

Candidates Vote; Join In Waiting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Their long, sometimes bitter campaign, over, President Carter and Ronald Reagan could only cast their ballots and wait today for a troubled nation to decide the outcome of the one of the most closely fought election in recent times. On the first anniversary of the capture of American hostages in Iran, one of the darkest moments in his presidency, Carter returned to Plains, Ga., early today and voted in the old brick high school of his hometown. "I think it's very close," he told reporters. Asked if he expected to win the election, Carter replied: "I hope so. We'll see. I've always come out well." He said the size of the voter turnout would be a big factor in the outcome. While Carter gave emotional thanks to supporters who rallied at the Plains railroad depot, Reagan, his Republican challenger, awaited the voters' decision at his oceanfront home at Los Angeles.

After months of Reagan's harping on Carter's handling of the economy and the president's hints that Reagan could start a war, the final days of their campaign were dominated by swiftly moving events in Tehran that encouraged speculation that the ordeal of the 52 American hostages soon may end. No one could say how those events would affect the outcome of the presidential race, and the candidates reacted cautiously. "Don't know yet," was the president's response on Monday when asked if he was encouraged by the news that the Iranian militants holding the hostages had agreed to relinquish custody to the Iranian government. Referring to the hostages in an election-day address for which his campaign purchased time on the three television networks, Reagan said "Like you, there is nothing I want more than their safe return—that they be returned with their families after this long year of imprisonment."

Heavy Voting In Texas

By The Associated Press Texas election officials reported hour-long waiting lines at many polling places today as voters made the final choices in a long election race headlined by the hotly contested battle between Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan for the state's pivotal 26 electoral votes. In Dallas and Houston, officials reported heavy turnouts and many voters walking away from long waiting lines. At one polling place in extreme South Dallas, 325 people had voted 2½ hours after the polls opened. Election officials in North Dallas reported lines around the block at polling places in middle and upper class residential areas. Dallas County officials expected as many as 550,000 people to go to the polls today. In Houston, lines began forming nearly an hour before the polls opened at a number of traditionally Republican precincts in the city's westside, with some precinct judges reporting as many as 300 ballots cast the first hour. At a predominantly Hispanic precinct in the Moody Park area, however, only 22 ballots had been cast 90 minutes after the polls opened. Estimates of the Harris County turnout ranged from 50 to 80 percent of the 1,045,042 registered voters. In Fort Worth, lines of up to 200 formed at some precincts before the polls opened at 7 a.m. "I have never in my life seen it like this," said election judge John Wood. In Austin, Pete Reyes, an election judge at a predominantly Mexican-American box in East Austin, said more than 100 people voted in the first hour. Bill Bonds, an election judge in West Austin, said turnout at his box was "heaviest I have seen in 16 or 20 years." Turnout also was reported overflowing at a box just north of the University of Texas area, with 175 people, mostly students, voting the first hour.

The SDN Column

It is a well-known fact that Scurry County's 1980 cotton crop will be only a minor fraction of the 1979 yield, but there is some cotton out there, despite the fact that we had an early freeze this year. The harvest is going to be late because farmers are not inclined to rush in and pay for defoliation when nature will eventually do it for them. They know it won't take long to get the cotton out of the fields, once they get started. The situation was different last year. The biggest cotton crop in history here required several months for harvesting, and it was almost planting time again before the gins caught up with the backlog.

★★★★ Billy Roach, county extension agent, says he believes the early freeze may have hurt cotton prospects here more than some suspected. Although the September rains also came too late to do much good, Roach said a lot of green cotton balls might have matured if the first freeze had held off for another two or three weeks. On the average, our first freeze should have arrived this coming weekend. But it has come and gone, now, and for all practical purposes, winter is here.

★★★★ And now that the election is finally taking place, we can get on with seasonal activities. For some reason, in the weeks just prior to a general election, especially in a presidential election year, many activities, including various types of business activity, almost come to a standstill. Then, once the election is over, no matter who wins, minds are diverted from politics and back to the business of living.

Voters Here Turn Out For Election

Voters were going to the polls in substantial numbers in Scurry County this morning, according to reports at the county clerk's office. Telephones were busy at the clerk's office as voters called to check on their registration, or to determine where they were to cast their ballots. Also, there were frequent calls from election judges to check on registration records of voters who had misplaced their cards, or were uncertain as to where they were to vote. Ballots were being cast in 13 voting precincts in the county as voters here joined others in the country to select a president to serve for the next four years. Scurry County voters in Commissioners Precinct No. 3 also were selecting a commissioner in a contested race.

Charlie Yoast, Democratic incumbent, faced a challenge by Bernhard Bartels, Republican nominee. All Texas voters had some extra choices on their ballots as they decided the fate of nine proposed amendments to the state constitution. Meanwhile, a few more absentee ballots had arrived at the clerk's office by mail, pushing the total past the 600 mark. Bob Bullock To Seek 3rd Term AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—State Comptroller Bob Bullock says he will seek a third term in 1982. Bullock, a Democrat, was first elected to the post in 1974, after serving as Secretary of State.

Zone Change Request Rejected By Council

A zone change request to allow the construction of an apartment complex was turned down last night during a meeting of the Snyder city council. The zone change request, made by Dr. Nelson Brice of Snyder, involved five acres in Block 3 of the H&G Survey, Section 182, known as the Pete Hart Estate which Brice asked to be changed from an R-1 District (single family) to an R-3 District (multi-family). Voting for the request were councilmen Don Gressett, Ed Thrift, and John Best. Voting against it were Rod Waller and David Holt. Absent for a portion of the meeting and for the vote on the zone change was Joe Reaves. Although a majority of the councilmen present voted for the zone change, the motion still failed because a five-sixths affirmative vote was needed to overrule the rejection given the proposed zone change earlier by the city's planning and zoning commission.

In other action last night, councilmen approved numerous bids. Approved were a $17,898 bid by Wilson-Motors for the purchase of three police cars, a $7,178 bid by Wilson Motors for the purchase of a new car for the fire chief, and a $63,746 bid by Wilson Motors for the purchase of two truck chassis. Other bids of $35,872 and $64,509 by Ebling Manufacturing Co. were approved for the purchase of two compact bodies and 300 trash containers. Approved on second reading was a rate increase for Snyder Community Antenna Television upping its monthly service charge from $8.50 to $9.50. Appointed to the Board of Electrical Examiners were Bobby Njlan, Tommy LaRoux, Larry White, and Luis Aguilar. Approved on first reading was Ordinance 585 providing for updated service credit under the Texas Municipal Retirement System, a measure provided for the current budget, and also approved were bids by Blue Cross Blue Shield for the city's health

Q.—Why is Western Texas College playing its basketball games in the high school gym instead of the coliseum?
A.—There was an early-season conflict this year, but after this week, the Westerners and Dusters will be back in the coliseum, says Phil Ragland, coliseum manager. It just so happened this year that WTC had some home games scheduled prior to the square dance festival, which is an annual event in the coliseum. The festival is set this weekend and the basketball floor will be put down in the arena as soon as it is over and in plenty of time for the next WTC home games Nov. 15; says Ragland.

Upsets Trip Grid Guessers

Last week was a hard one for predictors, with upsets on the local, college and pro levels. Some of the most missed games were: the Pecos-Lamesa tie, the Tech upset over Texas, San Jose St. beating Baylor, Rice upsetting Arkansas, and the Atlanta Falcons win over the Buffalo Bills. John Griffin of 2703 25th St. and Eric West of 3402 Jacksboro tied for first place in the contest with five misses each. They will split the $17.50 prize money. Right behind them were 16 entries with only six misses. Test your skill (and luck) in the new contest which begins in today's issue.

Oil Minister Makes Appeal

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai has appealed to the International Red Cross in Geneva, Switzerland, to try to secure the release of Oil Minister Mohammad Jawad Baguri Tunguyan from Iraq. Tehran Radio said today. Rajai sent the appeal Monday evening after declaring he was invoking "all international codes and regulations" to secure Tunguyan's release, claiming he was "ambushed and kidnapped," while on his way to inspect damage in the besieged Iranian oil refinery city of Abadan. Iraq said Tunguyan and his five-man entourage were captured on the battlefield near Abadan on Friday, were prisoners of war, and that Iran's claim that his capture violated international law sounded odd from a nation that has held 52 Americans hostage for a year.

Polling Place Maddens O'Hair

AUSTIN, Texas (AP)—Atheist leader Madalyn Murray O'Hair said today it made her mad that she had to enter a church to vote. She complained to the Associated Press after casting her ballot at a Lutheran church, the official polling place for her precinct. "There was a big sign up, encouraging people to give money to the church," Ms. O'Hair said. She said her concept of separation of church and state is that voters should not have to enter a church to cast their ballots. "It makes atheists mad, and I don't know how other people feel about it," she said.

a partial remedy

The founding fathers wisely provided that federal judges be insulated from public passions and, therefore, decided they would not be answerable to the electorate for their decisions.

This is precisely what happened the other day when Congress sent legislation to the White House overturning the U.S. Supreme Court's wretched decision in the now-famous case entitled Zurcher v. Stanford Daily.

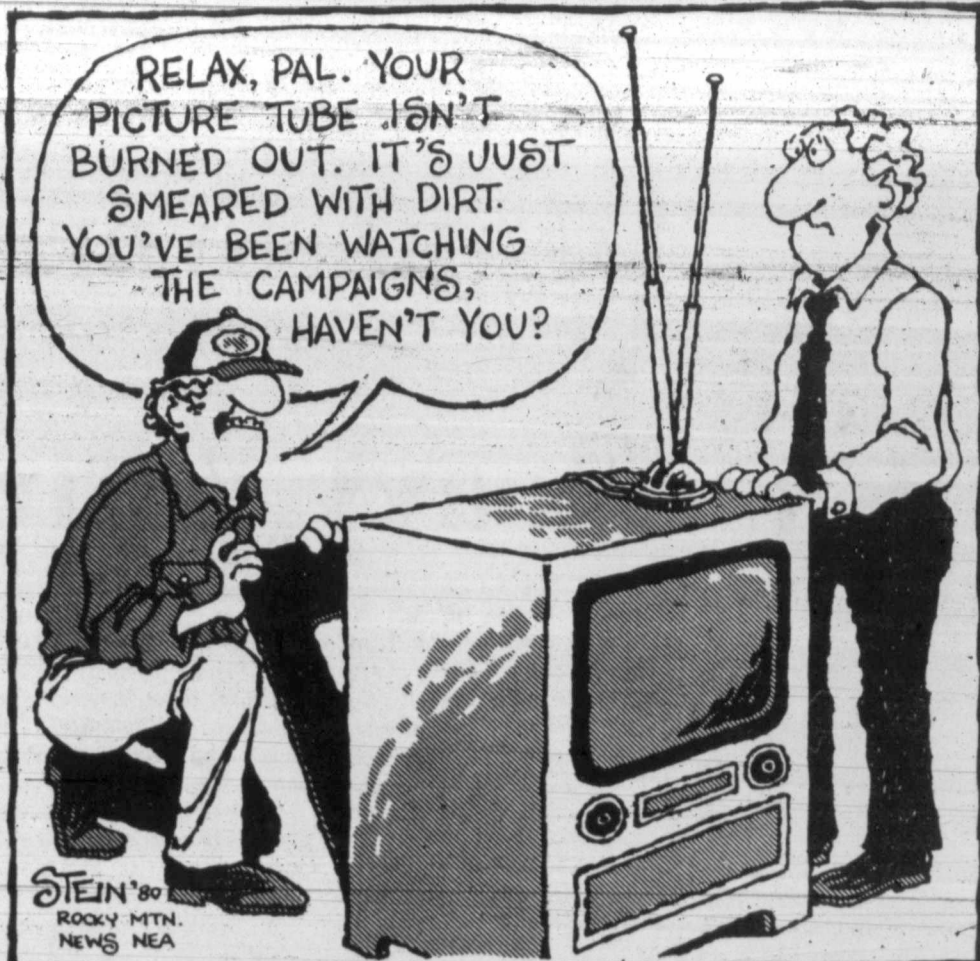

Under the bill, overwhelmingly approved by both houses, local, state and federal law enforcement officers could not use a search warrant to obtain notes, film, tapes or other documentary materials used by those engaged in publishing or broadcasting.

But a fourth exception appears to be a loophole large enough to compromise the broad intent of the legislation: surprise search and seizures may be conducted if there is reason to believe the material would be destroyed, concealed or altered if advance notice were given through the normal procedure, namely a subpoena.

Nevertheless, the law has teeth that should discourage arrogant disregard of First Amendment rights. Those engaged in First Amendment activities who are subjected to an unlawful search may sue the federal government and state governments that have waived immunity, as well as their agents, for damages - but not punitive damages.

Unfortunately, Congress did not in this legislation limit surprise searches against those not specifically covered by the First Amendment. But it did direct the attorney general to develop within six months guidelines to extend similar protection to all other citizens.

Although this legislation is not as complete and categorical as we think it might have been, still it goes far toward remedying a gross judicial error. Moreover, it is a strong rebuke by the American people and their Congress to the U.S. Supreme Court for trifling with First Amendment safeguards of personal liberty.

uncle's mean streak

Uncle Sam gets mean when he gets mad.

Mr. Richard Saunders dared to cross him; that was a mistake.

The Wall Street Journal has described Richard Saunders of Wichita, Kans., as a technical "near genius."

Saunders designed World War II planes for Howard Hughes.

Everybody in related industries has known Dick Saunders as a "top-sergeant type."

Leathery-faced Saunders, in the image of a frontier lawman, would tell suppliers, "Give me your best price first because there will be no haggling."

He was never a man for haggling nor for compromise. Remember that.

Dick Saunders' foundry in Wichita employed 60 people making parts for Boeing and Learjet planes.

Last February some men from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) showed up at his plant. He showed them around. They appeared impressed with his modern all-electric foundry.

Foundries are notoriously dirty, dangerous places to work but this one was immaculate, efficient.

In 1975 OSHA inspectors had complimented Mr. Saunders on his foundry; he expected another routine approval.

But while touring the plant one of the OSHA inspectors told one of the workmen how he could hurt himself should he stick his arm into a certain machine - and Dick Saunders exploded.

On the spot he called the inspector a stupid so-and-so. The very idea showing a worker how to get hurt on the job by sticking his hand into something was stupid. He chewed out the OSHA inspector on the spot: "Stupid! Damn stupid!"

Within days, four OSHA inspectors were in the foundry, went over every square inch of the 42,000 square feet - and wrote citations for 23 alleged serious violations of federal job-safety laws.

Uncle Sam gets mean when he gets mad.

Let me say that OSHA is accustomed to negotiating differences in a situation like this - but as I mentioned Mr. Saunders is not a negotiator.

He wasn't about to send industrial engineers and lawyers to deal in the usual way with OSHA.

He closed the foundry.

Saunders reasoned that the changes OSHA was demanding would cost $500,000. Fighting the changes would cost a similar sum. So, though he had orders for business through the middle of next year, Dick Saunders closed his foundry - terminating jobs for 60 people - auctioned off his equipment and sold the building.

Last I heard, Dick Saunders was moving to Texas to go into "some other business" where hopefully he will not have to deal with the bureaucracy.

If he can find such a business.

my turn

by john dunnam

I can't understand why government hasn't dealt with itself in the act already. For those who believe that government should take an active role in solving social problems, there is a clear and present need for action on the highest level.

There has to be a way to stop this outrage. It isn't fair and it just ain't American anymore. With election day behind us now, maybe the politicians can start agreeing again and pass a long overdue Windfall Actors' Tax. It would skim off the undeserved profits of such blockbuster shows as Dallas and give them to less fortunate series whose only sin has been to fail to catch the fickle fancy of the viewing public.

There would be two ways to enforce this measure. The most obvious would be to follow the pattern recent legislation has established in dividing up athletic funds for colleges. For example, the money brought in by football teams is to be shared with such things as the girls' swimming teams. In TV it would work like this: Revenues generated by a winner like Lou Grant would be shared with something like Mr. Rogers' Neighborhood, a good show that for some reason hasn't caught on with wide audiences.

The second way of evening up the score, and perhaps the most fair, would be to rig television sets to make the adjustments themselves. For instance, if Jane Fonda's Barbara is the Saturday night movie and is getting an unfair bite of the market, a certain number of sets would automatically switch to rerun of say, Queen for a Day. See the beauty of it: Every show could be guaranteed an equal slice of the viewing pie.

Think what it would mean to the sports world. As soon as the allotted number of sets are tuned in to Monday Night Football, the rest of the viewers would spill over to something like Bowling For Dollars. The choke hold of the NFL would finally be broken for the betterment of sports fans everywhere.

A new department on the federal level could be established to screen the new shows each fall to make sure they are worthy of our time. They could even make a few rules and guidelines to insure the shows they produce are quality stuff.

Just think of it. No more of the agony of watching those new shows compete each fall in cutthroat competition for our attention and advertising dollar with only the best surviving. We could rest assured knowing that a panel of government experts would pick the best shows for us. That's not censorship, that's good government.

If the money grabbing actors, like Carroll O'Connor, Ed Asner or Bob Keeshan (Captain Kangaroo) complained, the liberals could launch a massive media campaign to discredit them. Sure they worked hard to get on top but so have a lot of other actors who never got the lucky break they did.

And look at the bigger picture. Percentage-wise, there are probably more unemployed in the acting field than in any other sector of our society. It's a national disgrace and high time the nation's biggest employer, the government, stepped in and rectified the situation.

You say the government should stay out of the television industry because it doesn't know anything about it. Nonsense. An unprecedented 105 million people watched the presidential debate last Tuesday. That was 100 percent of the viewing public of the major networks for that night. No show has ever come close to that, not even Soap. Nevermind there wasn't anything else on, we're talking government here.

Berry's World

© 1980 by NEA, Inc. Jim Berry

A slipshod person is one who wears leather soles and heels to go-walking on an icy day.

That shattering sound you're hearing comes from the post-election collapse of the pre-election structures of promises.

The formula for converting time changes - spring forward, fall back - was invented because the nuisance of calendar watches.

Americans enduring the final agonies of the quadrennial reshuffling of national leadership as prescribed by the Constitution should take heart.

It could be worse. There could be no such prescribed procedure, as is the case in the Soviet Union. A point that is relevant to the current news from that country.

Prime Minister Alexei Kosygin has resigned. That comes as no surprise. He has been ill for some time. What gives it more significance than the usual reports of the comings and goings of foreign leaders, however, is that it is the prologue of a much bigger story soon to come—a wholesale change in the national leadership of the Soviet Union.

Kosygin is 76, which by Soviet standards does not make him a standout elder statesman. The average age of the top leadership—generally taken to be the membership of the Communist Party Politburo—is over 70.

Leonid Brezhnev, Soviet president and party general secretary, is 74. Andrei Kirilenko, Brezhnev's sometime deputy and long regarded as his likeliest successor, is 73. Mikhail Suslov, the party's foremost ideologue, is 77. So it goes. And some time reasonably soon, so must all of them go: Which may present government and party with real problems.

The Soviet's basic problem is that while they have long since institutionalized their revolution, they have yet to succeed in instituting procedures to ensure the orderly transfer of power from one leadership generation to the next. There are no established channels for the regular infusion of new and younger talent into the hierarchy. Change of government until now has been by coup, purge and assassination.

Brezhnev and Kosygin, who arrived at the top by the first means when they ousted Nikita Khrushchev in 1964, have held power longer than any Soviet leader except Stalin. The changing of their guard, fast approaching, is bound to make for a traumatic time.

That time has not, however, arrived with Kosygin's departure. He is being succeeded by a longtime second banana around the Kremlin, Nikolai Tikhonov. An associate of Brezhnev's since the '30s and 75 himself, Tikhonov is not expected to wield much of a new broom. He is seen by Western analysts as a transition figure, called in to give Brezhnev a hand as long as the latter remains at the top.

Which may not be too much longer. Although reported to be evidencing somewhat more spark lately, Brezhnev also has been ailing. He has had to be virtually propped up on several public occasions in the recent past.

It is quite possible that Brezhnev's own immediate successor also will be a short-termer, with the real transfer of power to come later to an entirely new leadership echelon. This is the post-World War II generation, men in their 40s and 50s and a different breed from the fast of the old Bolsheviks still clinging to power. Better educated and more sophisticated about the outside world and Soviet relations with it, they are economic technicians and political professionals rather than ideologues with lingering nostalgia for the revolutionary good old days.

Whether that will make them any easier to deal with remains to be demonstrated when they begin assuming positions of power. And that could be beginning to happen.

Coincident with Kosygin's departure from the leadership ranks, there is an arrival. He is Mikhail Gorbachev, an agricultural specialist whose elevation most certainly is connected with the current downward dip in this area of a generally troubled economy. But at 49, the youngest Politburo member by almost a decade, he is also the start of what must be a new wave.

The slow-motion approach to the inevitable power transfer indicates that it is not coming easily. But the circumstances of Kosygin's departure suggest it will be considerably less harrowing than those of the past.

By leaving office alive and still in official favor, he is setting a precedent for Soviet prime ministers. One such honorable retirement does not in itself, establish an orderly procedure for the change of leadership. But in the context of more than 60 years of Soviet experience in this matter, it is definitely to be considered progress.

Diet, exercise would help

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - I'm writing to you for information on atherosclerosis. It has been stated that I have it in my brain. I am 51 years old and have diabetes and angina. I don't take anything for the diabetes except to follow a diet I am on a low-cholesterol diet which I understand will help me.

I'd appreciate any literature that you have on this. Also I have angina pectoris and I suffer from headaches and dizzy spells. I cannot take Coumadin because of heavy bleeding that I get from it and the doctors are afraid of my falling. I had an angiogram, that was how the doctor found I had the atherosclerosis.

DEAR READER - Your letter is good proof of a basic point - that atherosclerosis is a disease of the arteries. It is caused by the fatty-cholesterol deposits that build up in the arteries. Your angina pectoris is heart pain caused by the build up of fatty-cholesterol deposits in the arteries to your heart. The same process apparently has been seen in the arteries to your brain when your arteries were studied with an angiogram.

There are many causes for dizzy spells. One of them: can be from poor circulation to the base of the brain or to the balance mechanism within the ear.

You're rather young to be having all these problems. A 51-year-old woman usually doesn't have so many changes in the arteries. The clue probably is that you're a diabetic. Women who are diabetics are more apt to have atherosclerosis even during childbearing years than other women.

The type of diet you should be on is discussed in The Health Letter number 15-4, Diet to Prevent Heart Disease and Strokes. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

A properly designed diet is very helpful in many cases but you have to individualize the treatment. Diet isn't the only thing that's necessary in many cases. I would like to encourage you to develop a good exercise program within the limits imposed by your medical problems, particularly your angina pectoris. Such a program might be simply walking. Gradually develop your ability to walk so that you can include a lot of walking each day as part of your life style.

As you lose weight and build up your exercise tolerance through walking, your doctor may allow you to include other forms of physical activity. The combination of diet and exercise could prove to be very helpful for you. If you continue to have high cholesterol levels or other such findings, then you might need medicines in addition to your improved life style.

Even the most strict diet, resulting in adequate loss of body fat and a good exercise program, will not lower the cholesterol or reverse the process in some cases. In these instances it is often advisable to add appropriate medicines to your program. I'd also like to mention that simply stopping smoking decreases the risk of having a heart attack or a stroke by as much as 50 percent in some people.

Census Count Too Good

WASHINGTON (AP)—Preliminary figures indicate that almost no one was missed in the 1980 head count, but Census Director Vincent P. Barabba says he doesn't believe it.

"One would say, on the basis of the measurement that there is zero undercount," Barabba told a news conference Friday. But, he added, "we do not think we have counted everybody."

He said new figures have cast doubt on procedures used in the past to estimate the undercount. Originally, the bureau had estimated that it would find 221,672,000 Americans as of April 1, 1980. That estimate was later corrected to 226,015,000.

With figures in from 396 of the bureau's 409 field offices, Barabba said it now appears that the count will total 225,008,000. That would mean an undercount of less than one-half of one percent.

The measured undercount, Barabba said, would be about a million people. "We don't believe that number," he added.

He said the main problem is the number of illegal aliens,

Homemakers Bazaar Features Christmas

Visions of ornaments, crafts and goodies danced through Snyder Saturday morning when the Scurry County Extension Homemakers presented their annual "Christmas in November" bazaar and luncheon at the coliseum.

All eight of the homemakers clubs had a booth displaying each club's ideas for Christmas decorations, crafts, gifts and baked goods. The eight clubs include Knapp, Plainview, Stargazers, Patchwork Squares, Hermleigh, Union, Honey Do's and Mayflowers.

A special feature at the bazaar this year were three displays depicting Christmas of the past, present and future. Christmas of the past used a live tree in its concept.

Christmas of the present used an artificial green tree, while Christmas of the future had an aluminum tree. The displays were prepared by Patchwork Squares, Union, Hermleigh, Plainview, Honey Do's, Stargazers and Mayflowers.

Thanksgiving ideas were also displayed in a presentation by Knapp E.H.

In addition to the displays and the booths, the bazaar presented several guest speakers throughout the day, discussing crafts, microwave candies, decorations and holiday wrappings. Guest speakers included Penny Bane, This n That; Marilyn Barnes, Litten Microwave Ovens; Marilyn Tate, Floyd County Agent, and Sue Travis, Travis Flowers.

MAWC Holiday Fashion Show Brightens Winter

The coming dreary days of winter look more colorful and fashionable after the Martha Ann Woman's Club "Holiday Fashions" style show and luncheon Saturday morning at the clubhouse.

"Holiday fashions" was the theme of the show, but winter wear, Urban cowgirl look and coat styles were also featured. The show was coordinated by Carolyn Greene.

A turkey and dressing luncheon began the festivities at 11:30 a.m. with the fashion show following shortly after noon.

Models showed their outfits in a Christmas setting, highlighted by a Christmas tree, lounge chair and large wreath, furnished by Roe's Furniture and Appliance and Virdie's Appliance Store. Barbara Perkins, provided background music.

Narrated by Margaret Drum, the show included men and children models this year along with fashions special to women.

A highlight of the show came when several models gathered around the Christmas tree attired in lounge wear to present a "look" for Christmas morning.

Fashions were provided by C.R. Anthony's, Bea Owens, Fenton's Dad and Lad, Glover's, Gray's Style Shop, Lad and Lassie, Margaret's Inc., Men's II, Mildred's, Mode O'Day, N-J's, J.C. Pennys and Special Moments. Make-up was by Merle Norman.

Following the fashion pre-

West opened the 10 of hearts. After dummy played small, East took his king and led back the queen of clubs.

South proceeded to take the rest of the tricks by the simple expedient of running off all the spades and diamonds and the second high club to come down to a three-card ending. Dummy's last three cards were A-9-6 of hearts. Declarer held Q-7 of hearts and 9 of clubs.

West never could do anything to protect either suit and poor East, whose last four cards had been J-8-4 of hearts and jack of clubs, was caught in a simple but deadly squeeze. He chucked a club and the last trick went to declarer's nine.

An interesting feature of the hand is that a one in a million play by East would have beaten the hand. He could have played low on the first heart and broken up the final squeeze.

Here is a hand from the semi-finals of England's Gold Cup. At one table South responded two notrump to his partner's artificial two-club opening and wound up at six after North used Blackwood.

At the other table South landed in six spades. We can't be sure of the bidding, but in tomorrow's article we will show the line of play that brought home the contract against best defense. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Great-grandmothers deserve to look nice, too—I lost 41 pounds at Pat Walker's!

Mary Hoke's True Story:

Notice how I held my jacket closed to hide my stomach.

I love to cook for my family. My two children, three grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren really enjoy my specialties, like biscuits and sausage. But over the years, I'd sampled a little too much of my own cooking, and it was showing on my figure. When I started at Pat Walker's,

I weighed 171 pounds (I'm 5'4")

My main figure problem was my big stomach—I looked about eight months pregnant. Although I'd exercised all my life, nothing had made that stomach disappear, until my treatments on Pat Walker's passive exercise unit. Those sessions are so easy that I don't even muss my hair. And they sure get results. Of course, Pat Walker's counselors helped me plan the way I eat, too. Their program actually lets me go out and eat anywhere, anytime, and eat what I want!

Now that I've lost 41 pounds and 60½ inches, I love not having to wear a girdle anymore.

Let me tell you how much Pat Walker's means to me: I drive my gas guzzler 60 miles a week to and from the salon nearest my home in Stone Mountain, Georgia. And it's worth it.

Make an appointment now for a free no-obligation consultation at Pat Walker's. We'll explain how our program works, from the no-muss, no-fuss passive exercise treatments to our belief in your right to privacy. We'll tell you how much you need to lose, how long it will take; and the total cost of your complete figure correction, based on five dollars per thirty-minute treatment.

Dear Abby

Policemen Don't Need Another Siren in Car

By Abigail Van Buren
©1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I almost always agree with you, but your reply to JEALOUS, who was upset because her policeman husband was working nights with a female officer, really lit my fuse!

My husband is a police officer (11 years), and I have lots of reasons for not wanting him to ride around with a "cute, single, bright and funny" woman all night.

In the police academy, they are taught that for every 1,000 hours of police work, there are 10 minutes of excitement. Just put a man and a "cute, single, bright, funny woman" in the same car for eight hours, and if there's no action on the street, you can guess where the action will be.

Men will be men. And they all have their weaknesses. You wouldn't put an alcoholic in a bartender's job any more than you'd put a diabetic in a candy store. Knowing my husband as I do, I certainly wouldn't feel comfortable having him work with a cute lady.

SEATTLE

DEAR ABBY: I know you won't like this, but there are some jobs women are just not suited for, and being out on patrol as a police officer is one of them.

I'm a police officer, and I'm scared to death to have a female with me. I am given unofficial orders to "take care of her," and woe be it to me if she is hurt. When we go to a violent scene, I have to handle myself and her. I tell her, "Please sit in the car, and if I give you the signal, call in for help." At least she is good for that. There are other jobs they are good for, such as getting out on the street and pretending to be prostitutes and other such undercover work, but not police roadwork. They are apt to end up killing someone, and I don't want it to be me.

I am not a woman-hater, Abby, but I have a family, and I'd like to stay alive.

POLICE OFFICER IN MIAMI

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to JEALOUS. I don't blame her for being jealous. She has every right to be. I don't consider a woman in a police officer's uniform a cop. I see her as a woman wearing a man's uniform. Why do you suppose there is no lone woman portraying Dirty Carrie or Hopalong Katherine? Women just don't fit into that role. Does Barney Miller have a woman working with him? When he needs a woman for police work, he gets a man to impersonate a female.

I don't mind if women are truckers, mechanics, astronauts, politicians or even garbage collectors, but it would be nice if they left just one profession strictly for the men.

IRRITATED IN AUBURN, MASS.

DEAR ABBY: You sure blew it with your answer to the jealous wife. There are many temptations thrown at police officers in the line of duty. No wonder the divorce rate among policemen is the highest of all professions.

Young women (and older ones, too) have been known to offer a policeman anything to avoid getting a ticket for speeding or running a red light.

Luckily, I've never had the worry of my man having a female companion officer, but I sure wouldn't want that as an added concern.

With all due respect to the facts you pointed out — that female officers are intelligent, courageous, hardworking and had to go through the same rigorous training as the men — familiarity does invite intimacy.

WISCONSIN COP'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: It's obvious that you aren't married to a policeman. I was, but we're divorced now, and now I know why the divorce rate among policemen is the highest of any profession.

The temptations put in the average policeman's way are almost too much for any man to resist. And the way policemen cover up for each other is not to be believed! Because of the nature of their work, they can easily get "lost" for an hour or two, and they always have a buddy who will cover for them.

Abby, policemen can find enough women to fool around with on their own without being assigned to one in the line of duty. Also, a policeman's chances for survival are a lot better if he has a 6-foot, 200-pound man as a back-up rather than a 5-2, 110-pound woman.

EXPERIENCED

(Problems? You'll feel better if you get them off your chest. For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Ordinary rabbits and hares, like most other mammals, swim naturally when thrown into water, but their fur and skin does not shed the water and they gradually drown. However, the swamp rabbit, Arctic hare and European hare are said to be able to swim freely across streams without any problems.

Juveniles Arrested In Burglaries Here

Ten juveniles were taken into custody Monday by Snyder police in connection with three weekend burglaries.

Four of the juveniles were arrested as suspects in the Merchants Fast Motor Lines burglary and the remaining six were arrested in the burglaries of Snyder High School and Snyder Junior High.

Police reported that most of the items stolen in the break-ins have been recovered.

A criminal mischief and three traffic accidents were also among the things investigated by police.

Reporting the criminal mischief was Kenny Dollar. Dollar said two tires had been slashed on a vehicle he owns. Investigating that incident was Robert Harbin.

The first traffic accident occurred Monday about 8 a.m. in the 5400 block of College. There, a 1965 Dodge driven by Sterling Williams and a 1974 Ford driven by David McClure collided. That accident was worked by Sgt. Jerry Parker.

A hit and run was worked in the 100 block of 37th St. In that mishap, a parked 1976 Chevrolet owned by Edward McClain was struck by a vehicle which fled the scene. The accident occurred about 10:15 a.m. and was worked by Buddy Kinney.

Keith Ward worked the final mishap at 3:45 p.m. in the 2800 block of 38th St. Reports show a 1977 Chevrolet driven by Santos Alvarez Chaidze was in collision with a 1973 AMC driven by Richard Earl Davis.

Snyderite In ACU's Band

ABILENE—Brent Taylor, son of Mrs. Bobby Taylor, 2401 42nd, Snyder, is an incoming freshman member of the Big Purple Band at Abilene Christian University.

Taylor, who graduated from Snyder High School in 1980, is a Radio-TV, Mass Communications major at ACU.

The Big Purple Band, composed of about 230 members, is one of the largest college bands in the state. It performs for all ACU home football games and travels to at least one out-of-town game each fall. In the spring, members perform for basketball games.

The band has made half-time appearances recently for Dallas Cowboys and Houston Oilers games, as well as appearances in the Cotton Bowl for the State Fair of Texas.

The Big Purple is under the direction of Dr. Charles Traylor, associate professor of music and director of bands, and Dave Pennock, assistant professor of music.

Sandford Fleming was born in Scotland in 1827. Fleming introduced the idea of standard time, and it was largely due to his efforts that international standard time was adopted in 1884.

K mart To Hire Over 40 Locals

The first K mart discount department store in Snyder, on College, will employ more than 40 local residents, it was announced today. Additional employees will be added to the K mart staff during peak seasonal periods.

The employees are now being trained to provide fast and efficient service when the store opens. Manager Charles D. King said the store is expected to open late this month.

The K mart is one of more than 2,000 K mart, Kresge and Jupiter stores operated by K mart Corporation, headquartered in Troy, Michigan, and founded 81 years ago.

K mart employees, over 200,000 in the United States, are among those with the longest employment tenure in retailing. Over 3,000 have been with the company for 25 years or more. Many thousands more are enjoying pensions.

K mart's policy is to promote from within whenever possible. As a result, many K mart Corporation executives started their careers at the store level including Chairman Bernard M. Fauber, who joined the company in 1941 as a stockperson in a Lynchburg, Virginia, Kresge variety store.

Texoma Electric Inc. Opens Permanent Branch In Snyder

Texoma Electric, Inc., is pleased to announce the opening of a permanent branch in Snyder. The local office is located at 3511 West 23rd St., next to Welex.

Although Texoma Electric is new to Snyder, they have been in business for several years in the North Texas-Southern Oklahoma area. They feature complete electrical service for oilfield, commercial and industrial accounts. They feature everything from maintenance to line construction. Also, Texoma Electric is one of the very few contractors in the entire southwest to own an Infrared-Heat Sensing Gun for line inspection.

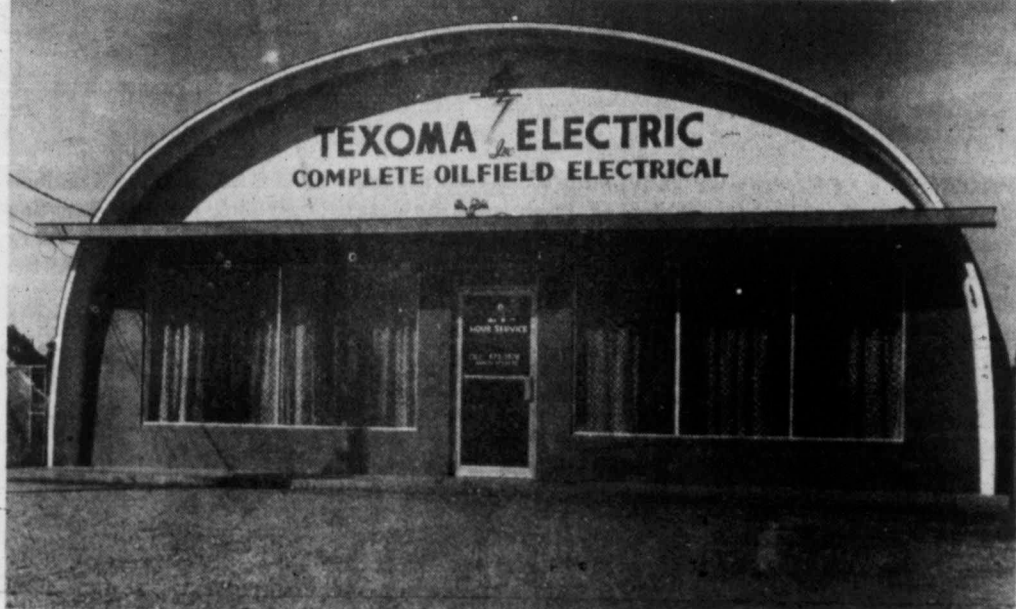

Texoma's equipment is all late model and well maintained so they can serve their customers 24 hours per day. Their electricians are all very well experienced in all phases of electrical work.

Preston Whatley is the manager of the Snyder operation, and he is the only one to transfer from North Texas; all of the other employees were hired from this area. Whatley estimates the Snyder payroll to exceed $200,000 per year.

Mr. Whatley further stated that in the near future a motor re-wind department will be added to the Snyder office. Also, inventory will be increased so that they will be able to sell electrical supplies to other contractors and industrial accounts at very competitive prices.

Texoma Electric wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all of the Snyder business men and citizens for the warm reception; and a special thanks to Bill Warner and the staff at the Chamber of Commerce for all the help they provided prior to and during the move to Snyder.

If you have oilfield, industrial or commercial electrical needs, see Texoma Electric at 3511 West 23rd St., or call them at 573-0576.

Lots are priced from $250 and up. You can pay a small down payment with no carrying charges for pre-need property.

The cemetery is a member of Texas Cemetery Association and the National Association of Cemeterys.

Courses Require Pre-Registration

To simplify planning for Continuing Education courses at Western Texas College, students are required to pre-register by calling the Continuing Education office at 573-8511, extension 240.

The office is open each weekday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon and 1-5 p.m. except on Friday when it closes at 4 p.m.

"We feel that pre-registration will help the prospective students as well as our department," Jerry Baird, Director of Continuing Education, said. "By having advance information on the number of students enrolling for each course, we can be better prepared with materials and registration data. We don't want to cause anybody hardships in entering the courses, so all pre-registration can be handled by telephone. Fees are paid at the first class meeting of each course, so the students don't have to make an extra trip to the campus.

"Our office is always happy to answer questions about any of the courses being planned, and we are interested in hearing about courses people would like to have offered."

Continuing Education courses do not carry college credit. They include Adult Vocational Education and Community Services courses which can give instruction in vocational or hobby skills. Persons who complete Adult Vocational Education courses may receive Continuing Education Units which are widely recognized as achievement in vocational training.

WTC Holds On To Beat Cisco

Playing four-on-four is not the Westerner's style, but they did it for over seven minutes here last night and managed to hold out for a 100-95 victory over a physical Cisco Junior College team.

The Westerners, now 2-0 on the season, take a trip down south this weekend, meeting Juarez University Thursday and Friday in Mexico. The group plays at Angelo State University on Nov. 15.

Last night's game began with all the potential of a hotly-contested confrontation. Both teams fought back and forth for slim leads until Western Texas' quickness began to tell late in the first half. Shredding the Bulldogs' offense with its improving press, the Westerners managed a number of steals to score 10 back-to-back points and eventually take a 51-42 lead into intermission.

Coach Larry Dunaway's Westerners opened the second half like they concluded the first; and outscored the visitors' 10-3 for a 61-46 advantage.

An individual key to the contest was the play of Caesar Scott, who reeled off 25 points in the game and controlled the boards at crucial times for the Westerners.

Western Texas' fast break grew stronger and with a 63-46 lead, it appeared the hosts would come away with a 20-point victory.

But Cisco players began fouling out like mad and while it might have been considered an advantage to the opponent in most cases, it certainly was not this time. The Bulldogs came into the game eight-strong, and when Charles Houston got his fifth whistle with 7:13 remaining in the game, Cisco had but four men to put on the court.

Dunaway also pulled his fifth man, refusing to field five men against the Cisco four.

The move gave the more physical Bulldogs an advantage and they took it readily. Western fans could only watch in semi-shock as WTC's lead began to dwindle to the Dogs, who began to control the offensive and defensive boards. The Bulldogs would continually overload to one side and get the ball to the open man playing one-on-one in effect and it cost the Westerners dearly.

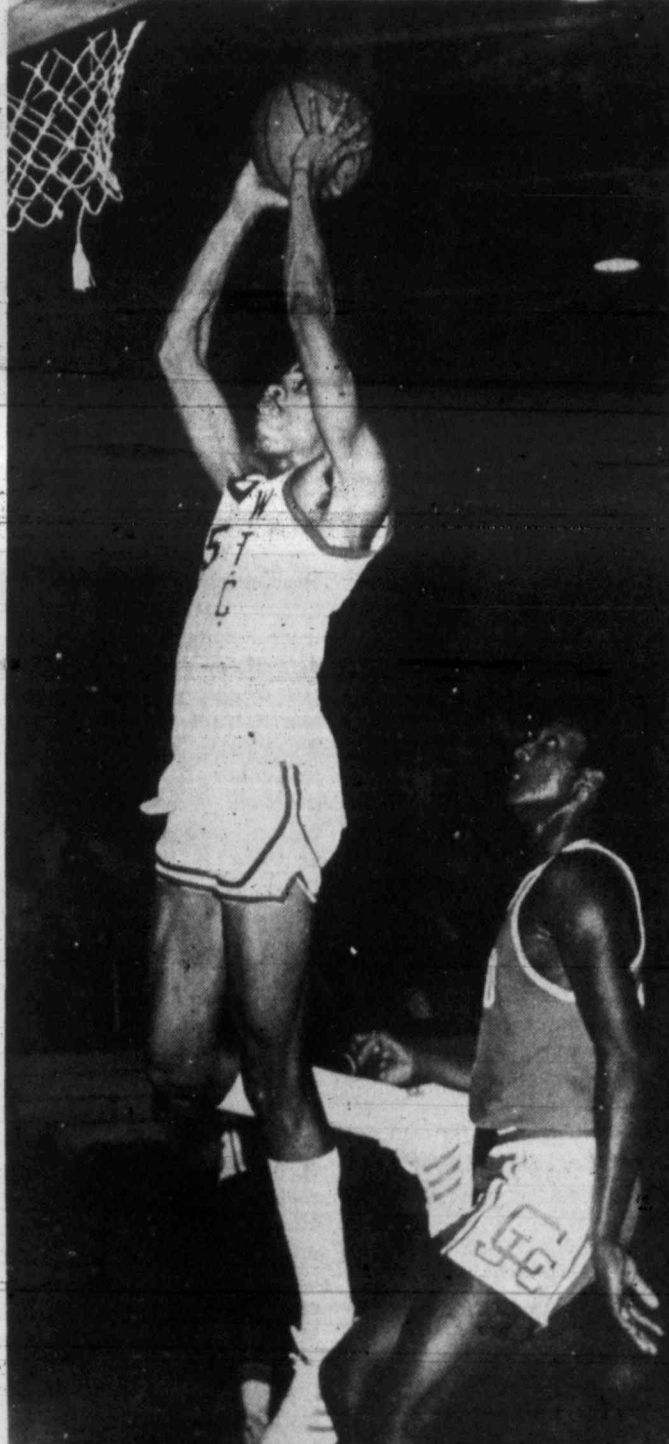

"We were getting killed out there," snapped a keyed up Coach Dunaway following the game. "They were all over us and the officials didn't want to call it for fear of fouling someone else. This

"Nobody can say we didn't play them heads up and beat them," said Dunaway after the game. This was a good basketball team we played. They were physical and shot the ball real well. We won the game by staying in there and never giving up. That's what we are going to have to do all season long. We're going to have to fight with our hearts to win."

"This was a big one of us. It was tough."

Troy Stevenson, freshman guard from Trenton, N.J., re-injured an ankle during the contest and suffered a blow to the head when he went screening off of another player into the wall. He is expected to be ready to play again for the Mexico contests.

Stevenson was one of five WTC players in double figures, with 19 points. In addition to Scott's 25, Keith Denis posted 21, Chuck North had 14 and Donald Warren notched 10. Darren Lee added 7 and Brett Smith had 6. Brown scored 21 points to lead the Bulldogs. Houston added 17 while Priest scored 16, Woods had 14 and Randy Giles had 13.

NOTCHES TWO - Western Texas got its press and fast break working well against the Cisco Bulldogs and worked to a 24-point lead until fouls changed the course - but not the outcome - of last evening's clash here. The lead was important for the Westerners as they later played 4-on-4 with the more physical Dogs and escaped with a hard-fought 100-95 victory. See article at left. Above, Westerner Keith Denis buckets a couple of points off of the break. (SDN Staff Photo)

Dusters Exit Cisco In Overtime Contest

Somewhere midway through the first half, the Dusters lost it. Somewhere in the final minutes of overtime, they found it again.

WTC's Dusters, holding a 10-point lead several times in the first half, eeked out a 71-66 overtime victory over Cisco Junior College here last night to boost their record to 2-0 on the season. The Dusters travel to Temple, this weekend for a two-game series with Blinn Junior College (Friday) and Temple (Saturday).

Western Texas led in the early going here, kicking out to a quick 10-point lead halfway through the first period. The Bulldogs knocked it to 27-21 at one time, but WTC held on to post a halftime lead of 37-31.

The beginning of the second half was much the same story, with Western Texas managing a good lead, only to go through a barrage of turnover - many due to chancy passing - and relinquish it.

With 7:13 left in the game Cisco knotted the totals at 49-49. It also finished the night for sophomore Stella Bickley, who earned her fifth foul.

The hot Bulldogs, bouyed much of the night by sharpshooter Mitzi Henderson, raced to a 55-49 turnaround before the Dusters could regroup. Linda Holubec slid in two free throws and Shari Teal added two free-throw's and a couple of field goals to put the hosts back on top, 57-55, with just over two minutes left in the game.

With 2:03 left, a foul sent Cisco's Sue Brooks to the line and she made both attempts to knot the game. Each team had opportunity to put more points on the board, but when the final buzzer rang, it was a 57-57 tie.

Western Texas won the contest with hot freethrow shooting. The Dusters managed 11 of 14 freethrows in the final five minute period, while Cisco missed four out of seven attempts, including the front end of three bonus tries.

Karen Washington and Cisco's Gina Parker traded charity shots to give the overtime a 59-59 look before Valerie Wells and Linda Holubec combined from the line for a 64-59 WTC lead.

Though Cisco trimmed it to 64-61, Cindy Maddox stuck up two more to keep the visitors out of reach, temporarily.

Both teams missed three throws with just under two minutes remaining, then Peggy Taylor and Carolyn Cheeks hit back-to-back buckets to cut WTC's lead to 66-65 with 1:25 left.

But Wells insured the lead again with a pair of free-throw's that snapped the laces with just 24 ticks left on the clock. Cisco went to the line once more, with 12 seconds remaining. The first shot was good, but the second bounded from the rim into Duster hands.

A downcourt pass found Holubec heading toward the Dog basket. She flipped in two points for a 70-66 lead, then bucketed a foul shot for an infraction on the play for the 71-66 final score.

Holubec and Teal led the Westerner scoring with 16 points each. Wells and Teal had 11 rebounds each and Bickley had three blocked shots and four assists. Wells also landed in double figures with 12 points. Dorcus Perkins had 9.

Western Texas shot 22 of 72 for 30.55 percent from the field, and 27 of 46 for 58.69 from the line.

Henderson led the visitors with 18 points. Valencia Douglas added 12, and Sandra Winters had 9.

Top-Ranked Tigers Set For Two Practice Games

The top-ranked Snyder Tigers volleyball squad picks up some extra games this week, in preparation for the Nov. 15 Regional Tournament.

Snyder, which finished the regular season with a 28-0 record and the District 2-AAAA title, will play tonight in Seminole and Thursday in San Angelo (vs Central). Both games will be at 6 p.m.

The games are warm up contests for the upcoming Regional Tournament which will be held at Lubbock Coronado High School, 3307 Vicksburg in Lubbock this year.

Though no details were available as to time of the games, Coach Joyce Elrod noted ticket prices for the single day tournament are $1 adults and 50 cents students.

A draw will be held Nov. 11 to determine opponents and game times will be announced.

Coach Elrod's Tigers concluded the season Saturday by thumping Pecos 15-4 and 15-10. Snyder junior varsity, 23-3 on the season, also won, 15-8 and 15-10.

Snyder gained 10 votes in the November Coaches Poll, reported Elrod. The Tigers were ranked No. 1 in Class AAAA last month with 130 votes. Snyder is currently still No. 1 with 140 votes, while South Park Beaumont is No. 2 with 125 and Kerrville Tivy is No. 3 with 90.

Fort Worth Castleberry ranks fourth with 87, while Monahans ranks fifth with 83. Lamesa, ranked 10 last month, fell out of the top 20.

Westerner Golfers Pack For Bahamas Tourney

Western Texas College golf team heads for the sunny beaches this week as Coach Bob O'Day, 10 golfers and 10 sponsors journey to the Bahamas to play in the Sam Houston State Intercollegiate Golf Tournament.

WTC will send two teams of five golfers each to compete against 10 other schools and the Bahamas Amateurs from Nov. 5 through the 10th.

The trip will cost approximately $11,000 and is being funded entirely by the sponsors, who will compete with the golfers in low-ball play.

more Chris Johnson and Mrs. John Reed. The second team will consist of sophomore Frank Monfrey and Cloyce Talbot, freshman Matt Vincent and Paul Gray, freshman George Gonzales and John Reed, freshman Gary Ray and Tommie Mills, and freshman Phillip Jones and Dr. Bob Hargrove.

Competition will be 54 holes at the 7,005-yard Ruby Golf Course at Freeport. Westerners and their sponsors will leave Dallas on Nov. 5 and fly to Miami, Fla. From there, the group will fly to Freeport and check in at the Bahama Princess Hotel.

A practice round will be held Thursday with Friday being the first round of actual competition. The tournament continues through Sunday and the group will return home Monday.

Other activities will include a Goombay Festival Show and Dinner, a variety of other entertainment and an awards banquet.

Western Texas will be competing in a junior college-university bracket, as will all of the schools attending. Other schools are Sam Houston State, last year's national champion, St. Thomas University, Texas Wesleyan College, Odessa Junior College, Cameron University, Elon College of North Carolina, Northeast Louisiana, Guilford College of North Carolina, San Jacinto Junior College, Southwestern Louisiana and Bahamas Amateurs from the Grand Bahamas Islands.

Although a legend for his home-run hitting, Babe Ruth stole home 10 times during his career with the New York Yankees.

Sipe Leads Cleveland Past Chicago Bears

CLEVELAND (AP) - Mike Pruitt says he nearly stopped to pinch himself when he saw all that room in front of him.

His 56-yard fourth-period run Monday night put Cleveland up 27-14, and the Browns held on to defeat the Chicago Bears 27-14 in a National Football League game.

"I hadn't seen open field like that in eight games," said Pruitt, who finished with 129 yards on 27 rushes. "I didn't know whether to run, or stop and say, 'Where is everybody?'"

Pruitt swept around the right side on the third-and-1 play from the Cleveland 44-yard line, broke one tackle and scampered untouched the rest of the way.

"We were in our goal-line defense, our 6-2, which we're not often in at midfield. We felt it was an important situation," explained Bears Coach Neill Armstrong. "When you break a tackle in that spot, you can go all the way."

Pruitt's performance complemented the superb Browns passing attack engineered by quarterback Brian Sipe.

The 31-year-old veteran used eight receivers to complete 23 of 39 attempts for 298 yards.

Small Infant Dies Monday

AMARILLO, Texas (AP)—A 13-ounce baby girl born in this Panhandle city Friday morning died about midnight Monday, a Northwest Texas Hospital spokesman said. The health of the 10³/₄-inch child—named Guadalupe by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Flores of Amarillo—had steadily declined and some doctors had rated her chances of survival as zero. She was breathing on her own initially, but later had to be hooked up to a respirator, said Gwen Hailey, the hospital's nursing supervisor. Doctors said the child was normal physically and mentally, even though she was born 28 weeks after conception. Dr. Mubarez Naqvi, head of the intensive care unit, said the baby is the smallest he had ever seen survive 24 hours. Her parents have two other daughters, ages 6 and 4. In 1949, the Nationalist Chinese government fled to Formosa to escape the communists.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Bernice Bede Osol

November 5, 1980
Roadblocks which were placed in your path, halting things you wanted to do this past year, will be eliminated. Changes in circumstances will open up unhampered roads to your goals. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Put your imagination to profitable uses today. Your instincts for acquisition are quite sharp, but totally unselfish. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You function best today in group activities, especially if you're with persons who can mirror your enthusiasm. Each lifts up the other. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) One of the reasons you're likely to outdistance your competition today is that you're more strongly motivated. Setbacks may discourage them, but not you. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Your word carries enormous weight today. Those with whom you're involved will respect your sincerity as well as your vision. The horizons you see are more distant than others. PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Your desire for success today is admirable because you are not only looking to advance your cause, but also that of one who is affiliated with you. ARIES (March 21-April 19) Someone important to your present needs can be swayed over to your way of doing things today because you show a willingness to cooperate. TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You may be called upon today to assist one who lacks your organizational talents. What appears to be an insoluble for them will be a snap for you. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Dealings with others should proceed harmoniously today. You're tactful, diplomatic and can readily adjust to any circumstance. CANCER (June 21-July 22) This is a good day to devote as much time as possible to tasks you enjoy performing. Being pleasantly productive is therapeutic. LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You're an enjoyable person to be around today because you'll make even the mundane seem fun to do. Others find your spirit contagious. VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Devote your efforts today to finalizing situations which either add to your resources or enhance your material security. These are your lucky areas. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is not the day to hide your light under a bushel. If you feel your ideas or concepts are better than those of your contemporaries, assert yourself. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

OBITUARIES

E. Ritchie
Funeral Arrangements were pending this morning at Bell-Seale Funeral Home for Everett E. Ritchie, 87, who lived at 3709 Muriel. Mr. Ritchie died at 6 p. m. Monday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. Surviving are two sisters, Faye Leslie of California and Bertha Costle of Oklahoma City, and a sister-in-law, Beatrice Ritchie of Snyder.

Clinkinbeard
J. W. Clinkinbeard, 59, died Monday in the veterans Administration Hospital at Big Spring. Funeral arrangements were pending at Bell-Seale Funeral Home. He was a veteran of service with the U. S. Army during World War II.

System was also approved on first reading. Tabled for more study were plans for the leasing of a scraper to build more pits at the city's sanitary landfill and a review of traffic and parking patterns in the city. Council members also authorized the drawing up of a Parks Ordinance, board appointments, and board bylaws for consideration at a future meeting. Also approved by council members were the transfer of funds to balance the budget in the city's budget which ended Sept. 30. For the development of a new park, councilmen retained consultants John Alford and Walter Heard of Lubbock.

They presented a proposal for development of Line Park, which will be located along Deep Creek between 30th and 37th Sts. on property contributed by the Line family. Ambulance rates were also adjusted. Approved were fees of $1.50 per mile for one-way travel in emergency and non-emergency ambulance calls; $2 per mile for autopsy runs, and $20 per hour in waiting time. Dec. 1 was the date set for a public hearing on rate making and service standards criteria on public utilities. Notice was also served at the Monday night meeting that the city will begin enforcing its policy of billing landowners for work the city does in property improvement. Also going before the council was Christine Stuard with the request that the normal process of filing a house plat be waived in her case because of extenuating circumstances. However, because the item had not been brought before the council in time to appear on the agenda, the council members could take no formal action on the matter but did advise Mrs. Stuard of possible courses of action she could take. In 1789, citizens of the newly formed United States of America voted for a president for the first time.

 HERE ARE THE RULES OF THE CONTEST

In each advertisement on this page you will find the contestants in a prominent football game being played around the country this weekend. Get an entry blank from one of the merchants who are helping sponsor this contest and whose message is on this page. Fill in your selection of the WINNING TEAM only...opposite the name of the firm on the entry blank. Then send your complete blank to FOOTBALL CONTEST EDITOR, THE SNYDER DAILY NEWS or bring your entry by the Snyder Daily News office. Entries must be in the hands of the editor by 12 o'clock noon, Friday. Games ending in a tie must be specified as a tie or else it will be considered a miss.

If there is a tie for first place the winners will divide the cash money of $17.50 and no second prize will be given. If there is a first place winner and a tie for second place, the second prize winners will divide the money for the place. If more than two persons tie for second place, no second prize money will be awarded and the cash will be added to next week's prize. Tie for perfect score will split $100. There will be fun for the entire family. Only one entry blank will be permitted from any one person. More than one will disqualify all the person's entries. Scores listed on the entry blank will have no bearing on the choice of the winner. Sign your entry blank and list your address and phone number and watch for the story on next Tuesday's front page for the winners. Hurry now, and get your entry blank from one of the merchants on this page. The contest blank must be in your own handwriting.
