Heritage Museum is traveling back to the 1970's this Saturday

By ROGER CLINE
 Herald Staff Writer

The Heritage Museum of Big Spring has some big things going on this weekend.

From 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Saturday, local personality Johnnie Lou Avery Boyd will be at the museum signing copies of her new cookbook titled A Cookbook for Non-Cooks.

"It's a humorous-type cookbook," said Heritage Museum Director Tammy Schreengost. "Johnnie Lou devoted so much of her time as a career woman and was so involved in the community, then when she retired she found out she couldn't cook. So she did this cookbook for people who have never cooked before. So she'll be here to sign her cookbook."

At 2 p.m. the museum will take a look back to the early years of its existence by opening a 50-year-old time capsule.

"We're going to open our capsule that we have here. In 1976 it was brought to the museum," Schreengost said.

gost said. "So we're going to open that up and see what kinds of history were entered back then, and share that with at the event Saturday, the time capsule will be resealed for another 50 years, and joined by a new container of current memorabilia, both designed to be reopened another 50 years in the future.

Schreengost said the new time capsule has been – and still is – on display in the museum's lobby, and local residents can donate their own material as reminders of 2021 for future Big Springers.

"It's a trunk, it's on a table downstairs, and you can come in and add stuff to the time capsule from now until June 26," Schreengost said.

Schreengost encourages people to donate items which will memorialize the spirit of the current era.

"The Twenties – you know, 2020," she said. "Like, pictures of buildings or news that's going on right now. I'm sure there will be rolls of toilet paper, hand sanitizer, masks, I'm sure that will be represented. And you know, cellphones, or what

Splashing into Summer fun in Big Spring From family adventures to community events

By AMANDA DUFORAT
 Managing Editor

School is out for the summer; temperatures are rising and families are looking for ways to make memories and keep kids occupied. While summer vacations are a possibility again with the state opening back up, those looking to stay close to home can find plenty of opportunities in the local community.

"I think summer can be fun in Big Spring because we can get out and enjoy our community with our family and friends," Manny Negron, Travel and Tourism Coordinator, said.

Summer temperatures tend to bring an opportunity to get out and explore the parks, lakes and water fun. Within the limits of Howard County there are several opportunities to explore, from Moss Lake to Comanche Trail Lake for those looking to fish or kayak. The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department partners with the City of Big Spring to restock Comanche Trail Lake with Rainbow Trout at least once each year. For those who are looking to spend time outdoors but don't want to fish, there is the Russ McEwen Aquatic Center, which provides a family opportunity to cool off from the summer heat.

"Neighboring communities have a pool and splash pad,

A non-denominational church, formerly of Killeen, is settling down in Big Spring.

"The name of our church is True Deliverance Ministries International," said Marie Alderman, business manager. "Our headquarters is in Killeen, Texas. We are a community outreach church."

Alderman said the church will be involved in missions work locally.

"We're going to have temporary housing for women there," she said. "We're going to do a food pantry and a clothes closet. Our services will be Tuesday Bible study at 7 and Sundays, 11 a.m. worship."

The church will start off its local presence with a bang, hosting revival services at 7 p.m. Thursday and Friday this week, with Apostle Sadallie I. Cole Sr. leading the services and presenting the message. The church will be located at 1209 Wright Street in Big Spring, adjacent to the Big Spring Police Department headquarters.

"Then we're training others that will be the regular pastor," she said. "He's the senior pastor and founder."

The church is interested in making a difference in the local community, but need local volunteers to help out.

"We're just looking for those who desire to help in the community, because we need a lot of help to run the food pantry, the clothes closet and the temporary shelter," she said. "Volunteers are welcome!"

The church is on Facebook at <https://www.facebook.com/tDMIHQ1>.

type of electronics that we have that would be surprising. Toys...I know every year there's some sort of new toy that is introduced to kids that coincides with an action movie...things like that."

Of course, inappropriate items – at the museum's discretion – will not be allowed, she said.

After Saturday, the two time capsules will remain sealed until 2071, a date which will mark the museum's 100th anniversary. Unlike traditional time capsules, the Museum's containers will not actually be buried in the ground, but instead placed in a storage space inside the museum.

Shrecengost said keeping the capsule indoors ensures that it won't leak or be subject to construction accidents, burrowing animals or other environmental problems.

"Luckily, the 1976 time capsule has been in the museum all this time. It's a large trunk that was sealed and it says, 'Do Not Open.' That's what the new one will be also. It will be sealed, and then we put it in a special storage area here and it will be protected and taken better care of than in the ground."

vision to provide something for our families to do during the summer," Negron said.

The Russ McEwen Aquatic Center opened June 1 and will remain open through Aug. 7. The aquatic center is open from 12 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and Sundays from 1 p.m. until 8 p.m. The center is closed Mondays. The aquatic center has something for the whole family.

In addition to family fun outdoors, the community offers shopping through locally owned boutiques. Shopping includes clothing, home decor, gardening, home repairs and so much more. Local restaurants provide an opportunity to gather with family and friends over a shared meal.

"As we strive for a post Covid-19 way of living we need to do our best to support local. Support our shops, restaurants, hotels, attractions and events," he said. "As a previous event organizer it speaks a lot to the organizers or committee of an event when their own community comes out in full force to support the event."

For those who are looking for ways to learn more about the community in which they reside, there are a few options to engulf oneself in the history of Big Spring and Howard County. There is the Heritage Museum which covers all aspects of our community; Hangar 25 Air Museum and the Vietnam Memorial which honors those who sacrificed for our community and our nation; and the Potton House and numerous historical markers around the area that highlight important places.

"Let's make 2021 summer memories right here in Big Spring and while you are doing that, invite someone from out of town to join you. Show visitors the pride you have for Big Spring," Negron said.

Something to think about...

SCHNEGERGER

A friend once told me, as a child every time he stepped out the door, his mother would emphatically say, "Remember Jimmy, someone is always watching you!"

At the time he thought she had stationed spies around town to watch his every move - the mom spy squad. But, as he grew older, he began to realize what she really meant was that others were watching his example. People are paying attention to the life we live. Someone is always watching you too. Our children, grandchildren, coworkers, peers, and neighbors are all observing our actions.

What kind of example are you setting?
We all learn by example. In school when learning to solve a new problem the textbook would always give several examples to follow.

If we were struggling to understand, often someone would step in and say, "Let me show you how to do it." The most important lessons we learn are typically caught, not taught. Of course, one of the best ways to learn a new skill is to apprentice with an expert. The same is true in life, we need good examples to follow. The truth is that we all live by example and we live as examples. God understands this and gave us the best example to follow. Paul tells us clearly in Ephesians: "Follow God's example, therefore, as dearly loved children and walk in the way of love, just as Christ loved us and gave himself up for us as a fragrant offering and sacrifice to God." ~ Ephesians 5:1-2

At the heart of it, discipleship is being an apprentice of Jesus. Following Him means learning to do life His way. We all live by example and we live as examples. I'm grateful for all the examples of genuine faith and faithfulness that God placed in my life.

What examples are you following?

What example are you leaving for others to follow?

The Schoolmaster's Purpose

"But before faith came, we were kept under the law, shut up unto the faith which should afterwards be revealed. Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith. But after that faith is come, we are no longer under a schoolmaster." Galatians 3:23-25

The schoolmaster (the Law of Moses) is a harsh and heavy yoke to bear because our sin is exceedingly sinful.

If we were perfect, and able to completely obey the Law, it would not be so ruthlessly cruel. However, we have an advantage in the severity of the Law in that we find rest for our souls in Christ.

The condemnation, death and punishment we suffered under the Law led us to Christ's easy yoke and light burden. And this was the schoolmaster's purpose.

The purpose of the schoolmaster was not that we would cease from all sin. Its purpose was to bring us to Christ who was sinless in our place.

If the schoolmaster's mission was to make us sinless, Christ would have never delivered us from the Law, and the Apostle Paul would have commanded us to remain under it and do its deeds. The schoolmaster's purpose was to bring us to Christ who kept the Law for us in our place.

The schoolmaster's purpose was not to aid us in living holy lives, acceptable to God, because according to Romans 3:21, the righteousness of God without the Law is manifested, being witnessed by the Law and the prophets.

The purpose of the schoolmaster was to lead us to Christ who of God is made unto us wisdom, and righteousness, and sanctification and redemption. The purpose of the Law was not to shield us from condemnation.

On the contrary, it condemned and killed us, so that we might find life in Christ.

And now, Christ is our shield, who defends and protects us from the curse of the Law.

Reflections: Sparrows

A couple years ago I wrote about Fred and Ethel, two robins that built their nest on a low-lying limb in the tree outside our front window. This year a couple of sparrows showed up, surveyed the scene and selected the birdhouse in our back yard for their home. We were happy to see them move in. The birdhouse, a mothers-day gift from our son, sat empty for three years. A few larger birds showed interest, but after poking, prodding and wiggling with unsuccessful efforts to wedge their way through the tiny opening, they abandoned it and went searching for real estate elsewhere.

The sparrows found it a perfect fit and joyfully chirped in celebration of their good fortune. I named them Ed and Trixie, the side-kick couple from the Jackie Gleason show, one of the most popular sit-coms in the early days of television. Ed was a plumber. His best buddy, Ralph, played by Jackie Gleason, was a bus driver. They lived next door to each other in low-income apartments. Sparrows seem to be blue-collar birds, so the names seemed to fit.

Ed, the male sparrow, has a dark bib (or is it a beard?), beneath his beak. Trixie, the female, has a gray breast. For days they inspected the birdhouse, perching on its ledge, flitting back and forth to a nearby limb, returning to peek in the small hole. Finally, they agreed it was suitable, and they started collecting blades of dry grass, straw and twigs. For several weeks they tirelessly delivered their nesting material and built their home. Like the robin, sparrows are monogamous, mating for life.

Last week, the faint sounds of chirping emerged from the birdhouse, and, watching closely, I thought I saw the movement of baby birds through the narrow opening, their tiny beaks reflecting the sunlight.

Later in the day, I sat by a pond and watched a mother duck slowly paddle her way along the shore, surrounded by eight ducklings. They poked and prodding in the shallows beneath a yellow-green Willow. The bright-colored mallard followed close behind, keeping a close watch on his brood.

We are surrounded by the mystery and miracle of life. It must give God great joy to behold His creation, encoding into the DNA of every living creature the desire to mate and multiply. Nowhere is this more beautiful than in the human species.

I love watching young couples pushing their baby carriages, fathers balancing children on their shoulders, mothers watching from a shaded bench while their children laugh and squeal on the playground. This is the reason weddings are celebrated with such joy. They represent the hopes and dreams of the next generation.

The little brown sparrows seem so common, like most of us. Only two of the billions of birds that populate the planet, building their nests, laying their eggs, raising their young, living out the mystery and miracle of life. They remind me of the old hymn sung with such passion by Ethel Waters.

Why should I feel discouraged, Why should the shadows come,

Why should my heart be lonely, and long for heaven and home,

When Jesus is my portion? My constant friend is He.

His eye is on the sparrow, and I know He watches me. (Matthew 10:29)

The Big Spring Senior League team poses with their District three championship banner.

By DUSTIN POPE

Herald Sports Writer

Big Spring baseball is still very much alive and well. The Senior League from Big Spring will take part in the Sectional Tournament this Friday, June 25, in New Home. The Senior League is a class of Little League baseball and contains local Howard county players ages 13-16.

This squad includes some outstanding player names you may remember from this previous season of High School baseball. Just some of them are Forsan standout Kevin Kligora. Big Spring Steer pitcher Eli Cobos. Big Spring Steer freshman Samuel Woody and Starting Steer first baseman and freshman Isaiah Diaz. They loaded this team with seasoned talent. This helped them win the District three title quickly earlier this month as they won two games to advance, one by a score of 12 to 6 and another by a blowout score of 15 to 0. Because of the outstanding victory, the team can proceed on to the Sectional tournament in New Home this Friday, June 25. If the club can win this tournament, they will advance on to the Regional game.

The Senior League team is chalked full of accomplished local ballplayers. When this group of athletes is on, they will be exceedingly tough to beat if you can make the trip out to New Home this Friday and watch the guys take the field and try to advance on in the tournament.

No-hitter No. 7: Cubs blank Dodgers, tie MLB season record

By GREG BEACHAM

AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES— After Craig Kimbrel struck out pinch-hitter Will Smith to end the game, the Chicago Cubs' closer was curious why catcher Willson Contreras celebrated with a bigger-than-usual fist pump.

Fellow reliever Ryan Tepera then ran onto the field at Dodger Stadium and whispered in Kimbrel's ear: "You have no idea what happened."

The Cubs' fearsome bullpen had just teamed up with starter Zach Davies for the first combined no-hitter in franchise history — and none of the three relievers who followed Davies onto the mound had any idea they were pitching their way into history until after they finished.

The four Cubs combined for the seventh no-hitter in the majors this year, matching the most in a season since 1900, as Chicago blanked the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0 Thursday night. The Dodgers drew eight walks, getting at least one from each opposing pitcher, but managed no other baserunners.

The tension was palpable in the Cubs' dugout, where Davies watched with trepidation after reluctantly agreeing with manager David Ross' decision to pull him for a pinch-hitter after 94 pitches. Davies (5-4) issued five walks while scrapping through six spotless innings against the defending World Series champions.

"I think every pitcher wants to continue in the game, regardless of his pitch count, but it worked," Davies said. "Chafe, Tep and Craig shut the door. A part of history. I'm excited for the guys that were on the field. I can't complain at all."

But incredibly, the relievers remained blissfully oblivious to the stakes as Tepera, Andrew Chafin and Kimbrel went to the mound and preserved a zero they couldn't see, thanks to the position of the Dodger Stadium bullpen.

"The whole bullpen had no idea," said Chafin, who pitched the eighth. "It was completely oblivious. But in our defense, in that bullpen, from our perspective on the field, all we can see is batting averages and the count, stuff like that. We can't see the scoreboard with the hits."

Tepera and Chafin each walked a batter during their inning on the mound, but Los Angeles couldn't capitalize.

Kimbrel then walked Chris Taylor leading off the ninth, but the ferocious closer struck out Cody Bellinger, Albert Pujols and Smith to finish the Cubs' 17th no-hitter since 1880.

"I think they all needed to get a walk in, just to make my heart rate go up a little bit," Ross said. "You get to the ninth, I don't know I've been as nervous in a long time with a 4-0 lead and Craig Kimbrel on the mound as I was tonight."

Javier Báez homered in the first inning and Contreras added a two-run shot in the sixth for the Cubs, who happily celebrated the franchise's first no-hitter since last Sept. 13, when Alec Mills blanked Milwaukee.

Contreras was the constant in the combined no-no, and all four pitchers praised his work behind the plate.

"From catching this team since 2016, I've been catching a lot of shut-out games, but nothing close to a no-hitter," said Contreras, who was visibly emotional afterward. "Tonight was one of those nights that are super special in my life, one that will be hard to forget."

"I didn't realize that we had a no-hitter going on until the sixth, and from the seventh on, my heart would just race and race. I was trying to slow the game down, to put the right finger down, to call the right pitch."

The seventh no-hitter of this highly unusual season — the most in baseball history before July 1 — was the first since May 19. The Boston Red Sox also took a bid for a combined no-hitter into the eighth inning earlier Thursday, but lost the no-no and the game at Tampa Bay.

"This is an awesome moment," Davies said. "The World Series, I think something like that probably tops it. But even though it wasn't solo and it was a combined effort, being a part of history is something special."

With this no-hitter — the 312th in baseball history — 2021 matches 1990, 1991, 2012 and 2015 for the most in a single MLB season since 1900. That's one shy of the record eight in 1884, the first season overhand pitching was allowed.

The other no-hitters this year were thrown by San Diego's Joe Musgrove (April 9), Carlos Rodón of the Chicago White Sox (April 14), Baltimore's John Means (May 5), Cincinnati's Wade Miley (May 7), Detroit's Spencer Turnbull (May 18) and the New York Yankees' Corey Kluber (May 19).

In addition, Arizona's Madison Bumgarner pitched a seven-inning hitless game in a doubleheader on April 25 that is not recognized as a no-hitter by Major League Baseball.

The Cubs actually did something that's been much harder than throwing a no-hitter over the past two seasons: They beat Walker Buehler, who hadn't lost in 23 straight regular-season starts.

Buehler (7-1) took his first loss since Sept. 21, 2019, for the Dodgers despite throwing six innings of five-hit ball. Buehler made it through six innings for the 17th straight start, but lost his streak of 30 straight games overall without a defeat.

"Two really bad pitches to two really good hitters, and they took advantage of them," Buehler said. "Just can't leave fastballs in the middle like that."

The Dodgers hadn't been no-hit since Aug. 30, 2015, when they were blanked in Chavez Ravine by the Cubs' Jake Arrieta — who is scheduled to pitch for Chicago on Friday night. It was the Dodgers' 20th no-hit loss, the most in major league history.

"When something like this happens, you want it to sting a little bit," manager Dave Roberts said. "It stings me."

Davies bounced back sharply after yielding a career-high eight runs in his last start against Miami. Those eight runs matched the number he had allowed in his previous six starts combined, and he regained his excellent form at Dodger Stadium.

Davies walked two batters in the first before getting Pujols to ground out. He walked the leadoff batter in the third and fourth, but avoided any other trouble. The fifth inning was his first 1-2-3 frame.

The Dodgers probably got closest to a hit in the first inning when Taylor's line drive to center was caught by Rafael Ortega.

Davies has never thrown a complete game in his seven-year major league career, which began with five seasons in Milwaukee before a stop in San Diego last year.

Tepera, Chicago's busiest reliever, walked Gavin Lux with two outs in the seventh, but Austin Barnes lined out to second.

Chafin walked Mookie Betts with one out, but Max Muncy hit a grounder right to first baseman Anthony Rizzo, who stepped on the bag and threw to second for an easy double play.

The previous combined no-hitter in the majors was Aug. 3, 2019, when Aaron Sanchez and three Houston relievers blanked Seattle 9-0.

Buehler took a no-hitter into the eighth inning last Saturday in Arizona, where he tied the Dodgers record for consecutive regular-season starts without a loss. He made it through six innings Thursday for the 15th time this season, but he still has never beaten the Cubs.

Báez followed his 17th homer by cupping his hand to his ear as he returned to the Chicago dugout, getting a loud chorus of cheers along with cheers from the Cubs' sizable fan contingent in Los Angeles. Buehler recovered and stayed out of trouble until the sixth, when Contreras took him deep.

Chicago added another run in the seventh when Jason Heyward singled and scored on a single by pinch-hitter Jake Marisnick, who was hitting for Davies.

TRAINER'S ROOM

Cubs: 2B Nico Hoerner (left hamstring strain) faced live pitching in the bullpen. ... LHP Justin Steele (right hamstring strain) threw a bullpen. He's headed to Triple-A Iowa for a rehab assignment after five weeks out.

Dodgers: Betts returned from a bout of stomach flu and drew two walks. ... Justin Turner got a scheduled day off.

UP NEXT

Tony Gonsolin (0-0, 3.00 ERA) hasn't won since returning to the rotation, but the Dodgers are 3-0 in his starts. He'll face Arrieta (5-8, 5.45), who is 0-4 with an 8.20 ERA in his last five starts for Chicago.

Like puzzles?
Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Rainbow Filters of the Neptune Retrograde

And now Neptune, on a retrograde rampage, changes the filter on our fantasy world so the sparkles, hearts, sunsets and rainbows are readily available at the tap of our imagination. The seductive distraction of an inner world so perfectly matched to our preferences can be a hard thing to turn away from, but our reality depends on just that.

ARIES (March 21-April 19). Everyone is entitled to their preferences. Your preference will be to tend exclusively to your own business, purposely ignoring those who try to impose their personal opinions on the world.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20). The whole story has yet to be revealed. Ask too many of the wrong kinds of questions and you may never know. But wait and watch. Then watch and wait. Suddenly, you'll find yourself in the know.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21). In this building phase, it is only natural to prefer each move improve upon the last. But you will get stuck if you expect constant improvement. The ups, downs, hits and misses are all essential to ultimate success.

CANCER (June 22-July 22). You love a particular activity so much that it wouldn't matter if you were to fail at it or even if you would be embarrassed by that failure. Nor would success matter too much. The payoff is the work itself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22). Trust that everything you've learned is worth learning. What felt like a detour (and a costly one at that) still has plenty of applications, though you'll strain yourself if you force it. Resolve to have no regrets and move forward in faith.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). Today's conversations have the potential to get chaotic. Your deft steering away from the minefields will help matters. When in doubt, stick to the main roads and rely on tone to trump content.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). What can you eliminate? This is what will make your life better today, and it will beat any reorganization or new rule you institute. The best part is how quick and elegant the move can be. Sell it, give it, toss it, drop it -- it's done.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You're clicking together, the world and you. The world is listening. The world gets you. All you have to do is open your eyes wide, and the world will take this as a cue to educate you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). Maybe all these signs don't mean you're on the wrong path. Consider that the answer is out there; you just haven't tried enough things to find it yet. Widen the search. Turn over more rocks. Ask more people.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). Though you really prefer change to have a ramp-up and adaptation period, life doesn't often accommodate such a preference. The good thing about an unexpected shock is that it forces you to seek out something better.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). What are you looking forward to? What are you dreading? To do more of the former and avoid the latter would be a mistake. Nothing disempowers dread like diving right in and doing the thing.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20). Question why you need things to be a certain way. Sometimes particularness comes out of a desire to be treated as important or special, and other times the details must be correct to serve the greater good. Which is it?

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY (June 25). You have so much social intelligence at your disposal that you don't even realize the advantage in it. Your solar year brings numerous opportunities to play these cards, parlaying yourself into a higher position or a sweeter one, scooping up the resources to help your loved ones and the ideas to rock your world. Scorpio and Aquarius adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 30, 38, 1, 16 and 54.

WEEKEND LOVE FORECAST: ARIES: Take the relationship

somewhere novel. All the magic between people will begin somewhere outside the dailiness of ordinary surroundings. TAURUS: Whether you're cleaning your home or planning the perfect date, you'll do it with impressive attention to detail. GEMINI: There is no telling what goes on in another person's relationship, and it's best not even to guess about it. CANCER: Trust yourself. It's always the more attractive stance, plus, you're trustworthy! LEO: You'll forge ahead, seeking beauty and finding it just about everywhere you look. VIRGO: You're always honing yourself. There's no wasted experience or conversation. It always counts, even when it doesn't lead to the love you want. LIBRA: People feel your open heart and appreciate what you pay attention to. SCORPIO: When you have courage, it's amazing what else can be worked out. SAGITTARIUS: While modesty suits you, so will knowing when to speak up about what you've done. Knowing one another better makes the relationship more rounded. CAPRICORN: You're attracted to those who have struggled their way out of the depths, a journey you know well. AQUARIUS: With your mind occupied by learning, you probably don't realize who is longing to know about you. PISCES: While a warrior spirit is fascinating to watch, as far as you're concerned, compassion and gentleness are even more attractive qualities.

COUPLE OF THE WEEKEND: Congeniality, a quality defined as "friendly concern, interest and support," might also be defined as "Cancer and Aquarius couples" this weekend. These two will lavish care on one another and then turn their collective kindness to the world. Another thing they have going for them is a willingness to explore and go out of their way to please one another, which will bond the relationship beautifully this weekend.

Texas defeats Virginia 6-2 to reach bracket final at CWS

By ERIC OLSON

AP Sports Writer

OMAHA, Neb. — Ivan Melendez and Zach Zubia finally broke out offensively, and just in time to keep Texas alive in the College World Series.

Melendez doubled and scored the Longhorns' first run, and hit the tiebreaking single in the eighth inning to help Texas eliminate Virginia with a 6-2 victory in a weather-delayed game that ended early Friday.

"As you guys saw the last few weeks, I was slumping it," said Melendez, who entered the game 3 for his last 19. "I hit one to the warning track against Mississippi State and another against Tennessee and I've been drawing a few walks. I was hitting the ball hard, so that was a start."

Zubia was 3 for his last 29 when he stepped to the plate in the ninth, and he broke open a one-run game with a bases-clearing double into the left-center gap. He had struck out twice and grounded out in his first three at-bats.

"Trusting yourself and your work — I think I showed that in my last at-bat," Zubia said. "The first three were not the results any of us wanted. I was still grinding away and keeping my head down and taking each at-bat as new."

The No. 2 national seed Longhorns (49-16) won their second elimination game to reach the Bracket 2 final. They'll play Mississippi State and need to win Friday night and again Saturday to advance to the best-of-three finals next week.

Mike Antico singled and stole second before Melendez ripped a grounder up the middle to break a 2-2 tie in the top of the eighth, and the Longhorns got an inning-ending double play in the bottom half to turn back a threat by Virginia.

Zubia gave Texas a cushion with his two-out double. It looked as though Virginia might keep it a 3-2 game when shortstop Nic Kent saved

a run by picking up a deflected ball and making an off-balance throw to get Douglas Hodo III at the plate on a close play upheld on video review.
