Lockney Chamber honors citizens

By Alice Gilroy

The Lockney Chamber of Commerce celebrated the city's 100th birthday, March 31, by giving awards to outstanding citizens at the annual Chamber Banquet.

John Guerrero, a resident of Lockney for 46 years, was given the Citizen of the Year Award by last year's recipient, Ed Marks.

Marks praised Guerrero for his "servant" attitude and especially for the time he had put into helping with Lockney's beautification projects. "He gives of himself," said Marks. "He is always willing to work and never complains."

Donnie McLaughlin was named Fireman of the Year by the Chamber. He has served as a Volunteer Fireman for Lockney since 1979.

Renee Hrbacek was also an award recipient. The Chamber recognized Renee for her tireless efforts on the Downtown Beautification Committee-particularly the Theatre Project.

In recognition of the City's 100 years, the Lockney Longhorn Band led the crowd in the song "Happy Birthday" before dinner was served.

After the award ceremony and guest speakers, the Band also played several arrangements.

Erin Mangold also provided musical entertainment with a beautiful rendition of the old classic, "Someone to Watch Over Me."

Old historical photos of Lockney were on display for guests to browse through and Emcee Clar Schacht read off many historical facts about the City throughout the evening.

Virginia Taylor, a Floyd County historian, spoke about the different service organizations that had been instrumental to the City.

"In the 60's and 70's there were 3 Study Clubs active in the City," said Taylor. She recalled Art Shows, large Quarterhorse shows, rodeos and style shows.

"We also had an active hospital auxiliary and Candy Strippers," said Taylor.

Dr. Gary Mangold spoke on the growth and success of the hospital, highlighting his father's influence and those of others who had dedicated themselves to the hospital.

"Since its inception," said Dr. Gary, "Lockney has been blessed with visionary leaders."

Dr. Gary related that Lockney's hospital began in the 1940's as Lockney Coop Hospital.

"In 1951 my father, W.J. Mangold was recruited," said Dr. Gary. "He assumed ownership of the hospital. The 50's was a golden age for that type of hospital. It was doctor owned and operated."

In the late 50's W.J. Mangold took out a loan and expanded the hospital. Medicare came into being in the 1960's, and in the 70's the hospital was turned over to the citizens with the creation of Lockney General Hospital District.

In the 70's W.J. was the only doctor. His son, Gary, joined him in 1979.

In the early 90's Dr. W.J. was instrumental in plans for the new hospital, but died a few months before the new hospital opened.

Barry Barker encouraged audience participation with "Do You Remember" questions. He encouraged the crowd to think back and remember different grocery stores, department stores, auto dealerships, pharmacies, etc.

Barker brought laughter with the story of the first race car to come to town. "Everyone was told it was going to drive down Main Street at a speed of 1 mile per minute. People were worried they weren't going to be able to see it."

Dinner music was provided by Greg Gonzales, Brian Cooper, Katie Bice, Kelby Bice, Luke Sherman, Stephen Karlin, Nathan Cabalero, and Alexandria Lopez.

The Chamber will present awards for Employer of the Year, Citizen of the Year, Volunteer of the Year, and the Extra Mile Award.

RunningWolf is a new citizen to Floydada. An author and story teller, RunningWolf is a native of the Micmac Tribe. The Micmacs are the northeastern most tribe of the Algonquin Indians.

RunningWolf grew up in Maine and in New Brunswick, Canada. He is a direct descendant of Beminit, the Grand Chief of the Micmac Nation.

Micmac history is passed down orally, with pictographs, on animal hides, pecked out on stone, in birch bark, and in effigy mounds.

"I learned my story telling from under the kitchen table," said RunningWolf. "Relatives would gather to tell their stories and I would sit quietly under the table and listen. If I was quiet and still I wouldn't be sent to bed. "The Micmac were part of the Wabanaki Confederacy (a large group of many tribes) that were allied with the French during the French-Indian Wars and with the Colonies during the Revolutionary War."

RunningWolf says that five of his ancestors have their signatures on the April 1776

Watertown Treaty between General Washington and the Wabanaki Confederacy.

RunningWolf's father was in the military and RunningWolf was born in a military Hospital. "I was raised on both sides of the Canadian/U.S. border," said RunningWolf.

A graduate of Northview High School in California, he also attended the Full Gospel Bible Institute and received his Divinity Doctorate.

His expertise in many languages has him being used as an interpreter, and his knowledge of Indian culture has proved valuable as a research consultant.

Judy Schacht of Schacht Catering will provide the catering. Door prizes will be given and a grand prize will be given away at the end of the banquet.

The tickets for the Chamber Banquet can be purchased from any Board of Director or at the Chamber office, 125 E. California, for $12.50.

FISD renews Apple Contract

The FISD Board met in Special Session Thursday, March 29, and renewed their contract with Apple Computers for the district's laptop program at the High School and the Junior High School.

In other matters, the board approved a resolution to use paper ballots in the May 12, 2007 trustee election, as permitted by the Texas Election Code. The paper ballots will be used instead of electronic voting machines.

The board also approved Thursday, April 5th, and Tuesday, May 15th, for the board's next two monthly meetings.

The meeting was concluded with a work session concerning the upcoming construction at A.B. Duncan Elementary School.

Floyd County rains great for local farm economy

Darwin Robinson

The recent rains Floyd County has received in the past couple of months could add thousands and thousands of dollars to the county's economy, according to Floyd County Extension Agent J.D. Ragland.

Ragland told the Hesperian-Beacon, "This year's rainfall has been excellent for the county. Officially we have received around 6 inches total for the county this year, but it has varied in different locations. We received 4.62 inches in March alone. This has set up for an excellent start this growing season."

"An estimated $50,000 per farm could be saved this year by not having to pre-water. As always, we just need Mother Nature to cooperate through the remainder of the season. Weed control expense may be more this year and we need to stay away from a late freeze lasting more than 10 hours," said Ragland.

May 10th is the start of the cotton planting season in Floyd County, according to Ragland. "We usually have many of our hail storms during May."

Concerning the county's wheat crop, Ragland said, "Wheat fields have jumped through themselves and have thrived from the recent rains. With future grain prices looking favorable, many producers are looking to carry their wheat to the grain stage."

Several producers have pulled their stocker cattle off their wheat fields early this year, based on price and the good field conditions, according to Ragland. More rain will be needed to finish the wheat to the grain stage, said Ragland.

In a related note, Dr. Gaylon Morgan of College Station stated in an April 2, 2007 newsletter, "The rain and warm weather is helping the wheat crop to progress rapidly and producers are keeping a watchful eye on crop diseases. Warm moist conditions have returned to much of the state and foliar diseases can increase quickly and warrant observation."

Ragland said the corn acreage in Floyd County usually averages around 20,000 acres. "Corn is mostly planted in the northwest part of the county because the water is better there. Corn takes a lot of water. That is why more corn is grown in the Panhandle, than here."

The ethanol plant now under construction in the northwestern part of the county will give Floyd County producers an option to plant more corn and milo, according to Ragland.

In Ragland's Floyd County Ag Report for March, he reminded the producers to take advantage of the local weather station web site at <http://txhighplainset.tamu.edu>. This web site gives data for air and soil temperatures, with different maps available.

Municipal and School Board Elections are May 12.
Early Voting is April 30-May 8

Lockney Senior Citizen News

By Vera Jo Bybee
Our Lockney town started celebrating its 100 years of incorporation Saturday night at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. Lockney is of course older than a 100 years but it wasn't incorporated until 1907. I was so honored when I was asked if I would speak at the Banquet about Lockney. All of you know how I like to speak but I am sorry to say that I told them I could not do it. I have lived every day of my life here and I knew I would be too emotional to do justice to a speech about Lockney. Just couldn't do it.

The Banquet was such a success and congratulations to all those who received honors. As I have written in the news article before we will celebrate our birthday all year long.

Kathy Ruff of Gatesville a former Lockney resident was here last week visiting with her Dad, Dale Ross.

Here's wishing everyone a very "Happy Easter". I do miss hiding Easter Eggs for my grandchildren. I hate it that they are all grown up and gone. But the great thing is that we have a new batch of great grandchildren coming on to help us celebrate Easter.

The thing I love the most about

Easter is knowing that Jesus has risen. My favorite song, HE AROSE, says it all. I don't like pictures of Christ on the Cross. I love the empty cross. I know He died on that cross to save me from my sins and that He arose and is in heaven. I truly believe that Jesus is my savior and I and all who believe in him as their Savior will be in Heaven with Him one day.

I called Alice this afternoon to see if it would be alright for me to write why I love Easter so and she said it would be fine. You know some papers don't like for you to write about religion or politics but our editor is one of a kind. We are lucky to have a paper such as our Floyd County Hesperian and Beacon.

Floydada Tennis Results

By Robin Nixon

Last year we placed 2nd to last in this 4A tournament and this year we were anxious to take on the big schools! I have been amazed at the competitiveness of this team!

They are working extremely hard!

In the Girls Singles Emily and Tana both played great opponents and rose to the occasion. They both defeated the #1 Seed of the Tournament from Randall. Emily had a classic match for the finals falling to Plainview's number one girl player Emily Cunningham in 3 grueling sets.

Brandon and Cam both played outstanding tennis in an extremely talented boys singles division.

In Boys Doubles: Jordan and Mason stepped up in a Major Varsity tournament and played great and improved every single match. Kevin and Kody are really playing great tennis right now. They are really sharpening skills and learning how to play the total game.

In mixed doubles Charlie and Kristan are my go getters they are scrappy and quick and really are tough to beat at the net. Blake and Kelsey had a tough draw but finished strong.

In the Girls Doubles it was a very difficult draw. Lexie and Jennifer played a very strong team and played them well. Katie Beth and Lindsey played very tough opponents but improved every match.

This was a great tournament for us. Great Job.

Boys Singles
Brandon Rainwater placed 4th
Cam Battey Placed 5th

Girls Singles
Emily Griffin Placed 2nd
Tana Lloyd Placed 3rd

Boys Doubles
Kevin and Kody Smith Placed 3rd

Jordan Cornelius and Mason Lipham Placed 6th

Competing in Girls Doubles were:

Lexie Terrell and Jennifer Rainwater.

Katie Beth Crossland and Lindsey Beedy.

Blake Greer and Kelsey Williams Placed 7th

Boys Team was 2nd overall

Girls Team was 3rd overall

Whirlwinds win big district game over Bobcats, lose to Lopes and Longhorns

The Floydada Whirlwind baseball team kicked off the district race March 27th at Abernathy. The Abernathy Antelopes are an experienced team who reached the regional quarterfinals a year ago.

Abernathy has been ranked as high as 5th in the state in this year's polls. The Lopes lost a few seniors last year and their confidence and experience showed. They beat the Winds 11-1.

The Winds played great defensively holding the Antelopes scoreless after 2 innings. But the Abernathy bats came alive in the bottom of the 3rd and 4th innings. A series of thrown out base runners by the Winds and trying to stretch singles into doubles cost the green team some valuable runs.

Four Whirlwind batters got hits: Taylor Beedy, Joseph Segura, Daniel Saldana and designated hitter, Josh Price. Freshman, Joseph Segura had the game's only RBI.

Ryan Monreal pitched 3-1/2 innings and junior, Daniel Saldana finished out the remaining 1-1/2 innings.

"Hello, win column!" The Floydada Whirlwinds traveled to Childress for their 2nd district game. Playing under a stormy sky, the Winds triumphed 14-7.

Explosive hitting dominated with the Whirlwinds pounding 21 hits. Taylor Beedy got his 2nd homerun of the season hitting over the left field fence and out of the atmosphere. Aarrhon Flores, sophomore, hit his 1st homerun of the season. His 2-run homer earned him his 3rd RBI of the game and his third time to cross home plate for the score to blow the game wide open, leaving the Childress Bobcats high and dry.

Seago said he was proud to get their first district win. "However, we still have a lot to fix. I'm glad to win on the road on back to back game days. After our guys sat back, they adjusted to the pitching, and mechanics took over. Ryan had a great rebound and did a great job to come in and pitch in a tough situation."

The green team jumped out to a 6-1 lead after 4 innings, but Childress charged back with 5 runs of their own to tie the game 6-6. Brandon Monreal started the game at pitcher. He faced 37 batters, allowed 7 runs, walked 7 batters and retired 8 Bobcats at the plate. Ryan Monreal replaced brother Brandon in the 6th inning with the bases loaded and 2 outs. Ryan got the Winds out of a jam by retiring the next batter. He successfully went 3 up, 3 down in the 7th to save the game.

Taylor Beedy continues to light up the scoreboard and the stat sheet. He hit 1 double, 1 homerun, earned 2 RBI's and scored 3 points for the Whirlwinds. Ryan Monreal had 3 RBI's, while Eladio Saldana and Brandon Monreal had 1 each. The Winds have moments of greatness.

There were some outstanding defensive plays by Joseph Segura to first baseman, Daniel Saldana. Taylor Beedy made an unbelievable throw from right field to home plate to the catcher, Colton Covington to make the tag at home and from Eladio Saldana, shortstop, to home plate.

The Whirlwinds were held scoreless for the first time this year by the Lockney Longhorns. Senior pitcher, Wes Davis held the Whirlwind bats to only 2 hits.

Ryan Monreal got the call on the mound. He faced 20 batters, allowed 6 hits and 6 runs. Ryan retired 3 Longhorn batters and walked 3. Daniel Saldana relieved Ryan in the 4th inning. He faced 8 batters, allowed 2 hits, 2 runs, struck out 1 batter and walked 2.

The Longhorn batters rose to the occasion, managing to find the gaps all afternoon long. The Floydada Whirlwinds will regroup and finish their four game road trip against Littlefield on Tuesday, April 3rd and then will face the Shallowater Mustangs at home Friday, April 6th.

The Floydada Country Club was the scene this past Saturday night, March 31st for the much anticipated drawing for a free membership. The first place ticket for this part of the give away was won by Weldon Emert who received $200 free cart fees. Jason Harrison won second place which was $100 in free cart fees.

The Floydada Country Club Board of Directors would like to express their thanks to everyone involved for making this fund raising effort so successful. Neugebauer to host Farm Bill Forums Congress has begun crafting the 2007 Farm Bill, and Congressman Randy Neugebauer will be in Plainview, Monday April 9, at the Ollie Liner Center from 9:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. to get input from area farmers on what this important policy should look like. This will be the first in a series of forums.

"The current farm bill has been a success, providing support for our nation's farmers while coming in under budget," said Neugebauer. "At these forums, I want to get feedback from 19th District producers so that Congress can build on current policies and write a 2007 Farm Bill that works even better for West Texas agriculture."

Democratic leaders in both the House of Representatives and the Senate have been talking for weeks about their plan to try and force a change in Bush Administration policy toward conducting the Iraq war.

Those promises were fulfilled over the last few days despite what appears to be a very real threat from President Bush to veto the legislation. An Administration veto would send the Iraq war supplemental spending bill to a quick and early grave since the votes to override a veto don't seem to exist.

Unless a compromise can be found during the House-Senate Conference that moderates or removes the non-binding troop withdrawal language currently in place, it appears that a Bush veto will also scuttle recently buoyed producer hopes that a long-awaited agriculture disaster assistance package included in the bill would finally be approved.

What's next? Nobody knows for sure, but unless something changes on one side or the other, it appears that disaster assistance supporters will most likely have to regroup and try again another day.

Perhaps the only bright spot that might be found in an Administration veto would be if House and Senate leaders are able to put an agreed on agriculture disaster package in their pockets, ready to go the next time around.

The agriculture disaster package approved by the House of Representatives last week totaled some $3.89 billion, compared to the Senate version, which because of differences in payment rates and other provisions has a $4.14 billion price tag.

As presently approved, both the House and Senate disaster packages would allow producers to choose only one of the three years covered by the program to receive assistance. Both bills provide coverage for losses that occurred in 2005, 2006 or 2007 through the date of the legislation's enactment.

Since it is unclear exactly what the cut-off date for 2007 losses will be, it is important to note that Congress's intent appears to be providing assistance to fruit and vegetable growers who suffered freeze losses earlier this year.

Areas of significant difference include the House's decision to limit eligibility to producers who purchased crop insurance in the year of loss and the different payment rate levels. With non-insured crops ineligible for the program the House set a single payment rate equal to 50 percent of the established price for the eligible crop loss crop.

The Senate's language allows non-insured crops to receive benefits, but at a significantly reduced level equal to only 20 percent of the established price. Senate proposed payment rates for insured crops would be 55 percent of the established price.

These appear to be the major differences between two pieces of legislation and additional information will likely become even more widely available as the work of the conference committee begins.

Whether or not this version of agricultural disaster assistance ever becomes law, it appears that legislators in both bodies continue to strongly support the development of a disaster aid package as soon as possible.

Plains Cotton Growers will continue to press Texas Congressional leaders to act as quickly as possible to finalize and deliver a much overdue package to address the weather related losses that have impacted agriculture over the past two growing seasons.

A VISIT WITH OL' MAN LISTER

By Steve McLean
Email: olmanlister@gmail.com

WHAT ARE YOU DOING?
We're building a monument to a state hero in Ponder Point, so ol' man Lister and I went to see how construction was going. After watching just a few minutes we could see that Oliver Jolly was working circles around Ed Bicker.
I asked ol' man Lister, "Why do you reckon Ed is having such a hard time keeping up with Ollie? They're the same age."
"Pay attention, kid, your 'bout to find out." was his humble reply.
When Ed went to get a drink, ol' man Lister followed him and asked, "What 'cha doin' Ed?"
"I'm mixin' cement and it's about to kill me."
Ollie walked up about then and Lister asked him the same question.
"Don't you know?" he exclaimed. "I'm building a beautiful monument to a bona fide hero. Ain't it great?"
As the boys headed back to work, Lister drove the point home. "The big difference in those two is attitude. One has a job, the other a joy. Ed has a duty, but Ollie has a dream!"
You know...I reckon ha's right.

Pay attention, kid, your 'bout to find out. was his humble reply. When Ed went to get a drink, ol' man Lister followed him and asked, "What 'cha doin' Ed?" "I'm mixin' cement and it's about to kill me." Ollie walked up about then and Lister asked him the same question. "Don't you know?" he exclaimed. "I'm building a beautiful monument to a bona fide hero. Ain't it great?" As the boys headed back to work, Lister drove the point home. "The big difference in those two is attitude. One has a job, the other a joy. Ed has a duty, but Ollie has a dream!" You know...I reckon ha's right.	Pay-n-Save 210 N. Main Lockney 652-2293
