Cowboys and Heels Trade Show returns to Big Spring at The Courtyard

By IRIS RANGEL

Herald Staff Writer The Cowboys and Heels Trade Show is back for another year in Howard County.

After five years of shows, The Cowboys and Heels Trade Show will take place in the downtown Big Spring at the Courtyard on Nov. 14 – 15, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sunday. According to Cowboys and Heels Trade Show Owner Danielle Ramirez, guests can expect to shop more than 30 vendors. Vendors will have all kinds of goodies to shop from including native items, home decor, candles, Scentsy, jewelry, aprons, boutiques, knifes, handbags, chalk couture, door prizes and much more.

Prior to the show, Ramirez noted that when coronavirus shut down local venues and businesses earlier this year, her trade shows were at a stand still. Last year, Ramirez also had to cancel a show that was meant to be held in Lubbock and their yearly Christmas show, due to personal reasons. Through all these recent hardships, The Cowboys and Heels Trade Show has persevered and will begin it's comeback right here in Howard County.

"Hosting the show for this long has been a blessing for sure. As 2020 came around, it made shows impossible. Due to COVID, we had to cancel three shows because venues were closed and quarantine. However, we are very excited to be able to host the show finally and we want to continue to be able to do them not only for our wrapping gifts alongside the chance of being in the Big Spring Christmas Parade; a $1,500 donation from Aramark Foodservice Corporation for $1,000 to be set aside as a culinary scholarship for a Big Spring high school student and $500 to be given as a discretionary donation for the district.

"Thank you guys for everything, it's great," BSISD Superintendent McWilliams said.

Trustee Manny Chaveria moved to approve the donations and was seconded by Trustee Maria Padilla. The motion passed unanimously.

McWilliams then moved into the special recognition portion of the meeting where the Board recognized One Act Play participants for the BSISD play Haphazardly Ever After. The recently rescheduled play will take place Nov. 19 at 6:30 p.m. The Board alongside McWilliams recognized the collaborative efforts of both Big Spring junior high and high school students. Haphazardly Ever After consists of a 32 students cast, with seven tech students full of 7th, 8th graders and high school students.

"We're so proud of all the kids who are involved in this play. We encourage everyone to go out and see this play, it really is something to go out and see," McWilliams said.

Afterwards, a public hearing was held to discuss the Big Spring ISD Financial Accountability Rating (School FIRST) and the Annual Financial Management Report for the 2018-19 Fiscal Year. According to Chief Financial Officer Susan Bryan, BSISD has received a rating of 100 for the 2018-2019 school year. Last year BSISD received a rating of 98. The increase in score rating is due to paying debt monies back and ensuring that the district is passing audits, and staying timely and compliant, according to Bryan.

It was also noted that districts would have to project attendance in the near future with the Annual Financial Management Report, a concern that McWilliams and Bryan discussed during the meeting.

Regarding the report items on the agenda, Trustees conversed over a Food Service and Maintenance & Transportation Bid Report and the 2019-2020 Annual Bilingual/ESL Program Review and 2020 TELPAS Results.

Concerning the bid, the original due date was Oct. 23, 2020, by 4 p.m. on, however, it was extended to Oct. 30, 2020, at 4 p.m. to ensure all bids were received from the postal service and freight carrier services. The Food Service and Maintenance & Transportation bids are meant to form a multi-vendor list to secure supplies, equipment, outside labor, and contracted services, according to Tarbet.

For the 2019-2020 Annual Bilingual/ ESL Program Review, it was noted that the state of Texas requires all school districts to report an annual evaluation of the district's Bilingual/ ESL program, by BSISD Bilingual and ESL Coordinator Rosie Lopez.

In 2019-2020, 169 total student population in grades PK-12, were identified as English Learners

(ELs). According to Lopez, all teachers on every campus were trained to use the English Language Proficiency Standards during inservice professional development at the beginning of the year.

There is also ongoing training being provided in areas of Sheltered Instruction, ELPS (English Language Proficiency Standards), and Differentiation Strategies, stated by Lopez.

For the 2019 school year, minimal data was shown due to a lack of STARR and TELPAS testing taking place as a result of the cancellations from coronavirus.

Other items reviewed and approved during the meeting:

* Board Minutes for the Oct. 8, 2020 regular meeting and Oct. 12, 2020 special meeting

* Financial reports

* Annual investment report

* Approval of tax roll

Force Majeure Agreement with Sinclair Oil & Gas Company, Chugash Exploration, L.P., and Four Sevens Operating Co., Ltd.

Regarding the canvass for the Nov. 3, 2020 School Board Election Result for District 1, Trustee Harris canvassed the votes as required by law.

The conduction of the Post Election Procedures for Elected Officials and Board Organization, including Election of Officers, were tabled and postponed until the next Board meeting.

Nearing the end of the meeting, Superintendent McWilliams provided several updates regarding resignations and retirements, enrollment, COVID-19, and district updates.

According to McWilliams, there was one resignation for a Marcy Kindergarten teacher given on Oct. 5, 2020.

Concerning the Big Spring enrollment update, McWilliams noted that enrollment is still down for BSISD. As of Oct. 2, 2020, BSISD enrollment currently has 3,798 students enrolled, a 266 student decrease from last year. There are also 3,248 students enrolled in face to face instruction and 449 students enrolled in virtual instruction.

"We knew we were going to take a hit in enrollment this year. If you look around at any other district, enrollment is down everywhere," Mc-Williams said.

Assistant Superintendent for Operations George Bancroft alongside McWilliams provided a COVID-19 update stating as of Monday, Nov. 9, there have been 61 cases since the school year began. With BSISD employees, there are 8 active cases; 53 recovered cases; 197 total quarantined; 22 currently quarantined; 155 returned to campus; and 4 employee to employee transferred cases.

Regarding students, there have been 60 total cases since the school year began which equates to one case a day. With students, there are 9 active cases; 51 recovered cases; 383 quarantined (10% of the student population); 74 currently quarantined; and 309 students returned to instruction.

"It's odd to say, but it's almost becoming a routine. Our teachers and students know what to do when we find out there's a case and we go through the procedure," Bancroft said. "Our biggest issue is the quarantine numbers and keeping our teachers in line with COVID safety measures. We can't really force people to not go out to dinner with their friends on the weekends."

Bancroft also mentioned an instance where a positive case was found to have been in contact with 100 students.

In this circumstance, parents and guardians were contacted for all 100 students and were given the option to quarantine their students, however, it was not mandatory. Bancroft stated that for all 100 students, not a single parent or guardian chose to quarantine their student.

"This just shows that our parents want their kids in school and we need to continue to provide them with that service," he said.

Before adjourning for the evening, a district update was also given by McWilliams where he mentioned that from this point on there will be a district update every meeting. For this update, McWilliams noted that BSISD will be hosting the in-person junior high UIL competition on Dec. 9. McWilliams and Trustees also stated that there will be a special meeting held on Nov. 19 at 5:15 p.m. concerning the swearing in of elected officers.

we did in 2016."

Big Spring ISD canvassed the votes on Thursday at their regular meeting for the month; the City of Big Spring and Howard County will be canvassing votes on Tuesday, Nov. 17. Once the entities have canvassed the votes and the state has certified, the totals will become official.

"Everything considering all the problems we've had as a nation with the Covid and all that we handled it very well: voters handled it well and my staff handled it brilliantly," Duck said.

Once the City of Big Spring canvasses the votes, they will have 120 days for the Special Election for the recalls. At the same time, preparations will begin for the May elections which will invovle City and School Board. According to Duck, once the Special Election dates have been set, there will be an opportunity for those not registered to vote to get registered. In order to cast a vote in the Special Election, a voter did not have to cast a vote in the General Election.

Marriage Celebration Service - What if God brought our spouse into our life not to make us happy, but to make us holy? We believe that marriage is a sacred gift to be cherished and honored. Whether you are married, divorced, widowed, or never been married, you won't want to miss our special marriage celebration service on Sunday, Nov. 15.

Fireside Worship - Our next Fireside Worship will be on Nov. 18 at 6:30 p.m. Bring out your lawn chairs and blankets and join us for a time of worship and prayer around the fire pit. Following worship will be a time of fellowship with hotdogs, s'mores, and around the fire.

Help 2 Heal - Often as parents and youth leaders we want to reach out to help our children with the struggles and hardships of life but feel powerless. Come to our Help 2 Heal seminar on Nov. 21 at 9 a.m. to learn skills and insights that will help you lead your children through grief and trauma. Rays of Hope music therapist is also speaking on how music can help teens. Parents and Youth Leaders are welcome to the Free Event.

NazFamily Thanksgiving - Give thanks and get full. Sunday, Nov. 22 will be our NazFamily Thanksgiving Feast. Bring your favorite holiday dish to share, and let's join together for a time of worship, food, and fellowship. We will also have a dessert auction during our Thanksgiving Feast. All of the proceeds will go to support our Nazarene Christian Academy. Contact Kaleigh Sullivan for more information: ksullivan@ncabigspring.com.

Food Boxes - Every Tuesday and Thursday we make food boxes available in our church office from 10 a.m. - 12 p.m. for anyone in need. If you know someone who needs an extra blessing they can come by the office at that time or contact us at 432-267-7015.

All Caregivers. If you or someone you know would like to be placed on the FCC prayer list, please contact the church office or tell one of the members.

What we believe:

We believe that Jesus is the son of god, and we proclaim Him Lord and Savior.

We believe that all people are God's children.

We believe in freedom of belief in allowing the Holy Spirit through scripture reading and prayers to guide all who seek to follow God in the way of Jesus.

We believe in the oneness of the Church

Who we are:

We are real people proclaiming real faith in a real world.

We are a group of people seeking to follow God in the way of Jesus and who are seeking to be a movement of wholeness in a fragmented world.

We strive to be a faithfully growing church that demonstrates true community.

We strive to be people known by faith, hope and love.

We strive to embody what Jesus proclaimed as the greatest commandment: Love God with everything we have and to love our neighbors as ourselves.

The red chalice symbolizes the central place of communion in worship. The X-shaped cross of the disciple Andrew is a reminder of the ministry of each person and the importance of evangelism.

We invite you to come as you are to experience "church" in a fresh way. If that sounds good to you, we would enjoy meeting you.

Sunday morning Social Time - pre-Worship Service - starts approximately 9:30 a.m. in the Sitting Room by the office. Donuts, Coffee, Hot Chocolate, Hot Tea and Bottled Water.

Worship Service starts at 10:50 a.m. Hope to see you there.

Real Problem, Real Solution

But God, who is rich in mercy, for his great love wherewith he loved us, even when we were dead in sins, hath quickened us together with Christ, (by grace ye are saved). Ephesians 2:4-5

Sin is not the real problem, I am. My sin is not the real problem, my human nature is. So, if I am the problem, then Christ is the solution. If my person is the real problem, then the person of the Lord Jesus Christ is the real solution to my problem. Sin is not sin unless I commit it because it is inanimate without me.

Because of the fact that I am the problem, and not my sin, sinlessness is not the real solution, Christ is. His nature in me is the only solution. If my humanity (and not my sin) is the real problem, then, the solution is not in me nor is it found in anything that I can do to remedy the problem. Sin did not enter into the world by its own power, sin entered into the world by a man (Adam).

If death entered into the world by sin, and we being dead in trespasses and sins, Christ gave us life, this means that our real problem is not our sin. Our real problem is death that comes by sin. Does Christ solve the problem of death that comes by sin by making us sinless in the flesh? No! He solves the death problem by giving us life because He is the end of the Law for our righteousness. This is true because where there is no Law, there is no transgression.

If sin were our real problem, then God would justify our sin. But sin is not the root problem, we are, and for this reason, God justifies sinners, not sin. When God justifies the sinner, that sinner is forever forgiven, regardless of the sins the sinner may commit in the future.

If we miss the truth that says that Christ is the end of the Law, then we miss the whole point of the gospel. If we are blind to the fact that Christ is the end of the Law, then we are blind to the whole truth of the whole gospel. No sinner can ever be justified in the presence of the Law because the Law focuses on sin. The Law does not focus on justification, sanctification or blessing. The Law has one purpose and that is to condemn and kill the sinner. When Christ justifies the sinner, He performs a miracle, the miracle of life. But this miracle must be done in the absence of the Law because no life can be found in the letter of the Law. Life can only be found in Christ and Christ alone.

I'll Be Back Soon

As I youngster my mother and dad usually went grocery shopping together. We lived in a two bedroom house in a family of eight. When they went shopping, we would stay home and clean house, with each one assigned to chores to do by the time they got home. I don't remember if we got them all done by that set time or not. I just remember working hard to complete my task.

If they were late in coming, we would play in the backyard in the dirt, or swing from the big oak tree tire swing, or play games with the neighbors. We seemed to be a happy group.

But when my parents returned, we all trooped out to bring the month's worth of groceries. We had a big round table in the dining room that was full of sacks we brought in. Where Momma LILLIAN put them in the kitchen was her decision. But my, my, the food BOHANNAN we would bring into that little house was amazing. Hundred pounds of potatoes, fifty pounds of flour and sugar, bushels of apples or peaches, seemed like a ton of bananas, meat to go in the freezer, was just to name a few. As you can see we ate very well.

But looking back on my parents coming home from the store, we were more excited to see them, rather than what they were bringing with them, especially if they were late. The fact that they said to us before they left, "We'll back soon," was a promise that we looked forward to, because they were our security rock.

Jesus made the same promise in His Word. In John 14:3 states: "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also." And while we are still here, we have tasks to complete. He told us to occupy until He comes.

Jesus is the Secure Rock, our Sure Foundation. When He left earth, His promise to Return is our hope in this present world. It is looking like it did back before the Flood of Noah. We must be completing the tasks of sharing His Good News, loving our neighbors, and anything else we can to further His Kingdom. Even though no one knows exactly the day or the hour, we will be excited to see Him as He is, because He is coming back, SOON!

Reflections: Stars

I normally begin my day outdoors where I spend time in prayer. When winter drops the temps and the sun rises late, I bundle up and find my place on our back deck, under the stars. Our deck is on the south side of the house. Orion and Taurus greet me in the winter sky, easily distinguished among the lesser lights. They have always been there, occupying

Bill their same place in the sky TINS ince time immemorial. These are the same stars Abraham saw when he left Ur of the Chaldees. The same stars that guided Moses in the wilderness. The same stars David watched when he shepherded sheep. The same stars the Magi studied when they found a star in the east that led them to Bethlehem. When I look at the stars, I feel connected to the entire universe, no longer limited by time and space. In my fleeting moment on earth I am part of all that has gone before and all that will yet come. They are a stabilizing force. Nothing we can do on earth will change them. The nearest star is approximately 25 trillion miles away, or 4.24 light years. When the dust has settled from the Presidential election and the pandemic has passed, the stars will remain in their place as they have done through every plague, every war, every natural disaster, and every lifetime. They are a constant, silent and brilliant testimony to God's majesty.

The Bible has a lot to say about the stars: "When I consider your heavens, the work of your fingers, the moon and the stars, which you have set in place, what is mankind that you are mindful of them? Human beings that you care for them?" (Psalm 8:3-4) NIV.

"He heals the brokenhearted and binds up their wounds. He determines the number of the stars; and calls them each by name. Great is our Lord and mighty in power; his understanding has no limit" (Psalm 147:3-5).

'Praise him sun and moon: praise him all you shining stars. Praise him highest heavens, and you waters above the skies. Let them praise the name of the Lord, for he commanded and they were created and he established them forever and ever" (Psalm 148:3-6). "To whom then shall you compare me? Or who is my equal?' says the Holy One. Lift up your eyes and look to the heavens: Who created all these? He who brings out the starry host one by one and calls forth each of them by name. Because of his great power and mighty strength, not one of them is missing. ... Do you not know? Have you not heard? The Lord is the everlasting God, the Creator of the ends of the earth. He will not grow tired or weary, and his understanding no one can fathom. He gives strength to the weary and increases the power of the weak." (Isaiah 40:25-26). The stars have a way of putting things in perspective.

Insatiable Eyes

Sometime over the past few months I read an article about the old patriarch Lot. I started tracing out what was said and found how easily we can be caught up in the wiles of Satan.

There are many warnings in Scripture about "the lust of the eyes" (I John 2:15-17) that can turn our hearts away from that which is godly and eternal. Soloman's sober caution certainly is significant, especially since he had admonished his son, "Let thine eyes look right on, and let thine eyelids look strait before thee" (Proverbs 4:25). Similarly, Job had "made a covenant with his eyes" (Job 31:7)..

RALPH

Abraham's nephew, Lot, eventually lost everything after he "lifted up his eyes" and chose to "pitch" his tent toward Sodom" (Genesis 13:12), developing and initial tolerance for that ungod-ANDERSON ly environment and unwilling to separate from the people who were "wicked and sinners before the Lord exceedingly" (Genesis 13:13).

Later, Lot actually dwelt in Sodom, with his goods (Genesis 14:12). Soon the association became a lifestyle, a conscious choice in spite of obvious wickedness that caused him great distress, "for that righteous man dwelling among them, in seeing and hearing, vexed his righteous soul from day to day with their unlawful deeds" (2 Peter 2:7-8). Chdorlaomer sacked the cities and ook Lot captive. Even then, he was so tied to his association with the Sodomites that he went back!

Finally, Lot " sat in the gates of Sodom" (Genesis 19:1) when the angels came to destroy the city. That's equivalent to being one of the "movers and shakers" of the city.--perhaps even comparable to being on the city council. This tragic life had every opportunity to share in the joys of Qbraham's calling, but threw it all away for the sake of his "eyes." Perhaps God may grant us eyes that "see" truth.

The thought that preceded this article was this, how many do you and I know that do not want God anywhere in their lives except in their language....

Something to think about...

"My Dad can beat up your Dad!" I vividly remember several arguments on the school playground that ended with this clear declaration. As a child, I had complete confidence that my Father was the strongest person in the world and nothing could take him down. There was a sense that no matter what trouble I got myself into, he would always be there to rescue me. Standing in the shadow of my hero provided a deep sense of security and peace in life.

My parents came out to visit this weekend and it is evident that their age is quickly catching up with them. It is hard to watch as time takes its toll on their bodies. They twinge in pain through normal, everyday movements. As our friend Burl used to say, "Getting old ain't for sissies!" I don't remember exactly when I realized that my dad wasn't the toughest person on earth, but it never really diminished his status in my eyes. He is still a hero in my life for so many reasons beyond his physical strength. My earthly dad may not be able to beat you up anymore, I don't really want him to try (I honestly hope my children don't make those kinds of statements), but for the followers of Jesus there is truth to the declaration that our Father is stronger than anything we face. No enemy can take Him down and He is always ready to rescue us. 1

We have a good and loving Heavenly Father who can whop all of our enemies. He is bigger than anything we will face this week and He's got your back. May we stand in His shadow, so that we can walk in the security, confidence, and peace we have as the children of God! "Greater is the One who is in you than the one who is in the world!" By SHAWN MORAN

Herald Sports Writer

TULIA — In a game where the final score did not show the amount of heart and fight that was displayed on the field, the Canadian Wildcats defeated the Coahoma Bulldogs 62-14 on Thursday night.

It was a disappointing loss and end to the season for a Coahoma team that has been depleted by injuries over the past few weeks. After being predicted to have a down year by some preseason publications, the Bulldogs played with a chip on their shoulders all-season long and made it back to the postseason.

While a postseason loss brings an end to a hectic 2020 football season for the Bulldogs, Coahoma coach Chris Joslin is still proud of the way his team performed and competed against the top-ranked 3A-2 team in the state.

"We played the second half tonight like we have all-year. We're going to play until the end," Joslin said. "We talked about it before and there was a lot of games that canceled tonight, but we're going to show up and play, and we're going to play until the end. I couldn't be more proud of a group of kids. That team (Canadian) right there is really, really good. Last week, a Top 10 team got beat 63-13 by them. We're not that far away, we just need to stay healthy and get better each year. I love this football team."

Coahoma fell behind 55-7 at halftime after being attacked in the first half by a steady dose of pinpoint pass after pinpoint pass from senior quarterback Josh Culwell and the shifty and hard-nosed style of senior running back Hayze Hufstedler. Culwell tossed five first-half touchdown passes to three different receivers while Hufstedler scored two touchdowns on the ground.

Coahoma's only trip to the end zone in the first half on Thursday night came with the Bulldogs trailing 48-0 with just under four minutes remaining in the first half. After two unproductive plays to start-off the drive, junior running back Brysen Kerby took the handoff, hit the open hole, and sprinted untouched the rest of the way to the end zone for a 76-yard touchdown run. That play finally put the Bulldogs on the board and let them know that the Canadian team, while strong and dominant, are not invincible.

How tough was it as a play-caller on Thursday night against the Wildcats?

"Those guys over there make it difficult on a lot of people," Joslin said. "We found a few things and kept fighting until the end. We got on the board a couple times and got some stops. It's minor victories but against a team like that, you're just looking to compete and I thought our kids competed tonight." football and it allowed them to put another score on the board.

Canadian was facing a third-and-long in their own territory when Culwell dropped back to pass. He sailed a ball deep downfield in an attempt to gain the first down but was instead intercepted by Billy Starr. Starr got the ball all the way to the Wildcat 30-yard line where the Bulldogs would begin their drive. After a five yard gain on first down, Kerby took the handoff on second down and ran off right tackle the remaining 25 yards into the end zone.

Hufstedler would score a third touchdown (50 yards) a few minutes later that put the Wildcats ahead 62-14 and would prove to be the last score of the game. Canadian decided to switch to the second-string players following that Hufstedler score and the remaining time was spent with both teams trying to move the ball downfield.

Now that Coahoma's 2020 season is over, they will have a group of talented seniors that will be departing in the spring and not returning to the gridiron next fall. Joslin will still have some big-time contributors such as Kerby and Starr ready to lead the Bulldogs on the field next season. Joslin also got freshman quarterback Grant Glidewell some valuable Varsity experience over the past couple of weeks and will rely on the dual-threat signal-caller to lead his offense next year.

"The future is as bright as it could be," Joslin said. "We're going to go back to work and get better this offseason. The future is bright all the way down to junior high teams. It's fun at Coahoma right now."

The Bulldogs (6-4) will now switch gears into offseason mode and begin preparing for the long road back to Friday nights under the lights next fall.

SCORING PLAYS:

(10:56 1Q): Josh Culwell pass to Reagan Cochran for 8 yards (7-0 Canadian)
(5:05 1Q): Luke Flowers 46-yard run (13-0 Canadian)
(1:26 1Q): Hayze Hufstedler 35-yard run (20-0 Canadian)
(10:55 2Q): Josh Culwell pass to Gary Anderson for 34 yards (27-0 Canadian)
(9:04 2Q): Josh Culwell pass to Gary Anderson for 30 yards (34-0 Canadian)
(6:27 2Q): Josh Culwell pass to Gary Anderson for 8 yards (41-0 Canadian)
(3:25 2Q): Brysen Kerby 76-yard run (48-7 Canadian)
(1:35 2Q): Hayze Hufstedler 3-yard run (55-7 Canadian)
(8:30 3Q): Brysen Kerby 25-yard run (55-14 Canadian)
(7:44 3Q): Hayze Hufstedler 50-yard run (62-14 Canadian)

The second half was overall more evenly-matched with Coahoma making a few big plays and the teams both only scoring one touchdown in the final two quarters. There was one stretch where Coahoma played great complementary

Sylvester Holds On To Lead At B.A.S.S. Nation Championship

Special to the Herald

FLORENCE, Ala. — Blake Sylvester was a bit worried the spot he pounded to grab the Day 1 lead in the TNT Fireworks B.A.S.S. Nation Championship on Pickwick Lake might not be as productive a day later.

It wasn't, but it didn't matter.

Sylvester, a 29-year-old Plaquemine, La., resident, caught a limit of five bass Thursday that weighed 12 pounds, 3 ounces. Added to the 16-10 limit he caught Wednesday, he has a tournament-best 28-13 total heading into the final day on this 43,000-acre impoundment of the Tennessee River.

Despite his position atop the leaderboard after both days of fishing, Sylvester has struggled to get the Pickwick largemouth bass to bite. He found a stretch of submerged grass in approximately 6 feet of water that was productive in practice, and he fished it almost exclusively on Wednesday but got only a handful of bites. Sylvester returned there Thursday, but he didn't catch his first bass until after 11 a.m.

With nothing in his livewell more than halfway through Day 2, Sylvester wondered if he should stick with the grass or look for another area. He chose to remain on his primary spot, and it finally paid off with six keeper bites, five of which made it to Thursday's weigh-in at McFarland Park.

"Back home, I would have left the spot in a heartbeat," he said. "But in the three days I spent here before we were off-limits, plus the three days we practiced, that was the only spot that I was really confident in."

Still, it was extremely difficult to stay when nothing was biting.

"I was thinking about what my sob story would be when I weighed in today," he said with a laugh. "Really, I was looking at the same thing over and over again. It was tough. I must have thrown a thousand times."

Sylvester said his bite ignited only when he switched colors on his lure of choice. He said that simple change was the difference between fishing Friday's championship round and heading home to Louisiana.

It's no surprise he'll head back to the grassbed Friday, hoping it can sustain him for a wire-to-wire championship win and a spot in the 2021 Academy Sports + Outdoors Bassmaster Classic.

"I think it has more fish," he said. "They're there for a reason. It has all the right conditions. I might run some stuff tomor row morning to catch some smallmouths, but I'll wind up back in the same spot It's been the best one here so far."

Sylvester is one of 12 competitors who survived the cut and will fish Friday. The top three among them will earn berths in the Classic to be held March 19-21 on Lake Ray Roberts near Fort Worth, Texas.

The winner of this week's tournament will also win $20,000 cash and $16,000 in paid entry fees to compete on the 2021 Bassmaster Elite Series. The winner can opt instead to receive entry to the 2021 Bassmaster Opens, and B.A.S.S. will provide a "Nation's Best" wrapped boat to use on either circuit next year.

Utah's Terry Peterson won the co-angler division Thursday with a two-day total of 21-7. Peterson was presented the Louis "Pee Wee" Powers Trophy for winning the division and collected $10,000 cash and paid entries to all Basspro.com Bassmaster Opens tournaments in 2021.

B.A.S.S. officials outfitted him with a boat to use in Friday's final round, and he's the only one of 46 co-anglers competing Friday.

Peterson jumped to the top of the coangler leaderboard Wednesday with a 14-10 limit and followed with three bass Thursday that weighed 6-13.

"I only started fishing B.A.S.S. Nation four years ago," the 52-year-old West Jordan, Utah, resident said. "Having a chance to make the Classic tomorrow, it's like an amateur playing golf in The Masters. It's an amazing feeling, and it's really close to reality right now."

The Top 12 co-anglers split $31,500 in cash after Thursday's weigh-in.

Wisconsin's Pat Schlapper placed second in the boater division with 28-7, followed by Vermont's Michael Comeau with 26-12 and Arizona's Justin Kerr with 26-1.

The Top 10 competitors in the boater division automatically advanced to the final round, as did the co-angler champion and anyone who placed among first or second in one of five B.A.S.S. Nation Regional tournaments who wasn't in the Top 10 at Pickwick.

A Friend or More

Dear Annie: I'm a senior at university. I'm living with my boyfriend this semester, so we're in the same "family unit" and are able to be around each other without masks and social distancing.

I've been seeing my boyfriend -- let's call him Raul -- for about a year and a half now. We're getting along rather well, and I can really envision a future together. However, this is the first serious relationship I've been in, and the two of us are most likely going to be in very different places once the academic year is over. Raul's applying to grad schools in Europe, and I'm looking to work for a nonprofit in the United States. Neither of us would feel good about letting the other compromise their plans or ambitions or dreams.

That aside, while I was back home in Vermont during the onset of the pandemic, I got to spend a lot of time with childhood best friend -- let's call him Vermont Boy -- who just broke up with his girlfriend of three years. I felt that there was a spark between us, but nothing happened over the summer. Vermont Boy and I have been texting every day since. He also has similar interests to mine and wants to stay in the States -- in New England, preferably. At one point over the summer, it felt as though we were about to kiss, but I think he held back since he knew I'm in a relationship. I'm glad we didn't kiss, but I also really wish we had.

I feel like the end is near with my boyfriend, but we live together. I feel restless every time I think about Vermont Boy. Things are still going so smoothly and sweetly between me and Raul and, for emphasis, we live together! But there is a sort of bitterness that comes with knowing we have to go our separate ways. things now is the fairest and kindest thing that you can do for him. From there, see where things go with Vermont Boy, but also entertain the possibility of being single. Sometimes, when we can't decide between two things, it's because neither option is right.

One important caveat: Please take social distancing precautions, such as wearing masks, meeting outside, and maintaining six feet of distance, when seeing anyone new.

Dear Looking:

This is not an ideal time to be dating new people, but the reality is that people crave companionship. Dating websites are the main, and perhaps only, way to meet folks at the moment. Many sites offer free basic memberships and affordable premium memberships, such as OkCupid and Plenty of Fish. Try one out.

When you find a promising match, try going on a "virtual date" -- e.g., order takeout from the same restaurant, and video chat while you eat it. Eventually, you may decide that you want to try an in-person date. Take the usual precautions of meeting in a safe, public place, along with the pandemic precautions of staying six feet apart, wearing masks and meeting outside. And communicate your safety expectations ahead of time.

Sure, this is a cumbersome amount of hoops to jump through. But it won't be too long before life resumes more normally, and first dates will return to their normal level of awkwardness. In the meantime, embrace the slower pace of courtship during COVID-19.

CAPRICORN: You're not sure who is under the spell of whom, but there's definitely some magic happening. AQUARIUS: You'll be delighted at how a person expresses feelings about you. PISCES: Love is not having to constantly explain, defend or justify your choices.

COUPLE OF THE

WEEKEND: Scorpios expect depth from one another -- deep love, deep thoughts, deep empathy. This new moon weekend, with both the sun and moon in Scorpio, earth's shadow prevents the moon from reflecting much of the sun's light. It begs the question of how reciprocal a double Scorpio relationship can be? Each Scorpio must give the other a chance to shine or the relationship spins quickly out of balance.

Contract By Steve Becker Bidding quiz

With neither side vulnerable, you hold the following hand:

♦ K94 ♥ 8 ♦ KJ954 ♣ AQ73 1. Your partner bids One Club, and you respond with One Diamond. Partner rebids Three Clubs. What would you bid now?

2. You open One Diamond, and partner responds with Two Notrump. After you bid Three Clubs, partner says Three Notrump. What would you bid now?

3. Your left-hand opponent opens One Heart, your partner overcalls with One Spade, and your right-hand opponent bids Two Hearts. What would you bid now?

4. Your partner opens Three Hearts, and the next player passes. What would you bid now?

1. Four notrump. A grand slam is highly likely if your partner has three aces, and the best way of learning whether he has them is by using Blackwood. There is very little risk attached to this bid, since partner is virtually certain to have two or three aces for his previous bids. If the response to four notrump is five hearts (two aces), you will stop in six clubs; if the response is five spades (three aces), you plan to bid seven. 2. Pass. Your distribution is not ideal for notrump, but all you can reasonably do is pass. Your three-club bid warned partner against notrump, and he has said in effect that nine tricks in notrump are more likely to be made than 11 tricks in a minor. Partner should not be surprised that you have a singleton somewhere, as your three-club bid alerted him to that possibility.

3. Four spades. Partner should have at least five reasonably strong spades for his overcall, so to bid less than game would be an insult to his card play. True, you'd like to have a fourth trump, but the good Lord didn't deal you one. Your 13 highcard points and singleton heart more than compensate for this small flaw. A three-spade bid would merely invite partner to bid again.

4. Pass. It normally takes two opening bids, or their equivalent, to make a game. You certainly have a sound opening bid, but partner doesn't - otherwise he would have opened with one heart. Opposite a preemptive bid, it is much more advisable to count potential tricks in the combined hands than to rely on point count. Typically, partner would be expected to take six tricks with his own hand, to which you can add two or, if you're very lucky, three, assuming normal distribution of the opposing cards. A reasonable expectancy is that partner will make three hearts or go down one, so you should pass.

SUDOKU Fun By The 3 5 Numbers 4 6 9 Like puzzles? Then you'll love 5 2 sudoku. This 4 mind-bending puzzle will have 9 5 3 you hooked from the moment you 4 square off, so sharpen your 7 5 6 pencil and put your sudoku and the 3 6 savvy to the test! 8 door 9 Level: Advanced

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

CANCER (June 22-July 22). Go ahead and aim high while working low -- doing the groundwork that will bring step-by-step, gradual success. A good plan will include simple measures and lots of repetition.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Social interaction can be so involving that it's hard to know just how you're feeling in the midst of it. Notice how you feel in the moments after you leave though because that feeling says a lot.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You'll have an exhilarating sense of forwarding movement today, though perhaps not in the area you want to move. That's OK because progress in any area will eventually bring you forward in others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). It is impossible to know how another person is seeing the situation; however, with a combination of curiosity and empathy, put one's heart in the hands of another and hope for mercy, but that's the price of love.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Jealousy is golden! It tells you what you really want and care about. Still, it's often better expressed in a journal or some other private way, as it's not the most attractive quality and can skewer the balance of relationships.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). It takes more than love to make a relationship work. Right now, it's the simple act of making and keeping agreements that will tell you all you need to know about how the relationship is doing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). You'll listen to the same story a few times, but when patterns become too repetitive, it's both taxing and a sign that the other person isn't holding up their end of the conversational bargain.

Casey rides the buzz of Masters history to 65 and early lead

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Already seven months behind schedule because of the pandemic, the most unusual Masters was 30 minutes old Thursday when the silence was interrupted by a rumble down by Amen Corner.

No roars this week. Just thunder. And then a weather delay of nearly three hours.

All that, and it was still worth the wait.

Paul Casey matched his lowest score at the Masters with a 7-under 65, giving him a two-shot lead among half the field fortunate to play in perfect scoring conditions. Tiger Woods matched his lowest start, a 68, and kept a bogey-free card in a major for the first time in 11 years.

The course was different than what they expected, a result of the rain and the calendar. The silence was exactly what they expected because majors haven't had spectators in 16 months.

But it was still the Masters.

"So many people like myself are just excited to play this," Casey said. "This is a treat. It always has been and always will be a real treat."

No doubt, the absence of roars was as eerie as the sound of a drone that approached the first tee as Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player prepared to hit their ceremonial tee shots. The Masters is using two drones this year, a first.

"A lot of firsts today. That's kind of the way this entire year has been," Woods said. "The fact that we're able to compete for a Masters this year, considering all that's been going on, it's a great opportunity for all of us."

Casey found energy from the familiarity of the course, from the history, from the mystique. And it was enough to carry him to a round he needed on a day — a partial day — of low scoring. Twelve of the 48 players who finished shot in the 60s.

Woods, a notorious slow starter despite his five green jackets, had one moment where he thought trouble might lurk. It was the fifth hole, which he bogeyed all four rounds last year when he won the Masters. He hit a low fade off the tee that left him 227 yards to the hole.

"Hit a 4-iron to the back edge and it only rolled out a foot," Woods said. "That doesn't happen here."

The biggest crowd — about 100 people in this case — was two groups ahead of Woods watching Bryson DeChambeau smash shots into trees and one shot into the azaleas bushes behind the 13th green. He was lucky to find it because his provisional shot went into the creek. He still made double bogey, though he managed to scratch out a 70.

So much action, typical of the Masters, and so little volume.

And for so many players, they wouldn't want to be anywhere else.

"I was vocal earlier in the year about not enjoying golf in a pandemic," Casey said. "I didn't know how the fan-less experience would be and so far, I've not enjoyed it. I've had nothing, or very little, to draw on from being out playing tournament golf. The Masters, though, this week it still has a buzz to it. There's an energy and a little bit of vibe.

"Yes, it's clearly a lot less than what we're used to. But there's something about this place. I felt excited to be here."

The excitement for Casey began on the fearsome 10th hole when he hit his approach to a front pin about 5 feet away for birdie. He had eagle chances on both par 5s on the back nine and settled for birdies. He took on a left pin at the par-5 second with a 6-iron and watched the ball plop 6 feet away for eagle.

"You can't hit that shot in April," he said. "It pitched and stopped instantly, and that shot in April would have one-hopped over into the patrons."

Webb Simpson played a tidy round, making eagle on No. 2 after the turn and finishing with seven pars for a 67. He was joined by Xander Schauffele, a runner-up to Woods last year, who had seven birdies in his round of 67.

"You're going at pins that you wouldn't really feel that comfortable with," Schauffele said. "There's so many spots where your ball will stay. It was just really strange."

Lee Westwood wasn't sure he would ever make it back to the Masters, earning a ticket back with his tie for fourth in the British Open last summer. The best player without a major showed he still has some life at age 47. He shot 31 on the front and limited the damage on the back for a 68, joining the group that included Woods, former Masters champion Patrick Reed, Hideki Matsuyama and Louis Oosthuizen.

Dustin Johnson, the world's No. 1 player, was among those who played in the afternoon and had to return Friday morning to finish. He opened with an eagle on No. 2 and was 3 under at the turn. Justin Thomas started with three straight birdies and was at 5 under through 10 holes.

Rory McIlroy also played in the afternoon, made bogey on his first hole and was struggling to make birdies. He was even par at the turn, which felt worse on a day like this.

The delay was the last thing the Masters needed with limited daylight hours leading to the two-tee start. Every minute counts, and it was doubtful 36 holes could be completed by Friday.

The loudest cheer — applause, certainly not a roar — came for Nicklaus and Player hitting tee shots so early that they couldn't see where they landed. Five groups got through one hole before the siren sounded to stop play for 2 hours, 45 minutes. And then players began to light up the course as the clouds moved to the east and those famous shadows from Georgia pines stretched across the fairways.

It looked just the Masters, minus the spring blooms, even if it didn't sound like one.

Cowboys' brass believes in McCarthy amid all-but-lost debut

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The open week must be feeling a lot like the offseason for first-year Dallas Cowboys coach Mike McCarthy: virtual meetings, with the players instructed to stay away from the facility for COVID-19 reasons.

The pandemic disrupted McCarthy's plan for getting his program going, and injuries derailed the season once it started, most notably the broken ankle that sidelined star quarterback Dak Prescott for the year.

Even though McCarthy's Dallas debut is all but wrecked just nine games in, owner Jerry Jones and his son, chief operating officer Stephen Jones, believe they picked the right replacement for Jason Garrett, who was in charge for nearly a decade.

"Absolutely. Unequivocal," Stephen Jones said when asked if McCarthy would return in 2021 regardless of the finish to a so-far dismal 2-7 season.

"I've got my man and I've got the 2005, the last time McCarthy and Nolan were on the same staff. Nolan was coach in San Francisco, McCarthy the offensive coordinator. The 49ers finished 4-12 with four starting QBs and a terrible defense.

Stephen Jones looks elsewhere for comparisons — to 2006, McCarthy's debut as a head coach in Green Bay. The Packers started 1-4 and were 4-8 before winning their last four games. Green Bay made the playoffs nine of the next 10 seasons and won a Super Bowl.

"The way we've played, especially the first seven games on the defensive side of the ball, it was frustrating for everybody, I think, to watch how we played there," Stephen Jones said. "But I do think we're coming around. You've got to take a deep breath on these things."

Jerry Jones hasn't been available to reporters all season because of the pandemic: he normally answers ques tions after every game. The outspoken billionaire has had some testy moments with the hosts of his two weekly radio appearances, mostly over questions about whether the players are buying in and whether McCarthy has already lost the locker room. "We wanted someone that in case the you-know-what hit the fan, that had the credibility and the doability to ... stand tall and strong as the head coach," Jerry Jones said. "And he's doing that. He's doing that in the face of adversity." The Cowboys stuck with Garrett longer than their fans wanted, believing he could end what is now a 25-year stretch without the storied franchise even making the NFC championship game. Last year's 3-0 start fueled already high expectations, and when Dallas faded and missed the playoffs, the Joneses sought a new voice for the first time since 2010.

"You're changing a culture," Stephen Jones said. "We like stability. That's why we stayed with Jason for 10 years, and we know these things don't happen overnight in terms of when you turn things around."

If Dalton returns and stays healthy, the Cowboys could finally have some stability at quarterback without Prescott. Now the trick is winning a game without the 2016 NFL Offensive Rookie of Year. Dallas is 0-4 so far.

Two-time rushing champion Ezekiel Elliott is without a 100-yard game this deep into a season for the first time, and what was the NFL's No. 1 offense with Prescott is far from it without him. But the defense seems to be figuring out Nolan's plan.

If nothing else, McCarthy goes forward figuring he won't be one-anddone in Dallas.

way to handle through these tough times," Jerry Jones said on his radio show recently.

The Cowboys had to stay away from headquarters during their open week because a positive COVID-19 test for Pittsburgh tight end Vance McDonald turned up a day after he played 24 snaps in the Steelers' 24-19 victory over Dallas.

Assuming there isn't an outbreak among Dallas players, they should be back to in-person work Monday before returning Nov. 22 at Minnesota.

Dallas hopes backup QB Andy Dalton is back by then. He made two starts in Prescott's place before getting a concussion against Washington, then went on the COVID-19 list about the time he was expected to clear concussion protocols.

As a result, the the Cowboys have had four starting quarterbacks in a span of five weeks after already having lost their tight end (Blake Jarwin, knee) and both tackles (Tyron Smith, neck; La'el Collins, hip) to seasonending injuries.

"We still have to line up and play like everybody else and we're getting better as a football team," McCarthy said. "But it's like anything in life, you don't really appreciate it as much until you don't have it. Not having the offseason program, and things like that, it's been challenging."

The defense under new coordinator Mike Nolan was abysmal early, repeatedly blowing assignments while giving up the most points through five games in franchise history. The unit is still on a record pace for futility, but has improved.
