School Districts Boost Taxes For Operations

Many Texas school districts have been raising property taxes more than necessary, a Texas Research League report says. Last fall school trustees adopted budgets increasing operating expenses by $718 million. The legislature provided $483 million of additional state aid and the budgets proposed to use $125 million of fund balances leaving $110 million to be paid from increased local property taxes.

But school districts boosted taxes by $325 million for operating purposes plus another $58 million increase for debt service. The figures come from the latest issue of Bench Marks for School District Budgets in Texas, an annual publication of the League. The Texas Research League is a private, nonprofit Austin-based corporation engaged in governmental research.

Locally, the Muleshoe ISD's tax levy was increased by 11.8 percent for 1981-82 as compared to a 15.4 percent increase for the average school district in Texas.

School budgets adopted for 1981-82 called for spending $2,175.65 per student for current operations. Muleshoe's budget provided for $2,083.53 per student based on the $1587. students in average daily attendance in 1980-81.

The average salary for classroom teachers paid by Muleshoe ISD in 1980-81 was $13,844 which was 6.7 percent above the minimum salary prescribed by the state. The average among all school districts in Texas was $15,690 per classroom teacher, or 18.7 percent over the minimum. The legislature has increased the state minimum by $80 a month for 1981-82 and by another $88 a month for 1982-83.

There was an average of one teacher for 15.7 students in Muleshoe ISD as compared to a statewide pupil-teacher ratio of 1 to 16.4. The pupil-teacher ratio is not the same thing as

Students Take Field Planetarium Trip

Thursday, July 1, was the concluding day for the students enrolled in the Junior High Summer Enrichment Program which began Monday, June 14.

The students have been involved with photography, astronomy, chemistry, bacteriology, minerals and computer programming.

Three field trips have been made. In Clovis, they visited Photo World and Harts Computers; in Portland, they saw a Chemistry Magic Show at ENMU and worked on individual computers, and in Lubbock, they visited the Ranching Heritage and the Texas Tech Planetarium.

Guidelines For Crop Damage Reporting

Due to the amount of crop damage resulting from the recent severe storms in the area, the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) has issued a reminder to affected insureds. The guidelines state the course of action to follow if the insured farmer has suffered a loss.

Farmers who carry All-Risk crop insurance must report crop damage according to procedures contained in the policy, said F. W. "Ted" Crouch, Jr., Field Operations Office Director for the Federal Crop Insurance Corporation.

"Under the All-Risk policy, the insured is required to give prompt notice of damage or loss to the service office. If the insured plans to put acreage to another use or does not plan to care for or harvest any part of the crop, an inspection will be made. The damaged crop must therefore be left intact until consent is given to put the acreage to another use," Crouch said.

"If the insured plans to replant acreage to the same crop, no inspection is required and insurance will continue on the replanted crop."

Compliance with the loss reporting guidelines is encouraged by Crouch to improve service and protect the insured's right to an indemnity.

Seventeen students were enrolled and Mrs. Pat Gunter and Mrs. Evelyn Northcutt have been the instructors.

Local resource people assisting with their contributions to the program included Terry Hutto at West Plains Clinic, Nick Black in astronomy and Spencer Tanksley, who furnished photography books from the Extension office.

Harold Horne, superintendent, says this can be an annual program for average and above science and math students enrolled in the Junior High School if enough interest is shown.

Officials Hopeful Of Disaster Aid

Optimism still remains intact with several West Texas congressmen in the hope that the last week's task force will relay to John Block the immense devastation that farmers in the High Plains have suffered in the last month due to vicious hail, wind and flooding.

According to Sam White, Kent Hance's Washington aide, a report was to have been orally given to John Block by task force leader John Ford. The task force was charged by Block to inspect the damages caused by the heavy rains and hail in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico so that Block can decide whether to grant emergency disaster payments to farmers in these areas. White said that if Block okays the disaster payments, they can become effective immediately; however a few weeks will be required to get the actual process set up and working.

Ford's written report will be delivered to Secretary of Agriculture Block within the next week and a decision should be forthcoming within two weeks following that time say various sources.

In Bailey County, farmers who have funds have already begun replanting operations with some type of early maturing crops. Bailey County ASCS Executive Director, Rusty Williamson told the Journal that farmers who are in compliance with the 1982 farm program, even though they replant, will remain eligible for disaster payments providing they do not disturb the land that they have already designated as set-aside acres. He does suggest that they contact the ASCS office regarding any changes.

While in an earlier Muleshoe meeting this week, officials indicated that no further sources of funds were available, there is a qualifying statement that should go along with that. In some cases such as one where a farmer has already used up his loan money and has no further collateral, extra available funds would be hard to come by from any source. There is a catch phrase there also; in that, if Block does release the disaster payments to these farmers, the lenders could then continue on some basis with the customers, based on the assumption that money for the disaster payments would be forthcoming for repayment of advanced money.

Contrary to previous information, funds in the FmHA are still available, according to local FmHA Supervisor Clinton Kennedy. These funds are limited somewhat, but can be made available based on needs and on a case by case basis.

Williamson says that although we normally expect to have some disaster in the area each year, both dryland and irrigated land has suffered immense devastation this year.

Hance is hopeful of an early implementation of the disaster program provided for in the 1981 farm bill; however, the decision lies with Block. Hance who said he was very disappointed with the Reagan administration's performance with the agriculture community hopes that Block will redeem himself in the agriculture world by giving these farmers the help they desperately need.

A spokesman in Hance's office stated that members of the task force were shocked at the disaster in this area. Ford has promised.

WRONG WAY WOOTEN IN MULESHOE-A young man dedicated to raising funds for various charitable organizations spent a few days in Muleshoe this week. What makes him so unique is the fact that he prefers to ride his 21 speed bike backwards. A veritable wealth of equipment is attached to the bike for Wooten's pleasure and travel aid.

Real People 'Backward Biker' Visits Muleshoe

Muleshoe City Residents took more than one look at famed bike rider Wrong Way Wooten, as he made his appearance in Muleshoe this week.

Wooten does his extensive traveling on a 21-speed bike which is equipped with TV, AM/FM Stereo, computer, CB radio and various and sundry gear that he needs to keep him comfortable in his travels.

Although Wooten may seem strange to some in that he rides his bike in a different way (backward), he does so because he prefers the handle bars behind him.

Wooten has been active in fund-raising activities since about 1976 and has ridden his bike in various activities to raise funds for muscular dystrophy, multiple sclerosis, heart fund, march of dimes, and the United Way, to name a few. Wrong Way, as he prefers to be called, makes friends easily and in a day's time will talk to as many as 500 people.

His current sojourn started in Atlantic City, N.J., through Indiana and Illinois and has covered 5300 miles in this trip alone. He has traveled 305,000 miles in ten years in 49 of the United States as well as parts of Canada and Mexico. His plans are to proceed to Santa Fe and then on to Arizona and finally to Los Angeles.

Wooten spent a couple of days in Muleshoe repairing a broken axle on his bike.

Cippele - Dillman United In Double Ring Ceremony

Wedding vows for Peggy Cipple and David Dillman were solemnized June 12, at 2 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Sherman. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Jack Gibson.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Moore Jr. of Pottsboro, Texas and Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dillman of Muleshoe.

Attending the bride as matron-of-honor was Pat

Moore of Pottsboro, sister in law of the bride. Best man was Mark Dillman, brother of the groom, of Corsicana. Registering the guests was Vickie Stephens of Pottsboro.

Decorating the chapel altar was a large arrangement of pink rosebuds, baby breath, maiden hair fern with greenery. The family pews were marked with wide pink satin bows.

The prelude, processional and recessional were Bach

Preludes with Jay Evans at the organ.

For her wedding, the bride chose an ivory chiffon dress with a jacket, also of chiffon. The jacket featured a mandarin collar of antique lace. V-shaped yokes to the waist in front and back, of antique lace were outlined with a wide chiffon ruffle. Her ensemble was complimented with a wide-brimmed garden hat of chiffon trimmed with ivory satin ribbon which hung to the waist. The hat was designed by the bride.

The bride carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, baby breath and greenery highlighting the altar arrangement.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table, covered with white Irish linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake designed by Pat Moore. The bride's bouquet was used as a decoration. Serving at the bride's table was Theda Anderson. The groom's table, covered in white linen, was decorated with a small arrangement of daisies in shades of pink, the bride's chosen colors. Chocolate cake and coffee were served by the attendant, Kathy Faber.

The bride's going away dress was a white cotton sun-dress with a corsage of pink rosebuds from her wedding bouquet. Following a short trip to Padre Island, the couple will be at home in Sherman, where the bride is employed as a teacher in Sadler - Southmayd Consolidated School and the groom is Associate Admissions Director of Austin College.

Stress and Lemonade - Can You Handle It?

When life hands you a lemon, make lemonade. That is the basic lesson in learning to cope with stress, say specialists at Baylor College of Medicine.

The first step is to take personal charge of your response to routine aggravations such as deadlines and traffic jams, said Seth Silverman, M. D., assistant professor of psychiatry at Baylor.

As people learn to control their own reactions during stressful events, they gain a feeling of mastery that they can draw on during the next crisis.

Staying in control may be easier if people understand what causes some of the tendency to act irrational under pressure, said Silverman.

Stimulated by stressful cues in everyday life, an alarm system is turned on in the body. This automatic reaction to stress, switched on by hormones, is known as the "fight or flight" syndrome and it worked well for our early human ancestors, preparing them to run fast or fight hard in life-threatening situations. But these changes in the brain, nervous system, heart and muscles also impede certain mental abilities.

People under stress often become forgetful, irritable and find it hard to make simple decisions, said William Blocker, M. D., assistant professor of physical medicine. Ironically, the body's adaptation to stress, intended by nature to help people out of tough spots, can actually hinder them in dealing with modern problems that require a cool head rather than a hasty departure.

Continued stress is also dangerous to health, said Blocker, since it can stimulate the body to act as if constantly under siege. One result can be an increase in blood pressure, a risk factor in heart disease.

However, there are ways to control stress.

Silverman said stress management begins with good self-monitoring: being aware of feeling angry, tired, sad or anxious. Accepting feelings frees one to deal with them.

While there are countless ways to handle problems, methods have common elements of information gathering, evaluation and planning.

As one engages in this process, stressful situations in the past may be remembered. Past experiences can cushion people in a crisis, helping them to view the problem as solvable. But if an old memory is hurting instead of helping self-confidence, the person can learn to separate the past and present event.

Exercise and relaxation techniques can also help people emotions while performing life's necessary tasks.

A free brochure providing tips to help cope with stress may be ordered from Baylor College of Medicine, P. O. Box 13567, Houston, Texas 77019.

New Alumni Director Chosen For Hospital

Samuel Richards, Ph.D., vice president for the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center, has announced the appointment of Mark Haller as director of alumni affairs for the Health Sciences Center.

The appointment is effective immediately, Richards said.

Haller will have responsibility for the coordination and direction of alumni activities for the Schools of Medicine, Nursing and allied health.

"As national studies show, the backbone of any educational institution is its alumni," Haller said. "I am particularly looking forward to working with the alumni body and with our current students to build a strong base of support for the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center."

Haller was formerly assistant director of development at Texas Tech University. He has been associated with the University's development office since 1978.

In 1978 and 1979 he was assigned as field representative for the Ranching Heritage Association. He also has worked as a political campaign aide.

"I am especially pleased that Mr. Haller has joined our team," Richards said.

"His background in public relations and his organizational skills should prove most beneficial in building strong alumni programs for all three schools."

Haller holds the bachelor's degree in journalism from Tech. He is secretary-treasurer of the Lubbock Area Mass Communications Alumni Council, secretary of the Monterey Chapter of American Business Clubs, a member of the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education and a member of the Century Club of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association.

CETA Booster To Get Award From Governor

Gov. Bill Clements presented a special business award to George Keeling of Levelland in ceremonies on July 5 at the State Capitol honoring four Texas employers.

The Second Annual Governor's Business Circle Award recognized private employers for outstanding service to the state and their community in hiring and training the economically disadvantaged through the Private Sector Initiative Program of the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA in the Private Sector).

Owner of Keeling Buick-Pontiac-Oldsmobile, Keeling was nominated for the award by the West Texas Alliance of Business, which serves as a business task force for the South Plains Community Action Association, the local contractor for CETA in the Private Sector for the South Plains Region.

Over the past three years Keeling has hired and trained many CETA participants, and has been instrumental in increasing the level of skilled trained mechanics and automotive technicians throughout the area.

According to Bill Powell, director of CETA programs for the South Plains Community Action Association, "Mr. Keeling has been the driving force in introducing General Motors training into the rural areas, which has resulted in the upgrading of skills through regular training sessions. Such training has been of benefit to the employees and to twelve other automobile dealerships in the area."

Keeling has served as the liaison between the auto mechanic school at South Plains College and General Motors training, and he serves on the advisory board of the Apprenticeship Training Program, which he helped establish. He is also an active member of the West Texas Alliance of Business.

In presenting the award, Gov. Clements said, "It is encouraging to see private enterprise pulling together with the government in the area of job training and employment."

"The employers we honor today have made a great contribution to their communities and to the state," he continued. "They have hired and trained people in skills needed to become self-sufficient in a competitive job market."

Gov. Clements pointed out that "the goal of the business-government program is to bring unemployed and underemployed into the mainstream of the work force."

The Texas Department of Community Affairs is the prime sponsor for CETA in the Private Sector in 15 geographic areas of the state covering over 100 counties. The program is administered on the local level by an area agency or organization.

Local private sector task forces and a statewide Private Industry Council appointed by the Governor provide the major link between business and government in implementing the program.

The other employers receiving the award are Roy Karnes, manager for Trinity Steel Fabricators in Trinity, Tx.; Bill Haas, owner of Haas Motor Company in Alpine; and Joyce Ford, owner-manager of Hartley County Equipment Company, Inc. in Hartley.

MONTE HORNE

Parents, know more about accident-prevention to protect your children from mishaps, advises Diane Welch, a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Be aware of—and alert for—factors that may cause accidents, such as improper storage of matches and lighters. Aware and alert parents are a major force in preventing child injuries due to accidents, she says.

Consumer Demands Different

To the farmer, consumer demand is something far off that frequently changes, but a thing that cannot be ignored, says Linda Mullin, county home extension agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

To the consumer, it is the power he or she exercises as a spender of money, the agent adds.

For people between the farmer and consumer, it is what makes the whole business world go round. While these groups are looking at the same thing, each sees something different, adds Mullin.

Is consumer demand a cause or an effect? Do consumers demand new products and new marketing services? Is this why there are nearly 15,000 items in an average supermarket?

Or, is consumer demand the acceptance or rejection of about 100 new items offered each week? Did we get frozen concentrated orange juice because housewives were tired of squeezing oranges, or because smart food developers and marketers teamed up to take a chance on another way to make money?

"If we accept the last idea, do we hurt the pride of consumers—do we make them less important? The answer must be no, for in marketing, consumers are all important. They guide the marketing process in many ways even though they do not generate new products and new marketing services," the agent says.

Consumers remain powerful as judges of what is in the marketplace. They accept a few of the things marketers offer, and turn down many. By reacting in this way to what is offered, consumers are also shaping, not only the food choices of the future, but also the system that creates and distributes them.

"It is most important that consumers have this right to react. They must have the ability to choose in order to get the most value for their money," Mullin says.

Farmers have a stake in the choices of consumers, and a big one, concludes the agent.

Every delay, however trifling, seems too long to a man in haste. —Seneca.

hot day—long cool drink

Sometimes there seems to be literally nothing to equal the refreshment of a tall cool glass of tangy fresh lemonade on a hot still day; it truly perks up a tired body. How good it is that we have such refreshment. The good news of the Gospel is that there is also refreshment for a tired life. A decision to trust in God and the life which He gives one moment by moment is like a refreshing breeze in dusty, dry life. Life, no matter how tired, or discouraged, or wrapped in despair, can be renewed by knowing and trusting God's love. Go to the Church and hear the story of that Love which is eternally yours.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and for the redemption of man to God. This knowledge is the love of God, the redemption of man to God, the love of God for man, and the love of man for God. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should realize that the Church is the only place in the world where the truth about man's life, death and the way to the truth which will save him from sin is to be found.

Wagnon - Denney Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Miss Leslie Gale Wagnon became the bride of Scott James Denney in a candlelight ceremony Friday, June 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Muleshoe Church of Christ. David Cox, minister, read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mack Wagnon and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denney, all of Muleshoe.

Vows were exchanged before a brass archway topped with apricot candles and decorated with apricot bows. Two brass tree candelabras flanked the arch. Two brass urns filled with mixed flowers in shades of apricot sitting upon brass pedestals completed the decorations. Apricot bows marked the parents' pews.

Wedding music was provided by a choral group from Sunset Church of Christ of Lubbock which included the bride's brother, Kerry Wagnon.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted by her father, the bride wore an ivory organza gown with shirred lace around the embroidered Belgium netting yoke. The full A-line skirt had a double lace flounce around the attached chapel length hemline. Her headpiece was a wreath of ivory Chantilly lace and silk flowers with a satin bow and streamers in the back. The veil was two tiered with Chantilly lace appliques and a rolled edge.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of ivory and apricot rose buds, baby's breath, carnations and stephanotis. Ivory lace and apricot streamers complemented the bouquet.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Terry Field of Muleshoe, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Mike Dale of Ranger and Mrs. Michael Davenport of Muleshoe. They wore identical

SENIOR CITIZENS

The Bailey County Senior Citizens met in the First United Methodist Church fellowship hall for a covered dish luncheon. Invocation was given by Mrs. Mac Wilterding.

There were 33 present including four visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wilbanks, Scotty Ruthart from Azle and Gayl Maring from Lubbock.

After lunch, the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Mildred Head. Minutes were read and approved. Mrs. Willie Burford and Nan Gatlin had birthdays. The birthday song was sung with Zed Robinson at the piano.

Mrs. Head asked all ladies dressed in pioneer dresses to come forward and ten ladies received applause.

Moore then introduced Mrs. Gayl S. Maring, Director of Aging Programs from Lubbock who showed slides of the 15 counties who have their own buildings and the progress they are making. Library News

The Muleshoe Area Public Library will be closed Saturday, July 3, and Monday, July 5, for the 4th holidays. Open again the 6th, Tuesday at 10 a.m. with two entertaining movies for the children.

There are 162 boys and girls in the Summer Reading Club now, and 59 have read 10 books or more, some many more for awards. The award day will be July 13, at 10 a.m. -- just two more weeks to get those books read and the lists turned in!

This year, emphasis has been put on boys and girls setting themselves a goal for their summer reading, and then working hard to achieve their goal, and library staff members are always here, to encourage them; so many times they just need a pat on the back to keep trying until their goal is reached. A framed "Honor Roll" will show the names of all boys and girls who reach their goal by the deadline -- July 10, when lists must be turned in to the library.

This year we have many out of town children in the reading club. Registration shows boys and girls from Farwell, Friona, Springlake, Earth, Austin, Lazbuddie, Sudan, San Antonio, and Nimitz, Texas, as well as Muleshoe. We are glad to include all these in the club activities.

In Senator John Tower's office an aide stated that Tower stated that Block either had to act immediately and make prompt direct payments to the stricken farmers, or it would be too late for any kind of recovery measure.

There will be a limit of 15 players per team and rosters must be turned in before the first game. No player may play on more than one team. Run rules include 20 runs after three and 15 runs after four.

There will be a 50 minute time limit on all games. In the championship games, however, there will be no time limit and it will be played 15 runs and after 5 innings.

as many more nonteaching personnel have been hired. Locally, classroom teachers were paid 60.5 percent of the school payroll in 1980-81.

School districts are permitted to levy property taxes above the amount needed to pay the local share of the Foundation Program cost. In 1981-82 the average school district levied property taxes five times the $159 per student needed for the Foundation Program, leaving $728 per student for enrichment. The Mulshoe ISD needed $152 for the local share, leaving $617 per student for spending beyond the Foundation Program level.

For next year, the 67th Legislature provided an additional $297 million of state aid to schools. The minimum salary has been increased by $88 a month and the operating allowance was upped by $17 per student. Local school trustees must adopt a school budget and set a tax rate before the new school year starts on September 1.

Beginning this year, if the school board increases property taxes by more than eight percent, voters may exercise a limited form of initiative and referendum to roll back the increase the following year.

"The high cost of housing slammed the door on millions of would-be homebuyers and cast a pall over the American dream of home ownership."

DPS Advises Holiday Caution

Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety said, "The two most dangerous things the driver of a motor vehicle can do is to speed or drink and drive. Those two violations will account for most of the traffic deaths during this July 4th holiday."

The DPS is expecting 47 deaths in Texas over the July 4 holiday.

The population in Texas is increasing, so is traffic on the highways. More people are expected to be on our highways this 4th of July weekend than ever before.

The Department will be conducting "Operation Motorcade" during the weekend, trying to make everyone aware of the traffic problem. Every available trooper will be working, trying to help cut down on the needless traffic death but will need the help and cooperation of the entire motoring public to be effective in reducing accidents. "We don't have enough people to stop all traffic violations. We need the voluntary compliance by the motoring public, in obeying the traffic laws, in

R.R.C. Proceeding With UPS Hearing

The Railroad Commission this week directed its Transportation Division to begin hearings on the application of United States Parcel Service for authority to transport packages from point to point within Texas. Specific dates for the hearings have not yet been set.

The Commission took no action on several motions filed at a pre-hearing conference February 25, and restated in oral arguments before the Commission May 3, by truck and bus companies which are protesting the UPS application. One of the motions concerned whether or not the Commission has the authority to grant the certificate UPS requests. Protesting companies also asked the Commission to rule on the admissibility of some types of evidence that may be presented at the hearing and whether or not testimony of witnesses must be written and filed in advance of their appearance.

Originally, the Commission's Transportation Division planned to begin the UPS hearings on May 11. They were postponed after parties in the case asked to present oral arguments to the Railroad Commissioners on the prehearing motions.

United Parcel Service will be the first to present evidence when the hearings start. Earlier, UPS told the Commission it would need eight weeks to present the testimony of some 300 witnesses. The first two weeks of testimony will be given in Austin by UPS personnel and public witnesses who live in the area. The hearings will then move to Dallas where the remaining testimony on behalf of the UPS application will be heard. UPS said that Dallas transportation facilities and accommodations make it the most convenient location for many of the witnesses scheduled to testify. Truck and bus companies who oppose the UPS application will present their evidence following UPS.

ARE YOU TIRED OF RENTING?

Many potential home purchasers mistakenly feel that they cannot purchase their own home because they do not have the down payment required. Some people who are trying to save the down payment are finding that home prices continue to go up faster than they can save.

If you have a stable job, good credit, and a desire to own your own home -- some creative thinking and consultation with a Realtor could uncover the way to help raise the down payment and get you in your own home.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Treat, Dodson

MRS. LONNIE ROSS DODSON
(nee Deborah Kay Treat)

Miss Deborah Kay Treat of Oklahoma City, Okla., became the bride of Lonnie Ross Dodson of Hobbs, N.M. at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 3, in the First United Methodist Church of Edmond, Okla. Rev. Billy Hamilton read the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Treat of Oklahoma City, Okla., Louis Dodson of Stinnett and Mrs. Lena Brockshire of Warsaw, Missouri.

Two brass candelabras, each holding 15 candles, decorated with greenery and white satin bows decorated the altar.

Mike and Lynn Gullo sang "Farewell, Andromeda," "Annie's Song," "Wedding Song," "Endless Love," "That's The Way," and "Follow Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's gown was made of qiana and featured an off-center V-neckline and long, close fitting sleeves. A starburst of pearls accented the bodice. The full skirt featured three tiers and a wide cummerbund around the waist.

Her veil of illusion was attached to a Juliet Cap of braided seed pearls. The veil extended down to form a long train with a shorter layer, trimmed in pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of lavender and white iris and spider mums with greenery and baby's breath.

Mrs. Jim Schoepel of Fairview, Okla. served as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Linda Narcomy and Pam Coplinger of Edmond, Okla., and Lou Rae Hogue of Columbia, Missouri.

The attendants wore identical formal length gowns of lavender qiana featuring a V-neckline with two wide ruffles and were sleeveless. A wide sash belt encircled the waistline.

The bridesmaids also wore wide brimmed lavender hats trimmed with lavender satin ribbons.

They carried two long stemmed lavender spider mums and one long stemmed white iris with baby's breath, with lavender streamers.

Flower girl was Emily Hogue of Columbia, Missouri. Her dress was made of lavender organza, featuring short puffed sleeves, a bow tie at the waist in the back and a satin bow at the waist in front. It had wide rows of white lace on the bodice and a wide ruffle at the hemline.

Terry Jones of Edmond, Okla. served as best man. Groomsmen were Jerry Edleman of Stinnett, Ray Dodson and Carl Scott. Derek Duncan of Little Elm, Texas, was ring bearer.

Ushers included Ron

Dodson of Stinnett and Gary Morgan and Jeff Neimani of Edmond, Okla.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a white tablecloth, trimmed in lavender ribbon. Two-three candle candelabras and the bride's and bridesmaids bouquets served as the centerpiece. The three-tier wedding cake was decorated with lavender, pink and white and topped with two love birds.

The groom's cake was chocolate, shaped in the form of an open Bible. The verse on the cake read "Whither Thou Goest, I Will Follow."

Servers were Vickie Kenney, Vicki Dodson and Lavanche Brasiosky. Vicki Dodson also registered the guests.

Following a wedding trip to Warsaw, Missouri, the couple will make their home at Hobbs, N.M. For traveling the bride chose a three piece suit (Skirt, camisole top and bolero jacket). The skirt and top were a Hawaiian print in colors of khaki, green, white, red and lavender. The jacket was white.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School, Central State University, a member of Kaleidoscope Dancers 1979-80 and was on the Dean's Honor Roll 1978-82.

Dodson graduated from Stinnett High School, Central State University, on the CSU football team 1976-79 and was a graduate assistant for the football team in 1980.

Out of town wedding guests included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Duncan and Mrs. Thelma Treat, grandparents and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Duncan.

A rehearsal dinner was held at Sirlin Stockade in Edmond, Okla.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mrs. Rosemary Fancher would like to announce the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Rhonda Diane Briggs to Mike Ellis Northcutt. The prospective groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Northcutt of Muleshoe. Miss Briggs is a 1979 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is presently employed with General Telephone in San Angelo. Northcutt is a 1980 graduate of Muleshoe High School and is presently attending San Angelo State College. The couple plans to exchange wedding vows on August 7th at 7:30 p.m. at First Baptist Church in Muleshoe.
