J. R. Coker Made Interesting Speech At German School Friday Night

J. R. Coker, president of Hermlleigh C. of C., responding to an invitation, spoke at the German school auditorium last Friday night to a large and enthusiastic crowd. He was introduced to the audience by Mr. Mize, Supt. of the school and prominent farmer and citizen of the community. In introducing the speaker for the evening Mr. Mize said: "I am introducing to you a man whom you all know. Mr. Coker has rendered public service here for many years, and those who hear him to night will not listen with any disposition to question the speaker. Mr. Coker's personal life, public activities and business career are known to all of us."

Mr. Coker's speech centered around what to us is the very soundest business principle, with reference to buying and selling. "If you are offered the top price for your best milk cow, take it. If you are offered a sow and pigs at a low price, buy them." When everything goes up, sell; when it goes down, buy," was Mr. Coker's advice.

"For instance, we sell all our livestock and all our feed each year to the northern folk. They buy our live stock and fatten them doubling their money. We have the stock and the feed, why not fatten our own livestock and sell them for the top price and get the difference ourselves?" he continued.

"Don't lose any sleep over the pink bollworm scare, and neither buy any high priced dairy stock and make a more serious mistake. Keep your head. You need better dairy stock and more of them but grow them gradually instead of buying at a serious risk. Cattle are high now, and by the time you get stocked up at high prices, they will be down; and you are bankrupted. You need better chickens and more of them, but get them likewise and keep doing something else in the mean time," was a statement the speaker made which was worth the while of all who heard him, or who read this article.

Mr. Coker related his experience of leaving the farm and moving to town and advised against it except in instances like it is, with Mr. Roemisch and Schulze who have already made money, to do them a lifetime.

Mr. Coker is keeping the affairs of his home this year just like he would keep a big business. He says he thinks it will pay. He took an inventory of the home furnishings, cow lots and henny the first of the year and claims that the produce from his milk cow and hens about the place have paid the expenses of the home and left them with $20.00 more money in the bank than they had the first of the year. This being true, it will be well for people to listen to his business advice.

Mr. Coker is a man of fine business judgment, is active in all civic and social functions of the town and, added to this, he is no bad public speaker.

Messrs Warren Fargason, Joe Roemisch and editor Norman were in the visiting party with Mr. Coker, Friday night.

Local Produce Market

Our local produce men will pay the very best price for your produce. If Hermlleigh is not offering the best price for any and everything you have to sell, because of local handicaps to our market, the Chamber of Commerce will be only too glad to help in finding better markets. We are laboring with the county organization now with this in view. If Hermlleigh is not affording a market at a good price for everything you have to sell, notify our secretary, S. C. Randals

Methodist Quarterly Inadale Saturday

Our Second Quarterly Conference held at Inadale last Saturday and Sunday made a comparatively good showing. There was, compared with last year's record, an advancement along all lines. The finances are considerably better than at this time last year. We were behind on our church and parsonage debts this time last year. This year the last note on the parsonage was paid several months before it was due, and the ladies are raising money to put in much needed improvements at the parsonage which will be accomplished right soon. We are up to date with our obligations on church debt, however, we have a small note that will be due on our church right soon which we expect to pay off on date, April 1.

Inadale has payed her entire prorata in cash of the special mission assessment, which is more than both appointments payed last year. The salary is a good per cent in advance of this date last year. To date we have had 18 accessions to the church. Last year we had for the whole year only 28.

The hours of worship Saturday and Sunday were hours of a great spiritual feast. Our presiding elder, Bro. L. N. Lipscomb preached two fine sermons to extra large congregations. At each preaching hour the congregations were greatly moved with spiritual emotion. There were two accessions to the church Sunday at the 11 o'clock service.

Have Employed Nice

Young Man At Herald

We are very proud to announce the coming of the young Mr. Robertson who will work with us in the shop. He comes to us well recommended and bears all the marks of a genteel young man. Mr. Robertson is a high school student from Stanton who has had a part in all the affairs of the school in his home town and will likely fall in line with the activities of the school here. He has his football and basketball sweaters, tennis racket, baseball glove and two musical instruments which looks like he is ready to fall into line and help bring things to life here. This is the only type of man we should care to employ.

The Grace of Saying 'No'

Preachers, as a rule, feel at liberty to say what they think, but they may not always think what they say. We have the offensive habit of suggesting—suggesting to the other fellow, preachers never do anything. To us religion is a many sided thing and chief among which, from a view point of civilization, is to "dress the Garden an keep it."
 We find ourselves to be incurably intensive. It may all be for a good purpose. Stop and think. If men were like all other living creatures how far would we be from the 'jungles' today? And if all men were like some men, where would we go from here? Now excuse us and let this 'soak' in real good. There are some real good men in Hermleigh who are not doing much toward advancing the interests of their time
 The Herald will continue to suggest, and sometimes we get as mad as 'old nick' when folks let the suggestions fall on fruitless soil, but we are smart enough to not let any body know that we are displeased.

 Now listen, men of Hermleigh when suggestions are made whereby your town might be greatly benefited and the thing doesn't meet your approval just say, "NO". Now that is the system. You will recall that the fellow who said 'no' after repented and went. The fellow who will not say 'no' when he means no will not mean yes when he says yes.
 Stand straight up in the pool and displace the water around you. Let no one get the idea that the Herald editor is going to get sore at him if he does not accede to our suggestions. Let us rather assure you that if we had money enough to do things by ourselves we should ask for no help.
 Uttered at the right time and in the right spirit, the word 'no' is the most graceful word in the English language. Don't be afraid to say it.

Plenty of the best horse collars money can buy at Higginbotham Bartlett Company.

Lesson for March 11

JESUS FEEDS THE MULTITUDE

LESSON TEXT—Mark 6:31-44.
GOSPEL TEXT—I am the bread of life; he that cometh to Me shall never hunger, and he that believeth on Me shall never thirst.
PRIMARIES TOPIC—An Unusual Meal.
JUNIOR TOPIC—A Hungry Crowd Fed.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Jesus Feeding the Many.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Jesus' Compassion for Human Need.

I. Jesus' Invitation to the Weary Disciples (vv. 31-32).

The apostles had just returned from an evangelistic tour in Galilee with a report of what they had done and taught. Their minds try occasionally to little stir. Besides Jesus Himself continued to preach. As a result of their combined ministry, the evangelism was so great that there was no opportunity for resting or eating. In such a time of need Jesus invited His disciples to retire from the crowd and rest.

In order to do this they departed privately by ship for a desert place. Periods of withdrawal from the crowd in fellowship with the Lord are necessary after evangelistic campaigns. They serve a double purpose:

1. To get the eyes of the ministers off themselves and their work.
2. To prevent idleness for their failures.

II. Jesus Teaching the Ignorant Multitude (vv. 33-34).

1. Thronged by the people (v. 33). The wonderful words and works of the Lord and His disciples brought the multitudes to them. To escape the throng they took their departure for a desert place (v. 32). Seeing the Lord and His disciples depart the people from the surrounding cities anticipated their landing place and, proceeding thither, welcomed the ship upon its arrival.

2. The Lord moved with compassion (v. 34).

Instead of becoming irritated by the intention of the crowd His heart was moved with pity. His personal interests were forgotten as the need of the multitudes, straggling upon His notice, therefore He began to teach them many things. Jesus knew the same compassionate Savior touched with the feelings of our infirmities (1:4, 4:15).

III. Jesus Feeding the Hungry Multitude (vv. 35-44).

1. Conference with the disciples (vv. 35-38).

(1) The disciples recognized that the multitude he sent to the surrounding villages to buy bread (v. 33). According to Matthew Christ made the proposition that the multitude be fed (Matt. 14:16). (2) Jesus commended them to feed the multitude (v. 37). (3) The disciples replied they should go and buy two hundred pennyworth of bread. Their perplexity was due to the fact that they were depending upon their own resources instead of Christ. To be free to feed with the humanity impossible has a three-fold benefit: (a) It makes us realize our dependence upon Christ; (b) It gives us to Him for help in our need; (c) It leads us to give Him the glory for the results. Though our ability to teach, preach or to give be meager when compared with the Lord's ability it is equal to any demand.

2. Jesus' method in feeding the multitudes (vv. 39-44).

(1) The Lord's part. This was to issue instructions as to the method of procedure and to create the provision. Though they had but five loaves and two fishes He increased them that the need of the hungry multitude was met.

(2) The disciples part. They were to have the people sit down in companies so as to facilitate distribution. They then took that which the Master had blessed and distributed it to the people. The disciples' responsibility was not for the creation of the provision, but for its distribution to the people. (3) The people's part. Their part was not to create nor distribute, but obediently to sit down and partake of the provision. Even after the bread had been blessed by the Lord and distributed by the disciples, they would have perished with hunger had they not partaken of the food. Unless the people receive Jesus Christ and the salvation which He has provided they shall eternally starve. The Lord has done His part. The disciples are under solemn obligation to do their part and the final responsibility rests upon the people.

Obedience

Obedience is the secret. Not slavish obedience, but sympathetic, loving, eager obedience. May the law of holiness be to us welcome as the light, sweet as the flowers, more to be desired than much fine gold!—W. I. Watkinson
