City council to hold tax, budget public hearings Tuesday evening

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

Your final chance to sound off about the City of Big Spring's proposed 2019-2020 tax rate at a Public Hearing is this evening.

The second Public Hearing on the tax rate – as well as a Public Hearing on the 2019-2020 budget – will be held at the beginning of the regular City Council meeting, to be held at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday in the City Council Chambers, 307 S. Fourth St.

The council will also vote on the first reading of ordinances adopting the new tax rate and budget.

The rate proposed at the Aug. 13 council meeting was 74.3800 cents per $100 valuation. That rate is listed in the agenda and in the proposed tax rate ordinance, but a memorandum from City Finance Director Donald Moore to the mayor, council and city manager lists a rate of 74.2800 cents per $100 as the "Proposed Rate Option."

The memo gives sample motions for adoption of the tax rate, including the proposed rate, an "effective rate option" of 70.2176 cents per $100 valuation – the rate needed to collect the same amount of tax revenue as the city did this year – and "Other tax rate option which is above effective rate of 70.2176 cents" – with blanks for the councilperson making the motion to fill in with a desired rate.

The proposed ordinance lists the portion of the tax rate for Maintenance and Operation as 61.3511 cents per $100, and the rate for debt service as 13.0289 cents per $100.

The proposed budget is not listed in the meeting's agenda.

In other business, the city council will:

- Consider on first reading an ordinance granting a partial residence homestead exemption for Tax Year 2019;
 - Consider on first reading an ordinance adding a 20 percent penalty to delinquent property taxes to defray costs of collection;
 - Consider on first reading an ordinance establishing the Fire Department pay scale for 2019-2020;
 - Consider on first reading a resolution authorizing the city to continue to receive a share of Bingo prize fees;
 - Consider approval of the investment report for the quarter ending June 30, 2019;
 - Discuss and deliberate on the deployment or specific occasions for implementation of security personnel or devices;
 - Discuss and deliberate on the duties of the mayor and councilmembers.

County to hold tax rate public hearing Monday evening

By ROGER CLINE
 Staff Writer

Howard County Commissioners will hold a Public Hearing on the county's proposed 2019-2020 tax rate at 5:30 p.m. Monday. The meeting will be held in the third-floor courtroom of the Howard County Courthouse, 300 S. Main St.

The proposed tax rate, set at the August 21 Commissioners' Court meeting, is 30.3165 cents per $100 valuation, which is at the rollback rate for the current year – the maximum rate that can be approved without triggering an automatic rollback election. The rate is slightly lower than the current year's rate of 32.8024 cents per $100 valuation, but due to increased property values, is projected to bring in more money that the county collected during 2018-2019.

There will be a second Public Hearing Sept. 13, while the commissioners will vote to finalize the tax rate on Sept. 18.

If you would like to address the commissioners regarding the tax rate during the Public Hearing, plan to arrive early to complete and hand in a brief form alerting the commissioners of your intent to speak.

Heritage Museum Lecture Series #30:

Hitler Becomes Chancellor of Germany

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

The 30th lecture in the series, "Events that Changed History" brings us to the rise of Hitler. Is there a more evil figure in history? We have studied quite a few of them during this lecture series, including Stalin.

Although Hitler was born to German parents, he was actually born in Austria on April 20, 1889. He had no interest in school and dropped out as a teenager. He went to Vienna where he spent a lot of his time reading and painting, all while developing a deep hatred of the Jews.

Germans believed themselves to be amongst the favored races. This was taught by many professors in universities across Germany. Many Germans believed German people must be "purified" by the removal of other races, and believed the Jews, in particular, were the source of many problems in Germany.

Hitler was living in Munich when World War I began. He served in the German army. As he was recovering from a gas attack in a hospital, Hitler learned that Germany had lost the war. German soldier returning home spread the myth that Jewish socialist politicians had stabbed the Germans in the

Eula May (Granny) McDaniel

Eula May (Granny) McDaniel left this world for her eternal home in Heaven on Friday, Sept. 6, 2019.

She was born Sept. 19, 1930, in Big Spring, Texas, to Clarence and Pauline Todd; she grew up in Big Spring, graduating from Big Spring High School in 1948. After graduating from high school, she went to work for Southwestern Bell Telephone, later becoming a part of AT&T, and remained in that employ for 38 years, retiring in August 1986. After retiring, she began babysitting for family friends becoming "Granny" to so many.

Throughout her life, she was always proud that she was a member of one of the early farming/ranching families in Howard County, as her grandfather, A C Brigance, along with his brothers, homesteaded large areas of farm and ranch land in northern Howard County. A big part of her life, and something that was very dear to her heart, was Trinity Baptist Church. Her family helped establish the church, in 1934, and she was baptized into the church on Easter Sunday 1938; at the time of her death, she was the oldest, and only remaining, original member of the church.

Eula May is survived by her son, Lowell (Sherrie) of Monahans, Texas; and her daughter, Roxie (Matthew), of Midland Texas; four grandchildren, Brandee McDaniel of Monahans, Bryan (Mandy) McDaniel of Melissa, Texas, Melody McDaniel-Blair, of Fort Worth, Texas, and Kyle Blair of Big Spring; and three great-grandchildren: Allyson, Laykin, and Blaine. She is also survived by her sister-in-law, Colleen Todd, of Midland; and numerous nieces, nephews, and cousins. She was preceded in death by her parents, Clarence and Pauline Todd; and her brother, Ray Todd.

Funeral services will be 10 a.m. Wednesday, Sept. 11, at Myers & Smith Funeral Home, in Big Spring, followed by a graveside service and interment at Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Family will receive friends from 6 to 8 p.m., Tuesday evening, at Myers & Smith Funeral Home.

Pall bearers are Keith Newton, Kyle Newton, Austen Newton, Andrew Newton, Dustin Hall, and David Cristiani. Honorary pall bearers are Ernie McDaniel, Kelby Olivarez, Trey Brumley, Nathan Bradshaw, and Rolando Ortiz.

The family would like to thank Dr. Manish Dimri and staff; Bill, Lettie, Nellie and staff at Nurses Unlimited; and the staff at Hospice of Midland for all the wonderful care they provided for Mom/Granny.

In lieu of flowers, she wished for contributions to be made to the Trinity Baptist Mission Fund.

back. The Germans were humiliated as they had to pay large reparations and as large portions of the German territory was taken away.

Hitler used this opportunity to start spreading his message that Jewish people were at fault for all of Germany's woes. He joined the National German Socialist Workers Party and sought to become its leader, its Fuhrer. Hitler discovered he had a gift for speaking.

Hitler was imprisoned in 1923 when he failed at his military takeover of the Nazi Party. When he was released, he returned to the Nazi party, which had grown into a very powerful force, but infighting caused the repeated collapse of the government. Public distrust of government officials grew and would eventually ruin Germany.

When the Depression began in 1929, 30 percent of Germans were unemployed. Politicians did nothing to address this problem. Hitler was able to convince many businesses that his main concern was the preservation of capitalism, and money started pouring into the Nazi Party. And thus began the reign of Hitler.

Opening lead — five of hearts.
Brilliances at the bridge table nearly always occur in the post-mortem, after the players have become aware of the layout of the deal. Brilliances actually made during the play — without benefit of a peek — are rare birds indeed.

In today's deal, however, West, Peter Weichsel made a truly brilliant play to defeat a slam that appeared certain to succeed.

Had Weichsel not led a heart against the slam, 12 tricks would have been easy. Declarer could win any other lead, draw trump and concede a diamond to the king, scoring five spades, four diamonds, two clubs and a heart.

It might appear that even with the heart lead, South should prevail. He can take the first heart, cash the diamond ace, cross to the king of spades and lead the queen of diamonds, discarding a heart after East plays low. West wins and returns a heart, but South ruffs, draws trump and later discards three clubs on the J-10-9 of diamonds to make the slam.

And that is no doubt what would have happened against a lesser mortal, but Weichsel, one of the world's top players, found a diabolical counterplay. When declarer, following the aforementioned line of play, led the queen of diamonds from dummy at trick four and discarded a heart on it, Weichsel did not take his king!

South naturally continued with dummy's jack, discarding a club after East again followed low, but this time Weichsel took his king and returned a diamond for East to ruff. Declarer overruffed, of course, but in the process one of his diamond tricks had gone up in smoke.

He discarded a second club on dummy's remaining diamond, but in the end he was forced to try a club finesse for his 12th trick. When Weichsel turned up with the queen, the "unbeatable" slam was down one.

Mars, Saturn and Selfies

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You accepted a role knowing that you wouldn't play it like most people do. There are expected behaviors that come along with the territory, but you'll enact them your own way and elevate the role.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The No. 1 goal somehow got shuffled back behind a lot of less important but more obvious things. Think of a way to give your top priority more presence in your line of sight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Opportunity is one of the best things you can give another person. It's far better than handing over an end result, which would be robbing a person of the journey, and that is the fun part.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Changing even one part of your team will affect the whole dynamic. To add, subtract or substitute anything in even the least influential part of the mix would still make everything different.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Others have learned the hard way so you don't have to. You'll read, study and observe so that when you do make mistakes they will not have been avoidable or redundant ones.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). To have this love in your life, whatever form it takes (and sometimes you believe that form to be far from ideal) is a major gift that you'll feel very appreciative of today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). You could face the problem head on, though perhaps a strategic side-step is in order. This is not a move of weakness, but a decision to conserve your strength for a worthwhile purpose.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You don't have to believe in reincarnation to realize that one person can have many incarnations in a lifetime, usually each incrementally different from the last. Distrust total turn-arounds in people you didn't trust to begin with.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). An inexplicable sense of anticipation takes hold. Though you may not be able to think of anything in particular that would make you so excited, your subconscious knows when something good is coming.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Feelings are a natural processing response for the stimulus of life. Things to remember: They are, by nature, not right or wrong. They are, by nature, designed to keep you safe by cave-man standards.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You're worried that others are going through challenges, but you never worry that about yourself. If you did, what would you do for yourself? Do it today.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). When a person doesn't respond, it's usually because they either don't know what the appropriate response would be or don't know what their next move should be. You've been the nonresponsive one before, and you might be again today.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Sept. 9). You will see a world of strange beauty. You will know what it's like to be unknown and to be known too well. Breathing Bothers

Dear Annie: My husband of 42 years discovered a new way of breathing, and it has made me scared to death. I am afraid that he might die in his sleep.

"Charles" had asthma and allergies in his childhood, and he was prescribed all kinds of medication. He mostly outgrew his asthma as an adult, though he would frequently get terrible allergies and take various forms of antihistamines, usually prescribed by his doctor.

But a year ago, someone at his office was talking about the "Buteyko Breathing Technique," which basically means taking shallow breaths through the nose. It seems that this technique was discovered in the Ukraine years ago and was used to treat people in Russia with asthma and allergies -- mainly children -- and to help them get off medications.

My husband checked on the internet and on YouTube and found all kinds of advice about breathing through your nose, not your mouth. In fact, he even bought a book about it called something like, "Shut Your Mouth."

My concern is at night because he puts a piece of tape over his mouth before he falls asleep, and he sleeps the entire night with that tape on. I am afraid that if his nasal passages were to clog up, and he didn't know it, he could actually suffocate in his sleep. I have told Charles this, but he only laughs, saying there is no way. He says that if he couldn't breathe, at all he would rip the tape off. He reminded me of the two times that he had to cough in his sleep, and he woke up and ripped the tape off. After coughing, he put a new piece of tape over his mouth. The product that he uses is called "cloth tape," which he buys at the local pharmacy.

He says that he almost never needs an antihistamine because his allergies rarely act up. When they do, he takes medication, but that is only once or twice a year, while before all this he was taking one or two pills a day.

I asked our doctor about it, and she said breathing through the nose is a good idea because the nasal passages filter out germs, but she added that she had never heard of anyone taping their mouth shut to sleep. She did not seem concerned, but she's not married to the guy. -- Holding My Breath

Dear Holding My Breath: Relax. Your husband won't suffocate in his sleep. Given a choice between mouth breathing and nasal breathing, many experts recommend nasal breathing for the reason your doctor stated. The fact that your husband has been able to cut way back on his medications is a good sign, as is your doctor not having concerns.

We breath through our nose or mouth; those are our only two options. Normally, when people think of calming down, they say, "Take a deep breath," and most people would do so by breathing through the nose and out the mouth.

Shallow breathing through the nose is an interesting concept. If any other readers have tried this and experienced good or bad results, I'd love to hear about it.
