

Drive nears half-way point after first week

The Combined Federal Campaign (CFC) is nearing the half-way point in collections after only one week with a 49 per cent figure logged as of Oct. 5.

A total of $26,713 has been either collected or pledged so far, on the way to the goal of $55,000. Capt. Frederick B. King, CFC project officer exclaimed, "It's great! It looks like we're heading toward another record year."

The overall financial goal for the federal agencies in the Lubbock area is $67,000. There are three weeks remaining in this year's campaign.

March of Dimes

The National Foundation-March of Dimes will be one of the recipients from the proceeds of the CFC drive.

Infant mortality is one of the most reliable indicators of a nation's health. How does the United States rate? Among the advanced nations in the world, America is way down the list, number 15. About 18 of every 1,000 babies in the U.S. and some 250,000 infants are born with birth defects.

Better care of pregnant women and the unborn and newborn babies is the goal of the National Foundation-March of Dimes. Research programs, service drives and other preventive measures are being worked on to overcome the problems of inherited disorders. A major aspect of prevention is research into causes of birth defects and infant mortality.

Money from CFC will also be donated to the National Kidney Foundation, an organization dedicated to finding the answer to kidney diseases . . . then to prevention, treatment and cure. Kidney ailments constitute the fourth-largest health problem in the United States, over 8 million people currently suffer from one of its related illnesses.

The National Association for Retarded Children is the only voluntary organization devoted solely to promoting the welfare of retarded children and their families. Financial aid from the fund drive will aid the association in its programs of establishing agency partnerships to advance the causes of research, public information, prevention and treatment.

Mental retardation is below-average general intellectual functioning which originates during early childhood and is associated with unusual difficulty in learning.

More than 6 million people in America are believed to be retarded. It is also postulated that less than half of the retarded children in need of special education are being served. This is just one of the National Health Agencies served by the combined campaign.

Mental Health

Another is the National Association for Mental Health. Ten per cent of all school age children have emotional problems requiring psychiatric help. The purposes of the association are to improve attitudes toward mental health and its affected, to improve services for the ill and to promote public interest on the subject and its vital need for support.

State hospitals for the mentally ill continue to provide new and imaginative treatment procedures for their patients. However, due to the shortage of trained personnel and the lack of adequate facilities, many steps that need to be taken are not possible. Funds will be partially directed to the problems of insufficient staff, persistent public apathy and the associations' rehabilitative and treatment programs.

CF Research

CFC receipts will also be portioned to the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation.

Cystic Fibrosis (CF) is inherited by approximately one of every 1,500 babies, the result of both parents carrying a recessive gene for the disease. It affects the lungs and the digestive system. As of yet, there is no cure. Funds for research will go toward seeking a cure for CF and other lung-damaging maladies such as asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis and a condition sometimes called childhood emphysema.

The foundation supports a nationwide network of over 110 CF Care, Teaching and Research Centers for diagnosis and treatment. Its 300 chapters across the country are in need of more money if an answer is to be found.

Thunderbirds ready for Reese audience

The United States Air Force Thunderbirds will charge the skies over Reese with a dynamic wedge of red, white and blue aircraft at the Reese AFB Open House activities Oct. 28.

The precision aerobatic team will present a half-hour show of rolls, stunts and formation flying to demonstrate the capabilities of modern fighter aircraft and the modern Air Force pilot in team and solo flight.

Begin at 1 p.m.

The Open House will open to the public at 1 p.m., and will end at 5:30 p.m. The Thunderbirds will begin their portion of the day's events at 3 p.m. In addition, Reese will have U.S. Air Force fighter, reconnaissance, and cargo aircraft in standing displays for everyone to examine first-hand. As a special attraction, authentic lunar samples, or "moon rocks," are scheduled for display to the public in bldg. 955.

Both the 35th and 54th Flying Training Squadrons and Link Trainer Units will open their doors to the public with various displays.

Alternate Route

Persons with Reese registered vehicles may enter the base through the main gate Oct. 28. Everyone else may enter the base through an auxiliary gate one-quarter mile north of the main gate, near the Reese USAF hospital.

In honor of the open house and the performance of the Thunderbirds, Reese is sponsoring a creative contest with the theme "From the Wright Brothers to Space Travel," open to young people at Reese and the Lubbock area who are attending grades 1-12 and between the ages of 5 and 18.

Contest participants may submit an original, personally drawn or painted picture, original story or poem having to do with any aspect of flight or man's age-old dream of flying. Poems and stories are limited to a maximum of 100 words. All entries must be in the Information Division by 4:45 p.m. today to be entered in the competition. Entries cannot be returned unless they are individually picked up in the Information Division by Nov. 1.

Eight Categories

Prizes will be awarded for eight categories according to age groupings. Each prize includes an autographed lithograph of the Thunderbirds given to the winners by the famous pilots themselves, and being named Reese VIPs for the day.

The Thunderbird aerial demonstration here will be one of some 100 shows for which the group is scheduled each year. Now into their 21st season the team's members have flown more than 1,750 demonstrations in all 50 states and 48 foreign countries.

Over 99,000,000 spectators throughout the free world have awarded the USAF Thunderbirds the title "America's Ambassadors in Blue!" Come see for yourself at the Reese AFB Open House Oct. 28.

frame of reference

"... the need for good judgment behind the wheel is essential."

By Lt. Col. Melvin E. Hallett
Chief, Safety Division

Did you know that one of every 16 miles driven in the United State is a Texas mile?

That's one heck of a lot of wheel rollin' going on. It's also a whole group of exposure to the possibility of fender chunchin' and body bendin' on the highways.

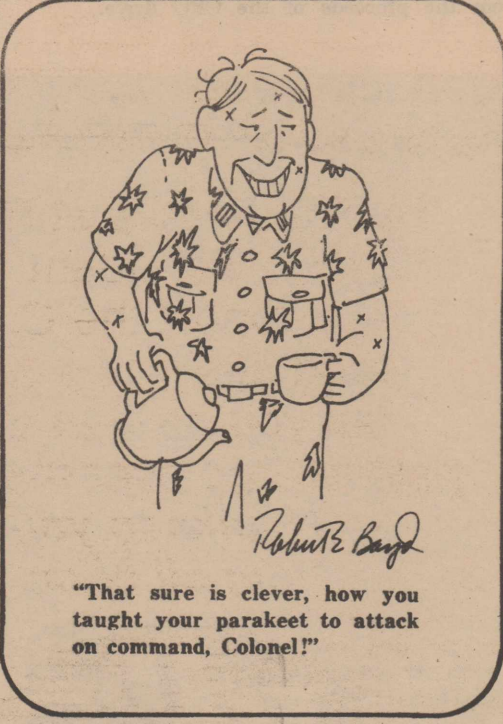

Now, if you stop and think about all the military bases in this state, there's also one heck of a group of military drivers on Texas streets and highways. Unfortunately we don't have those figures. But the Texas Department of Public Safety has sent me some interesting statistics about military drivers who were involved in accidents last year.

According to State records, some 13,653 military drivers were involved in 12,802 traffic accidents which resulted in 128 fatalities, 4,608 injuries and 9,936 cases of property damage only.

Since there were 851 more drivers than there were accidents, it appears that about 15 per cent of the time, GIs were running into each other. As you might expect, about 80 per cent of the accidents were collisions with other vehicles. But these only accounted for slightly over 50 per cent of the deaths.

Single vehicle accidents, which represented only 15 per cent of the total mishaps, produced over 38 per cent of the fatalities. Just under half of the military drivers were cited for violations contributing to their accidents. The three most significant violations involved excessive speed, failure to yield the right of way and driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs.

Regardless of whether a driver is military or a civilian, the need for good judgment behind the wheel is essential. There is no good reason to risk damaging one's car or the possibility of serious injury to save a few seconds on the highway.

Reminder issues after week's observance

By Hayes Hefner
Chief, Technical Services

With the close of the annual Fire

Prevention Week tomorrow, I want to remind all Reese personnel that fire safety consciousness should continue year-round.

The home is traditionally a sure place of refuge and safety. Yet homes are the scenes of more than one quarter of all fires we allow to happen each year. Even more tragic, more than half of all deaths from fires occur in our homes.

The facts from the National Fire Protection Association records are both a warning and a challenge. A warning that deadly fire can strike your home and a challenge to you to take preventive action.

Prevention starts with good family habits about fire hazards. It includes care with matches and smoking, keeping heating and cooking equipment in good order, proper use of electrical appliances and extension cords with multiple plugs and frequent clean-ups.

High on the list of family safety measures is a carefully prepared and rehearsed escape plan for fire emergencies. Alternate routes to safety from every room, particularly every bedroom, are of prime importance in the plan to provide for hallways that may be blocked by fire.

Remember, prevention through good habits and preparedness through good planning make a fire-safe family.

Lucky fluke homerun brings discipline lesson

There is a well-known story among baseball buffs about a former player who hit a homerun after he had been instructed to bunt the ball. Everyone happy, except the opposing team? No, the player was counseled and fined by the team manager.

He was not punished for hitting a homerun, which resulted in a win for his team, but because he disobeyed instructions from his manager.

Some may second guess the manager in this case, but given the same circumstances again, it is highly unlikely that the player could meet with the same success. Some of the ramifications might be a complete miss of the ball causing the base runner to be trapped off base, a routine fly or line ball for an out, a line drive for a double-play, or a sharp grounder which could be turned into two outs.

That is why the player was fined and counseled. Discipline is necessary. It is not intended to hassle a person or to keep him from reaching his potential. It is in part that standard of personal deportment, work requirement, courtesy, appearance, and ethical conduct which, instilled in people, will enable them singly or collectively to perform their mission with optimum standards.

The general aim of Air Force regulations is to set overall standards of conduct and work requirement for all concerned to meet mission requirements efficiently. Hit or miss chances have no place in the Air Force. (AFNS)

The Roundup is an unofficial newspaper published in the interest of personnel at Reese AFB under contract with Barron Publications, Inc. Mailing address: P.O. Box 2415, Lubbock, Tex.

Publisher's Statement

"Everything advertised in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, national origin or sex of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunities by an advertiser will result in the refusal to print advertising from that source."

News for the Roundup should be delivered to the Information Division, bldg. T-1, no later than 11 a.m. Monday prior to the Friday publication date. Classified ads of a non-commercial nature may be placed free of charge and must also be in to the Information Division by 11 a.m. Monday. Other advertising matter is handled exclusively by the publisher.

ATC officials urge story submissions

In an effort to focus more attention on Air Training Command people and programs, officials are encouraging Reese personnel to submit mission-oriented stories to the Office of Information.

The stories will be forwarded to the "Air University Review," the professional journal of the Air Force. According to a message received from Brig. Gen. G.C. Cleveland, ATC chief of staff, "Our story should be told first-hand by those officers, NCOs or civilians with the greatest expertise in their fields of responsibility.

"The 'AU Review' is the medium through which we can project the ATC story to a select audience, including numerous high ranking government officials, prominent educators and other opinion leaders," General Cleveland added.

Since not all individuals are schooled in mission-type story writing or know the technical requirements involved, the Reese Office of Information is requesting any and all submissions from personnel about professions and programs.

Just the bare facts are all that is primarily essential. Information personnel will compile the facts, write the story and forward it to higher headquarters for submission to the "AU Review."

To The People at Reese
We are confident you will support the C.F.C. fund again this year as you have in the past and go over the top!!!
Thanks to you from all of us.

Fire Prevention Week hosts special events

"Make This Week and All Weeks Fire Safe" was the slogan and theme of Fire Prevention Week, observed this week at Reese and across the nation. The base Fire Department held several special events this week in conjunction with the observance.

Open house was held daily at the station during duty hours to show everyone how an emergency fire crew lives and operates.

Different types of fire fighting vehicles and equipment were on display and fire protection personnel were on hand to answer questions.

Theater. It proved informative and interesting even if it was mandatory viewing for administrative personnel who had not yet had fire training.

Tuesday afternoon saw a special parade through Reese Village featuring the Reese fire trucks and an antique pumper truck. That morning there was a fire drill at the Reese Elementary School, followed by the display of one of the largest fire trucks at Reese.

Today will be the last day for the open house and display at the fire station. James B. Moten, base fire chief, commented, "It's been a pleasure taking time to inform Reese people about fire prevention. If we have accomplished what we set out to do, fire prevention-consciousness will be in all minds the year-round."

Tuesday and Thursday brought fire prevention films to the base

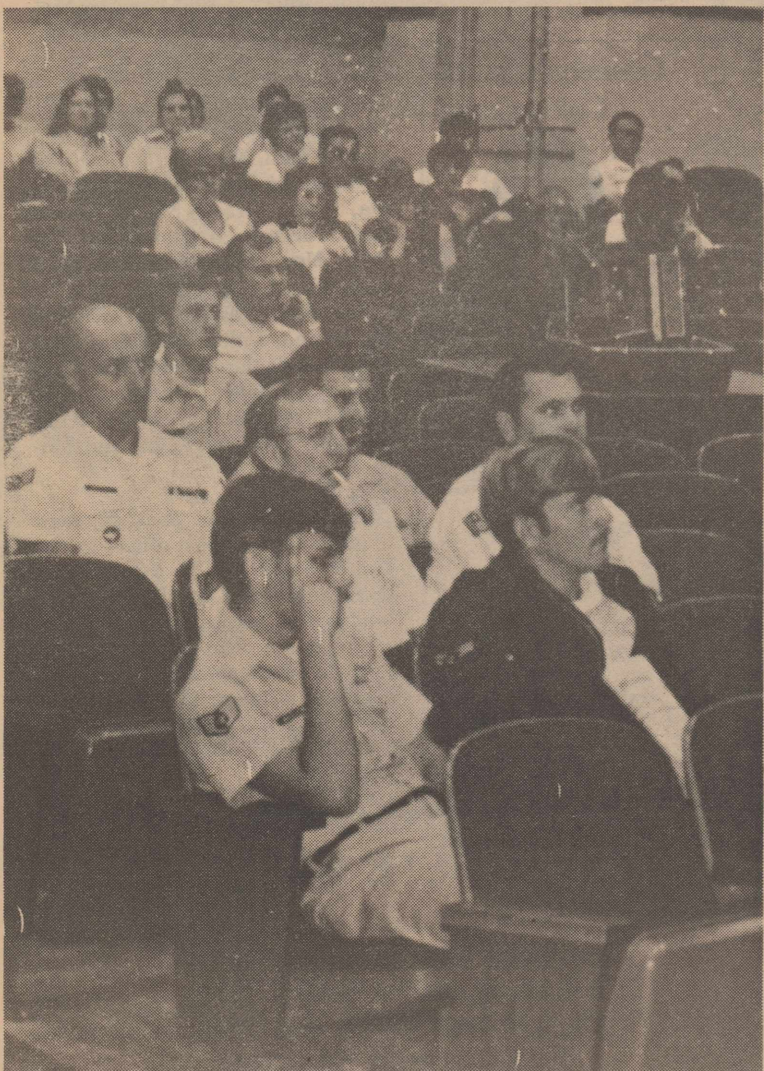

OLD AND YOUNG—Several Kindergarten-age youths got a chance to see what what fire trucks looked like long before they were born. The display was one of several during the week-long observance.

SSgt. Dennis Mehrenberg)

SAFETY BRIEFING—A number of Reese military and civilian personnel and dependents attended one of the two fire prevention films and briefings held at the base theater, Tuesday and Thursday.

READY!—This crash crew pumper, equipped and tuned to go on a moment's notice, was a significant part of the flight line display.

Team effort brings recognition

"A 100 per cent mark is very rare. It can only be the result of a team effort. Two organizations, working closely together, have given Reese this recognition for July."

These were the words of Joe Scinto regarding a recent Air Force report citing Reese as the best in Air Training Command (ATC) for a monthly Transportation-Supply requirement. Scinto is presently director of Receiving and Freight for the Traffic Management Branch at Wright Patterson AFB, Ohio. A few years ago, he wrote the Air Force Military Standards Transportation Evaluation Procedures (MILSTEP).

Measures Speed

The MILSTEP plan is to insure that items are shipped, received and processed into a station in the least amount of time. When items are shipped to a base on a "priority 1" basis, they are sent parcel post or through the quickest mode of transportation available. With these shipments is included an Intertransit Data Card (IDC). When the receiving Supply Squadron acquires the item, it is processed in and the IDC is dated and forwarded to the Traffic Management Office.

The TMO then logs in the recorded times and sends the cards to the MILSTEP center located at McClellan AFB, Calif.

The MILSTEP center then logs in the name of the base for the "IDC response rate." The average response rate for ATC was 90 percent but Reese far surpassed all ATC bases with a perfect 100 per cent rate.

Usable Response

Another step is then taken. Shipping transactions are given a definite time limit. In most cases it is 45 days. If the IDC is returned to McClellan AFB within the time limit, it is logged as a "usable response." The average usable response percentage rate for ATC was 89 per cent.

Again, Reese outshined all ATC bases with a perfect 100 per cent.

The teamwork at Reese that was responsible for the perfect rating was the Receiving Section of the 64th Supply Squadron and Sally Herrington of the Traffic Management Office. The shipment of items is the responsibility of the Transportation Division and the documentations is taken care of by the Supply people.

Scinto continued, "This proves that the system can operate. It's not impossible to receive 100 per cent as the fine people at Reese have proven."

Toyland opens here as yule approaches

Dallas - The Army and Air Force Exchange Service took the lid off its 1973 toy chest last month, and value-conscious shoppers are invited to visit AAFES toylands to see what's inside.

Tabloids describing opening week specials have been distributed to main exchanges in the United States. Overseas areas have also prepared tabloids announcing local specials.

Everything from infant push-pull toys to chemistry labs can be found: adventure toys to stir the imagination, educational toys to develop the mind, or dolls and wagons and animals and trikes that just let children be children.

"Toy Chest '73," this year's version of the annual Christmas toyland sale, opened at Reese in Mid-September. For the first week, 26 specially priced toys and games were offered to encourage early shopping.

Customers are invited to use the no-charge exchange layaway plan to reserve that special gift.

Although a wide selection of toy items will be available right up to Christmastime, rain checks will be available only for advertised items sold out before the end of the week-long sale period. Toy Chest '73-it's all fun and games at the exchanges.

Air Force News Summary

The House Armed Services subcommittee has finished hearing formal testimony on the Department of Defense aviation career incentive pay proposal. During the hearings, which have been running since July, Defense, congressional and other interested witnesses appeared before the subcommittee to discuss the need for a new flight pay proposal.

The chapel administration career field has become the fourth Community College of the Air Force program to be recognized by professional and standard-setting organizations.

 A new triservice regionalization system to provide a more uniform delivery of military health care services has been announced.

BUBBLE PARTIES.

One of the most amusing, as well as easily arranged, entertainments for the Holidays, is a "Bubble Party." Twenty or more ladies and gentlemen, enough clay pipes so each will have one, three or four bowls of soap-suds, and, say, half a dozen trifles for prizes, are all that is required, the prizes to be awarded to those who blow the largest bubbles, one of the party to act as referee.

The suds should be made of IVORY SOAP, as it gives a clean, white, and abundant lather, with an entire freedom from oil or grease; and as the materials of which it is made are so clean and pure, it is not at all offensive to the smell or taste, like ordinary soap.

The last episode in the "Planet of the Apes" series kicks off this week's slate of features at Simler Theater tonight.

The base theater is open for Reese patrons Tuesday through Sunday, with features beginning at 8 p.m. unless otherwise noted. The Saturday Matinee begins at 2 p.m. The ticket office opens one half hour before showing time.

Tonight

Roddy McDowall and Sam Jaffe star in "The Battle for the Planet of the Apes." The story details how Caesar, the leader of the ape-like Simians, journeys to subterranean ruins to view a video-taped interview with his parents, who were reputed to have the gift of prophesy. He learns that apes will destroy the world. The ensuing battle with mutants decides the outcome. The film is rated G for general audiences.

Tomorrow Matinee and Evening

Zip-A-Dee Doo-Dah! Does that give you a hint? Walt Disney's classic rendition of the Uncle Remus tales, "Song of the South" combines a sentimental version of slave days down South with charming episodes of Brer Rabbit's escapades. Laughs will prevail for young and old alike during the animated adaption of Joel Chandler Harris' tales. The musical comedy is rated G.

Sunday

Jack "Five Easy Pieces" Nicholson and Bruce Dern co-star in "The King of Marvin Gardens." The film tells of a late-night radio personality who is summoned by his brother to Atlantic City because of a scheme to retire to a South Sea island. All goes well until the brother's wife goes berserk as they are packing to leave. This well-acted' comedy-drama is rated R, patrons under 17 must be accompanied by a parent or adult guardian.

Tuesday

"Where Does It Hurt?" is an all-out spoof on hospital care. The wheeler-dealer hospital administrator spends his time fleeing helpless patients and playing doctor with the nurses. Rackets such as insurance fraud, unnecessary operations and padded billing procedures make for a hilarious satire. Peter Sellers, Jo Ann Pflug and Eve Bruce star in the R-rated feature.

Wednesday

Raymond St. Jacques stars, produces and directs the comedy-drama "Book of Numbers," the tale of a black numbers operation in a small Arkansas town during the Depression. Singer Freda Payne makes her acting debut as a local society girl who falls in love with an operator of a numbers bank. The film is rated R.

Thursday

Johnny Whitaker stars as "Tom Sawyer," the boy everyone wanted to be. All the old characters are there: Aunt Polly, Muff Potter, Polly and Huckleberry Finn. The new version of the favorite classic incorporates a great musical score and setting into an adventurous family film. Celeste Holm, Warren Oates and Jeff East also star in the G-rated spectacular.

Pay raise becomes effective

WASHINGTON (AFNS)--President Richard Nixon has signed an Executive Order which officially implements a new pay raise for military people and general schedule government employees.

Air Force uniformed personnel will receive a 6.17 percent increase in their paychecks effective Oct. 1, 1973. Paychecks will reflect the increase for pay days Oct. 15 and Oct. 31, 1973.

The civilian pay hike, 4.77 percent, is effective on the first pay period that begins after Oct. 1. Most Air Force civilian employees' pay periods begin on Oct. 14 and end on Oct. 27. The increase will be reflected in their paychecks distributed on or about Nov. 2.

Some civilian employees' pay periods begin Oct. 7 and end Oct. 20. They will realize their pay increases on or about Oct. 26.

As examples, an Air Force sergeant with more than two years of service was paid a base pay of $390.60 per month under the old pay scale. His new pay will be $414.60. A chief master sergeant with more than 20 years of service will be paid a base pay of $1,025.10 a month, instead of the old salary of $965.40. A captain with more than four years of service will realize a monthly basic pay of $1,050.30. Under the old pay scales his monthly base salary was $989.40.

A GS-2 (step four) will draw $6,249 annually instead of $5,975 under the old pay rates. A GS-6 (step four) formerly was paid at the rate of $9,430 a year. The new salary will be $9,874. The wages for a GS-11 (step four) will increase to $16,138 per year.

AF, Army set school consolidation

Randolph AFB, Tex. (ATCPS)--Effective Jan. 14, 1974, Air Force and Army students taking machinist, and vehicle and body repair courses will do so together in consolidated classes at the Army's Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md.

Five Air Force instructors--four machinists and one body repair expert--will be assigned to instruct at the Army post. Approximately $70,000 worth of equipment will be transferred there from Air Training Command's Chanute AFB, Ill.

The Armed Forces have already consolidated other courses, either because of a pronounced similarity in the training being administered by both, or because one of the services already has a viable program in being. As one example, the bulk of the Navy's Physicians' Assistants (PAs) are currently being trained by the Air Force in its highly successful PA program.

Other proposed consolidations are being studied.

Raise will show up next shopping day

By Lighthouse

Well, believe it or not, congress approved a 6.17 percent pay raise for the military. How does it feel to be rich?

It may not seem like much now, but just wait until the next time you have to go shopping. Those extra five or ten dollars may come in handy.

Just a reminder that Kris Kristofferson and Rita Coolidge will be in concert at the Municipal Auditorium at 8:00 p.m., Oct. 18 and all seats are reserved, so buy them ahead of time. This should be a good concert, and if you missed the Loggins and Messina concert last night, catch up by going to this one.

Review Reviewed

Like I said last week, I try to review new albums and artists for the column, so that you won't get behind on what is coming out in the music world. This past week I sat down with some new albums, my government surplus pen and work sheet, and a couple of cold cans of brew to review some new tunes for your enjoyment. Unfortunately, I got a hold of some real bombs. Here is this week's selections of what not to buy: "Food of Love" by Yvonne Elliman; the best that can be said for this album is that eventually it ends. The songs are practically all the same with only a slight variation in boredom. I suggest that you use this album to serve cold pizza on, or give it to an enemy to get even.

Poof!

"Hollywood Dream" by Thunderclap Newman; Thunderclap ended up like a firecracker on this garbage album. His voice is bad, and the production is worse than anything that I've ever heard. It sounds like it was recorded in a bus garage and all the mechanics joined in to sing chorus. The cover has some interesting pictures, but they aren't worth the price of the album. If this is the best he can do, I predict that Thunderclap is out.

"Lynrd Skynrd" by Lynrd Skynrd. Well...at least the title is imaginative. It continues to amaze me how some groups can get up the nerve to go into a recording studio and sing (?) like these guys do. Even the Mothers of Invention manage to harmonize once in a while, but Lynrd Skynrd managed to beat all the odds and didn't get one decent cut on the entire album. If you want to get in practice for the hunting season, this album would make a good, but overpriced, target.

Apathy Noted

Nobody even tried to guess the mind boggler question last week. I really am beginning to think that these are too difficult, although I find it difficult to understand how you can be so stumped by something that came out of "Boy's Life" magazine. The question asked: Who did the greatest number of recorded consecutive push-ups, and how many did they do? In 1965, Chuck Linster, age 16, did 6,006 push-ups in 3 hours and 54 minutes. How's that sports fans? He kind of sounds like the TI I had in basic training.

If you have any questions or comments about the column or other things, call ext. 2169, or write to Graffiti, Information Divisions Bldg. T-1. Later.

MPC allows swap after tech training

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS)—The Air Force Recruiting Service has a new program to allow new Air Force members graduating from a School of Applied Aerospace Sciences to swap base assignments, if adequate replacements can be found.

The program, Pipeline Student Airman Swap Program, is similar to the Air Force Exchange Program.

"Student airmen affected by this program are those undergoing technical training in either a permanent change of station, permanent change of assignment, or temporary duty pending further orders status," recruiting officials explained.

Both airmen must not have received an assignment to one of his stated preferences, not be eliminees or directed duty assignees, and both airmen desiring to trade assignments must be graduates of the same course. Also the two must have the same

Air Force specialty code including the applicable prefix or suffix. Both airmen must concur in the exchange of assignments in writing.

Only one assignment swap application is permitted and trades are limited to individuals graduating during the same month. Sergeants and above must be serving in the same grade at time of the assignment match. Men and women airmen first class, airmen and airmen basic may trade assignments if the women's gaining bases have adequate housing facilities. The same guidelines apply to women trading assignments with men overseas.

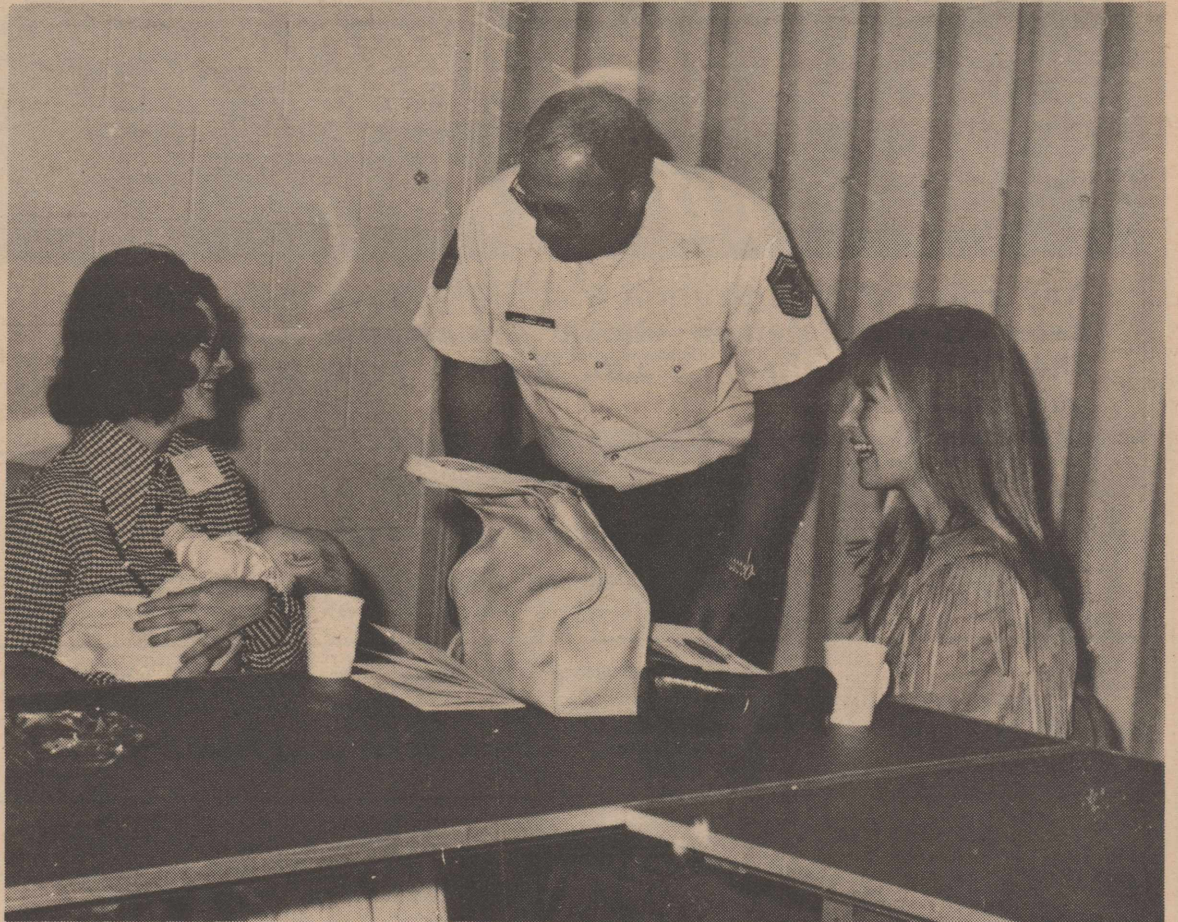

Seebo takes all honors at art contest

First Lieutenant Thomas C. Seebö swept the 1973 Reese AFB Art Contest held at the Mathis Recreation Center, placing first in both entry divisions.

The lieutenant's oil painting "Search for Another" was first in the contemporary category, as well as winning the best overall award for the contest.

Lieutenant Seebö's "Moon Psalms" led the competition in the traditional category.

No entries were tendered in the sculpture category for this year's contest. Lieutenant Seebö's paintings will represent Reese at the Air Training Command Art Contest at Moody AFB, Ga.

WIVES TOUR—CMSgt. Donald W. Lloyd, wing senior airman advisor, checks out a small touree at the Family Services Center shortly before participating as a leader of the Enlisted Wives Tour Oct. 5. Cold and rainy weather dampened many of the ladies' adventurous spirit, but those who went on the tour saw their husbands further the wing mission. (U.S. Air Force Photo)

Author makes serious appeal for CFC drive

By Capt. Charles M. Thrash
Occasionally we have reasons to inject a serious note into this article.

There is presently a drive going on to raise funds for the CFC-Combined Federal Campaign. This widely varied program helps support numerous military and civilian projects.

For example, the CFC provides money to aid the American Cancer Society and also helps support youth activities at Reese. An added feature of this program is that you can specify which agency will receive your contribution.

Seek Particulars

So, if you want to participate in a worthwhile program, get in touch with your unit CFC project officer and find out some more of the particulars. Besides, this will give you the opportunity to tell all those solicitors at the mall that you gave at the office.

Well, for years I have searched to be associated with a national magazine. I have been an Information officer both in SEA and here and no one has even seemed interested in my stories. Finally, by association, my desires have come true.

Any avid sports fan knows that the sure kiss of death is to have "Sports Illustrated" do a feature story on a team. For example: they picked Texas to be the number one collegiate football team. What happened in the Longhorns' opening game—they lose to Miami. Well, what did I do last week? I wrote a feature on the Squadron football team and they immediately lost two games. So, although I now have reached a milestone by finally yielding to persuasion of a national magazine, I must resort to only reporting future football scores or else reap the wrath of the team players.

But just wait until the playoffs—I'll do a feature each week about the opposition.

Unusual Moves

We've had our usual couple of personnel moves around the squadron. Capt. Darrell Phillips is leaving for a McDonnell Douglas F-4 and Capt. Gary Swigert is taking his place as Section I commander. Also, we have a couple of new instructors. First Lt. Bill Slattery has arrived in E Flight and 1st Lt. Skip Berry has come to help D Flight out.

The Gee-Whiz Award this week goes to the fire crew at our auxiliary field. They arrived for work one morning last week saying they needed a little action. By the time the day was over they had responded to two emergencies, put out two grass fires and thus been forced to wash and wax their fire trucks twice. Next time guys, how about confining your desire for action to be limited to catching snakes.

The eight-minute film was produced to relay overseas travel facts on concurrent and invitational travel orders, and Air Force policy which allows dependents to accompany members overseas when possible.

Region health care seen with cooperative system

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—A new triservice regionalization system to provide a more uniform delivery of military health care services, has been announced by William P. Clements Jr., Deputy Defense Secretary.

The new system provides for a cooperative arrangement which will afford the latest advances in diagnosis and treatment. In some cases, the regionalization system will provide services otherwise not available at a particular medical facility.

In addition, the system is designed to increase productivity and achieve economy without unnecessary duplication of resources.

It is anticipated that the 13-region system will provide a more efficient use of physicians, dentists and other scarce health personnel.

Under the system, the continental United States is divided into 13 military medical regions based on military population and location of specialty treatment facilities. Each region has a triservice regional review committee to monitor health services capabilities and operations.

Following are regions by state:

- Region 1—Washington State, Oregon, Idaho, Montana
- Region 2—Northern California, Nevada
- Region 3—Southern California
- Region 4—North Dakota, South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado, Nebraska, Kansas, Utah
- Region 5—Arizona, New Mexico

Region 6—Texas, Arkansas, Oklahoma

Region 7—Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, northern tip of Illinois

Region 8—Missouri, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, balance of Illinois

Region 9—Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, northern Florida

Region 10—Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Jersey; Vermont, New Hampshire, Delaware, Maine, Rhode Island

Region 11—Maryland, District of Columbia, Northern Virginia

Region 12—Southern Virginia, North Carolina

Region 13—Georgia, South Carolina, balance of Florida (north-western panhandle)

Martha's Method

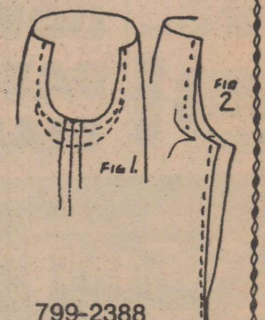

fashion Sewing

Martha's Method Solves Sewing Problems
by Martha Schmidt

How do you remedy a baggy seat in pants that are already made?

First, do not take up or make the crotch seam larger. If you do, it will make it larger not smaller. The crotch seam is just like an arm hole. If your pants are too tight or short in the crotch you make your line of stitching as shown in illustration -s1.

In order to remove the fullness from the seat of the pants you must rip open the in-seam (the one inside the leg) down to about the knee, then pin the front over on to the back of the leg—removing as much as you need to at the crotch seam—and tapering it to the knee (illus. #2), then restitch your seam. Now, place one pant leg inside the other and restitch your crotch seam.

THE MAN BEHIND THE MISSION

A1C Charles C. Hatchcock performs minor repairs on a CessnaT-37 during a basic post flight inspection. Recently, Airman Hatchcock received a Zero Defect rating on a similar inspection. According to his supervisors in the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, "Because of the heavy workload and continual use of our aircraft, it is very rare that an aircraft passes a complete inspection." The Dallas, Tex., native was lauded by his squadron for his "outstanding work and job knowledge." Airman Hatchcock has been in the Air Force since August, 1972. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Comptroller outlines plan for military women the entitlements of servicewomen with civilian husbands and service couples.

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—The Comptroller General of the United States has further outlined

cost-of-living and housing; family separation allowance; and inclusion of BAQ in payment for leave.

Children of servicewomen are entitled to the same benefits as those of their civilian husbands.

The Comptroller General has ruled that service couples members married to members) are entitled to BAQ at the single rate for both members when assigned to the same or adjacent stations and family quarters are not assigned. When they are not stationed together, availability of quarters will govern BAQ entitlement.

Women were given entitlement to a basic allowance for quarters (BAQ) and medical benefits for their civilian husbands without proof that the husbands depend on their wives for more than 50 per cent of support. This entitlement was based on a ruling of the U.S. Supreme Court on May 14.

Besides BAQ and medical benefits, the Comptroller General recently said that servicewomen married to civilians are entitled to dependent travel allowance on a permanent change of station (PCS) move; dislocation allowance; over-sea station allowances such as

DINNER THEATER—In the upcoming comedy production of "Butterflies Are Free" at the Officers Open Mess Dinner Theater, this is a scene in which friends of a blind music writer advise him against his over-protective mother. The production stars the Kaleidoscope Players of New Mexico, and will be featured at the mess Oct. 24. Tickets are available at the mess. (Courtesy Photo)

Third mess presentation is 'Butterflies Are Free'

The Officers Open Mess Dinner Theater has announced its third comedy attraction, "Butterflies are Free," scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Oct. 24.

The play is funny when it means to be, sentimental when it is so inclined, and heart-warming all the time. The story tells of a young man, blind from birth, who takes up living in a shabby one-room apartment. He soon meets his neighbor, a friendly, chatty nymph of 19 who once was married and doesn't want any more deep involvements.

So, naturally, the two become involved, with the young blind song writer trying to break away from his over-protective and affluent mother. He is a cheerful young fellow whose senses are sharp and perceptive, and the most distant thing from his mind is self-pity. In fact one may take a long time to realize that he is blind, and his handicap is by no means prevents him from appreciating a pretty girl.

The night's activities at the mess begin with dinner at 6 p.m. The play begins at 8:30 p.m. for all mess patrons. Reserved tickets may be purchased at the Officers' Open Mess now.

Hasty Charger due for officers

RANDOLPH AFB, Tex. (AFNS)—Junior officers throughout Air Training Command will begin receiving firsthand briefings on ATC and Air Force policies and programs through a new procedure beginning in November.

Known as Hasty Charger, the command visitation program will enable selected lieutenants and captains to visit Randolph AFB for two days of orientation and briefings. During their stay, the junior officers will meet with ATC headquarters staff people and participate in informal question and answer sessions with Lt. Gen. William V. McBride, ATC commander.

Hasty Charger was created by the command Career Motivation Office to allow outstanding junior officers to better understand the ATC mission while learning of past, present and future policies. It will also provide an opportunity to discuss mutual problems with senior ATC staff members and be recognized as young officers who have demonstrated outstanding growth potential.

Reese chapel women set sing service, workshop

The Wesley Singers, composed of 60 high school and university youths who tour the Southwest each summer, will be featured at the base chapel Sunday during the monthly Pot Luck Dinner at 6:30 p.m., sponsored by the Protestant Youth of the Chapel.

The entertaining group sings both traditional and contemporary music with stringed accompaniment. The group is directed by Marjorie Newton, director of music at the First United Methodist Church in Lubbock.

The program will begin with 42 selectees and continue on a quarterly basis, permitting 168 outstanding junior officers to visit ATC headquarters annually.

The Reese Women of the Chapel have also announced their sponsorship of an area-wide workshop to be held Oct. 23. The theme of the workshop will be "Reach Out to Life," and will feature guest speaker Sister Fuchsia Pickett of Dallas.

Women from five area bases will gather for the event for the program, and the Reese Men's Fellowship will serve a luncheon. According to Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Leonard D. Kelley, senior Protestant chaplain "Reese Women of the Chapel have been leaders in the ecumenical movement. Catholic and Protestant women have combined their efforts, money, time and prayers toward humanitarian projects, newcomer orientations, services of worship and social endeavors.

"The Area-Wide Workshop is just another indication of broad concern that the message of love and peace our Lord Jesus preached might be shared with everyone," Colonel Kelley added.

All women of Reese are invited to participate in the workshop, and registration by Monday is encouraged.

pigskin predictions

Texas-Oklahoma is big football dispute for this weekend

Our predictors had a good weekend with everyone winning at least 50 per cent of his games. Texas Tech proved to be a surprise explosive team with the power to kill. They were so tough that Oklahoma State is taking this weekend off.

A weekend of see-saw close calls is in sight for followers of the predictions. No one can seem to agree on the outcome of the Texas-Oklahoma game.

All in all, this should be a hot weekend for football action across the country. Check the predictions, then turn on the television.

Chiefs crush opposition in 22-0 battle Sunday

The Reese Chiefs prepared for their upcoming homecoming game next week with a devastating 22-0 shutout over the team sponsored by the Texas Boys Ranch Sunday.

The Chiefs scored on their first offensive play of the game when quarterback Degal Brown hurled a spiral to left end Kevin Ward for a 40-yard touchdown pass play. The points after play was unsuccessful, leaving the Chiefs with an early six-point lead.

The Chiefs' defensive squad held the Boys Ranch offense at the first of the second quarter, where a turnover gave the Chiefs another chance to score. Right end Dennis Pusser caught a pass on the 35 and danced in for the Chiefs' second score of the day, followed by four defensive players. The PAT was successful, making the score 14-0 going into the second half.

Neither team was able to mount a sustained drive in the third quarter, but in the opening seconds of the fourth quarter the Chief defense held on a fourth-and-two situation, turning the ball over to their offense squad on their own 41. The Chiefs ran a series of plays, chewing up yardage and time remaining on the clock.

With two minutes left and the ball on the Boys Ranch 18-yard line, Chief fullback Roland Boswell scored the final touchdown after shaking several would-be tacklers in his own backfield. The PAT was again successful as the final gun sounded, leaving the Chiefs with their first win of the season, 22-0. The Chiefs are now 1-3-1 in Youth Football League play.

The Reese Chiefs will hold their season Homecoming Game against the team sponsored by Western Wrecking at 3 p.m., Sunday at Tyler Field next to the base chapel. The 1973 Reese Chiefs Homecoming Queen will be crowned during halftime at that game.
