Raising awareness, recognizing the signs - Suicide Prevention Week tory for all of us, especially our youth

By VALERY AVERY

Special to the Herald

Emergency Department visits for voung people with thoughts of suicide or self-harm increased by 25 percent during the latest CDC report.

The data was culled from emergency room visits from January 2017 through December 2018. The sharp uptick is especially troubling since this was several years before social isolation from COVID-19, said West Texas Centers CEO Shelley Smith, LMSW. "Mental health professionals are especially concerned of the fall-out stemming from the COVID-19 pandemic," Smith said. "This is uncharted terri-ing and kept away from friends and extended family and sometimes their jobs for significant periods of time." "Teenagers are very social and interactions with their peers, their teachers who have been enrolled in online learn-and clubs and sports are of tantamount importance at this stage of their development. This is one of the most important times for families to be in tune with their child's mental health development." Many organizations, including West Texas Centers is amplifying its mission of suicide prevention for the month of September, which is National Suicide Prevention Awareness Month. West Texas Centers operates a 24-hour Crisis Line for anyone who needs immediate assistance. The number is 1-800-375-4357. West Texas Centers also offers information, education, emotional support and links to resources for people affected by COVID-19. "Everyone should be aware of the warning signs of suicide and how to help someone you believe may be thinking of harming him or herself," Smith said.

The National Institute of Mental Health suggests contacting social media outlets directly if you are concerned about a friend's social media updates or dial 911 in an emergency.

The behaviors listed below may be

Friends of the Library hosting book sale this week

Sale runs 9 a.m. until 5 p.m., funds to benefit Howard County Library

By IRIS RANGEL

Herald Staff Writer

Looking for a good book? The Howard County Library is hosting it's Friends of the Library Book Sale today and tomorrow. The sale will run from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day.

"We raise money for library projects through this sale, so all of the money goes back into the library. Because of Covid, we didn't have our spring sale. This year we have opened all three rooms in the library basement because of social distancing," Tammy De-Pauw, with Friends of the Library said.

According to DePauw, last year's book sale - along with grants and their read-a-thon - allowed the Howard County Library the ability to completely redo their computer lab. They were also able to purchase 16 new computers, tables, and chairs, repaint their walls, and replace their carpet.

"With the book sale, we always purchase the McNaughter series (new bestsellers and award winning books) and e-readers. We use the money to support the children's summer reading program and literacy program," DePauw said. She also noted that the library is currently swamped with books and is looking to purchase new computers for the children's area through this year's book sale. "Either people read a lot during Covid or used the time to clean out bookshelves, but we are swamped," she said. Founded in 1947, the Friends of the Library Association is

The Family of Jay "Nopie" Briscoe would like to thank all the people for their kindness, prayers, love and support during our time of sorrow. The Myers & Smith Funeral Home were so giving.

Our Dad/Papa was looking pretty good. He even had a little smile on his face. Our family is so grateful for your hospitality during our time of grief. The Forsan School District, Roman & Jennifer Hines were super kind and sharing. Each day and night they provided meals for our family.

Thank y'all for going above and beyond for us. The military that showed us so much respect and honor or our Dad/Papa was due to the help of Jim Marlow and the mayor Shannon Thomason. Thank you to a Frank Stiles for the patriotic song he sang for Dad/Papa. He was an American Soldier and would have really appreciated that song.

Thank you to Mike Tarpley for playing the taps, which is the best feeling in the world to hear. Thank you to everyone for their calls, texts, flowers, and all the memories of Jay.

TSTC students learn to use a robotic arm with Lincoln Logs

SWEETWATER - Students in Texas State Technical College's Electromechanical Technology program begin the day using an unusual combination: Lincoln Logs and a robotic arm.

During lab sessions, students practice moving a robotic arm through a log structure to drop a pin from its perch. The goal is to move the pin without knocking over any of the logs. It is one of the best ways for students to focus on the tasks ahead, said instructor Jeff Olney. "I have always been interested in learning how machines work," said Noah Grant, a first-year student from Snyder. Grant focused intently as he maneuvered the robotic arm through the small opening to drop the pin, but he admitted that it took him time to get the hang of it.

"It was a little strange setting it up, but once you get in the groove, it is fun and exciting," he said. "I wanted to stay after class and work on it some more."

During the program, which is available at the Sweetwater campus exclusively, students will combine computers with control, electrical and mechanical systems that can be used to power machines in a variety of industries. Kristopher Talamantes, a U.S. Air Force veteran from San Angelo, had some prior knowledge in the field. He was an electrician in the military before beginning classes at TSTC. "I figured since I was out of the military, this would be the next step for me. It is in the same field I was working in, and this will help me expand my knowledge," he said. Talamantes toured TSTC in high school but opted for a career in the military. He knew that TSTC would be an option to further his education after his service.

"I was excited to come to school," he said. "We started using the robotic arm on the first day. I was ready to come back to class and do it again." Talamantes said he looks forward to learning about all aspects of Electromechanical Technology.

"This is going to prepare me for working with the robot, as well as teaching me patience," he said. "I am looking forward to learning how things work." As for choosing a career, students will have options after graduation. Grant said he would like to work in an electrical substation or a manufacturing plant. "I think it would be pretty fun to design and sell machines," he said.

For more information about TSTC, visit tstc.edu.

Take Note

• A new group has started in Howard County. It is made up of people of all ages and genders who want to be better than they are. The focus of the fledgling organization is to engage in meaningful discussions that promote personal growth. Additionally, the yet to be named organization will plan and execute worthwhile activities within the community. There is no membership fee and attendance is not taken. The only requirements are that you be positive or want to be more positive than you are, consider yourself to be a good person but want to be better than you are, and that you have a desire to help others be better too. Childcare is available during the discussion time if you let us know. Topics to be avoided include Religion and Politics, though we can dance around them.

The unnamed group is being sponsored by the local Masons and it meets in the Masonic Lodge on the court square. It is not necessary that you have any masonic affiliation to participate in this Growth Group. All Covid-19 safety protocols will be followed as defined by local, state, and federal authorities. At this time refreshments will not be served but you are welcome to bring your own and not share. The next meeting is Sept. 17, 2020, at 7 p.m. at 219 South Main Big Spring, Texas. Improvement in sports can come in many forms. On Tuesday night, the Big Spring Lady Steers volleyball team did a great job showing off their improved consistency, confidence, and conditioning in a three-set sweep of visiting Crane that left their coach

"I'm so proud," Big Spring Head Coach Kaitlyn Braswell said. "I can't even put into words how proud I am. We've put in a lot of work to get where we are and as long as we keep going we're going to peak at the right time going into district."

The first set of the night was very competitive and foreshadowed the back-and-forth matchup that was to come. Near the beginning of the set with the score tied at eight points apiece, Big Spring's Kalyn Whitehead made an outstanding diving play that appeared to swing all of the momentum in The Lady Steers celebrate after scoring a point in Tuesday the Lady Steers' direction.

Big Spring scored 12 of the next 15 points in the set with plays made by Jocelyn Gonzales, Ryen Terrazas, and Tristan Smith that livened up the gym. The Lady Steers won the set by a score of last 25-17 with Whitehead delivering one last thunderous spike to hand the set to Even when Crane started to look like they might be able to get back into the game, the Lady Steers will able to keep their composure and close out the set

"I think the mental conditioning we've been doing has a lot to do with the performance and being able to push ourselves that far," Braswell said.

Crane started off the second set very slow and found themselves in a quick 10-4 hole. A well-timed timeout by the Lady Birds gave them a bit of new life in the game and they were able to come back and take the lead from the Lady

However, Big Spring veteran leaders Gonzales and Terrazas were too strong for Crane to stop for a whole set and the Lady Steers charged back for a 25-21 second set win.

The third and final set was also competitive and could have gone either way. The Lady Steers once again showed off their resilience as a team and this time, senior Jacqueline Belew made a pair of nice plays that took all of the energy out of Crane. That final set was once tied up at 14 points apiece and Crane seemed to be in good shape to extend the match to another set.

The Lady Steers had different plans. Big Spring scored 11 of the set's final 15 points and Braswell's squad sent the Lady Cranes home after a quick three-set sweep.

Braswell had focused on scheduling tougher opponents for her team this season as a way to see how far away they are from competing at the top level and also as a way to steadily improve her team over the course of the season.

"I think it helps put into perspective where we are as a team," Braswell said. "I schedule those teams because I believe that we can compete with them. Those games test out where we are mentally and have shown us that we can definitely be competing at that level."

The Lady Steers are now sitting at .500 on the season (8-8) and will have a chance to put their overall improvement as a team on display once again this upcoming weekend.

After years of losing a lot of games, the Lady Steers have now doubled their win total from 2019. Big Spring still has plenty of games left in the regular season and seem to be on the road to peaking at just the right time heading into their district games.

UP NEXT: The Lady Steers will travel to take on Clyde in their last game before district play begins. The game will be at noon.

Deep roster has UTPB tennis primed for big year with new coach

Special to the Herald

New Head Tennis Coach Stan Anderson is excited to hit the courts with his deep and talented roster this fall. While the roster had some turnover, Anderson believes the team's depth on the men's and women's side will carry them through the year. The depth is extra important this year as the NCAA has reduced the number of days the team can play from 24 to 17, so the team has had to get creative in preparing a schedule for the spring, potentially doubling up matches on days. "We've gone from having a full team, to being a team that's 12 deep and be really, really strong," said Anderson. "With the NCAA cutting the number of days we can play, we'll be playing multiple matches on some days. This allows us to substitute and keep players fresh. More student-athletes will get playing time and we'll be competitive at the

On the women's side, the team is excited about the influx of new faces. Joining the Falcons are talented freshman along with transfers from the Division II level. Among the new faces is Lore Mewis from Belgium, who was the top-ranked player in worked

"Lore got here and was even better than anticipated," said Anderson. "We have a couple of transfers who are going to do great things for us, including one from a top-10 Division II program. Some of the freshman are just outstanding. We were able to get Sofia Rashmagui, one of the better players in El Paso, who I knew from coaching out there."

The men may boast one of the deeper rosters in program history. The Falcon men reached the NCAA Regional Tournament in 2019 and entered last year ranked eighth in the South Central Region. Number one singles player Enrique Sanchez is back but has plenty of competition this year.

"We had a lot of depth coming back for the men," said Anderson. "Enrique (Sanchez) is our num-summer and really upped his game. He's been a huge surprise with how much he's improved and have to give him a ton of credit for the work he's put in."

Anderson enters his first year as Head Coach as he takes over the reins from interim Head Coach Steve Buck. He had spent the last 25 years as in El Paso as the Head Coach at Eastwood High where he compiled a .731 winning percentage.

"Coach Buck deserves a lot of credit recruiting and building the roster before I got here," said Anderson. "It's a bit of an adjustment going from high school to college. The game is much faster and you coach different things. We have a deep, quality roster that has brought a lot of energy so far to practice. I'm really excited heading into the season."

Bulldogettes swat Yellow Jackets on Tuesday night

KERMIT — The Bulldogettes earned their sixth straight win by dispatching the Kermit Lady Yellow Jackets in three sets on Tuesday evening — 25-15, 25-23, 25-20.

MaKynlee Overton led Coahoma to the victory talling five kills, four blocks and five digs for the evening. Helping the Coahoma High School senior was her fellow classmates Julia Cox and Ashley Romero, who both drilled four kills each. J. Cox also had four digs and one ace.

Rounding out the talented senior members of the varsity squad was Kenzi Canales, who served two aces. Sophomore Setter Zoie Joslin had

With the win, Coahoma now stands 8-1 for the season with their only loss coming against Grape Creek earlier in the year.

Next: Coahoma hosts San Angelo Lake View on Saturday for their last preseason game. Game times are: JV White, 10 a.m.; JV Red, 11 a.m.; varsity, noon.

Here's How It Works: Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). You'll deal in a different culture, not having to do with regions but with a professional setting or a social group. It is possible to remain true to your core and still let some of the influence rub off on you.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). There are some things that cannot be accomplished with effort. In fact, the more effort you put into them, the worse they'll turn out. To know if this is the case, pull away: do nothing; and watch for improvement.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Give a thought to the environment you'll be operating within. The easier you make it for yourself, the better you can focus on the details that will make your work transcendent from the usual fare.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). The desire for freedom is a trap. Whatever you choose, it comes with responsibility. The real freedom is loving your choice so much you don't mind being trapped by it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Accept your feelings, one and all, especially ones that might make you weak, vulnerable or unattractive. Approve them, certificates to local businesses. We do ask that they change the beds before they leave for the next group of visitors. All willingly do this.

We never expect all the help, but it is greatly appreciated. When one adds up the cost of extra food, disposable cups and plates and utilities for 10 weeks a year, it can be expensive.

Over the years, we have learned there are two kinds of guests: visitors and vacationers. Visitors come to see us, enjoy the lake and surroundings and help in any way they can to make their visit easier and more enjoyable for us. Vacationers are those who come to our "hotel" and restaurant and expect to be waited on while they are here. Needless to say, we don't have "vacationers" more than once. -- Visitors and Vacationers

Dear Visitors and Vacationers: I love your classification of guests as visitors and vacationers. I would take it a step farther and say that most people fall into two categories -- those who are considerate of others and how they are feeling, and those who have a sense of entitlement and a lack of gratitude.

Want to know a secret? The considerate ones, the visitors, are happier people.

Dear Annie: I married a man with a son from his first marriage, who was 12 years old when we started dating. What really attracted me to my husband was the fact that he and his ex-wife were wonderful co-parents. As far as I knew, they were never mean, cruel or vindictive to each other, and it was quite apparent that they both loved their son (my stepson).

His ex was always included in family gatherings and my in-laws provided child care for their grandson while his mother worked weekends as a nurse at the hospital. My stepson grew up knowing that he had an extended loving family. He had his mother's family, his father's family and my family who all welcomed and supported him. Mv stepson came to our state to live with his father when he started high school, as his mother thought he would need more of a male influence at that time in his life.

Our home was always open to his mother whenever she wanted to visit. I'm sure my welcoming attitude cemented my relationship with my husband's parents. I even counted my husband's ex as a good friend. Sadly, she passed away two years ago, and I miss her infectious laugh and warm hugs. My stepson has become a fine man, husband and father of two. So, it (SET IATL) is(END ITAL) possible to have a blended family that works in harmony. --Blended Family Working

Dear Blended

Family: What a wonderful story of making what could have been a challenging and contentious relationship into a loving and harmonious one. Congrats on living with love.

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, Sept. 16, the 260th day of 2020. There are 106 days left in the year. Today's Highlights in History:

On Sept. 16, 1974, President Gerald R. Ford announced a conditional amnesty program for Vietnam war deserters and draftevaders.

On this date:

In 1630, the Massachusetts village of Shawmut changed its name to Boston. In 1810, Mexico began its revolt against Spanish rule. In 1966, the Metropolitan Opera officially opened its new opera house at New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts with the world premiere of Samuel Barber's "Antony and Cleopatra." In 1982, the massacre of between 1,200 and 1,400 Palestinian men, women and children at the hands of Israeli-allied Christian Phalange militiamen began in west Beirut's Sabra and Shatila refugee camps. In 1987, two dozen countries signed the Montreal Protocol, a treaty designed to save the Earth's ozone layer by calling on nations to reduce emissions of harmful chemicals by the year 2000. In 1994, a federal jury in Anchorage, Alaska, ordered Exxon Corp. to pay $5 billion in punitive damages for the 1989 Exxon Valdez (val-DEEZ') oil spill (the U.S Supreme Court later reduced that amount to $507.5 million). Two astronauts from the space shuttle Discovery went on the first untethered spacewalk in ten years.

In 2001, President George W. Bush, speaking on the South Lawn of the White House, said there was "no question" Osama bin Laden and his followers were the prime suspects in the Sept. 11 attacks; Bush pledged the government would "find them, get them running and hunt them down."

In 2005, President George W. Bush ruled out raising taxes to pay the massive costs of Gulf Coast reconstruction in the wake of Hurricane Katrina, saying other government spending had to be cut to pay for the recovery effort.

In 2007, contractors for the U.S. security firm Blackwater USA guarding a U.S. State Department convoy in Baghdad opened fire on civilian vehicles, mistakenly believing they were under attack; 14 Iraqis died. O.J. Simpson was arrested in the alleged armed robbery of sports memorabilia collectors in Las Vegas. (Simpson was later convicted of kidnapping and armed robbery and sentenced to nine to 33 years in prison; he was released in 2017.)

In 2009, Mary Travers, 72, part of the folk trio Peter, Paul and Mary, died in Danbury, Connecticut. In 2013, Aaron Alexis, a former U.S. Navy reservist, went on a shooting rampage inside the Washington Navy Yard, killing 12 people before being shot dead by police.

In 2014, President Barack Obama declared that the Ebola epidemic in West Africa could threaten security around the world and ordered 3,000 U.S. troops to the region in emergency aid muscle. Ten years ago: Pope Benedict XVI began a controversial state visit to Britain, acknowledging the Catholic Church had failed to act decisively or quickly enough to deal with priests who raped and molested children. The Seattle Storm completed their undefeated march through the postseason, beating the Atlanta Dream 87-84 for a three-game sweep in the WNBA finals. John "Jack" Goeken, founder of telecommunications giant MCI and father of air-to-ground telephone communications, died in Joliet, Illinois,

Five years ago: Eleven Republican presidential candidates debated at the Reagan Presidential Library in Simi Valley, California, wrangling over immigration, gay marriage and foreign affairs. Baton-wielding Hungarian riot police unleashed tear gas and water cannons against hundreds of migrants after they broke through a razor-wire fence and tried to surge into the country from Serbia. Country singer Sturgill Simpson and singer-songwriter Lucinda Williams, both eclectic genre-bending artists, took home top honors at the Americana Honors and Awards show in Nashville.

One year ago: More than 49,000 members of the United Auto Workers went on strike against General Motors, bringing more than 50 factories and parts warehouses to a standstill. (The strike ended after 40 days when workers ratified a new contract.) "Saturday Night Live" said it had rescinded its invitation to Shane Gillis to join the cast; he was found to have posted a video in which he used a racial slur for Chinese people. The Pittsburgh Steelers announced that quarterback Ben Roethlisberger would undergo surgery on his right elbow, ending the 37-year-old quarterback's 16th NFL season just two weeks in. Former television newsman Sander Vanocur died in California at the age of 91; he'd been a questioner at the first Kennedy/ Nixon debate in 1960. Today's Birthdays: Actor Janis

Murray, Jokic help Denver stun Clippers 104-89 in Game 7

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (AP) — Nikola Jokic picked out two birthday presents for his coach. He just didn't know which one he would be wrapping.

"Before the game I told him, 'Coach, I'm going to give you a really good pres-I'm going to get you home or I'm going to get you to the conference finals,'" the Nuggets center said.

Michael Malone was thrilled with the present he received.

Denver's dynamic duo of Jamal Murray and Jokic led another stunning turnaround as the Nuggets advanced to the Western Conference finals for the first time since 2009. Murray scored 40 points, Jokic had a triple-double by the third quarter and

Denver again overcame a double-digit deficit to shock the Los Angeles Clippers 104-89 in Game 7 on Tuesday night. Denver became the first team in NBA history to rally from a 3-1 series deficit twice in the same postseason. The team beat Utah in Game 7 in the first round. "Those guys stepped up on the biggest moment," said Malone, who turned 49 on Tuesday. "You find out a lot about people in these moments. Man, did we pass the character test or what?" Even more history: The Nuggets are the third team in the U.S. major pro ports to rally from a pair of 3-1 deficits in the same playoffs, joining the 1985 Kansas City Royals and 2003 Minnesota Wild.

Denver will face LeBron James and the Los Angeles Lakers in the conference finals. They'll be the underdogs, of course. That's fine with Murray.

"It's fun to silence everybody," said Murray, who scored 25 in the first half. They certainly quieted the noise around the Clippers, who hoped the additions of Kawhi Leonard and Paul George would lead them to their first-ever conference finals — and beyond. But LA's stars fell flat. "It hurts. It hurts. But we move on," George said. "Year 1 together, first run together, of course we wanted to win this. But we've been very optimistic about us being together and building something going down the road." Leonard finished with 14 points on 6-of-22 shooting, while George had 10 points on 4-of-16 shooting. The Clippers fell to 0-8 all-time in games where they could clinch a trip to the conference finals. This marked the third time that coach Doc Rivers was on the losing end of a series where his team led 3-1. It also happened when he was with Orlando against Detroit in 2003, and with the Clippers against Houston in 2015.

"I'm the coach and I'll take any blame for it. But we didn't meet our expectations, clearly," Rivers said.

The Nuggets celebrated in style after the game, dumping water on each other and jumping around in the locker room.

"This is a really interesting team," Jokic said. "We don't have many super stars."

That's debatable.

The 7-foot Jokic had a monster game with 16 points, 13 assists and bounds, which were the most by a Nuggets player in an NBA playoff game. He broke his record of 19 that he set last season and shared with Marcus Camby In a familiar trend, the Nuggets found themselves down by 12 in the firs half. They also trailed 61-54 with 10:50 let in the third when they caught fire The Nuggets went on a 35-13 run to build a 15-point lead in the fourth quarter They led by as many as 20.

Denver also rallied from double-digit deficits in its last two games to stun the Clippers.

"We were right there. There's no excuses," Leonard said. "We should have fin ished it off. Like I said, the last three games pretty much mirrored each other. Jokic insisted the third-seeded Nuggets weren't feeling any pressure. He said Game 7 was just another game. After all, this was Denver's fourth straight Game 7 dating to the playoffs last season.

"Honestly, you could just see the difference in the two teams. That team's been together," Rivers said. "We haven't. And you could see it as the games went on."

Denver's plans were to enjoy the moment — briefly, anyway, before getting ready for the Lakers.

"You have to celebrate the moments," Malone said. "This is a moment. birthday. We're going to go party.'

TIP-INS

Nuggets: Jerami Grant and Gary Harris each had 14 points.

Clippers: G Landry Shamet turned his right ankle in the first quarter, limped down the floor, hit a 3-pointer and then hobbled to the locker room. He returned just before halftime. ... Montrezl Harrell led the Clippers with 20 points.

FASHION FORWARD

The Nuggets coaching staff went with their customary all-black outfits (a nod to singer Johnny Cash). The Clippers were salmon-colored polo shirts that have been lucky for them inside the bubble. Just coaches being a little superstitious.

"I worked with coaches that knew the record of the ties they wore," Malone said. "Yes, we are a weird group. We'll look at any advantage necessary. As the jump ball goes up, it doesn't matter what we're wearing."

Springer and Maldonado homer, Astros beat Rangers 4-1

HOUSTON (AP) — George Springer and Martín Maldonado homered, Alex Bregman hit a go-ahead two-run single in the seventh inning and the Houston Astros got a needed 4-1 win over the Texas Rangers on Tuesday night.

The Astros, who are two games ahead of Seattle for second place in the AL West with the top two teams ensured a postseason spot, opened a sixgame homestand after dropping 9 of 11 games on their recent road trip.

"That was a good step in the right direction," Bregman said. "We need to start a good streak of playing well. We haven't had the best last week or two weeks, so hopefully we can build on this."

Their victory was tempered by an injury to shortstop Carlos Correa, who had to be helped off the field after fouling a ball off his left ankle. X-rays were negative and manager Dusty Baker said that he had a bone bruise on his left ankle. The team should know more about his status on Wednesday.

Houston starter José Urquidy (1-1) allowed three hits and one run in seven innings for his first win in his third start of the season. He missed the first six weeks of the season after being diagnosed with COVID-19.

Ryan Pressly allowed one hit in a scoreless ninth

The game was tied with no outs in the seventh inning when Nick Goody (0-1) allowed a double to Maldonado before walking Springer and Jose Altuve to load the bases and end his night. Jonathan Hernández took over and Michael Brantley grounded into a force out that left Maldonado out at home.

Bregman then singled on a ball that dropped near the left field corner to send two runs home and put the Astros up 3-1. Altuve, who was activated from the injured list before the game after sitting out since Sept. 4 with a sprained right knee, looked speedy on the play, almost catching up to Springer as the two dashed home.

Baker was relieved to see the Astros break through in the seventh after leaving several runners stranded earlier in the game.

"You've got to keep that pressure on them and you've got to stay positive," Baker said. "If you put them out there and keep putting them out there, sooner or later something is going to happen."

The Rangers managed just four hits, all singles, and fell to 4-18 on the road. They have lost seven straight road games, their longest such streak since also losing seven in a row in 2014.

The Astros took an early lead when Springer hit his third leadoff homer of the season. Houston loaded the bases with no outs in the second inning with singles by Kyle Tucker and Yuli Gurriel and a walk by Correa. But they came away empty when Josh Reddick grounded into a double play before starter Kyle Cody retired Maldonado to end the inning.

Urquidy retired his first 13 batters with five strikeouts before Nick Solak singled with one out in the fifth inning. Rougned Odor singled after that before a single by Ronald Guzmán with two outs scored Solak to tie it at 1.

Rios for their amazing serves and great defensive skills.

8th Grade A Team:

The 8th Grade A Team battled against Levelland last night but fell in two sets, 10-25 and 14-25. Our standout players of the game are CarNesha Rutledge and Niomi Wines for the kills at the net and Jaycee Smith and Chloe DeAnda with their great serves. Very proud of all of these girls and we're excited to see how much they'll grow!

8th Grade B Team:

The 8th Grade B Team was defeated in two sets, 13-25 and 17-25. Karisma Cepeda had 6 aced serves. Ambrie Franco, Marlynn Bermea, and Elena Lopez played great defense and Trinity Muniz had great sets throughout the game.
