Proposition No. 9: Exempt precious metal depositories from property tax?

By ROGER CLINE

Staff Writer

Editor's note: This is the ninth in a series of stories about the 10 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution which will be voted on by Texans Nov.

Texas opened a state-run precious metals depository in June 2018. The state also has a prolific private precious metal depository industry. This November, voters will decide whether or not precious metals held in such depositories will be exempt from state property taxes. Proposition No. 9 – currently on the ballot for early voting and up for general election Nov. 5 – is titled: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to exempt from ad valorem taxation precious metal held in a precious metal depository located in this state." The measure would add Sec. 1-p to Article 8 of the Texas Constitution: "The legislature by general law may exempt from ad valorem taxation precious metal held in a precious metal depository located in this state. The legislature by general law may define 'precious metal' and 'precious metal depository' for purposes of this section."

While Edward Jones investment company has, of late, recommended investors steer clear of gold and other precious metals, Raul Benavides, an Edward Jones financial advisor in Big Spring, offered commentary on the proposition:

"I kind of get the sense that Texas is trying to make Texas depositories competitive with other states. Other states don't tax their depositories, so I get that it's a matter of making them competitive," Benavides said. "I guess it becomes a cost, and if they are taxed, that cost gets passed down to the investor."

The volatile nature of the precious metals market is also a factor, he added. "Number two is, the amount of de

20 volunteers clean up FM 700 during Fall Sweep

There were 20 people who turned out for the annual Fall Sweep. A large portion of the clean up crew involved the Big Spring National Honor Society, who had 17 volunteers. There was a total of 22 bags of trash picked up along FM 700, near Gamestop and Cosden Federal Credit Union. The area is starting to look great, but trash continues to be an issue along one of the most traveled areas in our community. Keep Big Spring Beautiful will be wrapping up Toasty Tuesday clean ups next week, Oct. 29 with a focus on Highway 87 and the entrance of Comanche Trail Park. The community is once again invited to come out and join the efforts.

posit in those depositories can change, pretty much on a daily basis or with any swing in prices," said Benavides. "If there's a spike in gold or a spike in silver, people may decide to sell their precious metal, and the amount of silver or gold in those depositories may go down during the year, and yet they're still taxed. So I can see on both sides of the fence where it would be an advantage, yet on the flip side, are you showing special treatment to one investment over another? So that's the only drawback I could see on it, but for the most part, I think they're just wanting to make those depositories more competitive on a national level."

Precious metals aren't a particularly unique type of investment, said Benavides.

"It's an investment like any other, per se. Precious metals are held by investors because they hold their value during high inflationary times," he said. "If you look at the overall total historical return, they don't fare too well with the common market, the overall market - S&P 500 or Dow Jones – but they're just a normal type of investment."

Next week marks the final installment of the Herald's series on the 10 proposed Constitutional Amendments. Amendment 10 would allow for transfer of law enforcement animals to their handlers or other private owners if such a move would be in the animal's best interest. Reflections: Space 2.0

have been fascinated with space exploration ever since my middle school science iclass watched John Glenn launch into orbit on a black and white TV in 1962. In high school, I corresponded with congressman, our Olin Teague, who became chairman of the House Committee on BILL Science and Astro-Tinsley nautics. He sent me a 1,000 plus page tome of the NASA space program in 1964. Apollo

8 launched on our wedding day, Dec. 21, 1968. Three days later, we listened as the crew read the Genesis account as they orbited the moon.

I have long wondered what went wrong. Why we have not returned to the moon in the last half-century? I expected by this time we would be living in a world best described by Arthur C. Clarke in "2001 A Space Odyssey" or "2010 The Year We make Contact". "Space 2.0" helps put all that in perspective.

A few weeks ago, Stan Rosen, one of my high school classmates, gave me a copy of "Space 2.0". The book summarizes the history of space exploration, its current status and projections for future development. Written by Rod Pyle with a foreword by Buzz Aldrin, the book is dedicated to Stan.

We are apparently on the cusp of an explosion in space exploration, including a burgeoning space economy with private enterprise as a major player in developing infrastructure and innovation.

Unlike Space 1.0, the moon landing, space shuttle and the International Space Station, the next chapter of space exploration will be driven by entrepreneurs and investors like SpaceX, Blue Origin, Virgin Galactic and Space Angels. Some are well on their

So, as a people of faith, how do we respond to this unprecedented moment in time?

Pyle writes, "It is instructive to listen to what some of the people who have traveled to space have Their viewpoints are unique- and are often formed by seeing Earth from space, a vantage point referred to as the 'overview effect.' This phenomenon was identified by Stan Rosen in The resulting impulse prompts the astronauts to share their feelings about the fragility of the earth, the pettiness of human conflict, and the need to work cooperatively for the betterment of all humanity."

Apollo 8's reading from Genesis on our first foray beyond earth's gravity is symbolic, if not prophetic. We carry our faith with us into the heavens. Since God is the creator of it all, He knows the farthest star and all the planets. asteroids and comets in between. The further we probe, the greater the mysteries we find, and the more we stand in awe. It seems to me God would want us to explore the heavens with vision, creativity and humility. He designed us for this.

As we anticipate the next chapter of space exploration, we do so with the awe of the Psalms, "He counts the number of the stars; He gives names to all of them. Great is our Lord and abundant in strength; His understanding is infinite." (Psalms 147:4-5).

comment. By this point, she had formed a strong opinion and didn't think very highly of their neighbors. "About a month later, the woman was surprised to see a nice clean laundry on the line, and said to her husband, 'Look, our neighbor finally learned how to wash. I wonder what changed? The husband said, 'Well, I don't know about them, but, I did get up early this in a position to judge others. Only God can see fully and only God can judge rightly. Jesus clearly taught us, "Do not judge, or you too will be judged. For in the same way you judge others, you will be judged, and with the measure you use, it will be measured to vou. "Why do you look at the speck of sawdust in your brother's eye and pay no attention to the plank in your own eye? How can you say to your brother, 'Let me take the speck out of your eye,' when all the time there is a plank in your own eye? You hypocrite, first take the plank out of your own eye, and then you will see clearly to remove the speck from your brother's eye." \sim Matthew

James tells us, "There is only one Lawgiver and Judge, the one who is able to save and destroy. But you, who are you to judge your neighbor?" ~ James

In our hypercritical, social media driven world, we can so easily slip into the judgement seat, rather than taking our place on the witness stand. We are not called to judge, but we are called to be witnesses of God's amazing mercy, grace, and love.

That shift requires a change in perspective, and I think it is something followers of Jesus need to be reminded of often.

This week I want to encourage and challenge you before we judge, before we respond, before we react - pray first. Ask God to give you a right heart and a proper perspective. I believe He will.

A New Beginning

he Birdwell Lane Church of Christ has initiated a new program of work for the congregation as we try to serve here in Big Spring. We started this past week a program to work in helping our Big Spring teachers with part of their out-of-pocket expenses in teaching our children.

We all are aware of the many programs and organizations which help supply the needs of our kids. What we are doing is taking on the task of helping the teachers with the expenses involved apart from budgeted expenses by the the BSISD. Some are spending near $500 per year out of pocket to keep the needed supplies for their classes. We have chosen to help them in part with this cost.

Although we truly appreciate the personal financial burden you assume, we believe that you should not carry that burden alone. We believe that burden belongs to all of us, and we would appreciate you letting us help. Our congregation desires to be involved in this specific way as a congregational

We will be working to start with the Moss elementary school teachers. We delivered 29 bags of supplies and goodies to the school last Thursday.

Included in each bag were supplies that the individual teachers had requested and comfort goodies for the teachers as they had suggested they would enjoy having.

We are presently getting our program lined up to start covering a second school, as well. The current program will be delivering the bags twice a year to all the teachers and teacher aids in both schools. Plans are to increase our help by picking up additional schools as opportunity and man power allows us to properly serve the teachers.

We are excited by the reception we have received thus far, and all of us are looking towards the project with excitement and great expectation.

We want to thank everyone who has been a part in putting this work of service into action. We do pray that what we are doing will help our teachers, students and city.

vidual school principles.

our leadership,

I say thank you for allowing Birdwell Lane to be involved in this project for without vision people perish and you certainly have stepped up and out in faith. Thank you Assistant Superintendent Bancroft who has been great source of information, structure, and encouragement.

Thank you to Principle Womack and her office staff who were there to answer all of our questions about who, when and where. Last but not least to the congregation at Birdwell Lane who were willing to take on a great project in reaching out to help those in our community that at times seem to be forgotten servants.

What a joy it is to be a part of Birdwell Lane Church of Christ and Big Spring, Texas. May God be glorified by our work and involvement in helping our teachers.

Integrity and Character

hen children are still children, they learn to be honest and develop from that a character that will last their entire lives. As a child, my father taught me if I besmirched his good name, it was because I was dishonest in my doings. Even in little things, he

When dad bought a car, his handshake was as good as an iron clad contract in triplicate. Anytime he made any kind of transaction, people trusted him to keep his word. He taught his children by example. I remember buying a pack of paper from the drug store in my hometown. I realized after I left the store I had two packs. So I went back in to pay for the other one. The clerk questioned why I came back in for just a dime. I told her Daddy would have been disappointed in me if he found out I had been dishonest.

Integrity builds character that people can trust. If I tell my school children I will give them candy or ice cream when they are finished with their goals for the day, I had better have it BOHANNAN handy to give them. If I promise them detention for an infraction of the rules, I must keep my word to them.

My behavior toward my children, or even adults, will give them security or trust in my word, or not. My character was formed as a child. We need to instill in our children, and those around us, that same security.

By the same token, God offers us His word. It is true. It is infallible. It is our security in a Holy God who loves His creation. When we trust Him and take Him at His word, the peace that passes all understanding will make us stronger than anything the world has to offer.

Jesus says, "Come unto me all you that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn of me. For my yoke is easy and my burden is light."

We can trust in Him to carry us through the worst in our lives, and the neat part about it all is we get to enjoy all the promises of Heaven He contracted for us when He was crucified, buried, and rose again.

If you are troubled about this world and all the political and spiritual upheaval, trust in the triple contract the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit offers you. He will build into your life integrity and character you never thought possible.

Strong Enough To Be Weak

mities, in reproaches, in necessities, in persecutions, in distresses for Christ's sake: for when I am weak, then am I strong."2 Corinthians 12:10

'ow strong are you? Well, it all depends on how weak you are. If you are strong enough to keep the Law, you are not weak enough to need Jesus. But if you are too weak to be good, follow all the rules and regulations, then you are weak enough to need Him. The weaker you are, the more you see your need Tom for Jesus.

SLOAN

When we are weak, and we know it, several things happen.

First, as the Psalmist said, we lift up our eyes unto the hills, from whence comes our help. And we know that our help comes from the Lord. We do not look to ourselves

"Therefore I take pleasure in infir- for the solution to this gargantuan problem we are facing. We look to the Lord, our rock and shield. Second, we learn the benefit of saying - not my will, but thine be done,

Have you ever got yourself into a mess and didn't even know why it all turned out the way it did? I sure have. After all, it seemed to me that I was trying really hard to do the right thing when all of a sudden, it all turned into this disaster. Well, maybe it was because I was too strong and did things according to my own selfish will and desire. In this case, I was too weak to be weak: I was too self-sufficient for Jesus and didn't need His help.

If you are too weak to keep the Law, then you are strong enough to need Jesus. If you are too weak to hold to strong morals, but strong enough to embrace the love of God, you are strong enough to be weak.

And when we are weak, then we are strong in the power of God's grace.

First Baptist Church "For we do not preach ourselves but Christ Jesus as Lord, and ourselves as your bond-servants for Jesus' sake. For God, who said, "Light shall shine out of darkness," is the One who has shone in our hearts to give the Light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Christ." 2 Corinthians 4:5-6 FBC's Fall Festival is Thursday, Oct. 31 from 6-8 p.m. in the Family Life Center. The community is invited to this family-friendly, fun-filled time of games, prizes, candy, and much more. Costumes are welcome, but please nothing scary or inappropriate. Join the family of First Baptist Church Sunday at 10:50 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., as they come together in adoration of The Rock of Ages, Jesus Christ. Music Minister Alan Schantz will lead worshippers in a mix of both contemporary praise music and classic hymns of the faith. Pastor Mark Lindsey brings the message from Scripture titled "Walking in the Light". Drawn from 1 John 1:5-7, listeners will reflect on the truth that to truly follow God is to live and act in willing subjection to Him, conforming to His Spirit in a manner that glorifies Christ, allowing His illumination to cleanse us from within, and offering an invitation to those walking in the world's cold darkness, to come into the saving Light of Jesus. During the service will be the distribution of the Operation Christmas Child Shoeboxes. Congregants will receive a box, or several, to take and fill with gifts, and these will be returned in November. Following the evening worship service at 6:30 in the Family Life Center, everyone's invited to the Operation Christmas Child Packing Party. Area college students will be special guests in assisting with the filling of several hundred boxes. The gifts, toys, and clothes will be arranged in groups around the gym; you just grab a box, 'shop' from the provided items, and fill as many boxes as possible for children in the USA, and around the world. Bring some food to share if you can. Don't miss the blessing; this is always a great time! FBC offers deaf interpretation in the morning worship service. If you need assistance accessing the sanctuary due to mobility issues, use the west circle drive, and someone will be glad to assist you inside and park your vehicle. If unable to attend, you may join the service through the live stream on the church website at: fbcbigspring. org. (Click on 'MORE' tab, then 'SERMONS'). At 9 a.m., The Gathering Place, FBC coffee shop, is open, and you're invited to have some coffee, and a sweet treat while enjoying a time of fellowship. Greeters are happy to direct you to The Gathering Place which is located in the former library space. At 9:30, Sunday School groups meet throughout the building with children gathering in the Good News Garage on the first floor, and teens, college students, and adults meeting in second floor classrooms. Greeters are available to help you find your class. At 5 p.m., everyone's encouraged to come together for a time of corporate prayer in the church parlor, across from the chapel.

Evening worship service begins at 5:30 in the chapel, and offers the opportunity to come before the LORD in preparation for the upcoming week. Pastor Mark will bring the message titled "Make a Difference: Walk the Talk". Drawn from 1 John 3:1-7, believers will consider the amazing truth that through faith in Jesus Christ, we become children of God, and are bestowed with a new nature that no longer 'fits-in' with the world, and because of this we seek to honor Him with our lives: despising sin, abandoning hate, and pride while proclaiming to others the welcoming, encompassing love of Jesus.

Wednesday night meals are served from 5-6 p.m. in the Family Life Center. Reservations are required by Monday noon to assist with planning; call 267-8223, or go to fbcbigspring.org to save your place and learn more.

Candy given, blessings received, and free hot dogs..... compliments of Linda Burchett from her Double L BBQ Food Trailer. Come by to see us and get a treat!

We welcome everyone to join in our casual fellowship, where we meet and greet each other in the newly decorated sitting room off the Sanctuary. Coffee, hot tea, hot chocolate, water and donuts will be served. Sit and sip and chat!

Worship service starts at 10:50 a.m. Guest speaker this Sunday will be Ken Noble from Odessa. This is the 20th Sunday after Pentecost: Read 2 Timothy 1:3-4 - Keep the Faith. We may not be able to fall from grace, but surely we can lose the faith. It happens every day. The loss of faith is seen in a decline in church membership, a fall-off of church attendance. We have got to stir up faith in Christ to make it come alive again as a force for good in churches, neighborhoods, our city, state and our nation. The time is now; stir up faith in Christ!

Crestview Baptist Church

We at Crestview Baptist Church want to extend a warm invitation for you and your family to come and join us for worship, discipleship, evangelism, and fellowship. At Crestview, we are all about the gospel of Jesus Christ and serving Him as we learn His word together.

As a Christian, would you rather not celebrate a holiday that glorifies the devil, ghosts, goblins, and other dark things? Should we really be enforcing this to our children, even if it's just a fun thing to do? We do have an alternative. Instead of "Trunk or Treat," why not celebrate what we should? On Oct. 31, 1517, Martin Luther was used by the Lord to call God's people out of a tradition and superstition and back to the Bible. This Sunday, Crestview Baptist Church will be celebrating the biblical truth that the just shall live by faith! Come and join us at 2305 Gatesville Road in Big Spring, and let's celebrate the Holy God together. What an alternative!

Sunday School is at 10 a.m., worship is at 11 a.m., and our evening Bible studies are Sunday and Wednesday Nights at 6:30 p.m. Hope to see you there.

NazFamily Church

This Sunday

We are excited to have Dr. Terry Toler at Naz-Family Church this Sunday. Dr. Toler is the Vice President for University Advancement and Church Relations at Southern Nazarene University and has served the University since 2000. Prior to joining the administrative team at SNU, Dr. Toler, an Ordained Elder in the Church of the Nazarene, spent 25 years in pastoral ministry, serving churches in Florida, Ohio, Tennessee and Oklahoma. During that time, he served as a Church Planter, Executive

Dr. Toler is also respected as a songwriter and musician. He has been a contributing writer on three Grammy Award-winning recordings, a certified platinum album, and multi-platinum videos, with his songs being recorded by some of the best-known names in Christian and popular music. Toler's songs for children have been translated into many languages and are marketed internationally. Known as a man of the Word and song, Terry Toler's message, whether spoken or through music, is the message of joy and hope in Christ.

Adopt a Cop

At NazFamily Church, we want to pray for our law enforcement officers by name. Crystal Mc-Guire and Scott Jimenez are starting the "Adopt a Cop" program. If you want to participate, contact Crystal or Scott, and they will give you the name of an officer so that you can pray daily for that officer and his/her family.

It's fall, y'all! We will be hosting a Fall Festival on Friday, Oct. 25, at our New Hope Christian School. There will be hay rides, games, goodies, and fun for the whole family. Invite your friends, family, and neighbors to come out and be blessed.

 Trunk or Treat On Thursday, Oct. 31, the NazFamily will be hosting a community Trunk or Treat. All the kids are invited to come get some sweets in a fun and safe place. Men's Breakfast The most important meal plus the most important activity equals Men's Prayer Breakfast. Join us for a time of good food, great fellowship, and faith building together on Saturday, Nov. 2 at 8 a.m.

Fireside Worship

Bring out your lawn chairs and blankets once again and join us for a time of worship and prayer around the fire pit on Wednesday, Nov. 13 at 6:30 p.m. Following worship will be a time of fellowship with hotdogs and s'mores around the fire.

Cook, Vikings wear down Redskins 19-9 for 4th straight win

By DAVE CAMPBELL

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Near the end of this methodical victory for the Minnesota Vikings, the crowd directed a loud cheer toward a player on the visiting team.

When Adrian Peterson appeared on the giant video screens during the 2-minute warning with an announcement of his latest climb up the NFL's all-time rushing list, the Washington Redskins running back took off his helmet, kissed two of his fingers and waved them to the fans who rooted for him in purple not that long ago.

The star of the show, though, was Peterson's successor. Dalvin Cook gave the Vikings yet another stellar performance.

Cook had 171 total yards and the game's only touchdown, helping Kirk Cousins beat his old team on the first try and carrying the Vikings to a 19-9 victory over the Redskins on Thursday night.

"It just shows how we can pull a win out. We've got a team that can go out and keep battling and keep fighting," Cook said. "That shows you the toughness that's in this group."

Cook, the NFL leader in yards from scrimmage, rushed 23 times for 98 yards and caught five passes for 73 yards for the Vikings (6-2) in their fourth straight win. Cousins went 23 for 26 for 285 yards without a turnover against the Redskins (1-7), who drafted him in 2012 and made him the full-time starter in 2015 before he became a free agent and signed with the Vikings in 2018.

always have a little extra motivation when you're playing your old team. You're always trying to prove that they were wrong for letting you go or whatever the reason was, so I thought he handled it really well," Vikings coach Mike Zimmer said. "He's playing outstanding right now."

Nobody on the Redskins lately warrants that assessment. Case Keenum, the quarterback Cousins replaced, had his return to Minnesota spoiled by a concussion that kept him out of the second half and thrust rookie Dwayne Haskins back into action. Two plays after Daron Payne and Landon Collins stuffed Cousins for no gain on a fourth-and-1 quarterback sneak at the Minnesota 34, Haskins overthrew Terry McLaurin, and Anthony Harris intercepted.

Keenum's last time in the stadium was nearly two years ago, when his last-play touchdown pass to Stefon Diggs gave the Vikings a victory over New Orleans in a divisional round playoff game, but there was little reason to make this game a memory. Keenum went 12 for 16 for 130 yards.

Diggs caught all seven passes that came his way from Cousins, racking up 143 yards in his own tribute of sorts to the "Minneapolis Miracle." This game was for the guys in the ground game, though. Alexander Mattison added 61 yards on 13 rushes, and Minnesota more than doubled Washington's total yardage, 434-216.

Peterson had 14 carries for 76 yards and in the process moved up to sixth place on the NFL's career rushing list with 13,701 yards by passing Jerome come here to win a game," said Peterson, who played for the Vikings for 10 seasons from 2007-16. "Just coming back and seeing the love that they still have for me and they showed, it felt good. It was definitely a great home welcome. They welcomed me with open arms and just showed the love that they have and have for over a decade. So, it was a special moment. I had to hold tears back, to be honest with you."

Cook hugged Peterson on the field after the game.

"He was one of the guys that I watched," Cook said. "He's a special talent."

The same goes for Cook, who was drafted in the second round in 2017.

"If we keep him healthy, I hope one day he is in the Hall of Fame just because he's a talented guy," Diggs said. "He's a blessing."

CHEF'S SPECIAL

The screen pass to Cook was the favored weapon, highlighted by a zigzagging 31-yard gain late in the second quarter that set up his 4-yard run for a score with 11 seconds left on third down. Offensive coordinator Kevin Stefanski made a bold inside zone call for Cook, who rewarded the confidence by powering his way through safety Troy Apke and cornerback Fabian Moreau at the goal line.

The Vikings ran a third-and-15 draw play to Cook from the 25 early in the fourth quarter before settling Dan Bailey's fourth field goal of the night, another conservative decision that even drew some boos from a crowd alties and ball-control play.

"I think good teams can win a variety of ways," Cousins said. "I think we've been doing that the last few

STEFON NEEDS STICK-UM

Diggs went without a fumble over each of the last three seasons, and the Vikings recovered the two he had as a rookie in 2015. This year, he has already fumbled four times, the most in the league among non-quarterbacks, and the Vikings have lost three of them. Diggs also dropped what would have been a touchdown pass last week at Detroit, a catchable ball that slipped through his hands on third down in the fourth quarter.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs thought they needed a new voice in the dugout. They are banking on good ol' "Grandpa Rossy" to give them the spark they are seeking.

The Cubs hired former catcher David Ross to replace Joe Maddon as their manager Thursday, hoping he can help them get back to the playoffs after missing out for the first since 2014. The threeyear deal includes a club option for the 2023 season. Ross, who's never managed or even coached before, becomes the 55th manager in club history.

The 42-year-old Ross played the final two of his 15 major league seasons with the Cubs and was a revered leader on the 2016 team that won the World Series, ending the infamous championship drought dating to 1908. He spent the past three years in Chicago's front office and was widely viewed as a potential replacement for Maddon, one of the most successful managers in franchise history with a 471-339-1 record in five seasons.

"I'm honored by this opportunity to be the next manager of the Chicago Cubs," Ross said in a statement. "My time with this organization has been special since the day I joined, so to continue with the club in this role is a blessing for which I'm so very thankful."

Chairman Tom Ricketts described Ross as a "proven winner." And president of baseball operations Theo Epstein called him "as gifted a leader as I've ever come across."

"David has always stood out for his ability to cultivate the ingredients of a winning culture - accountability, hard work, hustle, competitiveness, Chicago Cubs hire David Ross to replace Maddon as manager trust, togetherness, and team identity," Epstein tory have more victories than Maddon. The Cubs

Ross played a huge role in reshaping the culture of the Cubs' clubhouse and was affectionately nicknamed "Grandpa Rossy" by Kris Bryant and Anthony Rizzo. At age 39, he became the oldest player to homer in a Game 7 of the World Series when he connected off Andrew Miller in the sixth inning in Cleveland. The Cubs went on to win in the 10th, and Ross got carried off the field and into retirement by Rizzo and Jason Heyward.

"A lot has been made, and rightfully so, of my connection to the 2016 World Series team, and the notion that I'll now be managing players I once counted on as teammates," Ross said. "Having those relationships going into this will be a bonus, no doubt about it. But those guys know I'll be the first to hold them accountable, the first to demand their best daily effort and the first to let them know about it if they give anything but their best."

Ross was known to dish out, as he put it, some "tough love" to his teammates. And he insisted that won't change now that he's managing some of them.

"We'll have our fair share of fun along the way, but working hard as a team, playing fundamental team baseball and winning a lot of games will be our top priorities," he said.

Houston bench coach Joe Espada, ex-Yankees manager and former Cubs catcher Joe Girardi, former Phillies manager Gabe Kapler, bench coach Mark Loretta and third-base coach Will Venable were also known to have interviewed. Girardi was hired by the Phillies in a move also announced Thursday.

Only four other managers in franchise his-reached the NLCS in 2015 and 2017 and made the playoffs his first four years. But they lost in the wild-card round last October and tumbled out of the playoff race altogether this year. Weighed down by a puzzling discrepancy between their 51 wins at Wrigley Field and 33 road victories, the Cubs finished third in the NL Central at 84-78.

The Cubs were in position to make the playoffs for much of the season. They had a half-game lead in the NL Central on Aug. 22. They had control of an NL wild card into September.

But a nine-game slide, including five consecutive one-run losses for the first time since 1915, wiped out their postseason chances and sealed Maddon's fate. With an expiring contract, he and the club parted ways. Maddon wound up taking the job with the Los Angeles Angels.

And more big changes could be coming to the

Though Bryant and Javier Báez are under contractual control for two more years, the front office needs to determine soon what to do with them. Both would figure to command huge contracts if they hit the open market. Trading one could restock a thin farm system. The same goes for catcher Willson Contreras.

Ben Zobrist and Cole Hamels have expiring contracts, possibly freeing up some money for a team that began the season with the second-highest payroll on opening day at $209 million. The same goes for Nicholas Castellanos, who made a big impression on the Cubs after he was acquired in a July 31 trade with the Tigers. He batted .321 with 16 homers and 36 RBIs in 51 games for Chicago.

1. Four notrump. This is invitaional to a slam in notrump and has nothing to do with Blackwood because no suit has been agreed upon. You are simply inviting partner to bid again with maximum values. With a minimum, he should pass.

The point-count requirement for a notrump slam is usually 33, but many slams are made with a point or two less, particularly when one hand holds a strong five-card suit. Two notrump in this sequence indicates 12 to 14 points, although some may play that it shows slightly more.

2. Three notrump. Once the meaning of two notrump is under- ration.

stood, the raise to three becomes automatic. The combined hands are known to contain 25 to 27 high-card points, and there is the strong possibility of making five or six diamond tricks. This should make collecting nine tricks a relatively easy task.

3. Three diamonds. Here you warn partner that your two-diamond bid was not up to the usual standard of 10 or more points in high cards. Three diamonds is a weak bid urging partner to pass. If he bids again, it is at his own peril.

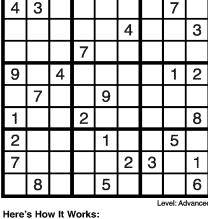

4. Three hearts. Support for partner's suit should be shown at this point, as it is more important to tell partner of the heart fit than it is to show your clubs or raise to three notrump. Aiming at a 10-trick heart game takes precedence over an 11-trick minor-suit game or even a nine-trick notrump game.

Three hearts in this sequence is forcing. To play otherwise could cause you to end up in a partscore when you should be in game, or to miss a slam because you did not leave enough room for further explo-

SUDOKU

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Other people are not your competition. Your last accomplishment would be hard to beat, but that's not your competition either. Your competition is this idea about what you might be capable. You just can't shake it.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The reason you'll be so excellent at the task at hand is that you've had plenty of practice messing it up. These things take years perfect. You'll be revered for your expertise. They don't know how hard-won it really is.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). Theoretically, anything that happens fast can be undone just as fast. The converse is also true. If it takes a long time to do, it will take a long time to undo. If you're still not sure which way will be better, then go slow until you know.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You're the one who gets to decide what to celebrate, when and for how long. Do not skip this part. Celebrating the good things in your life keeps them flowing in.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Maybe the lesson gets repeated until it's learned. And sometimes the learning isn't an answer so much as a directive to go in a different direction, a direction where you won't have to try and solve this problem anymore.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You're able to send a wish for healing and contentment to those who've wronged you. You don't wish misgivings or pain on anyone, because you know they already have it. Otherwise, they wouldn't have acted as they did.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Sometimes, clarity of mind comes after you straighten up your scene.

 $B_{Y}\;Holiday\;Mathis\; {}^{\text{happen, which is you.}}_{\text{Don't blame yourself}}$

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Today, clarity of mind comes first. You'll make a decision, act on it, and life gets suddenly clean and orderly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). It feels weird to admit, even to yourself, that you want to be treated better, probably because it's admitting that you've been treated poorly, accepted that and wrongly believed you deserved it. It's not selfish to want to be loved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Since it's a good thing to find out the full range of a person's behavior, don't worry so much about pleasing that person. If it happens naturally, great. If not, you'll learn a lot about people when they don't get what they want.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Not everyone uses vocab in the same way, but when you tell someone "I love you," it's because you want to make sure they know. This will be your only agenda, not to persuade or to hear it back.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). You don't have to always be right to be confident. Confidence is a posture, not an outcome. It's about having the guts to try, and to learn from whatever happens next.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). It does no good to blame the person who put you in a jam; responsibility falls to the one who allowed it to either. Forget about blame altogether and just handle it.

TODAY'S BIRTH-DAY (Oct. 25). The stardust in your soul dazzles strangers and delights loved ones. Your cosmic birthday present is immunity from jealousy. Higher-ups take you under their wings while friends and colleagues become more actively supportive. The companionship will be lighthearted, like the universe is giving you a break. The Aries and Gemini adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 2, 29, 17, 30 and 11.

WEEKEND LOVE FORECAST: ARIES: Nothing disturbs your sense of self-possession. Your rock-solid character attracts both the weak and the strong. TAURUS: Set the right atmosphere and people fall in line with your plan. GEMINI: Some games can only be won by not playing. CANCER: People who are comfortable with themselves will be comfortable with you. LEO: Relationships get easier when you know better where to set your expectations. VIRGO: You fall asleep with someone on your mind and wake up with the same thought, which then follows you all the livelong day. LIBRA: You won't exactly walk through insecurity; rather, you'll walk beside it, so you may as well make friends with it. SCORPIO: Being yourself is enough to make a change in the class. SAGITTARI-US: Honesty will be at the heart of some very interesting fun. CAPRI-CORN: Brave hearts are soft hearts. AQUARIUS: Relationships fall into place like jigsaw puzzles, one piece clicking in at a time. Patience is required. PISCES: The next move is a natural one and won't friend abandoned you so abruptly. Fortunately, closure is a gift we can give ourselves. I encourage you to write out everything you'd like to say to her -- about your confusion, pain, anything you're feeling or have ever felt about the situation. Pour your heart out on the subject until there's not a drop left. Then take a beat and a breath. Imagine your friend apologizing for hurting you. Then, pick up your pen again and write a letter expressing your forgiveness. Tuck this letter away in a drawer or dispose of it somehow -- whatever feels right. If this doesn't give you peace after some time, repeat the writing prompt. At best, it will offer you the closure you're looking for. At worst, it will be a therapeutic exercise.

Know that the way your friendship ended does not negate all the meaningful years you two shared together. Not all friendships are forever; it doesn't mean that they

Dear Annie: I am writing this to you on what is apparently National Daughters Day. I wasn't aware of this holiday, but now I am because moms of daughters are bragging and boasting all over social media. My sister-in-law boasted that she prayed for a daughter and got one. Well, I prayed for a daughter, too, after two boys. I have three sons. I love my boys dearly, but I know there's a special bond between a mother and daughter. Each of my sons is married with sons and a daughter. I often say, "I don't have a daughter, but I have three great daughters-in-law!" And I do, but they don't shop with me or invite me to lunch or the movies. They are in my home often. I babysit for them and attend all family functions and activities. (Their mothers live out of town.) There is a difference, and the bragging and boasting from moms with daughters really hurts. --Hurt Mother-in-Law

Dear Hurt: Following weren't for real. the train of thought in your letter, it seems the heart of the matter here is you're feeling hurt that your daughters-in-law don't invite you out. Why not invite them out? Going to lunch, the movies or other outings with your daughters-in-law, one on one or as a group of gals, sounds like a fantastic idea that simply might not have occurred to them

More generally, your comment raises an important topic: Family-themed holidays can be especially painful for people who have lost a daughter, mother, father or whomever the holiday is celebrating. In such cases, some find it helpful to commemorate the person they've lost in a special way on that day -- such as by looking through old photos, meditating on the love shared, attending an event the family member would have loved or volunteering for a cause that they supported or that is connected to them in some way.

Today in History

Today is Friday, Oct. 25, the 298th day of 2019. There are 67 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History: On Oct. 25, 1971, the U.N. General Assembly voted to admit mainland China and expel Taiwan.

On this date: In 1760, Britain's King George

III succeeded his late grandfather, George II. In 1812, the frigate USS United States, commanded by Stephen Decatur, captured the British vessel HMS Macedonian during the War of 1812. In 1854, the "Charge of the Light Brigade" took place during the Crimean War as an English brigade of more than 600 men charged the Russian army, suffering heavy losses. In 1910, "America the Beautiful," with words by Katharine Lee Bates and music by Samuel A. Ward, was first published.

In 1954, a meeting of President Dwight D. Eisenhower's Cabinet was carried live on radio and television. In 1962, during a meeting of the U.N. Security Council, U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson II demanded that Soviet Ambassador Valerian Zorin confirm or deny the existence of Sovietbuilt missile bases in Cuba; Stevenson then presented photographic evidence of the bases to the Council. In 1964, The Rolling Stones made the first of six appearances on "The Ed Sullivan Show." In 1983, a U.S.-led force invaded Grenada (greh-NAY'-duh) at the order of President Ronald Reagan, who said the action was needed to protect U.S. citizens there.

In 1994, Susan Smith of Union, South Carolina, claimed that a black carjacker had driven off with her two young sons (Smith later confessed to drowning the children in John D. Long Lake, and was convicted of murder). Three defendants were convicted in South Africa of murdering American exchange student Amy Biehl. (In 1998, all three were granted amnesty by South Africa's Truth and Reconciliation Commission.)

In 1999, golfer Payne Stewart and five others were killed when their Learjet flew uncontrolled for four hours before crashing in South Dakota; Stewart was 42. In 2001, a day after the House signed on, the Senate sent President Bush the U-S-A Patriot Act, a package of anti-terror measures giving police sweeping new powers to search people's homes and business records secretly and to eavesdrop on telephone and computer conversations.

In 2002, U.S. Sen. Paul Wellstone, D-Minn., was killed in a plane crash in northern Minnesota along with his wife, daughter and five others, a week and a-half before the election. Actor Richard Harris died in London at age 72.

Ten years ago: A pair of suicide car bombings devastated the heart of Iraq's capital, Baghdad, killing 155 people, including 24 children. Philanthropist Jeffry Picower, accused of making more than $7 billion from the investment schemes of his longtime friend Bernard Madoff, drowned after suffering a heart attack in the swimming pool of his Palm Beach, Florida, mansion; he was 67. The New York Yankees won their first pennant in six years, beating the Los Angeles Angels 5-2 in Game 6 of the AL championship series.

Five years ago: The World Health Organization said more than 10,000 people had been infected with Ebola and that nearly half of them had died as the outbreak continued to spread. Jack Bruce, 71, the bassist and lead vocalist of the 1960s power trio Cream, died in London. The San Francisco Giants defeated the Kansas City Royals, 11-4, to even the World Series at two games each.

One year ago: Investigators searched coast-to-coast for the culprit behind the mail-bomb plot aimed at critics of President Donald Trump as three more devices were linked to the plot - two addressed to former Vice President Joe Biden and one to actor Robert De Niro.

Today's Birthdays: Former American League president Dr. Bobby Brown is 95. Actress Marion Ross is 91. Basketball Hall of Famer Bob Knight is 79. Pop singer Helen Reddy is 78. Author Anne Tyler is 78. Rock singer Jon Anderson (Yes) is 75. Political strategist James Carville is 75. Singer Taffy Nivert (Starland Vocal Band) is 75. Rock musician Glenn Tipton (Judas Priest) is 72. Actor

Bulldogs go gold to raise awareness

Special to the Herald

The mighty Coahoma varsity football team will be wearing a spe cial Gold Out uniform tonight to show their support and raise funds for children's cancer research

This is the second year Coahoma ISD has raised money through selling Gold Out shirts. The shirt costs $10 and $7 of that money will go directly to childhood cancer research facilities with the rest covering for the cost of

The Gold Out movement was started by two mothers - Angel Miller and Kelly Pickle — whose children were impacted by cancer. Bulldogs Head Football Coach Chris Joslin and his wife, Kristen, personally know Jeff and Angel Miller along with their son Gunner, who was diagnosed with an aggressive form of bone cancer when he was a high school freshman

Chris worked under Jeff Miller while his was employed at Rockdale High School, and saw Gunner win his fight against can-

The public is encouraged to wear their Gold Out shirt at tonight's home game against Stanton. Kickoff is at 7:30 p.m. at the Bill Easterling Memorial Field.

Bucks beat Rockets, spoiling Westbrook-Harden reunion

HOUSTON (AP) — Giannis Antetokounmpo scored 30 points and had a triple-double before fouling out and his supporting cast held on to lead the Milwaukee Bucks to a 117-111 victory over the Houston Rockets on Thursday night in a star-studded opener featuring the last three MVPs.

Antetokounmpo, the MVP last season, fouled out with about five minutes remaining. He had 13 rebounds and 11 assists.

Brook Lopez made two free throws with about a minute left before a layup by Russell Westbrook. But Lopez made a fadeaway shot to leave Milwaukee up 115-109 with 39 seconds remaining. James Harden added a pair of free throws before Ersan Ilyasova made a jump shot with about 15 seconds to go that sent many fans heading to the exits. Some had wondered what would happen with the pairing of the two ball-dominant guards in Harden and Westbrook after the 2017 MVP was traded from Oklahoma City for Chris Paul this summer. In their first game together with the Rockets both filled up the stat sheet, but they were unable to come away with a win after leading for much of the game.

Westbrook had 24 points, 16 rebounds and seven assists, Harden, the 2018 MVP, added 19 points, 14 assists and seven rebounds. He was 2 of 13 from the field, 1 of 8 on 3s and made 14 free throws without a miss. CLIPPERS 141, WARRIORS 122

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kawhi Leonard spoiled the Warriors' first game at Chase Center just as he did their farewell at Oracle Arena four months ago, scoring 21 points in three quarters to lead Los Angeles to the win at Golden State's snazzy new arena.

Reigning NBA Finals MVP Leonard shot 9 for 17 and also dished out nine assists in his second game with L.A.

Stephen Curry scored 23 points and D'Angelo Russell added 20 in his Golden State debut, but the Warriors got beat up the way they used to do it against the entire NBA, even giving up a 46-point third quarter.

Patrick Patterson scored 20 points and Ivica Zubac had 16 points, 10 rebounds and two blocked shots for Los Angeles.

Curry, who at 31 is the oldest Warriors player, was 2 of 11 on 3s as Golden State went 15 for 42 from deep.

HAWKS 117, PISTONS 100

DETROIT (AP) — Trae Young had 38 points and nine assists and Atlanta opened the season with a victory over Detroit.

John Collins added 20 points and 10 rebounds, and Jabari Parker had 18 points. Vince Carter checked in for Atlanta with 6:52 left in the first quarter, becoming the first player to see action in 22 NBA seasons.

Derrick Rose led Detroit with 27 points, and Andre Drummond had 21 points and 12 rebounds. On Wednesday night in Indiana, Drummond had 32 points and 23 rebounds in Detroit's season-opening victory.

Thursday Sports in Brief

MLB

HOUSTON (AP) — The Astros have fired assistant general manager Brandon Taubman for directing inappropriate comments at female reporters following Houston's pennant-winning victory over the New York Yankees.

The team released a statement Thursday that said Taubman's conduct did not reflect the organization's values "and we believe this is the most appropriate course of action."

Taubman has previously apologized for using language that was "unprofessional and inappropriate" in the clubhouse following the victory. Sports Illustrated reported he repeatedly yelled toward a group of female reporters about closer Roberto Osuna, who was suspended for 75 games last year for violating MLB's domestic violence policy before being traded from Toronto to the Astros.

Taubman shouted "Thank God we got Osuna!" according to SI, which said he made similar remarks several times, punctuating them with a pro-

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Phillies hired former Yankees manager Joe Girardi to replace Gabe Kapler on Thursday. Girardi will be introduced at a news conference Monday.

Kapler was fired after an injury-depleted team went 81-81 despite significant offseason additions highlighted by Bryce Harper's arrival. He was 161-163 in his two seasons. The Phillies also interviewed Dusty Baker and Buck Showalter.

Girardi led New York to its 27th World Series title, beating the Phillies in six games in 2009.

He succeeded replaced Joe Torre after the 2007 season and spent a decade in pinstripes. He also managed the Marlins one season and was NL Manager of the Year after going 78-84 in 2006. His record with the Yankees was 910-710, the sixth most wins in team history.

The 55-year-old Girardi hit .267 as a catcher for 15 seasons in the majors. He won three championships with the Yankees in the 1990s and was an All-Star for the Cubs in 2000.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs have hired former catcher David Ross to replace Joe Maddon as their manager, hoping he can help them get back to the playoffs after missing out for the first since 2014.

The Cubs announced Thursday a three-vear deal with Ross with a club option for the 2023 season.

Ross played the final two of his 15 major league seasons with the Cubs and was a revered leader on the 2016 team that won the World Series, ending a championship drought dating to 1908. He spent the past three years in Chicago's front office and was widely viewed as a potential replacement for Maddon, who compiled a 471-339-1 record in five seasons.

Ross has no coaching or managing experience.

SAN DIEGO (AP) — The San Diego Padres are turning to another rookie manager as they try to bridge the difficult gap between rebuilding and contending.

The Padres have hired Jayce Tingler from the Texas Rangers to take over a team that has missed the playoffs for 13 straight seasons and hasn't had a winning record in nine years a person familiar with the situation said Thursday.

The person spoke with The Associated Press on condition of anonymity because the hiring hasn't been an-

Another person familiar with the process said the team is still finalizing a contract with Tingler, 38. An introductory news conference won't be held until next week, after the World Series ends.

Tingler has most recently been on the Rangers' coaching staff as major league player development field coordinator, working with outfielders and baserunners. —By AP Sports Writer Bernie Wil-

WASHINGTON (AP) — President

Donald Trump says he is planning to attend the World Series on Sunday if it goes to a fifth game. The president confirmed his plans

Thursday while presenting the Presidential Medal of Freedom to Roger Penske, a businessman and founder of one of the world's most successful motorsports teams.

The Washington Nationals and the Houston Astros are playing, with the fifth game scheduled for Sunday in Washington. The Nationals lead the series 2-0 and could conceivably win it before Sunday's game.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big league umpire Rob Drake has apologized for sending a politicized tweet this week that referenced an assault weapon and criticism of President Donald Drake unlocked his Twitter account on Thursday and posted several messages to say he was sorry.

A day earlier, before Washington played at Houston in Game 2 of the World Series, commissioner Rob Manfred said Major League Baseball would investigate Drake's comments.

Suns center Deandre Ayton suspended for 25 games by NBA Now they'll be without Ayton until mid-December unless the suspension is

By DAVID BRANDT

AP Sports Writer PHOENIX (AP) — The Phoenix Suns plans for a big turnaround season hit an unexpected snag.

Center Deandre Ayton was suspended 25 games without pay by the NBA on Thursday night for violating the terms of the NBA/NBPA Anti-Drug Program by testing positive for a diuretic.

The first overall pick last year out of Arizona, Ayton averaged 16.3 points and 10.3 rebounds as a rookie and was hoping to have a jump in production in his second season. He had 18 points, 11 rebounds and four blocks Wednesday night in the Suns' season-opening home victory over Sacramento. Ayton was especially proud of the blocks, telling media after the game that new coach Monty Williams had put a huge emphasis on defense and rim protection.

But the good vibes from that victory have quickly evaporated. "On behalf of the Phoenix Suns organization, Monty Williams and I are disappointed in the actions by Deandre Ayton that led to his testing positive for a banned diuretic and subsequent suspension by the NBA. This does not uphold the standards and principles we have set for the team," Suns general manager James Jones said in a statement released by the team. "Deandre has expressed his deepest remorse. While he is suspended we remain committed to his growth and development on and off the court. His actions are not taken lightly, and we are committed to ensuring that Deandre understands the profound impact it has had on the team, organization, and Suns community." Ayton was upbeat after Wednesday's win, giving no indication that he was about to miss nearly a third of the season. Phoenix had a 19-63 record last season but hoped for a fast rebuild with a roster that was built around Ayton and high-scoring guard Devin Booker.

The team hired Williams as coach, signed free-agent point guard Ricky Rubio and re-signed talented forward Kelly Oubre Jr. The Suns also added rookies Cameron Johnson and Ty Jerome and depth in the frontcourt with veterans Aron Baynes, Dario Saric and Frank Kaminsky III.

reduced through the arbitration process.

"I want to apologize to my family, the entire Suns organization, my teammates, partners, our fans and the Phoenix community," Ayton said in a statement. "This was an unintentional mistake and unfortunately I put something in my body that I was completely unaware of."

"I do understand the unfortunate impact that this has on so many others, and for that I am deeply sorry. I'm extremely disappointed that I've let my team down. I will continue to work with the Players' Union (NBPA) to go through the arbitration process and am hopeful for a positive resolution."

Ayton won't be eligible to return until a road game against the Los Angeles Clippers on Dec. 17.

Phoenix plays at Denver

on Friday night.
