Dedication set for First Baptist Church Sanctuary

First Baptist Church will celebrate the completion of a 10-month renovation project Sunday with special morning worship service at 11 a.m., followed by an afternoon open house.

The focus of the project has been the complete remodeling and renovation of the church auditorium, constructed in 1951. However, the volunteer spirit generated by the project has branched into other areas of the church. As a result, the outside has been painted, the garden room refurbished and a general cleaning up of the grounds also took place. Cost of renovating and remodeling reached $530,000. Planning began four years ago, but no actual work was done until the church had paid for the multi-purpose building, completed in 1985.

Sunday's Dedication Service of Worship for the remodeled sanctuary will include Sunday School at 9:45 a.m., followed by worship services at 11 a.m.

T.O. Upshaw, chairman of the renovation committee, will give the invocation and the Rev. Marty Akins, pastor, will speak. Special hymns will be sung and music will be provided by Pam Smith, piano; Lynn Bethel, organ; and Kim Gorman, harp.

Other speakers will be Keith Mathies, Jack Gorman Jr., and Kim Gorman. Derald Lambert will give the benediction. Allen Hodges will give the Sunday School report and make announcements.

(First Baptist Church's renovation project will be showcased in Sunday's edition, including The Scurry County Folks Column.)

New directors welcomed...

DCOS okays budget

Housekeeping items, including approval of a budget for the 1994-95 fiscal year, were approved Thursday evening in a meeting of the Development Corporation of Snyder.

In addition to a budget totaling $103,625, plaques of appreciation were presented to two original directors who are going off the board, and two new appointees were welcomed.

Doug Hutchinson, DCOS executive director, presented plaques to Dan Cotton and Miller Robinson, who asked not to be reappointed.

At the Oct. 3 city council meeting, Mayor Paul Zeck nominated Jack Gorman Jr., senior vice president of Snyder National Bank, and David Holt, a former city councilman and president of Fluid Transports.

Directors named John Fagin, a former mayor, as chairman of the DCOS board. Other officers chosen in the reorganizational meeting were Roy Baze as vice president and Bill Seale as secretary. Seale served as president the past year.

Baze presided at Thursday's meeting in the absence of both Seale and Fagin.

Directors approved a budget which Hutchinson described as in Reservations are being taken for "The Cemetery Club," a Ritz Community Theatre production which begins next Friday.

Reservations can be made from 2-5 p.m. Monday through Friday through Oct. 28.

The comedy's run will begin Friday at 8 p.m. in North Elementary Auditorium. It will continue on Oct. 22 at 8 p.m. and Oct. 23 at 2:30 p.m.

It will be performed again the weekend of Oct. 28-30.

line with the partial year budget approved after Hutchinson was hired earlier this year.

The DCOS estimates that it will receive some $350,000 per year in sales tax revenues. Hutchinson said the percentage of total revenues to finance operations should decrease as the DCOS becomes successful in attracting new jobs.

Of the $103,625 budget, a total of $67,200 is for salaries and benefits of the executive director and secretary.

Other 'ne-items include $9,365 for insurance; $520 for cleaning services; $3,240 for equipment leases; $14,500 for office supplies; $800 for memberships and subscriptions; and $6,500 for promotion.

Meeting in a briefing session with the board was J.B. Tate Jr., president of Golden Terrace Village board. Tate said funding for a senior citizens housing complex near the hospital has been approved by the Farmers Home Administration, however construction bids have come in substantially over budget.

Tate told board members that the project remains viable and that efforts are underway to bring the project within budget. Last year, the DCOS loaned Terrace Village $47,000 for the purchase of land. Tate said he would formally request an extension of the loan at the DCOS' next meeting on Thursday.

Hutchinson also passed out a printed brochure which will be used to hopefully lure a textile industry to Scurry County. The DCOS textile effort is in cooperation with Midwest Electric Cooperative, Texas Independent Cotton Marketing Inc., growers and ginners.

The board convened in executive session to discuss land acquisition for use for industrial development. Following the 90-minute closed session, the board recon-vened in open session to announce that no action would be taken.

Assault nets guilty plea

Another individual indicted for the Aug. 4 beating of Snyder resident David Paul West has pled guilty in 132nd District Court.

Raymond Martinez, 18, entered the guilty plea to aggravated assault on Thursday. District Judge Gene Dulaney sentenced Martinez to seven years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and participation in the boot camp program.

Martinez was also fined $500 and ordered to make restitution for medical expenses totaling $16,872.

The assault reportedly occurred when West objected to a group of individuals who were encouraging dogs to fight. West was hit with fists and a pipe as well as kicked.

Keeping tabs on our neighbors: Wetlands in West Texas?

Everybody knows that 1994 was an usually dry year. The Andrews County News reports that renovation of the county airport was delayed for six months due to the discovery of "wetlands"

Federal officials flying over the area noted an unusual green area about a mile north of the terminal and in the path of one of the projected runways. It was declared a "wetland" and it took six months for the project engineer to work his way through the regulatory red tape to receive permission to fill in the low spot.

The city now has buzzards roosting on a vacant lot that is prime commercial property. Folks are suggesting that they shoot the buzzards before the regulatory people find out about 'em and nobody can use the property.

Funds returned...

School finance remains puzzle

The uncertainties of public school finance in Texas came home to be felt in the pocketbook by Snyder ISD trustees meeting here Thursday night.

The board, meeting in the high school library, learned that the district must refund $140,000 to a pair of area school districts which had purchased weighted average daily attendance credits last year.

Supt. Gayle Lomax said he was first upset when he read the letter from the Texas Education Agency, but soon realized that Snyder ISD still netted $275,000 from the credits purchased by Ira and Borden County.

Lomax explained that the purchases by rich school districts were based on estimates. "In future years, the situation could reverse itself. The state has now told Ira and Borden County that they purchased too much."

Lomax said the amount that should be returned to Ira is $60,000 but that the Ira school district voluntarily agreed to split the difference. Because Borden County purchased greater amounts from a total of four districts, it is unable to make any financial concessions.

The funds were spent for technology update. Lomax said funds from this year's purchases of WADA were built into the budget as revenue. "As you know, we've already got a tight budget."

Trustee Luann Bureson suggested that future funds from WADA based on estimates should be set aside until the final audit, and Lomax assured the board that the administration had already discussed that approach.

In other business, the board unanimously agreed to join a Big Country Alcohol and Drug Testing Cooperative to be operated by the Region 14 Education Service Center.

Lomax described drug testing of bus drivers as one of "those unfunded mandates." Lomax said the district agrees with drug testing and has already been involved in random testing.

New laws will soon require 50 percent random testing, but that the Snyder ISD will require testing of all drivers on a random base.

Transportation Director Bill Denson said each test will cost $39 and that Snyder will be one of several collection points in the region. He said the reason for the cooperative is to make the tests affordable.

Denson said results of tests taken before 3 p.m. will be returned in time so that the driver could be removed from duty the next day.

Trustees approved a budget amendment of $30,700 for repair of an elevator at the high school. The work was begun during the summer and will be finished during the current fiscal year. The funds were carried over from the 1993-94 budget.

Also approved was renewal of the contract with the Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse for a $28,848 grant used for the D.A.R.E. program in the schools.

Tom Holcomb, chairman of the Noah Project advisory committee, and Dee Wilson, outreach coordinator, appeared before the board to request donation of property on 25th Street as a site for a new shell-n-concessions.

Billions spent on disabled children

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government is spending billions of dollars on disability benefits for children with no requirement that the money be spent to help them improve and become productive adults, investigators say.

The Social Security Administration spent $4.5 billion last year on payments to 770,000 children with disabilities. More than half had mental impairments, according to the study by the inspector general at the Department of Health and Human Services.

The study, obtained by The Associated Press, did not address allegations by educators and lawmakers that parents are coaching their children to misbehave in school so they can be declared eligible for a $446 monthly check from Supplemental Security Income.

The report, however, illustrates the policy questions that Congress must address if it believes SSI should do more than simply mail checks to low-income children with no strings attached.

"If Congress intended that the SSI program provide only cash assistance to children with mental impairments, then the program is successful," said Inspector General June Gibbs Brown. "However, if Congress intended that the SSI program should help children overcome their disabilities, and grow into adults capable of engaging in substantial gainful activity, changes are needed."

Sen. Herb Kohl, D-Wis., said the study underscores the need for "urgent, fundamental reform" of SSI.

"It's outrageous that we spend billions of dollars on SSI payments to children without bothering to check how — or even if — it's helping them," said Kohl, who sought the study.

"This should not be a windfall for parents, it should be an aid program for people who need it," added Rep. Rick Santorum, R-Pa., who helped push a handful of SSI reforms through Congress this year.

The number of children on SSI has been growing rapidly since 1990, when the Supreme Court ordered Social Security to make the disability criteria for children less restrictive.

In response, the agency began evaluating children with mental and behavioral impairments based on their ability to function in an "age-appropriate manner."

Critics say that decision has allowed children with mild disabilities to get on the rolls and has encouraged coaching by parents. Today, more than half of the children on SSI have mental impairments, and many of them have the potential to improve and become productive adults, the investigators said.

But there are no requirements that the children who receive SSI benefits undergo treatment or that the money be used to help them become independent and able to work when they grow up.

Although parents are supposed to spend their children's checks on food, clothing, shelter and medical care, investigators said Social Security has no reliable way to detect whether the money is being squandered. The agency also is not allowed to take into consideration whether the impairment creates a financial hardship for the family.

The HHS investigators found that three-fourths of the children studied already were receiving health care coverage through Medicaid when they applied for SSI, and many were in special education classes.

The investigators said Social Security should review cases of children on disability to determine whether they have recovered and should be removed from the rolls.

AUSTIN (AP) — Now pitching for Republican gubernatorial candidate George W. Bush — former big league fastballer Nolan Ryan.

Ryan, who retired from major league baseball in 1993, has done four radio commercials for the Texas Farm Bureau, Bush's campaign said Thursday.

In the ads, Ryan says Bush has the business experience and family values to lead Texas. He also says Bush will protect private property rights.

Chuck McDonald, a spokesman for Richards, said: "George W. Bush has pulled in all kinds of celebrity endorsements, and that's good, but what the people of Texas are voting on are Ann Richards versus George W. Bush."

Despite ending his playing days, Ryan still has a personal service contract with the Texas Rangers.

Three stations drop anti-smoking ads

NEW YORK (AP) — The R.J. Reynolds chairman has dropped his lawsuit threat over a California anti-smoking TV ad that he says implies he was lying when he told Congress nicotine isn't addictive. But in a letter faxed late Thursday to the director of the California health department, which produced the ad, James W. Johnston asserted that he had been defamed and demanded an apology. Three California TV stations pulled the ad last week after Johnston threatened them and the health department with a lawsuit. The ad shows Johnston telling Congress in April that "cigarettes and nicotine clearly do not meet the classic definitions of addiction." Three other tobacco executives are also shown saying they don't believe nicotine is addictive. While they are testifying, the questioner's reminder that they are "under oath" echoes over and over.

from the ad. The station might run the ad again with the change, she said. KBHK and KTVU did not return phone calls seeking comment. "We stand by our ads, and we deny any allegation of defamation," said the health department director, S. Kimberly Belshe. "We are extremely troubled by what I have characterized as strong-arm tactics to discourage local TV stations from running these spots." The intent of the ad "is not to libel an individual, but to speak to the credibility of the industry," she said. She said none of the other tobacco executives in the ad complained. The issue of nicotine's addiction was central to congressional hearings held last spring. The hearings were intended in part to help the Food and Drug Administration decide whether to regulate nicotine as a drug. The U.S. surgeon general and other scientists have concluded that nicotine is addictive. During the hearings, congressional investigators released a document showing that officials of the Brown & Williamson tobacco company knew more than 30 years ago that nicotine was addictive. "We are, then, in the business of selling nicotine, an addictive drug," said a 1963 internal company memo. In June, Attorney General Janet Reno said she was launching an investigation into whether tobacco companies had lied to regulators or to Congress. The ad that disturbed Johnston is one of eight that began running in October as part of California's anti-smoking media campaign, paid for with cigarette taxes. This is the first time the tobacco industry has tried to force one of the California anti-smoking ads off the air, Belshe said. "You can judge the effectiveness of the commercial by the response it provokes," said Stanton A. Glantz, a professor in the cardiology department at the University of California at San Francisco. "This is clearly the most effective ad the department has come up with so far." He said the ad hit the two issues of most concern to the tobacco industry: addiction and the dangers of secondhand smoke.

An announcer follows, saying, "Now the tobacco industry is trying to tell us that secondhand smoke isn't dangerous." Pause. "Do they think we're stupid?" Ken August, a spokesman for the California Health Services Department, said he knew of three stations that had stopped running the ad: KABC in Los Angeles, KBHK in San Francisco and KTVU in Oakland. Patricia J. Matson, a spokeswoman for Capital Cities-ABC in New York, said that KABC asked the health department to remove the echoing words "under oath"

Aquifer study said needed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Agencies seeking water during droughts from a protected aquifer would have to first file an environmental impact statement, federal officials told a court panel. Monitor Joe Moore said Thursday he convened the panel to find a strategy for obtaining a federal permit allowing endangered species in Texas' largest springs, fed by the Edwards Aquifer, to be put at risk for short periods. Moore was appointed by Senior U.S. District Judge Lucius D. Bunton III, who presided over the Sierra Club lawsuit invoking the federal Endangered Species Act to preserve the springs and their endangered plants and animals. Moore reminded about 75 participants in the meeting that limits on aquifer pumping have "been a consistent thread throughout all of the judge's orders." The aquifer that underlies more than a half-dozen Central Texas counties has dropped dangerously low during previous droughts in its recharge area, cutting water flow to Comal Springs in New Braunfels and the San Marcos springs.

Last August I played golf on the Mill River course in Upper Brookville, Long Island, N.Y. The signature hole requires driving over a valley. Then, while standing on the side of a hill, you hit your second shot over the brow, trying to keep to the right. But if you stray to the left, as I did, you land in a lake. However, my pain was tempered when I saw six mallard ducklings standing on the bank with their mother. As we approached, they jumped in and swam away. The sight made me think of the play theme in today's deal.

A quantitative auction reached six no-trump. Although South escaped a club lead, he still failed. He unblocked the K-Q of hearts, played a diamond to dummy's king and cashed the heart ace. West's spade discard was a shock. But what could South do? He cashed the heart jack, played a diamond to his ace and cashed the diamond queen. When West threw another spade, that was that. East won the next diamond trick and cashed a heart winner: one down. The winning play is easy to spot — if you have seen it before. After unblock-

NLC buys script

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — It's your basic attraction: Director Adrian Lyne and screenwriter Joe Eszterhas are teaming up on yet another sexual thriller about an extramarital affair gone bad. New Line Cinema purchased the script for $2.5 million Thursday from Eszterhas, who also wrote "Basic Instinct." Lyne, who directed "Fatal Attraction," is set to direct. No casting decisions have been announced. The movie, titled "One Night Stand," follows a man and a woman from separate marriages who have a one-night affair.

ing the K-Q of hearts, South should duck a diamond. As long as the diamonds are no worse than 4-2, South has 12 safe tricks: three spades, four hearts, four diamonds and one club. East and West were reminded of what Douglas Jerrold, the 19th-century English playwright and humorist, wrote about kindness: "He was so benevolent, so merciful a man that, in his mistaken passion, he would have held an umbrella over a duck in a shower of rain."

Snyder secondary anticipates stern test against Frenship

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

Last week, the Snyder Tigers faced a Levelland team that used a determined ground game to rack up 381 yards rushing in a 35-31 win.

This week, Snyder faces the Wolforth Frenship Fighting Tigers, a team that ranks third in the state in class 4A offense at 441 yards per game.

The difference between the two is that, instead of running the football, Frenship likes to gain its yards through the air.

Frenship senior quarterback Chad Reynolds (6-4, 165) and senior split end Donnie Hart (6-0, 170) are the most prolific passing combination in the state.

Reynolds leads the Class 4A quarterbacks with 1,357 yards passing and Hart leads the receivers with 788 yards.

What that means is that the defensive backfield for the Tigers will have their hands full trying to slow down the Fighting Tiger offense.

"We can play the best defense we can possibly play," Snyder head coach David Baugh said. "But, they (Reynolds and Hart) are going to get their yards."

"It will be more of a matter of trying to slow them down, instead of trying to stop them."

The Snyder defensive secondary is the youngest group of players on the team. It is made up of one senior, cornerback John Clinkinbeard, one junior, free safety Wayne Brazier, and two sophomores, cornerback Matthew Fambro and strong safety Jeremiah Johnson.

"We will have to put a lot of pressure on the quarterback," Baugh said. "That will help us cover the receiver down field."

"They (Frenship) like to throw

According to Coach Baugh, the Frenship defense is the biggest group the Tigers have faced all year.

"They (Frenship) like to stunt quite a bit, they will try to confuse us," Baugh said.

Baugh went on to say that despite the defensive injuries that the Tigers have incurred over the course of the season, the players that will fill those positions are ready for their opportunity to shine.

Tonight, L.S. McClain will fill in at weak inside linebacker in place of Seth Knox and Roy Tavarez will step into the strong inside linebacker spot in place of Nathan Zalman.

Knox and Zalman are both out for the remainder of the year.

Junior Jeff Hobbs will take over at the weakside defensive end position, the spot Tavarez vacated in order to fill in on the inside.

Offensively, Snyder will employ the talents of sophomore Chris Post to fill in for Knox at the quick guard position.

No matter what the outcome tonight, Baugh promises that fans will witness a sensational high school football game.

"If we can control the ball and hold on in the first half, we have a good chance to win this game," he said. "As a coach, I respect the talents of Reynolds and Hart. Those fans that come out tonight will see some great athletes."

the ball short and then let their athletes run with the ball."

Running the ball is something the Frenship backs can do as well.

Senior running back Ray Witherspoon (5-9, 220) is the third leading rusher in the area with 134 yards per game.

Coach Baugh expects Frenship to be able to score, but his hope is that the Snyder defense can come right back and answer with points of their own.

"Our ability to win this game will be centered around our offense," he said. "I can predict this will be a very high scoring affair."

"As long as we get to our average of over three hundred yards offensively, we have a good chance at staying in this game."

UNLV, Massimino continue talk

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Efforts resumed Thursday to resolve basketball coach Rollie Massimino's status at UNLV, a day after Massimino rejected a buyout offer and stormed out of a meeting with the university's president.

With the start of practice only two days away, Massimino met privately with his players but refused to comment publicly on the turmoil surrounding his job and the Runnin' Rebels basketball program.

"Progress is being made," said athletic director Jim Weaver, who declined to elaborate.

Interim UNLV president Kenny Guinn had indicated Wednesday that he would seek an emergency meeting of the University of Nevada Board of Regents to consider the situation.

Regents chairman James Eardley said Thursday that Guinn hadn't requested a meeting. He added that Guinn has the authority to break the impasse in whatever way he wanted.

Guinn was exasperated following Wednesday's meeting with Massimino, which lasted less than a minute when the coach rejected a reported $1.6 million buyout and stormed out of Weaver's office.

Aggies, Bears square off Saturday

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — If No. 7-ranked Texas A&M's nation-leading 23 game home winning streak ends against Baylor on Saturday, they would have nobody to blame but themselves.

ARMSTRONG — Watson has led Baylor to a 5-1 record and would like to show the Aggies what they missed.

Armstrong said. "We'll see if we can rattle him," Armstrong said. "To come back home and play in front of our fans and play against the Wrecking Crew, if we can't rattle him and the fans don't get him jumpy, that's a really poised guy."

"But that remains to be seen." The undefeated Aggies have junior quarterback Corey Pullig, who has made up for an inconsistent running game by completing 68 of 115 passes for 825 yards and six touchdowns. He has been intercepted four times.

Pullig is 19-3 as a starter at A&M.

The Aggies have won every home game since Baylor tied them 20-20 in 1990. A&M also has a Southwest Conference record 24-game conference winning streak.

Baylor coach Chuck Reedy said A&M didn't rebuild this year, they just reloaded.

"I don't have any sympathy that they lost four players to the pros," Reedy said. "A&M still has 12 senior starters. They're still the most veteran, mature team in the conference."

"(Defensive end) Brandon Mitchell in my opinion is better than Sam Adams who went to Seattle in the first round. He's more active and he makes more plays. I think A&M is better on defense than they've been in the last two years."

No team has rushed for 100 yards against A&M this season but Baylor has averaged 234.7 yards per game.

The Aggies, who rank as Division 1A-football's third-winningest team of the 1990s behind Florida State and Miami, rated a 10-point favorite over the Bears who last defeated A&M in 1985.

"Without question they'll be the best team we've played all year," Reedy said. "We'll have to play to the highest level to have a chance to beat them."

In other Texas A&M news — Snyder's Hayward Clay is expected to start for the Aggies in this weekend's game against Baylor at Kyle Field.

It will mark the second time the junior tight end has started for Texas A&M.

Clay's expected start comes after starting tight end James McKeegan suffered a back injury in the Aggies' 38-7 victory over Houston last week.

Clay was an All-State selection in football his senior year at Snyder High School.

Offensive woes continue for Oilers

HOUSTON (AP) — The Cleveland Browns left the Houston Oilers red-faced on prime time television — again.

Cleveland used trickery on a 2-point conversion and Vinny Testaverde's 25-yard touchdown pass to Mark Carrier for an 11-8 victory over Houston on Thursday night as the Browns reached 5-1 for the first time since 1965.

It was another embarrassing nationally televised moment for the Oilers, beaten 30-14 on Oct. 3 by Pittsburgh. The Oilers face another prime time date on Oct. 24 at Philadelphia.

The Oilers were within 28 seconds of their first shutout loss in 18 years in the Astrodome when Billy Joe Tolliver threw a 5-yard TD pass to Lorenzo White. When Tolliver completed a 2-point conversion pass to Haywood Jeffries, Houston trailed by the margin of Al Del Greco's missed 29-yard field goal attempt earlier in the fourth period.

Tolliver, who came in with 71/2 minutes to play, completed 9-of-17 for 115 yards.

Until the late show of offense, the Oilers (1-5) got their biggest cheer — actually more of a jeer — midway in the third quarter when Bucky Richardson completed a 1-yard pass to tight end Pat Carter, his second reception of the year. The struggling Oilers have been criticized by owner

Bud Adams and fans for not blending the tight end into their offensive package.

The Browns did just enough to get their fourth straight victory and a stronger hold on the lead in the AFC Central.

The Browns missed two early touchdown chances when Testaverde twice underthrew Carrier after the wide receiver had beaten cornerback Darryll Lewis.

Lewis intercepted the first pass and returned it 20 yards to the Oilers 49. Lewis also intercepted a pass in the fourth quarter but penalties by the Oilers killed that opportunity.

Cleveland scored its points in the second quarter on Testaverde's 25-yard pass to Carrier with 8:21 left, Tom Tupa's 2-point conversion run and Matt Stover's 35-yard field goal as time ran out in the half.

Testaverde hit Leroy Hord for a 23-yard pass to start the first-half touchdown drive, then avoided blitzing linebacker Michael Barrow and completed a 32-yard pass to Eric Metcalf.

Carrier sidestepped Lewis on the sidelines and dove into the end zone on the touchdown play.

On the conversion, the Browns completely fooled the Oilers when Tupa, the holder on placement kicks, took the center snap and ran untouched into the end zone.

Cleveland got another scoring chance when Houston's Webster Slaughter fumbled after being hit by cornerback Don Griffin. Pepper Johnson returned the fumble 10 yards to the Browns 45, setting the stage for the drive that was capped by Stover's field goal.

Junior varsity falls to Frenship 29-7

Snyder Junior High teams fare well against Abilene

Junior varsity head coach Tommy Doyle and his players started out on the right foot, but collapsed in the second half as Frenship defeated Snyder 29-7.

Snyder's Scott Sanders caught a 37-yard touchdown pass from Russell Riggan in the first quarter and Sanders added the extra point to give the Tigers a 7-0 lead.

Frenship proceeded to score 29 unanswered points in the second quarter and second half.

A defensive highlight for the Tigers occurred in the second quarter when Richard Canis recovered a fumble and advanced it 22 yards before being brought down by the Frenship defense.

"They (Frenship) wore us down in the second half," Coach Doyle said. "They were a lot bigger than we were."

In junior high school action, the seventh grade "White" team fell to Abilene 20-6.

Sonny Cumble's 5-yard pass to John Ortega was the Tigers' only score of the day. SJHS's seventh grade "Black" team, under the direction of Coach Charlie Bollinger, blanked Abilene 22-0.

On the opening kickoff, Snyder's Justin Parker returned the kick 70 yards for a touchdown. Justin Rosson scored the two-point conversion to give the Tigers a 8-0 lead.

Later in the game, Parker helped the Tigers get on the board again with a 65-yard fumble recovery and return for a touchdown. The extra point was missed, but the "Black" team continued to lead 14-0.

Snyder's Bebbs Martinez capped off the scoring with a 25-yard touchdown run. Josh Ward ran the ball into the endzone for the two-point conversion and the Tigers went on to win 22-0.

In eighth grade action, the "Gold" team scored 20 first half points on the way to a 28-20 win over Abilene.

Scoring for the Tigers were Adam Sosa, Johnny Pena, Juan Arismendi and Jacob Hodges.

Sosa scored on a 73-yard touchdown pass reception from quarterback Justin McNair. Arismendi added the extra point as the Tigers led 8-0.

McNair finished the game with four completions for 108 yards and two touchdowns.

Pena added the second touchdown with a 15-yard reception from McNair to make the score 14-0.

The "Gold" team got a 25-yard touchdown run from Arismendi and a 5-yard touchdown from Hodges to round out the Tiger scoring.

Eighth grade head coach Chris Wigington acknowledged the individual defensive play of Scott Higby, Rad Eicke and Sam Bedell for their efforts in shutting down the Abilene offense in the second half.

In Nolan County...

Chase ends with local man's arrest

A 50-minute chase with speeds up to 75 mph Thursday evening involving seven different law enforcement agencies ended in Nolan County with the arrest of a 17-year-old Snyder man.

Thomas Pesina of 2002 Ave. 0 remained in the Scurry County Jail this morning following his arrest east of Sweetwater. He is charged with evading arrest, failure to maintain financial responsibility, displaying fictitious license plates and with two charges of obstruction/retaliation.

Snyder city police officer Patrick Coggins first attempted to stop Pesina at 8:26 p.m. Thursday on a traffic violation, but Pesina fled outside the city limits and the pursuit was ended at that time.

The incident ended in Nolan County about 9:17 p.m. when a DPS unit based in Sweetwater used a "stinger" to stop the vehicle. A stinger is a strip of spikes that are laid across the road. The stinger punctured both front tires and Pesina's vehicle came to stop in a ditch. The suspect offered no resistance after being stopped.

In other law enforcement activity during the past 24 hours, seven cases of criminal mischief were investigated involving glass breakage and cut tires.

Jubilant celebration might lead to riots, some Haitians fear

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Beneath efforts to spruce up the capital for the return of President Jean-Bertrand Aristide percolates an undercurrent of fear that jubilant celebrations could erupt into violence.

Hundreds of thousands of Haitians are expected to take to the streets Saturday when the populist priest returns from three years in exile.

Lt. Gen. Hugh Shelton, commander of the 19,500 U.S. forces in Haiti, expressed concern about possible mob violence and announced plans to whisk Aristide

San Antonio enrolls most new students

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Archdiocese of San Antonio leads the nation's Catholic school systems in increased enrollment for the second consecutive year with 729 new students, Catholic officials say.

Brother Peter A. Pontolillo, archdiocesan superintendent of schools, announced the increase at a news conference Thursday.

Total enrollment for 1994-95 is 16,418, up from 15,689 for the previous academic year, Pontolillo said.

Enrollment in the 42 elementary schools climbed from 12,551 to 13,183, accounting for 632 new students. High school enrollment rose from 3,138 to 3,235 — an increase of 97 students.

The 4.6 percent increase is the fifth consecutive annual rise for the archdiocese after 15 years of decline. Total increase over the past five years has been 5,412.

A spokeswoman for the National Catholic Education Association in Washington said the San Antonio archdiocese's five-year increase also leads the nation.

Pontolillo said two new schools have been built — St. Matthew last year and Atonement Academy this year — and several others have added new classrooms.

"About half of our increase this year is accounted for by the addition of anywhere from two to 10 new classrooms in several schools," he said.

Shelton Kelly contacted the sheriff's office at 6:43 a.m. Thursday in reference to someone breaking the back glass out of his vehicle which was located four miles east of Dunn.

Maureen Swint reported glass breakage at her residence on County Road 466 at 8:40 a.m. and Julius Roemisch called the sheriff's office at 9:30 a.m. and reported that tires had been slashed on his tractor, located on County Road 465.

Glen Foster, County Road 4105, notified the sheriff's office at 11:15 a.m. that someone had damaged his yard light and garage door sometime during the night.

Manuel Realsola came to the sheriff's office at 12:55 p.m. and reported damage to a vehicle and trailer at 106 Milburn.

A report was also made at Snyder High School concerning glass breakage on a bus. A complaint for Class B criminal mischief will be filed.

A clerk at Skinny's on East Highway reported a gas driveoff for $5 worth of gas at 6:17 p.m. The subject later returned to pay for the gas and an attempt to locate the subject was cancelled.

A woman came to the sheriff's office at 11 p.m. and reported an individual had been harassing her. An offense report for Class C assault was submitted.

One other arrest was made Thursday as Sabino Lara, 20, was taken into custody at the Adult Probation Dept on a warrant for Class A assault. He was then transferred to jail.

The Department of Public Safety investigated a minor accident one mile north of Dunn at 6:50 a.m. Thursday. The vehicle was towed from the scene by 84 Truck and Tractor. There were no injuries.

ter for victims of family abuse. Because of unpaid taxes, the land is owned jointly by the school, college, city and county.

The school district joined Scurry County and Western Texas College in granting the request.

Without comment, trustees approved Texas Association of School Boards policy updates.

During communications, a mother of a student placed in In-School Suspension for 30 days for possession of a pellet gun, said she agreed that punishment was needed, said she felt 30 days was "too tough" based on the offense since no one was threatened.

Prior to touring the high school agriculture building, Principal Larry Scott noted that enrollment at the high school is 953.

At the ag complex, teachers David Frazier and Bob Hand said 230 students were enrolled in ag classes compared to 85 just five years ago.

Charles Anderson presided at the meeting and trustees attending were Burleson, Mark McCormick, Janet Strubling, Richard Chambers, Geraldine Parker and Glen Clardy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Look gift horses in the mouth today, because you may receive something with no apparent strings attached only to discover that you're the one doing all the giving.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) It's important today to associate with friends on your wavelength. The day could be a bummer if your companions don't have enough in common with you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) It might be best not to attempt mentally demanding tasks or assignments that require focus. Your attention span may not be up to par today.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't put too much credence in business proposals presented to you today by a new acquaintance. They may have much more sizzle than substance.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Two friends you like equally well might be at odds with one another today. A word of caution: Don't attempt to be the peacemaker. There's a possibility they could both turn on you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you are using an assistant for a hazardous task today, keep a watchful eye on this individual. He/she might not be as safety-minded as you are.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Strive to be prudent in all of your endeavors today, especially those of a social nature. Having a good time might empty your wallet if you're not careful.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) A lack of tact when making a request of your mate today may cause him/her to retaliate by doing just the opposite of what you want. Forewarned is forearmed.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) To avoid a glitch in social plans today, let others know your intentions in advance. Friends might not be prepared to cope with last minute changes.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Self-discipline might be required today to overcome the temptation to take large risks for dubious gains. Your expectations may not be based on reality.

Ira accepts roofing bid

Ira School Board accepted a roofing bid, approved renovations to the new gym and approved an agreement with the Region XIV Education Service Center Thursday night.

The board approved a bid in the amount of $2,670 to repair a roof on a teacherage damaged by hail last May. Other bids to repair other roofs damaged in that same storm were rejected. All were submitted by Foster Roofing in Snyder.

Other roofs needing repair will be re-bid at a future date. Board members will look into the feasibility of replacing them with pitched steel roofs.

The board also approved an agreement with Region XIV which will allow the district to begin administering drug and alcohol tests to Ira school bus drivers with the start of the 1995-1996 school year.

With this action, IISD joins the Big Country Alcohol and Drug Testing Cooperative. This cooperative is being formed to comply with federal regulations pertaining to providing a drug-free workplace. The co-op will allow districts the benefit of combined services, training and communication.

Ira has less than 10 bus drivers. Renovations to the new gym approved by the board will include installing plastic benches along rows.

Board members also approved bills and set Nov. 14 at 8 p.m. as the next meeting date.

Board members present included Keith Clements, Doug White, Dirk Dunn, Bo Robinson, Kirby Sterling and Lance Autry. Darryl Calley was absent.

Iraq told that U.S. will use military force if necessary

KUWAIT (AP) — In a determined challenge to Saddam Hussein's military maneuvers in the Gulf, Defense Secretary William Perry warned today that the United States will use military force if Iraq fails to withdraw a key military force from the vicinity of Kuwait.

Perry said the issue is not negotiable. "Our government is not communicating with the government of Iraq," Perry said, "we're not going to be negotiating with them on this issue."

Speaking to reporters just prior to his arrival here, Perry said new aerial intelligence indicates that more than a division of Iraqi Republican Guard forces — more than 10,000 soldiers — appears to be entrenching in the city of An Nasiriyah, Iraq, less than 100 miles from the Kuwaiti border.

The development came less than a day after President Clinton had said that Iraq had apparently "heard our message," and retreated after a dispatch of U.S. forces challenged Iraq's deployment to the border of Kuwait. Perry said the U.S. would withdraw from its own Gulf deployment once Iraq withdrew from the area near its border with Kuwait.

However, he said, "If they're digging in, we still have problems ahead of us." He said that if the Iraqi forces continue to dig in, the United States would be prepared to take "appropriate action" and he confirmed that that means force.

"We're talking about military action, but I won't go beyond that to describe what form of military action," Perry said. The U.S. aerial intelligence given to Perry today is still sketchy, the defense secretary said, but marks further confirmation of a problem that first surfaced Thursday. The Republican Guard possesses Iraq's greatest offensive striking power, according to U.S. military officials.

The Clinton administration position is that Iraq has already agreed to withdraw its forces north of the 32nd parallel, the boundary of a buffer zone between Iraqi forces and neighboring Kuwait and Saudi Arabia. Perry said that for the moment, it appears Iraq is failing to live up to its commitment.

Iraq's ambassador to the United Nations, Nizar Hamdoun, said in a telephone interview that the Republican Guard troops had pulled back to Nasiriya, about 30 miles north of Basra on the Iraq-Kuwait border.

"I'm not sure where the brigades have stopped, but they are not in the same area which had created all the tension; they are up to the north," Hamdoun said. "I don't know what the reason is behind this."

Perry arrived here after visiting U.S. forces in Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, where he toured Patriot missile batteries and met with U.S. fighter pilots. He planned to meet with U.S. troops who are stationed in Kuwait and talk with Kuwaiti leaders about coalition strategy against Iraq.

Third smallest SS increase due next year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 45 million Americans receiving Social Security benefits and Supplemental Security Income will get the third smallest cost-of-living increase in 20 years next year.

Secretary Donna E. Shalala of the Department of Health and Human Services announced today that monthly checks in 1995 will total 2.8 percent more than those in 1994.

That means the average monthly benefit for all retired workers will rise $19 to $698, effective Jan. 3. Payments averaged $679 this year.

The maximum SSI payments will advance from $446 to $458 for individuals, and from $669 to $687 for couples. The SSI increases are effective Dec. 30.

It will be the third smallest cost-of-living increase since the government began tying benefits to the annual change in consumer prices in 1975. The adjustment each year is tied to the third quarter over third quarter increase in the Consumer Price Index, which was released by the Labor Department today.

The 2.8 percent increase this year was slightly better than last year's 2.6 percent increase. But it was still the third smallest of the past two decades. The smallest was a 1.3 percent boost in 1987.

CDF decries deaths of 50,000 children by gunfire every year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Children's Defense Fund is stepping up its anti-gun campaign, suggesting the deaths of 50,000 children by gunfire over the past 15 years should be enough to send thousands into the streets in protest.

"So where is everybody?" the group asks in a public service announcement introduced Thursday by its president, Marian Wright

Edelman. She said ABC, CBS and NBC have agreed to air the ad, which, along with five print ads, is part of a new public education campaign against gun violence.

"Every parent, religious, political and community leader and caring adult must ask why we have allowed violence to grow like a malignant tumor ... and why our public policies place a higher priority on protecting guns and profits than on protecting children," she told a news conference.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, meanwhile, reported that the homicide rate among young men 15 to 19 more than doubled between 1985 and 1991. The rate was 13 per 100,000 in 1985 and 33 per 100,000 in 1991, the CDC said. The nation's highest homicide rate — 41 per 100,000 — is among men ages 20 to 24, the CDC said.

Guns claimed the lives of 88 percent of the 15- to 19-year-olds killed in homicides in 1991. From 1985 to 1991, 97 percent of the increase was attributed to guns.

Researchers attributed the rise to the recruitment of younger members by drug gangs and increased use of guns to settle disputes.

"When it comes to violence, in the past what may have led to fist-fights now leads to gunfire," said Dr. David Satcher, CDC director.

The Children's Defense Fund counts suicides and accidental shootings as well as homicides to come up with 50,000 gun deaths of children through age 19 in the past 15 years.

In 1991, the last year for which detailed information is available, the fund said, there were 5,344 such deaths, including 3,264 homicides, 1,436 suicides and 549 accidents.

Guns in the home vastly increase the danger to those who live there, Edelman said, adding that even toddlers can pull a trigger.

Supporting the new campaign were the mothers of two youngsters whose names appear in a print ad listing 600 who died in the past two years.

"It's a void that will never be filled in my life" said Alice Thomas-Norris, whose 14-year-old daughter, Rolanda Lakesia Marshall, was shot Aug. 28, 1993, in a Chicago restaurant. "Not only did they kill my child, but they killed me and they killed my family." No one has been arrested in the murder of the girl, she said.

Edelman and religious leaders called attention to this weekend's third annual National Observance of Children's Sabbaths. Congregations nationwide are expected to conduct special services and programs focused on preventing violence against children.

Dr. Gott by Peter Gott, M.D. Drug therapy relieves gout attacks

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from gout and would like to know if you recommend colchicine to reduce inflammation or if something new is on the market. I've read that fresh nuts can be sufficiently rancid to destroy vitamin E in the body, thus causing the body to produce excessive amounts of uric acid. Could this be a significant factor in my gout attacks?

DEAR READER: No, it isn't. Gout is caused by an excess of uric acid, a normal by-product of metabolism, that occurs because of a genetic abnormality. The prescription drug colchicine is an excellent treatment for an acute attack of painful gouty arthritis.

However, you also might consider asking your doctor to prescribe a drug — such as Zylorprim or Colbenemid — that will prevent gout attacks.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "About Gout." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I'm 71 and have suffered from double vision for nearly two years. I've been to two ophthalmologists, had an MRI and blood test for a thyroid condition — all to no avail. What can I do to correct this problem?

DEAR READER: Double vision indicates that the muscles which control eye movement are not working in a coordinated fashion. This can result from stroke, arteriosclerosis or a number of other disorders. The condition can usually be improved by wearing special correcting lenses.

I suggest that you seek a consultation from an ophthalmologist in a teaching center. In such an environment, super-specialists should be able to diagnose and treat this annoying handicap.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I suffer from severe fever blisters on my lips. I get them every other month. They start small and become very large, lasting for three weeks. What causes this condition and how did I catch this virus, if that is what it is? Are there medications I can use to lessen the severity or the duration of the blisters?

DEAR READER: These common and painful recurring blisters, which are caused by a type of highly contagious herpes virus, usually affect the lips and mouth. For unknown reasons, they are often related to stress, fatigue and trauma (such as exposure to sunlight).

Acyclovir, an anti-viral prescription drug, will usually heal the blisters and, if taken at the first stage of infection, may actually prevent them.

Ask your doctor about this.

Daughters of Widowed Mom Get Little Praise for Cleanup

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: The letter signed "Lost and Lonely," from the widow whose children cleaned out all her deceased husband's belongings "for her," brought tears to my eyes. And your answer really surprised me. You said the daughters spared her a "painfully heartbreaking task" — wrong!

They denied her the chance to heal! Sorting his belongings gives her a last chance to review old memories — or catch a whiff of his cologne on a suit coat, and choose who would most appreciate something which was his. With his passing, all his things belonged to her — and if she couldn't handle the sorting out, she could have asked for help. Then the kids would have been doing a good deed.

As it is, I think they overstepped their bounds. Grief is bad enough, but grief, emptiness and boredom compound the loss. The "kids" deserve a boot to the rear. And you? For shame.

LINDA SKIPPER

DEAR LINDA: In my defense, that letter (and my reply) — a vacation rerun — was written in the 1970s. I am 20 years wiser now. Give me a break.

You were not the only reader who resented the daughters' behavior — and my answer. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: I'm writing about that widow whose children "helped" by disposing of all her husband's belongings without her knowledge or consent. Grief counselors caution against prematurely discarding keepsakes or familiar objects used by the deceased. Disposing of them is painful, but it is an important part of the separation and grieving process. For many, it is another way of saying goodbye to a loved one. However, we may need or want to retain some tangible remembrance of the one we loved.

Certainly these children meant well; it is risky, however, to assume that we know what is "best" for others. In addition to losing her husband, this widow was denied the opportunity to distribute her husband's belongings in her own time, and in her own way.

Let's hope that the children who were so eager to help their mother will now show an equal attentiveness in the months ahead — Mom will need their emotional support.

Please print this letter in the interest of families who may find themselves in similar circumstances.

E.G., PALM HARBOR, FLA.

through my husband's things and decided what to do with them.

A homeowner, male or female, always needs tools. I am a 69-year-old female, and I do almost all my own repairs. I alone roofed my two-bedroom house. I removed two roofs in the process and applied tar paper, too. I purchased tools (i.e. sanders, electric drills, hammers, gardening tools, etc.)

How dare anyone make those decisions for me — even if they think it's for my own good. It isn't!

MAE HUTCHINSON, RICHMOND, CALIF.

DEAR MAE: Good for you! I admire your spunk and independence. Not every woman (at any age) can put a roof over her own house!

DEAR ABBY: Recently you ran a letter from a widow whose family had disposed of her husband's belongings while she was visiting her sister.

When my husband passed away, it was a great satisfaction for me to give away his things to people who would appreciate them. His suits fit a dear friend's husband, and I was pleased when I saw him wearing them.

I kept his family mementos for our teen-aged son.

Abby, please tell your readers not to "spare" people in this way.

Baptist seminary may hire first woman

FORT WORTH (AP) — Conservative trustees of Southwestern Baptist Seminary say a woman is expected to be hired as a full-time teacher for the first time in the institution's 86-year history.

The selection of Karen O'Dell Bullock, 41, could be approved next week when trustees meet for the first time since July when Ken Hemphill was elected to replace former president Russell Dilday.

If chosen, Ms. Bullock would be an assistant professor of church history, officials at the nation's largest theological seminary said.

Not only would Ms. Bullock be the first full-time female teacher at the seminary, she would be one of the few women teaching on theology faculties among Southern Baptists.

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER

WHAT AMOUNTED TO CIVIL WAR, AND PITTED BROTHER AGAINST BROTHER, ALMOST CAUSED A COMPLETE DIVISION AMONG THE TRIBES OF ISRAEL! THE GIBEAITHITES (NATIVES OF A TOWN IN THE PROVINCE OF BENJAMIN) WERE THE CAUSE OF THE CONFLAGRATION. (JUDGES CHAPTER 20) ALL THE REST OF THE TRIBES WERE LINED UP AGAINST THEM, BUT THE TRIBE OF BENJAMIN HAD PROBABLY THE BEST SOLDIERS OF ISRAEL AND IN TWO SUCCESSIVE DAYS, THEY ROUTED THEIR BROTHER TRIBESMEN AND SWEEPED THEM OFF THE FIELD OF BATTLE WITH TUMULTUOUS EASE! ON THE THIRD DAY PHINEHAS, THE SON OF ELEAZAR, ASKED THE LORD IF THEY SHOULD CONTINUE THE BATTLE AGAINST BENJAMIN AND THE LORD CONSENTED. THIS TIME THE ISRAELITES USED AN AMBUSHING TECHNIQUE AND PUT DOWN THE BENJAMINITES SO SEVERELY THAT THERE WERE ONLY SIX HUNDRED MEN LEFT OUT OF TWENTY SIX THOUSAND!
