Ask Us

Q—Why is the curfew Snyder has been talking about not gone into effect yet?

A—City officials are considering ways to curb juvenile crime, but a curfew has never been formally proposed to the council. It would be something that could be considered — presumably after a lot of research and thought — and then formal action would have to be taken with regards to a city ordinance.

Activities planned throughout the day around city square

With the hopeful compliance of Ol' Man Weather, Scurry County and area visitors will enjoy a day of entertainment here Saturday.

It's time for the White Buffalo Days Festival and the long-awaited unveiling of the new white buffalo statue downtown.

White Buffalo Days commemorates the shooting of a rare white buffalo by J. Wright Moorar near Snyder in 1876.

The celebration is to begin at 10 o'clock with a "Parade of History," beginning at Varsity Square shopping center and winding around the courthouse square. Indians, a black powder brigade members of the 4th Cavalry on horseback, floats and bands make up just a part of the participants expected in the parade, which include Grand Marshal Judy Hays, granddaughter of J. Wright Moorar.

Food booths and arts and crafts booths will also open at 10 o'clock and remain open throughout the day.

With 11 o'clock comes the unveiling of the buffalo statue, created by Dr. Robert Taylor, Lubbock artist and former Snyder resident.

Dr. Taylor, well-known Texas personality Tumbleweed Smith, Mrs. Hays and local dignitaries will take part in the unveiling. Immediately afterward, a group of Indians will perform a ceremony to "bless" the ground.

Bruce Boren and Franklin Pruitt will speak briefly on the history of the buffalo and Scurry County. Boren, longtime former chairman of the Scurry County Historical Commission, was largely responsible for placing the first white buffalo statue on the square. Pruitt, a local history buff, was a long-time teacher at Snyder High School and Western Texas College.

Entertainment will begin at 1 p.m. with the Cowboy Chautauqua Company performing cowboy poetry, music and story telling in the Ritz Theatre. The troupe will perform again at 4 p.m.

A variety of poets and musicians from throughout Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will perform throughout the day in a tent which will be set up on the square.

A "living history" group of black powder enthusiasts will be camped on 26th Street near the Hair Station throughout the day, performing pioneer tasks. Also, the 4th Cavalry will be camped along Deep Creek behind Mail Center Plus. Both groups will give various exhibitions.

Well-known wildlife photographer and author Wyman Meinzer of Benjamin will present a slide show, "The Great Buffalo Hunts," at 3:15 p.m. in the Ritz.

Visitors can view a display of handmade quilts as well as the gold DeLorean automobile in the lobby of Snyder National Bank. The vehicle is one of only two in existence. Shops around the square will also be displaying historical themes.

The annual Snyder Chamber of Commerce banquet will begin at 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church multi-purpose center. The come-as-you-are banquet will feature Dr. Taylor and Meinzer as guest speakers. Annual chamber awards will also be presented.

A street dance begins on the south side of the square at 7 p.m. Weather forecasts call for possible showers and thunderstorms throughout the day Saturday.

The history of Saturday's celebration and unveiling ceremony dates to the 1870s. On Oct. 7, 1876, Moorar and his buffalo hunting party set up camp on Deep Creek about 10 miles northwest of Snyder. Moorar's wagons were said to have been the first to make tracks in Scurry County.

Just before sundown, Moorar saw a rare white buffalo in the midst of a small herd of buffalo. He killed the animal with one shot and saved the hide, which is now preserved in the home of Judy and S.D. Hays.

Chamber event to recognize outstanding local individuals

After a day of festivities in which the white buffalo is honored, Scurry County residents will get a chance to honor some of their own Saturday at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet.

The "come-as-you-are" event is scheduled for 6 p.m. in the First Baptist Church multi-purpose center, a block off the city square. A steak dinner is included. Tickets are $10 each and still available at the chamber office. Tickets will not be sold at the door.

Highlighting the event will be presentation of the McLaughlin Award, recognizing significant contribution to the oil industry; the Winson Award, rewarding achievement in agriculture; the Sizemore Award, presented to the top Goldcoater; the Vestal Award, recognizing significant contributions to the total development of Snyder; and the Educational Excellence Award, recognizing lifetime achievement in the field of teaching.

Entertainment will be provided by Dr. Robert Taylor, the artist who crafted the bronze buffalo which will be unveiled on the courthouse square earlier in the day, and by acclaimed photographer and author Wyman Meinzer, who will show "The Great Buffalo Hunts."

Dr. Harry Krenek, Western Texas College president, will give the welcome. Chamber President Pearlene Stewart-Nolan will speak on behalf of the chamber, and Chamber President-Elect Daryl Thomas will give closing remarks.

Cult leader entered chalet before deaths

GRANGES-SUR-SALVAN, Switzerland (AP) — The leader of a cult was at his chalet in Switzerland hours before some of his followers died there in what investigators said today may have been murder, not mass suicide.

An investigating judge said Luc Jouret and another leader of the Order of the Solar Tradition had to get a locksmith to let them into the chalet Tuesday.

The same day he bought garbage bags from a grocery store near the chalet, the store's owner said today. Lydie Revaz said Jouret bought two packets of bags typically containing about 15 to 20 bags each.

Early the next morning, the chalet and three other buildings went up in flames. Forty-eight cult members were found dead in the rubble, some with their hands bound and plastic bags tied around their heads.

Three more bodies, including that of a child behind a water heater with a plastic bag over his head, were discovered in Canada Thursday in a house owned by Jouret north of Montreal. Two charred bodies had been found earlier at the house, which was destroyed in a fire Tuesday.

The fire was set by remote control in the same manner as the fires that the next day razed a farmhouse in Cheiry, Switzerland, and three ski chalets 45 miles away in Granges-sur-Salvan.

Police said they suspect the first two bodies found in Canada were suicides. The couple was alive when the fire started and doors to the duplex had been barred, police said.

But they believe the other three people were killed. "We still haven't determined how they died, but we're sure they were murdered," said police Constable Mi-

The feller on Deep Creek says, "People react differently to alarm clocks. Some rise and shine while others rise and whine."

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Back in 1989, Kevin Tate was a senior at Snyder High School.

Tate, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Tate Jr., went on to Abilene Christian University and last spring earned his bachelor of science degree in industrial technology.

Tate, who's father is president of Snyder Savings and Loan Association, is the new city manager in Roscoe. Roscoe has a new water tower project underway and is working to bring the water system up to state standards.

Speaking of city government problems, the Rotan Advance reports that the city of Rotan borrowed $50,000 to pay past due bills.

And good things do still happen, as reported in the Levelland News-Press.

Jim Allison, superintendent of the Smyer School District, went to see Dr. Howard McIlroy in Lubbock for a pinched nerve Allison sustained while working out in the high school's weight room.

McIlroy told the superintendent that he would soon be moving to a smaller office and needed to sell a room full of Nautilus exercise equipment.

Allison said he would present the half-price proposal to the school board despite an already tight budget. The board determined funds just weren't available.

The school chief then got a call from the doctor's wife. Before he could explain about budget constraints, she informed him the school would only be out the cost of moving the equipment.

Thanks to a pinched nerve and the gift, the small Hockley County school probably has the best-equipped weight room in the state.

The superintendent says he's "almost" grateful for the pinched nerve.

Calvary Baptist sets Missions Conference

Calvary Baptist Church is hosting a Missions Conference this Saturday and Sunday, featuring a Central American style banquet Saturday evening at 7 p.m.

The program will include the Ronnie Warren Family Singers and Larry Boggs, missionary to Guatemala, as well as the Calvary Baptist High School Skit Team led by Steve Highfield, music and youth director, and his wife, Stephanie.

An authentic Central American style meal will be provided in the church fellowship hall. This year's theme is "His last command, our first concern."

Sunday is the church's annual "Missions Sunday." The Warren Family, a southern gospel group, will be in concert beginning at 9:45 a.m. in the church auditorium which is located at 2405 35th St. The morning service will feature Ronnie Warren speaking and special music with a missions theme.

Since its beginning in 1950, Calvary Baptist has believed that the right arm of the church should be missions, according to Larry McAden, pastor since 1979.

The church supports numerous missions projects worldwide directly each month and is planning a missions trip to Costa Rica in January.

The public is invited to attend each of these services. For information, call the church at 573-2191.

Gun labels required

ATLANTA (AP) — Smoking guns can be hazardous to your health.

That's why all guns sold in Georgia's biggest county soon will carry warning labels similar to the ones on cigarette packs. "We're not telling citizens whether or not they can buy a gun, but bringing up the seriousness of guns," said Fulton County Commissioner John O'Callaghan.

County commissioners unanimously approved an ordinance Wednesday requiring guns to carry a label warning that a gun in the house increases the likelihood that the gun owner or a relative will be killed.

The label also includes safety tips, and gun dealers must display two posters with similar information.

The law is the first of its kind in the nation, according to Paul Blackman of the National Rifle Association in Washington. It takes effect Nov. 1 and covers 260 stores in Atlanta and outlying parts of Fulton County, which has a population of 670,000.

O'Callaghan, who sponsored the measure, noted that Fulton County had 229 gun-related deaths last year.

"People aren't taking the message seriously," he said. "To say the public is fully informed is the wrong assumption. If people were fully informed, we wouldn't have 229 deaths in Fulton County."

But Erich Pratt, director of government affairs for the Springfield, Va.-based Gun Owners of America, said a warning label should also note the benefits. He said the ordinance is just another move toward outlawing firearms.

Allergies may trigger sinusitis

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm a 38-year-old woman in excellent health, with the exception of suffering from chronic sinusitis. I've tried eliminating various foods from my diet, with no obvious results. I'm sensitive to mold, dust and pollen. I've also noticed a consistent pattern coinciding with my menstrual cycle. During the week of my period and the week following, my sinusitis is severe. This is followed by two weeks of freedom from pain and pressure, only to repeat again. What's going on?

DEAR READER: Your sinus infection may be closely related to your allergies to mold, dust and pollen. Such allergies are often associated with congestion that prevents the sinuses from draining properly. Infection can follow, requiring antibiotics.

Therefore, to address the problem of your chronic sinusitis, you should seek an allergist. After appropriate blood and/or skin testing, the specialist will suggest therapy — usually, a program of environmental controls in conjunction with prescription nose sprays and anti-histamines and, perhaps, desensitization injections. I do not understand the relation between your symptoms and your menstrual cycles. Maybe the allergist can shed some light on this as well.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm on Xanax under my doctor's direction. Can I get off this medication without his help? I really don't want medication to be part of my daily regimen.

DEAR READER: With your doctor's approval, you can safely wean yourself off Xanax, an anti-anxiety drug that is appropriate only for short-term use. (Prolonged use of Xanax has been reported to affect memory and cause other side effects.)

I recommend reducing the dose by one tablet a week. Once you're down to one or two Xanax pills a week, you can stop altogether. This is merely a suggestion. I've patients who abruptly stopped taking Xanax without ill effects.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Consumer Tips on Medicines." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Our dear friends, in their early 70s, take hands full of vitamins at each meal. I don't know the amount, nor I know what they are. My problem is that they have a distinctive odor about them, despite the fact that they bathe every day and are otherwise clean. Could the excess vitamins contribute to the odor they both have?

DEAR READER: Many metabolic reactions can alter body odor, the most common being kidney failure that imparts a distinctive aroma to the breath and sweat. Many vitamins, especially in large doses, can do this, too.

This doesn't necessarily indicate a problem, but it probably reflects the fact they are over-dosing on vitamins.

Changes for the better are probable for the year ahead where your work or career is concerned. Several influential benefactors might start helping you from behind the scenes.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Try to attend to your duties as promptly as possible today. As time ticks on, your drive and industriousness tends to wane and you could leave several unfinished endeavors in your wake. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today if you do something social with friends where each has to pay for their participation, don't volunteer to be the treasurer. It could end up being very hard on your purse.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Things you do not personally initiate today aren't apt to get your full support. Instead of being cooperative, you might be contrary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's important you have the courage of your convictions today and stand up for your own ideas. They might be challenged by others, so be prepared to have the fortitude to defend them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Where your financial affairs are concerned today, there's a chance you might experience some discomfort, especially if you are involved with close friends.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Challenging developments might not bring out your better qualities today. Even though you'll be capable of overcoming obstacles, you might still toss in the towel prematurely.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) There are indications today that you might place too much significance on getting approval from others. This might impel you to try so hard, you miss.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) In matters that affect you financially, it might be wise to keep outsiders out of your affairs today. Their interference could create complications.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) A major objective is reachable today if you act in the first person. Allies or associates could hamper your progress instead of helping it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You might have some difficulty today keeping your priorities in order. You'll be much more easily motivated to do nonessential things than you will be to be productive.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Trying to mix business with pleasure could be an unsuccessful blend today. Either do one thing or the other, but don't attempt to do them simultaneously.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Persons with whom you're involved today may make decisions for you if you're reluctant to do so for yourself. What they decide might be good for them, but not necessarily for you.

Paraplegic describes beating

GLENSHAW, Pa. (AP) — Calvin Puakiz remembers his roommate knocking him out of his wheelchair with a vicious blow from a claw hammer, and every detail of the hour-long struggle that followed.

The paraplegic remembers the slight curve of the hammer, even the colors of the purple vase that sliced his skin and the red tire pump that broke in half over his head.

"I see it still," Puakiz said of the pump at his roommate's preliminary hearing Thursday. "When I shut my eyes, it's there."

A sobbing Puakiz testified that Richard Miller also attacked him Sept. 9 with a metal strongbox, metal rod, lamp and wrench, stabbed him with two butcher knives and tried to strangle him with an extension cord.

Miller, 31, was ordered to stand trial on charges of attempted murder, aggravated assault and reckless endangerment. No trial date was set.

The two men were friends before Miller went to prison for assault. Miller was out on probation in May when Puakiz offered him a place to stay.

Puakiz, 28, testified that he was attacked as he was counting money in his bedroom. He said he had refused to lend Miller money earlier in the day.

Puakiz, who has deep scars crisscrossing his face at wild angles, testified that Miller stopped to rest twice during the battle. Puakiz said he couldn't leave the room and begged Miller to stop.

"He just kept saying he had to do it," Puakiz said. "I kept saying, 'Help me. Help me.' But he just kept beating on me, beating on me and beating on me."

He finally escaped after convincing Miller someone was at the door. Puakiz crawled to the front door, where he said his Rottweiler locked his jaws on his clothes, tugged him to the top of the driveway and began licking the blood off his face.

Puakiz rolled his body down the driveway to a busy road, where he was found by a driver who happened to be an acquaintance.

Police found Miller lying in the yard. Police said when they asked if he was injured, he said he was having trouble breathing because he had been smoking crack cocaine all evening.

Puakiz suffered a concussion, head injuries and his nose and cheekbone were broken. He got more than 80 stitches and a metal plate was implanted in his face.

Dear Abby

Political Opposites Can Find Common Ground in Tolerance

DEAR ABBY: You recently told "Fighting in Connecticut" that her family is unusual because she is a Democrat and her husband is a registered Republican. Well, my husband and I are in the same boat. Not only that, my mother was a staunch Nixon supporter, and my father a gung-ho Kennedy man from New Hampshire. Up until she died, my mother wore her "I married a damned Democrat" button to the polls, and my father wore his "I married a damned Republican" button. In fact, when my father ran for township committee, my mother couldn't even vote for her own husband in the primaries!

Because of our differences, our two daughters get to hear both sides of nearly every issue; we tolerate each other's differences, and have learned the fine art of compromise.

This Protestant converted to Catholicism so we could all worship together.

My traditional husband now understands the issues of homosexuality better and has given up eating veal. I have learned to be responsible for my own checkbook, quit smoking, discovered the truly great music of Tony Bennett and Michael Feinstein, and have learned to keep my mouth shut.

Some people think we are a crazy couple, but our 15-year-old happy marriage is built on tolerance of our differences, and the integrity to stand up for what we believe in. Neither of us will probably ever change our stance on abortion or ERA, but we never attack each other personally. Sign me...

TOLERANT IN NEW JERSEY

P.S. In the last presidential election, my father voted for Ross Perot, and we're still on speaking terms. How about that, Abby?

DEAR TOLERANT: I think you are a tremendously intelligent family. Congratulations!

DEAR ABBY: Recently, my husband and I moved to my husband's homeland to be with his mother who has been diagnosed with emphysema and deteriorating lungs. Last March, the doctor's prognosis was that she would die within a matter of months. We decided to be with her and the family in this time of crisis.

Our problem is that she is still smoking cigarettes and is not using her oxygen as often as she should. She is constantly wheezing and short of breath. After many years of working, her doctor told her to quit her job, so now she's home all day, and all she talks about is dying. Abby, if she is so worried about dying, why is she still smoking?

She has five wonderful grandchildren to watch grow up, and my husband and I would like her to be around when we have children. I feel like I'm hitting my head against a brick wall whenever I try to talk to her and give her words of encouragement. She refuses to go to another doctor for a second opinion.

Abby, what can the family and I do to help her see the light? Hopefully, if she reads this letter in the paper, she will understand what we are going through.

CONCERNED DAUGHTER-IN-LAW

DEAR CONCERNED DAUGHTER-IN-LAW: Your mother-in-law has probably not stopped smoking because she is hopelessly addicted to cigarettes and feels that because she is terminal, it's useless to fight a battle she has been told she will lose soon anyway. Smoking is an addiction — not a character flaw.

Your suggestion that she seek a second opinion was excellent. No one should accept a death sentence without seeking a second opinion — or even a third. Your husband and the other members of the family should schedule an appointment for "Mom," and insist that she keep it.

For everything you need to know about wedding planning, order "How to Have a Lovely Wedding." Send a business-sized, self-addressed envelope, plus check or money order for $3.95 ($4.50 in Canada) to: Dear Abby, Wedding Booklet, P.O. Box 447, Mount Morris, Ill. 61054-0447. (Postage is included.)

Cases re-examined

DALLAS (AP) — County prosecutors are reviewing every criminal case that critics say were rejected "for no apparent reason" last spring by a grand jury whose foreman was former Dallas City Council member Al Lipscomb.

First Assistant District Attorney Norman Kinne said complaints from police and Dallas County prosecutors prompted the review of more than 400 cases.

However, Lipscomb and Joyce Ann Brown, the assistant forewoman, said prosecutors didn't respect the panel's decision because Lipscomb and Ms. Brown are both outspoken and black.

"I hate to use the word racism, because it's overused, and some of us have become immune to it. But that's what it is," Lipscomb said.

District Attorney John Vance dismissed the racism charge.

"It doesn't surprise me that he says that, because he and some other black leaders in this county think everything revolves around race," Vance said.

Kinne said he couldn't recall the specific complaints that led to the review, but said leaders had a duty to look into the cases. He said 86 of the cases have been presented to a new grand jury, and that prosecutors won indictments on 77 of them.

Kinne said a third of the 69 cases indicted as felonies already have pleaded guilty.

"It's still grand jury shopping, any way you look at it," Ms. Brown said. "They want a rubber stamp."

Lezar makes Bullock's health an issue

AUSTIN (AP) — After Republican challenger Tex Lezar raised questions about Democratic Lt. Gov. Bob Bullock's health, the 65-year-old incumbent responded by canceling all campaign events and vowing to ignore Lezar through the November election.

"I am hereby officially ignoring my opponent for the rest of the campaign. No joint appearances, no debates, no nothing," said Bullock, who is recovering from heart bypass surgery on Sept. 16.

"I am also canceling all campaign events between now and November. I will follow my doctors' orders and rest so that I fully recuperate."

Lezar responded, "Bob Bullock must be seriously ill for him to refuse to face the voters of Texas. The people of Texas have a right to know if he is physically incapacitated. I urge (the release of) ... his full medical records so the public will know his true physical condition."

Bullock's campaign said no medical records will be released.

Although Bullock won't be seen stumping across the state, he will be all over the television screen. Bullock already is running his third ad and will air at least two more before the election, according to campaign spokesman Jim Warren.

"You'll see him," said Warren, adding that Bullock may air as many as four new ads.

The furor began Wednesday after The Associated Press reported that Bullock was planning to have state Sen. John Montford, D-Lubbock, stand in for him in a debate with Lezar that was scheduled to be taped by KERA-TV in Dallas on Oct. 17.

Lezar said the substitution raised questions about Bullock's ability to serve and called on him to turn over his health records.

"If he is physically unable to debate, then he must be physically unable to do any campaigning or to perform the job as lieutenant governor," Lezar said. "The Bullock campaign has not been forthcoming with his medical records. Why? Are they hiding the severity of his incapacitation?"

Bullock, who has now canceled that debate as well as a few meetings with newspaper editorial boards and a couple of fundraising appearances, said Lezar's comments are "a total lie" and "terribly irresponsible."

"I hope the public recognizes his remarks as an act of desperation on the part of a failing, underfunded candidate who is 40 points behind," Bullock said.

A recent poll by The Houston Post showed Bullock leading Lezar 46.4 percent to 6.5 percent. The poll had a margin of error of 3.5 percent.

Doctors say Bullock underwent three hours of heart bypass surgery last month following routine tests, not because of a heart attack or some other emergency.

"Bob Bullock has had an excellent recovery since his heart surgery less than three weeks ago," said Dr. Kent Beasley, Bullock's personal physician. "He is healthy, fit, and on the road to a full and complete recovery. But ... I have instructed (Lieutenant) Governor Bullock to stay at home for the rest of the month."

Bullock has a history of health problems. He was hospitalized in 1972 for a kidney disorder.

A building block for thought "Thinking About IMPs" by John Boeder is an unusual book ($15.95, Baron Barclay, 800-274-2221). The author discusses all aspects of team play, presenting a lot of problem areas but offering only a few solutions. The subject matter is best used by a serious partnership who wish to improve their imp play through the formation of agreements. Remember, any agreement is better than none.

In this deal, which occurred during the 1983 Bermuda Bowl semifinals, two pairs stopped in game and two went on to six hearts. The slam would be reasonable if either player held the heart 10. In the given auction, three hearts was game-forcing, of course. Then I think South overbid by cue-bidding his club ace. A quiet four hearts looks sufficient.

Did the slams make because of the magic trump position? Declarer wins the first trick in the dummy and plays a heart to the 10, jack and queen. A second spade is won in the dummy and another trump picks up East's king. South ruffs a club in the dummy, returns to hand with a ruff, draws West's last trump and claims.

That might happen in a club game, but not in a world championship. All four Easts played the heart king on the first round from the dummy, forcing declarer to win with the ace. Now no declarer won 12 tricks (as he hadn't seen West's hand). If he ruffed a club in the dummy, East overruffed. If instead he entered dummy for a second trump play, West won with the queen and returned his last trump, killing the club ruff.

Tigers' playoff race starts tonight against Levelland

Snyder hopes to find solution to strong Lobo defense

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

Oh, what a difference a year makes.

Last year, the Levelland Lobos went through a rebuilding stage on their way to a 2-8 record (1-4 in district) and Snyder, hobbled by injuries, managed to make it over the .500 mark at 6-4 (2-3).

When Snyder and Levelland got together at Tiger Stadium, the Tigers exploded for 14 points in the fourth quarter on the way to a 14-0 shutout.

This year, both Lobo head coach Tom Ramsey and Tiger head coach David Baugh have switched from a one back offense to a multiple-I in the hopes of boosting their team's offensive output.

In both instances, the switch has worked.

Levelland boasts an impressive 4-1 record, with their only loss coming against Canyon Randall two weeks ago.

The good news for the Lobos is that they have finally found an offense to complement their always powerful defense.

Seniors Jason Thoms (5-11, 165) and James Fortner (5-8, 145) are the one-two punch the Lobos have lacked in past seasons.

Thoms, the Lobo quarterback, has done everything Coach Ramsey has asked of him this year.

"He's (Thoms) one of those kids that can run the option and throw the ball with accuracy," he said. "It is not that often that you can get that package in one kid."

Thoms received similar praise from Coach Baugh, who says the senior quarterback "has matured over the past year."

"He makes them go," he said. "If you can stop him, you stop a quarter of their offensive attack."

"I didn't think he was that good last year. He's a lot better now that he is a year older. Another thing that hurt his performance last year was that he didn't have any running plays. This year they (Levelland) have designed running plays especially for him, like the option, sprint out and the bootleg."

Coach Baugh also believes the Lobo running game is in good hands with Fortner at tailback.

"He's (Fortner) not very big, but he's really fast," he said.

Levelland will be the first option oriented offense that the Tigers have faced this year.

"We have to play assignment football against an option team," Baugh said. "Someone has to take the quarterback and the running back on every play."

"We've always been pretty good at stopping option teams, but with his speed (Fortner) the game will come down to which team executes. Any missed tackles on our part can turn into big yards."

Defensively, the Lobos run a 6-2, which means that on every down, eight players are within five yards of the line of scrimmage.

The 6-2 is designed to stop the run and force the opposition to pass the football.

Coach Baugh hopes that his team can force Levelland to get out of the 6-2 and spread out.

"You have to do things differently against the six two," he said. "Up front there are a few different blocking schemes, that we have been working on."

"We must be able to throw the ball in order to keep their defense honest. We'll also try to make them adjust to different formations and switch out of the eight man front."

"We might run some one back sets and split more people out," Baugh continued. "If they adjust to our different formations, we'll get them out of what they want to do."

If the Tigers are able to execute Coach Baugh's game plan, they can start district play with a win.

"The first district game is always very important," Baugh said. "We want to get started off on the right foot."

"If you lose the first district game your team plays the rest of the season with their backs to the wall."

Good news for the Tigers came this week when senior Adrian Salazar reported back to the team to increase the depth at offensive tackle. Unfortunately, for Snyder, junior offensive tackle Donny Durst will sit this week's game out. Durst, who continues to contribute more to the team each week, strained muscles in his neck in last week's game against Kermit.

This year's Levelland and Snyder contest, which kicks off tonight at 7:30 at Levelland's Lobo Stadium could set a precedent of what Tiger fans will witness the remainder of the 1994 season.

SJHS gridders split with Mustangs

Running back Cheyenne Robinson carried the football seven times for 65 yards, including a touchdown late in the fourth quarter, but it was not enough as the Snyder Junior High eighth grade "Gold" team fell to Sweetwater 22-8.

Sweetwater led the game at halftime 14-0 and continued to play well in the second half.

Juan Arizmendi had 35 yards on seven carries and Jacob Hodges had caught Justin McNair's pass to complete the two-point conversion after Robinson's touchdown.

Defensively, Arizmendi knocked down two passes from his safety spot and nose guard Jeff Cervantez and defensive end Cory Mandrell played tough against the run throughout the game.

The eighth grade "Black" team won their game against the Sweetwater Mustangs 8-6.

Running back David Herrera was the workhorse for Snyder as he ran the ball 11 times for 28 tough yards, including a touchdown and the two-point conversion.

Banks Alexander also had a good night offensively as he accounted for 74 total yards, 45 rushing and 29 receiving.

Quarterback Andy Parker finished the game with five receptions for 35 yards.

Defensive tackles Aaron Stansell and Nick Barboza, along with nose guard Clint Hook, solidified the Tiger run defense.

Sweetwater scored its touchdown late in the fourth quarter and had a chance to tie the game with a two-point conversion, but the pass went incomplete.

In seventh grade action, the "White" team improved their record to 3-2 on the year with a 20-6 win over Sweetwater.

The Mustangs started off the game by returning the opening kickoff for a touchdown, however they were unable to get into the endzone again as the Snyder defense swarmed the Sweetwater running backs.

Sweetwater was only able to muster one first down in the entire game.

"They (Sweetwater) had some real big running backs," Junior high coach Matt Glenn said. "Our defense looked like a bunch of wasps tackling those guys."

"Our kids did a real good job on defense. It was definitely a total defensive effort."

Offensively, the Tigers were led by tailback Brady Hackfield who had 79 yards rushing including two touchdowns and a two point conversion.

Isidro Villisana had 48 yards rushing on the night.

Quarterback Sonny Cumbie had a good game as well, throwing for 139 yards and rushing for a touchdown.

Coach Glenn credited the Tiger offensive line for the superb offensive performance. Randy Green, Paul Camp, Kade Kubena, Chase McJimsey and Zak Bilano made up the "White" teams' offensive line.

Justin Phillips and Duane Allred also played well for the Tigers.

After starting the season 3-0, the seventh grade "B" team dropped their second straight game, losing to Sweetwater 6-0.

The Tigers could never get on track offensively, despite getting inside the Mustang 20 yard line four different times.

Junior high coaches commended the offensive effort by both Josh Ward and Justin Parker.

Defensively, Ashley Carpenter, a transfer linebacker, played a strong game for the "Black" team.

WTC rodeo teams off to good start at Alpine

ALPINE — Western Texas College is off to a good start at the Sul Ross State University rodeo.

Heading into today's events, WTC's Cleve Schmidt led the bareback bronc riding event with a 74 point score and Mandy Harsh is leading the breakaway roping event with a score of 3.3 seconds.

Chassity Rickman, from Hereford, is currently in third place with a 4.1 second time.

In the barrel racing event, Stephanie Anthony split second and third place with a time of 18.74.

"It went real good last night," WTC head coach Todd Danley said. "We are off to our best start yet."

"It looks to me like this might be our best rodeo of the semester."

Despite the fast start, Coach

Danley did have some reservations.

"I don't want to get ahead of myself, because we do have a lot more (rodeo) to go tonight and tomorrow morning," he said.

The WTC mens team for the Sul Ross rodeo is made up of Bronc Collier, a resident of Snyder, Pete Ellis, Shawn Minor, Todd Loesh, Cleve Schmidt and Davey Shields. Mandy Harsh, Chassity Rickman and Emily Schaffer make up WTC's women's team.

In other WTC rodeo news, J.J. Kincheloe, from Gail, broke his arm this week in practice. Kincheloe was working on his steer wrestling when the accident occurred. He will miss the remainder of the fall semester rodeos.

SWC teams hit the road

Tech, A&M travel to Houston, UT plays in Cotton Bowl

(AP) — Texas coach John Mackovic isn't seeking sympathy for the one-two punch delivered by the Longhorns' schedule.

The No. 15 Longhorns lost a last-second heartbreaker to No. 5 Colorado on Saturday and now they must be up for Saturday's annual grudge match with No. 16 Oklahoma.

"There are a lot of other teams in the country with tough schedules, too," Mackovic said.

Playing the rival Sooners may be just what the Longhorns need, since it gives them less time to sulk about the field goal that allowed the Buffaloes to escape with a 34-31 victory.

"Thank God it's OU," linebacker Kevin Watler said. "If it was anybody else, if it was SMU or Rice or another team after Colorado, it would be tough. With Oklahoma next, the level of play won't go down."

Texas' big concern is quarterback Shea Morenz, who is wearing a new knee brace to help the injury he suffered against Colorado.

James Brown would step in if Morenz is sidelined.

No. 10 Texas A&M (4-0, 1-0 Southwest Conference) will leave its 23-game home winning streak at Kyle Field and travel to the Astrodome where they've been very successful playing the Houston Cougars.

Texas Tech (2-3, 1-1) and Rice (1-2, 0-0) will start off Saturday's four-game schedule at noon in Rice Stadium, where Tech is a four-point favorite. Baylor (4-1, 1-0) hosts Southern Methodist (1-4, 0-1) with the Bears favored by 15 points.

Texas Christian (2-3, 0-2) is idle. The Horned Frogs next play Oct. 15 game at Tulane.

Rice had an off week to prepare for the Red Raiders and freshman quarterback Zebbie Lethridge.

"We've got to be ready for Texas Tech because they've done a solid job and played five games they had a chance to win," Rice coach Ken Hatfield said.

Area squads set for district play

The second season is now upon the local 11-man and six-man football teams.

With their non-district schedules completed, area teams jump into their district play.

In District 5-4A, the matchup of the week comes on Saturday when the Sweetwater Mustangs (4-1) travel to Lubbock to take on the Estacado Matadors (4-1).

Estacado is led by the number one ranked running back in the area, Tyson Gatewood. Gatewood leads the 4A ranks with 10 touchdowns and an average of 172 yards rushing per game.

Snyder travels to Levelland and the Lamesa Golden Tornados (3-2) face off against the Wolf-forth Frenship Tigers (4-1).

Frenship has the number one ranked offense among area 4A teams. The Tigers compile over 420 yards per game.

In District 6 six-man football, Highland (3-2) travels to Hermleigh to take on the defensive minded Cardinals. Hermleigh is allowing just 161 yards per contest. Hermleigh is also led by a strong offense made up of Chris Roemisch and Joey Sanchez.

Loraine (1-4) takes on Borden County (4-1) at Gail tonight.

Borden County is led by quarterback Kurt Hess. Hess, threw for 7 touchdowns in last week's win over Union.

The battle of the winless teams also takes place tonight at Westbrook. Ira (0-5) travels to take on the Wildcats (0-5) in a game where one team will get their first win of the year.

Buffalo sculptures to be sold at auction

The last of a series of Dr. Robert Taylor's small white buffalo sculptures will be sold at auction following the unveiling of the new buffalo on the square Saturday.

The auction is to be held immediately following the unveiling and the Indian ceremony. Also to be sold are a set of spurs and a bracelet crafted by Jimmy Wilson. The buffalo sculptures, spurs and bracelet are on display in the Snyder National Bank lobby. Going on sale for the first time Saturday will be silver-colored pewter replicas of the white buffalo. These are about two and one-half inches high on a hardwood base and are cast from an original by Taylor. Seventy-five of these are expected to be available for $96 each.

Honey-Dew Krafts, 1722 26th St., will have ceramic white buffaloes for sale.

BUFFALO SCULPTURE — Seventy-five silver-colored pewter buffalo sculptures like the one shown are on sale for $96 each. They are about 2½ inches high on a hardwood base and are cast from the original by Dr. Robert Taylor. (SDN Staff Photo)

Opposition says Iraq amassing troops near Kuwait border again

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Iraqi opposition groups say Saddam Hussein has again mobilized elite troops along the border with Kuwait while threatening to mount "a new confrontation against the outside world."

A leading dissident said the moves followed the suppression of an uprising in the Iraqi armed forces against Saddam.

But reports from the Iraq-Kuwait border did not suggest a buildup. "We don't have any information about massing troops at the border," said Besselin Kostov, a spokesman for the U.N. observer mission at the border.

Saad Jabr, chairman of the London-based Free Iraq Council, said that in the last few days a number of disgruntled officers, including several in the elite Republican Guard, rose against Saddam and were arrested.

It was unclear how many were

There was no immediate confirmation of the report. But details on past coup attempts provided by Jabr, the son of a former Iraqi prime minister, were later substantiated by other sources.

Iraq's August 1990 invasion and occupation of Kuwait triggered the Persian Gulf War, in which a U.S.-led coalition defeated Iraq and drove Saddam's forces from the small emirate.

In London, the British Foreign Office said it was following the reports and warned Baghdad: "Any action in contravention of U.N.

Security Council resolutions would be a grave error of judgment."

There was no immediate response from the U.S. State Department.

The opposition claim comes at a delicate time in international efforts to restrain Iraq from further aggression in the Gulf.

Baghdad warned Thursday it would prevent U.N. monitoring of its military facilities unless the Security Council eased its four-year ban on the sale of Iraqi oil.

The council convenes next week to discuss whether Iraq has complied with U.N. conditions to lift the embargo, which has devastated its economy by depriving the country of its main source of revenue.

RARE BUFFALO CALF — Miracle, a white buffalo calf, was born on the Keider farm near Janesville, Wis., in August. This photo was sent to Pauline Withers after she had read the Sept. 3 issue of the Arkansas Democrat Gazette while on a tour which stopped in Little Rock, Ark. She wrote to the Keiders and invited them to Snyder's White Buffalo Days. They could not come to the event, but sent her this photo and expressed hope to someday visit Snyder.

Poverty in America tops 39 million, the most since 1961

WASHINGTON (AP) — That old saying really is true: The rich are getting richer and the poor are getting poorer.

"The long-term trend in the U.S. has been toward increasing income inequality," Daniel H. Weinberg of the Census Bureau said Thursday, releasing an economic report that showed 39 million Americans in poverty, the most since 1961.

The study disclosed that the richest 20 percent of Americans earn 48.2 percent of all household income, a share that has grown from 42.8 percent over the last 25 years.

During the same quarter-century, the share earned by the poorest 20 percent slipped from 4.2 percent of all household income to 3.6 percent, the study said.

House Budget Committee Chairman Martin Olav Sabo, D-Minn., called for a "substantial" increase in the minimum wage "to address the continuing and shocking inequality of incomes in this country."

Labor Secretary Robert Reich termed the growing division between rich and poor a "very important and troubling trend."

"We have the most unequal distribution of income of any industrialized nation," said Reich. "The long-term solution is to give all Americans the education and skills they need to prosper."

"The new data indicate that in this decade, as in the 1980s, the gains of economic growth are not being broadly shared and are going mainly to the affluent," said Isaac Shapiro of the private Center on Budget and Policy Priorities.

The addition of 1.3 million people to the poverty rolls last year came as an unpleasant surprise to politicians who had expected a growing economy to help improve the lot of the poor.

"Clearly the poverty rate is a long-term problem in the economy that wasn't created overnight and can't be fixed overnight," said Gene Sperling, President Clinton's deputy assistant for economic policy.

Obituaries

Gene Gourley

1926-1994

RANGER — Services were set for 2 p.m. today in the Edwards Funeral Home Chapel for Gene Gourley, 68, who died Wednesday in an Eastland hospital. The Rev. James Upshaw was to officiate with burial to follow in the Evergreen Cemetery.

He was the brother of Sue Travis of Snyder.

Born in Eastland, Mr. Gourley attended Eastland High School and graduated from Ranger Junior College. He worked as a plumber for 46 years.

A U.S. Navy veteran, Mr. Gourley married Bettie Morris in 1970 in Mexico.

Survivors also include his wife, Bettie Gourley of the home; a son, Garlan Gourley of Eastland; three daughters, Lacey Gourley and Betsy Gourley, both of Austin, and Gena Gourley of Huntsville; one brother, Jack Gourley of Dallas; and one grandchild.

Rufus McCathern

1912-1994

PAMPA — Services for Rufus Levi McCathern, 82, are set for 2 p.m. Saturday at Grace Baptist Church with the Rev. Richard Coffman, pastor, officiating. Burial will follow in the Memory Gardens Cemetery under the direction of Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors.

Mr. McCathern, who died Thursday, was the father of Glenn McCathern of Snyder.

Born Feb. 24, 1912, in Sweetwater, Okla., he married Opal Anderson in 1934 in Erick, Okla. He was a farmer at Mobetie for 10 years before moving to Pampa in 1945. Mr. McCathern was a heavy equipment operator for 30 years and also worked as a school crossing guard. He was a member of the Grace Baptist Church for 20 years.

He was preceded in death by four brothers, Lowry McCathern, Wesley McCathern, Emmitt McCathern and T.J. McCathern; and two sisters, Carrie Whitely and Betsy Sanderson.

Survivors include his wife, Opal McCathern of the home; two daughters, Velda Jo Huddleston of Pampa and Velma Joyce Rhoades of Burleson; three other sons, Bennett McCathern of Humble, Neal McCathern and Derrell McCathern, both of Fort Worth; one brother, Andrew McCathern of Pampa; three sisters, Cleo Ferguson and Teba Pfeil, both of Pampa, and Gladys Myers of Exeter, Calif.; 21 grandchildren; 25 grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

The family suggests memorials to the Grace Baptist Church in Pampa.

chel Brunet. The family's car was found at a nearby airport in Mirabel, a town about 25 miles northwest of Montreal. Police said the killer apparently drove it there, then took an international flight, the destination of which was not clear.

It was not known if Joret, a Belgian doctor, was dead or alive. But officials issued international arrest warrants for him and Joseph di Mambro, the fellow cult leader that visited the chalet here Tuesday.

Another investigator in the case said evidence "clearly" indicates some of the victims in Switzerland were executed. He said 20 victims had bullet wounds in their heads and evidence indicates they could not have shot themselves.

"There was certainly another person who put several bullets into the heads of these victims," investigating judge Andre Piller said Thursday.

However, Piller said the bullets could have been a "coup de grace" intended to finish off victims who were still alive. No weapons were found near the bodies.

GOP HQ opens locally

Wilma Hogan, candidate for District 70 State Representative, was among the dignitaries visiting in Snyder Thursday for the official opening of the Scurry County Republican Party headquarters at 2517 College Ave.

She was accompanied by Republican State Chairman Tom Pauken, former gubernatorial candidate Clayton Williams and State Rep. Jerry Madden. Hogan spent the day discussing issues with the constituents of District 70 in the area.

"Wilma is the type of person we need in Austin. She's honest, committed and just what this district needs," said Pauken.

Cowboy poets, story tellers and musicians will perform

Cowboy poets, story tellers and musicians will perform during the day-long White Buffalo Festival, scheduled on the courthouse square Saturday.

For the first time in many years, Snyder will be hosting a chautauqua, as the Cowboy Chautauqua Company arrives to be part of the celebration.

Chautauqua weren't uncommon in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. They provided education and entertainment through lectures, concerts and plays.

Snyder had its first chautauqua in May, 1916, with performances in the City Park Auditorium. Performers included Schildkret's Hungarian Orchestra, Thaviu and His Band, a lecture by Gov. R.B. Glenn of North Carolina, and a big New York production of a play titled "The Melting Pot."

The Cowboy Chautauqua is a cooperative troupe of performers dedicated to preserving cowboy culture and western traditions. The show the company will present here, "Coolin' Down," is a 90-minute scripted, fast-moving presentation of traditional and contemporary cowboy poetry, music and story telling.

Phil Martin of Guymon, Okla., serves as narrator and does cowboy poetry. Other members of the company are Buck Ramsey, cowboy poet and singer from Amarillo; J.B. Allen, cowboy poet from Whiteface; Andy Wilkinson, cowboy folksinger from Lubbock; R.W. Hampton, cowboy balladeer from Stead, N.M., and Bill Larsen, cowboy poet from Kaycee, Wyo.

The Chautauqua Company will perform at 1 p.m. and again at 4 p.m. in the Ritz Theatre on the south side of the courthouse square.

Music will be going on around the square all afternoon. Performers will include Fletcher Jowers of Kilgore, the Mariachi Regional from Pecos, Jean Prescott of Abilene, Perry Williams of Lubbock and a group made up of Jackie Greene and J.D. Barham of Snyder and Valerie and Vince Moss of Dimmitt and members of the Chautauqua Company.

Also performing will be Bob Campbell of Kilgore, Blue Prairie of Lubbock, Sage Brush Sounds of Seminole, Cheryl Stanely LaLuz, N.M., Rusty Cox of Fredericksburg, Rick and Regina Brumley of Borger, Carl Eppers of Los Lunas, N.M., and Becky Patterson, the daughter of Hondo Crouch.

Trustees help get Ritz ready

Six members of Price Daniel Unit's MO Squad (Minimum Outs) spent this week getting the Ritz Theatre ready for Saturday's White Buffalo Days activities.

They include Jimmy Zapata, Gilbert Rodriguez, Laurence Snyder, Antonio Chavez, Donald Dunn and David Thomas.

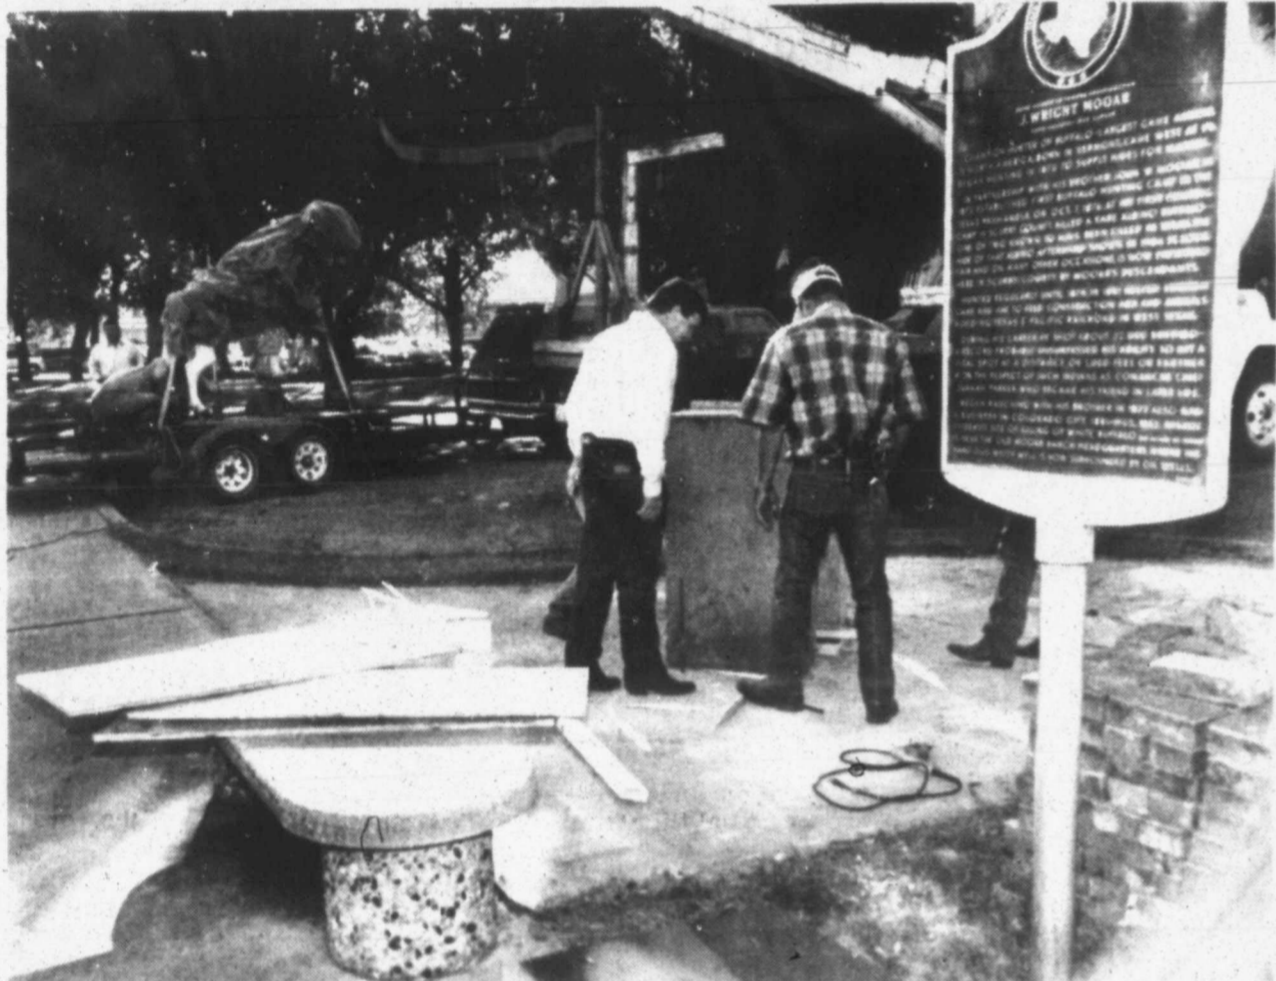

Work at the Ritz included "cleaning, straightening up and washing it down," said Chuck Briscoe, assistant warden. "We will do whatever it takes to get the job done, he said Wednesday morning.

The MO Squad is made up of a handful of carefully screened, approved and supervised PDU trustees who are allowed to take part in community projects, Briscoe explained.

Snyder's unit is in the process of expanding its MO Squad so that more trustees will be available to assist in additional community projects.

"We are trying to schedule projects one after the other because community involvement is a major goal of the unit," Briscoe said. "We appreciate the opportunity to be here," he added.

Parade of History to begin festivities

Indians, cowboys, historic artifacts and yes, even J. Wright Mooar will kickoff Saturday's White Buffalo Days Festival with a "Parade of History."

The parade will get underway about 10 a.m. from Varsity Square and proceed north on College Avenue to the courthouse square. Parade participants will turn right on 25th Street and right again on Avenue R, and disband at the First Presbyterian Church.

Judy Hays, granddaughter of J. Wright Mooar, will serve as grand marshal of the parade. Mooar, who shot the famed white buffalo in 1876, was marshal of Snyder's 1936 parade. His granddaughter rode beside him in that event.

Mooar died in 1940 but will be "reincarnated" on the "Parade of History" theme float Saturday.

Among the parade participants scheduled are Indians, Civil War reenactors, black powder groups, buggy clubs and car clubs from Lubbock, Abilene, Midland and Scurry County.

Representatives of the agriculture and oil-related industries will be represented.

Historic exhibits in the parade will include the first press in Snyder and a scale model of the first airplane. Bands, local dignitaries, businesses and politicians, walkers and clowns will all be on hand.

Ornament

A drawing of the white buffalo shot by J. Wright Mooar in 1876 is featured on the 1994 Christmas ornament commissioned by the Scurry County Museum.

This is the third year the museum has offered the special Christmas ornaments.

The new ornaments are bright blue with the lettering and image in white. The buffalo image is taken from the original bronze sculpture by Dr. Robert Taylor. They are priced at $10.

The ornaments are also on sale at the chamber of commerce and selected businesses.

For more information about the 1994 ornament, interested persons are invited to call the museum at 573-6107 or the chamber at 573-3558.

White Buffalo Festival...

Talents of Taylor, Meinzer and Smith to aid celebration

Dr. Robert Taylor, the artist who created the bronze buffalo statue to be unveiled here Saturday, will be meeting old friends when he comes to Snyder for the ceremonies.

Taylor is a former Snyder resident who now lives in Lubbock. He was a veterinarian and a friend of S.D. and Judy Hays before he became a full-time artist. One of his small white buffalo sculptures is in their collection of buffalo artifacts, a special interest of Mrs. Hays'. It was her grandfather, J. Wright Mooar, who shot the rare white buffalo near Snyder on Oct. 7, 1876.

Taylor's work reflects his love and knowledge of wildlife. He shares that interest with Wyman Meinzer, who will be presenting a slide show he has titled "The Great Buffalo Hunts." And Tumbleweed Smith, who will be making introductory remarks before the unveiling of the new bronze buffalo, looks forward to seeing both Taylor and Meinzer, whom he has met often before as he roves Texas looking for material for his "Sounds of Texas" radio program.

Taylor attended Tarleton State and graduated from Texas A&M University. He moved to Snyder in 1973. He had always been interested in bronze sculpture and began working at it as a hobby when he could find spare time. People in Snyder encouraged him, his wife, Audrey, commented; and about 1982 he began devoting all his time to sculpture.

The Taylors and their children, Britt and Tara, have lived in Lubbock for the past two years. His work is seen in galleries from coast to coast and he has been commissioned to do corporate work.

Meinzer and his wife, Sarah, and two sons, Hunter and Pate, live in the old Knox County Jail-house, a historical sandstone structure constructed in 1887. His photographs have been published in over 55 magazines including "National Wildlife," "Texas Parks and Wildlife," "Field and Stream" and "American Hunter" as well as "Texas Highways." In 1985 he was highlighted by "Sports Afield" as one of five top outdoor photographers in America.

Meinzer combined 115 color photographs with text for a 104-page book, "The Roadrunner," published by Texas Tech University Press in 1993. The book won the 1993 San Antonio Conservation Society Publication Award and was selected by The Birding Book Club. The Scurry County Historical Commission will have a few copies of the book for sale Saturday for those who would like to have a copy autographed by the author.

Tumbleweed Smith, whose real name is Bob Smith Lewis, began collecting oral histories of Texas in August of 1969 and has more Texas characters on tape than anyone else. He also does live shows, and he performed a one-man show at Western Texas College last march.

He began his radio series in Big Spring where he and his wife, Susan, still make their home. "Sounds of Texas" is one of the most widely syndicated radio shows in the state.

Tumbleweed Smith, Mrs. Hays and Taylor will be on the speaker's stand at 11 a.m. when the new white buffalo statue will be officially unveiled for the first time.

Following the unveiling, an Indian ceremony and exchange of gifts will take place near the buffalo statue.

Brud Boren and Franklin Pruitt will then speak informally. Boren, chairman of the Scurry County Historical Commission when the J. Wright Mooar marker was put in place, was largely responsible for placing the first white fiberglass buffalo replica on the square. He also knew Mooar. Pruitt, longtime teacher at Snyder High School and Western Texas College, is a Texas history buff.

About the buffalo

An American buffalo (bison) bull may weigh more than 2,000 pounds and stand over six-foot high.

The bison was the primary resource of the Plains Indians, furnishing, them with food, skins for shelter, bones for tools and other utensils, and dung for fuel.

More than 30 million prairie bison migrated throughout the Great Plains when the white settlers first arrived. The great bison herds moved northward in the spring and southward in late fall. The migrations covered up to 400 miles, in a roughly circular route. Routes were the same year after year and bison trails in some narrow places were worn as much as three feet deep. In open areas, after calves were strong enough in the spring to travel, the bulls ranged in an outer circle with the cows and calves inside.

White settlers were devastating to the bison. The roughly 30 million was reduced to only about 500 bison near the end of the last century.

It has been said that in this area, over one million buffalo were killed in a three-year span. Buffalo were plentiful in 1876 when J. Wright Mooar killed the white buffalo just a few miles from Snyder.

Special cancel to feature buffalo

Snyder Postmaster Steve Justice has announced the approval of a temporary postal station for the White Buffalo Festival here Saturday.

The station will be in operation from 10 a.m. until noon and will be located near the white buffalo statue. The station will have a selection of recent commemorative and other stamps for sale.

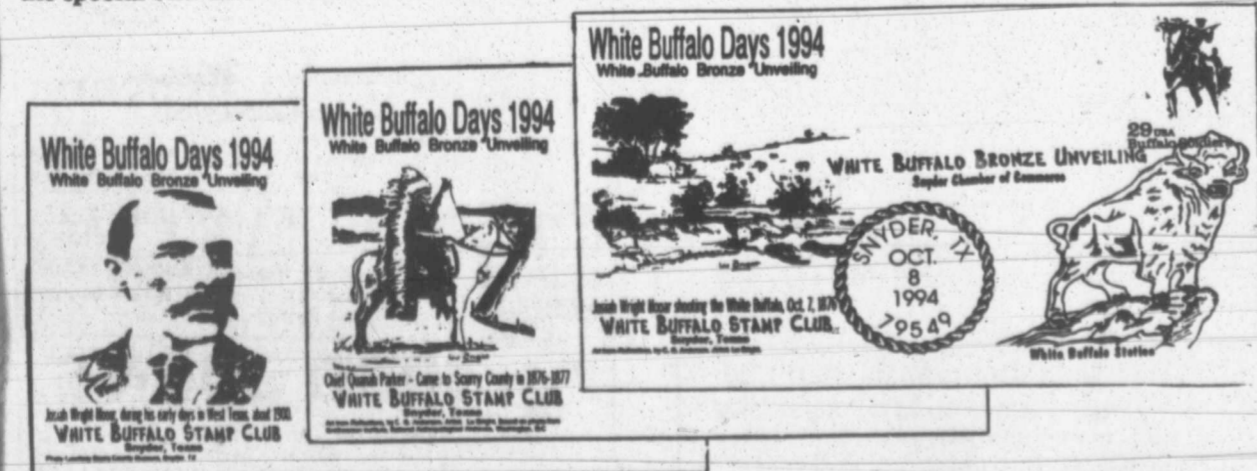

At the request of Snyder Chamber of Commerce, a special souvenir pictorial postmark has been approved for use at the station. The cancel features a line drawing of the new bronze white buffalo statue. Mail deposited at the post office booth will receive the special one-date cancel.

White Buffalo Festival visitors can send a souvenir post card or letter to friends and relatives or make their own souvenir by addressing it to themselves. Sufficient space should be left above the address and to the left of the stamp to receive the four-inch-wide by two-inch-high cancel. Envelopes or other items bearing at least 29 cents postage (19 cents on post cards) may also be submitted on a "hand back" basis.

Snyder's White Buffalo Stamp Club will also offer a set of three printed envelopes depicting related historical events for use with the USPS special pictorial cancel. One is illustrated with a photo of J. Wright Mooar. Two other envelopes have art work by artist and former Snyder resident Lu Bright. One envelope shows Chief Quana Parker and the other depicts J. Wright Mooar shooting the white buffalo.

Unstamped envelopes are 70 cents each, or three for $1.85. Envelopes franked with the 1994 Buffalo Soldier stamp and canceled with the White Buffalo Days pictorial cancel will be available for $1 each or 3 for $2.75. Stamp club members will be selling the envelopes near the postal station, or they may be ordered by mail from the White Buffalo Stamp Club, 3609 College Ave., Snyder, TX 79549.

THE LOWLY MULE

THE LOWLY MULE WAS HIGHLY PRIZED BY KINGS, WARRIORS AND THE POPULACE. IT WAS USED BY THE ISRAELITE MEN-OF-ARMS AS A RIDING ANIMAL WHEN GOING OUT TO MEET THE FOE. IN FACT THE FIRST MENTION OF A MULE IN THE BIBLE IS IN II SAMUEL (13:29) WHEN ABSALOM MURDERS HIS BROTHER AND ALL THE PRINCES AROSE, AND EVERY MAN GAT HIM UPON HIS MULE, AND FLED. THE NEXT MENTION OF THE MULE IS IN II SAMUEL (18:9) WHEN THE SAME ABSALOM GOES TO HIS DEATH RIDING UPON A MULE. FROM THE DAYS OF DAVID ONWARD WE FIND NUMEROUS REFERENCES TO THIS BEAST BUT NONE BEFORE.
