It is noticable that the author and botham constituted the equalizafounder of the Christian Religion was the Son of Gcd. He was pre-eminently the "Man of men." He was introduced to people of ancient Palestine by a man of whom He said: "Among those born of a woman, there is none greater than John the Baptist." St. Paul, an outstanding man of international standing, was selected to lay the foundation of Christianity. If such men as these gave shape to the principles of Christianity, certainly it will require the very best among us to champion its cause today.
