FAMILY HAS ANNUAL REUNION

M. E. Williams and Miss Minnie Lee, re-united from Stamford Monday attended the Corley reunion held there the 23rd.

Williams is the lone sis-ter of seven brothers who are still living and age from 66 to 80. J. W. of Cisco, former resi-dent here, 80; W. A. of 77; D. M. of Lamesa, 74; Wilson, 74; M. M. of Oklahoma, 72; Mrs. Wil-son, 70; P. B. of Hermleigh, 70; P. B. N. M., former resident here, 68, and C. C. of 66. Each of these ageds is in fairly good health.

W. A. of Stamford who had a partial stroke of par-alysis seven years ago. All present and enjoyed the occasion except who reached Hermleigh Monday.

L. Capps, daughter of Corley, was hostess to the aged home comers and a most delicious dinner was served to the members of the Corley family upon this occa-sion. Others coming dur-ing the afternoon. Twenty two of the night in the Capps home. Several others went to places for the night.

W. A. of A. Y., son of W. Williams, was the place of pleas-ure Sunday morning. An enjoyable day was spent with others still arriving these were Mrs. M. E. Williams, Minnie Lee, and Ros-etta, family all of Hermleigh. The reunion was spent in picture taking and playing and talking several days. Seventy seven guests and hosts friends con-stituted the personnel of this group.

During the evening hour found these old people leaving for their homes in the various above mentioned places. The reunion was held with our own Mrs. Williams here next year.

ACTIVITIES OF HERMLEIGH 4-H CLUB GIRLS

The Hermleigh Community Fair was as most of us know un-usually good this year. Among the interesting features of this year's Fair was the 4 H club girls exhibits. The following is the list of the winners of the cash prizes given the girls who won first and second place with their work: 1st. year, 1st place Irene Crumley, $3.00 blue ribbon 1st. year, 2nd. place Edith Mur-phy, $2.00 red ribbon; 2nd. year, 1st place, Ben Stevenson, $3.00 blue ribbon; 2nd. year, 2nd. place Edith Stevenson, $2.00 red ribbon; 3rd. year, 1st. place, Farris Stevenson, $3.00 blue ribbon. 3rd. year, 2nd. place, Mary Ann Nachlinger, $2.00 red ribbon.

Now these cash prizes did not come from no where into exist-ence without a cause, no, indeed Mr. Tom Weaver with a commit-tee solicited this money so that the girls would be encouraged to continue their work and it surely has for the girls know that they are interested in the work and besides, when cash prizes are given that is something more to work for. The 4-H Club girls take this opportunity to again thank Mr. Weaver and the com-mittee working with him, for the interest shown by giving these prizes and we, as an organization shall do our best to contribute more to the success of our Com-munity Fair next fall.

'DAD' AND MOTHER JEN-KINS LEAVE FOR DUMUS

Dad and grandmother Jenkins are leaving this week for Dumus where they will make their home with their daughter, Mrs. C. W. Harbert.

Dad is well known and loved by all of us, and we appreciate the staunchness with which he holds to his political views. He is very strong for the Democra-tic Nominee and says he will come back here to vote, if such is necessary.

Mother Jenkins is not quite as active as "Dad", but is known to be as saintly as humans being become in this modern age. We shall all miss them, joining mu-tually with the Cliff and Paul families here.

KINDERGARTEN TO OPEN HERE MONDAY

Mrs. Chas. Adams will open a Kindergarten school in her home here Monday the 1st. Mrs. Adams has had special training for this work which together with her natural temperament fit her well for this splendid work.

The value of the Kindergarten as a preparatory step in school work has been well attested. Children who attend these schools are better prepared to make good use of the first grades in the public school.

In the 'rustle and bustle' of home life the proper teaching of children is too often neglected and this is giving rise to the need of Kindergarten schools. "Train a child up in the way it should go, and when it is old it will not depart from it." The training of children together in the Kindergarten is establishing a fundamental uniform educa-tion essential to the best welfare of American children.

Jake Brawley created a minor suspicion Monday when he bought a great long cotton sack and started toward home hurriedly. Mrs. Brawley explained later that the cotton belonged to her.

WORK ON THE OLD PYRON CEMETARY

To all parties interested and to all that have helped with the Old Pyron Cemetery fund, to dig a well, erect a windmill and stor-age tank, I want to say through the Herald that we lack $41.12 having enough money. The well is drilled, as many of you know, and paid for at a cost of $141.25. There is $153.30 in the bank.

The three persons figuring, es-timated the cost of this at $206.00, everything laid down at the cemetery. $11.50 has been sub-scribed which, when paid in, will leave a deficit of only $41.12 of the $206.00.

We have been working hard for this well for the last five years, and have succeeded at last if only forty persons who have loved ones buried here will send us $1.00 each. When this work is completed we can have trees and flowers, which we wish so much to have.

I have learned that the well is not located just as every body would have it. This is unfortu-nate. Twelve or fifteen women were connected with it and acted on their best judgment. We have planned to run the water away from the graves through pipe purchased at a cost of $10.00. Other materials having ad-vanced in price the last two years which accounts for our deficit.

I wish personally to thank each one who has contributed to this good cause.

Yours for a better kept ceme-tery. Mrs. J. S. Farr.

JOE NEAL CLOSE SECOND TO POSSIBLE BEST

The lamented cotton crop is looking better generally except in places where there is no cot-ton. In some fields the plants are holding up well from the dry weather and the stalks are begin-ning to fall over with bolls.

The fortunate Neal Farr is said to have the best cotton in the country and Joe Neal is said to be a close second. Joe is a good cotton farmer. He is carry-ing a smile of secret cheer these dark days growing out of the fact that he realizes that his ef-forts have not been in vain this year.

Mr. T. M. Saunders is a close third. Mr. Saunders thinks he will make a quarter of a bale per acre. All of the fields east and north east of town have held up better than the average fields of the community, it looks like.

Neal, Joe and Tom are three men out of whom we have not heard a ny pessimistic talk throughout the doubting period of this year's crop. These re-port which have been received this week leads us to believe that this scripture is true: "To him that hath shall be given." Luck to you Joe. Stay in there. "You will win the battle if you never give up."

SECRET WEDDING

Secret weddings have often been planned, but rarely ever so successfully as was the recent marriage of our own Miss Ileta Henry to Mr. E. C. Hall of Big Springs, June the 24th. Miss Henry has been working in a law office in Odessa, Texas for the past several months and, as it was supposed, came home two weeks ago for a vacation visit. The secrets of her June marriage were not revealed to home folks until last week-end when the happy husband came for the pretty bride to carry her to their new home in Midland. The introduction to the family of the well accepted new member, was both surprising and pleasing.

The bells of master cupid ring out in curious tones, sometimes. The mother who has a graceful daughter of 18 years and up, has a curious heart ache throughout the "month of June."

Mr. and Mrs. Hall will be at home in Midland this week where the former holds a posi-tion with the Midland Drug Co.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Mrs. Odell H. Ryan was hon-ored Monday afternoon with a miscellaneous bridal shower at the pretty country home of Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Smith with their daughter, Lorene, and Miss Dix-ie Lee Mitchell as joint hostesses.

A beautiful color scheme of white and gold was carried out in the living and dining rooms. Immediately after the guests were assembled, Mrs. W. P. Bowlin in a short talk, complimentary to the bride, summoned the fair-ies. Little Montie Rea Smith, the white fairy, entered the liv-ing room from the front and danced gaily to the feet of the bride, leading the way for the yellow and brown fairies, Moz-zelle Mitchel and Bernard Smith, who carried a miniature home. Little Montie Rea opened the house which proved to be full of useful gifts; these she handed to the bride who passed them on to the other guests.

The fairies then led the way to the dining room where lemon-

HOW BROAD ARE YOUR SYMPATHIES

Last Friday night banker Lew is, realtor Louder, Bob Adams, Joe Roemisch, Jim Reynolds and editor Norman were invited to meet in conference with a Mr. Delette and a Catholic Priest from Sweetwater. And, notwithstanding this was breaking an age long custom, all parties invited attended. Why should an age-long custom like the custom of Catholics, Jews, Masons and Protestants having no such social intercourse with each other be broken at this time? was the first question asked.

The next question to arise was this: "How can a Protestant who has always been taught to 'call no man FATHER on this earth, for one is your father, and all ye are brethren,' call a Catholic Priest 'FATHER?'" The question was received pleasantly by all, and was answered by the priest in this way: "Though you have ten thousand instructors in Christ yet ye have not many FATHERS, for in Christ Jesus have 'I' begotten you through the gospel." The reply was as timely and as well taken as the question was.

The third question was asked with both anxiety and curiosity. "What mutual good is to be derived from meeting like this?" The answer to this question was not well understood, but each one present appreciated the fact that more time than a few minutes would be required to understand a proposition so new as this one. As best it could be understood the proposition was about like this: The average Protestant does not understand the true import of the Catholic religion, and as a result of these misconceptions there is an unnecessary gulf fixed between them, Catholics think. These issues are being brought out in this present campaign despite Catholic effort to avoid it, so it is decided for the first time in their history to meet these false accusation such as their being under oath of both religious and civil allegiance to the Pope, and that they are in politics during this campaign. They are asking all Protestants who desire first hand information concerning these things to meet with them in such friendly meetings as these and learn through a system of questions and answers the Catholic position with reference to all question relating to Americanism.

We can not at this time see how this information might be of any benefit to our people, but we also think that if this is the kind, honest attitude of or Catholic neighbors, we should be willing to meet with them and come to a better understanding among ourselves. As for us, we think we understand, but others do not. We grant the Catholic, the Jew and all Protestants their right to "Worship God according to their own conscience, and that none should dare molest or make afraid." "E Pluribus Unum" is our truest sentiment.

Other of these meetings will follow, it is understood, and such, and only such, as desire honest information are invited to attend. It is not the intention of these clubs to discuss religious differences, but only for the purpose of understanding each other. We see nothing to be lost by attending such meetings.

R. B. Tucker received a message Wednesday night of the death of his brother-in-law.

THE TIMES-SIGNAL HAS NEW JUNIOR EDITOR

Geo. W. Smith, senior editor of the Times-Signal, according to announcement made in a special edition of the aforesaid paper, is the happy 'dad' of a new boy. The Herald editor doesn't charge the innocent child with a poor choice of a 'dad' for, according to the announcement, a 'stork' brought it to the fortunate editor. Whatever mistakes may have been made in delivering the boy to a 'dad' whose good looks can never grace his sweet and innocent little life—two of which are evident—should not be charged to the boy who shall always be loved of his good mother; they are chargeable only to the 'stork' which played traitor to the boy when it shaped his destiny by forcing him to look into the face of an ugly editor for a generation and call him 'dad.'

The other serious mistake was that of not naming the boy, whose good fortune it was to be born at such an eventful time as this, "Alfred E."

Mr. and Mrs. Ayers and family visited the later parents Rev. and Mrs. Hudson Sunday.

James Hudson left the 17th. for Weatherford, Texas where he will enter college.
