Expanded Christmas Program

A community program which deserves and has always been given the support and cooperation of Haskell merchants, is the annual Christmas Program which inaugurates the holiday shopping season in Haskell.

This year's program, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 30, has been set up on a broader scale than heretofore, to make it more outstanding and more attractive than any previous holiday event.

In addition to the initial program on Nov. 30 ushering in the holiday season, additional attractive features have been scheduled on each of the three following Saturdays.

Necessarily, a larger financial budget will be required for the expanded program this year. However, the committees in charge of planning and executing the program are confident that Haskell merchants will underwrite the project in the same generous manner they have supported previous events of this kind.

4-H Achievement Day, November 2

Texas' 117,257 4-H Club members will join with the more than 2,000,000 members in the nation to observe National 4-H Achievement Day on November 2. The Texans belong to 4,222 local 4-H Clubs and 10,003 volunteer adult leaders assist them with their demonstration activities. Too, more than 3,200 4-H members are serving their clubs as junior leaders.

During the past 50 years, about 18 million young people in the nation have been 4-H members. Former members are numbered among the nation's outstanding leaders in every field of business, industry, the professions, agriculture and homemaking. The 4-H organization, directed by the Agricultural Extension Services of the state and territories, in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is now worldwide in its influence.

Achievement Day is the one day which is set aside each year for the purpose of recognizing outstanding achievement of club boys and girls. On this day the "home folks" will have an opportunity to see for themselves what their boys and girls are doing in 4-H Club work.

Want to Win A Bet?

According to the Texas Tax Journal, the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey suggests that "if you want to win a bet, bet your neighbor he can't tell you how much taxes he pays in a year." The odds are overwhelming that he can't—because of the vast number of hidden, indirect and so-called "painless" taxes that exist.

Here's the way the tax bill works out, according to a recent authoritative computation. If you make $87.30 a week, you pay $1,043 a year in taxes. If you make $86.54 a week, you pay $1,425 a year. And if you've got a job paying $7,500 a year, the tax collectors will get $2,637 of it—more than a third.

The Survey states: "At $86.54 a week, you work more hours to pay your taxes than for food and clothing combined!" Tell that to those who still say that taxation is a serious problem only to the rich!

PEOPLE, PLACES, AND THINGS

BY A. PATE

It's a good thing air-borne troops were not available back in '89, some old-timers at the Haskell School Homecoming declared. A few of them were recalling the never-to-be-forgotten episode of the wild range cow that in some manner was maneuvered into a second floor room of the school house one night in March, 1889.

Albert English, member of an early-day family here, who finished school that year, was being questioned about the event during the Homecoming assembly Saturday, along with Iron Pearsey who also was a member of the Class of '89. Neither man would admit having any part in the escapade but they had vivid recollections of the turmoil created by the mean-tempered cow brute. "How'd they get a wild cow up the stairway in the first place?" the two men were asked. "Don't ask me," English said, his eyes twinkling. "But it wasn't near the trouble they had getting her down the stairs. That was the meanest, maddest cow I've ever seen, before or since," he chuckled. That was the nearest he came to admitting a hand in the affair.

The school principal was a Prof. Merchant, English recalls. The teacher had lost one eye, and among themselves the school boys called him "O! Good Eye."

After "O! Good Eye" and the school trustees, along with several cowboys, had managed to get the fighting, angered cow out of the schoolhouse, it took several days to get the desks and benches repaired and the room placed in shape for use again.

The school board members and principal looked on the escapade as a personal affront, believing it the work of grown men. As a result, for years afterwards, the younger generation was almost afraid to even discuss the affair, English recalls.

The fact that school officials thought the stunt was that of adults probably was the reason none of the "young sprouts" were suspicious, English believes. The reputation of Haskell Lions Club for getting things done once they're undertaken is too well known to need repeating. But we think they deserve mention, and congratulations, too, for the Pan-cake Supper sponsored by the Lions last Friday. Club members cooperated 100 per cent in all the work involved, including preparing and serving. And they ate, and paid for, their share of pan-cakes! Proceeds from the affair go to the Lions Goodfellows Christmas Fund, one of the many fine projects the club sponsors annually.

The years take nothing from school spirit and traditions, judging from the antics and apparent enjoyment of the hundreds of Haskell Exes who returned "home" during the weekend for the third School Homecoming. If there could have been any way of measuring the degree of interest and enthusiasm of the various groups, the younger generation would have been hard pressed to equal the years ago. The evidence that memories are stronger with years.

Rise in Living Costs Continued In September

The cost of living rose by one-tenth of one per cent during September, the 13th monthly advance in a row, the Labor Department reported from Washington last week.

The department's consumer price index rose to 121.1 per cent of the 1947-49 average. That was an increase of 3.4 per cent from a year ago.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said the cost of living would probably remain fairly stable during the next three months. He foresaw the possibility of a definite downturn in January.

The new gain in the consumer price index will mean a wage increase for about 1 1/2 million workers, the Labor Department said. These are workers whose wages are tied by union-management contracts to changes in the cost of living.

Change Made In Regulations for Brake Inspection

Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today a change in motor vehicle inspection regulations so as to no longer require the removal of a wheel in order to inspect the brakes of vehicles.

In an effort to prevent accidents which might occur due to brake failures, the Department's earlier regulation had required that the wheel be removed for the principal purpose of determining the percentage of thickness of the remaining brake lining. Inspection stations found difficulty in making these inspections due to the fact that there was no accurate way of determining the original thickness and the decision in each case was left to the inspecting mechanic who had no satisfactory guide to follow.

The change in regulations, which resulted from action of the Public Safety Commission, does not affect the remainder of the inspection of brakes, which will still be required to have the performance ability required by statute.

Col. Garrison announced that this change in the regulations was made in interest of fairness to the inspection stations and to the motoring public.

The census of 1880 listed the population of Haskell County at 48. Ten years later it had increased to 1,965. Peak population was 16,669 in 1930. The 1960 census listed the county's population at 13,736.

In 1956, Feemster pointed out that the soil bank and other farm programs had made it possible for estimated 250 farmers to continue operations last year after being hard hit by the drought, which exhausted all credit resources of these farmers.

A fact brought out by the speaker which will directly affect the future of agriculture, is that fewer young people are engaging in farming. Principal reason is the high investment involved. Feemster believes, he said that the average farmer in Haskell County is 55 years old. "Young men today are not interested in farming because it costs too much to get started," he stated.

Dairyman should now begin checking their management to make sure that they are ready for the colder weather that lies ahead, advises A. M. Meekma and J. W. Davis, extension dairy husbandmen. Cow comfort, determining the best feed to buy, dehorning and culling least desirable cows are the main points stressed by the husbandmen.

Haskell Surgeon on John Hopkins Staff Performs Difficult Surgery Under TV

The following article by Gwinn Owens, staff writer for the Baltimore (Md.) Sun, deals with recent surgery by Dr. Frank C. Spencer, native of Haskell who is a member of the surgical staff of famed John Hopkins hospital. He is the son of Mrs. Frank Spencer Tyler, both of Haskell.

The Baltimore newspaper article reads: "While hundreds of America's greatest surgeons watched closely, a John Hopkins doctor opened the chest of a young girl to repair a heart defect.

"The operation, while difficult, was not unique. What made the occasion a pioneering one was that the surgery took place here while the surgeons were in Atlantic City at the annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

"They watched the procedure through a color television circuit that gave them a closer and clearer view than was available to observe a few feet above the operating room in the Hopkins observation gallery.

"The surgeon, Dr. Frank C. Spencer, had a microphone fastened around his neck, an earphone in his ear. He was able to describe the operation to the assembled surgeons in the Atlantic City Convention Hall and at a panel in a smaller room in Atlantic City.

"The operation, scheduled with comments and introductory discussion as smoothly as a television spectacular, was 'very successful,' in the view of one of the surgeons observing.

"The color camera peered not only into the chest cavity but to the inside of the heart itself. The observers could see the congenital defect, a small opening between the left and right auricles, sewed up by Dr. Spencer.

"In order to perform the operation it was necessary to pack the patient, in ice first, reducing her body temperature by about 10 degrees. This makes it possible to shut off the blood from the heart for about fifteen minutes without permanent brain damage to the patient.

"Dr. Spencer did the job in only eight minutes.

8 TIMES THE SPEED ENDURANCE OF ORDINARY TIRES

the new HIGH-PERFORMANCE

U.S. ROYAL MASTER

- In actual test, the new High-Performance U.S. Royal Master has sustained more than 10 hours of speeds that literally tear an ordinary tire to pieces in 72 minutes.
- Even though these tests are far beyond usual driving limits, you need the extra strength and blowout safety of this remarkable tire . . . a passenger car tire that is actually so strong that it can land a 20-ton airplane at 110 mph. We invite you to inspect this tire today. There is no obligation.
- SPEED SAFETY — 8 times the speed endurance of ordinary tires.
- BLOWOUT SAFETY — strong enough to land a 20-ton plane.
- PUNCTURE SAFETY — in 5,000-mile puncture test—no flat.
- STOPPING SAFETY — stops up to 57.3 feet quicker at 60 mph.

58 FORD COMING NOV. 7

Nothing newer

AROUND THE WORLD

The 58 Ford has been proved around the world. This is the most dramatic and most grueling test ever given a new car before its public announcement.

The whole world was used as a test track for the 58 Ford. The car drove through England, France, Switzerland, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Turkey, Iran, Afghanistan, Pakistan, India, Malaya, Thailand, Cambodia, Vietnam, and finally back to the place it started—Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A.

The Ford powered over the great mountain ranges of three continents: from the Alps to the Himalayas and the Rockies. It crossed the great rivers of history: the Thames, the Seine, the Tiber, the Arno, the Tigris, the Euphrates, the Indus, the Ganges.

This car stood at Buckingham Palace, rolled up the Champs Elysees to the Arc de Triomphe, and paused at the Eiffel Tower. It was greeted by the great Paris couturiers at the famous fashion salons where its "sculptured in steel" styling was applauded by the most style-conscious audience in the world.

The 58 Ford rode smoothly down the rugged, beautiful seacoast of Tito's country, to a festival in Dubrovnik, and into Greece to Athens, where this newest classic met such ancient classics as the Parthenon and the Temple of Posidon.

Into Turkey; and the 58 Ford passed the great white lacework palaces of the Sultans along the Bosphorus and the Golden Horn. Then the Ford went where few but nomads travel, up into the hot days and chill nights of the ancient mountains of Afghanistan. And thence along the route Alexander the Great followed with his chariots to cross the historic Indus river.

On and on the Ford moved, down into the heat of mysterious India, through New Delhi to the Taj Mahal, and to the great pink palace of the Maharajah of Jaipur.

This great new car met the challenge of the monsoons—rains that for centuries have stopped all road movement throughout Indo-China, but didn't stop the 58 Ford. It drove on to Penang in Malaya, and then north to Bangkok.

Further on came Saigon, the Paris of the Orient, at the farthest tip of South east Asia. Finally, it powered across the great Rockies and plains of North America and back, at long last, to Detroit, Michigan.

The 58 Ford . . . has been proved and approved around the world. A natural question arises. Why did Ford go to such great lengths with its 1958 model? Why spend so much money and time and go through all the problems of negotiations, customs, border transit, diplomacy in so many countries?

The answer is in the competitive automobile market of today, only the best in all-around value can survive. And this round-the-world test is the most decisive possible demonstration of the best.

The 1958 Ford is value: hard-dollar value. It is also style, power, performance, and a dozen great new features. But above all, it is value.

This is the car you've been waiting for. See it November 7—there's nothing newer in the world than the 58 Ford!

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By HUGH WILLIAMSON

Literally, the weather is great for ducks.

A lot of Texans, you may be sure, have been thinking it over, inasmuch as the duck season opens Nov. 1 and extends to Dec. 30.

Big rains this year have broken the drought along the Gulf Coast, providing plenty of surface water for the birds. Conditions in the marsh areas of the upper coast are the best in 10 years.

There will be an excellent crop of such native waterfowl as wild duck, mallard, smartweeds, duck potato, and pondweeds.

Along the lower coast, the duck prospects are also good. October rain caused habitat conditions to improve rapidly.

Add to all this the fact that the duck breeding season in the North was a successful one, and you have every indication of good duck hunting in Texas during the coming season.

Many varieties of ducks come to Texas with the cool winds of Fall.

Of the various kinds, the mallard predominates. A grain-eater, the mallard's flesh has a mild flavor. Fish-eating ducks have a stronger taste.

Biggest of the ducks available to Texans is the American Merganser, which may go to four pounds. Smallest is the green-winged teal averaging three-quarters of a pound.

A duck hunter must know his birds—bag limit vary with the species.

How To Do It

What's the secret of duck hunting—or any wing shooting? Well, it takes a steady hand, a clear eye, and good coordination, of course, but it also takes a gun that fits the shooter.

With time and money you can do business with a gun specialist who will fit the gun to your particular needs.

You'll get all kinds of tests, including some in the field. At the end of a year or so you'll have your gun, which will fit you like an old shoe. It will cost you about two thousand dollars.

Most of us don't have that kind of moola. But we can take our time in selecting a weapon, try it out, borrow a gun from a friend, talk about it, and be sure, before we purchase, that the gun fits.

Then we can go duck hunting, and if all factors are right, we can get birds.

Practice Helps

It goes without saying that practice is one of the elements of accurate wing shooting. Some rounds of skeet, before the season opens, should serve to sharpen the eye.

Another item is distance. A beginner is likely to blast away at ducks from afar, but a more experienced shooter will wait until they come closer.

At 12 yards, a duck looks bigger than a turkey. At 20 yards he shrinks to chicken size. At 30 yards he's down to dove dimensions. Off there at 50 yards he's an English sparrow, and at 60 yards, he's a hummingbird.

Too Many Deer

Game management officials are in some disagreement about reducing the deer population in some areas.

In Kerr County, for example, game commission biologists found that the land is over-stocked and overgrazed. They recommend that hunters be permitted to kill doe as well as buck deer this season.

Kerr County Commissioners rejected this proposal, and the state commission held with the Kerr County group, so there will be no legal doe shooting in the county this year.

There is a strong likelihood, say the biologists, that many Kerr County deer will die of starvation this winter.

There is a different situation in the Engeling area of Anderson County where, on a block of land owned by the state commission, permits will be issued to kill 100 deer of either sex.

An excess of doe was discovered in the area.

Gal Wardens?

Maybe Texas is going to have female game wardens. The notion has been put forward by Sportsmen's Club of Texas.

Pickering in Texas

Did you know you can catch chain pickerel in Texas? You can. That would be at Caddo Lake, where this relative of the northern pike and the majestic muskellunge abounds.

The pickerel lives in quiet, weedy waters and grows to 26 inches or so, and four pounds. A hungry citizen of Caddo's cypress swamps, the pickerel will strike practically anything that moves. He especially likes flashy underwater lures and noisy topwater baits.

A mystery is where the pickerel goes in midsummer, but a good guess is that he seeks a deep, cool place and remains practically dormant. But in the fall he perks up, by November he is really ready for something to eat.

The pickerel, by the way, is a good eating fish. Skin him, remove bones, cut into narrow strips, dip in batter, and fry until well done.

Skier Fishermen

After trouble between fishermen and water skiers on a California lake, the U. S. Forest Service has set up some restrictions.

Anglers and skiers have agreed to these regulations: Fishermen have the lake all to themselves on Saturdays, with no skiers allowed. Skiing is permitted from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. other days, with boundaries marked by buoys.

Well, nobody wants to be regulated, but regulation will come to our Texas lakes if the fishermen and skiers can't get along with each other. They can because all it takes is courtesy, thoughtfulness and consideration of the other fellow.

Dr. Paul Crawford's Sneaker at Engineer's Meet

Oil production research activities of Texas A&M College was the subject of Dr. Paul Crawford, formerly of Haskell, at a meeting of the Fort Worth Petroleum Club Oct. 22.

Crawford, who is assistant director of the Texas Petroleum Research Committee at the college addressed a meeting of the Fort Worth section of the Society of Petroleum Engineers of American Institute of Mining and Metallur-

NEW CHEVY STYLE FRESH, LIVELY

The side and rear treatment of the Biscayne four-door sedan points up the complete job of restyling on the 1958 Chevrolets. Note the broad, flat rear deck lid, the graceful gull-wing sweep of the rear fender line and the full-length molding that marks the latest development in Sculpturamic styling. The Biscayne series is in the middle price range of the 1958 Chevrolet line.

Studies at A&M have included one for determining most efficient rates of producing an oil reservoir, another on when to initiate a fluid injection program, what fluids to inject and on the effect of fractures on reservoir performances.

Dr. Crawford, who invented the catalyzed underground combustion recovery process while serving as a research engineer for Magnolia Petroleum Co., is a native West Texas, educated in Haskell public schools and later graduating from Texas Tech and the University of Texas.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford of Haskell.

California Creek Soil Conservation District.

The virgin soil was made by the handiwork of God through the use of growing plants to cover the earth, and a constant decay of plant roots and leaves caused by living animal life. Man, in clearing the land, has upset natural conditions. He has allowed the soil to be depleted through clean tilled row crops and a decrease of plant and animal life. Depleted "dead" soils absorb and retain less water and plant food for growing crops, producing plants of low quality and quantity. The result, low income for the tiller of the soil.

Conservation minded farmers are finding that the growing of soil improving legumes like cowpeas and guar in the summer and Austrian Winter peas and vetch for winter cover have helped restore life of the soil.

Fred Kupatt, farming near Sagerton, said that the speed of his tractor could be increased to a higher gear when crossing from another crop to land on which peas had been grown. Jack Denson says land on which peas have been grown is more mellow and plows penetrate it more readily. Land that plows better also absorbs and retains more water and plant roots feed deeper.

Homecoming—

HUMBLE TIPS

By M. L.

"It even scares me, when I think of the way I neglect my car."

We are all guilty of this, but it takes a ghost to admit it.

English and Iron Pearsey, 1889. Also honored as pioneer teachers in Haskell schools were Miss May Fields, who taught her first year in 1882, and Mrs. Ada Rike, who began her teaching career in 1896. A tribute to the two women was the standing ovation given by all former pupils of Miss Fields and Mrs. Rike present at the assembly.

The four in the pioneer group all live in Haskell. Mr. Pearsey also was cited for his long service with the Haskell school system. The veteran custodian was connected with the school from 1907 until 1943. As he expressed it, "Things were so tough we had to go where we could find work in order to make a living. But I got back as soon as I could because I couldn't stand to be away from all these Haskell youngsters."

Ex-student coming the longest distance to attend the Homecoming was Major O. Dale Cook, Class of '34, an officer in the Army Air Force. He and his wife came from St. Louis, Mo.

Ex-teacher from the farthest distance was Mrs. A. M. Hughes of Bartlesville, Okla., Class of 1915, who later taught in Haskell high school. She and Mr. Hughes came 423 miles to attend the Homecoming.

The Class of 1901 had the largest percentage of members present. Alvy R. Couch of Abilene, himself a 1901 grad, reported that five of the seven graduates composing the class were present for the Homecoming.

Alber, English, of the Class of '89, delighted the assembly audience when he took the mike and told of an early-day Haskell football team on which he played.

"I remember when we played the Paint Creek bunch. We beat 'em, too, even though they had a fellow in the crowd who acted like a bully, and would run out on the field and kick the ball every time we got possession. Then he'd run back to the sidelines. He was a cow man and had on boots and spurs, so about the third time he pulled the stunt I ran by him and tripped one foot so he got tangled in his spurs and fell flat on his face. He had in mind to jump me up, but our principal, a Prof. Merchant, changed his mind."

A chuck wagon supper served from 5 to 7 p. m. on the school campus by Jetton Catering Service was the final afternoon event. Rounding out this year's Homecoming were a number of class reunions and social gatherings held Saturday night.

through the air to 49 yards for the visitors. Haskell completed 6 of 17 passes with two intercepted by Stamford, while the Bulldogs recovered 3 Stamford fumbles, while losing two to the enemy. The Indians drew 25 yards in 5 penalties, with 30 yards charged against the Bulldogs in 6 penalties.

Two Bulldog backs, Donald Davis and Fred Upshaw, spelled the principal difference between the rival teams, with Upshaw scoring two TDs and passing for a third, while Davis racked up the initial TD for the visitors. Bulldog End Duane Lindsey added three extra points in four after-TD kicks.

Stamford's first counter came early in the first period, when a blocked kick set the visitors in business on the Haskell 12.

The Indians struck back when on the second play after taking the Bulldog kick, Indian Back Don Pennington knifed through the right side of the Bulldog line and sprinted 64 yards before being caught by Upshaw on the Stamford. However, the Indians were unable to punch through the Bulldog line.

The Indians started another goalward march in the third, moving from their own 43 to the Stamford 25, aided by a 20 yard pass from Pennington to Sam Rike. The drive stalled, with the Indians losing the services of Pennington, injured on the next play.

The Indians final threat came late in the game, when the Tribe drove from the Stamford 45 to the 2 yard stripe in two plays, a three-yard gain by Back Joe Decker and a 40-yard aerial from QB Jimmy Brock to Bobby Wheatley. A repeat attempt saw the ball intercepted by Davis for the Bulldogs with only 35 seconds remaining.

Pennington was the Indians chief ground gainer, netting 77 yards in eight carries, with Fullback Ernest Kimbrough moving 27 yards in nine trips. Defensively, the entire Tribe turned in an outstanding performance, to the extent that it would be impossible to single out players for individual praise.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to express our sincere appreciation to everyone for the many acts of kindness and helpful deeds extended during the illness and death of our loved one. We are especially grateful to the doctors and hospital staff, to Holden's Funeral Home, to Rev.
