Quake Aid Bill Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter Friday signed legislation enabling the United States to provide $50 million in aid to the victims of the recent earthquake in Southern Italy.

"This disaster — the worst national catastrophe in Western Europe in half a century — has killed more than 3,000 people and left more than 200,000 homeless," Carter said. "Whole villages have been wiped off the map...."

"The funds ... will, I hope, provide some measure of immediate relief to the stricken area and help a courageous people to overcome the effects of disaster," the president said in a statement.

Grain Price Boost Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The world grain crunch not only may trigger substantially larger plantings but, in the view of the Agriculture Department, will help boost prices and farmers' incomes next year.

Soaring interest rates in recent weeks have contributed to big losses in commodity markets and have raised fears that farmers may be on the verge of economic catastrophe.

Not necessarily so, say USDA experts. The tight world supply of grain is bound to help prices pull out of their recent tailspin and, gradually, help improve the U.S. farm economy in 1981.

Electors Meet Monday

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas' 26 presidential electors meet Monday afternoon in the Senate chamber to officially cast the state's vote in the presidential election.

The result is expected to be 26-0 for President-elect Ronald Reagan.

Reagan won the popular vote in Texas on Nov. 4 by 2,510,705 to 1,881,147 for President Jimmy Carter. Independent candidate John Anderson got 111,613 and Libertarian candidate Ed Clark had 37,643.

On the basis of the popular vote, the Texas electors, which were selected by the Texas Republican Party at their state convention are expected to cast all votes for Reagan and Vice President-elect George Bush.

Red Poles Claim Crisis Exploited

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Poland's Communist Party today accused the West of exploiting the Polish crisis to divert attention from plans to build up NATO defenses and launch a new anti-Soviet campaign.

"The catastrophic vision of events in Poland ... is yet another stage of escalating anti-communist and anti-Soviet propaganda by using the 'Polish' pretext," the party newspaper Trybuna Ludu said.

The editorial came one day after Poland's Roman Catholic bishops and a leading Polish journalist issued separate appeals to foreign news reporters to stop describing the Poland's situation as unstable and challenging to the Soviet Union.

Trybuna Ludu claimed the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members were considering plans for stationing "dangerous American rocket weaponry" in Western Europe "behind the smoke-screen of the 'Polish problems' and the alleged Soviet threat."

"The drums of anti-Soviet hysteria heard in the West today must be seen as an attempt to disturb our relations of alliance with the neighbors," the paper said.

In the Soviet Union, Moscow radio today quoted a spokesman for the Polish bishops who complained about dissident activities in Poland.

The midday news broadcast noted that the spokesman singled out the anti-communist Confederation of Independent Poland, and Jacek Kuron, leader of the Committee for Social Self-Defense, and said, "These bodies have called for an outright confrontation and for changing Poland's political structure."

The Polish bishops, taking their strongest stand in support of the nation's embattled communist government, warned independent labor union leaders against pressing for reforms that could spur a Soviet intervention.

"The forthcoming changes and efforts for social and moral renewal arouse much hope but are not free of danger," the bishops cautioned in a statement issued after a meeting Friday of the Polish Episcopate.

The church, which counts about 90 percent of Poland's 35.5 million people as members, said, "It is forbidden to undertake such actions which could expose our motherland to the threat of endangering freedom and statehood."

"The efforts of all Poles must be aimed at strengthening the initiated process of renewal and at creating conditions to fulfill the social contract between the authorities and the community," the statement said.

"National renewal" is the term used by the communist regime to describe the liberalization that followed last summer's nationwide strikes. The labor rebellion forced the government to allow the first independent labor movement in the Soviet bloc.

The Kremlin, apparently fearing that the spread of the labor movement could undermine its domination of Poland and the other Eastern bloc states, has built up troop strength on Poland's border to the point where U.S. analysts say they could move into the country at any time.

While the Polish bishops made no direct mention of the Soviet Union, an episcopate spokesman told reporters the church was concerned about "noisy and irresponsible statements which have been made against our eastern neighbor."

In Brussels, Belgium, meanwhile, the United States and its 14 NATO allies labeled the Soviet troop buildup a "menace which hangs over Poland," and vowed strong and swift countermeasures to any Kremlin intervention in its eastern neighbor.

The foreign ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization members, winding up a winter meeting that focused primarily on Poland, did not say what steps they might take in the event of a Soviet intervention. Retaliation presumably would be limited to political, diplomatic and economic actions that would virtually doom East-West detente. Most NATO members fear a Western military reprisal might trigger a world war.

President Carter said in Washington that he thought the NATO meeting produced "positive" results. A White House statement said Carter was "particularly pleased by the shared understanding, the unity of purpose and the high level of commitment and resolve" shown at the Brussels meeting.

Decision Due Soon...

Ambulance Contract Draws 2 Applicants

The Snyder City Council is expected to award a contract within the next few days for ambulance service here, beginning Jan. 1.

Friday at 5 p. m. was the deadline for applications to be submitted at city hall, and two applicants turned in proposals.

The present contract for ambulance service will be terminated a midnight Dec. 31. The city council was notified following its Dec. 1 meeting that Kerrie Palmer, operator of Palmer EMS, would cease service at that time.

Mrs. Palmer, who has operated the ambulance service by contract since the fall of 1979, advised the city council that she planned to terminate service Dec. 31 following council action rejecting her request for an increase in the city-county subsidy.

Under terms of her present contract, Mrs. Palmer receives a subsidy of $1,550 per month. She had asked for an increase of $500 per month for the purpose of adding an employee. Her contract with the city provided that two ambulances be kept in operation, and she proposed that three vehicles be used.

City Manager John Gayle said that three persons had submitted applications for the new contract, but one withdrew Friday before the deadline.

The council plans to meet for a work session Monday evening to review the applications and discuss terms of a new contract.

The city and county share in the purchase of vehicles and in the subsidy for ambulance service, with the city serving as the contracting agent. The vehicles are leased to the contracting operator at a nominal fee.

We expected the slaying of John Lennon to send shock waves through some segments of the world, but frankly, we were not prepared for the wholesale reaction that set in immediately as word of the tragedy spread.

Although of another generation, we appreciate Lennon's contribution to the entertainment world, especially some of the songs he wrote. However, we did not anticipate the extent to which his following had climbed and endured. When we first heard of the slaying, which came, incidentally, from Howard Cosell during the Monday night football game, we envisioned a tumult of about the same magnitude as that which swept the country when Elvis Presley died. But it is obvious now, Lennon has out-Elvised Elvis.

But those who may be tempted to decry the behavior of Lennon fans and suggest such goings-on would not have happened during the staid period of "the good old days" only need check back to the 20s and the death of Rudolph Valentino to confirm that fans of entertainment idols have not changed.

Speaking of those "good old days," we were reminded of them when we read Keith B. Martin's letter to the editor the other day. But the more we reflected upon it, the more we began to encounter some questions. While it is true, of course, that "big" is not necessarily "good," conversely it is true that "small" is not necessarily "better."

Since the topic was schools, our memory drifted back to those days when we attended a very small school—one of those in which there were two grades in each room at the elementary level and then only about 20 pupils or less per room. It was before the days of mass busing. And it was ironic that the fifth grade was mentioned. It was our fifth grade teacher who first led us to believe that we might like to work for a newspaper. He planted the seed, so to speak, and we obviously had a lot of respect for him.

But we also remember when the father of one of our classmates came storming onto the school ground with a shotgun to threaten this very same fifth grade teacher. This parent was upset, we learned later, simply because this teacher and others demanded that his offspring obey the same rules as all other pupils in school. It caused some hectic moments for teachers and pupils alike on several occasions, but justice prevailed.

We also wondered about the 13-year-old girl with the needle scars on her arms. We assume that her parents were blind, or else they would have suspected something.

Yet, when we think about our own public school days, we think about much smaller schools than most of those today, with virtually no busing—and also with virtually no equipment. Our grammar school was heated by wood-burning stoves, and classroom supplies furnished by the school itself consisted of a globe, a set of maps, a blackboard and a limited amount of white chalk. There was no gymnasium, no band, only one vocational program for each sex (home economics for girls and manual training for boys).

Also, there were no jet planes, very few paved roads, no television, and parents expected their children to be home as quickly as possible after school was dismissed for the day.

Nowadays, the schools are expected to take on what once was parental responsibility in many areas that in those days would have been considered absurd. In turn, of course, they are blamed for problems and failures. So, we suspect that one reason we have so many large schools these days is that parents demand it. They want their children to have the same facilities, equipment and environment for their public school life as those in other communities, even the big cities. And they prefer to have their children busy in school-related activities—many of which were unheard of during those earlier days—than to have them under foot around home.

We have come to the conclusion that schools are larger these days for two reasons: There are many more pupils, and parents will not accept it any other way.

AM Plant Plans Still Indefinite

There was still no indication at the end of the week when production might be resumed at American Magnesium's plant southwest of Snyder.

The company announced Dec. 5 that it had begun to curtail production in preparation for shutting down the plant due to water damage from September rains.

American Magnesium officials declined to speculate the past week on when it might be possible to resume production.

Officials of the company were contacted by Bill Warner, manager of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. Warner said he was interested in determining if the chamber might assist in any way in solving any problem AM might have.

John G. Mezoff, vice president, told Warner that it could not be determined at this time when production could be resumed. He said the heavy September rains diluted the brine fields in Borden County and also damaged the company's solar ponds there.

American Magnesium has been producing chlorine and magnesium from salt water obtained from wells in Borden County.

Warner said Mezoff indicated that an administrative staff and some maintenance personnel would continue at the plant for the time being, but production personnel are being laid off.

No Surge Here On Lennon's Records

The recent death of ex-Beatle John Lennon reportedly sparked a buying spree of Beatle records in many parts of the country, but in Snyder only one store noted a significant sales increase in its Beatle records.

Hasting's Books and Records, located in the

11 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

Varsity Square Shopping Center, reported it is sold out of "Double Fantasy," an album put out by Lennon and his wife Yoko Ono. It was Lennon's latest release.

The Hasting's chain, reported Peggy Fletcher, assistant manager of the local store, had embarked on a Lennon promotion program even before the rock star's death. That promotion, combined with Lennon's unexpected death, pushed Hasting's sales up.

"When the word of Lennon's death got out, 'then everybody came in and started buying it,'" said Ms. Fletcher. A sales increase in the old Beatle albums was also noted at Hasting's.

At Tape Town, "we sold one Wednesday," said Steve Snider, store employee, noting that sales there were sluggish as best.

Max Vincent, manager at Munden's, said, "There might have been a pick up in it, but I haven't noticed."

At TG&Y the response from store manager Jack Slominski was, "We still have some. We haven't had anyone ask for one."

K mart, reported its manager Charles King, was "sold out of the John Lennon album, but we do have several of the older Beatle records."

Judge Says Texas Prisons Places Of Sheer Misery

HOUSTON (AP) — Texas' prison system is a place of "sheer misery and degradation and pain" where the U.S. Constitution was violated, according to a federal judge who presided over one of the longest civil rights trials in history.

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice, in a 248-page ruling, said state officials had failed to uphold their responsibilities and thus the federal courts must take action.

The decision came as a result of a trial that lasted 161 days, included testimony from 349 witnesses and which had 1,530 exhibits offered into evidence.

The lawsuit, which opened in October 1978, was filed by convicted robber David Ruiz, now 38. The U.S. Justice Department intervened in the suit and conducted an investigation of the prison system that included interviews with some 400 inmates.

Justice wrote that it was impossible "to convey the pernicious conditions and the pain and degradation which ordinary inmates suffer within the TDC prison walls."

"The gruesome experiences of youthful first offenders forcibly raped; the cruel and justifiable fears of inmates, wondering when they will be called upon to defend the next violent assault; the sheer misery, the discomfort, the wholesale loss of privacy for prisoners housed with one, two or three others in a crowded dormitory; the physical suffering and wretched psychological stress which must be endured by those sick or injured who cannot obtain adequate medical care.

"The sense of abject helplessness felt by inmates arbitrarily sent to solitary confinement or administrative segregation without proper opportunity to defend themselves or to argue their causes."

Justice said he wanted attorneys for the Justice Department and the Texas attorney general's office to appear in federal court at Tyler, Texas, on Jan. 12, 1981, to discuss a final ruling and how his orders can be carried out.

Six years ago, Judge Justice heard a lawsuit involving the state's reform schools. At that time he dismantled the system and ordered juvenile offenders confined in centers near their home towns.

Ruiz and several other inmates had claimed that prison facilities were overcrowded; that they were denied proper medical attention; were brutalized by guards and fellow inmates; endangered by unsafe living conditions and denied appeal to the courts.

Ed Idar of the Texas attorney general's office said, "We do require inmates to work. We also offer them any opportunities, including the chance to receive high school and college degrees."

"I think the evidence showed these men who are protesting the system are far safer in prison than walking the street of Houston or San Antonio."

Open House Set In Self-Built Homes

Open House has been scheduled this afternoon (Sunday) at three self-built dwellings west of Snyder.

The structures are Miles Homes, sold by a firm that pre-cuts and bundles parts of the homes and also provides blueprints and detailed instructions so that owners may assemble the dwellings themselves.

This is a definite financial advantage to the owner-builder, said Mike Lewaren, Miles Homes representative for this area. The building of the house is the owner's equity, which means a lot in these days of high interest rates and high construction costs.

"The owner-builder can get 100 percent financing through our plan," said Lewaren.

Fifty models of homes are available through Miles Homes in 42 states. Lewaren said the Miles plan is enabling many people, especially young couples, to acquire their own homes, which would not be possible otherwise.

To reach the Miles Homes on display today, visitors should go west on 30th St. toward the rodeo grounds, proceed approximately one mile and then turn right and follow the open house signs. Three homes are being shown, two on one side of the street and another on the other side. They are being shown before construction is actually completed so that visitors may examine all materials. Hours of the open house are from 1 p. m. to 5 p. m.

Gunman Talked Of Reunion

DALLAS (AP) — Jerry Allen Coker never said much, except when he was drinking and then he talked about patching up his troubled marriage, according to a landlord who often lent a sympathetic ear.

On Thursday, Coker stopped talking, broke into his estranged wife's apartment and killed her and his handicapped stepdaughter before taking his own life, police said.

"He was practically a non-talker when he was sober," said Margaret Ramming, who managed the Fort Worth apartment where Coker lived.

"When he had a few drinks, he'd talk up a storm. He talked a lot that he sure did want to go back to his wife."

Coker, 50, died early Friday in Parkland Hospital after shooting himself in the head with a .22 caliber pistol, police said.

Lucy G. Coker, 57, and her daughter Leslie Geibel Coker, 27, were pronounced dead at the scene in their North Dallas apartment.

Police said Leslie Coker, described as "very frail and small childlike," had cerebral palsy. She had been shot once in the chest at point-blank range with a 12-gauge shotgun.

Mrs. Coker was shot in the head with a .22-caliber pistol, apparently the same one Coker used on himself, police said.

Marge Marsters, 49, part owner of the complex where the Cokers lived, told police she saw Coker breaking into his estranged wife's bedroom shortly before midnight Thursday.

She said minutes later she heard two loud blasts and then a muffled shot.

Police said Coker kicked in the bedroom window, climbed through it and shot his wife in the head as she lay in bed.

He then reportedly walked to a bathroom where he encountered his stepdaughter, placed a shotgun to her chest and fired once.

Coker then returned to his wife's bedroom and stood at the head of the bed, police said, and apparently tried to shoot himself with the shotgun. When the gun jammed, Coker apparently took out the pistol and shot himself in the head.

"There were no suicide notes found, but there were letters in the apartment that indicated the couple had been having serious marital problems for some time," said Buddy Gordon, a field agent for the Dallas County Medical Examiner's office.

Police said the alleged marriage troubles were the only reasons discovered this far as a possible motive for the triple killing.

They said Coker and his wife were married in 1974 and were unemployed at the time of their deaths.

Dear Abby

New Year's Eve Renews Old Year's Quarrel

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are already fighting about how to spend New Year's Eve. I love celebrating with people, and he's just the opposite. He hates nightclubs and big parties. He says he can't stand the noise and the smoke.

His idea of a perfect New Year's Eve is to take me to a motel, open a bottle of champagne and watch a stag movie on closed circuit television. That's what we did last year. I told him I wasn't going to do that number again this year, and he said, "In that case, I'll sign up to work on New Year's Eve." (He's with the police department.) He is very stubborn, but I can be stubborn, too. I'm 33 and he's 36. How do you suggest we settle this?

MISMATED IN MICHIGAN

DEAR MISMATED: Alternate. One year, you select the New Year's Eve entertainment, and the next year, it's his turn. But between you and me, lady, I know a lot of wives who would consider your "problem" a picnic.

DEAR ABBY: I am hoping this letter reaches all the freeloaders and pests who impose on relatives who live in Florida.

When my husband retired we bought a lovely mobile home here. Our relatives think we are running a motel. They show up bag and baggage at our door, saying they can't find a motel room. They come in January and February — at the height of the season — when it's impossible to get accommodations, so who gets the pests? We do.

I am so disgusted I want to sell. We have one bedroom and one bath, I'm sorry to say, also a sleep sofa in the living room that we bought for our two grandchildren. When my two sons and their wives visit, they take a motel room for themselves, and I keep the little ones.

We've had this problem for over five years, and when December comes we get "butterflies" because I know we will be having visitors from the north.

Abby, how do you tell people, without hurting their feelings, that they are imposing on you? One couple has been coming for four years now. They make two or three one-week visits per year.

FED UP IN FLORIDA

DEAR FED UP: No one can impose on you (not twice anyway) without your cooperation. If people who show up uninvited are welcomed with open arms, they can't be blamed for assuming they are welcome. You must either get up the courage to tell them you are no longer accommodating houseguests, or suffer the consequences. The meek shall not inherit the earth, they shall also inherit a lot of freeloaders — especially when they live in Florida.

DEAR ABBY: GREG'S MOTHER is disappointed because 19-year-old Greg decided to go to trade school and work with his hands instead of going to college as his brothers did to study law or medicine.

In our shop hangs a sign that reads:
"The man who works with his hands is a laborer."
"The man who works with his hands and his brains is a craftsman."
"The man who works with his hands, his brains and his heart is an artist."

Sincerely, JOHN M. IN PORT DEPOSIT, MD.

Girl Chained To Back Door

EL PASO, Texas (AP) — A welfare official says a 15-year-old girl found chained to the back door of her house was set free but allowed to stay with her family pending an investigation into the case.

"We have no emergency petition out on the child to remove her from the home, at least not at this point," said Chuck Gembinski, director of child welfare in the Department of Human Resources here.

The teen-ager was not harmed, and police did not immediately file charges in the case.

"The police confiscated the chain, and we're checking every day to make sure the girl is not being chained," said Gembinski.

A police report on the incident said an officer and a welfare caseworker found the child on an enclosed rear porch Wednesday. The report said one end of a 10-foot chain was wrapped around the girl's ankle and the other end was padlocked to the back door of the house.

According to the report the girl told police officer Eduardo Robles Jr. she needed to be released so she could go to the bathroom. He obtained the key and set her free. A maid in the home told Robles the teen-ager had been chained because she was mentally retarded and had run away from home several times.

The police report said the girl was examined and did not have any bruises or marks on her.

Car Maintenance Often Neglected

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Despite today's emphasis on fuel-saving car care, more than a third of the country's drivers continue to neglect regular auto maintenance, according to a study by an auto-products maker.

The study also showed that fuel and ignition systems — the two systems which can significantly influence gas mileage — are the most neglected.

These conclusions were based on electronic engine analyses performed by Fram Corp. on more than 1,200 cars across the country.

Snyderite's Article In Agency's Annual Report

EDITOR'S NOTE—Each year, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of USDA asks executive directors from local offices throughout the country to submit articles on conservation from their respective areas. Ultimately, 16 from the entire nation are selected for publication in the agency's annual report. Roy Hanson, executive director of the Snyder ASCS office, is author of one of the 16 selected for publication this year, and it has been made available to the Daily News by Hanson and the USDA.

By ROY HANSON
The Old Judkins Place got its name in the 1930s, when the Judkins family tried to eke out a living there. Judkins found farming impossible, because what had not washed away had blown away. When Judkins left, the owner could not rent it anymore, so he put it up for sale.

Thomas A. (T. A.) Echols, who owned 80 nearby acres, bought it in the mid-1940s, and the people in Scurry County, Texas, wondered why he wasted his small savings on a worn out farm. His brother, Perry, told him that he would starve out on that old place.

T. A.'s wife and daughter did not like the idea, either. His wife, Belle, thought the place a burden.

Mary Allen, T. A.'s daughter, worked in the grocery store at Dunn, Texas; the first year they farmed the place. One day after she had finished hoeing cotton, she went to the store. Someone came in and told her that the house on the old Judkins place was on fire. Since the family did not live in that house, Mary Allen thought to herself: "It's too bad land and all can't burn up."

Mary Allen still remembers the day in 1946 when T. A. told Belle that he was going to the Triple-A office, as farmers called the ASCS. He wanted to see if he could get some help with terracing.

The three neighbor farmers on the county committee approved T. A.'s request, and that winter he built 22,000 feet of terraces, cost shared at about $96 a mile. Perry watched T. A. use a horse-drawn grader blade and a Fresno (a large horse-drawn shovel) to build the terraces. T. A. maintained his terraces so well that they still meet conservation needs on the farm today.

T. A. did not stop with terraces. He put cotton burs back on the land to add nitrogen and stop erosion. He put in a waterway and a concrete storage tank with ACP cost sharing. He built the old Judkins place into an ideal farm.

To this day, Perry Echols maintains that T. A.'s efforts started conservation consciousness in Scurry County, which lies in Texas' rolling plains just 40 miles south of the Caprock. After T. A. showed what conservation could do for a farm, neighboring farmers carried out terracing practices on their farms. Most Scurry County farms were terraced within the next few years.

"It is almost a miracle for that old place to be what it is today," says Perry. Today, T. A.'s daughter, Mary Allen Eischied of Hermleigh, Texas, owns the farm. She inherited it when T. A. died in 1979, and she rents it to a couple in their early 20's who are just getting started in farming.

Greg and Sandy Crawford, the young couple who rent from Mary Allen, both like the place.

"I am sure glad to get this place to work," says Greg. "Not only is it pretty, it makes good cotton."

Sandy said, "We even have pretty good cotton this year—when the whole country has been hit by bad drought."

The Crawfords find it hard to believe that the farm was once a worn-out, washed away piece of land.

Fast Winds On Saturn

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Scientists studying data from Voyager 1's rendezvous with Saturn last month say winds reach 1,118 mph across the planet and temperatures fall to 334 degrees below zero.

They discussed their findings and tentative conclusions at a meeting of the American Geophysical Union here Thursday.

Virgil Kunde of the Goddard Space Flight Center said under the haze and clouds that make Saturn appear striped with gold and buff are layers of frozen ammonia. Beneath that are organic chemicals such as methane, ethane and acetylene.

Scientists have been conducting a computer analysis of thousands of photographs and instrument readings beamed a billion miles through space by the unmanned probe last month.

They say Saturn appears to be a cold, barren ball of hydrogen and helium surrounding an interior of electrically conducting hydrogen frozen into solid metal and enveloping a much smaller core of rock.

Film Future Looks Bright

VARNA, Bulgaria (AP)—The future of the entertainment film industry has never looked brighter, an international congress of film makers here was told recently.

Kenneth M. Mason, an Eastman Kodak Co. executive, pointed to some $150 million in ongoing capital investments at U.S. film studios and post-production facilities.

Board Changes Date For December Meeting

The board of managers of Cogdell Memorial Hospital approved payment of November bills and changed the date for its regular December business meeting at a special meeting Friday at noon.

The regular December meeting date falls on Christmas Day this year. The board voted to change the meeting to noon on Monday, Dec. 29.

Cy Miller, hospital administrator, reported that the hospital facilities had filled to capacity several times recently, and it has been necessary to put patients in hallways for brief periods on several occasions.

The meeting was concluded with the showing of a video tape of a series on efforts of rural areas to attract doctors. The series was produced and

Plastic Cheaper

DALLAS (AP)—Using plastic pipe to replace existing sewer lines in cities can save taxpayers 40 to 80 percent of the cost of the job.

With the "slip lining" technique, polyethylene Driscopipe can be slipped inside existing, deteriorating sewer lines without removing the old sewer lines or tearing up streets. The new pipe is watertight.

Travel Expenses Criticized

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The Texas Rehabilitation Commission sent 38 employees at state expense to a convention in Louisville, Ky., and later received a warning from the governor's office about "excessive out-of-state travel," the Associated Press has learned.

Commission records show it cost $19,067 to send the employees, ranging from secretaries to Commissioner W.K. Harvey Jr. to the Aug. 25-29 meeting of the National Rehabilitation Association.

Agency officials say the trip was worthwhile because of the boost it gave to employee morale and because the information commission workers brought back to the jobs was useful.

Comptroller Bob Bullock rejected travel vouchers for the convention because of sketchy justification but later paid them on the strength of a memo from Executive Deputy Commissioner Max Arrell.

Harvey was a candidate for association president at the convention, but ballots were mailed in beforehand. He denied that the commission employees were sent to the convention to campaign for him.

ASTRO-GRAPH

Your Birthday

Bernice Bede Osol

December 14, 1980

Although the relationships will be strictly business, you will be more fortunate than you have been in the past in dealings with members of the opposite sex. Look for profit, not romance.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Usually you're an active person and a good self-starter, but today, unless you are properly motivated, you aren't apt to be very productive. Tsk, tsk. Romance, travel, luck, resources, possible pitfalls and career for the coming months are all discussed in your Astro-Graph which begins with your birthday. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Try not to read negative things into what others say today. They could be talking along one line and you could be listening along another.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This could be one of those days where small expenses could add up to far more than you intended to spend. Keep a lid on the nickel-and-dime stuff or it'll bust your budget.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Financial conditions could be mixed today. You'll have opportunities to add to your resources. They could be shaky developments which might deplete them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Be very careful today that you don't pass on hearsay or gossip from a questionable source. This person's information could be inaccurate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) It's not usually your style, but you could be a trifle jealous today of the good fortune of a friend. Should such thoughts enter your mind, dismiss them promptly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You would be wise today to rely more upon yourself and less upon the promises of others. They may want to help, but they might be unable to deliver.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Be complimentary rather than critical of coworkers, especially if they are going out of their way to help you. Ingratitude leaves a poor impression.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) There's a possibility today that you could be a bit too possessive of a loved one. Let this person have the same freedom you would expect.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't agree to anything today merely for the sake of expediency. Commitments you view as casual will be taken seriously by others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Self-discipline will be required today if you hope to keep abreast of your responsibilities. Neglected tasks will only cause complications later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) From time to time you are smitten with extravagant whims and today could be one of those days. Steer clear of tempting merchandise you don't need.

Situations could arise over the coming months to give you opportunities to use your organizational abilities and managerial skills. When these instances occur, you will handle yourself admirably and profitably.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Times spent with select members of your inner circle should prove very enjoyable today. Activities shared with large or unfamiliar groups might prove to be just the opposite. Find out more of what lies ahead for you in the year following your birthday by sending for your copy of Astro-Graph. Mail $1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sometimes it's advantageous to keep your goals to yourself, but today unless others understand what you're aiming for, they will be unable to help you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Be wary in situations with pals today where they hold views which strongly oppose yours. A friendly discussion could turn into a heated debate.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Financial conditions could be mixed today. You'll have opportunities to add to your resources. They could be shaky developments which might deplete them.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Try not to be overly insistent today about having things done your way. Your ideas are apt to be the best, but leave room for compromise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Others are prepared to help you today, but only if they see indications you are ready to help yourself. Don't expect them to do things you won't do.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) You can't be all things to all people today, so it's best not to try. Your image will suffer if your actions smack of insincerity.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You know what needs doing today and you're a good starter, but there is a chance you could get too easily discouraged if the going gets tough.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Rather than boast of achievements or rationalize your defeats, play things humbly as events dictate. Be a good winner or a good loser today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Although joint ventures hold promise today, they could get costly if you're impulsive or use poor judgment. Study business matters with extreme care.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're a very good team player, but today if you associate with individuals who are too dictatorial you may spend more time opposing their views than assisting them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're entitled to proper rewards today, but you could be severely disappointed if you expect too much for what you have to offer.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're entitled to proper rewards today, but you could be severely disappointed if you expect too much for what you have to offer.

Eleven states raised their legal drinking age within the past year, according to the magazine 18 Almanac. The publication attributes the changes "to a widespread increase in alcohol-related traffic accidents which are the No. 1 killer of young adults."

Computer Used In Carpooling

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — One employer in this city is using its engineering skill plus a computer to help its employees save a million gallons of gasoline next year.

Engineers for Honeywell have divided a map of the metropolitan area into a grid of one-mile squares and identified employees who live near each other and work at the same plant as possible van-or carpool commuters.

Through the use of the grid map plus a computerized address list of 18,000 employees, a "Hop-A-Ride" bus-service pilot project was launched early in September. Three buses pick up employees at a shopping center in the morning and return them at the end of the day.

The company's study indicates that van and car pools, along with the bus service, can result in annual savings of 1.3 million gallons of gasoline.

Artist-Of-The-Month To Be Selected Here

A Scurry County artist-of-the-month will be selected in a new program being initiated by the Scurry County Museum and the Snyder Palette Club, starting in February.

All Scurry County artists 21 years of age and above are invited to participate in the program. Persons wishing to participate are to submit to the Scurry County Museum office four slides of works they have done. There is no restriction on the media.

The artist-of-the-month will be selected by an out-of-town judge on the basis of the slides. The artist's works will be featured in the museum in a show opening on the third Sunday of the month and continuing through the second week of the following month.

Each artist must include at least four paintings in the artist-of-the-month exhibit and will be limited to a maximum of 10. All work must be original and no copies are to be shown.

Artists wishing to be considered for the first artist-of-the-month display need to submit their slides by Jan. 20, 1981.

Further details about the artist-of-the-month program may be obtained from the office of the Scurry County Museum. The telephone number there is 573-6107.

"We are very pleased to be cooperating with the Palette Club in this project," said Sharon Sutton, museum director. "We welcome inquiries from all county artists and will have printed copies of the regulations which should furnish all the information needed."

The museum is located on the campus of Western Texas College and the office is open each weekday.

Author Held Regular Job

NEW YORK (AP) — Herman Melville worked nearly 25 years as a customs inspector here checking cargoes on newly arrived ships.

The author of "Moby Dick" could not make a living writing books, so he supported a wife and four children as an inspector for less than $4 a day.

Melville lived on East 26th Street almost 30 years and died there.

Center Prepares For Yule Dinner

The Senior Citizens Center will be closed during the day Tuesday so preparations for the Christmas dinner can be completed.

The dinner is to begin at 6 p.m. Tuesday and persons who have made reservations for it are asked to gather in the Blue Room before serving begins.

Regular activities scheduled in the center on days other than Tuesday this week include quilting, an exercise class, liquid embroidery, blood pressure checks, games and Sunshine Choir practice at 1 p.m. on Friday. Copies of the activities schedule are always available in the center, located at 2603 Ave. M, and county residents 60 years of age and older are invited to visit on weekdays to participate.

The center will be closed on Dec. 25-26 for a Christmas holiday, but will be open on Dec. 24 for games, a light lunch and a sing-along.

Russians Voted Down

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — The General Assembly passed a resolution Friday over Soviet-bloc opposition calling for a U.N. investigation of reports of chemical warfare in various parts of the world.

It adopted a resolution, recommended by its main political committee, that asked Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim to "carry out an impartial investigation to ascertain the facts pertaining to these reports."

Each side has accused the other of using chemical weapons lately in fighting between Soviet troops and Afghan guerrillas in Afghanistan and between Vietnamese troops and Cambodian guerrillas in Cambodia.

The resolution was approved by a vote of 78-17 with 36 abstentions. Afghanistan, Vietnam, Laos, Mongolia, Syria, North Yemen, the Soviet Union, Byelorussia, the Ukraine, Bulgaria, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Hungary, Poland, Romania, Benin and Cuba voted against it. The United States and its Western allies supported the resolution.

Rotan Stumbles, 14-0

JACKSBORO (AP) — Tailback Jerome Johnson scampered for 142 yards and Pilot Point scored on its first two possessions Friday night en route to a 14-0 Class 2A schoolboy semifinal win over Rotan.

The Bearcats, 14-0, drove 81 yards in 16 plays on the opening series of downs with fullback Brad Huff going over from right guard for the last two yards.

Chuck Morgan picked off a deflected pass at the Rotan 42 to set up the second touchdown.

Pilot Point needed nine plays to score with quarterback Greg Pelzel sneaking over from the 1 with 9:44 to play in the second quarter.

With Johnson leading the way, the Bearcats rushed for 279 yards while holding Rotan to 100 yards total offense. Rotan, which finished the year at 11-2-1, got across midfield twice, but never advanced beyond the Pilot Point 40.

As Canyon Reef Tourney Winds Down...

Lubbock Assured Spot In Finals

One thing was sure going into Saturday night's finals of the Canyon Reef Tournament here - Lubbock was bound to have a team in the championship game.

Lubbock schools again held an edge in the 26th annual tournament as both Lubbock Estacado and Lubbock High advanced to the semi-finals Friday. The two squads were to meet Saturday morning to decide which would take on the winner of the other semi-final between Morton and Borger.

In winner's bracket action Friday, Lubbock High popped last year's runnerup Abilene High 70-61 with help from Charlie Quade, 19 points, and Kirk Cole, 18. Abilene was led by Tye Sasin's 20 points, and 12 from Robert Haynes.

Estacado got nominated as High's opponent in the semis Saturday when the Matadors took care of Amarillo-Caprock, 86-75. James Barnett scored 35 points and Rodney Guyton added 12 in a winning effort. For Caprock, Ewing scored 27 and Leonard Coulter added 16.

Barnett's 35 was the most scored by an individual in one game, through Friday, in this year's tournament.

Borger, the 1979 consolation winner, earned a spot in Saturday's other semi-final game by knocking off Lubbock Monterey, 62-50. Gregg Belton added 21 points to his 34 of Thursday to help defeat the Lubbockites. Teammate Quinton Sheppard slipped in 18, also.

For Monterey, Ian Hyslop scored 20 and Gary Hodges added 16.

In the other quarterfinal match, Morton overcame El Paso, Austin, 51-46. Todd Willingham pumped in 16 for the Indians, while Billy Cadenhead added 10. Cadenhead was eight-of-eight from the freethrow line.

Fred Colorado scored 16 for Austin. Ray Long added 10.

The championship game was to be held at 8 Saturday in the coliseum, followed by presentation of trophies.

Snyder Defeats Mineral Wells

Mineral Wells concluded its stint in the 26th Annual Canyon Reef Tournament here Friday just as they started Thursday, losing in overtime.

It was ironic, not only because of the parallel, but because the Rams were the champions of the Reef Tournament just two years ago, and the team they lost to

AFC Still Wide Open Going Into Sunday's Games...

Bills, Others Fighting For Playoff Berth

by The Associated Press

The Buffalo Bills could become the first team in the National Football League's American Conference to clinch a playoff berth when they travel to Foxboro, Mass., to meet the New England Patriots on Sunday.

Buffalo, 10-4, enjoys a two-game edge over the 8-6 Patriots before the 1 p.m. EST kickoff and needs only to win either Sunday or next weekend to clinch the AFC East Division title, regardless of what New England does. A

Patriots loss also would clinch the title for Buffalo. Buffalo and New England are two of eight teams - also including Cleveland, Houston, Pittsburgh, Oakland, San Diego and Kansas City - still in contention for the five AFC playoff berths. Dallas, Philadelphia and Atlanta have clinched NFC spots, and three other teams - Minnesota, Detroit and Los Angeles - remain in contention for the other two NFC berths.

The pivotal games in the AFC Central have Cleveland at Minnesota, Houston at Green Bay and Kansas City at Pittsburgh. Cleveland, 10-4, needs to win while the 9-5 Oilers lose to clinch the division, but a division tie still would go to the Browns with a better conference record.

Chargers with a better conference record. If Oakland wins Sunday, San Diego must win both its remaining games to win the division title.

Should each team win its final two games, the title would be decided by net points or which team has scored more points than it has yielded. Kansas City, still is mathematically in the wild card picture.

Pittsburgh is not in contention to repeat as division champion, but the Steelers still are in the running for a wild card spot with an 8-6 record.

Playoff spots in the East Division of the AFC are all sewed up, with only the division title remaining in doubt. Dallas and Philadelphia are tied with 11-3 records, and each is assured a spot in the NFC playoffs, either as division champion or wild card. Philadelphia is host to St. Louis on Sunday, while Dallas and the Rams are scheduled in the NFL's Monday night game at Los Angeles.

Atlanta has the other NFC spot sewn down with an 11-3 record and stands to clinch the West Division title with a victory over San Francisco on Sunday or a Los Angeles loss Monday night. The 9-5 Rams also are in contention for a wild card berth.

Minnesota, 8-6, has a one-game lead over Detroit, 7-7, in the NFC Central, and the Vikings can clinch the division with a victory over Cleveland or a loss by the Lions, who host Tampa Bay on Sunday. Detroit's easiest path to the playoffs would be to win the division title, but the Lions still are not mathematically eliminated from a wild card spot. Detroit could make it in as a wild card team only by winning its last two games while Los Angeles loses both of its final two games.

picked to the first team defense as a linebacker and to the second team offense as a running back.

Likewise, Coyote standout Jym Rinehart, a junior, made the first team defense as a safety, and second team offense as a quarterback.

Other area all-district players include Hermleigh junior David Martinez, first team defensive lineman, and Borden County's Maurice Herridge, senior, first team defensive lineman.

Second-teamers included Ira senior Wade Pierson, as both a running back and a linebacker; Hermleigh junior Ted Olsen as an offensive end; senior Van York, running back; junior Mike Peterson, linebacker and junior Junior Benevides, defensive lineman, all from Borden County; and junior Scott Sharp, safety, of Ira.

Felines Lose

Snyder outpointed the hosts 16-13 in the second stanza and 14-7 in the final, but Monahans came away with the victory by winning the first period 19-10 and the third, 17-8. Michelle Townsend led the Felines with 18 points. Tracy O'Day added 12 and Pam Gray scored 10.

Carrie Sheppard led the Lobes with 20 points. Shelly Heath had 12 and Carrie Nanson and Tela Amos added 10 each.

In other action here Friday, Snyder JV lost its first game of the season, 45-34. The girls are now 5-1 for the year. Tammy Merritt scored 11 points for Snyder in that effort.

Overtime Win

was a close one all the way. Mineral Wells - which lost three games here by a total of 5 points, including two in overtime - garnered a 20-15 advantage at the end of the first period.

Snyder locked the score at 20-20 as Kris Seale came up with five straight Tiger points. Though Mineral Wells went ahead again by two, Snyder eventually took a 27-22 lead and went into halftime ahead 31-30.

Snyder got some help in the middle of the period when officials handed three straight technical fouls to a Mineral Wells coach. Tiger John Wilson managed five points from six bonus shots on the deal.

The biggest lead either team had in the game was with 6-43 left when Brian Baird notched a pair of freethrows to put Mineral Wells on top, 42-37. But that advantage came to a quick halt as Wilson and Barry Blackmon retaliated with a field goal each. Ram player Bill Jenkins was unable to hit on a pair of free shots moments later, and with 3:58 remaining in the game, Seale hit a pair from the stripe to regain the lead for Snyder, 43-42.

Both teams worked on the clock in the final period, and it showed about two minutes to play when Chuck Brooks scored to take back the lead for Mineral Wells. Enter Seale again, who capitalized on a three-point play for a 46-44 Snyder lead with 1:44 left. But Snyder wasn't to earn victory that easily. Just 43 seconds later, Mineral Wells' David Foreman executed a perfect steal and drove for the tying layup.

The apparent clincher came with three seconds left in the game, after Snyder had run down the clock, called time out, and talked over its strategy. Blackmon hit what appeared to be the winning bucket, and Snyder fans were jubilant.

But Mineral Wells was not to be counted out. Ram player Brian Bengt took a relay pass from just beyond mid-court and got off his shot at the top of the key. The ball arced, the buzzer blew, and the net swished as Bengt's shot was right on target to send the game into overtime.

A traveling call after the tip was the key for Snyder as the Tigers got the ball and worked it until the clock read 0:13. Again the hosts called time out and planned new strategy.

Wilson ended up with the ball, firing it from the wing. The ball hit the rim and bounced almost straight up in front of a leaping Wallace, who tipped it in for the victory.

Three seconds were left on the clock again, but this time Mineral Wells was unable to pull off the long shot.

Leading the scoring for Snyder was Wilson with 18 points, and Seale with 14. Blackmon added 8 Brooks paced the Rams with 16 points while David Foreman had 10.

Earlier in the day here, both Mineral Wells and Snyder had lost their bids for a consolation crown. The Rams fell to Abernathy 64-63 while Snyder lost to San Angelo Central, 62-59. Wilson had 20 points in that game. Blackmon had 19.

Money Supply Growth Eases

NEW YORK (AP) — After months of efforts to contain inflationary growth in the nation's money supply — an effort which sent interest rates soaring and stock prices falling — the Federal Reserve Board finally has a bit of good news.

The Fed reported Friday that the basic money supply fell by $200 million during the week ending Dec. 3. And the Fed also revised its figures for the previous week, saying that what was believed to have been a $1.1 billion increase was only a $400 million increase.

"I like the numbers," said Maury Harris, a vice president at Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis Inc., a brokerage house.

The money supply had been increasing at an annual rate of nearly 10 percent for the last three months.

Harris said that several more weeks of either stable or falling money supply figures will be required before pressures ease on interest rates. But he said the most recent figures will allow the Fed to sit back and wait for more information before deciding whether to tighten credit further.

"It should lead to a temporary plateau in money-market rates, one that is long overdue," Harris said.

RENT PROPERTY. Tenant or lake cabin, 35-24x28 frame houses to be moved, 2 bedroom. Remodel yourself. $1500 to $2500. Remodeled ready to go. $14,950. (806) 795-1495, Lubbock.

Financial & tax planning

WINDFALL PROFIT TAX ACT CAN CAUSE BUILT-IN EXCESS WITHHOLDING

The crude oil windfall profit tax act of 1980 imposes a tax on all production of domestic crude oil after February 29, 1980. It is called a tax on profits, but in reality, is a temporary excise or severance tax on production. Congress designed the tax to raise $227.3 billion in tax revenues over the period the tax is in effect with a phase-out of the tax to begin no later than January 1991. There is a net income limitation in the act that provides the windfall profit on the sale of a barrel of crude oil is limited to 90 percent of the net income attributable to that barrel. In certain instances, this provision has resulted in a built-in excess withholding situation with respect to properties which began production before 1973 and is classified as Tier 1 Oil. This situation is caused by a difference between the calculation of the windfall profit per barrel used for withholding purposes and the net income limitation per barrel which limits the tax base and therefore the tax imposed. The net income limitation is calculated with respect to all barrels of crude oil removed, causing an averaging of the removal price, whereas the tax base is calculated by reference to the removal price of each barrel of taxable crude oil. THE BUILT-IN EXCESS WITHHOLDING IS APPLICABLE FOR 1980 TO BOTH WORKING INTEREST AND ROYALTY OWNERS. Refund claims for this excess withholding of windfall profit tax can be filed when applicable or in the case of individuals may be taken as a credit on the 1980 federal income tax return. Unfortunately, for those taxpayers who are unaware of the net income limitation and for those whose cost for filing refund claims will exceed the amount of refund due them, the excess withholding will never be claimed.

Cynthia Clayton, Steve Jenkins Exchange Vows

MR. AND MRS. STEVEN JENKINS

Miss Cynthia Renee Clayton became the bride of Steven Lynn Jenkins during an afternoon ceremony Nov. 22 at Colonial Hills Baptist Church. The Rev. Dennis Teeters, pastor of Knapp Baptist Church, officiated the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mary Clayton of Oklahoma City and Bill Clayton of Ranger. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Jenkins of Snyder.

Gold candelabras, trimmed in greenery, baby's breath and apricot bows highlighted the altar.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a formal gown, highlighted with a V-neckline accented with lace and seed pearls. The skirt fell from an empire waist and was lined with several rows of ruffles in the front and back. Her fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap made with matching lace of her dress.

She carried a bouquet of apricot and white roses accented with apricot and beige baby's breath. She carried the bridegroom's grandmother's Bible under her bouquet; the Bible, belonging to L. L. Spires, was her something old.

For something borrowed, she wore a diamond ring belonging to the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Paul Washburn; something blue was a garter given to her by Mrs. Jimmy Kiker, while something new was her dress.

Pam Vansickle of Snyder was matron of honor, while Latricia Pevehouse of San Marcus and Bonnie Allred of Snyder were bridesmaids. The attendants wore an off-the-shoulder apricot crepe de shine gown trimmed in beige lace.

Tisha Johnson, the bridegroom's cousin of Fort Worth, was flower girl, while Greg Kiker of Snyder was ring bearer.

Cecil Meadows of Abilene served as best man. Groomsmen include Dale Jenkins, brother of the bridegroom of Snyder, and Ricky Mitchell of Kermit.

Ushers were Billy Clayton, the bride's brother of Jacksboro, and Chris Johnson, the bridegroom's cousin of Fort Worth.

Mrs. Rick Howard was organist, with Kathy Watts as soloist. Musical selections included "Color My World" and "The Wedding Song."

Following the ceremony, a reception was given in the fellowship hall of the church.

Apricot and brown carnations decorated the reception area. The three-tiered wedding cake was accented with beige icing and apricot roses. Vicki Glasscock and Tonya Mitchell presided.

Trudy Hataway registered guests. Out-of-town guests were from Jacksboro, Hamlin and Abilene.

The bride is a senior at Snyder High School.

Her husband is a 1978 Snyder High School graduate and is employed by Walton Construction.

Following a weekend wedding trip to Abilene, the couple now reside at 3108 Ave. V.

Scurry County 4-H'ers Win Gold Star Awards

LUBBOCK—Two Scurry County 4-H Club members were among the 40 outstanding members of 4-H Clubs in the South Plains who were honored at an awards banquet at Coronado High School Nov. 24.

Honored from Scurry County were Belia Rocha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rocha of Snyder, and Brent Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Beck, also of Snyder.

In addition to receiving the Gold Star Award, the highest honor presented at the county level, the youths were challenged by State Sen. E. L. Short of Tahoka to continue throughout life to pursue the 4-H Club motto, "To make the best better."

Joining the youths at the awards banquet were parents, government officials, extension leaders, fellow 4-H'ers and other community leaders.

Short told the group that they are a part of a "dynamic and positive" organization and are "providing leadership to do something about our problems." Among specific challenges already being met by 4-H'ers, Short said, are conservation of our natural resources and improving health and nutrition habits.

Guests were welcomed by James Eiland, general manager of Caprock Electric Cooperative, one of the 12 electric cooperatives which sponsored the banquet. The others are Baily County, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Lamb, Lea, Lighthouse, Lone Wolf,

CHRISTMAS CELEBRATION FOR TEENS — OLD FASHIONED TAFFY PULL
This Christmas, remember your teens — with an old-fashioned taffy pull and Christmas carol sing-along.

Pulling shiny ribbons of taffy, getting it just right — not so soft as to be sticky, nor so hard as to crack the teeth — is fun for all.

One note: hold this party in the kitchen!

While the taffy is cooking, have sandwiches and punch for a snack, turn on the Christmas music and get everyone to join in the joys and happy times of singing their favorite carols.

Then, get ready for the treat of a lifetime.

The recipe below is simple taffy, but if the teens are not experienced, it might be wise for Mom to do the preparation up to the part of the actual taffy pull itself.

WHITE TAFFY

- 2 cups sugar
- 1 1/4 cups white corn syrup
- 1 Tablespoon vinegar
- 1 Teaspoon vanilla
- Cook sugar, syrup and vinegar to hard-crack stage (300 degrees F, 149 degrees C). Stir only until sugar dissolves. Pour onto oiled plates. When it is cool enough to handle, add vanilla and pull. When taffy is porous, twist it into a rope. Cut off 1 inch long pieces using scissors. Keep twisting the rope as you cut. Place on oiled plate to cool. Each piece may be wrapped in waxed paper for storage or as treats that each guest may take home. (Makes 125 pieces).

Dos and don'ts of Landy

By Oswald Jacoby and Alan Sontag

The Landy convention is an artificial two-club bid against an opponent's notrump to show both major suits. The minimum length you should have for this bid is 5-4, with 5-5 and 6-5 much better holdings. With 6-5 you can afford to hold only 9 HCP; with 5-5 you need 10; with 5-4 you better have at least 12. Here are some sample hands:

1. S-K J 9 5 4 H-K Q 10 6 2 D-5 4 C-2 A sub-minimum.
2. S-K J 9 5 4 H-K Q 10 6 2 D-A 5 C-3 A good one.
3. S-K J 10 8 7 H-A K 10 9 8 D-K 5 C-2 A really good one.

With hand No. 1 you are not going to accept an invitation to bid again. With hand No. 2 you will bid game if partner shows any strength. With hand No. 3 you will raise two hearts or two spades to three.

Suppose your partner uses Landy? What do you bid? Here are some examples:

1. S-Q 6 3 2 H-7 5 D-10 9 8 C-A 8 6 5 Bid just two spades.
2. S-Q 6 3 2 H-A 5 D-10 9 8 C-8 6 5 3 Bid three spades.
3. S-A 6 3 2 H-Q 2 D-10 9 8 C-A 8 6 5 Bid four spades.
4. S-3 2 H-J 7 D-K 8 7 6 2 C-10 8 6 5 Bid two diamonds. This asks partner to bid out. You are probably in trouble.
5. S-3 2 H-4 3 D-9 8 C-Q J 10 9 8 5 4 Pass. You won't be hurt here.
6. S-Q 3 2 H-K 7 5 D-10 9 8 7 C-A 6 5 Bid two notrump. You are willing to have partner play three of his better major even if he has a minimum. He can bid game with a really good Landy hand or he can invite game by bidding a minor singleton if he wishes to pass the buck to you.

There are also uses for three-club and diamond responses to Landy. They are too complicated for any but really well-developed expert partnerships and we don't want to bother you with them. (NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.)

Hospital Auxiliary "Decks The Halls;" Brings Cheer To Patients, Employees

Some weeks ago, the project committee of D. M. Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary determined that if one must be in the hospital during the Christmas holidays, then the auxiliary might make the stay a little more pleasant with holiday decorations throughout the building.

Basic supplies were purchased, then the fun began assembling the decorations and putting them together in a colorful display of holiday cheer. The volunteers put in many hours of work into their decorations.

Visitors or patients in the hospital will notice the colorful wreaths, reindeer and sleighs, candy canes, centerpieces for the employees dining room tables, small individual Christmas trees in some patient's rooms and conference room and decorations on the door of each patient's room. Other decorations include two large Christmas trees, one in the employee's dining room and one in the front lobby.

Most of the decorations are traditional, but the volunteers used rattan or wooden shingles as a base for some of the decorations for a unique design.

Leftover decorations will be finished and sold in the auxiliary's gift shop.

 QUECHEE, Vt. (AP) — drought in the East, are showing signs of making a comeback. Fred Andresen, president of Skiers are becoming more value-oriented, and are spurning dated, high-fashion garments in favor of more classically-styled, durable and functional skiwear."

Biological Clock Dictates Sleep

NEW YORK (AP) — Airliner pilots, nurses and others who work irregular hours may have trouble getting enough sleep because they go to bed at the wrong time. Researchers say a biological clock dictates sleep according to body temperature. People who work irregular hours may find it impossible to get enough sleep because they do not go to sleep at the proper point in their biological cycle. Also, someone who has gone for long periods without sleep does not sleep extra hours to "catch up," but can sleep a normal length of time by going to sleep at the beginning of the cycle, when the temperature is low. The research, reported in the journal Science, is being conducted at the laboratory for human chronophysics at Montefiore Hospital, and Albert Einstein College of Medicine, New York, the sleep research center at Stanford University School of Medicine and Harvard Medical School.

"These findings," the researchers said, "have major implications for understanding the timing of human sleep and may also help explain the sleep-wake patterns in shift workers and in certain clinical sleep disorders."

Details of the research findings have been forwarded to the Federal Aviation Administration with recommendations that they be considered in flight crew scheduling, according to Dr. Charles A. Czeisler of Stanford, a sleep physiologist working with biological clocks.

"The length of time we sleep depends on when we go to sleep in relation to the rising point on the temperature cycle," Czeisler said, referring to the cycle of from about 97 to 99 degrees. "The time we sleep is not so much the need for sleep, but when we go to sleep."

The shift worker who works all night and then tries to go to sleep at 11 a.m. may not sleep well because his biological clock is on the upswing, trying to wake him up.
