Named Coach

FRANK KIMBROUGH NEW COACH H-S U

Former Haskell High School Athlete Accepts One-Year Contract From School

Frank Kimbrough, former all-around athlete of the Haskell High School, has been named head coach at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. He signed a one-year contract. Kimbrough is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons also, and in returning to his alma mater where he was an outstanding football, basketball and baseball player, he will again enter a place where his friends are legion, although he has not been lacking in friendships during his stay at Plainview and Amarillo.

After graduating from Haskell high school, where he was an all-around athlete, Kimbrough entered Hardin-Simmons. He was placed on the all-T.I.A.A. eleven for two seasons and was selected as quarterback for the all-time Hardin-Simmons football team. He captained the football team in his senior year at the university.

At Wayland He coached at Plainview high school and Wayland college in Plainview before accepting a similar position at Amarillo Junior college two years ago. Little Wayland college scored its most impressive victory of recent years under Kimbrough in 1930, defeating Texas Tech by the score of 6 to 0.

The Amarillo Badgers captured the state junior college championship in Kimbrough's first year at the school. The Badgers repeated in 1934 with a fine offensive machine that piled up an impressive record. Besides winning the state title last year, the Amarillo Junior college held Hardin-Simmons to a 13-13 tie.

A statement released in connection with the announcement of Kimbrough's selection stated:

"There are certain reasons why Kimbrough is worthy to be named to this responsible position. In the first place he has made an unenviable record as a coach for the past

SEYMOUR GIRL IS KILLED IN WRECK TUESDAY MORNING

Accident 3 Miles South of Haskell Fatal to Mozelle Stevens Tuesday A. M.

NIECE ARCH HOLMES

Roy Smith, Cousin of Victim, in Stamford Hospital; May Recover

Mozelle Stevens, 17, Seymour, is dead, and her cousin, Roy Smith, Hobbs, New Mexico, critically injured as a result of an accident three miles south of Haskell early Tuesday morning when their automobile plunged 150 feet from the pavement. Dense fog and fast driving is believed by officers to be the cause of the tragedy.

Funeral services for Miss Stevens, daughter of Roy Stevens, ex-Baylor county ranchman, were held Wednesday afternoon at the First Presbyterian Church, with Rev. E. O. Cargill, pastor, officiating. Survivors are the parents, two brothers, John Stevens, a student at A. & M., and Glen Stevens, of Seymour; two sisters, Naomi and Addie Mae, also of Seymour. She graduated from Seymour High School in 1934.

Smith has a wife and three children, the youngest being about five days old.

On Way to Hobbs According to relatives, the cousins left Seymour about 1:30 A. M., on a trip to Hobbs, where Smith was working in the oil fields.

From the time when the wreck was discovered by C. D. Moss, Anson truck driver, coupled with the length of time it took the couple to drive to Haskell from Seymour, officers estimate that the victims must have lain by the side of the road for about three hours before help arrived.

Moss saw the body of Miss Stevens but Smith was lying near a bar pit and in the darkness went unobserved. The truck driver rushed Miss Stevens into town, but she died while on the way to the hospital.

"Postponement of marriage by young couples in love leads to emotional and nervous strain," Christian said in a report.

Flash—Spanking of Girls Called Harmful by Man!

LONDON.—Caning of girls in public elementary schools should be prohibited, according to Dr. R. L. Kitching, former house surgeon of St. Bartholomew's Hospital, London.

A recommendation to this effect is contained in a letter from Dr. Kitching to the Board of Education.

In his letter Dr. Kitching points out that in certain cases caning is a form of punishment which involves serious risk. "In the case of boys," he declares, "the risk must be accepted. The point I would submit to the medical department is that the risks are so much greater in the case of girls this method of punishment can no longer be justified."

STAMFORD PASTOR BEFORE GRAND JURY

Appears Before Body Here Friday; Has Criticised Law Enforcement

The members of the Haskell county Grand Jury convened today for another session, after recessing last Friday from a two-day consideration of matters brought before them, at which time 43 witnesses were examined and one indictment made.

By request of County Judge Chas. M. Conner and County Attorney B. C. Chapman, members of the Grand Jury subpoenaed the Rev. Sam Morris, Stamford minister, for questioning relative to statements he had made previously over radio station XEPN, Eagle Pass, concerning beer law enforcement in Haskell county.

When questioned by a representative of the Free Press, the Rev. Morris, in the presence of both Judge Conner and Attorney Chapman, made a statement for publication concerning the Haskell county official's part in the enforcement of the law, but in a telegram from Eagle Pass Tuesday, purporting to be from the Rev. Morris to the Free Press, the following message was received: "Haskell Free Press, Haskell, Tex. Do Not Quote Me On Beer Situation Till Further Notice. Sam Morris."

Watson, assessor-collector.

After March 15, Watson says, the penalty will be as follows: March 16 to 31, 2 per cent; April, 3 per cent; May, 4 per cent; June, 5 per cent; and after June 30, 1935, the penalty will be 8 per cent, together with 6 per cent annual interest.

Penalties on 1934 taxes, beginning Feb. 1, 1935, except in cases where one-half of the taxes were paid prior to Nov. 30, 1934, will be as follows: February, 1 per cent; March, 2 per cent; April, 3 per cent; May, 4 per cent; June, 5 per cent; after June 30, 1935, the penalty will be 8 per cent, together with 6 per cent annual interest. Where one-half of the taxes were paid prior to Nov. 30, 1934, the last half taxes may be paid prior to June 30, 1935, without penalty or interest.

LOCAL FESTIVAL TO BE BROADENED IN SCOPE IN '35

Golden Anniversary of This County This Year Will Be Observed In Affair

NEW AMUSEMENTS

Exhibitors Throughout This Section Now Making Plans For Fall Fair Here

Dates for holding the Central West Texas Fair here have been set for October 15 to 19 inclusive, according to Troy V. Post, secretary of the fair association.

Post also says that the 1935 fall celebration will be much broader in scope in comparison with former years, owing to the fact that Haskell County's Golden Anniversary will be given an important part in the affair.

Golden Jubilee Due Towns and communities throughout the county will be invited to participate in Haskell County's Golden Jubilee in October, the fair secretary declares, because that angle of the fair is to be considered county-wide and not something just for Haskell.

Greater stress than ever will be paid to the exhibit side of the fair, and competition is expected to be keener. Exhibitors over this entire district have signified their intention of entering exhibits in the various departments.

Among the new features which may be added is a large tent which will house commercial booths.

Various Contests Other attractions now being contemplated, Post says, are night football games, baby contests, beautiful girl contests and rodeos.

Further plans for attractions at the next fair will be made in a few days when the members of the association meet, among them being greater attractions from the carnival eventually selected and "stunts" which may be held under the lights as Rice Springs Park.

Reporter School To Be Held Here

Plans for the holding of the first reporters school Saturday, February 2, have been completed, according to Miss Peggy Taylor, home demonstration agent. Mr. Sam A. Roberts of the Haskell Free Press will talk on "What An Editor Wants in a News Article." Meetings will be held the first Saturday of each month.

Both reporters of the demonstration clubs and the extension service have felt the need of such a school, Miss Taylor said, and the forming of one in Haskell county is in line with the state program.

Meetings will be held for the club reporters principally, but the meetings are open to everyone interested in this work and they are cordially invited to attend. Members hope to have a good attendance because we think it is expected to grow in interest every meeting.

The meeting will open Saturday at 1:30 p. m. in the county court room.

A training school on the meaning of the AAA will also be held immediately after the business meeting of the county council Saturday, and this meeting is for club presidents, council delegates and any other club member who cares to attend.

9,000 Employed By Relief Work

FIN, Texas.—Production producing local canning plants, rooms, wood cutting, mat-making, community and home and hide tanning during provided employment for more 9,000 relief clients, it was estimated week by Adam R. Johnson, director of the Texas Relief Commission, as he announced plans for the program still running 1935.

Commission operated 561 plants in 172 counties that jobs for 7,600 relief employees. Output of these plants 71,000 cans of produce of 570,000 cans were retained Commission. The remainder producers of raw foodstuffs change for raw products furnished in addition to furnishing work for relief clients, our canning plants also were a source of food for people on our relief rolls," said Mr. Johnson. "But more than that, by using budgetary labor from our relief rolls, we have taught a great number of women over the state the proper methods for preserving food, and we believe this knowledge will be of great value in the future in enabling housewives to preserve surplus fruits and vegetables in their own homes for winter consumption."

The Commission at the end of the year was operating 252 sewing rooms in 157 counties where 6,900 women found employment each month. These sewing rooms produced 570,000 garments, consisting of women's dresses, men's shirts, children's and infants' clothing, according to reports from A. C. Allen, director of production projects.

Inexperienced women as well as experienced seamstresses have worked in the sewing rooms and many of these workers now are able to make clothes for their families in their own homes.

The Commission has 66 wood cutting projects in 59 counties with an average of 9,000 men employed monthly. Timber is cut into stove wood, transported to a central wood yard from where it is distributed to relief clients for cooking and heating purposes.

The 29 mattress plants operated by the Commission employed 1,500 persons per month and had turned out 38,214 mattresses, manufactured according to specifications used in commercial plants. These mattresses were distributed all over the state to relief clients in dire need of bedding.

The community garden program included 113 garden projects in 49 counties totaling 1,553 acres. Produce was issued in the fresh state and surpluses were processed in the local canneries. All types of vegetables were grown.

Individual gardens, located in 60 counties, consisted of 3,400 acres. This type of garden is operated by the relief client who obtains his seed from the Texas Relief Commission, uses what he can in the fresh state, brings the surplus to a cannery where it is processed on a share basis. The client thus is enabled to provide his family with canned produce for the winter months.

YOUR HEALTH

By John W. Brown, M. D. State Health Officer

AUSTIN, Texas.—Speaking of children and their susceptibility to tuberculosis, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, said: "Few people realize that babies and young children are very likely to catch tuberculosis if they are kept in the rooms with people who have the disease, use the same dishes, sleep in the same beds or are handled and kissed by people who have tuberculosis."

"Babies and young children pick up the germs of tuberculosis just as readily as they pick up the germs of measles or whooping cough or of any other of the so-called children's diseases. But tuberculosis is different from other diseases in certain particulars. Unlike most diseases, it has more than one form. Babies who get tuberculosis may not show the symptoms we associate with the disease in older people. But the disease in most cases develops rapidly and is likely to end fatally. Tuberculosis in babies and young children is a very serious matter, but recent studies have shown that if young children are removed promptly from contact with the disease and given the necessary care, many lives can be saved."

"A great deal can be accomplished whenever tuberculosis develops, whether in young or old, if the presence of the disease is recognized when it is in its early stages and if medical attention is secured promptly."

"Tuberculosis doesn't just simply happen. Nobody is born with the disease. Everybody who develops tuberculosis gets it from some other source. Children and young people who have been in contact with persons ill with tuberculosis are especially likely to contract it."

FCA Claims Farms In Better Demand

HOUSTON, Texas.—Texas farmers and stockmen are in better spirits now than they were a year ago, notwithstanding the drought, according to A. C. Williams, General Agent of the Farm Credit Administration of Houston, Texas.

Mr. Williams is attending a conference of General Agents at the Farm Credit Administration offices here.

Texas agriculture obtained more than $161,000,000 in credit during 1934 from the Farm Credit Administration at Houston, according to Mr. Williams. "The refinancing program has played an important part in helping the farmers and stockmen to get their business financed on a sound basis in the year just closed," he said.

Stronger Demand for Farms

"There is a stronger demand for farms owned by the Federal Land Bank of Houston than there has been for the last few years. Farms are going at better prices."

"Texas farmers and stockmen appreciate the assistance they have been given under the refinancing program of the Farm Credit Administration and are putting forth their best efforts to pay the interest on their loans as they mature," he said.

"During the year the Federal Land Bank of Houston acting for itself and as agent for the Land Bank Commissioner closed 31,361 loans totaling $94,551,200 to Texas farmers and ranchmen, consisting of 11,330 land bank loans amounting to $56,848,300 and 20,031 Commissioner's loans aggregating $37,702,900. As of December 31, 1934, there were outstanding in Texas 94,393 Federal land bank and Commissioner's loans totaling $262,966,845."

"The Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston discounted farmers' and stockmen's notes amounting to more than $60,000,000 and at the close of business on December 31, 1934, the bank held loans and discounts totaling more than $22,700,000."

$5,000,000 In Loans

"Production credit associations operating under the supervision of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston made loans to farmers and stockmen aggregating more than $5,000,000. The business of the associations has been increasing rapidly and there is every indication that these cooperative credit units will have an important part in furnishing production credit to the farmers of Texas during 1935."

"The Houston Bank for Cooperatives made loans and commitments amounting to $1,030,115 to farmer-owned cooperative associations," he concluded.

Old War Heroes In German Army Pass Unheralded

BERLIN.—Seven leaders of the old imperial army died during the year 1934. Seven generals, whose names had been by-words during the war. Yet, with one exception, they died almost forgotten by the general public.

This one exception was Paul Von Hindenburg. Colonel General Alexander von Kluck, the man whose troops pushed to within reach of Paris in 1914, and General Oskar von Hutier.

Other names on this list are: Oskar von Miller, founder of the German Museum at Munich and famous engineer, Professor Victor Kaplan, inventor of the water turbine, Fedor von Zobeltitz, the writer, Hermann Bahr, another famous German author, Wilhelm Meyer-Poerster, the playwright of "Alt Heidelberg," Siegfried Tarrasch, for a long time among the leading chess players of the world, Professor Hugo Vogel, the "Painter of Hindenburg" who survived his great model by less than two months, and many other celebrities of art, literature, industry, and society.

SWEATER ETIQUETTE

It is traditional for high schools to reward members of their football teams with sweaters bearing the school's letter. And it is fitting that they should, for these boys have contributed in a large measure to the fostering of that intangible something which we call "school spirit." Other students it is true, make contributions of a value proportional with their capacity, and it is to be regretted that such students cannot be equally rewarded. But be that as it may—the football players ARE thus rewarded, and justly so. A boy who has earned a sweater has paid for it dearly with much time and hard work, and a countless number of painful bumps and bruises. We are glad for him to have one, and we thrill to see him wear it, we even don't mind if he lets his favored girl friend wear it. That's his own affair, and an excellent way to compliment a girl.

But what of the boy who wears a lettered sweater without having won it? He is sailing under false colors, and there's a point of honor there. Nor is that all he is doing. He is robbing the letter-man of some of the distinction that is rightfully his. Maybe the boy who is doing this hasn't thought of it just that way—and of course he'd hate to throw away the perfectly new lettered sweater he may have bought. Then why couldn't he remove the letter, if he hasn't fairly earned it on the football field?

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLL

All third-period grades and term averages have now been mailed out; if parents have failed to receive them in any instance, inquiry should be made in the principal's office. Following is the third period honor roll:

Mr. McGlamery is a former superintendent of the Haskell schools. He greeted the students and gave a short talk that was very helpful to all. Miss Cannon is a former teacher in Haskell also. She gave two very comical readings which interested the students very much.

The main address was by Dr. J. F. Rawls, who is treasurer of the Board of Missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and who came by an invitation from Mr. Breedlove, to address the student body. He gave a very interesting as well as helpful address on physical, mental and soul culture. The students listened to him attentively, and hope to have the privilege of hearing him again.

SENIOR SKETCHES

Lyndell Anderson was born in the year 1919 in Haskell county. He has attended both Midway and Haskell schools. As a declaimer, Lyndell has won high honors, having declaimed for Midway three times and for Haskell High School once. He is also a good debater. His greatest ambition is for his name to go down in History.

Maydell Barnett was born in Cleburne, Texas, August 1, 1917. She has secured all eleven years of her education from the schools of Haskell. When the "Warwhoop" was originated, she was appointed editor in chief of that staff. This year she is a member of the girls' debate team. She is also a member of the Gypsy Rambler Club. Maydell has many high ambitions, but the highest is to become a well-known artist.

Mary Helen Bland was born in Haskell county, September 27, 1918. Starting to school at six, she obtained her first eight years of education at Center Point. The following year, she attended the school in the Saylor community. From that time until the present, she has been a member of Haskell High School. During her school days, Helen has been an excellent basketball player. She was a forward on the Saylor and Center Point teams, and now she is playing on our team as forward.

"GANGWAY!" SENIOR PLAY!

Rehearsals are well under way, and we're planning to present it on the night of Thursday, Feb. 7th. You're all anxious to see it, we know, so we'll just tell you a little bit about it; then you'll just have to see it all. "Sleepy" Maple is the leading character in it. Who ever named him "Sleepy" anyway? Who ever did, it was a well-chosen name, for that's just what he is, to begin with. But don't ever think he can't snap out of it for he can—and that's what the play is about. Winston Watson is his best friend. Beatrice Wheeler is his mother, and Louise MacAnulty jilts him, falling for Howard Whately, a dashing young man who just hates himself. Odell Williamson is his private secretary, and there's a romance there. Lewis Hamilton is a business man, Alberta Orr is an office girl, Hugh Shelley is a schemer who tries to defraud "our hero," and Crockett English is a little man with big words, who "fairly froths at the mouth."

We think that's a pretty strong cast, and surely you'll agree, if you've ever seen them in former roles. Do you suffer from an inferiority complex? This is a play you won't forget.

LOCAL TEAMS DEBATE SEYMOUR

Last Thursday afternoon at four, the boys and girls debate team of Seymour High School met our local teams in debate.

Ava Grindstaff and Maydell Barnett debated the affirmative side of the question. Elsa Plants and Ruth Alexander took the negative.

The Seymour boys, James Mickey and Joe Alford, took the affirmative while Crockett English and Covell Atkins debated the negative.

The judges rendered decision in favor of the affirmative girls and the negative boys.

Rev. H. R. Whately, Rev. A. P. Thurman, and Mrs. C. M. Kaigler were judges and Janice Tate and Winston Watson were chairmen.

WHEELER TAKES MORRISON'S PLACE

For some weeks Mrs. George H. Morrison has been considering retiring from the field of music teaching, because of obligations at home.

With the resignation of two teachers, Mrs. Morrison felt that this would be an opportunity for a good teacher. Before writing to the head of the Music Department in Fort Worth, she consulted a few club women and teachers on the matter.

Mrs. Morrison has done some splendid work in our community and we appreciate her very much.

Professor Sames, head of the Music Department in Texas Christian University, sent Miss Nadine Wheeler, highly recommended, to carry on the work of Mrs. Morrison.

Miss Wheeler is a graduate of the Fine Arts Department of the Texas Christian University under Dr. Henry Guelick. She has lectured to the Piano Normal Class in this University for several years, studied at the American Conservatory in Chicago under Josef Thevine, taken lessons under Boris Grant in Dallas, has had ten years teaching experience, and has substituted in the Fine Arts department at Texas Christian University.

FIRST YEAR HOME EC. GIRLS MODEL DRESSES

Thursday afternoon after four o'clock ten girls who made grades above ninety-five per cent on dresses they made at school, modeled their dresses. Mrs. Reynolds Wilson was the judge. All of the dresses were very well made and were suited to the wearer. The following three girls were given highest rating: Delilah Mapes, Martelle Clifton and Frankie Dorris Bledsoe. Everyone approved of Mrs. Wilson's decision. Those who won will go to Corpus Christi to the State Home Economics Rally.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS IN HOME EC.

In the first year Home Ec classes there are forty-five pupils. During the first half of the year we undertook the problem of learning to sew. First of all we made undergarments. The total amount of money spent was $46.45, this giving each student an allowance of about $1.03 per garment.

We then undertook the study of outer garments. The dresses on the whole were very well made. The amount of money spent on the dresses was $59.20 allowing each student about $1.48 per dress.

In our work we are required to have a home project. It may be any one of a number of things such as dresses and undergarments. Some girls indulged in making their bedrooms more attractive. The amount of money spent on these things was $59.20.

GIRLS GARMENTS ON DISPLAY

A selection of dresses and undergarments made by first year Home Economics students are on display in Perkins-Timberlake show-window this week. We are glad of the opportunity to display the work of the department and wish to thank the store for the space given us.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

When the Seniors give their play, you may decide that you would rather spend the same amount of money and see a good picture show than to see just the amateur acting of high school students. And it may be granted that high school dramatic ability can scarcely equal what may be seen on the screen at the same price. But who is there who has no appreciation of sincere effort? If you cannot appreciate the senior actor's art for art's sake, can you not still appreciate it for the sake of his effort?

To Be Wardrobe Demonstrator Is To Be Very Alert

Being a wardrobe demonstrator teaches one thrift and resourcefulness, according to Miss Mae Hamilton of the New Cook home demonstrating club, who converted an old spring coat into an attractive skirt that would retail for approximately $2.00.

The skirt was cut by her foundation pattern and the only expense was the cost of the thread. Miss Hamilton is first year wardrobe demonstrator. In her work she plans to paint the inside of her closet, add shelves, hat and shoe racks. She is keeping records of all clothing costs.

HONOR PUPILS OF ROSE SCHOOL NAMED

MINT IS KEPT BUSY TURNING OUT MONEY

PHILADELPHIA — The United States mint here "made" a lot of money during the year just ended.

Values of coins turned out during 1934 was not as great as in 1932 and 1931, but the number of pieces coined was the largest in several years.

Total domestic coins during the year amounted to 38,142,247 pieces, having an aggregate value of $18,143,587.65. No gold coins were made during 1934.

If one boy can do a job in one hour, two boys can do it in two hours—proven correct.

Regulations Governing Eligibility of Unemployed For Aid in Okla.

Let's Talk About Clothes

DENTON, Texas.—What about the clever and unique details of your late winter and early spring frocks? Considerable thought given over to the material and general design is not the only necessity for modeling a charming creation.

Detail hints on costumes of young moderns for the ensuing spring season have been suggested by girls at Texas State College for Women (CIA) and they head their list with an array of brightly colored buttons, which are so smart in the decoration of any sport frock. Use them down the front fastened by bound buttonholes, on pockets, on the skirt and from the underarm sleeve down the side of the waist.

Pearl style dresses have leaped into the limelight of the fashion parade—especially those gathered at the neck and sleeves with solid ribbon. In this way plenty of fullness is secured in the waist. Make the skirt straight and slenderizing and feature a slit in the side seam.

Presenting deep armhole sleeves, a soft fullness in the bodice and curved yokes, the feminized shirtwaists have made their debut. These styles often topped with a small round collar certainly give a youthful appearance. Soft folds across the bodice of a frock from shoulder to shoulder make a new kind of cowl neckline, and the fullness is shirred into a raglan shoulder seam.

Capes that take the place of sleeves are "in the mode" now. Some are full at the back and gathered on to the neck by a pleated heading that makes for an interesting finish. Others come in from yokes with a split division at the back accentuated by a row of tiny covered buttons.

It is pathetic to lose when you think you have won.

You cannot become wise by taking a course in ignorance.

COUGH AND SIDACHE

Mrs. Lola Rice of Route 9, North Little Rock, Ark., said: "I weighed only 90 pounds, coughed continually, was not able to sleep, my sides ached and I felt so weak. I took Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and gained strength quickly. Then my cough cleared up and I was able to sleep again. I felt stronger and better in every way. New size, tablets 50c, liquid $1.00. Large size, tabs or liquid, $1.35. "We Do Our Part."

WHEN YOU TAKE A LAXATIVE ... use a spoon

It isn't what brand of laxative you take that's so important—it's the form. A liquid laxative can be taken in any required amount. If only a little is needed, you need never take a bit too much.

Doctors favor the easily measured liquid laxatives. Instead of any form that does not encourage variation from the fixed dose. A fixed dose may be an overdose for you—or your child.

Always remember this one thing about constipation: the secret of any real relief is reduced dosage.

Give the bowels only as much help as may be needed, and less help as the need grows less. You will find Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin an excellent aid in regulating the bowels. It contains senna and cascara (natural laxatives) and it will clear-up any bilious, sluggish condition without upset. Delightful taste, and pleasant action. Your druggist has it.

Sound Loan and Investment Policies

It is a mistake to think that banks do not want to lend money. They do. Lending money is their chief way of earning money.

Nevertheless, the loans of this bank, and all its investments, are made with the deep sense of responsibility which comes from knowing that we are loaning and investing money belonging to our depositors.

But don't forget, we are glad to lend money to you or to any other reputable prospective borrower who can give adequate assurance that the loan will be repaid.

PUBLIC DISCONTENT BACK OF WILD PROPOSAL

If you like to go out and meet your warries before they arrive you can work a nice little nightmare by sitting down and imagining what would happen if all the wild and woolly bills pending before Congress should become law.

Just suppose, for instance, that the Townsend old age pension bill, the 30-hour week bill, the greenback bonus bill, and a measure providing for wide-spread unemployment insurance financed by a stiff payroll tax should be passed and signed by the President or passed over his veto. Simply to meditate on the resultant tangle in governmental and industrial finances is enough to make one start looking for the nearest cyclone cellar.

Of course, there is no use getting all steamed up about it, because, while some of these measures may get through the legislative hopper, there is hardly a chance that all will. But the important thing is to think of what these various measures represent, and not what their chances of becoming law may be. These measures do, in a way, reflect the trend of public sentiment which may be somewhat confused, misguided and thoughtless, but which, nevertheless, disclose that the American people are making a great decision. This decision is simply that the difficult times of the past four years have been altogether too difficult to be endured again. That is to say that the people generally do not intend to put up with a repetition of that era of declining payrolls, lower living standards, shrunken bank accounts, and general all-around hardships.

They may have only the foggiest kind of notions about how to go about preventing a recurrence, but they are grimly determined to prevent it somehow, and the result is a general demand for legislation which may be completely illogical but it cannot be defeated by mere argument.

Unless Congress and the President can get together and agree on some program that gives a fair promise of protecting the average man from the cruelties of hard times, the sentiment which supports these measures will continue to gather strength. That is the important thing to remember. There is not the remotest chance that Congress will pass a pension law, for instance, paying $200 a month to every American over 60 years of age, but unless the government understands why such a law is demanded and does something about it, we may find ourselves passing a much worse law a few years hence.

A WORTHWHILE GOVERNMENT PROGRAM

The recent proposal that railroad grade-crossing elimination be made a part of Federal relief work during the current year is finding increasing support.

It is supported by safety authorities, who know that such a program would do much to reduce and eventually eliminate the great loss of life due to crossing accidents. It is supported by railroad men, who know that it would expedite and improve service. It is supported by state governments, which realize the need for crossing elimination but have no funds to devote to it. And it is supported by the general public and the business man who knows that no form of public works could do more to take up the slack in employment and stimulate heavy industries while at the same time not interfering with any private endeavors.

This last phase of the proposal is not especially important, inasmuch as federal funds are disbursed with the principal stress laid on getting maximum employment for each dollar spent and encouraging private enterprise. In grade-crossing elimination, the greatest part of the money would go to workers, both on the job and in the factories supplying cement, steel and other materials. And the revivifying effect of this would give impetus to employment.

Safety, employment and public welfare will all be advanced if the government accepts the proposal. There are some 30,000 grade crossings which have no protection—and each year thousands of lives are unnecessarily wasted because of accidents occurring at them. Here the government has an opportunity to be of the utmost service to all the people.

WHY HE FAILED

An unusual statement was published some time ago in the News-Gazette, Champaign, Ill., signed by E. L. Murdock, head of a farmer leading ladies' ready-to-wear store, which had closed its doors to avoid being thrown into bankruptcy.

In this statement the merchant set forth the principal reasons for the store's failure to maintain the prestige and prosperity it had enjoyed in times past. He said:

"Perhaps the greatest contributing cause is the fact that four years ago our firm, because we thought the rate was too high, discontinued all advertising in the News-Gazette. We tried other forms of advertising to supplant the News-Gazette, but found none effective. Our business continued on the down grade. Seemingly our friends had forgotten us. The fault was ours."

In every city and town there are stores which have made the serious mistake to which Mr. Murdock confesses in such a manly fashion.

People look to their newspaper for their store news. No amount of handbills, circulars, signboards or other devices can take the place of the newspaper that goes into the home and is read by every member of the family.

PATENT IS SOUGHT FOR A RAINMAKER

HALIFAN, N. S.—One day next summer Lawson Greenham, retired Irish chemist, is going to soar into the clouds over Nova Scotia and solve the drought problem for the world.

Greenham, a former professor at Queen's University, Belfast, Ireland, and member of both the Chemical Society of England and the American Chemical Society, claims he has perfected a machine with which he will be able to create rain at will at a cost of from $20 to $50 per rainstorm by attacking the clouds.

He has applied for patents for his "rain-maker," which he says, will be ready for a practical demonstration next summer.

"Who would be a man must be a non-conformist."—Emerson.

-CURRENT COMMENT-

BUY DURING SLUMP

The following article is one of the sanest and most compelling that has come to our attention. It has been published in various magazines and newspapers of the country. We are reprinting it here because we believe the readers of the Free Press will find it helpful and inspiring.

"The San Francisco earthquake, if I may use that forbidden word, cured hundreds of cripples. They jumped up and ran for their lives.

They weren't as badly crippled as they thought they were. They didn't know that they could run until their houses began to shake.

The Good Book, too, tells the story of a cripple whose weakness was more in his mind than in his legs. The Master said to him: "Rise, take up thy bed and walk." He rose and walked and carried his bed.

So, here is the thought that I would like to send out to the business men of America:

"You are depressed. You think you are crippled. You are afraid of the future. You are full of fears.

"You have half the gold of the world and half of the machinery and most of the automobiles and all of the skyscrapers.

"You have the greatest home market in the world and the largest corporations that the world has ever seen.

You are ruled more by ideas and less by tradition than any other people in the world. You have usually done what you thought you could do.

"How can it be possible that a progressive nation of 120,000,000 people can be wrecked by the speculations of a little handful of fools in Wall Street?

"The prices that were forced too high had to come down. Today all the prices are too low.

"There is now a golden opportunity for every man who has eyes to see it.

"Dollars are now being sold for thirty cents. Practically every security in the United States is now being sold at less than its value.

"The way to create a fortune is to buy from pessimists. Pay your money and take the risk.

"Frick started his career by buying coke ovens in the slump of 1873. Carnegie made $300,000,000 by buying steel plants in slumps.

"Hundreds of fortunes have been made by buying from the pessimists. Ye gods! What a chance there is at the moment!

"In five years from now most American business men will belong to the 'I-wish-I-had Club.'

"Then it will be too late to buy a dollar for thirty cents. The opportunities will be gone.

"When a horse balks, the balk is in his head, not in his legs. He moves on when he thinks he will.

"And when an American business man is depressed, the slump is in his head. There is nothing serious to prevent him from making money if he thinks he will.

"When Fear rules the will, nothing can be done, but when a man casts Fear out of his mind, the world becomes his oyster.

"To lose a bit of money is nothing, but to lose hope—to lose nerve and ambition—that is what makes men cripples.

"This silly depression has gone on long enough. Get rid of it. It is inside of you.

"RISE AND WALK!"

New Gospel Is Found by British

LONDON—The discovery of a hitherto unknown gospel—the earliest Christian manuscript extant—is announced.

This discovery has been made by the British Museum among papyrus fragments from Egypt. Dr. Flower, deputy keeper of manuscripts, showing these brown fragments to newspaper reporters, said experts date them not later than A. D. 150. They are thus even older than the Chester Beatty collection of papyrus, formerly the oldest extant.

The find comprises two tattered pages, each about five inches across, and also one smaller. They have both sides covered with running Greek script of the most ancient character. They describe Jesus' escape from soning and also his healing of a leper. Their account differs in detail from those in the Synoptic Gospels, but has features pointing to the possibility that it is an original independent source drawn upon in St. John's Gospel.

They thus are expected to throw new light upon Bible history.

One of their peculiarities is their use of the Greek letters iota and eta as abbreviation for Saviour (Iesous) instead of the less ancient iota eta sigma, when arose the conventional IHS of later Bible manuscripts.

Advertisements Are a guide to value

EXPERTS can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch . . . knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. There is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence.

Merchandise must be good or it could not be consistently advertised. Buy advertised goods.

Western Union Installs Simplex

A modern Simplex telegraph printer has been installed in the local office of the Western Union and is now in use. Messages are no longer received in the old manner, but are transmitted direct from Wichita Falls to the Haskell machine and printed upon strips of paper. Doyle Travillion, Simplex maintenance supervisor of Dallas and E. L. Paschal, plant department representative, Dallas, were here Tuesday and installed the printer.

"Modern business requires accurate and speedy communication," Travillion said. "Keeping pace with the demand, the Western Union has constantly improved its service. Until today messages are exchanged anywhere in its vast network in a few minutes. The Simplex printer is the Western Union's answer to this requirement for speed and accuracy. It is the latest and most modern method of handling fast communications."

The Simplex printers are, in appearance, somewhat like ordinary typewriters, but their action is much more complicated, according to Travillion. When a key is pressed it sets up its individual code combination and releases a mechanism which causes corresponding impulses to be sent over the electrical circuit passing through printing unit and over the wire to the distant printer. These impulses cause corresponding characters to be printed on the narrow strip of gummed tape at both the home and distant offices.

In ordinary typewriters the key levers are connected mechanically to the typebars and operate them directly. The key levers of Simplex printers, however, are not thus fastened to the typebars, but, as first explained, cause electrical impulses which control the movement of the type. Some the Simplex key levers are not connected mechanically to the typebars, the machines may be used and divided into two units, one which sends out the signals and the other which prints the corresponding characters. The former is called the keyboard and the latter the printer unit, both are contained in every Simplex machine.

The paper tape, on which the message is typed by the Simplex printer, is gummed on the under side so that when moistened, it may be attached to a telegraph blank.

Monoxide Gas Car In Haskell

The latest weapon in the fight against carbon monoxide will arrive here Wednesday Feb. 5. Equipped with valuable scientific instruments, one of the Power Prover demonstration cars now touring the country in an educational campaign against carbon monoxide poisoning will visit Haskell on that date.

The cars are conducting tests, under the auspices of police and health officials in many cities and states, to learn the efficiency of the average car under various traffic and climatic conditions. While here, experiments will be conducted to learn the quantity of carbon monoxide on highways and in interiors of local cars.

The tours are being conducted by the Cities Service Oil Co., long active in the fight against carbon monoxide, in an effort to explain to operators of motor vehicles the dangers of this deadly gas and the proper way to eliminate them.

The demonstration machine is housed in an Aerocar, which is the result of an idea developed by the late Glenn H. Curtiss, nationally known aviation pioneer. The interior of the "Rolling Schoolroom" is divided into two rooms, the larger of which is attractively furnished with leather ceiling and walls and linoleum floor. Chairs for 14 people are provided, as well as electric lights and ash trays. At the front of the room is a screen which may be used to show moving and stereoscopic pictures illustrating talks on automotive subjects. The rear compartment of the car contains one of the latest type Power Provers, a machine which accurately measures motor efficiency, and a complete set of valuable and exclusive Cities Service tuning tools. The clock-like dial of the Power Prover is visible

O'Brien Quintet Open for Games

According to H. A. Barnard, the O'Brien basketball team, organized early in the season, challenges any team in this section. Barnard, manager of the small farming community's cagers, boasts that his team has lost only one game, and won 33.

The quintet lost to Leaders by one point in a five-minute extra session after the game had been tied. In a game with the A. C. C. freshman team, Barnard's hopefuls downed the visitors 33-32. Barnard will arrange playing dates with any college or high school team during the remainder of the season, he states.

Burning Over Farm Lands Costs State Millions Annually

STILLWATER, Okla. — Burning over pasture and meadow lands, cultivated fields, and farm woodlots is costing Oklahoma farmers millions of dollars each year, according to Charles A. Hollopeter, soil specialist for the soil erosion service, Oklahoma A. and M. college.

"Fires destroy vegetative covering, leaving the soil exposed to the destructive forces of wind and water erosion," Hollopeter points out.

Experimental results obtained from the Red Plains Soil Erosion experiment station at Guthrie show that a 2.52 rain which fell May 3, 1934, removed 12 times as much soil from burned woods as from unburned woods. The amount of water runoff was 32 times as great per acre from the burned area as from that which had not been disturbed by fire.

In many cases burning has increased yields of wheat and other crops, for one, two, three, and in some in-

The Centennial will not Cost... IT WILL PAY

The Texas Centennial Commission has said that it contemplates a self-liquidating celebration. It has given positive assurance to the people of Texas that it will not involve any increased taxation. The Centennial is the biggest job proposed for Texans since wresting its liberty from foreign despotism. Texans in all the past have liked big jobs. The Commission is relying upon that old Texas spirit as enunciated by Col. Travis, "Victory or Death," to make sentiment unanimous for celebration of its historic birthday in 1936. Every Texan now is challenged. For a century of trial and triumph every Texan has stood in solid phalanx. Every challenge has been accepted. No greater work was ever presented a Texan, native-born or adopted, than that presented by the plan for the Texas Centennial.
