Garbage fees, pest infestations addressed by City Council The city also instituted a $500 deposit quent fee" to late commercial lan quent fee" to late commercial landfil

By ROGER CLINE

Herald Staff Writer

The Big Spring City Council approved amendments to city ordinances governing garbage collection fees and pest infestations when it met Tuesday evening.

Meeting with a quorum of five – District 4's Gloria McDonald and District 6's Maury Smith were not present at the meeting - the council heard the first reading of a proposed ordinance amending Chapter 44 of the Big Spring Code of Ordinances, specifically the section governing the rate schedule for collection and landfill rates.

Public Works Director Shane Bowles explained the changes, which started off by reducing the fee for adding a second roll-out trash container at a singlefamily home.

"We already had a fee for that," he said. "What we did with this was lower that cost. We lowered it from $17.83 to $15.30, roughly $2.50 cheaper for them to acquire a second container for larger families.'

for rollout containers for commercial "We hadn't been doing that with our current landfill and space," Bowles said. "So what we've done is added in a deposit for those rollouts."

Bowles explained the deposit is to help curb abuse of the rollouts.

The ordinance adds a $10 fee for elective tare weighing, that is, weighing an empty trailer using city scales. The city needs to know the tare weight of a trailer when it weighs a full trailer, in order to determine the weight of the garbage to be dumped in the landfill. However, the $10 charge is only for elective weighing; according to the ordinance, the fee will not be charged if the weight is required.

"If somebody comes in with a trailer and just wants to know the weight of their trailer, we'll weigh it but we're going to charge $10," Bowles said. "We noticed that at Pilot and at truck stops, they normally charge between $12 and $15 for that service."

The ordinance also added a "delinbills. The fee will take effect August 1 in order to prevent the ordinance from retroactively charging late fees on accounts that were delinquent when the fee went into effect.

In other business, the council approved a change to the ordinance on 'Nuisance Conditions of Property' banning - in addition to "Accumulation of weeds, rubbish, garbage," al ready banned by the ordinance - "in festations." The amendment passed by the council defines infestations as " the presence, within or contiguous to, a structure or premises of insects, spiders, rodents, vermin, or other pests. The ordinance already provided a fine of not less than $250 for the first offense and not less than $500 for subsequent offense for banned conditions in the list, and adds infestations to the punishable conditions. Mayor Shannon Thomason asked whether a specific pest was included

By ROGER CLINE

Herald Staff Writer

A report on possible wage increases for Big Spring ISD employees, as well as a policy updates effecting changes to several State Board of Education policies, are on the agenda for the district's School Board during their regular meeting Thursday. The board will meet at 5:15 p.m. Thursday in the Board Room at Big Spring High School, located at 707 E. 11th Place.

Following the meeting's opening prayer and Pledge of Allegiance, members of the public will have an opportunity to address the board before the wage increase report. No further information is given in the agenda regarding the possible wage increases.

The board will consider approval of minutes of its previous meeting and financial reports, and then review State Board of Education Policy Update 117. The update includes changes to state policies on purchasing and acquisition [CH(LOCAL)], facilities construction [CV(LOCAL)] and compensation and benefits - leaves and absences [DEC{LOCAL}].

In other business, the board will consider approval of the Texas Association of School Boards (TASB) Board of Directors Candidate Endorsement.

> The board will then consider personnel issues, possibly including employment, resignations, reassign ment, duties, performance problems and evaluations. The agenda indicates the board may adjourn into executive session to discuss the personnel issues. If they do so, no action will be taken during the closed session and any business arising from the session will be voted on when the board returns to open session.

> > At the close of the meeting, Superintendent Jay McWilliams will give his report on employment, resignations and retirements; dates for the August board meeting; and district up-

Golf Benefit set to support a local legend

Courtesy Photo

Jimmy Marin, the loan surviving founder of the Chicano Golf Association, is battling cancer. To help with expenses, his daughter Lori Carrillo and two of his best buddies, Billy Martin and Sammy Reyna, have decided to put on a golf tournament to benefit Jimmy in his time of need.

By DUSTIN POPE

Herald Sports Writer

Golf is one of the best sports you can play. It keeps you active, and it helps bring friends together to have some fun. Golf can likewise help benefit those in need, which is absolutely what they will accomplish on July 24 out at the Comanche Golf Course in Big Spring. A benefit golf tournament will take place on July 24 in Big Spring at the Comanche Golf course. This tournament will go to support the last surviving founder of the Chicano Golf Association, Jimmy Marin. Mr. Marin is dealing with renal cancer; he is 81 years old. He was diagnosed in January. and he has been battling through chemotherapy treatments. He has to travel to San Angelo for each treatment, so los amigos y familia agreed they could help by putting on this golf tournament to raise money to get the help he warrants. Being one of the Chicano Golf Association founding members, Jimmy Marin has done so much to aid this community; he is a compassionate-hearted man with a giving soul. His daughter Lori Carrillo has been right by his side through this battle. His friends, including Billy Pineda and Sammy Reyna, all have had a prodigious part in the establishment of this golf benefit tournament. Many in this community love Marin for all the work he has done to help. The Chicano Golf Association was first established to help those in need. It has developed by leaps and bounds, and is now one leader in supporting the local community. The group now helps with scholarships, and also helps those in need all across this area.

In 1972 Jimmy Marin and a group of his colleagues formed their own organization. Out of that beginning, they established the Chicano Golf Association. The initial five men who made this remarkable organization were. Jimmy Marin, Albert Gonzales, Charlie Gonzales, Gilbert Revna, and Nate Nunez. These five men set out to raise money for individuals who needed help with funeral expenses. They would raise money to help individuals in need pay their rent or utilities. If you needed any help, these men were there for you. It is always remarkable to see an association like this founded out of the goodness of the heart, and now one of the founding members who has done so much for the community and has benefited countless individuals needs our help. After talking to his daughter Lori Carrillo, there is no doubt that her father, Jimmy Marin, has such an excellent, warm heart. It humbled him that his buddies would do this for him to help him through this more-than-tough time. Those who have either had someone close battle cancer or have fought the disease themselves, there will invariably be some unforeseen expenses come up. Marin is so thankful for what all of his friends are doing for him.

The tournament will be held at the Comanche Trail Golf Course on July 24. It will be a four-person scramble; the cost to enter the tournament is $25 per person or $100 per team. This fee does not encompass the green fees or cart rental. So if you are a golf fan or want to come out to support an extraordinary cause, please head out that Saturday morning and support a local legend that has supported so many others. So let's extend a helping hand and help Jimmy Marin out in his moment of need.

AP Baseball Writer

DENVER-Pete Alonso's words were as bold as his home runs.

"I'm the best power hitter on the planet," the New York Mets first baseman proclaimed after winning his second straight Home Run Derby. "Being able to showcase that and put on a fun display on for the fans is truly a dream come true for me."

Alonso danced to the title, besting Shohei Ohtani, Trey Mancini and Juan Soto on a night of record long balls in the thin Rocky Mountain air of Coors Field.

He hit 74 total home runs and beat Mancini 23-22 in the final round Monday, joining Ken Griffey Jr. (1998-99) and Yoenis Céspedes (2013-14) in winning consecutive titles.

Alonso earned $1 million — more than his $676,775 salary. He's made $2 million in Home Run Derby winnings compared to about $1.47 million in career salary from the Mets through the end of this season.

"My parents let me stay up past my bedtime to watch this," the 26-year-old recalled. "That was one of the few nights of the year I got to stay up past of my bedtime and watch. Watch incredible feats you don't see in a regular baseball game. To be able to do back to back is really special to me."

He has a chance to match Griffey, who also won in 1994, as the only three-time champion.

Batting second, Alonso trailed 22-17 after the first two minutes of the final round, then hit six homers on six swings over the first 28 seconds of his final minute. Mancini, who returned this season from cancer treatment, was the sentimental favorite, while Alonso was the most animated of the eight sluggers as the longball competition returned after a one-year absence caused by the coronavirus pandemic.

With custom bats in the Mets' royal blue and orange, and matching shoes and batting gloves, Alonso was a human bobblehead, nodding on beat in the batter's box as he stepped out and danced. He motioned with his arms to whip up fans during a timeout.

Alonso hit a first-round record 35 dingers, seven more than Josh Hamilton in 2008 at the original Yankee Stadium, and topped Kansas City's Salvador Pérez with 27. Alonso, batting second, beat Soto 16-15 in the second round. Alonso's longest drive of the night traveled 514 feet.

Mancini missed the 2020 season while undergoing chemotherapy for stage 3 colon cancer, treatment he finished last Sept. 21 at Johns Hopkins Hospital. The 29-year-old Baltimore Orioles first baseman hit .256 with 16 homers and 55 RBIs going into the All-Star break. His oncologist, Dr. Nilo Azad, threw out the ceremonial first pitch at Camden Yards before the Orioles' hosted the Chicago White Sox last Friday night.

"It was incredible, especially after the last year-and-a-half," Mancini said.

Mancini knocked out Colorado's Trevor Story 13-12 in the second round, hitting second and advancing with a drive to center. Mancini knew topping Alonso would be difficult.

"He's hitting balls over 500 feet with ease. It didn't seem like he got too tired and I got pretty gassed in that last bonus round," Mancini said. "He's a beast out there."

Soto thrilled the crowd of 49,048 with a 520-foot homer, the longest derby drive in the Statcast era, topping 513 feet the New York Yankees' Aaron Judge in 2017 at Miami. Before Statcast, the Chicago Cubs' Sammy Sosa was said to have hit one 524 feet at Milwaukee in 2002, clearing Bernie Brewer's slide.

Mark McGwire had the longest ball in the 1998 Derby at mile-high Coors, a 510-footer.

Ohtani, the Los Angeles Angels sensation set to start on the mound and hit leadoff as designated hitter for the American League in Tuesday night's All-Star Game, started slowly but forced two rounds of tiebreakers with Soto before losing 31-28 in the second round.

There are two basic rules that govern whether or not to double the opponents when they reach their final contract. One is that you should not double if it might allow the enemy to run from a contract they can't make to one that they can. The other is that you should not double if, by doing so, you give declarer vital information that enables him to make a contract he would not have made other-

Consider the present case where West got greedy and doubled six diamonds because he thought he had two sure trump tricks. Had he passed instead of doubling, he almost surely would have defeated the slam. But after West let the cat out of the bag by doubling six diamonds, declarer made the slam by playing as if he could see through the backs of the South won the club lead with dummy's ace, cashed the ace of spades, then led a heart to the queen and ruffed a spade in dummy. After discarding two spades on the A-K of hearts, declarer ruffed a club in his hand, ruffed his last spade in dummy and then ruffed another club.

Nine tricks had been played to this point, and declarer had won them all. South's last four cards were the A-Q-J-9 of trump, while West had the K-10-8-3. For the double to make any sense at all, South had to assume that this was the actual position.

Accordingly, declarer led the queen of diamonds at trick ten. West made the correct play of ducking the queen, but South continued with the jack. West took the jack with the king, but then had to concede the last two tricks to declarer's A-9.

Looking for Love

Dear Annie: This will be my first time writing to you. I have read your previous work, and you give sound advice, so I pray you can do the same for me.

I have had issues in finding a woman for me, and this is nothing new. I had this same issue starting back in high school. I admit that, at first, I did nothing about it, thinking it would just work itself out. I had time, after all.

Well, time is running out. Let me explain further. I said five years ago that if I was not married by 40, I would not have kids. I have no kids at the present time. Well, I am five years closer to 40.

I am nervous that I will not make my deadline. More importantly, I feel I will not make my mother a grandmother, #### and she wants to be a grandmother.

Annie's Mailbox ®

I started with the online dating thing and, so far, have not had any success. I've met some wonderful women; however, they never want to keep going out with me. I have asked them what the issue is, and the common response I get is that I can come off as being a little insecure or weak.

My own assessment is that I am very nice but not a pushover. I love to have conversations, and I love to think. I will give my opinion, even when it is not popular.

I have multiple degrees, including a doctorate of education. I have my own home, and I have a job that pays all my bills. I am independent.

I'm told often by others that they do not understand why I am not with someone, and I also wonder the same thing. What advice could you give me?

-- What Am I Doing Wrong?

Dear Doing Wrong: The only thing

you are doing wrong is being too hard on yourself and setting deadlines. Don't give up too soon. The right girl will come along, but it's important to look at yourself honestly.

First, it was great that you had the confidence to ask the girls why they didn't want a second date. That type of self-reflection and ability to look at one's faults, and learn from them in order to grow, are what make for outstanding boyfriends, husbands, fathers and just good people overall. You sound like all of that. Now the most important part is believing that, through the help of a professional therapist or life coach, you can get to the root of what you really want out of a partner -- which is not for your mother to become a grandmother. While that is a lovely desire and hopefully happens someday, it cannot be the driving force in your decision-making for a partner.

Along with some self-reflection and continuing to put yourself out there, always remember that each rejection is bringing you one step closer to finding the right person for you.

Like puzzles?

Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

THAT'S ALMOST AS IST AS YOU GOING FOR MY PURSE WHEN MY BACK'S TURNED

Today is Wednesday, July 14, the 195th day of 2021. There are 170 days left in the year.

Today's Highlight in History:

On July 14, 1798, Congress passed the Sedition Act, making it a fed-eral crime to publish false, scandal-ous or malicious writing about the United States government.

On this date:

In 1789, in an event symbolizing the start of the French Revolution, citizens of Paris stormed the Bastille prison and released the seven prisoners inside.

In 1865, the Matterhorn, straddling Italy and Switzerland, was summited as a seven-member rope party led by British climber Edward Whymper reached the peak. (Four members of the party fell to their deaths during their descent; Whymper and two guides survived.)

In 1881, outlaw William H. Bonney Jr., alias "Billy the Kid," was shot and killed by Sheriff Pat Garrett in Fort Sumner in present-day New Mexico.

In 1914, scientist Robert H. Goddard received a U.S. patent for a liquid-fueled rocket apparatus.

In 1933, all German political par-ties, except the Nazi Party, were outlawed. In 1943, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a measure pro-viding funds for a national monu-ment honoring scientist George Washington Carver; the monument was built at Carver's birthplace near Diamond, Missouri.

In 1945, Italy formally declared war on Japan, its former Axis part-ner during World War II.

ISN'T IT CUTE THE WAY HOT DOG WAITS FOR JUGHEAD TO SHOW UP?

In 1980, the Republican national convention opened in Detroit, where nominee-apparent Ronald Reagan told a welcoming rally he and his supporters were deter-mined to "make America great again."

In 2004, the Senate scuttled a constitutional amendment banning gay marriage. (Forty-eight senators voted to advance the measure — 12 short of the 60 needed — and 50 voted to block it).

In 2009, disgraced financier Bernard Madoff arrived at the Butner Federal Correctional Complex in North Carolina to begin serving a 150-year sentence for his massive Ponzi scheme. (Madoff died in prison in April

In 2014, the Church of England voted overwhelmingly in favor of allowing women to become bish-

In 2015, world powers and Iran struck a deal to curb Iran's nuclear program in exchange for relief from international sanctions.

Ten years ago: A federal judge in Washington, D.C. declared a mistral in baseball star Roger Clemens' perjurtral over inadmissible evidence shown to jurors. (Clemens, who was accused of lying under oath to Congress when he denied ever using performance-enhancing drugs during his career, was acquitted in a retrial.)

Five years ago: Terror struck Bastille Day celebrations in the French Riviera city of Nice (nees) as a large truck plowed into a festive crowd, killing 86 people in an attack claimed by Islamic State extremists; the driver was shot dead by police.

was shot dead by police.

One year ago: Researchers reported that the first COVID-19 vaccine tested in the U.S. revved up people's immune systems as scientists had hoped; the vaccine was developed by the National Institutes of Health and Moderna Inc. A Confederate monument that had long been a divisive symbol at the University of Mississippi was removed from a prominent spot on the Oxford campus and taken to a Civil War cemetery in a secluded area. In a primary, former U.S. Attorney General Jeff Sessions lost the Republican nomination for his old Senate seat in Alabama to former college football coach Tommy Tuberville. (Tuberville would go on to defeat Democrat Doug Jones in November.) The federal government carried out its first execution in almost two decades, killing by lethal injection Daniel Lewis Lee, who'd been convicted of murdering an Arkansas family in a 1990s plot to build a whites-only nation in the Pacific Northwest.

Today's Birthdays: Actor Nancy Olson is 93. Former football player consists of trades (oxyger for carbon dioxide, work for money, money for food, loyalty for security) today you'll revel in an un usual scenario -- the iov of a thing that gives and doesn't take.

PISCES (Feb.

COSMIC QUESTION:

4. When losses occur, the emotional body goes through a process not unlike the process that your physical body goes through after being wounded. Healing takes time and has many stages. Things do not get magically better in one day. Adjust your expecta-tions to allow for ups and downs, blips and bumps in the road. 5. Even though Leos like you are often extroverted and gregarious, they often react to hard times by cocooning into themselves. Even visiting with friends, driving or generally getting out in the world can suddenly seem scary. Withdrawing into your own little world may be a natural response, but it's a dangerous one. What is needed in hard times is a bigger perspective, not a smaller one. Try to face your fear and force yourself to engage in the activities that would normally bring you joy.
