Ask Us

Q—Was the Scouting For Food drive last Saturday or is it to be held this coming Saturday, Nov. 19?

A—The drive was last Saturday. There was some confusion because the bags used for the drive, which were obtained from another Scout Council, had Nov. 19 printed on them. Possibly because of the confusion, the drive was not the success it has been in the past, officials said. Anyone who has non-perishable food items for the Scouts may call Manuel Tarango at 573-8708 or David Stokes at 573-3260.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT EVENT

Snyder FFA's Agricultural Marketing Plan team took championship honors at the 67th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. over the weekend.

"This is the first national championship for Snyder FFA since 1971 when it won the poultry contest, and man, does it feel good," said Snyder High School instructor David Frazier, advisor and coach of the team.

Shauna Huddleston, Shanna Haggerton and Robyn Hornsberger were the three SHS students who made up the winning team. On Friday, they advanced through the semi-final rounds along with teams from California, North Carolina, Nevada and Indiana.

During the finals, each team had to present its marketing plan to a set of eight judges representing different companies from across the nation. Each team was given 15 minutes to present a marketing plan for a product they had researched and developed. Snyder FFA's product was called CottoNet. Upon completion of the oral presentation, judges were allowed five minutes to ask questions.

On Saturday morning, results were tallied and announced in front of 34,000 FFA members from across the nation.

The marketing plan contest was sponsored by Rhone-Poulenc Ag. Company as a way to encourage students to be innovative, creative and prepared.

Snyder's Farm Business Management team of Will Collier, Shane Robinson, Monica Roberson and Tasha Naegele was able to beat 31 other state champions to place 18th in the National Farm Business Management Contest. The four students were unbeaten through district, area and state contests. At the national contest, Collier was 32nd high individual in the nation. Robinson was 38th, Roberson was 52nd and Naegele was 68th.

"Considering that 200 students competed in this contest at the national level, these four individuals did a wonderful job," said Frazier.

John Deere Inc. sponsors the contest, which includes a 2½-hour problem-solving portion and a 1-hour multiple choice contest. The students must chart a real farm's economic development and decisions over a one year period. They must prepare farm enterprise budgets, cash flow budgets, net worth statements and more.

The final team to compete for Snyder FFA was the FFA Knowledge team. Snyder's team of Amanda Wells, Sarah Pierce, Brady Collier and Kelly Gentry were the first team from Texas to place in the national contest. They took 10th place.

The four freshmen had to complete a 100-question test that covered every aspect of the FFA organization and parliamentary procedure.

Audit report due for WTC trustees

Western Texas College board of trustees will consider the annual audit and bids for the Fine Arts Theatre lighting system in a meeting set this evening on campus.

Board members will meet at 7 o'clock in the administration board room.

The annual outside audit will be presented by Springer and Associates. A preliminary report indicates that the college has received "a clean, unqualified audit," according to Dr. Harry Krenek, college president.

Board members will consider a recommendation to change its retirement plan for part-time employees. The recommendation is based in part on perceived benefits of financial and administrative cost savings.

Other business includes approval of the 1995-96 calendar and bids for the 1995-96 college catalog.

During information and discussion, the board will hear a request to deactivate the diesel mechanics program, a change in the contract with Johnson Controls, Inc. and a report on the Texas Association of Community College Trustees & Administrators Conference.

Ira trustees meet tonight

Ira public school trustees meet this evening to consider bids for roof repairs and replacing a copy machine.

The board will convene at 8 o'clock.

Also on the agenda is consideration of an agreement with Borden County ISD to educate two transfer students. The board will consider approving a local policy, previous minutes and payment of bills.

Block scheduling, bus bids on agenda for school board

Block scheduling, a recommendation concerning the tennis courts and bids on buses are among the items Snyder public schools trustees will consider in their November meeting this evening.

The business session will convene at 7 o'clock in the junior high school library.

Administrators will be presenting their findings on block scheduling, a class day system being instituted by more and more school districts. Briefly, students in a block scheduling system take eight courses, attending four each day. Classes are 90 minutes in length.

Administrators who have implemented block scheduling say that it allows students to take a wider variety of subjects. It also allows students to accumulate more credits, and the state is expected to require more credits for graduation in the near future. Administrators have visited districts which have block scheduling, including Levelland, Estacado and Garland, and will present their findings tonight. Ira ISD instituted block scheduling this year.

The board will also consider what to do about the tennis courts at the junior high, which are in need of repair. Trustees will actually tour the tennis courts at 5:30, prior to the board meeting.

The board is expected to approve bids for two 71-passenger buses, and consider an interagency agreement with the Multi-Region Purchasing Co-op. The co-op allows districts to purchase certain items at a lower rate.

The board will also consider:

—Approval of a class size waiver.

—Approval of two local policy changes and one legal policy change.

—Approval of a textbook committee.

—Approval of payment of bills and previous minutes.

Following regular business, the board will convene in executive session to discuss the annual evaluation of the superintendent.

On Tuesday...

WTC to stage Founder's Day

Founder's Day, an annual event sponsored by the Western Texas College Phi Theta Kappa Chapter in conjunction with the Student Senate, will be held Tuesday on the college campus.

Highlighting the ceremony will be the recognition of an outstanding college employee. The presentation, traditionally a surprise announcement, will be announced in the Student Center beginning at 10:45 a.m.

The date honors the founding of PTK in 1918 at Stephens College in Missouri. Locally, the Phi Theta Kappa chapter joins with members of the Student Senate to recognize service to students by a member of the WTC faculty or staff.

The Founder's Day award has been given since 1983 here. Franklin Pruitt received the first award. He instructed government and history for 14 years before retiring in 1988. He continues to teach part-time for WTC.

Mike Otto was honored in 1984. He resigned his associate professor of science position here at the end of the fall of 1993.

The honoree in 1985 was Martha Gist, secretary of counseling until 1986. She left after six years of service and is now employed with the Windham School District at the Price Daniel Unit.

Joe Carter received the honor in 1986. He is a professor of science.

In 1987, there were two recipients of the award, Dr. James Tully and Pam Johnson. Dr. Tully served as dean of the Learning Resource Center and director of financial aid from 1972-1988. Johnson was a secretary and assistant of student activities from 1981 to 1988.

Dr. Gil Fleer, professor of psychology-sociology, was honored in 1988. He retired from WTC at the end of the fall 1993 term.

In 1989, Mickey Baird received the award. She is an associate professor and director of student activities.

SC Airport rules, regs are mullied

Scurry County Commissioners reviewed proposed airport rules and regulations up to the noon hour this morning, in preparation for a final public hearing scheduled Tuesday night.

Commissioners were to reconvene at 1:30 this afternoon to continue their discussion on the proposed rules.

Commissioner C. D. Gray, Jr., told the court that he had asked that airport rules and regulations be put on the agenda because of two reasons. "Some people had said they wanted to discuss a few things on them and if we had any questions we needed to ask the Federal Aviation Administration or the Texas Department of Transportation — we can get them answered before tomorrow night's meeting."

David Shifflett, a local pilot who has questioned many of the proposed Winston Field rule changes, told the court this morning that he has consulted an attorney from Pennsylvania and that the attorney feels many of the proposed rule changes "were not applicable to our airport."

Shifflett told the court that many

(See COUNTY, Page 8)

Dr. Mary Hood, the director of counseling services and director of testing, won the award in 1990. She also served as sponsor for the local PTK chapter.

Agriculture professor Bob Doty received the honor in 1991, and in the fall of 1992, Director of College Relations Darla Doty was awarded the honor. The Dotys left WTC this past summer to accept new positions at Tarleton State University.

The most recent recipient of the award was drama associate professor Michael Endy in 1993.

The names of honorees are listed on a plaque in the Student Center.

United Way drive enters final week

The Scurry County United Way fund drive enters its final week, and local officials are hoping for a big finish.

"We appreciate all the donations we have received and want to encourage those who haven't given to please give," said Connie Thompson, drive coordinator.

Donations have been light the past few weeks and the drive is only about 45 percent of its goal. Thompson reported this morning that $30,763.08 has been collected toward the goal of $68,000.

United Way donations are being accepted at the chamber of commerce or by mail at P.O. Box 1411. Anyone who needs a donation to be picked up can call 573-3558.

The theme for this year's drive is "Open Your Heart."

Carjacker stuns neighborhood with twenty minute gunbattle

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A carjacker with a submachine gun pinned down terrified residents, shoppers and diners in the swank Pacific Heights neighborhood in a 20-minute barrage, wounding two officers, a paramedic and a homeless man who tried to wrestle him down.

The gunman was shot and killed by police after firing more than 100 rounds into surrounding buildings and Sunday evening traffic.

"It was like war," said Charlie Malloy, who abandoned his pickup truck when a bullet pierced the hood.

The gunman, wearing a bullet-proof vest and fatigues and carrying at least three firearms, was not immediately identified. His body remained on the sidewalk for hours as a bomb squad checked for explosives. Officers found wires and what they took to be a detonator by one of the cars.

Police were still trying to determine the gunman's motive early today.

Officers narrowly missed capturing him two hours before the shootout after he forced a woman from her Lexus in Mountain View, about 35 miles south of San Francisco. The gunman loaded several packages into her car and fled, said Mountain View Police Sgt. Tony Serrano.

Minutes later, the gunman pulled up to a stoplight, and a passing driver who saw his weapon yelled to police, who happened to be nearby. The gunman stepped out and pointed a gun at the officers, then fled. Police gave chase, but lost the car.

The gunman turned up again in San Francisco at about 6:40 p.m. He forced a woman out of a BMW, and then ordered passersby at gunpoint to unload packages from the Lexus into the BMW, said San Francisco Police Lt. David Robinson.

When the shooting started shortly after 6:40 p.m., people sought cover for blocks around. At a restaurant in the thick of the shooting, customers hit the floor.

"All the wait people were down on the ground like they were praying," diner Vicki Chow said. "We all got under the table. I've never heard so many gunshots." A homeless man, Glen Remo, said he and a friend rushed out of the alley where they live when they heard the first shots, and saw the gunman reloading.

"My friend started wrestling with him," Remo said. "He'd had a couple of beers."

When the gunman shot his friend, Remo hid behind a car.

The 35-year-old homeless man, shot in the leg, was initially suspected of being an accomplice, but later cleared, said Sgt. Barbara Davis. He was in fair condition today.

How to conquer claustrophobia

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband suffers from claustrophobia and it seems to be getting worse. Do you have any suggestions that might help?

DEAR READER: Like other phobias (irrational fears), claustrophobia (a fear of closed spaces) can severely handicap an otherwise normal person, preventing him or her from entering elevators, being in a small room or even walking into a building. In most cases, the cause of the phobia lies deep in the unconscious mind: Victims may not be aware of why they are so apprehensive or panicky.

This is the reason counseling is often effective. Your husband should seek out a psychiatrist, psychologist or other mental health professional. These resources will usually enable a claustrophobic person to understand his irrational fears and deal with them in a more open and effective manner.

Moreover, behavioral modification is frequently used in conjunction with this therapy. For example, once the claustrophobic learns to trust his therapist, the professional can accompany the patient into closed spaces — large rooms to begin with, then smaller and smaller — until the phobic person learns to conquer his fear.

Your husband should ask his doctor for a referral to the appropriate professional. By and large, phobias cannot be overcome without help from therapists who are experienced in treating this disorder.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Mental and Emotional Illness." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I've been told I have Reiter's arthritis in my shoulders, hips, elbows and wrists. Since I've never heard of this condition before, I'd like some information.

DEAR READER: Reiter's syndrome is, in some cases, a bacterial infection spread by sexual contact or fecal contamination. In other cases, a genetic disposition appears to play a dominant role. The syndrome is marked by arthritis, inflammation of the reproductive tract (in both sexes), conjunctivitis (eye irritation), and superficial ulcers in the mouth or on the genitals.

The diagnosis is made by a blood test called the "HLA-B27 tissue antigen." People with this genetic marker are at much higher risk of contracting the disease than are individuals without the marker.

Antibiotics are the recommended therapy.

If left untreated, Reiter's syndrome may result in a host of unpleasant complications that include chronic arthritis, joint deformity and heart disease.

Walt Disney World tries to reverse attendance dive

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Walt Disney World plans a $2 billion expansion to try to recapture an audience that has dropped by 5 million visitors since 1990, The Orlando Sentinel reported Sunday.

The expansion includes an animal theme park, a water park, a cruise ship line and three hotels by the end of the decade, the newspaper said.

The number of visitors to Disney World declined from a peak of 33.7 million four years ago to 28.9 million this year, the Sentinel said, citing an internal company forecast.

Disney doesn't release specific attendance figures but acknowledged a decline.

"A lot has happened since 1990," said attractions president Judson Green. "A huge impact has been external factors that have affected all of central Florida."

Those include a sluggish European economy, uncertainty over the U.S. economy and crimes against tourists in Florida, Disney executives say.

Others believe Disney is simply too expensive.

The internal analysis obtained by the Sentinel said a "perception that (Disney) is not a good value is a key barrier that is eroding our business and our brand value."

The cost of a single-day admission adult ticket to the Magic Kingdom has increased 112 percent from $18 a decade ago to $38 today.

The traditional high priest of Lamaism, a form of Buddhism practiced in Tibet and Mongolia, is the dalai lama. Dalai lama is a title rather than a name.

Arrest uncovers 633 suspensions

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Linen may think twice about making his next illegal U-turn. That is, if he ever gets back his driver's license — after 633 suspensions.

When the 40-year-old driver was stopped Saturday night for making the turn, police discovered he didn't have a license — but he did have a torrent of suspensions recorded over five years; said Sgt. Edward Caro, a police spokesman.

That makes Linen the city's reigning suspension champ.

Linen was charged with felony aggravated unlicensed operation of a motor vehicle and issued a citation for driving without a license, Caro said.

Linen was driving a late-model

Oldsmobile Toronado with a temporary license sticker in the window when he was stopped in the city's borough of the Bronx, Caro said.

The U-turn culprit was caught on the bigger offenses because he gave police his real name, the New York Times reported in today's editions. In the past, Linen had used at least two other names and a variety of real and false addresses, the newspaper said.

The suspensions, the newspaper said, involved such things as moving and parking violations, driving without a valid license, insurance or inspection stickers, operating a car with equipment flaws, and repeatedly failing to appear in court to answer those charges.

The city has created a special task force to hunt the 100 motorists with the most suspensions, and Linen's name topped the list, the Times said.

An anonymous philosopher said, "Begin low, speak slow; take fire, rise higher; when most impressed be self-possessed; at the end wax warm, and sit down in a storm."

Wouldn't it be great if all speeches followed that pattern? However, sometimes people say the wrong things. And, in bridge, players make the wrong plays. But not always. On today's deal, Doug Doub, an expert from Connecticut, found the right play, "contravening" the textbook in the process.

South opted not to open two no-trump, presumably because he downgraded the A-K doubleton of diamonds. But when North offered a single club raise, South took a shot at the most likely game.

The deal occurred during the quarter-finals of this year's Grand National Teams. When New England sat North-South, the West for Chicago led a spade. South won in the dummy and played a club, having no trouble when the king appeared.

When New England sat East-West, Frank Merblum led the diamond two. His partner, Doub, saw that it was possible, but unlikely, that this was from the K-Q-8-2 of diamonds, giving declarer A-10-doubleton. But Doub was willing to take that risk in exchange for retaining his diamond jack as an entry card to the 13th diamond. Doub played third hand low, dropping the three.

Declarer had to attack clubs, but now the defense had no trouble taking three diamond and two club tricks to defeat the contract.

Watch those spots and think carefully about entries.

Woman carriage driver killed in hit-and-run

DALLAS (AP) — The driver of a horse-drawn carriage has died after her carriage was struck by a hit-and-run driver as she drove across a bridge across the Trinity River near downtown Dallas, police say.

Laurie Dalton, 39, was thrown from the carriage over the bridge rail to the river bottom about 55 feet below the bridge, police said. The driver of the car that struck the carriage early Sunday fled the scene.

Ms. Dalton, who drove one of the carriages operated by Dallas Surrey in the West End section of Dallas, died Sunday afternoon at Parkland Memorial Hospital. The horses were also injured, but were expected to survive.

Police said there were no passengers in the carriage as Ms. Dalton drove it to the company's stable in the Oak Cliff area of Dallas.

"This is probably the first fatal accident we've had involving horse carriages," said Dallas police Det. Roy Hodgens.

The driver, who left the vehicle, a borrowed car, at the scene of the accident, was described as a Hispanic man in his mid-20s. An employee of the carriage company attempted to tackle the man as he ran away, but the driver escaped, officers said.

Governor, wife enjoy triplets

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The election's over, but Gov. John Engler is still kissing babies — his wife just had triplets.

Margaret, Hannah and Madeleine — the couple's first children — were delivered Sunday by Caesarean section.

Lotto Texas

by The Associated Press

No tickets correctly matched all six numbers drawn Saturday night for the twice-weekly Lotto Texas game, state lottery officials said.

The numbers drawn Saturday night from a field of 50 were: 34, 20, 13, 17, 23 and 45.

There were 274 tickets sold with five of the six numbers, with each ticket worth $1,666. There were 16,470 tickets with four of six numbers, with each winning $100. And there were 313,359 tickets sold with three of six numbers, with each worth an automatic $3.

Lottery officials estimate the jackpot for Wednesday night's game will be $55 million.

49ers intercept Dallas, 21-14

After big wins, Browns, Chargers both improve to 8-2

THE EXORCIST — San Francisco quarterback Steve Young helped lead the 49ers to a 21-14 win over the Dallas Cowboys Sunday. Previous to the game, Young had lost his last three starts to the Cowboys. (NEA Photo)

For the San Francisco 49ers, it was all about reaffirmation — just as it was on a different scale for the Cleveland Browns and San Diego Chargers.

Many observers doubted the 49ers had what it takes to handle the Dallas Cowboys. The skeptics were even harsher on the Browns and Chargers.

Maybe Sunday's results will change all that.

Cleveland and San Diego both improved to 8-2 with road victories. The Browns snapped Randall Cunningham's 20-win streak at Veterans Stadium with a 26-7 pasting of the Eagles. The Chargers rallied from a 13-0 deficit to edge Kansas City 14-13.

Those triumphs might have paled in comparison to the 49ers' establishing themselves as NFC co-favorites with a 21-14 decision against two-time defending Super Bowl champion Dallas. But they were plenty significant.

"People (in Cleveland) still are wondering if, without the baseball strike, the Indians were going to win the pennant," Browns linebacker Pepper Johnson said. "When are the players going to get their just due? This game right here was a respect thing."

Which they should get after beating the Eagles (7-3), one of the NFL's best.

And the Chargers should get it, too, following their gutsy comeback.

"We have a lot of young players on this team, but I think this team has a lot of character," said quarterback Stan Humphries, who threw for two TDs as the Chargers moved two games ahead of the Chiefs (6-4) in the AFC West.

As for the 49ers, the NFL's team of the 1980s that hasn't won a championship since 1989, they offered evidence they are ready to challenge the almighty Cowboys (8-2).

"This was a big win for us, because these are the guys who have knocked us out, and those were bitter losses the last couple of years," Steve Young said after he threw for two scores and ran for another.

Young wasn't nearly the day's hottest quarterback, though. Drew Bledsoe set NFL records for completions (45) and attempts (70) as he lifted New England past Minnesota 26-20 in overtime.

Also, it was Cincinnati 34, Houston 31; Detroit 14, Tampa Bay 9 as Barry Sanders rushed for a career-high 237 yards; Chicago 17, Miami 14; Green Bay 17, the New York Jets 10; the Los Angeles Raiders 20, the Los Angeles Rams 17; Denver 17, Seattle 10; New Orleans 33, Atlanta 32; and Arizona 10, the New York Giants 9.

Tonight, Buffalo visits Pittsburgh. Indianapolis and Washington were idle.

Browns 26, Eagles 7
At Philadelphia, where the Eagles had won seven in a row, the Browns beat a strong team for the first time all year.

Mark Rypien hit only 12 of 30 passes for 158 yards in place of injured Vinny Testaverde, but threw a 3-yard touchdown pass to Mark Carrier and Ernest Byner scored on 4-yard run. Cleveland has won seven of its last eight.

Chargers 14, Chiefs 13

At Kansas City, the Chargers were sloppy, making four first-half turnovers. But they never fell out of it, despite Natrone Means, the AFC's leading rusher, being held to 55 yards on 21 carries.

Thanks to Shawn Jefferson's 52-yard touchdown play, the Chargers were down only 13-7 when Darren Carrington returned an interception 19 yards to the Chiefs' 8. Stan Humphries found a wide-open Duane Young in the corner of the end zone for the lead.

49ers 21, Cowboys 14

The game of the year was more of a defensive battle than expected with such high-powered offenses on hand. But the 49ers (8-2) settled for that, because their offseason moves were designed to rebuild the offense to stop Dallas.

Merton Hanks made two interceptions and Deion Sanders had one, while Emmitt Smith was held to 78 yards on 26 carries.

Patriots 26, Vikings 20, OT
Minnesota (7-3) was cruising at New England (4-6), which appeared headed for its fifth successive defeat. The Vikings were up 20-0 and Warren Moon had thrown for 234 yards in the first half.

Then Bledsoe got untracked in record fashion. He finished with 426 yards passing and three TDs, including the winner in overtime, a 14-yarder to Kevin Turner.

Two Patriots — Leroy Thompson, with 11 catches for 74 yards and a TD, and Michael Timpson with 10 for 113 yards — were in double figures for receiving.

Bengals 34, Oilers 31

growing as he came out of the X-ray room to lead Cincinnati's rally to its second straight win after eight losses.

Blake was 23-of-33 for 354 yards. After needing X-rays for his ankle, he returned and led two late drives.

Carl Pickens, who had three scores, turned a one-handed catch into a game-tying 20-yard TD reception with 2:34 left. Blake then drove the Bengals from their 11 into position for the winning field goal, a 40-yarder by Doug Pelfrey as time expired.

Lions 14, Buccaneers 9

In a night game, Barry Sanders was unstoppable. He rushed for a career-high 237 yards on 26 carries — 200 yards in the second half. Sanders has rushed for 100 yards or more eight times against the Bucs. In the last five, Sanders had burned the Bucs for 122, 130, 187, 166 and 237 yards.

The host Lions (5-5) handed Tampa Bay (2-8) its fifth straight loss. The Bucs have lost by a combined score of 145-57 in those five games.

Bears 17, Dolphins 14

At Miami, Chicago (6-4) used a weird play for its first TD and won it on Kevin Butler's 40-yard field goal with 59 seconds left.

Off a fake-field goal, the Bears scored when receiver Curtis Conway's pass deflected off lineman Jerry Fontenot — who was eligible on the play — and ended up in Keith Jennings' hands for a 23-yard TD.

Steve Walsh, 5-0 as a starter, was 18-of-27 for 188 yards. Dan Marino was 24-of-38 for 289 yards.

Couples, Love III win

DORADO, Puerto Rico (AP) — Fred Couples and Davis Love III like playing together as a team.

After winning the World Cup of Golf for a third time, they said they plan to do it again — and not just in the next World Cup, which will be played in China.

"Davis and I complement each other so well," Couples said. "Well enough to play together in the Ryder Cup?

Both said they would also be willing to team up again for the team challenge issued earlier this year by Greg Norman and Nick Price.

"Davis and I wouldn't be afraid of anybody," Couples said. "If they call, we won't turn it down."

Descendants gather for marker

RIO HONDO (AP) — Descendants of the lone survivor of a massacre by Mexican bandits nearly 150 years ago gathered here this weekend for the unveiling of a historical marker commemorating the event.

William Long Rogers miraculously survived the May 1, 1846, attack, which claimed the lives of 18 others, all of whom had surrendered. His throat slit, Rogers crawled 40 miles to a nearby ranch, was nursed back to health and then taken to Matamoros, Mexico.

He later made it back to Corpus Christi, became a sheriff, a Nueces County judge and eventually a state legislator.

About 150 descendants from Dallas, Refugio and other parts of Texas, and as far away as California, attended Saturday's ceremony.

"I would like to hopefully leave this behind for all of our children's children and tell them the story so they can tell their children," said Carlos R. Barrera Jr., Rogers' great-great-grandson.

For the last 13 years, Barrera worked on getting the historical marker placed at site of the Rogers Massacre.

The marker's inscription states that Patterson Rogers and his two sons, Anderson and William, were contracted to haul supplies from Corpus Christi to a U.S. Army base at Point Isabel under the orders of Army Commander Zachary Taylor.

Along with nine other men, three women and four children, they were ambushed by bandits, surrendered and all were killed except for William Long Rogers.

National award

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Former President Carter received a National Audubon Society medal for his work to protect the environment.

"The underlying foundation of what we have achieved in the past and what we hope to achieve in the future is the public's interest in a better quality of life," Carter said Sunday as he accepted this year's Audubon Medal.

"The average citizen wants pure air, pure water and biodiversity," he said.

Clinton might look to Truman for consolation following vote

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — As Bill Clinton views what for him is a bleak political landscape, he might draw comfort from this historical tidbit: The last Democrat to lose both the House and Senate stormed back two years later to reclaim it all — and then some.

Harry Truman was humbled in 1946 by a Republican takeover of Congress when dissatisfied voters gave a clear answer to the Republicans' question "Had enough?"

The resulting deluge gave the GOP a 51-45 edge in the Senate and a 246-188 margin in the House, bringing to Congress some Republican newcomers who were later to make their mark in a big way: Joseph R. McCarthy in the Senate and Richard M. Nixon in the House. (Some Democrats, too: John F. Kennedy was in the class of 1946.)

TV producer's comments criticized

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Supporters of the producer and co-creator of "NYPD Blue" said honesty, not a racist rant, was the intent of his comments at a seminar last month.

David Milch, a writer known for thoughtful, provocative work, said his remarks at the Oct. 15 writers workshop, which included his labeling himself racist, were taken out of context.

"Racism is a terrible, terrible thing, and David was trying to challenge the writers to look at their own prejudices," said the Rev. Chris Donahue, trustee of the Human Family Educational and Cultural Institute, sponsor of the seminar.

In discussing a previous seminar he held for writers, Milch said that four of the 30 who attended went on to success. "None of them are black. None of the black writing was any good," he said.

That drew criticism from Carol Munday Lawrence, chairwoman of the Writers Guild of America-West's black writers committee. "This man is an employer of writers. He has revealed attitudes shared by others in the industry," she said, noting that a small number of TV and film projects — less than 4 percent — are written by minorities.

The seminar comments were reported Friday in The Washington Post, which received an audio tape of the proceedings.

Franklyn Ajaye, a black comedian and writer at the seminar, said he was not offended by Milch's remarks.

"I don't really think he's racist," Ajaye said. "I've had dealings with him in the past and never felt that."

He noted that "NYPD Blue" character Andy Sipowicz (actor Dennis Franz) saw his racism challenged last season by his black commander, Lt. Arthur Fancy (James McDaniel). Milch has written other episodes of the ABC show denouncing racism, Ajaye said.

Milch issued a statement and declined to be interviewed. He and series co-creator Steven Bochco affirmed their commitment to diversity.

"The seminar I gave was an attempt to describe the processes of writing and not a presentation of political or social values," Milch said. "Even though my comments were distorted and taken out of context, I apologize to anyone who may now interpret them as offensive or hurtful."

"I have never conducted business in a racist manner and Steven Bochco and I remain committed to finding qualified writers, minority or otherwise."

Truman glumly surveyed the debacle and told a friend: "I don't expect this Congress to be any worse than the one I had to deal with for the last two years."

Clinton, assessing the damage after Tuesday's shellacking, said: "They sent us a clear message. I got it."

There is a sense of having been there before. In 1946, the Republicans took 12 seats from the Democrats in the Senate and 55 in the House. On Tuesday, the Democrats lost eight seats in the Senate — nine counting the defection of Alabama's Richard Shelby — and 52 in the House.

Truman was mistaken about the lawmakers he would have to deal with in the 80th Congress. They cooperated with him in foreign affairs but battled his domestic program. So much so that Truman campaigned in 1948 against the "do-nothing Congress" and was elected president to everyone's surprise but his own.

Truman, like Clinton 48 years later, started his presidency by pushing unpopular programs. With Clinton, the irritant was his acceptance of gays in the military; Truman's was a 21-point domestic program dubbed the Fair Deal.

Conservatives in Congress erected formidable barriers against such liberal measures as national health insurance, aid to education, Social Security, full employment and civil rights.

Clinton worked with a Democratic Congress and yet could manage only hair's breadth margins for the economic program that was at the center of his entire election campaign. He had to struggle for a crime bill once regarded as consensus legislation. His health care program was nearly a year in the making instead of the 100 days he had promised, and it died aborning.

Last week, Clinton said he had spent so much time trying to get legislation passed that he had failed to communicate to the American people what he was achieving for them.

Truman had similar cause to complain that he was misunderstood. After all, he had presided over the victory in the greatest war the country had ever fought; he had the gratitude of the millions who were preparing to invade Japan for using the atomic bomb to speed the end of the war.

EDITOR'S NOTE — Harry F. Rosenthal covered Harry Truman in Independence, Mo., for 15 years after he left the White House.

Officers note 5 weekend arrests

Local law officials made five arrests over the weekend, all of which were alcohol-related.

An 18-year-old male was arrested Saturday at 1:56 p.m. at the intersection of Gary Brewer Road and El Paso and charged with public intoxication and minor in possession.

A 33-year-old male was arrested at 12:35 this morning at 37th St. and Ave. D and charged with driving while intoxicated and driving while license suspended.

Police investigated a family disturbance complaint at 5:13 p.m. Saturday in the 2900 block of Avenue F. No arrests were made.

Two reports of burglary of a vehicle were made Sunday morning at the Purple Sage Motel.

Officers were notified at 6:46 and 8:54 a.m. of the burglaries.

A complaint was made at 9:34 a.m. in the 1900 block of Coleman in reference to two juveniles throwing rocks at buildings and entering vacant buildings. The juveniles and their mother were notified of the complaints.

Oscar Sanchez reported at 12:55 p.m. that he had been bitten by a prairie dog at Towle Park. An offense report for prairie dog bite was submitted.

An offense report for Class C assault was made at 6:17 p.m. at the sheriff's office.

Officers also submitted a report for Class C assault following an incident at 12:19 this morning in the 1300 block of Coliseum Dr.

City officers investigated a minor accident at 1:06 p.m. Saturday involving two vehicles. Involved were a 1989 Chevrolet driven by Tara Sanchez, 609 23rd St. and a 1990 Oldsmobile driven by Dorothy Atkinson, 3745 Gary Brewer Rd.

Offices investigated a two-vehicle minor accident at 5:07 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of 37th Street and Brick Plant Road. Involved were a 1993 Chevrolet pickup driven by William Flowers of Old Glory and a 1984 Oldsmobile driven by Robert Bracy, 4003 Eastridge.

Atlantis lands in California

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Atlantis and its six astronauts landed in California's Mojave Desert today as Tropical Storm Gordon spoiled the weather at the shuttle's home base in Florida.

Commander Donald McMonagle brought the spaceship down through a clear sky at Edwards Air Force Base at 7:34 a.m. PST, ending the 11-day atmospheric research mission.

It was clear several hours before a scheduled touchdown at the Kennedy Space Center in Florida that weather would nix any chance of Atlantis ending its 11-day atmospheric research flight there.

Gordon, expected to hit land tonight, had already spawned thunderstorms and gusty winds around Kennedy early today.

Mission Control told the six shuttle astronauts to aim instead for a landing at Edwards Air Force Base in California just after 10:30 a.m. EST. It was the first of two Edwards landing opportunities.

Weather at the desert landing strip was good.

NASA, anticipating the tropical storm, sent the astronauts' families to California on Sunday to await a landing.

The space agency prefers shuttle landings at Kennedy if at all possible. It costs about $1 million to transport a shuttle back to Florida atop a modified Boeing 747 jumbo jet.

NASA also loses a week in getting the spaceship ready for its next flight. In Atlantis' case, that isn't until late May or early June, but it's a big one — the first shuttle docking with the Russian space station Mir.

Atlantis is loaded with data collected over the past 11 days by six atmospheric and solar-energy monitors and a $35 million German satellite.

A seventh instrument, an ozone monitor, broke a day after the Nov. 3 launch, but scientists said they got more than enough data anyway.

Gingrich planning early vote on school prayer amendment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The incoming Republican speaker of the House is pushing for an early vote on a constitutional amendment permitting school prayer, an effort that would require difficult-to-achieve two-thirds majority votes in both the House and the Senate.

The House should vote on the amendment by the Fourth of July, Rep. Newt Gingrich, the likely House speaker, said in an interview published today. Gingrich made the call for the amendment in a meeting with reporters last week.

But the man poised to become the No. 2 Republican in the House, Rep. Dick Army, R-Texas, admitted today his party will have trouble gathering the two-thirds majorities required for proposing constitutional amendments to the states.

Gingrich, R-Ga., wants to return voluntary prayer to public schools, and will assign Rep. Ernest Istook, R-Okla., to spend six months organizing a vote, he told The Washington Times.

A key part of his philosophy "is to re-establish the right to teach that there is a Creator from whom your inalienable rights come," Gingrich said in the interview. The Supreme Court banned public school-sponsored prayer in 1962 in a ruling that said it violates the constitutional separation of church and state.

Gingrich said he did not include his school prayer plan in the Republican "Contract With America," which listed other goals of congressional Republican candidates, because he wanted the Contract fought over its advocacy of term limits and a balanced budget amendment.

If the House and Senate passed a school prayer amendment by two-thirds votes, it would have to be approved by three-fourths of the states before it could be added to the Constitution.

Army, who issued a statement today saying he had enough support to be elected majority leader by his fellow Republicans next month, predicted in an interview earlier today that most parts of the Republican contract will pass. Army, a close ally of Gingrich, was instrumental in drafting the contract.

But Rep. Bill McCollum, R-Fla., said on the same program that the amendment to limit the terms of members of Congress probably won't make it through the House.

Goldman's father lashes out at trial's circus atmosphere

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Racial issues brought up in the O.J. Simpson murder case have turned his trial into a circus, complains the father of the young man who was killed along with Simpson's ex-wife.

"They've called police officers liars, they've called people racists, they've inferred there were plots," Fred Goldman said of the defense lawyers in the case. "All with no proof, done from my point of view clearly to manipulate jurors and public opinion."

Simpson is accused of killing his ex-wife Nicole Brown Simpson and her friend Ronald Goldman, Fred Goldman's son.

About 100 people were summoned for questioning today in the search for 15 alternates to augment the 12-member jury. Six of the eight people questioned last week made the cut. They are to return Dec. 5 for peremptory challenges, when the final panel of alternates probably will be picked.

Today's court session follows a rare television appearance by the trial judge, Superior Court Judge Lance Ito, in which he discussed the World War II internment of his Japanese-American parents.

"Growing up, I knew that my parents had been deprived of opportunity," Ito said in an interview broadcast Sunday night by KCBS-TV.

The station declined to say when the interview was recorded. Ito said he underwent a "long and intense battle of personalities" with his parents because they tried to instill him with more of his Japanese background by sending him to an extra school.

"As a third-generation Californian, I sort of rebelled against that, because none of my other friends at elementary school had to do that," he said. "They all got to go off and play every afternoon and I had to go to Japanese school."

Goldman's father told the Los Angeles Times he had intended to stay quiet about the trial, but changed his mind largely because of the defense team's actions.

"It's bad enough that we've lost Ron, but to see this murder trial turned into a circus is sad," the elder Goldman said.

Simpson maintains he is falsely accused. One of his lead lawyers, Robert Shapiro, told the Times: "I have the greatest empathy for the Goldman family and the Brown family and the tremendous losses they have suffered."

Presidential election heats up with move by Gramm, Specter

WASHINGTON (AP) — Energized by their party's midterm elections triumph, more and more Republicans are training their sights on ousting a vulnerable President Clinton in 1996.

Sen. Phil Gramm, R-Texas, who for months has made clear his desire to be president, said Sunday he will file papers with the Federal Election Commission this week in preparation for a March announcement.

The conservative Texan also took aim at future Senate Majority Leader Bob Dole, probably the leading unannounced candidate, saying his Kansas colleague lacked commitment to major changes in government.

Gramm and Dole were both in Iowa, site of the first party caucus of the 1996 presidential season, following the Republican election sweep last week.

Meanwhile, Sen. Arlen Specter, R-Pa., scheduled a news conference in Philadelphia today to announce the formation of a presidential exploratory committee, usually a prelude to a formal campaign for president. He travels from there to Concord, N.H., and then to Des Moines, Iowa.

The moderate Specter, 64, is a long shot in a likely field crowded with conservatives such as Gramm, former Vice President Dan Quayle, former Housing Secretary Jack Kemp and former Defense Secretary Dick Cheney.

Gramm, speaking Sunday on NBC's "Meet the Press," suggested that even Dole, whose voting record generally reflects the nation's shift to the right, wasn't conservative enough to lead the party in 1996.

"I think that I am more committed to changing government fundamentally than Bob Dole is," Gramm said. Asked if he would make a better president than Dole, Gramm replied: "If I didn't think so, I wouldn't run."

Gramm, 52, a former economics professor at Texas A&M, is a Democrat-turned-Republican elected to the Senate in 1984. He advocates a major overhaul of the welfare system, tougher crime legislation, a balanced budget and less government.

"The American people gave Bill Clinton the football two years ago. He ran toward the wrong goal line and fumbled," Gramm said. Dole, the current minority leader, said he differs from Gramm in being in a leadership position where he has had to work for consensus to pass legislation.

Gramm has had the advantage of being outside the leadership where "you can throw a bomb or a grenade now and then, and you can be a little more committed," Dole said on CBS' "Face the Nation."

Dole, 71, said he will announce by Feb. 15 whether he will be a candidate. He said he foresaw no problem in running for president while carrying out the responsibilities of the majority leader.

of the definitions listed in the proposed changes are wrong and need to be changed.

Commissioner Roy Idom responded that the FAA has looked over the new rules and had not found any problems with them. Idom stated he "did not see any problems with what we have now — if the (proposed) rules are not applicable now, who is to say they might not be in the future?"

A public hearing on the proposed rules and regulations will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the county courtroom.

In other business this morning, the court agreed to provide the Snyder Training Center Board with $250 a month to assist in services provided by the center, okaved the annual contract between the county and the Big Spring State Hospital to provide funds for the operation of the Scurry County Mental Health Center and voted to advertise for bids for sealcoating rock and asphalt.

The court also agreed to allow County Librarian Noreen Taylor to add one additional part-time person to work in the "rotation" at the library. County Treasurer Charlie Bell said "the library will just be getting three part-time people for the same amount of money that had been budgeted."

The court also approved three budget requests and a budget amendment.

Jay Wesson, Scurry County Coliseum manager, asked the court for a budget amendment in the amount of $16,650 to cover the costs of boiler replacement and to bring the restrooms and water fountains up to American Disability Act standards. Wesson also asked that $15,838.64 be transferred from ground supply and $208.16 from capital outlay to repairs.

Other line-item transfers approved included $315 from travel and $104 in dues in the district attorney's office to $220 in supplies, $95 in repairs and $104 for law books. Commissioner Ralph Trevey asked that $1,000 be moved from machine hire to supplies for Precinct 1.

County Judge Bob Doolittle presided. Present were commissioners Trevey, Idom, Jerry Gannaway and C.D. Gray Jr.

Top Demo will retire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Paul Simon, a former presidential candidate and Illinois' top elected Democrat, will not seek reelection in 1996, a political confidant said today.

Recycling Late Wife's Ring Only Tarnishes Her Memory

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to "Perplexed in Calif." whose wife had passed away, leaving some beautiful jewelry. This man had two daughters who would naturally inherit all their mother's jewelry, but there was an especially beautiful cocktail ring he wanted to keep, in case he met "Miss Perfect" one day. He asked for your approval, which you gave him.

I totally disagree. If one day he should meet Miss Perfect, he should buy her her own ring! I would never accept a ring knowing it had belonged to the man's deceased wife.

Abby, I'm sure you'll get a bushel of letters from angry wives protesting your answer. Sign me ...
FIRST WIFE IN SAN ANTONIO

DEAR FIRST WIFE: A bushel? An understatement. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: First of all, his wife's jewelry should be divided between his two daughters. Secondly, I'd like to meet "Miss Perfect" who would accept jewelry from a man, knowing it once belonged to his deceased wife. How awful! How cheap!

I doubt that there is a "Miss Perfect" for this bozo. And by the way, what was his wife? Chopped liver?

DEAR ABBY: In reference to the widower with two grown daughters puzzling over what to do with the cocktail ring that belonged to his wife: He thought he might give it to "Miss Perfect" should she come along one day. And you agreed it was OK!

But what if "Miss Perfect" turned out to be not so perfect after all? I say, buy the new lady a new ring. I certainly wouldn't care to wear a ring knowing it had belonged to my husband's dead wife.

Clean air deadline missed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-seven states are lagging in complying with the 1990 Clean Air Act that required states to develop formal plans to improve air quality, a coalition of environmental groups said today.

The Clean Air Network said that a large majority of states have missed interim deadlines leading to the development of strategies to reduce air pollution. In 10 states, even preliminary efforts to develop such plans have been stymied, the group said in a report.

The 1990 law requires the 35 states and the District of Columbia to submit formal plans to the Environmental Protection Agency by Tuesday for improving urban air quality. The remaining 15 states are exempt from the requirement because they are in compliance with federal air quality standards.

However, EPA Administrator Carol Browner acknowledged last week that many states will not have completed their plans in time to meet the deadline. Last week, the EPA gave the 12 states from Virginia to Maine more time to comply because the federal agency itself had not yet decided whether to approve a proposed strategy for reducing emissions from automobiles in the Northeast.

The EPA has said that nearly 100 million people still live in areas where air quality does not meet federal health standards for urban smog. Depending on the severity of the pollution, these regions have two to 16 years to bring air quality into federal compliance.

"Not one of the 21 worst smog states in the country is expected to be on schedule to deliver a plan for clean air," said David Hawkins,

According to the Clean Air Network, 10 states have made little or no progress in meeting the deadlines outlined by the 1990 Clean Air Act to establish programs that would bring their regions into compliance with federal air quality standards.

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong, Abby. A woman who is "perfect" would not want to upset the daughters by wearing their deceased mother's jewelry. Besides, if the woman really loved the man, she'd be happy to wear a cigar band on her finger. Perhaps he's already met "Miss Perfect." I wouldn't be the least bit surprised if he had.

DEAR ABBY: You were wrong. The jewelry rightfully belongs to whomever the deceased would want to have it — and it surely wouldn't be her husband's new wife.

How do you think the daughters would feel seeing their deceased mother's ring on the hand of another?

And why would a woman accept a ring from a man knowing it once belonged to a woman he had previously loved?

Abby, I am perplexed as to why you gave such a bad answer.
PERPLEXED IN OKLAHOMA

DEAR PERPLEXED: Now that you mention it, so am I.

***

DEAR ABBY: You dropped the ball in your response to the woman whose fiancé pressured her into selling her jewelry from her former boyfriends. You advised her to "sell her jewelry to keep the peace." Abby, marriage to a man so selfish, insensitive and insecure is trouble from the word go. I say, "Keep the jewelry and sell the boyfriend!"

Former health spa tycoon is sentenced

HOUSTON (AP) — A 14-year story has reached its final chapter, possibly leaving more questions than answers in the bizarre case of former health spa tycoon Richard Minns.

Minns faced up to 40 years in prison and $2.5 million in fines at a sentencing hearing today after pleading guilty two weeks ago to eight counts of passport fraud.

The sentencing concludes a chapter in the millionaire fugitive's life that began when a gunman paralyzed his ex-girlfriend in 1980.

Prosecutors say the founder of the President and First Lady health clubs illegally used phony U.S. passports in his travels and falsely claimed U.S. citizenship. When arrested at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport in July, Minns had seven passports from four different countries and under five different names.

But defense attorneys for Minns have maintained their client was striving for privacy and did not have any criminal intent when he obtained the passports.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your financial instincts are accurate today. Do not allow fear or self-doubt to keep you from doing what your intuition directs.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Be ready to run if two casual acquaintances try to involve you in a shady business deal today. What they propose could be financially devastating and illegal.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) When today's decisions require quick thinking, you'll be enormously successful. When you deliberate too long, however, you'll lose your edge.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You should perform all your duties competently today as long as you don't bite off more than you can chew.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Look for a trusted and dependable partner in an endeavor today. Finishing in the black or in the red will be determined by your associate.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Be very careful today when passing along information you received from a third party. Resist the temptation to embellish or to modify even a single word.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) It is imperative to discard old, ineffective methods if you want to increase your productivity today. Explore new procedures for improving your operation.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Someone else's successful gamble might not pay off for you today. You don't know as much about the situation as they do, so don't take the risks.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Spontaneous activities could turn out to be lots of fun today. The same might not be true about an event you've been planning for tonight; it's too structured.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you promised to do something for a friend today, keep your word even if it is difficult and more inconvenient than you anticipated.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Try to calculate your expenditures today and budget yourself accordingly. Include a few buffers in your plan so unplanned extravagance won't tip the boat.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company (SWBT) has filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) to restructure the current PLEXAR I and II service offerings. This restructure will significantly change PLEXAR I and II services.

The restructuring of PLEXAR I will, among other things: (1) reduce the maximum line size from 30 to 9; (2) obsolete and grandfather certain optional features; (3) eliminate the requirement to subscribe to Feature Package Two in order to subscribe to certain optional features; (4) reduce the nonrecurring and monthly rates of certain features; and (5) increase the nonrecurring charges for the PLEXAR I System Charge ($2.10 to $8.00), Call Transfer Disconnect feature ($3.00 to $8.00), and Convenience Dialing 1 feature ($6.35 to $8.00). All current PLEXAR I customers will have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR I service, switching to the new restructured PLEXAR I service, or switching to PLEXAR II service with ten or more lines.

The proposed PLEXAR II restructure will, among other things: (1) change the tariffed offering to serve the market segment of 10-74 stations; (2) create two station pricing structures, one for customers with 10-29 stations, and one for customers with 30-74 stations; (3) reduce the sensitivity for the loop portion of the rate to two price bands: 0-2 miles, and beyond 2 miles; (4) offer a PLEXAR II basic station that can be flexibly configured, from a number of standard features, to meet the individual customer requirements; (5) change the way the termination liability is calculated so the customer is responsible for 65% rather than 56% of the present worth of the remaining monthly payments in the contract; (6) create an option that allows month-to-month customers to convert to long term contracts of at least three years and receive a credit or "contract signing bonus"; and (7) establish a System Subsequent Change Charge which applies per serving central office when changes are made that affect the entire system.

Current PLEXAR II customers will also have the option of keeping their current PLEXAR II service, or switching to the new restructured PLEXAR II service. PLEXAR II customers with at least 75 stations also have the option of switching to PLEXAR Custom service in certain situations.

This application has been assigned Docket Number 13210. Persons who wish to comment on this application should notify the Commission by November 28, 1994. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256, or (512) 458-0221 teletypewriter for the deaf. For more information about this application, please call your local Southwestern Bell Account Representative.

New vaccine program plagued by problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donna Steed eagerly awaited the government's new free vaccine program to give her three children their final shots. But one month, one loophole and lots of arguing later, Vaccines for Children hasn't given her family a single immunization.

"It's the biggest rigamarole," the Greensboro, N.C., mother contends.

The government insists Steed's frustration is atypical. But the program is getting a mixed review from wary doctors who won't sign up to one state so satisfied that it's expanding the program.

"There are still some things to iron out," acknowledged Dr. David Satcher, director of the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, which runs the program.

"But I think we're making significant progress."

Vaccines for Children is part of the $500 million Childhood Immunization Initiative to get 90 percent of America's children properly immunized by age 2. The initiative aims to educate parents, teach doctors to identify unvaccinated children, alleviate overcrowded public clinics and research a one-dose vaccine.

Vaccines for Children, which began Oct. 1, tackles the costs. Every impoverished, uninsured, Indian or Eskimo child gets free shots from any public clinic and participating private doctors. Children whose insurance doesn't cover vaccines get free shots at special clinics.

Some states already rate the program a success. South Carolina is investing $2.5 million in state funds so 230 private doctors can vaccinate the underinsured for free as well.

"We're real enthusiastic," said Kristine Smith of New York's Health Department, which expects 1,200 participating doctors' offices to alleviate overcrowded public clinics.

"It will relieve pressure on us," agreed Marianne Baray, a public health nurse in Arizona, where the program doubled vaccine funding to $10 million.

But critics say Vaccines for Children has serious flaws.

Steed wanted her three underinsured children vaccinated against the liver-destroying hepatitis B virus. But the program has a loophole: Funding problems restricted that vaccine alone to toddlers, even though hepatitis B threatens mostly teen-agers, who typically contract it through needle-sharing drug abuse and sexual contact.

That meant Steed had only one child eligible for the free shots — but she spent October hunting unsuccessfully for a North Carolina clinic to give them.

Private doctors can't yet participate in 26 states because they have no way to get the free vaccine. Drug manufacturers and Congress killed CDC's plan to deliver that vaccine itself. CDC now hopes to have manufacturers making those deliveries by January.

But "it's kind of hard to sign up doctors when you can't guarantee them a delivery date," said Richard McGarvey of Pennsylvania's Health Department, which got tired of the federal delay and is developing its own system.

Others simply fear government programs. Although Vaccines for Children requires only a one-page form per patient, Dr. Kenneth Polin of Chicago said such programs usually evolve into "administrative nightmares."

"It's kind of a stupid program, not attacking the right issue," complained Philadelphia Dr. Fredric Nelson, who contends public clinics already adequately handle the demand for free vaccine.

Such comments frustrate CDC's Satcher, who says his program is but one part of a comprehensive fight against immunization barriers.

He notes that clinics now are staying open late to help working parents, that the National Guard helped vaccination drives in Michigan, that the Hope for Kids project educates low-income parents in Harlem.

He's working on the controversies specific to Vaccines for Children. CDC is investigating Steed's problem in North Carolina, Satcher is barnstorming the country to push the program and the government may lift the hepatitis B age restriction.

Teen-age flyer said arrested

AUSTIN (AP) — A 15-year-old unlicensed pilot has been accused of unauthorized use of a plane, his second such charge in as many months, officials said.

Police broadcast a lookout for the Austin teen-ager and a stolen 1959 Piper Apache about 5:30 p.m. Saturday after the plane was reported missing, officials said.

The youth flew the aircraft out of Robert Mueller Municipal Airport about 4 p.m., airport police Sgt. Ron Gober said.

The teen had been training for a pilot's license, but had not yet received certification, said airport spokeswoman Pam Cobern.

According to Temple police, who took the youth and an 18-year-old passenger into custody, the pair first landed at the Temple airport at 4:40 p.m. They refueled, took off and returned again shortly before 6 p.m., Temple police Sgt. Terri Kelley said.

When they tried to buy more fuel, an attendant became suspicious because they did not have identification matching the name on a check used for payment. The attendant then called police.

The 15-year-old was involved in a similar incident less than a month ago, Ms. Cobern said. Then, he was arrested and placed in Gardner-Betts Juvenile Justice Center, she said.

Paint your car for just $499.50

Have an older car with faded or peeling paint and really don't want to spend a fortune to repaint it? Pat Gray Body Works in Big Spring has the answer. Using a newly developed line of automotive enamels and primers, and using heat to bake the finish, they can paint your car complete for only $499.50. They also have a pickup paint special for only $599.00 and both include a one year written warranty against blistering, peeling, hazing, and excessive fading.

hard to justify the expense of a standard paint job costing $800.00 or more. "We offer an alternative that will give the customer a quality paint job at reasonable prices, enhancing not only the appearance but adding to the resale value when it's time to sell." Winter time is unusually hard on your car's finish and now is the time to consider a paint job. If you have a car that's running fine but looks like it's ready for the junkyard or had a wreck and need body and frame repair, just give the experts at Pat Gray Body Works a call at 263-0582 or visit them at 700 N. Owens (Snyder Highway) in Big Spring. They welcome your calls and can answer any questions about repairs or their new economy paint systems.

Oregon's assisted suicide law provides another option

Matt Dahmer, general manager at Pat Gray's, says the EPS or Economy Paint Systems is a very popular option for the older car that's still in good running condition but has a paint job which has long since faded or begun to peel and rust. Also, considering the value of an older car it is very

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Now that voters have made Oregon the only state that approves of allowing doctors to hasten death for the terminally ill, physicians and patients are facing a new question: Can I go through with it? "I intend to take that option," said AIDS patient Tim Shuck, 45. "Can I change my mind? Sure. What I now have is the legal option."

The law approved by voters allows patients with less than six months to live to ask a doctor for a lethal prescription. At least two doctors must first agree that the patient's condition is terminal.

The request must be made at least twice, then a third time in writing. It's up to the patient to take the drugs.

Groups that opposed Measure 16, such as the Oregon Hospice Association and the Roman Catholic Church, have not said whether they will legally challenge the new law, which takes effect Dec. 8.

Legal challenges are expected, especially to the requirement that a patient only have six months to live. Many doctors agree that's impossible to predict accurately.

But a Eugene doctor who helped lead the fight against physician-assisted suicide predicted many doctors would have difficulty accepting it.

"I don't think there will be an uproar. But I think there will be a large number of physicians who refuse to cooperate," said Dr. Winston Maxwell, an internist who has practiced in Oregon for nearly 30 years.

A spokesman for the Sisters of Providence Health System, run by the Catholic church, said doctors likely would be encouraged to promote alternatives to assisted suicide, such as hospice care.

"We're trying to put this into the context of our value system," said Lawrence Levine, noting that the church spent more than $1 million campaigning against Measure 16.

Better care for the terminally ill could eliminate most of the demand for physician-assisted suicide, Levine added.

Proponents say the time for debating the issue is over.
