

Annual bond drive begins on Monday

Reese AFB will stage its annual drive for more participation in the payroll savings plans for the purchase of U.S. Savings Bonds during the month of May. Goals of the 1972 campaign will be at least 80 per cent participation by Reese personnel.

Project officer for this year's campaign is Lt. Col. Melvin E. Hallett, 3500th Pilot Training Squadron.

As in the past, each unit will have representatives whose duty it will be to contact each member of his unit to make sure each has the opportunity to participate in the program.

During the month of May, Reesites will be informed in many ways—by the unit representatives and through such media as the Roundup—of such current advantages as the new 5½ per cent interest rate being offered on U.S. Savings Bonds and the ease in which they can participate in the program through the military and civilian bond allotment plan.

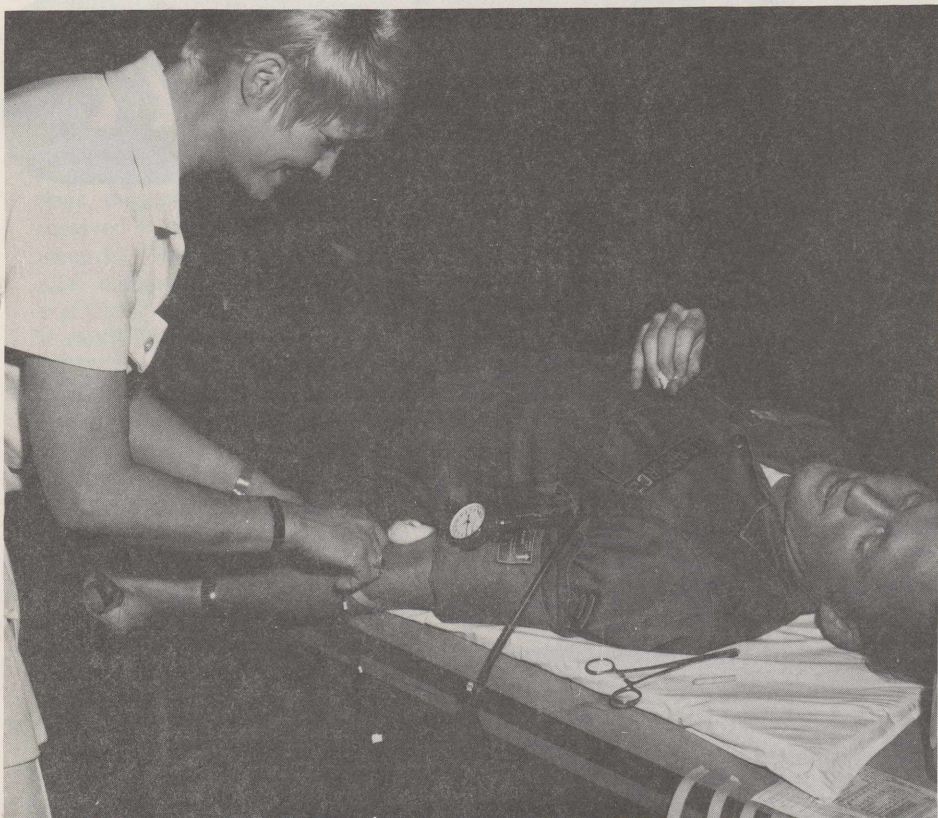

Because of the new effective rate of 5½ per cent, bonds now mature in five years and 10 months. There are no state or local taxes on interest and participants may defer federal tax until the bonds are redeemed. It has the added advantage of being a super-safe investment in that if a bond is lost or stolen, the participant will receive a replacement with principal and interest guaranteed.

Reesites may sign up under the payroll deduction program for as little as $6.25 per month which will buy the participant a $25 bond each quarter. At the end of a year he has saved $76 and at the end of three years, $237. By the time the first bond matures—in five years and 10 months—he has saved $494.

Those currently participating in the payroll savings plan for the purchase of bonds will be urged to increase their allotment. An investment of say $75 per month will reap a harvest at the end of five years and 10 months of nearly $6,000.

In addition, both unit and individual awards are available for outstanding service during the month-long drive.

BLOOD DRIVE—A Reesite takes time out of his busy day to donate blood during the base wide drive held Tuesday at the Mathis Recreation Center. The blood drive was for the benefit of Robert Houston, a Lubbock high school student who suffers from hemophilia and is presently 500 units "in debt" to the Fort Worth blood center. This was the second such drive held at Reese for the benefit of young Houston. (U. S. Air Force Photo by SSgt. Michael J. Henning)

VOLUME XXIII NUMBER 16 2

Lubbock, Texas, April 28, 1972

Learning Center opens today

A ribbon-cutting ceremony today by Col. Walter H. Baxter, Reese AFB wing commander, will officially open one of two new Learning Centers at Reese.

The ceremony is scheduled for 3 p.m. at the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron and will be attended by a host of base, Air Training Command and Lubbock area educators interested in audio-visual educational methods.

The audio-visual concept as an adjunct to the Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) program culminates an idea born in 1947, but speeded into reality when the UPT program was shortened from 53 weeks to 48 weeks two years ago. Since that time a massive amount of research and development, planning and preparation have gone into the project—all aimed at turning out better pilots for the Air Force.

The Learning Center contains 15 study carrels. Each carrel is equipped with two projectors, each using rear-screen projection. One projector accepts super 8mm sound film cassettes containing five minute films showing in-flight situations facing the student. The film was shot using special camera mounts inside the cockpits of the Northrop T-38 Talon and Cessna T-37 jet aircraft and using special focal length lenses so as to make the film as it is projected to appear as it would from the eyes of the student.

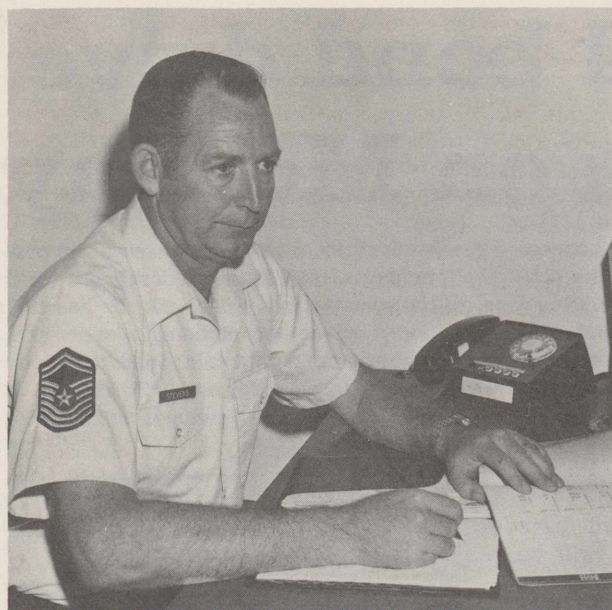

The other projector accepts carousel-type trays. The 35mm slides are produced locally at Reese, or by Learning Center Support Division of Headquarters, ATC. The latter slides concern exterior and interior shots of pre-flight and take-offs and are produced at Randolph AFB, Tex. The Reese-produced slides are those applicable to the local flying area and include traffic patterns, references, departures and recoveries, local area

By CMSgt. Paul E. Stevens
Senior Airman Advisor

To be represented by the Senior Airman Advisor, you must have a basic knowledge of his duties and responsibilities.

A close look at the Senior Airman Advisor's job description suggests I get involved in many personal relationships. This is true of any staff assignment, but is a particularly complex problem for the Senior Airman Advisor due to my special status as the senior noncommissioned officer of the base.

My duties and responsibilities bring me in contact with key officers and noncommissioned officers from all organizations. This position is one where maturity and the ability to attain the respect of both officers and enlisted men of the base is a must in order to discharge my duties.

As Senior Airman Advisor, my relationship to the commander is, of course, an important one. In my capacity as advisor on matters of particular interest to the enlisted personnel of the base, I have a special responsibility not only to the wing commander but also to the enlisted personnel of the base.

As advisor, I have a clear-cut open avenue to the wing commander at all times to report problem areas which I observe or are brought to my attention, and to make recommendations concerning their solutions.

In representing you, the enlisted personnel of the base, I must be scrupulously careful to base my reports on a sound estimate of the situation and present them accurately and without bias. Representing you requires my knowledge of a specific problem and of the general situation, which can only be acquired by my circulation frequently through all elements here on Reese AFB.

In representing you, I must use judgment, tact and unquestioned integrity in my special relationship with the wing commander as well as all individuals with whom I come in contact.

There are many items of interest where I will be representing you here on Reese. To list all of the items would be prohibitive, however, I would like to touch on a few of which I consider the more important.

Some of these items include such things as insuring airmen billets are up to desired standards in cleanliness and furnishings; that the Wing Dining Hall staff serves excellent food and provides adequate service; that military courtesy and dress meet established Air Force standards; checking programs at the NCO Open Mess and the Mathis Recreation Center to insure that these facilities are providing adequate off-duty entertainment; insuring that the base exchange facilities provide excellent service and a variety of stocked items to satisfy airmen needs; and monitoring medical facilities to insure safety procedures are being observed.

My job is to represent you. If I am to be effective and serve you and the wing commander in this responsible position, I will need to be brought abreast of your problems and receive your sincere dedication, cooperation and support. Unified we can and will make Reese AFB a better place to work and live.

The position of Senior Airman Advisor belongs to you. YOUR office is located in bldg. T-1, Wing Headquarters, ext. 2416.

Fun in the Sun

Summer is approaching and many Air Force people will be taking to the outdoors for some "fun in the sun."

A word of caution. Too much "fun in the sun" can be very painful . . . even fatal.

Sunburn, sunstroke and heat exhaustion are common during the summer months. The story of most victims is one of disregarding simple precautions.

If you haven't been exposed to hot rays recently, 30-45 minute intervals in the sun, using a tanning lotion, oil or "grandma's special formula," is the recommended procedure.

As the skin becomes conditioned to the sun, more time can be spent outside. This will vary with the individual.

When swimming, many people come out of the water and lie down to get a suntan. Often, it results in sunburn. Apply the tanning agent when you leave the water and don't fall asleep.

So if you're going to take advantage of the up-coming summer months . . . do it gradually until your skin is conditioned.

By ignoring common sense rules . . . you could spend a few days or weeks of discomfort in or out of the hospital while your friends are having "fun in the sun." AFNS

QUESTION: What is Dependency & Indemnity Compensation (DIC)?

ANSWER: DIC is an annuity, administered by the Veterans Administration, which provides monthly payments to certain next-of-kin of personnel who die on active duty or from service-connected causes following release from active duty. The amount is based on pay grade and provides an additional sum for each child under age 18.

More 'Volunteer' suggestions approved

HQ. ATC— Project Volunteer, a USAF-wide program to improve living and working conditions throughout the Air Force, received a new impetus recently when Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, ATC commander, approved several Project Volunteer Workshop II (PVWII) recommendations.

PVWII, composed of young first-term airmen and junior officers, met in August 1971 and submitted 39 recommendations dealing with management in ATC and the USAF. The recommendations covered such subjects as improving Commander's Call, revising base-level management training, establishing "Ethnic Awareness Centers," extending government housing to first four graders and publishing commanders' objectives.

Other recommendations included such subjects as drug use, the role of the IG, faster separation of "incompetent personnel," and the wider use of Air Force facilities to assist recruiters.

The PVWII recommendations were sent to all ATC bases for review and comment. Some recommendations were put into effect at base level even before the base comments were forwarded to Hq. ATC. Others were questioned as being "impractical."

One recommendation which General Simler approved is the removal of certain restrictions on the classification of basic trainees which will improve the quality of input to many technical AFSCs by increasing the qualified resources.

Another approved PVWII recommendation is publishing the goals and objectives of ATC commanders at all levels, involving "everyone" in the expression and achievement of these objectives (this is being accomplished under the Phase II - 1972 Program).

Still another is making Commander's Calls "smaller, more frequent, and more informal," giving organization members "the opportunity to recommend subjects" for Commander's Call.

Also approved is the addition of more group discussion to the base-level Human Relations course. Other PVWII recommendations are still being staffed at Hq. ATC.

Project Volunteer was begun in 1970 to find ways to improve Air Force life in anticipation of the creation of an all-volunteer force. In ATC, two workshops have been held to seek the assistance of first-term airmen and junior officers, career and non-career, in developing such improvements.

PVWII, which met in December 1970, submitted 63 recommendations to remove "career irritants" from Air Force life, and 23 of them were approved by General Simler for implementation in ATC. These included such proposals as the centralized management of bachelor housing, the reduction of details and janitorial service in community areas.

Other PVWII recommendations were sent to USAF for action where some, such as increased pay for junior officers and airmen, have also been implemented.

Ecology action group slates recycling drive for tomorrow

The Ecology Action Group at Reese has planned another recycling drive for tomorrow between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. across from the base commissary parking lot.

A truck will be parked at this site for the deposit of metal. This is another activity of the Lubbock Ucan Project involving Reesites and local Scouting groups. The ecologists request the removal of all labels and the removal of the ends of the cans if possible and that the cans be flattened. The cans and ends should be deposited in the truck tomorrow. Soft drink cans and any other cans may be used; aluminum cans may be flattened without removing the ends.

If it is impossible to reach the Ucan truck, Reesites are requested to contact Mrs. H. E. Noland, 885-4843; Mrs. J. R. Wagenhofer, 885-2105; Mrs. John Filippo Jr., 885-4640; Mrs. Carl Rodeffer, 885-2169; or Mrs. A. J. Adams at 885-2639. Any of these ladies should be contacted before 2 p.m. for pickup of metal.

Daylight saving begins Sunday

Reesites are reminded to turn their clocks ahead one hour before going to bed tomorrow night in order to compensate for Daylight Savings Time which officially goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday.

The working hours at the base remain the same, but by turning the clock forward one hour it will give Reesites an extra hour of daylight after work.

The recommended procedure is to turn the clock forward (example, from 10 to 11) when you go to bed tomorrow night. When you wake up you will be in the correct time zone. The clocks will be turned back in the fall when the nation goes off Daylight Savings Time.

The rule of thumb governing Daylight Savings Time is "Spring Forward, Fall Back", meaning to turn the clocks forward in the spring and back in the fall.

Clothing drive set

The Reese Mexican - American Club clothing drive will be held tomorrow from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. in Reese Village.

MOST CAR SALESMEN WILL TELL YOU THIS DOESN'T EXIST.
A SPORTS CAR WITH ROOM FOR FOUR ADULTS.

First, what do we mean by a "Sports Car"? Well, we don't mean a souped-up sedan with racing stripes. The Fiat 124 Sport Coupe has a 1608 cc engine with twin overhead camshaft that turns out 104 bhp at 6,500 rpm. It has power-assisted disc brakes on all four wheels and a standard 5-speed gearbox. It's a car you actually drive, unlike most modern cars which you merely point.

And what do we mean by "room for four"? We mean legroom, headroom and elbowroom for four 180-lb. men. With baggage. If you find this hard to believe, all you have to do is take the car out on the road. Any Fiat dealer will arrange it for you.

You may find that a sports car with room for four adults is exactly the kind of car you'd like. In which case, to be honest, you have a choice. It's the Fiat 124 Sport Coupe or something like a Ferrari 2+2.

But for the price of a Ferrari 2+2 you could buy four Fiats. And you'd have room for sixteen people.

'Marty' ends Air Force career

CMSgt. Elmer C. Martin, the top enlisted man at Reese AFB, will retire Sunday from the U. S. Air Force after 29 years of service. His official retirement ceremony is set for 3 p.m. today at the NCO Open Mess.

Sergeant Martin assumed the duties of Senior Airman Advisor at Reese Sept. 1, 1971 upon the retirement of CMSgt. Lloyd V. Edwards, who was the first Senior Airman Advisor at Reese. In turn, Sergeant Martin is being succeeded by CMSgt. Paul E. Stevens, who officially assumed his duties April 1.

Sergeant Martin, who is known more commonly at the base as "Marty", entered the service on Jan. 29, 1943 as a member of the U. S. Army combat engineers. He saw action in five campaigns in the European Theater of Operations during World War II. He received the Purple Heart for wounds received and two top foreign decorations for bravery, the French Croix de Guerre with Silver Star and the Belgian Croix de Guerre.

Sergeant Martin switched to the U. S. Air Force in 1947 and served in noncommissioned officer status during assignments in such places as Rome AFB, N.Y., Itazuke AFB, Japan and on special assignments in Cincinnati, Ohio, Syracuse, N.Y. and Albany, N.Y. He was first assigned to Reese on July 24, 1964 as chief of Quality Control Section, Personnel Division. From March 5, 1967 to March 5, 1968 he served with the 37th Combat Support Group at Ton Son Nhut AB, Republic of Vietnam for which service he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

He was reassigned to Reese March 11, 1968 as Personnel Sergeant Major, a job he held until his appointment as Senior Airman Advisor, the top enlisted job at Reese.

Sergeant Martin will remain in Lubbock and plans to enter private business.

Golf tournament enters third round

Sixteen Reesites have completed the first round of the Reese AFB Match Play Golf Tournament with eight advancing to the second round and the remaining eight competing in the consolation bracket.

The tournament began April 15 and the competition is expected to conclude by May 12. The results after the first round show Brian Prigmore defeating Jim Comeaux, Jay Leinbach over Charles Thrash, Joe Reiner beating out Roger Owens and George Holland advancing to the second round by silencing Bill Walsh.

Other victors in the first round include Jim Smith, who defeated Fred Boatwright; Frank Wilson, who stopped Walt Jones and Jim Nickel, whose win over Alex Coehlo advanced him to the next higher bracket. Robert Schubert was victorious over Robert Arlof for the finishing match of the first round of play.

The first round losers competed in the consolation bracket for 15 per cent of the total prize money. In the first match, Jim Comeaux lost to Jay Leinbach, Bill Walsh defeated Roger Owens to come closer to the prize money and the remainder of the consolation matchup shows Fred Boatwright will play against Frank Wilson and Alex Coehlo will compete against Robert Arlof.

Players are expected to complete the second round of the tournament today. Jim Smith defeated Walt Jones for a chance to move closer to the prize money (60 per cent of the total entry fees). Results of the remainder of the second round were not yet in as of the Roundup's Tuesday deadline but the matchups for the rest of the second round look like this: Brian Prigmore vs. Charles Thrash; Joe Reiner vs. George Holland; and Jim Nickel vs. Robert Schubert.

The third round of the tournament has been slated to begin tomorrow and the fourth round will begin the week of May 6-7. The finals will end before May 12.

Rattlers place third in local softball play

The Reese Rattlers placed third in the Lubbock Pre-season Tournament held April 18-22 at Moose Head Park in Lubbock.

Reese drew a bye in the first round of the tournament and went on to beat Lubbock Power and Light by a score of 8-1 in six innings. Danny Benson was accredited with the win allowing only one hit, striking out 11 batters and walking only one. Leading hitters for Reese were Ralph Bauer and Charley Vines.

In the third round of the tournament, the Rattlers lost to Plains Co-op, the 1971 state champs in their division, by a score of 12-0. The final result showed Reese placing third in the tourney and bringing the season record thus far to 1-2. The Rattlers have four games slated this weekend at Webb AFB, Tex.

3. Jim Olsen
4. Jim Nickel
5. Dave Robinson

Golf course changes hours of operation

The base golf course will change its hours of operation beginning Tuesday, allowing golfers to tee off earlier on weekends and holidays.

The hours of operation for weekdays will remain at 8 a.m.

to darkness. The weekend and holiday hours will be from 7 a.m. to dark. This change, plus the daylight saving time hours which go into effect Sunday, allows golfers more time on the golf course.

Bowling leagues announce weekend scores

Bob Preusser shot a 232 high game and wound up with a 604 series to log high for the men in Friday night Cotton Picker's League action.

Shirley Leinbach rolled a 190 high game for the women and Nellie Thompson won the high women's series spot with a 509.

In Thursday night's Ball and Chain League, Nellie Thompson bowled a 213 and a 202 and tallied out with a 590 series.

It is believed that there will be numerous summer leagues open to Reesites. Sign-ups are now being taken at Reese Lanes.

landmarks, lost procedures, bail-out procedures, ground taxi and radio calls. These are accompanied by an audio tape cassette which is placed in a cassette player just below the projector and which synchronizes automatically when the start button is pressed. An electronic impulse on the audio tape changes the slide.

Answering Device

The carrel is also equipped with an answering device which has three buttons marked A, B and C. Both the filmed cassettes and slide presentations have multiple choice questions built into the programs calling for the student to press one of the answer buttons. If he chooses the wrong answer, the program will not advance.

Both film and slides are in full color and the audio film sound tracks and tape cassettes use the voices of experienced instructor pilots to add authenticity and realism to the programs. The Learning Center publishes a catalog containing all the materials available for a quick reference.

As an adjunct to the program, the Center has on hand audio tape cassettes of all the film and slide presentations and will issue these, along with an audio tape player and headphones for students to check out overnight or on the weekends. They also have the same film contained in the super 8mm cassettes on a regular reel but without sound, which they issue to instructor pilots for group orientations and briefings. The projectors allow backward, forward, slow motion, and stop frame action.

Study Options

The program allows the students to "bone up" on their weak areas, either voluntarily or at their instructor pilot's recommendation. It will allow them to "visually fly" an in-flight situation before—or after—actually flying it. It will allow the instructor pilot and student the opportunity to go over each maneuver following actual flight at debriefings. The motivated student may use his waiting period time, or off-duty time, to go over those in-flight situations he feels he is weakest in. The Learning Center is open during and after normal duty hours at the base and is due to be one of the busiest off-duty entities at the base.

Former IP

The Learning Center section, a part of Operations Division, is headed by Capt. James E. Vaughn, a former instructor pilot with the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron. Assisting him are two instructor pilots and a host of enlisted audio-visual specialists.

The film used in the super 8mm cassettes, which will eventually be used at all nine of the Air Training Command's UPT bases, was shot at Reese.

Today's dedication ceremonies will include a tour of the Learning Center and demonstrations of the equipment for visitors which include Brig. Gen. James M. Breedlove, former wing commander at Reese who is now deputy chief of staff/Operations, Headquarters, ATC.

Frenship teachers visit base as part of Operation Insight

Phase two of Operation Insight, a program under Project Aware, began Wednesday with 21 teachers and administrators from a local high school touring a number of the base facilities at Reese.

A group of Frenship High School staff participated in the program which is designed to introduce local high school teachers to the various educational programs offered at the base and throughout the Air Force. The tour consisted of a visit to the Aerospace Physiology Training Unit following a welcoming by Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander. The group also witnessed a simulator demonstration, a briefing about the new learning center and toured the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron and the 3501st Student Squadron.

The purpose of the program is to enhance the image of the Air Force and provide the visiting teachers with a view of the Air Force educational methods and techniques.
