Reese hosts area seniors tomorrow

Reese AFB will hold its second open house of the year tomorrow when the gates will be thrown open to area seniors from 40 West Texas high schools, and to the public.

Officially labeled Career Day, the event is the second open house in as many months being held at Reese in connection with the U.S. Air Force Silver Anniversary as an independent branch of the military service. Project officer for Career Day is Maj. Louis Nebel of Operations Division.

The gates will open at 9 a.m. Base security police, augmented by members of the Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps from three Lubbock high schools will direct the visitors to the display area on the Reese flight line.

There, visitors will see special booths displaying the many Air Force specialty fields ranging from jet engine maintenance to photography which are being offered high school graduates enlisting in today's Air Force. On hand at each of the booths will be experienced personnel to answer questions on each respective career field.

Some of the top hardware of the Air Force will be displayed on the flight line. This will include such aircraft as the Lockheed C-130A Hercules, Lockheed C-141A Starlifter, North American F-100 Super Sabre, Convair F-102 Delta Dagger, Convair F-103 Delta Dart, LTV Aerospace A-7D Corsair II and the two aircraft used in training at Reese, the Cessna T-37 and the Northrop T-38 Talon.

A special demonstration of fire and rescue work is scheduled (weather permitting) to take place at 10:30 a.m. on the flight line.

At noon, Air Force buses will be used to transport the special guests—the high school seniors—from the display area to the base picnic grounds for a picnic and rock band concert. This portion of the program will be free to high school seniors and to base personnel working on the project. All others are requested to use BX or Open Mess facilities.

Activities are expected to be concluded at 3 p.m.

Travel in civies okay

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Transportation officials said that seven airlines now allow service members to travel at reduced fares in civilian clothes without a DD Form 1580.

Active-duty military passengers now may buy a reduced fare ticket by presenting their identification cards. Passengers, however, must sign a statement that they are on authorized leave; or have been separated and will be traveling within seven days of separation.

Military passengers, however, whether or not traveling in uniform, must display their ID card or official separation orders upon request at any point en route.

These rules, according to Air Force transportation officials, apply only when traveling with United Airlines, Pan American, Southern Airways, Trans World Airlines, Northwest Airlines, American Airlines and Western Airlines.

Other airlines, according to officials, are not bound to this policy. They may require a copy of a DD Form 1580 or a copy of official leave or separation orders and wear of the uniform.

May primaries near

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Fourteen states and the District of Columbia will hold either a regular primary election or a Presidential primary election, or both, during May.

States involved are Alabama, Arkansas, Indiana, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, Nebraska, North Carolina, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia.

Base voting officers have Federal Post Card Applications which may be used to request a ballot. Local voting officers also have additional information.

frame of reference

By Col. Walter H. Baxter III
Wing Commander

Perhaps the most pleasant discovery since my arrival at Reese AFB last year has been the outstanding community relations that exist between the base and the nearby civilian communities.

As many of you know, this excellent rapport between base and civilian community does not exist everywhere. Without being specific, some areas in which the civilian community and a military base co-exist, the atmosphere is unfriendly—sometimes hostile—with the serviceman all too often bearing the brunt of its manifestation.

Fortunately for all of us this situation does not exist in Lubbock or elsewhere across the South Plains where many of our people live and spend their off-duty hours. We find, instead, a degree of acceptance within these communities through which Reese personnel can feel as close to home as possible without actually being there. Certainly, for us at least, the stories of West Texas hospitality and friendship are a reality that we experience daily.

This hospitality and friendship is not an accident. It comes historically from original settlers to this part of the country and has been passed down from generation to generation to the point that it is a way of life. By the same token, Reesites have responded to this hospitality and friendship in many positive ways. They have joined in community, social, civic and church related activities. They have met appeals from these communities in the most public-spirited manner.

"...within these communities... Reese personnel can feel as close to home as possible..."

The most obvious of these, of course, is the splendid way in which Reesites rise to the occasion during the annual Combined Federal Campaign. This drive raises funds to support the agencies of the Lubbock County United Fund, among which are our Air Force Aid Society, Boy and Girl Scouts and other youth programs. Even more tangible is the assistance rendered during disasters—such as the May 11, 1970 tornado that ripped through Lubbock.

There is still another way in which Reesites help, and while it is not as quantitative or dramatic, it adds as much—if not more—through the steady, systematic building of a superior community relations program for the base. That is the participation in civic, social, church and community activities in this area. Many times I hear from civilians downtown, "Do you know——? He is a member of our church and one of our hardest workers." Similarly, we have many dedicated people working in the areas of the Scouts, YMCA, health clinics, in depressed areas, through school groups, the PTA and others, too numerous to mention. All of this has helped weld a bond between Reese people and the people of West Texas—a bond that makes it enjoyable to live here and consequently, makes our jobs easier.

To those Reesites currently involved in projects such as these, you have the thanks and appreciation of all for your efforts. To those who are still bystanders, I urge that you get involved in an area that interests you. Let your efforts be added to the other workers' in order that we might maintain these excellent community relations in the years to come.

To the Roundup:

The retirement ceremony as arranged by CMSgt. Paul E. Stevens, Senior Airman Advisor, is a memory that will remain with me the rest of my life. Recognition of my family was also a big treat.

The many enlisted men, officers and civilians from Reese AFB who were in attendance attests to the close, warm and friendly atmosphere prevalent on the base.

The beautiful plaque given me by the NCOs of Reese AFB will hold a special place in my memories of service at Reese.

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone who was responsible for the beautiful gift I received; I will always treasure it as I treasure the memory of the Air Force and service at Reese.

To Sergeant Stevens I say, thank you for the most wonderful day and to Colonel Baxter I say, thanks for being able to serve you as Senior Airman Advisor.

Elmer C. Martin Jr. CMSgt.
USAF (Ret.)

CAREER DAY—TSgt. Robert Knapp of the Security Police Division at Reese delivers a briefing to Junior Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets from Coronado, Monterey and Lubbock high schools. The Jr. ROTC cadets will be on hand at Reese Saturday to help direct traffic at the Career Day activities planned for the public. At Career Day, the public will be able to examine several types of aircraft, see a few of the many jobs offered by the Air Force and talk to the men doing those jobs. Career Day will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday at Reese. (U. S. Air Force Photo)

Customs defined by reg

HQ. ATC—"All Air Force personnel in uniform will salute anyone they recognize who is entitled to the salute or to the return of a salute. This applies both on and off military installations."

The above is in Air Force Regulation 30-1. Saluting is a military custom. All formally organized military organizations in the world have this custom.

For Air Force members, AFR 50-14 describes the method, when and how salutes will be exchanged.

It is also a custom to salute officers of friendly foreign nations when recognized as such. Commanders will clearly spell out any local exceptions to the rules, according to AFR 30-1.

Except for formal reporting, salutes are not required indoors.

The manual also includes procedures for saluting the United States Flag, salutes by the Air Force flag, saluting when the "National Anthem" or "To The Colors" is played, and actions to be taken during Army and Navy military gun salutes.

Other Air Force customs are the use of titles and the Chain of Command. According to the regulation, military persons are addressed properly by their grade. Officers are addressed by their grade or by the appellation (name, title or designation) "Sir/Ma'am," medical and dental officers as "Doctor," and Chaplains as "Chaplain." Enlisted men in the junior as "Airman" and the senior six grades as "Sergeant."

weather wise

Editor's Note: This article begins a monthly series of weather predictions for the Reese area compiled by Detachment 11, 24th Weather Squadron.

May's outlook calls for windy days and warmer weather than April.

The winds are expected to equal or exceed 13 miles per hour on 45 per cent of the days. The average maximum temperature will increase from April's 71 degrees up to a warm 85 degrees. The average relative humidity will edge higher from 45 per cent to 49 per cent although the average expected precipitation will increase considerably to 2.7 inches. The increase will be partly due to an increase in thunderstorm activity. May and June mark the high points in the thunderstorm season with an average of seven days each month.

The number of days with visibility under five miles will increase to an average of 9.73 days. The record all-time high for the month of May is 104 degrees while the record low is +30 degrees.

Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, officially opened one of two new learning centers at Reese in the 3501st Pilot Training Squadron April 28.

The learning centers introduce audio-visual educational methods to the Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) program. The center in the 3501st PTS consists of 15 study carrels. Each carrel is equipped with two rear-screen projectors, one accepting super 8mm sound film cassettes and the other accepting carousel-type slide trays.

The carrels are used by individual student pilots to view programs of in-flight and pre-flight situations. The center will be open during and after duty hours, and the study cassettes will be available for checking out by the pilots in training.

OTS opportunities available for airmen

HQ. ATC — The Air Force is planning to increase the minority strength figure of the total active officer force.

To assist, a production quota of 160 has been set for fiscal year 1973 First Term Airman Commissioning Program (ACP). Also, the Air Force Human Resources Laboratory (AFHRL) will conduct a rigorous evaluation of Air Force Officer Qualification Test (AFOQT) use in the zero draft environment and confirm the test validity for applicants with varying cultural backgrounds.

The test will be administered to trainees after they enter Officer Training School (OTS). Results of the test will not be a basis for elimination from OTS. Instead, they will be used by AFHRL to evaluate the AFOQT. In order for the test to be fully effective, equal representation from minority and non-minority groups is necessary.

First-term airmen interested in applying for the program should contact their consolidated base personnel offices for additional information and application procedures. Applicants must meet criteria in AFR 53-27.

The following exceptions to AFR 53-27 apply:

- * Must be a first-term airman.
- * Must have 12 months on active duty at the time of application.
- * Commander's recommendation is required for all applicants.
- * The AFOQT will not be administered at the time of application. AFOQT scores, for those individuals who may have been administered the test, will not be typed on the application (AF Form 56).
- * Must complete AF Form 2030 or 2031, "Air Force Drug Abuse Certificate" or "Drug Abuse Circumstances," as required by AFR 30-19, "Illegal or Improper Use of Drugs."
- * Applicants will not be required to complete a physical examination. Those individuals selected for ACP will be required to complete a physical examination and be certified as physically qualified for a commission, prior to entering OTS.
- * Block 5 of AF Form 56 (Selective Service number) will indicate the applicant's race.

The expanded eligibility prerequisites that have been established for the FY 73 program will provide a much greater opportunity for first-term airmen with college degrees to attain commissioned status, Air Force officials pointed out.

Selections will be made by a board of officers, using the whole man concept. Primary emphasis will be placed on officer potential, as reflected in educational qualifications and especially on the degree of effectiveness demonstrated by the applicant during his military service.

Base captures retention lead despite March dip in re-ups

First term reenlistment statistics through March of fiscal year 72 reveal Reese AFB holding the number one slot in Air Training Command, with ATC leading all other major commands.

Through the month of March, Reese had 108 first-termers to reenlist out of a possible 177 for a 61 per cent total. That compares to a 46.2 per cent average reenlistment rate for the Command.

The reenlistment rate of first airmen dropped slightly however, during the month of March with Reese posting a 48.1 per cent rate as compared to 40.6 per cent for the Command. The decline was attributed largely to the introduction of the new Palace Chase program wherein certain airmen are allowed to transfer from active duty into Reserve and National Guard units, according to local reenlistment officials.

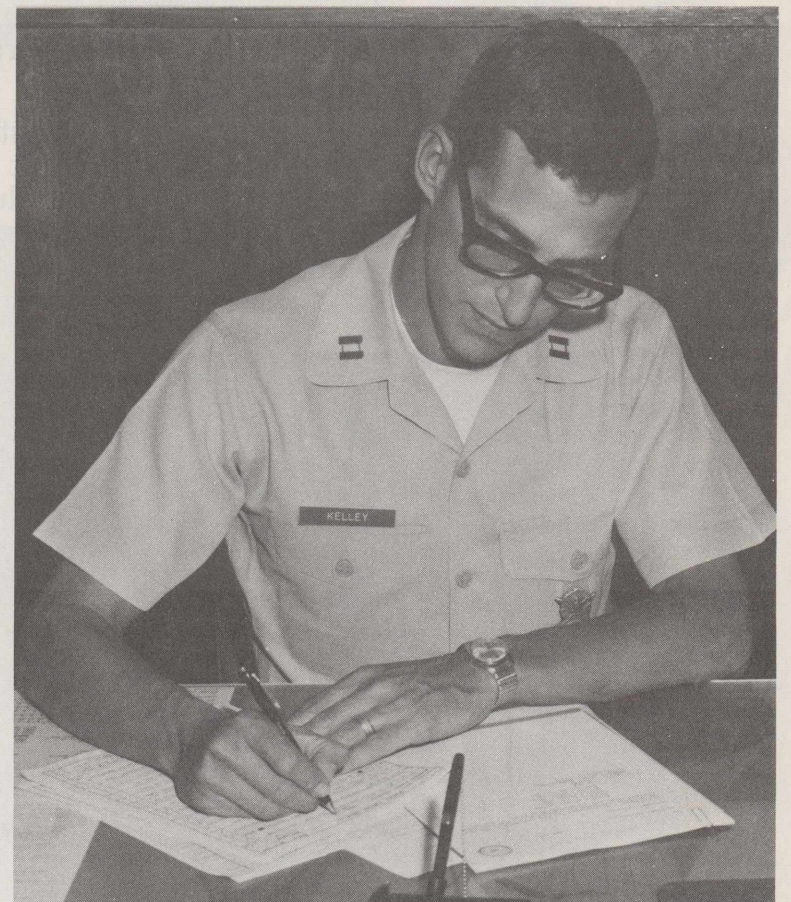

MARS station ready for use

There is a little known and sparsely used commodity at Reese that is available to all personnel and is as near as the telephone.

The Reese MARS Station, under the direction of the 2053rd Communications Squadron, is provided for the use of Reesites for such things as sending birthday greetings, holiday wishes and requesting money. The station also has phone-patching capabilities, which at the present time are limited as to distance, but in the near future are expected to be able to cover the complete CONUS.

Anyone seeking further information about the Reese MARS Station should visit bldg. 3010 or phone ext. 2638.

TOP COP—Capt. Dennis S. Kelley has been named the new chief of the Security Police Division at Reese AFB. Captain Kelley comes to Reese from Phan Rang Air Base, Vietnam, where he was named the 1971 Outstanding Junior Officer of the Year and went on to take part in the highly competitive PACAF Junior Officer of the Year contest. Airman advisors develop proposals at conference

HQ. ATC— ATC's senior airman advisors developed 26 recommendations during their five-day conference which ended April 7 at Keesler AFB, Miss.

Items such as extension of the scope of the anti-discrimination regulation to prohibit discrimination based on marital status, to a redesign of the utility cap, have been forwarded to Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, ATC commander. The marital status recommendation covers quarters allowances and related areas.

During the working sessions and briefings, the senior airman advisors from each ATC base and top NCOs from ATC headquarters considered 67 proposals relating to policies which primarily affected the total enlisted force.

CMSgt. Thomas N. Barnes, ATC senior airman advisor, summed up the week's accomplishments by saying, "We feel we produced a quality product which after appropriate staffing will someday benefit all of you or your successors."

Sergeant Barnes said the purpose was to produce recommendations which "will enhance and improve conditions for Air Force personnel not only in ATC, but Air Force-wide.

General Simler addressed the group as "fellow NCOs," mentioning that he had served as an enlisted man prior to becoming an officer. He lauded the work of Sergeant Barnes as ATC's top airman, saying, "he's a great representative of all of you."

He said senior airman advisors had been chosen because they "will stand up and be counted. Everywhere I go in this command your commanders praise the senior airmen, and I know you deserve their confidence."

The general also discussed ATC and its recent accomplishments. Talking of a "new spirit and sense of pride in ATC," he said, "I'm convinced this is a hard-driving command — proud of what it's doing. You NCOs have put us out front."

Maj. Gen. Frank M. Madsen, commander of the Keesler Technical Training Center said, "This conference and many like it are illustrative of the progress the Air Force has made since 1947."

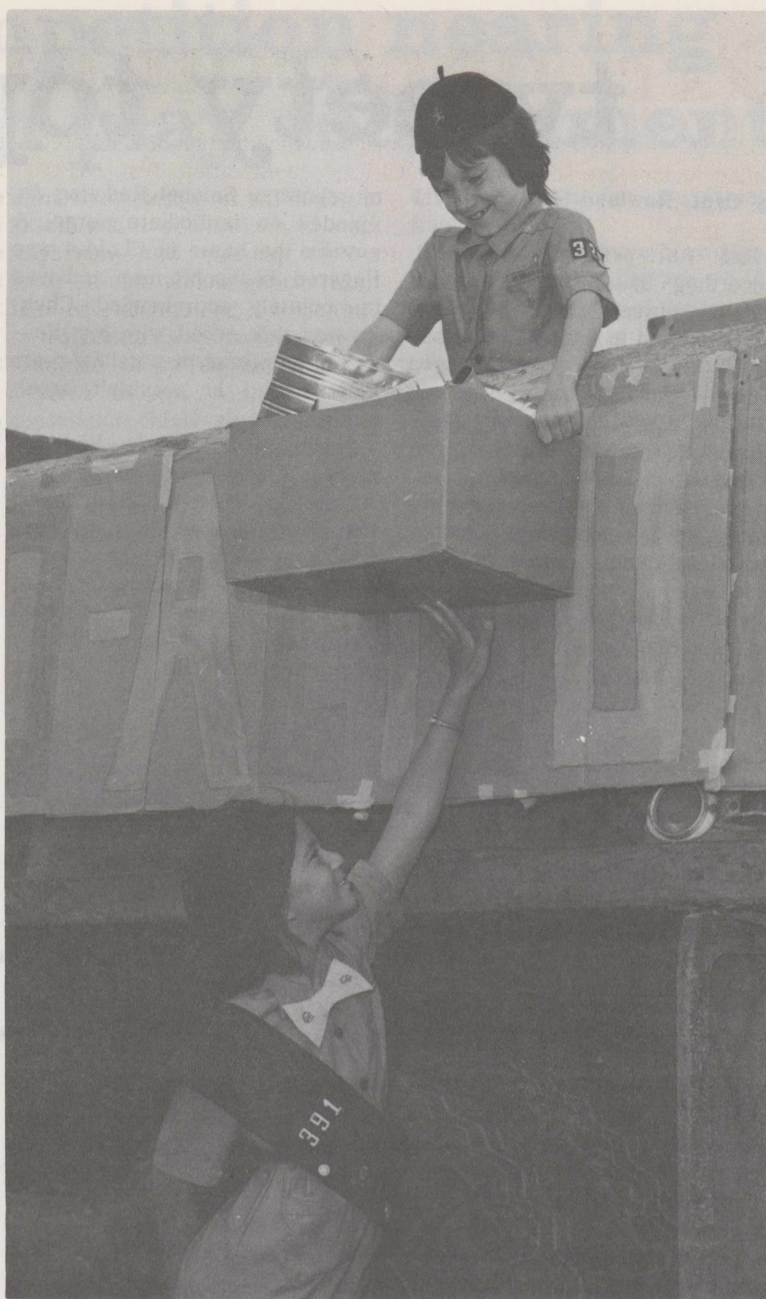

The conferees also heard Maj. Gen. John Murphy, ATC vice commander, at a luncheon.

Recycling drive staged at base

Members of the Ecology Action Group at Reese participated in a recycling drive Saturday near the base commissary.

Another activity of the U-can Project, a truck was parked across the street from the base commissary parking lot for the deposit of metal. Local Girl Scout and Brownie troops aided in the collection and deposition of cans and other metal containers. The drive was held from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. with the truck being nearly full by the end of the day.

Members of the Ecology Action Group remind Reesites that there will be numerous other recycling drives in the future. Quoting a letter recently published in the Roundup, "Don't throw away your future, recycle it."

ECOLOGY DRIVE—Two members of Reese's Scouting organization for girls help out in the ecology drive held here at the base Saturday by loading a box of empty cans aboard the collection truck. tweety topics

By Capt. Rowland H. Worrell III

Rat! Rat! Who's got the rat! According to one of my most reliable sources, quite an inquisition was held in the squadron last week.

Seems that our squadron commander, Lt. Col. Kyle C. Redwine, was startled one morning when he heard strange noises coming from his desk drawer. Upon closer inspection, Colonel Redwine found himself face to face with a vicious man-eating mouse. However, thanks to Colonel Redwine's previous Karate training (especially the part when he learned to make those masculine screams), he was able to gain a slight edge in the ensuing hand-to-hand combat action; thus finally causing his attacker to flee.

Convinced that this was an act of sabotage, Colonel Redwine demanded an immediate purge. A guy by the name of Chubits was fingered as the hit man and was immediately apprehended. Chubits was threatened with his life—and even worse, a possible court martial, but he wouldn't break and confess.

Since no one could find the mouse, Chubits was released on a "corpus delicti" legality question. Now, as has been the case with almost every big hood to get away, Chubits is suing for false arrest. As of press time, Colonel Redwine was not available for comment. However, this writer believes that in finality the real question is, "Who's the rat who put the mouse in the CO's desk?"

I wish the best of luck to Class 73-03 with the "fast pants" program. Bungling and Dog Flights just wish that they would all leave. Anyway, welcome Class 73-06 to the Good Guys Squadron. I'm sure that you will enjoy it. That's an order.

Question: What could be more embarrassing than entering the wrong way with a student on his very first ride? Answer: Ask Chip!

Finally, a tip of the hat to 2nd Lt. Scott Cline of Class 73-04 who masterfully handled a weather recall by calmly exiting his area and immediately returning to Reese for a full stop, high crosswind landing. Scott only made one mistake. Seems that it was Webb tower that made the weather recall transmission. As I always say, "It's better to be on the ground wishing I was in the air, then to be in the air wishing I was on the ground." Right, Scott?

talon talk

By Capt. James R. Nuber

Greetings fellow aviators from the Nubs! I have just taken over as the '00th's Information Officer, replacing Capt. Henry T. Johnson.

Filling the "old pros" shoes will be a challenge and I shall try not to let you down. We all want to wish Henry the best of luck in the T(F)-41. We hope that he'll occasionally do us the "honor" of being a guest IP with those of us still in the trenches.

It looks as though Lt. Col. Fred Luke and his "white neck" group have departed our halls for a few weeks. Now we can all take a deep breath, relax for a few days and then get ready for the "Big Boys" from ATC. We wish to thank Beav, Fryjack, Rusty and the rest of the Eval for using such a fine toothed comb. It uncovered a few snags that can be taken care of, and with a little hard work by all, we should come up with our usual high rating from ATC.

We see that Check Section has had some shuffling with Capt. Tom Ward joining the ranks of E Flight. Capt. Mike Voss has gone to help Capt. Al Heers at scheduling and dispatcher duties. There are some rumors from that end of the hall that Capt. Al Schall almost departed the ranks of bachelorhood, but there was some question as to her father's offer! Humm?

I'm beginning to wonder if the IP's in the squadron have been devoting all their time to turning out new pilots. If you'll count the births lately, we look like "Fertility Flats." Bob and Kathy Nelson of "G" flight are the proud parents of a girl, Stephanie Dyan, born April 23. There is another little taildragger, Fred Jr. in Fred and Susan Kishlers home. Fred Jr. was born April 27. Jim and Sue Rush, of Check Section, had a bouncing baby girl, Kerri Lynn, born April 22.

Each flight had its own little problems during the past Eval, but we understand that the Charlie Flight's mobile briefings were a little unusual. The question is Capt. Taylor, did your dog digest the keys??

Rattlers win one, drop three

In softball action for the weekend of April 29, the Reese Rattlers won the first game but fell consecutively in the next three games to Webb AFB, Tex.

Charley Vines led the pitching attack against Webb leading Reese to an 11-9 victory. In the second game, Danny Benson led the way keeping Reese on top, 3-2, until an injury forced him out of the game. Charley Vines returned to the action but could not stop the opposition, and finally Webb came out on top, 4-3.

The third game saw Charley Vines again on the short end of a 14-8 ballgame. Danny Benson came back to the lineup for the fourth game but could not overcome Webb's hitting attack and finally yielded to a score of 7-2.

Leading hitters for Reese were: Charley Vines, 9-16; Ralph Bauer, 7-13; Larry Anthony, 6-12 and Burt Fite, 5-12. Tomorrow, the Rattlers travel to Dyess AFB, Tex., for a three-game series.

The base gym reminds Reesites that intramural softball officials are needed for this season. Interested persons should contact the gym at ext. 2207.

Final competition nearing in match play tournament

Four Reesites have emerged victorious after the second round of the 1972 Reese AFB Match Play Golf Tournament and one other winner has been announced in the third round of play.

In the second round Charles Thrash defeated Brian Prigmore and George Holland stopped Joe Reiner to move on to the third round action. Jim Smith won over Walt Jones to move on and Robert Schubert completed the round showing a win over Jim Nickel to sum up the results of that round and to open competition in the third round of the tournament which began April 29.

As of Tuesday, only one match had been logged in the third round. Robert Schubert has proved himself worthy to advance to the championship round by defeating Jim Smith. The other matchup for the third round shows Charles Thrash against George Holland to vie for the top spot and the prize money. The third round is slated to finish up today and the final round will start tomorrow with the tournament winner announced by May 12.

In consolation bracket action for their second round, Bill Walsh assured himself a spot in the consolation finals against Robert Arlof who achieved his spot by defeating Frank Wilson.

The finals in the consolation bracket will be announced simultaneously with the tournament finals.

Full handicaps have been given to the players, limited to 27 strokes. At the start of the tournament, there were 16 players competing for cash prizes which are determined by the total entry fees, with 60 per cent going to the winners, 25 per cent going to the runners-up and the remaining 15 per cent going to the winners of the consolation bracket.

Interbase play set tomorrow

The Mathis Recreation Center has entered into a pilot program of interbase competition in four recreational areas on a home-and-away-basis with the first competitions scheduled tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the Center.

Tomorrow's competition will be against Cannon AFB, N.M. with four pool players, four table tennis players, two chess players and 16 pinochle players from each base participating. Trophies will be presented to first place winners in each event.

Points will be given for 1st, 2nd and 3rd places with the base gathering the most number of points being awarded a trophy.

Other bases being considered in the competitions are Sheppard AFB, Webb AFB and Dyess AFB, all in Texas. Contestants travel to these bases at their own expense to compete and, in most cases, return to Reese the same day.

Clothing drive staged to aid needy families

The Reese Mexican-American Club expressed its thanks to all Reese personnel who contributed to their clothing drive held in Reese Village April 29. The 2½-ton truck used to carry the clothing articles was completely filled, and the drive considered a great success by the Mexican-American Club.

The Mexican-American Club is sponsoring a Spanish Night Dance tomorrow night at the NCO Open Mess with Mexican food being served from 6 to 9 p.m. in the dining room. Music will be provided by Pete Morales of Lubbock.

Also, the club has challenged the Tertulianos, a Chicano club at Texas Tech University, to a football game scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m. Sunday at Chapman Field, located on Avenue W at 23rd Street in Lubbock. Admission to the game will be 50 cents with the money going toward the scholarships sponsored by the Mexican-American Club. Those seeking further information about the game or desiring tickets may contact SSgt. Raul Sanchez at 885-4571, ext. 218.

AFA memberships offered

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — The Air Force Association is awarding complimentary one-year memberships to all Air Force second lieutenants who have been or will be commissioned during 1972. A similar membership award program also is offered to 1972 graduates of noncommissioned officers academies.

The membership, part of the association's commemoration of the 25th Anniversary of the Air Force, includes all Air Force Academy graduates, Officer Training School graduates and persons completing Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps requirements.

In announcing the complimentary membership program, Martin M. Ostrow, AFA president said that the offer is voluntary and is not automatic. Each eligible recipient will be asked to fill out a special application form. "We feel that no one should become a member of AFA unless he truly wishes to do so, even on a complimentary basis," Mr. Ostrow said.

Eligible recipients who already belong to the AFA will have their memberships extended for one year. Any eligible second lieutenant or NCO who does not receive an application through his school or unit may obtain one by writing to:
