FOR THE COMMANDER...

"Money" - An Area That Concerns Everybody

By Col. Claude W. Turner
Deputy Commander for Materiel

How many times have you wanted to purchase a commodity in recent years but weren't able to because of austere funding? You will find that this is just the beginning; future years will find us with increased job responsibilities and less funds than we have presently. A question comes to mind: How will we be able to do more work with less money? The answer to this question can only be answered by you, the ultimate consumer. For a significant savings to materialize, you, the consumer, must participate in identifying the pertinent areas.

Colonel Turner

The implementation of the Supply Stock Fund on Dec. 1, 1966 placed complete responsibility on the ultimate consumer to manage dollars allocated for supplies and equipment. A revised system for internal budgeting and accounting was implemented at Headquarters, Air Training Command on Oct. 1, 1967; this system was the forerunner for the present Resources Management System (RMS) which was implemented on July 1, 1969. The Resources Management System gives a series of reports which provide information required to effectively manage your financial resources.

Fiscal Year 1971 will be a difficult year financially, and will severely challenge the management ability of all commanders and their subordinates. The outlook for receipt of additional funds at a later date is indeed doubtful. In most of our cost areas, we will have to manage and survive on the funds identified in our financial reports.

I enjoin each of you to establish procedures whereby all personnel exercise caution and prudence in ordering supplies and equipment, and not order solely on the basis of authorization. Further, we must adopt procedures whereby top level management critically scrutinizes the due-out listings and certifies on the listing their mission essentiality.

In summary, the rest of FY71, as well as all of FY72, will require the highest degree of budget management. Each of us must be acutely aware, on a continuing basis, of our current budget position.

Letters To The Roundup

To The Roundup:

I would like to drop a few lines to say how much I enjoy receiving the Roundup over here in Vietnam. It is good to see faces of people you know and to read about them. I would like to say it is a very good base paper, so keep up the good work. Thanks.

QUESTION: What happens if I refuse to complete the weighted airman promotion system test and later change my mind? Can I then be tested and compete for promotion?

ANSWER: Airmen who refuse to test are required to sign a written statement to that effect. Once they refuse to test they are ineligible to compete for promotion during that cycle. However, provided they meet other criteria, they may test and compete during the next cycle.

The Roundup is an unofficial newspaper published in the interest of personnel at Reese AFB under contract with Boone Publications, Inc., 4007 Ave. A, Lubbock, Texas. Mailing address: P.O. remarks and remind our readers that many of his fine pictures appeared in the Roundup while he was stationed at Reese AFB.

Dear Sir:

People complain about their club and with good reasons. I suppose. My biggest gripe about the NCO Club is the members themselves.

We are offered several special nights where one particular theme is used. On these occasions, the NCO Wives Club spends several hours decorating with the special theme in mind. This is done to help add atmosphere for all club members. However, some members either don't appreciate the efforts made or else think the decorating is done for their personal delight, as they begin taking the items for "souvenirs" of that dance.

It's bad enough that these members would steal (and that's what it really amounts to) from their own club, but many times these decorations are rented from downtown or loaned by a generous club member, who rightfully expects to get them back in the same condition they were loaned out.

There have been many times, like last Friday's Western Night, when the decorations must be taken down shortly after the band starts playing because some club member decides to help himself to whatever he sees and likes.

The Wives Club usually does the decorating and we enjoy the time and work spent in making our club a little more enjoyable. However, it hardly seems worth the effort, if it's not appreciated any more than it appears to be.

So, please, next time you're tempted to take anything from your club that doesn't belong to you personally, think first of the time and work and of the personal property involved. Then let your conscience be your guide.

I feel sure a little unselfish thought on the part of each and every club member will eliminate this problem entirely. Thank you for hearing me out.

Nosey Rosey The Inquiring Photographer

This week the inquiring photographer visited several areas of the base and asked personnel, "What can be done to improve Commanders' Calls at Reese AFB?"

Amn. Mike Collins, 3500th Supply Squadron—"Have them at the NCO Club instead of the base theater and shorten them."

Amn. Collins

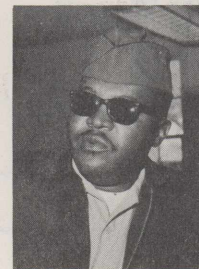

AIC Fritzsche

AIC Howard W. Fritzsche Jr., 3500th Air Base Group—"Just prevent them from being long and drawn out. Shortening the movies would help. The whole Commander's Call is usually long and drawn out. I do think the question and answer period is a pretty good thing, though."

TSgt. Alvin Wright Jr., 3500th Supply Squadron—"I think that instead of having techs one day, masters the next and airmen the next, it should all be done together. I also think that all the gripes should be brought up; then it would be a morale booster and everyone would know what is being done to improve things."

TSgt. Wright

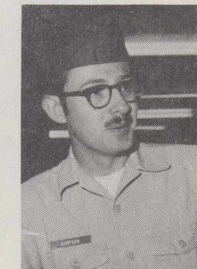

2nd Lt. Patterson

2nd Lt. J. David Patterson, Class 71-08—"To be quite honest, I think that the 'Air Force Now' movies are relatively well done and the briefings—well certain things must be discussed and there are only so many ways to do it. Generally the movies which accompany the 'Air Force Now' are out of date. I also think that it is a good idea to have people recognized for achievement at these meetings."

MSgt. Leo C. Prior, 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron—"Nothing. Our commander has Commander's Call once a month and takes care of what we need."

MSgt. Prior

AIC Simpson

AIC T. A. Simpson, 3500th Air Base Group—"I think we could probably have some better ones if persons who attend would have more questions. If more people would raise issues they are concerned about, it would help. However, I don't know if Commander's Call really accomplishes that much, anyway. I do like the 'Air Force Now' films, though."

AIC Mike J. Eldridge, 3500th Air Base Group—"I think the films are getting better, but aside from that, there's not too much to them. I do think it's a good place for the commander to personally tell the troops things he thinks are important."

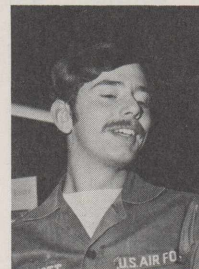

AIC Eldridge

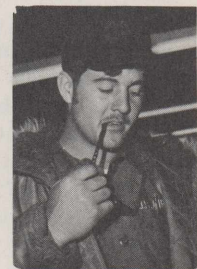

Sgt. Abner

Sgt. William D. Abner, 3500th Supply Squadron—"Do away with them. They serve no purpose."

Sgt. David P. McDermott, 3500th Supply Squadron—"If they'd show some interesting movies instead of the same old 'Air Force Now' and cut out the unimportant things and just give the important information, it would help. Also making it earlier so we would get out before 4:50 p.m. would help—so would making it shorter."

Sgt. McDermott

Sgt. Rossi

Sgt. Ralph E. Rossi, 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron—"If they'd have something interesting to talk about instead of the same old things over and over, it'd help. They should also hold it at the NCO Club so you could have a beer or something. A lot of the guys get thirsty coming off the line."

 Dog Flight this last weekend went on a great cross-country. The one who seemed to have the greatest time was Capt. John H. Stewart II. In fact, to hear some tell it, he must think he is still there because the flight home is a mystery to him. The occasion for this party was Capt. William D. Cooper's marriage.

Several changes have been made in that big pillar of responsibility more commonly known as the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron. Capt. George P. Swanson has taken over the scheduling section and Maj. John F. Nagle is now the new Section II commander. Replacing him as F Flight commander is Capt. Edward V. Murphy. His assistant is Capt. Standish A. Jones.

Here's another sterling call by one of our SOFs. Over the intercom came the command: "Anticipate." After several seconds there followed this: "Is everybody anticipating? Ha, ha, ha."

The question of the week: What is an unrestricted status?
 A. Surface winds less than 40 knots.

B. Never heard of it.
 C. A day without clouds, high winds or dust set.

D. A license to kill.
 E. Boom Boom Lavern's sexual attitude.

F. All of the above.

Once upon a time . . . actually a week or so ago, 1st Lt. Sergio A. Delhoyo was out flying Capt. Clifford A. Scott's model airplane, but due to a bad call, he found himself in a dual only situation with wind qualification not yet to his credit. As Delhoyo lost control, Captain Scott decided to show his superior fielding ability and came to the rescue. But he too made a slight error and was attacked on the wrist!

Delhoyo is now credited with his first kill, and, miraculously, the aircraft was brought in safely.

By Capt. T. E. Gonzales
 A Flight is sighing with relief—they were starting to wonder if D Flight's Devils hadn't concocted a plot to keep their newest IP, Capt. Donald L. McDowell. It must have been a dry run.

B Flight scuttlebutt for this week concerns balloons. Brahma Flight's "junior balloon" IP, 1st Lt. Bruce W. Casper, was presented with a "one-fifth life-size, air-filled authentic replica" of himself by his students. According to one of them it would have been life-sized, but with all of them huffing and puffing they still ran out of (hot) air. Actually, it was an ego-inflating experience according to Bruce.

Speaking of balloons, the squadron lost three of them on Sunday—First Lieutenants Paul R. Aarnio, Benjamin A. Smithson, Jr., and Lawrence M. Schenck pinned on their tracks that day. Congratulations.

Drama Flight is up to theatrics again. Now they are upstaging the squadron in the population explosion. Two D Flight students are now half-owners of new arrivals. The two stockholders are 2nd Lt. Richard E. Wenger, proud father of a baby boy born March 25 and 2nd Lt. James L. Rice, Jr., proud father of a baby girl born within 50 minutes of baby Wenger.

The latest winner of the "Weenie Of The Week" award in Tuna (Charlie) Flight is Capt. George A. Driscoll. He was even appropriately dressed for the occasion—in mustard. His only comment was some inanity about "coveralls, flying man's CWU-27/P, sage green, high temperature resistant, polyimide," not being mustard proof.

A reminder for all River Rats from Capt. Frederick L. Holmes: See him about the reunion to be held at Miramar NAS May 7-9, 1971. He's trying to get the transportation end of the deal organized.

Welcome to the squadron's newest IP, 1st Lt. James M. Howe. He is a native of Houston, Tex., and he's accompanied by his wife, Brenda.

Last week's quote was courtesy of Capt. Darrell L. Fillip.

This week's quote: "A fifteen hour work day! Is that more than the airlines?"

Reese Officers Given Schools

He will be allowed to pick the order of his preference for the courses.

Movie Fare At Base Theater

The film is rated R—restricted, under 17 requires accompanying parent or adult guardian.

"Run Wild, Run Free" will be tomorrow's matinee feature at the theater. The adventure drama stars Mark Lester, John Mills, Sylvia Syms and Fiona Fullerton and is rated G—general audiences.

Gene Wilder, Donald Sutherland and Ewa Aulin star in "Start The Revolution Without Me" tomorrow night at the base theater. The rollicking farce about the French Revolution is rated GP—all ages admitted with parental guidance suggested.

"The Pursuit Of Happiness" will be featured at the base theater Sunday evening. Michael Sarrazin and Barbara Hershey star as a young couple too aware to fit into present-day American society and too concerned to drop out in the humorous film which was filmed on location in New York City. Ruth White and Arthur Hill are co-starred in the GP-rated movie.

John Wayne is "Chisum" in Tuesday's feature at the base theater. He stars with Forrest Tucker, Christopher George and Glenn Corbett in this G-rated epic drama about the life of John Simpson Chisum, the king of the Pecos.

"Something For Everyone" will be screened at the theater on Wednesday evening. Michael York stars with Angela Lansbury in the dastardly drama about a fortune-hunting adventurer fascinated by the Bavarian castle of an impoverished, widowed countess. The film is rated R.

Volleyball Play Ends At Base; Softball To Begin Next Week

Volleyball play—both on the base level and intramural level—came to an end this week and the base began preparations for the softball season.

The base team journeyed to Lowry AFB, Colo., and the Air Training Command Volleyball Tournament last week and managed to come away with a fifth place tie with Sheppard AFB, Tex. Finishing ahead of Reese were Keesler AFB, Miss., Mather AFB, Calif., Lowry and Webb AFB, Tex., which finished in that order.

The Reese AFB Intramural Volleyball League play-offs to determine the base championship were due to be concluded last night at the base gym. The four participating teams in the order of their finish in league play are Class 72-02, the 3500th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, 2053rd Communications Squadron, and 3500th Air Base Group.

The double-elimination play-offs began Monday in the base gym with Air Base Group against OMS and Class 72-02 going against Comm. Sq. The winners were to play the first game and the losers the second game Tuesday. Wednesday's game was limited to the losers and Thursday's to the winners, making another game possible tonight in the event last night's non-loser lost in the winner's bracket. The Roundup will have a story on the tournament next week.

The final standings in the Intramural Volleyball League are as follows.

TEAM	W	L
Class 72-02	6	1
OMS	5	2
Comm. Sq.	5	2
Air Base Gp.	4	3
3501st PTS	3	4
Class 71-07	2	5

Aviation Safety Council Meets

The South Plains Aviation Safety Council, a civilian organization promoting flying safety throughout the area, held its 75th meeting March 29 at the Reese AFB Officers Open Mess.

Highlighting the meeting was the showing of a 27-minute film entitled: "Night on Jackrabbit Mesa." The film shows the perils and problems connected with the crash of aircraft.

Those persons interested in joining the group are asked to contact Ray Raney, accident prevention specialist with the Lubbock office of the Federal Aviation Agency, 762-0335, or Capt. Arthur T. Dardeau, flight safety officer, Reese AFB, 885-4511, ext. 2214.

The next meeting of the council has been set for June 7 at 6:30 p.m. with wives encouraged to attend the meeting at the Officers Open Mess.

Track, Field Entries Needed

Anyone interested in trying out for the 1971 Air Training Command track and field team should contact Sgt. Paul Martinez at the base gym, ext 2207 before April 15.

$50.00—Deep Freeze, Laundry Extractor, Westinghouse Water Fountain, 2 Guitars.
$35.00—Naukahyde Divan, Cabinet Sewing Machine, 2 Butane Bottles.
OPEN SUNDAY 1 to 5:30 P.M.
1106-23rd St. 744-9065

(NOTE: OMS and the Comm. Sq. tied for second place and flipped a coin to see which would occupy second and third place respectively for the purpose of the play-offs. OMS won that coin toss.)

Girl Watching Or Basketball Set Tomorrow

Basketball will be revived briefly at Reese AFB tomorrow at 1:30 p.m. but the star attraction may be on the sideline instead of the basketball court.

In response to a friendly challenge from the 3501st Student Squadron, which will be represented by Class 72-02, the Texas Tech University AFROTC detachment will take to the courts to defend its honor—and to participate in a picnic following the game at the base picnic grounds.

The outcome of the game, in fact the game itself, may be incidental to male spectators as the AFROTC detachment plans to have its beautiful and talented group of Texas Tech coeds known as the Angel Flight on the sidelines as rooters. Reesites are invited to turn out and watch-uh-the game.

Ladies Golf Group Sets Initial Meeting

The Reese AFB Ladies Golf Association will hold its first meeting of the year April 13 at 9 a.m. in the golf club house.

New officers will be elected to highlight the initial meeting. Clubs are available for those women without them.

Reese Partnership Golf Tournament Scheduled

The prestigious Reese AFB Partnership Golf Tournament, which perennially attracts the top golfers on the South Plains, will be staged this year June 4-6 at the base golf course.

The dates for the big event were nailed down by Ken McGuire, Reese AFB golf course manager, at the annual West Texas PGA meeting held March 24 at the Lubbock Country Club. The dates are coordinated so as to not conflict with other big tournaments, thereby insuring a good turn-out.

The tournament will be conducted the same as last year with the field limited to 64 teams which will be placed in four 16-man flights—championship, first, second and third. Entry fee will be $35 per team ($17.50 per individual) with that fee covering green fees and the usual cocktail party-buffet to be held on the evening of June 4 for the contestants and their wives or girl friends.

A shotgun start will be used to start two flights in the morning and the other two in the afternoon rounds of play. The scores turned in by the two-man teams—using the best ball of each team member on each hole—will be used to determine team scores. Scores turned in on the opening day of play (June 4) will be used to place the teams in flights. After that, teams will be playing in their respective flights for prizes of $100 to the first-place winners, $75 to second place winners and $40 to third place winners. The 72-hole medal play of each team will be used to determine winners in each respective flight.

Mr. McGuire said the United States Golf Association (USGA) rules will apply, along with local rules of the Reese golf course. Two sets of pins will be used with teams playing one color pin on the first nine holes and the other color on the second nine.

ATHLETE OF QUARTER—2nd Lt. Brian Shul, a member of Class 72-03 and the base singles handball champion, at right, is presented the Athlete of the Quarter trophy by Capt. James M. Jocius, chief, Special Services Division in a ceremony at the base gym last week. The award was for the last quarter of calendar year 1970. Lieutenant Shul was, at this writing, at Sheppard AFB, Tex., representing the base in the singles handball event of the Air Training Command Lifetime Sports Tournament. (U. S. Air Force Photo)

WAPS 'No Show' Bite Now Extends To Data Verification

Local personnel officials recently received a promotion policy announcement on the Weighted Airman Promotion System (WAPS) which provides for nonrecommendation for promotion of airmen who failed to show for WAPS testing or review of their promotion verification record.

The announcement came from the USAF Military Personnel Center, Randolph AFB, Tex. and the provisions in it become effective with the 72B promotion cycle to sergeant (E-4) which begins testing this month.

Under the announced policy Consolidated Base Personnel Offices will be required to notify commanders on a daily basis of the names of airmen who are scheduled for data verification who fail to report as scheduled. Daily notification of testing "no shows" is already required.

Crackdown On Vehicles Told

Security Police Division has reminded personnel operating private motor vehicles on the base of the Air Training Command requirement for new decals on their vehicles effective Feb. 28.

A large number of vehicles are still being observed with the old (yellow) decal. Other vehicles have been observed with two decals on the bumpers. Security Police officials said these vehicles would be cited effective yesterday.

Once an airman is reported as a "no show", his commander must determine why he failed to meet the established scheduled date. If the airman has a valid reason such as being medically excused, on emergency leave, on temporary duty or other cogent reasons, the commander will take action to have him rescheduled for testing or review of his verification record. However, if the airman has no valid reason for failing to meet the appointed date, the commander will take action to declare the airman ineligible for promotion.
