Country on the Rocks moving to Main Street this year

Amphitheater construction prompts venue, name change: 'Country on Main Street'

By AMANDA DUFORAT
Managing Editor

The party is moving to Main Street this year, due to construction at the amphitheater. Country on the Rocks is changing names, just for one year, to Country on Main Street, set for Sept. 27 at 8 p.m.

"We didn't want to kill the momentum that we started last year with Country on the Rocks, but we don't want to hold up the amphitheater renovation project either," Barney Dodd, BAD Events owner, said.

Headliners for this year's Country on Main Street are Cody Canada and the Departed and No Justice.

"Both of these bands have made their names in Texas Country; we are excited to bring them to the stage in Big Spring," Dodd said.

No Justice, Red Dirt music - country, rock, R&B, blues and funk - band originally formed in 2001, made their mark on country music before splitting up in September 2013. Their final concert was in Oklahoma. This year, band members have gathered together for a reunion tour, which will bring them through Big Spring. "No Justice was at the top of their game about five years ago before they broke up. Now, we are excited to have them join us as part of their reunion tour," Dodd said. "This is an exciting year with our two co-headliners."

Cody Canada is a name most commonly remember associated with Cross Canadian Ragweed. The Departed formed in 2011, after Cross Canadian Ragweed dissolved after 15 years together in 2010. Cody Canada, originally from Pampa, now serves as the lead singer of The Departed. The band switched names to The Departed in August 2012 and released their first album in November 2012.

"The music that will be provided by both these bands is for sure not to be missed," Dodd said. "I want to encourage the community to come out and hear these two bands on stage, along with the winner from our Downtown Throw Down competition."

The winner from the Downtown Throw Down competition will open up the night at 8 p.m. with headliner

Commissioners to discuss library and election at Wednesday meeting

By ROGER CLINE
Staff Writer

The Howard County Commissioners will meet Wednesday in the second-floor conference room of the Howard County Courthouse, 300 S. Main St. The commissioners will hold a short budget workshop starting at 3 p.m., and their regular meeting will follow at 3:30 p.m.

One topic of discussion at the meeting will include the interlocal agreement between the county and

Howard College for a joint "Dean of Libraries" position. Currently, the two entities' libraries share a director

- Mavour Braswell - whose Howard College position is Dean of Libraries.

Commissioners will also discuss and possibly take action to appoint election judges and alternate judges for the Texas State Constitutional Amendments election scheduled Nov. 5. The commissioners also plan to discuss and approve going forward with the November election.

In other business, commissioners will:

- Discuss and possibly take action on an interlocal agreement with Lubbock County for a regional public defender;
- Discuss and possibly approve transfer of County Energy Transportation Re-Investment Zone funds into the county's Road and Bridge fund;
- Discuss and possibly approve invoices, purchase requests, budget amendments and the June monthly financial report;
- Discuss and possibly approve personnel considerations and County Treasurer Sharon Adams' monthly payroll report;

• Discuss and possibly take action on roadway maintenance updates;

• Hear a presentation of County Clerk Brent Zitterkopf's monthly report.

If you would like to address the Commissioners during the meeting, you should plan to arrive a few minutes before the meeting's start to fill out a brief form alerting them of your intent to speak. For more information contact County Judge Kathryn Wiseman at 432-264-2202.

Special days coming up in August

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
Staff Writer

August has begun. That usually means the beginning of school and the end of summer. Maybe that's why one of the things celebrated in August is Get Ready for Kindergarten Month.

Kindergarten may be the first time a child is attending a structured classroom. This may be a very big change for the child who may not be used to always eating or taking naps at the same time every day. Studies have shown that early childhood education is extremely beneficial, not just for the child, but for society in general. You can help prepare your child for kindergarten by helping him or her memorize information such as basic spelling of their name, address and phone number. Most schools now also have a "Meet the Teacher Day," and accompanying your child to such an event can set them more at ease. It can also help to begin a schedule so that it will be easier when beginning kindergarten.

Another thing associated with beginning school are required immunizations, so is it any wonder that August is also known as National Immunization Awareness Month? A lot of misinformation has been distributed through social media, so a good place to get information about them is through your

Chamber organizes Back to School Shopping Bash

By AMANDA DUFORAT
Managing Editor

But wait, there's one more ...
The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce has joined with 10 local boutiques to bring one final opportunity for local teachers and the community to splurge on themselves before school begins, at the Summer Shopping Back to School Bash this Thursday.

"We have had a great turnout and seen some great deals at this year's Summer Shopping Extravaganza events, and we wanted to offer one more before the summer was over." Executive Director of the Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce Debbye ValVerde said. "This time we are adding an extra focus on teacher's; we want to give teachers an opportunity to splurge on themselves before heading back to the classroom, but we want to encourage the entire community to come out and see what these local businesses have to offer."

Area teachers will have an opportunity to sign up to win a Teacher Survival Kit, when they visiting the participating boutiques, during the event. There will be discounts offered throughout the evening, refreshments and more, for all those attending.

"We want the community to come out and enjoy a final shopping event, but we want to highly encourage the teachers to come out and focus on yourself, have an opportunity to win a great door prize and just receive the appreciation this community has for all you do," ValVerde said.

For a complete list of participating boutiques, visit www.bigspringherald.com or stop by the Chamber of Commerce for more information, located at 215 W. Third Street.

Obituaries

Beverly Ann Guyton
Robinson Rhymes

The ineffable Beverly Ann Guyton Robinson Rhymes passed away Friday, Aug. 2, in Santa Fe, NM, surrounded by her children.

Beverly was an artist, a civil rights activist, an intrepid world traveler, a master of religion, an avid reader, a beauty queen, an inspirational and dedicated teacher of life lessons, a selfless volunteer, an elegant entertainer, a professional delegator, a caramel lover, a fashion icon, and a generously inclusive spirit. To those who knew her, she was a sister, a mother, a grandmother, a great-grandmother, and the greatest friend.

Beverly was extremely proud to be born into the Guyton family, well-known in medical circles. She grew up in Blue Mountain, MS and she spent her undergraduate years at Blue Mountain College and William Woods College. She earned a Master of Arts in Theology from Loyola University in New Orleans, LA.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Albert Julius and Birma Pool Guyton, her first husband, James Eddins Robinson, and her second husband, Dr. Pete Holden Rhymes.

She is survived by her brother, Bob (Kathy); her seven children, Judy, Jill, Pete II (Janice), Libby (Peter), Kathy (John), Jim (Kristin), and Ray; her ten grandchildren, Emmy, Alex (Elliott), Brooks, Meredith (Will), Pete III, Graeme, James, Caroline, Morgan, and Janie; her three great-grandchildren, Austin, Ellie, and Bexley; her nieces and nephews, Anne, Chris, Rob, Randy, Mett, and Drake; and many more family and friends, who loved her dearly.

Her family would like to give a special thank you on Beverly's behalf to the staff of St. Vincent's Hospital, the staff of Compassus Hospice, the staff of Brookdale Santa Fe and especially to her Open Arms care givers, Juanna, Teresa, Cesy, Soledad, Carmen, Blanca, Adrianna, and Ruth.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests that you consider a memorial contribution in Beverly's name to her beloved Blue Mountain College designated to one of the following two endowments established there by Pete and Beverly Rhymes: the A.J. Guyton Scholarship in Business or the Birma Pool Guyton Scholarship in Music or a charity of your choice. Contribution to Blue Mountain College can be sent to: Blue Mountain College P.O. Box 160, Blue Mountain, MS 38610.

taking the stage at 9:30 p.m. The concert will continue until midnight. In addition to the live music, food trucks will be on hand, as well as a silent auction.

“Not only will Country on Main Street be offering a chance to get outside, enjoy good live music with friends, but it also offers an opportunity to help a young Howard County student further their education,” Dodd said.

A portion of ticket sales and the silent auction will be divided amongst the three area schools – Forsan, Coahoma and Big Spring – to provide scholarships for graduating seniors. The money will be evenly divided amongst the schools, which means depending on the support raised, the scholarships could range from $400 to $4,000.

“Everyone is always saying we need to have local entertainment and Country on the Rocks is just one of the events that offers that. Even better while you are enjoying the music and great food, you can support the youth,” Dodd said. “This is a great way to highlight Downtown Big Spring and all that is happening.”

Tickets for the event can be purchased through Bad Events website or at Home Realtors. There will be VIP tickets available and General Admission. This is an all ages show, but only 21 and over will be allowed in The Train Car.

Coahoma Seniors kept the tradition alive as they painted paw prints on the street in Coahoma in preparation of a new school year. Parents and students joined together to make memories, share stories and wrap up the last of summer days before the 2019-20 school year begins.

VA benefits and services, and counseling at mobile vet centers

VA Mobile Vet Center will be in the following Texas Counties on August 7, 8, 9:

Schleicher, Irion, Coke, Mitchell, Howard, Martin

Special to the Herald

Vet Centers are community-based counseling centers providing a broad range of counseling, outreach, and referral services, free-of-charge in a safe and confidential environment. Vet Center staff use Mobile Vet Centers, 34-foot "office on wheels" equipped with satellite communications, to reach rural and underserved communities.

Vet Center counselors and outreach staff, many of whom are Veterans themselves, are experienced and prepared to discuss the tragedies of war, loss, grief and transition after trauma. Services include Post-Traumatic Stress, Military Sexual Trauma, and bereavement counseling; marriage and family therapy; resources for suicide intervention; and assistance with VA benefits.

Veterans and family members, who are not able to stop by the Mobile Vet Center, are encouraged to call the Vet Center Call Center at 1-877-WAR VETS (1.877.927.8387). This is an around-the-clock, free, confidential call center where Veterans and their families can call to talk about their military experience or any other issue they are facing in their readjustment to civilian life.

For more information or to schedule a visit, contact the Midland Vet Center at (432) 697-8222, located at 4400 N. Midland Dr, Suite 540, Midland, TX 79707 and open Monday – Friday from 7 a.m. - 5:30 p.m.

Veterans in crisis, or friends and family concerned about one, can always connect with caring, qualified responders at VA's Veterans Crisis Line: 1-800-273-8255, text 838255, or www.veteranscrisisline.net.

Vet Center Mission Statement:

To welcome home and honor those who served, those still serving, and their families by reaching out to them, engaging their communities and providing them with quality readjustment counseling and timely referral.

Howard County Bowl set to kick off high-school football in Texas

By JORDAN PARR
Sports Editor

BIG SPRING — Forsan and Coahoma prepare to square off to start the 2019 high-school football season in the sixth annual Howard County Bowl. The two local teams will get the 2019 season under way at Memorial Stadium, located on the Howard College campus in Big Spring, August 30 at 7:30 p.m.. The series between the two programs is led by Coahoma at three games to two with Coahoma winning the first Howard County bowl followed by consecutive wins by Forsan and then Coahoma taking back to back games and the trophy last year.

The Howard County Bowl was born from a rivalry that outgrew either teams home venue and eventually led to this awesome opportunity for these two programs to be front and center of the local football landscape. As the game has grown so have the scope and scale of the scholarships offered to not only the players but to the bands, cheerleaders, athletic trainers, and any other students involved with the game. This year the Howard County Bowl has raised over $100,000 dollars in scholarships from local businesses to help recipients be able to take that next step in their academic development.

From a more football focused perspective this is an opportunity for two young teams with a lot to prove to get a big win under their belts early as they both try to build towards a post season birth later this year.

"It's great for both our programs. Kids get an opportunity to get the ex-posure and attention that most 2A and 3A schools don't get, especially this early in the season," Coach Phillips said.

As great a rivalry as this is, you won't find two other programs that get along any better or respect each other more than these two do. Coaches from both staffs have coached or worked together over the years and there is nothing but mutual respect between our two programs.

"If we are in the business of helping kids, which we are, then nothing helps these kids more than being able to help them get scholarships and have opportunities in the next phase of their lives," Coach Joslin said.

With both young teams coming into the game with a lot to prove and a lot of ambitions for their respective seasons this game promises to be the same type of smash mouth competitive matchup people have come to expect from the Howard County Bowl.

T-Shirts are available, donations are still being accepted. The community is encouraged to come out to help kick off the season and support the sixth annual Howard County Bowl.

Minor strikes out 7 in 7 innings, Rangers beat Indians 1-0

By BRIAN DULIK
Associated Press

CLEVELAND — All-Star Mike Minor and the Texas Rangers finally exhaled after the trade deadline. They haven't lost since catching their breath. Minor struck out seven over seven innings — allowing one runner to reach third base — and combined with Jesse Chavez and Jose Leclerc to shut down the Cleveland Indians 1-0 Monday night.

Nomar Mazera drove in Elvis Andrus with a sacrifice fly in the fourth, providing all the offense the Rangers needed to extend their win streak to five and remain on the periphery of the American League wild card race.

"We didn't know what was going to happen, so now that the deadline is in the past, we know this is the team we're going to have," said Minor, the subject of many trade rumors. "Before, we thought some guys would be gone, but since then, we kind of came together a little more and we're just going out to play baseball."

Minor (10-6), a first-time All-Star at age 31, allowed seven hits and walked one in winning his second post-deadline start. The left-hander is 3-0 in eight career appearances against Cleveland, giving up a lone run in 23 1/3 innings.

The Indians, who are 37-16 since June 4, fell four games behind AL Central-leading Minnesota.

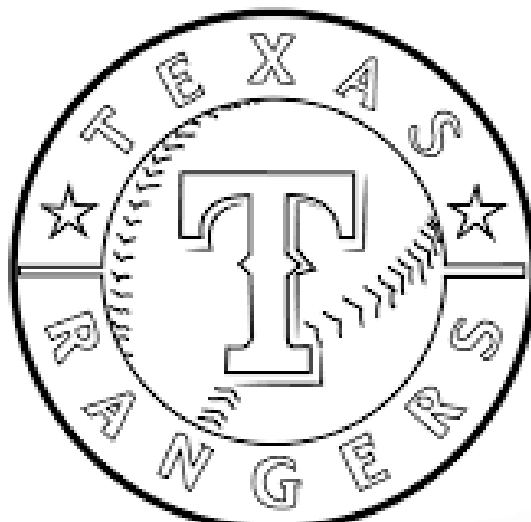

"I thought Minor did everything well and we kind of caught him at his best," Cleveland manager Terry Francona said. "He could elevate, he could spin the ball back to the back foot of the right-handed hitters and he had a changeup. We caught him on a bad night."

Andrus led off the fourth with a triple, coming home a batter later when Mazera flew out to short center. He easily beat the bouncing throw home from rookie Oscar Mercado.

Chavez worked a 1-2-3 eighth and Leclerc pitched the ninth for his seventh save, stranding José Ramírez at third base after his leadoff double off the chalk in right. Leclerc retired Tyler Naquin, Jason Kipnis and Franmil Reyes to end the threat.

"That's a big one for Jose and I think he'll sleep good tonight because that's his first real save opportunity since (regaining the closer job)," Texas manager Chris Woodward said. "Obviously, this is a big series for us and we want to see if we can get back in this thing."

Indians right-hander Aaron Civale (1-1), recalled from Triple-A Columbus before the game, allowed one run and three hits in six innings and struck out seven in his second big league appearance. He tossed six scoreless frames against Detroit on June 22.

Andrus went 2 for 4, raising his average at Progressive Field to a ballpark-record .417. His .370 career average over 72 games against the Indians ranks second behind Nomar Garciaparra's .374.

"We're just battling, man, the way we scratched and clawed," Woodward said. "Their guy pitched pretty well, but obviously, Elvis legging out a triple and Maz hitting a sac fly is what it came down to.

That was good. We needed that."

Reyes struck out in his first two at-bats, giving him six whiffs in a row dating to Sunday. Jordan Luplow exited with a right hamstring cramp after stealing third in the seventh, when Cleveland had runners on first and third, but failed to score.

COOKIE MONSTER

Indians RHP Carlos Carrasco, who was diagnosed with chronic myeloid leukemia on June 2, is scheduled to throw bullpen sessions Wednesday and Saturday. "I think we all hope he can come back and pitch for us, but saying anything else isn't fair to him," Francona said.

CHANGE OF PLANS

Rangers 3B Isiah Kiner-Falefa started at the spot for the third time in four days, which will be his primary job going forward. Kiner-Falefa exclusively played catcher prior to Friday. "We're thinking he will catch once every 10 days," Woodward said.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Rangers RHP Shawn Kelley (right biceps soreness) was slated to throw live batting practice Monday for Triple-A Nashville. If all goes well, the closer will join the team in Cleveland to be evaluated Tuesday. Kelley was placed on the injured list on July 22.

Indians: RHP Dan Otero (right shoulder soreness), who has been on the injured list since May 31, will begin a minor league rehabilitation assignment Tuesday at Triple-A Columbus. He has appeared in 20 games, posting a 4.56 ERA without a decision.

UP NEXT

Rangers: RHP Ariel Jurado (6-6, 4.92 ERA) will start on six days rest in his first career outing against Cleveland. He went 1-3 with a 6.99 ERA in six July appearances.

Indians: RHP Zach Plesac (6-3, 3.41 ERA) has won three straight starts and leads AL rookies with a .215 opponent batting average. He is 4-1 with a 3.51 ERA at home.

Art Briles back on field in Texas, not talking about Baylor

By STEPHEN HAWKINS

AP Sports Writer

MOUNT VERNON, Texas — Art Briles was back at his roots Monday, coaching a high football team in Texas after a season in Italy and more than three years after the two-time Big 12 champion coach was fired by Baylor in the wake of a sexual assault scandal.

Briles is now coaching at Mount Vernon, a school just off Interstate 30 in East Texas between Dallas and the Arkansas line. He last coached high school 20 years ago, after winning four state championships in Stephenville, which is located on the other side of Dallas.

"I knew there was a yes out there somewhere because I found a lot of nos. But I was just thankful that the yes was here," Briles said. "Honestly that's why I went to Italy, because it was really the first opportunity that I had. It really didn't matter to me where it was at. It's just if there's a ball that looks funny, I want to be on the field with it."

While expressing his gratitude about being home in Texas, where all of his coaching career has been except for the time in Italy, the 63-year-old Briles didn't discuss in depth his time at Baylor or departure from the school.

Attorneys Darrell Barger and Ernest Cannon said in a written statement handed out before Briles' post-practice availability that he "understands and appreciates the public's interest in what occurred at Baylor University." But they said Briles is a defendant in a civil lawsuit brought against him in July 2018 related to 2014 incidents "that the plaintiff alleges were physical (non-sexual) assault by her former boyfriend."

At practice in the Texas heat, Briles was upbeat as he tried to teach his new team — not knowing many of their names — the passing offense he has had such success with through the years. He said the kids "were unbelievable" though they certainly weren't ready to play a game. They have some time before the season opener Aug. 30 on the road.

Briles was hired by Mount Vernon on a two-year contract in May, after the school's previous coach left for his alma mater. Briles was still in Italy when he was initially contacted about the possibility by a woman from Mount Vernon who once worked with him at Baylor.

"I've been doing this a long time. If this is the last dance, I'm good with it. I was good with Italy being the last dance," said Briles, who acknowledged he knew nothing about Mount Vernon before that call. "Goose egg, I mean, actually zero."

Before that, Briles hadn't been able to land a job in coaching in the United States since being let go by Baylor, though the coach said Monday that he had "three or four opportunities" in late February. Briles didn't elaborate, other than to say they were in Texas.

Southern Mississippi coach Jay Hopson wanted to hire Briles as offensive coordinator in February, but the school's athletic director quashed the idea. He was hired as an assistant by Hamilton in the Canadian Football League in 2017, but after public backlash the Tiger-Cats quickly rescinded the move.

"This deal just happened. I had opportunities this spring that I didn't take because I was in Italy, so I kind of just thought I'd go back over in Europe next year. Because it's not a bad deal," he said. "They love football and you play it 10 months out of the year, which I love. And the game is pretty pure. The players play because they love the game."

Briles was let go at Baylor after an external investigation revealed in May 2016 that the school had for years mishandled numerous sexual assault allegations by students, including some against football players. The Pepper Hamilton firm's investigation found at least 17 women who reported being sexually assaulted by 19 football players.

Briles has insisted he did not cover up reports of assaults by players.

Baylor, which is still waiting for the outcome of an NCAA investigation into the school's conduct, declined comment Monday night.

Along with the statement Barger and Cannon handed out a copy of a May 2017 letter from Baylor's general counsel that the attorneys say is "a letter of exoneration from wrongdoing in any sexual assault case."

The attorneys also cited in their statement a 115-page independent investigation by Title IX consultants Margolis-Healy in September 2014 citing no such failings in the football program, but identifying "problems within Baylor's campus safety leadership."

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Uranus and the Intelligence Iceberg

ARIES (March 21-April 19). A belief might be life-changing, but who knows? Its power is all potential power; its reality theoretical. In other words, it's not in reality. Action is what matters. Make your move.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You will be visited by a muse, either your regular trusty inspiration source or a new spring of effervescence. Either way, capture the moment. These don't come along every day.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). How self-directed are you? However you'd rate yourself previously, you'll raise it up a few percentage points now as you'll notice that the best actions to take today will be the ones you order up for yourself.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). It is easy to undervalue your own skill set when no one around you understands what you do. It helps matters to work on skills that cross over into many areas, such as social skills.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). In situations unknown, you tend to take the lead. The best move, however, will be to check the group to see if there's anyone who knows more than you do about how to proceed. If not, go for it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You'll come across situations that are best to blow by like the breeze. You'll learn through observation, not involvement. When you're not sure you can make things better, the graceful way is to leave no trace.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Don't help people who don't value your help. It does no one any good. Your efforts are wasted in this regard because people don't take help that they didn't pay for in some way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You may not feel important to the action today, but your behavior proves otherwise. The one who follows through on an instinct to protect and care for others is strong, powerful and built to lead.

By HOLIDAY MATHIS

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). People feel your absence. When you're not participating, they wonder where you are, what you're doing, who you're with. Check in, if only to stop them from obsessing.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). You'll summon your courage and do the thing you were afraid to do. This will feel good, somewhere between relief and liberation. The world is a more exciting place when you feel like you can affect it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Unless you've taken a vow to obey orders and follow instructions, you'd do well to second-guess and analyze the commands issued in your direction. Does the order-barker really know what's going on?

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). There are those who provide tension just to watch people strain under it. It lets them know they are in charge. If people aren't suffering, they don't feel powerful. Be aware. This is their move. Now, what's yours?

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Aug. 6). A theme emerges having to do with a vivid awareness of living. You'll figure out exactly what's needed for you to feel joyously alive. Vitality often hinges on your environment and the people around you, or, as the case may be, not around you. You need quite a lot of solo time for reflection and growth. Libra and Sagittarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 7, 20, 1, 28 and 27.

Annie's Mailbox

Picture Causing Worry

Dear Annie: Recently, I got married after being single and a widow for 23 years. My husband and I are in our late 70s and very active. We went on a tour to the Midwest. There was a very attractive 70-plus woman with whom I noticed my husband flirting, and she with him. I mentioned that I did not appreciate the attention he was throwing her way, and he assured me it was all in fun.

He later needed help with the photos on his phone. As I was helping him, there was a picture of her and her alone. Not in a group. I questioned him as to why he had a picture of her in his phone, and his response was that he didn't know how it got there. He said it must have been a mistake.

He has assured me that he loves me and is not interested in anyone else. I can't seem to get this out of my head. I have prayed on this but to no avail. I thank you in advance for any advice you have on how to handle this situation. I cannot let it go. -- Worried About Wandering Eyes

Dear Worried: It is understandable that you would question why your husband had a single picture of the woman that you thought he was flirting with. Expressing your jealousy is OK if done in a productive and matter-of-fact way. If you allow your jealousy to fester, it will only torment you. As William Penn said: "The jealous are troublesome to others but a torment to themselves."

You have a choice in regards to the picture: You can choose to believe him -- that it just got there -- or you can call him out. And perhaps you don't mind if he looks or even flirts a little with another woman, but it's the lying that really bothers you. Looking and not touching, or even flirting a little, with someone might be acceptable, but lying about it is a much bigger problem. It is the cover-up that creates the most problems. Your husband would be much better served if he just said sorry for taking her picture and reassured you that he only has eyes for you.

Dear Annie: I've struggled with an assortment of mental health issues since I was a child. It took me a long time to accept that I needed help -- not just therapy, but medication. The thought of depending on a pill to feel "normal" made me cringe.

I'm sure it's an anxiety a lot of other people share, so I'd like to offer a bit of wisdom from someone who's been through it (and is still going through it): Taking medication for your mental health is no different than taking ibuprofen for a headache. When something's off in your body chemistry -- the brain is a part of the body, after all -- medicine is there to help. I remind myself how lucky I am to live in an age where this advanced medicine exists, albeit more accessible to some than others. I also started referring to my medication as my "vitamins"; it's helped me let go of the stigma I used to feel.

Another bit of wisdom from my psychiatrist: No one's symptoms fit one diagnosis perfectly. Stop thinking of your health in terms of a single label; human beings are more complex than that. Labels are for convenience, for helping us communicate.

At the end of the day, we each need to prioritize our well-being over whatever internal or social hurdles may be in the way. -- Chemically Rebalanced and Thriving

Dear Thriving: Thank you for sharing your story. I always love to hear success stories, and I admire your courage in seeking help and speaking out.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Opening lead — queen of spades.

Many deals offer declarer a choice of several lines of play. While it may not always be clear which approach is the best of the lot, it shouldn't be too difficult to decide which is the worst.

Today's deal from a duplicate game is of this type. At every table, South wound up in three notrump, and West led the queen of spades after having overcalled in spades.

At some tables, declarer won the first trick and immediately tried a spade, and it was then just a matter of time before West gained the lead with the ace of hearts to cash his spades and set the contract.

Other declarers decided that since at least one heart trick would be needed to score nine tricks, hearts should be attacked before clubs. This would force West to take the ace of hearts before his spades became established.

So these declarers won the first spade, crossed to the dummy with a diamond, led the ten of hearts and let it ride, hoping East had the queen. West took the ace and returned a spade, but South was now in full control. Even though the club finesse lost, East was out of spades and had to return another suit. A repeat of the heart finesse then brought declarer to nine tricks — two spades, two hearts, two diamonds and three clubs.

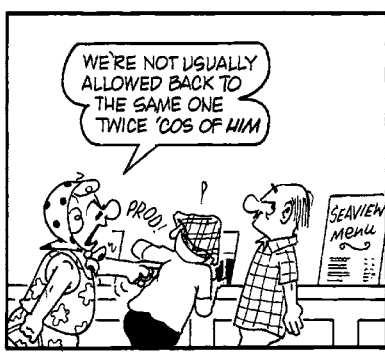

Yet another variation saw some declarers duck the first spade lead entirely, win the spade continuation and then try the club finesse. East won but could not return a spade, so declarer had time to finesse East for the queen of hearts. West took the heart with the ace, but since South still had a spade stopper, these declarers also finished with nine tricks.

The relative merits of the second and third lines of play may be debatable, but one thing is certain: Those who chose the first line, making no effort whatsoever to defuse the threat of West's spades, clearly adopted the worst approach.

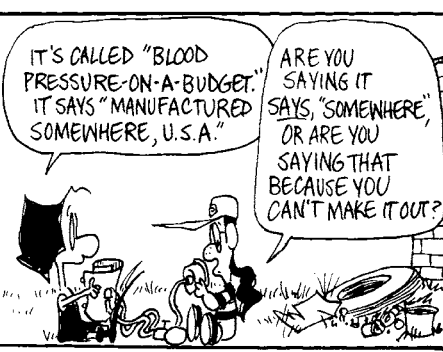

Tomorrow: The scissors coup.

This Date In History

Today in History
Today is Tuesday, Aug. 6, the 218th day of 2019. There are 147 days left in the year.
Today's Highlight in History: On August 6, 1965, President Lyndon B. Johnson signed the Voting Rights Act.
On this date:
In 1806, the Holy Roman Empire went out of existence as Emperor Francis II abdicated.
In 1809, one of the leading literary figures of the Victorian era, poet Alfred, Lord Tennyson, was born in Somersby, Lincolnshire, England.
In 1890, Cy Young gained the first of his 511 major league victories as he pitched the Cleveland Spiders to a win over the Chicago Colts (however, the score is a matter of dispute, with some sources saying 6-1, and others saying 8-1).
In 1911, actress-comedian Lucille Ball was born in Jamestown, New York.
In 1914, Austria-Hungary declared war against Russia and Serbia declared war against Germany.
In 1926, Gertrude Ederle became the first woman to swim the English Channel, arriving in Kingsdown, England, from France in 14 1/2 hours.
In 1942, Queen Wilhemina of the Netherlands became the first reigning queen to address a joint meeting of Congress, telling lawmakers that despite Nazi occupation, her people's motto remained, "No surrender."
In 1945, during World War II, the U.S. B-29 Superfortress Enola Gay dropped an atomic bomb code-named "Little Boy" on Hiroshima, Japan, resulting in an estimated 140,000 deaths. (Three days later, the United States exploded a nuclear device over Nagasaki; five days after that, Imperial Japan surrendered.)
In 1961, Soviet cosmonaut Gherman Titov became the second man to orbit Earth as he flew aboard Vostok 2; his call sign, "Eagle," prompted his famous declaration: "I am Eagle!"
In 1978, Pope Paul VI died at Castel Gandolfo at age 80.
In 1986, William J. Schroeder (SHRAY'-dur) died at Humana Hospital-Audubon in Louisville, Kentucky, after living 620 days with the Jarvik 7 artificial heart.

In 1991, the World Wide Web made its public debut as a means of accessing webpages over the Internet. TV newsman Harry Reasoner died in Norwalk, Connecticut, at age 68.
In 2013, U.S. Army Maj. Nidal Malik Hasan went on trial at Fort Hood, Texas, charged with killing 13 people and wounding 32 others in a 2009 attack. (Hasan, who admitted carrying out the attack, was convicted and sentenced to death.)
Ten years ago: Sonia Sotomayor was confirmed as the first Hispanic Supreme Court justice by a Senate vote of 68-31. John Hughes, 59, Hollywood's youth movie director of the 1980s and '90s, died in New York City.
Five years ago: President Barack Obama closed a three-day U.S.-Africa summit in Washington which brought together leaders from more than 50 African nations. Michael Worthington was put to death by the state of Missouri for raping and killing college student Melinda "Mindy" Griffin in 1995, making him the first U.S. prisoner executed since a lethal injection in Arizona the previous month in which an inmate took nearly two hours to die.
One year ago: Twin Northern California wildfires grew to become the largest wildfire in state history, burning more than 440 square miles north of San Francisco. A set of U.S. sanctions against Iran that had been eased by the Obama administration under the terms of the 2015 nuclear deal went back into effect. Former Nevada governor and U.S. senator Paul Laxalt, who was a close ally to Ronald Reagan, died at the age of 96.
Today's Birthdays: Children's performer Ella Jenkins is 95. Actor-director Peter Bonerz is 81. Actress Louise Sorel is 79. Actor Michael Anderson Jr. is 76. Actor Ray Buktenica is 76. Actor Dorian Harewood is 69. Actress Catherine Hicks is 68. Rock singer Pat MacDonald (Timbuk 3) is 67. Country musician Mark DuFresne (Confederate Railroad) is 66. Actress Stephanie Kramer is 63. Actress Faith Prince is 62. Rhythm-and-blues singer Randy DeBarge is 61.

Actor Leland Orser is 59. Actress Michelle Yeoh (yoh) is 57. Country singers Patsy and Peggy Lynn are 55. Basketball Hall of Famer David Robinson is 54. Actor Jeremy Ratchford is 54. It's football time again in Howard County

Left: Steers' Head Football Coach Cannon McWilliams sets the tone before the Steers take the field Monday morning for their first workout of the 2019 season. Steers will scrimmage Fort Stockton and Lubbock Monterey before opening the season at Greenwood. Right: New Big Spring Steer Defensive Coordinator Coach Brad Harmon encourages his linebackers in a defensive drill on the first day of practice. Coach Harmon understands the importance of a fast and aggressive defense, coming to Big Spring after serving as Defensive Coordinator for Monahans the last five seasons.

With the weather getting hot and the school year looming, everybody in West Texas knows what that means....It's FOOTBALL TIME! Coahoma got their season underway with their Midnight Madness workout on Sunday night and the Steers got underway on Monday. There are a lot of changes from last year to this one with all of the local teams, from personnel to coaching staffs, but one thing that remains constant is the desire and will to be better than they were before. As Forsan and Coahoma prepare to square off in the Howard County Bowl, Big Spring moves into a new era with Head Coach

Cannon McWilliams at the helm. With all three local teams coming off disappointing seasons just a year ago, there is certainly an intensity and drive in all of these teams as they start the new season.

Coach Alex Orocco directs several Coahoma Bulldog players through defensive drills. It was a late Sunday night/early Monday morning start for the Coahoma Bulldogs players and coaching staff. The football team held its first practice at 12:01 a.m. Monday to officially kick off the preseason.

Host an Exchange Student Today!

(for 3, 5 or 10 months)

Victoria from Australia, 17 yrs. Enjoys spending time with her family and younger siblings. Victoria plays volleyball and is excited to learn new sports while in America.

Giorgio from Italy, 16 yrs. Loves to play baseball and spend time with his dogs. Giorgio also plays the guitar, and his dream is to join a drama club at his American high school.

Make a lifelong friend from abroad.

Enrich your family with another culture. Now you can host a high school exchange student (girl or boy) from France, Germany, Scandinavia, Spain, Australia, Japan, Brazil, Italy or other countries. Single parents, as well as couples with or without children, may host. Contact us ASAP for more information or to select your student.
