinking, 'this can't be happening.' It didn't really hit that it was real until I realized I didn't have any more breath."

The muscle fatigue from fighting the current turned his arms into "limp noodles," Friend said. The next thing he knew he was fully underwater with no breath left.

"I remember seeing flashes of my kids, my wife. I'm thinking to myself, 'I'm dying.' I was just praying in my head," he said. "I kept saying, 'Jesus, Jesus, Jesus,' and then I saw an angel lifting me up."

Coming out of the water felt as if someone had grabbed onto his uniform at his shoulders and jerked him out, he said.

"I got to the top of the water and it felt like I had had my air the whole time," Friend recalled. "It was like (the angel) blew air into my lungs."

Friend was able to grab a branch that held and began screaming for help. The body of Armstrong floated past him and he tried to grab her while holding onto the branch.

"She was already dead, but I tried to grab her," he said. "I couldn't get her."

Friend said he couldn't recall how long it took for him to be rescued, but the near-death experience has given him a new perspective on life.

"That was the most fear I've ever felt in my life," he said. "I wasn't thinking about dying, but now I think about it every day. I felt like I could have done something more (to save the others). I had survivor's guilt, and had it for a while — sometimes I still do."

A lot of counseling, therapy and telling the story has made it easier on him over time, Friend said.

"It makes you more grateful for everything," he said. "Anything you used to think is a problem is really not. It could be a lot worse. And even if it's not worse, you're not dead."

One of those helping Friend and the other veterans with the unit during the accident to cope has been "Papa Rog" — Rogelio Morales Sr., father of Morales Jr., who is attending college in Pennsylvania and could not make it to Saturday's event.

"These guys are like my sons, my kids — we all bonded like one big family," he said. "They're always at my house."

The day of the accident was a normal day for Papa Rog, sitting on the back porch of his Pennsylvania home enjoying the weather when his son called.

"He said, 'Pops, I was in an accident.' That's all he said," the senior Morales recalled. "I said, 'Are you OK?' He said, 'Yeah, but a lot of my buddies died.' The next day, I was down here (in Killeen)."

Morales Sr. said he came down by himself at first, followed soon by his wife and they made Killeen their home to be close to their son and his fellow soldiers.

"At first it was hard. These guys ... I tell them they're my kids. I advise them," he said. "I've been blessed with all these guys. I'm not a rich man, but I'm rich at heart (because of them)."

Papa Rog has been a big part of the healing process for many of the soldiers, according to Dasheden Perry, a former soldier who was a private new to the unit when the accident occurred. He was in the motor pool when he found out that Banner, the soldier who had welcomed him to the unit with open arms, had died.

"I tried to follow what he showed me for the few days that I knew him," he said. "It hurt me to find out he passed away in the accident."

Perry was on a cleaning detail at the time and said he remembers that it was continually raining. All of a sudden, people started running around everywhere and the motor pool descended into chaos.

"I see people crying. The whole time, I'm lost, I don't know what's going on," he said. "When I finally figured out what was going on, two or three convoys were headed out to go look for everybody."

Perry said the unit tried to keep details of the accident a secret for a while, but as soon as news surfaced of the deaths, it really hit home to the soldiers what had happened. They were not allowed to talk about it, however.

Scenic Mountain opens three new trails

HERALD photos/Jordan Parr

The three new multi-use hiking and cycling trails constructed in the park were achieved through the efforts of the West Texas Trail Alliance and generous donations from businesses, individuals and community entities. This was all possible due to the cooperation of the Texas Parks and Wildlife department along with the help of the Park Rangers. Photo Left: Cyclist from all over the area wait for the trail head to open at Scenic Mountain this past Saturday. Warriors beat Raptors 109-104 to even NBA Finals

By BRIAN MAHONEY
AP Basketball Writer

TORONTO — The Golden State Warriors relied on a champion's heart to overcome their weary bodies.

Klay Thompson scored 25 points before leaving with a hamstring injury, Stephen Curry had 23 and the Warriors ran off the first 18 points of the second half on the way to a 109-104 victory over the Toronto Raptors on Sunday night that tied the NBA Finals at one game apiece.

With Kevin Durant already out and Thompson eventually joining him in the fourth quarter, the Warriors don't feel great — but they would've felt a whole lot worse flying home in a 2-0 hole.

"I think that when you get to this stage, our DNA shows up," Curry said.

Andre Iguodala, himself slow to get up after a hard fall in the first half, made the clinching 3-pointer with 5.9 seconds left after the Raptors scored 10 straight points to cut it to 106-104.

Kawhi Leonard had 34 points and 14 rebounds for the Raptors. They had won five straight since falling behind 2-0 in the Eastern Conference finals.

Curry appeared to be laboring as well in the first half, returning to the locker room in the midst of six straight misses to start the game.

But the Warriors cobbled together a good enough finish to the second quarter to keep it close, then stormed out of the locker room with one of their vintage third-quarter charges that have been so frequent during their run to five straight NBA Finals.

"Third quarter we didn't play well enough. We missed too many shots," Raptors guard Kyle Lowry said. "They got out in transition and got a little confidence going. We lost the game there."

DeMarcus Cousins was inserted into the starting lineup and delivered 11 points, 10 rebounds and six assists, and Draymond Green had 17 points, 10 rebounds and nine assists — missing by one assist a fourth straight triple-double.

The series moves to their Oracle Arena for Games

3 and 4, with the first NBA Finals to be played outside the U.S. assured of returning to Canada for Game 5.

The Warriors will hope to have enough healthy bodies to get through it. Thompson landed awkwardly after a 3-point attempt early in the fourth quarter and limped off soon after, with backup center Kevon Looney already missing the second half with a chest or shoulder injury.

And Golden State is still without Durant, who missed his seventh straight game with a strained right calf but hopes to return during the series.

For now, they got key contributions from Quinn Cook, who hit three 3-pointers, and veteran center Andrew Bogut, who wasn't even part of the roster most of the season but came off the bench for three baskets.

"It was a great win. We got to go home and protect our home floor and we'll see about all the injuries," coach Steve Kerr said. "But I'm very proud of our team and in particular all the guys off the bench."

Kerr said Thompson told him that he thought his injury was minor and he'd be fine, but added that "Klay could be half dead and he would say he would be fine." Kerr was unsure the nature of Looney's injury.

Fred VanVleet scored 17 points for the Raptors, who had red T-shirts with their slogan "We The North" hanging on seats around the arena.

The Warriors sure were seeing red, especially Curry, during a mostly miserable first half when they missed 20 of their first 28 shots.

He hung his head and didn't even attempt to run back when VanVleet stole the ball from him and made a layup to give Toronto an 11-point lead with a little more than 2 minutes remaining in the half.

But Curry made two free throws for the final points of the half to cut it to 59-54, then the Warriors came back and pitched a shutout until nearly the midpoint of the third quarter during a series-changing — perhaps season-changing — swing.

Iguodala had five quick points including a 3-pointer that moved Golden State into the lead at 61-59. The surge continued with three straight baskets from Thompson and three more from Green, whose last one capped the 18-0 run that Elias said was the longest to start a half in NBA Finals history and made it 72-59 before Toronto finally got on the board with a 3-pointer with VanVleet with 6:20 remaining in the period.

"They moved the ball really well and were running freely," Raptors center Marc Gasol said. "Once they run freely, everything opens up for them."

The Warriors had won 12 straight Game 1s and this was their first time playing from behind in the finals since they were down 2-1 to Cleveland in 2015. They showed no signs of concern during the off days, and Thompson suggested part of the problem during their 118-109 loss Thursday was rust after they had nine days off in between series.

Their bigger problem early in Game 2 was the defense of the Raptors. But Toronto — which had a 23-0 advantage in second-chance points — missed a chance to take a comfortable lead into the half and couldn't overcome its 37 percent shooting, with Pascal Siakam going 5 for 18 for 12 points after scoring 32 in the opener.

TIP-INS

Warriors: Curry had his streak of 30-point games snapped at six. Wilt Chamberlain and Rick Barry share the Warriors' postseason record with seven straight. ... Kerr earned his 76th postseason victory, moving past Chuck Daly and Don Nelson.

Raptors: Siakam missed his first three shots, as many as he missed in Game 1 while going 14 for 17. ... OG Anunoby was active for the first time in the playoffs after having an emergency appendectomy April 11, but didn't play.

FAMOUS FAN

President Barack Obama sat next to NBA Commissioner Adam Silver across the court from the Toronto bench, getting a loud ovation and "MVP! MVP!" chants when shown on the overhead video screen and introduced in the second quarter.

Spreading Awareness of Esophageal Cancer

Dear Readers: Though I do my best to keep my personal life out of this column, I'm writing today about something that has deeply impacted me. A person very close to me was recently diagnosed with stage IV esophageal cancer. Unfortunately, that's the stage at which this relatively rare type of cancer is typically caught, due to its lack of obvious symptoms in earlier stages. I'd like to use this platform to share some information about the risk factors and symptoms of esophageal cancer, in the hope that it might help even one person.

The American Cancer Society estimates that about 16,080 people will die from esophageal cancer this year, and that 17,650 new cases will be diagnosed. Men over 55 are the population most likely to develop esophageal cancer. Other risk factors include: tobacco and alcohol use, especially when combined; gastroesophageal reflux disease; Barrett's esophagus (a condition that occurs following years of acid reflux); injury of the esophagus; and frequently drinking hot liquids, which can damage the tissue lining the esophagus.

The following are the most commonly reported symptoms of esophageal cancer according to the Esophageal Cancer Awareness Association: difficult or painful swallowing, weight loss, blood in the stool, loss of appetite, feeling very tired, heartburn, pain in the throat or back and hoarseness or coughing. Additional symptoms noted by the American Cancer Society are hiccups, bone pain and bleeding into the esophagus. If you're experiencing these symptoms, talk to your doctor today. And if you believe you might be at a high risk for developing esophageal cancer, talk to your doctor about screening options. According to the American Cancer Society, "Many experts recommend that people with a high risk of esophageal cancer, such as those with Barrett's esophagus, have upper endoscopy regularly."

For more information, please visit the Esophageal Cancer Awareness Association website at https://www.ecaware.org.

Dear Annie: For the past few months I've felt so uncertain of myself. I find myself wondering whether my friends are really my friends. Are they just putting up with me? I wake up in the middle of the night with my thoughts racing: Am I in the right job? Is my relationship going anywhere? When am I going to be able to afford a better apartment (let alone to buy a house)? Who's going to take care of my parents when they're older? I feel like my to-do list is a mile long, but I really want to get my life in order so I can relax. Where do I begin? -- Wringing My Hands

Dear Wringing: Anxiety is a resourceful pest. It will work with whatever's handy: your boss's demeanor today, that joke you awkwardly flubbed after the meeting, whether your partner still finds you attractive, where this relationship is going, where your life is headed -- and so on. The specifics might change, but the underlying current is the same: anxiety. It's this that you need to address first, not all the surface-level disparate problems.

Trite but true advice: Exercise daily. A busy body makes for a calmer mind. According to the National Sleep Foundation, "As little as 10 minutes of aerobic exercise, such as walking or cycling, can dramatically improve the quality of your nighttime sleep, especially when done on a regular basis."

Next, take up meditation. There are many different kinds including mantra, mindfulness and breath awareness. Figure out which works for you and make it a part of your morning and evening rituals.

Lastly, make an appointment with a therapist or another adviser whom you can trust. Talk it out.

Once you've done these steps, I have a feeling your to-do list will seem far less daunting.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Emotions are like a fluid, always seeking to equalize. This is happening inside you, different emotions mixing together and settling into a level. It's also happening between you and others. No one is completely impervious.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). If you want people to get behind you, you have to first get behind them. Start small. Join; volunteer; and help. Building trust is an absolute must. There is no influence without trust.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). The emotions that are most likely to block your energy or progress are the uncategorized ones. Put a name to the feeling, and then you'll know how to put it to good use.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Those who don't take no for an answer are missing the opportunity in no. No is a chance to clarify what each party wants and eliminate the options that don't qualify.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). There are many paths to where you're going. They've all been paved, measured and mapped. Those are not for you. Your route is going to be different and wonderful. Prepare to forge it.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Everyone has time for what they care deeply about. You can use this in a reverse engineering sort of way, too. If you're not sure what you care deeply about, just look at where your time goes.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 3). Your pleasure and delight is more important than you've been making it. To keep your energy strong and your optimism bright, ask, "What's in it for me?" more often. People around you keep you close because you add something so special to the party (or job, family, event, etc.) that things just wouldn't be the same without you. Cancer and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 30, 7, 10 and 15.

Opening lead — five of diamonds.
This deal occurred more than 20 years ago in the Cavendish Invitational, regarded by many as the strongest pair tournament in the world.

The hero of the deal was multi world champion Jeff Meckstroth, who, with characteristic opportunism, took advantage of a couple of harmless-looking defensive slips by his opponents to bring in a seemingly hopeless four-spade contract.

Meckstroth was no doubt a bit surprised when dummy produced a balanced 12-count for his takeout double of West's weak two-heart opening. Given the lie of the opposing hearts and diamonds, declarer appeared destined to go down one, losing two hearts, a diamond and a club.

Meckstroth played low from dummy on the opening diamond lead and won East's nine with the ace. The A-K-J of spades were cashed, East discarding a supposedly useless club on the third round. Meckstroth then led the innocent-looking heart six from his hand.

West gave this a hard look and decided to play low, no doubt fearing that East might have the singleton king. When dummy's jack held, nothing appeared to have been lost, since West still had two heart tricks coming. But Meckstroth had a different idea.

A low club was led from dummy, East winning with the jack. East's club return was covered by the king and ace, and dummy's third club was led to East's queen, on which Meckstroth discarded a heart! When East continued with his last club, Meckstroth again discarded a heart from his hand, and also one from dummy.

It was here that East's earlier club discard came back to haunt him. Left on lead with nothing but diamonds, he was forced to return one into dummy's K-J, and the "impossible" contract was home.

Tomorrow: A necessary risk.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Intermediate

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Today in History
Today is Monday, June 3, the 154th day of 2019. There are 211 days left in the year.
Today's Highlights in History:
On June 3, 1989, Iran's spiritual leader, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, died. On the same day, Chinese army troops began their sweep of Beijing to crush student-led pro-democracy demonstrations.
On this date:
In 1781, Capt. Jack Jouett began riding his horse some 40 miles from Louisa County, Virginia, to Charlottesville, where Gov. Thomas Jefferson and other politicians were located, to warn of approaching British troops who intended to take them prisoner.
In 1861, Illinois Sen. Stephen A. Douglas, the Democratic presidential nominee in the 1860 election, died in Chicago of typhoid fever; he was 48.
In 1935, the French liner Normandie set a record on its maiden voyage, arriving in New York after crossing the Atlantic in just four days.
In 1948, the 200-inch reflecting Hale Telescope at the Palomar Mountain Observatory in California was dedicated.
In 1962, Air France Flight 007, a U.S.-bound Boeing 707, crashed while attempting to take off from Orly Airport near Paris; all but two of the 132 people aboard were killed.
In 1965, astronaut Edward H. White became the first American to "walk" in space during the flight of Gemini 4.
In 1968, pop artist Andy Warhol was shot and critically wounded at his New York film studio, known as "The Factory," by Valerie Solanas, an actress and self-styled militant feminist who ended up serving three years in prison for assault.
In 1977, the United States and Cuba agreed to set up diplomatic interests sections in each other's countries; Cuba also announced the immediate release of 10 Americans jailed on drug charges.
In 2008, Barack Obama claimed the Democratic presidential nomination, speaking in the same St. Paul, Minnesota, arena where Republicans would be holding their national convention in September 2008.

In 2016, heavyweight boxing champion Muhammad Ali died at a hospital in Scottsdale, Arizona, at age 74.
In 2017, a white van slammed into pedestrians on London Bridge, killing eight people; the three attackers were shot and killed by police.
Ten years ago: New Hampshire became the sixth state to legalize same-sex marriage. The Organization of American States cleared the way for Cuba's possible return to the group by lifting a 47-year ban on the country. Death claimed Koko Taylor, 80, the "Queen of the Blues," in Chicago and Las Vegas saxophonist Sam Butera, 81.
Five years ago: President Barack Obama arrived in Warsaw, Poland, at the start of a three-country swing, pledging to boost U.S. military deployments and exercises throughout Europe. Tens of thousands of Syrians in government-controlled cities voted to give President Bashar Assad a new seven-year mandate; the opposition and its Western allies denounced the election as a farce, with U.S. Secretary of State John Kerry calling it a "great big zero."
One year ago: President Donald Trump's attorney, Rudy Giuliani, stressed that Trump's legal team would fight any effort to force Trump to testify in front of a grand jury during the special counsel's Russia probe; Giuliani also downplayed the idea that Trump could pardon himself. Graduating seniors at the Florida high school where a gunman killed 17 people in February received diplomas and heard from a surprise commencement speaker, "Tonight Show" host Jimmy Fallon, who urged them to move forward and "don't let anything stop you;" four families received diplomas on behalf of loved ones slain in the attack. Guatemala's Volcano of Fire, one of the most active volcanos in Central America, erupted in fiery explosions of ash and molten rock, killing more than 100 people and leaving scores of others missing.

Today's Birthdays: The former president of Cuba, Raul Castro, is 88. Actress Irma P. Hall is 84. Author Larry McMurtry is 83. Rock singer Ian Hunter (Mott The Hoople) is 80. World Golf Hall of Famer Hale Irwin is 74. Actress Penelope Wilton is 73. Singer

Weekend Sports in Brief

Associated Press

NBA

TORONTO (AP) — Klay Thompson scored 25 points before leaving with a hamstring injury, Stephen Curry had 23 and the Golden State Warriors ran off the first 18 points of the second half on their way to a 109-104 victory over the Toronto Raptors that tied the NBA Finals at one game apiece.

With Kevin Durant already out and Thompson eventually joining him in the fourth quarter, the Warriors relied on a champion's heart to overcome their weary bodies.

Andre Iguodala, himself slow to get up after a hard fall in the first half, made the clinching 3-pointer with 5.9 seconds left after the Raptors scored 10 straight points to cut it to 106-104.

Kawhi Leonard had 34 points and 14 rebounds for the Raptors. They had won five straight since falling behind 2-0 in the Eastern Conference finals.

BASEBALL

NEW YORK (AP) — David Price finally won at Yankee Stadium for the first time with the Boston Red Sox, backed by early homers from J.D. Martinez and Xander Bogaerts in an 8-5 victory over New York.

Boston stopped a four-game losing streak and improved to 1-4 against the Yankees this season, preventing a three-game sweep in a series shortened by a rainout. Thunder and lightning crackled in the eighth inning of this one as New York tried to rally in a brief rain against frazzled reliever Matt Barnes, who looked incredibly uncomfortable on the mound even after the grounds crew applied drying agent.

Barnes spiked pitches, kicked at the mud, walked consecutive batters and balked home a run. He gave up three runs before finally settling down and getting out of the inning.

Brandon Workman tossed a scoreless ninth for his second career save, both this year.

The third-place Red Sox moved within 8 1/2 games of the AL East-leading Yankees, who have a 2 1/2-game advantage over Tampa Bay. New York lost for only the fourth time in 19 games.

NHL

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Patrice Bergeron and the Boston Bruins' best players took the criticism to heart. They weren't good enough through the first two games of the Stanley Cup Final and needed to be better. And they were.

The stars came out on Saturday night and led Boston to a 7-2 rout of the St. Louis Blues to take a 2-1 series lead. Bergeron and defenseman Torey Krug each scored a goal and had two assists, David Pastrnak scored his first goal of the series and the top power-play unit was a perfect 3 for 3.

Boston chased Blues goaltender Jordan Binnington, silenced actor and Blues super fan Jon Hamm and a raucous crowd that was fired up for the first Cup Final game in St. Louis in 49 years. The Bruins survived an initial onslaught and then took it to the home team.

Game 4 is Monday night.

FRENCH OPEN

PARIS (AP) — Stan Wawrinka advanced to his first Grand Slam quarterfinal in two years, outlasting Stefanos Tsitsipas 7-6 (6), 5-7, 6-4, 3-6, 8-6 in a 5-hour, 9-minute test of excellence, endurance and emotions at the French Open.

He will next face his friend and Swiss countryman Roger Federer, who hasn't dropped a set so far in the tournament. The 37-year-old Federer beat 68th-ranked Leonardo Mayer of Argentina 6-2, 6-3, 6-3 to become the oldest men's singles quarterfinalist in Paris since 1971.

Joining Federer in the quarterfinals, oddly enough by the same score, was 11-time champion Rafael Nadal, who was never troubled by 78th-ranked Juan Ignacio Londero of Argentina.

The two women's quarterfinals established Sunday: 2017 U.S. Open champion and 2018 French Open runner-up Sloane Stephens vs. No. 26 seed Johanna Konta, and No. 31 Petra Martic vs. 19-year-old Marketa Vondrousova.

GOLF

DUBLIN, Ohio (AP) — Patrick Cantlay got another handshake with Jack Nicklaus, this time as the Memorial winner.

Starting four shots behind, Cantlay closed with an 8-under 64 for a two-shot victory. It was the lowest final round by a winner in tournament history, and it moved the 27-year-old Californian into the top 10 in the world.

Martin Kaymer, trying to end five years without a victory, started with a two-shot lead and never recovered from back-to-back bogeys on the back nine. Adam Scott was the last player with a chance to catch Cantlay when he ran off three straight birdies to get within two shots, but he fell short.

Cantlay first met the tournament host in 2011 when he won the Jack Nicklaus Award as the top player in college at UCLA.

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP) — Jeongeun Lee6 is No. 1 at the U.S. Women's Open.

The 23-year-old South Korean shot a 1-under 70, enduring some shaky moments after opening up a three-stroke lead with three to play to hold off third-round co-leader Celine Boutier.

Lee6 was ahead by three after a birdie on the par-5 15th, but took bogeys on the 16th and 18th to give Boutier a chance over the final two holes. But Boutier missed a long birdie attempt on the 17th and put her approach to the par-4 18th in a bunker. Her sand shot rolled off the green.

Lee6, playing two groups ahead of Boutier, was practicing putts when the Frenchwoman could not make the sand shot. Lee6 bent down in joy when her victory was secure, countrywoman and 2011 U.S. Women's Open winner So Yeon Ryu coming over to embrace the new champion.

Lee6 finished at 6-under 278 to claim the U.S. Women's Open winner check a few days after Tiger Woods' former swing coach, Hank Haney, made disparaging remarks about women's golf by predicting a "Korean" would win and "I'd go with Lee."

Lee6 has the number in her name because she was the sixth player with the name on the Korean LPGA.

AUTO RACING

LONG POND, Pa. (AP) — Kyle Busch won at Pocono Raceway to move into a tie for ninth on the NASCAR Cup Series victory list.

Busch, who topped 200 career wins across all three national series earlier this season, won for the 55th time in Cup and matched Hall of Fame driver Rusty Wallace on the list.

Busch had the dominant car down the stretch and won for the first time in nearly two months. Busch has spent most of the last few months complaining about NASCAR's current rules package designed to increase side-by-side racing and manufacture competition.

When he was back in the pack, Busch had no trouble passing the leaders at Pocono.

Busch took off on the final restart with nine laps left and cruised to the finish line for his 13th top-10 finish in 14 races this season. Busch and Martin Truex Jr. had been the class of the field this season but Truex was knocked out with an engine issue in the No. 19 Toyota. He had won three of the last five races. Kevin Harvick was nipping at a win until a botched pit stop and a cracked steering box took him out of contention.

Brad Keselowski was second and Erik Jones third.

DETROIT (AP) — Scott Dixon has had a lot of memorable days as a five-time IndyCar champion. There's a good chance he'll never forget what happened Sunday.

Dixon won the Detroit Grand Prix, his first victory of the year and 45th of his career, just hours after being honored by Queen Elizabeth II. The Chip Ganassi Racing driver from New Zealand finished nearly 2 seconds in front of rookie Marcus Ericsson, Will Power, Ryan Hunter-Reay and Alexander Rossi.

Indianapolis 500 champion Simon Pagenaud finished 17th after colliding with Patricio O'Ward and Tony Kanaan on the opening lap.

Josef Newgarden, who won Saturday on Belle Isle, was able to return to the race after being knocked out of it following an accident with James Hinchcliffe and finished 19th in the 22-car field.

Felix Rosenqvist spun out late in the 70-lap race, bringing out a red flag to potentially set the stage for a dramatic finish.

The race resumed with four laps to go and no one could catch Dixon's Honda-powered car. Dixon trails just A.J. Foyt and Mario Andretti in IndyCar wins and only Foyt has won more championships in the open-wheel series. Dixon won for the third time on Belle Isle, tying Helio Castroneves for the most victories on the road course along the banks of the Detroit River.

BOXING

NEW YORK (AP) — Andy Ruiz had six weeks to prepare for the fight of his life. He'll have a lifetime to celebrate one of boxing's biggest stunners in heavyweight history.

Ruiz flattened Anthony Joshua twice in the seventh round and capped one of boxing's biggest upsets to win his share of the heavyweight championship Saturday night at Madison Square Garden.

Ruiz won it at 1:27 by TKO in the seventh round to become the surprise champ in a bout that had shades of Buster Douglas' upset over Mike Tyson in 1990. Ruiz barely was on anyone's heavyweight radar when he was summoned as a replacement to fight champion Joshua in front of a packed Garden.

All he did was dominate the British champion.

The 270-pound Ruiz knocked down Joshua twice in the third round and did it two more times in the seventh before referee Mike Griffin ended the fight.
