Thomas tells court...

Chamber eyes comprehensive coliseum plan

Daryl Thomas, president-elect of the Snyder chamber of commerce, told Scurry County Commissioners Court this morning that a chamber proposal to assume operations of the coliseum would definitely be made by the end of November.

Thomas said a number of factors, including the recent dedication of the new white buffalo statue and related events, has not allowed sufficient time for the chamber to finalize its proposal.

Thomas said the chamber also could have seven new board members, adding that the possibility is playing a big part in the delay.

"We want to know who the players are going to be on this project, and we will want them to know every little detail about the coliseum before we ask them to make a proposal," said Thomas.

The terms of Paula McWilliams, Travis Bunch and Donna Gray are expiring and Thomas indicated three other board members may also resign - two because of job-related transfers.

There is also the possibility of a new chamber manager as the current manager, Ricky Fritz, is a Republican candidate for county judge.

Thomas said that he would like to address a statement in Sunday's newspaper that said the chamber was still trying to get solid numbers from the county and coliseum concerning fee schedules, bookings and labor costs.

"Perhaps I did not make myself clear on that point," said Thomas. "We really have not had to try hard at all to get information - the flow of information has been super both ways in this project."

The idea of contracting out the coliseum operation surfaced during budget discussions last August. Acting on a letter of recommendation from the coliseum board, the court cut the 1995 budget by $35,000 and asked for a proposal by today.

The court indicated that today was not a deadline, but rather a target date. In August, commissioners indicated that it could still operate the coliseum on the smaller budget should an agreement with the chamber not be reached.

In other business this morning, Pct. 4 Commissioner Jerry Gannaway told the court that the industrial site agreement between Hermligh Water Works and the Development Corporation of Snyder is still in the works.

"Hopefully we'll have everything in place this week and a business going by the end of the year," said Gannaway. A paper pellet manufacturing plant is looking at the site that could employ up to ten. The Hermligh Water Works would use part of the old gin office as an office.

The court also voted to re-establish the change fund at Winston Field in the amount of $100. A recent theft depleted the fund which had been kept at $200. The court felt that the lesser amount would serve the purpose of pilots buying fuel at the airport since credit cards are used for most purchases.

The court also approved several line-item transfers, including $2,000 in Pct. 4 from construction to utilities and $1,000 in Pct. 1 from machine rental to the replacement of tires and tubes.

Justice of the Peace Wanda Rushing transferred $900 from autopsy expenses to office machine maintenance agreements, and $1,900 was transferred in the tax office from postage to $950 for maintenance agreements and $950 for computer lease. The court also approved $150 to be transferred from medical care to subsistence for child welfare.

Three transfers were also approved in general county expenses as $478 was moved from bookkeeping to copier supplies, $337 was moved from general liability insurance to public official liability, and $500 was moved from bookkeeping expenses to rural fire equipment.

'Procedures' topic of Toastmasters

A parliamentary procedure training class will be held in the Wesley Hall of the First United Methodist Church next Monday, sponsored by the Tumbleweed Toastmasters Club of Snyder.

Jigger Rowland, Toastmaster district governor for the Lubbock District, will present the program.

A special invitation is given to all clubs, organizations and churches which use parliamentary procedures. The program is for both adults and students. Rowland promises to keep "a boring subject interesting and enjoyable."

The program will begin at 6 p.m. and will conclude at 7:30. Those wishing to attend are asked to contact Pearlene Stewart's office at 573-8401 during business hours or Sandra Henderson at 863-2322 during the evening.

But still top...

Mineral's portion of taxes on decline

When tax bills went out earlier this month, there was near unanimous agreement that taxes are higher.

Opinions about the reasons for the increase vary, but a comparison of the top ten taxpayers in Scurry County provides an insightful clue.

Top taxpayer to the Snyder ISD for 1994-95 was Pennzoil Petroleum Corp., operator of the SAC-ROC unit here. The tax bill was $666,677. Just four years ago, when Chevron USA was the operator of the same unitized oilfield, the school's tax bill was $1.9 million.

In 1994, the total of the SISD's top ten taxpayers, $1.8 million, is $100,000 below Chevron's single bill.

The contrast in just four years reveals the drop in both mineral values and in the production of an aging field.

To Scurry County in 1994-95, Pennzoil's tax bill was $247,606 compared to $682,610 for Chevron in 1990. The total for the county's top ten taxpayers, $835,495, was slightly ahead of Chevron's 1990 tax statement.

Other top ten taxpayers for Snyder ISD were Exxon, Texaco, Southwestern Bell, TU Electric, Torch Energy, The Cynara Co., Andadarko Petroleum, Amoco Pipeline and Primrose Operating.

The county's top ten taxpayers were Pennzoil, Exxon, Andadarko Petroleum, Southwestern Bell, TU Electric, Texaco, Torch Energy, BTA Oil Producers, Southwest Royalty Inc. and The Cynara Co.

There is little oil production in the city of Snyder, therefore Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. is the top taxpayer with a bill of $20,771. The total for the top team taxpayers in the city is $83,724.

Others on the city's top ten list are TU Electric, Wal-Mart, Seidenfeld Lily, Key Brothers Implement, West Texas State Bank, Reef Chemical, Snyder National Bank, OTR General Partners and K-mart.

United Way fund grows

Scurry County United Way fund drive is just under a third of its goal based on a report given today by Connie Thompson, drive coordinator.

Donations during the past week brought the total to $19,676.96, or 28.9 percent of the goal of $68,000. Last Monday, the figure was at $14,200.30.

Allocations are $21,000 to Scurry County Boys & Girls Club; $10,000 to Snyder Child Day Care Center; $8,900 to Noah Project; $6,000 each to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts; $5,000 to Oil Patch Foster Parents; $2,600 to Snyder Council on Alcohol and Drug Abuse; and $500 to Red Cross.

Snyder's Head Start still growing

By AMY ODOM

Scurry County Head Start, a federally-funded program dealing with the total development of children, has seen many changes and improvements since it opened in 1991, said Shirley Fritz, the Scurry County Community Services executive director.

"Head Start not only helps the children, it also helps the parents by providing parenting-skill classes and having them participate on a governing board which decides things for the children," Fritz said.

The national head start program was begun more than 25 years ago by President Lyndon Johnson and was designed to prepare 4-year-old, low-income children for the public school system.

The Head Start program assists the entire family by providing medical care, dental care, speech therapy, language development, individualized help, social development and cognitive skills for special-needs children, Fritz said.

When it opened in 1991, Fritz said, Central Texas Opportunities in Coleman contracted with People for Progress in Sweetwater to operate the Head Start for Scurry County. People for Progress, in turn, contracted with the Snyder Child Day Care Center to operate a room of 20 pupils with an annual budget of $34,000.

In 1993, the Head Start Regional Office in Dallas removed the program from People for Progress and instructed Central Texas Opportunities to give the program directly to Snyder Child Day Care Center. The program expanded to a classroom for 3-year-olds and one for 4-year-olds with an annual budget of $149,013, she said.

Then in May of 1994, the program expanded to a summer session for those children who would benefit from year-round opportunities with a budget of $184,879.

The current program employs two instructors, two instructor aides, a cook, a director/coordinator, a bookkeeper and has the services of the Scurry Community Services executive director.

The Head Start program provides a learning atmosphere for underprivileged children ages 3 and 4 with the child in class from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. five days a week. Pupils have the same holidays as the public schools. Head Start pupils are also fed two meals a day, plus a snack.

The children are required to attend classes each day, and if a child is absent and the parent does not call the center with an excuse for the absence, the center will call the family to determine why the child is absent.

The Head Start program is pro-family and encourages the whole family to become involved in the lives of the children. "Parents are encouraged to apply for staff positions," Fritz said.

The teachers are highly trained in child development and are not required to be college graduates, Fritz said.

Each child receives a minimum of three home visits a year. The director of Head Start visits the child when the child is introduced into the program, and the teacher visits the home at least twice during the year.

Because the Head Start program and Snyder Child Day Care Center are housed in the old North Elementary School building, Fritz said the transition into elementary school is made easier, because the children are accustomed to school buildings.

The Scurry County program soon hopes to provide care for children ages 0-2 years in addition to the 3 and 4-year-olds. This program will provide mothers with prenatal care and provide up to four years of Head Start classes for families with special needs.

"The sooner we start with children, the better they will be," Fritz said.

In June, 1994, the Central Texas Opportunities board of directors granted the request of the Snyder Day Care to release the Head Start program in Scurry County. This will allow Scurry Community Services to apply for the Head Start grant, thus ensuring all funding would be spent in Scurry County.

In addition, Scurry County Head Start will apply for year-round funding for the age group of 0 to 2 years.

Fritz said city officials, county officials, public school administrators, the chamber of commerce and local service agencies have been supportive of Head Start and the approaching changes.

Houston city workers might get to buy into private services

HOUSTON (AP) — City officials are studying an idea that could allow municipal workers to save their jobs by becoming investors in private companies that take over services now provided by City Hall.

City Council member Ben Reyes envisions giving municipal employees the opportunity to become stockholders in companies specially formed to take over certain city services.

The head of the municipal workers' union does not care much for the idea, however.

Under the plan, workers not only retain their jobs, they would become owners and managers of their own company. Reyes says that would create incentive to be more productive and provide better service to the public.

"Let's let the employees buy into the work place," he told The Houston Post for a story in Monday's editions.

Mayor Bob Lanier, who has said he opposes any privatization efforts that result in employee layoffs, has ordered further study of the plan.

Reyes said his idea was inspired by a national trend toward employee ownership. Nearly 10 percent of the nation's workers, about 11.5 million people, now work in employee-owned companies, according to the U.S. Department of Labor.

Triggering the growth of employee ownership was the 1974 Employee Retirement and Income Security Act, which gave tax advantages to employee-owned companies.

Reyes said his proposal could work in various city departments. A good place to start might be heavy-trash pickup in the Solid Waste Management Department, he said.

About 8 percent of the city's trash collection customers are served by private garbage collectors.

An employee-owned company would have to be guaranteed several years of work until it establishes itself, Reyes said. It then would have to bid for the job with other solid waste management firms.

Private companies already work for nearly all of the city's 16 departments at an estimated savings of $101 million since 1992. Private services range from backstage operations at the Civic Center to food service in the city jail.

A new City Council committee is considering a plan to require city departments to bid against private companies for city services.

However, Richard Shaw contends workers would suffer under Reyes' plan.

Employees would lose steady salaries and health and pension benefits if they left city employ, said Shaw, who heads the local American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees.

Even worse, an employee-owned company could not compete for contracts with giant solid-waste companies that have been doing business in Houston for years, he said.

"The BFIs (Browning-Ferris Industries) and the Waste Management of the world would simply buy them out or overwhelm them in the private market," Shaw said.

Harris County commissioners recently proposed eliminating 320 jobs at a projected savings of $4 million by hiring a private company to do county mowing. However, an outcry by county employees prompted the commissioners to reconsider the move.

Despite having the greatest strength in depth, New York had never won the Grand National Teams. This year it reached the final with a team that included David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen, two New Jersey residents, such are the strange regulations governing the GNT. Their teammates were Jimmy Payne and Alan Sontag. In the final, they played a team representing Ohio and including Eric Rodwell (who lives outside Chicago), Jeff Meckstroth (who lives in Tampa), Doug Simson and Walter Johnson.

With one deal remaining, Ohio led by three international matchpoints. This was the final deal.

When Ohio sat North-South, an artificial auction resulted in four hearts being played by North. East led his singleton diamond. West won the first round of trumps with his ace, gave his partner a diamond ruff, and the defenders cashed their two black-suit aces.

This wasn't difficult with the South hand as the dummy. But when New York was North-South, the natural auction made life harder for the defenders. West led the club three, third- or fifth-highest, eight, ace, queen. Back came the diamond eight, six, four, king. West won trick three with the heart ace and should have cashed the spade ace. Instead, he returned the diamond five: three, heart eight, diamond jack.

Now East had to decide if his partner had the spade ace or club king. Johnson and Simson use reverse suit-preference signals, so the four and five of diamonds, Simson's lowest cards, asked for spades. But South, Payne, had hidden the two, so the position was uncertain. Eventually, Johnson returned a club. Payne won, drew trumps and discarded his spade loser on the fifth diamond. New York had finally won the GNT.

Anti-crime laws boost Democrats, White House says

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, which claims it has momentum in the midterm elections campaign, hopes to use President Clinton's crime bill as a weapon against Republicans.

The strategy, part of a broader attempt to reverse Clinton's political slump, is simple: Cloak Democrats with the tough-on-crime banner while labeling Republicans as do-nothing obstructionists willing to torpedo good legislation for political reasons.

"What have they done? What is their choice?" Clinton railed at a Bridgeport, Conn., fund-raiser Saturday. "Most of them voted against the Brady bill" requiring background checks and a five-day wait before purchasing handguns. "Most of them voted against the crime bill — having once voted for the crime bill — because it was election season."

Republicans stood fast against the crime bill, insisting that the White House trim millions of dollars of social programs they considered as fat. The GOP noted that the bill paid for only a fraction of the 100,000 new police Clinton promised, and questioned how much of a dent it would put in the nation's crime problem.

Clinton planned to carry his case to Albuquerque, N.M., where he was to deliver a speech today to the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Is smoking linked to mouth ulcer?

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My wife quit smoking for six months. During that time, she developed ulcers in her mouth and they became infected. She began smoking again and the ulcers went away. She subsequently quit again, and the ulcers returned. She's very uncomfortable with this situation and two mouth specialists are confused.

DEAR READER: So am I. I suppose that ingredients in the tobacco smoke could, in some fashion, deactivate the viruses that cause mouth ulcers, but this would be highly unusual.

I suggest that your wife have a herpes virus culture taken when the mouth lesions are at their most active stage. If the test confirms the presence of viruses, your wife's doctor may consider using a prescription anti-viral drug, such as acyclovir, to kill the herpes and relieve her symptoms.

In the meantime, she should refrain from smoking because of the recognized hazards of cigarettes, including circulatory problems and cancers of the lungs and mouth.

DEAR DR. GOTT: How can I control premature ejaculation?

DEAR READER: Premature ejaculation refers to the embarrassing situation in which a man achieves unwanted orgasm too early in the sex act — either before penetration or shortly thereafter. The condition is believed to be caused by a deep-rooted fear of intercourse, or by other emotional problems.

In the past, physicians counseled such patients to ignore the problem (which does not affect health) or to use methods, such as condoms, to reduce sensitivity. Predictably, none of these techniques were satisfactory and many men were ill-served by them.

Today, most premature ejaculations can be helped — even cured — by sex therapists, who have developed strategies to help such men control their orgasms more effectively.

Ask your doctor to refer you to the appropriate resource or seek out a sex therapist yourself. These therapists are generally available through large hospitals or teaching centers.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Where to Get Sex Information." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

Retired detective haunted by unsolved 1952 murder case

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Frank Castillon marvels at how genetic testing has revolutionized the art of criminal detection.

If only he had the tool in 1952, he might know who killed Florence Elder.

A 19-year-old male pedestrian had found the nude body of Mrs. Elder, 41, floating face up in the San Antonio River at what is now the McCullough Avenue bridge on the northeastern fringe of downtown.

She had been stabbed 31 times. It was 10:30 a.m., Feb. 5, 1952.

Castillon and Bill Lambkin were San Antonio police homicide detectives. Lambkin was a veteran of the identification bureau.

"When they first found her, they didn't know who she was. I identified her through her fingerprints," Lambkin, now 77, told the San Antonio Express-News for a story in today's editions.

Police found evidence of a violent struggle on the river bank near where the body was found. Clothing and personal effects littered the area. Mrs. Elder's lipstick, rouge and compact were found on the bank, along with a bra, a man's blue sock and a black glove.

A condom also was found at the scene, although the find never was made public, says Castillon, now 69 and retired.

At the time, the condom wasn't much to go on. Today, it could have been a case-breaker.

Castillon remembers the condom found at the scene as one piece of evidence that tended to exonerate Mrs. Elder's husband, Mansell Elder.

"You can imagine what could be done now with DNA," he said.

Mansell Elder, 43, was an alcoholic who, after his wife's death, was never known to take a drink again, Castillon said.

"He would go into the bars he used to frequent, sit at the table with his old drinking buddies and he wouldn't touch it," Lambkin said.

The Elders had lived in a two-room apartment about two blocks east of what is now HemisFair Plaza.

According to newspaper accounts of the time, police arrested Mansell Elder and questioned him for three hours after they identified his wife.

However, Elder told police he and his wife had been in a bar drinking all afternoon the previous day before going home, where he passed out. The bar owner placed the Elders' departure at 8:30 p.m.

Elder said he awoke the next morning to find his wife and most of her clothes gone. He told detectives that he was not concerned by his wife's disappearance; she had left him several times before.

Elder was released the following day.

The murder story was pushed off the San Antonio front pages one week later by the death of Britain's King George VI.

Eventually, all leads dried up, and Mansell Elder died. Nevertheless, Castillon and Lambkin still suspect the husband.

"We always suspected the husband, but we could never prove it. We ran him on the polygraph not once but several times, and it came out inconclusive," Lambkin said.

Today, the file on the Florence Elder murder rests in an old, yellowed cardboard box in the city archives at the old Bexar County Jail.

Since there is no statute of limitations on murder, unsolved cases are never closed. However, Mrs. Elder's murder is the oldest unsolved murder case on San Antonio's books, and police service agent Jim Caruso says the case only promises to get older. There have been no fresh leads in the case in decades, he said.

Retired Mom Resents Taking In Child Who Doesn't Belong

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I am 68 years old. My husband is 70. We raised seven children and now have 30 grandchildren. Our problem is "Sonny," our 30-year-old son who got in trouble with the law and disappeared for two years. He returned this summer to clear up the trouble, and was sentenced to 18 months.

Before Sonny left to do his time, he brought his girlfriend, "Thelma," and her 7-year-old daughter to my house and asked if they could stay until Thelma found a job. (She has no skills.) Thelma registered her daughter in school, but she has made no effort to find a place of her own. She found a job and works from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m., so I have to pick up her daughter from school, give her dinner, help her with her homework, give her a bath and put her to bed. (She is not Sonny's child.)

Abby, not only have my husband and I lost the retirement we earned at this time of our lives, we have become maids, cooks and baby sitters for someone we never even knew until four weeks ago.

How can we tell Thelma that she must set a date to move out and be on her own? Unfortunately, she has no parents.

"MOM" TO A STRANGER

DEAR "MOM": Your son asked if Thelma and her daughter could stay with you until she found a job. She has found one; now tell her that she must be out of your home within a specified number of days — or weeks.

Be firm, Mom, or Thelma will continue to take advantage of your generosity indefinitely.

DEAR ABBY: I care very much for an older gentleman — a widower with a large family (I'll call him

Garza County J.M. Huber Corp. will drill the No. 7 King in the Buenos Field, 10 miles northwest of Post. Planned for a depth of 9,000 feet, location is in Section 1,301, BS&F survey.

Howard). I have frequently resented the tone and disrespectful manner used by his family when speaking to him. They are impatient to the point of being downright cruel.

After I criticized a family member for humiliating him in front of numerous people, it suddenly dawned on me that Howard has a hearing problem. He often responds inappropriately to comments made to him, and his inability to hear has resulted in misunderstandings, hurt feelings, difficulty in following verbal instructions, and feeling isolated in groups.

I talked to Howard about it and he told me he had tried various hearing aids, but none has worked for him. Being a very impatient man, he probably didn't give them a fair trial, but he refuses to listen to anyone who dares to suggest that he give yet another hearing aid a chance.

Abby, if you or your readers have any suggestions on how to help this dear man, please let me know.

HOWARD'S FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Waste no time in taking Howard to an audiologist to have his hearing tested. If he has the type of deafness for which there is no hearing aid, he and his family should be advised.

However, in any case, his impatient and cruel family members should be made aware of his condition, and urged to exercise patience and respect.

DEAR ABBY: Does a cow have a significant udder?

MIKE HECHT

DEAR MIKE: Probably, although some may believe udderwise.

Couple searches for new home for mistreated horses

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — For eight years, Jeannie Weatherholtz has provided a home for horses that had been abused, neglected or abandoned.

Around the end of October, that home will be history.

Mrs. Weatherholtz and her husband, Bill, have lost the lease on the 10-acre tract near Boerne that had served as the non-profit Brighter Days Horse Refuge.

"We were supposed to move out Oct. 31, but the owner of the property said if we could put up with her renovating, we could stay until the end of November," Mrs. Weatherholtz said.

Over the years, more than 400 horses have grazed the Brighter Days pasture, most of them after rescues from cruel or neglectful owners in Kendall, Bexar and neighboring counties.

"Right now, we have close to 40 animals. Fifteen of them are little, bitty ponies, some blinded, some crippled," Mrs. Weatherholtz said.

The Weatherholtzes take in injured or neglected horses. Once the animals' health is restored, they are placed with caring new owners, Mrs. Weatherholtz said.

"I was taught from a very young age that you don't even hurt a bug," she said.

Diana said numb by latest revelation from Charles

LONDON (AP) — In a stinging public slap, Prince Charles says he never loved Princess Diana and didn't want to marry her. The frank revelations in an authorized biography have upset several members of the royal family — not to mention Diana. The Daily Mirror today quoted an unnamed friend of the princess' as saying she was "numb" over the news.
 "She is devastated. She can hardly believe what her husband has done to her," the friend said. "On the advice of her friends and presumably her lawyers she is keeping her head down and saying nothing."
 The 45-year-old prince — in a stunning departure from royal tradition — bared his soul in the biography, which began appearing in serial form in The Sunday Times newspaper on Sunday.
 "How could I have got it all so wrong?" Charles lamented in one letter in 1986, five years into his marriage. Diana, 33, and Charles, who have two sons, separated in December 1992.
 Many observers saw the work as a huge gamble by Queen Elizabeth II's eldest son and heir. An apparent attempt to revive acceptance for him as the future king by being unusually frank.

Buckingham Palace said Sunday that Charles had no regrets about cooperating with the biography, which describes him as trapped in a nightmare marriage with a bored, bulimic, self-absorbed and obsessively jealous young wife.
 To the dismay of traditionalists, Charles gave author Jonathan Dimbleby long interviews and unprecedented access to private letters and diaries for the book, "The Prince of Wales."
 His father, Prince Philip, 73, was tight-lipped when asked about the book in an interview published in The Daily Telegraph today. "I've never discussed private matters," Philip was quoted as saying.
 The biography, to be published Nov. 3, depicts Philip as a dominating father who forced Charles into a loveless marriage.
 "I'd rather not get involved in it. I've never made any comment about any member of the family in 40 years and I'm not going to start now," Philip said.
 Joe Louis was undisputed heavyweight champion of the world for 12 years.

Food pantries worry about closing doors

WASHINGTON (AP) — Food pantries around the country are worried about closing their doors to hungry Americans this winter as the federal government cuts the amount of food it provides to them.

In a money-saving move by the Clinton administration, the Agriculture Department will spend just $25 million this fiscal year to supply food banks and other programs for the poor with flour, corn meal, canned vegetables, fruits and meats.

Last year, USDA distributed $80 million in commodities under The Emergency Food Assistance Program, or TEFAP, known for the great cheese and butter giveaways of the 1980s.

Food bank directors say they cannot expect the private sector to make up for the loss in commodities because donations from manufacturers and grocers are declining, due to greater efficiency and less waste.

At the same time, poverty is on the rise and food bank directors say growing numbers of families with children and the working poor are turning to local pantries for a bag of groceries.

A study earlier this year by Second Harvest, a nationwide network of food banks, found that nearly 26 million Americans rely on food pantries, soup kitchens and emergency feeding programs. "The impact (of the cuts) is going to be very dramatic," said Dick Goebel, executive director of the Second Harvest St. Paul Food Bank in Minnesota. Goebel said he is especially concerned about rural food banks nationwide, as well as in his own state, because federal commodities tend to account for a high percentage of the food they distribute.

Instead of running full time, they may decide to open only a couple of days a week and to lay off some workers, he said.

Judy Perry, executive director of Harvesters-The Community Food Network in Kansas City, Mo., said 15 inner-city pantries served by her food bank may close.

"They won't be getting enough food and they don't have the funds to purchase food," she said. "They also have limited donations of food coming in from other sources, so the commodities are really important to their pantries." Perry said the pantries most at risk are located in public housing and senior citizen housing, and many of the people they serve lack transportation.

In central and northern New York, pantries are in similar straits.

Bart Feinberg, executive director of the Food Bank of Central New York, said some pantries are already cutting their hours and there is a good possibility others may be forced to close or merge. Demand, however, continues to rise as the victims of plant closings find lower-paying service jobs and struggle to support their families.

"There just aren't enough resources out there to meet the demands placed on food banks, pantry sites and soup kitchens," he said.

Man, grandson die in wreck

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A baby boy who had just been taken from his parents' hospital bed-sides was killed when the van in which he was riding was slammed broadside by another van.

The driver of the other van was also killed in the Sunday wreck. Jesus Robles, 5 months, was riding unrestrained in his grandmother's lap in the right front seat when the accident occurred about 8 p.m., said police Sgt. Joseph Kokal.

A paramedic at the scene said a child safety seat was in the back of the grandparents' van. Also killed was Macario Flores, 70.

The grandparents identities were withheld late Sunday until relatives could be notified. However, they were severely injured and taken to Wilford Hall Medical Center, Kokal said.

The boy's parents, who were injured in a traffic accident last week, also are hospitalized at Wilford Hall. The baby was being cared for by her grandparents while her mother and father recovered from their injuries.

No charges had been filed late Sunday.

Lotto Texas

by The Associated Press
 No tickets correctly matched all six numbers drawn Saturday night for the twice-weekly Lotto Texas game, state lottery officials said.
 The numbers drawn Saturday night from a field of 50 were: 23, 13, 24, 47, 36 and 9.
 There were 161 tickets sold with five of the six numbers, with each ticket worth $1,494. There were 9,214 tickets with four of six numbers, with each winning $94. And there were 172,896 tickets sold with three of six numbers, with each worth an automatic $3.
 Lottery officials estimate the jackpot for Wednesday night's game will be $18 million.

end all federal spending on commodity purchases under TEFAP. His administration argued that low-income Americans would be better served by food stamps or 12 other anti-hunger programs run by USDA at a total cost of $40 billion a year. Lawmakers, however, restored $25 million to the TEFAP budget and kept $40 million in administrative costs to keep the distribution pipeline running.

Your Birthday

Tuesday, Oct. 18, 1994

Your ambitions could be assisted in the year ahead by several close friends going out of their way to help you. Keep a record of their efforts so that you can repay them at a later date.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You could be eventually held accountable for promises you make today. Don't agree to do something you're hoping you can wiggle out of down the line. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, N.Y. 10163.
SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) It might be wise today to temporarily postpone complicated tasks until you have time to thoroughly study them. Speed could spell trouble.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Today you're likely to manage your resources prudently and effectively, as you usually do. However, there is a chance you might do something very rash that could ruin your record.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Today you're likely to have adequate drive and motivation, but you may prove weak in your methods and not be able to achieve your objectives.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't betray the trust of two friends who have placed you in their confidence today. If they wanted others to know what you were told, they would have made the announcements themselves.
PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Be kind and generous to the deserving today, but don't let an artful manipulator take advantage of you.
ARIES (March 21-April 19) Beware of inclinations to do things against your better judgment today. Back off in situations where your chances of success are slim.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20) You might be a bit too curious for your own good today. There's a possibility you may ask probing questions that someone prefers not to answer.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you borrow something from a friend today be certain to return it in the same condition in which you received it. Treat the possessions of others with respect.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not vacillate about major issues today. If you fail to take a firm position, it will not only confuse your associates, it will anger them.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Today, owing to your impatience, you might start a project before having the backup you need. Your lack of knowledge could prove disastrous.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be very careful in romantic situations, especially if you're involved with someone who has been deceitful. There's a chance you might be victimized again.

Bergen buys house

NEW YORK (AP) — Candice Bergen wanted a house in the Wild West. She just didn't want such wild decor.

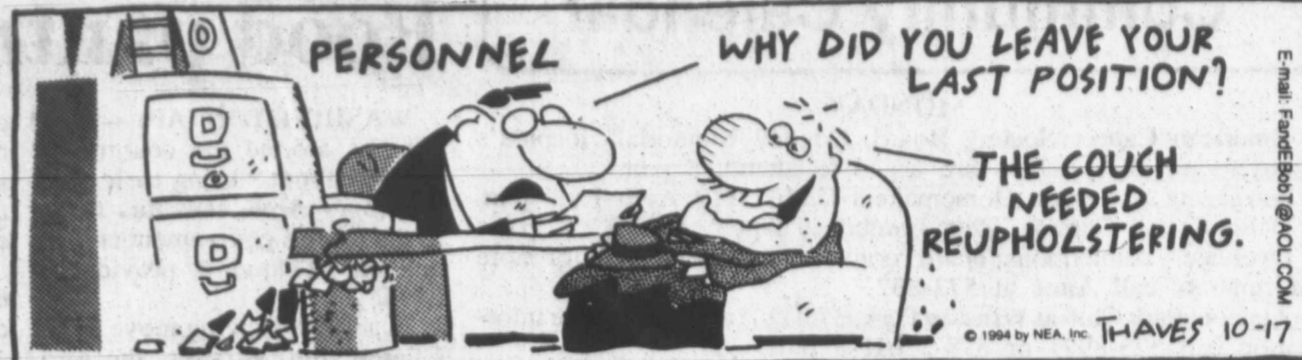

"Every place we saw had antlers," Bergen said of her Beverly Hills househunting. "Every banquette in every kitchen was upholstered in pony skin. And there were always his-and-hers bidets."

She and her husband, director Louis Malle, finally decided on a cottage-like house surrounded by a bougainvillea-covered wall, with a brick courtyard shaded by eucalyptus and pine, she said in November's "Architectural Digest."

"When we saw this place, I loved the vegetation and the privacy and that it looked like California 50 years ago," said Bergen, who also has an apartment in New York.

Cowboys pluck Eagles despite slow start

IRVING (AP) — This time, an NFC East challenger to the defending world champion Dallas Cowboys made them go all four quarters. The Cowboys got a clear-cut decision, but the opponent wasn't on the ground at the end.

It wasn't a knockout like the ones the Cowboys delivered against Washington and Arizona, but Dallas outpointed the upstart Philadelphia Eagles 24-13 Sunday in a showdown for the NFC East leadership.

The Cowboys have won 10 consecutive games over NFC East foes dating back to a 35-16 loss to Washington in the 1993 opener. The Cowboys defeated Washington 34-7 and Arizona 38-3 in games earlier this year.

The NFL's top-ranked defense intercepted Randall Cunningham four times while Troy Aikman threw two touchdown passes and Emmitt Smith rushed for 106 yards and scored a touchdown.

"Dallas is no different than when they won those two Super Bowls," Cunningham said. "They're going to be good for the next five years because of all their young players."

Smith said the Cowboys showed they can play average and still win.

"We were out of sync early but we finally put together some big plays," Smith said. "We won despite playing poorly at the start."

Aikman said he'll take it.

"This is a big step for us, a big game," Aikman said. "We're playing as well right now as we were at this point last year."

Dallas, which has defeated the Eagles five consecutive times, improved to 5-1, and the Eagles dropped to 4-2.

"We're the better team, and we proved it," Dallas coach Barry Switzer said. "I was impressed with the way Troy kept his composure when things were going bad early. He fought off all the negatives and kept his poise. If this guy goes nuts, then it's all over for us."

Dallas jumped ahead 21-7 early in the third period after Darren Woodson intercepted Cunningham at the Philadelphia 31. Aikman made the Eagles pay with a 14-yard scoring strike to tight end Jay Novacek. Then Chris Boniol put the game out of reach with a 37-yard field goal in the fourth period for a 24-7 edge.

The Eagles tried to come back. James Joseph scored on a 34-yard touchdown run and Mark Woodward recovered an onside kick. Cunningham then took Philadelphia downfield before Larry Brown intercepted a pass in the end zone.

Dallas defensive lineman Chad Hennings had two of the Cowboys' four sacks.

"I was one of the spy guys who sat back and waited for Cunningham to try to run," Hennings said. "Philadelphia has a lot of weapons. They presented a tremendous challenge, and we answered it."

The Cowboys scored two touchdowns in 41 seconds to take a 14-7 halftime lead.

"Those two touchdowns really hurt us," Eagles coach Rich Kotite said. "Randall was rushed a lot and he hurried things a little bit and got picked. I don't think anyone matches up talent wise with Dallas right now. But at least they knew they were in a game."

Cunningham said it was a bad day.

"You come in here and you think you're going to pull one out, but they have the best safeties and corners in the league," Cunningham said. "I had to force some balls and got intercepted. That's why we lost. I tried to make things happen."

Aikman took the Cowboys on an 84-yard scoring drive in 14 plays with the payoff coming on Smith's 2-yard touchdown run. Linebacker Byron Evans helped the Cowboys by jumping offside on a third-down incomplete pass from the 5. Smith scored on the next play.

Kenny Gant intercepted Cunningham on the next play at the Eagles 34. Two plays later, Aikman faked a slant pass to fool cornerback Eric Allen and lobbed a 16-yard touchdown pass to a wide open Alvin Harper.

"I struggled in the first quarter but the important thing to me was not to lose my head and for the other guys not to lose theirs," Aikman said.

Jeff Snyder returned a punt 40 yards to position the Eagles for their first touchdown. On third-and-1 at the Dallas 32, Cunningham faked to Charlie Garner and found Herschel Walker down the sidelines for the touchdown.

"We have to really be disciplined when we play a team with a quarterback like Cunningham," Gant said. "We know how dangerous he is, but we contained him for the most part. We did what we had to do against him."

Up next for the Cowboys is a visit to Arizona and Buddy Ryan. The Eagles play the Houston Oilers in a Monday night game.

Rice Owls beat Texas for first time since 1965

HOUSTON (AP) — The Rice Owls were careful not to celebrate too soon. They wanted to laugh at the beaten Texas Longhorns, but they held back.

After 28 years of losing to Texas, they didn't object to waiting until the final seconds ticked off the clock on Sunday night to react to their 19-17 victory.

Then, they tore down the goal posts and cut loose celebrating for all the Rice teams that had tried and failed to end the Longhorn dominance, dating back to Rice's 20-17 victory in 1965.

"They (Texas) laughed at us last season but they had good reason," Rice linebacker Larry Izzo said. "They beat us pretty good (55-38). Yeah, we wanted to laugh but we couldn't laugh at them tonight. It was too close."

Rice's tiger-like defense clawed at the Longhorns from start to finish, holding them to 16 rushing yards and Josh LaRocca threw two touchdown passes to ignite the historic end of the streak.

"We knew we had a good game plan and if we could control the ball and stop their running game, we could win," Izzo said.

It seemed so improbable, even when the Owls jumped on the Longhorns from the opening kickoff and took a 9-0 lead before Texas ever ran an offensive play.

Matt Huelsman kicked a 24-yard field goal to complete the game's opening drive and after Josh Sumner bobbled the following kickoff, Jay Lamay recovered at the Texas 33 for the Owls.

LaRocca needed only one play to find Coston, outstretched in the end zone, for the touchdown on the first play with 5:58 left in the first quarter.

"This victory was sweet," LaRocca said. "It gives us something to build on. This was incredible. This is for all the Rice teams that have come close and for all the Rice people who have never seen a victory over Texas."

Texas was outgained 122-8 in the first quarter but they recovered for a 10-9 lead on Phil Dawson's 44-yard field goal in the first quarter and Shea Morenz's 40-yard touchdown pass to Eric Jackson in the second quarter.

EASY VICTORY — Snyder High School Lady Tigers, paced by deadly serves, glided to 15-2 and 15-3 victories over visiting Lubbock Estacado Saturday afternoon. Thursday's games against Lamesa, likely will be more difficult, however. (SDN Staff Photo)

Abilene's Estes wins first PGA

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Shortly after scoring his first career victory in the Texas Open, poker-faced Bob Estes took time out to apologize for not being friendlier.

He included "family, friends, marshals, the gallery and camera crews" at Oak Hills Country Club.

"When I stop to smile and talk to people, I don't concentrate as well as I should," he said Sunday following his wire-to-wire, one-stroke victory. "I was taking care of business. I'll work on my image a little later."

If his image needs work, his game certainly doesn't. Estes led all the way, taking charge with a first-round 62, then posting a season-best 127 for two rounds and 195 for three. He came into the final round with a four-shot lead.

Estes needed all of it to beat veterans Gil Morgan and Don Pooley, acquiring the first title of a seven-season career with a closing 70 and a 265 total, 19 under par.

"It was tough, sleeping on the lead every night, especially when you haven't won before," Estes said. "But now that it's over, I couldn't pick a better way to win my first tournament than leading every round."

In doing so, he joined Mike Springer and Greg Norman as the only wire-to-wire winners this year.

He also collected $180,000 from the total purse of $1 million, pushed his season's earnings to $700,560 and became eligible for such exclusive 1995 events as the Masters, the Tournament of Champions and the World Series of Golf.

But it wasn't easy. Pooley and Morgan each closed to within a single shot at one time or another over the last 18 holes.

Each time, Estes was equal to the challenge. When Pooley got close, Estes promptly birdied two in a row.

15-2, 15-3... Snyder's spikers scorch Estacado

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

Anytime Snyder takes on a team like Lubbock Estacado, it would be easy to take ahead, especially if that next match is against the Lamesa Lady Tors.

The Lady Tigers, however, did nothing of the sort as they disposed of Estacado in straight games, 15-2, 15-3.

"It is real easy to look ahead in a situation like this," Snyder head coach Patty Grimmer said. "But, if we do that, sometimes we can get ourselves into trouble."

"I made sure that the girls stayed focused on Estacado this week. The idea is to keep them focused to play one game at a time."

Grimmer added that any district win is a good win, especially going into a game against District 5-4A rival Lamesa.

"The last time we played Lamesa, they took us to three games," she said. "They have several good hitters and their middle blocker, Amy Yoder, is tough."

Snyder travels to Lamesa Thursday with play beginning at 5:30 p.m. with the freshmen followed by the junior varsity and varsity.

In a game dominated by points scored on the serve, Sterling Cave outdid herself with 17 service point winners, nine of which were aces.

Jina Miller had three points and two were aces. Bianca Rocha and Kelly Kallemeyn scored three points and one ace each.

Joanie Wemken notched two service point winners and both Trish McGrew and Kelly Clay served up one ace apiece.

Kelly Clay led the team with three kills. Edwina Brooks knocked down two and Tiffany Garza had one.

In junior varsity action, the Lady Tigers defeated Lubbock Estacado 15-4, 15-4.

Monie Pena led the team with 14 service point winners. Sharon Gulseth had eight points and Shawn Purcell scored four.

Angela Rodriguez scored two points and Tyra Brooks and Samantha Trevino each had one.

Lady golfers top Andrews

Brooke Lowrance fired an even-par 72 Saturday to pace the Lady Tigers to a dual match victory over Andrews at Snyder Country Club.

"It's a big win for us over Andrews," said SHS Girls Golf Coach Matt Glenn, noting that Andrews has consistently dominated the region in golf.

Snyder fired a team total of 346 while Andrews posted a 373.

In addition to Lowrance, Kelly Lacik carded an 86 while Kayla Drain posted a 93 and Daysha Weaver a 95. Brook Kubena shot a 103 while Mandy Baker turned in a 100 and Paige Bell a 102.

Oates top candidate

ARLINGTON (AP) — Former Baltimore Orioles manager Johnny Oates is the leading candidate to become the next manager of the Texas Rangers, according to a published report.

010 LEGAL NOTICES

LEGAL NOTICE

In accordance with the provisions of the Texas Agriculture Code, Chapter 74, Subchapter D and 4 Tex. Admin. Code, Chapter 3, Subchapter A, the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation will conduct a referendum on the proposition of whether or not cotton growers shall establish the Central Rolling Plains Boll Weevil Eradication Zone to include: Baylor, Callahan, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Knox, Mitchell, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Throckmorton, and Young counties, and all land in Archer County south of a line following FM 422 commencing at the Baylor County line running east to the intersection on FM Road 210 continuing east to the intersection of State Highway 25 continuing east to the Clay County Line; all land in Borden County east of a line seven miles west of the Scurry County line running south from the Garza County line to the Howard County line; and all land in Taylor County east of US Hwy 83 from a point commencing at the intersection of US Hwy 83 and the south Taylor County line, north to the town of Bradshaw, thence north of FM Road 1086 as said FM Road proceeds west and north to the intersection of said FM Road 1086 and US Hwy 277, being all that land lying north of said FM Road and west of said US Hwy 277 intersects the south boundary line of Taylor County, and on the proposition of whether cotton producers in that zone will participate in cost sharing for a boll weevil eradication program in that zone by payment of maximum assessment of $5 per land acre planted in cotton in 1995 and $5 per land acre planted in cotton in 1996, and a maximum assessment of $10 per land acre planted in cotton each year thereafter until the costs of the eradication program are paid off, and a nominal maintenance fee thereafter. The assessments will not exceed the total costs of the eradication program, which is estimated to be and cannot exceed $74.28 per land acre planted in cotton, plus finance charges and a nominal maintenance fee. Any federal cost sharing funds or other savings will reduce the total amount assessed. Such assessment is to be collected each year at the county ASCS offices at the time of certification. Landlords and tenants will pay their pro-rata share as determined by their lease agreements. During the referendum, a representative of the above referenced zone will be elected to serve on the 9 member Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board of Directors. The board is charged with administering the boll weevil eradication program in Texas.

The referendum and board election will be held by mail balloting. An eligible voter may, however, vote in person before the deadline for voting at the office of the county extension agent in the county within the zone in which the voter resides. Voters will be receiving their ballots by mail approximately two weeks prior to the election date. All ballots cast by mail must be postmarked no later than December 1, 1994, in order to be valid.

Any cotton grower having cotton production on calendar year 1994 within the counties listed above is eligible to vote and, if he or she resides in the proposed Central Rolling Plains zone, to have his or her name placed on the ballot as a candidate in the board election. A cotton grower is defined as an individual, entity or joint operator who, as owner, landlord, tenant or shareholder is entitled to share in the cotton available to marketing from the farm, or share in the proceeds thereof, as determined in accordance with 7 Code of Federal Regulations, Part 1413.

Any person eligible to vote in the referendum or board election and that resides in the proposed Central Rolling Plains Zone may place their name in nomination for election to the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation Board by written application to the Foundation at the address below. The application shall be on a nomination form provided by the Foundation and must be signed by the applicant and at least ten other eligible voters. The nomination form must be filed by November 1 and must provide the legal residence of the applicant. A nomination form may be obtained by contacting the Foundation office or any county agent located in the voting area. For more information regarding the referendum and election, or if you are a cotton grower in the above-reference area and do not receive a ballot, please call: Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, telephone 1-800-687-1212, P.O. Box 5089, Abilene, Texas 79608-5089.

U.S. has silent, sullen majority

By WALTER R. MEARS AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — At the White House these days, they're hoping that somewhere out there, a silent majority really wants things done President Clinton's way.

AP analysis

Perhaps so, but silent would be an understatement. Sullen majority might be closer to it, a month before off-year elections in which the signs read Republican, to the point that GOP leaders have started warning against overconfidence.

But deep down, says Leon Panetta, Clinton's chief of staff, people are going to want an active, problem-solving government on the Democratic model. "... We've got to do a better job of showing that government does have a role," he said, and that Clinton and congressional Democrats can pursue it effectively.

The public opinion surveys, and the off-year odds makers, say otherwise, reflecting disapproval of Congress and of Clinton, and pointing to sizable GOP gains in the House and Senate.

"Look, I read all these stories about how angry the voters are and how fed up," Clinton told automobile workers in Dearborn, Mich., campaigning to stir traditionally Democratic voters. "Let me tell you something.

"I showed up to work in Washington 20 months ago, and since then I have been amazed and often angered at some of the stuff I see ... bewildered at some of the resistance to change."

"But remember this: when it came to change, we were on the side of the future."

Republicans, he said, were against that kind of change and want to go back to the 1980s.

They see it otherwise, of course, arguing the theory of good gridlock to bar bad legislation, a category they have lately assigned to just about the entire Clinton agenda. Sen. Alan Simpson, the deputy Republican leader, said it's the administration that's out of touch because Americans "don't want an expanding federal role in our daily lives."

Clinton says he doesn't want intrusive government, but does want a course that deals with national needs. "We're headed in a new direction, with a new idea about what our national government ought to do," he said, "not a government that ignores our problems, but not one that promises to solve all the problems for us, either."

It isn't a new argument, only a new installment. Ronald Reagan used to say that government wasn't the solution, government was the problem. That, says Clinton, is the outlook voters opted against when they elected him president.

"People deep down want our system of government to work," Panetta said. "They don't want to believe that the answer is gridlock."

That's the message Clinton has taken on the road, his advisors saying that the president's aim is to frame the larger, national issues Democratic can adapt to the regional and local concerns that shape individual elections.

But that assumes they're running as a team, when a good many Democratic candidates, especially in the South and West, don't want their fortunes tied to the president. Clinton insisted that the administration has a solid record, one Democratic candidates could use to their advantage. "I think a lot of them are frustrated by the fact that the American people don't know it," he said.

That frustration shows at the White House. "We don't get the benefit of what we've done," said Robert Rubin, who heads the economic council, saying gains on that front have been discounted politically because in the improved economy the issue has slipped down the list of voter concerns. Besides, said Panetta, the Republicans have succeeded in denying Clinton the credit.

And Clinton said he's concerned that people are so soured on Washington that they may vote backwards to spite incumbents, against Democrats who actually serve their interest in issues like deficit control, political reform, job training.

"I want to ask you to help assure America, through all the frustration and anger, does not inadvertently vote for what you're against and against what you're for," he said in Dearborn.

When Richard M. Nixon sought the support of "the great silent majority" 25 years ago, and put the phrase into the political dictionary, it was an appeal to mainstream America in a time of mass demonstrations and dissent against U.S. policy in the Vietnam war.

Clinton has a tougher audience to convince.

Runaway bulldozer cruches 16 vehicles

WEST SENeca, N.Y. (AP) — An unmanned bulldozer rumbled out of control for half a mile, crunching 16 cars at an auto dealership and just missing a video store and some power lines.

"What a mess," said Ron Corbo, owner of the Oldsmobile-Subaru dealership in suburban Buffalo. "There's a half-a-million dollars worth of cars right there."

Police said someone started the bulldozer Saturday after construction workers left a nearby demolition site. The person drove it a short while before jumping off.

No one was hurt as it thundered over railroad tracks, just missed two sets of power lines and passed within 15 feet of a Blockbuster Video Store.

Customers said the bulldozer disappeared in some underbrush, reappeared climbing a hill and headed toward the auto dealership.

The front-end loader moved down a line of new and used cars, climbing over them, crunching them flat or ripping off their back ends.

Among the casualties was a fully-loaded $32,000 Oldsmobile 98 that had arrived from the factory a few hours earlier. The car was flattened into a 3-foot-high metal pancake.

The bulldozer then plowed a $28,000 Oldsmobile into the wall of Corbo's service garage, its treads gouging a 3-foot trench in the lot. Someone finally jumped on and shut it off. Corbo said it could have been worse.

Snyder weekend sees 8 arrests

Law enforcement officials made eight arrests over the weekend, with five of them alcohol-related. Robert McWhorter, 17, was arrested at 3:11 p.m. Sunday and charged with burglary of a residence located at 703 Ave. Q. The original complaint was filed shortly after noon Sunday. At 9:17 p.m. Saturday, a 32-year-old man was arrested in the 2100 Block of 42nd Street on two misdemeanor warrants — an expired motor vehicle inspection sticker and expired drivers license. A woman, age 28, was arrested at the Budget Inn at 9:48 p.m. Sunday on a warrant for public intoxication. At 9:36 p.m. Sunday, two persons were arrested in the 300 block of Coliseum Drive. A 62-year old driver was arrested for misdemeanor driving while intoxicated and a 32-year-old female passenger was arrested for public intoxication. A 37-year-old man was arrested at 11:47 p.m. Sunday in the 2600 block of Ave. E for assault Class C/family violence. A 25-year-old man was arrested at 10:25 p.m. Sunday in the 300 block of Hwy. 84 by the Department of Public Safety on Midland County warrants for speeding. A 14-year-old juvenile was arrested at 10:11 p.m. Sunday at the Latin American Center for probation violation, disorderly conduct and consumption of alcohol by a minor. Criminal mischief continued in the county Saturday as deputies investigated two reports. Deputies had investigated several reports of damage to property in the county last Thursday and Friday. A minor accident was investigated at 12:43 p.m. Saturday in the 8200 block of College. No injuries were reported. A report for dirtbikes creating a noise disturbance was reported at 2:41 p.m. Saturday and the subjects were notified of the complaint. A large number of cattle were reported at the railroad crossing, one mile west of Dermott, by Santa Fe railroad officials. The animals were later secured. A report of shoplifting was made into the building and on Saturday afternoon, and a report of persons stealing pumpkins from a store outdoor display was made later Saturday night. A report of Class C Theft was filed at 2:42 p.m. Sunday by Don's Value King in reference to some pumpkins stolen from them Saturday night.

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) — "The Far Side" is fading out of print, but it will come into focus on your television screen. Gary Larson will take his cartoon to television before retiring it Jan. 1. "Gary Larson's Tales from the Far Side" will be broadcast Oct. 26 on CBS.

Israel and Jordan initial peace accord

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — King Hussein of Jordan and Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin initialed a draft peace treaty today after settling longstanding differences on water rights and border disputes. The accord was reached after the two heads of state led overnight negotiations. It came after a difficult week for Mideast peace talks. Israel suspended talks with the PLO after Islamic militants based in the Gaza Strip kidnapped an Israeli soldier. The soldier was killed by his captors Friday after Israeli commandos stormed their hideout, but talks are to resume Tuesday in Cairo. Israel and Jordan declared an end to 46 years of belligerency on July 25, and since that time have been working to resolve disputes that stood in the way of a full-fledged peace treaty. Today, Hussein said the treaty heralded a new era. "Hopefully, it is a fresh beginning and a fresh start," he said before the signing ceremony. Rabin said that "this is a historically unique moment." "I have no doubt that this day is going to the Mideast for a signing ceremony. A treaty will make Jordan the second Arab country formally at peace with Israel. Egypt became the first in 1979, and suffered years of ostracism by other Arab countries for its historic move. President Anwar Sadat paid with his life after Islamic militants gunned him down in 1981. Hussein made the agreement possible when he decided to forge ahead without waiting for the other two Arab nations negotiating with Israel — Syria and its proxy, Lebanon. Talks with Syria are stalled over the fate of the Golan Heights that Israel captured from Syria in the 1967 Mideast war. Israel has agreed to return to Jordan most of the lands it demanded, but will lease certain areas that include Israeli settlements or farms, according to an Israeli official in Jerusalem who spoke on condition of anonymity. Other land disputes have been settled by swapping territory, he said. The two sides agreed to start new projects on the Yarmouk River to increase the amounts flowing to Jordan. Israel and Jordan also asked the World Bank to finance additional projects, the official said. It was Rabin's third visit to Jordan in two weeks and his fourth since July 25.

United States, Russia split on Iraq's promise of peace

KUWAIT (AP) — With Saddam Hussein's troops in retreat from the Kuwaiti border, Russian and American diplomats narrowed their differences today on confronting Iraqi aggression. "We agreed that it is necessary for Iraq to comply fully with all U.N. Security Council resolutions, not just some," Secretary of State Warren Christopher said after a meeting in New York with Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev. "We agreed that Saddam is not entitled to any reward for withdrawing the troops that threaten Kuwait. ... Saddam will not get something for nothing." The meeting between Kozyrev, Christopher and U.S. ambassador to the United Nations Madeleine Albright failed, however, to resolve differences over a timetable for lifting the oil embargo imposed by Iraq following its 1990 invasion of Kuwait, Kozyrev said. Kozyrev told reporters Russia agreed that force should be used against Iraq "if there is actual aggression." "We will be on the side of the coalition, probably even militarily" in such a situation, he said before speaking to the United Nations. U.S. officials had open differences with Russia on Sunday over the lifting of U.N. sanctions against Iraq and how far U.N. resolutions go in authorizing attacks on Iraqi troops. Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Kozyrev and Secretary of State Warren Christopher were meeting today in New York to try and bridge their widening gap on Iraq. Russia, which has been urging that U.N. sanctions against Iraq be lifted, reluctantly went along with a Security Council vote late Saturday demanding Iraq withdraw its elite troops from the Kuwaiti border. But while the U.S. focused on troop movements, the Russians appeared to be promoting Saddam's peace moves. Kozyrev told reporters that Saddam promised him last week that Iraq would recognize Kuwait's border and sovereignty. Kozyrev might have other reasons for urging that the sanctions be lifted — Iraq reportedly owes Russia billions of dollars that could only be repaid when Iraqi oil starts flowing to world markets again. President Clinton and U.S. officials, meanwhile, took a harder stance against the man who ignited the Gulf war with his 1990 invasion of Kuwait. "The message is clear," President Clinton said Sunday. "Iraq must complete its withdrawal. It must not threaten its neighbors in the future." Christopher said it was doubtful that Saddam could stay in power even if he complied with all the U.N. resolutions required to bring about a lifting of economic sanctions. He did not elaborate. Also, he insisted that the United States had all the authority it needed under existing U.N. resolutions to attack Iraqi forces moving toward the Kuwaiti border. "Next time, we'll probably not wait. We will take action, strong action against him," the secretary said. In Baghdad, the speaker of the Iraqi parliament called a meeting today, but it was not known what issues lawmakers would address. Defense Department won't review ruling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The government isn't challenging a court ruling that says the military can't bar gays for merely "coming out," the first time the Clinton administration has not appealed an unfavorable ruling in the case. The Pentagon and the Justice Department allowed Friday's decision to expire, said attorney John McGuire, who represents Navy sonar operator Keith Meinhold.

Airport inspector alleges shoddy construction

DENVER (AP) — Workers at Denver's troubled new airport cut corners that could lead to collapsing floors, buckling walls and falling ceilings, according to a former inspector.

Dean Hill said he quit after refusing to sign off on shoddy work, and that he has photographs documenting potentially dangerous construction.

He said another inspector approached him while he was taking the photos and told him, "Guys like you have come up missing."

Bob Storck, the airport's head of construction, promised a full investigation.

He said Hill's photos do show potential construction problems.

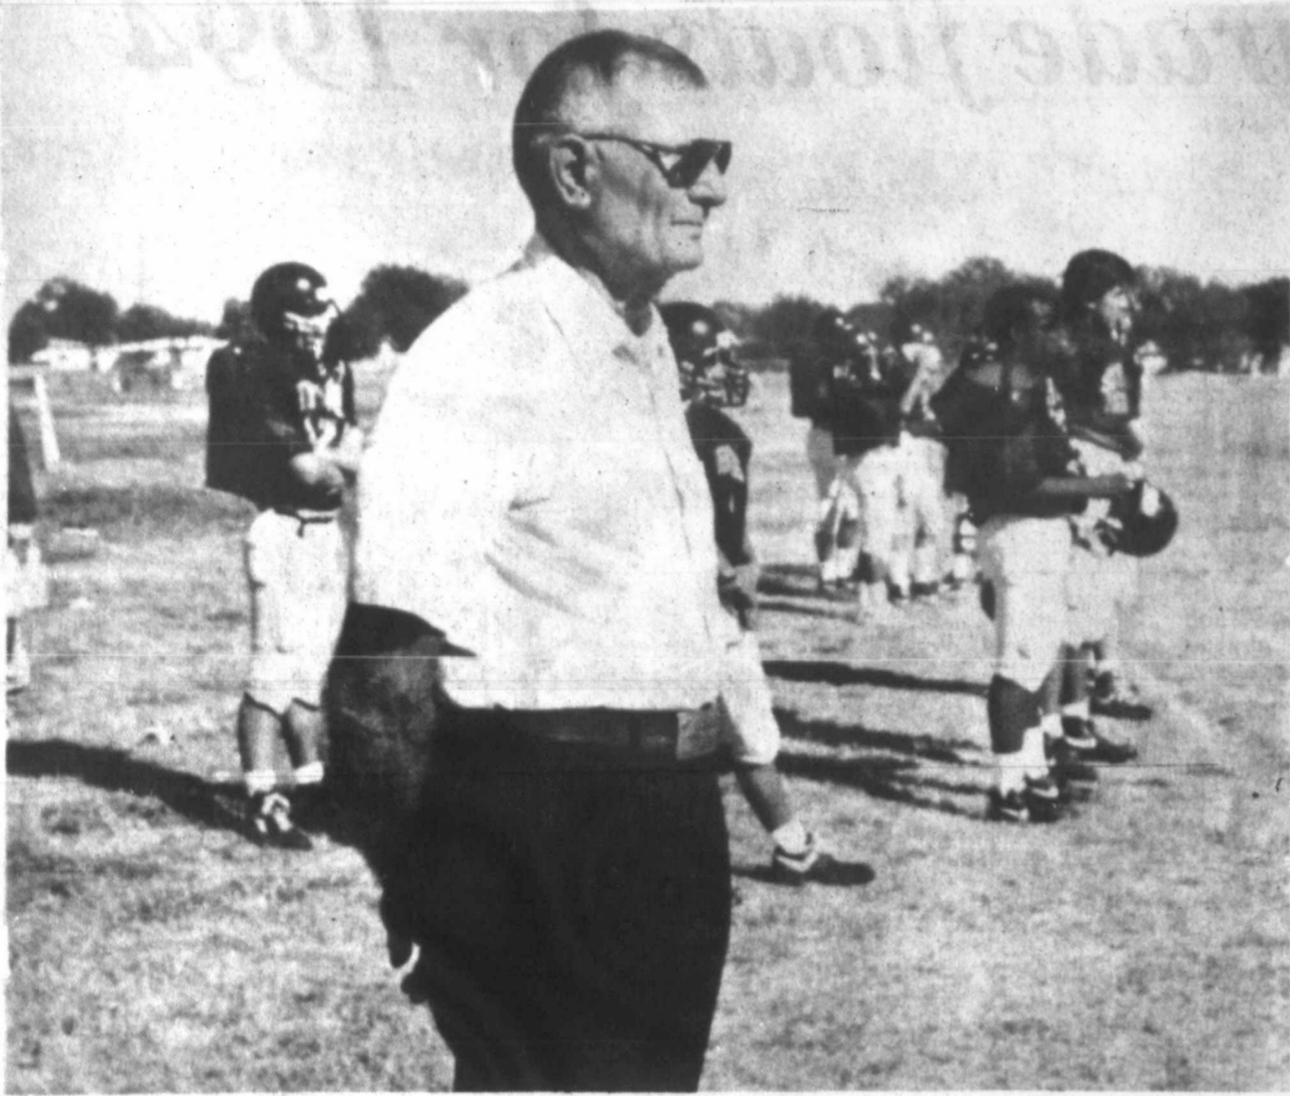

"We're real anxious to go check some of this stuff out," he said. "If we find people were actually engaged in fraud, that certainly is something we will take to the district attorney."

Hill, who spent 35 years as a construction supervisor, said he turned over photographs of the construction to Denver's district attorney, who is investigating allegations of falsified tests and fraudulent contracting and construction practices.

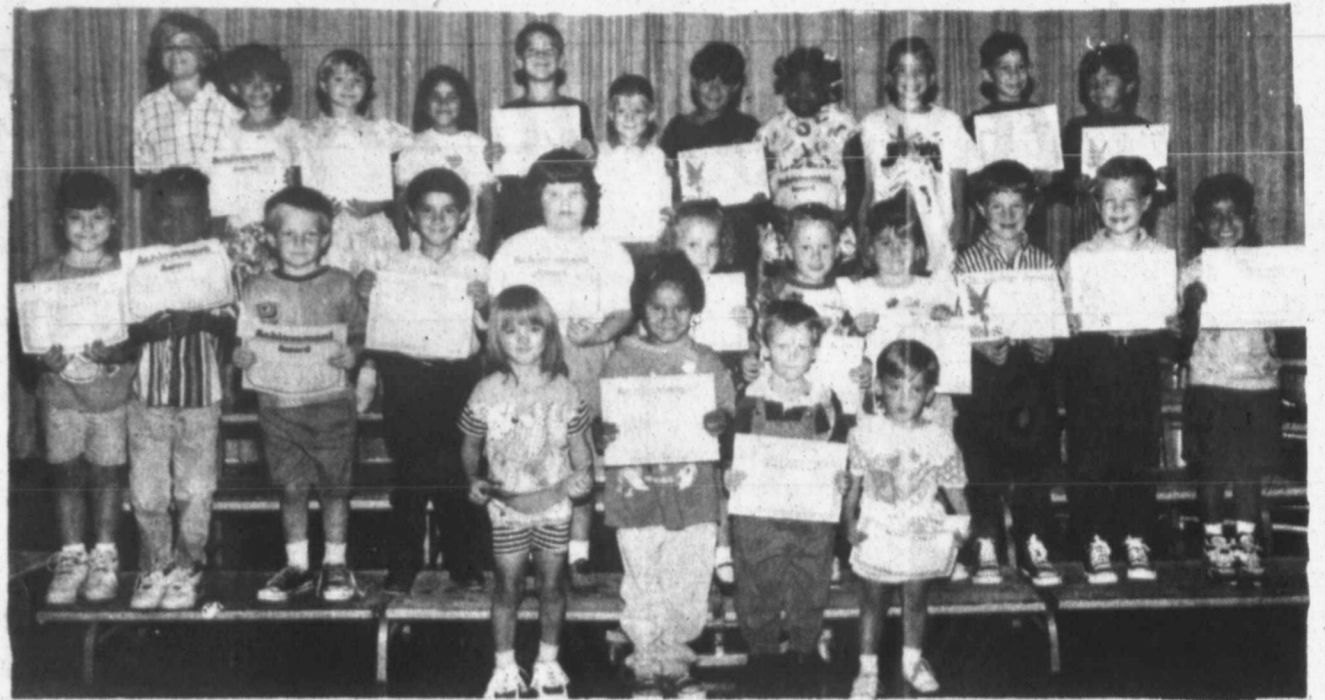

Hill said he also spoke to federal investigators about falsified inspections. But he has not been invited to testify before the federal grand jury investigating allegations of wrongdoing at the $3.7 billion airport, which is scheduled to open Feb. 28.

Problems, including a high-tech luggage system that chews up baggage, have repeatedly delayed the airport's opening. The city is currently served by Stapleton International Airport.

Boy, 6, fails to save brother from house fire

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Six-year-old Justin Dailey did all he could to save his little brother from the fire that broke out in their family's log cabin.

He stood among the flames to call 911, then dragged his 4-year-old brother to the door and tried to escape.

"They were on the phone with 911, and the phone went dead," said Fire Chief Jeff Griffith. "The dispatcher said she thought she heard the fire over the phone, and, unfortunately, she was right."

When firefighters knocked down the door early Sunday, they found the two boys unconscious.

Matthew, with burns over three-fourths of his body, died at the scene. Justin suffered burns and smoke inhalation and was listed in critical condition Sunday night.

The boys' parents — Thomas, 39, and Deborah, 31 — also were killed. Officials said the flames trapped them in the back bedroom and prevented the boys from reaching them.

Authorities blamed the fire on a free-standing wood stove that overheated in the living room. A new, more-efficient wood stove that was recently bought sat outside the cabin, under a blue tarp.

Costner wants to finish water film

NEW YORK (AP) — Kevin Costner is determined to complete the sci-fi adventure movie "Waterworld," despite its bloated budget.

After four months of filming on Hawaii's Big Island and more than two months to go, the movie has cost more than $100 million, the Daily News said Sunday.

Costner's salary is $12 million to play a half-man, half-fish pitted against bad guy Dennis Hopper, the newspaper said. Costner's ocean-view bungalow with butler and chef costs $4,500-a-night.

Food (steak and lobsters included) and lodging for the cast and crew of about 1,500 has cost more than $25 million, the newspaper said.

Universal Pictures President Casey Silver, MCA President Sidney Sheinberg and other executives went to Hawaii for a crisis meeting. Sheinberg came away optimistic.

"I really believe this picture has enormous potential," he said. "Do I wish the movie had cost less? Of course!"

At times, Costner said, the movie "has been a mess. I try to be honest and there is no point pretending this is a normal film. The money got out of hand."

Hundreds from all over U.S. contribute to Bush's 2 sons

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A 92-year-old Montana woman who hasn't been to Florida in three decades gave $30 to Florida Republican gubernatorial nominee Jeb Bush.

And she gave $50 to George W. Bush, the Republican gubernatorial candidate in a state she's never visited: Texas.

"I love President Bush," Thelma Gallagher of Montana told The Orlando Sentinel in a Sunday story.

Ms. Gallagher said she thought the former president was good for the country.

"I think his sons will be too," she said.

Ms. Gallagher is one of 1,673 people from all 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico who made contributions to both Bush sons.

In Florida, Jeb Bush is challenging Democratic Gov. Lawton Chiles. In Texas, George W. Bush is challenging Democratic Gov. Ann Richards.

Both Bush campaigns sent fund-raising letters to voters across the country who contributed to their father's 1992 re-election campaign. Both letters prominently featured George and Barbara Bush.

The Bush sons have raised a combined $16 million. The 1,673 people who have contributed to both campaigns gave $537,159.

Jeb Bush, who has brought his parents to Florida several times for fund-raising events, said it's only normal to have parents help out their kids.

"It would be strange if they weren't here," Bush told a crowd in Orlando during a recent $500-a-plate fund raiser.

"They're my parents and I love them, and I don't care if Lawton Chiles likes it or not."

Chiles is facing "a very prominent political dynasty," said Jim Krog, an adviser to the governor.

"As luck would have it, we got a Bush here in Florida and Texas got one," Krog said. "The other 48 governors ought to be thankful he didn't have more kids who wanted to dabble in the family business."

Sally Harrell, Jeb Bush's campaign manager, said the number of people who gave to both Bush sons don't provide a big boost dollarwise.

"Does it show that the Bush family is highly regarded?" she asked. "Of course, but those people who give can't vote for you."

Contributors from Texas, home state to both Bush sons, gave the most to both campaigns: $222,807. Californians have given $53,768; New Yorkers, $30,450; and residents of the District of Columbia, $24,267.

Floridians who gave to both Bush sons contributed $15,895.

In Florida, there's a $500 cap on individual contributions. About a quarter of Jeb Bush's contributors are from out of state. He has received 9,351 non-Florida contributors to build his $5 million-plus war chest.

In Texas, there are no campaign contribution limits, and George W. Bush's out-of-state money totals almost 30 percent of the $11 million he has raised.

Pat Gray offers Clear-Coat car protection

West Texas weather is especially rough on car finishes. Now you can shield your new paint with the revolutionary protection of Herberts Standox Cross-Linking Clear Coat. It's the only coating endorsed by Lexus and Infinity. And in Big Spring, Pat Gray Body Works is the trained and certified Standox shop.

In addition to preventing chipping and scratching, Clear Coat guards against fading from extreme heat, cold and sand.

If that's not reason enough to order Standox Cross-Linking Clear Coat think about the beautiful extra glossiness your car will have. Many car manufacturers are now advertising, especially on TV, the value of coating. (For example, a Chevrolet commercial shows ball-bearings showering down on the painted surface of a new pickup truck to demonstrate chip resistance.)

The expert application of Clear Coat is a specialty at the right price at Pat Gray's. An additional guarantee of satisfaction is Gray's qualification by I-Car (the industry's leading educational organization). Among the many courses required for the I-Car Gold Class Certificate is one that's all about painting and finishing. So Gray's warranty is backed up by the best possible technical knowledge.

Herberts Standox Clear Coat is the only product of its kind on the market; and Pat Gray Body Works is the only expert in town.

If your car needs body repair before painting and coating be sure to ask about special pricing. Pat Gray Body Works has a long history of making cars look like new for individual customers and the insurance business.

The company is a member of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. Since 1977 excellence has been the standard at Pat Gray Body Works: 700 North Owens, Phone 263-0582.

Leno wants show to be successful

RADNOR, Pa. (AP) — Jay Leno wants to copy Johnny Carson's success — without copying Carson.

Leno vowed to put "The Tonight Show" back on top of late night television, where it reigned when Carson was in charge.

"Do I think we will be No. 1 again? Yes I do," Leno said in the Oct. 22 issue of TV Guide magazine.

But Leno — whose efforts have been eclipsed by David Letterman's "Late Show" — doesn't want to be a Carson clone, said band leader Branford Marsalis.

"I don't want to wear ties no more," Marsalis says Leno declared recently. "Johnny wore ties. I don't want to dress like Johnny. This is my show."

Chris Evert won 18 tennis championships in Grand Slam events.

Diversity is key, Olmost tells crowd

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Edward James Olmos didn't mince words during a speech at a minority journalists conference.

"We stand for what this country really is," the actor said. "What makes Los Angeles unique is the diversity of its people. It is the key to us as a human species."

"The written word has such profound power, but the problem is our history needs a very strong augmentation," Olmos told mostly Hispanic journalists at the 16th Annual Journalism Opportunities Conference for Minorities.

To make his point, he asked a white man in the front row to stand.

"Jesus should be represented by a person of color. He should have woeled hair and bronze skin," Olmos said. "I have only seen him represented by you, with white skin that almost glows."
