Grace Lutheran plans 1994 bazaar Saturday

Grace Lutheran Church will stage its annual bazaar Saturday, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.
 As in previous bazaars, there will be a wide variety of craft items including Thanksgiving decorations.
 Many craft items are one-of-a-kind and new additions include lapel angel pins, quilted Christmas card holders, quilted tic-tac-toe boards, rag dolls and delicate reindeer made of oak.
 The church's women's group made a king size log cabin quilt in colors of blue which will be given away. Tickets are available from members or at the bazaar.
 The men's group will be serving barbecue and German sausage, available as sandwiches or lunch, and dessert.
 Baked goods will also be sold.
 For more information, call Chris Smauley at 573-5183 or 573-0303, Patsy Kitchens at 573-7003 or Donna Jackson at the Department of Human Services.

East Side to sponsor Thanksgiving service

East Side Church of Christ is sponsoring a Community Thanksgiving Service at 7 p.m. Sunday with guest speaker Dr. Mike Armour.
 Everyone is invited to attend.
 Dr. Armour has been the pulpit minister for the Skillman Church of Christ in Dallas since 1986. Prior to that he was president of Columbia Christian College in Portland, Ore. for four years. From 1980 to 1982 he directed off-campus graduate programs and served as dean of student affairs at Pepperdine University in Malibu, Calif.
 Over the past 30 years he has worked with churches in Texas, Kentucky and California. He has broad experience in radio and television and has hosted several regional and national telecasts.
 Dr. Armour is a career naval officer, with continuous active duty service since 1961. He received his commission as an intelligence officer in 1970 and today holds the rank of captain. He has been decorated by the Navy three times for pioneering work in applying computer technology to the mission of naval intelligence.
 His educational background includes an associate of arts degree from Tyler Junior College, a bachelor's degree in history and philosophy from the University of North Texas, a master's degree in religion from Pepperdine University, a master's degree in diplomatic and military history from San Jose State University and a Ph.D. in European cultural and intellectual history from UCLA.
 His wife, Fran, holds an undergraduate degree in history and literature as well as a graduate degree in religion. They have three children, daughters Deborah and Rebekah, and a son, David.
 Special music will be provided by Melanie Smith and students of Snyder High School. Bill Lyon will lead the community chorus

Resource Center plan OK'd; board praises Snyder effort

The Texas Department of Criminal Justice board, meeting this morning in San Antonio, unanimously approved plans to build a Learning Resource Center in the Price Daniel Unit.
 TDCJ Board Chairman Carol Vance of Houston had asked Snyder community representatives to make a presentation about the project, and board members responded with enthusiastic approval.
 "The board was genuinely impressed with the involvement of the college and the hospital and the general involvement of the entire community in this project," said Roy McQueen, chairman of the economic development committee. "The praise they had for the Snyder community was impressive. They thought it was great that a community would care enough to try and make a difference in inmates' lives."
 Board member Allan Polunsky of San Antonio, who served on the board when Snyder was selected as a prison site in 1987, commented that Snyder "wrote the book on community support and effort."

The board also passed a resolution in recognition of the Meadows Foundation's $100,000 grant to the Scurry County Area

Foundation to help build the Learning Resource Center. The proposed center, a 3,600 square-foot metal building, is projected to be used as a chapel and a counseling facility.
 The Scurry County Area Foundation currently is attempting to raise $75,000 to combine with the Meadows Foundation gift. Earlier this week, it was reported that 81.3 percent, or $61,004 toward the goal had been reached.
 Members of the economic development committee attending this morning's meeting were McQueen, Roy Baze, G.A. Parks and Daniel Unit Warden T.J. Medard. Also attending on behalf of Western Texas College was Bettie McQueen, dean of instruction.

DCOS discusses insurance concern

Development Corporation of Snyder board approved previous minutes and payment of bills and held a work session Thursday.
 In a brief business meeting, the board directed DCOS staff to obtain more information on insurance coverage. The directive came after board member David Holt expressed concern that insurance coverage may be inadequate. Staff was advised to obtain information from Ernie Armstrong, the city's legal representative, as well as the insurance carrier.
 Those findings and recommendations, if any, will be placed on a future agenda.
 Following the meeting, the board adjourned into a work session to review a section of the DCOS program operating guide. The guide, when approved, will list policies as well as programs of the DCOS. The board also set another work session for 4 p.m. on Nov. 28.
 An executive session to discuss land acquisition was postponed Thursday.
 Present were DCOS board members Holt, John Fagin, Bill Seale and Jack Gorman. Roy Baze was absent. Also present were Mayor Paul Zeck, DCOS Executive Director Doug Hutchinson and Laurie Graves.

'Rainbow' continues

"Finian's Rainbow," a production staged by Snyder Junior High School drama and choir departments, continues today and Saturday in the junior high auditorium.
 Curtain time is 7 o'clock. Tickets are $4 at the door. For reserved seating, call 573-6356.
 "Finian's Rainbow" is one of the big musical success of recent years. Hit tunes from the show include How are Things in Glocca Morra?, Look to the Rainbow, Old Devil Moon, If This Isn't Love and Something Sort of Grandish.

'King Lear' begins at 7

Only two performances remain for those planning to see William Shakespeare's "King Lear," on stage at Western Texas College's Fine Arts Theatre.
 The production, which began Wednesday, continues tonight and Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for students. WTC students, staff, and faculty will be admitted free with their college I.D.
 Michael Endy, WTC assistant professor, is directing the play and playing the lead role of Lear, who falls into tragedy after dividing his kingdom between two of his three daughters and banishing the other.

 The Post Dispatch reports that the Garza County commissioners court has been approached by Aguirre, a corporation interested in building a 200-bed facility.
 Although Vernon has about the same population as Snyder, Vernon High School is Class 3A and is a veteran in football playoffs.
 The Vernon Daily Record reports that Vernon again has reached the playoffs. It was scheduled to play Boyd last week, but a check of Boyd's roster revealed a true senior who was 20 years old.
 As a result, Decatur, which only had two actual wins this season plus a forfeit by Boyd, was hurled into the playoffs against Vernon. We suspect that's a first, a team with a 3-6-1 record (really 2-7-1) in the post-season chase. It didn't last long as Vernon won, 50-0.

JOYCE MAY

May earns recognition

Joyce May, senior and editor-in-chief of "The Tiger's Tale" newspaper at Snyder High School, has been awarded an Interscholastic League Press Conference (ILPC) Proficiency citation for "superior journalistic achievement as exemplified in the package 'Bookbags and Babybibs' published in the Oct. 21 issue of 'The Tiger's Tale.'"

Bobby Hawthorne, director of ILPC and state UIL journalism director, said, "Joyce May did a wonderful job on the teen pregnancy package, great information."

May has been on the newspaper staff three years, serving as co-editor last year.

"The Tiger's Tale" is a member of ILPC, which is an organization of Texas high school publications. Issues of the newspaper are submitted to ILPC for competition with other 4A schools in the state.

No reduction in corn acres

WASHINGTON (AP) — Corn acreage reduction levels will not be adjusted for 1995, meaning that growers will still have to idle 7.5 percent of their acres next year, the Agriculture Department says.

Under the Agricultural Act of 1949, the Secretary of Agriculture had until Nov. 15 to adjust the feed grain percentages set on Sept. 30 under the Acreage Reduction Program.

The department said the reduction is necessary because this year's bumper corn crop will create an oversupply. Agriculture Secretary Mike Espy said that conditions have not changed significantly enough since Sept. 30 to warrant adjustment of the percentage reduction.

Acreage reduction levels for grain sorghum, barley and oats will not be adjusted either.

Husband charged in wife's murder

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A man moves to town, sets up a business, takes out an insurance policy on a cheerful, churchgoing wife and hits a rocky spot in his marriage. She ends up dead in a tub.

The second time it happens, police suspect this is no mere coincidence.

Timothy Boczkowski has been charged with homicide in the death of Maryann Boczkowski, and investigators are looking anew at the death almost four years to the day earlier of Boczkowski's first wife, Mary Elaine.

The 38-year-old denture maker remained in jail on $1 million bail Thursday, two days after he was arrested and 11 days after paramedics he called found the second Mrs. Boczkowski floating on her side in their patio hot tub in suburban Pittsburgh.

On Nov. 4, 1990, Boczkowski told police he heard a "thump" and found his first wife dead in a bathub at their home in Greensboro, N.C. The cause of her death was never determined, and Boczkowski was not charged.

"He didn't strike me as being very emotional about it," recalled a business acquaintance, Nancy Vodenichar of Stoneville, N.C. "But everybody shows their grief differently, I guess."

Mrs. Vodenichar and her husband, Anthony, bought a miniature golf course and restaurant near Madison, N.C., from the couple in 1990. Mrs. Vodenichar said Boczkowski told her he and his wife had been planning to end their marriage.

Boczkowski returned to his hometown of Pittsburgh not long after his first wife's death. He opened a denture business, remarried in 1993 and took out a $100,000 insurance policy on his new wife.

That wife, 36-year-old Maryann Boczkowski, suffocated Nov. 6, the Allegheny County Coroner's Office said.

Investigators said they suspected Boczkowski from the start.

He told them he found his wife's body in the tub when he went to check on her, less than half an hour after leaving her there.

Ross Township Police Chief Carl Zotter said Boczkowski told him that he and his wife were soaking in the tub as three children from his first marriage slept. They talked about his concern that she had been drinking too much, Boczkowski said.

"I think it was a one-sided conversation," Zotter said.

The police chief said authorities suspect Mrs. Boczkowski was strangled but don't know whether it happened in the tub or elsewhere. She had no water in her lungs, a sign of drowning.

Boczkowski will plead innocent, his lawyer, James Herb, said Thursday.

17 Snyder FFA'ers attend convention

Seventeen students from Snyder High School's Future Farmers of America (FFA) chapter competed and served at the 67th National FFA Convention in Kansas City, Mo. earlier this month.

Among those qualified to attend the convention included Shayla Jeter, who served as a Texas voting delegate; Shelly Englert and Jacob Crawford, who performed in the National FFA Chorus; Will Collier, Tasha Naegele, Monica Roberson and Shane Robinson, members of the 18th place Farm Business Management Team.

Others included Brady Collier, Kelly Gentry, Sarah Pierce and Amanda Wells, members of the 10th place FFA Knowledge Team; Shanna Haggerton, Shauna Huddleston and Robyn Hornsberger, members of the National FFA Champion Marketing Plan Team; and Brad Hinton, Matthew Miller and Banyan Winkler, who served as Courtesy Corps members.

Also attending were Snyder FFA advisor David Frazier and Brice Key, student teacher.

This year's convention set an all time attendance record of 35,000 students from across the nation as well as several other countries.

According to Matthew Miller, the experience of seeing so many students united together from across the nation was "incredible — beyond your wildest imagination. There seemed to be an air of excitement, enthusiasm and pride that I have never felt before."

During their five day stay, Snyder FFA members competed against other state winners in each of their respective contests, worked back stage as members of the Courtesy Corps, attended leadership workshops, and met FFA members from across the nation.

The theme of this year's national convention was "FFA — The Leadership Advantage." This theme was developed by Snyder FFA and was chosen by the national officer team. As part of their reward, Snyder FFA was given a theme board that hung in the convention hall that had been autographed by all six of the national FFA officers as well as the three adult executive officers.

Amanda Wells said, "Meeting the national FFA officers and having them recognize us personally was incredible."

Local businesses and individuals donated funds so that the FFA teams could attend the convention.

Monica Roberson said, "It's encouraging to know that citizens from Snyder are proud enough of their young people that they will invest their money in order to see these young people's dreams become reality."

Although many experts would double, North made a reasonable one-diamond overcall. There was a small chance, on a different layout, that it would talk the opponents out of three no-trump. And should East become the declarer, it indicated what rated to be the best lead.

West led the spade queen: two, 10, three. West continued with the spade jack. South ruffed, cashed the heart ace and continued with a second heart. West won with the king while East followed suit. What now?

With those formidable diamonds in the dummy, there was a natural inclination for West to switch to clubs, playing partner for the king. But luckily West stopped to count declarer's tricks. South had at most five heart winners and four diamond winners. So West simply exited with another spade (a diamond would have been as good) and waited for two club tricks to defeat the game.

Yes, South can — and probably should — make the contract by cashing three diamond tricks and ruffing dummy's last spade before exiting in hearts, but why not benefit from his error?

Baylor eyes candidate for president

WACO (AP) — Baylor University regents remain undecided about a search committee's choice for a new president, following six hours of debate in a closed-door session.

The board of regents met Thursday to consider a replacement for Herbert Reynolds, who will become chancellor of the university next summer.

Board Chairman Gale Galloway would not say whom the committee has recommended. However, several published reports citing unnamed university sources have said Thomas E. Corts is the top candidate.

The board was scheduled to continue the meeting at 8 a.m. today. The regents will have a news conference sometime today to announce whether they approved the search committee's recommendation, Galloway said.

The Faculty Senate asked regents Thursday to delay the appointment amid controversy over Corts, president of Samford University, a Baptist college in Birmingham, Ala.

Wages paid to laborers up in 1994

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wages paid to farm laborers in 1994 averaged $6.39 an hour through October, up 14 cents from the previous year and 39 cents higher than 1992, according to the Agriculture Department.

During the week of Oct. 9-15, farms and ranches employed 3.17 million people, a decline from the 3.25 million people on the payroll during the same week in 1993.

Self-employed farm workers accounted for the majority, at 1.49 million, while 516,000 workers were unpaid. Farm operators hired 880,000 workers directly. The remaining 279,000 people were agricultural service employees working on farms and ranches.

Hired workers made an average of $6.46 an hour during the October survey week, an increase of 20 cents over the same week of the previous year. Workers paid on an hourly basis received $6.17 an hour, up from $5.94. Field workers got a 25 cent raise from 1993 to $6.16 an hour, while livestock workers saw their wages go up from $5.67 to $5.82.

The facts on wart transmission

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: Please enlighten me regarding warts. If they are contagious, how is the virus transmitted — touching, drinking out of the same glass, kissing someone with warts, having sex with someone who has warts, and so on? Can a person be a carrier but not have warts? Why would a wart that appears similar be more contagious if it appears on the penis or vagina than if it were on the hands, feet or chest?

DEAR READER: Warts are caused by viruses, which are spread by direct (and often prolonged) skin-to-skin contact. In general, the more active the contact, the greater the likelihood of transmission.

For instance, brushing against the wart on a person's hand will probably not result in infection with the virus, whereas sexual intercourse favors transmission.

Some warts are more easily spread than are others.

Wart viruses can exist in the skin for variable periods before warts actually appear. In particular, men without visible warts on their genitals can infect their partners. (Condoms can effectively protect against this.)

Warts often disappear without treatment. Those that remain can usually be cured by the application of prescription medicine, chiefly podofilox.

One final comment: Genital warts in women have been associated with cancers of the reproductive tract. Therefore, any woman with such warts should be treated by a gynecologist and her partner should be meticulously examined for non-visible warts by a urologist or dermatologist, using special tests.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Viruses and Cancer." Other readers who would like a copy should send $2 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 2433, New York, NY 10163. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My husband has been advised by his doctor to have knee replacement surgery. As an artificial knee lifespan is about eight years, he is concerned that a second replacement down the road might be necessary. In Europe, ceramic is presumably used for knee replacement instead of metal, and appears to fuse better. What is your opinion?

DEAR READER: I am not familiar enough with European ceramic prostheses to advise you. To my knowledge, the U.S. artificial knee is a splendid product that works well and enables patients to maintain normal lives for many years.

The lifespan of the prosthesis will, of course, depend on how strenuously it is used. A sedentary person may well enjoy his artificial knee for a lifetime; a runner may find his wearing out in a matter of years.

Ask your husband's orthopedic surgeon to give him a valid estimate of how long the artificial knee will function, given your husband's level of activity.

GM tries to block truck recall

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has filed a lawsuit accusing Transportation Secretary Federico Pena of overstepping his authority and pursuing an illegal and unfair recall of millions of pickup trucks.

The automaker sued Thursday in U.S. District Court to block Pena from ordering a recall of GM's 1973-87 C-K pickups.

Transportation Department spokesman Richard Mintz said GM's lawsuit against Pena, the department and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration was premature.

"The department has not made a final decision (on a recall), has not closed the door to any options," Mintz said.

Last month, Pena declared that the trucks pose an "unreasonable risk" of catching fire in side-impact collisions because their fuel tanks are outside the frames. He scheduled a public meeting for Dec. 6 in Washington to collect additional information to help him make a decision on a recall.

GM then proposed that the Transportation Department forgo the hearing — sure to be a public relations disaster for the automaker — and take the issue directly to court. The department rejected that proposal Tuesday.

GM's lawsuit contends Pena's Oct. 17 decision that the trucks are defective was illegal and arbitrary, and that he rejected the recommendations of his agency's own safety experts to impose his personal views.

Mintz said the law allowed Pena to make the decision.

Pena acknowledged that the trucks met federal safety standards. But he said the law also requires that they be safe in "real world conditions." He said 150 people had died in crashes that would have been survivable if not for fires caused by the fuel-tank placement.

GM insists the pickups are as safe or safer than most vehicles on the road.

NHTSA has been investigating the trucks since mid-1992, when consumer groups petitioned for a recall. Last year, GM rejected the agency's request for a voluntary recall.

Lotto Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The $55 million Lotto Texas jackpot will go to the holder of a ticket purchased in Dallas County, Lottery officials said Thursday.

It will be the single largest prize ever paid by the Texas Lottery, spokesman Steve Levine said.

Just one ticket matched all six numbers drawn Wednesday night. They were: 19-26-28-30-31-36.

A ticket matching five of six was worth $1,956 dollars. Authorities said 328 tickets were one number shy of the jackpot. Four of six paid $116, with nearly 19,900 winners.

The estimated jackpot rolls back to $3 million for Saturday's game.

Tigers need senior leadership to spark inexperienced team

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

With only three returning lettermen, Snyder head coach Bud Birks will rely on a host of underclassmen as the Tigers search for their first playoff berth in five years.

According to the Texas High School Coaches Association, that could be a never ending search. Coaches from District 5-4A voted the Tigers to finish in sixth place this year.

"I've asked three of the other five coaches why they voted us so low," Birks said. "Not one of them would confess."

"Each one said, 'It wasn't me.'" In a district known more for its basketball prowess than anything else, the Tigers will be battling an uphill battle all year long.

"Our kids were a little offended at being picked last," Birks said. "I think they are hungry for success, and sometimes that goes a long way."

How far a hunger for winning will take the Tigers is undetermined, but one thing that is for sure is the fact that Snyder will ride the wings of their three senior leaders.

Fittingly, the post position belongs to Ricky Post a 6'4" senior.

Of the returning players, Post played the most, however, Birks said the all three played "meaningful minutes."

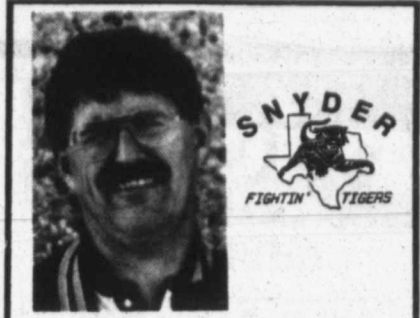

Joining Post are wingman Brad Gober, 6'4", and guard Reagan Key, 5'10".

"I knew going into this season that we were going to have to rely on our seniors," Birks said. "I look forward to them being there all year long."

"What happens with the rest of the players remains to be seen."

Along with Post at the post position, are juniors Jeff Hobbs, 6'3", and Beau McLeod, 6'2", as well as a pair of super sophomores Rick Henderson, 6'4", and Patrick Cumby, 6'5".

Bud Birks
Colors: Black and Gold
Head Coach: Bud Birks (5th year)
Coach's record at school: 68-48
1993 record: (15-14, 1-9 Dist. 3-4A)
No. returning lettermen: three
Last playoffs: 1989-1990
Strength: Depth
Weakness: Experience
Key to season: Weekly improvement

In Birks' dominant inside game offense, two point guards will be called on to distribute the ball down low.

"We'll play two point guards through the game," he said. "Both of them must be capable of running the offense and contributing to the chemistry of the team."

Along with Key, the most likely candidates for the point guard job are juniors Page Patterson and Wayne Braziel.

"All three of those guys will play the point as we go through the beginning of our season."

The other guard fighting for a spot in the everyday lineup is 5'10" junior Marcus Byrum.

Competing for playing time with Gober at the wingman position are juniors Jared Bailey and Robby Huestis.

According to Birks, one of the most glaring shortcomings of this team is their lack of experience at the varsity level.

"All the kids coming up have been on solid winning programs," he said. "The only problem is that they are inexperienced at this level of play."

"They can all play at this level, they just need time on the court to mature."

Birks pointed out that a strength of this year's team is their overall athleticism.

"We have a lot of kids on this team that can play," he said. "None of them are going to sit at the end of the bench and be cheerleaders."

In order to have a successful season Birks said that improvement over the course of the year will be the key.

"Our players have to understand that we must keep improving each and every week," he said. "We can't afford to level off."

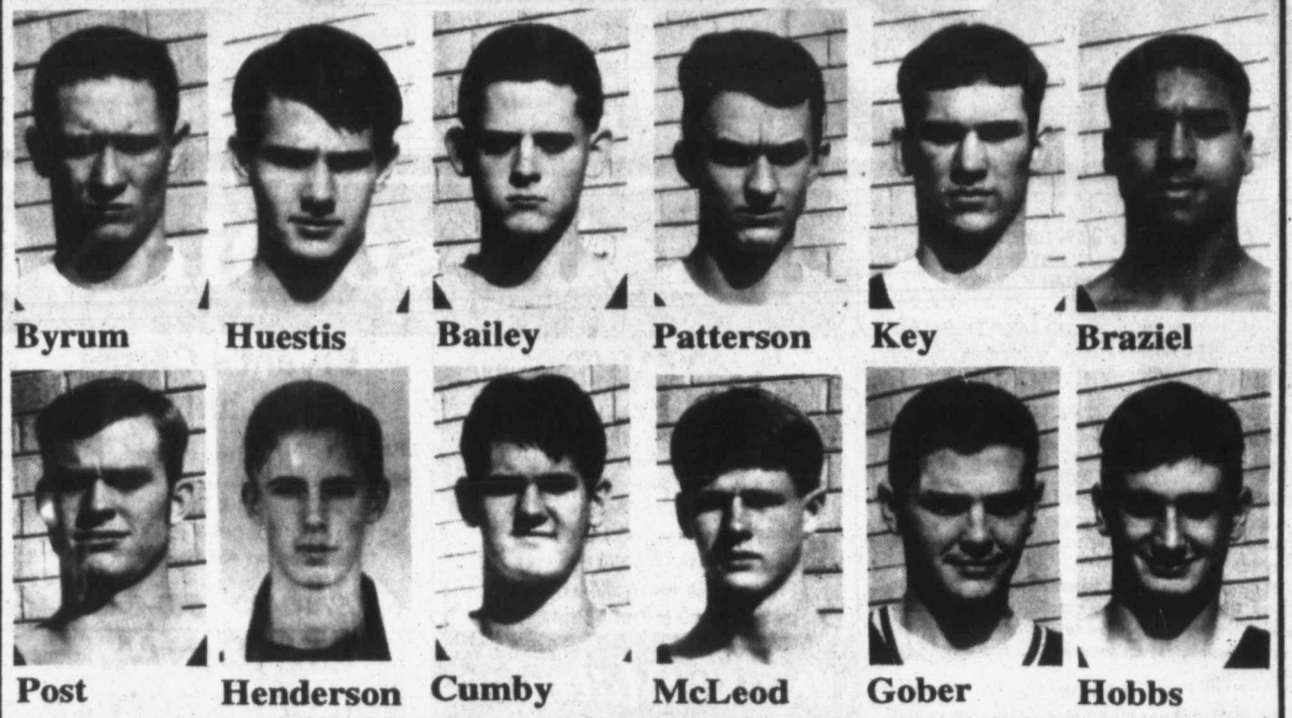

Offensively, the Tigers will look to Post to score inside on a regular basis.

"I believe you win on the inside game," Birks said. "In order to get an outside game you have to establish the inside."

How Snyder plays offensively will be important, but Birks feels that the teams' defensive play could be the difference between an average year and an exceptional one.

"I think this is a good team," he said. "If we find a defense that we can play consistently, we will be impressive."

Lady Tigers aim high, set sights on getting playoff berth

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

In his first season as head coach of the Snyder Lady Tigers' head coach Steve Qualls got off to a shaky start.

The Lady Tigers went 2-8 in district play and 9-18 overall.

That was then, this is now.

With the addition of three transfers and two legitimate sophomores, Qualls and the rest of the Lady Tigers have brushed aside the vision of a season above .500 and focused in on a trip to the playoffs.

The thought seems a bit far-fetched for a school that hasn't sent a girls basketball team to the playoffs since the Jimmy Carter administration, however if the Lady Tigers can get the ball to bounce their way don't count them out of the district race.

"The number one thing I want is for Snyder to be considered as having a good girls basketball program," Qualls said. "This could be the team to do that."

One big reason for optimism is the return of senior post player Rachel Shipp.

Although Shipp was inconsistent at times last season, her ability to dominate games is an attribute waiting to surface.

At 6'3", she is an imposing figure on defense and a potential go to player on offense.

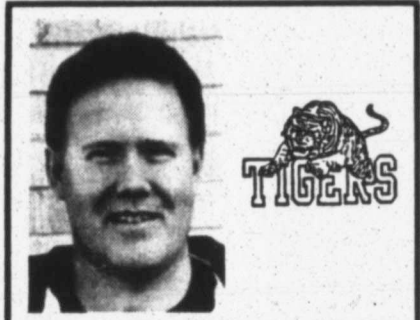

"I have been working with her to stay out of foul trouble," Qualls said. "With her height, she can be a dominating point of our offense and defense."

Senior Vanessa Williams, 6'0", who also returns from last year's team, and sophomore Erica Garvin, 5'10", will both be asked to contribute quality minutes at the post position as well.

"Vanessa and Erica give us two more big girls underneath," Qualls said. "It is great to have that kind of depth in the post."

The third returning starter from

Steve Qualls
Colors: Black and Gold
Head Coach: Steve Qualls (2nd year)
Coach's record at school: 9-18
1993 record: (9-18, 2-9 Dist. 3-4A)
No. returning lettermen: five
Last playoffs: 1979-1980
Strength: Height and quickness
Weakness: Execution of game plan
Key to season: Offensive execution last year, along with Shipp and Williams, is junior Jamie Brown. Qualls calls Brown his "zone buster" for her ability to consistently hit from the outside.

"Jamie is probably my best outside shooter," he said. "Because of our height, teams will try to pack the middle defensively."

"If they do that, she will have good games."

One of the biggest losses from last season's team was the departure of All-District performer Annie Ragland. Ragland, now with the Lady Westerners of Western Texas College, was the designated point scorer for the Lady Tigers.

This year, Qualls hopes that junior forward Shayna Crow will develop into and fill the designated scorer's role.

"Shayna is more multi-dimensional than Annie was," he said. "She can rebound, handle the ball and shoot."

Defensively, the Lady Tigers will employ the talents of returning letterman Trish McGrew and sophomore Devon Reed.

Qualls speaks highly of both McGrew and Reed and their ability to disrupt the opposition's offensive schemes.

"Trish and Devon are able to stay with anyone one-on-one, because of their quickness," he said. "They are two of the quickest people I've ever seen."

Along with sophomores Garvin and Reed, three transfers will attempt to break into Snyder's starting lineup this season.

Senior Haley Boaz, along with juniors Shanna Haggerton and Connie Payne will add to Qualls' already deep bench.

Other players hoping to contribute to the Lady Tigers' playoff push will be senior Monica Garza and junior Jodi White.

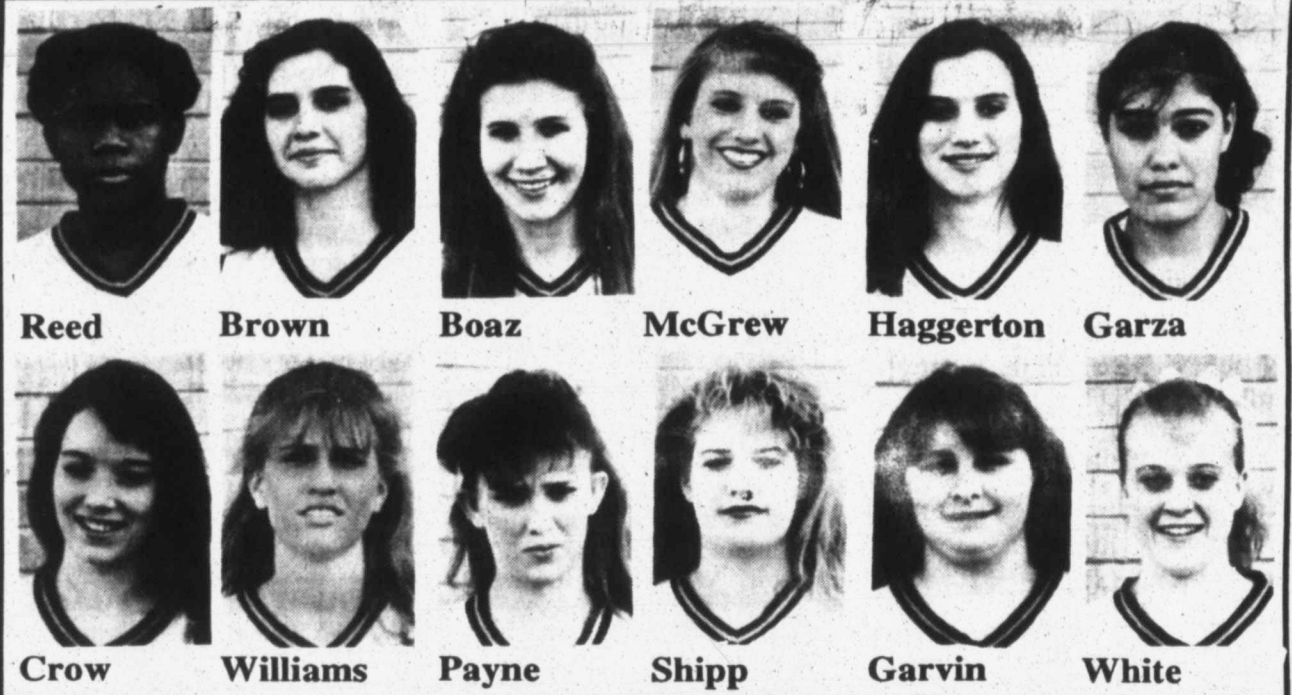

One of the keys for the Lady Tigers, according to Qualls is improvement at both the guard and post positions.

Qualls also pointed to two things that he says will ensure success this season.

"Offensively, we need to have a lot of movement," he said. "If we do that it will create open shots."

"On defense, with our height, I'd like to limit the opposition to one shot. I don't think that is too much to ask. If we are able to do those two things we will be successful."

Robert Lee, Paducah battle here tonight

If tonight's Class A regional semifinal game pitting Paducah against Robert Lee is anything like last week's 24-22 last second Abilene Wylie victory over Slaton, don't miss it.

After a bye in the first round, the Robert Lee Steers (9-0) hit the gridiron here in Tiger Stadium at 8 p.m. against the Paducah Dragons (6-4).

Robert Lee, coached by Ed Poels (16th year), is led by running backs Lee McCown and Adam Morgan.

The two backs have combined for over 1,500 yards rushing in just nine games.

Steer quarterback Aaron Hood directs the Robert Lee attack and has thrown for over 800 yards this year.

Defensively, the Steers have only given up a total of 33 points this year.

Linebacker Jonathan Torres and defensive tackle Anthony Wink have led the Steer stampede throughout the season.

Paducah will try and counter the Robert Lee defense with quarterback Andy Cruz, 880 yards passing and 11 touchdowns, and Chris Canales.

Canales leads the team with 900 yards on the ground.

Tickets for tonight's game are $6 at the gate.

Area high schools swing into action

The Hermleigh Cardinals hit the road for Miles and the Ira Bulldogs play in the second round of the Rule Tournament today.

Hermleigh, riding the tide of opening game wins over Abilene Christian, clash with the Miles Bulldogs.

The junior-varsity boys will tip off the action at 5 p.m., followed by the varsity girls at 6:30 and the varsity boys at 8.

In action from the Rule Tournament, the Ira boys varsity fell to Moran 73-53 and the Lady Bulldogs beat Moran 68-52.

The boys are scheduled to play in the consolation semifinals today at 2:30 p.m. against Rule.

Meanwhile, the girls take on the winner of last night's Aspermont-Rule game tonight at 7.

In junior varsity action, the Ira girls took a shot on the chin with a 72-14 loss to Blackwell in the opening round of the Blackwell varsity tournament Thursday. They were scheduled to play today at 9 a.m. against Westbrook in the consolation semifinals.

Lady Westerners on the road again

After Tuesday night's twenty point debacle at the hands of the South Plains Lady Texans, the Western Texas College Lady Westerners hightailed it out of town and headed for the Grayson Classic in Denison.

The 71-51 loss to South Plains served as a wake up call for the Lady Westerners, who are scheduled to take on Northeastern Oklahoma College today at 5:30 p.m. and Eastern Oklahoma State College at 5 p.m. Saturday.

"We had a good practice Wednesday," WTC head coach Brenda Welch-Nichols said. "You can bet that we will come out and play Lady Westerner basketball."

Nichols said the teams WTC will play in the round-robin style tournament have been unproven to this point.

"We just don't know what to expect from either of the teams we play," she said.

The Lady Westerners will return home either Saturday night or Sunday morning and begin to prepare for Tuesday night's game against the Cisco Lady Wranglers.

Western Texas beat Cisco 93-53 in the two teams' last meeting on Nov. 7.

The Lady Westerners next home game is scheduled for Jan. 9 against Odessa College in Scurry Coliseum at 7:30.

Big U.S. deal turns sour for Sony Corp.

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Sony Corp. has paid billions to learn this lesson: In the movie business, there's no guarantee of a happy ending.

When the electronics giant shelled out $3.4 billion in 1989 to buy Columbia Pictures and TriStar Pictures, it was convinced the purchase would result in profitable "synergy" between its hardware — TVs and VCRs — and software such as movies and music.

That could still happen someday. But as investors raced to sell Sony stock today, the focus was on the fortune Sony is losing right now as its movie business endures management turmoil and a series of flops.

Sony shares plunged 5.35 percent in heavy trading on the Tokyo Stock Exchange today, a day after Sony announced a huge, $2.7 billion write-off on its money-losing movie subsidiary.

The losses make Sony the latest victim of Japan's "bubble economy" of the late 1980s, when booming stock and real estate prices at home led Japanese investors to overpay for "trophy" properties abroad. Individuals and companies found it easy to borrow against paper profits to invest in the United States, and in their eagerness paid little attention to price or risk.

Just this week, documents disclosed that Mitsubishi Estate may default on its mortgage payments on Rockefeller Center because the property isn't bringing in enough rent. Mitsubishi bought a majority of the landmark Manhattan complex of 19 buildings in 1989.

Unlike some of the West Coast golf courses and hotels that were bought at vastly inflated prices by hasty Japanese investors, analysts say Sony's decision in 1989 to purchase a studio was essentially sound.

At the time Sony was already an entertainment giant with a record subsidiary, so expansion into movies was a logical extension of its business.

The problem was in the execution.

First, Sony paid too much for Columbia and TriStar, according to most analysts. Then it shelled out hundreds of millions of dollars for big-name executives and plush offices.

The studios, renamed Sony Pictures Entertainment, continued to be profitable for a while. That may have encouraged Sony to forget that while the peaks of movie success are high, the valleys can be frighteningly deep.

"We've been unpleasantly reminded that market share can suddenly plunge. The entertainment business isn't all rose-colored. The returns can be high, but the risks are there, too," said Masahiko Ishino, who watches Sony at Yamaichi Securities' research institute.

Recent releases such as "City Slickers 2," "North," "Guarding Tess," and "Last Action Hero" were all washouts. Last month, the chairman of Sony Pictures Entertainment, Peter Guber, resigned amid disputes among top management.

In addition to the write-off, Sony reported operating losses of $509 million at Sony Pictures, due to the abandonment of a large number of projects in development, the settlement of outstanding lawsuits and contract claims, and other unusual items.

Barney begins offensive against many detractors

PAWTUCKET, R.I. (AP) — Barney is taking to the airwaves to combat a host of detractors, including the "I Hate Barney Secret Society," whose attacks have soured sales.

Commercials featuring the purple-and-green tyrannosaurus rex begin airing nationally today. The ads, aimed at spurring Christmas sales, will run in early evening and daytime slots, when parents and children are most likely to watch.

"Our intent is twofold. One is obviously to sell more Barney products," said Sharon Hartley, general manager of the Hasbro Toy Group. The other is to remind jaded parents about "the special bond between Barney and their children and convince them to put aside any Barney-bashing feelings they may have."

Neither the Lyons Group, the Richardson, Texas-based company that owns the rights to Barney, nor Hasbro Inc., the biggest Barney licensee, will discuss sales of the product line that became popular through public television.

ducts fell to $30 million this year from more than $130 million last year. At the same time, anti-Barney sentiment has increased.

Lyons vice president Russell Mack said analysts are wrong to equate the drop in sales with a decline in Barney's popularity. "Barney & Friends" is the top-rated children's show on public television, he noted.

"There is some Barney bashing, but 1993 was a very unusual year," he said. "Barney merchandise was unavailable until then and there was a huge, pent-up demand for Barney products. We never expected sales in '93 would continue at that level. Our objective is that Barney become a classic character with a long shelf life."

Hasbro markets a number of Barney toys, including Talk 'n Dress Baby Bop, Barney Water Pals and Barney's Musical Baton, that are aimed at the new group of children just discovering Barney. "There's a whole new audience out there," she said. "We think Barney will become a very long-term character with long-term sales."

But analysts estimate that the company's revenues from Barney pro-

Japanese shipbuilders make super-fast ship

YOKOSUKA, Japan (AP) — For decades, Japanese entrepreneurs have profited from making things smaller. Now a Japanese shipbuilders' consortium is betting that bigger is better. A prototype of the Techno-Superliner, a cargo ship that can travel like a hovercraft over long distances at nearly 62 miles an hour, was unveiled Thursday by Tsuneo Yoshiki of Mitsui Engineering and Shipbuilding Co. At 230 feet, the prototype is only half as long as the planned final product. Yoshiki said the consortium is ready to build its first full-size Techno-Superliner as soon as it finds a buyer. "No one has succeeded in making this kind of ship this big," Yoshiki said. The consortium is confident it can develop even bigger vessels, he added. The ship is designed to skim over the ocean surface on a cushion of air created underneath it by lift fans in its hull. At full speed, only the edges of the ship's concave hull would be in the water, cutting down on water resistance. Yoshiki said the full-size Techno-Superliner was designed to carry 1,000 tons of cargo from Tokyo to Japan's northernmost and southernmost main islands in half a day. That would be half the time taken by cargo ships currently covering that distance. He said the ship could be refueled to travel on to neighboring countries such as Taiwan or South Korea, or even as far as Singapore. The six-year, $150 million project has been conducted under the supervision of Japan's Transport Ministry, and includes the development of a large cargo hydrofoil with similar specifications.

PLO police open fire on worshippers

GAZA CITY, Gaza Strip (AP) — PLO police opened fire today on thousands of worshippers outside a mosque and clashed with rock-throwing Islamic militants in running street battles. Nine civilians and a policeman were killed and more than 120 people were wounded. The clash was the most serious confrontation between Islamic militants and Yasser Arafat's PLO-run government since the Gaza Strip and West Bank town of Jericho won autonomy in May. Tensions have been fed by the Oct. 19 bus bombing in Tel Aviv and other recent fatal attacks on Israelis by Islamic militants that have threatened the expansion of autonomy throughout the West Bank.

Arafat ordered his police to respond severely, no matter what the consequences, to armed militants who oppose his peacemaking with Israel, Palestinian sources said. Palestinian police detained about 300 militants after the clash. Witnesses gave the following account:

Grand jury charges Duran with attempted assassination

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ever since a man peppered the White House with bullets, his lawyer has claimed that the target was only the building. But now, prosecutors offer a sinister new view: Francisco Martin Duran was trying to kill President Clinton.

A grand jury indicted Duran on Thursday on 11 felony counts, leading with a charge that Duran "did knowingly and willfully attempt to kill William Jefferson Clinton, the president of the United States."

At his arraignment a few hours later before U.S. District Judge Charles R. Richey, Duran pleaded innocent. Conviction for an assassination attempt carries a maximum penalty of life in prison. No trial date was set.

Prosecutors filed papers asking Duran's lawyers to disclose whether they plan to assert an insanity defense. Richey gave Duran's lawyers until Monday to reply.

U.S. Attorney Eric Holder said prosecutors will prove Duran intended to kill the president when he pulled a Chinese-made 7.62 mm semiautomatic assault-style rifle from under his trench coat and emptied 29 rounds at the White House.

The fact that Duran, 26, of Colorado Springs, had discussed his intentions with people in Colorado helped persuade prosecutors to add the assassination attempt charge.

"We're quite confident that the information we are going to put before the jury will convince them that he was attempting to assassinate the president," Holder said. He said people who had such information had a "civic and moral duty" to come forward.

Clinton was in the mansion's family quarters watching college football on television on Saturday, Oct. 29, when the gunfire erupted. Bullets hit pillars and walls and shattered a window of the press room in the West Wing of the executive mansion.

Duran's lawyer, Leigh A. Kenny of the federal public defender's office, argued earlier in court that Duran did not try to assault anyone.

"The 27 rounds were fired toward a building, not a person," she said. "Twenty-seven rounds were fired and no one was injured. No one was hurt. Nobody was harmed."

The number of bullets fired was thought earlier to be 27.

At first blush, the Secret Service also did not view the incident as an assassination attempt.

"The president was in no danger whatsoever," said Richard Griffin, assistant Secret Service director for protective operations, hours after the shooting.

A spill-over crowd of about 6,000 worshippers had gathered at the Palestine Mosque for Muslim Sabbath prayers.

About 200 Palestinian police wearing helmets and carrying shields surrounded the 1,000 worshippers praying outside the mosque. Police had been stationed there following reports that the radical Hamas group planned a large rally.

A half-dozen Hamas activists urged the crowd outside to throw stones at the police, and taunted the officers by likening them to Israeli occupation troops.

Florida teen-ager's trial ends in mistrial

MONTICELLO, Fla. (AP) — A teen-ager charged with killing a British tourist at a highway rest stop was sent back to jail to await a new trial after a jury failed to reach a verdict.

A mistrial was declared Thursday after jurors deliberated for six hours, at times arguing so loudly they could be heard from behind closed doors.

John "Billy Joe" Crumitie was charged with murder and attempted murder in the botched robbery along Interstate 10 in northern Florida in September 1993.

Crumitie, 17, testified that he was at home when the attack took place. No weapons or other evidence linking him to the crime were ever found.

He had faced life in prison if convicted. Prosecutors would not comment or say if they would seek a new trial.

The jury included a former classmate of Crumitie's and one of his former teachers. Juror Richard Sauer said the panel deadlocked over the lack of physical evidence and the identification of Crumitie by Donald Spivey, a rest-stop attendant.

"I believed from the testimony that (Crumitie) was there," Sauer said. "There was no physical evidence to put him there. But the testimony from too many witnesses put him there."

Spivey saw the robbery attempt, but did not identify Crumitie until he pointed him out in court Tuesday. The getaway car driver testified as part of a plea bargain that Crumitie was one of the shooters.

Sauer would not say how many jurors thought Crumitie was innocent.

Crumitie's attorney, Mina Morgan, said her client was disappointed.

"He was hoping it would be over today," Morgan said. Crumitie has been in jail since he was arrested more than a year ago.

Gary Colley was the ninth foreign visitor killed in Florida in a 12-month period. The deaths attracted international headlines, damaged Florida's $31 billion tourism industry and prompted state lawmakers to approve major changes in the state's juvenile justice system.

The other suspected gunman, 15-year-old Aundra Akins, is charged with murder and awaiting trial in the death of Colley, 34, and the wounding of his girlfriend, Margaret Jagger, 36. Two other teen-agers were charged with murder, then pleaded guilty to lesser charges.

Jagger, who traveled from England for the trial, began crying and declined to comment after the judge declared a mistrial.

Jagger tearfully testified that she and Colley were napping at a rest stop 35 miles east of Tallahassee when they were jolted awake by two men with guns. When Colley tried to back up the car and flee, the gunmen opened fire, killing him and wounding Jagger.

Defense attorney Dwight Wells said in closing arguments that Crumitie was a typical high school sophomore who worked two part-time jobs and had no reason to commit the crime.

Assistant State Attorney Mike Schneider said Crumitie was a streetwise youth who knew what he was doing when he participated in the robbery.

The getaway car driver, Deron Spear, 18, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to commit armed robbery and accessory after the fact. He faces up to 10 years in prison.

Spear's half-brother, 14-year-old Cedrick Green, has pleaded no contest to lesser charges. Green was not present during the robbery attempt, Spear testified.

Palmer appearing in stage production now at SMU

J.K. Palmer, 1991 graduate of Snyder High School, is making his final appearance on the Southern Methodist University stage, this week through next Tuesday.

While a student in the Snyder schools, he studied under Ellie Dryden, Barbara Perkins, Jerry Worsham and Bill Lyon.

He has been cast in the role of Billy Bibbitt in "One Flew Over the Cuckoo Nest." The production is being directed by guest director Tina Parker and is being performed in the Margo Jones Black Box Theater.

The famous Western gunfighter, Bat Masterson, served as a referee in a number of pro boxing fights. He also began working as a sports writer on the New York Morning Telegraph in 1902.

In 1991, Palmer was one of 30 freshmen students selected from a field of 742 students who auditioned to attend SMU's prestigious Meadows School for the Performing Arts. While studying at Meadows, he has performed numerous roles on SMU's stages and has studied with such notable talents as actor-comedian Bob Hope, director Peter Brook and musical director Stephen Sondheim.

Astro-graph By Bernice Bede Osol

Saturday, Nov. 19, 1994

If you've been contemplating a change in occupation, it may be done successfully in the year ahead. Make sure you have a detailed plan, though. Your luck will be good, but don't leave everything up to chance.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Today, be mindful of developments that could provide an additional source of income. If you're alert, you will be rewarded. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your ability to work on a one-to-one basis with others might be your best asset today. Don't negotiate anything important through an intermediary.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) The key to productivity today is to take pride in your work. Make certain you'd be proud to sign your name to even your smallest projects.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Social activities offering friendly competition may be enjoyable today. Just remember not to take winning or losing too seriously.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) A complicated matter you've been putting off can be concluded today. However, you must make it your top priority if you want it to end satisfactorily.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Today you are better equipped to handle mental tasks than physical ones. Keep this in mind when you are tempted to do something strenuous.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your financial conditions appear to be steady today. Be content with nominal gains because small numbers have a way of adding up.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Even though there may be no shortage of prospective partners today, you'll be better off working alone. You are most successful when doing your own thing.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not ignore your intuition today. Use it as a backup to your logical evaluations.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) If there is a new clique you'd like to join, this is a good day to introduce yourself. You have more in common with them than you suspect, so don't be bashful.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Don't look for trouble today, but don't run away from situations that have competitive elements either. A moderate challenge would be good for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Be philosophical today; it could make winning more fun and losing less painful. The way you manage your affairs may win you admirers.

Dear Abby

Writing Notes Is Healing, Says Widow Who's Over Her Grief

by Abigail Van Buren

© 1994 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: It's been startling to read the opinions regarding responses to expressions of sympathy.

Upon the demise of my dear husband, Barnaby, more than 500 people phoned, sent cards, flowers, food, attended the funeral or visited me.

Touched by the love that surrounded my family, I became more aware that God is love, and love is from God. For weeks I wrote thank-you notes, feeling that if a person could make the effort to express sympathy to my family in any way, I sincerely wanted to respond. It was a joy to write to those people. I even went over the list of those who signed the memory book at the funeral home and attended the funeral, and wrote each of them, expressing my family's gratitude for their love.

I was the winner, because as I wrote, my grief for Barnaby melted away and memories of his life and what it meant to others flooded my mind — and I remembered his deep love for all of us. Counting all our friends and blessings prompted me to write a book about my husband. Now my children and grandchildren have memories of Barnaby they would never have had.

The bottom line: There is joy in taking the time to write thank-you notes to those who have expressed sympathy. Your readers should try it.
VERA RUSH HILL,
DECATUR, GA.

DEAR VERA RUSH HILL: Thank you for the positive spin you put on acknowledging expressions of sympathy. More people may follow your innovative lead and find it rewarding.

DEAR ABBY: One of my co-workers left our company and moved to another state. She and I were very close friends so, naturally, we keep in touch.

My problem: Several individuals want her address, and they know I have it. She does not want any ties to her old job — especially with those she only tolerated while working here.

Abby, what should I say to these people without offending them, or causing hard feelings against me for protecting the privacy of my friend? Also, when someone with whom you have worked for several years leaves the company and asks for your address and telephone number, should it be given to them?

I am not terribly fond of my co-workers and prefer to keep my social life separate from the workplace. However, some individuals have no social life outside the office, so they assume everyone who works there is a "friend."

I would appreciate a quick response while I stall everyone at work.

PRIVATE LIFE

DEAR PRIVATE: Since the departed employee "only tolerated" her co-workers while she worked with them, she shouldn't object to your telling them that she requested that her new address not be given out.

And since you — by your own admission — are not terribly fond of your co-workers, you have little to lose by being candid with them.

DONS VALUE KING

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

FOUR-FOOTED TRANSPORTATION

IN ANCIENT BIBLICAL TIMES, HORSES AND CAMELS WERE A SURE MODE OF TRANSPORTATION. HOWEVER, HORSES WERE USED ONLY IN WARFARE, WHEREVER THE TERRAIN PERMITTED AND CHARIOTS COULD BE MANIPULATED. THE ISRAELITES HAD NO HORSES, PER SE, UNTIL THE REIGN OF DAVID. HE ESTABLISHED SOME CAVALRY BUT IT WAS KING SOLOMON WHO IMPORTED THEM FROM EGYPT IN VAST NUMBERS, PAYING ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY SHEKELS OF SILVER FOR EACH ANIMAL. (1 KINGS 10:28) ON THE OTHER HAND THE CAMEL COULD BE USED FOR TRANSPORTATION AND WAS VALUABLE AS A BEAST OF BURDEN, BEING CAPABLE OF CARRYING LOADS OF FOUR HUNDRED POUNDS OR OVER--ALSO THEIR LIFE SPAN WAS LONGER AND THEY WERE A SOURCE OF FOOD BECAUSE OF THEIR MILK. THE ISRAELITES KEPT CERTAIN HERDS OF CAMELS JUST FOR MILKING. GEN. 32:15 MENTIONS THIRTY MILCH (MILKING) CAMELS--ALSO THEIR HAIR WAS USED FOR TENT MATERIAL AND HEAVY OUTER GARMENTS. WITH ALL THESE ADVANTAGES ON THE SIDE OF THE CAMEL, SMALL WONDER IT WAS PREFERRED OVER THE HORSE!
