Herald Staff Report

The Big Spring Police Department has begun accepting applications to attend the next Citizens Police Academy. The academy is set to begin April 23.

"The CPA is 30-hour program intended to enhance understanding and cooperation between the citizens of Big Spring and Howard County and the personnel of the Big Spring Police Department," Chief of Police Chad Williams said. "The Citizens Police Academy is designed to give participants a 'tip of the iceberg' overview of the tasks, responsibilities and procedures of the men and women serving in local law enforcement."

Citizens who take part in the Citizens Police Academy will have an opportunity to hear from officers in various functions of police work including, Dispatch, Records, Animal Control, Recruiting and Training, Patrol Operations, Criminal and Narcotics Investigations, Crime Scene Processing, Crime Stoppers and SWAT functions.

"Robust question and answer sessions are encouraged throughout the program," Chief Williams said.

According to information provided by the Big Spring Police Department, many of the sessions are hands-on exercises that provide the participants with opportunities to step into the role of the police officer and handle various situations officers are called upon to deal with daily. In addition to the sessions, participants also spend a working shift riding in a patrol car with an on-duty officer to gain a first-hand perspective of a day in the life of a local officer.

"Historically, this is one of the aspects of the program enjoyed by all of the participants," he said.

The program will also introduce participants to the Volunteer in Police Service (VIPS) group. Representatives of this group will attend and assist with the classroom activities. VIPS are an active group who assist the BSPD with activities such as traffic control for parades and other activities, the house

The West Texas Veterans Association hosted a program in honor of African American Heritage Month Feb. 27, 2020.

Jessica Wilson, Administrative Officer gave a warm welcome to everyone that was able to attend.

On Jan. 31, 2020 President Trump issued a Presidential Proclamation entitled Proclamation on National African American History Month.

"The theme of this year's observance, 'African Americans and the Vote,' coincides with the 150th anniversary of the 15th Amendment, which gave African American men the right to vote. This Amendment to the Constitution, ratified in 1870, prohibits the government from denying or abridging the citizen's right to vote based on 'race, color, or previous condition of servitude." Today, this guarantee is enforced primarily throughout the Voting Rights Act of 1965, an enduring legacy of Reverend Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and the Civil Rights movement."

Angela Maberry said.

This year also marks the 150th anniversary of the first African American to serve in the Congress. In 1870, Hiram Revels, a Mississippi Republican, served a 1-year term in the Senate, where he fought for justice and racial equality. During his lifetime, Senator Revels served as a military chaplain, a minister with the African Methodist Episcopal Church, and a college administrator. But it was Revels' tenure in the Congress that truly distinguished him as a trailblazer. He made history serving our Nation in a building that had been constructed by slave laborers just a decade earlier.

"Cast your buckets where you stand," Booker T. Washington, gave this speech for the cotton states and international expedition in Atlanta. So the story is, the ship lost at sea for many days suddenly sighted a friendly vessel from the mask of the unfortunate

The Wisdom of History: Lecture 8: Ancient Israel and the Middle East

By ANNA GUTIERREZ
 Staff Writer

We have reached the third lecture in this group that tells the impact the Middle East has had throughout history. Dr. Fears states, "Of all the nations that have passed through the Middle East, Israel remains. Did you ever ponder that? How many people speak ancient Egyptian today? How many people speak Lydian or Hittite? No one does. How many people worship Anubis, the god of ancient Egyptians? How many worship the Baal of ancient Canaanites and Phoenicians? But Hebrew is a living language, and the Old Testament is still read all over the world every day by millions of people."

After the fall of Troy, for about 200 years, the Middle East was in constant turmoil, but Hebrew and Judaism survived. The Old Testament is the story of the rise and fall of Israel. Dr. Fears states that the first true work of history was the book of Samuel, which was written in around 950 B.C. and tells the story of the rise and fall of Israel.

It was around 1240 B.C. when Moses led the Israelites out of Egypt. The Egyptian army was destroyed in the Red Sea. Dr. Fears again states that Judaism is a historical religion rooted in the liberation from Egypt and the acceptance on one single God, and as long as the Israelites followed the laws of God, the Ten Commandments, Israel would prosper.

The Israelites arrived in what is now Israel and Palestine, which was home to many different ethnic groups, as it still is today. They had no earthly king, but rather were governed by judges, tribal leaders and prophets until around 1020 B.C. after the defeat of the Philistines. The prophet Samuel chose Saul, a mighty warrior, to be king, but Saul did not carry out his orders as directed. So God then chose David, a young shepherd boy. David defeated Goliath, the giant, with watch program and monitoring handicap parking violations. Graduation from the CPA will qualify participants to apply for the VIPs group.

“We encourage all past and future graduates of the CPA to consider joining the volunteer group,” he said.

Since its inception in 1994, the CPA has provided a forum wherein citizens and police can exchange information and viewpoints.

“We have found that this exchange benefits the participants, the officers and instructors, the Department and the community in general,” Chief Williams said. “The community comes to a better understanding of the often-conflicting expectations and requirements placed on law enforcement and law enforcement comes to a better understanding of the expectations of their community.”

Chief Williams continued, “Over the years, as a result of this exchange, the department has modified some of its practices and procedures to better meet the needs and desires of the citizens. In turn we have seen an increased acceptance of our role in the community and have enjoyed a more open dialog with its members.”

The CPA class will take place every Thursday for eight weeks from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Members will also be required to complete a six hour ride-a-long with a patrol officer prior to the final day of the Citizens Police Academy. Applicants that have been selected to attend the Citizens Police Academy will be contacted and given additional information.

vessel was seen as a signal, water water, the answer from the friendly vessel came back, “cast down your bucket where you are. So the second time they signalled again; ‘Water send us water,’ and again the friendly ship said, ‘Cast down your bucket where you are.’

He continued the story, at this point they are running out of water. They didn’t have anything to drink so they send out a third and fourth signal. Then the friendly vessel said again ‘Cast down your bucket where you are.’ So they did just that and when they cast down their buckets and pulled them up it was full fresh sparkling water because they were sitting at the mouth of the Amazon River.

“In 1776, at the beginning of this brave country the majority of people couldn’t vote, except a very small group of people. In order to vote you would have to be a land owner, and to be able to own land you had to be very rich and white,” Guest Speaker, Judge Timothy Green said.

“In 1856 there was another group of people allowed to vote. Voting was granted to all white men,” Green said. “Then, in 1868, and the theme of our program, voting and the African American Vote. The 14th Amendment gave African Americans citizenship, but didn’t do one thing, it did not give them a Federal right to vote, 15th Amendment, 1870 Federal or State Governments were forbidden for denying rights to vote to citizens based on race. 1890 was the first time in the United States where we seen any women vote anywhere. In 1920, women were granted the right to vote, but people were still being left out of citizenship Native Americans, and Asian women, “ Green continued. “And that is my version on African Americans and the Vote thank you.”

Goliath’s own sword.

David became a great warrior for Saul, but Saul became jealous and ordered David to be killed. David escaped and continued to fight the Philistines. Saul and his son Jonathan were killed in battle. David united the tribes of Israel into a kingdom, established the city of Jerusalem around 950 B.C., and Israel prospered.

David got older and wanted peace; he quit going to battle. David committed sins against God’s laws, and thus began the downfall of Israel. David wanted the wife of his warrior Uriah, Bathsheba. After discovering Bathsheba was pregnant, David ordered Uriah home to make it seem as if the baby would be Uriah’s, but Uriah refused to leave the battle. David ordered Uriah killed. His firstborn with Bathsheba died, and early of sign of God’s displeasure.

When David realized his sins, God gave him three choices for his people, war, pestilence or famine. David chose pestilence for three days, and many Israelites died. But David learned obedience. Solomon, David’s son, would again bring great power to Israel, but after also committing many sins, God broke the power of Israel. We see this same pattern throughout not only the Old Testament, but throughout history.

The next lecture will be Ancient Greece and the Middle East and will be the final lecture in this section. Lectures take place every Tuesday at noon at the Howard County Library in the basement classroom.

Bulldogs finish on top of 5A/6A bracket at Concho Classic in San Angelo

Special to the Herald

SAN ANGELO — The Coahoma Bulldogettes rallied from a three-run deficit against the San Angelo Central Lady Cats to win the Concho Classic Softball 5A/6A bracket championship game 7-5 on Saturday night.

The Lady Cats took advantage of a few Bulldogette errors to bring in three runs before Coahoma was able to get out of the second inning. However, the third inning was a different story.

Madison Rodgers led Coahoma's onslaught when she hammered a triple on a fly ball to right field for an RBI. Macee Grant and Caitlyn Corley also scored on their own for their first, RBIs by Christain Everett, MaKynlee Overton, and Sydney Rinard helped Coahoma to a four-run advantage.

San Angelo Central was able to chip away at the deficit with runs in the third and fourth inning before the game ended in the fifth because of the 90-minute tournament time limit.

Overall, Coahoma went 5-1 over the three-day tournament with wins against Bushland (2-0), Brownfield (10-4), and their 2019's Bi-District opponent Comanche (9-7). The Bulldogettes also won their first game against San Angelo Central on Friday, 6-1. Their only loss of the tournament came against Seminole (1-4).

Bulldogettes head coach Alex Orosco has been proactive this season in preparing his successful softball squad for district action by adding more pre-season games and tougher opponents. Already the Bulldogettes have played four scrimmages, two tournaments and faced two 6A softball teams — Midland High School and San Angelo Central.

Coahoma (10-3) will face Lakeview at home at 5 p.m. on Tuesday and participate in the Big Spring tournament this weekend before opening district action against the 2019 5-3A district champions, the Clyde Lady Bulldogs on Tuesday, March 10.

Dallas Cowboys Corner

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sportswriter

Jerry Jones does his thinking in the shower

Talk of former Cowboys wide receiver Dez Bryant making a return to the league has been making the headlines over the past few weeks. With videos of Bryant excelling in on-field workouts going viral online, Dallas owner Jerry Jones was asked his thoughts on a possible Dez reunion.

"I've been thinking about it a lot in the shower," Jones said in an interview at the NFL Combine last week. "I have been. I'm not dismissing it. I don't want to sound like it should be dismissed by saying it. I'm thinking about it."

Bryant will turn 32 in the middle of next season and has not played since 2017. He is the Cowboys all-time receiving touchdown leader (73) and is fifth in receiving yards (7,459). At this point, Bryant would be an inexpensive option that could add depth to the wide receiver room. If he can keep his ego at the door, Bryant could be a low-risk, high-reward option for Dallas in the 2020 season.

Prescott is not going anywhere

Jones also touched on some other topics that included roster moves. One of the biggest glaring questions about the team's offseason has been what they will do with their starting quarterback.

"Certainly have and going to keep his rights," Jones said in the same interview. "To be trite, we're not going to let a technicality issue the thing... I am not in any way going to not have his rights, for one minute."

Jones is the team owner and general manager so there is no reason to not completely expect a Prescott return as the starting quarterback.

Good news for McCarthy

The new head coach also spoke of Prescott last week and believes the Mississippi State product is the quarterback to bring the Lombardi Trophy back to Dallas.

"Defenses get you to the championship. The quarterbacks win championships. And I definitely think Dak is that quarterback," McCarthy said at the Combine last week.

Defensive Line a big offseason need

With the Cowboys needing to make some moves on the defensive line this offseason, the NFL Combine this past weekend was telling for some top prospects.

South Carolina's Javon Kinlaw could be an option in the first round. He had 35 tackles, six tackles for loss, and six sacks in his senior season in Columbia and is a former junior college player. He could go as high as the Top 10 in April's draft but he did not participate at the Combine because of a knee injury suffered at the Senior Bowl. If the injury ends up causing Kinlaw to slide, he could find a home in Dallas at the 17th overall pick.

Iowa's A.J. Epenesa could also be an option if the Cowboys brass decide to go with a front seven down-lineman. Epenesa ran a 5.05 in the 40-yard dash, recorded a 32.5" vertical, a broad jump of 9'9", and a 7.34 in the three-cone drill. The Iowa product racked up 101 tackles, 36 tackles for loss, and 26.5 sacks over his three-year career as a Hawkeye. If the Cowboys were to draft him, they would be acquiring a great pass rusher with potential to also be a run-stuffing presence on the defensive line.

There will be other options such as LSU's K'Lavon Chaisson and Minnesota's Neville Gallimore to choose from come April.

The Cowboys could also go another route and go for a playmaker in the secondary. Alabama's Xavier McKinney has been a popular pick in mock drafts and could be a solid Day One starter at safety. If the Cowboys can re-sign star cornerback Byron Jones, or they lose him in free agency, the could be inclined to go after another corner in the draft such as Florida's CJ Henderson.

The combine is now over and Pro Day's are the next step in the draft process. There is still plenty of time between now and the draft and free agency will tell us more about the Cowboys offseason plan.

Annie's Mailbox

Look Up and Soak in the Wonder

Dear Annie: I've seen lots of parents (or babysitters) gabbing on the phone as they push strollers or baby carriages. The tots are getting no attention. Once, I saw a large dog, unleashed and apparently unaccompanied, dash up to a youngster in a stroller. Happily, the dog meant no ill and simply gave the child a big, sloppy kiss. And the stroller's pusher? She missed the entire incident.

She also missed -- as they all do -- the fun of watching the baby's reactions to the sun and sky and trees and people. And dogs, too. But the cellphone-addicted parents are oblivious. Why isn't bonding with their kids more important than bonding with their phones? -- Kids Are Better Than Phones

Dear Kids Are Better Than Phones: Being in the moment and drinking in all of life's beautiful experiences is something that should be treasured for everyone. And for parents and guardians, their children's safety is also at risk when not properly monitored.

Dear Annie: A common theme among your readers is the desire to spend more time with family, especially grandchildren. From my experience as a granddaughter, mother and grandmother, I have some ideas to help your readers become more visible and accessible to their families by planning carefully. The first step is to be proactive.

Almost everyone today has a cellphone. Contact your family to set up a convenient time to have short visits using FaceTime or other video apps. You will feel like you are there, and no one has to leave the house!

When you do want to visit, call ahead to select a time that does not interrupt meals and daily family schedules. If bath time is 6:30 p.m., plan your arrival to create a natural time limit without the awkwardness of choosing when to depart.

Make "dinner night" a monthly event, keeping in mind working parents' and kids' activities. Let the kids help choose the menu or place. Meet at a favorite restaurant or bring a home-cooked meal (Mom's or Grandma's special recipes) to their house. If possible, invite them to your house for a meal.

Create excitement for your grandchildren (and their parents) by dropping off a surprise dessert. Many kids enjoy baking. Invite them over occasionally to help you create those treats. Get out those old cookie cutters; many kids have never seen them. Even older children will get caught up in creating something special.

Make grandchildren want to receive mail from you! Keep in touch by sending fun little notes or cards at times other than birthdays or holidays. Dollar stores have inexpensive stationery, cards and stickers. Use colorful markers to write and decorate your notes. The post office sells fun and interesting stamps. To encourage a response, supply stationery and stamps (some pre-addressed envelopes), and ask your grandkids to send you a hand-drawn picture or note about something they are doing.

Ask for a copy of your grandchildren's schedules and attend their activities when time permits. Most schools have websites that list daily sports schedules and other events. Check these frequently for changes.

Family time is precious. Make it happen. -- Been There and Still Doing That

Dear Still Doing That: These are really thoughtful suggestions. Thank you for sending your letter.

Fate Twists With Lunar Squares

ARIES (March 21-April 19). There is very little that you really have to do. What's before you is all optional. It's good to remember that every once in a while. And when you talk about your life, phrase it as what you "get" to do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). Many valuable discoveries have been made by chance by people seeking something else entirely. Then again, chance favors the seekers. Ask any of them, or just ask yourself today, as you're definitely in the category.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). The same problem seems life-altering for one person and able to be solved in a snap to another. Giving problems the scale they deserve in your life is an art that you're executing better and better.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Friends will shape your day, and this will be a reminder about how important it is to have good people in your life -- people you admire and trust to be compassionate and kind.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22).

Though you'll be tempted to act automatically and out of loyalty and a sense of justice, taking a moment to reflect will make all the difference, as right and wrong will not be so obvious.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Speaking well will take you far. Consider taking on a speaking project. To give a speech about your life, work or any topic at all really offers an all-encompassing sort of self-development.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). Of course, the expectation that matters is the one you have of yourself, but that one can be pretty harsh and unreasonable. The expectations of others in your life will be kinder.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). Relationships happen because you make them happen, and they continue because you cultivate them. The natural outcropping is that you'll feel responsible for a part of another person's happiness, and in fact, you are.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). When people ask you for reminders, they don't have good organizational systems in place. On the bright side, this is the sort of extra little burden of responsibility that sparks a cool idea.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). At your heart, you're an altruist. No person can exist alone. You are only completely satisfied with an outcome if you believe that others are benefitting as much as you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). The big picture will come to you. All you have to do is close your eyes and wish a moment. It won't be very hard for you to come up with excellent strategies.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). In a calm atmosphere, sudden movements are startling. In chaos, anything goes. You'll be in both sorts of conditions. You'll read the room and adjust accordingly.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (March 2). There's boldness in this solar journey. What starts as a soft statement will attract the mental steel and concrete it needs to become a structure of your life. This is about identity. You will declare yourself in a new way such as "artist," "athlete" or "financial wizard" and become the person of your declaration. Scorpio and Cancer adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 9, 22, 21, 18 and 4.

The bidding:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♥ Dble Pass
2 NT Pass 3 NT Pass
Opening lead — four of hearts.

This deal occurred in the semi-final match between China and the United States at the 2009 world team championship held in Sao Paulo.

The bidding shown took place when a Chinese pair held the North-South cards. South's opening club bid was strong and artificial, and North's double of one heart showed some values, after which the bidding followed normal lines.

Nick Nickell, West, led a heart, taken in dummy by the queen. Declarer then led the jack of spades, and Nickell made what proved to be the key play, allowing the jack to hold. South then repeated the finesse, whereupon Nickell won with the king and returned a third spade to South's ace, establishing two spade winners for East.

Declarer could still have gotten home safely had he elected to play East for the ace of clubs, but he instead tried for his ninth trick by leading a heart. Nickell rose with the ace and shifted to a club, and East's ace and two good spades put South down one.

While Nickell should be given full credit for his fine defense, the fact remains that declarer had only himself to blame for the outcome.

After the spade jack held at trick two, all South had to do was to lead a heart to establish his ninth trick. West could take the ace or refuse it, as he pleased, but there was no way declarer could be prevented from scoring two spades, two hearts and five diamonds for his contract.

Given that the world team championship is scored by International Match Points, which puts a premium on bidding and making contracts, with overtricks of little consequence, it may seem surprising that a player at this level could make such a mistake. The most likely explanation is that the stress and fatigue caused by playing two straight weeks against the world's best players had taken its toll, as it has on many other such occasions in the past.

Tomorrow: The bidding tells the tale.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Level: Beginner

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Today in History

Today is Monday, March 2, the 62nd day of 2020. There are 304 days left in the year. Today's Highlight in History: On March 2, 1962, Wilt Chamberlain scored 100 points for the Philadelphia Warriors in a game against the New York Knicks, an NBA record that still stands. (Philadelphia won, 169-147.) On this date: In 1877, Republican Rutherford B. Hayes was declared the winner of the 1876 presidential election over Democrat Samuel J. Tilden, even though Tilden had won the popular vote. In 1917, Puerto Ricans were granted U.S. citizenship as President Woodrow Wilson signed the Jones-Shafroth Act. In 1932, the 20th Amendment to the Constitution, which moved the date of the presidential inauguration from March 4 to January 20, was passed by Congress and sent to the states for ratification. In 1933, the motion picture "King Kong" had its world premiere at New York's Radio City Music Hall and the Roxy. In 1939, Roman Catholic Cardinal Eugenio Pacelli (puh-CHEL-ee) was elected pope on his 63rd birthday; he took the name Pius XII. The Massachusetts legislature voted to ratify the Bill of Rights, 147 years after the first 10 amendments to the U.S. Constitution had gone into effect. (Georgia and Connecticut soon followed.) In 1940, the cartoon character Elmer Fudd made his debut in the Warner Bros. animated short "Elmer's Candid Camera," in which the title character finds himself pitted against a rascally rabbit that was a precursor to Bugs Bunny. In 1943, the three-day Battle of the Bismarck Sea began in the southwest Pacific during World War II; U.S. and Australian warplanes were able to inflict heavy damage on an Imperial Japanese convoy. In 1972, the United States launched the Pioneer 10 space probe, which flew past Jupiter in late 1973, sending back images and scientific data. In 1985, the government approved a screening test for AIDS that detected antibodies to the virus, allowing possibly contaminated blood to be excluded from the blood supply. In 1989, representatives from the 12 European Community nations agreed to ban all production of CFCs (chlorofluorocarbons), the synthetic compounds blamed for destroying the Earth's ozone layer, by the end of the 20th century. In 1990, more than 6,000 drivers went on strike against Greyhound Lines Inc. (The company, later declaring an impasse in negotiations, fired the strikers.) In 1995, the Internet search engine website Yahoo! was incorporated by founders Jerry Yang and David Filo. Ten years ago: Authorities in San Diego County found the body of 17-year-old Chelsea King, who'd been missing since Feb. 25, 2010. (John Albert Gardner III later pleaded guilty to raping and murdering King and another victim, 14-year-old Amber Dubois; he was sentenced to life in prison without the possibility of parole.) Five years ago: Iraqi forces launched a large-scale offensive to take Saddam Hussein's hometown of Tikrit from the Islamic State group, the first step in a campaign to reclaim parts of northern Iraq from the Sunni extremists. Sen. Barbara Mikulski, D-Md., who rose to become the longest-serving woman in the history of Congress, announced she would not seek re-election when her fifth term ended. One year ago: Bernie Sanders kicked off his 2020 presidential campaign, proclaiming himself the Democrat best prepared to beat Donald Trump. Speaking at a conservative conference in Washington, President Donald Trump railed against the policies of "socialism" in a continued attempt to portray Democrats as out of touch with ordinary Americans.
