Car, Truck Crash Near Morton Kills Former Resident

Leonard Burkett, about 30, former Weinert resident and member of a former Haskell family, and a neighbor, Albert Taylor, both of Morton were killed instantly about 4 a. m. Wednesday when the car in which they were riding crashed into the rear of a truck on the highway a few miles south of Morton.

Burkett and Taylor, who operate adjoining farms owned by J. M. Crawford of Haskell, were believed en route to secure farm workers to harvest cotton when the accident occurred. They had left their homes only a few minutes before and had driven about five miles. According to reports, the truck had stalled on the highway and a dense fog prevented the two men from seeing the heavy vehicle.

Haskell Stores to Feature Bargain On 'Dollar Day'

Haskell merchants will make this city the bargain center for a wide area Tuesday, Nov. 19, when a group of cooperating stores present the regular monthly "Dollar Day." Each of the stores will feature outstanding values for the event.

November "Dollar Day" is particularly timed with approaching holiday season, and many of the stores will feature items of new Christmas merchandise and articles appropriate for holiday gifts. Also, a wealth of other merchandise will be featured at special prices on "Dollar Day."

A partial list of the many Dollar Day bargains is contained in the advertisements of cooperating stores in a four-page circular which will be mailed or distributed throughout the Haskell trade territory this weekend.

Indians Will Meet Hamlin in Season's Final Game

The Haskell Indians will host the Hamlin Pied Pipers here Friday night in the season's final game, a conference contest.

Game time is 7:30 p. m. in Indian Stadium.

The Indians, plagued first by injuries, later victims of an influenza attack, go into the final tilt as definitely underdogs. However, the Tribe will be out to salvage as much out of the season as possible, and an upset of the strong Pipers is not out of the picture.

Recent Rains Push 1957 Total Above Annual Average

More than three inches of rain which fell during the first 12 days of November brought the total for the year to date well above the average precipitation for an entire year, and almost trebled the total rainfall received in 1956.

Rains during the first 12 days of November amounted to 3.80 inches, bring the year's total to 26.64 inches through Nov. 12. This compares to 8.49 inches of moisture for the entire year of 1956.

Although the rain fell slowly, considerable run-off water was provided for streams and surface tanks. Excess run-off on the Paint Creek watershed resulted in raising the level in Lake Stamford 9.8 inches.

In the 66-year period during which records have been kept (since 1890) November rainfall in excess of this year's 3.80 inches has been recorded in only three years. In November 1906, 3.32 inches was measured; in 1913, 4.41 inches in 1940, 4.78 inches.

Baptist Convention Names Two Haskell Men on Boards

Two prominent Baptist laymen of Haskell, R. L. Burton and A. C. Pierson, were named members of boards and agencies of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, at the annual meeting held last week in Fort Worth.

Burton, well-known Haskell businessman, was named to the 191-member executive board, which conducts the convention's business between annual sessions.

Pierson, Haskell banker, was named a member of the board of trustees of Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene.

Among those named as trustees of Hardin-Simmons University were Frank Junnell of Lubbock, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Simmons of Haskell; and Sam Reed of Knox City.

Named on the board of trustees of the Baylor University System was E. B. Burleson of Waco, whose wife is the former Maurine Couch of Haskell.

Dr. E. Hermond Westmoreland, pastor of the South Main Baptist Church of Houston, was re-elected president of the convention.

C. of C. Manager Rex Felker Resigns To Accept Similar Position at Quanah

Rex Felker, manager of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce for the past six years, has announced his resignation effective Dec. 1, and has accepted a similar position with the Quanah Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. and Mrs. Felker and son Stevie, plan to move to Quanah late this month, and Mr. Felker will begin his work there Dec. 2.

Gaston Hattox, Haskell C. of C. president stated that the directors of the organization had worked out plans for keeping the office open on a temporary basis until a successor was named to Felker. He praised the capable and efficient service given by Felker since becoming manager of the civic organization in November, 1951. "It will be difficult indeed, to secure anyone as well qualified as Rex, whose resignation is a distinct loss to our civic leadership," Hattox stated.

Felker, in announcing his resignation, stated that he would remain here and assist in promoting and staging the Christmas Program scheduled Nov. 30.

During his six years as manager of the Chamber of Commerce Felker has been singularly successful in keeping the organization actively engaged in numerous community building projects.

Particular emphasis has been placed on retail trade expansion with successful results. Also, under his supervision, a large number of community events and special promotions have been carried out.

Among the major community projects which Felker has been instrumental in helping organize and carry out are the monthly "Dollar Days," annual Christmas Program, Back-to-School Program, Oil Progress Week, and other events. He has also been active in the annual Rice Springs Round-Up, now recognized as a major West Texas event.

Felker is an active member of the Haskell Lions Club, where he is first vice president. He is also a director in the C. of C. Managers Association of West Texas, and is editor of the CCMATW's monthly news bulletin.

He is a director in the Saddle Tramps Riding Club, a member of the county committee of the Texas Employment Commission, director and vice president of the Indian Booster Club, and currently serving as County Red Cross Chairman.

Mr. Felker is a member of the First Baptist Church, and Mrs. Felker is a member of the Church of Christ. Their six-year-old son, Stevie, is the couple's only child.

Oil Field Worker Drowns In Lake Stamford Saturday

An oil field worker, fishing in Lake Stamford Saturday afternoon, lost his life by drowning when he plunged into deep water toward a boat hurrying to his rescue.

He was Elwood Ray Quisenberry, 27, of Henrietta, Korea war veteran, whose body was recovered some 25 minutes after he had gone under in water 10 to 12 feet deep, almost within reach of two Haskell men, Wallace Wooten and Orville Lynn Fought, as they tried to rescue the victim.

Quisenberry, said to be a strong swimmer, was the first drowning victim of the lake, which was completed in 1952.

The tragedy occurred in what is called "the warm water channel" on the north part of the lake, a popular fishing spot in an area where heated water from the West Texas Utilities plant is returned to the lake through a large discharge pipe on the bottom of the lake.

Wooten, owner of a service station and tire store here, and Fought, water well driller, had been fishing in the lake and were returning in their boat to the docks at Scott Memorial Park around dusk Saturday. As they neared a clump of willows on a high spot in the channel, they heard cries for help, and saw a man clinging to some small willow branches as he stood in water about 5 1/2 feet deep.

Turning their boat around the two men headed toward the clump of willows. As they approached, Quisenberry called out "I can't stand this much longer" and released his hold and floundered into deep water trying to reach the boat. Fought reached toward the man, and caught a part of his clothing, but lost his hold as the struggling man went under the water.

Wooten, after removing part of his heavy outer clothing, dived into the lake trying to locate the body. After several unsuccessful attempts, Fought and Wooten hurried to the docks and home of Park Caretaker J. R. Ballard, who (Continued on page 10)

Official canvass of returns from the special election was made by the Commissioners Court at its regular meeting Tuesday morning, when Commissioners also faced several financial "headaches" in connection with requests made to the Court.

In addition to the regular bills, the Court received a bill for charity cases at the County Hospital aggregating more than $6,000, which the county is obligated to pay. About 25 individual cases were listed, ranging from $50 to more than $200. However, two individual items for approximately $1,800 each accounted for more than half the total amount.

A request that surplus food commodities also be made available to "bracero" farm workers here was denied by the Court. Commissioners explained that to be eligible for the surplus food items, recipients must have lived in the county for at least six months.

A request that a residence owned by the county, formerly the Nurses Home at the hospital, be re-papered throughout was taken under advisement by the Court. The house is now rented as a private residence.

Verdict In Death Ft. Worth Man Withheld Pending Autopsy

An autopsy is expected to be performed on the body of a 60 year old Ft. Worth salesman who was found dead in his room at the Arrowhead Motel about 10:30 a. m. Tuesday.

Dead is V. H. McKimney, sales manager for the Bell Rubber Co. Dallas. Cleo Arnett, Arrowhead manager, found the body.

Coroner's verdict on the death has been withheld pending findings of an autopsy and report of a pathologist. Mr. McKimney's wife was stated to come from Ft. Worth Wednesday and decide whether the autopsy will be performed in Abilene or Fort Worth.

Justice of the Peace Earl Treadwell will rule on the death following the investigation.

Investigating officers said the smell of gas in the room was "quite heavy." A physician examined the body, but was unable to say for sure that McKimney had died of asphyxiation.

The top of a heating unit was blackened when Arnett discovered the body. The only ventilation in the bedroom was provided by a small opening in a bathroom window.

Arnett said he thought McKimney had gone to bed about 11 p. m. Monday. An alarm clock in the room was set for 6 a. m. Tuesday.

Arnett, knowing McKimney had planned to leave early Tuesday morning, investigated when the salesman had not stirred from his room by 10:30 a. m.

The body is at Holden Funeral Home here.

Council Adopts 3 Ordinances In Speedy Session

In a special session Tuesday night, the City Council adopted three ordinances on first reading, approved October bills against the city in the amount of $1,930.38, and authorized payment of approximately $165 to the expense fund of the North Central Texas Water District.

Also, during the 30-minute session, a regular meeting for the municipal group, Council members were given a report on a meeting of NCT Water District Directors Saturday night at Munday by W. R. Johnson, one of Haskell's three directors on the board.

Mr. Johnson explained the need for the additional share of expense money from Haskell. It covered extra costs involved in core drilling at a new dam site and was prorated among the seven towns, he told Aldermen in recommending the expenditure.

The three ordinances adopted were in connection with that portion of the right-of-way of P-M Road, touching on the east city limits. By virtue of the ordinance, the State Highway Department, assumes all responsibility for handling and maintenance of the road.

City Secretary T. J. Arbuckle reported city tax collections of approximately $14,000 during the month of October, an increase of more than $1,100 over collections for the same month last year.

Mrs. Smith, president of the Abilene district of the State Dental Assistant's Association, was one of ten members selected to represent Texas at the national convention. ### District Governor Is Speaker At Rotary Meeting

"Rotary opens the door to better understanding between men," District Governor W. Truett Walton told members of the Haskell Rotary Club Thursday, when he addressed the group at the club's weekly luncheon and meeting.

Mr. Walton, vice president of Hardin-Simmons University, was making his official visit to the Haskell Rotary Club, which he complimented for its attendance record and organizational achievements since it was chartered in mid-summer.

Guests at the club were Rotarians Truett Alvis and Davis Edens of Rochester, and Rotarians K. K. Francis and Rodney C. Dowdy of Stamford. Special guests was Jane Eysman, club pianist, who was accompanist for group singing led by Davis Edens.

Mr. Walton, who attended the Rotary International Convention in Lucerne, Switzerland, last summer, related many experiences in which Rotary had served to "open the door" for better relationships and understanding between people of many nations.

Through means of the Rotary Foundation, young people of America and other nations are afforded an opportunity to visit and study outside of their native lands, District Governor Walton said.

"Getting people to think right is the greatest problem in the world," Walton declared. "Every Rotary Club should dedicate itself to right thinking and the application of the 4-Way Test in all our relations and business dealings with our fellowman," the speaker concluded.

Lions to Launch Goodfellows Fund For Christmas

Haskell Lions, at their regular meeting Tuesday at noon, discussed plans for launching the annual Goodfellows Christmas Fund, which provides Christmas cheer to needy families of Haskell each year.

Contributions to the fund are now being accepted, and may be made to any member of the Lions Club, or can be mailed or left at the Free Press.

All donations will be acknowledged, and the list of donors will be published in the Free Press at regular intervals.

Need for help of the Goodfellows this Christmas is expected to be greater than in any recent year, due to economic conditions. No estimate of the amount of money that will be needed has been made, but will be compiled as soon as necessary data concerning the number of indigent families is available.

"We know there will be urgent need for all the money we can raise," a spokesman for the Lions Club said.

Checks should be made payable to "Goodfellows Fund" and mailed to The Free Press or handed to any member of the Lions Club.

Despite Flu, Weather, Cast to Stage Negro Minstrel Show Here Nov. 18-19

"The show must go on" has been the slogan adopted by Haskell High School during the past six weeks of flu and rainy weather. Prompted by a sense of obligation and spirit of loyal determination, members of a huge cast have waded mud and fought off attacks of flu in order to present a scheduled show.

Monday and Tuesday nights, Nov. 18 and 19, at 7:30 o'clock, the curtain will rise for one of the "biggest shows ever presented in Haskell" according to authentic reports. The old saying, "Everybody loves a Negro Minstrel" is as true as ever according to the number of people who already are trying to secure tickets. The two hour show is one of fast, moving action, packed with side-splitting jokes (many on local people) by the traditional End Men. "Snowball" the poet will be on hand with his "distinguished" poetry. The "Chocolate Drops" and the "Lollipop" will appear by hilarious song and dance routine. Many local organizations and individuals will get "an airing" by members of the "Gossip Club" and the "Neurotics" will "pick to pieces" the medical profession and its local members.

Tickets are being sold by all High School students, and sell-outs are predicted for both nights. Proceeds will go to the Curtain Fund of the High School Auditorium.

Christmas Is for Everyone

Christmas is for everyone. That's the firm belief of this newspaper and we know our readers believe it, too.

Christmas is above all a family celebration, yet it's the time of year when we are most aware of the needs of other people. In the midst of all our exciting family Christmas plans and celebrations, we still have time to think of others. We want to share our happiness with people everywhere, with people we may never know. When we buy the Christmas Seals of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association, we share our happiness and also help protect it for the future.

Christmas Seal funds are used to protect you and your family from the threat of tuberculosis. Some of the services made possible by these funds include the TB patch test for school children, and the regular visit of the mobile X-Ray unit.

The fight against tuberculosis of necessity must be a continuing fight, because there are those in Haskell County this very day who have tuberculosis and don't know it.

For their sake and for the protection of all of us, it is important that the unknown cases be found and put under treatment. Christmas Seal funds help locate undetected cases of TB and in addition money contributed in the seal drive is used to help patients and their families and to aid in checking the spread of the nation's number one infectious killer.

You are buying a Christmas present for yourself, your family and your neighbors when you buy Christmas Seals. Use them on your holiday mail and packages.

A Question of Values

During Queen Elizabeth II's visit to this country she was taken at her request to see a football game between two leading universities.
The governor of a state was her host. When the teams ran on the field to start the game, an AP account says, the Queen asked: "Where do you get all these players?" The Governor answered: "Your Majesty, that is an embarrassing question."

On the surface, certainly, there is absolutely no connection between this little incident and the history-making launching of the two Sputniks, the Soviet satellites. But surface isn't all, and if one digs a bit deeper a relationship which may have the highest importance appears.

The governor's answer to the puzzled Queen simply underlined what everyone knows—that major college football (and, to a somewhat lesser but still significant extent, other crowd-attracting athletic contests) has become a big business, with certain rare and honorable exceptions. Promising players are "bought" in a multitude of devious ways. Many alumni, apparently, seem to think that the first duty of higher education is to produce winning teams capable of filling multi-million dollar stadiums that would have impressed the Caesars.

And what has all this to do with Soviet scientific achievements
Sputnik I and II symbolize?

The Portland Oregonian observes that Sputnik's debut resulted in an "orgy of recrimination", with Democrats blaming the Republican Administration, and the Republican Administration blaming the Democratic Congress and so on. The American people themselves have in fact willed the state of affairs that made possible the Russian triumph. Who gets the higher salary on the college faculty—the head of the physics department or the athletic director?

The question carries a built-in answer. The top coaches get salaries and emoluments on a scale that must make physicists and other scientists of the first caliber blink their eyes in astonishment. And what is true of athletics, needless to say, is true of other callings, notably the entertainers who get five-figure fees for singing a song or two.

It may be said at this point that the logical deduction is that we can keep pace with the Russians only by doing as the Russians do—that is, by forced concentration on science. But there is no evidence, much less proof, that this is so. The achievements of the free peoples of the world in every field of science, over the centuries, refute that theory.

What it comes down to, in view of many, is a question of values—of what we want most; of what is most important to us. To quote the Oregonian again: "Unless Americans choose to alter some of their basic values, there appears to be a good chance that they may lose freedom of choice with respect to life's values and everything else." Senator Bridges in commenting on the meaning of Sputnik, put the same idea in plain and earthy terms when he said: "The time has clearly come to be less concerned with the depth of the pile on the new broadloom rug or the height of the tail fin on the new car and to be more prepared to shed blood, sweat and tears if this country and the free world are to survive."

weeks, has returned to New York City, where he is employed.

Thursday and took up the matter of equalizing the city assess-

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

Two Haskell business men who always find a way to express consideration for their fellowmen when the outlook is bleak and the going gets rough are Shady Lane and Wix Currie. Yessir, when misfortune hits, they're always ready with a pat on the back. For instance, Wix and Shady were downtown bright and early Saturday morning selecting sympathy cards to send Coach Jess Stiles at Bowie and Coach Gordon Wood at Stamford. Seems that Nocona booted Bowie 40-13, while in the game at Stamford, Stamford's score by quarters read: 0 0 0 0.

Although eight weeks remain before the curtain rises on another political year, interest in next year's campaign is already becoming evident as several prospective candidates are making their intentions known to close friends.

From the best we can learn, at least four well known personages can be counted as almost "certain" entries in the 1958 political battles. All can be classed as newcomers in politics. Rumor also has at least two more potential entries in the upcoming race for one of the top county offices.

With interest developed to this extent almost two months in advance of the normal opening of the political campaign, next year's voters will likely have a sizeable field of candidates to choose from in filling the various offices.

Tuberculosis will strike 100,000 Americans this year. Your purchase of Christmas Seals will help TB Associations fight spread of the disease through education, case finding, research, and rehabilitation.

A snarling, man-hating varmint which was cornered in front of a store building on the north side of the square around dusk Wednesday turned out to be an ordinary West Texas raccoon instead of the escaped mutt from the Commies' satellite, as some of the animal's captors at first feared.
Where he came from, and how he managed to get into the business section undetected, was a mystery. About half grown, the little coon showed plenty of fight before he was scooped up in a large shipping carton and taken prisoner.

A couple from Oregon, visiting in Haskell last week, commented that Texas weather seemed a lot
"colder" than their native state where the mercury sometimes hit 35 below. When they arrived here Wednesday evening, a light breeze was blowing and the temperature was in the low 40's. "We're not used to winds," commented Harold William of Madras, Ore., "It seemed to my wife and me that it must have been below freezing when we first got out of our car."
— a day's stay Mr. and Mrs.
William agreed that it shouldn't take long to become accustomed to West Texas, and added they'll know what to expect on their next trip here.

Tax-Man Sam Sez:

A lot of folks who work at one place and live at another have trouble with Internal Revenue over where their home is. A man who has voted in Wise County during all his adult 50 years is rather surprised to find out that his tax home is in Fort Worth when he had a full-time permanent job in Fort Worth. Generally speaking, for tax paying purposes, and especially for computing expense, your tax home is where you work, not where Mom and the kids stay.

Dairymen should now begin checking their management to make sure that they are ready for the colder weather that lies ahead, advises A. M. Meekma and J. W. Davis, extension dairy hus-bandmen. Cow comfort, determining the best feed to buy, dehorning and culling leas, desirable cows are the main points stressed by the husbandmen.

It was a man, Jacob Riis, who suggested selling Christmas Seals to fight TB back in 1907; but it

Sale.

Oregon Descendants of Pioneer Official Visit in Haskell on First Trip to Texas

A visit in the town where her grandfather had been one of the first county officials more than 70 years ago was the fulfillment of a long-time wish for Mrs. Harold O. William of Madras, Ore., last week.

Accompanied by her husband and their daughter, Marlene, and Mr. William's sister, Mrs. Mary Beach of Riverside, Calif., the party arrived in Haskell Wednesday evening. It was their first visit in Texas and to this city.

Principal purpose of their visit was to see the "home town" of Mrs. William's grandfather, S. J. Preston, who was Haskell's first treasurer when the county was organized in 1855. A pioneer cattleman, Mr. Preston served as County Treasurer from 1855 until 1890. He later moved on to Oregon and became one of the first permanent settlers in that country.

Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. William, Marlene and Mrs. Beach visited the courthouse, where County Judge Turnbow went through some of the old records and books kept by the pioneer county treasurer. Judge Turnbow also accompanied them on a tour of several local points, including the site of S. J. Preston's early day home here. The out-of-town people also visited Mrs. Ada Rike, member of another pioneer Haskell family, and with Mr. C. Wilfong, whose father was related to the Preston's by marriage.

"Haskell is certainly a wonderful town," Mr. and Mrs. William enthusiastically declared. "Although we'd never been here before, everyone has been so friendly that we feel almost as if we were natives of Haskell," they added.

After visiting here Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. William and party planned to drive to Carlsbad, N.

M., for a trip through the Caverns before returning home. Mr. William is assistant foreman at Madras, Ore., for the State Highway Department, and Mrs. William is assistant postmaster at Madras, a city of about 9,000 population.

Haskell, Rochester Students Named ROTC Sponsors

Sue Rhoads of Haskell and Anita Mullino of Rochester were among the sponsors elected by the Reserve Officers Training Corps at Hardin-Simmons University.

Suzanne Houston of Snyder, senior student at H-SU, was elected corps sponsor for the year by the senior military class.

Miss Houston will hold the honorary rank of cadet colonel and the company sponsors the rank of cadet captain.

Miss Rhoads, a religious education major, is vice president of Hunter Hall, sophomore class favorite and is on the promotional committee of the Baptist Student Union.

Miss Mullino, an elementary education major, is a member of the Cowgirls and the Hunter Hall council. She was a member of the symphonic band last year.

CARD OF THANKS

Words are inadequate to express our heartfelt gratitude to each one who in kind words, deeds, prayers, or thoughts did so much to help us bear the sorrow of the sudden going of our Dear One.

Especially we thank Bro. Townsend for his wonderful words of comfort, also Bro. Lightfoot and Bro. Ray Lambert for their part in the service. Also we wish to thank Sid Ferryman for his services.

The choir and musicians for the beautiful songs, those who sent floral offerings and also those who sent and served food. May God bless each hand and heart that rendered services in any way.

These expressions of love and friendship makes our sorrow easier to bear. God bless you. His hour had come to depart, us out of this world to the Heavenly Father, having loved his own who were in the world. He owed them to the end. Our hope is in the Lord.—Mrs. Gertrude (Sissy) Mahan and children, Mrs. Ruth Mahan, Jessie Lee Mahan, L. D. Mahan, Tot Mahan. 45P

Mrs. John S. Rike Directs Magazine Club Program

The Magazine Club of Haskell met in regular session November 8 with the president, Mrs. J. G. Vaughter, presiding. A short business meeting was held in which reports of officers and committee chairmen were heard.

In continuation of the theme for the year, "History Past and Present," Mrs. John S. Rike directed a very informative and interesting program on the thirty year period following the Civil War, in which she discussed "New Americans Join With the Old to Meet New Problems."

One of the devout reformers of this period was Jane Adams of Hull House. Mrs. C. V. Payne reviewed the biography of Jane Adams. In telling of her work at Hull House she brought out the fact that "The Keynote of Jane Adams' life was the passion to share, and be a good neighbor." Miss Adams' life dream from early childhood was to have a big house and yard so that children could come and play in it.

Jane Adams was called the most illustrious woman in the United States during this period. The qualities of character that made her great were: Tolerance and kindness for other people, perseverance, sincerity, courage and her Christian faith.

Last minute preparations are being completed for the Elementary P-TA Fall Festival to take place as scheduled Saturday night.

The games and serving will begin at 5 p. m. in the elementary school and will continue "as long as the food holds out," states Mrs. Howard Perry, Jr., one of the P-TA sponsors.

The games will include cake walk, fish pond, doll walk, sponge ball, fortune telling, movie, make-up booth, popcorn, basketball, darts, milk bottles, and others.

The menu will include chili, 25c; hot dogs, 20c; pie 15c; beans, 15c; slaw, 55c; sandwiches, 20c; coffee, 10c; punch, 5c, and homemade ice cream, 5 and 10 cents.

The Fall Festival is the only money-making project held during the year by the elementary P-TA. All the funds derived from the event will be used for the benefit of the school. In years past the project funds have been used for a piano, and bookcases for the school library.

The Fall Festival replaces the Halloween carnival held in the past by the organization.

Cotton Allotments And Referendum Date Set

Farmers in Texas will have 7,474,661 acres available on which to grow their 1958 upland cotton crop and producers of extra long staple cotton 27,829 acres.

These state allotments, according to the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will be apportioned among the counties and the county allotments, to be announced later, among the farms according to the provisions of the law regulations issued by the Secretary of Agriculture. The State Committee adds that individual farm allotments will be mailed to cotton producers prior to the December 10 referendum on marketing quotas for the 1958 crops.

In the case of extra long staple cotton, the Secretary of Agriculture has designated 10 Texas counties as being eligible to receive allotments. They are Brewster, Culberson, El Paso, Jeff Davis, Loving, Pecos, Presidio, Reeves and Ward.

The state committeemen point out that the December 10 referendums, for upland and extra long staple cotton growers, will determine whether or not marketing quotas will be operative for the 1958 crops. At least two-thirds of those voting in the two referendums must approve the quotas if they are to remain in effect. The committeemen will be in effect regardless of how the votes go. Acreage allotments are a condition of eligibility for price support.

A national marketing allotment and national acreage allotment for upland cotton must be proclaimed for the following year if the Secretary finds that the total supply of cotton for the current marketing year exceeds the normal supply. For extra long staple cotton, quotas and allotments must be proclaimed whenever the total exceeds the normal supply more than 8 per cent.

The state committeemen point out that growers of both types of cotton have approved quotas for the last four crops.

Use of daylight savings time was first advocated in England in 1907.

Paint Creek . . . Community News

MRS. GENE OVERTON

Do you suppose if we become acclimated to this present West Texas climate, will they grow webbed feet? We are still having this "no cotton pickin' no wheat sowing" weather, and there isn't a break in the clouds today to give hope of sunny days soon. Paint Creek only had school Monday and Friday of last week, but the buses have been able to be run so far this week. The farmers will have moisture plumb to China for next spring's plantings. I believe the drought is broken, don't you?

Paint Creek was stunned last week by the unexpected death of one of its best loved and finest men, John R. Watson Jr. Few people will be missed more than he, because he has had a big part in the progress of our school, the work of our Scout troop, the life of the Methodist Church and every thing we have done as a community to make this a good place. It is good neighbors like John R. who make us all love to live in Paint Creek. He was so well read, and such a good Bible student that it was a pleasure to have him in your Sunday School class or just to carry on a conversation with him.

It had not been for John R. and Morris Haynes, Scout Troop 48 would have folded up long ago, because the Scoutmaster can't do everything, and John R. and Mr. Haynes would go to Commissioners' meetings, and to the Scouters training schools, and help get the Scouts to and from camp and overnight hiking trips, and all the other things that needed to be done. The same was true of his service to the community when he served on our school board for three terms. He will be greatly missed and we extend our heartfelt sympathy to Lucille, Barbara and Johnny, and Mr. and Mrs. John R. Sr. and Opal.

Mrs. J. C. Coleman underwent major surgery at the sanitarium last Wednesday. She is recuperating nicely.

Helen Jean Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cox was home from North Texas State College last week recuperating from the flu. Her parents and brother, Othello Cox, went for her here. She became ill and entered the college hospital. She returned to school with her sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gardner of Dallas who had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Cox for several days.

Willie Medford, Mike Overton, Dub Sims and Dan Griffith spent last week end at A&M campus visiting Wallar and William Overton who are freshmen there. They attended the A&M-SMU game Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mickler had as their guests last week their daughter's family, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Weeks, their two daughters and grandson who were here because of the illness and death of Mr. Weeks' father, L. E. Weeks Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Grand of Dalon are announcing the arrival of a baby girl Oct. 31. The little girl has been named Janet Elizabeth. She has an older brother and sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Estie Gilleland of Tullia have been here for the last week visiting relatives. They brought their grandchildren, and are keeping them while their son Jack and his wife are at the bedside of her father, John Clifton who is seriously ill in the Haskell Hospital.

Roddy Kuenstler, Eddie Lee Thane, Leon Thane and Nelta Walton from Cisco Jr. College attended the Paint Creek-Weinert game and remained for the week end holiday. They all visited school Monday.

Jerry Fancher of Ranger Junior College visited Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and his aunt, Mrs. John R. Watson Jr. and Johnny Saturday. He and Johnny went hunting.

David Selby has had to leave his college work at ACC and enter the Anderson Hospital in Houston for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland Calloway, Selma and Judy, Alfred Grand, Howard and Linda, Mr. and Mrs. Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Pannel attended the Tidwell family reunion in Haskell a week ago Sunday.

Eddie Mack Earles has begun work at the West Texas Utilities Power Plant.

Mrs. Manuel Gunn and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gunn of Post were here to see their son and brother, G. W. play in the last game of the season against Weinert.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton Jr., and little Mary Margaret spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Overton, Sr.

Those attending the dinner meeting of the Haskell County Chapter of the TSTA at Rochester last week were Mr. and Mrs. Dan McRae, Mrs. W. M. Owens, Mrs. Irene Ballard, Mrs. Lilla Hefflin, Mrs. W. C. Taylor, Pat Morrison, Richard Selmon and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton.

Mike Overton visited with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Jones Sr. in Rule Monday night of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and Mike went to College Station on Tuesday of last week with Herman Henry of Haskell and his son Pat. Pat had been home for a week recuperating from pneumonia and Mr. Henry was returning him to A&M. The Overtons visited with Wallar and William for two hours.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stodgell of Rising Star are here to be at the bedside of Mr. Stodgell's sister, Mrs. Pauline Williams, who is in the hospital at Haskell, and they have been visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Montgomery.

The Methodist Church did not have services Sunday night, but instead the members went to Haskell to the Methodist Church to hear Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Watson Sr. left Sunday for Houston where Mrs. Watson will have another check-up and further treatment. She was scheduled to be in Houston Thursday, but because of John R. Jr.'s death, they rescheduled her appointment.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Phemister and son from Abilene visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Roberts and attended the Weinert-P. C. game.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Summerville, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson and Donnie were here for the Weinert game, and to visit the Pat Morrisons.

Mrs. Pat Morrison, Vicki Lynn, Janey and Jo have all been sick with the flu again. I think the Morrison children have had both the intestinal flu and the respiratory kind, too. That has made them have a long siege of it. But they are all better today.

Alfred Grand, Linda and Howard have moved back to their home on a farm after living in Haskell for almost a year. We are glad to have them back.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Reeves were here for the Weinert game, which by the way we lost 28-6. The field was a muddy mess and the wind was blowing a gale.

Mrs. J. L. Vroman and daughter Ruth, of Fort Worth, Mrs. Dan Atwood of Rising Star, Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt Underwood of Level-land visited their brother and uncle, Frank Underwood and Mrs. Underwood last week end.

Lake Stamford had its first brownning last Saturday afternoon when E. R. Quisenberry of Henrieta, fell from his boat while fishing alone. We have had the lake cur years, and thousands of people have fished and skied and oiled on it, and this is the first death. That is really a good record.

Mr. and Mrs. Vedy Whitmire and Brenda Holt from Monahans spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Mack Earles and Eddie Mack. They all had a fish supper Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Jody Earles and a barbecue dinner Sunday with Mrs. Veda Earles.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mickler spent last weekend in Snyder with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Durward Mickler.

G. W. Gunn returned home with his mother, Mrs. Manuel Gunn, and brother, Clarence and spent

Gifts Asked For Christmas Shop At TB Hospital

Sanatorium, Texas—Help is needed in the area served by McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital to provide an adequate Christmas for the 550 patients there who will spend the yule season in the hospital.

Volunteers in the area provide a Christmas gift shop which allows patients to do their shopping and mailing free of charge. The shop will be conducted Dec. 2-6 this year so that gifts from patients to their families will have time to reach their destination.

Now in its fourth year the Christmas gift shop has done more than provide gifts for patients and their families. It has cut the number of patients leaving the hospital in December against medical advice from 47 per cent in 1955.

By providing the patient with this privilege of giving, he is better able to accept hospitalization during the Christmas season. No money changes hands in the shop, but patients are given gift certificates which they use in exchange for the merchandise they select. The issuing of gift certificates by volunteers helps take the edge off charity for the patients.

Volunteer workers who can give their time at the hospital as well as cash and miscellaneous gifts are on the wanted list for this project. Suggested patient gifts are cotton underwear, robes, hose, men's stretch socks, toilet articles, manicure sets, costume jewelry, stationery, pens and stamps. Suggested family gifts are household linen, kitchen cutlery, plastic dishes, mailable toys, for boys and girls shirts, billfolds, socks, fountain pens, underwear are just a few of necessary items. Mrs. J. L. Richmond of San Angelo, shop chairman, asks that donors get their gifts in by Nov. 15.

Cash donations are used to defray postage cost and to supplement the above lists. The mailing address for these contributions is Volunteer Christmas Gift Shop, McKnight State Tuberculosis Hospital, Sanatorium, Texas.

the weekend in Post with them.

Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Gillespie spent last weekend in Odessa with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Gillespie.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ervin and children from Austin were here over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Bohanan.

Caution Advised In Buying Pullet Replacements

Producers should exercise good judgment and caution when buying ready-to-lay pullets. Some producers, in an attempt to get into the business in a hurry while egg prices are high, are buying almost anything with feathers, forgetting that only well bred, healthy pullets will be profitable.

Since many strains of egg producing chickens look alike, it is sometimes difficult to determine the breeding of the group of pullets simply by examining the stock, according to Bob Griffin, extension poultry husbandman. The prospective buyer may get a measure of proof of such breeding by asking to see the sales bill of the purchase order received from the hatchery originally supplying the chicks.

Pullets of strains bred for broiler production should never be purchased for egg production, the husbandman says. Their large body size results in poor feed efficiency and the period during which they maintain a high rate of lay is too short to make them profitable egg producers.

Poultrymen may look for several signs of health in young pullets, suggest Griffin. One of the best is a large body in relation to age and strain of the birds. Uniformity in size, with few small birds in the flock, is another. The presence of a heavy yellow pigmentation in the shanks and the skin, plus smooth, even feathering indicates freedom from disease. But one should remember that pullets raised in confinement are not as smoothly feathered or as highly colored as range reared birds.

It is not wise to select future layers from flocks which contain some pullets that obviously are diseased warns Griffin. Although only healthy specimens are taken from the flock, the fact that they have been exposed to unhealthy pen mates makes them a poor risk. Egg producers experiencing difficulty in purchasing satisfactory ready-to-lay pullets should consider starting a flock of their own. Such flocks are free from the hazard of buying old birds.

Clyde Childress, Weinert, H-SU Student, Awarded $1000 P. F. Collier Scholarship

Clyde Childress of Weinert, sophomore pre-ministerial student at Hardin-Simmons University, was awarded a $1,000 cash scholarship recently.

The award was made by Childress' employer, P. F. Collier and Son Corp. of New York City. The check was presented to Childress by Dean of Men Jack Collins of H-SU in special ceremonies in Mary Frances Hall.

Childress has been employed by Collier—a large book publishing firm which formerly published Collier's magazine—about five months. He is assistant field manager for the firm's advertising and sales-promotion program for Collier's Encyclopedia in the Abilene area.

Twelve $1,000 scholarships were awarded by Collier throughout the United States at the conclusion of a special 12-week contest for college students. In the contest, a student had to write at least 12 orders to qualify.

Childress wrote 31 orders, thus getting 31 chances to win the scholarship. His was the only scholarship awarded in the southwest portion of the United States, including Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, and California. Only one student in that area had written more orders—he had written 35.

Childress is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Childress who operate a cotton farm near Weinert. He is married to the former Norma Gibson of Haskell, and they live at 1834A Dillingham Street in Abilene.

A Bible major, Childress intends to finish the undergraduate work at H-SU and has tentative plans to follow this with study at Golden Gate Theological Seminary in San Francisco, Golden Gate is one of the newer seminaries maintained by the Southern Baptist Convention.

Childress is a member of the Ministerial Council at Hardin-Simmons, and he feels that the scholarship plus his earnings from the job with Collier will enable him to meet his living costs and the costs of going to school.

A sincere, cordial person, Childress likes his work with Collier, especially the opportunity to meet all kinds of people in their homes. He finds a decided majority of the people are genuinely interested in the educational and intellectual welfare of their children, along with being concerned with their physical welfare.

Present for the scholarship presentation Monday were M. G. Thompson, Collier's district field manager from San Antonio; Gene Swanson, divisional manager from Houston; and John Boe, a vice president of the firm from New York.

Thompson received a special $200 award at the same ceremonies.

Haskell Invited To Have "Day" at Fat Stock Show

Haskell has been invited to have a "day" at the 1938 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth by President-Manager W. R. Watt.

In his letter to Haskell, Watt urged that a cowgirl sweetheart be named so that she can be introduced to the rodeo audience in Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The city also is invited to send its high school band so that the students may give a concert on the stock show grounds. The band members will be guests at the rodeo performance.

Watt expressed the hope that the city also would have a delegation of citizens wearing hatbands or badges proclaiming their home town. They will be offered a special section of seats at the rodeo.

Annie Oakley, Western heroine of TV and motion pictures, will be star of the 1938 rodeo. Dates of the Fort Worth exposition are Jan. 24 through Feb. 2.

"We believe you will agree," Watt's letter states, "that each city having a day will derive worthwhile recognition and that everyone participating will have a good time."

"You also will be giving a wonderful assistance to your fat stock show—oldest in the nation—which has been serving the great livestock industry for 62 years. We are grateful for your cooperation."

New Dam Site Is Considered on Miller Creek

Representatives from five of the seven towns interested in the proposed Miller Creek municipal water project, heard an encouraging report from S. W. Freese, Ft. Worth consulting engineer, Saturday night at a meeting in Munday.

Topographic mapping of the water shed area has been completed, and core drilling at a new dam site was done this week, Mr. Freese told the group of 18 men present.

Encouraging feature was the fact that capacity of the proposed reservoir would be larger than at first anticipated, as a result, of the new site selected for the dam.

The reservoir would impound approximately 70,000 acre feet of water, to make it about the same size as Fort Phantom Lake, the group was told. Another desirable would be 70 feet deep at the dam with a resultant smaller area which would reduce the loss from evaporation.

Principal purpose of the meeting was to reach an agreement with the landowner in connection with making the core test at the new site for the dam, final phase needed before engineers can prepare their estimates.

Mr. Freese stated that the "Feasibility Report" on the project will likely be available by Jan. 1. It will contain all information necessary on which the proposal can be submitted to the people in the seven towns included in the North Central Texas Water District.

Attending the Munday meeting from Haskell were Mayor J. E. He Chapman, A. M. Turner, Lon Pate.

Dr. Wm. J. Kemp, post commander, issued the call to order at 10:15 a. m. An invocation was offered by Rev. Oscar Bruce, pastor of the First Methodist Church. Rev. Robt. C. ### Mayor Walling Urges Purchase of Christmas Seals

The high cost of tuberculosis was emphasized by Mayor J. E. Walling, Jr., in his official proclamation this week endorsing the annual Christmas Seal Sale which opens Friday.

"Since the first Christmas Seal was sold in 1907, more than seven million lives have been saved from this tragic disease," he said, "but it still costs this nation over $600 million a year."

Tuberculosis costs this nation and this community much more than money, he pointed out. "The cost in worry and heartache, in families separated, in lives crippled by this debilitating disease cannot be measured."

"Christmas Seal dollars spent now are an investment in human lives. They will also mean tax dollars saved in the future," the Mayor said.

Mayor Walling's official proclamation reads: "Whereas, the cost of tuberculosis is a heavy burden on the people of this community, state and nation, and

Whereas, no individual, regardless of race, creed, or economic status, is safe from this communicable disease unless all are safe, and

Whereas, the work of the Haskell County Tuberculosis Association, aimed at preventing the spread of tuberculosis, will help bring an end to the economic loss and personal tragedy caused by the disease, and

Whereas, the support of the tuberculosis association is derived solely from the sale of Christmas Seals.

Therefore, I, J. E. Walling, Jr., Mayor of Haskell, urge all residents of this town to contribute generously to the 1937 Christmas Seal Sale.

Drowning - - -

telephoned Haskell officers and rescue workers. Stamford officers also were notified, and a physician was sent from that city, and an ambulance was dispatched from Holden Funeral Home.

Sheriff Bill Pennington, Deputy Garth Garrett, Chief of Police Tom Paul Barnett and members of the Haskell Fire Department were among the first to arrive at the site of the drowning. Firemen included Covell Adkins, Earl Correll, George Tyler, Tom Watson, Olen Bartley, Jack Medford, Bob Sego.

Wooten and Fought, who had remained there awaiting help, had left a marker near the spot where Quisenberry had gone down. Wooten, Chief of Police Barnett, and Baird, using a draghook and Wooten's boat, recovered the body on their first attempt.

After carrying the drowning victim to the bank, efforts of artificial respiration were immediately started, using an oxygen resuscitator brought by Stamford Chief of Police B. Q. Cooper. Efforts to revive the victim were continued for an hour by volunteer workers and Dr. Tom Bunkley of Stamford.

After all efforts had failed, Quisenberry's body was brought to Holden Funeral Home here. Following an inquest conducted by Justice of the Peace Eal Treadwell of the city, a verdict of death by accidental drowning was returned.

After identity of the victim had been established, Sheriff Bill Pennington notified relatives in Henrietta, and funeral coach from Hawkins Funeral Home returned the body to Henrietta around midnight Saturday.

Officers investigating circumstances surrounding the tragedy, learned that Quisenberry, who had been staying in Stamford while working as an oil field roughneck, went to the lake about noon Saturday on a fishing trip.

Renting a boat and motor and purchasing a dozen minnows, he had remarked to Caretaker Baird that he thought he would "do a little fishing."

After reaching the north side of the lake, Quisenberry apparently had motor trouble. The boat he rented was found Sunday morning, partly pulled up on the lake bank. A pocketknife and screwdriver were nearby, indicating he had attempted to make an adjustment on the motor.

As dusk approached, officers theorized Quisenberry started to walk back to the docks. Unfamiliar with the lake, he had walked out on a small ridge extending into the lake along the channel a distance of several hundred yards. Then, evidently thinking he could wade the channel, he might have slipped near the bank into water five or six feet deep. Heavy boots and clothing he was wearing vented him from the water, officers said.

He had probably been in the water before his cries were heard, officers believe. Quisenberry's watch had p. m.

Funeral services for the victim were held Monday at the Church in Henrietta, Texas, in Antelope Creek.

Immediate survivors of the tragedy were Mrs. Jewell Henrietta; a brother-in-law, a brother-in-law, Mrs. L. M. Henrietta and Mrs. Des Moines, Iowa.

"THEY'RE CATCHING ON, BUT THEY CAN'T CATCH UP." That's how lots of people feel about the "new 1958" cars that are trying to match the Dodge Swept-Wing look. These other cars have been lowered some, but still seem high and boxy by comparison. A few are "catching on" to fins, but they're years from "catching up." And the air suspension offered by these cars (at well over $100 extra) can't compare with sway-free, dip-free ride of Dodge Torsion-Air (standard equipment on all models). So on your way home to someone else's new car showing, stop in and compare with Swept-Wing 58 by Dodge. You'll see what we mean.

Soil Tests Termed 'Must' for Highest Production

High cost of farming necessitates higher yields for maximum profit, and to make the highest production soil should be tested for its needs for lime and fertilizer.

The only true way to determine the amount of fertilizer and lime a pasture or a field needs is in a laboratory. W. F. Bennett, agricultural chemist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said.

"A farmer or rancher gets more for the dollar spent in having his soil tested and applying lime and fertilizer according to recommendations than for any other dollar spent producing a crop," he pointed out.

Without proper nutrient balance, fertilizers will not be profitable, plus the lack of other necessary practices such as weed, insect and disease control which also reduce the good results.

Too, in soil high in acid or low in lime content, the phosphates, potash and some of the nitrogen is lost to growing plants. Bennett added. But addition of agricultural limestone to such soils keeps fertilizers in good working condition, resulting in increases in crop yields.

Application of agricultural limestone to acid or low-lime soil produces other beneficial results such as providing calcium for plant food and making phosphates more available to plant use. Other fertilizer nutrients behave the same way. Soil bacteria is stimulated with more activity which causes a greater amount of nitrogenous nodules to form on the roots of legumes. Soil is easier to work, forage plants are more nutritious for livestock, and toxic materials in soils are neutralized.

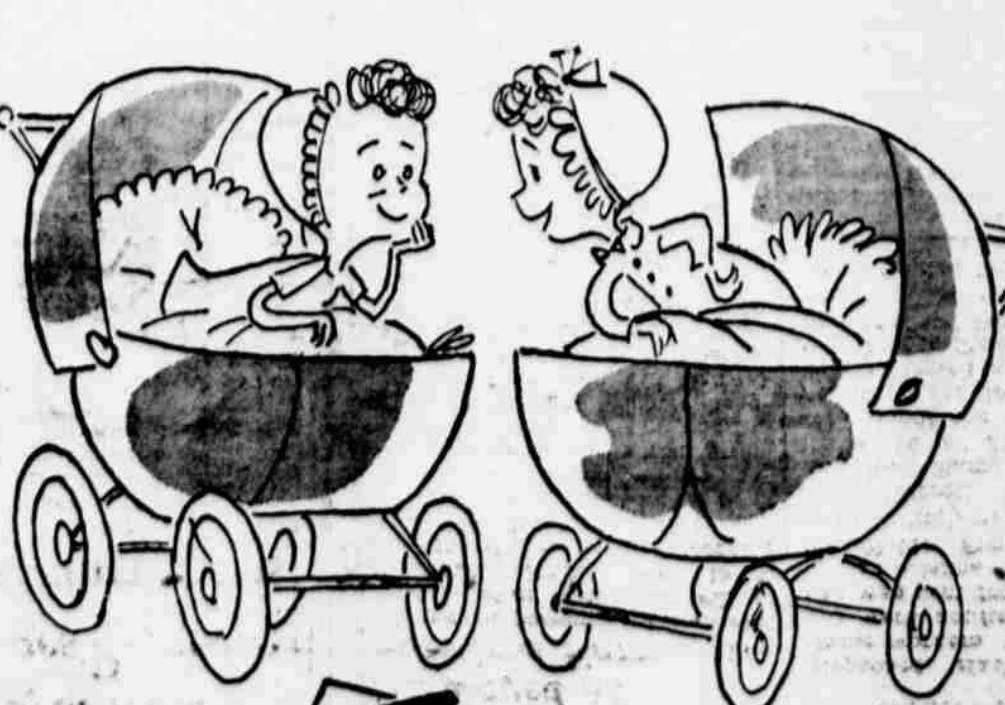

All the above benefits are made available to landowners whose soil is tested to determine what is needed in the soil. Soil samples are easy to collect, and any county agricultural agent, soil conservation representative or teacher of vocational agriculture can assist in taking samples and mailing to the Soils Laboratory, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, College Station, Texas.
