Quanah Parker Day recognized Sept. 12; CVB holding photo contest

By AMANDA DUFORAT

Managing Editor

History abounds in Howard County and on Sept. 12 the City of Big Spring residents are encouraged to take part in celebrating a piece of history that dates back to pioneer days. The Texas Plains Trail Region is encouraging partnering communities to recognize Quanah Parker Day in Texas on Sept. 12. Texas Governor Greg Abbott has designated the second Saturday of the month as Quanah Parker Day.

"The Big Spring Convention and Visitor's Bureau is inviting residents to celebrate Quanah Parker Day by taking a photo of themselves in front of the 22 ft. arrow that is placed at the entrance to the Historic Spring in Comanche Trail Park," Manny Negron, Tourism Coordinator, said. "Residents are encouraged to submit their photos to be placed on the Visit Big Spring Facebook page on Quanah Parker Day."

According to Negron, the photos can be submitted by e-mail at mnegron@mybigspring.com between Sept. 5-11. More information regarding photo submissions can be

WTC awarded grant to improve patient care

Special to the Herald

West Texas Centers

The FMH Foundation of Midland recently awarded West Texas Centers with a substantial grant to improve patient care for their consumers in West Texas Centers 23-county service area.

West Texas Centers serves as the mental health authority with 15 mental health clinics across the region.

West Texas Centers serves more than 6,000 people each year who live with behavioral health issues and intellectual and developmental disabilities. The Little Lives Early Childhood Intervention or ECI program also is managed by West Texas Centers through their offices in Sweetwater.

"This grant from the FMH Foundation will enable us to improve our Electronic Patient Care Solution," said West Texas Centers CEO Shelley Smith, LMSW.

"Their philanthropy will assist us in caring for the many people in rural West Texas and will help us streamline care across our vast rural region."

The Electronic Patient Care Solution is the software that will be utilized for West Texas Centers new patient portal.

The $140,000 grant was funded by the FMH Foundation which provides funding for programs that impact the state of Texas with a focus on the Permian Basin. The FMH Foundation was founded by Philanthropist and Big Spring native Florence Marie Hall, who set forth specific goals for the FMH Foundation.

The FMH Foundation was established in 2011 by Hall to continue her legacy of giving back to her beloved West Texas, according to the FMH Foundation website.

The FMH Foundation strives to incubate supporting programs, projects and activities in areas of interest that demonstrate excellence, innovation, collaboration and multi-disciplinary approaches by making grants to public charitable organizations.

The FMH Foundation was created to "foster collaboration, innovation, creativity, excellence, synergy, and development" with the focus on health, performing and visual arts, and community and cultural endeavors.

"We know the FMH Foundation is asked to fund many important endeavors in the Permian Basin and we could not be more humbled that they chose to provide West Texas Centers with such a generous gift that will help so many of our consumers and their families," Smith said.

"The Electronic Patient Care Solution will help the people we care for have access to all their appointments, medical care and be able to ask questions and provide feedback," she said. "With all the precautions in place with COVID-19, this patient care portal is of the utmost importance at this time."

"We need to utilize systems where we can do much of the required paperwork prior to in-person appointments. This keeps everyone safe. We could not complete our mission to serve the thousands of people in West Texas without

Large/Bulk item pickup set for District 3, Sept. 16

By AMANDA DUFORAT

Managing Editor

The second cycle of the Large/Bulk Item pickup has kicked off, and is heading into District 3 with pick up scheduled for Sept. 16. During the first cycle of pickups, City Staff – through the support of the community – found a few opportunities that will help the program flow smoother and allow for better utilization of the service. During the second round of large item picks up in District 2, the City implemented a scheduling process which seemed to have improved the flow of the pickup program.

"Since the City of Big Spring has reinstated the large item pick up, more and more citizens are beginning to participate in the program. With the increase of residents taking part in the program it has become more difficult for city staff to complete the project in just a single day," Shane Bowles, Public Works Director, said. "The change to begin scheduling for the large item pick up gives the city a better way to prepare for the event and assure no citizen is missed."

This month, on Sept. 16, those living in District 3 will be able to have their large items picked up for the second time this year. As mentioned by Bowles, in order to ensure all residents in District 3 are able to take part in the program, those needing to have items picked up are asked to call and schedule a pick up no later than 5 p.m. on Sept. 14.

Residents in District 3 will be part of the Large Item Pick up this month, on Sept. 16. Those needing items picked up should call by Sept. 14 by 5 p.m. to schedule pick up at the Public Works Office at 432-264-2501.

"Calling and scheduling your pick up will allow the city to better inform the public if they have any questions and assuring that the resident are putting out items that are permitted by the program. This will save the city time and resources as well as give the citizens a more effective program," Bowles said.

The large/bulk item program was restarted at the beginning of this year, as a way to help residents dispose of large items from their homes like couches, mattresses, appliances, and any other large, bulky items without the expense and hassle of hauling it off.

"City staff will only pick up items that are placed on the curb upon arrival to your location and staff will not be permitted to bring items to the curb from inside your home or from any other area of the residence, including the backyard and garage," an information flyer from the City of Big Spring stated.

The program is designed to support residential customers only and is not open to businesses. Once the resident has

“The statewide observance, which Texas Governor Greg Abbott decreed for the second Saturday of each September, commemorates the life of Comanche Chief Quanah Parker. In the Texas Plains Trail Region, one of the 10 regions designated as part of the Texas Heritage Trails Program of the Texas Historical Commission, volunteer leaders launched a Quanah Parker Trail project in 2010, which has organized some regional events and avenues for participating in the statewide recognition,” Negron said.

In a press release issued by the Texas Plains Trail Region (TPTR), the historical impact of Quanah Parker was explained. Quanah Parker’s mother Cynthia Ann Parker, who was kidnapped as a child and raised among the Comanches; and their lives as Texas Indians. The Comanches were called “Lords of the Southern Plains” owing to their superb horsemanship and prowess in hunting bison from horseback.

While most students who have passed through 4th through 7th grade have learned about the impact made by Quanah Parker, it is a history that has recently been highlighted through a special project across the state. Large arrows have been placed along the trail, marking visits by Quanah Parker. The Quanah Parker Trail placed within the TPTR is conceptual in nature. Counties of the TPTR installed 88 steel arrows created by sculptor welder Charles A. Smith (1943-2018), to commemorate their inclusion in the Comancheria, the territorial range of the Comanches in the 19th century. The trail is named for Quanah Parker, as he is considered as the most renowned Indian leader who frequented this area.

“In the Texas Plains Trail Region (TPTR), we encourage you to honor Quanah Parker Day by paying a visit to a nearby steel arrow sculpture that marks a county’s inclusion on the Quanah Parker Trail (QPT). Take a stand with Quanah Parker and the arrow. Share your photos with us on social media and be sure to tell your family and friends about your adventure,” a press release stated. “The heart of the story is this: Every county’s land within TPTR was once part of the territory of the Comanches, known as the Comancheria.”

According to history provided by TPTR, at one time or another, Quanah crossed the lands known as Big Spring. As a warrior, Quanah rode with the Kwahada division of the Comanche tribe. The Kwahada made their home on the southern High Plains of the Llano Estacado and as well traversed the Rolling Plains of Texas in the late 19th century. Under Quanah’s leadership, the Kwahada remained the last Comanche holdouts who resisted the U.S. military’s effort to force all Indians to move onto reservations.

After the Comanches moved to the reservation in Indian Territory by the end of 1875, Quanah continued as a leader, helping them adjust to a different way of life. He was appointed as a Comanche chief by Indian agents of the federal government. Quanah coordinated cultural and political activities felt to be necessary to aid the Comanche people in adapting to the challenges of modernism in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. In this capacity, he continued to travel throughout our region, by mule-drawn wagon, touring car, and train. He became a celebrity, and as a much sought-after representative of frontier history, in the TPTR alone he attended a funeral in Dalhart, addressed a crowd in Matador, attended a celebration in the town of Quanah named for him, and visited ranchers Samuel Burk Burnett in Guthrie and Charles Goodnight near Claude.

Texans-Chiefs set to kick off NFL season unlike any other

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — It has been a mere eight months since Patrick Mahomes led Kansas City from a 24-0 hole to beat Deshaun Watson and the Houston Texans in the divisional round of the playoffs, a brutally efficient comeback that ultimately propelled the Chiefs to their first Super Bowl title in 50 years.

A whole lot has changed, though.

The coronavirus pandemic canceled the entire NFL offseason along with all four preseason games. That means their rematch at Arrowhead Stadium on Thursday night will be the first game for anybody since February. It also means the crowd at what is historically one of the toughest road venues in the league will be limited to about 17,000 fans.

The Texans no longer carry star wide receiver DeAndre Hopkins or leading rusher Carlos Hyde on their roster. Chiefs coach Andy Reid no longer carries around the heavy and ignominious tag of best coach never to win a championship.

"You have to expect the unexpected," Mahomes said, "and that's what we're trying to do. We're going to have a game plan for everything, and I'm going to make adjustments as quickly as possible so we can get off to a fast start. Hopefully."

There are plenty of reasons for both teams to anticipate a good start.

Sure, the Texans' offense underwent a dramatic makeover with the departure of Hopkins and Hyde, but in their place came wide receivers Brandin Cooks and Randall Cobb along with a healthy David Johnson at running back. And their defense has a healthy J.J. Watt, something they only enjoyed for about half of their games last season — and have missed far too often during his outstanding career.

"We have an opportunity going to the defending Super Bowl champs' home stadium right off the bat and compete with a great team. That's what you want," said Watson, who signed a four-year, $160 million contract extension last week. "This is the best opportunity you can have to start the season." That contract extension is the second largest in NFL history. The first: The 10-year extension that Mahomes, the reigning Super Bowl MVP, signed that could ultimately pay him about a half-billion dollars.

Nice paydays for two quarterbacks taken two picks apart in the first round of the 2017 draft.

"These two guys are just great players. Very, very dynamic players," Texans coach Bill O'Brien said. "It's always interesting how the schedules are made that this is the game that opens up the season, especially with what's gone on. What's gone on the last six months, it's unprecedented. Now you have this game with these two quarterbacks who have done so much early in their careers, it's a great night for the league and a great night for football."

COVID-19 CONCERNS

The Chiefs are among a handful of teams that have been cleared by local and state authorities to have fans for Week 1, but the number was capped at 22% of capacity. Those that attend — almost entirely season ticket holders — will be required to wear face coverings whenever they are unable to maintain social distancing.

The last time Reid could remember coaching in front of so few fans was as an assistant at San Francisco State in 1985.

"If we were playing UC Davis, we would have that. But it's been a while," he said. "They had the ultimate jump ball just to get into the stadium, however, that was picked. So I know they'll be revved up and

TITLETOWN

The Chiefs raised their Super Bowl flag last week, when they handed out their rings during an on-field ceremony attended by players, coaches and their family members. But they'll do it again for the crowd during a pregame ceremony.

The Cool Factor

Tinting your vehicle's glass not only looks great, it also makes great sense. No matter what the season, tinted windows add security, provide protection from UV rays and keep your car looking & feeling cool.

Annie's Mailbox

Deactivating Social Media After Death

Dear Annie: As we live in an electronically connected world, there is a downside that bothers me. I have had a couple of friends die and their Facebook and LinkedIn accounts have remained active. On their birthdays, I receive notifications. I find it creepy. In my mind, LinkedIn is for connecting with others for work reasons. That said, there are some people who are only connected in that way. I understand why a profile might be kept active. Facebook makes that connection in our personal lives. I suggested to one friend that he turn off the birthday notification for his deceased wife, which he did. But he's going to leave her account up for a while. I'm not sure what the right answer is to this. I would like to add that I'm adding my passwords to my file of things that need to be done upon my passing. What are your thoughts? -- Live Profile

Dear Live Profile: You're wise to set aside your login information, and I encourage you to document your wishes for all of your digital assets after your death. AARP has a helpful article available on their website titled "Prepare a Digital Estate Plan for Future Caregivers."

Regarding your friends' profiles: As someone who has grappled with deactivating a dead loved one's social media accounts, I have to tell you that it can be tough. It really can feel like cutting one more thread connecting the person to the living world. Facebook and Instagram offer options to "memorialize" someone's account when they pass away, which some families might prefer to do, and LinkedIn will deactivate a profile if contacted about the owner's death. But leave that for the families to decide. And in the meantime, if a late friend's profile shows up on one of your social media feeds, take it as an opportunity to pause for a moment and think of a memory of that person.

Dear Annie: Please recommend to "Still Hurting" -- and others who are coping with the long-term effects of being abused as children -- that they look into Adult Children of Alcoholics meetings. Despite the name, these meetings are open to anyone who is suffering from the effects of growing up in a dysfunctional family, regardless of whether there was substance abuse present. As you mentioned, having a community of people who understand you because they've been there and done that is vital to recovering from trauma.

Know that there is help, and you can get better. Thank you. -- Linda

Dear Linda: Thank you for recommending this lifeline. Readers can learn more at <https://adultchildren.org>.

Dear Annie: I'd like to address a few words to "Feeling Jealous," who was putting together a birthday party for her 13-year-old stepson and was upset that her husband's ex might come.

My parents divorced back in the 1960s, after 25 years of marriage. I was a freshman in high school. As you can imagine, life around home was upside-down, especially for holidays and birthdays when we kids had to choose a parent. Their love had always been unconditional for their children. Being outspoken, an uncommon occurrence for a kid in 1962, I made a heartfelt request to both parents to have all the family together for celebrations. They did it... for us. For their sacrifice, I will be eternally grateful. My two half-siblings referred to my dad as "Uncle." My dad and stepdad were always cordial and friendly. Sometimes, what seems impossible can be made real through loving and caring. -- Grateful Daughter

Dear Grateful: I have a feeling that the rest of your family was grateful to you for advocating that kind of relationship. It sounds as though everyone's lives were richer for it. Thanks for sharing the wisdom.

TEXAS COMMISSION ON ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

NOTICE OF RECEIPT OF APPLICATION AND INTENT TO OBTAIN NONHAZARDOUS WASTE UNDERGROUND INJECTION CONTROL PERMIT RENEWAL

PERMIT NOS. WDW280 and WDW281

APPLICATION. Bher Power Resources, Inc., P.O. Box 2700, Big Spring, Texas 79721, which produces and sells electric power and water, has applied to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality (TCEQ) for permit renewals to authorize the injection of nonhazardous waste generated during the manufacture of electricity and steam. The facility is located at 500 Refinery Road, Big Spring, Texas 79720 in Howard County, Texas. TCEQ received the application on April 9, 2020. The permit application is available for viewing and copying at the Howard County Library, 500 Main Street, Big Spring, Texas 79720. The following link to an electronic map of the site or facility's general location is provided as a public courtesy and is not part of the application or notice: <https://tceq.maps.arcgis.com/apps/webappviewer/index.html?id=db5bac44afbc468bbddd360f8168250f&marker=-101.39722%2C32.28694&level=12>. For exact location, refer to application.

ADDITIONAL NOTICE. TCEQ's Executive Director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. After technical review of the application is complete, the Executive Director may prepare draft permits and will issue a preliminary decision on the application. Notice of the Application and Preliminary Decision will be published and mailed to those who are on the county-wide mailing list and to those who are on the mailing list for this application. That notice will contain the deadline for submitting public comments.

PUBLIC COMMENT/PUBLIC MEETING. You may submit public comments or request a public meeting on this application. The purpose of a public meeting is to provide the opportunity to submit comments or to ask questions about the application. TCEQ will hold a public meeting if the Executive Director determines that there is a significant degree of public interest in the application or if requested by a local legislator. A public meeting is not a contested case hearing.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. After the deadline for submitting public comments, the Executive Director will consider all timely comments and prepare a response to all relevant and material, or significant public comments. Unless the application is directly referred for a contested case hearing, the response to comments, and the Executive Director's decision on the application, will be mailed to everyone who submitted public comments and to those persons who are on the mailing list for this application. If comments are received, the mailing will also provide instructions for requesting reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision and for requesting a contested case hearing. A contested case hearing is a legal proceeding similar to a civil trial in state district court.

TO REQUEST A CONTESTED CASE HEARING, YOU MUST INCLUDE THE FOLLOWING ITEMS IN YOUR REQUEST: your name, address, phone number; applicant's name and permit number; the location and distance of your property/activities relative to the facility; a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the facility in a way not common to the general public; a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period and, the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing." If the request for contested case hearing is filed on behalf of a group or association, the request must designate the group's representative for receiving future correspondence; identify by name and physical address an individual member of the group who would be adversely affected by the facility or activity; provide the information discussed above regarding the affected member's location and distance from the facility or activity; explain how and why the member would be affected; and explain how the interests the group seeks to protect are relevant to the group's purpose.

Following the close of all applicable comment and request periods, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for reconsideration or for a contested case hearing to the TCEQ Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn.

If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law that are relevant and material to the Commission's decision on the application submitted during the comment period.

MAILING LIST. If you submit public comments, a request for a contested case hearing or a reconsideration of the Executive Director's decision, you will be added to the mailing list for this application to receive future public notices mailed by the Office of the Chief Clerk. In addition, you may request to be placed on: (1) the permanent mailing list for a specific applicant name and permit number; and/or (2) the mailing list for a specific county. To be placed on the permanent and/or the county mailing list, clearly specify which list(s) and send your request to TCEQ Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE ONLINE. For details about the status of the application, visit the Commissioners' Integrated Database at www.tceq.texas.gov/goto/cid. Once you have access to the CID using the above link, enter the permit number for this application, which is provided at the top of this notice.

AGENCY CONTACTS AND INFORMATION. All public comments and requests must be submitted either electronically at www.tceq.texas.gov/agency/decisions/cc/comments.html, or in writing to the Texas Commission on Environmental Quality, Office of the Chief Clerk, MC-105, P.O. Box 13087, Austin, Texas 78711-3087. Please be aware that any contact information you provide, including your name, phone number, email address and physical address will become part of the agency's public record. For more information about this permit application or the permitting process, please call the TCEQ's Public Education Program, Toll Free, at 1-800-687-4040 or visit their website at www.tceq.texas.gov/goto/pep. Si desea información en Español, puede llamar al 1-800-687-4040.

Opening lead — king of spades.

This deal occurred in a pair game many years ago, and to their credit, most of the North-South players reached six diamonds. However, some of the declarers, to their discredit, then proceeded to go down in the slam due to careless play.

The opening lead was invariably the king of spades, taken by the ace. This gave declarer no option as to how to begin — he had to dispose of dummy's spade loser before tackling trumps. Accordingly, he cashed the J-A-K of hearts right away, discarding dummy's remaining spade.

Having gotten over that hurdle, some declarers now turned their attention to the trump suit, losing the king to West's ace. West thereupon returned his fourth heart, and East overruffed dummy with the nine as South helplessly followed suit.

Those Souths who failed to make the slam were undeniably unlucky to go down on this line of play. The only combination of cards that could defeat them was for either defender to hold the singleton ace of diamonds as well as the missing heart.

Nevertheless, the fact remains that these Souths overlooked a very simple play that would have protected them against this contingency.

The declarers who succeeded in making the slam foresaw the danger presented by the missing nine of diamonds, and took a precautionary step to neutralize that threat. Instead of leading a trump at trick five, they first cashed the A-K of clubs and discarded the queen of hearts!

This left the defense helpless. West won the ace of diamonds on the next trick, but a heart return was now futile because North had no more hearts. Any other return was equally ineffective, so the upshot was that all the declarers who chanced the way to improve their chances wound up making the slam.

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Big Spring Steers ready for battle with Monahans following early season Bye

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

The Big Spring Steers are coming out of their early Bye Week after a huge season-opening 36-14 win over the Vernon Lions two Friday's ago at Memorial Stadium. It was Big Spring's first season-opening win since 2014 and seemed to inject a sense of hope and excitement for the Steers this fall.

Friday's big performance earned the Steers several accolades from publications across the state and Dave Campbell's Texas Football even named Big Spring their 4A Team of the Week for Week One. Making a list as revered as that one will cause some more eyes to be looking out for how the Steers continue to progress during this 2020 season.

Junior quarterback Gabriel Baeza started off his second year as starting quarterback with a huge game that earned him a few Player of the Week honors. Baeza was accurate and decisive with his passes and finished the game with almost 300 passing yards. The junior was able to connect with receiver Keagen Mitchell on two scores and was just as lethal on the ground when he was not surveying the field for Mitchell, Jose Cantu, or Pablito Dehoyos.

On defense, the Steers are led by their strong front seven. They were constantly swarming to the ball and the entire defense played a lights-out second half where they did not allow a single Vernon point to be scored. The frustrations that Coach Brad Harman's defense were causing Vernon helped the Steers be able to jump out to and extend their lead as the game went on.

Coach Harman and his defensive staff made great adjustments during the game and our players also made great adjustments," McWilliams said following the win.

Big Spring used their Bye Week this past week to look into more adjustments that need to be made.

Coahoma set to host Eldorado after 49-0 demolition of Miles last Friday night

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

The Coahoma Bulldogs coasted to a 49-0 annihilation of the Miles Bulldogs on the road last Friday night. Coach Chris Joslin's team was clicking on all cylinders and were able to successfully attack Miles on the ground and through the air.

"We just continued to play hard and wanted to limit our penalties," Joslin said. "That was a big focus all week and we did well getting those numbers down. The execution and the lack of penalties from us had a lot to do with what we were proud of."

Senior quarterback Kolt Redden had another strong performance with two touchdown passes and he also scored a third touchdown on the ground.

Running back Brysen Kerby really made his presence felt on the ground when he carried the ball 16 times for 136 yards and a score. He also pitched in one catch for 12 yards and the Coahoma offense was on fire for all four quarters.

This week, Coahoma will be going up against the Eldorado Eagles (1-1) in a home contest that could move the Bulldogs to 3-0 on the season.

Forsan preparing for Battle of the Buffaloes, will host Stanton on Friday

By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

Forsan had trouble last Friday night against the top-ranked 2A team in the state. The Post Antelopes came into Forsan and defeated the Buffaloes by a score of 39-7 in dominating fashion.

It was not all bad for Forsan, however, as the defense was able to come up with a few big stops and were mostly consistent with their strong play near the line of scrimmage. A few big plays broke the game wide open for Post and allowed them to run away with the game in the second half.

Forsan's Head Coach Jason Phillips enjoys these games against top-notch talent in the state and feels that games, like the one against Post, help a team improve across the board.

"We're executing well, but not well enough," Phillips said following the game last Friday. "There's nothing that I'm seeing that is a major weakness for us. There's just some little things that we have to fix and shore up. These guys are going to get back to work and they're going to take care of business. I expect my guys to respond and come out better next week."

This week, the Forsan Buffaloes will be entrenched in the "Battle of the Buffaloes" against Stanton. Forsan won a close game over Stanton 22-19 last year in the third game of the year for their first win and will be looking to grab their first win of the new season against Stanton once again.

The win over Stanton sparked a winning streak for the Buffs last year and Phillips will be hoping for a similar result this year.

Players of the Week

The Big Spring Steers had a Bye Week during Week Two, so there were no players of the week for them. They will be back on the field this Friday night against the Monahans Loboes. Following a big performance from quarterback Gabriel Baeza in the first game of the season against Vernon, the Steers will be looking to build on the positive momentum they built throughout that second half. Braxton Pearson and the rest of the Steer defense will need to once again bring the pressure and disrupt the Loboes' offense by consistently making plays in the backfield. Also, look for senior running back Orlando Sanchez to possibly have a breakout game on the ground.

BRYSEN KERBY

BRYDEN FONTANA

Kerby rushed 16 times for 136 yards and two touchdowns. That is good enough for a very impressive 8.5 yards per carry and the junior seemed to have his first breakout performance of the young season. The versatile back also caught one ball out of the backfield for an additional 12 yards. Look for Kerby to find himself on this list numerous times this season if he keeps it up.

Fontana played a huge role in the 49-0 shutout of the Miles Bulldogs last Friday night. The senior linebacker and the junior seemed to have accounted for six total tackles, which included two behind the line of scrimmage. Fontana was able to grab two sacks and is a vital part of the reason why the Coahoma front seven has been performing so well this season.

NATE HERNANDEZ

CAYDEN MORGAN

The Forsan Buffaloes could not get much going on offense last Friday night when facing off against the Post Antelopes, the No. 1-ranked 2A team in the state. However, senior running back Nate Hernandez was able to gain positive yardage and picked up the Buffaloes' only score of the night. Hernandez finished the game with 11 carries for 32 yards (2.9 avg.) and the one touchdown. However, on defense, even though the score may not have shown it, the Buffs were able to put together some solid drives. Cornerback Cayden Morgan found himself flying from sideline-to-sideline making tackles and he was able to finish the second game of the year with a whopping 13 total tackles that included on tackle behind the line of scrimmage. Forsan will look to both players on Friday.

STEERS

One issue the Steers will be looking to correct against Monahans is the ability to start the game off hot and come out firing on all cylinders. The Steers were successful at that in the second half against Vernon and will be looking to replicate that strong performance when they take the field Friday.

"We just tried to get better at things we were doing (in Week One)," Head Coach Cannon McWilliams said. "We're coaching this week just like we were coaching against Vernon and our kids are hungry. So, hopefully, we come out ready to roll."

Monahans has opened the 2020 season with two straight losses, but Mc-

Williams does not believe that is a great indicator of how good of a team the Loboos are.

"Despite their record, they've played two really good teams and they played well in those games," he said.

The Steers appear to have the type of offense this year that can put up loads of points. If they are able to jump out to an early one or two score lead, Big Spring could end up pulling away quickly from Monahans.

Lastly, look for another high-volume passing attack led by Baeza from the Steers this Friday that can open up running lanes for Steers' backs to run through.

BULLDOGS

Joslin is looking forward to his team's next test and believes they will be able to keep improving moving towards the district schedule. The coaching staff is still messing with lineup's and moving players around to positions they feel could best benefit the entire team.

"We're trying to find what helps us be the most successful," Joslin said. "We really want to be able to peak at that first district ballgame so we're still tweaking some stuff until we find what fits this group the best."

Eldorado, for the most part, plays with a balanced offense and a defense similar to the ones that Coahoma has faced so far through two weeks of the season.

On the other side of the ball, the Coahoma defense has been wreaking havoc on opponents' offenses all-season long. The front seven is consistently disrupting plays in the opponents' backfield and that will need to continue this Friday against a team with a strong running back and offensive line.

"Our defense has been playing really well at the point of attack," Joslin said. "That was what we had seen coming out of the scrimmage against Post out of those guys. It goes back to last year, and all of those guys having playing experience coming into this season."

Joslin believes his team is ready for their matchup Friday. The Bulldogs are locked and loaded and will be looking to keep their undefeated season going.

BUFFS

Stanton is sitting at 1-1 in this young season and will be looking to add a second victory to their win-loss column. They look like an improved squad over the one from last season and Forsan is in for a tough battle with an evenly-matched team.

"They're a big, physical team and they've got a lot of guys coming back," Phillips said. "They've got a lot of size. They may not be as big as Post, those guys are huge, but they're big and they're going to run right at us."

Stanton runs their offense with a lot of rushing plays and mostly out of the Wing-T offensive formation. Phillips is prepared for the visiting Buffaloes to attempt to run the ball right down his team's throat for all four quarters.

"We want to play physical football teams to get us ready for our district because our district is going to be very physical," he said.

Forsan will have a great chance at grabbing their first win of the season and at gaining some positive momentum this Friday night at the newly dedicated Roger Hudgins Field.
