Commissioners Court meetings now on alternate Mondays

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

The Howard County Commissioners Court changed its meeting day. Starting this week, the court will begin meeting alternate Monday afternoons at 3:30 p.m. This is a change from the previous schedule, when the commissioners met on alternate Wednesdays at 3:30.

This week, the commissioners will hold a workshop in the second-floor conference room at the courthouse, 300 S. Main St., at 3 p.m., to consider nominations for Howard County Appraisal District board member.

The commissioners will then move to the third-floor courtroom of the courthouse to hold their regular session, which will start at 3:30 p.m.

On the agenda for the meeting, the commissioners will consider proclaiming National Adoption Day in Howard County. The movement, which seeks to raise awareness about adoption issues – including more than 123,000 children nationwide waiting to be adopted from foster care in the United States – will be observed throughout the United States in November, with Nov. 23 being the date of the official observance, according to the movement's website at nationaladoptionday.org.

During the meeting, the commissioners will also consider action on a resolution regarding auxiliary facilities for Child Protective Court in conjunction with National Adoption Day.

In other business, the commissioners will:

- Discuss and consider action on a memorandum of understanding between Howard County and South Plains Rural Health Services Inc.;
- Hear and consider action on a Department of Public Safety report;
- Consider a statement of agreement between West Texas Centers and Howard County;

- Consider a proposed resolution and agreement authorizing the auction of Howard County property;
- Consider renewal of the Breath Alcohol Testing Program Cooperative Agreement between Howard County and Midland College;
- Consider changes for Howard County Subdivision regulation;
- Consider proposed changes for Howard County Tax Abatement agreements;
- Consider a report from the Ports-to-Plains TXDOT Feasibility Study Advisory Committee;
- Consider action on a Seitel Permit to conduct geophysical operations on County-owned property;
- Hear and consider action on roadway maintenance updates;
- Hear and consider a request to go out for bids on materials for the Roads Department;
- Consider possible action on abandoning old County alleys;

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

Proposition No. 7: Increase public school funding?

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

Editor's note: This is the seventh in a series of stories about the 10 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on by Texans Nov. 5

Increasing funding for Texas public schools seems like a great idea, and that's exactly what Proposition 7 aims to do.

The proposition, on the ballot for the Nov. 5 election, would significantly increase the funding the General Land Office and from the State Board of Education can each transfer from the Permanent School Fund's lands and properties proceeds to the Available School Fund (ASF) each year.

Currently, the GLO is permitted to transfer $300 million into the Available School Fund, while the SBE is excluded from making transfers from the Permanent School Fund's lands and properties proceeds.

Coahoma ISD Superintendent Brad Cox spoke to the Herald regarding the funding increase.

"I think that would definitely be a good thing for us," Cox said. "I don't know of any negatives to it, personally, but I guess there could be that I'm not aware of. I think it just increases the amount that the comptroller can put into the Available Fund."

The Permanent School Fund was created in 1854 – just nine years after Texas became a state – for the purpose of investing revenue from state-owned lands, such as leasing mineral rights to oil and gas companies and grazing rights to ranchers. The Texas General Land Office, the state bureau which manages state-owned lands, transfers the revenue from activities on the lands to the SBE, which invests the revenue. Some of the interest revenue, but not the principal, is allocated to the ASF, which then distributes the funding to school districts throughout the state each year.

In 2011, voters approved a proposition giving the GLO the power to direct up to $300 million in proceeds from activities on state-owned lands to the ASF each year.

The current measure would double the GLO's maximum

NOLAN COUNTY – The Texas Department of Transportation's contractor advises motorists that a lane closure will occur next week on I-20 at FM 1230 as traffic is switched from the driving lane to the passing lane.

On Monday, Oct. 14, the concrete traffic barriers in the center of the lanes between mile marker 229 and 231 will be reset to redirect traffic for crews to upgrade the existing guard rail of the overpass. This area of construction is located between Roscoe and Loraine in Nolan County.

Motorists are advised to watch for heavy equipment as these barriers are relocated, to use caution in all construction zones and pay attention to road signs and speed limits.

Currently those bureaus are the only entities affected by the proposed amendment, but it does offer the same bite of the apple to any "...entity ... that has responsibility for the management of revenues derived from permanent school fund land or other properties...".

"As far as I know, more funding for us is probably good," Cox said. "I don't know what that would hurt or take away from, but I think it would be good for us."

America's #1 Baseball Fan

Ben Campbell of Palestine is a baseball fan. But there was a gentleman in his town who was a legendary baseball fan. Since Ben is a historian he looked into this man. His name was Hyman Pearlstone who owned a wholesale grocery business in Palestine. He was a successful businessman and a civic leader. Somehow he was able to convince the Saint Louis Browns, an American League baseball team, to hold spring practice in Palestine in 1916 and 1917.

The players arrived by train and carried their own equipment and luggage to the Redlands Hotel that was near the railroad tracks. They walked to their ball field that was a mile and a quarter away from the hotel. After practice they walked back.

Mr. Pearlstone and his wife Mabel loved to travel. In October of 1905 they were in New Orleans staying at the Roosevelt Hotel. It just so happened that the Philadelphia Athletics baseball team was staying there, too. Hyman became acquainted with several of the players and one of them invited him to come to Marlin the following year to watch spring training. So he did and spent a week with the team. He met the team owner, Mr. Cornelius McGillicuddy (otherwise known as Connie Mack). The two men hit it off beautifully and became close friends. Mr. Mack invited Mr. Pearlstone to spend his vacation in Philadelphia during baseball season. He could sit in the dugout with the team and travel with the players. So Mr. Pearlstone did just that for a solid month. He sat with the team every year for 45 years.

Connie Mack had given Hyman a Philadelphia Athletics uniform complete with cap, jersey, pants, shoes, even a glove. Mr. Pearlstone wore that uniform on his train trips to Philadelphia. Once during a slump the catcher tossed his glove to Mr. Pearlstone and asked him to warm up a pitcher in the bullpen. That seemed to turn things around for the team and Mr. Pearlstone continued to warm up pitchers.

Players considered him good luck. Between 1910 and 1931 the Athletics were in 7 World Series and won 5 of them. During every world series game for 45 years, the Pearlstones were guests of Connie Mack, whether his team was playing or not. During off seasons Connie Mack went to Palestine and stayed with the Pearlstones for a month at a time. Some players even went to Palestine, opened businesses and lived out their lives there. Occasionally players would ask Mr. Pearlstone about which stocks to buy.

One of those players was Ty Cobb, whose home was in Georgia. After he retired a reporter asked him how he was going to make a living since he had spent his enormous salary every year (he was one of the highest paid players). He told the reporter "I got some advice to invest in a start up company in Atlanta called Coca Cola. That advice has made me a millionaire and I'll be able to live comfortable without my salary."

In 1909 the New York World Telegram newspaper recognized Mr. Pearlstone as America's #1 Baseball Fan. He died in 1966.

Two Rays of sunshine

Ray Hildebrand, who wrote and sang "Hey, Paula" with college classmate Jill Jackson in 1963, admits to being "older than dirt," but quickly adds that he's still "kicking up dust," despite entering his 80th year a few weeks hence.

In fact, he's "on track" to exceed the longevity of another "Ray"—this one named "Price"—who died at age 87 a half-dozen years ago after 65 years in music.

Though the two "Rays" never met, Price sang Hildebrand's, "Say I Do" on his 51st and final album, thus rejuvenating a song that was released around 1970.

Hildebrand forfeited ongoing national fame when he walked away from popular music venues within months of "Hey, Paula" release. He chose to focus on writing and singing contemporary gospel songs.

He has written some 500 songs—more than 300 published—and has chosen to appear in churches, schools, jails, care centers and Fellowship of Christian athletes' conferences throughout the country.

When he's back in Texas Nov. 1-11 for several gigs, Ray is billed as the "new and improved Hildebrand." We're not talking his music, but rather his body. Since age 75, he's acquired a pace maker, one new hip, a new knee and all new teeth.

Several years ago, Hildebrand met Price's stepmother in a most unusual way.

For 67 years, Hildebrand's late father-in-law was a Baptist pastor, much of that time at FBC Smithville, near Tyler. For many years, Ray and his late wife Judy and their two children traveled from Kansas City to Smithville twice annually to visit her parents. Ray continued to do so after Judy's death two decades ago.

During almost every visit, Ray sang a "special" at church.

On his final visit to Smithville, he arrived barely in time for church, harried from the long ride from Kansas.

He thought maybe "just this once" he wouldn't be called on for the "special." But, the song leader spotted him, inviting him "front and center" for a song.

He sang, "Say I Do" a cappella. After the service, a spindly older lady made a "beeline" to him.

"Of all my son's songs, 'Say I Do' is my favorite," she said. "You did such a good job with it." Who would have guessed Price's mom since he was age three would be a member of the tiny church?

"I'm glad you liked it," Ray said. He pressed her hand and hugged her warmly, determined NOT to "set her straight" on who wrote the song.

Heaven knows Price wrote and sang hundreds of songs, and his Cherokee Cowboys' band of the 50s and 60s included the likes of Willie Nelson, Johnny Paycheck and Roger Miller.

DON NEWBURY

"God gave me the words for 'Say I Do'," Ray maintains. One stanza goes like this: "And they say you'll never know, 'Till you walk up to that Man, And you look into those eyes of love, And you touch his nail-scarred hands, And then if you can walk away, Knowing all He died to do, That's when I'll just have to say, 'I guess He didn't die for you'."

Christian music lovers can find all the verses on "YouTube," along with numerous other Hildebrand songs, including another favorite, "Mr. Balloon Man."

His talent and Christian witness are long established. For example, he was guest soloist at five Billy Graham Crusades.

I've been privileged to know him since our student years at Howard Payne University. He's "the real deal."

Dates for Hildebrand's Texas tour this year include Nov. 1, Brownwood, Redstone Park Assisted Living Facility and HPU homecoming banquet; Nov. 4, Heritage Place Senior Living, Burleson; Nov. 7, Pioneer Drive Baptist Church, Abilene, and Albany Public Library, and Nov. 10, Lake Leon Baptist Church, Eastland, and First United Methodist Church, Cleburne.

He's sure to sing "Say I Do" at all engagements.

After all, it was Mrs. Price's favorite of all her son's songs.

Bulldogs win District opener, 29-21

By STEVE BELVIN

Herald Sports Contributor

COAHOMA - The Coahoma Bulldogs demonstrated what "shut down" defense was all about in the second half in their 29-21 win over the Idalou Wildcats Friday night in the District 2-3A opener for both teams.

The Bulldog defense stopped a speedy Idalou team cold in the last 24 minutes of the game. Yes Idalou did score a touchdown in the second half, late in the game on a beautifully executed 81-yard screen pass to Ryan Lozano. That was pretty much Idalou's offense in that half. That was after the Bulldog defense, led by the likes of Zack Schneider, Keegan Dobbs, Kolt Redden, Colin Daniels and Patrick Gutierrez, had clamped down on the Idalou offense.

Coahoma held a narrow 15-14 lead at halftime, thanks to a two-point conversion run by Sean Striegler on Coahoma's first touchdown of the game. Meanwhile the Idalou offense was stirring up trouble in the first half with its running game. The Wildcats ran for 152 yards in the first half. It could have been lots more if not for several penalties that negated the gains. In fact Idalou had a touchdown called back in the first because of holding.

The second half was a different story however. Coahoma limited Idalou to 47 yards rushing and picked off two passes in the process. One by linebacker Schneider on a passed tipped by defensive back Braxton Chandler. The other was by junior linebacker Gutierrez.

Coahoma did have misfortune on offense. Twice the Bulldogs lost fumbles and the Wildcats defense intercepted Schneider once. The fumbles came in Coahoma territory and the Coahoma defense rose up as Idalou went for it on fourth down. One time Daniels and Alejandro Gonzales, all 393 pounds of him, sacked the quarterback and another time Gutierrez made a good open field tackle on a pass play. Gutierrez also had a second half interception.

Coahoma coach Chris Joslin credited his coaching staff with Coahoma's stout second half defensive performance. "Coach Woodard (Mitchell, Coahoma defensive coordinator) and his crew did a great job making adjustments at halftime," said Joslin. "I knew we had to win the battle in the trenches to win this game. This is the first team that just came and ran right at us. It was a lot of fun and we did win the battle in the trenches."

While the defense stood the test, offensively Coahoma rode the shoulders of Schneider at quarterback, who lived up to his all-state accolades. He finished the game with 175 yards passing, completing 5-of-11 passes. His main targets were junior wide outs Striegler and Tony Hagins.

Coahoma put the game away with two short scoring runs by Schneider in the second half. Isaac Murillo also helped the cause with some hard running in the second half.

The Bulldogs, 5-1 for the season, will face a bigger test Friday when they go on the road to play Abernathy, ranked No. 4 in the state.

Dumas defeats Big Spring in shutout, 46-0

The undefeated Demons of Dumas rode into town Friday night and snuffed out the Steers, with their third shut-out in a row.

The Big Spring Varsity Football team opened the game with a will to win and good ball control, but quickly became their own worst enemy. Inability to get the ball down the field - coupled with multiple penalties in the first quarter - stopped the Steers from scoring.

Big Spring held off the Demons in the first, stopping them from putting points on the board, and we saw the Steers play some of their best ball yet this season.

In the second, Dumas swept in, took control of the game, and went on to shut out the Steers 46-0.

Scoring aside, the Steers fought hard against one of the toughest teams in the state, answering for the strength difference, with a 'never-give-up' attitude on the field. The 'Culture vs. Talent' environment created this year has appeared to keep the team mentally tough, despite a difficult start to the season.

The 1-6 Steers will take next week off with a bye, hoping to re-group and come back strong and steady with an in-conference away game against Andrews on Friday, October 25th. Kick-

Area professionals help TSTC students hone job interview skills

ABILENE, Texas - More than 20 Texas State Technical College students refined their job interview skills on Tuesday at the first Interview Practicum to be hosted at the Abilene campus.

As part of TSTC's commitment to placing students in great-paying jobs, TSTC's Career Services team hosted the event to give TSTC students the opportunity to have mock interviews with area business recruiters and professionals.

"This is our first time doing this, and we are really excited about what this can do for our students. We're helping them to put those final touches on being ready for the workforce. It's a big transition from being a student to being in the workforce, and we want to help them make that transition as confidently as possible," Julia Humphrey, TSTC director of Career Services, said.

Students interviewed with three professionals each and were given feedback on their interviews and resumes.

Joe Razza, a regional recruiter at Crown Lift Trucks in Arlington, has participated at Interview Practicum at other TSTC campuses for over three years and is excited to see it come to the Abilene campus.

"I think it adds value to the students' experience 100 percent. Students that go to schools like TSTC are coming out with great hard skills that make them important to the team, but they still need to learn to communicate better. And this helps to build up that arsenal of skill sets to really make them great employees," Razza said.

Razza said the best part of the practicum is the opportunity for students to overcome any nervousness and to ask for advice from professionals in their field.

Matthew Cade, an Industrial Systems student, participated in the interviews because he will graduate this fall and is starting to interview with potential employers.

"This was definitely helpful to get rid of some of the nerves, and I feel much more prepared on how to dress, how to act and what to say during the interview," Cade said.

The next Interview Practicum will be hosted at the Sweetwater campus on September 30.

ASU alum to be awarded Medal of Honor

Special to the Herald

U.S. Army Master Sgt. Matthew Williams, a graduate of Angelo State University, will be awarded the Medal of Honor by President Donald Trump on Oct. 30, according to a White House news release.

Sgt. Matthew Williams

The Medal of Honor is the highest U.S. military decoration and is awarded for gallantry and bravery in combat at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty.

Williams is being honored for his actions that saved the lives of four wounded soldiers and kept others from being overrun during a mission in the mountains of eastern Afghanistan that would later be called the "Battle of Shok Valley." The mission was in support of Operation Enduring Freedom.

The White House news release states:

"On April 6, 2008, while serving as a member of a Special Forces Operational Detachment Alpha 3336, Special Operations Task Force-33, assault element, then-Sergeant Williams exposed himself to insurgent fire multiple times while rescuing other members of the assault element and evacuating numerous casualties.

In the face of rocket-propelled grenade, sniper, and machine gun fire, Sergeant Williams led an Afghan Commando element across a fast-moving, ice-cold, and waist-deep river to fight its way up a terraced mountain to the besieged lead element of the assault force.

Sergeant Williams then set up a base of fire that the enemy was not able to overcome. When his Team Sergeant was wounded by sniper fire, Sergeant Williams exposed himself to enemy fire to come to his aid and to move him down the sheer mountainside to the casualty collection point.

Sergeant Williams then braved small arms fire and climbed back up the cliff to evacuate other injured soldiers and repair the team's satellite radio. He again exposed himself to enemy fire as he helped move several casualties down the near vertical mountainside and as he carried and loaded casualties on to evacuation helicopters.

Sergeant Williams's actions helped save the lives of four critically wounded Soldiers and prevented the lead element of the assault force from being overrun by the enemy."

A more detailed account of the mission, including a video account by Williams, is available at www.army.mil/medalofhonor/williams/?from=hp\_spotlight.

According to a story posted by Military.com, Williams will be just the 14th Medal of Honor recipient from the war in Afghanistan and the 10th from the U.S. Army. He would also be one of the only recipients still on active duty, as he is currently assigned to Fort Bragg, N.C.

A native of Boerne, Williams earned his bachelor's degree in criminal justice from Angelo State. He and his wife, Kate, have a son, Nolan.

Syberjet successfully completes first flight of SJ30i series aircraft in San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO - SyberJet Aircraft has successfully completed first flight of its SJ30i aircraft featuring SyberVision™, an all-new cockpit based around the Honeywell Epic 2.0 avionics suite, new ergonomic enhancements, electronic standby attitude/heading display, and much more. SyberJet conducted the flight out of its Engineering and Product Development Center at the San Antonio International Airport (KSAT) and kicked off an 18-month certification test program which will culminate in an amended type certificate for the SJ30i and immediate subsequent deliveries thereafter.

Mark Elwess, Chief Engineering Test Pilot and Senior Flight Test Engineer Robert Moehle put the aircraft through its paces during the flight. Mark comments, "We completed all of the test points planned for the first flight and got a look at how much easier the cockpit and systems are to manage with the new Honeywell Epic 2.0 cockpit. The SJ30i known as the fastest and longest ranged light jet on the market now has a cockpit to lead us into the next generation."

The SJ30i, with SyberVision™, retains all of the same performance characteristics of SyberJet's current SJ30-2 model but features four 12-inch liquid crystal displays, including the Smart-View™ synthetic vision system (SVS), INAV™ moving map display system, electronics charts/maps, TCAS II, TAWS Level A, synoptic displays, dual flight management systems (FMS) with dual WAAS GPS/LPV, single inertial navigation system (IRS), onboard weather radar, full EICAS, electronic checklists, DME, ADS-B Out, and 0.3 nm RNP, as well as support for FANS-1A, Smart-Landing™, SmartRunway™, TOLD, ADS-B In, emergency descent mode, and RVSM operations. Options include CPDLC, XM weather, flight data recorder, cockpit voice recorder, dual charts/maps, HF radio, SATCOM, enhanced vision systems, second MFD, and the flexibility for other customer requests.

"The SJ30i takes the original SJ30-2 to the next level. While it remains the fastest and longest-range jet in its class, the SJ30 now has all of the advances in cockpit and electronic design to make it simply the finest light jet available," says Mark Fairchild, Vice President of Customer Experience. He adds, "In addition, the SJ30i also features an all-new interior design in conjunction with the lowest cabin altitude of any business jet flying today to provide a bespoke experience for its passengers and crew."

Chuck Taylor, President of SyberJet commented on this momentous occasion for the SyberVision™ flight test aircraft, stating, "First flight of the SJ30i is a significant milestone for the program. Our Research and Development team and supplier partners have done a fantastic job of integrating the SyberVision™ cockpit into the proven SJ30 platform. SyberVision™ makes the fastest and longest-range light business jet in the world, the SJ30, even better."

Federal disaster declared for 6 Texas counties hit by Imelda

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas officials say a federal disaster declaration has been granted for six Southeast Texas counties that sustained severe flooding caused last month by the remnants of Tropical Storm Imelda.

Gov. Greg Abbott says the disaster declaration will help provide federal aid for residents in Chambers, Harris, Jefferson, Liberty, Montgomery, and Orange counties.

The declaration means residents can apply for individual assistance from the Federal Emergency Management Agency.

Imelda's remnants dumped more than 40 inches (102 centimeters) of rain in some spots in the days after the storm made landfall on Sept. 17. The flooding was blamed for at least five deaths.

Jefferson County Judge Jeff Branick tells the Beaumont Enterprise that his county had 6,000 flooded homes.

In Harris County, where Houston is located, over 2,500 homes were flooded.

Big Spring Junior High volleyball highlights

Special to the Herald

The Big Spring Junior High Girls A&B teams, for 7th and 8th grade, competed at San Angelo Lincoln last Thursday. Here are the highlights from the games:

7th Grade A Team:

The 7th Grade A Team brought home a hard-fought victory against San Angelo Lincoln in three sets, 25-21, 15-25, and 25-18. Jaycee Smith, CarNesha Rutledge, Ambrie Franco, and Angelica Hernandez had outstanding and consistent serves. Isis Nesbitt, Hazel Rangel, and Nevaeh Morris played great back row defense. Niomi Wines, Elena Lopez, Alondra Salgado, and CarNesha Rutledge played the net aggressively and effectively.

7th Grade B Team:

The 7th Grade B Team fought hard against San Angelo Lincoln. They were combatting being short four players due to injuries. With that being said, we pulled both 7th Grade Managers and put them on the court with the 7th Grade B Team. The team played with heart and great effort, but we fell to Lincoln in two sets, 21-25 and 15-25. The entire team did great and we could be more proud of them. The three players of the game were Chloe Deanda for many perfect sets and not missing a serve; Ava Franklin for killer serves and fighting to get to each ball; and, Quasset Woodruff for playing her heart

Delle Donne, Mystics wrap up WNBA season with first title

By DOUG FEINBERG

AP Basketball Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elena Delle Donne and the Washington Mystics capped an eventful WNBA season with the team's first championship.

A year that began with the league missing some of its top players because of injuries and rest ended with a compelling five-game championship series.

Delle Donne battled through injuries all season, a broken nose early on and then three herniated disks in her back in the Finals. None of it mattered. She wouldn't be denied her first title.

"To be on a team that could carry me when I wasn't 100 percent really means a lot to just get over this hump and to be able to push through when not feeling great," she said.

It wasn't easy.

"It took five games, took four in the semis, it took battling injuries, it took a lot of resilience, fight, heart," said Kristi Toliver, the only Mystics player to win a WNBA title before Thursday night. "We had the biggest heart all year, and we were the most focused and determined team all year, and we're just really proud of what we've done. But last year obviously certainly motivated us to be really, really focused for the season."

It helped that Finals MVP Emma Meesseman was back after missing last year to play with the Belgian national team.

"I don't think I'm the missing piece. I'm their teammate (and did what) I need to do help my team win a championship. This is my family right here," said Meesseman, who scored 22 points in Washington's 89-78 victory over the Connecticut Sun on Thursday night.

Delle Donne, a seven-year veteran and two-time MVP, came to Washington three years ago in a trade from Chicago. She grew up in Delaware, about an hour from the capital. Delle Donne sat out a year in college when she transferred in the summer before her freshman season from UConn to Delaware. She wanted to be closer to sister Lizzie, who is blind, deaf and has cerebral palsy.

"It feels phenomenal, my goodness, feels so good. Hard to put it into words," said Delle Donne, who fell short in two previous Finals appearances. "To win it with such a great group of people. We wanted to win it for the person next to us. We'll remember this season. I'm kind of sad the season's about to be over. My goodness, we sure ended this on a high note."

It was a fitting conclusion to an entertaining series and WNBA season. This was the seventh series in league history that had gone to a deciding Game 5, and the home team has won five of them.

"I think it was good for the league," Connecticut coach Curt Miller said. "It may not have been a buzzer-beater. We didn't have that kind of finish in any of the five games, but man, it was good offensive basketball, and it was laying it on the line defensively."

Coach Mike Thibault earned his first WNBA championship. The league's all-time winningest coach had reached the Finals three times in his career — twice with Connecticut and last season with Washington — but fell short each time.

Now he can add a title to his name. "Sweet isn't it," he said.

Howard Cottage visits with BSFD for Fire Prevention Month

Courtesy photo

Herald Staff Report

Howard Cottage students enjoyed a visit from the Big Spring Fire Department, EMS and Firefighters earlier this week.

In recognition of Fire Prevention Week, students heard from the firefighters about what to do in the event of a fire. The students also learned about finding a safe meeting place, in case a fire should happen in their homes and they were separated from their parents.

Firefighters also spoke about the importance of having a smoke detector in every home and ensuring that it is checked routinely.

In order to get the kids involved, before they were able to look at the fire truck, kids practiced how to Stop, Drop and Roll. This is a technique that children and adults can use in case they catch on fire.

Before the members of BSFD left Howard Cottage, students were able to not only look around and climb on board the fire truck and ambulance, but they also took part in a photo op with the firefighters and EMS personnel.

When the students were asked about what they thought about having the visit, one student said, "They save our lives all the time." and another student mentioned that the big firefighter showed off the truck and let them know how to be safe in a fire.

Great job BSFD, thank you for all you do in the community.

The students at Howard Cottage enjoyed a visit from the Big Spring Fire Department, earlier this week. The students learned several safety tips that they could take home and teach their families. The different classes also posed with firefighters for a picture, after looking around at the different features of the firetruck. This is an annual visit the kids get to enjoy as part of education during Fire Prevention Month. As an added bonus, kids even learned why and when to Stop, Drop and Roll. Fire Safety tips are good for all ages and could help save a life.

Anniversary

W.H. "Bill" Ward and Margie Ward

Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Ward Jr.
66th Anniversary

W.H. "Bill" Ward, Jr. and Margie Ward married on Oct. 12, 1953, in New Mexico. The couple is celebrating their 66th anniversary this year.

The couple met at Caprock Cafe, located on Highway 87 – now North Gregg – and had a short, whirlwind courtship. Margie lived on Fourth Street, behind Pinkies where she worked. Bill lived at the Settles and worked at Ward's Boot Saddle and Westernwear, which he opened in 1950.

The couple built their home – in the 60s - north of town, on the family farm, where they still reside today. Throughout their life together they have made numerous memories raising their family, farming cotton since 1955, and running the family business – Ward's Western Wear. As the store grew, it went from the original location at Second and Runnels, to 212 Runnels, to its current home at 1109 Gregg Street.

The smell of leather provided the welcoming atmosphere for all who ever stepped foot inside Ward's Western Wear. Many people – generations deep – in Big Spring can attribute their first pair of boots or custom handmade boots to the Ward's.

The stories that could be told throughout Big Spring would all reflect the generosity, the warm heart and welcoming nature Bill and Margie provided at their store. The best way to describe the couple, Bill is a gentleman and Margie is a lady, as they traveled through life hand in hand.

The couple had two children; a baby boy William Jr. III, whom they lost at birth and Ronnie Ward, who passed in 2006, at the age of 59. They have one grandchild, Shane Ward and his wife Karen; two great-grandchildren, Stevi, 22 and Jovi, 11, which are the light of their lives.

Throughout their marriage, Bill and Margie have impacted so many throughout the community, created many memories together and have passed down, through their loving spirit, an inspiration for their grandchildren and great-grandchildren to be kind, giving and hardworking.

The Addams Family

They are indeed creepy, kooky, mysterious and spooky. Not to mention altogether ooky. They're the Addams Family, and they're back on the big screen, albeit in computer animated format this time. It's the new movie "The Addams Family" from MGM, and it's out this week.

Since the movie is animated, all actors listed will be for their voice talents.

The movie begins as Morticia (Charlize Theron) wakes up and prepares for her wedding with some suitably gruesome preparations which I won't spoil here. She marches through town with her retainers and meets her groom-to-be, Gomez Addams (Oscar Isaac) and the family to go through the nuptial ceremony, when the proceedings are attacked by townsfolk armed with a catapult. Gomez and his brother Fester (Nick Kroll) draw swords and prepare to fight off the mob, but Grandmama (Bette Midler!) draws her own blade and orders the family to get to safety while she holds off maddened villagers.

Roger Cline

Later we see the newlywed Addams riding through the countryside (driven by the disembodied hand Thing), searching for a new home. As they enter the gloomiest hellhole they can find (New Jersey), they collide with a tall, corpse-like escapee from a mental asylum, Lurch (Conrad Vernon), who takes a job as their butler as they move into the creepy abandoned mental asylum on top of the hill. Why was Lurch escaping from an abandoned mental asylum? That's never explained, and, oddly, makes things a bit more creepy.

Thirteen years later, the Addams are well-ensconced in the former asylum that is now their hilltop mansion, perpetually swathed in fog from the nearby swamp. They've had a couple of tykes - Wednesday (Chloe Grace Moretz) and her younger brother Pugsley (Finn Wolfhard).

Pugsley is being prepared to go through the Addams' rite of manhood by dancing the Mazurka (This is oddly similar to "The Mamushka in 1991's "The Addams Family"). Wednesday meets a girl from beyond the endless sea of fog that surrounds the mansion - Parker (Elsie Fisher) - and enters a rebellious phase during which she goes to the mall and buys a pink unicorn hairclip. Parker's mom is Margaux Needler (Allison Janney), a TV renovation show host who's renovating the nearby town of Assimilation and has her eye set on the Addams' mansion as well.

I'll go ahead and stop the narrative there, but a slew of stars wanted their own cameo piece of this pie: Cousin Itt is played by none other than Snoop Dogg; Martin Short plays Grandpa Frump, Morticia's dad; while Catherine O'Hara plays Grandma Frump; and "The Unbreakable Kimmie Schmidt"'s Tituss Burgess plays Margaux's assistant Glenn.

I enjoyed the movie, especially the return to Charles Addams-esque art style for the Addams characters. The music was good, especially the opening Christina Aguilera number "Haunted Heart" to which Morticia prepares herself for her wedding, and a surprisingly high-pitched Lurch solo on what I think might be "Higher" by Reem, but I'm not 100 percent sure.

That said, an awful lot of this movie's plotting and guest characters are lackluster and boring. The primary "villain" isn't truly a villain, just a small-minded bigot. Well, and also Wednesday's teenage machinations to earn her family's attention. It's fun to see these characters back up on the big screen, but the plot is nothing to break out a Ouija board and disturb the dead for.

Seven stars out of 10. Watchable but not great.

This week's reviews are all mystery titles.

When Miss Julia's regular doctor goes on vacation with his wife, leaving a replacement in his stead, Miss Julia is immediately concerned in "Miss Julia Takes the Wheel #21" (M ROS A) by Ann

B. Ross. Never one to miss an opportunity to entertain, or size up a newcomer, she invites the charming Dr. Don Crawford and his painfully shy wife, Lauren, to dinner.

While Miss Julia and Sam both note Lauren's obvious lack of social skills, it's her friends Hazel Marie and Binkie that pick up on some of Dr. Crawford's less palatable qualities. Meanwhile, Lloyd has gotten his first car, and LuAnne, fresh off her divorce, has started a job at the local funeral home and is in urgent need of an occupation-appropriate makeover, Miss Julia has enough on her plate. Yet there is just something she can't place about the Crawfords, and she won't rest until she gets to the bottom of it.

Tara Beckley is a senior at idyllic Hammel College in Maine in "If She Wakes" (M KOR M) by Michael Koryta. Tara is tasked with driving a visiting professor to a conference on campus, but just after he makes a strange request, they're victims of a brutal accident.

The professor is killed instantly, and Tara is left in a coma. At least, so her doctors think. Really, she's a prisoner of locked-in syndrome: fully alert and aware of the visitors and investigators at her bedside, but unable to move a muscle. Trapped in her body, Tara discovers that someone wants her dead - but why? What really happened? Abby Kaplan, an insurance investigator, is hired by the college to look in to Tara's case. A former stunt driver, Abby quit the business after a disaster in Hollywood left an actor dead and her own reputation and nerves shattered.

Despite the fog of trauma, she can tell that what happened to Tara and the professor was no accident. When she starts asking questions, things quickly spin out of control, sending Abby on the Jackson Brodie has relocated to a quiet seaside village in "Big Sky (Jackson Brodie #5)" (M ATK K) by Kate Atkinson.

He is in the occasional company of his recalcitrant teenage son and an aging Labrador, both at the discretion of his ex-partner Julia. It's picturesque, but there's something dark is lurking behind the scenes. Jackson's current job, gathering proof of an unfaithful husband for the man's suspicious wife, is fairly standard-issue, but a chance encounter with a desperate man on a crumbling cliff leads him into a sinister network-and back across the path of his old friend Reggie. Past secrets and new lies intersect as Jackson pursues this case.

From the moment Lucy met her husband's mother in "The Mother-in-Law" (M HEP S) by Sally Hepworth, she knew she wasn't the wife Diana had envisioned for her perfect son. Exquisitely polite, friendly, and always generous, Diana nonetheless kept Lucy at arm's length despite Lucy's desperate attempts to win her over.

Diana was a pillar in the community, an advocate for female refugees, and a woman happily married for decades, no one had a bad word to say about Diana except Lucy. That was five years ago. Now, Diana is dead, a suicide note found near her body claiming that she longer wanted to live because of the cancer wreaking havoc inside her body. The autopsy finds no cancer but it does find traces of poison, and evidence of suffocation. Who could possibly want Diana dead? Why was her will changed

Well water screenings Oct. 21-22

Courtesy photos

Well water screenings will be provided Oct. 21 and Oct. 22 in Andrews, Gaines, Howard and Martin counties. Howard County screenings will be conducted Oct. 22 at the AgriLife Extension Office, 2411 Echols Drive in Big Spring from 8:30 to 10 a.m. A meeting explaining results will be Oct. 23 at 5 p.m.

Special to the Herald

The Texas Well Owner Network will provide water well screenings for residents in Andrews, Gaines, Howard and Martin counties during October.

The Well Informed screenings are provided by the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service offices in the counties in collaboration with the Texas Water Resources Institute.

Each screening event will be from 8:30-10 a.m. Dates and locations for the screenings, as well as dates, times and locations for follow-ups are:

– Oct. 21 at the AgriLife Extension office for Andrews County, 851 E. Broadway St., Andrews. A meeting explaining screening results will be at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 22 at the Andrews Community Building, 200 N.W. Mustang Drive.

– Oct. 21 at the AgriLife Extension office for Gaines County, 101 S. Main St., Courthouse, Room 108, Seminole. A meeting explaining screening results will be at 6:30 p.m. Oct. 22 at the Andrews Community Building, 200 N.W. Mustang Drive in Andrews.

– Oct. 22 at the AgriLife Extension office for Howard County, 2411 Echols Drive, Big Spring. A meeting explaining screening results will be at 5 p.m. Oct. 23 at the same location.

– Oct. 22 at the AgriLife Extension office for Martin County, 210 Convent St., Stanton. A meeting explaining screening results will be at 2 p.m. Oct. 23 at the same location.

The cost is $10 per sample and samples must be turned in by 10 a.m. on the day of the screening.

Arsenic screening will be available for drinking water for an additional $10.

"Private water wells should be tested annually," said John Smith, AgriLife Extension program specialist, College Station.

Smith said area residents wanting to have their well water screened should pick up a sample bag, bottle and instructions from the AgriLife Extension office in their county.

"It is very important that only sampling bags and bottles from the AgriLife Extension office be used and all instructions for proper sampling are followed to ensure accurate results," he said.

Samples will be screened for contaminants, including total coliform bacteria, E. coli, nitrate-nitrogen, arsenic and salinity.

Smith said research shows the presence of E. coli bacteria in water indicates waste from humans or warm-blooded animals may have contaminated the water. Water contaminated with E. coli is more likely to also have pathogens present that can cause diarrhea, cramps, nausea or other symptoms.

"Water with nitrate-nitrogen at levels of 10 parts per million is considered unsafe for human consumption," Smith said. "These nitrate levels above 10 parts per million can disrupt the ability of blood to carry oxygen throughout the body, resulting in a condition called methemoglobinemia. Infants less than 6 months of age and young livestock are most susceptible."

Salinity, as measured by total dissolved solids, will also be determined for each sample, he said. Water with high levels may leave deposits and have a salty taste, and using water with high levels for irrigation may damage soil or plants.

Smith said long-term consumption of arsenic in water increases the risk of skin cancer and cancer in the liver, bladder and lungs. In addition, chronic exposure to arsenic may lead to gastrointestinal irritation and cardiovascular disease.

Smith said it is extremely important for those submitting samples to be at the follow-up meetings to receive results, learn corrective measures for identified problems and improve their understanding of private well management.

For more information for the Andrews County screening, call 432-524-1421; for the Gaines County screening, 432-758-4006; for the Howard County screening, 432-264-2236; and for the Martin County screening, 432-756-3316.

Funding for the Texas Well Owner Network is through a Clean Water Act nonpoint source grant provided by the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. The project is managed by TWRI, part of Texas A&M AgriLife Research, AgriLife Extension and the College of Agriculture and Life Sciences at Texas A&M University.

BLM updates mineral cost recovery fee schedule

WASHINGTON, D.C. – The Bureau of Land Management (BLM) has issued a final rule, effective October 1, 2019, which updates the cost recovery fees that the BLM charges for processing certain actions undertaken by its mineral programs. Specifically, this final rule updates the fees charged to recover costs incurred in processing certain documents associated with oil, gas, coal, and solid mineral activities on public lands, including fees associated with mineral patent adjudications. Consistent with updates to the fee schedules in prior years, this final rule increases the fee schedule based on inflation.

The BLM is authorized to charge cost recovery fees under the Federal Land Policy and Management Act of 1976 and the 2005 Cost Recovery Rule. The fee schedule is adjusted annually based on the change in the Implicit Price Deflator for Gross Domestic Product, or IPD-GDP, from the 4th Quarter of one calendar year to the 4th Quarter of the following calendar year. The IPD-GDP is published annually by the Department of Commerce.

Under this final rule, 24 fees will remain the same and 24 fees will increase. Of the 24 fees that are being increased by this rule, 13 will increase by $5 each, seven will increase by $10 each, two will increase by $15 each, and two will increase by more than $15 each. The fees increasing by more than $15 are the fee for adjudicating a mineral patent application containing more than 10 claims, which will increase by $75, from $3,215 to $3,290, and the fee for adjudicating a patent application containing 10 or fewer claims, which will increase by $40, from $1,605 to $1,645.

The updated fees are based on a common mathematical formula used by businesses nationwide to adjust their expenses. This fee update rule uses the change in the IPD-GDP from the 4th Quarter of 2017 to the 4th Quarter of 2018, which reflects the rate of inflation over four calendar quarters.

TPWD reminds hunters about proper deer carcass disposal

AUSTIN – The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reminds hunters throughout the state to properly dispose of carcasses from harvested deer to help prevent the spread of infectious diseases in deer. This is particularly important for those taken inside the Trans-Pecos, South Central and Panhandle Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD) Containment and Surveillance Zones.

“Because many hunters process their own deer, they are key players in preventing environmental contamination or minimizing the spread of diseases such as CWD,” said Alan Cain, TPWD White-tailed Deer Program Leader. “One possible way that disease can spread is by the transportation and improper disposal of infected carcass parts.”

Deer can become infected with CWD if they come into contact with other infected deer or an environment contaminated with CWD prions. While CWD prions are found ubiquitously throughout the body of an infected deer, they are known to accumulate in the brain, spinal cord, eyes, spleen, and lymph nodes.

Additionally, hunters cannot take whole deer carcasses, or carcass parts that contain brain, spinal cord, eyes, spleen, or lymph nodes, out of the CWD Containment and Surveillance Zones or from another state or country known to have CWD.

“We recommend hunters in the CWD Containment and Surveillance Zones quarter deer in the field and leave all inedible parts at the site of harvest, or preferably dispose of in a landfill, or bury at site of harvest if possible,” Cain said. “Proper disposal of carcass parts is good practice anywhere in the state, but especially critical in CWD zones.”

Cain also noted that hunters wishing to take an intact skinned or unskinned deer head to a taxidermist outside a CWD zone or from another CWD positive state or country may do so, but must obtain the Deer Head Waiver at any TPWD CWD check station or at the TPWD CWD website. The waiver should be completed and kept with the hunter or with the deer head until it reaches the taxidermist.

Hunters are urged to follow these safe handling recommendations:

Proper Carcass Disposal

- Avoid cutting through bones, spine, or brain when processing deer carcasses.
- If processing harvested deer in camp or at home, place carcass parts in trash bags and properly dispose of them through a trash service or landfill.

Safe Parts to Transport

- Quarters or other portions of meat with no part of the spine or head attached.
- Hides or capes from which all excess tissue has been removed.
- Antlers, including antlers attached to skull plates or skulls cleaned of all muscle and brain tissue.

• Finished taxidermy products.

Carcass movement restrictions do not apply if the carcass will not be moved outside of a CWD zone. However, it is recommended to always properly dispose of unused carcass parts.

Hunters who harvest deer and other CWD-susceptible species in the South Central zone during archery season beginning Sept. 28 are required to bring their animals to a TPWD check station within 48 hours of harvest in order to have tissue samples removed for CWD testing. Hunters will receive a proof-of-sex document at the check station, allowing them to lawfully dispose of the head as recommended. Those hunting in the Trans-Pecos zone during archery season should call (512) 221-8491 and those hunting in the Panhandle zone during archery season should call (806) 420-0439, as check stations in these areas do not open until November.

“Texas Game Wardens will be doing compliance checks to make sure hunters are meeting the requirements in the CWD restricted zones and when bringing big game from CWD positive states, which includes Colorado, New Mexico and Wyoming,” said Region I Texas Game Warden Major Jason Huebner.

Hunters who harvest deer and other CWD-susceptible species during seasons later this fall should also check the Outdoor Annual online or through the mobile app to find check station requirements, dates and hours of operation.

Dr. Rich provides high-quality, personalized care for patients in Big Spring

Big Spring - When Dr. Gabrielle Rich, an obstetrician and gynecologist, was in medical school, she was able to work with the doctor who delivered her when she was born. The experience made an indelible impression on her and served as inspiration for her own career as a physician.

“I loved how he took care of generations of women from the same family, including mine,” she said. “I love the close relationship I can develop with patients often during some of the most memorable moments of their lives.”

Gabrielle Rich, D.O.

Dr. Rich is the newest addition to the Ob/Gyn team at Scenic Mountain Medical Center and she is a member of Steward Medical Group. Her practice is located at Scenic Mountain Medical Group, 1501 W. “I love to see teenagers for their first well woman exams,” she said.

“I want doctor visits to not be scary and I try to make everything as comfortable, quick and easy as possible. I welcome all patients to my office, and I am happy to answer any and all questions. I want my patients to leave my office feeling better - whether physically or emotionally. I will utilize all the resources I can to partner with my patients and improve their overall health and well-being.”

“Pack up your troubles and just get happy;” it can help you live longer, says AMAC

Special to the Herald

WASHINGTON, DC, Oct 11 -- Judy Garland sang the "get happy" song in the 1950 film, Summer Stock. Now, a massive, long term study of 71,173 men and women appears to prove the notion that the happier you are, the longer you’ll live, reports the Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC].

According to Dan Weber, AMAC founder and president of the senior advocacy organization, the study found that participants with an optimistic outlook “had 50 percent to 70 percent greater odds of reaching 85 years of age compared to the least optimistic groups.” Weber cites an account of the research posted on a Boston University Web site.

The study showed that while “the reason why optimism matters so much remains to be done... the link between optimism and health is becoming more evident.”

Meanwhile, Dr. Utpal Dholakia, a contributor on the Psychology Today Web site, says that the benefits of optimism have long been known. He says that “optimistic people remain healthier and live longer. They have better cardiovascular health—even after risk factors are controlled for, stronger immune function, and lower levels of stress and pain. And healthy people who are optimistic report feeling better than equally healthy people who are pessimistic.

When optimistic people encounter an adverse health event like coronary artery bypass surgery or orthopedic surgery, they bounce back faster.”

AMAC’s Weber recognizes the fact that many of us have an innate positive attitude. In fact, he notes, one survey shows that just 4% of Americans consider themselves to be pessimistic. Fifty percent, he says, unequivocally believe they are optimists. And, 43 percent fall in between.

So, how do the pessimists and those who are not so sure about whether they are optimists achieve a happier outlook for their lives? Weber says that, “like any task we choose to tackle, it requires focus and determination. An emphasis on the positive aspects of our lives is a critical element for developing and reinforcing an optimistic attitude. Don’t obsess with matters over which you have no control. It is depressing and gets in the way of achieving your goals. Instead, count your blessings and engage your ‘power of positive thinking,’ as Norman Vincent Peale counseled.”

The 2 million member Association of Mature American Citizens [AMAC] (<https://www.amac.us>) is a vibrant, vital senior advocacy organization that takes its marching orders from its members.

We act and speak on their behalf, protecting their interests and offering a practical insight on how to best solve the problems they face today. Live long and make a difference by joining us today at <https://amac.us/join-amac>.

Texas Historical Records Advisory Board (THRAB) announces two free workshops on issues relating to digital collections

As part of its efforts to support education and training for archivists, librarians and others charged with preserving and providing access to the rich documentary heritage of the state, the Texas Historical Records Advisory Board (THRAB) is pleased to announce two free workshops on issues relating to digital collections.

The Society of American Archives (SAA) developed these workshops as part of its Digital Archives Specialist curriculum and are open to archivists, librarians and staff members working at Texas archival repositories and charged with managing digital projects. Registration is limited to 30 attendees.

“Privacy and Confidentiality Issues in Digital Archives” will take place on Friday, November 22, 2019, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. “Building Digital Advocacy” will be held on Thursday, December 12, 2019, from 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p.m. Both workshops will take place in the Tocker Learning Center at the Texas State Library and Archives Commission (TSLAC), located at 1201 Brazos Street in Austin.

According to SAA, “Privacy and Confidentiality Issues in Digital Archives” covers privacy and confidentiality legal issues specific to archives of digital material. Topics include free speech, third-party rights, donors, national security legislation and special situations like medical and education records.

“Building Digital Advocacy” provides attendees with the tools to obtain support for digital archives. Instructors will offer strategies for connecting with donors of materials, technology staff and others who are essential to successful digital archives management.

To learn more about these opportunities and to register, visit THRAB’s professional development webpage at <https://www.tsl.texas.gov/workshops>. The deadline to register is October 25, 2019.

Funding for these workshops is provided by a grant from the National Historical Publications and Records Commission.

The Texas State Library and Archives Commission provides Texans access to the information they need to be informed, productive citizens by preserving the archival record of Texas; enhancing the service capacity of public, academic and school libraries; assisting public agencies in the maintenance of their records; and meeting the reading needs of Texans with disabilities. SUDOKU

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Tomorrow's Horoscope

By HOLIDAY MATHIS

The Whole Moon and Nothing but the Moon

ARIES (March 21-April 19). You have all the raw stuff, but it's how you put it together that will make the difference between getting what you want or not. Give yourself an advantage; take the time to organize and think it through.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Slowly, over time, things have gotten off balance in a relationship. It's time to make an adjustment. You deserve a situation in which you both give and you both get. It would be unwise to settle for anything less.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). You'll get a stretch of beautiful mental clarity. It's like you're developing your own secret art of thinking. And clear thought finds possibility in even the most challenging of situations.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). In the process of reorganizing, everything will be taken out and examined. It will be a mess -- much worse than before. But once the decisions get made and executed, you'll see a vast improvement.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Being willing to compromise is a life skill that's served you well so far, but it shouldn't be your only mode. The question of how much you should value your own happiness will come up.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). One simple guideline that will keep relationships healthy has to do with conversational airtime. Make sure it's balanced. To listen too long to someone who won't return that respect is to offer an indulgence that stunts everyone.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). If you feel funny about having to ask permission to do a thing, it could be an indicator that someone is placing limits on you that are either unnecessary, unreasonable, not in their jurisdiction or all of the above.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). No matter what hierarchies are involved a situation, on a human level all are respected equals. Power will alter the dynamic. Your job will be to make sure it doesn't get out of hand.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Luxury isn't necessarily elegance. One costs money, the other solves a problem in an entrancing way. You'll get examples of both today and have the opportunity to experiment, learn and create.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Intellectual study seems passive

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You'll be well aware of two choices -- stack up a bunch of evidence to suggest that you are stuck or stack up the same amount of evidence to suggest that you are free.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You'd rather be wealthy than rich. That's why you make sure that an endeavor will not only bring you money but will also bring you other kinds of riches (perhaps emotional and spiritual) that matter to you.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (Oct. 13). You're like a U2 song because you've quested for years, searched high and low, yet still haven't found what you're looking for. That's good news. If you were settled, then you wouldn't go on the incredible adventures in store for this year, one of which begins in another person's loving eyes. Virgo and Capricorn adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 24, 8, 24, 16 and 12.

FORECAST FOR THE WEEK AHEAD: A lot of people have the power to improve things, but few believe that this is the case. This is why hope, as immaterial as it may be, is more powerful than most real things. Hope can awaken and galvanize the forces. Hope can motivate and organize. Hope is both the destination and the fuel to get there.

This full moon in Aries, the sign of self, offers a special bonus by lucky Jupiter: an invitation to optimism and higher expectation. This brand of hope isn't naive, nor is it blind to risk. It's a sort of hope that encompasses that possibility that what we fear could happen and/or what we want could happen, and there's no way of knowing which way will work best for the greater good. This brand of hope comes in the spirit of acceptance. Whatever happens, we will process and move forward in tenacity and gratitude.

Mercury, Venus and Pluto will throw obstacles into the mix, especially involving the age-old battle of the sexes and how it ties into the larger yin and yang of the universe. Lean into the blending of energies and a cooperative approach.

Annie's Mailbox

Being the Best Example

Dear Annie: I'm a 62-year-old woman. Twelve months ago, at my check up, my doctor recommended that I eliminate animal products from my diet due to high cholesterol and high blood pressure. It seemed like an insurmountable task, but my will to be healthy as I age is bigger than that! Now a year has passed without any meat, dairy, cheese, fish or eggs. My cholesterol dropped 160 points, my blood pressure is normal. I'm off all medications. My energy is through the roof, and I just signed up for a marathon. I am elated! I want to be a positive influence on my friends and family members who suffer the same ailments. I love them and want them healthy, too. But they absolutely don't want to hear about it. They seem to think my diet is crazy. It's almost like I have a disease. So, I quietly continue to eat my beautiful and delicious plants, grains and fruits, and try to be a good example to my friends. What can I do to positively impact my family's health without coming off like an overbearing fanatic? -- Pass Me the Veggies

Dear Veggies: Speak softly and carry a big stick of celery. Until your family is ready to hear it, the more you try to talk this up, the less they'll listen. Rest assured that there's no better advertisement for your new lifestyle than you: Your exuberant example will attract others to the diet far more than words ever could. You might also try changing hearts by way of stomachs: Bring plant-based dishes to share at all family events, to show them that you're not depriving yourself and that your new diet can be quite delicious. Thrive on.

Dear Annie: I have a somewhat odd question: Can people who pass away from a drug overdose donate their organs? I read an obituary in my local paper for someone who died of a drug overdose. The family was proud to announce that the deceased was donating MANY of his organs. Do doctors think these organs are safe to put into other people's bodies, especially if the person was using for at least 10 years? -- Wondering

Dear Wondering: Your question is, sadly, very relevant: Overdose deaths increased by 9.6% between 2016 and 2017, according to the latest data from the Centers for Disease Control. A study published in the Annals of Internal Medicine found that "overdose-death donors accounted for 1.1% of donors in 2000 and 13.4% in 2017." This same study found that receiving an organ from someone who had died of an overdose was not associated with worse health outcomes. If a donor's organs are considered to be at higher risk for HIV because the donor injected drugs (or had sex for money in order to buy drugs), doctors are required to disclose this information to would-be recipients. Doctors must also disclose if organs came from an older person and might not last as long. I encourage anyone awaiting a transplant who is concerned about this issue to speak with their doctor for more information. And if you or someone you know is struggling with drug addiction, call the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration 24/7 hotline at 1-800-662-4357.

BIG SPRING HERALD Quiz Bowl

To the right are a sample Tossup question and series of Bonus questions similar to those used in National Academic Quiz Tournament "Quiz Bowl" competitions, the premiere general knowledge team quiz competition for high school students.

While the format is that used by NAQT, this questions and others in this series are authored by Herald Staff Writers.

Here are the rules.

For the "Tossup" question, begin reading at the beginning. There is one answer for the entire Tossup. At any time, if you know the answer, stop reading and answer. If you get the correct answer before you reach the • dot, you get 15 points. If you stop and answer before the dot and get it wrong, you lose 5 points. If you get it right after the dot, you get 10 points; if you get it wrong after the dot, you get no score.

You only get a shot at the three Bonus questions if you get the tossup correct. They're worth 10 points for each correct response, and no score for any incorrect response. Answer the bonus questions in order without looking ahead to the next question. Ready?

TOSSUP:
This DC Comics superheroine's given name is Luorno Durgo. Her home planet's three suns give all its residents her power. She had to change her superheroine alias when an event caused by the rogue computer "Computo the Conquerer," created by one of her teammates, reduced her abilities by • 1/3. For 10 points, name the member of the Legion of Superheroes who possessed the ability to split into three identical bodies; who became Duo Damsel after one of her forms was slain by Computo.

BONUS:
For 10 points each, give the place name associated with each of the following translations:
1. "Red Island" (A U.S. State)
2. "Village" (A large nation)
3. " Wild Onion" (A major U.S. city)

#17
