

MacFarlane is Senior NCO of Quarter

MSgt. Donald A. MacFarlane, NCOIC of the Wing Personal Equipment Section, has been named Outstanding Senior NCO of the Quarter for the period of April through June, 1973.

Sergeant MacFarlane is responsible for providing and maintaining personal and protective equipment to all flying personnel assigned to Reese. He supervises nine enlisted and civilian personal equipment technicians, coordinates with the flying squadrons to determine equipment and service requirements, prepares and manages a $35,000 operating budget, and supports both the Wing Life Support and the Physiological Training Units.

According to Capt. Robert J. Soberg, chief of the Flight Management Branch, Sergeant MacFarlane has "improved the quality of both the equipment and services in spite of severe budget limitations, equipment shortages, and continually increasing workload demands on an extremely limited-experience work force."

To deal with these limitations, the sergeant has implemented several cost and equipment-saving measures. He devised a method for rebuilding flight helmets for re-use. A "survival belt", currently receiving favorable comment at Headquarters ATC, was designed and produced by him. This new belt gives pilots additional first-aid gear and the ability to communicate with a rescue team.

Additional Duty

Sergeant MacFarlane is additionally assigned as Explosives Safety NCO for Operations. In this capacity, along with monthly inspections and discrepancy follow-ups, he designed an Explosives Safety Guide Book for Operations agencies to use in their explosives safety program.

College Training

He has completed one and one-half years of college credit toward a management/business administration degree, and is currently attending courses for four more credit hours toward that goal. His activities in the community include coaching Reese's youth basketball and football teams.

Captain Soberg concluded his praise of Sergeant MacFarlane by saying his "abilities and performance surely exemplify those desired of a senior NCO in today's quality Air Force. His personal appearance, demeanor, and attitude serve as standards by which his peers and subordinates can proudly be guided."

Sgt. Howard C. Gibbs

NCO of Quarter honors go to Sergeant Gibbs

Sgt. Howard C. Gibbs, NCOIC of Installation Entry Control Section of the Security Police Division, has been named Outstanding NCO of the Quarter for April through June, 1973.

Familiar Face

Sergeant Gibbs, who may be seen every morning admitting personnel to the base from his post at the main gate, has implemented new procedures which "insure the most effective, efficient and timely processing of visitors and newly-assigned personnel to Reese", according to Capt. Dennis S. Kelley, chief of Security Police.

The captain continued his praise of Sergeant Gibbs. "He personally devised, implemented and trained personnel assigned to Entry Control in new procedures which have resulted in achieving higher proficiency standards for assigned Security Police personnel.

Ability to Cope

"Applying his management skills to the problems of each concept, he was instrumental in achieving results that are above the required prerequisites. This is reflected by the numerous compliments received from high-ranking civilian and military personnel regarding the efficiency, appearance, bearing, conduct and professionalism displayed by airmen who have been trained by Sergeant Gibbs, as well as Sergeant Gibbs himself."

When he was an airman first class, Sergeant Gibbs was awarded the honor of Wing Airman of the Month for March, 1973. According to Captain Kelley, he "continually displays the qualities which resulted in this award. He willingly accepts all the responsibilities of an NCO, and is always striving to improve his already outstanding performance. He is one of the most outstanding Security Police NCOs I have had the pleasure of having in my command."

College Courses

Sergeant Gibbs has accumulated 60 semester hours through the participation in courses offered by South Plains College, enroute to a hopeful Airman Education and Commissioning Program (AECM) appointment.

frame of reference

"If you are continually challenged . . . you may be working with some hazy . . . hypotheses"

By Capt. Joe W. Nix
Chief, Central Base Administration

If you are a senior supervisor you may have been asking yourself some of the following questions lately. Where are all the workers? Why does it take so long to get something done? I only wanted the grass mowed, so why does it take my staff two days to get it done? Why are there so many chiefs and so few Indians? If you are continually challenged with these questions you may be working with some hazy management hypotheses.

Have you mentally examined your personnel management theories lately? Do they apply to the modern day Air Force? Have you adjusted to the changing times? A look at some of these hazy hypotheses may help you answer some of the questions we have posed.

Hazy Hypothesis #1. Senior supervisors are better educated and therefore know what is best. Anyone dealing with their staff later has seen that the lower ranking individual, in many cases, is better educated and more current than the supervisor. The recruiting input for several years has provided more high school and college grads than ever before. Many airmen have more education and training than their supervisors and therefore will not accept the hypothesis above. They will spend more time mentally objecting to menial tasks than it would take to do the job.

Hazy Hypothesis #2. I have more years service and experience and therefore have the best answers. This hypothesis is similar to #1, and as all of us are regularly reminded, is not correct. Many times the younger individual has a worthwhile idea for consideration. Just as important is the fact that the young airman today has different views and will not always accept your decisions without questions, especially if his ideas are not objectively reviewed and considered. He no longer stands in reverence to rank and position. If his opinions are not heard, he will "go slow" in implementing your policies.

Hazy Hypothesis #3. He will have to do it my way or he will suffer the consequences. The new rules of the game, whether written or unwritten, make this approach more difficult each day. A supervisor using this concept either directly or implied, will soon evoke a confrontation with his workers. The airmen accept the concept of confrontation as a legitimate tool more easily than many of us do. In a confrontation, time and service is lost regardless of who wins.

Hazy Hypothesis #4. The worker today must have the same values and goals as I do to guide his actions. This broad hypothesis could easily be divided into several since it treads into the area of the philosophy gap between generations. That a gap exists must first be accepted if one is to succeed. More important, one must be aware of the rate or acceleration of the width of this gap. It could be viewed as a geometric progression instead of arithmetical as we would like it to be.

A few specifics may help clarify this hypothesis. One difficult difference for many to accept is that of the position employment holds for youth. Many of us commonly feel that keeping our job is all important. We need money coming in to maintain our standard of living and therefore succumb to management pressures of all types to do so. The younger individual rejects this value and insists on job satisfaction and personal accomplishment as prime values. He has not experienced difficult times financially and takes the position that he is entitled to certain basic requirements even if he doesn't keep his job. Therefore, job security may not work as a motivating force.

The same concepts can be applied to other values, such as dedication to duty and loyalty to the Air Force. Many young officers and airmen do not agree with unwavering loyalty regardless of objectives. They will not support positions or policies established unless they understand and agree with the underlying goals. They challenge our integrity and objectives both openly and subconsciously and do not aggressively act to support requests to get things done. What are your goals? If you are currently a supervisor you probably are planning for retirement income, a home, college for your children. But all do not plan for these goals and many do not accept them as valid so they are not motivated by these needs.

It should be obvious that to get a job accomplished, the supervisor and worker must have some degree of agreement on the need and importance of the requirement. The supervisor today may not agree with all that I have said, but if he holds some of the hypotheses that I have challenged, then he should at least review the basic personal rules that form the guidelines for his daily management decisions and relationships with his people. He should consider that their values and goals are different and make decisions with their position in mind also. A hazy hypothesis can give rise to ineffective management decisions and policies and therefore stifle mission accomplishment.

Accident facts tell alcohol—driving story

By Col. Robert E. Tinney
5507th Recruiting Group
Lowry AFB, Colo.

Alcohol is a factor in the majority of Air Force private motor vehicle fatalities. A look at the last five years of Air Force traffic accident experience tells the story.

*From 6 a.m. to 1 p.m., Air Force drivers are rather temperate individuals. Statistics show only negligible percentages in alcohol/accident association from sunrise to one hour past noon. Then, from 2 p.m. to 6 p.m., only four per cent of our Air Force traffic accidents involve alcohol.

However, by 7 p.m. the wolf instinct begins to arise and the few-beers-after-work boys are heading for home or the local hunting grounds. Alcohol involvement triples in the next two hours and then triples again by midnight.

*After the witching hour and until 5 a.m., 60 per cent of the Air Force private motor vehicle fatalities have alcohol as a prime contributing factor.

*There is a drop in percentages from 1 to 2 a.m. Conclusions on this phenomenon are that bars generally close at midnight or 2 a.m. Hence, the hour between 1 and 2 a.m. would find most of the potential traffic accident victims at the bar rather than behind the wheel. It is a matter of exposure rather than a lessening of consumption.

An odd fact is that these hourly percentages do not vary significantly from day to day. An hourly profile of alcohol associated traffic fatalities for any work day closely coincides with the alcohol accidents for a Friday, Saturday or Sunday. There is a significant peak covering the period from 2 to 2:59 a.m. — this is the most deadly hour of the day for Air Force drivers.

We might conclude that the Air Force driver is a nocturnal creature whose thirst during the hours of darkness oftentimes proves to be fatal. (ATCPS)

How to tell if you have got a venereal disease

So you think you may have VD! You're not sure! Well, it's easy enough to find out and it's very important that you do. For you to realize how important, you must know something about VD.

The name, venereal disease, means disease transmitted through sexual intercourse. The two most common venereal diseases are syphilis and gonorrhea.

Gonorrhea in the male is usually easily diagnosed. Within three to 10 days of exposure to the disease, a man will have a burning in his urinary tract, often accompanied by discharge of pus. The pain will persist until treatment is obtained. In a few cases, men may not experience these symptoms. They should seek medical consultation if they have casual sexual contact to make sure they do not have VD.

Gonorrhea may cause arthritis, blindness, heart disease, or sterility. Women with gonorrhea may infect the eyes of their newborn children.

The symptoms of syphilis may go unnoticed—if they appear at all. The first symptom is usually a small sore, called a chancre (shan'ker) which appears at the spot where the germ entered the body, usually the genitals, within 10 days to three months of contact. A slight rash and fever may develop later. These signs may disappear but the disease does not—and it's a killer. It can cause brain damage, crippling and death.

If you suspect you have contracted either disease, or had contact with someone who had either disease, see your doctor immediately. Penicillin and other antibiotics provide very effective treatment. (AFNS)

letters

Dear Colonel Baxter,

I live in the base trailer park and am writing in reference to your letter of July 12 regarding the status of the park. Specifically, I would like to comment on your explanation for the cancellation of plans for the new park.

I believe I can speak for many of the residents when I say that while losing the present park facilities (the rare shade trees, generous lot sizes and excellent rental rates) means quite a drop in quality compared to trailer parks downtown. If one considers the additional convenience and economy of having the BX, commissary and recreational facilities; living off-base becomes even more expensive.

In your letter you stated that funds allocated for the new park were not adequate to meet required standards. Would it be possible to construct a smaller park to these standards now and expand as more funds become available? Another suggestion is that the residents and potential residents could donate some of their time and labor for the construction of a new park. I understand much of the original park was built this way. Why has this offer been rejected?

If, as is most probable, the present park must be closed, I would hope you would re-examine the means by which a new one could be built.

Sincerely,
SSgt. Edgar M. Matteson

Commander's CARE Line

Editor's note: The Roundup will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest.

Sir,

Why is there a programmed increase of 20 percent in flying hours with the number of students per class decreasing.

Anonymous

First of all you've got the wrong poop. The number of students is not decreasing, new classes will be 8 percent larger on entry than last year's classes. Second, to accommodate the larger classes and a change in the training (we've increased the jet hours a student receives by 17.5 hours), the T-37 will have to fly 10 percent more than in the past and the T-38 program will go up by 25 percent.

Col. Walter H. Baxter III
Wing Commander

Sir,

We were wondering if there was any possibility of having the base pool opened during lunch hour. Quite a few of us would like to use it during the break from noon until 12:45. Thank you.

Anonymous

The two pools are utilized each week by students for water survival training from 9 a.m. until noon each day. Immediately after is the youth swimming class every Tuesday through Friday from noon until 1 p.m. at the pool adjacent to the base gym and Monday at the Officers Open Mess Pool. The gym pool is closed Monday. The officers' pool is closed Tuesday but will open at noon Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays for officers and enlisted personnel who wish to swim during their lunch hour.

Col. Walter H. Baxter III
Wing Commander

Sergeant Matteson,

Thanks for the letter—here's the poop—straight from the Engineers.

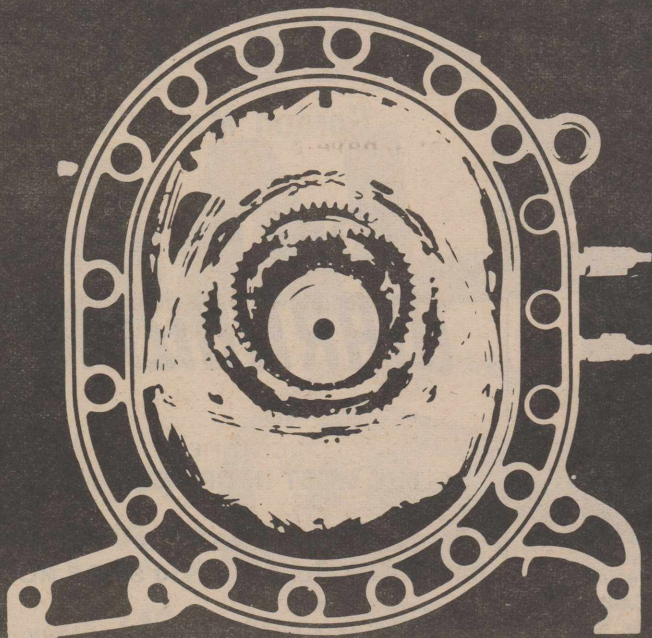

The reason it is not possible to construct a smaller park with available funds is that funds are allocated on the basis of a certain amount per each trailer space to be constructed. This fixed cost per unit precludes adoption of your suggestion.

Even though many residents would be willing to contribute their time to build a new park, this would be impractical. We do not have the in-house resources in terms of funds, manpower or equipment to accomplish the work notwithstanding the help of residents and potential residents. Construction of a park requires specialized skills as well as many thousands of man-hours. To construct a sub-standard park with available materials would be unacceptable and unfair to our people.

Recently, Civil Engineering personnel from Air Training Command headquarters conducted a survey of local trailer park facilities. Their survey indicated availability of adequate parks at reasonable fees. Even though I recognize the convenience of living on base, I must also recognize the long-term impact of allowing the construction of a new but substandard trailer park facility.

Col. Walter H. Baxter III
Wing Commander

VRB installment payments now available in lump sums

Any enlisted member at Reese who will be entitled to payment of his annual Variable Reenlistment Bonus (VRB) installment during the period of July 1, 1973 through June 30, 1974 may receive the installment immediately, according to TSgt. Darrell E. La Montagne, chief of Career Information and Counseling Section.

Effective July 1, 1973, lump sum VRB payments are authorized for all first-term airmen re-enlisting for four or six years. To qualify, the first-term airman must be serving in the grade of sergeant or higher, have completed three years continuous active service, and have his squadron commander's approval to reenlist.

As an example, a sergeant (E-4) over three years of service, serving in a VRB "multiple 2" field will, upon a four-year reenlistment, after taxes, receive $3,965.76 in lump sum payment. The same sergeant, upon a six-year reenlistment, would receive a $4,800 lump sum payment after taxes.

All questions concerning bonus entitlements, whether for the VRB or for non-VRB entitlements, should be directed to Sergeant La Montagne, extensions 2714, 2672, or 2158. Personnel desiring more information may also visit him in Room 1 of the Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO).

Sergeant La Montagne added, "There is no obligation or commitment involved in getting the current facts on what your entitlements are. We all owe that much to ourselves and to our families; it costs us nothing."

Berl's wife, Bessie, bought old Berl a water bed, for "Love Purposes." "She couldn't fool me, I'm to ignorant" Berl said. So Berl just stocked it with rainbow trout, since he had the fishing fever anyway.

Berl was in a bar last night. He asked the fellow on the stool next to him what he did for a living. The fellow replied, "I'm a magician." Berl asked him what kind of miracles he could perform. The magician told him that he could find East 19th Street, and turn "into" Berl's Place.

NCO wives revamp club, install officers, set dates

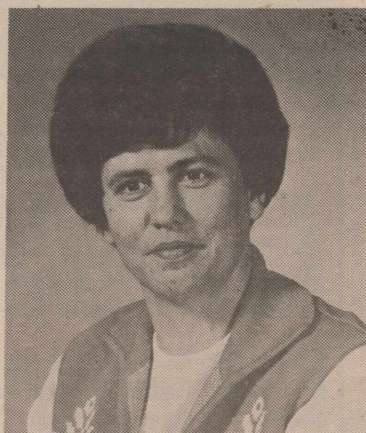

The Reese NCO Wives Club held their newly-elected officers installation July 20 at the NCO Open Mess.

Elected to her fourth term as president of the club was Mrs. Fred L. Schulz. Mrs. Joe Perez is the new vice president, Mrs. Troy Vaughn, recording secretary, Mrs. Karl Kiefer, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Charles Helm, Treasurer, and Mrs. Charles Perry, assistant treasurer.

Mrs. Fred L. Schulz

Mrs. Dan Gagnon was named parliamentarian. The club's board of governors includes Mrs. Herman Beasley, Mrs. B.W. McCandless, and Mrs. William Vanderbrink.

The Invocation and Prayer for Guidance for the new officers was given by Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Leonard D. Kelley, opening the meeting. The invocation was followed by a congratulatory speech given by Col. Frank B. McKenzie, Air Base Group commander.

The NCO Wives Club has announced that it will hold its business meetings on the second Tuesday of each month. The club invites "wives of all NCO Open Mess members to join us and help us enlarge our recently revamped club."

They also urge all members and prospective members to watch the Roundup for dates on events still in the planning stages, including a newcomers coffee, a car wash and a wig care demonstration.

Reese council joins with Lubbock OIC

"This project that the Reese Domestic Actions Council is working on with the Lubbock Opportunities Industrialization Center (OIC) is just on of the actions that is in its embryonic stage at the present time."

The comment came from 2nd Lt. Hollis E. Booker. He continued, "We'd like people to know that the Reese Council is taking positive steps toward fulfilling the Air Force Domestic Actions policy, to aid residents of the surrounding communities of its installations where they cannot help themselves, whether it be economically, socially or otherwise."

No Funds Expended

Lieutenant Booker, base equal opportunity officer, went on to add that no government funds may be given to the individuals concerned and nothing may be done to compromise the mission of the Air Force.

Lubbock OIC is a non-profit manpower training agency providing skills for those who have the initiative to move out of unemployed or underemployed status. Several skills are offered as well as high school diploma training. Many cases in the Lubbock area alone have shown the OIC successful in its endeavor to raise the living standard of otherwise deprived people.

Toured Yesterday

Yesterday, the team from Reese toured the Lubbock OIC

facility to decide where the Domestic Actions Council could be of assistance. The overall aim of the joint effort will be to provide the best possible training for persons being taken care of by the OIC.

The Council is headed by Lt. Col. Frederick W. Dederich and it was Lieutenant Booker's responsibility to get the drive going with the OIC. "Our first project is being conducted with the Army Reserve to sealcoat the parking lot for the OIC. The equipment is being provided from Reese and the manpower will be supplied by the Army," Lieutenant Booker added, "and the materials will be supplied from local donations."

"This tour gave us a chance to start working together with this very worthwhile function in Lubbock. From here we can see just what needs to be done and we'll do our best to fully support it", Lieutenant Booker concluded.

Girl Scout official reviews facts, advantages for members

By Dotti Howard

Join the Reese Girl Scouts this year and be among the largest organized group of girls in the United States.

There's lots of fun awaiting you and many fine skills to be learned to prepare you for the future. You will be informed about registration dates for both new and renewal memberships. Scouting can be fun for all involved, as evidenced by the six troops that Reese had last year.

Help make scouting at Reese a success by working together.

The first group of Girl Scouts was organized by Juliette Gordon Low March 12, 1912, Savannah, Ga. Scouting is the largest voluntary organization in the world open to girls seven to seventeen years of age.

Membership in the United States is over 3 million girls, including Brownies (age 7-8), Juniors (8-11), Cadettes (12-14), and Campus Girl Scouts, which are college girls serving their local area.

In addition, there are Troops on Foreign Soil (TOFS) who are U.S. citizens.

Many adults are needed at Reese to make scouting a success. Adults interested in participating as leaders, or in helping with any of our many projects throughout the year may call Dotti Howard, Reese troop organizer, at 885-4821 to volunteer or obtain further information.

Information service helps student pilots

A popular service at the Reese Family Services Center is the information file containing important facts for every student at Reese.

Upon graduation from undergraduate pilot training (UPT), a man can find information on his next base from the Family Services information file. Facts on nearly every Air Force Base in the world is on hand as well as facts about many Army and Navy installations.

These information files are available for loan on a three-day basis or they can be reviewed in the center's sitting room. Also available to both newcomers and oldtimers at Reese is a base information packet put out by the Family Services Welcoming Committee. This packet concerns information about many services and facilities at Reese along with their operating hours.

The center is open from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. each weekday. Persons may also reach the center by dialing ext. 2306.

talon talk

Author apologizes for lack of article

By Capt. Bugs Forsythe

I apologize, as it was my own fault that this article didn't appear last week. It seems that new jobs, leave and a busy schedule kept my pen idle on this weekly column. So the score now stands at Cotton Patch Advertisements, 2, Bugs' Bungles, 1.

Studs are once again walking around muttering about survival dates, travel time, and new Dash Ones as Class 74-01 chose their assignments. The 54th is glad to welcome 2nd Lieutenants Joost Van Bastallar, Sandy Lewis, Ken Rees and "Woj" Wojdyla into its ranks. Rumor has it that our football team will benefit from a couple of these troops.

Good Assignments

It's been a long time since we've seen some good assignments come down, but I guess if you live right you'll get your just reward. Anyway, Captains J.J. Manclark and Mike Voss aren't complaining too much, as they look forward to their F-4s at Ubon. They both admit they don't know anybody at Randolph. It was because of their Form 90s and that you merely get what you ask for in today's Air Force that they received their orders.

A few more new IPs have entered our squadron. Capt. Gene Beachem and his wife, Carol, and 1st Lt. Bill Steed and wife, Sally, have joined the ranks of Cargo Flight. Gene came from Peterson Field and the T-41 and Bill is a graduate of Reese Air Patch. The Elves welcome 1st Lt. Wayne Weyer and wife Rosalie to their flight.

Personnel Move

About the only shuffle in the squadron is booting me across the street to head up the P Qual Section. My vacancy as executive officer has not been filled as of this writing, but I'm sure there are bodies fighting for the position. One individual was heard to say he'd cut his wrist to get the job . . . or was it he'd cut his wrist if he got the job?

The Ol' Ace was rumbling through F Flight this week and wondered why 1st Lt. Bruce Crimin went DNIF on his first duty day after resting on a two-week honeymoon.

Congratulations to Capt. and Mrs. Bob Nelson on their new girl, Sarah Elizabeth, born Saturday.

If all goes well, next week's article may be edited by a famous guest writer. I am presently trying to talk a former Talon Talk editor to do a summer special, so stand by for a BIGGY next week.

 The new Marina has rack and pinion steering like the Jaguar's, the race-toughened engine of an MGB, a rugged transmission and disc brakes like the Triumph's and the same parentage as the tough Land Rover. A test drive is quite an experience. Because the Marina is quite a car!

64th Student Squadron takes golf championship

The 64th Student Squadron made a surprise comeback to take first place at the end of the Intramural Golf League season at Reese, 115-113½.

The 2053rd Communications Squadron dominated the league standings for weeks, making themselves the natural favorites for the season crown. The 64th Student Squadron made a big power effort in the last two weeks to earn 27½ of 28 possible points to move from a rather far-removed second place slot to be league champions by 1½ points.

Four of five outstanding rounds shot by the intramural linksmen this week were logged by members of the 64th Student Squadron team. An almost perfect match was essential to the Student Squadron team and they muscled it out, defeating the Detachment 11, 24th Weather Squadron team 13½-2.

Other end-of-season action this week saw the Management Engineering Detachment (MOM) team benefitting from a forfeit by the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron and the Reese USAF Hospital also cashed in on a forfeit by the 54th Flying Training Squadron.

The standings for the 1973 Intramural Golf League are as follows:

Team	Points
64th Student Squadron	115
Comm Squadron	113½
Hospital	97
35th Flying Training Squadron	78½
MOM	76½
64th Supply Squadron	69½
Weather Detachment	62½
64th Air Base Group	61
64th OMS	51
54th FTS	48½

Jim Nickel of the Student

Squadron turned in the best round at 74. Bill Willis and Mike Shelton, also of the Student Squad, logged 77 and 81, respectively. Steve Blatton of the Weather Detachment shot an 85 and Jim Finley fired an 86 on top of the slate for the Student Squadron.

BROKEN PUTTER—Col. Walter H. Baxter III, wing commander, eases one into the cup on the putting green just prior to teeing off in the Broken Putter Golf Tournament Tuesday at the Lubbock Country Club. Looking on with awe is Jack Alderson of Lubbock. Ten golfers from Reese were challenged by members of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Armed Services Committee as well as other dignitaries from Lubbock. The Reese team walked with its second straight victory in the tourney, copping the match play total 26-4. The Reese golfers were also treated to a special banquet following the match at the club. Colonel Baxter was presented with the Broken Putter Trophy for the tourney, a Reese-Lubbock community relations affair. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Terry L. Crooks)

Film covers alcoholism treatment

Air Force Now #46, to be shown at all Commander's Calls during August, is devoted entirely to the USAF Alcohol Rehabilitation Program.

Air Force policy on the subject of alcoholism is that the use of alcohol should not be allowed to detract from an individual's conduct, work performance or health. If a blue-suiter fails to maintain standards set by the Air Force because of alcohol abuse, administrative or disciplinary action could be taken against him, particularly if he doesn't seek help now available to him.

The film details one aspect of help available to those with an alcohol problem—the eight USAF Alcohol Treatment Centers. They were formed to assist those persons who have a problem with alcohol abuse before their performance is impaired.

New base theater readies for opening

The grand opening of the new base theater will be held in August with a host of special guests and a special film presentation.

The new movie musical, "Tom Sawyer" will be aired at Reese for a showing at the opening. The film stars Johnny Whitaker, a veteran actor of over 3/4 of his life and the fourth actor to portray the legendary character of "Tom Sawyer".

Angel Tompkins, a leading Hollywood starlet, will be on hand for the ribbon-cutting ceremony along with Lt. Gen. Duward L.

Crow who is Comptroller of the Air Force. General Crow is also the chairman of the board for the Army and Air Force Exchange Service (AAFES) Motion Picture Service. Several other dignitaries are also scheduled to be on hand for the grand opening. No other names have been released by Special Services officials at this time.

Complete details on the naming of the theater will be released in next week's Roundup along with the names of other distinguished guests to be on hand.

Reese's Murio takes all-AF tennis crown while undefeated

The Air Training Command team of Bob Murio from Reese and Brian Cheney went undefeated in the Air Force Tennis Championship to give ATC the top spot for the inter-command sport.

Their first victory in the men's doubles competition kept the team from AFLC on the defensive all night, but to no avail as they swept it, 6-1, 6-2. The win came after the AFLC team had silenced all opponents on the way to challenging the ATC dynamic duo.

For the men's doubles, ATC took first place with 25 points.

Second position went to TAC with 23 points, third to UNICOM with 22 points, fourth spot to SAC with 21 points and AFLC and AFSC tied for fifth place with 15 points apiece.

From here it is projected that Murio's team will advance to inter-service competition.

Cub Scouts to hold Bicycle Rodeo

Reese Cub Scout Pack 548 will hold a Bicycle Rodeo at 4 p.m. tomorrow to promote bicycle safety within the pack, according to SSgt. Martin Johnson, cubmaster.

An officer from the Lubbock Police Department is scheduled to kick off the program at bldg. T-100 with a film and a talk about bicycles safety and control.

After the presentation, the pack will hold a bicycle obstacle course in the T-100 parking lot. The rodeo will be concluded with a parent-monitored bike caravan around the base proper. The purpose of the caravan, according to Sergeant Johnson, will be for the cubs' parents to observe how they handle their bikes on the street. Prizes will be awarded to the cubs who best demonstrate how to safely ride a bicycle.

Cub Scout officials have announced that a new cubmaster will have to be selected by Sept. 30. Candidates should soon make themselves known.

Mexican-American Club sets softball team tryouts

The Reese Mexican-American Club will again field a softball team this season, with an organizational practice set for 11 a.m. tomorrow at the softball field adjacent to the Officers Open Mess.

TSgt. Raul Sanchez, coach, announced the practice for the purpose of recruiting players for all positions. He announced that all games will be played on Sundays on base and in neighboring towns.

The woods are lovely, dark and deep.
But I have promises to keep,
And miles to go before I sleep.

Robert Frost

The men who created Holly Lake Ranch let Nature have her way by building this second-home community with the land... not on the land. Their uncanny dream of this wonderland stirred promises that have since been kept... a living panorama of proven promises... golfing, tennis, swimming, sailing, fishing, canoeing, hiking—whatever suits your mood.

All these pleasures that were once promises are realities at Holly Lake; not for tomorrow, but today.
