The legends of Big Spring

Heritage Museum's Legends and Legacies to honor 7 cowboys and cowgirls Tuesday

Courtesy photo

Can you pick him out? Big Spring cowboy Joseph Weir Barnett poses above with a few of his co-workers at a round-up conducted by Col. C.C. Slaughter's Long S Ranch during Texas' earlier days. Barnett was chosen as the Heritage Museum of Big Spring's first "Cowboy Legend" honoree, and will be recognized with six more legendary cowboys and cowgirls at Tuesday evening's 17th annual Legends and Legacies dinner for induction into the Cowboy and Cowgirl Hall of Fame.

Special to the Herald

The Western way of life runs strong in Howard County, Texas: ranchers and wildcat oil drillers eking out a living in our harsh terrain and climate, working to strike it big in cattle or horses or cotton or oil. The Heritage Museum of Big Spring has been honoring that spirit for all of its nearly 50-year history, and more directly for 17 years through its Legends and Legacies annual event. At that annual dinner, the museum usually presents six men and women that exemplify that particular Big Spring brand of Western attitude for inclusion in its Cowboy and Cowgirl Hall of Fame. This year, the Museum is adding a new category and selecting Joseph Weir Barnett to receive the first honor as "Cowboy Legend." Here are some brief biographies on this year's inductees. For more photos, see Page 12.

MARTIN FRYAR
Martin Fryar always wanted to be a cowboy. He was raised on a farm and ranch in Howard County. He loved to ride his horse and practice roping. His favorite event was calf roping. When he started competing, he was going to amateur rodeos. He went to his first rodeo in Stamford when he was sixteen years old. He went with Rip Bailey and they slept on the ground after the rodeo. Horace Ranking and E.P. Birkhead were most instrumental in his learning to calf rope. He tried to pattern his roping after his neighbors, Toots Mansfield. He was a great man and an inspiration to Martin in rodeo. Martin met and married, Gwen Roberts (now deceased) from Garden City on December 20, 1950. He then became a father to Debbie (McDonald), Lesia (Sturm) and Tammy (Green). He tried to make barrel racers out of his girls without much success! However, his girls did help him practice roping calves. In 1978, Martin won two saddles at the Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, Texas. One saddle for calf roping and the other for double mugging. He won the double mugging with his partner, Denny Mullins in 1978. Throughout the years, he won enough saddles and buckles to give to each of his children with plenty left over! In his senior years, Martin competed in the National Old Timers Rodeo Association. Most of these rodeos required him to travel all over the U.S. and into Canada. In 1991, Martin competed in the over 60 age group. He led the calf roping standings from start to finish. Martin won the World Calf Roping Championship in NOTRA for the 1991 season. He also won the National Roping Association Championship. In doing this, he only competed in three of the twelve NRA rodeos to claim this title! If you asked him how he accomplished this, he would probably give most of the credit to "Puddin", his favorite horse. Martin then met and married Lenita Cox. From this marriage, he gained a stepson, Billy Ray Cox. Currently Martin and Lenita boast of having eleven

Events that Changed History: Martin Luther and the Protestant Reformation

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
Staff Writer

In the 18th lecture in the series Events that Changed History, we learned about Martin Luther and the beginning of the Protestant Reformation.

The lecture series is held every Tuesday at noon at the Heritage Museum of Big Spring, 510 S. Scurry St.

Luther was born in 1517 in the Holy Roman Empire. He learned Latin and Greek as a child, and he became a priest in 1507. In 1508, he began to teach theology and was awarded a Doctorate in Theology in 1512.

Luther was asked to teach a course on the Letters of Paul in 1517. He studied Erasmus' Greek New Testament, who was the topic of last week's lecture. He began to see discrepancies between the Vulgate Bible and the original teachings of Paul, most important was Paul's assertion that man is saved through faith alone, by not works, good deeds or charity.

It was during this time that many in Europe started to question taxed imposed by the church. If Paul believed

Sheriff investigating highway shooting report

Special to the Herald

The Big Spring Herald received the following press release from the Howard County Sheriff's Office Monday morning:

"On Saturday 6-15-2019 Deputies with the Howard County Sheriff's Office were dispatched to the 2400 block of North U.S. Hwy 87 in reference to a gunshot victim.

"On arrival Deputies received information that a Silver Chevrolet Camaro with four occupants were travelling North bound on Hwy 87 when an unknown make and model of vehicle was observed following the

"A female juvenile passenger in the Camaro was struck by one of the rounds and was transported to Scenic Mountain Medical Center by Big Spring EMS for treatment. The victim was later transported to Lubbock for further treatment of non life threatening injuries. No other occupants within the vehicle were injured in this incident.

"Investigators with the Sheriff's Office are actively working this case and have developed persons of interest. This is an ongoing investigation and no further information is available at this time."

grandchildren and fourteen great grandchildren. Martin has since taken up golf and left the roping to the "young guns" but he is still a cowboy at heart. He is grateful for God, his family and friends he made along the way, the great horses that he trained and rode, and the opportunity to be able to compete in rodeos across the country.

R.G. & CHERYL CLICK

R.G. (Glenn) Click was born in Grayson County on June 3, 1926. He served in WWII before arriving in Big Spring to work with the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Click's love of horses was a passion for him. For more than 40 years he broke and trained horses for the public and showed championship halter horses, throughout the state. He helped countless youth in Howard County for years and was honored by the Howard County 4-H Club as a "Friend of 4-H" recipient, the highest award the 4-H organization can bestow upon an individual or business. He was recognized for his work in helping with 4-H horse judging teams and support and assistance with their annual junior rodeo. Click also provided support to the annual Howard College Collegiate Rodeo in Big Spring and horse related activities with the Howard County Fair. In 1990 Click retired from training horses but still enjoyed "riding a good horse" at every opportunity. He served for 20 years as Director of the Howard County Fair Association and served for more than 15 years as director of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Board. In 2003, The Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo were extremely proud to dedicate the rodeo and events to longtime friend and supporter R.G. Click.

Cheryl Click was born on February 2, 1950 in Big Spring, Texas. She was the youngest of 5 children born to Robert Cleo and Marcella Carter. Cheryl worked at various places before eventually going to work for Texas Electric Company. On November - 1986, the Telephone Company employee merged with the Electric Company employee- as the two became husband and wife. Together, Click and Cheryl had 13-acres, north of Big Spring, where they raised quarter horses.

On June 12, 1994, Cheryl won $27.2 million dollars in the Texas lottery. Their dream of owning a ranch and being cattle ranchers could now be fulfilled as they purchased not one but three ranches and stocking them with cattle. With extra help and guidance from the ranch foreman, Byron Pope, Cheryl started working with cutting horses and rode in the Non Pro and Open.

R.G. (Glenn) Click passed away on March 20, 2004. Cheryl says she is now a full time "Piddler."

TERRY HIMES

Theresa (Terry) Ann Lewis was born on February 10, 1954, in Wichita Falls, Texas to Jack and Thay Lewis. Jack was in the Air Force and stationed at Webb Air Force Base, which brought the family to Big Spring in 1956. He then owned and ran Jack Lewis Cadillac from 1964-1985. Terry's passion for riding horses began in the mid-1960s, starting with play days at the Youth Horsemen Arena. She advanced to the American Junior Rodeo Association events in 1967, winning numerous buckles and saddles through 1969.

Terry then joined the professional rank of the Girls Rodeo Association (now known as WPRA) in late 1969. She went on to qualify for the National Finals Rodeo in 1970, 1972 and 1973 on several different horses. Terry married champion bull rider Jack Himes in 1970 and they welcomed their eldest daughter Elana in June 1971. Elana was quickly introduced to rodeo life, with her first rodeo occurring in Springdale, Arkansas over the 4th of July.

Terry and Jack attended Howard College and were on the rodeo team from 1974-1977 where they both qualified numerous times for the College National Finals Rodeo.

After college, Terry continued to ride and train horses - staying close to home once their youngest daughter Jana was born in 1981. Jana would share her mom's passion, ultimately leading to the need for more barrel horses!

Terry and Jack now own Shroyer Motor Company, GMC dealership in Big Spring and live on a ranch in Garza County where Terry raises barrel horses with daughter Jana.

JACK BUCHANAN

Jack Wolf Buchanan was known as a successful farmer, rancher, cowboy, conservationist, public servant and civic leader in Howard County, but the titles he cherished the most are loving husband and family man. He loved God, his country, his family and making folks laugh.

As a proud part of a Howard County pioneer family, Jack was born in the R-Bar community, northwest of Coahoma to his parents, Sam F. and Ola Buchanan. He lived in Howard County most of his life. He served in the US Navy during WWII and upon his honorable discharge he entered Texas Tech University, graduating in 1952 with a degree in Animal Husbandry. At Tech he was a member of the Aggie Club, Block and Bridle, Rodeo Team and was a charter member of the Rodeo Association. He won the All-Around championship at the 1949 Tech Rodeo and the Bull Riding title in 1950.

In 1952, Jack married the love of his life, Mildred

Wilson, of Ralls, TX. Together they farmed and ranched in the Luther community for many years. Mildred was also a schoolteacher for 36 years.

Jack wanted to make this world a better place for those coming after him. Whether it was practicing conservation of natural resources, getting involved in civic organizations or serving as a County Commissioner or Justice of the Peace, Jack was never one to sit back or wait on someone else to do something.

He served on the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo Committee for 35 years. For over 20 years, Jack served as a volunteer and Judge for the Howard County Junior Rodeo as well as a Junior Livestock Show Director. He served many years on the Texas Tech Rodeo Advisory Committee and was inducted in the Tech Rodeo Hall of Fame in 1985. To help deserving rodeo students, Jack and Mildred established a scholarship several years ago for Tech rodeo students.

KENNY THOMPSON

Kenny Thompson was a lifelong resident of Howard County. He was a successful businessman as well as a horseman and roper. Since 1945, Thompson Construction Company has designed, built and remodeled many homes and businesses in and around Big Spring. There are many beautiful homes built on ranches in the area.

Kenny's real passion was for roping. He started calf roping at the age of 15 at Dr. Bennett's arena. His first rodeo competition was at Stamford, Tx in 1948 and his last was in San Antonio in 2001. The family spent many weekends at roping's. Daughter Linda said "as children, we thought everyone hauled a horse trailer behind the family car." Over the years Kenny roped all over Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Arizona and Nevada. He roped in open rodeos, jack pots, and professional senior rodeos. He won many buckles and saddles. He won "World Champion Break Away Roper" in the Senior Pro Rodeo in 1976 and 1977 and won in the "National Senior Pro Rodeo finals" in Reno, 1991. Kenny and Neta Thompson had three children, Clay, Linda (Fox) and Debbie (Allen) (now deceased), seven grandchildren and 24 great grandchildren.

Quote from Kenny: "I have made true friends across the west because of this sport. Roping was such a great part of my life and I loved it. I went through five great horses and four good women. I have no regrets." Kenny passed away in 2016.

JOSEPH WEIR BARNETT is the Heritage Museum's Cowboy Legend.

Col C.C.Slaughter was known as the "Cattle King of Texas." By 1905 he owned 40,000 head of cattle and oversaw over a million acres. Slaughter furnished his early cowboys four horses of their choice from the headquarters corral, a saddle, $25.00 a month, bunkhouse privileges and "chuck." To be entrusted as one of Slaughter's cowboys was an esteemed honor given to Joseph Weir Barnett.

Joe was born in 1867 and moved to Howard County in the early 1880's along with his parents Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Weir Barnett and 5 siblings. Joe wanted to become a doctor like his father however, the high cost of medical school eliminated that possibility. Instead he became a cowboy. He started work with the Long S (Slaughter) ranch and joined the other cowboys in long trail rides. He was Trail Boss and oversaw the last herd of Longhorn Steers that were herded to Wyoming in 1892. September 5, 1894, Joseph married his young sweetheart, Lillie Seals. The couple had 9 children. Joseph realized he would have to work in town to support his growing family. He served two terms as county commissioner from 1906-1910. In partnership with his brother-in-law, W.R. Cole, he operated a livery stable at the present-day location of the Settles Hotel. He continued to ranch his own land while affiliating himself with the J&W Fisher Store and the Southern Ice Co. Joe died in 1938.

faith alone is what brought salvation, why did the church have to tax everyone, peasants and nobility alike? In 1517, Luther wrote a letter to the bishop protesting these "indulgences".

Luther's writings began to circulate in Europe, reaching France, England and Italy as early as 1519. Students gathered to hear him speak. Three of Luther's best known works were published in 1520. New ideas were spreading around Europe. The church most definitely did not agree with Luther's teachings, and in 1521, Luther was excommunicated.

As the Reformation spread, of course some strayed from Luther's original teachings, some of them not to Luther's liking. Puritans banned music and fancy clothes because these were not found in the Bible. But, the idea that faith alone is the key to salvation is still what drives many religions today.

Howard College bull rider Dalton Kasel takes 2nd place in the College National Finals Rodeo

CASPER, WY – Hawk bull rider Dalton Kasel covered three bulls and posted an 8.5 in the short round to take second place in the College National Finals Rodeo on Saturday night with a 234 average. Congratulations to Dalton, his family and his coaches for an exceptional run that ended with him being one of the top two bull riders in the nation.

Michigan beats Texas Tech 5-3 in its 1st CWS game since 1984

By ERIC OLSON

AP Sports Writer

OMAHA, Neb. — Stage fright was no factor for a Michigan baseball program that's in the College World Series for the first time in 35 years. The Wolverines just kept doing what they've been doing since the NCAA Tournament started.

"Pitching, defense, timely hitting seems to be the recipe of the postseason," coach Erik Bakich said.

The Wolverines got all three once again Saturday at TD Ameritrade Park.

Jimmy Kerr's first triple in two years helped build an early lead, Karl Kauffmann pitched seven strong innings and the Wolverines opened their first CWS appearance since 1984 with a 5-3 victory over Texas Tech.

The last time Michigan made it this far, a team led by future Hall of Famer Barry Larkin went 0-2. The Wolverines had lost four straight in the CWS since winning their first game in 1983.

These Wolverines (47-20) were swept in a three-game series at Texas Tech in March and were winless in seven meetings against the Red Raiders. They lost five of seven to end the regular season and lost their opener in the Big Ten Tournament, which was played at TD Ameritrade. They sneaked into the 64-team NCAA Tournament with one of the last four at-large bids.

"We didn't win the Big Ten Tournament, but it didn't matter because we had confidence and we had belief, and once we got into the tournament, we didn't care if we were one of the last four in or one of the first four in," Bakich said.

Coming off a three-game super regional where they knocked off No. 1 national seed UCLA, the Wolverines built a four-lead in the third and Kauffmann and Jeff Criswell worked out of trouble when the Red Raiders (44-19) threatened.

Michigan broke it open when Kerr drove a ball just inside the right-field line into the corner for a two-out, two-run triple. The triple was Kerr's first in 112 games since April 2017, and he came home on Blake Nelson's single to make it 4-0.

"Guys did a great job setting the tone, getting on base, and our two-strike approach as a team — choke up on the barrel, put it in play and make something happen," Kerr said. "I got a pitch that I was able to put something in play on. We had guys on base all day, good at-bats throughout the lineup and that allowed us to get a four-spot early."

Brian Klein's second homer of the season, and first since March 10, cut the lead to 4-2 in the bottom half, and the Red Raiders were within a run in the sixth on an RBI groundout after Josh Jung's infield single and Cameron Warren's double.

Michigan got that run back when a wild pitch and Jung's throwing error from shortstop allowed Jesse Franklin to score.

Kauffman (11-6), the Colorado Rockies' second-round draft pick this month, allowed three runs and eight hits and won his third straight start. He got out of potential trouble in the fifth, thanks to second baseman Ako Thomas, who robbed Dylan Neuse with a diving catch of a line drive up the middle.

Criswell, who made his first career relief appearance in super regionals, took over in the eighth and earned his second save. Texas Tech, the Big 12 champion and No. 8 national seed, had runners on first and second in the bottom of the ninth when Criswell struck out Klein to end the game.

Texas Tech freshman Micah Dallas' three-inning start was his shortest of the season. Dallas (7-1) allowed four runs, three earned.

"I thought they played better than us in all phases of the game," Tech coach Tim Tadlock said. "Kauffmann was brilliant, their lineup was competitive and they played great defense. It really looked like

With an extra boost of confidence from his caddie — Brennan Little, who was on the bag for Mike Weir in his Masters victory — Woodland delivered the shot of his life with a 3-wood that narrowly cleared a bunker, settled on the edge of the green and set up a birdie that gave him the cushion he needed.

The rest was pure theater — a 90-foot pitch off the 17th green he nearly holed, a 30-foot birdie putt on the final hole for a 2-under 69 and a three-shot victory that denied Koepka's bold bid to match a century-old record with a

Culver, Reddish top list of shooting guards in NBA draft

By AARON BEARD

AP Basketball Writer

Jarrett Culver made himself a top-flight NBA prospect by pushing Texas Tech to within a win of its first national championship.

Culver is regarded by many as the top shooting guard in Thursday's draft, part of a rapid rise from solid freshman contributor to Associated Press All-American. He could be picked in the top five, joining Duke's Cam Reddish as lottery picks to headline off-ball guards in the draft.

Here's a look at the top prospects: JARRETT CULVER, Texas Tech

The sophomore can make a big impact at both ends of the court.

STRENGTHS: Culver offers size (a nearly 6-foot-7 measurement) with shoes at the scouting combine) and the versatility to defend multiple positions for one of the nation's toughest defensive units. After averaging 11.2 points as a freshman, Culver developed into the no-doubt first option and Big 12 player of the year while leading Texas Tech in scoring (18.5), rebounding (6.4) and assists (3.7).

CONCERNS: Culver must improve his outside shooting after making 49 of 161 (.304) 3-pointers in his first run in a leading role. That was down nearly 8 percentage points from his freshman year and included a 4-for-26 showing (.154) in the last five games of the team's run to the NCAA title game. He must also improve at the line after shooting 68.7% there over two college seasons.

CAM REDDISH, Duke

Reddish offers two-way potential, though an uneven freshman year has created some uncertainty about his development.

STRENGTHS: Reddish has size (6-8, 208 pounds) to play shooting guard or small forward. He's a solid athlete with the potential to be a good defender with a 7-foot wingspan. And he's known for his shooting range, illustrated by his 3-pointer with 0.8 seconds left to win at Florida State.

CONCERNS: Reddish arrived as a top-five recruit but it was a bit difficult to evaluate his college transition. He was a third option (13.5 points) as classmate Zion Williamson rocketed to stardom and classmate RJ Barrett became the Atlantic Coast Conference's leading scorer. He didn't shoot the ball as well as his reputation would suggest (35.6% overall, 33.3% on 3-pointers) and was a surprise late scratch against Virginia Tech in the NCAA Tournament's Sweet 16 with a left knee injury.

TYLER HERRO, Kentucky

Kentucky's latest one-and-done talent brings outside shooting and plenty of swagger as a first-round prospect.

STRENGTHS: The 6-6 Herro can create space to get his shot and stretch defenses. He averaging 14.0 points with a team-best 60 3-pointers, including the go-ahead 3 with 25.8 seconds left against Houston in the NCAA Sweet 16. He also hit 93.5% of his free throws, earning him late-game minutes in close games. And he's got confidence to take any shot, notably telling an Arkansas player after making a key free throw: "I'm a bucket."

CONCERNS: He doesn't have much length to disrupt ballhandlers (6-3 wingspan) and needs to add strength to his 192-pound frame. He could also improve his outside accuracy after making 35.5% on 3s, which included him making 2 of 15 in the NCAA Tournament outside of the Houston winner.

ROMEO LANGFORD, Indiana

The Indiana freshman looks set to go midway through the first round.

STRENGTHS: There's no questioning his physical gifts. The 6-6 Langford measured well at the combine with a 6-11 wingspan that could serve him well on the defensive end. Langford averaged 16.5 points and 5.4 rebounds, and he was aggressive enough to rank among the Big Ten leaders at getting to the foul line (6.1 attempts per game).

CONCERNS: What's his range? Langford made 34 of 125 3-pointers while playing with a thumb injury on his shooting hand for much of the year. That was a 27.2% conversion rate with a shorter shot than he'll see in the NBA — the lowest for any Hoosier with more than 100 attempted 3s dating to at least 1992-93, according to Sports Reference LLC's college basketball site.

OTHERS TO WATCH
— NICKEL ALEXANDER-WALKER, Virginia Tech: The 6-5 sophomore averaged a team-best 16.2 points and looks likely to be picked in the middle of the first round, which would make him Virginia Tech's second first-rounder in program history (joining Dell Curry from 1986).

— KELDON JOHNSON, Kentucky: The 6-6, 216-pound one-and-done talent looks likely to be a first-round pick with his ability to attack the rim or hit from outside (38.1% on 3s).
— KEVIN PORTER JR., USC: The freshman played just 21 games due to injury and a team suspension, but is a first-round prospect with his athleticism and 6-6, 213-pound build.

— MATISSE THYBULLE, Washington: The senior averaged 9.2 points for his career, but could go late in the first round with his stopper potential as a two-time Pac-12 defensive player of the year.

a team playing at the top of its game, which they have been doing for a couple weeks. You can see how they arrived at this point."

BATTER INTERFERENCE

Michigan's Jordan Brewer was called out for batter's interference when Franklin attempted to steal second base in the seventh. Brewer swung at an inside fastball that handcuffed him and caused him to fall down as catcher Braxton Fulford threw to second. It didn't appear Brewer landed outside the batter's box. But when Bakich came out to discuss the call, plate umpire Perry Costello told him Brewer accidentally made contact with Fulford's leg.

"If you wouldn't have called that, they wouldn't have said a word," Bakich was picked up saying on an ESPN microphone.

"Oh, I don't know about that," Costello replied.

TECH MISSING HOLT

The Red Raiders played their second game without leadoff man and right fielder Gabe Holt, who had surgery Monday for a left thumb injury. Tadlock said Holt continues to be day-to-day.

UP NEXT

Michigan plays a Bracket 1 winners' game Monday night against Florida State, which beat Arkansas 1-0.

Texas Tech meets Arkansas on Monday afternoon.

Woodland denies history with US Open title at Pebble Beach

By DOUG FERGUSON

AP Golf Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. — In front of Gary Woodland was a 263-yard shot for the scariest green on any par 5 at Pebble Beach, especially with a U.S. Open on the line. Behind him by one shot on the leaderboard was Brooks Koepka, the most dangerous figure in major championship golf these days.

The safe shot was to lay up on the 14th and take his chances with a wedge third straight U.S. Open.

"The idea was to play for the win," Woodland said.

Woodland's pitch across the 17th green over a hump that checked and trickled to tap-in range effectively clinched it, taking its place with other big moments on the 17th green in the U.S. Open such as Jack Nicklaus and his 1-iron off the pin and Tom Watson's chip-in birdie. It even got the attention of Nicklaus.

"Took a lot of guts," Nicklaus said on Twitter.

Woodland had that it abundance, along with a message from an inspirational friend.

"You got this."

Until Sunday, when he cradled the silver trophy at Pebble Beach, Woodland got more attention from one hole in a pro-am at the Phoenix Open. He was gracious and encouraging to Amy Bockerstette, a 20-year-old with Down Syndrome and sheer optimism. Woodland invited her to hit a shot on the par-3 16th (into a bunker). He wanted to blast it out of the sand but she said, "I got this." She hit it out to 8 feet and made the putt. The PGA Tour-produced video has more than 20 million views.

Dear Property owner(s):
Current Tax records of the City of Big Spring indicate that you are the owner of the property at the above street address. This structure is in violation of section 115.1 of the International Building Code and the following detailed report documents the condition which have rendered the structure unsafe, to wit: Dilapidated, substandard structure does not meet the City Code of Ordinances. Doors and windows missing or broken out. Roof structure completely non-existent. Basement completely open. Building a potential health hazard to the public. Structures cannot be secured to keep out transients or children.

Therefore, by the authority invested in my office by the Big Spring Code, I have declared this structure or portions thereof unsafe, dilapidated, substandard or unfit for human habitation, and have determined it or portions thereof poses a hazard to public health, safety, and welfare.

The International Building Code, Section 115.1 provides that all structures or existing equipment that are or hereafter become unsafe, insanitary or deficient because of inadequate means of egress facilities, inadequate light and ventilation, or which constitute a fire hazard, or are otherwise dangerous to human life or the public welfare, or that involve illegal or improper occupancy or inadequate maintenance, shall be deemed an unsafe condition. Unsafe structures shall be taken down and removed or made safe, as the building official deems necessary and as provided for in this section. A vacant structure that is not secured against entry shall be deemed unsafe.

You are hereby notified that a hearing will be held before the Board of Adjustment and Appeals of the City of Big Spring, Texas, at 307 E. 4th St. on the 27th day of June, 2019 at 5:30 pm. The purpose of this hearing is to make a final determination as to whether the structure described is in violation of the Structural Standards Code of the City of Big Spring, Texas. You may be present at the hearing and may be, but need not be, represented by legal counsel. You may present any relevant evidence and will be given full opportunity to cross-examine all witnesses testifying against you. You may request the issuance of subpoenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, documents or other things by filing an affidavit thereof with the Board of Adjustment and Appeals. At the time of the hearing, you (whether you be the owner, lien holder, or mortgagee) will be required to submit at the hearing proof of the scope of any work that may be required to comply with the Code and the time it will take to reasonably perform the work. In the event you seek to obtain more than thirty (30) days to complete the project, you will be required to reasonably establish that the work cannot be completed within thirty (30) days. In the event you seek to obtain more than ninety (90) days to complete the work, you will be required to submit a detailed plan and time schedule for the work at the hearing and establish that the work cannot be completed within ninety (90) days.

Following the hearing, the Board of Adjustment and Appeals may issue an order requiring the vacation, relocation of occupants, securing, repair (with or without vacation), removal, or demolition of the structure if the Board of Adjustments and Appeals finds that any of the following conditions exist:
(1) The structure in question is dilapidated, substandard, or unfit for human habitation; and a hazard to the public health, safety, and welfare;
(2) The structure is unoccupied by its owners, or other invitees and is unsecured from unauthorized entry to the extent that it could be entered or used by vagrants or other uninvited persons as a place of harborage or could be entered or used by children;

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Tolerance Moon

ARIES (March 21-April 19). The next 48 hours will provide you with exceptional social opportunity, which you can parlay into other sorts of opportunity if you so desire. Of course, to take advantage of this you still have to go out and meet people.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Safety is at the crux of closeness. People only fully engage with each other when they perceive the relationship as a safe place where support, positive feelings and encouragement flow freely.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). When it's unclear what words would unlock the potential of the situation, the wise say nothing. This is best accomplished while looking like you've lots that you could say and are just choosing not to.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You've developed a set of rules for each sort of relationship you've known. Yes, the rules are mostly subconscious, but you closely abide by them nonetheless. That is, until today, when the rules don't seem to apply.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). When the work you're doing absorbs your entire energy, you neither reminisce about the past nor fantasize about the future. There's no need to wish you were anywhere else.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). The two main causes of human suffering are malice and ignorance. So anything learned is a counterbalance to human suffering, and any love given or received lessens the world's misery.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Define "better" for yourself. The typical metrics (richer, more powerful, etc.) are too generic to motivate you. Think deeper into the matter. What is it you really want to feel that you're not feeling now?

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24-Nov. 21). The view from inside the thick of it is nothing like what anyone else is seeing. And so it goes with driving, football, movies and almost everything else in life, it's easier to observe what's going wrong from the seats.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). You've set your own feelings and agenda aside to take care of people who really did need the care. It's time for that to stop. However unnatural it might feel, it's time for you to treat yourself as well as you treat others.

BY HOLIDAY MATHIS

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You'll experience the particular kind of tension that comes from feeling like you should say something, but not being sure what. It's a signal to go off by yourself and sort your feelings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). There are many ways to get attention: shout, whisper, wave, bribe... the list goes on and on. The bottom line is that people pay attention to the things and people who have what they want.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You're after the things that are important on their own and not merely stepping stones, tools and methods for getting to the next thing. Also, the only friendships worth pursuing are the ones that fit this description.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 17). To know what you want isn't so hard. Lots of people can do it. But for that want to also happen to be the thing that will make you very happy is much trickier -- and more rare than it seems. You'll nail it this year! Furthermore, you'll find a way to make others want your objectives as badly as you want them. Sagittarius and Scorpio adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 49, 2, 28, 17 and 9.

ASTROLOGICAL QUESTIONS: "I have this feeling that he's not as happy as his girlfriend's Facebook timeline suggests. There are pictures of them at the beach, kissing, canoodling at parties... looks like true love. Then why does he seem so interested in me? He gives me special looks, like I'm someone who is important to him. Do you think that a Sagittarius (me) and Taurus (him) could make a go of it if his Gemini girlfriend weren't, literally, in the picture?"

People take pictures of what they fear losing. That's why children and baby animals take up more than their fair share of digital memory. We know this stage of life is not going to last, and we miss it already. Maybe that's what the Gemini girlfriend feels, too. Regardless, she has him now.

The larger question to answer, dear roaming, adventurous, thrill-seeking Sagittarius is: Would you still want him if he weren't taken? You do tend to fixate on the exciting challenges of life, and it would be a shame to make your play and potentially break up a relationship for something that's not going to be very serious or last too long.

Continuing to Honor All Fathers

Dear Readers: Fathers and father figures deserve more than one day of recognition for all their work and love, and the amount of beautiful words sent in reflected this. Below are a few more moving tributes submitted for Father's Day.

'My Father's Example'

A father gives instruction to his family, Is willing to go the extra mile. Always willing to help others Leaving them with a joyful smile. He is an example of what it means To have a walk with God. Gives his children a desire to follow, The path of faith that he has trod. He is willing to rise up early, To provide the needs for the home. Never grumbling but ever faithful, Without a grudge or a moan. When in times of distress And trouble is knocking at the door, Father keeps an upbeat mood, Just as he was the day before. Although corrections in life must come To mold us to walk the "narrow way," You know they are coming from a heart of love That will last forever and always. When not a word is spoken You can have a confident trust, That dad is right beside you Giving your feeble heart a rush. If I could have one prayer While walking on this earth, It is that I could be just like my dad On the day of my child's birth. --Dana B. Wagner, author

Here's another Father's Day poem submission by C. David Hay of the Villages, Florida:

'Little Man'
Little Man, how fast you grew And went the way all children do Into a world you've yet to know; You needed room to stretch and grow. I watched with pride as you felt your way And tested strengths in work and play;

We shared our fun as buddies do - When you were cut I bled some too. I'll always treasure those memories past, Could prayers but make the good times last, But boys were meant to grow up strong And daddies can't just tag along. So I hope you know and understand I'm always near if you need a hand, And of all God's gifts could I choose but one - It would be a father's love for his son. --C. David Hay

And here's a final tribute to fathers everywhere:

'The Best Father in the World'
In our family we had plenty of boys and girls But we also had the best father in the world. Our father taught us to study and work for our goals And he was the best example and mentor for that role. We were never allowed to be ugly, nasty or rude And we were always taught love, discipline and a positive attitude. If we tried to be unruly, crazy and other dumb stuff Our father would always talk with us and say, "That's enough!" Our father taught and preached that education was the way That's why we had to read and study almost every day. We were always encouraged to do our very best in school Never were we allowed to act dumb or be like fools. When life sometimes got uneven, difficult and a little rough Our father always reminded us that we had the "right stuff." Our father taught us to always respect ourselves and others He insisted we treat them as if our sisters and brothers. Our father allowed us to grow and become decent adults Today we are living proof of his diligence and loving results. So imagine how proud we are when our boys and girls Tell everyone that they have the best father in the world.

Final contract — seven clubs redoubled, played by South.
Opening lead — ten of diamonds.

This is probably the most famous hand in the history of bridge. Legend has it that the Duke of Cumberland, more than two centuries ago, held the East hand and wagered 20,000 pounds against the North-South hands making seven clubs redoubled. The duke lost the bet, since he was unable to score a single trick despite his extraordinary array of high cards. Regardless of whether the story is true or the hand was actually dealt, it comes to us from way back in the days of whist, having first been published by Edmond Hoyle in 1750. No bidding is given for the hand, the sole stipulation being that the final contract is seven clubs redoubled, played by South. There is no way of stopping the grand slam if declarer plays correctly. Aces become deuces as South obliterated every honor card held by East. Let's assume West leads a diamond or a heart. Declarer ruffs, trumps a spade in dummy and returns a club, capturing East's nine with the ten. Declarer ruffs another spade in dummy and takes a second trump finesse. When declarer then ruffs a third round of spades in dummy, his remaining spades become established. Declarer returns to his hand by ruffing a diamond or a heart, cashes the ace of trumps and chalks up 13 tricks. The deal is an extreme example of the potent power of unusual distribution. Double and triple voids can easily wreak havoc on point count and honor tricks. Incidentally, we'd like to suggest that if you ever play in a game with strangers and are dealt the East hand, you should either ask for a new deal or head quickly for the nearest exit!

Tomorrow: A military scenario.

Fun By The Numbers
Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Today in History

Today is Monday, June 17, the 168th day of 2019. There are 197 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On June 17, 1994, after leading police on a slow-speed chase on Southern California freeways, O.J. Simpson was arrested and charged with murder in the slayings of his ex-wife, Nicole, and her friend, Ronald Goldman. (Simpson was later acquitted in a criminal trial, but held liable in a civil trial.)

On this date:

In 1579, Sir Francis Drake arrived in present-day northern California, naming it New Albion and claiming English sovereignty.

In 1775, the Revolutionary War Battle of Bunker Hill resulted in a costly victory for the British, who suffered heavy losses.

In 1928, Amelia Earhart embarked on a trans-Atlantic flight from Newfoundland to Wales with pilots Wilmer Stultz and Louis Gordon, becoming the first woman to make the trip as a passenger.

In 1930, President Herbert Hoover signed the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act, which boosted U.S. tariffs to historically high levels, prompting foreign retaliation.

In 1953, U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas stayed the execution of Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, originally set for the next day, the couple's 14th wedding anniversary. (They were put to death June 19.)

In 1963, the U.S. Supreme Court, in Abington (Pa.) School District v. Schempp, struck down, 8-1, rules requiring the recitation of the Lord's Prayer or reading of Biblical verses in public schools.

In 1967, China successfully tested its first thermonuclear (hydrogen) bomb.

In 1972, President Richard Nixon's eventual downfall began with the arrest of five burglars inside the Democratic headquarters in Washington, D.C.'s Watergate complex.

In 2002, A judge in San Francisco tossed out the second-degree murder conviction of Marjorie Knoller for the dog-mauling death of neighbor Diane Whipple, but let stand Knoller's conviction for involuntary manslaughter. (However, Knoller's murder conviction was reinstated in 2008.)

In 2013, the U.S. Supreme Court ruled 7-2 that states can't demand proof of citizenship from people registering to vote in federal elections unless they get federal or court approval to do so.

In 2015, nine people were shot to death in a historic African-American church in Charleston, South Carolina; suspect Dylann Roof was arrested the following morning. (Roof has since been convicted of federal hate crimes and sentenced to death; he later pleaded guilty to state murder charges and was sentenced to life in prison without parole.)

In 2017, the jury in Bill Cosby's sexual assault case was declared hopelessly deadlocked, resulting in a mistrial for the 79-year-old TV star charged with drugging and groping a woman more than a decade earlier; prosecutors immediately announced they would pursue a second trial, which resulted in Cosby's conviction. The Navy destroyer USS Fitzgerald was damaged in a collision with a Philippine-flagged container ship off Japan that killed seven sailors.

Ten years ago: President Barack Obama extended some benefits to same-sex partners of federal employees. Nevada Sen. John Ensign resigned from the GOP leadership a day after admitting an affair with a former campaign staffer.

Five years ago: The Obama administration announced that U.S. special forces had seized Ahmed Abu Khattala, described as a "key leader" in the deadly Benghazi, Libya, attack, and that he was on his way to face trial in the U.S. for the fiery assault that killed the U.S. ambassador and three other Americans. (Abu Khattala was convicted in 2017 of terrorism-related counts but acquitted of murder; he was sentenced to 22 years in prison.) Johann "Hans" Breyer, an 89-year-old retired toolmaker, was arrested in Philadelphia on a German arrest warrant charging him with aiding and abetting the killing of 216,000 Jewish men, women and children while serving as a guard at the Auschwitz death camp. (Breyer died just over a month later before he could be extradited.)

One year ago: Former first lady Laura Bush, writing in the Washington Post, said the policy of separating immigrant parents and children along the nation's southern border was "cruel" and "immoral." Conservative Ivan Duque was elected Colombia's next president, after promising to change parts of a peace accord with leftist rebels. Brooks Koepka (KEHP'-kuh) won the U.S. Open for the second straight year, becoming the seventh golfer to win the event back-to-back.

Herald Staff Report

The 86th Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo will draw cowboys and cowgirls from around the state to compete in the three-night event. The rodeo will kick off June 20 and run through June 22. The rodeo will include the traditional bronc riding, bull riding, calf roping, team roping, barrel racing and entertainment. Rodeo Announcer Mike Mathis will be returning once again to provide the voice of the long standing rodeo.

An opportunity for budding cowboys and cowgirls will be offered with the nightly runs of Mini Bronc Riding and Mutton Busters. The competition will take place in the R360 Rodeo Bowl and is open to kids 12 and under. Mutton Busters begins at age 5. There is a 50 pound weight limit. Entry fee is $50 per night to ride. To sign up your child, call or text 432-270-8017. To sign up for Mini Bronc Riding, child must be between 6 and 12 years of age. To sign up, call or text 432-816-4531. Safety gear is provided for both events.

Before the rodeo gets started, the Heritage Museum will kick off the week of activities with the annual Legends and Legacies fundraiser dinner. This year the event will take place at the recently renovated Howard County Fair Barn. Tickets are available for purchase, at the Heritage Museum, for $50 per person and a child's meal ticket can be purchased for $8. The Heritage Museum is located at 510 Scurry. For more information, call 432-267-8255.

The Quail Dobbs Memorial Rodeo Parade will wrap up rodeo week, on Saturday at 10 a.m. Entries are still being accepted until June 19. For those entered in the parade, line up will begin at 10th and Main. To enter or request more information, stop by KBEST Media studios.
