"Make Your Living While You Make YOUR CROP!"

THE NATIONAL

COPYRIGHT LAW

A copyright law is a law that authors and artists secure which gives them the exclusive right to publish and sell their productions for a specified length of time. Copyright legislation began in the U. S. in 1790. In 1909 a law was made that amended and consolidated all previous acts respecting copyright. This law was amended again by Congress a few years later.

The law extends to applicants who comply with its provisions, the right to print, reprint, publish, copy and sell the copyright work; to translate it or make any other version of it, if it is a literary work; if it is a non-dramatic, to dramatize it; and if it is a drama to convert it into a novel. Should it be a musical work, arrange and adapt it. A dramatic work or any part of it may be publicly performed. The copyright is vested on the proprietors as if they were authors, in case of encyclopedias, reviews etc.

Publishing a book includes the setting of type, the making of plates, printing and binding all of which must be done in the United States.

To obtain a copyright for a work that is to be published, the person must send to the Register of Copyrights, Library of Congress, Washington D. C., for an application blank. When the blank is received, the necessary requirements must be made and the blank returned.

The copyright runs for a period of twenty-eight years. The author may obtain a renewal for the same period by making a new application a year before the expiration of the original copyright. Should the author die, his heir may obtain a renewal. The copyright closes when the term of renewal expires.

International copyright is the arrangement made by different nations whereby books or other printed matter published in one nation may be distributed in another, with copyright protection to the owner.

The U. S. cannot inter the

MAKING A LIVING OUR MAIN OBJECTIVE

The idea of "making a living while one makes his crop," is a capital idea. The man who suggested it was wise. The man who practices it, of course, is still wiser. The Texas Electric Service Co. says that Texas affords a $6,000,000,000.00 market for farm products. Is this true? If it is true, isn't it a great challenge to our people? Think of it! It may sound like a dream, but dreams and neatly constructed air castles always precede great inventions and other accomplishments.

Suppose it is a dream! Which was first, the finished piece of machinery, or the mould in which the various parts of it were shaped? The machine couldn't have existed before the mould was made in which its parts were shaped, nor could the various parts of a finished machine have been shaped in mould if the model of the finished product hadn't first existed.

"Behold, the dreamer cometh." "Making a living while one makes his crop," is no longer a 'dream,' we all realize the practicability of it, and many of our farmers are already doing it. When all our farmers begin to practice this, the commerce of the country will be safe. Talk this over with the farmer who is practicing it.

Mr. B. Y. Rea who has been confined to his bed for some several days, is able to be out again. He is joining with the other of our retired men and sports in the popular 42 game which we all enjoy so much. For our older men, and all others during leisure hours, the 42 game, as it is played here, is a fine thing.

Union because the American copyright law provides that books copyrighted in the U. S. must be manufactured there, unless they are of foreign origin, and in some language other than English. -- Agnes Early

WHEELS OF PROGRESS CONTINUE TO ROLL

Things continue to revolutionize. As social equality shall continue to develop through our present better school advantages for all our children, urban and rural alike, things shall continue to revolutionize.

The cotton of to day is demanding new ginning machinery to get the best results with it. There have come enough of this new type of ginning and baling machinery into the country to show people the benefit of it, and as a result of this each local town must compete with the neighboring town which has this equipment.

Fall before last one fifth of the cotton grown in our community was carried to other places to be ginned. Last fall one half of it went the same way. It is thought that 75 per cent of our cotton will leave the community next fall to be ginned. This will never do. In the first place it is too far to other gins for our own people to have to drive, but so long as we do not meet the demands which are being made of cotton gins in our own community, we are glad that our people have the opportunity of better gin equipment in other towns. We say it isn't fair to our people to have to go this distance. We can, by some means, have this necessary gin equipment right here. Listen, friends, lets get busy and settle this matter in the interest of our own welfare. It can be done. Anything can be done.

This matter needs attention now. Why shall we linger and wait at our own direct loss? Talk this matter over with your neighbor and see what he thinks.

Mrs. K. B. Rector visited with us yesterday. She is one of the Herald's oldest acquaintances, and best friends. She was the first lady to visit our office at our opening near two years ago.

CROWLEY GARDNER PROVES SUCCESSFUL

Crowley Gardner broke into the Star-Telegram office while in Fort Worth at the stock show and got himself broadcasted among the big cattle men of the state. Crowley is some boy. One can't defeat Crowley. His pluck is to be admired by all who know him.

Crowley, it is perhaps better to have the publicity you got out of your trip than to have won a prize on your calf. Stay in there, Crowley.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY

To the officers and members of Pyron Lodge I. O. O. F. No 19

We your committee on resolutions beg to submit the following:

Whereas on the 27th. day of January 1929, our Heavenly Father, in Infinite wisdom deemed it best to call from our midst Mrs. Nora Brock, wife of Bro. H. E. Brock.

Be it resolved by the officers and members of this Lodge, to extend our deepest and tenderest sympathy to the bereaved family, believing that a sublime faith in their reunion will comfort them even in this sad hour.

Even death has a wonderful mission though it robs us of our loved ones. It lifts our hearts from our surroundings to a longing for that meeting above.

No matter how heavy the burden, no matter how great the despair, it makes heaven seem nearer to know our loved ones are there.

Be it futher resolved that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy spread on the minutes of this lodge, and a copy sent to the Hermleigh Herald for publication.

Mr. Edd Mahoney was in town Tuesday. He said a good rain fell at his place recently.

THE GARTMAN IMPROVED

Mr. R. L. Gartman was in the office here early Tuesday morning with a hen egg which measured 8 inches one way by 7 inches the other way. He hasn't seen a great many eggs like this, he said. Mr. E. J. Ely has spoken to us of an egg of like size. From this it appears that Hermleigh hens are advancing an idea to the 'hen' world concerning a better size and quality of egg. Why may not a hen suggest an idea?

Mr. Gartman is breeding a chicken from the buff manorica and rhode island red. He thinks this is a very superior chicken.
 Judging from the way they have begun to lay, Mr. Gartman is making a contribution to the poultry world. Out of 80 hens he is getting an average of 50
 eggs per day, he said.

"FATHER MINE!"

(Written by Mrs. Blanch Wem-ken Crowford, in memory of her father, J. W. Wemken who was buried here in July of '27.)

Sunset on western plains,
 And shadows of the cross
 Keep watch o'er sleeping pioneers
 And mutely speak our loss.

One by one they're passing on,
 And in the autumn tide of life,
 Content, they hear the call
 And cross the Great Divide.

For us they've built and those unborn,
 With brain, with heart, with
 brown;
 But all in vain, if those they leave
 Pass not their virtues on.

Custodians we, of their faiths,
 their dreams.
 'Their torch, we'll bear it high'
 We'll pass unstained their high ideals,
 Their light, it shall not die!

Father mine, you were so
 wise,
 So tenber, loyal, and true;
 Honest and big as the West you loved,
 Those of your blood, may they be as you.

Courageous and proud you
 tattered forward,
 Greeting always with a smile,
 Trouble and pain, it was just the same.
 Feelings for others not rated
 with a mile,
 Upright and upwards was your game.

To your loved ones a heritage greater than wealth—
 Your gold—twas riches of heart, mind and soul.
 Traditions of honor, of high morals and worth—
 You gave of yourself to others untold.

Salt of the earth, you staunch pioneers!
 Your memories we'll reverence
 on through the years!
 So following your light on into
 the west,
 In our life's sunset bring you
 the fruits of your guest.

TEXANS LETS
TALK TEXAS

$6, 00,000,000

—A Topic For Conversation—

TEXAS is the heart of a six billion dollar market. Texas industries have a market for their products within overnight shipping distance, comprised of 12, 000,000 people. This population is rapidly increasing. The wealth of people in the Texas trading area is growing more soundly and more steadily than that of any other section of the country today. National resources are just now entering a period of intensive development. Texas industries thrive because they have a sound and growing market for their product.

"PRINTER'S PIE SUPPER"

Early last Thursday evening we had the misfortune of pieing a lot of community 'gossip.' Among the items which went to make up this "most unpleasant printers feast" were mentions of Mmes. C. J. and L. M. Lewis leaving on the 5th. for Stevensville for a short visit with their daughter and sister Miss Lotta Maud Lewis; of a visit of Supt. and Mrs. Bryant of Pyron with the Herald at a recent date, and of a visit of Mr. and Mrs. Dockery of Colorado with us here last week. Mrs. Dockery is an old-time friend of ours.

FUNERAL AT FT. WORTH

Funeral services for J. Roy Miller, 36, 1310 Noth West Sixteenth Street, Ft. Worth, was held at Shannon's Funeral Chapel March the 9th. at 4 p. m. Rev. L. D. Anderson, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiated, and burial was in Mount Olivet Cemetery.

Miller, who was manager of the Isis Theater, died at his home at 10:20 a. m. He was a World War veteran and Shriner. Tarrant Masonic Lodge No. 942 had charge at the grave.

Survivors are his wife; parents Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller, Ben Franklin; a brother, William B. Miller, Great Lakes, Ill., and four sisters. Mrs. W. H. Miller and Miss Ben Miller of Ben Franklin; Mrs. T. F. Latta, Dallas, and Mrs. E. D. Stevenson, Hermleigh.

Barber Hamil and his father, G. W., W. H. Powers, Arlie, Loren, Walton, and Elins McMillan, and Vance Clift are among those attending the Fat Stock Show this week. The Gardners and Murphys together with Oscar Hooper also attended with the "fat companions," the calves.

Dolph Sturgeon was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Powers mother and brother are visiting her this week.

Little Miss Marlene McQuaid was taken early this week to the Lubbock Sanitarium. She is doing nicely, it is reported.

J. H., and Mrs. Lynde visited the latter's sister, Mrs. J. A. Durham, near Clarimount Sunday. In connection with the fine luncheon-spread at the noon hour there was the unusual thing of three bachelors setting side by side at the table, Mr. Lynde said. These were Messrs. Ward Durham, and Wolf. The good Ward made the Durham safe in the presence of the Wolf, Mr. Lynde said, humorously.
