1,000-plus fans, competitors expected for 9th TKD event

More than 1,000 competitors and spectators representing three states and Mexico will be here Saturday for the 9th annual West Texas Kae Kwon Do Championship at Scurry County Coliseum.

"We are expecting over 500 competitors, representing 60 to 70 schools coming from Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico," said Greg Gafford, director of the West Texas Tae Kwon Do Academy, which is sponsoring the event. "We also have a rather large group coming from Old Mexico."

"We will also be honored to have Grand Master Won Chik Park, 9th Dan, who was last year's head of the team for the World Games," Gafford said.

Forms will be held in all belt classifications from ages 5 years and up. Sparring will be held in belt classifications from ages 8 and up.

Forms will begin at 10:30 a.m. with freesparring beginning at 1 p.m. with the Black Belt division. Three to four national-level Black Belt competitors are expected at the tournament.

Admission is $5 for adults and $3 for youngsters age 6-12. Children under age 6 are admitted free. Concessions will be available.

Olympic-style medals will be given to first through third places in each division of fighting (sparring) and forms. First, second and third place trophies will be awarded in team competition.

Approximately 20 students from the West Texas Tae Kwon Do Academy will be competing. They will be coached by Chris Thornhill.

Dr. Rusty Radican will be tournament coordinator. Also helping will be George Rocha, Bryan Smith, Dewayne Riggs and Keisha Gafford.

Projected $1.6 trillion budget to trim hundreds of programs

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Clinton next Monday will release a $1.6 trillion budget that proposes to abolish or consolidate hundreds of government programs, producing deficit savings of $144 billion over the next five years, administration officials said today.

The officials, who spoke on condition that their names not be used, said that $63 billion of that savings would be earmarked to fund Clinton's middle class tax cuts and the other $81 billion would go to reduce the deficit further.

However, Republicans and even some Democrats immediately attacked the numbers as totally inadequate to reach their goal of balancing the budget by the year 2002 as mandated by the constitutional amendment being considered in Congress.

"That's totally unsatisfactory," Rep. Jim Kolbe, R-Ariz., a member of the House Budget Committee, said. "It doesn't even come close."

"Assuming that number is accurate, that's far below what I think is necessary," said Sen. James Exon, D-Neb., a supporter of the balanced budget amendment to the Constitution.

Clinton's budget will project a $196.7 billion deficit for the 1996 fiscal year that starts next Oct. 1, up slightly from the $192.5 billion that he projects for the current budget year, the administration sources said.

These officials confirmed figures first reported in today's New York Times.

The newspaper, quoting from galley proofs of the budget, said that Clinton's budget message will boast of his deficit reduction efforts while conceding that the deficit will probably stay in the range of $190 billion through 2005, thus missing substantially the goal of balance by 2002.

Republicans in Congress have vowed to produce a budget with significantly higher individual tax breaks and at the same time start moving to balance by the year 2002.

While Republicans have yet to produce the details of how they would achieve a balanced budget, the Congressional Budget Office has estimated it would take more than $1 trillion in spending cuts alone, not counting the extra funds needed to pay for the tax cuts being proposed both by Clinton and the Republicans.

Other budget details confirmed by administration sources today:

—The $144 billion in deficit savings would be composed of $26 billion by significantly downsizing the departments of Energy, Transportation and Housing and Urban Development and the Office of Personnel Management (See BUDGET, Page 8)

Unemployment rate jumps

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate jumped in January to its highest level in three months, as the economy created fewer jobs over a month's span than at any time in the preceding year.

The Labor Department said today that unemployment stood at 5.7 percent last month as only 134,000 jobs were added to non-farm payrolls.

The rise in unemployment surprised economists. But analysts said in advance of the report that higher interest rates were bound to begin taking a toll by curtailing economic expansion.

The jobless rate was 5.4 percent in December — the lowest in four years — and not been this high since it stood at 5.7 percent in October. The last time fewer jobs were created was in January 1994, when 101,000 were added to payrolls.

In December, 210,000 workers jobs were created, the Labor Department said today. That is a sharp downward revision from a month-old estimate of 256,000.

For all of 1994, 3.5 million new jobs were created, the largest gain since 1988, for an average of about 290,000 jobs a month.

President Clinton, in a Rose Garden ceremony, today sought to showcase positive aspects of recent economic statistics, saying, "1994 was the best year for job growth in a decade."

He acknowledged that too many Americans are still "in the anxious class," working harder for the same wages.

Clinton proposed that the minimum wage be increased by 90 cents an hour over two years, from $4.25 an hour now to $4.70 the first year after enactment and to $5.15 the next year.

The increase over the current $4.25 would be phased in over two years, with a 45-cent raise the first year after enactment and another 45-cent raise the next year to $5.15.

The unemployment rate has not risen since January a year ago, when it went up 0.3 percent. But that was due to a change in the system the government uses to calculate joblessness. The last time unemployment rose prior to January 1994 was June 1992 when it increased 0.2 percent.

Wage rates rose in January by an average 7 cents an hour.

'Shooting for Stars' planned on Saturday

The community is invited to the Ritz Theatre on the south side of the city square Saturday morning for "Shooting for the Stars," the non-profit theatre's fund-raising campaign.

The event, scheduled for 10 a.m., marks the beginning of interior renovation — the second phase of renovation at the theatre.

Charter patrons will be recognized and board members will explain the funding campaign and how contributors will be honored. Also included will be a tour of the facility, a look at the interior plans, and swinging of the sledge hammer to officially start the renovation.

The goal of the board of governors of the theatre is to have the facility functional and in use by the fall.

Board members are John Fenton, president; Mike Thornton, vice president of finance; Ellie Dryden, vice president of production; Ricky Fritz, treasurer; Emily Hataway, secretary; John Gayle; Donna Hutchinson; Sammie Jarrell; Janeen Patterson; Jerry Worsham; and Frank Miller.

Over 2 years...

Clinton proposes 90-cent wage hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—Defying solid Republican opposition, President Clinton today proposed increasing the minimum wage by 90 cents an hour over two years.

"The only way to grow the middle class and shrink the under class is to make work pay," Clinton said in a Rose Garden ceremony. "In terms of real buying power, the minimum wage will be at a 40-year low next year if we do not raise it above $4.25 an hour."

He proposed boosting the rate to $5.15 over two years through two 45 cent increases.

In a measure of the difficulty that the proposal will face in the Republican-controlled Congress, not one GOP legislator was willing to attend the ceremony.

Nevertheless, White House press secretary Mike McCurry said the administration remains hopeful that some Republicans "are going to want to say some favorable things" about the proposal.

Chances of such an increase passing Congress are dismal, however, since a majority of Republicans are strongly opposed. The last increase, 45 cents an hour, was in 1991. House Majority Leader Dick Army of Texas, in fact, has said he'd like to do away with the minimum wage altogether and would fight any increases "with every fiber of my being."

Without confirming the 90-cent-an-hour figure, White House spokeswoman Ginny Terzano said late Thursday, "The president thinks that an increase in the minimum wage will be good for our workers and they need more to live on than $4.25 an hour."

She added, "It's going to help working families and single mothers with children who are struggling to make ends meet."

House Minority Leader Dick Gephardt, D-Mo., said congressional Democrats had been working with the White House on the proposal and "we will work with the administration to try to get it done in this Congress."

The White House said it recognizes passing the bill will be an uphill battle, but hopes to define a debate that puts Clinton on the side of working-class Americans.

Want Brown fired

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-two House Republicans wrote President Clinton to say Commerce Secretary Ron Brown should be fired because of his financial dealings.

The letter, written by Rep. Dan Burton, R-Ind., told Clinton that Brown's problems "continue to tarnish your administration's image" and his resignation should be demanded "in the best interest of the nation."

The letter cited questions about Brown's business relationship with Democratic Party fund-raiser Nolanda Hill. The lawmakers said Thursday their information came from news accounts.

White House spokeswoman Ginny Terzano said, "The president has high confidence in Secretary Brown and the work he has done at the Commerce Department."

Under Brown's stewardship, she said, the department has "helped in our economic stability" because of "the outreach he has done with the private sector." Brown, Terzano added, has answered the questions about his finances.

Joking can help Clinton

WASHINGTON (AP) — The opposition has taken over the Capitol. Members of your own party describe you on key legislation. A plane smashes into the back of your house, bullets spray the front. People complain about your long-winded speeches. Good thing President Clinton can take a joke.

"A lady came up to me who was a college president, and she said, 'You know, I really identify with you. Being president is just like running a cemetery,'" he cracked to Democratic governors this week. "There's a lot of people under you, but nobody's listening."

These have been trying times for Clinton and his troops. He's responded with a touch of gallows humor.

Babe Ruth, he told a group of mayors the other day, is the baseball great he thinks he may resemble the most: "A little overweight and he struck out a lot."

Of course, he added, "But he hit a lot of home runs because he went to bat." There are limits to self-deprecation, after all.

Clinton is not usually known for his joke-telling prowess. But adversity has brought out a whimsical, bittersweet quality in his recent speeches and comments. And there certainly is ample material.

Your Birthday

Saturday, Feb. 4, 1995

Astrologically, the chickens will come home to roost in the year ahead. Fortunately, the stars indicate a number of happy surprises.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A close associate is in charge of a situation that you are better equipped to handle. If encouraged, he/she might step aside today and let you take over. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it. The Astro-Graph Matchmaker instantly reveals which signs are romantically perfect for you. Mail $2 to Matchmaker, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 4465, New York, NY 10163.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Watch for opportunities today. You are in a cycle of good luck and you'll probably find yourself in the right spot at the right time.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Being exacting about your goals today could be the principal reason for your success. Friends might also play key roles in bringing this about.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Your logic and your intuition will both be accurate today, but if they should oppose one another, give more credence to your intellect than to your hunches.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) The lessons that will do you the most good today won't come from books. Someone may share an experience with you that you can share with someone else later.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) An objective you've been reluctant to attempt is reachable today, but not necessarily on the first try. If you fail initially, regroup and try again.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Greater strides can be made today through a partnership than by acting as an independent agent. Think of collaborative work as strengthening, not a weakening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Give top priority to objectives that directly affect your work or career today. Not only are they the most important, they're also the most attainable.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Conditions will shift in your favor today, resulting in the strengthening of a relationship that is vital to you at this time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Do not interfere with an important development that is running smoothly. If you start toying around with changes, you might run it off its rails.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your initial ideas might not be as good as your mate's today, but you can take his/her thoughts and turn them into something better. Work as a team.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This might be a red letter day for you. Something you've been working on long and hard could finally become profitable.

Calvary Baptists take mission trip

Ten members of Calvary Baptist Church recently spent eight days in Costa Rica. The purpose of the trip was to visit with four missionary families that the church supports monthly, and to visit two Costa Rican congregations in particular.

The group from Snyder included Pastor Larry McAden and wife Janelle, A.M. "Mack" and Virginia Humphrey, Avon and Wanda Rushing, Bobby and Kim Nolan, Peggy Highfield and Carolyn Gulseth. They arrived in San Jose, Costa Rica Jan. 12 and were greeted by missionaries Ramon and Annette Perez and the national pastor Enrique Sanchez. Sanchez is pastor of the Iglesia Biblica Bautista Church in Pavas, Costa Rica, a suburb of San Jose.

A video of the trip will be presented at Calvary Baptist Church at 6 p.m. Sunday.

The Snyderites also had an opportunity to visit and receive reports from Costa Rican missionaries Jeff and Maudie Meek; missionaries for 25 years; Randy and Sherry Rhoton, missionaries for 7 years; and John and Kerri Barnes, missionaries for 20 years. The Perezes have been missionaries for more than 15 years. Calvary Baptist Church of Snyder has been sending monthly support to these families since each was approved as missionaries.

The Americans were treated to a bus tour of several sights in Costa Rica. They were accompanied by Ramon and Annette Perez, Enrique and Jenny Sanchez and the music director of the Pavas' church. Also joining the group at times was the national pastor of the church in Puntarenas and his wife and Roberto and Patricia Perez of San Jose.

The towns visited included Cartago, San Ramon, Jaco Beech and San Carlos as well as Puntarenas and San Jose. Viewing active volcanoes at Poas and Arenal were highlights of the trip.

Dear Friends of the Ritz,

It is with much pleasure that the Board of Governors of Ritz Community Theatre, Inc. invites you to celebrate with us the beginning of our "Shooting for the Stars" funding campaign and the launching of Phase II of the renovation of the Ritz.

The event will take place at the Ritz on Saturday, February 4th, at 10:00 a.m. At that time we will recognize our charter patrons, explain the funding campaign and how contributors are to be honored, tour the existing facility, view renovation plans, and swing the sledge hammer that officially starts the interior renovation. Afterwards, we will toast the project with a cup of coffee or hot cider.

Because of your generosity and that of others, we have enough funds to begin work and are confident that other patrons from the community will provide the additional funding necessary to complete this phase of renovation. All contributions are tax deductible. Contributions/pledges may be mailed to Ritz Community Theatre, Inc., P.O. Box 943, Snyder, Texas 79550-0943.

Please join us and the media for this historic event.

Lady Wranglers tie up Western Texas

Second half turnovers, missed free throws cost Lady Westerners victory

ODESSA — Although there is a renewal of confidence and team spirit amongst the Western Texas Lady Westerners, the one thing they haven't been able to change is the end result.

Despite leading by as many as ten points in the second half, Western Texas was unable to put Odessa College away, as the Lady Wranglers rallied for a 78-74 win.

Odessa (12-10, 2-5) moved into a tie for last place in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference with Western Texas (9-16, 2-5), who has lost its last five ballgames.

With 15 left in the game and trailing by one, 75-74, the Lady Westerners were whistled for a travelling call. The turnover forced Western Texas to foul in order to get the ball back.

Odessa drained its two subsequent free throws, putting the Lady Wranglers up 77-74 with :05 remaining. Western Texas was unable to inbound the ball successfully, which turned the ball back over to Odessa, sealing the Lady Westerners fate.

"Overall I thought we played a pretty good ballgame," Western Texas head coach Brenda Welch-Nichols said. "We just had too many turnovers at critical points in the game."

The Lady Westerners received another monstrous offensive game from sophomore Jackie Wright. Wright knocked in a game-high 32 points to go along with her 15 rebounds.

Christy Cates registered a big game, as well, scoring 12 points and pulling down 12 boards. Donna Carrell came up 12 boards of her own.

Western Texas was without the full services of Carri Moss and Ericka Thompson, both of whom were slowed because of illness.

"We went from cold to hot and back to cold, shooting wise," Nichols said. "You just can't win games doing that."

"I was very pleased with our rebounding, however."

The Lady Westerners recorded 51 rebounds for the game. Free-throws, though, turned out to be the team's downfall, according to Coach Nichols.

"We shot over sixty percent from the free-throw line, which is good for us," she said. "But, I knew it would come down to who shot their free throws better in the end, and that's exactly what happened."

Western Texas was 26 of 34 from the line.

Odessa head coach Ken Hefner felt that the Lady Wranglers ability to get points off the inbounds play was the key to their success.

"There were a couple of times where we really needed to come up with a big play off the inbounds pass," he said. "We were able to get the ball in and score, that helped us swing the momentum toward our side."

Nichols remained confident that her team continues to improve.

"We will keep our heads up," she said. "We are finally starting to do the things our offense was designed to do, like get the ball into the post. If we are able to keep doing that on a consistent basis, we'll be fine."

The Lady Westerners return home Monday for a meeting against the New Mexico Junior College Lady Thunderbirds. Tip-off is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Scurry County Coliseum.

Strike talks continue with urging of Clinton

WASHINGTON (AP) — With more prodding from the White House, baseball players and owners have started moving toward each other — but only at glacier-like speed.

Players didn't make a counter-proposal Thursday and may not today. But they probably will offer one by Saturday.

"What we are trying to do is get back to them in such a way that we can determine if we can get within shouting distance of each other," union head Donald Fehr said after Thursday's talks, which were devoted to non-economic issues.

While the union ran down the time until President Clinton's Monday deadline for progress, the White House was not amused. Moments after Thursday's talks began, mediator Bill Utery was summoned from the negotiating table to the Cabinet Room.

When he returned from meeting with Labor Secretary Robert Reich and deputy White House counsel Bruce Lindsey, Utery did not say whether he had spoken directly to the president. The message, however, was clear.

"He emphasized in extremely strong language that the president expects this to be resolved," Fehr said.

Asked Thursday whether there was any progress, Clinton crossed his fingers and said: "We're in it. That's all I can say. Not up. Not down. We're in it."

Tigers meet Tigers

Snyder and Frenship compete tonight

By TODD STANLEY
SDN Sports Editor

The time has come for the Snyder Tigers to finally step out of their hole.

Everything about their game against the Frenship Tigers, tonight at 8, spells one thing...VICTORY.

Snyder has endured heart-breaking loss after heart-breaking loss through District 5-4A play and so, the time appears to be right for a reversal of fortune.

The Tigers have absolutely nothing to lose. They currently sit at the bottom of the district standings, with Frenship a close fifth.

Frenship has compiled a 13-15 record, 2-4 in district play, with only a few games remaining.

In their last meeting, Snyder struggled, but came within a baseline jumper of tying the game as time expired. Frenship claimed a narrow 45-43 victory. The Lady Tigers have an even greater task ahead of them, as they take on the state-ranked Frenship Lady Tigers.

Frenship, along with Levelland, are not only the class of the district, but also the class of the state.

Frenship is heading into the home stretch of their playoff run — posting a 22-7 record, 7-1 in district, along the way.

Tip-off is slated for 6:30 p.m. for the girls' varsity game.

In other local action, Ira travels to Loraine to take on the Bulldogs.

The Ira girls (14-8, 3-0) are scheduled to start at 6:30 tonight and the boys (1-18, 0-3) will tip-off at 8.

Hermleigh is on the road, as well. The Cardinals will mix it up with the Westbrook Wildcats. The Lady Cardinals (5-18, 2-1) are slated to start at 6:30 p.m., with the boys (10-13, 2-1) beginning at 8.

NFL teams make changes

by The Associated Press
The Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers already have two losses since the season ended — Mike Shanahan to Denver and Ray Rhodes to Philadelphia.

The 49ers lost their offensive and defensive coordinators this week as the NFL coaching carousel continued turning rapidly. On Thursday, defensive coordinator Rhodes became just the third black head coach in modern NFL history. Two days before that, offensive wizard Shanahan went to the Broncos as head coach.

While Rhodes was being hired to replace Rich Kotite, the first black head coach of modern times, Art Shell, was fired by the Los Angeles Raiders. Mike White, former coach at California and Illinois, will take over.

Gone from the jobs they held at the beginning of the 1994 season are Shell, Kotite, Jack Pardee (Houston), Wade Phillips (Denver), Chuck Knox (Rams), Pete Carroll (New York Jets) and Tom Flores (Seattle).

Replacing them are White, Rhodes, Shanahan, Jeff Fisher with Houston, Kotite with the Jets and Dennis Erickson in Seattle. The only position currently unfilled is with the Rams.

Rhodes, 44, might appear to be a consolation prize for the Eagles after owner Jeff Lurie couldn't reach an agreement with former coach Dick Vermeil. Lurie moved quickly to scoff at such notions, however.

Chicago Stadium WJCAC standings demolished today

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago Stadium, a landmark building where Franklin D. Roosevelt accepted the nomination for president, where Elvis rocked and Sinatra crooned, met the wrecking ball today.

Built in 1929 for $6 million, the former home of the Chicago Blackhawks and Bulls, is finally being knocked down and replaced by a parking lot that will serve its successor, the $176 million United Center which sits across the street.

Blackhawks owner William Wirtz was in tears as the two-ton ball first smacked into the west wall as a crowd of a few hundred people began to boo through the morning chill.

"It's like going through a wake," said Wirtz, who first visited the building as a child in 1934. "But it has to be."

The demolition will not be completed until mid-May, said James L. Werner, a vice president for U.S. Dismantlement Corp.

Report: U.S. better at keeping unsafe drugs off market

WASHINGTON (AP)—European countries have had to withdraw two to three times as many unsafe drugs as the United States, says a report that is the latest volley in the battle over restricting U.S. medical regulators.

Pharmaceutical records of drugs sold since 1970 show the United States, Britain, France and Germany have had to pull 56 drugs off the market after they proved dangerous and, in some cases, killed dozens of people, said the report, compiled by a proponent of stricter drug regulation.

The United States withdrew nine drugs, Britain 23, Germany 30 and France 31, reported Dr. Sidney Wolfe of the consumer advocacy group Public Citizen.

Every country blocked at least some drugs that later were withdrawn from another. For example, the U.S. Food and Drug Administration withdrew six drugs that France never allowed on the market, while France pulled 28 drugs never sold here.

The dangerous drugs ranged from a diuretic that caused at least 36 Americans fatal liver or kidney failure to a painkiller that ate through the linings of people's stomachs and intestines in England and Germany, killing at least 36.

Some of the drugs were withdrawn from one country but are still sold in another, such as the sleeping pill Halcion, which Britain has banned but is still sold in the United States.

"It is clear from this study that the more stringent drug safety and efficacy laws and regulations in the United States have saved many lives," Wolfe, a frequent FDA critic who wants stronger regulation, said Thursday.

But groups that want to revamp the FDA argued the data doesn't change the growing battle over the agency, which they contend kills sick Americans by delaying new therapies. Some critics say any drug that has been approved overseas should be given automatic approval by the FDA.

"What it says is it's a mixed bag at best," said Brent Bahler of Citizens for a Sound Economy. "Obviously there's a lot that's not shown here, and we're just getting a snapshot that needs to be placed alongside other information."

The report doesn't indicate what standards the different countries used to evaluate drugs, noted Steve Berchem of the Pharmaceutical Research and Manufacturers Association. Nor does it say how many drugs each country allowed on the market during the 22 years, or compare approval times for drugs, which average 19 months in the United States.

Nevertheless, the FDA welcomed the report as its first support after a month of attacks, including an announcement Wednesday that congressional hearings on reforming the agency may begin later this month.

Bill Clinton wrestled with character issues in earlier campaigns, new biography says

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new biography of President Clinton describes a complex political figure who wrestled with his past — womanizing and the Vietnam draft — in previous campaigns before he ran for the presidency and won in 1992.

The Washington Post said today that Betsey Wright, Clinton's former top aide, had revealed she discussed her concerns over extramarital affairs with Clinton in 1988 and then recommended that he forgo a race for the presidency that year out of deference to his wife and daughter.

The Post reported on the upcoming book, "First In His Class," by staff writer David Maraniss.

Wright, who served as Clinton's chief of staff when he was governor of Arkansas, told Maraniss she confronted Clinton when he was considering a presidential candidacy in 1988. Maraniss said Wright "was convinced that some state troopers were soliciting women for him and he for them."

The Post said it would begin publishing excerpts of the Maraniss book on Sunday.

Wright, asked for comment early today, said, "I think David Maraniss misunderstood anything I said. I told him about the troopers."

"What I believe is that some of them solicited women for themselves, exploiting the fact that they worked for the governor," she said. "I do not believe that they ever solicited women for the governor, certainly not with his knowledge."

Maraniss, who won a Pulitzer Prize for his Post coverage of Clinton's 1992 presidential campaign, unearthed new details on Clinton's efforts to defuse the Vietnam draft issue during a 1974 run for Congress.

Maraniss writes that Clinton had thought a key letter he had written regarding his draft status had been destroyed and could not be used against him. However, a copy of the letter — in which Clinton thanked an Arkansas ROTC official for "saving" him from the draft — was preserved and surfaced during 1992.

White House press secretary Michael McCurry was quoted by the Post as saying the draft and women "issues surfaced during the campaign and they were effectively dispensed with. I am not sure there is any real news here to comment on."

The Post said in today's editions that "First In His Class" presents a complicated young man whose life before the presidency demonstrated many of the traits — intelligence, energy, passion for government and politics and new ideas — that Clinton exhibits today. But it also presents another side of Clinton — someone who shaded the truth, showed little personal discipline or focus, exhibited a volatile temper and was perpetually reluctant to make decisions — revealed during his presidency.

Clinton addressed the issue of extramarital activities at the beginning of the 1992 campaign, stating, with Mrs. Clinton at his side, that they had experienced "problems" in their marriage but had worked them out.

Rest home tried to cover up death

SHELBY, N.C. (AP)—Rest home employees tried to cover up the death of a resident who wandered away and froze to death by dragging her inside, dressing her in a nightgown and tucking her into bed, authorities say.

Based on the word of Whispering Pines staff members, a doctor signed a death certificate that said 77-year-old Ellie Wall died in her sleep of natural causes.

But an anonymous tip to Sheriff Dan Crawford prompted an autopsy. The state Medical Examiner's Office determined Wednesday that Wall died of exposure over the weekend, when temperatures dropped into the 20s.

Employees found her body Sunday morning in a drainage ditch, clad only in underwear, Crawford said.

"She did not die peacefully in her sleep," Crawford said Thursday. "If we hadn't gotten that call, she would have been buried and no one would have known the difference."

The district attorney was deciding whether to file charges that could include criminal neglect and manslaughter.

The rest home's 18 residents are supposed to remain inside after 9 p.m., and alarms on the doors are supposed to sound if anyone goes outside, Crawford said.

Steering thruster springs leak after launch

NASA confident problem will eventually correct itself

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Discovery thundered into orbit today and began a three-day chase after a Russian space station, but a leak in one steering thruster could make the upcoming encounter less close than planned.

Two of the 38 large steering jets failed shortly after the shuttle reached orbit early this morning, and one of the failed thrusters was leaking slightly.

Shuttle manager Loren Shriver said the leaking jet was the main problem. It could disrupt Monday's planned rendezvous with the orbiting Mir station if the leak continues and the crew has to go to the extreme measure of shutting off all three jets in that section, he said.

"There might be ways to work around that," Shriver said. If the key thrusters are disabled, Discovery will still rendezvous with Mir but will have to stay at least 1,000 feet away instead of coming within 35 feet.

Discovery commander James Wetherbee and pilot Eileen Collins, the first woman to pilot a U.S. spaceship, turned the leaking jet toward the sun to melt any frozen fuel that might be preventing the thruster valve from closing. This has always stopped leaks before. After several hours of this, Wetherbee still could see propellant spewing out in all directions: "Some of it up, some of it out, some of it sideways."

"As we look at the darkness of space, you can see the snow coming out of the aft end, that continues to come like a very, very small leak," he told Mission Control.

Flight controllers monitored the thruster throughout the morning and were optimistic, based on previous experience, that the problem eventually would resolve itself.

The rest of the crew, meanwhile, began work in the small laboratory aboard Discovery and cranked up the shuttle robot arm, which will be used later in the mission for science experiments and a satellite release.

The rendezvous is the top priority of Discovery's eight-day mission. It is intended as practice for the first shuttle-Mir docking in June. NASA officials insisted before the flight that the June docking would proceed whether this rendezvous was accomplished or not.

The 4.5 million-pound shuttle lit up the sky for miles around as it rose from its pad at 12:22 a.m. on twin pillars of flame.

Chechens continue to resist Russians

SAMASHKY, Russia (AP) — Chechen fighters reinforced their positions in Samashky today, bracing for a Russian assault on the rebel-controlled town Moscow claimed to have taken days ago.

The village, which lies on a strategic road into the embattled Chechen capital, Grozny, has acquired new importance since the weather warmed up and turned an alternative route to mud. There have been sporadic clashes there all week, and the Russians have shelled the town for three straight days.

The Russians claimed they gained ground and the Chechens claimed they held theirs, but the situation appeared little changed. Thousands of people have been killed since Russian troops entered the mostly Muslim southern republic on Dec. 11 to quash its independence drive. The fighting has forced at least one-third of Chechnya's 1.2 million people from their homes, the United Nations says.

Although the Russian government declared the military phase of the Chechen operation effectively over last month, tens of thousands of Russian troops have been locked in a near-static struggle with a few thousand lightly armed Chechens for almost two months.

Budget is proposed

and the General Accounting Office; $81 billion from extending a cap on military and other discretionary spending through the year 2000; $32 billion by cutting benefit programs and $5 billion from lower interest payments based on the deficit savings.

The budget proposes abolishing the Interstate Commerce Commission, transferring some functions currently performed by the National Weather Service to private meteorologists and eliminating the role of the Army Corps of Engineers in smaller projects, such as controlling beach erosion and constructing recreational harbors.

In a direct challenge to Republicans, Clinton proposed a major increase in one of his proudest accomplishments, the national service program known as AmeriCorps. He would boost the number of participants from 20,000 currently to 47,000 by the end of the 1996 budget year, boosting the funding for the program's parent agency by $290 million. House Speaker Newt Gingrich has criticized this program as "coerced volunteerism."

The Times quoted the confidential galley proofs of the budget as saying Clinton will "save $2 billion by ending more than 130 programs" and "provide better service to Americans by consolidating more than 270 other programs."

Among the programs on the chopping block, officials said, were 37 small education programs the administration will propose for total elimination.

SISD employees are disciplined

Snyder ISD Superintendent Gayle Lomax said today that a high school coach and a maintenance worker involved in an altercation on Jan. 27 have been disciplined.

"Both parties have accepted the discipline," said Lomax. The superintendent declined to outline the action taken against the individuals, saying "The district does not discuss personnel matters with the media."

He did say that the disciplinary action did not involve any suspension of employment. "Both parties are on the job," he noted.

The disciplinary measures came after a school maintenance employee received treatment at Cogdell Memorial Hospital emergency room after he was allegedly struck by a coach last Friday afternoon.

The altercation allegedly occurred in a laundry room at the high school field house and started with a disagreement over some work to be done. At Cogdell, the maintenance worker received stitches for a laceration over his left eyebrow.

As yet, no formal charges have been filed in the case.

Police note 4 arrests

Local law enforcement officials had a relatively quiet Thursday but made four arrests early this morning.

A 28-year-old male was arrested at 1:04 a.m. today in the 1600 block of 30th Street and charged with misdemeanor driving while intoxicated.

A passenger in the vehicle, a 26-year-old male, was arrested for public intoxication.

Two people were arrested at 2:56 this morning from the 1200 block of 19th Street. A 31-year-old female was arrested for public intoxication and disorderly conduct while a 30-year-old male was arrested for Class C assault/family violence.

Officers investigated a minor accident at 8:29 a.m. Thursday in the 2800 block of El Paso.

Involved were a 1985 Ford pickup driven by Christopher Guynes, 3207 23rd St. and a 1988 Oldsmobile driven by Iva Woodson, 600 24th St.

Officers were notified at 2:01 p.m. of children playing in the roadway in the vicinity of 29th Street and Avenue E.

An individual identified a bicycle at the police department as his and it was released to the owner at 5:48 p.m.

Officers investigated a minor accident at 5:53 p.m. in the 300 block of 33rd Street. Involved were a mailbox owned by Terry Fuqua of 310 33rd St. and a 1990 Ford pickup driven by Dustin Mills of Rt. 2, Box 137, Hermligh.

At 7:30 p.m., the fire department responded to a small grass fire between Snyder Lanes and a vacant service station located at the corner of College Avenue and 35th Street. The fire was reportedly started by a 10-year-old juvenile and damage was limited to a small grassy area.

Officers investigated a report of a hit and run accident at 9:07 p.m. in the 2700 block of Avenue G. Involved were a 1994 Ford pickup driven by Josephine Lujan of 1906 Ave. R and a parked and unoccupied 1977 Oldsmobile owned by Maria Gutierrez of 2701 Ave. G.

Officers were called to the emergency room at Cogdell Hospital at 11:51 p.m. Thursday in reference to a 40-year-old female assault victim. An offense report for Class A assault was submitted and the victim was treated and released.

Plea nets seven years

Bryant Keith Hellums was sentenced Thursday to seven years in the Texas Department of Criminal Justice - Institutional Division.

Hellums, 24, of 3303 Ave. M, had pleaded guilty on Jan. 3 to aggravated assault.

Obituaries

Bert Dennis

Funeral service is set for 2 p.m. Saturday in the First Christian Church for longtime Borden County rancher Wiley Bert Dennis. Dr. Tim Griffin, pastor, will officiate. Assisting will be Mickey McMeans of Gail.

Graveside service will be held at 11 a.m. Monday in Fairmont Cemetery in San Angelo with the Rev. David Mendel, pastor of the First Christian Church in Odessa, officiating.

Mr. Dennis, 84, who had ranched in Borden County since 1942, died at 1 p.m. Wednesday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a lengthy illness.

The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Dennis, members of pioneer Dallas County families, he attended schools in Dallas County and graduated from San Angelo High School. He also attended San Angelo Junior College.

Mr. Dennis began his ranching career, leasing the Pecos County ranch of Maud S. Kincaid Saenger, running sheep and cattle with his brothers. On Sept. 9, 1938, he married Dorothy Lee Austin in San Angelo and they moved to the ranch in Fort Stockton and later sold their lease to Guy Rachal. They then moved to their present ranch, formerly the Marion Long Ranch in Borden County. The three brothers continued to operate a partnership until 1949 when Jack Dennis was killed in a plane crash.

Bert and John Dennis purchased another ranch from Clayton and Johnson in Borden County and worked it until the 1960s.

In 1943, Mr. Dennis was the first rancher in Borden County to utilize a Piper Cub in ranch work.

He is an honorary life member of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and served many years as president of the Animal Damage Control Association in San Antonio. He was chairman of the ADCA committee of the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers. Named Rancher of the Year in 1985 by the Colorado River Soil and Water Conservation Service, he also served on the Ranching Heritage Committee in Lubbock. He was a member of the First Christian Church.

Mr. Dennis served as Borden County school board president during its large expansion program which included 12 grades instead of six. He received many honors for his support of school related activities and 4-H.

Survivors include his wife, Dorothy Dennis of Gail; two sons, Steve Dennis of Odessa and Joel Dennis of Gail; one daughter, Lisa Mahler of Edna; one brother, John Dennis of Gail; and four grandsons, Jeffrey Dennis of Gail, Bert Patrick Dennis of Odessa, Andrew Dennis and Matthew Lee Mahler of Edna.

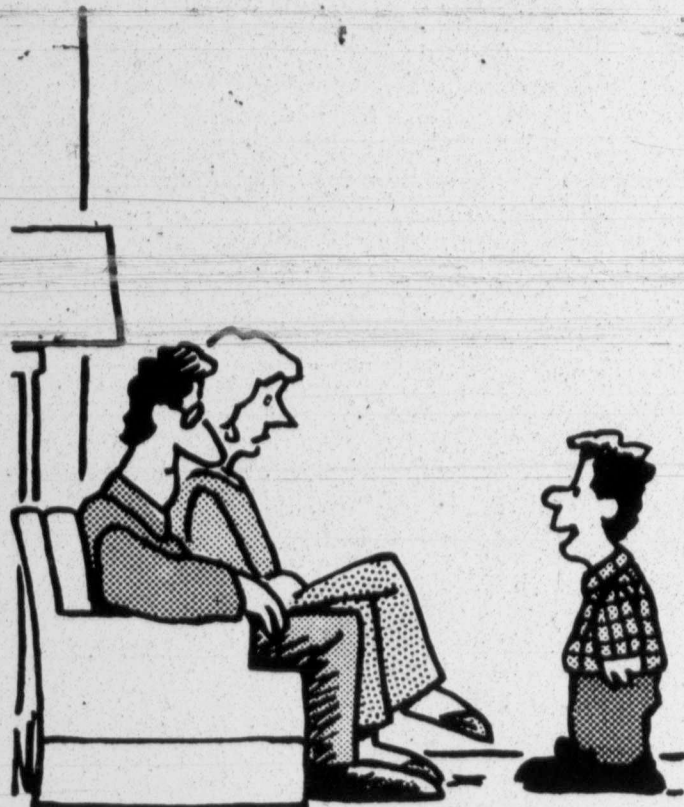

The family suggests memorials to a favorite charity.

"At school, we're moving toward — 'EDUTAINMENT!'"

Weatherization assistance shifted to southern states

WASHINGTON (AP) — Yielding to pressure from the Sun Belt, the government wants to freeze the amount it spends weatherizing homes in some Northern states and sharply increase the aid to Texas, Florida and some other warmer states.

Under a new formula, weatherization assistance to Florida would more than double this year, and Texas and Louisiana would get increases of more than 50 percent.

Many of the coldest states, including Minnesota, North Dakota and Montana, would get little or no increase in funding.

Since it was started in 1977, the program has been used to install insulation, caulking and other energy conservation measures in 41/2 million homes of low-income and elderly people. Most of the money has traditionally gone to cold-weather states. Last year, for example, North Dakota got $2.5 million, just $1 million less than Texas.

But Southern states, contending the summer heat is a problem for poor people, too, pressed Congress to give them a bigger share of the program.

"Cooling in the state of Florida, especially in the central and southern parts of the state, has gotten to be a real necessity," said Lucy Shepard, who oversees the state program there.

"It's particularly important to our elderly population. Many people have conditions like diabetes or high blood pressure that they really need cooling for their health," she said Thursday.

House members bed down in Hill offices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Mark Sanford folds his futon each workday morning, grabs his shampoo bottle, showers at the House gym, stops by the House cafeteria and heads back upstairs to the office that doubles as his bedroom.

"It's not comfortable but it keeps you very in tune with the idea that this is not home," says the freshman Republican from South Carolina. And the commute is unbeatable: four minutes to the House floor, seconds to the pillow.

"You finish your last dictation, you lay down your dictaphone, and you go to sleep," Sanford says. "I view it as being like military service."

House Speaker Newt Gingrich, R-Ga., when asked about the appropriateness of lawmakers sleeping in their offices, adopted what amounts to a don't ask-don't tell policy.

"I don't think members should be made homeless," he said. Gingrich said he refuses to "chat with members about where they sleep" or "micromanage" their personal lives.

Such laissez-faire has not always been the case. Rep. Dick Armey, R-Texas, now House majority leader, slept in the House gym until the late Speaker Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, D-Mass., threw him out. The last speaker, Democrat Thomas Foley of Washington, discouraged members from sleeping in their offices.

Members who use their offices as dorm rooms like to stress the extra hours they are able to work and the symbolism of not settling down in Washington. But they are also saving money, as Gingrich noted, that could help them put a child through college or pay nursing-home bills for an aging parent.

Gingrich's remarks led Rep. Patricia Schroeder, D-Colo., to write an acerbic letter to her colleagues. "In this time of draconian social service cutbacks," she said, the speaker had announced "a new program for the homeless" — in this case lawmakers making $133,600 a year.

Schroeder also wrote Rep. Bill Thomas, R-Calif., chairman of the House Oversight Committee, to note that Gingrich was helping members save on high rents. She called it "the creation of another congressional perk" and asked for a ruling on whether free housing in an office is a taxable fringe benefit.

The members who routinely roll out the cots and futons say it's ridiculous to call their office overnights a perk. The comfort level is not exactly four-star, they say, and the whole point is to serve their constituents better.

Sanford said he was sick two weeks ago, "hugging the toilet, knowing that in a couple of hours people would be walking into the office." He told his wife then: "There's nothing worse when you're sick than not having your own little home."

But if Congress is about to cut government, asks Sanford, "is it then consistent to go out and get an expensive apartment? People want your behavior to reflect your talk."

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

WAITING AT THE WELL
THE WELL WAS OF VITAL IMPORTANCE TO THE PEOPLE IN ANCIENT BIBLE LANDS. WELLS WERE OFTEN SCOOPED OUT OF THE SANDY SOIL BY THOSE WHO KNEW OF THE PRESENCE OF WATER. OTHER WELLS WERE DUG OUT OF THE LIMESTONE ROCK IN THE HILLY PALESTINE COUNTRY. NO MATTER WHERE THE WELL HAPPENED TO BE, IT WAS THE CENTER OF ACTIVITY FOR THE PEOPLE, WHO NEEDED ITS WATERS TO LIVE. BECAUSE ALL PEOPLE HAD TO COME TO THE WELLS THEY BECAME A COMMON MEETING PLACE. A PERFECT ILLUSTRATION OF THIS IS THE ACCOUNT OF ELIEZER, ABRAHAM'S STEWARD, WHO WAS SEARCHING OUT A BRIDE FOR ISAAC, ABRAHAM'S SON. (GEN. 24) BEING IN A LAND NOT HIS OWN, ELIEZER KNEW HE COULD ASK DIRECTIONS, OR INQUIRE AFTER THOSE HE WANTED TO MEET AT THE COMMUNITY MEETING PLACE--THE WELL! AS ON A CERTAIN DAY.....

ELIEZER AND HIS PARTY WAIT WITH PATIENCE FOR THE WOMEN TO COME AND DRAW THE EVENING WATER, FOR IT IS STRICT ETIQUETTE OF THESE ANCIENT DAYS THAT A STRANGER NEVER TAKES WATER FROM A WELL THAT DOES NOT BELONG TO HIM, BUT WAITS UNTIL IT IS OFFERED TO HIM AND HIS ANIMALS!
