

Assassination Anniversary

DALLAS (AP) — Memorial services for President John F. Kennedy drew little attention in the city where he was slain 17 years ago Saturday.

"People are more interested in who shot J.R. than in who shot J.F.K.," said Bill Stover, one of the few who gathered Friday near the triple underpass where the president was shot.

Only 25 people attended the service and 11 of them were members of a high school choir scheduled to sing hymns at the event.

Most of the choir members were not yet born when the rifle fire that killed the president and wounded then Gov. John B. Connally rang out in Dealey Plaza on Nov. 22, 1963.

Organizers said the service was scheduled a day before the anniversary of the assassination in an effort to attract downtown workers.

Parachutist Killed

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A parachutist was killed Saturday when an apparent attempt to land atop the Gateway Arch, the world's tallest monument, went awry as his wife filmed his fall, police said.

Authorities said the man jumped out of a plane over the arch with a parasail and glided toward the stainless steel structure, which is 630 feet tall at its apex.

An eyewitness, James Spears, said the man appeared to have succeeded in landing atop the structure when a gust of wind blew him over and he fell down the north leg of the arch.

Spears said the victim appeared to make a vain attempt to open a spare parachute before he hit the ground.

Police on the scene said the man's wife kept her camera rolling as her husband fell.

Not Giving Up On United Way Goal

By Frances Wiman

EDITOR NOTE: The following article is written by Frances Wiman, co-chairman of the United Way Campaign. She says the effort is too close to the goal for us to call it quits now and issues a final appeal to give a little more and push it over the top.

Well, folks, we're almost there. We lack approximately $3000 reaching our goal of $59,969. But I'm not willing to give up until we've reached the 100 percent mark, are you?

Some have said it couldn't be done. Others have said it isn't worth the effort, and quite honestly I've had days when I've agreed with both those philosophies. But this morning I remembered one of my favorite quotes from Albert Schweitzer that I have had taped to my refrigerator at various times during the past few years. I dug it out of my file this morning and put it back on my fridge to remind myself that although there certainly are obstacles, they can be overcome. May I share my quote with you?

"Some people are only too partial to the sorry task of warning youth that some day they will view most of the things that now inspire their hearts and minds as mere illusions. But those who have a deeper experience of life take another tone. They exhort youth to try to preserve throughout their lives the ideas that inspire them. In youthful idealism they possess riches that should not be bartered for anything on earth.

Those who vow to do good should not expect people to clear stones from their path on this account. They must expect the contrary, that others will roll great boulders down upon them. Such obstacles can be overcome only by the kind of strength gained in the very struggle. Those who merely resent obstacles will waste whatever force they have.

I'll grant you that I'm not considered a "youth" by some people anymore, but I hope I'll always have youthful thinking.

I'm counting on you to take our United Way over the top this year. If you've already given thanks.

The girls at the Chamber office will not turn down second donations. If you haven't given this year, call the Chamber office right now before you forget, 373-3558, and make your pledge. Someone will come by and pick up your donation. We're almost there. Let's make Snyder a 100 percent community this year just as we have in the past.

Borrowing Costs May Cause New Recession

NEW YORK (AP) — Economists are predicting the latest surge in borrowing costs will pull the economy back into the recession it escaped earlier this year.

The rise in interest rates were sparked by efforts by the Federal Reserve to combat inflation by making credit harder to obtain. On Friday, a 17 percent prime lending rate spread through most of the U.S. banking system.

While that credit tightening eventually may result in less rapidly rising prices, analysts said it also may push the economy into a new recession.

After tightening credit last spring, the Federal Reserve then "pumped in massive amounts of money over the last six months," possibly delaying any "inflation improvement for at least a year," said Beryl Sprinkel, executive vice president and economist at Chicago's Harris Trust & Savings Bank.

Sprinkel forecast "a significant slowing" in the economy "somewhere in the middle of the first quarter" of 1981.

In Washington, the Federal Reserve Board said its policy-makers had decided late last month to reduce the rate at which money — or credit — would be allowed to expand.

The Fed's weekly money-supply report, usually released on Fridays, was delayed for the second consecutive week following a new banking law that nearly tripled the number of banks filing information with the Federal Reserve System.

The central bank did not say when the money supply figures for the week ended Nov. 12 would be released. A report for the previous week was released last Tuesday.

The increase in the prime rate was the second since Monday, when the prime — the rate that top-ranked businesses pay on loans — rose three-quarters of a point to 16 25 percent nationwide.

WTC Names Financial Aid Officer

James Parker has been named director of student financial aid at Western Texas College. Dr. Ben Brock, college vice president, has announced.

Parker will join the staff of WTC on Dec. 8. He is currently financial aid advisor at West Texas State University in Canyon, where he is responsible for assisting the director of financial aid in packaging of students' aid, advising students on financial matters, basic grant validation and loans and collection on short-term consolidated student loans.

A graduate of Floydada High School, Parker received the bachelor of business administration degree from WTSU in December of 1978. He was a member of Alpha Tau Omega at WTSU.

His wife, Kim, is a speech and hearing therapist.

No Warning For Victims Of Fire

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — There was no warning, no alarm as black, choking smoke from a raging kitchen fire quickly filled the MGM Grand hotel-casino, trapping thousands of people, killing at least 82 and injuring more than 500.

Firefighters, predicting the death toll would rise, combed through smoldering heaps of ash, charred closets and blackened stairways of the luxury hotel today in a grim search for additional bodies.

The Clark County Coroner's Office said early today that the number of people known dead was 82, with about 50 positively identified.

It was the nation's worst hotel fire in more than 30 years.

Fire officials said no alarm sounded when the blaze broke out at 7:15 a.m. PST Friday in a large kitchen that supplies six of the hotel's restaurants.

Flames apparently destroyed the amplifiers on the manually operated alarm system before they could go into action, Clark County Fire Chief Roy Parrish said.

Gov. Robert List, who toured the burned-out area, said he planned to appoint a commission to study whether the city's standards for fire alarm systems were sufficient.

Most of the victims on the upper floors of the 26-story, 2,076-room hotel died of smoke inhalation after a "wall of fire" roared through the casino below, said Clark County Coroner Otto Ravenholt. Many were out of reach of fire department ladders that could go no higher than the ninth floor, authorities said.

Only three floors of the luxury hotel had sprinklers, and according to the fire code were not necessary higher up because the other floors were under 24-hour supervision, Parrish said. "Very definitely it would have helped," if there were more sprinklers, he said.

"To the best of our knowledge, all safety factors were operational at the time of the fire," said hotel president

Bernard Rothkopf.

Names of the dead were expected to be released later today. Clark County medical examiner Dr. Sheldon Green said the identification process "is too slow. We've got to go through wallets and other personal effects."

Of the 534 people injured, 195 were admitted to local hospitals for treatment.

Only the Wineoff Hotel disaster that killed 119 people in Atlanta on Dec. 7, 1946 was worse.

Panicked MGM guests — some dangling bed-sheet ropes — jammed balconies and the rooftop as police helicopters circled overhead and officers shouted over bullhorns, "Don't jump! Don't jump!"

One elderly couple locked their hands together and plunged 17 floors to their deaths, said Fire Capt. Wayne Littlefield.

Another man used bedding and towels to climb from the upper floors to the 10th floor, but then fell to his death, Littlefield said.

Parrish, who ruled out arson, said the fire spread up through two floors and then it broke through "like a ball of fire" into the casino and the false ceiling above it.

9 Hospital Rooms Need Furnishings

Although the new wing at Cogdell Memorial Hospital is not expected to be ready for use until after the first of the year, a deadline is rapidly approaching.

It requires about six weeks of lead time to get one of the plaques honoring contributors of room furnishings, says Cy Miller, administrator of the hospital. This means that only a few days remain to get plaques ordered in time to have them installed before the new wing is opened.

Also, only nine rooms are left to be furnished. Miller said that several people had indicated that they were interested in furnishing a room but have not completed arrangements yet. Hospital officials would like to have all of the plaques on hand by the time the new wing is ready for use so that the public will know who furnished the rooms.

Donors of room furnishings are making an important contribution to the hospital. In fact, they are helping eliminate the necessity of the hospital seeking funds from other sources for that purpose. The actual construction of the wing will use up all of the $4 million bond issue which was voted for that purpose.

There has been considerable interest among local citizens in the plan for furnishing the rooms, and now is the time for those who have delayed to come in and complete the arrangements for their contributions, said Miller. The contributions to the hospital are tax deductible, and those who pay their income taxes by the calendar year have only a few more weeks to get such a contribution included on this year's records.

Arrangements may be made for the contributions in Miller's office at the hospital.

The SDN Column

As if we didn't already have enough evidence that the cold season has arrived, Lawrence Deavers called to report that he had spotted a flock of wild geese.

He makes a habit of being the first to report on the migration of these fowls each year.

These were acting kind of strange, Deavers reported. He said there was a good-sized flock and they kept circling the area. He wondered if they were hunting something to eat.

We suspect that they saw those patches of snow still on the ground and had become confused, wondering if they had been flying in a big circle and wound up where they started up there in the northland.

It would be easy to grumble about the cold from last week's snowstorm, but we still remember our pledge made last summer when 100-degree days were piling up that we would not complain about the winter weather, no matter how cold it gets.

We are rapidly approaching the holiday shopping season and merchants are in their cycle of apprehension about business prospects, shoplifting and bad accounts. We came across one businessman's list of excuses heard most while trying to collect past-due accounts. Here are some of them:

"They don't live here anymore."
"Check's in the mail."
"Will pay immediately."
"He's not here on Friday."
"I'm in bed with the flu, but will pay as soon as I'm able."
"I'll call you back."
"I could have sworn I already paid that."
"Didn't my wife pay that?"
"I never got a bill."
"That was my sister."

Someone else made notes on reaction to the big snow last week, and it is apparent that this gift of nature got varied responses. One farmer, who already had his cotton stripped, was delighted, noting that it would help him next year. Another farmer, who had barely started his harvest, was upset and frustrated. A trucker complained that the snow and ice on the roads put him hours behind schedule. A wrecker operator beamed as he pulled another vehicle out of the bar ditch. A working mother bemoaned the expense of hiring a baby sitter while her children were out of school on account of the weather.

Government agencies who draft rules and regulations and expect them to fit all people in all situations should take note that what helps one may handicap another.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR READERS: I invited readers to tell me where they were when they first heard that President Kennedy had been shot. I've received over 16,000 responses, and they're still pouring in! Some excerpts from this incredible collection:

"How could I forget that day? I had gone to the grocery store, where I heard the shocking news. I rushed home immediately to find my dear husband slumped in his chair — dead of a massive heart attack! The radio beside him was still blasting!"
LILLIAN MILLER, PHOENIX, ARIZ.

"I was on the operating table in the middle of a hemorrhoidectomy when a nurse rushed in and shouted, 'Doctor, I just heard that President Kennedy was shot in Dallas!' The doctor dropped the instrument he was holding and gasped, 'Oh, my God!' I was left in a jackknife position until he regained his composure, after which he completed the surgery with somewhat unsteady hands. Later, the informer stuck her head in the room and said, 'Sorry, Doctor. I guess that news could have waited.' To which he replied, 'It sure as hell could have!'"
ATLANTA CONSTITUTION READER

"I was in third grade in a Catholic school when the news came over the loudspeaker. The sister cried, then we were all sent home. At that age I thought that was the way we got rid of our presidents. Later when I saw Mrs. Kennedy on TV moving out of the White House so Mrs. Johnson could move in, I thought, 'The least they could do for Mrs. Kennedy was to let her keep the house.'"
PETER J. SMALL, L.A., CALIF.

"I was working as a pharmacist in a drugstore when I heard the terrible news. A few minutes later two women came in. I asked if they had heard President Kennedy had been shot. Once said, 'Yeah, but it don't mean nothing to us because we're Republicans.' I couldn't believe my ears."
EVA IN ANAHEIM

"President Kennedy's assassination was announced as I entered USC's dental clinic, where 24 students were working on patients. Twenty-four dental instruments were held skyward and 48 mouths opened simultaneously — 49 including my own."
ELBERTA, LONG BEACH

"I was in the waiting room of my psychiatrist's office, slightly early for my appointment. I had a transistor radio with a silent attachment plugged into my ear. When I heard the shocking news, I ran to the desk girl and shouted, 'The president has been shot!' She came out, calmly took my arm, led me into the doctor's office and asked the doctor to see me at once!"
ST. LOUIS MEMORIES

"I was in the Peace Corps in Liberia, West Africa, when the tragic news came over the short-wave radio on the Voice of America. I will always remember the deep sorrow expressed by the people of Liberia over the death of the man who had inspired me to join the Peace Corps."
RAY HATLER, L.A.

"My husband and I (both Canadians) were in our hardware store in Hamilton, Ontario, when we heard the first bulletin on the radio. We and our customers waited in shock and disbelief for further news. We Canadians shared your grief. The border, after all, is at times only an imaginary line."
MARY AND RONALD NICE

"We were at the Imperial Hotel in Tokyo when some Americans we had just met phoned us from the lobby to give us the news. We joined them downstairs and wept openly with other Americans. The Japanese, reputed to be unemotional, wept with us. J.F.K. was loved by them and still is."
JACK AND ELLA, N.Y.

"I was in London attending a ballet starring Dame Margot Fonteyn and Rudolf Nureyev when the manager interrupted the performance to say, 'England has lost one of her greatest friends. President Kennedy was assassinated.' We were stunned. Flags were flown at half mast, a few days afterward, strangers stopped me on the street to express sympathy."

Dinner Theater At 1st Baptist

For the seventh year in a row, First Baptist Church will be adding an extra dimension to the Christmas season with its dinner theater, says Jerry Neil, music director. This year's program will again be a "double feature." The first half of the program will be "Colors of Christmas," a musical production presented by "Power and Light Co.," the church's youth ensemble. The second half of the program will be a one-act play, "One Clear Star," by R.S. Charlton, and will be presented by a cast of youth and young adults.

The dinner theater will run three nights, Dec. 3-5, and will begin at 7 p.m. each evening. The meal will be served in Fellowship Hall, and this year for the first time, says Neil, the program will take place in the chapel.

Cost for the evening will be $3 per person and includes a complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings and the program.

Senior adults will be admitted on Thursday night for a discount price of $2. Friday night is "civic organizations night," and a number of civic clubs and organizations will be attending as a club, but the performance is open to the public also.

Reservations are a must, says Neil. Tickets still remain for all three performances and may be obtained by calling 573-2631, or coming by First Baptist Church.

Much mineral and vitamin loss occurs in factory-processed foods, such as bleached flour and cereals prepared with high heat to puff, shred, explode or flake them. The synthetic vitamins added by the manufacturer are usually not equal in food value to the natural vitamins lost in the processing. From 20 percent to 50 percent of Americans now run the risk of deficient vitamin or mineral intake. For this reason, many physicians recommend vitamin and mineral supplements.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Your Birthday

Bernice Bede Osol

November 24, 1980

November 23, 1980

You will have good rapport with large groups or organizations if you function in an executive capacity this coming year. Things you manage or personally instigate could bring fame to you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Take ample time to make important decisions today. The initial way you size up matters could overlook a few salient facts. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Coworkers may not be as conscientious about the jobs you share today as you will. You'd be wise to check their labors for mistakes.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Hotdogging it or putting on affectations is out of character for you, yet these are roles you may be tempted to play today. Skip such scripts.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You could be a trifle slow in getting revved up today, but once you're in gear you become a real producer — especially as you near the finish line.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There's a possibility a misunderstanding could arise today between you and someone of whom you're quite fond. Treat sensitive relationships tactfully.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This is not a day to buy anything sight unseen. Examine the item to be sure it's in proper working order.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Winning in sports could mean quite a bit to you today, but it may not be that important to your teammate. Pick a partner who shares your zeal and enthusiasm.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Others will be helpful in certain instances today, but they will withdraw their aid if they see you're reluctant to fend for yourself.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Avoid pals today who deal in intrigue and politics. You could be drawn into a sticky arrangement not of your own making.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) There's chance you won't accomplish all you're capable of doing today, owing to a failure to put forth maximum effort. Play for first place not second.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Before passing on tales told you today by one who sometimes embellishes the facts, verify the details. You might be getting poor information.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Financial conditions may be a mixed bag today. You're wise and prudent in certain ways, while in others you could be a bit foolish or careless.

Things in which you placed considerable stock in the past may not be all that important to you this coming year. These changing values are to your benefit and will give you more peace of mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Pals won't appreciate your poking your nose into their private affairs today any more than you would if they probed into yours. Each should keep his or her distance. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sometimes you're very skillful at making decisions. But rather than tackle your duties and responsibilities today, you may search for ways to rationalize them away. Too bad, but this procedure won't work.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Rather than tackle your duties and responsibilities today, you may search for ways to rationalize them away. Too bad, but this procedure won't work.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Things which appear to be good buys or bargains today might not be so great once you scrutinize them closely. Use your magnifying glass.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's best that you and your mate don't discuss issues today where your views are strongly in opposition. Neither is likely to concede or compromise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Coworkers could prove a trifle difficult today, especially if they think you are passing on work which you should be handling.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Subdue urges to gamble or spend beyond your means today. In matters where you feel you are lucky, unfortunately, the reverse could be true.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Timing is extremely important today in the management of delicate situations. If you try to force things, you may jam the machinery.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone, with whom you have dealings who is an expert at manipulating others may try to pull the strings on you today. Don't be his puppet.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Should your bank balance be a bit out of whack in this period, perhaps it's time to revise your budget. Look closely. You'll see where the fat needs trimming.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Objectives must be clearly defined today, or else you might make some moves which could be counterproductive. Guard against impulsiveness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Sometimes it's best not to make strong statements about things that are on your mind. This is one of those days where it's wiser to count to 10 before speaking.

J. Smith, Marsha Krenek (RSVP director) and Frank Miller (West Elementary principal).

RSVP Volunteers In Schools Are Honored

RSVP members who give volunteer time at Central Elementary School and the Humble-Smith School met with volunteers from West Elementary for lunch recently as part of a quarterly program to recognize the contributions of volunteers in those schools.

The volunteers were presented with corsages and boutonnieres in recognition of their participation in the schools' volunteer activities. Also recognized was Frank Miller, principal of West Elementary, Mrs. Gussie Gray, teacher, and Mrs. Shirley McDaniel, teacher's aide, for their assistance to the RSVP program.

"Volunteers find ways to utilize their special interests and skills to help the children and staff in the schools," said Marsha Krenek, RSVP director. "Some read with small groups of children, while others read individually with one child at a time. One group makes mini-books for the students' from out-of-adoption readers. A team of volunteers assists children from the Humble-Smith swimming program dress.

"Volunteers working in the schools don't have to be retired teachers. They only need to be interested in investing some time in a child's future," Mrs. Krenek added. "The nice part about a program like RSVP is that it benefits both the volunteer and the recipient of the volunteer services. RSVP programs offer the adults opportunities to find creative and meaningful ways to add to the fulfillment of an active life after retirement. Retired men and women 60 years of age and older who would like to become part of RSVP, which stands for Retired Senior Volunteer Program, are invited to contact our office in the Senior Center, or call the office at 573-0144.

Bentsen Says Obstacle Gone

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lloyd Bentsen says a big obstacle is out of the way for his amendment to exempt small royalty owners from the "windfall" profits tax.

"I'm optimistic that we've cleared the last big hurdle to enactment of this important legislation," the Texas Democrat said Friday.

The break came when a House-Senate conference committee reached agreement on the budget reconciliation bill containing the senator's amendment for a one-year tax credit.

Financial & tax planning FICA TAX—A WHOPPER

The 1981 earnings subject to FICA (Social Security) taxes will increase to $29,700 compared with $25,900 for 1980. In addition to the increase in wage base, the percentage of FICA withholding for the employee has increased from 6.13 to 6.65.

An employee earning the maximum in 1980 paid $1587.67. That will increase to $1975.05 in 1981; an increase of $387.38. The employer, of course, must match the employee's contribution.

A self-employed individual has the same $29,700 maximum for contributions, but he will pay 9.3% in 1981 compared with 8.1% for 1980. The self-employed person will pay a maximum in 1981 of $2762.10 compared with $2097.90 for 1980, an increase of $664.20.

The only real planning opportunity in relation to these contributions is for the self-employed person. If you are currently operating as a self-employed individual or a working partner, you will pay 9.3% for 1981. If you choose to incorporate your business you will be an employee of that business, and will be treated as your own employer as well. You would be subject to 6.65 as an employee and a matching 6.65 as an employer, for a total of 13.3%. Compared to the 9.3% self-employment rate for 1981, this gives you a 4% excess. The FICA "penalty," therefore, is $1188 for each "working shareholder" earning the maximum amount.

Remember that your benefits under the Social Security laws are determined by the wage base on which you make your contribution and not by the total dollars you contribute.

All other things being equal, the proprietor who chooses to incorporate could contribute $1188 more per year for no additional added benefits. This is one of the tax consequences that must be reviewed in determining whether you should operate your business as a corporation.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

Add enjoyment to your day

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm a housewife, 25 years old and have one child 20 months old. I weigh 110 pounds and am 5 feet 2. My problem is I'm tired all the time. You can tell by my eyes. I usually go to bed at 12:30 a.m. and get up at 8:30 a.m. I do eat properly and take vitamins. I just bought some "Top B" to see if that would help. My doctor gave me some vitamins with parafolate and 500 mg of vitamin C but they haven't helped.

I sometimes have a drink or two in the evening and I smoke about a pack of cigarettes a day. I do have egg-lashes but I don't use them unless I'm driving because my eyes aren't that bad. Do you think smoking could be the cause? I've quit drinking to see if that would help but it hasn't. I know I'm not pregnant either. I really need your advice.

DEAR READER — You've apparently already done the first thing I would advise — going to see your doctor. About one out of five cases of chronic fatigue, which is what you're complaining about, is associated with an underlying medical problem.

Because of TV advertising, people think of tired blood as a cause of fatigue but there are lots of other reasons. A hundred years ago one of the most common medical causes was tuberculosis. After all, it was the leading cause of death in 1900. We also know that a deficient adrenal gland or a deficient thyroid gland can cause fatigue. Then there are problems with lung disease, circulation and a host of problems which one could have.

That leaves about 80 percent of the people who have chronic fatigue and loss of energy who do not have any underlying medical problems. That doesn't mean that they're not tired, and it doesn't mean that they don't feel bad. It just means it's not caused by a disease that we can treat with a pill.

The numerous causes of fatigue and some approaches to follow if you are in the 80 percent group without demonstrable disease are discussed in The Health Letter number 9-W, Fatigue: Feeling Tired and Weary. I'm sending you a copy. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

The 80 percent have fatigue for psychological reasons. You can feel just as tired from psychological factors as you can from tuberculosis or an anemia. The treatment is quite different. It's important to find out what psychological factors are causing you to feel fatigued. In some instances it's because a person has a mild depression. That doesn't answer the problem either because then you have to look to see what's causing the depression but there are medicines and treatments that can be used to help combat depression.

Many people have fatigue because they don't have any goals in life. People seem to do best if they're challenged in life. If you don't have a challenge, such as a job, set some goals such as playing tennis well. It's important to develop activities that you enjoy. Try to do something each day that you enjoy. A wise man once said to me, "Have a little vacation every day." That's a wonderful idea and it certainly increases a lot of people's energy.

FALL IS TREE-PLANTING TIME, TOO

Fall is the season for trees to lose leaves, but it's also the time to set out new trees.

Fall is the best time to plant trees because their root systems have time to develop and become well established before top growth begins in the spring.

Plant only container-grown or balled and burlapped trees during the fall, as bare-root trees do not transplant readily until January or February.

Choose trees that will adapt to the area and that will provide the desired landscape.

After selecting the tree and the site, follow these planting guidelines:

First, dig a pit large enough to allow six inches clearance on all sides of the root ball. The pit should be as deep as the root ball so that it will rest on undisturbed soil. Plant the tree at the same depth it was in the nursery. This should be indicated by a discolored ring on the trunk.

Place the tree in the pit carefully by handling the ball, not the trunk. Handling the tree by the trunk could cause a broken ball and excessive root damage.

Next, fill the pit around the ball with top soil or a prepared mixture of soil, sand and peat moss, or pine bark. Do not fertilize the tree until spring growth occurs.

Dusters, Temple Tangle Saturday

BIG SPRING—The Western Texas College Dusters were to face Temple Junior College Saturday afternoon, in the consolation finals of the Hawk Queen Basketball Tournament here after downing Cisco, 75-56, Friday in the second round of play.

Odessa and Weatherford were to play for third place while Tyler and the host Howard College team were on the finals.

The Dusters had four players in double figures in rolling to their ninth victory of the season and one loss in the Friday game. Linda Holubec paced the scorers with 15 points, while Cindy Maddox had 14, Shari Teal 11 and Lori Watson 10.

Sue Brooks led Cisco with 12 and Kristin Sipes had 10.

Coach Joe Cushing rested Valerie Wells, who had injured an ankle, but said Watson, Dorcus Perkins and Joy Guyton all had good games to help the Dusters' cause.

Holubec led in rebounds with 9, and Perkins had 7. Perkins also had three blooped shots and Teal added a couple. Watson, Maddox and Kathy Rodolph each had three steals in the game.

Westerners Move Into Meet Finals

OKLAHOMA CITY—Western Texas College overcame a 12-point deficit and foul trouble to defeat Carl Albert Junior College and advance to the finals of the Cripple Children's Basketball tournament.

In what WTC Coach Larry Dunaway described as a "brawl," the undefeated Westerners took a 99-87 decision over Carl Albert and were to meet Oklahoma City Southwest in the finals at 8 p.m. Saturday.

Elated over his team's play—especially those coming off the bench—Dunaway said the game was similar to the one played recently against powerful Cisco Junior College. WTC trailed throughout the first half, hitting a poor 48 percent from the field. Just before the half, however, the Westerners hit for a 51-49 advantage at intermission.

The Westerners roared back in the second half and hit 71 percent from the floor, but foul trouble almost derailed the Snyder unit.

The Westerners played the last six minutes with four starters fouled out and four other players with four fouls each. "The kids sucked up and kept their composure," Dunaway added. "I was really proud of the kids, especially those freshmen who came off the bench and won the game for us."

Chuck North had his best game of the season, scoring 30 points, collecting six rebounds and adding six assists. Also in double figures were Troy Stevenson, Donald Warren and Dwayne Dickey.

To start the second half, Stevenson accomplished five straight steals on the press to give the Westerners a 10-point advantage which later dwindled when foul trouble came.

Carl Albert controlled the boards with their big and physical defense led by one 6-9 boy.

WTC won their opening game of the tournament, 84-56 over El Reno. The win Friday night was the seventh in a row this season for the Westerners and the 44th consecutive win for the Westerners including last year's 37-0 season that climaxed with the Junior College national championship.

Saturday night's opponent, Oklahoma City Southwest, beat the tournament favorite, Ranger Junior College, in overtime.

WTC travels to San Angelo Wednesday night for an encounter with Angelo State University. Following a break for the Thanksgiving holiday, WTC begins conference play on Dec. 2 in Levelland against South Plains College.

Jets Wonder How To Stop Earl And Snake

NEW YORK (AP) — Coach Walt Michaels knows what his team has to do Sunday if the New York Jets are to have any chance of upsetting the tough Houston Oilers. Doing it, however, is another matter. "We gotta find a way to stop Earl," said Michaels. "Gotta stop Ken Stabler, too. They're Houston's 1-2 punch." Earl, of course, is National Football League rushing leader Earl Campbell, who has gained 1,300 yards on 245 carries in 11 games so far this season. That's just 247 yards off the pace set by O.J. Simpson in 1973, when he set the NFL single-season rushing record of 2,003 yards in 14 games. But since the NFL now plays a 16-game schedule, Campbell can break the mark by averaging 141 yards per game in his remaining five outings.

"It's got to be the front line and the linebackers who stop him, not the secondary," said Michaels. "The safeties have to help, but not get involved to where our coverages are weakened."

If the Jets do get caught over-playing the run, they become vulnerable to the daring passing of Stabler. The Snake has the league's highest completion percentage of .651 on 194 of 298 for 2,036 yards and seven touchdowns, but has been burned for 18 interceptions.

The Oilers' defense, meanwhile, ranks second in the AFC, having allowed just 283.1 yards per game, and has allowed a league-low four touchdowns on the ground.

But the big man is the 5-foot-11, 205-pound Campbell. His rushing has been a major factor in the Oilers' rise to the top of the rugged Central Division of the American Conference with an 8-3 record. The Jets are a disappointing 2-9, last in the AFC East.

Campbell is coming off a 31-carry, 206-yard game against Chicago, the highest yardage total of his career and his third 200-yard game of the season, tying Simpson's NFL record. If he gains more than 100 yards against the Jets he will equal the mark of seven consecutive 100-yard games, which he shares with Simpson.

Oilers Coach Bum Phillips demurred was asked whether it was possible to compare Campbell and Simpson.

Battling Tigers Move Into Finals At Austin

By BILL MCCLELLAN

AUSTIN—Snyder High School was one step away from the Class 4A state volleyball championship Saturday, but that single step was to be a huge one.

Snyder found itself battling not only a tough, defense-minded semi-final opponent Friday, but the referees as well, and it appeared for a while that the Tigers would never pull it out.

Battling back from a first game loss of 3-15, the Tigers outlasted Laredo United's Longhorns, 15-7 and 15-12, in games two and three to claim a spot in Saturday's 3:45 p. m. title match with Corsicana. Snyder's Achilles heel was not something the Longhorns discovered but rather, the manner in which the officials called the game. Proper hand placements and action of digs, sets and spikes in volleyball are largely judgment decisions, and the pair of referees calling Friday's semi-final match were technical perfectionists.

Eleven points in Laredo's 3-15 victory were fouls cited against Snyder for illegal spikes, serve receives or sets. Though Snyder adapted well, the team was never able to relax into the style that has made them the No. 1 ranked team in the state this year. The Tigers pulled out to leads of 11-4 and 11-3 in games 2 and 3 before being hit by a barrage of referees' whistles which made the over-all match seem closer than it really was.

In the final game, for instance, Snyder led, 11-3, before the Longhorns rallied to make it 11-7. The Tigers scored a 12th point, but of the next five awarded to United, three were on ball handling fouls against Snyder.

With the score tied at 12-12, Snyder's Kathy Northcott spiked the ball to an open hole to give Snyder a 13-12 lead. The Tigers gained 14 when Laredo was called for a hitting foul, and Snyder picked up their 15th point in short order.

Despite the victory, Coach Joyce Elrod was livid.

"In my opinion, the officials monopolized the game. When everything you touch is a blown whistle, it can't help but affect the kids," said the Snyder coach. "The pressure of being in a state tournament is bad enough, and our kids are mainly juniors and are inexperienced as far as state playoffs are concerned anyway. There was nothing I could say or do that would help. I think they (the team) just decided they would go out there and put up a fight for it. They had come too far to have them it taken away from them like that."

The nation's first bikeway originated in Homestead, Fla., in 1962. Since then, some 25,000 to 30,000 miles of the special roadway have been established in the United States.

District Honors Four Volleyballers

Snyder High School, touting the No. 1 Class AAAA squad in the state according to the latest coaches' poll, has placed three girls on the 2-AAAA All-District Volleyball Team and another as honorable mention.

Lisa Cobb, a junior spiker who was named all-district, all-region and All-State in 1979, has been selected as a unanimous choice all-district player for the second year in a row. A week ago, she was named to the all-region team for 1980. Joining her as a unanimous all-district choice is another two-year honoree, senior spiker Sherry Mayes.

The third Tiger player to be chosen all-district this year was Kathy Northcott, a junior spiker who was all named all-region a week ago.

The trio head up a Tiger team which earned district championship honors in 1979 and 1980, and competed in the State Volleyball Tournament in Austin over the weekend.

Toni Elrod, a junior setter, also earned personal honors district-wide, having been chosen honorable mention.

Snyder fashioned an amazing 31-1 record against some of the state's top competition this year—prior to state tournament play—and constructed district win and home win streaks of 44-0 and 53-0, respectively.

Monahans, ranked fifth in the state much of the season, and Lamesa, also placed three girls on the all-district team.

Representing Monahans were unanimous choices Shelly Heath, a senior spiker and Helen Washington, a junior spiker, and Olivia Hernandez, a senior setter-spiker.

Representing Lamesa was unanimous choice Christy Brizzell, a senior setter-spiker, and Marilyn Jackson, a senior spiker, and Jill Froman, a sophomore setter. Miss Froman was the only sophomore selected all-district.

Also selected unanimously was Suzann Thiel of Fort Stockton, a senior spiker. Other all-district choices were Pecos' Michelle Hinojos, a senior spiker, and Andrews' Kim Dalbert, also a senior spiker.

Named honorable mention, in addition to Miss Elrod, were La Nae Criswell, Andrews, junior setter; Kelly Perry, Sweetwater, senior spiker; Jeannie Crawley, Lamesa, senior spiker; Cynthia Oyberide, Monahans, senior spiker; and Annabell Granado, Pecos, senior spiker.

MR. AND MRS. DANIEL GUERRERO

Miss Janie Dela Rosa Weds Dan Guerrero

BEEVILLE—Miss Janie Dela Rosa became the bride of Daniel Guerrero in a double ring ceremony at 4 p.m. Oct. 4 in Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses. The Rev. Jesus Moya presided.

Parents of the pair are Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Dela Rosa of Snyder and Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Guerrero Sr. of Beeville.

The church was decorated with pink and iris carnations, gladiolas and baby's breath with iris ribbons.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a two piece white gown adorned with applique lace and with alecon lace trim on the hemline to form a short train. Her sheer nylon veil was trimmed with alecon lace hanging from a caplet adorned with lace flowers and seed pearls.

The bridegroom wore a formal black tuxedo with a white ruffled shirt and black bow tie. He wore a white rose bud boutonniere.

Toni Guerrero of Beeville served her niece as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length lace ivory dress.

Bridesmaids were Celia Yzaguirre and Patsy Delgado, both of Beeville, Martha Salazar of Victoria and Dianna Dela Rosa, sister of the bride, from Snyder.

The attendants wore long iris dresses with matching short-sleeved pleated jackets with a ribbon tying in a bow at the neck. They carried bouquets of pink and iris carnations intertwined with pink and iris ribbon.

Flower girls were Linda Guerrero of Beeville, the bride's cousin, and Nelda Dela Rosa of Snyder, sister of the bride. They wore floor-length light pink dresses, gathered at the waist and tied in back with iris ribbon in a bow.

Eliazar Guerrero of Beeville was best man. Groomsmen included Heracio Yzaguirre Sr., Ricky Guerrero and Heracio Yzaguirre Jr., all of Beeville, and Jody Davila of Three Rivers.

The groomsmen wore silver black tuxedos with iris carnation boutonnieres.

Musical selections included songs of the couple's faith.

A reception was given following the ceremony at the fair grounds assembly hall, decorated with wedding bells and pink and white streamers.

The bride's table was covered with a floor-length white eyelet cloth atop a pink cloth, highlighted with matching pink roses on the three-tiered white wedding cake. A flower arrangement of pink and iris carnations completed the table.

Out-of-town wedding guests were from Snyder, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Campo, Victoria, Three Rivers, Sinton and Alice.

The bride is a 1980 Snyder High School graduate.

Her husband attended A. C. Jones High School in Beeville.

The couple are residing in Beeville.

COLLECT YOUR OWN WINTER BOUQUET

The variety of materials suitable for making winter or Thanksgiving arrangements is limited only by the imagination of the individual collecting the material.

The care and manner used in collecting and preparing the specimens is important in the success of making an arrangement attractive.

Cockscomb, globe amaranth, baby's breath, strawflower and statice can all be used if they are properly dried. Select only the best flowers with the longest stems and prepare at least twice as many as needed. This allows for discarding of damaged flowers.

Use a well-ventilated attic with little or no light for the drying area. Light tends to fade the colors. Tie the cut ends of the stalks together in small bundles and hang the stems upside down from nails or a line. After the material is thoroughly dry, store it in large roomy boxes to keep it clean and to prevent damage. Many grasses produce attractive plumes that can be dried. Cut the flowering grass heads just as they mature but before they expand or shed. The drying procedure is the same as for flowers.

Single flower types—anemone, chrysanthemum, cosmos, dianthus, sunflower and zinnia—as well as pansy, daffodil and clematis can sometimes be cured by using a drying agent. They are too fragile to be dried by hanging. A mixture of equal amounts by volume of cornmeal and borax will serve as a drying agent.

Strip all foliage from the stem before drying. Place a layer of the drying agent in the bottom of a box, then lay the flowers in the box and gently fill in around the individual flower heads with additional material. Pack the drying agent between the petals to hold them apart while they dry.

Attractive foliage such as oak, magnolia, English ivy, iris leaves, bamboo and eucalyptus are best cured in glycerine. Place the bottom four to five inches of the stem in a jar containing a solution of one part glycerine to two parts water. Crushing the ends of the more woody stems aids in absorption. After the solution has penetrated the entire surface of the leaf, remove the specimen from the container and hang it upside down until dry.

Glycerine preserved leaves can be used with either fresh flowers or in dry arrangements. Complete details on collecting and preserving materials for dried arrangements can be found in the garden section of any good book store or library.

Please enjoy your winter or Thanksgiving bouquet this holiday.

Mount Vernon was originally part of a royal grant to Lord Culpepper, who in 1674 deeded 5,000 acres to Nicholas Spencer and John Washington, great grandfather of George Washington.

Most programs neglect music for special audiences. Arts and crafts are usually the vehicle for individual expression, points out Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

However, music has two elements that make it particularly adaptable to special audiences—it is a sensory experience with tangible outcomes, and it usually involves some type of physical activity, she notes.

Ms. Taylor is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas A&M University System.

Landy convention bidding

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

This is another artificial convention that is simple enough to learn and to play with good results.

Named after the late Alvin Landy who was the executive secretary of the ACBL for many years, it is the use of a two-club bid against a notrump opening bid to show both major suits.

Here is a typical Landy hand: S-K 10 9 6 5 H-K Q 8 4 2 D-K x C-7. This hand is strong enough to take action whether vulnerable or not, against a standard notrump. It may get you into trouble if partner has a bad hand with clubs and diamonds, but you can't afford to wear both suspenders and a belt. A winning player must take occasional risks.

You can use Landy on either side of a notrump opening.

It does make it impossible for you to bid a normal two clubs against an enemy notrump. But unless you have enough clubs to be willing to compete to the three level, there is little value in trying a normal two-club bid. So if you have a real club hand, you just bid three clubs right away.

When your partner bids Landy, you can respond two diamonds to ask him to pick a major. You can bid three of a major to show game interest.

With better hands you can bid game or can invite game strongly by bidding an artificial two notrump.

The Landy convention is important enough for us to devote two more articles to it. One will show examples of Landy bidding. The other defense against it.

We do recommend it if you and your partners will work on it enough so you won't get confused by it.

When preparing holiday meals, remember to keep cold foods cold and hot foods hot, reminds Dr. Cass Ryan-Crowe, a foods and nutrition specialist.

Careless handling of food may turn a festive occasion into a disaster if the food is spoiled and guests become ill. Room temperature is the danger zone where food bacteria grow best, she explains.

Americans have set aside a day each year to give thanks since the Plymouth colonists settled in the new land.

The Ministerial Alliance of Scurry County urges everyone to continue this tradition by attending a worship service in a church of your choice today.

Fruit Rustlers Finding Easy Pickings In Valley

MCALLEN, Texas (AP) — Thieves are finding easy pickings in grapefruit and orange groves in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and citrus growers are frantic to stop them.

"We call it finger blight," Blaine Holcomb, an orchard owner in Mission, said half-jokingly. "It's worse at times when fruit is higher priced. We see evidence of tracks in the orchards of night picking and so forth."

Citrus prices opened high this season due to shortages of fruit from a freeze two years ago and the pounding some trees suffered from Hurricane Allen in August.

Probably 20 percent of Texas oranges and grapefruit is stolen before growers can harvest it, estimated fruit wholesaler Langdon Barber of Pharr.

Although far behind Florida and California in production, Texas growers are expected to produce this season about 21,600 tons of grapefruit and 18,700 tons of oranges.

Alarmed by rising fruit thefts, the growers organization, Texas Citrus Mutual, is working with law enforcement officials to combat what it feels are organized rings.

"The incidents range from minor to organized thefts of whole groves," said grower Wallis Fulwiler of Mission. "They have to have an outlet. We know they take small loads to fruit stands but we don't know where it goes in large quantities, like several truckloads."

Family-run fruit stands dot Valley highways where residents and winter visitors stop to sample local produce.

Few growers fence their groves and it is impossible to spot someone between rows of trees from the road.

The thieves probably drop off someone to pick fruit during the day and then return at night to haul off loads, said Donald Thompson of Weslaco, who tends orchards for many out-of-town landowners.

"The problem is you've got to catch a guy in the act in the field and keep him there to make a case out of it," he said.

Growers commonly complain of unscrupulous fruit stand owners who knowingly purchase stolen citrus or even steal it themselves. The Texas Department of Agriculture licenses the stands, which must have a proof of purchase receipt for each shipment bought.

"They call them 'coyotes,' these people who go around selling stolen fruit. And you look at the prices these stands charge. It's way below cost so the fruit has to be stolen," said Herndon Aderhold of Aderhold Groves in Edinburg.

I-35 Murders May Be Work Of Psychos

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The first clue that a sociopathic killer or killers might be on the loose came Aug. 23, 1976, when the body of Lesa Haley was found two miles north of Waxahachie on Interstate 35, an awl buried in her neck.

The 21-year-old victim had been hitchhiking to Oklahoma City and was last seen climbing into a van in Waco.

Her death was the first of 21 unsolved murders that have been reported on or near a 300-mile stretch of I-35 from the Oklahoma border to near San Antonio in the last four years.

Investigators are convinced there is not a lone I-35 murderer on the loose. However, the alternative — perhaps more frightening — is that several robber-killers or rapist-killers are at large.

The fear that there is a link between some — perhaps all — of the deaths caused the Texas Department of Public Safety to hold a three-day seminar in late October with the ominous title "The Interstate Highway 35 Homicide Workshop."

About 30 law officers from cities stretching from North Texas to the Mexican border gathered here for the workshop.

Larry Todd, DPS public information officer, stressed there is not "just one nut out there roaming around. There are several nuts."

Williamson County Sheriff Jim Boutwell, who led the workshop, agreed.

"Some of these are what you would call sociopaths. Some of them have no conscience," he said. "We definitely feel some of them are still out there and are still dangerous."

Boutwell said many of the victims were "targets of opportunity, at the wrong place at the wrong time."

One couple in the wrong place at the wrong time was Frank Key, 19, and his girlfriend Rita Salazar, 18.

They were heading south on I-35 near Georgetown during the early morning hours of Nov. 6, 1978, when his car ran out of gas. They parked the car, locked it and started walking for help.

Key's body, shot nine times in the head and upper body, was found in a ditch along the highway. His girlfriend's body was found on the I-35 access road south of Waco. She had been shot six to 10 times.

Boutwell said the number of murders is alarming, but similar figures might turn up if an intensive look was taken at any interstate highway.

"It seems like a whole bunch, but it might be because this is the first time this has been done," he said of the Austin workshop. "But we speculate I-35 is special because it's believed to be a heavily used drug route."

Several of the cases, however, have no obvious motive. Sandra Mae Dubbs, 34, was driving from San Antonio to Missouri when her car developed problems on I-35 in Austin shortly before midnight on Oct. 2, 1979.

A witness said a man stopped to help Ms. Dubbs. Six days later her body was found in a field near the highway. She had been stabbed 35 times.

Investigators at the workshop compared notes and many went home with new ideas or leads on unsolved killings in their area, Boutwell said. Some noticed similarities in what at first appeared to be unrelated cases.

"Fourteen of them said as a result of the meeting they got leads they didn't have before," the sheriff said.

The leads might prove helpful in cases where investigators have not been able to identify the victims.

What Teacher Mary Lou Wise learned:

'Losing weight at Pat Walker's is fun'

So begins a letter from the vivacious Ms. Wise, who teaches second-grade pupils. She continues:

"Before going to Pat Walker's, I just ate without thinking. My eating habits have changed, thanks to the program. I know now how to eat the foods I enjoy without having ever to look again at the 65½ inches and 37½ pounds I have lost."

Now that she weighs 113 pounds, it has been self-rewarding to shop for a size 9 instead of a 16, she adds.

'The Pat Walker girl'

Teaching school is demanding work, but Ms. Wise says she finds the days she visits Pat Walker's are her "relaxing" days. That's because "the treatments are refreshing and revitalizing" and "the counselors are a source of encouragement every week."

"My friends are amazed at my [weight] loss," she concludes. "They call me the Pat Walker girl. I kinda like that."

Shaping up

If her friends call her the Pat Walker girl, we'd like to repay the compliment by calling her "the wise Ms. Wise," for she has defined very precisely what we consider some of the chief benefits of our program.

At every Pat Walker's salon, each patron is on an individualized plan that begins with a confidential figure analysis. The atmosphere is quiet, deliberately low-keyed and relaxing. A professional counselor helps you learn sensible eating habits—and supervises your program on the SYMMETRICON.

A Pat Walker exclusive

SYMMETRICON, found only at Pat Walker's, is the passive exercise equipment that safely and gently firms and tones body tissue, simultaneously improving your circulation and helping to correct your posture. Treatments are given in complete privacy, of course, and you can wear your regular street clothes.

You reduce safely—but effectively—as your measurements go down just where they need to do so.

CALL TODAY

Why wait another day to find out more about this exciting program that has benefited millions throughout the world over the past 26 years?

manufactured crises

An economist at Stanford's Hoover Institution, Paul Craig Roberts, has put his finger on one of the key problems of counting on politicians to solve the country's economic problems. "Economic stability does not increase the demand for bureaucrats," he says. In fact, a successful economy represents an absolute threat to most politicians. If the economy were widely perceived as successful there would be little justification for welfare, subsidy programs and the horrendous panoply of government programs that promise to fix the particular malaises that afflict all of us at any given moment.

Politicians thus have a vested interest in crisis, and if no real crisis exists they'll create or invent one to justify a call for yet another new program or institution. Those who run promising jobs and prosperity for all probably couldn't cope with prosperity if it happened, or they'd refuse to recognize it if they saw it. Without an endless list of problems to be solved, most politicians would have little justification for their existence.

Thus, to hear politicians tell it, we've had nothing but hard times since the New Deal, when so many of the programs that still afflict us were begun. The economy may have had ups and downs, but have you heard many serious calls for eliminating government programs or bureaus that have done their jobs and brought us the prosperity, progress and stability that they promised when they were started? Of course not. Those programs create dependent groups of citizens that become the clientele of successful politicians.

Government bureaus and agencies are often afflicted with incompetence and confusion as they approach the problems whose solutions they are ostensibly seeking. But they also have a vested interest not in solving problems but in institutionalizing them. If bureaucrats solved problems like poverty, unemployment or discrimination they'd be unemployed. So it's not surprising to discover that when government approaches problems they quickly become increasingly complex carrying ramifications nobody had thought about before, which will naturally require further studies and a bigger budget next year.

This would be just an amusing and ironic observation were it not for the fact that government is constantly creating real problems for society, whether out of excessive zeal, ignorance, malice or self-interest. Agencies charged with eliminating racial tensions are constantly exacerbating them. Agencies allegedly fighting inflation fuel it. Agencies formed to discover synthetic fuels study the problems at great expense. Government "management" of the economy has left the economy in a muddle. To protect their turf and safeguard their jobs, government agencies constantly cause real, live, flesh-and-blood people to suffer needless pain, deprivation, abuse and hopelessness.

For the cycle to continue, government apologists must keep us constantly believing that prosperity is just around the corner, requiring just a few more tender ministrations from government to bring it to full bloom. So far they've been remarkably successful, and the merry-go-round of proposing government solutions for problems caused by government has made government increasingly prosperous and powerful while the people have grown increasingly impoverished and alienated.

If genuine prosperity, universally recognized, ever arrived, there would be panic in Washington. The only other thing that might break the cycle would be for increasing numbers of people to recognize the nature of the game and refuse to play.

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A pessimist is one who feels bad when he feels good for fear he'll feel worse when he feels better."

You normally get mixed reactions to a change in the weather. It simply is good for some folks, while for others it means plenty of discomfort or inconvenience.

Take school kids for example, they love the snow. It normally means an unexpected holiday and a real change of pace. It also is a rare opportunity to build snowmen and get dad out doors for a chilling round of snowball fights.

For some, a snowfall like last weekend means lots of problems. State highway department personnel and county road crews must challenge the elements in an effort to clear roads and to insure safety.

Law enforcement folks and other emergency units must conduct business as usual. Utility companies must keep the heat on and the telephone ringing. It's not easy, but they do a pretty good job in an area where we're not prepared for blizzard conditions.

It also means some headaches for delivery people. We can testify to that in the area of newspaper delivery. Our carriers did a good job under the circumstances, and we personally got into the act.

Our rural carrier failed to show, so we joined the circulation manager in an effort to cover the 100-mile route. The main roads were clear but the other roads required snow chains.

Things went pretty well until somewhere between Hermleigh and Dunn where the chains caused a hole in one of the tires. Adding insult to injury was the fact that someone had taken the tire tool out of the vehicle. However, we were saved by a telephone company truck passing by that loaned us a tool.

In the ordeal that followed, we were stuck twice, were pulled out of the bar ditch by a Dunn welder and had a second flat two miles out of Ira.

What is normally a two-hour or so job turned into a 5-hour fiasco. The circulation department wants us to stay in the office in the future.

However, there was one time when the grass didn't look a bit greener. On the way back to town, we passed a drilling rig in full operation. Even though we were cold and disgusted, it looked much colder on that rig floor.

Last election, make no mistake, the Moral Majority made its point — and sharp enough to draw blood.

But one Baptist clergyman suggests caution.

Atlanta's Dr. William Self says, "The clear lesson of history is that when a church and a state get in bed together they do not make love, they do not produce offspring; invariably, inevitably, sooner or later, one or the other gets raped."

It is many mornings after the morning after and I am still in awe of "the quiet American."

"He is a revolutionary, too. He will ignore the media, refuse the easy free-way and overthrow his own government — every four years if he wants to."

"The quiet American" is really something.

The Rev. Jerry Falwell's organization called the Moral Majority can indeed claim credit for mobilizing many votes this last election.

The Illinois director of the Moral Majority, the Rev. George Zarris, watched election returns and announced with rejoicing, "The system works!"

The Moral Majority claimed in October to have registered four million new voters nationwide — all were furnished with the voting records of candidates on "moral issues."

For Americans who for generations have been praying for a renaissance of righteousness in politics, this should be an unqualified victory.

The only unease some of us feel relates to Pastor Self's reminder that a church can become as viciously dictatorial as a state if it seeks to add civil power to its religious purpose.

The next announced objective of the Moral Majority and kindred groups is to clean up television.

That is a worthy objective.

Churches of Christ have already begun a boycott of General Foods and American Home Products because they sponsor shows such as Three's Company, Dallas, and Charlie's Angels.

Warner-Lambert, under pressure of a threatened boycott, stopped sponsoring Saturday Night Live.

Why shouldn't people, in the name of decency, flex some muscle?

Long enough they have been the victims of bucksters and mucksters who throw dirt in everybody's face because some have a taste for it.

Selectivity is not the same as government-imposed censorship.

In a boycott of trashy TV programs, Americans are free to follow these religious leaders or not.

In earlier times, when Dwight Moody and John Brown crusaded against booze and cigarettes, Americans could follow them or not.

But few would argue that those who did were better off.

thoughts

The meaning of most people's names does not correspond to the character or destiny of the person. Stephen's name, however, was appropriate as it means "crown" and he was the first Christian to receive the crown of martyrdom. He was a Greek-speaking Jew and worked in the synagogue of foreign Jews. He performed great wonders and miracles. When he was stoned, he had a vision of heaven with Jesus at the side of God. He called on Jesus to receive his spirit.

"And he knelt down, and cried with a loud voice, Lord, lay not this sin to their charge. And when he had said this, he fell asleep." — Acts 7:60

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Supporters of Ronald Reagan can hardly wait for him to get out his broom and sweep all those liberal appointees from the federal bureaucracy. But a recent Supreme Court decision may make it difficult for Reagan to appoint his own people to thousands of government positions that have traditionally been filled by the president and that are not protected by civil service status.

In March, the court ruled 6-3 in the case of Branti vs. Finkel that a new Rockland County, N.Y., supervisor could not replace two assistant public defenders appointed by the previous administration simply because they were of a different political party than he.

The court held that newly elected officials can use party membership as a job qualification only if they "can demonstrate that party affiliation is an appropriate requirement for the effective performance of the public office involved." The justices found that the loyalties of the public defenders were to their clients rather than to the county supervisor, so they could not be replaced unless proved incompetent.

The decision was little noted by the public, but it has been closely scrutinized by federal personnel officials. Some believe that it will cause chaos when Reagan tries to remove incumbents from many positions that have always been emptied and filled by the president. The incumbents, they fear, may go to court in an effort to hold onto their jobs.

Most government personnel experts agree that Reagan will have no trouble replacing the Cabinet and the White House staff. In those cases loyalty to the new president and his party is clearly a valid job qualification.

But what about the approximately 2,200 positions below the assistant-secretary level that are filled by the president? While these appointees may not set policy, they are critically important in carrying out the president's programs. Some experts interpret the Branti decision to mean that these appointees will have to be proved incompetent before they can be replaced.

Margery Waxman, general counsel for the Office of Personnel Management, is among those who believe that the decision will have less impact on Washington than on state and local governments. She argues that the ruling "will have little effect on the federal personnel system" or on the new president's appointment authority because it merely limits "the use of partisan political criteria for the retention of what are essentially non-political jobs."

But others are not so sure. In his Branti dissent, Justice Lewis Powell wrote that the ruling "decreases the accountability and denigrates the role of our national political parties." To Powell, the decision clearly hinders a new president in appointing his own people to government positions.

The Branti decision may even enable third parties to participate in lawsuits challenging the removal of incumbent office-holders without proof of their incompetence. For example, a Ralph Nader-style consumer group might join in a suit to prevent the replacement of the head of the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration or a middle-level executive of the Environmental Protection Agency with somebody friendlier to the auto industry.

Most of those knowledgeable about this issue believe that some lawsuits will be instituted by incumbents and groups seeking to keep them in office. It is not clear what will happen in the interim as the suits move through the courts.

Thus, an incoming president's normally routine job of replacing old officials with new may become much more complex than usual this January.

wants reagan to eliminate waste

By Tom Tiede

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When Ronald Reagan arrives at the Oval Office next January he will likely find a letter or two from Stuart Rado. Rado is a Miami Beach real estate salesman, who, like thousands of other Americans, regularly petitions presidents regarding problems of national urgency.

Specifically, Rado writes about government waste.

He wants it stopped, by golly.

He wants it so badly, in fact, that he has spent a good deal of time in recent years, and a fair sum of money besides, to bring the matter to the attention of the White House.

Alas, he seems to have largely failed in the endeavor, but he still has designs. He's the kind of fellow who thinks that people on the side of righteousness can move mountains.

This particular mountain is something like Everest, to be sure, and it seems to be formed from the taxpayer's generosity. Rado claims the government wastes between $50 and $100 billion every year, and that means the country spends more on it than on anything else except defense and social welfare.

How can this be? Rado says that for the bureaucracy it seems simple. A few years ago the government wasted $27,000 to study why prisoners want to escape from jail. Last year it wasted $30 million by writing double payment checks. This year the IRS is spending $50,000 to care for its office plants.

Some of the abuse is big, some of it is small, but in sum, Rado says, it's completely out of the question. He estimates that government schemes and carelessness cost every man, woman and child in the nation between $250 and $500 a year, and he says the American people have had quite "enough."

Which gets us back to his letter writing. He says he started it in 1978 when he sent Jimmy Carter a nine-page list that outlined $19 million worth of government excesses. One example was the $384,000 spent by the Labor Department to conduct a count of all the dogs, cats and horses in Ventura, Calif.

He also told President Carter that $6,000 had been spent to see if marijuana was harmful to scuba divers, and $64,000 was spent to study the sex habits of the fiddler crab. Moreover, he wrote of the $378,000 that one agency gave to a consultant to find out, ah, why the agency was hiring so many consultants.

Rado then waited months for a reply. When it did not come, and when Carter's aides would not even take his phone calls, Rado got angry. He decided that one letter was not sufficient, and many letters were needed; so he formed an organization whose purpose is to deluge Washington with complaints.

The organization is called "Enough," and it operates through pre-printed postcards. Rado buys the cards and distributes them with a flyer detailing examples of government waste. One example is that the Department of Agriculture once spent $46,000 to find out how long it takes to cook breakfast.

Rado says he's spent $5,000 of his own funds on the postcards, but it's been worth it. He sends them to anyone who asks for them, and the response has been "good." He says he's given away more than 80,000 so far, and he thinks at least half, or 40,000, have been sent on to the White House.

Rado adds that his examples of federal waste are all true. They sound as if they've been concocted, but unfortunately they haven't. The Department of Transportation really has spent $225,000 to determine that, in the event of an Ice Age, people up north would probably move to warmer climates.

What's more, the government has spent $64,000 to study the Dutch labor market in the 16th century. $90,000 to determine "The Behavioral Determinants of Vegetarianism," and at least $25,000 to gather people together to see how they respond to seeing photographs of a small octopus in a barnyard.

Can you guess what the latter study found?

It found that people were surprised. Stuart Rado says the real surprise is that this kind of nonsense is allowed to go on. He thinks it increases taxes and encourages contempt for government. "People will support worthwhile programs," he believes, "but they don't want the government spending $2,500 to see why fat people like smorgasbords."

So, beginning with the new year, Rado will redirect his correspondence to the Reagan administration. And he does not want to be ignored again. He points out that if the president-elect is really serious about balancing the budget, he can do it simply by cutting the abuse of federal accounts.

As for the outgoing J. Carter, Rado notes on reflection that his crusade against waste may only have given the man bad ideas. "In 1977-78 Mr. Carter saved $85,000 from the White House expense account, and he had two alternatives. He could give it back to the treasury, or he could keep it for himself."

What did he do? Rado says that's a silly question. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

In recent years the U.S. Postal Service has spent $3.4 million in a campaign to encourage Americans to write more letters.

So, Stuart Rado's postcards can be obtained by sending a self-addressed and stamped envelope to "Enough," P.O. Box 402036, Ocean View Branch, Miami Beach, Fla., 33140.

To The Daily News:

The first amendment gives the individual the right of opinion and belief. Since there is some discussion of which organization has the right to express their opinion or political views, it makes no difference whether they are called churches, teachers' associations, public service employees, American Legion, VFW or labor unions, etc.

To deny one of these secular organizations the right of political opinion is unconstitutional, but to deny all of these organizations the right of political opinion is not unconstitutional. The first amendment gives that right of opinion to individuals.
