NAPLES, Italy (AP) — A series of devastating earthquakes battered Southern Italy Sunday, killing at least 773 people in cities, towns and villages, and injuring more than 1,000, officials reported today.

Thousands were homeless after shivering through a foggy, freezing night outside their collapsed homes. The Italian government declared a day of national mourning and dispatched 10,000 troops to the area.

Rescue efforts were hampered by damage to roads and rail lines.

One of the worst catastrophes hit the small town of Balvano, 60 miles east of Naples, where the walls of the church of Santa Maria Assunta collapsed on an evening Mass filled with children. More than 50 bodies were removed from the rubble, half of them children.

Firemen were able to save a two-year-old boy, still holding a toy car, from the church rubble. Next to him, his grandparents had been crushed to death under the stones.

But fragmentary reports from the town of Sant' Angelo dei Lombardi in Avellino province indicated 300 persons perished in that town. Pescopagano, another poverty-stricken small town in the province of Avellino, reported 70 bodies had been recovered from the debris.

The quake, measuring 6.8 on the Richter scale, destroyed hundreds of buildings, including a 10-story apartment house in Naples.

Casualty totals increased as more reports were received from the 29 cities, towns and villages that suffered the most damage in the Naples-Salerno area of southern Italy.

"We have only our eyes left to cry," said the mayor of San Mango, a town of 1,800 in Avellino province. "My house, my car, everything is gone. There is no one left up there."

The quake was felt from Sicily to the Alps, but the hardest hit area was northeast of the bay of Salerno. More than 100 deaths were reported in the provinces of Salerno and Avellino, while the mountainous province of Potenza reported more than 150 deaths.

Premier Arnaldo Forlani called an emergency Cabinet meeting, which proclaimed a day of national mourning, then flew south with Italian President Sandro Pertini to visit the stricken area.

Pope John Paul II sent a telegram to the Cardinal of Naples expressing his "shock" for the "unspeakable suffering" of the population, and named a bishop to coordinate church relief efforts.

"I saw the buildings move like waves of the sea," said Luigi Iannone, who was driving near Salerno when the first quake hit at 7:34 p.m.

was something terrible."

Aftershocks continued in the night. Countless thousands spent the night in the open. Doctors canceled a nationwide strike scheduled for today and reported to their hospitals or rushed to the disaster area.

Seismologists said the quake was centered at Eboli, 17 miles southeast of Salerno. Officials said at least 11 people were killed there.

In Balvano, the worshippers were crushed to death by the collapsing wall of their church as they tried to flee.

Special Election Draws 260 Votes

A total of 260 voters in the six counties of the 63rd Legislative District cast ballots Saturday in a special election and named Larry Don Shaw to complete the unexpired term of Mike Ezzell.

Shaw, who was elected in the general election Nov. 4 to serve the term beginning in January thus will take office sooner than he would if Ezzell had not resigned in October. Ezzell has accepted appointment to a post with the State Department of Health.

In the special election to complete the unexpired term, Shaw received 224 votes, while there were 36 write-in votes reported, according to complete, unofficial returns.

Scurry County polled the most votes and also had the most write-in ballots in the six counties. The four voting boxes here reported a total of 72 votes, with 48 going to Shaw and 24 going to various write-in choices. The write-ins here included eight each for Ernie Armstrong and Glen Polk, two for Bill Schiebel, and one each for Anderson Davis, Bill Clements, Dossie Alexander, John R. Anderson, Bobby Goodwin and Ezzell.

Howard County, Shaw's home county, reported a total of 70 votes cast, with 66 going to Shaw and four to write-ins. Dawson county had 34 votes cast, 27 for Shaw and seven for write-ins, while Borden County had 27 votes, 26 for Shaw and one write-in. Sterling County reported 30 votes, all for Shaw, and Coke County reported 27 votes, all for Shaw.

Second In Three Years...

Volleyballers Win State

By BILL McCLELLAN
AUSTIN—Corsicana fans sat in stunned silence here Saturday as they watched Snyder High School rally from a 12-15 first-game loss, hold on to win a tying second contest, 15-13, then blow out their Tigerettes in the final game, 15-4, to win another Class AAAA State Volleyball tournament.

It was a feat Coach Joyce Elrod's Felines had accomplished in almost exact fashion in a semi-final round with Laredo United a day earlier, and characterized the never-say-quit attitude the 33-1 Snyder team has displayed all season.

Across the floor of Gregory Gymnasium, a small but vocal group of Snyderites expressed their joy by coming down out of the stands to embrace the black and gold clad players, despite an announcement urging them to keep off the court. The announcer quickly gave up his pleading as the open-armed, crying players met parents and friends in celebration.

Getting her share of attention from the band of enthusiasts was the coach, who has led Snyder to two state titles and six district crowns in eight years.

"I'm shaking, I'm just shaking," said Coach Elrod. "It's finally over. I knew we had the best team but I didn't know if we were going to be able to prove it."

Snyder had been constantly hampered in the semi-final match by charges of improper ball-handling to the point where 11 points awarded to Laredo United in one game Saturday were a direct result of these "fouls." But though Snyder got its share of whistles in the finals match, the Felines were able to once again overcome them.

Snyder's Lisa Cobb, Sherry

Mayes and setter Toni Elrod were all named to the All-Tournament team. It was especially fitting for senior spiker Mayes, who has been one of Snyder's key players for the past two years, yet suffered at the regional ballot box in both 1979 and 80 when she fell ill just prior to those respective tournaments.

Snyder fell behind in Game One, 0-3, before Sherril Rich came on to serve four straight points and put Snyder on top. But Corsicana did not let up, and the teams chased each other up the point ladder to 8-8 and 9-8 before the Tigerettes came up with five straight points - three on fouls called against Snyder - for a 9-13 [See Volleyball, Page 8]

Confronting Chemical Wastes

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the House of Representatives having already fled town for Thanksgiving, the Senate is convening in lone session to confront the vexing environmental problem of toxic chemical wastes.

Prodded by the chambers' leaders, supporters and opponents of federal legislation held intensive negotiations last week and agreed on a compromise $1.6 billion bill establishing a "superfund" to clean up the barrels and pits of dangerous chemicals that are seeping into the environment.

The bill is intended as Congress' answer to environmental disasters such as New York's Love Canal, where a neighborhood was built atop an abandoned chemical dump. It was years before residents discovered they were being poisoned by the leaking wastes.

Reagan-Hussein Meet Eyed

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The prospect of a meeting between Ronald Reagan and King Hussein of Jordan is uppermost in the minds of Arab leaders opening the Arab League's 11th summit conference in Amman Tuesday. Arab diplomatic sources report.

"Reagan's stated intention to hold talks with King Hussein is certainly a positive step," said a diplomat from the United Arab Emirates. "The summit is expected to give the king an open mandate to talk to Reagan on behalf of all Arab states."

An Iraqi diplomat said the meeting would vote a joint mandate to the Jordanian monarch and a representative of the Palestine Liberation Organization to discuss the Arab-Israeli conflict with the new U.S. leader.

Reagan suggested in a post-election statement that he would give priority after taking office Jan. 20 to a meeting with King Hussein. But he rejected any dealings with the PLO, saying it is a terrorist organization.

Storm Watch Issued

By The Associated Press

A winter storm watch was issued for northwest Texas today, as a cold front moving across the state brought a chance of snow to the area.

Heavy fog, meanwhile, extended from East Texas along the coast early today, and reduced visibility to less than a mile in some areas.

The only clear skies in Texas were in southwest and south central parts of the state, but the clouds were expected to dissipate in the next few days as a surface high pressure system makes its way southward.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 20s in the Panhandle and southwest Texas mountains to the 50s in eastern and south central sections.

Iran Requesting Further Explanation Of U.S. Reply

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP) — Iran has requested a further explanation of the U.S. reply to Iran's conditions for the release of the 52 American hostages, informed sources in Algeria said today.

The sources said an Algerian delegation that delivered the U.S. response to Iran returned from Tehran on Sunday and were to meet today with Algerian Foreign Minister Mohamed Benyahia.

Iranian officials said Sunday the U.S. reply was unsatisfactory, and it wanted a "clear and explicit" yes or no, reports from Tehran say.

It was not known if the Algerian delegation was planning to head to Washington.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Joe

Reap said the U.S. government had received nothing official yet and was still in a "wait-and-see attitude." He said there were no plans yet for anyone to go to Algiers to get the Iranian reply.

Today was the hostages' 387th in captivity since Islamic militants seized the U.S. Embassy in Tehran and its staff on Nov. 4, 1979.

The Algerians went to Iran Nov. 12 to deliver the U.S. response to the four conditions. Algeria is representing Iran's interests in the United States.

The Iranian conditions are the release of more than $8 billion in Iranian assets frozen by U.S. presidential order to insure the payment of American claims against Iran, the cancellation of all such claims, a pledge of U.S.

non-interference in Iran, and return to Iran of the fortunes transferred abroad by the late Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi and his closest relatives.

Deputy Secretary of State Warren Christopher went to the North African nation Nov. 10 to deliver the U.S. reply.

Secretary of State Edmund S. Muskie said last week that the United States, in its letter delivered in Tehran, accepted the Iranian conditions "in principle." But other U.S. officials said the letter explained the legal obstacles that would have to be overcome in the courts before three of the demands could be met.

Iran's official reply was delivered Saturday in Tehran to the Algerians.

Abdel Karim Gherayeb, leader of the four-member Algerian delegation, said at that time that he was taking the reply back to his country "and we will see what happens next."

Plans Announced For New Motel

Bill Ziske announced today that he plans to build a new motel in Snyder.

"It will be a Best Western motel with approximately 70 units, complete with banquet, meeting rooms, restaurant and the whole works," he said.

Ziske, who owned the American Motor Inn on the East Highway for 13 years before selling it last March, says construction will begin soon after a site selection is made.

Charred Hotel Due To Reopen

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — As gawkers photographed the charred wreckage of the deadly fire at the MGM Grand hotel and guards stood by to fend off looters, operators of the hotel said it would reopen in seven months with all its former glitter.

But Fred Benninger, chairman of the board of MGM Grand Hotels Inc., wouldn't say Sunday whether the new MGM Grand would include smoke detectors or sprinklers in all rooms.

An economist at Stanford's Hoover Institution, Paul Craig Roberts, has put his finger on one of the key problems of counting on politicians to solve the country's economic problems. "Economic stability does not increase the demand for bureaucrats," he says. In fact, a successful economy represents an absolute threat to most politicians. If the economy were widely perceived as successful there would be little justification for welfare, subsidy programs and the horrendous panoply of government programs that promise to fix the particular malaises that afflict all us at any given moment.

Politicians thus have a vested interest in crisis, and if no real crisis exists they'll create or invent one to justify a call for yet another new program or institution. Those who run promising jobs and prosperity for all probably couldn't cope with prosperity if it happened, or they'd refuse to recognize it if they saw it. Without an endless list of problems to be solved, most politicians would have little justification for their existence.

Thus, to hear politicians tell it, we've had nothing but hard times since the New Deal, when so many of the programs that still afflict us were begun. The economy may have had ups and downs, but have you heard many serious calls for eliminating government programs or bureaus that have done their jobs and brought us the prosperity, progress and stability that they promised when they were started? Of course not. Those programs create dependent groups of citizens that become the clientele of successful politicians.

Government bureaus and agencies are often afflicted with incompetence and confusion as they approach the problems whose solutions they are ostensibly seeking. But they also have a vested interest not in solving problems but in institutionalizing them. If bureaucrats solved problems like poverty, unemployment or discrimination they'd be unemployed. So it's not surprising to discover that when government approaches problems they quickly become increasingly complex carrying ramifications nobody had thought about before, which will naturally require further studies and a bigger budget next year.

This would be just an amusing and ironic observation were it not for the fact that government is constantly creating real problems for society, whether out of excessive zeal, ignorance, malice or self-interest. Agencies charged with eliminating racial tensions are constantly exacerbating them. Agencies allegedly fighting inflation fuel it. Agencies formed to discover synthetic fuels study the problems at great expense. Government "management" of the economy has left the economy in a muddle. To protect their turf and safeguard their jobs, government agencies constantly cause real, live, flesh-and-blood people to suffer needless pain, deprivation, abuse and hopelessness.

For the cycle to continue, government apologists must keep us constantly believing that prosperity is just around the corner, requiring just a few more tender ministrations from government to bring it to full bloom. So far they've been remarkably successful, and the merry-go-round of proposing government solutions for problems caused by government has made government increasingly prosperous and powerful while the people have grown increasingly impoverished and alienated.

If genuine prosperity, universally recognized, ever arrived, there would be panic in Washington. The only other thing that might break the cycle would be for increasing numbers of people to recognize the nature of the game and refuse to play.

Exercise for backache?

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — I'm 27 years old and female. I'm not overweight but I do have back trouble and neck trouble. I've had back trouble for five years. I had a myelogram and a discogram and both were negative.

Each time I strain my back I end up in the hospital in either neck traction or back traction for two to four weeks. The burning is unbelievable and so is the pain. I just woke up one day with such neck pain that it was diagnosed as a pinched nerve. Now my low back is out on me. In between these flare ups, I'm fine. But if I twist or strain in a small way I end up in the hospital.

I've heard that exercises help immensely. Is this true? I would rather have any disease instead of this back condition as I live in fear every day wondering when my next attack is going to be.

DEAR READER — Your story sounds more severe than the problems experienced by many people but, nevertheless, back complaints are one of the most common problems in our society.

A backache or a neckache is a symptom. Either can be caused by many different things. Sometimes people have a backache because of problems in their digestive system rather than something in their spine or the muscles in their back. In other instances it's because of a ruptured disc or muscle strain. There may be underlying postural problems such as one leg may be a little shorter than the other causing a complete imbalance of the spine all the way up to, and including, the neck.

The various causes of backaches are explained in The Health Letter number 13-10, Backache and What to Do about It that I'm sending you. It also explains the types of exercises commonly used. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

Properly done exercises are extremely helpful in people who have backaches because of poor posture and weak muscles. I don't advise starting an exercise program for anyone, however, until after a good evaluation by a physician. If you happen to have degenerating bone because of bone cancer, you need an entirely different kind of treatment than exercises. I'm not suggesting that's your problem because you're a young female and it would be most unlikely in your case.

I'd also like for you to see a specialist in physical medicine to be checked carefully to see that your posture is correct and that you don't have one short leg that you're not aware of. Then I think you should develop a regular exercise program that involves strengthening the muscles in the back and also the muscles of the abdomen. These forms of exercises are outlined in The Health Letter I'm sending you. Weak abdominal muscles and weak back muscles are a frequent contributing factor to recurrent backache.

For people who use exercises appropriately for backaches related to muscular-skeletal problems, it's important to continue the exercises on a regular or daily basis. When they are stopped and the muscles are allowed to get weak again, the backaches are apt to return.

For an industry that is touted to be a world leader and a pace-setter in auto manufacturing, I cannot believe the naivete of Toyota.

This month they are exporting to this country what is billed as the "first talking car." Two models of their small luxury passenger lines will be equipped with a speaker monitor of a woman's voice which will warn drivers to fasten their seat belts, remove the ignition key and set the parking brakes.

Are they serious? Americans wrote the book on talking cars. Has no one told them that every American car has been equipped with a live talking system since the car was evented? They used to be called back-seat drivers until they moved up to the passenger side. Now they're called a lot of things.

When it comes to telling a driver what to do, no one does it better than American women. We learned it in the back seat from our mothers.

Even before I learned how to drive, I knew the standard pre-ignition quiz: "Is your door shut all the way?" "Do you have it in park?" "We got enough gas?" "Is the brake off?"

Throughout the years, realizing that the couple who drives together survives together, women have elevated their role to an art form.

There's Creative Gasping. You won't get THAT in a foreign model. It's a little subtle intake of breathe from the passenger when the driver comes a little too close to another car—or the car in front of you stops suddenly.

Bet on it: If the shoe fits, last year's winter rubbers won't.

The trouble with having a champagne appetite and a beer pocketbook is that most of us go in hock for more champagne.

There's the Muffled Prayer, where you cover your face with both hands and mumble, "Oh, my God!" and when the driver asks, "What's the matter?" you look pale and say, "Nothing."

The Active Non-Driver is strictly a made-in-America concept where the woman actually pushes an imaginary brake pedal to the floor at every stop and her entire body does a complete swivel with every lane change.

And, of course, standard equipment with every American-made talking car is the "Evaluation" that comes at the end of every drive. No matter how a driver has driven, he gets a verbal scoreboard of near misses, yellow lights run, speed misdemeanors, carelessness, and a prediction on what is in store for him and what changes must be made if anyone is ever to drive with him again.

I don't want to discourage Japan's talking car before it opens its mouth, but just let me say the American car manufacturers have a stockpile of 137 million talking cars on their roads...and no one wants them in any language.

Undercover Agent's Fund Paying Off

CLARKSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Red River County citizens donated almost $1,000 so an undercover sheriff's deputy could buy drugs with the knowledge that none of the money could be recovered, said Police Chief Mark Whitehouse.

"People are willing to put out money for something like this if you can show them results," Whitehouse said after 15 people were arrested on drug charges, primarily for delivery of marijuana.

The joint undercover operation by the police and sheriff's departments culminated in the roundup of suspects early Wednesday. An additional 23 suspects were arrested in the operation before this week, Whitehouse said.

But "undercover operations could be resumed at any time," the police chief said, adding officers hope to be able to budget for future drug buys. Private financing was necessary this time because neither law enforcement department had the money for such a large-scale operation.

"We couldn't really go to the city council or commissioners' court for special funding because we didn't want to go public with the money request," Whitehouse said.

The people approached for contributions were carefully selected, he added. "None of the people we approached to make a contribution to the investigation turned us down," Whitehouse said.

Money-changers were necessary, as Jews came from many countries each with different currencies. Also, every Israelite 20 years old or older had to pay a half-shekel in the Hebrew coin into the sacred treasury. Your Birthday

November 24, 1980

Things in which you placed considerable stock in the past may not be all that important to you this coming year. These changing values are to your benefit and will give you more peace of mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Pals won't appreciate your poking your nose into their private affairs today any more than you would if they probed into yours. Each should keep his or her distance. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph, Mail $7 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sometimes you're very skillful at making decisions under pressure, but this may not be one of those days. Before making judgments, know whereof you speak. AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Rather than tackle your duties and responsibilities today, you may search for ways to rationalize them away. Too bad, but this procedure won't work.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Things which appear to be good buys or bargains today might not be so great once you scrutinize them closely. Use your magnifying glass. ARIES (March 21-April 19) It's best that you and your mate don't discuss issues today where your views are strongly in opposition. Neither is likely to concede or compromise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Coworkers could prove a trifle difficult today, especially if they think you are passing on work which you should be handling. GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Subtle urges to gamble or spend beyond your means today. In matters where you feel you are lucky, unfortunately, the reverse could be true.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Timing is extremely important today in the management of delicate situations. If you try to force things, you may jam the machinery.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Someone with whom you have dealings who is an expert at manipulating others may try to pull the strings on you today. Don't be his puppet.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Should your bank balance be a bit out of which in this period, perhaps it's time to revise your budget. Look closely. You'll see where the fat needs trimming.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Objectives must be clearly defined today, or else you might make some moves which could be counterproductive. Guard against impulsiveness. SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Sometimes it's best not to make strong statements about things that are on your mind. This is one of those days where it's wiser to count to 10 before speaking. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Alan: "Here is the first hand in the book. Four spades is the correct final contract. Declarer, a typical bad player, wins the diamond lead, plays three rounds of trumps and winds up down two. He wants to know what's wrong with the bidding."

Oswald: "Declarer believed in pulling trumps on all occasions. The correct practice is to pull them when you can afford to do so and South needs one of dummy's trumps to ruff a diamond. Otherwise, that diamond is a sure loser."

Alan: "The correct technique is to duck the first diamond, win the second, cash the ace of trumps and ruff the third diamond. If it gets overruffed, that overruff might cost the defense a trump trick."

Oswald: "It isn't overruffed. Now South leads the last spade from dummy. East should play low. There is no reason to play an honor."

Musical Rhythms Featured At Coterie Meeting Thursday

The Musical Coterie, a member of the Texas Federation of Music Clubs (TFMC), met Thursday at the Martha Ann Woman's Club.

Barbara Perkins presided over the meeting. Verna West gave a report of the district convention at Plains Nov. 8. Mrs. West concluded her report by joining Mrs. Perkins at the piano to perform a duet of Brahms Second Symphony. They had performed this selection at the district convention.

Betty Ruth Allam of Crosbyton was a special guest at the meeting. Mrs. Allam is the president of the TFMC second district. She praised the local club for the activities of the club in the music life of the community. She also listed several ways that the club could become more involved in the musical life of both the community and the state through participation of federated activities.

Sally O'Rear gave a brief summary of the fundamental types of rhythms in poetry. Barbara Mott, Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. West assisted Mrs. O'Rear with poetry readings and musical selections to illustrate each rhythm. Included in this presentation were two of Mrs. O'Rear's poems set to familiar tunes.

Monette O'Day concluded the program by presenting several types of recreational music that can be used to teach rhythms to children.

During the business meeting, it was decided to change the December meeting of the Musical Coterie from the second Thursday to the first Thursday of the month. This will enable the club to attend the First Baptist Church Dinner Theater as a group.

In the final business action of the meeting, members were encouraged to actively publicize and participate in the MAWC Christmas Bazaar set for Dec. 6.

Half of the free world's newspapers are printed on Canadian newsprint.

Gilberts Host 4-H Meeting

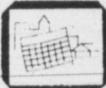

Jayna, Jody and Jeff Gilbert hosted the Ennis Creek 4-H Club meeting Nov. 3.

Blanche Chisum, 4-H Extension Agent, brought 10 spices for the 4-H'ers to identify. The club also discussed what foods the spices best compliment.

Refreshments were served to the members. Afterwards, the club had a scavenger hunt.

Mrs. Chisum reminded the group of the County Food Show scheduled for later this month. A foods project field trip to McDonald's in Sweetwater was planned at the meeting.

Two Of Gang Of Four Faces Special Court

PEKING (AP) — Two members of the "Gang of Four" went before the special court in Peking today to admit their part in helping to wreck China's economy, plotting to usurp power and persecuting tens of thousands of their countrymen, including the wily political survivor who now leads the nation.

The Foreign Ministry announced that the show trial of the radical leaders of the Cultural Revolution resumed with the interrogation of Wang Hongwen, a former vice chairman of the Chinese Communist Party, and Yao Wenyuan, another former member of the party, Politburo, before an audience of about 600 people.

They were reported to have confessed to the charges against them.

The other two radical leaders in the Gang of Four,

Mao Tse-tung's widow Jiang Qing and former Vice Premier Zhang Chunqiao, are on trial with them on the same charges. But foreign observers said their testimony was delayed because they refused to cooperate and confess.

The radical Gang of Four, which put revolution ahead of modernization, is accused among other things of denouncing Communist Party Vice Chairman Deng Xiaoping, the architect of the present regime's modernization program and the most influential member of the regime, as a "counter-revolutionary double-dealer," a "capitalist roader" and a "representative of the comprador bourgeoisie." Before the revolution, a comprador was a Chinese who represented a foreign business in China.

The defendants today also faced charges of trying to frame the late Premier Chou En-lai, Deng's mentor who tried to temper the excesses of the 1966-76 Cultural Revolution.

In 1974, the indictment says, the foursome told Mao that Deng, Chou and others were plotting to seize power. Deng was purged from the party in 1976 and rehabilitated in 1977 following Mao's death and the arrest of the four radical leaders.

Yao, 49, is a propagandist and polemicist from Shanghai who became a member of the ruling Politburo and personal advisor to Jiang Qing, Wang, 45, is a former Shanghai textile worker nicknamed "the helicopter" because of his rapid ascent to a vice chairmanship in the Communist Party.

The trial opened Thursday when indictments were read to the four political leaders and to six other defendants accused of plotting with the late Defense Minister Lin Biao to assassinate Mao and take over the government. Following the reading of the indictment, the defendants were separated into two groups to be tried separate.

The trials are expected to last through late December, with some sources reporting all will be sentenced on Christmas Eve. All face the death sentence, and there will be no appeal from the sentence of the special tribunal of the Supreme People's Court.

On Sunday, former air force chief Wu Faxian confessed to the court that he abetted the plot against Mao by appointing Lin's son to take over his command.

The foreign press is barred from the court sessions, but information on the trial is provided by the Foreign Ministry, the official Chinese press and television reports and by unofficial sources.

Scouts Taught Death Tactics

HOUSTON (AP) — A Southeast Texas paramilitary camp run by a Ku Klux Klan adviser and a convicted felon is teaching Boy Scouts and Civil Air Patrol cadets how to kill, a newspaper here has reported.

From 12 to 30 Explorer Scouts and CAP cadets have learned how to strangle people, decapitate enemies with a machete and fire semi-automatic weapons, the Houston Chronicle reported Sunday.

"We're not teaching these boys how to snipe," contended John Bryant, who was convicted of illegal sale of automatic weapons last January in Memphis. "They only shoot a few rounds, not proficently by any means."

Bryant's probated sentence does not allow him to handle guns, probation officer Rick Espinosa told the Chronicle.

Partner Joe Bogart, a Klan member for two years, said he choked other Marines into unconsciousness during boot camp training.

But "we didn't have the boys choke each other. We just showed them how to do it," he said.

The youths come from the CAP unit at Ellington Air Force Base and Explorers Scout Post 2125 at the base.

The paramilitary training is provided at Camp Puller near Anahuac, operated by Robert J. Sisenite of Deer Park and Louis Beam of Pasadena, Grand Dragon of the Texas KKK. Sisenite has denied any connection with the Klan.

Sisenite was removed as a leader of the La Porte, Texas, CAP squadron Oct. 20 after officials learned of the paramilitary training, said CAP Maj. Paul Renfro.

Renfro said Bryant asked Bogart the same day to form the Explorer troop.

Several parents said their sons told them Bryant and Bogart made frequent racial slurs and frequently lectured on guerrilla warfare, the Chronicle said.

The post was supposed to be teaching scouts about military careers, said Don Townsend, director of the Houston Explorer program.

One Sentenced In DWI Case

One person was sentenced Friday in county court on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Sentenced was Bobby Hal Jackson of Electra. He received a $50 fine and three days in jail. He had pleaded guilty to the offense.

The Federal Republic of West Germany became a sovereign state on May 5, 1955. President Eisenhower signed an order ending U.S. occupation, but troops remained on a contractual basis.

Concentration Camp Art Displayed

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Before trucking them to the gas chambers of Auschwitz in 1944, the Nazis gave hundreds of children a chance to record their impressions in crayon.

Most of the young artists died. But their drawings survived and are on display here for the first time in the West, gay and brightly colored testimony to their enduring innocence.

The drawings of sunrises, butterflies, children playing in fields of flowers — along with a selection of nightmarish black and white pictures painted by adult inmates — are from the Central Jewish Museum set up by the Nazis in Czechoslovakia as an anthropological "relic of an extinct race."

The museum remains in Prague, a reminder of what the exhibit's compiler calls "the twisted way Hitler's mind worked, not only to destroy a race but to set up a monument" to it.

"People ask me to put a price on the collection, and I say '6 million lives,'" said Reginald Dodwell, who brought the 300 works to the Whitworth Gallery for their only showing in the West.

"I selected the pictures to show the contrast," Dodwell said in an interview. "On one side of the room are the adult pictures, and you see the camp as it was, an evil, inhuman place out of Dante's Inferno.

"What leaves me quite amazed is that when you turn to the children's drawings, it's an art of unknowingness, of total innocence. It's just like what your kid or my kid would draw."

More than 15,000 children were among the Jews who passed through the concentration camp at Theresienstadt, in northern Bohemia, intended by Hitler as a model camp to be shown to outsiders, where musicians were permitted to form an orchestra and children to join art classes.

Many of the pictures carry the names of the young artists and three dates: the date of birth, the date of internment in Theresienstadt and the date of deportation to Auschwitz. "Butterfly in a Meadow," for example, by Dorit Weiserova, carries the dates May 17, 1932, April 28, 1942, and Oct. 4, 1944.

"She was 12 when she died," whispered visiting schoolgirls of about the same age, doing the arithmetic in their heads.

"Only 12." The exhibit includes 38 children's drawings as well as 23 by adults which were painted in secret and hidden from the guards.

The latter show hollow-eyed prisoners lining up to be transported, sitting stooped in the filth of their barracks or lying in groups of sick and dying.

The exhibit also includes examples of Jewish religious art, from silver breastplates and crowns to Hanukkah lamps and richly embroidered synagogue textiles, collected from prisoners deported to the camps.

As the Nazis gathered up these relics, they set imprisoned Jewish intellectuals to work cataloging them, a task that resulted in the world's largest museum of Jewish art. Once the job was completed, the prisoners were sent to the gas chambers. The exhibit at Manchester is part of their legacy.

OKLAHOMA CITY—The Westerners, tying a Western Texas College's Westerners made further history here Saturday, defeating host Southwest Oklahoma to win the Crippled Children's Basketball Tournament and setting a new Texas Collegiate Record with their current winning streak of 45 games.

The Westerners, tying a jackrabbit 8-0 start onto last year's 37-0 NJCAA, National Championship season, whipped Southwest 100-90. The team is slated to play at Cisco Tuesday night, and at San Angelo, against ASU, on Wednesday.

Western Texas opens WJCAC play Dec. 2 against

South Plains in Levelland. "It was a dogfight all the way until the last six and a half minutes when we finally broke it open and pulled out to an 8 to 10 point lead," said Coach Larry Dunaway. "Our press and break just finally took their toll on them...and once we got them in that position, where we had a lead on them, we controlled the tempo the rest of the way."

Chuck North, 6-5 sophomore from West Covina, Calif., was named Most Valuable Player of the tournament, and teammates Donald Warren, 6-6 sophomore from Oneonta, Ala., and 6-5 sophomore Keith Denis from Gardena, Calif., were also selected for the All-Tournament Team.

Cesar Scott pumped in 26 points to lead the Westerners against the hosts, while North put together 21, Denis had 14 and Warren added 12. Others scoring for the team included Dwayne Dickey with 8, Troy Stevenson with 6 and Brett Smith and Bryan Baker with 4 each.

Jeff Martin led Southwest with 29 points while 6-10 Bryan Christianson had 18. No other statistics were available this morning.

Jets Kick Oilers In Overtime

NEW YORK (AP) — Field goal kickers rarely have it easy. Nobody knows that better than Pat Leahy, who earlier this season survived a "kick better or else" ultimatum from New York Jets Coach Walt Michaels. "All kickers are under great pressure," observed Leahy. "That's part of the game. If you can't cope with pressure, you shouldn't be kicking."

Leahy's 38-yard field goal 3:58 into overtime gave the Jets a wild 31-28 upset of the Houston Oilers Sunday as New York overruled a brilliant fourth-quarter barrage from Oilers quarterback Ken Stabler.

The loss dropped Houston, 8-4, into a tie with Cleveland for the lead in the American Conference's Central Division. The two clubs meet next Sunday in Houston, but Oilers Coach Bum Phillips insisted his team hadn't looked past the Jets.

"You can't look ahead in this league," said Phillips. "If you do, you're in trouble. The Jets really played tough football, the kind of football I had expected of them all season."

The Jets, 3-9, who had tried and failed to sit on a 21-0 halftime lead, won despite a missed 36-yard field goal attempt by Leahy that would have won the game with two seconds left in regulation.

New York had capitalized on three Oakland turnovers, Ken Schroy returning an interception 82 yards for the first touchdown and Richard Todd and Kevin Long scoring on 1-yard runs following a fumble recovery by Kenny Lewis and an interception by Ron Crosby.

Campbell finished the day with 60 yards on 15 carries, the first time in seven weeks he's failed to gain 100 yards. He limped to the sidelines in the third quarter after aggravating a knee injury, returned to action for one play, then stayed on the sideline as the Oilers took to the air in playing catch-up.

And if you have to play catch-up, it's nice to have Stabler on your side. He completed 33 of 51 passes for a career-high 388 yards and four touchdowns, including a 68-yard bomb to ex-Jet Rich Caster that tied the score 21-21 with 5 1/2 minutes to play. Todd put New York back in front with a 45-yarder to Bruce Harper, then Stabler tied it again with a 5-yard pass to Caster with 1:31 left.

New York won the crucial coin toss to start the overtime and made the most of the opportunity, driving 40 yards—including the Jets' only third-down conversion of the game—in nine plays to set up Leahy's second chance.

Two Quit From TCU

FORT WORTH (AP) — Two assistant football coaches resigned from Texas Christian University's athletic staff, school officials announced Monday.

Offensive line coach Frank Grimm and tight end coach Bob Griffin resigned effective immediately, athletic department officials said.

Griffin was in his second year on the Horned Frog staff, after stints with two National Football League coaching staffs and a Canadian professional team.

TEARFUL SUCCESS—Shana Koonsman, left, congratulates Sherry Mayes as an announcement is made naming the senior ballplayer to the Class AAAA State All-Tournament team following Snyder's state volleyball championship win over Corsicana Saturday. Mayes, Lisa Cobb and Toni Elrod were selected to the tourney team, but Coach Joyce Elrod added it was an entire team effort which brought the crown home to Snyder. (Continued From Page 1) lead. Shana Koonsman served the Felines to 11-13 and Toni Elrod got them to 12-13, but Corsicana got help from there on in as Snyder failed to return a serve for a 14th point, and a bad hit foul by the Felines became the Tigerette game winner.

"I never thought we'd get through that second game," recalled an exhausted Coach Elrod. "Half the time I had my head in my hands. I couldn't even look."

Snyder rallied back in Game Two, and found themselves in front 5-1 then 7-2 in quick order.

The lead stretched to an amazing 14-5 before Corsicana began a comeback which silenced the Snyder fans and turned on a group favoring the Tigerettes.

Corsicana came up with eight points to make the game a 14-13 affair before Snyder could get the final point to finish off the Tigerettes. As it happened, the Felines earned the point when an opposing player slid across the center line while trying to get to the ball.

Mayes played a strong part in Game Two for the Felines, especially in the early part of the contest, when she was responsible for several "kills", and also returned the serve to Snyder's side of the court on a spike, a dink and two blocks.

The steadiest figure for the Tigers for the entire three gamematch - had to be Cobb, however. Never openly bothered by occasional foul calls by the officials, she often came up with the crucial spike or block that gave Snyder the serve or a point.

Ironically, Game Three of the match should have been another tough one. But it wasn't. Snyder took the first point again this time as Cobb won the serve for Snyder on a well-executed block. Though Corsicana got the serve again quickly, Kathy Northcott came through to deliver a spike to an open hole, and Snyder took possession again.

This time Snyder reeled off four straight points, with Northcott the server, before giving the Tigerettes the serve back.

The Felines led by 5-0, 6-1 and 6-4 before Koonsman took over the serving duties and turned off the Tigerettes completely. Koonsman, one of five juniors starting on the club, spun off nine consecutive points as Snyder raced from 6-4 to the 15-4 victory without losing another serve.

Tough Games Are Tourney Difference

WHEN IT WAS all said and done, the final cheer yelled and the nets put up for another year, Coach Joyce Elrod explained her theory on how her Felines took a pressure-packed state Class AAAA volleyball championship in Austin Friday and Saturday.

"Sometimes our chances didn't look too good, but the girls didn't give in. They didn't give up. I think it goes back to the fact that we played some tough, pressure games during district," the coach said. "That made the difference."

SNYDER LOST BOTH of its first games in the semi-final and championship matches before coming back strong to oust each opponent.

It was especially evident in the finals game against Corsicana, a team which boasted of winning over 30 two-game matches this year. Snyder, having faced a number of three-game contests against strong competition, won the last game easily, sacking the rattled Tigerettes 15-4.

"THE GIRLS PLAYED with a lot of heart," commented Elrod. "They played pressure games from start to finish. I was told by officials and coaches alike our team played with a lot of character and a lot of class and I agree wholeheartedly."

But it wasn't just the starting six who received praise. "THE GIRLS ON the bench did another great job," Elrod added. "If it were not for them in practice pushing the girls on the floor and cheering for them all the time, we would have never made it. Of course Kerstin Selmon came in off the bench for us Friday and played an outstanding game."

"I know I said something about them last time, too, but I'd also like to mention Coach (Patty) Grimmer and our managers Lynne Robertson and Tina Cannon. Everyone helped to contribute to this."

ELROD, WHO IN eight years has compiled a 198-57 record as varsity coach, continued to praise the team, citing Shana Koonsman and Sherry Rich for their serving prowess in the championship match (25 points between them), and to Sherry Mayes, Lisa Cobb and Kathy Northcott for "all playing great offensive games."

Also cited was Toni Elrod, who along with Mayes and Cobb made the All-Tournament Team. Elrod "set an outstanding match" and "did a great job of picking up Corsicana's dinks in the final game", noted the coach.

THE STATE TITLE win is Snyder's second in three years, having won the Class AAA crown in 1978. The Felines have won five consecutive district titles.

Tiger Four Play Here

Snyder High School is slated to play its first games in Scurry County Coliseum tonight as both the girls and boys vie in a four-game show.

Snyder's junior varsity girls open the series with a game at 4 this afternoon, followed by a varsity girls contest at 5:30.

The junior varsity boys take the floor against Abilene Cooper next, scheduled for a 6:15 start, while the varsity boys - playing their first home date - are to meet Cooper at 8. According to school officials, tonight's games may run late. The final varsity game may not get underway until 8:45 or so, for instance.

In other high school action this evening, Snyder eighth and ninth grade girls will be in Seminole for games starting at 4:30.

Tuesday, Snyder boys return to the coliseum for a triple-header with Odessa Permian. The sophomores tip off the night's games at 4:30, followed by junior varsity and varsity contests, respectively.

Also Tuesday, Snyder varsity and junior varsity girls teams travel to Colorado City for two games beginning at 6.

Snyder teams then take a holiday break until Dec. 1.

Pokes Win, 14-10

IRVING (AP)—It has been more than a decade since Larry Cole has haunted the Washington Redskins.

Back in the 1960s, the 13-year veteran defensive tackle victimized the nation's capital more times than inflation.

He carried his 6-foot-5, 252-pound hulk across the Washington goal for three times for touchdowns in 1968 and 1969, twice with fumble returns and once with an interception, to help insure Dallas wins.

Redskins Coach George Allen said he feared Cole more than he did former Cowboy quarterbacks Don Meredith, Craig Morton or Roger Staubach.

Cole struck again Sunday after a decade of pester-free play against Washington.

This time it was a 43-yard interception return on a ball that caromed off his face mask into his heavily-taped hands for the touchdown, giving the Dallas Cowboys a vital 14-10 victory over the struggling Redskins, who are now 3-9 in the midst of their worst season since 1963.

"I've been waiting for that play 11 years," said Cole, who plays mostly on pass-rush downs.

Cole steamed into view like a humpback ghost just as fellow defensive tackle Randy White mashed backup Redskin quarterback Mike Kruczek. The ball fluttered into the air as Kruczek tried desperately to throw and bounced off Cole's face mask.

He leaped the fallen Kruczek and thundered toward the Redskin goal with a convoy of Cowboys for protection.

Cole has never scored a touchdown against any other National Football League team except Washington.

Dusters Pop Foe; Test TSU Tonight

BIG SPRING—Coach Joe Cushing's WTC Dusters won consolation honors in the Hawk Queens Basketball Tournament here Saturday, nailing Temple College, 67-62.

The Dusters, 10-1, rallied from a five-point loss to Tyler on the opening night to defeat Cisco 75-56, setting up the bid for the consolation prize.

Named to the All-Tournament team from WTC were sophomores Linda Holubec and Shari Teal.

No individual statistics were available, but Coach Cushing announced his pleasure over the win.

"Temple really came out playing hard," he said. "And we played hard. It was just a good ballgame. We had some people come in off the bench and do a real fine job for us, especially Dorcas Perkins, Lori Watson and Joy Guyton," Cushing noted.

"We found out we had some people that could play for us. Of course they had been doing a fair job up until that time, but they did real well in those games."

WTC edged out to a 33-32 halftime lead despite pulling down only 14 rebounds. The girls hit the boards better in the final 20 minutes, and dominated rebounding to help win the game.

Western Texas jumps back into action again tonight, traveling to Stephenville for a 7 o'clock game with Tarleton State University.

"Tarleton had a real good year recruiting. They've got a lot of real fine young talent and I don't have any doubts they'll be real tough on their home floor," said Cushing. "They always play us tough over there."

Cushing will need good bench strength again tonight as Valerie Wells, a freshman starter injured in the tourney opener against Tyler, will be out of the lineup again. Wells, out with stretched ligaments in an ankle, is expected to be back soon.

"After tonight's game, the Dusters will break for the holidays, returning to workouts Saturday in preparation for the Dec. 2 conference opener at Levelland (South Plains College)."

Teacher Falls In Singles

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vijay Amritraj of India won the Bangkok Tennis Tournament as he defeated Brian Teacher 6-3, 7-5.

Teacher later teamed with Ferdi Taygan to defeat Tom Okker and Dick Stockton 7-6, 7-6, for the doubles crown.

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Rolf Gehring of West Germany defeated countryman Klaus Eberhardt 5-7, 7-6, 6-3 in the completion of a quarterfinal match in the $175,000 Argentine Open.

In other semifinal action, Argentina's Jose Luis Clerc downed Jose Luis Damiani of Uruguay 6-0, 6-4 and Gehring downed Paraguayan Victor Pecci 3-6, 7-6, 6-4.

Dear Abby

Modern Cain and Abel Can Talk, Not Attack

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1980 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: We have two beautiful, healthy, normal sons, for whom we thank God daily. They are 5 and 7. Our problem is one that many other parents have — how to deal with the constant fighting. Abby, the yelling and beating on each other are driving me crazy! I know there's a lot of jealousy and rivalry at the bottom of it, but I don't know how to handle it. I asked my pediatrician what to do, and he said, "Don't worry about it. It's natural."

Well, I do worry about it. I'm afraid that eventually one might seriously injure his brother. It's not fair to keep asking my husband to discipline the boys the minute he gets home after a hard day's work, but that's all I can do.

I'm fairly intelligent, but I feel so helpless. Is there some "how to" book you can recommend for dealing with this problem?

FRUSTRATED IN COLORADO

DEAR FRUSTRATED: Yes. Dr. John F. McDermott Jr., a psychiatrist, has written an excellent book in language that everyone can understand. It's titled, "Raising Cain (and Abel, Too): The Parent's Book of Sibling Rivalry" (Wyden Press).

In it, the author tells parents how to get their children to talk freely about their feelings of jealousy, anger and hostility without beating on each other. The December issue of Parents Magazine contains a generous sampling of excerpts from this fine book. I recommend it highly.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a bridal-baby shower all in one? A maid of honor wants to have one for a bride who isn't even pregnant.

The maid of honor reasons that when the bride does decide to have a baby, she will probably be out of the state and maybe even out of the country because she's marrying a serviceman.

I'm against this kind of shower because I'm afraid it might start rumors and gossip about the bride. Please don't sign my name, because I'm the bride. Sign me...
OLD-FASHIONED

DEAR OLD-FASHIONED: As I see it, this kind of shower is intended to soak the guests. Since you're the bride, thank your maid of honor for infanticiding, and tell her no thanks.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding letters from "the other woman": So far you have printed only letters from women who were dumped. How about a letter from a "winner"? My married lover left his wife for me!

I was told that I wasn't breaking up anything; his marriage was dead long before he even met me. His wife had gotten fat. I was married, too, but I assured him that my marriage was also over — my husband had gotten dull and boring.

So I divorced my boring husband and he divorced his chubby wife. Oh, yes, we both had children, but we explained that we were in love and when they were older they would understand.

Our marriage was a dream come true. No more lying and sneaking around. At long last we were legally man and wife for all the world to see.

Our apartment was filled with modern furniture and old-fashioned guilt. And plenty of doubt and mistrust.

Two years later he was meeting someone new. I told him he was a liar and a cheat. He said it took one to know one. And by the way, he's gotten a little dull and boring, and I've put on a little weight.

Mae West Had Peaceful Death

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Mae West, the unabashed seductress-of-stage and screen who purred "Come up and see me sometime" and became an American legend, will be buried at private services this week.

Miss West was sitting in a chair in her Hollywood penthouse when she died Saturday at the age of 87, apparently of old age and the aftermath of a stroke that had hospitalized her for three months this fall. The stroke had impaired her speech, but not the spirit that carried her through an 80-year career. From her hospital bed she sent word to a reporter friend that she was suffering from a fall out of bed while dreaming about Burt Reynolds.

Paul Novak, the blonde sex queen's constant companion for the last 26 years, promised "the greatest Hollywood funeral we've ever had."

However, a spokeswoman for the mortuary handling funeral arrangements said Sunday that details about the services would not be released, at the request of her friends and family.

Earlier, Miss West's agent, Jerry Martin, said a memorial service was tentatively scheduled for Tuesday at the First Presbyterian Church in Beverly Hills, with interment to follow at a Brooklyn, N.Y., cemetery where her father, mother and brother are buried.

Miss West made only 10 films, but became famous in the 1920s and 1930s for her platinum hair, violet eyes, hourglass shape, undulating walk and the risqué one-liners she delivered with one hand on hip and one patting her curls.

She wrote many of the lines herself. "Come up and see me sometime" and "When I'm good, I'm very good, but when I'm bad — I'm better" were daring in those days, but a Depression-stricken America laughed.

OBITUARIES

Reagan Paring

Long List Of Candidates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ronald Reagan and six of his closest advisers are paring the long list of prospective Cabinet secretaries. But the president-elect says he doesn't know when decisions will be made.

Reagan scheduled a two-hour meeting today at his Pacific Palisades home with six aides he calls "our own people," including Vice President-elect George Bush, who flew in for the session.

Also invited were Edwin Meese, who will be Reagan's White House counselor; James Deaver, a close aide; Michael Baker, who will be White House chief of staff; Sen. Paul Laxalt, R-Nev.; and Pendleton James, an executive talent scout.

Labor Fears Hatch's New Role

WASHINGTON (AP) — Few senators have been more loyal to organized labor in recent years than Democrat Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey; few have been more of a scourge than Republican Orrin G. Hatch of Utah.

So it will be a particularly bleak winter day for labor when Republicans take control of the Senate in January and Hatch replaces Williams as chairman of its Labor and Human Resources Committee.

The day will be equally bleak for other left-of-center constituencies that have found a constant friend over the last two decades in a committee Hatch calls the most liberal in Congress.

Since the birth of the Johnson administration's Great Society, the committee has helped shepherd through Congress a lengthy list of social legislation — anti-poverty and employment programs, improved worker protections, and increased aid for education, health care, the aged and the arts.

Even in the late 1970s, when a growing conservatism made passage of such laws more difficult, the committee remained an accessible platform for preachers of liberal and pro-labor causes.

The Nov. 4 election, however, guarantees a more conservative committee makeup in the new Congress. Bolstered by that rightward drift, Hatch, 46, is taking aim at laws organized labor considers sacred.

His top priorities: lower the federal minimum wage for young people and tighten up labor's cherished Davis-Bacon law, which sets wage rates for federal construction projects based on the prevailing wage in the local community.

If labor won't compromise, Hatch says, he just might consider pushing for outright repeal of both laws.

He also wants restrictions on the powers of the Occupational Safety and Health Administration to make random safety inspections of businesses.

And he wants to eliminate affirmative action rules that set specific goals for the employment of women and minorities by federal contractors. Affirmative action "quotas," he said, are a form of government discrimination on the basis of race. "That's why we have a revival of the KKK and the Nazi Party," he said recently.

Hatch has headed just about every union lobbyist's hate list since 1978, when he led a filibuster to block Senate passage of a labor-backed bill to revise federal labor laws.

Since joining the Senate in 1976, Hatch has voted labor's way on just nine of 85 votes, according to the AFL-CIO. Williams, by contrast, has voted with labor on 212 of 228 votes during his 22-year Senate career.

Since election day, Hatch has extended an olive branch to labor — having lunch with AFL-CIO President Lane Kirkland and other leaders, and promising a chairmanship of moderation, cooperation and conciliation.

No Evidence Of Fire In Copter Crash

WAXAHACHIE, Texas (AP) — A National Transportation Safety Board investigator says a television helicopter that crashed and killed three people apparently did not catch fire before it fell to earth.

"My initial observation is that the engine was operating when the helicopter hit the ground," NTSB investigator Frank Roth said Sunday.

He also said that the charred remains of the helicopter showed no evidence of an inflight fire.

Roth said pieces of the helicopter were strewn "400 feet in front of where it hit and 350 feet behind it." He added that a final report on the crash would be issued in about a month.

The aircraft plunged to the ground in the Saturday night fog and rain, exploded and burst into flames when it smashed into a soggy field, according to a witness.

Dead are WFAA-TV photographer Tom Cummings, 26; his wife, Millicent, 34, both of Carrollton, a Dallas suburb, and pilot Robbie Williams, 35, of Southlake, near Denton, said WFAA-TV news director Marty Haag.

"There was a streak of light and it (the helicopter) came down in an orange fireball," said Roger Williams Jr. of Boz, a small community near Waxahachie.

A Federal Aviation Administration spokesman said the $350,000, French-made helicopter crashed about 6:20 p.m. and exploded on impact.

The three victims were returning to Dallas from Waco, where Cummings had videotaped the Baylor-Texas football game, when the crash occurred, said Haag.

A National Weather Service spokesman said weather at the time was foggy and rainy with low ceilings and poor visibility all the way from Waco to Dallas.

Williams radioed the TV station for weather information shortly before 6 p.m., but failed to respond when station personnel tried to call him back, said WFAA-TV reporter Frank Rowlett.

DPS Sgt. Tracy Crossley said Cummings' body was found about 30 yards from the impact point, Mrs. Cummings' body was 150 yards from the crash site and the pilot, Williams, was thrown 175 yards.

"You can't get any worse than this," he said.

Every year an estimated 1.6 billion cubic feet of usable wood is left on the ground of the nation's forests after logging.
